Maybe it was lucky that Cole was currently in a deeply unconscious state or else with Gu Mengmeng shaking thrice with every needle, Cole would definitely die of pain.

Although the process was pretty torturous, Gu Mengmeng finally held Cole's wound in place. Then, she took some cooked beast skins and wrapped Cole up like a mummy.

After Gu Mengmeng finished treating Cole, she turned to look at Dylan whose mouth was agape, asking him, "What's wrong?"

Dylan regained his composure abruptly and said, "The mighty messenger's medical skills are truly miraculous. It just takes one's breath away."

Gu Mengmeng shook her hands and said with a tired tone, "Just drop all those flattering words, how's my son?"

Dylan answered, "Little master does not have any external injuries. Servant checked his internal organs and there was no problem too. Being unconscious.....is probably because of the poison. But I'm afraid we've to wait until leader Cole wakes up to be able to know the exact identity of the poison."

Gu Mengmeng nodded and carried Chixuan in her arms, saying, “Don’t go back and stay here for this period. I remember that I have an empty room beside mine. You can stay there for the time being to make it easier for you to handle any emergencies in time.”

“Yes,” Dylan replied respectfully before exiting the room.

Gu Mengmeng sat beside the window while carrying Chixuan and patted his back gently. “Xuan, Xuan.....you’ve to be safe and sound, alright? You’ve to recover quickly so that we can find your other brothers together. Mother still wants to watch all of you grow up, evolve, mate and give birth to babies....”

Cole was unconscious for half a month.

When he opened his eyes again, he saw Gu Mengmeng carrying Chixuan while lying by his bed with a pair of soft hands on his wrist.

“Mighty messenger?” Cole moved slightly but the sharp pain in his stomach made him frown so he groaned.

Gu Mengmeng woke up from her sleep and sat up straight, staring at Cole. The two of them looked at each other for a while before they regained their composure. Gu Mengmeng stretched her hand out to touch Cole’s forehead and after ensuring that he was not having a fever anymore, she then heaved a sigh of relief and said, “You’re finally awake.”

“Mighty messenger.....” Cole wanted to say something but was interrupted by Gu Mengmeng.

“You’ve been unconscious for half a month and everyday, you could only rely on a little honey water to maintain your physical strength so you must be feeling very weak now. Although I have a lot of questions to ask you, there’s no need to rush things now. Lie down first and I’ll ask someone to bring in some food to fill your stomach. We can discuss the rest later.”

After Gu Mengmeng finished speaking, she placed Chixuan next to Cole and said, “Look after my son.”

Cole gave a gentle smile as he replied, “Alright.”

Gu Mengmeng turned away and walked out of the room. She asked Dylan to check Cole’s body and at the same time, instructed the guards on duty to prepare some light food and fruits.

Cole half-lying on the bed, patting Chixuan’s back gently. With a smile hanging on his face, he fixed his gaze on Gu Mengmeng’s back and muttered at a volume nobody could hear, “Is this the happiness he always have? It really makes one envious....”

Chapter 494 - Snake King Valley

Gu Mengmeng prepared sweet potato porridge for Cole and added some minced meat in it. Together with a small plate of cut fruits, she served them all to Cole.

Cole wanted to eat them himself but he could not even lift up his hand.

Gu Mengmeng scooped a small spoonful of porridge and blew it before sending it into Cole's mouth, saying, "You were injured because of my son. Give me a chance to take care of you to make it up to you."

Cole did not reject her and did not say anything too. He just ate every spoonful of food Gu Mengmeng sent into his mouth with a smile on his face.

This was not the first time a female fed him food but this was the first time he felt a warm sensation nourishing his entire body.

After the meal, Gu Mengmeng wanted to carry Chixuan from the bed but Cole held onto her wrist lightly and shook his hand, saying, "You must've been tired out these few days, right? Let him sleep by my side for a while, you can take a rest too."

Gu Mengmeng swept Cole's hand away and took Chixuan in her own arms, rejecting, "If my son's not in my arms, I'll not feel at ease so it'll be better for me to carry him."

Cole did not stop her any further as he just smiled. "This is the first time I've seen a female being so worried over a male cub. He's clearly.....not the eldest nor the youngest."

Gu Mengmeng was aware of the snow fox tribe's tradition. The eldest son would inherit the position of tribe leader while the youngest son would inherit the religious authority as the witch doctor so they would care for those two sons only.

“All of them are my flesh and blood so they’re all my babies. This has nothing to do with the sequence they were born.”

Cole had a conflicted gaze and nobody knew what he was thinking about. Eventually, he nodded his head in silence and before Gu Mengmeng could raise a question, he dived into the main topic. “The orc who kidnapped the little masters is Ellie, the power behind her is the Snake King Valley.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned and questioned, “Ellie? Why?”

Cole answered, “My first guess is that she wanted to use the little masters to lure you into entering the Snake King Valley. But the mighty leader of the Snake King Valley didn’t have much interest in uniting the Beast World so that was why the Snake King Valley isolated itself and was not willing to take a step forward for so many years. So, I suspect that all of these is Ellie’s own decision, she wanted to lure you into entering Snake King Valley....”

Gu Mengmeng thought over it for a while. Previously, Ellie surrendered towards Sauder but was rejected by Cole because of her. Back then, Ellie gave her a piece of scale and there was information written on it in simplified Chinese characters. She saw through it as a counterfeit copy at one glance and at that time, Ellie mentioned before that the real copy was in the Snake King Valley.

So.....

Right from the start, her original motive was to lure her into entering the Snake King Valley?

But she was not that curious about the information so she did not fall into the trap so that was why Ellie shifted her aim onto the little wolf cubs?

But what’s her motive?

Everyone had a motive for doing things. What did she plan to do after luring her into entering the Snake King Valley?

And moreover, since she had the ability to kidnap her little wolves, why didn't she just directly kidnap her? Wasn't it easier to handle a female than controlling four little wolves?

It doesn't make sense, Gu Mengmeng really could not figure it out.

With her brows deeply furrowed, Gu Mengmeng looked up at Cole and said, "I have to make a trip down to the Snake King Valley."

"No way." Cole supported his body in agitation. He did not care whether blood started flowing out from his wound that was slit open again as he rejected Gu Mengmeng resolutely for the first time, "The Snake King only exists as a dangerous myth in legend! Nobody knows how strong he is. We just know that anyone who dared to step closer to the Snake King Valley didn't make it back alive. It's too dangerous, you can't go!"

Chapter 495 - He Died From Having His Heart Eaten

“But my son’s there.” Gu Mengmeng frowned.

Cole tried his best to support his body as he sat upright. “I’ll go, I’ll go on your behalf.”

Gu Mengmeng stared at the blood that had spewed out from the wound on his stomach and said, “You’re already this seriously injured, how can you go? And moreover....that’s my son, there’s no reason for you to take the risk on my behalf.”

Cole grabbed onto Gu Mengmeng’s wrist tightly, not letting go even by the slightest bit. It was as if he was scared that she would immediately run off to Snake King Valley. He frowned, but it was not because of his bleeding wound.

“I’m a fifth-level orc but I’ve become like that just by stepping close to the boundaries of the Snake King Valley.....what can you do if you reach there?”

Gu Mengmeng replied, “I’m the messenger of the Beast Deity, maybe..... maybe he can do me a favor?”

Cole shook his head and refuted, “In this Beast World, everyone is scared of the title of the Beast Deity with him as the only exception.”

Gu Mengmeng probed, “Why?”Read more chapter on our vipnovel.com

Cole answered her, “He’s the son of the previous messenger of the Beast Deity and he had lived for a thousand years. Someone said that he had already evolved into a dragon and became a real Deity which has the same presence as the Beast Deity.”

Gu Mengmeng forced a smile and said, “Since he and my beast Father are colleagues, I’ll pay a visit to him as a junior....it’s what I should do....”

Cole said, “I can’t let you take the risk. Believe me, I’ll definitely bring the other three little masters back, I’ll definitely.....cough.....”

Gu Mengmeng held onto Cole and said, “Lie down first and don’t be agitated. I’m not a rash person, I’ll definitely be prepared before going to rescue them.”

Upon hearing Gu Mengmeng’s words, Cole slightly relaxed and lied down slowly. “Give me a little more time, I’ll try my best to recover.”

Gu Mengmeng bit her lower lip and did not mention going to the Snake King Valley again. She just asked, “How did you save Chixuan? If you’re not tired.....can you tell me?”

Cole nodded. His voice was very weak and he sounded as if that previous struggle consumed too much of his energy but he did not want to disappoint Gu Mengmeng so he forced his stamina and said, “In the Beast World, fifth-level orcs are very rare. Male beasts who are able to reach that level are all well known. Those few days, the three of us took turns to head out and pay a visit to those fifth-level orcs. In the end.....I finalized my aim on the Snake King Valley. Of course, I dare not offend the Snake King. My original aim was a five-unit snake beast in the Snake King Valley called Wabei. But when I reached the boundaries of the Snake King Valley, I met Ellie and saw the little masters she kept captive.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned and asked, “Is she alone?”

Cole shook his head and replied, “There were also many males around, a few of them were quite familiar so I guess they must have come with you to Sauder previously.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned, weren’t those who came with her to Sauder Saint Nazaire’s tribesmen?

Cole continued, “She had an extremely strong male beside her. I couldn’t identify him nor his background. I just know that he’s extremely strong and even me.....could only forcefully end up in a draw with him. If a tiger beast did not rush out at the crucial time, I wouldn’t be able to even bring little master Chixuan away.”

Gu Mengmeng asked, “Tiger beast?”

Cole nodded and said, “In all that chaos, I only heard what Xian.....what official.....said he let you down.”

Gu Mengmeng remained silent for a while before speaking, “Official Xu Xian?”

Cole recalled back and nodded.

Gu Mengmeng questioned, “After that? What happened to him?”

Cole took a deep breath and replied, “His chest was ripped to pieces by Ellie and he died from having his heart eaten.”

Chapter 496 - How Dare You Compare Yourself To Her? How Bold Of You.

Gu Mengmeng clenched her fists tightly then slowly let go, saying, "Slaughtering my tribesmen and hurting my sons, ha.....I really acted as Mr Dong Guo once and saved a frozen snake."

Cole sighed and after much hesitation, he placed his hand on Gu Mengmeng's hand, comforting, "I'll recover as soon as possible. When I'm fine, I'll bring my tribesmen to the Snake King Valley to find Snake for him to hand your sons over. Even if he's the Snake King, he won't dare to go against the entire Beast World."

Gu Mengmeng retracted her hand and took a step back without leaving a trace, questioning, "Didn't you say that it's very dangerous to offend the Snake King Valley?"

Cole smiled and pretended to not notice Gu Mengmeng keeping him at a distance. He said, "As long as it's for the mighty messenger, I'll not hesitate to have my body torn and bones crushed."

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and rejected him, "There's no need to do this. You guys have done enough for me, I can't implicate you all any further. Just stay here and recuperate, tomorrow.....I'll set off back to Saint Nazaire."

Cole frowned and said, "No way, that's too dangerous."

Gu Mengmeng smiled and said, "Don't forget that I'm the messenger of the Beast Deity. I've the protection of the Flame Devil which I can order around. If they don't want to return my sons to me.....I'll burn the entire Snake King Valley down."

Cole tried to stop her and said, “If the little masters are in the Snake King Valley too, they’ll be wrongly injured.”

Gu Mengmeng did not reply Cole. She just turned around and said, “It’s enough for you to help me until here. Rest well.”

Gu Mengmeng pushed the door and left the room. During this period of time when Cole was unconscious, she left it for him to stay while she stayed in a further but quieter house.

Seeing Gu Mengmeng’s disappearing back view, Cole slowly sat up straight and looked down at the wound on his stomach. With a disappointed gaze, he muttered to himself, “Is this kind of extent.....still not enough?”

A shadow leaped in enchantingly and the next second, a long and slim finger lightly grazed itself across Cole’s stomach. That cold touch was completely different from Gu Mengmeng’s warmth.

Cole frowned in detest and lifted his hand to swat away the slim hand that was touching his wound. He looked away and gave an impatient expression.

The hand that was swatted away did not wander around Cole’s stomach anymore but instead gently supported her own chin to move her face towards Cole’s stomach. She stuck her tongue out and licked the blood from Cole’s wound. A snake tail supported Cole’s body from under his waist in an S-shape grip and lifted him up, peering at him like a lazy king overlooking everything.

Ellie swayed her waist as she slowly slid up. With a glamorous expression, her snake tail made its way into Cole’s beast-skin dress and wrapped itself around his thigh. She leaned forward to show her wonderful figure and said with a provoking tone, “She doesn’t know chalk from cheese, what’s the point of being so obsessed over her? You even hurt your respectful self this badly just to gain her trust...but eventually, isn’t she still leaving? Why don’t you share some of this readiness with me.....at least, I’ll treat you with all my heart.”

Cole grabbed onto Ellie's neck and extended his arm out to increase the distance between them. Frowning, he was disdainful to talk to her and his gaze was filled with despise. "She's the messenger of the Beast Deity, how dare you compare yourself to her? How bold of you."

Ellie almost lost her breath but her gaze became more misted. She tangled both her hands around the arm Cole used to strangle her and gently stroked it. "You're indeed....the mighty Cole.....the bloodthirsty look on you.....really makes one captivated.....please take away my life.....it belongs to you...."

Cole scoffed and swatted his hand away, causing Ellie to crash to the ground. He took out a piece of beast-skin and wiped his finger in detest. With a cold tone, he growled, "You're so low it makes one gross out. You're not allowed to say you belong to me anymore....you're not worthy enough."

Chapter 497 - You're Indeed Not Very Eye-Catching Wherever Gu Mengmeng Is Present

Ellie was not angry too, she squirmed her body around and attached herself onto Cole's body once again. She stuck her head out from Cole's shoulder and moved her hands around every part of his body restlessly. Controlling him, she whispered to his ear, "She says she's going to leave tomorrow... will you let her go?"

Thinking about Gu Mengmeng, Cole's expression had a slight change and his gaze became gentler. The corners of his lips curved upwards slightly as he said, "I took so much effort to snatch her away, how can I let her go?"

Ellie said, "Since she wants to see her little wolf cubs so much, why don't we.....lock her up together with her little wolf cubs?"

Cole glared at Ellie with a cold gaze and said, "She's my noble master, you're actually asking me to lock her up? Are you seeking death? Huh?!"

Ellie shook her body and said with an infatuated look, "But if we don't lock her up....how can we stop her from leaving?"

Cole turned around and sat back onto the bed. Frowning, he said, "That damn bird....if it's not to arouse Gu Mengmeng's suspicion, I would've directly killed him back then. That way, Elvis and my good brother would be going around aimlessly on a search like headless mosquitoes and not gathering all their firepower to attack Sauder."

Ellie kept her snake tail and huddled closer to Cole's feet. She placed her fair arms against Cole's thighs while her dark green hair was laid on Cole's thighs. Turning her face to the side, she looked up at Cole and said, "I heard that Elvis leveled up again when he battled with the fifth-level orcs you sent. It hasn't even been half a year since he mated but he actually advanced two levels at one go. Tsk tsk tsk, what a first-class good..."

As Ellie said, she hissed and held up her snake eyes, showing a greedy smile.

Cole pinched her lower jaw and smiled a scornful and sarcastic smirk. "Back then, I asked you to seduce him, but what happened in the end? You didn't even get to touch his belt, right? Since you don't have enough skills, no matter how first-class he is, you can never get him."

Feeling wronged, Ellie frowned and spoke in a seductive tone, "That wooden block is so stubborn, other than Gu Mengmeng, he can't see anyone else. No matter how much I tried to shine up to him, he didn't even want to take a look at me. And even that brother of yours too..."

Cole sniggered and pushed Ellie away. "You're indeed not.....very eye-catching wherever Gu Mengmeng is present."

After Cole finished speaking, he left a sentence and walked away in big strides, "Those three wolf cubs are still useful to me, use your poison appropriately. Don't kill them."

Ellie swayed her body and replied to a dark 'yes' before climbing out of the window.

Cole tidied up his emotions and when he opened the door, the expression on his face had already changed into a weak but caring one. He supported himself against the wall and walked towards Gu Mengmeng's room, knocking on her door.

Gu Mengmeng was hugging onto Chixuan and when she saw Cole the moment she opened the door, she was quite surprised.

"Why are you walking around and not lying on the bed properly? What if your wound rips open again?" As Gu Mengmeng scolded, she extended her hand to hold onto Cole's arm, bringing him into the house.

Cole smiled a warm smile and told Gu Mengmeng, “If the mighty messenger wants to leave Sauder tomorrow, please let Cole escort you back.”

Gu Mengmeng stared at Cole’s wound and frowned. “How can you escort me back when you’re so seriously injured? I guess you better stay here and recuperate well, you can just ask someone to send me off.”

Cole shook his head and said, “I can never be at ease if I don’t ensure the mighty messenger’s safety with my own eyes. Mighty messenger, please let me escort you, I beg you....”

Chapter 498 - Who Allowed You To Call Me With Such A Gross Title?

Chapter 498: Who Allowed You To Call Me With Such A Gross Title?

Gu Mengmeng sighed and retorted, “But your injury....”

Cole took two steps forward in agitation and said, “I’m alright... ouch.....”

Cole’s wound had ripped open and he was in quite a lot of agony. Gu Mengmeng stepped forward to hold onto him and said while frowning, “Look at yourself, are you still trying to put on a strong front?”

Cole pulled Gu Mengmeng into an embrace, wrapping one hand around her waist and hooking her chin with his other hand. Gazing at Gu Mengmeng with a deeply affectionate and meaningful look, he said, “Ah Gu, why are you so concerned for me? Actually, I’m in your heart too, right? Although I can’t leave my mark on your body, I can pledge all of my loyalty to you....you’ll accept me, right?”

Gu Mengmeng’s chin was held by Cole and she stared at him quietly, her gaze becoming blurry. She opened her thin lips to force a word out, “Co....le.”

Cole’s radiant smile was hanging on his face and he pecked Gu Mengmeng’s neck, speaking in a gentle tone, “Yes, I’m by your side, always. Ah Gu, I really like you a lot, can you please stay by my side? Let me accompany you and take care of you forever, alright?”

Gu Mengmeng squinted her eyes, not answering him.

Cole looked up and blew some air towards Gu Mengmeng. Then, he fixed his gaze on Gu Mengmeng’s pupils and repeated himself, sounding like a hypnosis, “I’ve the tail you like the most, it’s so much softer than Lea’s tail.

My body is also stronger than that wolf partner of yours so I can definitely satisfy you better when we mate...I'm such a wonderful male who's willing to lie by your feet to swear my allegiance towards you. Why are you still hesitating? Isn't it good to have and possess me?"

Gu Mengmeng slowly lowered her head, looking as if she had lost consciousness.

Cole leaned forward and attempted to kiss Gu Mengmeng's lips but before he could touch them, he heard Gu Mengmeng say coldly, "You said.....you're stronger than who? Huh?"

Cole was taken aback and when he lowered his head, he noticed that Gu Mengmeng was pushing Ellie's scale piece against his wound.

"Ah Gu?" Cole called with a low voice.

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head and asked, "I don't remember allowing you to call me with such a gross title."

Cole's frozen expression only sustained for a moment as he immediately regained his composure and then took a step back. Lowering his head respectfully, he called, "Mighty messenger."

Gu Mengmeng sniggered. "Are you surprised? The Fox Seductive Fragrance is not effective on me."

Cole shook his head and said, "This just proves that I'm not good enough, I can't touch the mighty messenger's heart."

Gu Mengmeng nodded in agreement. "As compared to that vixen back home, you indeed lack so much more."

Cole tightened his fists on instinct but upon raising his head to stare into those smiling eyes of Gu Mengmeng, he released them slowly. Looking down, he said, "As compared to mighty Lea, I indeed lack in many areas."

Gu Mengmeng patted Cole's shoulder lightly and said, "I've already made things clear so you can stop acting. To hold yourself back in using the Fox Seductive Fragrance on me until now.....is quite hard on you.”

Cole frowned and looked at Gu Mengmeng with the corners of his eyes.
“You’ve been wary of me from the start?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and explained, “I wasn’t wary of you when I first came. When Ian asked me to seek help from you, I really treated you as my life-saving straw....”

Cole probed, “Then....?”

Gu Mengmeng smiled and took a step back. After sitting by the side of her bed, she lightly patted Chixuan’s back and carried him, adding, “You agreed to my suggestion too readily, I had no choice but to be wary.”

Chapter 499 - Didn't You Suspect At All?

Cole did not quite understand as he stood on the spot, inquiring Gu Mengmeng with his gaze.

Gu Mengmeng smiled and looked down at her son. Both her gaze and tone were so gentle, it did not cause one to be wary at all.

“Who would risk his life for someone he’s not related to without even raising terms? You’re not even Guanyin who’s compassionate towards the entire world.”

Cole frowned and asked, “But Sauder is the messenger’s tribe, it’s our duty to listen to the messenger’s orders.”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and explained, “Sauder is following the previous messenger of the Beast Deity and not me. Moreover.....it’s impossible to achieve absolute loyalty to a thousand-year old legend. If you’re really someone who’s so loyal towards the messenger of the Beast Deity, the leader of Sauder should be your older brother and Lea should be the witch doctor here. How can you.....call yourself the leader?”

Cole frowned and there was some brutality seen in his eyes. His anger could not be hidden when he glared at Gu Mengmeng, as if.....

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and ridiculed him, “What’s wrong? Did I step on the painful scar in your heart? Ah.....so this matter is not only my vixen’s nightmare, it’s also the devil inside you, am I right?”

Cole held his fists tightly and frowned while glaring at Gu Mengmeng, pronouncing every word with force, “I’m the leader of Sauder.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded as she admitted, “Yeah, you are. Don’t worry, my vixen don’t have any plans against Sauder. You can keep this lousy tribe for yourself, we don't want it."

"Lousy tribe?" Cole took a step forward and pinched Gu Mengmeng's jaw. Squinting his eyes, he smiled a cold and evil smile as he said, "If he doesn't care about Sauder, what does he care about? Saint Nazaire... or you? What a pity, he can't protect either because I'll ruin Saint Nazaire and then.....possess you."

Gu Mengmeng smiled and did not resist. She just looked at Cole and said, "You're indeed not afraid of the Beast Deity."

Cole sniggered and replied, "The Beast Deity has never loved me before, why should I be afraid of him?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded and said, "That's true, a Beast Deity who has never made its presence felt before doesn't deserve to be afraid of. But you..... should be scared of me."

Cole frowned and the next second, he smiled. Caressing Gu Mengmeng's little face with his thumb, he said with an evil but affectionate tone, "Why should I be scared of you? Huh?"

Gu Mengmeng did not step back but instead, leaned forwards towards Cole.

Cole did not dodge and just let Gu Mengmeng's little face inch closer to the top of his nose. There were many emotions he could not understand but made him captivated in those clear eyes of hers. Her every action made him desire her more crazily.

This kind of female should be the one who's standing by Cole's side.

"Didn't you suspect at all? Since you had saw through me a long time ago.....why are you still staying by my side to continue acting and not leaving?"

Cole frowned and stared at Gu Mengmeng who was not saying a word.

"There are many places to stay, why did I choose this small house out of all of them?"

Cole scanned his surroundings in defense but did not notice any abnormalities.

“Are you suspecting me for making an empty show of strength?” Gu Mengmeng swatted Cole’s hand away all of a sudden and turned around to sit by the bed. At the same time, the wall beside Cole started loosening and then, with a boom, the wall collapsed and sent dust in all directions, like billowing smoke.

After all those turmoils, Elvis and Lea stood beside Gu Mengmeng and on Gu Mengmeng’s knees, beside an unconscious Chixuan, lied a snow-white little fox.

Chapter 500 - There Was an Engagement Between Us

Gu Mengmeng gently touched the little snow fox's neck, as though thinking over something. She looked up at Cole and asked, "Where are my sons? Give them back to me."

Cole was clearly stunned for a moment when he saw the little snow fox, but was soon back to normal, as though Gu Mengmeng's hand that was strangling on the little fox's neck did not scare him. He looked at Gu Mengmeng attentively and asked, "The little masters are safe, I can let you meet them anytime if you are willing to stay by my side."

Gu Mengmeng looked down at the snow fox in her hand and said, "Are you in any position to negotiate with me... now?"

Cole smiled and said, "It's been ages since I have reached the peak of the fifth-level, even if my partner dies, I won't lose my life due to the mating contract. If you want to kill her with your own hands, I will just treat it as you are being jealous of having other females by my side. It seems like... a reward to me."

Gu Mengmeng smiled and said, "The mating contract might not take your life, but it is enough to injure you heavily. By then, do you still think... you can beat Elvis?"

Cole did not take Gu Mengmeng's threaten to heart and replied, "I have no problems with you killing Gillian, but I guess the one being reluctant would be... Lea."

Gu Mengmeng raised her brow, turned to look at Lea and said, "Why? Your first love?"

Lea looked away awkwardly, discreetly glancing at Gu Mengmeng with the corner of his eye and he nodded almost unnoticeably. He said, "There was an engagement between us..."

Gu Mengmeng raised her head and Lea immediately added, "But, I never liked her. The engagement was based on the tribe rules, that the witch doctor must marry a female from the family of the tribe elder to strengthen the relationship between religious authority and political power."Read more chapter on our vipnovel.com

Gu Mengmeng did not ask further, she just smiled and said, "Don't need to explain, I trust you."

Lea's smile became warmer, he hugged Gu Mengmeng by the waist and pecked on her face. Lea rubbed his forehead against Gu Mengmeng's lightly and said in a low voice, "Mengmeng, I miss you so much."

Gu Mengmeng patted on Lea's back and said, "I miss you and Elvis too, but we have to deal with Cole and save the little wolves first."

Lea nodded and his slender fingers turned into sharp claws directing straight at Gillian, as though he was trying to prove to Gu Mengmeng that he had zero feelings towards this little fox.

"Lea." Gu Mengmeng stopped him, shook his head slightly and said, "It's not my style to kill an unconscious female."

Lea shrugged his shoulders speechlessly and said, "I'll listen to you."

Gu Mengmeng walked towards Elvis, hugged him and said, "It must have been tough for you all this while? I will make you delicious food for you to recover after we get our sons back."

Elvis's voice was a little coarse, he rubbed Gu Mengmeng's head gently, hugged her into his arms and finally heaved a sigh of relief.

Gu Mengmeng stood up straight facing Cole and said, "I would love to solve things with negotiations without physical fights involved. You and Elvis are both fifth-level orcs, although you are at a higher level than him, but who knows how much potential would Elvis show to protect me. At the very least, even if Elvis lost to you, I will kill that little fox to activate the mating contract to protect him without hesitation. By then, no matter how powerful a male you are, you would be left vulnerable to anyone."

Chapter 501 - I Don't Want Dirty Stuff

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Cole nodded and said, "That's right. But if I die, you will never dream of seeing that three wolf cubs again. If you don't mind, you can kill me now. You don't even have to go through the trouble of activating the mating contract, just cut me bit by bit with the dragon scale in your hand, I won't dodge at all."

Gu Mengmeng ground her teeth and said, "Your life is not as valuable as my sons'."

Cole took a step forward and wanted to hold Gu Mengmeng's hand, but Elvis grabbed his wrist first. The two of them stared at each other and neither of them was willing to let go.

Cole suddenly smiled and said, "Ah Gu, actually... What's wrong with staying in Sauder? Everything here belongs to you... including me and them."

Gu Mengmeng laughed coldly and took a step back, she said with disgust, "They belong to me from the start, no matter where I am. As for you... I don't want dirty stuff."

"I am dirty stuff? Then what is Lea? What is someone that had committed adultery with his father's concubine and was banished from the tribe?" Cole stared at Lea with a menacing look and had an indescribable smile on his face.

Lea clenched his fist tightly, but no words came out of his mouth.

Gu Mengmeng frowned, took a step forward and slapped Cole heavily. She said, "Watch your mouth, my vixen is not someone like that."

Cole did not seem to be angry from the slap, instead, he laughed even more madly and said, “You are getting angry from the shame, right? Whether he was someone like that or not, the whole tribe saw it... It was him, it was him whom made father so angry that he passed away, it was him that broke the tribe rules, it was him that put to shame on the whole tribe, that’s why he was banished! You don’t even know anything and you kept him as your beast pet?”

“You!” Gu Mengmeng was about to hit Cole when she was hugged by someone from behind.

Turning back, Gu Mengmeng met Lea’s slender and amorous eyes, there were moisture in them. Lea looked at Gu Mengmeng quietly and said, “Mengmeng, I didn’t.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and hugged Lea into her arms, she said, “I know, I know you didn’t.”

Cole laughed, he shook his arm with force and broke away from Elvis’s grip. He leaned onto the door frame, looked at Lea and said in an extremely harsh and mean way, “Ah Gu, you have enjoyed Lea long before this already, haven’t you? But he was like me, having mated with other females before this and hence could not leave a mark on your body, which was why you told the whole world that he is you beast pet, right?”

Gu Mengmeng was stunned for a moment. She suddenly thought of the day before everything happened, Elvis intentionally excused himself out of the cave to create opportunities for Lea and her. That time, she said to Lea that she would never mate with him, Lea was a little upset, but was more helpless and bearing towards her. He paused for a while and said to her, ‘What I want was just a little space by your side to guard you, that’s enough, I don’t care... about the rest of the stuff’.

Gu Mengmeng had though he was saying he did not care about mating and having children, but looking at it now, it seemed to include this too?

The more she liked Lea, the rumors will spread even wider. Nobody would believe that she has never mated with Lea and the absence of Lea’s mark on her body became the evidence for Lea actually committing the crime years back?

Lea pulled Gu Mengmeng and hugged her into his arms lightly. He said, “I don’t care what is the truth in other’s eyes, I only care about you. So, don’t be affected by him, you knowing I am innocent is enough.”

Gu Mengmeng patted on Lea's back, then turned around and looked up at the giant birds hovering in the air. Although she had only ridden them once, she recognized that it was Ian.

Gu Mengmeng smiled and said, "It seems like, it's done."

Cole suddenly looked up at Ian on the sky and frowned, he asked, "Ah Gu, what are you planning?"

Gu Mengmeng turned her smile into a cold expression slowly and she said, "I will give you one chance to return my sons to me, we will pretend nothing has happened and leave right now."

Cole said, "Leave? Where are you going without my permission?"

Gu Mengmeng raised her eyebrow and said, "Then our negotiation has failed."

Cole raised his head high and appeared confident.

Gu Mengmeng took two steps back and retreated to her bedside. Taking a small bamboo joint out from under her blankets, she opened the cap and poured it into the little snow fox's mouth.

Cole immediately felt something burning in his chest, he instinctively wanted to stop Gu Mengmeng, but was held back by Elvis, not letting him move a single bit.

Gu Mengmeng threw the little bamboo joint to Cole and said, "Smell it, maybe you will know what's that."

Cole moved his nose closer and sniffed it, immediately frowning and he said, “The mark-erasing potion?!”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and said, “Yes, luckily our tribe had a negative example with outrageous behaviors, or else I would have to kill a life to stop you.”

Cole knew that his clock is ticking, the punishment of the mating contract would come fast, he would have to beat Elvis before it happens. But Elvis was already a fifth level orc and not someone that he could simply beat with a release of beast pressure. To fight for time, Cole abruptly started to attack Elvis, every charge was deadly, nothing like the extent Dumbo had put up with the last time.

Elvis was an experienced fighter and so was Cole. With a few exchanges, the two of them were already covered in blood, with injuries deep enough to see the bones.

Gu Mengmeng frowned, both of them were fifth-level but Cole, who was still suffering from the punishment of the mating contract, could still injure Elvis so heavily. They had underestimated Cole!

Gu Mengmeng clenched his teeth and signaled to Lea with a glance, Lea immediately picked up the hint and took out a small hide bag from the pocket of his dress. Gu Mengmeng took it and sniffed, then smiled coldly. Lea quickly joined in the fight, although his level could not be compared to the two of them, he cooperated well with Elvis from the experience of fighting together for years, leaving a few wounds on Cole that was not deadly but enough to hamper his ability.

Gu Mengmeng seized the chance and shouted, “Out!”

Elvis and Lea darted to one side uniformly, Gu Mengmeng then shook the hide on her hands and a red powder flew all over the air. Gu Mengmeng immediately covered her mouth and nose with her arm and was about to turn and run, but before she could take a step, she felt a loss of weight on her waist and she fell into someone’s arms. There was the smell of blood in it, but it also had the warmth that brought contentment to her.

Compared to Cole's uncontrollable roars, Gu Mengmeng was more worried about the few groans above her head. Looking up, she met a pair of sapphire blue eyes with a little criticism, but more of heartache. Elvis said, "The fight between males is dangerous, don't rush to join in ever again."

Gu Mengmeng nodded obediently, looking at a few chili powder that fell onto Elvis's wounds, she asked worriedly, "Is... is it painful?"

A charmingly evil smile appeared on Elvis's face and he said, "I will surely say it's not, but would you believe me?"

Chapter 503 - Difference Between Clouds and Mud

Gu Mengmeng said, “I will treat your wounds first.”

Elvis shook his head and looked at Cole whom was rolling all over the ground, he said, “He is stronger than me, if I miss this chance... I will never be able to win him.”

With that, Elvis let Lea take care of Gu Mengmeng, while he joined the fight with Cole again despite having wounds all over his body.

Elvis had as much chili powder on him as Cole and both had cuts deep enough to see the bones. Nobody was having an advantage now.

Gu Mengmeng felt heartache and she regretted for using a stupid idea, it was not worth to do something that hurt both the enemy and her man! So not worth it!

But luckily, Elvis won in the end. He tore away Cole’s arm, hit hard onto Cole’s calf with his knee and there was a crisp sound of bone fracturing. With a pathetic cry, Cole lost all ability to fight back and he could only lie on the floor spasming.

In fact, Gu Mengmeng could not really get used to such bloody scenes, but she had to overcome her fear for her sons.

Cole squirmed on the ground and managed to sit up in a strange pose leaning on the corner of the wall. He looked at Lea with a hideous stare, like a devil that just crawled out from hell and he said with blood still oozing out of his mouth, “So what if you kill me? Haha... Ha... You will forever be the sinner of Sauder... the sinner that resulted in the death of Father... Everything you own, everything you treasure, will all belong to me in the end!"

Lea hugged onto Gu Mengmeng lightly, using his body to block the mess in front of her eyes. He said coldly, "You are wrong, I own nothing, I've never owned a single bit of all the creations in this vast universe. The only luck I ever had was becoming Gu Mengmeng's belonging."

With a bloodthirsty look, Cole bared his teeth. He rested his hand on the old wound in his abdomen that was sewed together by Gu Mengmeng, the wound that was not sewed properly in the first place had torn apart due to the fight, but Cole did not care at all. He let out a cold laugh and said, "Ah Gu will be mine too."

Gu Mengmeng did not bother with Cole's words, she pulled herself out of Lea's arms to take care of Elvis.

She knew that the Lea and Cole had to settle the old score between them first and all she had to do was to silently support Lea, that would be enough.

Lea kissed on Gu Mengmeng's forehead lightly, before walking slowly to Cole. He squatted down and looked at him on the same level.

One was as fair as snow, another had dirt all over. The difference. The difference between clouds and mud was obvious with them next to each other.

"For all these years, I have been wanting to find out, why in the world did the brother that had loved me so much suddenly bared his claws at me that day. You tricked me into the room of our father's concubine and coaxed me into eating the fruit of love, for what? Afterwards, I met Mengmeng, she said that the highest power would have made people crazy, even showing their fangs at people they are closest to for this power. Maybe that was the answer, but I still refused to believe it. Now that you are right in front me, I... I have no intentions of asking you what was the truth anymore. The reason you hurt me was no longer important. Instead, I would like to thank you, if not for you... I would never have met Gu Mengmeng. I don't want to get to the bottom of the things in the past. If you want me to remain as the guilty Ninth Highness, I don't care. As long as you return the wolf cubs to us, I can hide the truth and I won't expose your evilness, we will leave here, how about that?"

“Why are you so anxious? They are not your children anyway.” Cole smiled coldly and continued, “Ah, are you trying to act like a saint in front of Ah Gu? It’s useless, she doesn’t buy it. She just told me that... Nobody would fight with his life for someone that he is not related to or close to, all things come with a condition.”

Lea smiled and said, “You don’t need to care about my intentions, you just need to know what kind of situation you are in right now.”

Cole smiled too, he said, “Do you think I am an idiot like you? You are not killing me now only because you have not found the little wolves. Once I hand them out, you will torture me in all ways possible.”

Lea nodded his head and said, “It is indeed hard to be kind in front of you. Since you don’t believe me, I’ll phrase it in another way.”

Lea’s smile was still calm and mild, he strangled Cole’s neck with both of his hands and he said, “Give us the little wolves, or I will make death a luxury for you.”

Cole wanted to say something, but he could not make any sound with his throat being clenched by Lea.

Lea looked like he just recalled something and he said, “Oh, are you waiting for your guards?”

Cole squinted his eyes, but saw Lea signalling to the outside and Auretin walked past the door while dragging a bloody creature. He could not see it clearly, but the fox tail was obvious enough.

Lea gave Cole some time to think over it, before saying, “Or... Are you waiting for the warriors that went to attack Saint Nazaire while Elvis and I are here to save Mengmeng? Well, they should have reached Saint Nazaire now, but what to do now? There’s not a single person in Saint Nazaire right now, all the warriors in our tribe are in Sauder. In other words, Sauder is in our control now.”

“You... You are lying!” Cole finally could not keep his cool, he leaned forward and tried to grab Lea.

Lea stood up slowly and took a step back. He frowned and said, “Sorry, but Mengmeng don’t like others touching me.”

Cole did not give up and tried to look outside, but realized that there was really not a single one of his own men in sight.

“That’s impossible, you couldn’t have known... I have personally given out all the orders, you...”

“I did not know your plan, I only knew what kind of person you are.” Lea looked down on Cole and said, “You released your beast pressure on Saint Nazaire for Mengmeng to come and ask for your help, since you are the only fifth-level orc she knew. You must have been so proud seeing Mengmeng coming to look for you, but you knew that Elvis and I would come along too, once Mengmeng sees us, she would not rely on you anymore. So the best way is to get us out of the way, get Saint Nazaire out of the way, get everything she could rely on out of the way and make you the only walking stick she has. Wasn’t this just a remake of what you did to me years back? How could I have not guessed it?”

Cole squinted his eyes, smiled coldly and said, “My ninth-brother had indeed grown up.”

Lea looked to the ground and said without emotions, “It was all about learning from my failures. But, what I can tell you is that your warriors are probably not returning. After all... even as the orc that achieved the peak of the fifth level, you are in this state because of the mating contract, them being fourth-level might not be able to withstand it.”

Cole's body softened, as though he had lost all strength, and he said,
"Winner takes all, kill me if you want to."

Chapter 505 - It's My Honor to Fight for You

Lea did not kill Cole, but brought him to Sauder's dungeon instead.

Gu Mengmeng did not know how Lea could force Cole to say the whereabouts of the little wolves, but it would not be anything happy and harmonious.

Gu Mengmeng stayed to look after Elvis and Chixuan. Placing the dad and son on the bed, she used a basin of clear water and washed Elvis's wounds. She said while cleaning, "Are you an idiot? Your cuts are so deep and yet you still rushed in to the chilli powders, how painful would that be."

But Elvis smiled, he held onto Gu Mengmeng's small hand lightly and said, "The pain is nothing as long as you are well."

Seeing Elvis unwilling to let go of her hand, Gu Mengmeng had to sit on the bedside. She avoided Elvis's wounds carefully and asked, "What actually happened after I left? Why would Dylan help Lea pass the message?"

"Not long after you have left, the beast pressure disappeared. Everyone had different beast pressure, so Lea could easily guess that it was Cole's trick. He wanted to stop you but it was too late. Ian was... fooled by his smartness." Elvis pulled over Gu Mengmeng's hand and kissed it, before continuing, "Luckily, Lea had everything planned out to take revenge on Sauder and we did not panic. All the plans for revenge had slight changes and we turned it into a new plan for rescuing you."

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head and said, "I'm sorry, I panicked once I saw our sons being kidnapped and I acted rashly without a second thought... I have dragged you down.”

Lea shook his head and said, “Idiot, it’s my honor to fight for you.” Read more chapter on our vipnovel.com

Gu Mengmeng crawled into Lea’s arms softly, avoiding his wounds carefully and said, “But you are injured so heavily.”

Elvis turned around slightly and focused on Gu Mengmeng’s face, he said affectionately, “These are nothing. I am a fifth-level orc now and I will recover in no time. Look, it doesn’t hurt now.”

Gu Mengmeng’s eyes were red and she said, “How could it not hurt with these many injuries.”

Elvis wiped away Gu Mengmeng’s tears lightly and said, “Nowhere hurts if I can see you.”

Gu Mengmeng buried her face into Elvis’s hand and said, “I’m sorry to make you worry.”

Elvis heaved a long sigh, kissed on Gu Mengmeng’s teary face and said, “You have my mating mark on you, I will know if you are in danger. I did not sense danger this time, which meant that you are safe, but even so, I was so anxious. You, please don’t run off in the future. No matter what you do, let me accompany you, understand?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and said, “I promise I will not run off in the future and I will never make you land in this kind of situation for me.”

Elvis smiled. These few days of sleepless battles had tired him out totally, it was the thought of seeing Gu Mengmeng again that had supported him till now. Now that Gu Mengmeng was lying in his arms, he could not resist the sleepiness and closed his eyes slowly, falling into a deep sleep.

Lea was already back by the time Elvis woke up.

Exhausted, Lea only hugged Gu Mengmeng and said, “Thank you.”

“Huh?” Gu Mengmeng was confused, she was the one that got into trouble because she did not think carefully, why was Lea thanking her?

“Thank you for protecting our female before we arrive, for not letting yourself injured, for not letting Cole bully you. That was truly something incredible, so thank you.”

Chapter 506 - Playing the Martyr?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

No matter how many times Gu Mengmeng experienced the amount of grace the males in the Beast World treat the females with, Gu Mengmeng still felt it was too exaggerated and she could not really get used to it.

Moving her shoulders, Gu Mengmeng looked up and asked, “Did he say where our babies are?”

Lea shook his head apologetically and said, “The more we care about the wolf babies, the more Cole was using them as a bargaining chip to threaten us. I think... I need a little more time to plan this out.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded, she knew that Lea and Elvis had been on the move day and night in order to save her. No matter how anxious she was, she could not bear to rush them at this time.

Lea knew that Gu Mengmeng was worried, he hugged her and brought her back to where Elvis was, placing her in the middle. Lea laid down on the other side of Gu Mengmeng, covering her with his furry big tail like a blanket. Lea and Elvis each held onto one of Gu Mengmeng’s hands and he said, “Tell us everything that happened when we were not around. The more information we could gather, the more advantageous my plan will be.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and said everything that happened, from coming here to look for health, to realizing Cole was suspicious, using every means to fawn on Cole and even how she sewed up Cole’s wounds with zig-zag lines and weird shapes for the wound to not recover easily. She then talked about how Dylan confessed to Gu Mengmeng by saying ‘Should I confess or should I apologize for kissing you without permission?’ and how she almost slapped him, but afterwards Dylan told her many secret information that only Lea knew and Gu Mengmeng finally believed that Dylan was indeed Lea's man. She also described the details of how Dylan and Lea exchanged key information and collaborated from both within and outside.

Lea listened to her attentively, he kept quiet for a long time, before opening his mouth, "I think the little wolves are in Ellie's hands."

Gu Mengmeng was confused and said, "Why do you think it is Ellie? Because of what Cole had said?"

Lea nodded and said, "Cole is a very cautious person, his lies are never fully false, there must be some real information hidden within the fake messages. In my analysis, the message from the Snake King is real, because that would be exposed easily, while all the Snake King wanted was to scare you and make you believe that the Snake King valley is dangerous. He wanted you to trust him and rely on him, After all, he would be the only person you could depend on facing such a strong opponent. The talk on finding the fifth-level snake beast should be fake, because he was the one that helped Ellie kidnap the little wolves, why would they need to find some snake beast?"

Gu Mengmeng followed Lea's train of thought and pondered over it too, she said, "His abdomen wound was caused by tearing, together with a slight poisoning symptom when he just came back. He said he was bitten by Ellie's gang, Dylan also said it was indeed caused by snake teeth ripping it apart, which means... Ellie bit him?"

Lea thought for a while and agreed with her, "There's a high possibility."

Gu Mengmeng laughed coldly and said, "Was he playing the martyr? Well, he was truly really willing to put in great efforts, to the extent that he almost lost his life, just to gain my trust?"

Lea pinched Gu Mengmeng's chin and said, "Don't underestimate your charm, if the roles of my and Cole's were switched today, I might even do more extreme things than him."

Gu Mengmeng looked up at Lea and thought of how he was being all 'I won't live if you don't want me' at the Platform of the Deity's Punishment.

She laughed speechlessly and said, “Are your entire snow fox tribe this extreme?”

Chapter 507 - Valuing His Face over His Son

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

“Well not all, maybe... it was just me and Cole.” Lea looked down with a bitter smile and continued, “When I was little, everyone asked me to establish a good rapport with my eldest brother, but nobody knew that I actually liked my second eldest brother, Cole, the most. My eldest brother always had a straight face on and every time we met, he would ask me how much of the esoterica I have memorized, whether my deduction skills have improved or how much of the medicine and medical cases I have learned. But Cole was different, every time he came back from the outside, he would bring me new toys, tell me interesting stories and sneak out with me to play... So, I was closer with Cole than my eldest brother.”

Gu Mengmeng did not interrupt Lea because what actually happened in his past was like Pandora’s box, filled with unknowns.

If he was finally willing to open it up, even if it was the devil that jumped out in the end, Gu Mengmeng would now have the courage to hug Lea and face everything together with him.

Lea kissed on Gu Mengmeng’s forehead, as though it was the only way that could make him have the courage to continue, “But only until he pushed me onto the bed of our father’s concubine and dashed in with our father and all the tribe elders. That was when I found out that I was being used by my second brother, whom I loved the most. In a fit of anger, our father said he would kill me, but Cole held onto his legs and begged for his pardon with tears all over his face, asking father to spare my life as we were father and son after all. Banishment... was the result for me, while Cole ended up with a reputation of being loyal to his father and caring for his brother.”

Gu Mengmeng raised up her hand and gently stroked onto the wrinkle on Lea's frown. She asked, "If there was really something between you and the concubine, there will surely be a mark. Since you didn't do it, you should have just explain to your father, the truth would be revealed by just checking the concubine's body."

Lea held onto Gu Mengmeng's hand lightly, pulled it near his lips and kissed it. He said, "Idiot, whether there was something between me and the concubine was not the point at all, what was important was that the entire tribe's noble elders and my father saw me not properly dressed lying on the concubine's bed. This was enough to put my father to shame. As for what actually happened between me and her, or what did not happen, nobody cares."

Gu Mengmeng felt a sharp pain in her heart seeing the apathy in Lea's eyes.

Lea's own father, valuing his face over his son.

How distorted.

Lea sighed and continued, "Ninth Highness changed from the phrase for Sauder's successor for religious authority to the shame of someone that had an affair with his father's concubine and should be engulfed by the flame devil. I was banished, whipped and bullied but I still stubbornly insisted on coming back to correct everything. I cried on how I was being framed, I never committed such things! But in exchange, I only received even more cruel and brutal banishment. After that, I met Cole in the forest on the exterior of Sauder, he was looking for me with my favorite food. He said... He just came to see how shabby the privileged one with religious authority and everyone's love on was now."

Gu Mengmeng frowned, she felt heartache for Lea and hugged onto his arm, she said, "Is he a psychopath? Why did he hurt you like this?"

Lea smiled bitterly and said, "I asked him the same question, why did him frame me. He just replied with 'Who asked you to be the Ninth Highness'. I didn't know what he meant at the time, but I do now. The precious stone lands its innocent possessor in jail."

Chapter 508 - Because I Got Even Greedier Than Before

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Gu Mengmeng hugged onto Lea, she wanted to comfort him, but did not know where to start.

But it seemed like Lea would no longer get sad over things that happened in the past. He just looked up at Gu Mengmeng with a smile and asked, “Are you feeling heartache for me?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and did not hide her emotions.

Lea hugged Gu Mengmeng’s waist back, smiled and said, “I know that you have the softest heart, you would definitely not be able to treat me cruelly... if I tell you all these.”

Gu Mengmeng answered with a faint smile, “Right, then why didn’t you tell me earlier?”

Lea shook his head, kissed softly on Gu Mengmeng’s cheek and said, “Because I was being greedy, I want you to accept me because you like me, not because you pity me.”

Gu Mengmeng kissed Lea back on his face and asked again, “Then why are you telling me now?”

Lea’s eyes were filled with amorousness and gentleness, he brushed the loose hair on Gu Mengmeng’s forehead and said, “Because I got even greedier than before, not only do I want you to like me, I want you to feel heartache for me, to think about me, to care for me... and to love me dearly.”

Gu Mengmeng blushed and let go of her hands that were circling around Lea. She shifted a little towards Elvis whom was behind her and said, “What the heck is love you dearly? Speak normally please...”

Lea rubbed Gu Mengmeng’s head fondly and said, “You, always having such interesting reactions... I can’t help but want to continue teasing you.”

Gu Mengmeng turned around and said, “You are not being serious, I don’t want to talk to you.”

Lea nodded his head and said, “Right, today has been a tiring day... Tomorrow, I will tell you what Elvis and I did during the period that you were not around.”

Gu Mengmeng looked at Lea that had tiredness written all over his face, nodded, offered her lips to kiss his chin and said, “You two must be dead tired, rest well now.”

Lea closed his eyes in satisfaction, slightly altering the angle of his furry big tail on Gu Mengmeng’s body to cover her fully.

Elvis’s hand moved past Gu Mengmeng’s armpit and rested on her waist. He kissed on the back of her head and said, “Xiao Meng, thank you.”

Gu Mengmeng did not turn back, but she knew the kind of affectionate eyes that were staring at her from behind. Her running away must have made them worried sick, but after seeing her, they did not scold her at all, instead, they even thanked her for protecting herself and not letting herself injure...

This gratitude made Gu Mengmeng even more remorseful, she could not meet Elvis in the eyes because she clearly understood how much Elvis was scared of being abandoned by her. She clearly knew that even if she was just near a river, Elvis’s body would be tensed up immediately, but she had ignored him completely and went after the danger herself...

“Hubby, I’m sorry... I will never run off again.” Gu Mengmeng apologized and got a long kiss engraved on the back of her head from Elvis in return.

“Idiot, go to sleep now.” Elvis did not care how his wounds would hurt because of Gu Mengmeng’s touch and pulled her into his arms, hugging her even more tightly.

Only this way, he could close his eyes in peace and not worried about her suffering and getting tortured in places he could not see, facing unpredictable danger.

The next morning, Lea woke up early to prepare breakfast, Auretin who came to share a meal and Ian who no longer needed to hide his identity had brought huge beasts and fishes, respectively.

When Gu Mengmeng had woken up, most of the wounds on Elvis had healed. Although it still looked horrifying, it was no longer bleeding and Gu Mengmeng felt much more relieved and finally had a little relaxed expression on her face.

Chapter 509 - Making Use of His Trick Against Him

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

It was inappropriate for Auretin and Ian to enter Gu Mengmeng's house, so Lea set up a huge pot outside of the house and told them everything that happened after Gu Mengmeng left while cooking.

The situation was a mess that time and it would be wrong to say Ian's decision was incorrect. After all, the entire Saint Nazaire had been controlled. Even as the Messenger of the Beast Deity, Gu Mengmeng was like a clam that had lost its shell in that situation, it was too dangerous. Compared to remaining in the unknown danger, going to the tribe of the previous Messenger and ask for protection was the best choice. Even if Cole had any other motives, the identity of the Messenger was made known to the public and Cole had to protect Gu Mengmeng no matter what.

This was also the reason Ian left immediately after his wounds were healed, or else Cole would have killed Ian in order to seal up the message that Gu Mengmeng was in Sauder, then he could accuse Saint Nazaire for incompetency in protecting the Messenger. Once Saint Nazaire was destroyed by all the tribes in the Beast World coming together, Sauder could then find a reason and claim they saved Gu Mengmeng from some strong person, finally he would rightfully become a hero for saving the Great Messenger.

Although it was very likely for Gu Mengmeng to not cooperate with Ian's lies, who would know the truth if they kept Gu Mengmeng away from the outside world?

Moreover, Cole had the Fox Seductive Fragrant, if he used it on Gu Mengmeng, she might...

So the first thing Ian did after he woke up was to escape, turning himself into one of Gu Mengmeng's assured backups.

When he was on the way back to Saint Nazaire, he met Elvis and Lea whom came to look for Gu Mengmeng. Both of them exchanged information and Ian then realized that he had fallen into Cole's trap. The fifth-level beast pressure was not overcome by himself, Cole had made this breakthrough on purpose so that he could bring Gu Mengmeng to Cole himself. Read more chapter on our vipnovel.com

After Lea had combined all the information, the first thing he did was to ask Ian go back to Saint Nazaire and make everyone, including the females, to turn and move to Sauder. Two of the strongest males stayed behind in every female's family, while the whole Eagle-owl tribe guarded the females to Sauder, taking the further path. The other males then met up with Elvis and launched a direct attack on Sauder to attract their attention and ensure that the females are safe, while also covering for Lea, whom had sneaked into Sauder and contacted Dylan that had planned for a rebellion long ago, Lea ensured Gu Mengmeng's safety and told her his plans.

On the other hand, Gu Mengmeng pretended to care for Cole, whom was faking to be unconscious. Lea had put all hope on Cole not letting go of any chance for Gu Mengmeng to accompany him and get close to him so that the Fox Seductive Fragrant could work on her. In addition, Cole knew that Lea and Elvis were just a third-level and fourth-level respectively, the two fifth-level snow foxes outside had absolute control of the situation. Hence, he stayed by Gu Mengmeng's side at ease and went full out on playing the martyr, totally not realizing that Lea was making use of his trick against him, using Gu Mengmeng as the bait to hamper the movements of the strongest power in Sauder.

As for the two fifth-level beasts...

They were just at the start of the fifth-level and ended up being Elvis's training partner, helping Elvis to break past the boundary and enter the fifth-level.

Lea did not expect that too. Although Elvis had accumulated much power in the third level and had advanced to the peak of fourth-level soon after he made it to the fourth, there was still a difference between fourth and fifth-level. But Elvis managed to fight two person himself, even leveling up during the battle, that showed how much the two words ‘Gu Mengmeng’ meant to Elvis, even stimulating such crazy amount of strength in him.

Chapter 510 - Thank You for Giving Me This Chance

After defeating the two snow foxes, Lea did not choose to launch an attack on Sauder immediately; instead, he let Elvis rest while he sneaked into Sauder to look for Gillian's whereabouts. He knew Cole's abilities, even if Elvis had advanced to the fifth-level, it would be almost impossible for Elvis to win if they clash head-on with each other. The only hope was to do something about the mating contract.

Lea resisted the urge to see Gu Mengmeng and moved from one forbidden zone to another using the secret tunnel that only the witch doctor know. He did not believe that Cole would let his weakness wander out of his control and the best evidence would be that nobody has ever seen the female ever since Cole had mated. The only possible answer was that he had hidden his female.

When Lea finally found Gillian in the secret chamber that was only accessible during the Leader Ceremony, he broke into a grin.

He brought Gillian out secretly, before meeting up with Elvis without any delay, and they launched the attack on Sauder together.

On the other hand, Cole was still dreaming on using the Fox Seductive Fragrant to make Gu Mengmeng listen to him.

The amount of blood they shed in the battles and the narrow escapes were briefly explained with few words.

Males should be sacrificing everything for the females, he did not want Mengmeng have any mental load for this. But Gu Mengmeng was neither stupid nor blind, the old injuries on Elvis's body that could not heal in time, the faint scars on Lea's body that could not be covered up, even Auretin and Ian did not have a single place on their body uninjured, not to mention the rest that did not dare to show up in front of her until now.

Gu Mengmeng knew that they did not want her to see them in their miserable state, so she chose not to ask, but she would remember this kindness by heart.

Lea scooped a bowl of meat for Gu Mengmeng and fed her spoon by spoon.

When Gu Mengmeng was just about to reject him, Lea put on a straight face and said with a little dismay, “I am your approved beast pet after all, can’t I even feed you? These days that you were gone, I had been worried whether Cole mistreated you, whether he let you eat well and sleep well every day... I am finally back by your side, can’t you just let me feed you once and ensure that you are full to reduce my worries?”

Gu Mengmeng could not do anything and had to listen to Lea. With the unconscious Chixuan in her arms, she ate the food sent to her mouth by Lea.

Auretin had the same expressionless face on, but now that he could use chopsticks smoothly, he did not need others to signal him and had half pot of stewed meat to himself before putting down his chopsticks. He looked at Gu Mengmeng and said, “This was the first time that I fight, not for survival, not because I was bored or thirsty for killing, but to protect someone, something. This feeling is so special, thank you for giving me this chance.”

Gu Mengmeng looked at Auretin whom was resembling a military officer doing a post-war, after action report and wanted to laugh. She looked at Auretin speechlessly, pursed her lips and said, “Do you know what are you saying? Look at the amount of injuries all over your body, it surely wasn’t an easy battle? To the extent that you almost lose your life in it? And you are still thanking me?”

Auretin looked down on the wounds on his body obediently, then he looked up at Gu Mengmeng with the same expressionless face suiting his character setting and he answered, “Every fight between males is a life-or-death situation, but I have never had such a strong urge for victory before.

Chapter 511 - The Feeling of Being Alive

“This time, I knew what I was fighting for, I did not kill for the pleasure of doing it. When I stood up from the pile of enemies’ bodies, I have never felt the meaning of ‘being alive’ so clearly before. Although my feelings are not as strong as Elvis, it was enough for me to thank you.” Auretin was expressionless, but he said it slowly yet firmly, making Gu Mengmeng convinced that he was not being polite, not trying to fawn upon her, but it was his honest feelings.

Feeling the meaning of ‘being alive’...

This sentence sounded familiar.

Ah, Gu Mengmeng remembered, she had heard Elvis saying something similar.

Before establishing Saint Nazaire, he wandered around, stirring up trouble and getting into fights just for the pleasure of killing. In the end, even killing made him numbed, the biggest question he had that time was... why live?

So when he met Lea and Lea suggested on establishing a tribe, he agreed on it out of boredom.

At the same time, Lea then did not have the meaning of ‘being alive’, he struggled to live just to take revenge.

Was Auretin... like this too?

Gu Mengmeng did not dig deeper into Auretin’s past. She understood that if she had no plans on taking in a male, she should not intervene too much into his life.

Gu Mengmeng poured a cup of honey water for Auretin and said, “I do not know what you felt in this fight, but thank you for staying alive.”

Auretin was stunned for a moment, he took over the cup from Gu Mengmeng with both hands. He stared into the ripples in the cup, smiled slightly and did not answer.

So, this was the feeling of being alive.

Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Ian. The ill-looking lad had struggles written all over his face, it seemed like he did not dare to look at Gu Mengmeng, but he also keep peeking at her with the corner of his eye. Gu Mengmeng smiled and said, “You were so reliable and courageous when you asked me to ‘get up’, why did you become so awkward in just a few days of not seeing?”

Ian said angrily, “Don’t you tell others that I let you on my back! I did it out of the urgent situation that time, in order to... save you. Don’t you mistake me letting you do that to me because... I like you.”

Gu Mengmeng showed an even more spooked expression than Ian and said, “Eh... Say it clearly, what did I do to you?”

Lea hugged Gu Mengmeng’s waist and whispered into her ear, “Going onto someone’s back is a holy ritual. Once a male is willing to let you sit on his back, it means that he is willing to devote himself to you and be your servant for the rest of his life, following your orders. Many males might not be willing to let his female on his back even after mating. If there is one last pride left in front of his female, it would be letting her onto his back. You would understand by looking at Sandy. Although her partners all treat her well, only the first partner Bode is willing to let her onto his back. No matter how much Collin love her, he only hugs her or carry her below his arms, but never on his back.”

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head and asked, “But that day Elvis brought me back to the tribe, he carried me on his back on the way to his cave.”

Lea smiled and poked on Gu Mengmeng's nose, he said, "That was why I said, nothing is more important than you in Elvis's heart, including the tribe, his tribesmen, friends... and even himself."

Gu Mengmeng felt a sweetness in her heart and she turned around to look inside the house. Although she could not see Elvis at that moment, she could picture the pair of affectionate eyes.

Gu Mengmeng held up the stone bowl, scooped a big bowl of meat and turned to walk into the house. When she walked past Ian, she said, “Relax, I will never let the cat out of the bag and I promise that you will still be innocent and pure when you mate in the future.”

Ian blushed and shook Gu Mengmeng’s hand off his shoulder. He murmured, “Just say your words, don’t touch others as you wish.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled, ignore Ian’s awkwardness and walked into the house with the bowl in her hand.

Looking at Gu Mengmeng’s back, Lea wagged his tail and asked Auretin to stay and look after Gu Mengmeng just in case, while he continued to interrogate Cole on the whereabouts of the little wolves.

He knew that the gloominess on Gu Mengmeng’s face would not disappear until the little wolves were back.

What he did not mention was, he was also the one that carried her on his back.

“Hubby,” Gu Mengmeng called sweetly, before lying beside Elvis on the bed. Smiling, she looked at Elvis whom was adhering to her words and lying on the bed, not moving at all. She said, “You must be hungry? The food Lea cooked today tastes awesome, let me feed you.”

Elvis cleared his throat and said, “Actually, after advancing to the fifth-level, I realized that my body’s recovering ability became better. These cuts and bruises have almost healed, I can take care of myself.”

But Gu Mengmeng was unwilling, she pressed onto Elvis’s shoulders lightly as he was trying to sit up and said, pouting, “I am your wife, I should at least have the right to take care of you, right? I will feel uneasy if I don't do anything for you after you were wounded so badly for me."

Elvis rubbed Gu Mengmeng's head helplessly and said, "I was just scared that it's too tiring for you."

Gu Mengmeng smiled and said, "Why would it be tiring to take care of my own husband? Come, open your mouth, ah~~"

Feeling a little embarrassed and ashamed, Elvis opened his mouth with a straight face nonetheless.

Gu Mengmeng sent the small spoon into his mouth and he quickly swallowed the food on the spoon, closed his mouth and looked down at Gu Mengmeng with a pair helpless and affectionate eyes.

To her surprise, Gu Mengmeng realized that the tip of Elvis's ears were a little pinkish, so she fiddled with it and said, "You are blushing because you are fed by your own wife?"

Elvis cleared his throat and said, "It was always the males taking care of females and no females would feed a male food..."

Gu Mengmeng said, "What's wrong with that? Kede and the other three are males too..."

Halfway through her sentence, Gu Mengmeng suddenly could not continue. Her eyes turned to look at the still unconscious Chixuan uncontrollably and she frowned.

Elvis supported himself to sit up and reached out to hug Gu Mengmeng. With his chin on Gu Mengmeng's head, he said, "Don't worry, Lea and I are here, the little wolves would be safe and sound. Trust me, you understand?"

Gu Mengmeng knew that her emotion would affect that of the whole family. Whether it was Elvis or Lea, they were trying their best to think of solutions for her, she could not pressurize them further with her sadness.

Rubbing her face, Gu Mengmeng forced out a smile and said, “I know, I trust you.”

Elvis nodded, kissed Gu Mengmeng’s face lightly and finished off the bowl of meat.

Lea left for an entire day and it was already dark when he returned again.

Gu Mengmeng looked at Lea's tired face, sigh softly, forced herself to remain calm and asked, "Was Cole still refusing to say where he hid the little wolves?"

Lea shook his head and said, "He wants to see Elvis, he said he would only tell it to Elvis."

Gu Mengmeng and Elvis looked at each other and asked, "Tell Elvis?"

Lea nodded and said, "Strange, I know. He knew clearly that Elvis fought with his life not for the little wolves but for you and the extent that he could force Elvis to retreat with the little wolves is very limited. Thinking for his own benefits, he should have requested to see you instead. One reason was that you are someone that value the little wolves, you would accept anything for them, another was that you are the Messenger of the Beast Deity, your words are equivalent to that of the god's, almost nobody in the Beast World would dare to say no to. But he chose Elvis to see instead of you..."

Gu Mengmeng felt strange too, she hugged onto Elvis's elbow and asked, "Was he being unconvinced that we tricked him by using the punishment of the mating contract and want to seek revenge on you?"

Elvis let out a cold laugh and said, "Seek revenge on me? Just nice, I have yet to go after him for upsetting you."

Gu Mengmeng pulled back Elvis whom was ready to get up and leave, she said, "But he is stronger than you and your wounds not have healed completely..."

Elvis rubbed Gu Mengmeng's head and said, "You are the best medicine for my injuries, just looking at you and all my wounds have healed. He had been 'greeted' by Lea in the dungeon for two days and must be more miserable than me. Be rest assured, I will be fine."

"But..." Gu Mengmeng wanted to say something more, but she was hugged by Lea on the waist.

A warm chest was pressed tightly against Gu Mengmeng's back. Lea turned his face and whispered by Gu Mengmeng's ear with a low voice, "Let him go, he would be... going crazy by suppressing it if you don't let him vent it out."

"Huh?" Gu Mengmeng's brain could not keep up with the pace as she looked at Elvis disappearing in the dark, while Lea found a comfortable spot at her neck behind her. He sighed softly and said, "During the few days that you were not around, Elvis's own imagination almost drove him crazy. The rage would not disappear until he tore Cole into pieces. Although he had toned down so much now, don't forget how he was like originally."

Gu Mengmeng kept quiet for a while, before saying, "What about you? You must have been worried too."

Lea's smile froze for a moment, then let out a loud laughter. He kissed Gu Mengmeng on the cheek, before bridal carrying her to the bed and laying sideways beside her. Lea's furry big tail covered onto Gu Mengmeng's body like a blanket of constant temperature while his slender fingers swept past her face softly, stopping at her lovely little chin, pinching it and Gu Mengmeng had to look up at his long and amorous eyes.

"Right, I was indeed worried sick. I was scared you might fall in love with Cole's tail which was bushier than mine, I was scared you might fall for his Fox Seductive Fragrance under his sugar-coated coaxing, I was scared you couldn't resist Cole's lure and pounce on him, I was scared you would look down on the lowly third-level me after liking the fifth-level peak Cole... So, I cut away Cole's tail to make him never able to emit the fragrant and lure you again. If not for the fact that he still have to confess the whereabouts of the little wolves, I might even cut away his tongue... Will you... feel heartache?" Lea had a cold expression on, looking like a sick yet haughty child trying to attract his parent's attention by acting rebellious.

Chapter 514 - My First Love, I'm Thankful It's You

Gu Mengmeng held Lea's face with both hands, smiling, "Although I'm a high-level fur freak, but I don't just like any dirty thing. I am also very picky, alright."

Lea wagged his big tail, eventually returning into Gu Mengmeng's arms and kissed her forehead, "Then do you like me?"

Gu Mengmeng hugged Lea's huge tail, rubbing it a few times in satisfaction, "If you knew what it means to be a girl's "first love", then you wouldn't ask such foolish questions."

Confused, Lea asked, "What's a first love?"

Gu Mengmeng thought about it for a moment before replying, "First love, is the first time in a girl's life when she shyly presents her whole heart to a boy. Clearly she knew nothing, yet she envisioned forever with him, blindly believing that as long as she held on to those hands stubbornly, they could walk to the end of the world together. The guy became the one who guided the girl in love, and from then on, her eternal love life would be affected, intentionally or not, by that first love. If it's said that a woman has three men that she will never forget in her lifetime, it would probably be her father, first love, and the man who turned her from a girl to a woman."

Listening, Lea suddenly smiled, holding up Gu Mengmeng's hand and kissed it, "There are two of me among the three unforgettable men in your life?"

Gu Mengmeng was stunned, not understanding what Lea meant.

Lea pointed at his own nose, "First love, and daddy."

Gu Mengmeng burst out in laughter, “Daddy refers to the biological kind, not you.”

Lea was slightly disappointed, “It’s rare that I ever get to win Elvis...”

Gu Mengmeng smiled helplessly, not saying a word.

Lea kept his smile, hugging Gu Mengmeng tightly in his arms so that she would not see the amount of sorrow and regret in his expression.

A guide...

The first time she shyly presents her whole heart...

She once envisioned forever...

Yet, they were all shattered due to his idiocy.

“I... wasn’t a competent first love, right?” Lea asked softly.

Gu Mengmeng did not give him a reply, only asking in response, “Have you had any love experiences prior to me?”

Lea shook his head without any hint of hesitation.

Gu Mengmeng, “So, I’m your first love too, right?”

Lea lowered his head, looking into Gu Mengmeng’s eyes, asking, “Do males, have first loves too?”

Gu Mengmeng laughed, “Of course, everyone has their precious first love, the one that occurs once in their lives.”

Lea smiled, kissing Gu Mengmeng’s tiny face, “Great, then I finally gave you something equally precious... My first love, I’m thankful it’s you.”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head, “Your first love wasn’t all that great. You met me, a player who had a headstrong and stubborn personality. Not only was I incapable of giving you a complete love, I didn’t allow you to give up hope on me, making you have to become a beast pet as a last resort, strictly speaking... your first love was trash, the type that would make you question if you were once blind many years down the road.”

Lea furrowed his brows, his expression darkened as he angrily pinched Gu Mengmeng’s tiny chin, “It has been the most blissful thing in my life to be your beast pet. It is not the “last resort”, for I forced my way to be one. You did not get together with Elvis because you were a player, but because of my calculations that pushed you into the arms of another male, yet I still did not refuse to let go, pestering you to no end and watching you not knowing what to do. You suffered because of me, yet you grabbed my hand when I was at the edge of desperation. You are the only piece of beauty in my life, so I will not allow you to say that about yourself.”

Chapter 515 - Cole's Negotiation Conditions

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

On the other hand, Elvis had arrived at the dark dungeon.

All males have night vision capabilities, so the dungeon needed no torch nor other sources of light, thus there was not even a window inside.

It was in absolute darkness, but Elvis and Cole could see each other clearly.

Cole had broken his tail, making him look hideous and weak. He raised his head and looked at Elvis, who had a murderous energy around him, yet did not show any signs of hatred or fear on his face. He maintained a smile throughout, alienated but respectful.

“Wanna know where your sons are?” Cole broke the ice.

Elvis smirked, “Not really. You better get rid of them before I find them, so I feel better when I kill you.”

Cole did not seem surprised, only nodding, “As expected of the eldest male beast of the stray beasts, being this cold even towards his own cubs, not caring about their life and death.”

Elvis moved his neck a few times as a warmup, then stared coldly towards Cole. There was a tense feeling, as if he was ready to strike anytime.

Cole waved his arms, “You don’t have to look at me like this, I broke my tail and cannot maintain my balance. You don’t even have to bring up a battle, even if you open the doors, I may not even be able to run. I’m looking for you, to negotiate another deal with you.”

Coldly, Elvis replied, “Not interested.”

Cole watched Elvis turned to leave, then sneered, “Not even if it concerns Ah Gu?”

Cole barely finished his sentence and already found Elvis’ sharp claws wrapped around his neck, his bloodsucking eyes exploding with mystic blue light, suffocating one like he was the God of Death, giving chills down one’s spine, “I said, you are not allowed to call her that.”

Cole found himself incapable of breathing, yet the edges of his lips were still maintaining the curvature of a fake smile as he looked right back at Elvis’ eyes, as if he was telling him to challenge him through his gaze.

Elvis threw Cole aside before he suffocated, “Tell me what you want, quick.”

Cole coughed a few times, then took a few deep breaths weakly. It was only when he was able to breathe properly that he continued, “You couldn’t care less about the lives of those wolf cubs, but Ah Gu really cares. If I returned those four little ones to you, Ah Gu would definitely be very happy. You don’t have to glare at me like this, she silently consented to the name Ah Gu.”

Elvis ground his teeth, but held back the rashness to rip Cole apart. He no longer wanted to see Gu Mengmeng stopping herself suddenly when she unintentionally brings up the wolf cubs, then forcefully hold back her emotions and tears, pretending like nothing happened. Although the four rascals always snatched Gu Mengmeng away, but... he would not do anything that would hurt Xiao Meng!

“Conditions.”

Cole nodded agreeably, “It is impossible to live if I touched your female. Without my tail today, I have become a crippled beast, I would rather be dead... So I would not plead for you to let me go.”

Elvis sneered, “It better be this way.”

Cole nodded as well, counting that as a mutual understanding with Elvis, then shook off the dust on his body, “You kill Lea, and I will not only return the three wolf cubs to you, I will resuscitate the one that’s fainted... I heard Ah Gu call him... Chixuan? Such a weird name, most likely given by Ah Gu.”

Elvis frowned, looking at Cole, “You want Lea to die?”

Chapter 516 - Are You Taking Me As A Damned Fool?

Cole nodded, “I want him to die, and I want you to be the one who personally kills him.”

Elvis snickered, “I refuse.”

For the first time, Cole let out a shocked expression, looking at Elvis asking, “Lea knows how to make Ah Gu so happy, aren’t you jealous? Aren’t you worried that he would one day replace you?”

Elvis thought about it for a moment, then replied honestly, “Jealous, I was jealous from the start.”

Cole continued, “I’m now giving you a dignified reason to get rid of him. Even if Ah Gu questions it, you can tell her that there are no two ways about it other than to sacrifice Lea to protect the four little ones. Lea is not even Ah Gu’s partner, but a beast pet. There are so many people who are better looking than him in the snow fox tribe, can’t you just find a more obedient one to become Ah Gu’s beast pet? But you’re refusing to? Why? Don’t tell me it’s because you’ve gone through thick and thin with Lea and can’t do such things to your brother. If that is so, then I will feel disappointed by the stray beast.”

Elvis looked at Cole expressionless, and only spoke when he was done, “You’re very noisy.”

Cole was choked by his words. For the life of him, he could not understand what Elvis was thinking.

Stray beasts had always only cared about what felt good to them, not concerned about the aftermath. It was only after he washed off his mating mark that he fully experienced how happy it felt to not care about anything. If only he had known that stray beasts lived in such a carefree manner, he would have killed Gillian himself long ago, then he definitely would not have become like he is now.

Elvis was born a stray beast, the blood running in his veins should be selfish.

However, he could tolerate Gu Mengmeng having a Lea by her side?

Cole did not understand, he really could not understand. If he was in that position, he would have killed Lea without any hesitation.

“Why? Why did you refuse?!” Cole’s eyes were red, showing his unwillingness to accept the answer.

Elvis replied, “Xiao Meng would be upset if Lea died. I won’t do anything that would make Xiao Meng unhappy.”

Cole was shocked, but he immediately responded, “Even if Ah Gu would be angry, it would just be for a short while and she would take no time before she forgets about Lea. Then, you...”

Elvis disrupted Cole, “Even if it takes no effort, I will not agree to letting Xiao Meng be unhappy. If you have no other conditions for exchange, then we will no longer negotiate. To me, Lea is way more important for he can protect Xiao Meng’s safety as compared to the wolf cubs who would cause Xiao Meng to fall into danger.”

Elvis turned to leave as he saw Cole not speaking a word.

Why should he waste time making useless conversation when he could not kill Cole?

Elvis had just raised his legs and barely walked any distance before Cole’s voice rang behind him, “What if I told you, kidnapping the little wolves to hold against Ah Gu, had been Lea’s plan all along?”

Elvis stood still, turned, and stared coldly at Cole without a word.

Cole continued, “The original plan was to get rid of you through this kidnapping, Lea rise as the first partner of Ah Gu and I become her beast pet. This would strengthen the bond between Sauder and the messengers of the Beast Deity, enhancing the glory of the messengers tribe. However, your sudden upgrade messed up our original schedule, so Lea betrayed our agreement last minute. If it was so, would you still keep him?”

Elvis looked down at Cole, replying coldly, “Are you taking me as a damned fool?”

Chapter 517 - The Adoration Has Gotten You Haughty Huh

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Cole looked straight into Elvis' eyes, "What I said were true!"

Elvis snorted, "If Lea wanted to be her first partner, she would have mated with Xiao Meng last year before the winter, there would not be so much trouble. And... enhancing Sauder's glory? Ha... What do you think Sauder is to Lea?"

Elvis no longer wanted to converse uselessly with Cole, so he stomped on his chest, leaning forward and stared sharp into his eyes, "I'm not killing you because Xiao Meng can't bear to leave those little cubs, and also because you have accounts to settle with Lea, so I'm leaving you for him. However, I don't have the best temper, so I hope you will not waste my time like you did today again. Otherwise... as a senior stray beast, I will nicely tell you... why stray beasts make people fear, despise, yet not dare to provoke."

With that, Elvis kicked Cole away and turned around to leave, not giving Cole any more opportunity to speak.

When he returned to the stone house, Gu Mengmeng had already fallen asleep.

Lea sat outside the stone house, clearly waiting for Elvis. Seeing that he returned, he moved to the side to make some space for him.

"Did he tell you where the little wolves are?" Lea asked.

Elvis shook his head, without a word.

Lea smiled helplessly, “I guessed he wouldn’t say it anyway, looking for you... was most likely so he could sow discord.”

Elvis nodded, “You still made me go even when you knew? What a waste of time...”

Lea shrugged, helplessly replying, “Mengmeng wanted to know about the whereabouts of the little wolves, so as long as there was a slim chance, I was still hoping maybe you could pry open his mouth.”

Elvis looked to the side at Lea, asking, “Aren’t you afraid I would be fooled by him?”

However, Lea was full of smiles as he shrugged and shook his head, “Even if you fully believed him, you wouldn’t kill me. As long as I don’t die and can still stay by Mengmeng’s side, no other costs would matter.”

Elvis raised his eyebrows, “How would you know that I definitely would not kill you?”

Lea nodded, replying certainly, “Mengmeng likes me a little now, so she would definitely be hurt if you killed me. Won’t you avoid doing anything that could make her upset?”

Elvis smiled too, “The adoration has gotten you haughty, huh.”

Lea wagged his big tail, “Thank you for your compliment.”

Elvis turned back to look at Gu Mengmeng who was deep asleep. She had just flipped around, her tiny face facing the entrance. Elvis could not help but soften his gaze as he asked softly, “Seeing the situation today, Cole would probably not tell us the whereabouts of the little wolves, so what do you plan to do next?”

Lea’s gaze was cold as he looked up at the moonlight, “An eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth. Back then, he framed me for being excessively doted on by our father, banishing me from the tribe and making me like a rat who was despised by everyone. Today, I will give him a similar punishment for the same thing.”

Elvis looked at Lea, asking, “Do you need me to do anything?”

Lea chuckled, turning his gaze into the house, looking at that sleeping face as he smiled gently, “Protect Mengmeng well, don’t let anyone hurt her in front of us again.”

Elvis nodded without a reply.

Both males did not continue discussing further details, only standing up, having a common goal and returning to the house in sync, one laying on each side of Gu Mengmeng. Their two big tails crossed, protecting Gu Mengmeng fully, allowing her to sleep in their love and care while having a sense of security.

Chapter 518 - A Swindling Con Show

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

The next day, something big happened in Sauder.

Gu Mengmeng had used her name as the messenger of the Beast Deity to assemble all the tribe elders, nobles and everyone in the tribe.

She dressed up and stood on the altar, devotedly reciting the English lyrics of “Little Apple”, “My little buttercup... The sweetest love I ever found, I’m never gonna give up...”

With the first breakthrough, Gu Mengmeng’s limit for shame has been dragged down low. She could solemnly read aloud the hilarious words without laughing, while having such a serious expression.

Learning from the shamans, witch doctors and the swindlers who mystified deliberately, Gu Mengmeng played the con show profoundly. If it was in the present world, anyone could tell that it was fake straightaway, but it was enough to fool the people who have not seen the world and were superstitious.

The moment Gu Mengmeng stomped heavily then proceeded to glare down angrily at the people below the stage, everyone seemed to get a shiver down their spines, their hearts beating uncontrollably like drums.

Of course, they did not know, although a part of the reason for that was because of Gu Mengmeng making an empty show of power, but most of it was due to Elvis silently releasing beast pressure. It was not a lot, and most were in cooperation with Gu Mengmeng’s movements, so the orcs who were captivated by Gu Mengmeng did not realize what was the actual cause of their fears.

“My beast Father said, you all have been resentful, asking why I abandoned you all... right?” Gu Mengmeng’s gaze scanned the tribe elders below the stage, looking at how they looked down guiltily, afraid to make eye contact with her, and guessed their thoughts.

Guilty conscience, is this exact form.

Gu Mengmeng went up slowly, opening her arms wide, presenting a position as if it were a deity showing love for the people on Earth, saying with a bitter hatred, “How dedicated and loyal must Sauder have been when the previous messengers of the Beast Deity was assisted in their rule? However... what have you guys been up to these past few years? The holy fire was extinguished was already a warning, yet all of you remained entirely oblivious, not willing to change from your past mistakes...”

The tribe elders knelt onto the ground. The issue of the holy fire extinguishing was certainly a weight in their hearts despite it having been extinguished for centuries, yet it continued to cast a gloom over Sauder. How afraid must they have been for the new messengers of the Beast Deity to look into this matter? Yet, they did not expect that they could hide it for much longer.

Gu Mengmeng did not bother about them, only continuing, “Beast Father said, the snow foxes had already forgotten the oracle, they made a fool of their religious authority, slandering the deity, banishing the witch doctor assigned by the deity out of the tribe, causing him to be bullied, and that is disrespect to the deity. In your eyes, do you even have any respect for the mighty beast deity?”

“Mighty Messenger, calm down, the mighty messenger is clear! Sauder has not even an ounce of disrespect towards the mighty beast deity...” Who would dare to stand once the tribe elders had knelt down? The vixens in Sauder all fell to the ground kneeling, all bowing and paying respects to Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head, with a face of pity, “At first, on the account of you all once serving the previous messengers of the Beast Deity, beast Father and I did not want to look further into your mistakes, but who would have expected that you all would dare to be so bold to kidnap my sons to hold it over me... Ha, you may have forgotten that my sons, are the grandsons of the beast deity. If you dare to touch them, you are picking a fight against the beast deity. Now, the beast deity has been angered, and even I... can no longer fend for you all.”

Chapter 519 - Deception Is Truly Physical Labor

“Mighty Messenger, mighty messenger please make a fair judgement! This was the idea of Cole himself, he was the one who wanted to use this method to welcome you back to Sauder...” One of the tribe elders opened up, and instantly got the echoes of agreement from the crowd.

Gu Mengmeng gestured for everyone to stop, then looked at the tribe elder who spoke up, “Sauder doesn’t even have a witch doctor, yet it wants to welcome me? How would that attend to my needs?”

“This...” the tribe elder wanted to say something, but suddenly did not know what to reply.

Gu Mengmeng continued, “When religious authority is overturned, so will divine power. How dare you say you want to welcome me back with such a tribe?”

The tribe elders were so fooled by Gu Mengmeng they were stunned. Gu Mengmeng turned around and sat on a chair in the center of the altar, with Elvis and Lea by her left and right, respectively. Their full-on aura from their appearance made everyone so pressured their knees gave way, kneeling on the ground immediately.

Gu Mengmeng held her head and said, “The original tribe leader of Sauder, Cole, disobeyed God’s orders due to his own selfishness, framing Lea, the witch doctor’s successor. He used his authority to suppress the tribe, forcing fellow tribesmen to go against their conscience to help a rascal commit villainy. His crime is punishable and irredeemably evil. However, son of God, Lea, remains conscious, compassionate, and kneeled three days and nights to the beast deity to plead on Cole’s behalf. Out of the kindness of the heart of the beast deity, he was willing to free Cole from his death sentence, banishing him from the tribe and making him a stray beast forever. Nian Er and so son were also subjected to people, forcefully deceived by Cole against their own will, so we will be lenient and not investigate further. Are all of you satisfied by this judgement?”

So, all the blame will be taken by Cole alone, what is there not to be satisfied about?

The tribe elders took the lead to express their thousand thanks.

With a wave of her hand, Gu Mengmeng left. The rest of the things... could just be handed over for Lea to handle.

Upon her return to their tiny stone house, Gu Mengmeng leaned in Elvis' arms, “Shit, deception is truly physical labor.”

Elvis felt his heart ache a little. He gently squeezed Gu Mengmeng's shoulders, “The good thing is that the injustice towards Lea is undone, and he is now the son of God that Sauder can be most proud of again. In the future, he can help you do such things, so you won't have to make yourself up and go on the stage every so often.”

Smiling, Gu Mengmeng shook her head, “I'm really sceptical about the average intellect of the snow fox tribe, weren't my words just now... clearly full of plot holes? How could they even believe that?!”

Elvis laughed, “The words of the powerhouse is the truth. You are the messenger of the Beast Deity, so they would naturally be afraid to disobey you.”

Gu Mengmeng flipped around in Elvis' arms, “Sometimes, I really feel that the previous messengers of the Beast Deity could have been a salesperson, how did she brainwash people such that the concept of the “messengers of the Beast Deity” and “Beast Deity” is so mysterious that even after thousands of years, people still fear these two titles. Take me for instance, no matter how you look, I'm just a weakling, what do they even fear about me?”

Elvis played with Gu Mengmeng's hair softly, "You're not good at fighting at close quarters, but you have Lea and I."

Gu Mengmeng nodded as she suddenly understood the situation, "Ah, I get it. I'm just a hollow display, what they truly fear are you and Lea."

"No." Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng's forehead, "What they fear is your religious authority, and the mighty Beast Deity behind you."

Rather disheartened, Gu Mengmeng lowered her head, "What bullshit religious authority, if it was so useful, I would have directly saved my sons. Why would I have created so much trouble?"

Elvis comforted Gu Mengmeng, speaking softly in her ear, "Don't worry, I will save them."

Chapter 520 - Banishing Cole

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

It had been much easier than expected for Lea to regain religious authority.

Out of the three fifth-level orcs Sauder originally had, two were dead and one was disabled, so under Elvis' absolute pressure, no one dared to show any signs of dismay. Furthermore, millenniums of legacy had made them strongly believe that they were the followers of the messengers of the Beast Deity, and since the messenger has come to Earth and wanted Lea to hold power, then he shall. She wanted Cole to die, then Cole shall die. In Sauder, Gu Mengmeng's words were the absolute truth, and only need to be abided by without discussion or question.

With Elvis' fighting skills in addition to Gu Mengmeng's religious authority, Lea felt like a fish in water when he began to manage everything in the tribe.

The first thing Lea did when he regained power was to announce that he would lead the snow fox tribe back under the control of the messenger of the Beast Deity, and there would no longer be a Sauder tribe from then on, only followers of the messengers of the Beast Deity. When the messenger is in Saint Nazaire, the snow fox tribe would be in Saint Nazaire, and they would follow the messenger to whichever tribe she moves to. They would not be loyal to a tribe, only to the messenger.

This concept was basically the same as Saint Nazaire devouring Sauder, yet the tribe elders were exceptionally supportive.

Perhaps in their eyes, no matter whether it was Saint Nazaire or Sauder, it was fine as long as it was the messengers tribe. Even with a name change, they will remain the tribe elders under the messenger and receive as much respect.

The second thing, was to banish Cole.

The situation is something like how everyone kicks a man who is down. People who used to follow Cole's lead could no longer be found. On the day of Cole's banishment, only Lea had come to send him off.

In Lea's hands were Cole's favorite food as he delivered it to his face, "Every dog has its day, what goes around comes around. You banished me once, and now I'm exiling you, and so... we are now even."

Cole fetched the food from Lea's hands, eating it elegantly without excitement nor hatred, making him not look like a banished man at all.

Swallowing the food in his mouth calmly, Cole said, "Aren't you going to kill me to spare all trouble later? Aren't you afraid that one day I will bounce back, just like you today?"

Lea chuckled, "Afraid? I was never once afraid of you even when you were high and mighty. Today, you are nothing but a banished crippled beast, yet you want me to fear you?"

Cole needed, "You don't have to speak nice words to me, I know the only reason you're not killing me is so you can find the whereabouts of the few wolf cubs. I'm also not afraid to directly tell you, I've allowed the snake beast to bring the three little wolf cubs to the Snake King valley. The remedy for Chixuan is with the three little wolf cubs, if you want it, then get Ah Gu to go find me at the Snake King valley. If you are worried, you can most likely go with her... But, don't forget, that mighty man at the valley is not as gentlemanly as me. He only invited Ah Gu alone, anyone other than her... will be considered a trespasser."

Lea did not show any signs of excitement in his eyes, remaining a gentle gaze, "I was just thinking, how would anyone from the snake tribe not chase after their beast king but come to pester you in Sauder. So it seems like you have made an agreement with the Snake King valley a while ago."

Cole nodded, admitting to what Lea mentioned, "After all, that mighty man had deep ties with the mighty messenger Sauder is loyal to, and since they had a common goal... there naturally wasn't any reason not to collaborate with him."

Lea smiled, nodded, then looked at Cole sceptically, “You no longer have any value after you have told me about the whereabouts of the little wolves... Aren’t you afraid I’d turn around and kill you?”

Chapter 521 - Are You Both Possessed?

Cole opened his arms, giving him a clear “Do whatever you want” pose, with a hint of provocation in his smile. He raised his chin, “If you killed me... who would bring you guys to the Snake King valley? It’s fine if those little wolves died, you can probably kill me now. If I enter the grave with the sons of the messenger of the Beast Deity, you can consider my death an admirable one.”

Lea did not say a word, only gesturing please, meaning for Cole to take his leave.

Cole shook the beast skin on his body, smiling at Lea, “You’ve mimicked me for countless of years, and you do seem like you do have some romantic charm to you today. However, replicas will be replicas, see you some other time, so we won’t have to remember this moment.”

Lea did not reply, only smiling gently with slight disdain, indifference and inadvertent calmness.

Cole did not say anything either, only turning around to leave.

As compared to when he banished Lea back then, Cole was much more dignified. However, he had much more hatred and reluctance as compared to Lea then.

Why me?!

These two words made it as if Cole could cry blood from his eyes.

The instant he turned around, Cole’s expression turned hideous and scary, while Lea behind him was filled with serenity.

Taking a glance up at the sky, Cole turned into a black shadow as he disappeared in the bowers.

Lea turned around to walk back to Sauder... Oh, no, there was no longer a Sauder in this world. It is now Saint Nazaire's territory, and in Gu Mengmeng's words, a "subsection".

The original tribe elders had a secret room specially for them to discuss about work, so Gu Mengmeng used burned wood ashes to write the two words "Meeting Room" above while Lea used his claws to scratch these two words little by little, then using beast skin strips to tie at the two sides, hanging it above the entrance of the secret room. From then on, the secret room had a holy name, the "Meeting Room".

Lea fetched Elvis and Gu Mengmeng and they were just getting ready to talk about the little wolves when they met Sandy and Collin on their way there.

Both of them looked worn out by their journey, and it was as if they had no opportunity to rest after just arriving at Sauder and had come to find them immediately.

Gu Mengmeng is always in a good mood when she sees Sandy. Pulling Sandy's little hand, she was just about to spill out how much she had suffered the past few days, only to see Collin fall to his knees beside her feet with a face of agony, "Mighty Messenger, please punish me."

Gu Mengmeng got a shock and was about to ask what was going on? However, Sandy wiped her tears, holding back Gu Mengmeng's hand while crying, "Gu Mengmeng, can you not kill Collin? I'm begging you... It was my fault, everything was my fault, blame me if you want, please don't kill Collin, alright?"

Gu Mengmeng stared at Sandy, then at Collin in confusion, waving her arms, "Can anyone first tell me what's going on? Are you both possessed?"

Collin moved forward while still on his knees, "It's none of Sandy's business, it's my fault. As the messenger's guard, I only cared to protect my female when in danger and did not fulfill the responsibility of a guard. When everyone was fighting a bloody battle, I selfishly protected my female and not for you. As a guard, I'm this... that... that... As a fellow tribesman of Saint Nazaire, I'm this... uh... anyway, I have sinned."

Sandy shook her head, pulling at Gu Mengmeng's arm, "No, don't blame Collin. I was too afraid then, so I grabbed him and did not let go, not allowing him to join the battle, forcing him to stay by my side. It was my fault, I dragged Collin down and made it happen. Punish me if you want, but spare Collin, won't you? I'm begging you, please don't kill him."

Smiling, Gu Mengmeng helped Collin up and hugged Sandy while patting her back. She then pushed Sandy back into Collin's arms, "Every female keeps the two strongest males beside them for protection, while the remaining tribesmen join the frontal charge. Wasn't that the battle plan that Lea had arranged? The strongest males in your family are Collin and Bode, there's nothing wrong with them staying to protect you. Why should I kill Collin?"

Collin stammered, "Because I'm the messenger's guard, the shield of the messenger. When the messenger faces danger, I should be the first to block in front of them. Yet I..."

Smiling, Gu Mengmeng patted Collin's shoulders, "It's true that I am the messenger of the Beast Deity, but that does not mean that everyone has to sacrifice their lives for me. Relationship wise, you protected a friend who is important to me; and logic wise, you only obeyed the command from one of higher authorities. In that case, you did not do anything wrong."

"But..." Collin could not win Gu Mengmeng, but he knew in his heart that he was wrong in this matter.

Elvis gently wrapped his arm around Gu Mengmeng's waist, pulling her back in his embrace while side-eyeing Collin, "If Xiao Meng said she won't punish you, then you won't be punished. However, this has proven that you are not suitable to be the messenger's guard, so from now on we will rid you of all authority and responsibility of the guard. Any objections?"

Collin lowered his head, replying with a deep voice, "I have no objections."

Elvis nodded, then carried Gu Mengmeng up, “Auretin will replace your position. If there’s nothing else, you guys may return.”

“Gu Mengmeng...” Sandy’s wet eyes continued staring at her direction for she felt very remorseful that she only cared about the safety of her males even when Gu Mengmeng was facing danger and trouble. She clearly knew what Gu Mengmeng had gone through, yet she did not even mention a word of concern in front of her, only caring to beg for forgiveness for Collin. She... sure enough was not a good friend.

Gu Mengmeng returned a smile, signalling to Sandy that it was alright. However, Sandy still cried till her eyes were red, leaning in Collin’s arms and unable to control her tears from falling.

Elvis and Lea carried Gu Mengmeng to the “Meeting Room”. Lea repeated whatever Cole said to him before he left to Gu Mengmeng without missing a single word.

Elvis remained silent for a moment, “Lea, you stay here and take care of Xiao Meng. I’ll go to the Snake King valley to save the little wolves.”

Lea shook his head, “The monster in the Snake King valley is not at Cole’s level. Don’t mention that you just entered fifth-level, even the type who peaked at fifth-level like Cole can’t do anything in front of him. If you go alone, you have no chance of winning. Let Auretin and Barete stay here to take care of Gu Mengmeng while I go to the Snake King valley with you, perhaps... we may have a chance of winning.”

Gu Mengmeng knocked on the table, “If I’m not present, you guys may not even have the chance to see Cole before you get killed. I don’t want you guys to get killed for nothing.”

Elvis frowned, looking at Gu Mengmeng, “Xiao Meng, you promised you won’t make me worry again.”

Gu Mengmeng pulled Elvis’ arm, “Hmm, so this time I’ll drag you on the adventure with me.”

Lea, “Mengmeng, no fooling around.”

Gu Mengmeng sat in Elvis’ embrace, turning around to look at Lea, “If the peerless, mighty man in the Snake King valley is truly as unpredictable as you mentioned, then no matter where I hide, it would only be a matter of time before he finds me. Rather than sitting around doing nothing, not knowing when danger would arrive, it would be better to actively attack and beat him to the draw.”

Chapter 523 - You're Abandoning Me?

Lea looked at Gu Mengmeng silently for a long time, eventually giving in and sighed, "Give me three days' time, let me make all the appropriate arrangements here and then I'll go with you."

Gu Mengmeng shook her head, placing her tiny hand on the back of Lea's, "In the case that I face an unpredicted obstacle, I have to have someone out there to come save me, don't I?"

Lea gritted his teeth and lost all ability to fake any smiles, asking one word at a time, "You're abandoning me?"

Gu Mengmeng chuckled, gently caressing Lea's face, "No, I just want you to guard a place of return for me. Give me some space to back up to. I will return, definitely."

Lea held Gu Mengmeng's hand tightly, losing his cool for the first time, not caring that her wrist had turned red due to him exerting his strength, only replying, "I don't allow that! I won't permit you to leave me alone."

Elvis held Lea's arm, "Calm down, Xiao Meng will be hurt."

Lea, however, was unwilling to let go as he side-eyed Elvis, "How do I calm down? How about we switch positions, I accompany Xiao Meng to Snake King valley while you guard here. Show me, how will you calm down?"

Gu Mengmeng patted Elvis' chest, gesturing him to not quarrel with Lea. She then jumped out from Elvis' embrace and took the initiative to enter Lea's, sticking her against his chest. One of her arm was tightly held by Lea, and she used the other to wrap around Lea's waist, as Gu Mengmeng said softly, “Hede and brothers are flesh that came from my body, no matter what I will not let this matter rest. Now that snake king has made it clear he’s targeting me, so even if I don’t go, he won’t let me go. Lea, I promise you, no matter what I will try my best to protect myself and not leave you alone. Don’t forget, I am the messenger of the Beast Deity, the biological daughter of the beast deity. The mighty beast deity would surely look out for me.”

“I won’t block you if you want to save the little wolves, but you have to bring me along.” Lea hugged Gu Mengmeng tightly, unwilling to compromise.

Gu Mengmeng, “Saint Nazaire and Sauder had just experienced a great battle, and the public is very divided right now, both parties feeling uneasy and nobody can control the situation. I promise you, I will definitely come back within three months, just wait three months for me, won’t you?”

Lea shook his head, brows tightly furrowed, expressing his extreme uneasiness with a fearful voice that seemed to tear at the depths of his soul, “I can’t live even a moment without you. How can I wait... three months? So what if Saint Nazaire is ruined? So what if Sauder is gone? I have nothing to lose, other than you.”

Elvis stood behind Gu Mengmeng, speaking slowly, “Xiao Meng, I support Lea... this time.”

Gu Mengmeng raised her head to look at Elvis with a face of confusion, only to see his mystic blue eyes filled with sincerity and depth as he used a stern voice he had never used before to explain, “If our opponent is the Snake King valley, we really cannot let our guard down. With Lea around, we can yield twice the result with half the effort. Furthermore, Cole is in the Snake King valley, that rascal lost this time because he underestimated his opponents, so he surely feels very indignant now, who knows how much he has planned while he waits for us now. In this world, only Lea understands Cole more than any other, so with him around, our chances of success and safety will be much higher. As for the tribe... I think Barete and Auretin will be able to guard it well, in addition to Oakley’s assistance, three months should not pose any problems.”

Chapter 524 - Bring You To Act Cool And Fly

Gu Mengmeng originally thought, since she did not mate with Lea, she should not bring him into such dangerous situations. In case something happened to her in the Snake King valley, then perhaps Lea could start a new life after mourning over it for a while.

However, looking at how they were complementing one another, it seemed like if she did not bring Lea along, she couldn't even leave the meeting room, let alone the Snake King valley.

Helplessly sighing, Gu Mengmeng eventually nodded, "Alright, we'll go together."

It was only then that Lea heaved a sigh of relief, biting Gu Mengmeng's lips as a punishment, which eventually become a deep kiss.

Lea only released reluctantly when she was about to suffocate, wiping away the saliva on her lips. There was an unexplainable gentleness in his narrow, longing eyes, "You are no longer allowed to say anything that insinuates for me to stay behind, alright?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded, and no longer struggled.

Since Gu Mengmeng was truly too concerned about the children, she could not wait three days, so on the second morning, Gu Mengmeng handed Chixuan to Sandy to take care of while Lea handed the responsibility to Dylan to go to Sandy's checking on Chixuan's condition daily in order to try their best to stabilize the toxicity in his body. Then, the three of them left the tribe, walking towards the Snake King valley with the markings that the Eagle-owl tribe had left behind.

Elvis and Lea took turns to piggyback Gu Mengmeng on the way. Gu Mengmeng knew if she requested to walk by herself it would seem more considerate, but it would only delay the progress of the group. So, although she felt her heart aching, she remained silent, only forcing Elvis and Lea to rest for a night every three days.

On the tenth day, they arrived at the entrance of a valley, and at the huge tree beside the entrance, Ian was leaning against a branch waiting for them.

“Cole did not come back out again after he went in from here, we tried following in to yet we could not find him no matter how hard we tried, so the entrance is probably nearby.” Ian gave a short summary.

Gu Mengmeng nodded, “Alright, thank you for your help. You guys go back and take a break, we will settle the rest.”

Ian raised his eyebrows, and an unhappy expression crept up on his sickly face, “Settle the rest? Ha, I’m afraid you would be eaten by all the snake beasts all around here before you even find the direction to the entrance.”

Startled, Gu Mengmeng immediately took a closer look at the ground, and indeed found signs of snakes from the shrubs. Afraid, she subconsciously hid in Elvis’ embrace.

Ian, “Ha, without you, this fifth-level orc Elvis could still get by with looking out here. Now, even if you clump them both together, they won’t possibly be able to protect you from the number of snake beasts here, yet you still want to settle the rest... Tsk, burdensome.”

That made Gu Mengmeng especially angry, yet she was unable to retaliate, and could only glare with her eyes wide open, “Then what do you say we should do?!”

Ian shook his wings, “Bring you to act cool and fly.”

Gu Mengmeng’s eyes lightened up as she patted Ian’s shoulder, “Not bad brother, one with wings is an angel!”

Ian smirked arrogantly, then opened his chest, “Hug on tight, I won’t be responsible if you fall to your death.”

Gu Mengmeng held on to Ian’s neck with both arms, and exerted strength on both her legs to tuck them at his waist, “Yeah! As long as we’re in the sky, these snake beasts can’t do anything about me, and Elvis and Lea wouldn’t have to be distracted by me.”

Chapter 525 - Why Are You Not Looking At Me Anymore?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Ian did not respond to Gu Mengmeng, only exchanging a glance with Lea and Elvis, then proceeded to fly high in the sky, gone with the wind.

Elvis released beast pressure to force the snake beasts to not come close easily, while Lea used his bodily advantage to quickly search for every corner that could be the entrance. Meanwhile, Ian protected Gu Mengmeng in the air while looking down and giving Lea and Elvis information from above. The three males cooperated in sync, and it seemed like a good start.

However...

Gu Mengmeng's body shook, then she felt as if she had lost her balance, falling right down.

Looking up, she saw Ian's face turned pale, his body became incapable of movement as if he had been hit at his vital point and his gaze losing focus. Using his final consciousness, he forcefully kept his wings and used his body to guard Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng did not even have time to scream before she lost vision, then her consciousness.

Coldness.

Something lightly grazed across Gu Mengmeng's cheek.

Frowning, Gu Mengmeng tried to open her dried eyes.

She wanted to sit up, but found herself unable to find a sense of control in her body, let alone sit, she could barely lift a finger.

The only things she could control, were her eyelids and eyeballs.

Gu Mengmeng looked upwards as if she was rolling her eyes, only to see a naked upper body. Using the flatness of the chest as a prediction, it was most likely a male, and that face was rather mysterious, certainly a cold sister.

Lea possessed great looks too, like a mix of a goblin and a fairy, yet it would not make anyone question his sexuality. However, the chap in front of her was totally exploding with evil energy as if he had crept out from the depths of hell, full of demonic aura and charm. Clearly, he was looking at Gu Mengmeng expressionless, yet she felt as if she had just fallen into the cave of a silken web, watching the Spring Thirteen Mother do a stripping dance.

Her heart could not help but race, and it was even as if she forgot how to breathe.

“Looking good?” That demon was neither elated nor furious, only using a faint, monotonous voice to ask.

Gu Mengmeng was stunned for a moment, before she realized it was pretty rude to stare at someone like that, so she quickly retracted her gaze. She tried to cough a few times and realized she could still speak, so she stared at the tip of her nose while asking, “May I ask, you are...?”

That demon raised his eyebrows, moving his body to below Gu Mengmeng’s face, icy cold fingers gently lifting Gu Mengmeng’s chin with an unhappy expression, “Why are you not looking at me anymore?”

Gu Mengmeng did not hear clearly what the demon said, only finding herself actually lying on the tail of a giant snake. Her mind went blank, and without any thought, she roared by reflex, “Ah—!”

That demon frowned. Exerting strength on his finger, he lifted Gu Mengmeng's chin, forcefully breaking Gu Mengmeng's startling reaction. He pinched Gu Mengmeng's cheek, "Are you afraid of me?"

Gu Mengmeng was so shocked her whole body stiffened. Damn, she did not even have the energy to stammer, much less nod or reply, her whole being was in a state of confusion.

"Does everyone in your world, fear snakes?" The expression on the demon's face was cold and certainly angered.

Gu Mengmeng's teeth were trembling so much she almost bit her own tongue, not knowing how she should reply the mighty demon's words.

Chapter 526 - Gu Twomeng

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

“Reply my question before I kill you.” The demon came close to Gu Mengmeng, opening its mouth to reveal two venomous fangs.

That made Gu Mengmeng even more afraid, a damned human mouth cannot possibly open that big!

“Mi... mimimi... mighty King have mercy.” Gu Mengmeng said while stuttering.

The demon closed his mouth, looking at Gu Mengmeng with interest as he grazed his icy cold finger across her face again, talking to himself, “Not as pretty as her... but still considered pretty interesting.”

Gu Mengmeng completely did not understand what that demon was saying, only looking at him with horror and guard.

The demon asked, “You’re called Gu Mengmeng?”

Gu Mengmeng wanted to nod, but found her neck incapable of movement. Afraid to test the demon’s patience, she spontaneously responded with a monosyllable “Hmm”.

The demon went, “Think of a nickname for me, one that’s different from everyone else.”

Gu Mengmeng stared at the demon with her eyes wide open, “Mi... mi... mighty King have mercy.”

The demon’s face went cold, “You want me to call you “Mighty King have mercy”?”

Gu Mengmeng, “Ah?”

The demon let go, his pupils turning vertical in front of Gu Mengmeng, “I will only count to three, if you can’t think, I’ll eat you.”

Gu Mengmeng had a full face of confusion, not understanding what was going on.

Although females were extremely precious in the beast world, at that moment, she had zero suspicion that that chap would swallow her whole after counting to three.

Hence, Gu Mengmeng’s brain started to activate a magical mode, speedily generating in the midst of the murkiness in her brain, and activating the peak of The Brain mode following the demon’s countdown.

Demon, “One.”

Gu Mengmeng, “...”

Demon, “Three!”

Gu Mengmeng, “Twomeng!”

The demon nodded, repeating, “Twomeng...”

Gu Mengmeng almost bit off her own tongue. She wanted to ask “Two?”, but because her mouth moved the wrong way, she shouted “Twomeng” instead. However, seeing how the demon seemed pretty satisfied with that title, Gu Mengmeng secretly heaved a sigh of relief, feeling like one can easily escape danger if they just gave anything a shot.

The demon, “Twomeng.”

Gu Mengmeng replied bitterly, “Eh...”

The demon grinned, seeming to find it amusing, then called again, “Twomeng.”

Gu Mengmeng, “Eh...”

That game lasted for at least two hours, which made Gu Mengmeng feel disillusioned, as if she was a pet dog being trained to remember its own name.

Two hours later, the demon finally seemed bored by the “If I Call You Once Will You Dare To Answer?” game, so he moved his body, using his tail to move Gu Mengmeng outside.

It was only then that Gu Mengmeng slowly regained her senses from her state of fear, beginning to make sense of her surroundings.

There was a soft sound of water dripping at the gloomy, humid cave. There was no wind, the air was moist and suffocating, if not for inheriting Elvis’ night vision abilities, Gu Mengmeng had no doubt that she would have been blind as a bat.

There were numerous dripstones in the shape of water drops on the top of the cave, round and shiny. Nature’s divine workmanship is lofty, making people feel in awe.

The sudden piercing light made Gu Mengmeng squint in discomfort. She wanted to block it with her hand, but it was a pity because she could not even lift her finger.

The demon moved further before finally stopping by the lake. Looking at Gu Mengmeng, he was rather impatient, but still picked up the tree branches, trying to start a fire.

Gu Mengmeng was rather alarmed. Isn’t there nobody in the beast world who knows how to start a fire? Even the tribesmen from the previous messengers tribe Sauder could not manage to, how did this demon do it?

Chapter 527 - You're Despising Me?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

After the fire had been started, that demon frowned with a face of despise, backing up. He then said to Gu Mengmeng, "I dislike fire, you roast yourself."

Gu Mengmeng wanted to cry but no tears could come out from her eyes, "Mighty King... I can't move..."

The demon looked at Gu Mengmeng with the word "Trash" in his eyes, but still aimed the pointed tip of his snake tail at Gu Mengmeng's lips. Gu Mengmeng subconsciously shut her mouth, but the demon suddenly came closer, opening his mouth wide, scaring Gu Mengmeng so much she screamed. It was right then that the snake tail directly entered Gu Mengmeng's mouth.

Gu Mengmeng felt something prick her tongue, then a warm sensation started spreading in her body, as if her coagulated blood started flowing again, slowly regaining control of her body. From being able to curl her fingers to forcefully sitting up, Gu Mengmeng slowly felt a little more security.

"If you let me catch you trying to escape, I will first eat your partner, then your beast pet, then catch you back." The demon's voice was flat without any tones, yet it scared Gu Mengmeng so much she broke out in sweat.

Stiffly twisting her neck, she forced herself to face the scary demon, as she mustered her courage to ask, "How are... the three males that were with me?"

The demon's gaze went cold, clearly not liking how Gu Mengmeng was bringing up other people in front of him, totally forgetting that he was clearly the one that brought it up first.

Carefully, Gu Mengmeng continued, "We... have no ill intentions. They only accompanied me to look for my sons."

The demon replied coldly, "I know."

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head, "You know?"

The demon snorted, "Hmm."

Gu Mengmeng was clearly so afraid she wanted to escape, but she still gritted her teeth and moved towards the demon, asking, "Then how are they now?"

That made the demon unhappy, "Ask again and they'll all be eaten."

Gu Mengmeng waved her arms, "No more questions no more questions, calm down Mighty King."

The demon used his chin to point at the animal corpses at the corner, "Roast them, eat."

Gu Mengmeng nodded, not daring to retaliate. Her husband and sons were obviously in someone else's hands, how would she not dare to obey? However, turning around, it made her dumbfounded...

Damn, she's nothing but a weak lady with no energy, she can't possibly use her bare hands to roast a rhinoceros!

The demon was behind Gu Mengmeng, and started rushing her when he saw that she wasn't moving, "Roast them quick."

Gu Mengmeng turned around, speaking softly in spite of the numb feeling on her scalp, "Not enough strength to hold..."

With a “tsk” sound followed by a face of unwillingness, the demon used his tail to wrap around a giant beast, and used a thick branch to stack it above the fire to roast. Gu Mengmeng watched as the skin curled up then turned a burnt black, then gave off a horrible smell that pricked her nose, making her stomach uneasy. However, she did not dare to throw up, only continuously praying in her heart: This is more damned scary than Elvis’ cooking, please don’t let it be for her to eat.

However, it seemed as if the beast deity was clearly bearing grudges that Gu Mengmeng was passing off as his daughter.

The demon passed something that was ten times Gu Mengmeng’s size, placing it in front of her, “Eat.”

Shaking on the verge of tears, Gu Mengmeng asked, “Can I not?”

The demon furrowed his brows, asking coldly, “You’re despising me?”

Gu Mengmeng clearly inferred from the demon’s expression that his next sentence in his script would be “Eat or I will eat you”, so she gritted her teeth and smiled bitterly in fear, “I would not dare, I would not dare. Eat... I will eat...”

Chapter 528 - So It Really Is Hot

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

When the two mouthfuls of the roasted meat entered her mouth, Gu Mengmeng sank into a deep swoon once again.

In the instant her vision went black, she actually smiled... Too damned blissful! This was just a release!

“Twomeng? Twomeng?” The demon’s displeased voice rang beside Gu Mengmeng’s ears, but Gu Mengmeng secretly felt good like Ah Q: I fainted! Let’s see what you can do about me! Hahahaha!

It was as if time had stopped, Gu Mengmeng did not know how long she had fainted for. She only knew that when she woke up from having held in her urine for too long, the stars had filled the sky.

This familiar feeling made a shiver run down Gu Mengmeng’s spine, yet she did not have the courage to turn around. In that moment, if she had damned seen that giant snake that was as thick as a towering old tree, Gu Mengmeng suspected that she would have urinated on the spot.

“Mi... mi... mighty man... I would like to go release... Could... Could I?”

The demon responded with a “Hmm”, then added, “Do it within ten feet, any more and I’ll eat you.”

“Eh.” Gu Mengmeng put on a long face, trying her best to take as big steps as possible, and successfully managed to hide behind a huge tree on her tenth step. She speedily resolved her issue before heaving a sigh of relief and standing up slowly.

Leaning against a tree branch, Gu Mengmeng sneakily poked out her tiny head, looking out.

Huh? No buff and scary snake tail, only a handsome young man standing under the moonlight, filled with devilish energy in his eyes. His long fingers lifted gently, pointing at Gu Mengmeng, then flipped his palm upwards, curling his finger.

Gu Mengmeng shrunk her neck, walking from behind the tree fearfully. She took a closer look and confirmed that the chap was indeed that demon.

It was only that he did not look as scary as he was as a half-orc after his transformation into a human. He had a long, proportionate body shape, which did not resemble Elvis' strong and powerful one nor Lea's lean, fit body type. It was a type of a muscular line between Elvis and Lea's, as all his muscle fibers grow vertically, making him look even more defined. His body had the perfect mixture of strength and softness, the paleness of his complexion was so much it was sufficient to make one boil with anger. Gu Mengmeng had the impulse to give him a poke, because he felt that his skin was so good that a slight poke could create a cavity...

The demon looked at Gu Mengmeng coldly, allowing her to look him up and down. After a while, he finally opened his mouth, "Not afraid of me anymore?"

Startled, Gu Mengmeng immediately lowered her head, maintaining the position of a little eunuch, "Very very very, mighty King you are magnificent and will conquer the world."

The demon sneered, reaching out his hand, palm facing up.

Gu Mengmeng looked at the demon's hand sceptically, then looked up at his eyes, her face clearly writing out the big word "Clueless".

Impatiently, the demon went, "Hand."

Replying with an "Oh", Gu Mengmeng automatically made a fist like a dog who had been trained by its owner on how to shake hands, then placing it in the palm of the demon. She only lacked the stretching out of her tongue and making “Woof woof woof” sounds.

The demon had long and huge hands. His fingers slightly curled, wrapping her tiny hands completely in his.

The edges of his lips curved up slightly, as if he felt it was magical, muttering softly to himself, “So it really is hot...”

“What?” Gu Mengmeng tilted her head, asking.

The demon did not reply, only pulling Gu Mengmeng into the depths of the forest.

Gu Mengmeng did not dare to speak any more, only walking carefully behind the demon, totally not knowing what would happen next.

Chapter 529 - Are You Playing Happy Farm?

The demon brought Gu Mengmeng by a deep pool, then used his chin to point towards the hundreds of beasts in the pool, asking, “Which one do you like?”

Gu Mengmeng stretched out her neck and looked, am I going to... the Wild Zoo? This was totally a small-scale biological chain, a microcosmic animal world.

With a shocked expression, Gu Mengmeng looked at the demon, “Are you playing Happy Farm?”

The demon looked at the deep pool then at Gu Mengmeng, “Don’t you all store food this way where you came from?”

Gu Mengmeng was stunned for a moment, asking, “You know how to breed livestock?”

The demon went impatient, frowning, “Quickly pick, which one you want to eat.”

Although Gu Mengmeng had not eaten for a day, but thinking about how this sir had a higher level of dark tactics than Elvis possessed, she shook her head determinedly in an attempt to save her own life, “My stomach doesn’t feel that great today, I don’t feel like eating meat. Some fruit would do.”

The demon twitched his mouth, “Troublesome.”

That said, he still held Gu Mengmeng’s hand, walking backwards. When they “unintentionally” walk passed a fruit tree, he glanced upwards at it.

The demon said coldly, “Hindrance.”

He then kicked it once carelessly...

Then after another...

The tree fell...

Dumbfounded, Gu Mengmeng watched the huge tree, that required at least five to six people to hug it to fully wrap it, get kicked down just like that. She instantly decided that she would not offend this sir at all costs. Read more chapter on vipnovel

The demon walked to the crown of the tree without a care, pointing at the fruit hanging on the tree, “Eat.”

It was then that Gu Mengmeng realized, this sir performed everything just to get some food for her?

Gu Mengmeng smiled, “Thank you, mighty King.”

With that, she was ready to sit obediently on the branch to pick a few fruits, but she was pulled back before she could take any steps.

She turned around and met the demon’s displeased eyes, so she faked a smile, “Mighty King...?”

The grip on the demon’s arm tightened, “Don’t escape, or I’ll eat you.”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head, “No no, I won’t dare. I’m just going to eat a few fruits.”

The demon did not say a word, holding Gu Mengmeng’s hand and leading her to a tree branch before sitting down and side-eyeing Gu Mengmeng. Gu Mengmeng’s arm was being pulled by the demon, so it was impossible for her to sit even a little further. She was just about to sit beside him when the demon exerted some strength, pulling Gu Mengmeng into his embrace. Still expressionless, he said, “It’s more comfortable on my body.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled bitterly: Damn, she wasn't feeling comfortable inside though!

The demon raised his eyebrows, "Opinion?"

Gu Mengmeng gave him a smile, full of fear on her face, "No no, of course not."

It was only then that the demon nodded with satisfaction, randomly picking a fruit that looked like grapes but clearly were not grapes, and delivering to Gu Mengmeng, "Eat."

Gu Mengmeng took the fruit with one hand and wanted to wash... but gave up after looking at her other hand which was being grabbed by the demon.

With one hand holding the stem of the fruit, she lifted her head and bit on one of them. With a gentle lick of her tongue, the juices filled her entire mouth.

"Ooh~" Gu Mengmeng nodded subconsciously, swallowing then exclaimed, "So sweet."

The demon looked at Gu Mengmeng from the corner of his eye. Even he himself had no idea how affectionate his expression was.

How long has it been since he lost interest in food? All his swallowing had been due to natural reflexes, yet at that moment, he was very curious as to what flavor the fruit possessed which made her smile like that.

"Ah." The demon opened his mouth, showing Gu Mengmeng an expression as if he was expecting her to give him food...

Chapter 530 - Whaaat? Vampire PLAY?

The edges of Gu Mengmeng's lips twitched as she saw the two gleaming venomous fangs, feeling like she was about to break down on the inside.

Watching the fruit in her hand...

To feed? Or not to feed? That is the question...

"Ah!" The demon seemed to get impatient with waiting. His eyebrows furrowed slightly, writing "Feed me or I will kill you" clearly in his eyes!

Gu Mengmeng instantly delivered the fruit to the demon's mouth. He wanted to mimic the way Gu Mengmeng bit into one of them, but the moment his fangs touched the skin of the fruit, the fruit burst immediately, splattering its juices all over his face. The demon frowned and wanted to explode in anger, but he saw Gu Mengmeng bursting out in laughter.

Somehow, his anger simmered from her bright smile. The demon stretched his tongue out, gently licking the juices on the corner of his lips...

He frowned, what is this dull taste?

She actually liked such a taste... How weird.

However...

While it was weird, it did not seem so unlikeable.

Gu Mengmeng held in her laughter, holding the remaining fruits asking, "Mighty King, do you still want more?"

The demon looked away coldly, “You eat them yourself.”

Gu Mengmeng did not know why, perhaps it was because the demon did not look as scary when he was not transformed into a snake, or it could be because of how funny he looked with the juices splattered all over his face, or that he did not do anything to harm her despite being so awkward. However, she was slowly letting her guard down. She felt that perhaps the demon was just more socially awkward, and probably is not that bad in nature despite being awkward and dangerous.

Or perhaps...

If she made him happy, he would return Elvis, Lea and her three sons back to her?

That thought finally brought a tiny smile to Gu Mengmeng’s face.

The demon had been watching her with his peripheral vision. Seeing her smile made the edges of his lips raise unknowingly as well.

Gu Mengmeng ate many fruits, but there were still countless remaining on that tree. She wanted to take some back and keep for the next day so they would not go to waste, but the demon refused to let go of her hand. When she revealed even a tiny sign of struggle, he would use his cold expression to scare her “Dare to escape and I will eat you”.

Helpless, Gu Mengmeng stared at the tree of fruits with a face that spelled heartache. She kept turning back to look at the tree, but was eventually dragged back into the cave by the demon.

The demon searched for a flat surface to lie down, then brought Gu Mengmeng into his arms. Gu Mengmeng did not dare to move, and the demon frowned, “Sleep by yourself, or I poison and make you faint?”

Gu Mengmeng immediately shut her eyes tightly and wanted to sleep right there and then. However, the more she wanted to sleep, the less she was able to. Eventually, she sneakily opened one of her eyes, whispering, “I fainted for too long in the day, so now I can’t sleep...”

The demon furrowed his brows, “No, sleep.”

Dejected, Gu Mengmeng reached her arm out to the demon, “Poison me then, but please be soft, I’m scared of pain...”

The demon did not say a word, only using his other hand to press down Gu Mengmeng’s arm, then slowly placing his face against Gu Mengmeng’s neck...

Gu Mengmeng thought: Whaaat? Vampire PLAY?

A slight prick and Gu Mengmeng instantly felt numbness. Her body shivered uncontrollably, followed by nauseousness from the world spinning, as if her body had lost balance and was circling in mid air. Gu Mengmeng only felt a sense of irritation, wanting to vomit but unable to control her own body. After cursing out in her heart, she finally lost her consciousness and “fell asleep”.

A pricking pain at the tip of her tongue made Gu Mengmeng regain her consciousness. Due to the discomfort in her body, she furrowed her eyebrows tightly. Her eyelids were so dry they hurt, and Gu Mengmeng thought that if she had opened her eyes at that very moment, it was possible for her corneas to be ripped off by her eyelids from how tightly they were stuck together.

A cold, moist feeling gently swept across Gu Mengmeng's eyes, temporarily easing her discomfort.

She tried to squint her eyes, no light, but not obstructing her line of sight.

"Ooh..." Gu Mengmeng groaned once, rubbing her eyes, and saw the side view of the demon in close proximity. Her drowsiness wore off instantly and she sat up straight as if she had just stepped on an electric switch, "You you you you..."

The demon wiped the edges of his lips gently, looking at Gu Mengmeng rather displeased, "You're awake?"

Gu Mengmeng touched her eyes... They were wet...

She felt a rush of disgust, thinking about how this guy looked so decent, yet had such a weird fetish? Enjoying eating others' eye crust? Eww...

The demon grabbed the hand that Gu Mengmeng was using to rub her eyes, then carefully studied Gu Mengmeng's face. After a while, he softly said the word, "Ugly".

What——!

It was as if a huge knife had stabbed into Gu Mengmeng's heart.

True, she was not as gloriously beautiful in person as Elvis and the rest had described her as, and was average at best in the modern world, but she wouldn't be considered "ugly"?!

Making a fist, she remembered the huge tree that got knocked down last night and could only chuckle, "You are the mighty King, you are always right."

The demon retrieved some fruits for Gu Mengmeng from the stone platform at the corner, "Eat."

Gu Mengmeng took a look, and they were the exact fruits she had eaten last night. She stretched her neck, and saw fruits piled as high as a tiny hill behind the demon.

Gu Mengmeng blinked her eyes, asking, "You knocked down another tree?"

The demon shook his head, "There's only one of that tree."

That statement hit Gu Mengmeng like a truck and made her freeze. Even ruining bloodlines has a limit, doesn't it? Ruthless! Damn, there was only one such species, yet it went extinct just with one kick?

The demon looked at Gu Mengmeng's strange expression, frowning unhappily.

He clearly saw how much she treasured them yesterday, so he went to pluck all the fruits from the tree after she had fallen asleep last night. He thought she would be pleased when she saw them in the morning, but why did she look like she was on the verge of tears, and even a little angry?

Tsk, even uglier.

Gu Mengmeng used both hands to take the fruits carefully from the demon's hands, plucking one and placing it in her mouth, tasting cautiously... seedless?

“Hmm...” Gu Mengmeng was rather sceptical, so she plucked another one, still seedless? No wonder there was only one fruit tree, the frequency of seed production was too low.

The demon lifted Gu Mengmeng’s chin, frowning with a cold expression, “Smile.”

“Ah?” Gu Mengmeng was confused, not understanding what he just said.

The demon remained cold, ordering, “Smile.”

Gu Mengmeng grinned, forcefully showing her teeth, giving a smile to get it over and done with.

Impatient, the demon shook his head, “So ugly.”

Gu Mengmeng raised her fist, and wanted to slap him at the back of his head while he wasn’t watching. However, before she could even reach his hair, the demon had turned around to give Gu Mengmeng a cold stare.

Gu Mengmeng looked awkwardly at her arm that had stiffened in mid-air, then faked a smile and waved, “Hi~”

The demon snorted coldly and did not respond to Gu Mengmeng’s ‘greeting’. He looked at her with cold eyes and asked, “Don’t you like to eat this type of fruits? Why aren’t you happy that I gave you so many of these?”

Chapter 532 - Missing Your Six Wild Men?

Gu Mengmeng sighed, “There is only one of this fruit tree. Since you knocked it down, I will never get to eat this type of fruit again once I finish the supply in front of me. Is it worth being happy over?”

The demon gave her a cold look and scorned, “I may not have much of others in the Snake King valley, but I sure have countless fruit trees. Based on your eating speed for your small appetite, I’m afraid you won’t be able to finish eating all of them even till you die.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled awkwardly, “Then what if I don’t like any other fruits except this one?”

The demon raised his eyebrows, “You’d dare?!”

Gu Mengmeng really felt that she had never experienced someone so difficult to communicate with in her life... But considering how powerful he was, she could only say “I don’t.” in fear.

It was only then that the demon smoothed his expression, passing another bunch of fruits to Gu Mengmeng, “Eat them all, since you like them.”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head, “No matter what, I can’t possibly finish them before they rot. Rather than leaving them to spoil, we could keep some to eat and bury the rest. Perhaps in this bunch, there will be one with a seed, and this type of fruit tree can just be grown again in a few years.”

The demon slurred over the matter, only replying coldly, “It’s the survival of the fittest. If this goes extinct, it only goes to show that it is a species meant to be eliminated. No matter how hard you try, how many can you salvage?”

Gu Mengmeng smacked her lips, “One is better than none.”

Not saying anything further, the demon only stretched his head lazily, lying sideways while watching Gu Mengmeng eat seriously. He only pulled Gu Mengmeng’s hand and activated “conjoined twins” mode when she really could not eat anymore.

Gu Mengmeng sighed, submitting to her fate as she followed behind the demon, “Where are we going?”

The demon, “Sun tanning”.

Gu Mengmeng felt as if she was really being treated as a pet dog. Being fed at fixed timings, being brought out for a walk after food...

Gu Mengmeng sat on a flat rock, tanning under the sun with the demon while lowering her head and zoning out while looking at her shadow.

The demon held her tiny palms tightly, asking, “What are you thinking about?”

Gu Mengmeng looked at the demon, her question stuck in her throat as she did not dare to ask simply.

Seeing how Gu Mengmeng was holding herself back, the demon’s expression ran cold, “Missing your six wild men?”

Gu Mengmeng choked, thinking: Six? Where did the six come from?

Counting with her fingers: Elvis, Lea, Ian... Ah, and Hede, Jialue and Kanwu.

Pfft, the three children were her biological sons, Elvis was the original legal husband, Ian was merely a subordinate with no love affair. If they were talking about wild men, only Lea would be considered!

Gu Mengmeng was displeased but she did not dare to retaliate, so she could only murmur softly, “They are not wild men...”

The demon flipped behind Gu Mengmeng, pressing one hand on top of Gu Mengmeng's head while the other one supported her chin. Squinting his eyes, he released a dangerous warning aura, "Other than me, all the males around you are wild men."

Gu Mengmeng was not convinced, "Who are you to say that when you are not even my man?"

The demon pinched Gu Mengmeng's face, putting his lips on hers, just placing it there without going any further. He only slowly released after a long while, "Now I am."

Gu Mengmeng used all her might to wipe her mouth, looking at the demon with a face of defense and despise, "A scholar prefers death to humiliation, you're acting indecently!"

Displeased, the demon looked at Gu Mengmeng coldly, “Fine, then I will first kill the wolf on your collarbone, then the fox, followed by that bird, and finally swallow up the three little things.”

Chills went down Gu Mengmeng's spine. She smacked the ground and stood up, “Dare to touch a hair on my husband and children, and I will fight you with my life.”

The demon snorted in disdain, “The six of them won't be able to beat me even if they teamed up together, and you... want to fight against me alone?”

Gu Mengmeng was so angry tears could not stop falling from her eyes. She bit her bottom lip, “Let me tell you, over my dead body! Nobody better dare to harm my husband and children!”

The demon gave her a cold look, “Are you threatening me?”

Gu Mengmeng got startled, then nodded, “Yes, I'm threatening you, what about it?!”

The demon stood up, walking towards Gu Mengmeng and gradually getting closer to her. He watched as she stumbled backwards until she could not move any further, looking at him with her eyes wide open. He squinted his eyes that exuded dangerous energy, and Gu Mengmeng could even see his fangs dripping with venomous liquids, clearly he was furious.

Her heart went cold, let death take me!

She stiffened her neck and pushed herself forward, “If anything happens to my husband and children, then I don't want to live anymore, anyway. You might as well kill me directly and save this turmoil in my heart.”

The demon furrowed his brows, as if he was hesitating whether he should directly heed her request to kill her straightaway.

His long and cold fingers grazed against Gu Mengmeng’s jawbone, only speaking after a long while, “Snake.”

Every hair on Gu Mengmeng’s body was standing as she stared at the demon, not reacting for a long while.

Annoyed, the demon looked at Gu Mengmeng, “You stay and accompany me in the Snake King valley, and I will free your wild men from death.”

Gu Mengmeng glared angrily, “I said they are not wild men.”

The demon smiled, “Surely you don’t want me to be the third party?”

Gu Mengmeng, “I have no relations to you alright?”

The demon’s expression darkened, his gaze cold, “You already slept with me, yet you claim no relations?”

Gu Mengmeng almost bit her own tongue, suddenly having an indisputable feeling as she pulled her hair, “Who slept with you?! At most we have the relation of a kidnapper and hostage alright? You return me my husband and children, and we will leave here immediately.”

The demon’s pupil turned into a vertical line, clearly furious. He looked at her with a sinister expression, “Dare to leave and I will kill them right now!”

Shamelessly, Gu Mengmeng sat on the ground while randomly kicking her legs, “Then what exactly do you want?”

The demon moved his lower jaw as if he was trying to suppress the fury in his heart, “You stay to accompany me, and I will not only release your wild men but also save your sons.”

Gu Mengmeng looked up, asking, “You’re able to save my sons?”

The demon scorned, “Is there any poison in this world I don’t have the antivenom to?”

Gu Mengmeng jolted up from the ground, both hands holding the demon’s arm tightly, “Then save them, they are still children and they have been in a coma for such a long time... If it drags on any longer... I...”

The demon did not move, only replying coldly, “I save them, you stay.”

Gu Mengmeng bit her bottom lip, using her little life in exchange for the safety of her four sons, will be worth it!

Furthermore, as long as Elvis and Lea could leave this place, they would certainly have a way to save her. With that thought, Gu Mengmeng nodded, “Deal!”

Chapter 534 - Stop Smiling, That's Ugly

The demon stretched out his hand with his palm up, gesturing for Gu Mengmeng to hand over her tiny hand.

Gu Mengmeng was helpless. She accompanied herself with the actor's lines "Hold the Emperor", before obediently handing her tiny hand to the demon.

It was only then that the demon was finally satisfied, his pupils slowly returning to their normal shape. He looked down at Gu Mengmeng, "Snake, my name."

Gu Mengmeng, "Oh."

Snake was displeased, "I'm not called "Oh."

Gu Mengmeng presented a fake smile like that of customer service staff, "Mighty King Snake, may your fortune be as boundless as the East Sea and your life last long like the South Mountain!"

The edges of Snakel's lips lifted gently, "Call again."

Like a repeater, Gu Mengmeng called "Snakel" over and over for half an hour before the young sir was finally appeased. Happily, he grabbed Gu Mengmeng and carried her in his arms, "I will stay true to my word, bring you to see your wild men, and prove to you that I set them free."

"Eh? You're willing to let me see them?" Gu Mengmeng's eyes lit up like that of little does, not being able to control how wide her smile got, looking as if she was glowing.

Snake's eyes wobbled from Gu Mengmeng's smile, slightly jealous as he looked away coldly, throwing "Stop smiling, that's ugly" at her.

Gu Mengmeng used her hands to cover her mouth as she nodded agreeably, "I won't smile I won't smile, I'm too ugly."

Snake brought Gu Mengmeng to walk around over half of the valley, until they reached the entrance of a cave.

Colorful snakes slithered outside the cave. There was barely any place for mosquitoes to land, much less for one to find a place to step on. Gu Mengmeng had a fear of snakes, so she got goosebumps all over and subconsciously hid in Snakel's arms. And that tiny action, gave Snake joy.

He did not say a word nor slow down, only walking straight ahead.

The pit of snakes immediately made way for Snakel to cross, and after he did, they merged together again, sealing the pathway.

Upon entrance into the cave, Snakel placed Gu Mengmeng on the ground, but still refused to let go, only grabbing tightly onto her hand.

With a single glance, Gu Mengmeng spotted Elvis and Lea who had fainted, lying on the ground. She also noticed Ian, who had been thrown aside, incapable of transformation back to human form.

"Hubby! Lea? Ian?" Gu Mengmeng wanted to run over to check on their injuries, but Snake grabbed tightly onto her hand, now allowing her to go over.

Gu Mengmeng turned back to look at Snakel, "You agreed to free them!"

Snake looked up, "If you care too much for them, it would make me regret my decision."

Gu Mengmeng stiffened at her original position, "I don't, I don't care at all. Don't regret, please save them quickly."

Snakel's expression darkened, as he pulled Gu Mengmeng into his arms and held on tightly. He pushed her tiny face into his chest, then transformed his lower body into a snake beast, straightening the scales on his tail. He pierced a tiny wound on Elvis, Lea and Ian's bodies respectively before retracting his tail, transforming back to human form and releasing Gu Mengmeng a little, allowing her to turn around to look at the three of them without being able to leave his embrace.

"Uh..." Elvis frowned, the first to make a slight sound.

Overjoyed, Gu Mengmeng shouted, "Hubby, hubby?"

Elvis slowly opened his eyes, his blurry vision slowly overlapping as he took a breath, replying, "Xiao Meng..."

Chapter 535 - She Was The First, And The Only

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

That soft noise almost made Gu Mengmeng burst into tears. She wanted to move forward and jump into Elvis' arms, but was violently held onto by Snake.

A heartless voice rang beside her ear, "To me, killing them is much easier than saving them."

Gu Mengmeng did not dare to act rashly, and could only look at Elvis from the distance, that was only a few steps away yet she was incapable of crossing, while asking, "Hubby, how do you feel right now? Do you feel any discomfort anywhere?"

Elvis tried to support his body and sat up, shaking his head so he could quickly regain some consciousness. It was only after some huffing and puffing that he realized Gu Mengmeng was carried in some stranger's arms while tear stains covering her face, making his heart ache to no end.

Elvis gritted his teeth, wanting to stand up and attack Snakel to snatch Gu Mengmeng back. However, Snakel sneered, using his snake tail to sweep Elvis away, making him fall against the wall like a broken doll before falling down entirely.

A dent was created on the wall as many tiny debris fell down, landing on and covering Elvis.

Elvis coughed, and blood dripped down from the corner of his lips. However, he continued to grit his teeth, standing up while wobbling and running towards Snake.

Snakel squinted, clearly meaning to murder. Three cold words leaked from his lips, "Looking to die." He lifted his snake tail again, but stopping a metre before Elvis. Snakel furrowed his brows, lowering his head and looking at Gu Mengmeng who had buried her face in his arms, coldly calling out, "Twomeng!"

Gu Mengmeng raised her head, looking at Snake with blood all over her mouth, tears running down her face uncontrollably. The edges of her lips sank downwards as she said in a thick nasally voice, "I don't allow you to hurt my hubby, no!"

Snakel stared at the wound on his arm where a piece of flesh had basically been bitten off. His gloomy face turned towards Elvis, and whipped him with his tail without any hesitation. He then carried Gu Mengmeng into his arms, gritting his teeth, "Foolish woman."

Before he could even finish his sentence, he had already fled out of the cave towards a waterfall.

Snake threw Gu Mengmeng into the waterfall, making her chug water and shoving his finger down her throat to induce vomiting until she basically puked her guts out before Snake carried her up while furrowing his brows. He started a fire, drying her wet body.

Gu Mengmeng's brows remained tightly furrowed as she closed her eyes shut tightly, her whole body burning like crazy yet she hugged herself yelling in coldness. Her face was ghastly pale, her lips turned purple, and it was clear she was poisoned.

Snakel transformed into a half-orc, wrapping Gu Mengmeng up with his body then pried open her mouth, delivering his tongue into her mouth. He cleaned his blood she had accidentally swallowed inch by inch along her throat. Having been the Snake King for a millennium, every breath he exhales is extremely poisonous, but this foolish woman actually bit his skin off and even swallowed his blood... truly asking for death!

It has been a thousand years, and nobody had dared to offend him like this.

She was the first, and the only.

Based on his temperament, he would have made her stand still and watch as her body ulcerate to death due to her foolishness. However, even seeing her frown made him feel like it was difficult to breathe.

In a cold voice, Snake said, “For a thousand years, you have been the only one that made me feel interested. Before I get annoyed, I will call the whole Beast World to die with you if you dare to die!”

Chapter 536 - Mengmeng, I'm Here

“Mighty Snake King.” a smooth male voice rang from the other side of the waterfall. Snake did not turn to look at him, only replying coldly, “Scram.”

That did not anger Cole, as he maintained a consistently calm voice, “Mighty Snake King you do not have to be angry, I would just like to give you a suggestion. That snow fox is perhaps the best candidate to take care of this little female.”

Snake side-eyed him coldly with a grin, “You think that fox can find the cure to my poison?”

Cole lowered his head, “Of course not. Only you have the cure to your own venom. However, females are different from males, as their bodies are too weak. If they do not recuperate well, they might not hold on much longer.”

Snake exploded with beast pressure, making Cole kneel instantly. He picked Gu Mengmeng up and turned to walk away, not even leaving an eye roll for Cole.

When they returned to the cave, the pile of fruits had already been buried according to what Gu Mengmeng had mentioned. Nobody knew whether or not a new fruit trees could be grown, but nevertheless the cave was wiped out.

Snake wrapped Gu Mengmeng with his tail, forcing the toxins out from her body over and over.

The purple tint in her lips had subsided but her face was still ghastly pale, and she was still in a state of unconsciousness...

Initially, she could still be fed some water, but later on her teeth could not even be pried open. The tighter Snake hugged her, the more she shivered, eventually... Snake could only put Gu Mengmeng on the stone platform, as he ordered a small snake to get Lea over.

When Lea dragged his weak body to the cave, he saw Gu Mengmeng scrunched up on the stone platform lifelessly. Snake stood far away, staring at Gu Mengmeng dead in his eyes without turning away.

Lea did not greet Snake, for he had no words to say.

In front of the Beast King, him as a third-level orc was weaker than an ant.

He did not want to waste his energy saying any useless heroic remarks, but rather use every second to care for Gu Mengmeng.

Carrying Gu Mengmeng in his arms, Lea transformed into a half-orc, wrapping Gu Mengmeng tightly with his big tail. He used his tongue to gently lick Gu Mengmeng's little nose, lightly rubbing at her ear. He used an affectionate voice, one that sounded like the noise made from the depths of the ocean, to speak softly in her ear, "Mengmeng, I'm here. Don't be scared, don't be scared... You have to hold on, you understand? You promised, you won't leave me alone."

Snake held his fist tightly behind his back. He wanted to hug Gu Mengmeng like that too, but his damned body did not have the warmth like that of the fox. His blood was cold, so no matter how tightly he hugged, he would never provide her with a trace of warmth.

Lea used his face to stick onto Gu Mengmeng's gently, while lightly caressing Gu Mengmeng's arm, saying, "I need Elvis to help me, I can't make Gu Mengmeng recover on my own."

Snake frowned, "Tell me what you need, I can provide you too."

Elvis snorted, side-eyeing Snake, "Elvis is her first partner. The sense of security he can provide for her cannot be replaced by anyone else."

Snake's pupils quivered, straightening into a vertical line, then slowly turning back. He stretched his tongue out towards the entrance of the cave, and Elvis was brought over not long after.

Lea handed Gu Mengmeng to Elvis, then said, “I will prepare some food, you hug her and talk to her more.”

Chapter 537 - You Made Mengmeng Eat This?

Elvis furrowed his brows tightly, hugging Gu Mengmeng in his arms while softly saying, “Xiao Meng, I’m here, I’m here.”

Lea stood up and walked towards Snake, “I need prey, please allow me to hunt in the Snake King valley.”

Snake did not respond, only giving an eye to the little snake behind him. After a while, many tiny snakes carried a prey and stopped in front of Lea.

Lea examined the prey carefully, and his expression darkened, “You made Mengmeng eat this?”

Displeased, Snake said, “This is the best prey in the Snake King valley.”

Lea pointed at the hole in the prey’s body that had been pierced by the venomous fangs, “Your method of hunting is by injecting venom into the prey, making them lose their ability to fight back. These venomous liquids may mean nothing to you, but it may cause Mengmeng’s life.”

Snake was startled, as if he had not thought of this detail from the start. He frowned and said softly, “No wonder she vomited so much the previous time...”

If Gu Mengmeng had been awake right now, she would have complained: Brother, I vomited so much last time because you roasted it for me raw with its skin and hair still on, alright?! It has nothing to do with the venom! Nothing!

Snake looked at Elvis, who was hugging Gu Mengmeng, and felt annoyed. His chest felt suffocated, and perhaps going out to hunt would be a good relief.

With that thought, Snake said with a cold expression, “You stay here to take care of Twomeng, I will do the hunting.”

Lea made no comment. This was not his territory. If Snake did not agree, no matter how skilled him and Elvis were, they would not have hunted any edible prey. Moreover, it was weird having Snake around, so him screwing off was all that Lea could ask for.

Snake exited the cave and transformed into beast mode, his train-like body shape exited into the depths of the woods. He originally wanted to vent his anger recklessly, but subconsciously avoided the fruit trees that were at risk of extinction.

Sweeping his tail a few times in emptiness, Snake eventually slithered past that fruit tree, moving forward.

Meanwhile in the cave, both Lea and Elvis felt heavy-hearted. As males, they were too clear what the difference in skills meant. In the afternoon, they could still lie to themselves and say how Snake looked very interested in Gu Mengmeng, and that they would not object having someone of the Beast King level to enter the family if he wanted to just mate with Mengmeng. Even if it meant handing over Elvis’ position as the first partner, he could smile in his grave and undo everything personally, willingly giving up the position of first partner to the crazily powerful Snake King. Because with him, no one in the Beast World would ever dare to harm Gu Mengmeng.

However, it has not even been half a day, and look how much Gu Mengmeng had been tormented by him?

Elvis hugged Gu Mengmeng tightly, furrowing his brows extremely tightly, “What is the possibility of success... if we escape?”

Lea peeked at the colorful snakes that blocked the entrance of the cave, “These snakes are only wild beasts, but they contain extreme toxicity. Even a slight break in our skin, I may not walk further than five steps with my abilities. You’re slightly better, perhaps ten.”

Elvis tried to release his beast pressure, but those snakes only straightened their upper bodies, getting into a position ready for attack against Elvis.

Chapter 538 - I Love It The Most When I See You Enamored By Me

“It’s useless.” Lea patted Elvis’ shoulder, gesturing for him to withdraw the beast pressure, “They are snakes that have been around Snake for a long time, who have been long used to the pressure from the Beast King. To them, our normal pressure is nothing.”

Elvis remained silent, watching how Gu Mengmeng looked weak as if her life was hanging by a thread, feeling his heart ache to no end. He could only ask in a low voice, “Then what now? I’m afraid that Xiao Meng won’t be able to hold on.”

Lea caressed Gu Mengmeng’s tiny face gently, then looked at Elvis, “How’s your physical strength... now?”

Elvis side-eyed Lea, waiting for his next words.

Lea, “The toxins has caused the blood in Xiao Meng’s body to coagulate, you have to let her blood start flowing again for the antivenom Snake released into her body to become effective. But you were just attacked by Snake... are you still alright?”

Elvis gritted his teeth and smiled bitterly, “I have to even if I can’t, I won’t let Xiao Meng just die like this.”

Lea pressed his lips together, “If you really cannot... I can do it too.”

Elvis stared at Lea for a while, smiling, “I won’t let Xiao Meng mate with you unwillingly.”

Lea nodded, “Then I will guard by you. Do it quickly, best before Snakel returns, in case he goes crazy and hurts Mengmeng.”

Elvis nodded, carrying Gu Mengmeng to the deepest part within the cave, removing his beast skin dress and laying it under her body, then slowly removing her dress while kissing her nice-smelling shoulders, whispering in her ear, “Did you know, Xiao Meng? I love it the most when I see you enamored by me. So... if you can, then respond to me, won’t you? I much prefer when you rub my neck, telling me you love me than seeing you quite like this.”

Elvis started kissing upwards from Gu Mengmeng’s collarbone, finally covering her lips.

His active tongue exerted strength to pry open her teeth, and did not have time to obtain any territory before the taste of blood filled his mouth.

Elvis hurt so much he groaned in a deep voice, yet was unwilling to retract his tongue as he continued sucking on Gu Mengmeng’s lips, using his blood to nourish her body.

It was barely two days, but Gu Mengmeng had slimmed down so obviously, Snake clearly did not take proper care of her. These few days, she probably did not eat much.

The blood of a fifth-level orc should still be very nutritious. If it can allow Xiao Meng to regain some physical strength, would it not have been worth it even if his tongue was bitten off and blood ran dry from his mouth?

Elvis’ huge hands massaged Gu Mengmeng’s arms, trying his best to help her promote blood circulation. His huge tail swept at Gu Mengmeng’s legs continuously as he attempted to care for her every sensory organ on her body.

However, even so, Gu Mengmeng did not have a single response as she continued to lie there silently like a porcelain doll that had lost her soul, eyes shut and eyebrows furrowed, with moments of her teeth trembling.

Elvis turned all the energy he had into adoration, giving it all to Gu Mengmeng. Then, it was as if he became a doll whose battery had been depleted as he used up his energy, leaning on Gu Mengmeng's body and lost his consciousness.

Lea smiled bitterly after, carrying Elvis to the side carefully, then using the beast skin trying to wipe Gu Mengmeng's body clean before wrapping her tightly in his arms, using his body temperature to maintain her body temperature that had finally risen with much effort. Despite the dejected energy on her body that had made him extremely sufferable, Lea could only hope for Gu Mengmeng's survival and safety.

Chapter 539 - Silly, That's Not A Dream

When Snake dragged the prey, whose each inch of his bone had been broken into smithereens, back to the cave, he sharply sensed the smoldering atmosphere within. He looked up and attacked Elvis at the speed of light.

“If you kill him, then Mengmeng won’t live on.” Lea spoke neither too fast nor slow, finishing his last word right before Snake’s fangs touched Elvis’ artery.

The speed at which blood was flowing through Snake’s face was apparent. The bottom half of his body was in snake form, and could almost tell the slight lifting going on in his snake scales. He wanted to kill Elvis directly without a care, but when he unintentionally saw Gu Mengmeng’s tiny face that had regained color and recalled how she had bitten him in the morning and her face with tears streaming down, Snake stiffly retracted any signs of attack. His strong tail slapped the ground violently, creating a crater in the ground.

The fat prey was thrown by the entrance of the cave as Snake sped off into the valley in an instant so he could vent. An old tree was uprooted, then twisted into sawdust by Snake’s tail.

However, ultimately, among the trees destroyed, none were fruit trees.

Lea placed Gu Mengmeng back into Elvis’ arms as he subconsciously hugged her tightly even in his state of semi-consciousness. Meanwhile, Gu Mengmeng tilted her head slightly, placing her face on Elvis’ chest, listening to his heartbeat, sleeping peacefully.

Lea dragged his weak body to handle the prey, then looked at the little snakes that were guarding the entrance, trying to take a step forward.

The little snakes did not try to obstruct Lea's path, so it seemed like Snake probably left orders only directed at Gu Mengmeng.

That was good too. Lea lugged the prey out of the cave and found a source of water where he could carefully wash and handle the prey Snake had brought back.

This chap... probably ate all his prey alive? This preying method of crushing the bones into the flesh, is way too crazy.

Lea could almost imagine the mentality Snake carried as he vented his feelings while hunting.

Shaking his head helplessly, he carefully removed each piece of broken bone from the flesh, then cutting them into cubes.

Once Lea had returned from handling everything, Elvis had already woken up and was staring back at Snake.

Perhaps the radiation from their stare-off was too strong, so much so that even Gu Mengmeng felt a sense of pressure as she frowned and whined. She felt a warm sensation licking her face as she squinted her eyes, and saw Elvis' face, which made the edges of her lips curve upwards. She lifted her arm that felt as heavy as if it was filled with lead, and wrapped it around Elvis' neck, flipping her body towards him and finding a comfortable position in his arms, muttering, "Hubby, I had a weird dream just now..."

Elvis gently kissed Gu Mengmeng's hair, asking, "What did you dream about?"

Gu Mengmeng's throat was rather dry as she lightly coughed a few times. Lea delivered a cup of water in time, then Elvis drank a tiny sip before delivering to Gu Mengmeng with his lips.

After moisturizing her throat, Gu Mengmeng continued, "I dreamed that I could not move, I clearly heard you calling out to me, but I couldn't respond... then... we also did embarrassing things..."

Elvis smiled gently, rubbing Gu Mengmeng's waist, "Silly, that's not a dream."

"Eh?" Gu Mengmeng blinked her eyes, as if she had finally woken up. She turned around violently, and her eyes met with Snake, whose eyes looked like venom could drip out from them.

Chapter 540 - Not Illegal To Sleep With One's Husband

Subconsciously, Gu Mengmeng spread her arms open to protect Elvis while looking at Snake on guard, not daring to speak.

The pain in her body, as if she had been crushed by passing cars, were telltale signs of what she had just gone through, but damn, it is not illegal to sleep with one's husband, but why did she feel like she just got caught in an affair red-handed?

Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Elvis and nodded. That's right, she did sleep with her husband.

Snake felt even more frustrated watching how Gu Mengmeng protected Elvis like that. He curled his finger, "Come over, if not I'll kill them."

Gu Mengmeng bit her bottom lip, using the beast skin to wrap herself up tightly, then dragged her tired body slightly towards Snake.

Snake frowned, pointing at himself then curling his finger again, signaling at Gu Mengmeng to come even closer.

Gu Mengmeng turned back to look at Elvis, then took another small step forth towards Snake.

Patience had run out from Snake, so he raised his snake tail and whipped it in Elvis' direction.

Gu Mengmeng did not have time to react before she stretched out her arms and pounced towards Snake's tail, trying to use her body to block the attack. However, Elvis' reaction was way faster than Gu Mengmeng's, and had already protected Gu Mengmeng in his arms and spun around before the tail could touch her, using his bare back to receive the whipping from Snake.

Snake had also been shocked by Gu Mengmeng, withdrawing much energy halfway through the attack, otherwise that whip could have chopped Elvis into half.

With a puff, Elvis spat out fresh blood, making Gu Mengmeng worried to tears as she held Elvis tightly, roaring, “Lea, Lea come look at Elvis quick.”

Lea came forward and pulled Elvis from Gu Mengmeng’s arms, placing him aside. He then placed his arms on Gu Mengmeng’s shoulders, looking straight into her eyes, saying calmly, “Do not do such things again, alright?”

Gu Mengmeng completely did not know what Lea was referring to, she just wanted him to quickly treat Elvis, so she nodded indifferently, “Yes, yes yes!”

Lea saw through Gu Mengmeng’s indifference, sighed, then said seriously, “Don’t you know that you almost scared Elvis and I to death with this poisoning? God forbid anything should happen to you, both of us wouldn’t be able to die in peace. Promise me, as long as we mean something to you, you will protect yourself first at any cost. As long as you are fine, we can definitely get through anything. You are not allowed to expose yourself to danger for anyone, understood?”

Elvis looked at Gu Mengmeng while grasping his chest, having the same expression. He will not go easy on Gu Mengmeng for this only.

Gu Mengmeng nodded, “I know, I promise I won’t in the future. Go look at Elvis quickly, his injury is really serious...”

It was only then that Lea let go, turning around to check on Elvis’ injury. Read more chapter at vipnovel

Elvis shot a promising smile at Gu Mengmeng, wanting her to believe that he is alright, and is feeling fine.

However, the injuries on his flesh, coupled with his pale skin, were dead giveaways to his weakness. How could it be hidden just by a smile?

Snake's tail was trembling as he strongly held back his urge to attack. He squinted his eyes, then wrapped Gu Mengmeng with his tail and slithered out of the cave.

The night was deep and dark, yet it still could not hide the ferocity from Snake. Gu Mengmeng felt as if she could see black smoke coming out from Snake's body.

Chapter 541 - Are You An Idiot?

“Where are we going...” Gu Mengmeng asked in fear.

Snake stopped in his tracks, but did not turn around to look at Gu Mengmeng.

Where to? He had no idea either...

He just felt that he no longer wanted to stay in the cave and watch as Gu Mengmeng and Elvis interact intimately, so he brought her out before he killed him.

“Snake... Regarding me biting you this morning... Sorry, I apologise.” Gu Mengmeng decided to be a girl who dared to admit to her mistakes. When she saw Snake’s back stiffen, she felt a shiver run down her spine, which led her to defend herself, “However, I only bit you because I panicked when you hurt my husband first. So, since you struck first, you share half the responsibility for this...”

Snake took a deep breath and turned his head with a dark expression, “Do not bring up you wild men in front of me, if not you can watch me tear them up in tens of thousands of ways, and you won’t even be able to hurt yourself.”

Gu Mengmeng knew Snake certainly had such capabilities. While Elvis may seem powerful outside, but before a maniac like Snake, their skills were far too inferior, such that even people like Gu Mengmeng who did not really understand the concept of levels could tell, this was just like a WTO wrestler beating up a primary school child...

“I won’t... I won’t I won’t, please don’t be angry.”

With a cold expression, Snake stretched out one arm, with his palm facing upwards, “Twomeng.”

Gu Mengmeng placed her hand in his palms out of conditional reflex, then smiled bitterly. It was as if she was a pet dog that had been trained...

Snake held Gu Mengmeng's little hand, finally calming down, slowly retracting his tail and transforming into a human. He brought Gu Mengmeng into his embrace, hugging her, then releasing.

Gu Mengmeng was rather awkward. She pointed to Snake's arm, "Does that... wound still hurt?"

Snake looked down at the wound that had already healed perfectly, frowning, how did it heal so quickly? If it had not... Would she look at him like how she looked at Elvis?

Snake thought for a moment, then placed his arm beside his mouth, and bit down with his fangs.

"Eh?! What are you doing?!" Gu Mengmeng was frightened as she stretched out her arm to grab Snake's, but Snake hid backwards, with a cold expression, "My blood is poisonous, don't touch it."

Gu Mengmeng retracted her arm awkwardly, taking a step back. She stretched her neck and pointed at Snake's arm, "Your fangs are poisonous too, right?"

Snake nodded, "Extremely."

Gu Mengmeng thought about it deeply for a moment, then asked, "So are your fangs or your blood more poisonous? Just... If you have signs of being poisoned, which poison should I use antivenom on first? Do you have an antivenom? You should give it to me in advance..."

Snake got startled, then suddenly smiled, "Are you an idiot? Why would I poison myself to death?"

Gu Mengmeng looked at Snake, stunned, then smiled too, "Isn't it nice? Your smile looks pretty good. Why do you have to keep such a straight face, as if someone has yet to return you the eight million dollars that they owe you?”

Snake was shocked by Gu Mengmeng’s words. He reached to touch the edges of his lips, and he actually... was smiling.

“Nice?” Snake asked cautiously.

Chapter 542 - So Uniquely Awful

When Snake had brought Gu Mengmeng back to the cave, Elvis and Lea were gone. Gu Mengmeng wanted to ask, but dared not to seeing Snake's face of 'if you dare to ask I will immediately kill them'. But looking at the roasted meat that was tender on the inside and golden-brown on the outside, she felt much contented.

Other than Lea, nobody could roast meat of such quality.

If he still had the mood to roast meat, it would mean that at least Elvis and him were safe.

Knowing that, Gu Mengmeng felt much relaxed.

Once her anxiety was ease, she began to feel hungry too, well, she had only eaten a few fruits in these few days.

Gu Mengmeng squatted beside the roasted meat, looked at Snake and asked, "Is this for me to eat?"

Snake let out a 'yes' coldly, then sat at the side looking at Gu Mengmeng gobbling down the food.

Snake did not know why, he just felt that the food in Gu Mengmeng's hand looked extremely appetizing, so he moved neared, opened his mouth and said, "Ah."

Gu Mengmeng looked at Snake's expression of requesting for food and did not know whether to laugh or cry.

Why was this guy's personality so extreme? Being unreasonable to everyone, regardless of friend or foe, when he was angry, but turned into a haughty cute person when he calmed down, Gu Mengmeng felt speechless.

Tearing out a piece of roasted meat, Gu Mengmeng sent it to Snake's mouth.

Snake chewed it carefully, before swallowing it down.

Delicious? Probably...

The taste of meat was not really there, it was not as fresh as eating it right after killing and it was a little too hot... The taste was really normal, but together with Gu Mengmeng's smiley face, a chemical reaction seemed to have happened. It was so uniquely awful, yet so special.

Gu Mengmeng stared at Snake's face for a while, but she could not tell whether he liked it or not.

"Do you still want some more?" Gu Mengmeng asked.

Snake shook his head and said, "You can have it, I will watch you eat."

Gu Mengmeng did not restrain herself, Lea had prepared this for her after all.

Chomped on the roasted meat in large bites, Gu Mengmeng's mood became more pleasant as well.

After Gu Mengmeng had done eating, Snake sat beside her, turned his face and asked, "Are you scared of snakes?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded her head honestly and said, "There are not many animals that I'm afraid of, but snake must be on the top of the list. When I go to zoos with cobras that can take pictures with people, I would immediately run away if I see it and I don't dare to take up the challenge at all. Just thinking of a snake touching me would make me feel uncomfortable all over... Hey, look, my hair are all standing up now." Read more chapter at vipnovel Snake looked at the hair standing up on Gu Mengmeng's arm and felt slightly disappointed. He said, "Wolves are ferocious animals too, why aren't you afraid of those?"

Gu Mengmeng smiled and said, “Who says I’m not? You don’t know how terrified I was when I first saw Elvis’s true form, almost fainting over it. For the longest time, I had been thinking Elvis and Lea were keeping me as their backup food and would gobble me down any moment.”

Hearing what Gu Mengmeng said, Snake felt much balanced.

“In the future, will you slowly become not scared of snakes?” Snake asked.

Gu Mengmeng thought for a while, shook her head and said, “Probably not. I... Erm... beg to be excused from snakes.”

Snake frowned and asked, “Are you scared of me?”

Gu Mengmeng did not answer and questioned back, “Do you want me to be scared of you?”

Snake kept quiet for a long time, did not answer and he just looked at Gu Mengmeng quietly.

Chapter 543 - Your Mom Was a Funny and Ridiculous Person

Gu Mengmeng felt pretty pressurized being stared at by Snake, she smacked her lips to organize her thoughts and said, “To be frank, you are a nice person when you are not angry, although a little awkward, but it’s not too hard to get along with you. However, when you are bad-tempered... Tsk tsk tsk, you absolutely turn into a person being possessed by the evil boss, so terrifying.”

Snake looked at Gu Mengmeng and suddenly smiled. He said, “At least you know to be scared, don’t piss me off in the future.”

Gu Mengmeng clasped her fists and said, “Understood, Mighty King!”

Snake broke into a smile by her humorous gesture. The impure air suffocating him in his chest cleared out slowly, he cleared his throat and asked, “Do you feel uncomfortable anywhere now?”

Gu Mengmeng felt her body carefully and said, “Just a lack of strength, the rest are fine.”

Snake said, “You are the one that bit me and I had to save you in the end... Why are you so useless?”

Gu Mengmeng felt speechless. She turned her head to one side away from Snake, refusing to communicate with him.

Snake stretched out his hand and called, “Twomeng.”

Gu Mengmeng instinctively put her hand onto Snake’s and it was immediately held by him.

Gu Mengmeng wanted to give herself a slap, what happened to her dignity? Her dignity!

Snake smiled faintly and said, "It's finally warm again..."

Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Snake's cold face and asked, "You must be... worried today?"

Snake's expression froze and he said, "No."

Gu Mengmeng could not help herself but laugh, she did not expose nor agree with Snake, all she did was staring at him.

Snake cleared his throat and said, "I saved you because I have something to ask you and I cannot let you die, for now."

Gu Mengmeng nodded and said, "What do you want to ask?"Read more chapter at vipnovel

Snake kept quiet for a moment, before slowly opening his mouth, "I want to know, how is it like... in your world."

Gu Mengmeng was stunned for a moment, she asked carefully, "You mean... the world of the Beast Deity?"

Snake shook his head and said, "I know you did not come from the Beast World, but another independent world. The people there do not know how to transform, they know a lot of strange things, but they are so weak that normal beasts, not to mention orcs, could kill them easily..."

Gu Mengmeng's expression gradually became uncontrollable, she looked at Snake with a little excitement and asked, "How... how did you know?"

Snake looked back at Gu Mengmeng and said, "My mother beast, was the previous Messenger of the Beast Deity."

"Cough... Cough cough!" Gu Mengmeng was solidly choked, she coughed until her face was full red and she could not speak.

Your mom was a funny and ridiculous person, but you were an extremely powerful yet haughty one? Was there a mutation of genes? You two were so different?

“Twomeng?” Snake was being serious, he wanted to pat on Gu Mengmeng’s back to help her catch her breath, but realized that the position he had bitten himself was still bleeding, he had to take back his hand halfway and watch Gu Mengmeng coughing like mad in front of him.

“Wait a moment...” Gu Mengmeng finally stopped coughing, she turned to look at Snake and asked, “The previous messenger is your mom, so... brother, how old are you now?”

Snake cleared his throat and tried to beat around the bush, “Around... one thousand years I think.”

“What the heck!” Gu Mengmeng shoot up from the ground and walked around Snake for two circles, before poking his face with her hand and she said, “The saying goes that time isn’t kind to anyone, but time could not handle you at all it seems! Tsk tsk tsk, this skin... must have been taken care of well.”

Chapter 544 - Are You Despising Me Because I Am Old?

Snake used the uninjured hand and held onto Gu Mengmeng's small hand that was poking around on his face. He signaled her to sit up straight and said, "I have never seen my mother beast. When she died... I was still an egg. All the memories of my mother came from the inheritance of my father's memory. I am not sure whether it was due to the influence of my father's memory... I am... very curious towards her."

Gu Mengmeng stunned for a moment and said with a spooked face, "Did you mistake the feelings your father had towards your mother for that of you towards her?"

After saying this tongue-twister-like sentence, Gu Mengmeng herself was surprised that her tongue was not tied up together.

Snake looked at Gu Mengmeng for a long time, before shaking his head and said, "I was unsure before this, but now I know that there is a difference between curiosity and like."

Gu Mengmeng sat beside Snake, patted his shoulder and said in all earnestness, "That's right, your values have to be right and you must have the basic morals."

Snake smirked, poked Gu Mengmeng's head and said, "Acting like a senior in front of me? Huh?"

Thinking about Snake's age of over a thousand years, Gu Mengmeng sat obediently and said earnestly, "No no, I dared not."

Snake raised his eyebrows and said, "Are you despising me because I am old?"

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips but failed to hold in her laughter. She said, "Sorry sorry, I have never seen an evildoer living over a thousand years, I was just being too excited... Let me laugh for a while."

Looking at Gu Mengmeng squatting down laughing like a hyena, Snake's lips began to curved upwards uncontrollably and he quietly stared at Gu Mengmeng laughing like a fool until she was tired of it. Gu Mengmeng bent on the stone table and looked up at Snake, she said, "I'm terribly sorry, I am finally done with laughing. Well... Hahaha... Let me laugh for a while more..."

Snake did not get angry, instead, he quietly watched Gu Mengmeng laughed.

Until she could not utter a sound from laughing, Snake poked on her brain and said, "Stop laughing or else I will eat you up."

Gu Mengmeng held back her laughter and took a long time to calm her emotions down, before saying, "Just judging by the look of your face, I wouldn't have suspected anything above twenty. It's just too deceptive and I could not hold it back, therefore the exaggerated laughter, pardon me elder, pardon me."

Snake raised his eyebrows and repeated with clenched teeth, "Elder?"

Gu Mengmeng felt a chill down her spine, she forced a smile, weakened her tone and said, "Brother, I am in the wrong, I am the elder one, I am the elder one."

Snake pinched her small face and let her off. He said quietly, "I really want to figure out what the things in my memory are, so I had wandered in the Beast World in the past but could not find a single female like her.

Afterwards... I could not remember how I got here but when I realized, I have been staying here for the longest time and this place was named the Snake King valley. Although not a single person could stop me, I never left this place."

Gu Mengmeng paid attention to what Snake said and asked after he finished his sentence, “Did you join forces with Cole because you were curious about your mother?”

Snake was displeased, he raised his head and said, “We did not join forces, it was him offering a gift for me.”

Gu Mengmeng pointed at her nose and said, “The gift that he offered is me?”

Snake nodded his head and said, “He told me he would bring the new Messenger of the Beast Deity to me and offer her to me, I accepted it, that’s all.”

“Kidnapping the little wolves, tricking me into Sauder and keeping me under control, while discreetly attacking Elvis and the others... All these, had nothing to do with you?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

Chapter 545 - I Believe You If You Say So.

Chapter 545 I Believe You If You Say So.

“Would you believe me if I said all of it had nothing to do with me?” Snake did not reply, but asked back.

Gu Mengmeng nodded and said, “I believe you if you say so.”

Snake asked, “Why?”

Gu Mengmeng smiled faintly and said, “With your strength, you wouldn’t have to go such a long way to capture me. Even if you don’t hold the little wolves as hostages, I have nowhere to escape.”

Snake grinned, raised his eyebrow and said, “Then why ask if you already knew?”

Gu Mengmeng shrugged her shoulders and said, “Whatever the matter is, a chance to explain should still be given to the person, right?”

Snake did not reply, he looked at Gu Mengmeng quietly for a long while before saying, “It wasn’t me.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled, nodded her head and said, “Then I have no questions for you. What do you want to know about that world, I can tell you everything I know.”

Snake thought over it for a moment, but shook his head.

Gu Mengmeng was confused, she asked, “Weren’t you curious about the original world your mother was living in?”

Snake looked down at their shadows overlapping each other under the moonlight, paused for a moment and replied, “I was indeed curious in the past, but from a certain point in time, I could only remember that I was curious, but not what I was curious about.”

Gu Mengmeng thought it over and agreed with what he said.

A thousand over year, any kind of curiosity would be gone in the passage of time.

Knocking Snake’s shoulder, Gu Mengmeng said, “Your mother is extremely funny, do you know that?”

Snake looked at Gu Mengmeng’s glimmering eyes, shook his head lightly and said, “In my memory, she was a solemn and serious person, always looking far beyond one’s grasp. Even without others present, she always appeared to be worried, even my father beast did not know what she was thinking. Under my impression... She never had the smiley face of yours, never cried however she wanted like you. She never let anyone know what she cared about, what she liked, what she hated. So different... from you.”

Gu Mengmeng looked at Snake with a face of ‘only idiots believe you’ and said, “What you mean is, your mom had the style of being elegant and cold, while I am the one that is like a snail dashing on the road of ridicule and humor?”Read more chapter at vipnovel

Snake nodded his head slowly with an earnest face.

Gu Mengmeng smacked her thigh and jumped up, she originally wanted to stand opposite of Snake, but her hands were still under his grip and she almost fell down.

Snake instinctively wanted to catch her with his hands, but realized that the wound on his arm had not healed completely, so he had to take back his hand that was extended midair, pulled in the arm that was grabbing onto her hand and hauled her into his arms in a parabolic motion.

Gu Mengmeng felt a daze and she was already lying against Snake's chest when she had stabilize herself. She looked up, blinked several times and looked at Snake's green eyes that were just inches away from her. Gu Mengmeng cleared her throat and said, "Alright, I am a funny and ridiculous person."

Snake smiled lightly, placed Gu Mengmeng properly in his arms and said, "Sit down and speak, don't wiggle around."

Gu Mengmeng moved her butt and said. "Well, I can just speak at the side."

Snake tightened the grip on his arms and held Gu Mengmeng tightly, he said, "You are the safest in my arms, you won't get hurt."

Gu Mengmeng sighed and submitted her fate helplessly, who asked her to almost fall on her head moments before when she only wanted to stand up? Passive, she was being too passive!

Gu Mengmeng turned her head and looked at Snake with her the corner of her eyes, she decided to gain back some advantage on the topic of 'your mother'.

Chapter 546 - My Wound? Why?

“Hey, your mother was the Messenger of the Beast Deity and I became the Messenger of the Beast Deity now, so I am your mother’s colleague, shouldn’t you be calling me aunt?” Gu Mengmeng put on the old aunt’s expression of kind smile and said, “Come, let me hear you call Aunt Mengmeng.”

Snake looked at Gu Mengmeng as though looking at an idiot and he said, “The Messengers of the Beast Deity are just people that transmigrated from another world to fulfill some missions. I assume you do not know my mother beast very well.”

Snake said as he pinched Gu Mengmeng’s chin. He squinted his eyes and continued with a half smile, “Besides... I am over a thousand years old, if I call you aunt, would you dare to answer? Huh?”

Gu Mengmeng pouted and replied, “Never mind then, the cost of being your aunt is too high. You are in the right because you are old, continue taking advantage of your seniority.”

Snake smirked, released his grip on Gu Mengmeng’s chin, while resting his head on Gu Mengmeng’s shoulder and his gaze fell onto her mating mark on her collar bone accidentally.

“Tell me, how did you transmigrate here?” Snake asked casually.

Gu Mengmeng felt even more sullen with the mention of this matter. She said with burning indignation, “I am also dying to know why I was the one who transmigrated? Your mother even had a “300 Poems of the Tang Dynasty” and a pen when she transmigrated, while I only a bikini on. Ah... If another Messenger of the Beast Deity really comes after a thousand years, she would definitely think that I am an even more ridiculous and funny person than your mother.”

“Bikini?” Snake looked up and asked the key question.

Gu Mengmeng nodded her head insincerely and replied, “Yes, it’s a clothing worn for swimming. Originally, I had wanted to confess to the Prince Charming senior... Tsk, this is even more frustrating. The last time it slipped out of my mouth, Elvis and Lea has been questioning about the senior whenever they have a chance to ever since. It made me feel that I had cheated on them, but I didn’t even do anything and I could not explain it clearly to them too... Sobs sobs sobs, my heart is broken but I won’t, I won’t express it!”

Snake smiled and said, “But you have already told me everything.”

Gu Mengmeng rolled her eyes at Snake, did not continue with the topic and instead switched to the topic of ‘your mother’. She said, “Hey, did you know, your mother was a genius. She used the “300 Poems of the Tang Dynasty” and tricked tribe Sauder for a thousand over year. That Cole even used ‘Hoeing millet in midday heat’ as the code to confirm my identity... Tsk, shouldn’t the test be something more formal, something like ‘God covers tigers on the land, the pagoda suppressed monsters in the river’, or even the least being ‘Open Sesame’? Why would it be ‘Hoeing millet in midday heat’? I am sure that you are not familiar with your mother, the coolness and demureness were merely a misunderstanding.”

Snake nodded his head and said, “I have... never met her before.”

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips and looked at Snake apologetically, she said, “Sorry, it just slipped out of my mouth... I didn’t mean to rub salt onto your wound.”

Snake tilted his head, looked into Gu Mengmeng’s bright eyes and asked, “My wound? Why?”

Gu Mengmeng blinked her eyes and was unsure of how to answer the question. She thought to herself, wouldn’t it be a little too late to... offer her condolences?

Snake seemed to have read Gu Mengmeng’s mind. He smiled lightly and said, “Don’t look at me with pity. Snakes are cold-blooded creatures and not the type to stay long by its parents' side in the first place. So it wasn't a pitiful thing to be not familiar with my parents."

Chapter 547 - To Protect You, of Course.

“Oh.” Gu Mengmeng rubbed her face, adjusted her expression, looked at Snake and asked, “Hey, since you have your father’s memory, can you analyze with me, why did your mother ask others to treat the “300 Poems of the Tang” as some esoterica?”

Snake could not control his laughter, he looked at Gu Mengmeng and said, “To protect you, of course.”

“Me?” Gu Mengmeng pointed to her own nose with a confused face.

Snake nodded his head and continued, “The Messengers of the Beast Deity are people who are smart but weak in terms of physical abilities. If there were no form of safety mechanism present to prove your identity, it would be highly possible that you are killed before becoming the Messenger. My mother beast left the book and a blindly-devoted tribe as an amulet for you. Sadly, the present tribe leader is an unloyal one.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded her head in agreement and said, “But your mother was powerful enough, nobody dared to provoke Sauder for a thousand over years due to its title of being the messenger tribe, you could see how powerful she was just from that.”

Snake rubbed Gu Mengmeng little head and said, “Weren’t you the one that said she was a funny and ridiculous person moments ago?”

Gu Mengmeng let out an awkward laughter and said, “You can’t fault me on that, did you know what was the ritual speech and dance your mother passed down? The famous square-dancing song ‘Little Apple’, in English some more. Let me tell you, if not for the wild girls in my hostel... I would never have known this song.”

Snake raised his eyebrows and said, “Yea? Let me hear it.”

Gu Mengmeng almost wanted to bite her tongue to her own death.

She shook her head and said, “No no, the style of that famous song is no match to my coolness.”

Snake raised his head and said, “No? Then I am gonna eat you up.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned and said, “Hiss... Can’t you get a little more creative? Using the same trick to threaten me every time, it will lose its effectiveness.”

With squinted eyes and vertical pupils, Snake opened his mouth slowly and showed his poisonous fangs dripping venoms, as he slowly edged closer towards Gu Mengmeng...

Gu Mengmeng said cowardly, “Mighty King, relax, I will sing.” Read more chapter at vipnovel Snake returned back to his cool self in the split of a second, before looking at Gu Mengmeng with the ‘Please begin your performance’ face.

Gu Mengmeng pulled her wrist and said, “Mighty King, could you release your grip first?”

Snake shook his head and said, “Just sing like this.”

“Understood!” Gu Mengmeng cleared her throat and sang the Chinese version of ‘Little Apple’ once, with some English lyrics intertwined. This was actually an embarrassing song, especially as it gave people the urge to dance along with it as it was sang... As though being cursed.

That night, Snake made an exception for Gu Mengmeng to sleep late, he watched her danced the ‘Little Apple’ for almost the entire night with smiles in his eyes, until she was so tired that she lay on the ground and would not get up no matter what. Snake then wrapped her up with a hide, stretched his arms and slept at a distance of two arms away from her.

His body was too cold, even his blood was freezing.

No matter how much he wanted to approach her, he knew that even someone as warm as her could not heat up his soul that had been frozen for a thousand year old. Rather than making her sick again, he would let her have her own warmth, while he would... just look at her from afar. After all, he had been used to the coldness.

The next morning, Gu Mengmeng was awoken by the noise of cries.

“Snake, get the hell out now! I am going to challenge you!”

Gu Mengmeng rubbed her eyes, stood up and asked in a daze, “Who’s that... So noisy...”

Snake pulled away Gu Mengmeng's hand that was rubbing her eyes, went close to her, stick out his tongue and licked her lightly.

Gu Mengmeng felt grossed out and her drowsiness wore off instantly. She took a step backward and said, "Stop stop stop, you are making me feel like you are a complete pervert."

Snake did not get angry, he said, "In my memory, every morning, my father beast would do this to my mother beast and she would have the rare smile on her face."

Gu Mengmeng was stunned for a moment, she asked, "Did your father do this before your mother was awake or before?"

Snake shook his head and signaled that he could not remember.

Gu Mengmeng explained patiently, "If he was kissing her eyes before she wakes up, it is called waking her up gently, but if he was licking her crusty eyes after she had woken up, it is called a pervert, understood?"

Snake frowned and looked at Gu Mengmeng with a confused face.

Gu Mengmeng cupped Snake's face and said, "Close your eyes."

Snake did as she said and closed his eyes.

Gu Mengmeng's lips landed lightly onto Snake's eyes, it was a faint kiss that left quickly. She then said gently, "Dear, it's time to wake up."

Snake's heart pounded at that moment, he opened his eyes and saw Gu Mengmeng's gentle face inches away from him and felt dazed.

He was certain that she could not have known the scene at that time, but Snake felt like Gu Mengmeng's version must have been the correct way how his parents treated each other.

He was at a loss of words and he could only look at Gu Mengmeng blankly.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled, stepped backwards and said, "Hey, this should be the correct way how husbands and wives wake each other up. Eating the sleep in one's eyes is just too unique~"

Snake nodded his head and did not reply. He felt his throat was dry and something in his chest was getting out of control.

Irritated, this must be the feeling of being irritated, right? He had the strong urge to tear something apart to release the uncontrollable energy in his body.

What should he tear?

Gu Mengmeng... That was not a suitable choice, she was too weak to be tore and it might be impossible to piece her back if he did not control his strength.

"Snake... You think I don't know that you are here, huh? I am going to break in if you still do not come out!" The shouting at the door continued, Snake's eyes became vertical and he smiled wickedly.

Right, it would be him.

Gu Mengmeng's hand was still wrapped in Snake's and she had to follow him when he was walking to the outside.

The moment they reached the outside, the sunlight was dazzling to Gu Mengmeng squinted her eyes and blocked the rays with her hand.

Snake discovered her discomfort and immediately carried her up. He provided a shade for her with his chest, while supported her butt with one hand and brushed against the back of her brain with the other. Snake hugged Gu Mengmeng like a child and appeared like a father bringing his daughter to a theme park, where they met a bully that stopped them for money. He looked at the other snake beast that stood at the entrance of the cave and had forgotten to shout, he frowned and said impatiently, "You are so noisy."

"Wait!" The snake beast's eyes widened and pointed at Gu Mengmeng whom was in Snake's arms as though she saw a ghost. "Who is she?! Tell me clearly, what's between you and her?!"

Gu Mengmeng had gotten used to the light, she heard what the snake beast said and turned to look at him. His appearance somewhat resembled what Snake looked like when she first met him, human body and snake tail rolling in a circle. However, his color was unlike Snake's emerald green that gave people a hideous oppressing sensation of someone in power, the guy in front of her was clay brown and a little yellowish. With how he was rolling his tail... He looked like a small human on top of a pile of shit.

Chapter 549 - Wabei's Challenge

When Gu Mengmeng was staring at the snake beast, he was also staring at her, but she could not tell anything from it other than the look as though he had encountered a ghost.

But why did Gu Mengmeng felt that the situation was a little familiar...

Ah, right!

When she arrived at Saint Nazaire, Nina seemed to have looked for her trouble in this same stance.

But the snake beast in front of her was clearly a male? Was it right for him to be acting like... the first wife beating the mistress up?

Question marks were written all over Gu Mengmeng's face as she looked at the snake beast and then at Snake. She hesitated, and hesitated... before finally opening her mouth to ask, "Erm... Are you two... A gay couple?"

The snake beast did not know what was a gay couple, but Snake did!

His face turned blacked immediately as he ground his teeth and replied, "No."

The snake beast took a step forward and shouted in an unconvincing manner, "I am Wabei, the person who is going to defeat Snake to become the new snake king. We are enemies, not friends!"

Gu Mengmeng felt a deep sense of childishness hitting her straight on, she laughed dryly and asked, "Hey there sir... How old are you?"

Wabei straightened her back and looked at Gu Mengmeng in an unruly manner, asked, "What do you mean?!"

Just as Gu Mengmeng was about to explain, Snake put Gu Mengmeng onto the rock at one side. The rock had been warmed by the sun and it was pretty comfortable. The colorful snake immediately circled around her and drew out a safety area, just like the circle that the Monkey King drew for Xuanzang every time he went to ask for food, but bigger.

However, with Gu Mengmeng's fear towards snakes, no matter how wide the boundaries are, she would not dare to move an inch, how would she know if any snake suspected that she was trying to escape and went up to give her a bite?

"Don't move, wait for me, I will be quick." Snake put Gu Mengmeng's hand that he had been holding to his lips and kissed the back of her hand just like how she kissed his eyes. He said, "Darling."

"Eh... Eh eh eh!" Gu Mengmeng wanted to explain that she did that just to re-enact the scene and role-played the characters, telling him the right way to give a morning kiss on the eyes. 'Darling' was not a word to use so casually, did you think you were working at Amazon's customer service? Calling everyone 'Dear'?

Snake did not give Gu Mengmeng a chance to explain, he turned around and transformed into a giant snake in a split second. He had a similar posture as Wabei, human body and snake tail, but it was obvious who was the stronger one with them side by side.

Snake was green from head to toe, but in a shade darker than normal, the oppressing feeling was also stronger than usual, even Gu Mengmeng whom could not feel the beast pressure felt suffocated for a moment, she then held her breath and became extremely nervous.

On the other hand, Wabei shook his tail and appeared anticipated in the battle, he had a chilly smile on his face... that made him look like a total psycho.

Snake did not want to mingle around with Wabei, his swiped his tail directly towards Wabei's abdomen. The scales on the tail were in a blooming state, anyone would be left with skin cut opened and flesh torn with that swipe.

Wabei was big-sized, but not cumbersome; instead, he was especially agile. Seeing Snake's attack, he bent down and stayed low near the ground surface and dodged the attack. At the same time, he dashed towards Snake like the wind, which appeared like he was going to engage in close combat.

Snake smirked, he stood on the spot, not moving an inch and let Wabei charge towards him. Only when Wabei's venomous fangs almost made contact with his abdomen did he transform into a snake. With his mouth wide-opened, he bit into Wabei's heart, straightened his body and flung it out. Wabei was sent flying like a strand of thick noodle, a soulless strand of noodle...

Chapter 550 - Do You Want to Eat Snakes?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Snake had no means of letting Wabei go, he wrapped Wabei tightly with his thick snake body and strangled him inch by inch. The two that were mistaken by Gu Mengmeng as a loving gay couple moments ago turned into a matcha-shit-flavored fried dough twist as they love and kill each other...

The scene was too bloody for Gu Mengmeng to watch, she hugged her knees and buried her face in them... Snakes were just too scary.

Not long after, a pair of icy hands poked Gu Mengmeng's shoulders slightly and a cold voice sounded from above the head, "Twomeng."

Gu Mengmeng looked up and the first thing she saw was a hand with palm facing upwards, then she saw Snake's wickedly beautiful face. Gu Mengmeng hesitated for a while, she raised her little fist in the air but did not dare to put onto Snake's hand.

Snake raised his eyebrows and said "Erm?" in displeasure.

Gu Mengmeng pouted and said, "You grabbed shit just now, did you wash your hands?"

Snake was stunned for a moment, he looked back at the heavily wounded Wabei and suddenly found a shit-related scene in his memory... The shit of other animals... seemed to be different from that of snakes.

Snake felt like he was suffering an internal injury, he thought that he might never be willing to accept Wabei's challenges in the future again.

Taking his hand back slowly, Snake sighed and said, "Let's go."

Gu Mengmeng did not move, she sat still hugging his knee, looked at Snake and asked, “To where?”

Snake looked at his hand speechlessly and said, “To wash my hands.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed immorally, stood up, swiped away the dust on her butt and followed behind Snake. When they walked past Wabei who was lying on the ground, Gu Mengmeng asked, “Then what about him?”

Snake stopped, turned back and asked, “Do you want to eat shit... Do you want to eat snakes?”

Gu Mengmeng was so scared then her face turned white, she ran to Snake’s side and said, “No no no, I had zero interest in that. Go go go, let’s go and wash our hands.”

Snake frowned, he looked at how Gu Mengmeng was avoiding snakes as much as possible and said quietly, “Actually... Snake meat is pretty delicious.”

Gu Mengmeng was stunned, she turned around to look at Snake numbly and said, “Why do all males like to encourage others to eat themselves so much...”

Snake looked back at Gu Mengmeng and asked, “Eat themselves?”

Gu Mengmeng did not answer, she looked back at Snake quietly, as though she was waiting for an answer.

Snake shook his head and said, “There is nothing in the Snake King valley except for plenty of snakes. Wait till you finish all of them if you want to eat me.”

Gu Mengmeng stared at Wabei whom had nowhere uninjured on his body, twitched her lips and shook her head. She turned around, ran away and said, “No no, I can’t put my mouth on that.”

Snake turned to look at Wabei too, he nodded his head and agreed, “Right, it’s indeed disgusting.”

The two of them joked around as they reach the riverside, Gu Mengmeng bent down, scooped up a handful of water and washed her face, before retreating back to a further spot.

Snake, on the other hand, was pretty relaxed. He swam into the river, wagging his tail in the water. His upper body that was above the water was kept human form, he asked, “Are you scared of water?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and said, “I am the little white dragon in the waves, the only person that could swim faster than me is Michael Phelps.”

Snake did not know who was Michael Phelps, nor was he interested. He continued to ask, “Then why don’t you want to come into the water?”

Gu Mengmeng picked up a stone, threw it into the river and answered with a faint smile, “Someone’s heartbeat would be racing if he sees me near a river, nervous about getting abandoned. So I promised him... that I would never be near a river.”

Chapter 551 - You Know the Way to Transmigrate Back?!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Snake swam to Gu Mengmeng's side and rested his upper body on the land. He looked at Gu Mengmeng and asked, "Why?"

Gu Mengmeng did not want to spill out the embarrassing story of how she was so heartbroken that she wanted to jump into a river and transmigrate back to the modern world, but was mistaken as a suicide attempt. She skipped some parts and said briefly, "I transmigrated here in a river, so he was scared that whenever I am near a river, I will be pulled into the water."

Snake smirked, his long arms grabbed Gu Mengmeng's ankle. She struggled in a panic, but eventually fell into Snake's slightly cold arms.

'Splash!', Snake hugged Gu Mengmeng and fell into the river together.

Gu Mengmeng's swimming skills were above average, she struggled for a short time and quickly found her balance. Then, she stared at Snake and asked, "What are you doing?"

Snake used his snake tail to lightly lift Gu Mengmeng, his cold finger brushed again Gu Mengmeng's cheeks, tidying her wet hair and he said, "Tell that somebody to be rest assured, you would never be able to transmigrate back even if you drown yourself in the river."

Gu Mengmeng was stunned, she suddenly grabbed Snake's shoulders in excitement and asked, "You know the way to transmigrate back?!"

Snake's face darkened, the glistening ripples in the river were reflected in his emerald green eyes. His lips opened slightly and he said slowly, "Yea, I do know it. Do you want to hear?"

Gu Mengmeng was stunned.

Does she want to hear it?

Does she?

She had panicked when she just arrived in the Beast World, scared by the beasts that could transform into human forms and the ‘monsters’ that ran wild naked, she complained about the scarcity of resources here and the lack of entertainment...

But other than that one time she tried to avoid everything when she was heartbroken, she had never thought of going back.

This was more like her home than the modern world.

Everyone she loved, everyone that loved her, were all here.

Does she... want to go back?

After she went back, what was she going to do? Finish the uncompleted university courses and struggle her entire life with one part-time job after another?

She had to admit that the life in Beast World was too comfortable for her. Elvis and Lea had given them the best care and she had never lived such a peaceful and happy life ever since she was seven.

Gu Mengmeng slowly moved backwards, she looked at Snake, feeling lost, but eventually shook her head.

“I don’t want to know... I don’t want to go back... I promised them that I won’t leave them behind...”

Snake seemed surprised, he looked at Gu Mengmeng blankly until she had went back on land. He caught up with her from behind in the half-beast form and did not change back to the human form. Snake carried her in his arms and swam directly back to the cave.

When they were back, there was a pit of fire being lit up in the cave and a pot with stewed meat was set up on it.

Gu Mengmeng did not have to taste it to know that this was done by Lea.

Gu Mengmeng sat beside the fire pit, hugging her knees with both hands. Her head was in a mess and she could not sort out her thoughts clearly. Snake's face kept appearing in her head, saying "Yea, I do know it. Do you want to hear?" and she could not make it disappear.

She had clearly rejected him, but still thought over it uncontrollably.

Gu Mengmeng glanced at Snake secretly, while Snake just happened to be looking at her. He wiped Gu Mengmeng's face lightly with his hand and said, "Didn't you say you like the food he cooked? Why aren't you eating?"

Gu Mengmeng looked at the pot of stewed meat faintly, her eyes twinkled, before taking a huge bowl of meat and ate it mouth by mouth. She felt the food warming her stomach, but the steam had misted her eyes.

Although that world had nothing to think back on, but making a decision to not go back was a totally different matter from forgetting about going back the whole time.

Gu Mengmeng did not know what she could not let go of, but she felt a difficulty in breathing and something gushing out of her eyes controllably.

Snake frowned, cupped her face and asked, “Why are you crying all of a sudden? Is the food too awful?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head, pursed her lips to control her emotions. She then said in a thick nasally voice, “I want to see my husband, let me meet him... I really need him badly now, I really need him.”

Snake’s face was icy cold, there were danger lingering in his pupils. He put one hand on Gu Mengmeng’s face and another behind her head, gently pressing on her neck into his arms. There was restrained anger in his voice, he said calmly yet dangerously, “What do you need? I can satisfy you.”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and whimpered, “I want my hubby... I want my hubby...”

Snake frowned, the temperature in his voice gone even lowered as he said, “Right, let me be your hubby.”

Gu Mengmeng pushed Snake away, rejecting his hug like a spoiled child. She screamed with tears and snot on her face, “I don’t want you, I want my hubby, let me see my hubby... Sobs sobs... I want my hubby.”

Snake ground his teeth, he felt so frustrated that he almost wanted to bite this trouble-stirring girl to death, but the venomous teeth seemed to have glued his mouth together and he could not say anything.

Taking a deep breath, Snake released Gu Mengmeng and quietly turned and walked out of the cave.

Gu Mengmeng wanted to follow along, she wanted to find Elvis and Lea.

But the cave was blocked tightly by the colorful Snakes, unless Gu Mengmeng squeezed past the pile of Snakes, she could never get out of this cave.

Gu Mengmeng felt so awful, she sat on the ground and burst into tears.

Until she was so tired from crying, she lay down on the ground and fell asleep just like that.

When Elvis came, the only thing he saw was Gu Mengmeng sobbing as she fell asleep on the ground.

She always had ways to make his heart ache.

Elvis frowned, took two steps forward and hugged Gu Mengmeng into his arms.

The familiar smile and warmth made Gu Mengmeng feel at ease, but her eyes being too swollen from crying and her being so tired from crying, she just snuggled in Elvis's arms, found herself a comfortable spot and continued her sleep.

When Gu Mengmeng woke up, it was already the wee hours.

Other than Elvis, Lea was also called upon.

The two males were in their original form as they guarded Gu Mengmeng each at one side. When she opened her eyes, Gu Mengmeng had mistaken herself being in the cave in Saint Nazaire for a moment.

“Crying and throwing a tantrum for the two of them, only to accompany you to sleep?” A cold voice pulled Gu Mengmeng back to reality, she looked up and glanced at Snake whom was above her head. Gu Mengmeng grabbed Elvis like a scared bird and squeezed into his arms, she would have hid into his chest if she could.

Elvis was helpless, he turned back to his human form and hugged Gu Mengmeng into his arms, lightly patting her back as he comforted, “It’s alright, it’s alright. Don’t be scared, Xiao Meng, I am here.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded her head obediently and replied to a ‘hm’ with her nose, before she wanted to start crying again.

Snake frowned and said, “If you dare shed another tear, I will gobble the two of them down right in front of you.”

Chapter 553 - Hubby, Am I Doing It Right?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

“Burp...” Gu Mengmeng let out a hiccup from crying too much, but managed to force her tears back.

Elvis could not do anything, he could not win Snake from the start, not to mention now that he had been poisoned by him and lost all strength. He could barely hold onto Gu Mengmeng now, not to mention protecting his wife like a real man. Elvis could only pat on Gu Mengmeng’s back lightly to calm her down, he looked at her with remorse and heartache as he asked, “Did you cry... just to make my heart ache? Uh?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head, pounced into Elvis’s arms and hugged him tightly. She took a while to calm her emotions down before opening her mouth, “Snake said... He knew the way for me to go back...”

Just as Gu Mengmeng finished her sentence, she clearly felt the arm hugging her tightening unconsciously.

Gu Mengmeng looked up into Elvis’s shocked and surprised pair of eyes, the sapphire blue pupils appeared to be panicking and helpless. She broke into a wide grin and said, “But, I did not listen. I said, I don’t want to go back... Hubby, am I doing it right?”

Elvis felt like his breath was stuck in his throat and only gotten out with a smile hearing Gu Mengmeng’s sentence.

He hugged Gu Mengmeng tightly into his arms, one hand supporting her waist while another holding onto the back of her brain. He kissed her on the lips deeply. There was not a single word that could describe his emotions right now. He did not know whether he should say it was ‘surviving after a disaster' or 'a blessing in three lifetimes'. He only knew that he had never hated being a mere fifth-level orc and being so vulnerable in front of Snake as much as he had now, if not, the first thing he would be doing was to kill Snake and force the method of transmigrating back to remain as a secret forever.

Lea turned into a half-beast too, his furry big tail guarded Gu Mengmeng's back lightly. Until Elvis finally let go of her, Lea opened his mouth, "This is a good thing, why are you crying?"

Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Lea, her eyes resembled the washed night sky, innocent enough to make anyone's heart ache. She said, "I don't know, I just felt like never going back is a... very sentimental thing."

Lea sighed and asked, "Do you miss that swimwear prince charming of yours?"

Gu Mengmeng was stunned for a moment, the nostalgia she was feeling was disrupted and disappeared. She shook her head awkwardly and blamed Lea for destroying the atmosphere.

Lea said, "Then you must be missing Yoo Sijin?"

Clink... The mood had been completely destroyed by Lea.

Gu Mengmeng threw a stone at Lea and said, "How many times have I said that Yoo Sijin is a fictitious character and there is no such person, not at all, no!"

Lea rubbed on Gu Mengmeng's small head and said, "Alright, alright, since you said there isn't, then so be it. But if he comes looking for you some day... Tsk tsk tsk, Elvis and I would never return you back to him."

Gu Mengmeng was going crazy, she waved her fists in the air, giving Lea several air punches and said, "I told you there's no such person!"

Lea stared at Gu Mengmeng with smiley eyes and nodded at her with a ‘Yes, continue making up stories’ expression.

Gu Mengmeng snorted, turned around and snuggled back into Elvis’s arms.

She knew that Lea was using his own way to calm her emotions down.

While this method was clearly effective.

She no longer wanted to cry and she even felt that the person crying till that state just now... was comical.

Tilting her head up, Gu Mengmeng looked at Elvis and said coquettishly, “Hubby, I resisted such a great temptation for you, aren’t you going to praise me.”

Chapter 554 - Your Decision Saved My Life

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Elvis rubbed on Gu Mengmeng's head, smiled gently and said, "Your decision saved my life. Thank you, your majesty."

Gu Mengmeng sniffed, before leaning into Elvis's arms and closed her eyes in satisfaction.

Snake went up, grabbed Gu Mengmeng from Elvis's arms and said, "Alright, you two can leave now."

Gu Mengmeng threw a fit by kicking her legs as she said, "No, you can't do this, I want to be with my hubby!"

Snake pulled Gu Mengmeng to the front of his face, stared at her with vertical pupils and coldly said, "Are you challenging my patience?"

Gu Mengmeng shriveled up and lost all courage.

Before this she had been feeling extremely sullen and forgot all about how scary Snake was when she threw a tantrum. But now that she had calmed down, she could not continue being as reckless as before.

Elvis and Lea did not want Gu Mengmeng to be troubled. They had no choice but to walk to her, holding her hands, kiss on it and say, "Xiao Meng, taking good care of yourself is the most important thing, you understand?"

Snake stared at Gu Mengmeng's hand that was kissed by Elvis with disgust, he pulled it back for a bit, before directly hugging Gu Mengmeng into his arms. Snake had a black face with the look of 'I'll eat you up if you don't leave now' as he glared at Elvis and Lea.

The two of them had no choice, they had never been as coward ever since they founded Saint Nazaire.

But Snake was the Beast King...

After Elvis and Lea left, Gu Mengmeng was unwilling to open her mouth again, she just lay by the fire quietly with her back facing Snake.

It took Snake one thousand years to get used to being alone, but Gu Mengmeng only took three days to make him used to the racket.

In the cave with just the two of them, once Gu Mengmeng stopped talking, Snake suddenly felt uncomfortable all over.

He sat behind Gu Mengmeng, looked at the back of her head carefully, cleared his throat and asked, "Do you want to go out and pick fruits with me?"

Gu Mengmeng replied, "No... You would start kicking the trees all of a sudden and the endangered species would be gone in a matter of days."

Snake continued, "What about..."

Gu Mengmeng said, "I don't want to talk..."

Snake was silent for a moment and he felt a little depressed.

He had already used to having her by his side, even forgetting how he lived through the thousand years alone.

But he had nothing that she liked.

All he knew that could cheer her up... were the two males.

Gu Mengmeng could also feel that the atmosphere in the cave was a little tense, but she was in an extremely bad mood at the moment and did not want to bother about it. She decided to cover her head with a hide and continue sleeping.

The next morning when Gu Mengmeng woke up, she saw Snake sitting in front of him, staring at her with a face full of ‘I am very unhappy, quickly come and take care of me’.

After the nap, Gu Mengmeng’s emotions had been totally calmed down. So she sat up straight with her legs crossed and she asked, “Still angry?”

Snake shook his head and asked, “Why didn’t you want to go back?”

Gu Mengmeng was stunned for a moment, she kept quiet for a while, looked down and let out a bitter laugh, before saying, “Because in that world, there was nobody waiting for me to go back.”

Snake was silent for a moment, before slowly opening his mouth and he said, “That time, she was willing to do anything in order to go back... She collected the divine artifacts for transmigrating at all costs, by fair means or foul... In the end, she suffered a defeat on the verge of victory.”

With that, Snake looked up at Gu Mengmeng and said in an even and serious tone, “If she could make the same decision as you back then, perhaps...”

Chapter 555 - The Key to Open the Gate of Transmigration

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips, moved closer, hesitated for a moment but went on to hold Snake's hand. She said, "Perhaps, there are people in that world that she could not live without."

Snake chuckled, he looked at Gu Mengmeng's small hand and said, "This is the first time you held my hand voluntarily."

Gu Mengmeng did not answer, nor did she take back her hand. All she did was to stare at Snake, because she knew that Snake has something to say.

Snake used two breaths' time to adjust his emotion slightly, before saying, "The last divine artifact she needed... was me."

Gu Mengmeng was stunned and she frowned.

Snake used his fingers to soothe Gu Mengmeng's frown and said, "You are already so ugly and even uglier with that frown on."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and said, "Right, you are the expert at skincare, I'll listen to you."

Snake's two hands finally handed in Gu Mengmeng's. Holding onto her small fists, he felt like they were the power reserves pumping energy to him as he started to recall the memories that had been washed away by the flow of time and could no longer evoke any emotions in him. He said, "The key to open the gate of transmigration is the relative of someone of the level of Beast King. Nobody knew what agreements should be made with the Beast Deity, but one day after she woke up, she went to find my father beast in a cave who had just awoken from his hibernation, she suggested mating and... there was me."

Gu Mengmeng was feeling a little out of context, she suddenly thought of Sun Li in 'Legend of Miyue' where she held her stomach and said to the courtiers, "The late king had appeared in my dream, where we mated and I woke up pregnant! Hahaha..."

Snake did not know about Gu Mengmeng's thoughts and continued, "Her other partners loved her, were afraid of her, doted on her, but my father was different. Maybe it was a snake's nature, his love was selfish and possessive, there were no 'sacrifice' or 'fulfillment' in a snake's dictionary. When he found out that she mates with him just to give birth to an offspring of the king of beasts, so that she could open the gate of transmigration and abandon him, he was furious. He dropped me into the bottom of a freezing lake, where I was asleep for years and did not know what happened after. But when I woke up and broke the shell of my egg, there was no more Messenger of the Beast Deity in this world. The memory I inherited stopped at the moment my father dropped me into the lake."

Gu Mengmeng patted on Snake's shoulder lightly and said, "At least you survived, that's good enough."

Snake sniggered, he asked with despair in his eyes, "Do you really feel that living for eternity and unable to die is a good thing?"

Gu Mengmeng could not answer this question.

She remembered once seeing a quote from a book, "A thousand year life bears a thousand year of loneliness."

The start of his life was a game of plots and manipulation, he was more unfortunate than her. At least, before her father cheated, Gu Mengmeng had a few years of love from her parents.

Snake looked up and seemed to have thought of an interesting thing, he asked, "Is there a king of the beasts in your sons?"

Gu Mengmeng froze for a moment and answered, "No!"

Snake hooked onto Gu Mengmeng's neck lightly, squinted his eyes and asked, "Do you want to bear one? I am pure-blooded, I have powerful genes and the most important of all... I have memories passed down from generations, where I inherited all the prior mating experiences from my ancestors."

Chapter 556 - Snake King, Shall We Exchange Wechat Contacts?

Gu Mengmeng's smile froze for a period of time.

Indeed, there would always be someone confessing to her, trying to get her favor or raising the suggestion of mating after she came to the Beast World.

She also could see the fanaticism, persistence, adoration and some desire to possess in those males' eyes.

But Snake was a special case, his eyes were mysterious but clear, and it was not an ignorant kind of clearness. Instead, it was one that had settled down after experiencing many vicissitudes of life and rising from the ashes.

Gu Mengmeng asked herself, even if she started cultivating 'The 10086 Ways To Seduce A Snake Demon' ever since she was in her Mother's womb, with her 20 year long skills, she would still not be able to act out any story from 'Strange Tales From A Chinese Studio' in front of Snake that thousand-year old demon. Snake was very interested in her but it should just be a curiosity towards his Mother. If she was in his shoes, she would also want to know what exactly was so good in that world that her Mother was so crazily insistent in returning back without any regrets in abandoning her many partners who had handed their lives to her. She even wanted to use her own blood as a key to open the door of transmigration.

And this kind of curiosity did not equal to adoration.

Snake's rivalry and obvious desire to possess against Elvis and the rest was probably his basic nature as a snake.

Selfish, greedy, that was it.

From another point of view, if you were to adopt a stray dog one day and that dog was actually quite adorable. It swayed its tail in an adorably dumb way in front of you everyday, comforting your lonely soul and tasteless life. Then suddenly, one day, the original owner of the dog came to find you and claimed, “This dog is mine, return me.” If it were you, wouldn’t you feel uncomfortable too?

Of course, people from the modern world had basic family upbringing and etiquette mastery so if the original dog owner could provide enough evidence to prove that the dog is his, despite how unwilling one is, he would still return the dog back. At most, he could try to discuss, “Shall we exchange Wechat contacts? It will be easier for me to visit this clueless idiot...”

But Snake was different. According to what Elvis had said, in the Beast World, seizing by force was the correct principle. Back then, Elvis broke the beast horn that Auretin brought over to share a meal with just one hand. He openly snatched it over and gave it to Gu Mengmeng but he did not find any problems with it. Auretin, too, acted like it was a matter of course even though he was the one who got snatched from.

I can’t defeat you so I deserve to be snatched from

This was the principle everyone acknowledged in the Beast World.

Moving it to the current situation, the argument was exactly the same.

If Gu Mengmeng was that stray dog Snake picked up or maybe snatched and the original dog owner Elvis could not defeat him, Elvis could only stare at how that dog ‘treat the snake as its owner’. Moreover, he could not even try to discuss, “Snake King, shall we exchange Wechat contacts?” This was because Gu Mengmeng was the one who transmigrated over and not Pony Ma.

This metaphor made Gu Mengmeng’s face twitch, she detest herself thoroughly in her heart for comparing herself to a stray dog.

Her perception must have been influenced because this demon Snake held out his palm from time to time while calling her 'Twomeng' to train her behavior of 'shaking hands'. Gu Mengmeng twitched her lips and then glared at Snake with a disdainful look, growling, "Get lost."

Snake quietly stared at how Gu Mengmeng's expression changed numerous times like a trotting horse lamp after he raised a mating request and eventually gave a conclusion of 'get lost'.

He leaned his body forward in rich interest and asked, "After you mate with me, you would be standing on top of the food chain and it's a deal that would only allow you to win and not lose, why don't you want it?"

Gu Mengmeng gave a smile to get it over and done with before taking a deep breath, saying, “Thank you for considering so much for me then.”

Snake turned his hand lightly and grabbed onto Gu Mengmeng’s wrist while leaning his upper body forward. With his free hand, he easily clutched onto Gu Mengmeng’s other wrist. In a short second, his two hands were supporting themselves by each side of Gu Mengmeng, clutching onto both her hands at the same time, not giving her any chance to escape.

He encircled Gu Mengmeng’s entire being with his strong pressure and his jade green eyes had a type of deep emotion Gu Mengmeng could not decipher. There was a type of seduction and through the dissemination of the dangerous aura, it grabbed onto Gu Mengmeng tightly like an invisible hand.

“Let’s work together and give birth to a child with the blood of a Beast King to open the door of transmigration. Then.....you bring me over and return to your original world, alright?”

Gu Mengmeng’s body seemed like an acupuncture point was being pressed and she could not move a single inch. No matter how much her breathing was affected due to Snake’s pressure, she could not even step backwards to dodge him. All she could do was to force herself in looking straight into Snake’s eyes. Shaking her head with much difficulty, she said, “I promised Elvis and Lea that I won’t abandon them....won’t abandon them.....”

Snake squinted his eyes and seemed like he was in deep thoughts. “I heard that there’s something called law over in your world. A female is only allowed to mate with a male or else she would be caught and locked up?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded her head instinctively and replied with a word, “Yes.”

Snake’s face slowly inched towards Gu Mengmeng and he smiled an extremely evil smile, saying, “Since you can only have a partner, why don’t you choose the strongest one? I can accompany you to transmigrate back and become your only lawful partner. With my abilities, no matter which world I’m in, I’ll always be a king, that way....nobody can bully you anymore, isn’t that good?”

Gu Mengmeng did not avoid Snake’s eyes as she just quietly looked at him and then slowly opened her mouth to speak after a long time, “You just want to see what exactly does the world, that your Mother could not bear to let go, looks like with your own eyes, right?”

The corners of Snake’s eyes curved upwards and he had an ambiguous and unclear smile on his face.

Tilting his head, he asked, “If I said yes, will you satisfy me?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and replied, “I won’t use my own children as a price to open that door of transmigration.”

Snake sniggered and flipped his body to sit back in his original seat with his right hand still holding onto Gu Mengmeng’s wrist. His gaze was, however, calm and tranquil as he looked faraway and said, “As compared to you, she was calmer, more rational and more cold-blooded. No wonder my Father Beast fell in love with her back then, she’s indeed the female who’s most suited to be a tribesman from the Snake tribe....”

Snake turned around and scrutinized Gu Mengmeng, smiling. “Both of you are clearly from the same world but you and her.....are so different.”

Gu Mengmeng shrugged her shoulders and said, “I’m so sorry for not being a fit to the standards of your family marriage.”

Snake pinched Gu Mengmeng’s little face and said, “To me, family has no meaning....”

Gu Mengmeng's heart skipped a beat, she still could not learn how to think through her words first before opening her mouth. She always said words that would hurt someone unknowingly.

If she said she was sorry, it would probably have made the atmosphere more awkward.

Gu Mengmeng dusted her butt before standing up and turned around to look at Snake who was still sitting at his original spot, holding onto her hand. "I'm hungry, accompany me to pluck some fruit to eat."

Snake's lips curved upwards and he nodded his head with a gentle gaze. Then, he stood up in a cool posture that went against the mechanics of a human body and carried Gu Mengmeng in his arms with one hand before leaving the cave.

Chapter 558 - I've Hands But I'm Busy

There was someone sitting outside the cave. Gu Mengmeng's gaze swept past him and found him a little familiar but she could not recall who he was.

Snake, on the other hand, completely ignored the person and directly walked by him, not even looking at him with the corners of his eyes.

When that person saw Snake and Gu Mengmeng leaving together, he stood up and followed them.

Snake did not reduce his speed but instead, walked faster and faster, clearly trying to shake that person off.

That person was neither angry nor flustered as he just followed them until Snake stopped under a big tree. While Snake was looking up at the red fruits on the tree branch, that person stood beside Snake and looked up at the tree as well. After staring at it for half a day, he asked in confusion, "What are you looking at?"

Snake ignored him and turned to ask Gu Mengmeng, "Do you want to eat this?"

Gu Mengmeng clamped her lips and looking at the fruit which was radiating a seductive glow, she nodded her head.

Snake then turned to the person behind him and ordered coldly, "Go up and pluck the fruit for me."

That person was dumbfounded and frowned, retorting back, "Don't you have hands?"

Snake was supporting Gu Mengmeng's butt with one hand and protecting her waist with his other hand. Tossing Gu Mengmeng up slightly, he condemned justly and severely, "I've hands but I'm busy so you go."

That person felt the pain from their public display of affection while being caught off guard and after holding it in for half a day, he said harshly, "Alright."

Lifting his leg up, he aimed properly and gave the fruit tree a kick.

If there was no accident, that fruit tree would give off a cracking wail and then his mission was complete.

But the accident occurred....

Before he could kick that fruit tree, Snake lifted his leg up and kicked him away first...

The person held onto his chest and glared at Snake, asking, "What's wrong again?"

Snake gave a cold expression and explained, "Twomeng likes trees so you can't kick it."

The person pointed at Snake and clenched his teeth for half a day before managing to squeeze out a word, "You.....!"

Snake had no expression on his face as he walked to the person, kicking him again. "Are you dead yet? If you're not, go and pluck the fruit, Twomeng is hungry."

The person felt extremely wronged but he had no other choice and could only walk to the tree while evolving into his half-orc form. When he was ready to slide up the tree, Snake stepped onto his tail. The strength he used was not little so it made the person utter a heartrending cry. He turned back and glared at Snake furiously, "What's wrong again?!"

Snake was still having a cold expression as he replied, "Twomeng hates shit, snakes and snakes that look like shit Your original form....is the combination of all three. Maintain your human form and climb up, don't expose any disgusting sides that will make Twomeng gross out or else it will affect her appetite."

The person was so angry till his entire face turned green. He pointed at Snake then at Gu Mengmeng and back at Snake again, "I'm not doing it anymore, if your female wants to eat the fruit, you climb up and pluck it yourself."

The corners of Snake's lips curved upwards and he said, "It's rare to hear a nice sentence from you. Since you're so good at speaking, I decide to lend you some help."

"Huh?" The person did not react in time and did not know that his heartless 'your female' managed to gain Snake's delight. Amidst all the confusion, he just felt his butt hurt and the next second, he flew up....

Yes, he flew up!

Snake used a wonderful arc to kick the person up that tree. Glancing at the person who was shouting hysterically at him while hanging on the tree branch like a broken doll, Snake gave off a 'I don't need a thank you' smile and said, "Hurry and pluck the fruit, if you dare to let Twomeng go hungry, I'll kill you."

The person on the tree was fuming mad and he pulled off a fruit harshly before throwing it at Snake. Snake caught it steadily but frowned, saying, “I want the biggest one on top.”

The person waved both his hands and legs, appearing quite comical. He really resembled a character in the comic who was tortured by someone.

Gu Mengmeng pitied that innocent person and cupped the fruit which was almost as big as her own face, saying, “There’s no need to trouble him, this is good enough.”

Snake cast his glance towards Gu Mengmeng and asked with a gentle tone, “You like it?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and replied sweetly, “Yeah.”

Snake smiled in satisfaction before turning around to leave while carrying Gu Mengmeng.

Before they left, he peered at the person on the tree coldly and said, “If my fruit tree is damaged in any way, I’ll throw you out of the Snake King Valley.”

Snake walked very fast so Gu Mengmeng could not hear what that person shouted.

“That....is it alright to throw him there like that?” The person evolved before and although it was for a short period of time, Gu Mengmeng recognized that he was Wabei who was tortured completely after coming to find Snake for a battle the previous day. The last time she saw him, he was quite seriously injured and looked like he was about to turn into snake soup and this time, he was being hung on a tree....

Snake frowned and asked, “You’re worried?”

Gu Mengmeng clamped her lips and said, “I just saw how both of you are in a good relationship so aren’t you afraid that he’ll be angry and ignore you in the future from the way you treat him?”

Snake sniggered and ruffled Gu Mengmeng’s head. “If you can accompany me in the future, he’s won’t be important anymore....”

Gu Mengmeng was perplexed and felt that she was a new pet replacing the position of an old pet to get the owner’s favor.

That...when would the next pet arrive to replace ‘Twomeng’?

“How long have you two known each other?” Gu Mengmeng calculated the time in her heart that she probably needed to take the post.

Snake paused his steps and seemed like he was seriously recalling. After thinking for quite some time, he said, “I forgot...”

For...forgot?

Isn’t it just one year to two years?

Gu Mengmeng face-palmed and said, “After all, he was once important to you, at least mind your old feelings, alright? I feel that the lump of shit looks quite fun and he’s at least better than me in sustaining falls and hits, he should be the level of Nokia. Do you want to reconsider...”

Snake’s expression grew cold and a tint of anger could be seen in his dark green pupils. He asked, “You want him?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her hands and denied, “No no, I hate shit, snakes and snakes that look like shit, you know that.”

Snake nodded and kept his unhappy expression, saying, “If you want to play....you can play me. I’m also good at sustaining falls and hits, I should be more interesting than him.”

As he said, he lightly hooked Gu Mengmeng’s chin and pulled her face towards his, questioning, “And moreover, don’t you think my face is so much better-looking than his?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded in agreement to suck up to him and said, “Better-looking, better-looking, you’re the best-looking snake in the world.”

Snake smirked and grinned from ear to ear, probing further, “As compared to the wolf on your collar-bone, who’s better-looking?”

Gu Mengmeng kept her mouth closed and did not want to talk.

If she told the truth, this fellow would definitely rage out of control but if she lied, she would be going against her will.

Snake’s smile froze into a dark one and he said slowly, “Love is blind, beauty is in the eye of the beholder? Then if I eat him, can I replace him as the best-looking one in your heart?”

Chapter 560 - If You Don't Have Such Strong Tastes, We Can Still Be Friends.

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Gu Mengmeng shuddered and she shook her body to get rid of the goosebumps. "If you don't have such strong tastes, we can still be friends."

Snake's expression was cool as he made no comment.

Was eating a wolf considered having strong tastes? Didn't he normally eat those kinds of four-legged animals? Was there a difference?

Snake's palm was very big and cooling.

When his fingernails touched Gu Mengmeng's smooth face, there was a strange touch, as if an electric current flowed down his blood vessels from his fingernail to where his heart was and every touch gave off a numb feeling.

It was strange but not annoying.

Under his palm, her face appeared very small. He caressed her face and felt a soft touch under his fingers, a touch that made one's mind explode.

However, Gu Mengmeng stretched her hand out to sweep Snake's hand away, chiding, "The way you look at me is so strange, just like an indecent middle-aged uncle...oh, no, like an indecent thousand-year old demon."

Snake chuckled and grabbed onto Gu Mengmeng's hand, placing it onto his own face. He asked, "Did you see such a good-looking thousand-year old demon before?"

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and said, “This is the first time I’ve seen a thousand-year old living thing, there’s no comparison available.”

Snake lightly poked Gu Mengmeng’s little head and said, “Cherish it, you probably can’t find a second thousand-year old demon in this world.”

Snake carried Gu Mengmeng to a waterfall. That was the place where he brought her to wash her stomach when she was poisoned from his violence.

Snake placed Gu Mengmeng down and took over the red fruit from her hands. After washing it in the pool of water beside the waterfall, he gave it back to Gu Mengmeng and said, “Eat it.”

Gu Mengmeng did not stand on ceremony anymore as she took the fruit and started munching it in big bites. The gaze Snake gave her while she was eating was extremely gentle.

He always found it strange, why did the food appear exceptionally delicious whenever she ate?

He ate those fruits on the tree before too. Although he could not remember how long ago it was, he definitely ate them before.

Because in those endless and boring years of his life, he once tried to eat some weird food to poison himself and end his monotonous life.

But what a pity, there was nothing more poisonous than his venom in this world.

If he did not have any recollection about the taste, there should not be anything special about it.

However...

Snake walked forward and bit onto Gu Mengmeng’s apple. Upon seeing her widening her eyes in shock, Snake raised his brow and took a munch with a refreshing crunch before chewing it properly.

Juicy and sweet with a tint of crisp but it was not as good as nibbling on a beast bone.

But, it was pretty delicious.

Why didn't he notice it earlier?

Gu Mengmeng put the fruit down blankly staring at the fruit which he ate half from, she complained, "There's clearly so many of it on that tree, why didn't you ask that lump of shit to pluck one more for you if you wanted to eat it?"

Snake smiled in utter boredom and replied as a matter of course, "The one in your hands look more delicious. Mm....the one in your mouth look much more delicious but what a pity, I have extreme poison on my teeth, if you touch it, you'll probably lose your life so I can only put myself in great inconvenience and take up the second-best alternative to eat the one in your hands."

Gu Mengmeng turned her fruit and noticed that that part where Snake ate from indeed turned black.

Her face fell as she asked, "Can I still eat this fruit?"

Snake shook his head honestly and said, "I don't think so.....so, feed me."

Chapter 561 - Are You Thinking Of Your Wild Men?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Gu Mengmeng sighed and did not have other solutions so she could only break the fruit into pieces and feed Snake one by one.

Snake ate them with great appetite and looked like he was in a pretty good mood.

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips and tested him out, “Snake...”

“Yes?” This was the first time Gu Mengmeng took the initiative to call his name and this was also the first time he felt his name sounds nice.

Gu Mengmeng fiddled with her fingers and asked softly, “You agreed to help me save my sons....but why hadn’t I seen them?”

Snake’s face turned cold and he looked at Gu Mengmeng with the corners of his eyes, questioning, “Are you thinking of your wild men?”

Gu Mengmeng sighed and said, “How many times must I tell you? Those are my sons, my flesh and blood, they’re not wild men.”

Snake was unhappy as he frowned and said, “I said before that besides me, all males around you are wild men. If you dare to retort, I’ll eat them up.”

Gu Mengmeng was at wit ends too and she could only hold back her explanation forcefully. Seeing how Snake gave her sons the title of ‘wild men’ stubbornly, she said helplessly, “Then where exactly are they? How are they now?”

Snake’s face was cold but he could not accept the worry in Gu Mengmeng’s eyes. He slowly spat a sentence out, “As long as I’m present, she wouldn’t dare to carelessly make her move.”

Gu Mengmeng asked, “Who?”

Snake asked back, “Do you not know who kidnapped your sons?”

Gu Mengmeng remained silent for a while, “Cole...Ellie?”

Snake thought over it for a moment and commented, “Oh, so she’s called Ellie.”

Gu Mengmeng questioned him, “You don’t even know her name and you dare to confirm she’ll listen to you and not hurt my sons?”

Snake gave a light smile and said with his higher authority’s confidence and calmness, “She’s a snake beast while I’m the Snake King. In this world, no snake has the courage to go against my orders. Submission....is a nature in their bones.”

Gu Mengmeng took two steps forward timidly and tugged onto Snake’s arm, saying, “Then....ask her to return my sons to me.”

Snake sniggered and said, “Do you really think your wild men are safer by my side as compared to Ellie’s?”

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback as she suddenly recalled how Snake cruelly beat Elvis up previously.

Elvis was at least a fifth-level orc too but he could not even stand a fight in front of Snake. If that tail was whacked on the bodies of Hede and the rest, Gu Mengmeng would not suspect even the slightest bit that the fillings of those four buns would ‘drip out’ on the spot.

Snake ruffled Gu Mengmeng’s head and said, “Not mentioning them in front of me is the best way to protect them. If I catch you worrying for them again....I’ll eat them up to spare all the trouble later.”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and waved her hands, saying, “No no no, I’m not worried, not worried at all...”

Snake raised his brow and ordered, "Smile."

"Ha....ha ha...." Gu Mengmeng grinned, helplessness written all over her face.

Snake turned his head away and said, "How ugly."

Gu Mengmeng sighed helplessly and thought to herself, "If I'm so ugly, why don't you return my sons and husband to me, I can ensure that I'll leave the Snake King Valley in a mellow manner immediately and never pollute your eyes again."

But what a pity, Gu Coward only dared to think about it in her heart and did not have the nerve to say her thoughts out loud.

Snake stood there quietly with his head turned aside for such a long time that Gu Mengmeng almost believed that he was a statue. Rubbing her eyes, she rotated her neck around to warm it up.

"Why are you turning your head?" Snake straightened his neck awkwardly but the gaze from the corners of his eyes was still fixated on Gu Mengmeng's face.

Chapter 562 - Even If It's Ugly, You Still Have To Look At Me.

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

“Huh?” Gu Mengmeng’s brain suddenly stopped working and she did not catch Snake’s words.

Snake was impatient as he frowned and said coldly, “Why are you not looking at me?”

Gu Mengmeng blinked her eyes and said, “Hmm....my neck is sore so I’m changing a position to warm it up.”

Snake said, “When you’re warming up your neck, your eyes should be looking at me.”

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback as she imagined her gaze fixed on a certain point while she turned her neck....why did it resemble a possessed Prime Minister?

Upon seeing how Gu Mengmeng burst out into laughter, the little unhappiness in Snake’s heart vanished. He turned his head back to look at Gu Mengmeng and asked, “What are you laughing at?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her hands and said, “Look....”

As she said, she acted out the action she imagined before breaking out into laughter again.

Snake stared at Gu Mengmeng joking around and said with a tint of warmth and tenderness in his jade green but cold eyes, “How ugly.”

Snake pulled Gu Mengmeng in for a hug and said, “Even if it’s ugly, you still have to look at me.”

“Huh?” Gu Mengmeng was dumbfounded, what the hell was this distorted persistence, Gu Mengmeng deliberately went against Snake and turned her head away, saying, “I have to look at the ground when I’m walking and look at my food when I’m eating, how can I always look at you?”

Snake raised his head and said, “I’ll hug you when we’re walking and I’ll feed you when we’re eating, just use your eyes.....to look at me.”

Gu Mengmeng questioned, “Why?”

Snake replied, “Just now.....you were the one who stared at me first.”

Gu Mengmeng thought for a moment and said, “Yeah, I’ve to look at you when I’m talking to you.”

Snake asked, “Then why did you not look at me anymore after a while?”

Gu Mengmeng was speechless, “....” What was after a while? You kept acting as a statue over there until my neck was turning sore.....

Snake said in a commanding tone, “I allow you to look at me but you’re not allowed to not look at me after a while.” He still thought that she appeared lost in thoughts because the back of his neck was extremely attractive so that was why he maintained that position, not moving a single inch at all. However, that girl actually did not want to look at him after a while? Aggrieved, he felt too aggrieved, the Snake King could not accept this.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head helplessly, sometimes.....there’s really a generation gap between people with a big age gap, especially between those who had a thousand years age gap.....that’s a wide gap nobody could overcome, do you understand wide gap nobody could overcome?!

“Snake, stand there and explain things clearly.” That lump of shit....Wabei finally came down from the tree and caught up to them.

He darted to Snake and pointed at him, asking, “What did you say you’ll do if she goes hungry? What are you going to do to me?”

Snake was unhappy, he did not like people disrupting his and Gu Mengmeng’s interaction. He ignored Wabei and directly left the place while carrying Gu Mengmeng.

Wabei walked in front of him once again and said with arms akimbo, “You want to throw me out of the Snake King Valley right? Here, let’s have a good battle today and see who should be the one getting thrown out of the Snake King Valley.”

Snake looked at Gu Mengmeng and hesitated for a moment but still opened his mouth to ask, “She won’t be affected by the beast pressure, what about you?”

Gu Mengmeng did not quite understand the situation and could only answer on instincts, I can’t feel the beast pressure either.”

Snake looked like he was at ease as he pressed the back of Gu Mengmeng’s head and turned her little face against his shoulder before whispering deeply, “You’ve got to tell me if you don’t feel comfortable.”

“Huh?” Before Gu Mengmeng had the chance to react, the scene in front of her doubled and then that lump of shit.....suddenly lied on the ground in his original form, not moving at all.

Chapter 563 - The New Saintess Of The Snake King Valley

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

“Urgh.....” Gu Mengmeng could not help but give out a soft whimper.

And then, the whole world became very quiet.

Even the wind did not dare to blow the leaves for fear of sound.

Frowning, he felt his chest being stuffy. He looked at the lump of shit and felt him looking more like an eyesore so he said unhappily, “I thought you can’t feel the beast pressure?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head helplessly and said, “Were you emitting your beast pressure? I thought you were going to wipe out the entire world.”

Snake was brought to laughter by Gu Mengmeng’s words as he glanced at Wabei who laid unconscious on the ground. After that, he ignored him and directly left.

“He....” Gu Mengmeng was pretty worried.

Snake stopped and looked at Gu Mengmeng seriously, asking her, “Do you want to eat snakes?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and rejected, “No no....”

Snake was feeling quite regretful as he turned back to cast a glance on Wabei and said, “He’s at the peak of fifth-level, it should be quite nourishing to eat him.”

Gu Mengmeng gave a sheepish smile and explained, “I have a weak body, I can’t handle this kind of big nourishment.”

Snake made no comment as he nodded, bringing Gu Mengmeng back into the cave.

The next few days were considered peaceful. Wabei seemed like he had quite a severe impact so he did not come to seek a beating at Snake’s cave for the next few days.

The food Lea made would be sent over to Snake’s cave everyday by a little snake and every day, the dishes would change and all of them were very delicate.

Gu Mengmeng knew that Lea was informing her that Elvis and him were both doing well and she need not worry.

And her little wolves.....how were they now? Snake said that Ellie did not dare to defy the Snake King’s orders as this was an innate nature fused in the blood of the tribesmen. She did not know whether he was speaking the truth but she did not dare to pester him and probe any further. All she could do was to convince herself that Snake would not deceive her.

Approximately half a month later, Gu Mengmeng originally thought that Snake would get fed up and release her to let her take the little wolves away together with Elvis and the rest but this fellow was getting more and more clingy.

When she was sleeping, he was staring at her while sitting nearby.

When she was eating, he was staring at her while sitting nearby.

And even when she was excreting.....he would be staring at her while sitting nearby.

Sometimes, out of extreme boredom, Gu Mengmeng would take little stones and play with them, throwing one out and using another to hit the one which was thrown out. No matter whether she hit it or not, she would still run over to pick them up and throw them once more.

Snake was also looking at her playing that kind of boring game and was even very fond of it.

Wabei who had lived once again was the one who spoiled the repetitive lifestyle of Snake observing Gu Mengmeng's life like a projection VR.

This time, he did not challenge Snake.

Gu Mengmeng pointed at her own nose while looking at Wabei, asking, “Saintess? Me?”

Wabei nodded his head and said, “I've heard you replaced Ellie and became the most honorable female in the Snake King Valley?”

Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Snake awkwardly and asked, “Is it? Why haven't I heard of this before?”

Snake stepped forward and pulled Gu Mengmeng in for an embrace. With a dark and unpredictable gaze, he said, “My female is definitely the most honorable. Not only in the Snake King Valley, in the entire Beast world, there won't be any females more honorable than you.”

Gu Mengmeng sighed and said, “Mighty King, can you stop joking around? With that age of yours, let alone being my grandfather, you're definitely old enough to be my ancestor. I don't dare to claim ties of kinship with someone of a higher social position....”

Snake raised his brow and coldly said, “You're.....despising me for being old?”

Chapter 564 - What Kind Of Wrath? Ripping Open My Body To Get My Gallbladder?

Gu Mengmeng tucked her neck and did not dare to spit out a sentence of ‘you’re so clever’. Laughing awkwardly, she said, “I’m not even someone from the snake tribe, it’s not good giving me the title of Saintess right?”

Snake raised his brow and said, “How is my female not from the snake tribe?”

Gu Mengmeng’s face fell and she said, “Mighty King, you should have some sense of propriety even when you’re joking. I’m a woman with a husband, you’ll receive a wrath by teasing me like that.”

Snake chuckled and said, “What kind of wrath? Is it being struck by lightning or being inflamed by the holy fire? Or else...ripping open by body to get my gallbladder?”

Gu Mengmeng’s lips twitched and she gave a ‘huh’ in detest.

She thought to herself, “I had always been waiting for you to release me from the Snake King Valley as an old maid when you proclaim a general amnesty, how can I still leave when I become a Saintess? No way no way, I’m not even a fool.”

Wabei stepped forward and stretched out his arm to place it onto Gu Mengmeng’s shoulder. Smiling, he said, “I’m not only younger than him entirely by two hundred years, it’s hard to say whether my skills will improve greatly after cultivating with you the Saintess although my skills are not on par with him now. At that time, I’ll replace him as the Snake

King and ensure the longevity of your position as a Saintess for many ages to come. How about that?

Gu Mengmeng was grossed out as she widened her eyes at that lump of soil with detest written all over her face.

Snake's face darkened to the darkest shade as he really wanted to kill him to death with his beast pressure but upon recalling how her face turned pale previously, Snake held it all in and only extended his hand to grab onto Wabei's wrist. Using an angle that went against the mechanics of a human body, Snake twisted Wabei's arm to his back and warned with an icy cold tone, "I told you before, Twomeng hates snakes, hates shit and hates snakes that look like shit. How dare you still touch her using your dirty hands.....what would you do if you hurt her? Huh?!"

Although Wabei was a snake, his skeletal distribution was around the same level as a human when he was in his human form so he could still feel the pain when Snake hurt him like that.

However, with his ability to resist after battling eight hundred years with Snake, that level of pain was just them joking around.

Thus, he did not quite take it to mind although he was still rambling on, "Sigh, wasn't the Saintess of the Snake King Valley picking strong males from the Valley to aid in their breakthrough of third-level? Why can't I touch Twomeng?"

The vein on Snake's forehead was about to burst and his temples were twitching non-stop. His pupils became darker at a speed a naked eye could catch and his green eyes looked like it encompassed a deadly venom that would cost you your life with just your one glance.

"Twomeng is my unique title, you're worthy enough to call her that too?" As Snake said, he threw Wabei's arm away and instead, clench his jaw to force open his mouth. The next moment, he stretched his hand out, attempting to rip his tongue.

Wabei was a snake and had the instincts of a snake. After battling with Snake for entirely eight hundred years, Wabei probably knew better than Snake himself regarding when he was just passing time and when he was truly filled with rage and murderous intentions..

He was aware that Snake was really angry now and if he did not use his abilities fully, he would most probably die in Snake's hands.

Thus, he evolved into a python suddenly and made use of his body changes to escape from Snake's grip. Then, he started attacking Snake at the speed of lightning to gain the upper hand.

Snake sniggered while Gu Mengmeng could see wind blowing around him naturally, his hair waving lightly, just like the entrance scene of the top level of a Wulin league.

Taking two steps back, Gu Mengmeng contemplated whether she should run away first. What if she was accidentally injured later on, it was not a matter that could be easily solved just by going to the ICU.

Chapter 565 - Terrified Until Her Period Came

Gu Mengmeng secretly took a step back and then a step.....then.....

Snake noticed her.

Snake threw his hands and threw Wabei out to a faraway place. As he dashed towards Gu Mengmeng, he evolved back into human form and became that perfect and flawless Snake when he arrived in front of her. There was still light in his jade green eyes and clearly, his anger had not subsided fully yet. He wrapped his arm around Gu Mengmeng's waist but did not grab onto her wrist because he knew that he was unable to control his hand strength with precise calculation after just experiencing a battle.

Although, the look of her with a broken arm was probably very beautiful too, the process would be a little painful.

He did not like her being in pain, did not like her being injured, did not like her frowning and upset and did not like her not thinking about him when she was in deep thoughts.

“Where are you going?”

He especially did not like how she always gave off the idea of wanting to leave from his side.

Was she the same as that woman? She wanted to return back to that world with all her might while Gu Mengmeng wanted to return to her partner and kids with all her might.

Why couldn't their destinations be by his side?

The dangerous aura Snake emitted was too strong and upon seeing Wabei who almost became a cripple after being beaten up by him, who would still dare to defy him?

Gu Mengmeng gave a cowardly smile and said, "I saw how you two were so into learning from each other so I decided to give both of you some space."

"Oh?" Snake gave a cold laugh and questioned, "How much 'space' did you decide to give us?"

Gu Mengmeng kept her mouth shut and did not say a word. She did not have the courage to reply 'as much space as possible'.

Snake turned his head down in a 45-degree position and with a dark and unpredictable gaze, he looked at Wabei who even had difficulty moving an inch, comforting, "Don't worry, as long as I'm here.....nobody can hurt you and nobody can touch you too."

"Yes....yes yes yes." Gu Mengmeng put on a smile as she could not help but break out into cold sweat upon seeing how Wabei wanted to die but could not.

When someone was nervous, her stomach would start hurting.

And that twisting agony prevented Gu Mengmeng from standing up straight.

F, she's really becoming more like a coward.

She just witnessed others fighting and was already so terrified at the beginning.....

Gu Mengmeng dissed herself internally as she shook her head helplessly but.....

Hiss...

Why did this scene look so familiar?

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head and was instantly dumbfounded.

Her face turned pale white first then started reddening like a tomato, matching the color that flowed down her legs perfectly.

Great Aunt, you're really my blood-related great aunt. No matter where I am, your care and concern has always been.....hmm, hard to ignore.

Snake only felt that there was something stirring restlessly in his body. As he inched closer, Gu Mengmeng became more obvious. The blood between her legs dripped down like a waterfall and that blood-red color instantly pierced his eyes.

Damn it!

Did he injure her accidentally when he was battling with Wabei just now? He was clearly strictly on his guard and did not allow Wabei to step closer to her.

Or was it himself? He was so focused on the battle and accidentally touched her.....?

Snake's face turned as white as a sheet and he stepped forward to lift Gu Mengmeng's dress up. Gu Mengmeng was shocked as she held down the ends of her dress with both her hands and cried out, "Hey, what are you doing?"

"Checking your wound." Snake frowned while answering her.

Gu Mengmeng's face turned red and she stuttered while protecting her little dress with all her might, "That.....that.....that.....I'm fine, I really don't have any injuries.....hey, don't lift my skirt up.....you'll receive a wrath for teasing a woman who has a husband!"

Snake clenched his teeth and coldly said, "I'm not afraid."

Gu Mengmeng protected herself with both her hands and pleaded, “I’m not injured, really not....just help me call Lea over, really.”

Chapter 566 - When Would You Think Of Me?

“Ha.” Snake sniggered, then directly carried Gu Mengmeng up horizontally, ignoring her resistance. He walked away with speedy steps and did not look at Gu Mengmeng again as he just said coldly, “When you’re sad, you find Elvis and when you’re injured, you find Lea....when would you think of me?”

Gu Mengmeng was completely dumbfounded, after she gave birth, she had always been breastfeeding so her period had never come.

After that, although solid food was added to the kids’ diets, they did not really stop drinking milk so she always squeezed some breast milk and feed her kids once everyday to nourish their bodies.

It was only until the beauty pageant when the little wolves truly stopped drinking milk. The reason was probably because that period of time was too busy and chaotic so her menstruation cycle was all messed up and thus, her Great Aunt did not visit her for quite a long time.

She almost forgot about this matter when it entered so gloriously today.

However...

She was just having her period, why was Snake so pissed off until he looked like he was being cuckolded?

Gu Mengmeng did not have time to understand what was going on when Snake brought her back into the cave. There was a beast skin laid on the ground which Snake gently placed her on.

His pupils were stuck in an erected state and there only a line so she could not see how angry he was.

Gu Mengmeng could not get what exactly was Snake angry about? Because her period came so she wanted to see Lea or was it because Wabei's challenge today made him lose his temper?

Wabei was always in a state where he would challenge Snake as long as he could move and in his eight hundred years of life, he had never stopped before. Gu Mengmeng felt that the possibility was not big for him to come up with new tricks to anger Snake.

Because she wanted to see Lea?

Was there a need to be this angry?

“That....” Gu Mengmeng broke the silence in utmost cautiousness.

Snake turned back and his sharp gaze made Gu Mengmeng tuck her neck in terror. Then, he turned his head away and felt his chest being set ablaze out of feeling wronged. However, his tone became a lot more gentler as he said, “When the flow of your blood lessens later, I'll feed some of mine to you for nourishment.”

Gu Mengmeng's smile froze as she said, “Mighty King, did you elderly forgot that your blood has a deadly venom and does not have the effect of Wuji Baifeng Wan?”

Snake looked at her with the corners of his eyes, his pupils becoming thicker than before.

Or perhaps...

He was not that angry anymore?

“Your body has antibodies and I can also help you detoxify. It would only help nourish you and it won't be fatal.” Snake added, “Do you know that the Beast King's blood is something most people wish to get but can't get?”

Gu Mengmeng looked at Snake's ‘this servant, are you still not going to thank the emperor’ expression and felt it impossible to be expressed in a few words. After contemplating for a moment, she replied, “It’s just my Great Aunt.....I don’t think.....I need to nourish that much, right?”

“Great Aunt?” Snake frowned and then, his face suddenly froze as he recalled a similar scene in the deepest parts of his memory where his Mother Beast went through estrus.

Awkward.....

Gu Mengmeng could almost see crows flying past the top of Snake’s head.

Snake cleared his throat and said, “Females going through estrus is also an important matter. You have.....have to nourish too.”

After he finished speaking, he stood up in a jiffy and stomped two steps on the spot before walking back to peer at Gu Mengmeng in a condescending manner. He said sternly, “Are you so anxious to mate so you wanted to find Lea once you went through estrus?”

Gu Mengmeng facepalmed and explained, “Lea knows how to make period pads.....I need period pads....”

Snake was taken aback and did not say anything else as he turned his head around and walked out.

She can’t blame him, really can’t.

He was just flustered upon seeing her bleed so he did not link it to the matter of going through estrus. He was just....too concerned for her....

Chapter 567 - Weep Weep Weep, Mengmeng, I'm So Scared

Snake raised his head and gave the colorful snakes guarding by the entrance a look. Instantly, several little snakes slithered out of the cave.

Not long later, Lea was brought to the cave, holding a big pot in his hands. From far away, Gu Mengmeng could smell the ginger.

Lea's state completely did not look like he was being held captive at all. Instead, he was in a daily state of cooking a pot of soup in the cave and then carrying it out.

Snake knew that Gu Mengmeng was scared of the cold and was different from him. So, even though the fire made the inside of the cave very dry and he was very uncomfortable, he allowed the fire to light for 24 hours. So, after Lea entered the cave, he placed the pot on top of the fire pile with familiarity before saying, "Here, the only dish Elvis is good at, you didn't drink it after your month of confinement, right?"

Gu Mengmeng's felt a warm sensation in her heart. Even though it was only ginger pieces boiled in water, upon thinking how Elvis always expected perfect thickness of the ginger pieces strictly just to whip up the taste she complimented before until he almost reached the stage of blowing apart the hairs upon a fur to discover any defect, her heart was eventually warmed up.

"There's ginger inside?" Gu Mengmeng received the little bowl Lea gave her and tasted the soup lightly. Then, she sighed in satisfaction and said, "Ah~I'm alive again."

Lea smiled a gentle smile and lightly rubbed Gu Mengmeng's head. He then turned to look at Snake and asked, "Can I stay here to hunt?"

Snake frowned and rejected, "Didn't we provide the food for you guys? If you're not full, just go hungry. Settle Twomeng's situation first, she wants a pad, hurry and hand the pad over, don't force me to take action on you."

Lea tried to suppress his laughter as he looked at Gu Mengmeng with the corners of his eyes. Gu Mengmeng looked back at Lea with a 'I understand how speechless you are' expression which Lea returned with a 'you know me the best' look. Both of them did not say a word and just smiled at each other like that but they could still understand the words in each other's eyes.

Snake felt an unknown sense of irritation. This was why he did not allow Gu Mengmeng to meet Elvis and Lea.

There was always a strange atmosphere among the three of them, leaving him outside their circle.

Snake's expression turned cold as he said, "For Twomeng's sake, I don't want to kill you but there's a limit to my patience. Hurry and hand the pad over and then get lost."

Lea sighed. He was not the least scared of Snake and he smirked, saying, "The prey you sent over are always twisted badly. I can't even use the beast skins at all. I need fresh, clean and soft beast skins to make pads for Mengmeng so please allow me to hunt here."

Snake shook his hands impatiently and said, "Up to you. Hurry and get lost, I want to kill someone already."

Lea shrugged his shoulders helplessly and said, "If you want to make Mengmeng accept you, you have to get used to getting along well with me and Elvis. Mengmeng cares a lot for her family so if you always give off an impression of hurting her family, she'll never like you."

The vein on Snake's head suddenly twitched and his pupils formed a straight line.

Snake did not emit his beast pressure but under the level system, Lea still could not help but felt his whole body exploding and a chill down his spine.

Then.....

Lea turned around and ran, directly huddling into Gu Mengmeng's arms. He curled up behind Gu Mengmeng in his half-orc form, wrapping his fluffy large tail around her waist. Popping half his head out from beside her shoulder, he complained pitifully, "Weep weep weep, Mengmeng, I'm so scared~"

Chapter 568 - Mengmeng's Heart Is Leaning Towards Us

Snake paused and felt as if he was maligned by someone.

Seeing how Snake could not unleash his anger, Gu Mengmeng could not help but find it funny as she shook her head and sighed. "Lea has always been a coward, don't terrorize him."

As Gu Mengmeng said, she pulled Lea into her arms and lightly patted his back, adding, "You drama queen, stop faking it. Snake won't really do anything to you."

Lea was feeling very comfortable having his fur ruffled by Gu Mengmeng like that. He squinted his eyes and stared at Snake, his sly smile encompassing provocation and a proud taste. Seeing how fire was going to spew out of Snake's jade green eyes, his mood became exceptionally good.

Raising his head, he kissed Gu Mengmeng's little chin and then stood up to hug Gu Mengmeng in his arms gently.

Lea's embrace had always been gentle and warm. Gu Mengmeng hugged Lea back and then said, "Is your body still ok? Can you hunt?"

Gu Mengmeng knew that although Snake had no intention of getting Elvis's and Lea's lives, for safety's sake, he would still use his snake venom to weaken their bodies so that they would not be able to escape with Gu Mengmeng.

Lea raised his brow and lightly hooked Gu Mengmeng's chin, saying in a warm tone, "Am I that weak in your heart till I can't even tackle those wild beasts?"

Gu Mengmeng gave a smile to fawn over him as she denied, “No no, I’m just worried for you.”

Lea pinched Gu Mengmeng’s little nose and lightly shook it, saying, “You’re not allowed to worry carelessly, lie down properly and wait for me to return. Don’t move as you wish. If I come back later and see a slaughter scene here, I won’t let you off, do you understand?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and said, “Yes sir.”

Lea hugged Gu Mengmeng again before standing up to head outside. When he walked past Snake, he hung a radiant smile on his face and said, “In the future, you have to get along well with me and Elvis. Or else, you’ll be the one who suffers because Mengmeng’s heart is leaning towards us. Good luck~”

Snake tightened his fists and his body tensed up as he witnessed how Lea walked out of the cave while swaying his large tail with each step.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and comforted him, “Stop staring, he’s just like that. He doesn’t have any ill intentions.”

Snake turned his head back to look at Gu Mengmeng and asked, “He threatened you.”

Gu Mengmeng blinked and look at Snake with an ‘amnesia’ expression.

Snake stepped forward and continued, “He said he won’t let you off. Why aren’t you angry?”

Gu Mengmeng smiled sweetly and asked back, “Why should I be angry?”

Snake’s face turned cold as he replied, “Whenever I threatened you that I’ll eat them up, you will always be angry.”

Gu Mengmeng explained, “How’s that the same? What Lea meant when he said he won’t let me off is that before my period ends, he won’t let me touch the ground at all and just lay in bed for the entire seven days....ah, life’s hopeless, how am I different from a salted fish? But....I know that his punishment is carried out on the basis of cherishing me and protecting me. Both him and Elvis.....will never do things that make me sad.”

Snake frowned and asked, “If I really eat them up, will you be sad?”

Gu Mengmeng kept her smile and said seriously, “My family is my life, I’ll fight those who dare to touch my family with all my might.”

Snake recalled how Gu Mengmeng bit off a piece of flesh from his arm without caring for her life when all he wanted to do was to beat Elvis up previously. She even almost sacrificed her life. Sighing, he looked up and with some expectation, some sadness and some bewilderment, he asked with utmost cautiousness, “What about me? Can I become your family member?”

Chapter 569 - To Not Admit That One Has Received A Benefit Is The Most Disgusting Thing Ever

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and asked, “So, do you want to be my grandfather or my great-grandfather?”

Snake gave a cold expression as the atmosphere was instantly ruined to bits by Gu Mengmeng but he did not know why he was not angry. Instead, he felt that this girl who knew how to talk back to him and find faults in him appeared exceptionally comfortable even when she was being sarcastic to him.

Tsking, Snake spoke with a gentle tone which even he could not understand, “Are you using my age to discuss matters again?”

Gu Mengmeng did not deny either as she just smiled and replied, “I have no choice but to, you’re just too perfect in other areas so I only had to use this to attack you.”

Perfect...?

Snake’s eyes were fixed on Gu Mengmeng and there was a moment where he was out of sorts.

His life was so endless, dry and unbearable.

He did not know how he was like in others’ eyes because he felt that every person in this world was overly dull, boring and mediocre.

However, he himself knew how much he detests and hated himself and hope that.....he could disappear.

But what could he do? There was not a single person in this world who could kill him....

And amidst all this daily expectation towards death, the hatred he felt towards his life vanished slowly.

But she said.....he was perfect?

“What’s with that expression of yours?” Gu Mengmeng looked at him in despise and continued, “Don’t tell me that ‘oh, this is not the life I want’ because I’ll beat you up.”

Snake gave a light laugh and said, “You can’t defeat me.”

Gu Mengmeng raised her head and refuted in dissatisfaction, “Who said so? I’m the messenger of the Beast Deity.”

Snake learned from how Lea ruffled Gu Mengmeng’s hair and the corners of his mouth curved slightly upwards.

Yeah, the touch was indeed not bad.

Meeting eyes with her proud and clear large eyes, Snake said, “There’s two messengers of the Beast Deity but as for the Beast King....there’s only me.”

Gu Mengmeng smacked her lips and said, “Look, you’re showing off your perfect life again. Sigh, alright alright, mighty Beast King, you’re the most respectable~”

Snake looked as if he was insistent on teasing Gu Mengmeng as he turned his head and glanced at her, saying every word properly, “Oh, this is not the life I want.”

Gu Mengmeng swung her fist and punched Snake’s chest, saying with a smiley but angry expression, “Sigh, do you know how annoying you are?”

Snake smiled and asked, “Why?”

Gu Mengmeng asked him back, “Do you know what’s a celebrity?”

Snake nodded his head, in his memory, his Mother Beast mentioned it before his Father Beast and her other partners countless numbers of times.

Gu Mengmeng added, “In that world, there’s a type of people called the second generation of stars because their parents are celebrities so since they’re born, they received a lot of attention from others and enjoyed many types of benefits. After they enter the entertainment industry, their journeys are filled with no obstacles because of the complexity and entanglement of their connections and when they earn money that some people can’t even earn in their entire lifetimes, they would say ‘oh, this is not the life I want, I hope everyone remembers me because I worked hard and not because I’m XXX’s son or daughter’ with an expression that showed that they had no other choice while counting their cash. My foot, if it’s not for your famous Father or Mother, who do you think you are?! To not admit that one has received a benefit is the most disgusting thing ever.”

Snake did not quite understand, so he tilted his head to look at Gu Mengmeng, asking, “But I’m not a celebrity.”

Gu Mengmeng rolled her eyes and said, “That’s just a metaphor, what I mean is those kinds of people who possessed opportunities that are richly endowed by nature but still looked as if the heavens robbed away their right to work hard, how disgusting they are.”

Chapter 570 - Are You Still Not Going To Fawn Upon The Emperor

“Richly endowed by nature....?” Snake playfully pondered on the adjective Gu Mengmeng used.

Gu Mengmeng nodded and replied, “Of course. Do you know about it? Nobody dared to touch my hubby before we mated and after we mated, he instantly leveled up to fourth-level, yeah....fourth-level may be nothing in your eyes but it’s quite an awesome achievement outside, do you understand?”

Snake gave a disdainful smirk, fourth-level.....was really useless and could never be compared to him.

Gu Mengmeng rolled her eyes in despise at Snake before continuing, “When I was kept captive at Sauder by Cole, my hubby, a fourth-level beast led Lea, a third-level beast and the warriors from our tribe on a battle against Cole and his tribesmen. Sigh, Sauder has a total of three fifth-level orcs but didn’t my hubby still defeat them entirely in the end? And moreover, my hubby still levelled-up in the battle. Although he did not tell me anything, I’m aware of how difficult it is to level up. How many times had he almost died, how many times had he clenched his teeth and how many times had he climb out from a pile of corpses to be able to level-up?”

Snake sniggered and commented, “Not being able to tackle me just proves that he’s too weak.”

Gu Mengmeng hissed and glared at Snake in dissatisfaction.

Snake shrugged his shoulders and added, “He’s originally a weak one, let alone me, I bet he can’t even defeat Wabei.”

Gu Mengmeng twitched her lips and said, “That’s because you poisoned him.”

Snake did not find any problem at all as he answered honestly, “Not being able to resist against my poison still proves that he is incapable.”

Gu Mengmeng clenched her teeth as she truly wanted to bite Snake to death.

But upon thinking of the deadly venom all over his body, Gu Mengmeng held herself back. Smacking her lips, she continued, “I originally wanted to praise you but seeing how you need not receive a compliment from me, I’ll let it pass and not talk to you anymore or else I’ll just die of anger.”

Snake was taken aback as he cleared his throat and swept his gaze towards one side. With a guilty expression, he said, “The reason why he can’t defeat Wabei is because Wabei is too strong and not because he’s too weak....after all, Wabei is an opponent I personally guided for eight hundred years. If he went outside....nobody could ever defeat him.”

Guide....

When Gu Mengmeng heard this keyword, she could not help but vibrate out of shock as she oddly wanted to laugh and her eyes shimmered brightly.

“Arhwoo arhwoo arhwoo~!”

No wonder Wabei wanted Snake to give him an explanation upon seeing her.

Oh my~it makes one a little excited thinking about it~

The scene.....hmm.....was probably.....shit that tasted like matcha?

Gu Mengmeng;s lips twitched as her interest instantly came to an end and she could not continue her imagination any further.

“So....” Snake used the corners of his eyes to look at Gu Mengmeng with the ten words ‘are you still not going to fawn upon the emperor’ written all over his face.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and nodded her head to continue her story as a reward for her careless actions, “But, my hubby’s a brave and heroic, majestic and powerful, bold and full of vigor.....” Gu Mengmeng wanted to use more descriptive words but seeing how Snake’s expression was becoming more impatient, she controlled herself and could only add, “male but he could not even tackle a single move in front of you.....tell me, aren’t you just richly endowed by nature? You’re just like a krypton gold warrior in games who not only have impressive and unique equipments and a fing awesome ID, you still stun others with your incredible skills....”

As Snake heard more of Gu Mengmeng’s words, his smile froze more. Although he could not understand many words she used, was this.....complimenting him? Why did it sound so awkward?

But her serious face did not look like she was fooling him either but.....it became weirder the more he listened to her.

Gu Mengmeng patted Snake’s shoulder and said, “Sigh, so that’s what I mean, it’s not considered unjustly when my husband loses to you. After all, your presence is originally a big bug itself.”

Chapter 571 - Felt Both Depressed And Refreshed At The Same Time

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Snake did not reply Gu Mengmeng because Lea had came back.

He knew that the scene Lea created before leaving the cave was to display his strength against him. He never ever treated this kind of dubious demonstration and provocation gained by trickery seriously before in his thousand years of life. But this time, he clearly learned his lesson.

Because he said, “In the future, you have to get along well with me and Elvis. Or else, you’ll be the one who suffers because Mengmeng’s heart is leaning towards us. Good luck~”

In the future...?

His dull life which nobody knew when it was going to end seemed like it became less ill because of this phrase.

Twomeng’s heart was always leaning towards them....?

Then could it be that he was already in her heart? Although he felt depressed because she was not leaning towards him, he felt both depressed and refreshed at the same time.....

He was already in her heart, right? Even her partner and beast pet saw through her but she did not notice it the slightest bit at all? She still asked him whether he wanted to be her grandfather or great-grandfather? Fool... he’s a.....bug.....richly endowed by nature.

Lea was holding a few pieces of beast skins which was tanned long ago and gave off a light rusty smell of blood. It was not strong and it was not enough to cover Gu Mengmeng's sweet smell that could make one excited but it still did not escape Snake's sensitive sense of smell.

Frowning, Snake expressed his unhappiness towards the piece of beast skin in Lea's hands.

How could other smells taint Twomeng's body? That's tarnishing her!

Lea sneered and said, "Do you know how lousy the prey in your Snake King Valley are? My Mengmeng has never used period pads of such bad quality before."

Lea swayed his tail in an exaggerated manner and walked to Gu Mengmeng, sitting cross-legged in front of her. Then, he turned back to look at Snake and said, "If it's convenient for you, bring Elvis over. Mengmeng can at least hug onto something warm when her stomach don't feel well."

Snake's pupils widened, giving off a strong murderous intention.

His body was icy cold and could never warm up. He did not feel anything wrong with it previously but now it has become his weakness.

Ever since Lea said a sentence 'your body is too cold, Mengmeng's sickness will worsen' when Gu Mengmeng fell sick the last time, he never dared to hug Gu Mengmeng in the cave anymore.

He would sit at a nearby spot every night to watch her sleep and even though he knew that the colorful snakes were guarding by the entrance, he did not dare to close his eyes because he was scared that someone would steal her away when he was asleep.

If he hugged her in his arms, he could then sleep soundly but.....his body was too cold....

So, he pulled Gu Mengmeng outside the cave to play every morning to suntan under the hot sunshine even though he liked the shade. Until his whole body was tanned to a warm temperature, he then dared to hug her.

Every cell in his body was crying out uncomfortably, but he was enjoying that kind of touch.

And now, that damn fox actually dared to use this matter to poke and piss him off?!

Clenching his fists, he glared fiercely at the fox who was still smiling like he did not know what was death. At the same time, his poisonous teeth started dripping venom but that damn wolf still had a 'I just like how you can't stand me but can't do anything to me' expression on his face.

You've to get along well~

Her heart is leaning towards us~

Snake strongly felt his pride as the Beast King being trampled upon. He was fuming mad and he wanted to kill someone but what reminded him was a warm sensation spreading across his icy cold chest which had been sealed for a thousand years.

He gave the little snakes an unwilling and poisonous gaze but eventually still ordered them to 'bring Elvis over'.

Chapter 572 - Not Wearing Your Underwear

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Before Elvis entered the cave, he already felt a wave of heat. Although the venom in his body made him weak, as long as he could meet Gu Mengmeng.....he would definitely have strength to do some things.

Elvis smiled helplessly, he actually could only see her in this loser state that resembled a prisoner but upon smelling her fragrance, the scene of them acting affectionate towards each other was all that's left in his mind.

After entering the cave, he realized that the scene before him was quite strange.

Lea was sitting cross-legged next to Gu Mengmeng, looking at Snake with a.....hmm...sneaky expression. Snake, on the other hand, emitted a whole body full of murderous intention that made him puff up unknowingly but Lea looked like he did not feel it as he swayed his fluffy large tail. It was clearly a daily action of his but when combined with the atmosphere, why did it give off a touch of provocation?

Gu Mengmeng did not look quite well as she laid on the beastskin. Upon seeing Elvis, she broke out into a smile and called out weakly, "Hubby."

Elvis's heart melted. The manic feeling that built up in him from not seeing her for a few days until he could destroy everything disappeared by one call of 'hubby' from her. He stepped forward and hugged Gu Mengmeng in her arms, asking, "Are you feeling uncomfortable again?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded and felt wronged. Acting coquettishly, she replied, "I just thought that I had a tummy ache at the start but now....I don't even want to talk anymore."

Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng's forehead and comforted her, "It's fine if you don't want to talk, then don't. I'll accompany you."

Gu Mengmeng nodded and huddled into Elvis's arms.

Elvis turned to ask Lea, "Where's the period pad? Why don't you wear it for her?"

Lea shrugged his shoulders and answered, "Mengmeng didn't allow me to lift her dress up."

After Lea finished speaking, he still turned back to cast a glance on Snake while smiling and added, "Mengmeng didn't allow him to lift her dress up too."

The vein on Snake's forehead twitched suddenly and in his heart, he kept calculating the chances of successfully swallowing this damn fox as a whole before making Elvis the scapegoat.

Elvis smiled heartily. Even though he was such a useless husband, he still felt a sense of happiness internally upon feeling her one and only reliance on him.

Elvis's hand inched towards the inside of Gu Mengmeng's dress and he smiled after understanding everything in an instant.

Turning back to look at Lea and then at Snake, he asked, "Snakes.....shouldn't they have snake skin?"

Snake nodded as a form of reply.

Elvis probed further, "I heard that the skin of snakes are thin and permeable so they're very suitable to be used as clothes for females?"

Snake nodded again, actually, he had long wanted to make Gu Mengmeng a set of clothing with his own snake skin.

But he knew that she was scared of snakes....

So, he even avoided exposing his original form in front of her at all costs. When he lost his temper because of Wabei and could not help but evolve back into his original form to 'guide' him, Snake did not even dare to look into Gu Mengmeng's eyes because he was extremely afraid that he would see repulsion and detest in them.

So, he kept controlling himself to not use his own snake skin in making clothes for Gu Mengmeng although he believed.....that she would look beautiful wearing his skin.

Elvis nodded and continued, "You have so many snakes in the Snake King Valley, can you find me two snake skins? Approximately.....this width."

Snake looked at the dimension Elvis gave and frowned. He did not say anything else as he just turned and left the cave.

Elvis knew that he had agreed so he did not give much thought and just tapped Gu Mengmeng's little nose, saying, "Didn't you say you won't have a sense of security when you're not wearing your underwear? Why are you not wearing it now?"

Chapter 573 - I'll Take You Away

Upon ensuring that Snake had walked far away, Gu Mengmeng complained softly, “How can I wear it? Wasn’t I poisoned previously after biting Snake? When Snake brought me to the waterfall to clear my stomach, my underwear got washed away by the water. I wanted to find you guys but Snake did not give me any chances at all, what....what can I do? I’m also very helpless. I can’t possibly tell Snake ‘Hi, man, can I trouble you to pass me two beast skins, I want to make my underwear’?”

Elvis was seriously guilty. Hugging Gu Mengmeng, he apologized, “I’m sorry, Xiao Meng. I’m too weak that’s why I can’t protect you properly. I’m clearly your First Partner....but I can’t even protect my position in your family and caused you to feel wronged.”

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback as she questioned, “Are you.....suspecting me of having an affair with Snake at this point of time?”

Elvis remained silent for a while before replying, “I heard from the snake beast that Snake had announced to everyone that...you’re his female.”

Gu Mengmeng face-palmed and explained, “He was just alone for an overly long period of time and felt lonely so he wanted to grab onto anything to accompany him to escape his loneliness. In his eyes....I’m probably not any different from a pet dog. Maybe he likes me but it’s definitely not the kind of like you’re talking about. Do you know? He’s such an exaggerated person, he actually gave me the title of the Saintess of the Snake King Valley...”

Elvis and Lea exchanged glances. Because the Snake King Valley closed its doors to outsiders, nobody knew much about their internal class system.

Gu Mengmeng probed, “Do you know what’s a Saintess?”

Elvis shook his head.

Gu Mengmeng answered, “To put it nicely, it’s a Saintess. But in fact, it’s a tool used for the public to level up. The Saintess would mate with strong males specially picked from the Snake King Valley for them to level up and thus, increase the Snake King Valley’s overall ability. What’s the damn difference with a prostitute?”

Elvis’s and Lea’s faces turned cold before they exploded with anger a second later.

They thought that although Snake seemed domineering and overbearing, he was at least truthful to Gu Mengmeng.

But he actually....!

Elvis pulled Gu Mengmeng in for a tight embrace and said, “I’ll take you away.”

Gu Mengmeng raised her head and said, “The venom in your body...”

Elvis smiled and touched Gu Mengmeng’s little face gently, saying, “Even if I have to sacrifice my life, I won’t let you receive this kind of ill treatment.”

Gu Mengmeng wanted to explain that although Snake had given her the title of Saintess, he did not allow anybody to bully her. She did not reveal that matter because she wanted to prove that Snake did not have those kinds of intentions towards her.

But....

Erm.....

Elvis and Lea seemed like they had misunderstood.

Gu Mengmeng patted Elvis's chest and said, "Hubby, things are not what you imagined them out to be."

Elvis frowned and comforted her, "Don't be scared, you have me."

As Elvis said, he placed the period pad Lea had finished making between Gu Mengmeng's legs and asked her to clamp it properly before carrying her up and walking towards the entrance step by step.

The colorful snakes were guarding the entrance with tight security and the moment they saw Elvis and Lea, they gave off hisses and held their upper bodies upright to warn the two of them.

However, Elvis and Lea were not the least afraid. They advanced step by step and just when they wanted to step into the pile of snakes, the colorful snakes suddenly fell silent and moved towards the sides.

Elvis raised his head and met eyes with Snake who was standing at the entrance. Elvis did not step back the slightest bit, even though they had an obvious disparity in abilities, he would definitely not let Xiao Meng undergo this kind of unfair treatment just because he was scared of dying.

Snake was holding onto a piece of snake skin in his hands, this was the first time he shed such a perfect snakeskin and it was best suited for Elvis's dimension. It was also the softest and cleanest one. This was the most precious skin in every snake's lifetime and he wanted to gift it to his own female as a precious love token.

He hid the snake skin behind him and directly ignored Elvis and Lea. With his gaze fixated on Gu Mengmeng, he asked, "Where are you going?"

Chapter 574 - As Long As You Explain To Me, I'll Believe You.

Elvis bared his teeth with a ferocious gaze.

Lea was slightly more calm as he took a little step forward.

Although Gu Mengmeng did not have the teamwork that Elvis and Lea built up after much blood and tears, she could still understand their intentions.

Lea planned to hold back Snake and even though it's only for a second, he could aid Elvis in running away with Gu Mengmeng.....

Snake seemed like he did not see the obvious rivalry from Elvis and Lea as he took a step forward and stood closer to Gu Mengmeng. With a cold expression, he said, "Tell me, you're not trying to run away secretly while I'm gone. No matter what others say, as long as you explain to me, I'll believe you."

Others say? Who?

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head and saw the colorful snakes circling around Snake's feet obediently and came to realization.

Ah, she did not understand snake language so clearly, these fellows had already transmitted her conversation with Elvis and Lea.

Erm.....

From an objective perspective, Elvis was clearly intending to run away while carrying her.

Under this kind of circumstances, he actually said that as long as she denied, he would believe her?

Gu Mengmeng sighed helplessly and stated, “I don’t want to be a Saintess.”

Snake was taken aback, he thought that Gu Mengmeng would straighten her neck and tell him the truth or go along and continue pacifying to him.

No matter what, he had prepared himself thoroughly.

But....she doesn’t want to be a Saintess?

Snake looked at Gu Mengmeng and did not say a word.

Gu Mengmeng explained, “It’s too pathetic being a Saintess, if you’ve to force me on being one, even if Elvis and Lea aren’t here, I’ll still crawl away.”

Snake frowned, crawl away?

She had to leave him?

Gu Mengmeng turned her head away and continued, “But if you can recall your order and allow me to not take the role of that damn Saintess, I’ll not run away.”

Snake’s eyes shimmered as if there was an exit to the world in front of him suddenly. He stared at Gu Mengmeng in uncertainty and asked, “If I allow you to not be a Saintess, will you not run away?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and replied, “I originally came here to save my sons. Now, I haven’t even seen my sons’ shadows, how can I run away? If I run away, wouldn’t I have made a futile trip here? Do you think it’s easy to enter the Snake King Valley? Do you think it’s fun to fall from the sky? In the modern world, I didn’t even sit any roller coaster before, if I’m forced to fall once more, I might just die from having a heart attack mid-air.”

Snake’s tensed chest was relieved all of a sudden and his gaze became a lot more gentle. She was clearly the one at fault but why was her self-confident and straightforward tone so appealing to the eye?

Ha, she ran away not because she hated him but because she did not want to be a Saintess....that's all.

Snake slowly walked forward and when he walked past Elvis and Lea, he emitted beast pressure after calculating the amount well so that both of them would collapse to the ground in one second while Gu Mengmeng would not feel even the slightest symptom at all.

At the same time when Elvis's body collapsed, Snake received Gu Mengmeng and held her in his arms firmly.

"I just came back from the outside so my body is warm." This sentence seemed like it was an explanation to Lea.

He sat next to the fireplace while carrying Gu Mengmeng and tried to reduce the cooling speed of his body so that he could hug her for a longer time.

Looking into her fiery eyes which was reflecting the fire, Snake tried to speak in the gentlest tone possible, "I wanted you to be a Saintess because I was afraid that you'll be bullied in the Snake King Valley. After all, other than me, a Saintess has the highest authority in the entire Snake King Valley. But I didn't know about the meaning of the original so-called Saintess."

Chapter 575 - You Still Have Logic After Being So Weak?!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

“Actually....I’ve already declared to the entire Snake King Valley that from today onwards, the Saintess is a holy presence that nobody can infringe upon. No snake beast can offend you and you’re not a ‘level-up tool’ like from the past but if you really don’t like the title of Saintess, you don’t have to take it up if you don’t wish to. As long as I’m present....no snake will dare to bully you.” Snake hugged onto Gu Mengmeng tightly, trying to make use of his body warmth before it went away. Then, he placed her next to the fireplace in reluctance and stepped back to more than a foot from her.

“Just tell me directly regarding what you like and what you dislike. Escaping....is not a good way to express yourself.” Snake hesitated for a moment but still took out his own snake skin slowly from behind him and asked, “Do you....want this?”

He did not dare to force feed her anything he thought was good anymore.

The experience his Father had passed down seemed like it did not suit Gu Mengmeng, surprise and whatsoever....ha, those were indeed bullshit.

Gu Mengmeng’s eyes glimmered as she received the snake skin from Snake’s hands in surprise. She exclaimed, “Oh my, this is a snake skin....it looks like it’s an extremely high-quality fabric. The touch is so good, it’s so delicate and soft...”

The tip of Snake’s ears became slightly red.

She said she liked his snake skin....

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips and smiled, saying, “Since you already gave me the gift, I won’t pursue the Saintess matter anymore. But can you not bully my hubby in the future? You're a Beast King, are you not embarrassed for oppressing the weak?"

Snake's expression turned cold as he turned back to look at Elvis and Lea who were trying to climb up from the ground. He sniggered and commented, "He's already not embarrassed for being a weakling, what else should I be embarrassed about?"

Gu Mengmeng choked....

Ah, she forgot.

This was the Beast World, the winner getting to enjoy the food alone and seizing others' wealth by force was the correct principle.

Gu Mengmeng sniffed and said, "Can't you guys play with one another happily. Tsk...."

Elvis returned back to Gu Mengmeng's side and protected her in his arms. He touched her stomach with his warm palm and said, "Although I'm not strong enough, I won't let anyone bully my female. Unless Xiao Meng is willing, nobody can force her."

Lea secretly breathed in deeply for a long time at an angle invisible to Gu Mengmeng, trying to force himself to swallow the rusty taste in his throat. After warming up his facial muscles, he changed his expression to a 'nasty' one and pounced into Gu Mengmeng's arms, fake-crying. "Weep weep weep, Mengmeng, look at this snake.....he always bullies me.....until my little heart keeps thumping hard...."

As Lea said, he pulled Gu Mengmeng's little hand into his embrace and pressed it against his chest, saying, "Yeah, I want Mengmeng to rub it."

Gu Mengmeng knew that although Lea maintained his peak in third-level for quite some time, he still did not level-up yet. Snake had already suppressed Elvis with his beast pressure to that extent so to Lea, the agony would have doubled. Thus, she did not stop him from joking around and instead, heed by his words by gently rubbing his chest, saying, “Are you feeling better now?”

Lea was also shocked, he just wanted.....to not let Mengmeng worry.

But how could he bear to remove this facade after seeing such a gentle Gu Mengmeng?

He wrapped his fluffy large tail around Gu Mengmeng’s waist and supported her body. Actually, he was the one carrying her but it looked as if he was acting coquettishly in her arms.

Elvis retracted and received the snake skin from Gu Mengmeng’s hands, starting to make underwear for her.

Snake frowned. Looking at how the weakest male here managed to get Gu Mengmeng’s favor, he started to doubt his thousand-year old knowledge, “You still have logic after being so.....weak?”

Chapter 576 - I Knew It, You're A Masochis

Chapter 576 I Knew It, You're A Masochis

Lea swept his long pupils across Snake and gave a light laugh. "I had reminded you to get along well with us for such a long time but you didn't want to listen."

Gu Mengmeng elbowed Lea's chest and reprimanded him, "You can't even defeat him, why's your mouth still so filthy?"

Lea brought Gu Mengmeng's little hand to his mouth and landed a peck on it, saying, "So what if I can't defeat him? With your protection, he can never kill me.....if I'm injured, at least your heart will ache for me so I can't wait for him to hit me everyday."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and pinched Lea, commenting, "I knew it, you're a masochist."

Lea smiled charmingly and replied, "I'm only like that towards you."

As Lea said, he lightly placed his palm on Gu Mengmeng's little stomach and rubbed it softly, saying, "Are you feeling better like that? After all that turmoil from earlier, the blood looked like it flowed stronger than before."

Gu Mengmeng saw how Elvis suddenly stopped his hand movements from making her underwear as worry was written all in his dark blue eyes.

Snake, who was standing at a further spot, did not have much expression on his face. His eyes, however, were staring intently at her.

On the other hand, the vixen in her arms could not help but write infatuation worth five thousand years of China's history all over his face as he fixed his gaze upon her.

Suddenly, the entire world seemed like it quietened down just to wait for her one sentence.

Gu Mengmeng laughed awkwardly and comforted them, “Sigh, women are always like that every month. I’m already used to it, it’s nothing much nothing much....”

Elvis remained silent as he lowered his head to continue making her underwear.

Snake did not care what exactly was Elvis going to do with his precious snake skin. As long as it was going to be used on her, everything was fine.

But the moment he thought that she would bleed like that every month, he felt exceptionally irritated.

“I heard that snake meat is very nourishing.” Snake lowered his head and looked at the colorful snakes by his feet. He picked a fattest and softest one from the pile with his hands and said, “Ask the fox to boil this snake for you to nourish your body.”

Gu Mengmeng stared at Snake in terror.

Do you know that feeling? It’s just like how your boyfriend said ‘Babe, it’s too tiring for your body to bleed so much every month. In the future, I’ll kill someone every month and boil him for you to nourish your body.’ suddenly.

Gu Mengmeng pointed at Snake with a quivering hand and said, “You’re the Snake King, that is your people....”

Snake was calm as he said indifferently, “Yes, so I can kill and boil anyone whenever I want.”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and rejected, “No no, you know how much I’m scared of snakes.”

Snake frowned and looking at that colorful snake, he contemplated for a moment before answering, “The fox knows how to cook well. When he finished boiling the snake, you won’t be able to notice it’s a snake.”

Gu Mengmeng was truly speechless, the way how Snake acknowledged others was really special. Although Lea could not defeat him, nobody expected that he actually had such a good reputation in the cooking aspect.

Elvis was very skilled in making clothing so he only used a small portion of Snake's snake skin to make an underwear suitable for Gu Mengmeng. After comparing the sizes slightly and making sure that there was no problem, he finally opened his mouth to speak, "Xiao Meng doesn't like others watching her wear clothes so you two can leave the cave first. And bring these snakes along with you guys too."

Snake raised his brow, obviously feeling displeased.

This was the Snake King Valley, when did a weak wolf have the authority to throw a command at him?

Lea, however, stood up in a seductive manner and when he walked past Snake, he smiled and reminded him, "This is the relationship in a family. The First Partner has the absolute authority for Mengmeng."

Chapter 577 - He Represents The Rules In The Beast World.

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Snake was shocked, so.....

He's considered Gu Mengmeng's family member now?

Upon seeing Lea's sneaky face, Snake understood that what Lea meant was that if he continued treating himself as the Snake King, they definitely could not do anything to him; but if he would like to join Gu Mengmeng's family, he would still have to follow their family rules.

Snake did not say a word as he just quietly walked out of the cave. The bunch of colorful snakes followed behind him, not leaving any behind to eavesdrop.

Lea turned back to wink at Gu Mengmeng before he left together with Snake.

Elvis pretended he did not see the interaction between Lea and Snake. He was still unwilling to accept the addition of such a strong psychopath. Snake's personality was so extreme until Elvis could never defeat him.

If Snake was only an orc at the peak of the fifth level, even if he was as strong as Wabei, he would dare to race up to him while sacrificing all his muscles and bones.

But he was the Beast King.

That was a wide gap that not only needed hard work to overcome. It needed luck and needed.....bloodline.

And he obviously did not belong to any kind of reputable bloodline.

He could not stop Snake. With the vast disparity in their strengths, Snake could completely kill him and Lea before replacing their positions to force Gu Mengmeng to stay by his side.

Nobody in the Snake King Valley would dare to cast their greedy eyes on Gu Mengmeng, even the entire Beast World would not have the courage to touch a strand of Gu Mengmeng's hair.

But he did not do it, he was even willing to place his pride as a king down and abide by the 'family rules', ha....he's Snake, he represents the rules in the Snake King Valley, to put it in a savage tone, he represents the rules in the Beast World.

This meant that Gu Mengmeng was already very important in that snake's heart.

But Elvis did not have the courage to ask Gu Mengmeng once again whether she would like to take him in as her partner.

He could never ask that question with his own mouth.

He was afraid to hear her answer.

Thus, he could only feign ignorance and pretend that he did not notice anything.

After he helped Gu Mengmeng wear her little underwear made of snakeskin, he secured the period pad Lea prepared for her properly. Then, he cleaned the blood stains on her body and landed a light kiss on her forehead.

Gu Mengmeng wrapped her arms around Elvis's neck and asked, "Hubby, are you keeping any troubles to yourself?"

Elvis was taken aback as he stared into Gu Mengmeng's eyes and forced a smile, replying, "Nope, I just didn't see you for a long time and I miss you a lot."

Gu Mengmeng looked back at Elvis apologetically and said, “I’m sorry hubby, I always promise you that I won’t be willful in the future but I still always implicate you and Lea into such a dangerous environment. I seriously can’t just ignore our sons, after we save our sons back this time round, I won’t be willful anymore, I promise you.....”

Elvis kissed her little mouth in a pampering way and then pressed down on the three fingers she had put up while comforting her, “Indulging your willfulness and tidying up your leftover mess is what a First Partner should do.”

“But.....” The more Elvis said, the more guilty Gu Mengmeng felt.

Elvis pulled Gu Mengmeng’s little hand to his lips and kissed it before continuing, “Snake did not ban our movements and he even guided us to find the trend of some hidden places in the Snake King Valley. I guess, he also wants to help us find Hede and the rest.”

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head and asked in confusion, “Didn’t he say that Ellie is from the snake tribe and won’t betray him? If he’s so sincere in helping me, why doesn’t he just ask Ellie to hand our kids over?”

Chapter 578 - Was This A Silent Consent?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Elvis smiled slightly, to be honest, he could completely understand Snake.

The reason why he was so anxious in finding the three little wolf cubs was not because he had any special favorable impression towards them. Instead, it was because Gu Mengmeng would never give up no matter what if she could not find them.

And although Snake silently consented Elvis and Lea in searching for the kids in the Snake King Valley, he might be helping Ellie to hide the kids on the other hand.

There was no reason other than....Gu Mengmeng changing her next agenda 'to leaving him' once she found her kids.

The promise and baseline he gave her was that the kids being controlled by Ellie were safe and sound but Gu Mengmeng could never find them.

That way, she had to stay behind to continue searching.

What if Gu Mengmeng suddenly lost interest in her kids one day and thought it through to just give birth to another nest of babies?

That time, he and Lea would be the second wave of 'persistence' to hold Gu Mengmeng back.

So, despite how much Snake hated them, he could only use his venom to prevent them from escaping instead of really executing his intention to kill them.

Or else, so what if he was a fifth-level beast? In front of such a psychotic fellow like Snake, he was really too weak to withstand a single blow from him.

The ruckus in the house were caught by the two people outside the cave.

Just when Elvis was trying to come up with a reply to Gu Mengmeng's words, Snake and Lea had walked back in.

What had reduced was the bunch of colorful snakes.

Gu Mengmeng was quite surprised as she asked, "Huh? Where's your bunch of people? Are they not following you anymore?"

Snake glanced at Lea before replying her, "They're scared I'll feed them to you so they ran away."

Of course, Gu Mengmeng did not believe him, just based on the gaze he gave Lea just now, she knew that Lea must had said something to him outside the cave and convinced him in getting rid of this surveillance measure.

But even though she saw through him, she did not expose him. Was there a need for someone to lose face?

Thus, Gu Mengmeng pretended she did not see through him as she chuckled and said, "Look, the ending of most tyrants is desertion by his followers. If you always threaten to 'eat' them up, you'll definitely scare them away."

Gu Mengmeng did not know that with a casual joke from her, Snake did not say that sentence anymore in his entire life.

"Mengmeng," Lea swayed his tail and walked to Gu Mengmeng, requesting, "I was also scared by him today so you've to accompany me to sleep tonight."

Gu Mengmeng stared at Snake and upon seeing how he had no intention to oppose, she commended Lea in her heart for being able to control Elvis and pacify Snake. Tsk tsk tsk, a third-level beast controlling a fifth-level beast and a Beast King truly deserves a thumbs-up.

“Alright, you two can stay behind and sleep with me. What nice timing, I was craving for some warmth these past few days.” As Gu Mengmeng said, she opened her arms wide and waited for Lea to pounce into her embrace.

However, Elvis was the one who carried Gu Mengmeng up as he commented, “It’s too chilly in here and it’s not suitable for you. You’ll stay with us for a few days.”

Gu Mengmeng looked towards Snake on her instincts and noticed that although he was unwilling, he did not stop them as he tilted his head to one side and kept quiet.

Was this a.....silent consent?

Gu Mengmeng broke out into a wide grin and gave Lea two thumbs-up.

Lea raised his chin in delight as he said while swaying his large tail, “Alright, we’ll leave first. I bet Snake didn’t rest well when Mengmeng was staying here. You can make use of these few days to recuperate properly.”

Gu Mengmeng was then carried out of Snake’s cave by Elvis in an imposing manner. When they exited the cave, she could not help but ask, “I wanted to see you two once before and if I didn’t put on an ill aura, I would’ve failed. What exactly did you tell him? He actually agreed to let me leave with you guys after hearing just a few sentences from you?”

Chapter 579 - Distance Makes One's Heart Grow Fonder And Haste Does Not Always Bring Success.

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Lea smiled and said, “13 words.”

Gu Mengmeng looked at Lea with sparkles spewing out from her eyes as she counted with her fingers, saying, “The only way to prevent people from knowing is not to do it.”

Lea was taken aback for a moment before he suppressed his laughter and shook his head.

He originally wanted to tell her directly but was also curious as to what other weird sentences she could come up with. Thus, he coughed and said, “Guess again.”

Gu Mengmeng thought over it and then counted with her fingers again. The sentences she could think of were either wrong in number or did not suit the situation. Eventually, she shook her head and said, “Stop leaving me in suspense. Hurry and spill the beans.”

Lea smiled and replied, “Distance makes the heart grow fonder and haste does not always bring success.

Gu Mengmeng contemplated for a while before she said with a helpless expression, “Do you also think that I’ve an affair going on with Snake?”

Lea nodded his head honestly and asked her back, “Isn’t his reaction the best evidence?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and retorted, “He’s just too lonely and all he needs is a friend.”

Lea smiled slightly and said, “Do you know how many snakes the Snake King Valley has? Every snake here only listens to him and they all treat him like their God, he’s not alone.”

Gu Mengmeng wanted to tell Lea, how could snakes be compared to humans? But her stand changed when she suddenly recalled that to Snake.....snakes were the same breed as him, right?

But that mighty person was already over 1000 years old, despite how old his past relationships were, that difference was.....

People said that, all men, regardless of whether they were youths from 17 to 18 years old or old men from 70 to 80 years old, liked young girls that are 18 to 19 years old.

But.....

Nobody mentioned that an old demon that was over 1000 years old would like a girl who was 18 to 19 years old....

Gu Mengmeng truly could not accept that difference in age so she shook her head and said, “Maybe he’s just a little interested in me because of his Mother.”

Lea seemed to have seen through Gu Mengmeng’s doubt as he sneakily placed his arm on Elvis’s shoulder and asked, “Do you mind his age?”

Gu Mengmeng was shocked as she shifted her gaze elsewhere awkwardly. “Anyway....it’s just that.....there’s no such thing. Stop letting your thoughts wander. We’re here to save my sons.”

However, Lea did not want to let Gu Mengmeng off. He seemed like he had discovered a very interesting matter as he questioned further, “Sigh, tell me, what's the boundaries your heart is willing to accept?"

Gu Mengmeng thought over it and replied, "Three to five years is a more ideal age difference."

Lea asked, "You're 18 this year, right?"

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and corrected him, "It's my birthday this month so I should be 19 years old now."

Lea nodded before asking, "Then guess, how old are we this year?"

Elvis's face darkened. Even though he could not emit his beast pressure due to the venom, his aura comprised of some murderous intention.

Lea did not take it to heart as he pressed for an answer, "Look at him, his face has already darkened to this extent. Let's guess his age, guess him first."

Upon hearing Lea's words, Gu Mengmeng suddenly noticed the problem.

She was already married and had given birth to four children but she was never aware of her own husband's age?

Let her calm down.

Snake who looked like he was in his early 20s had a real age of over a 1000.....

A childish Wabei who looked like his age would not surpass 20 had a real age of over 800....

Then, Elvis who looked like he was 24 to 25.....

F? She actually married a great-grandfather?

Gu Mengmeng asked with a shaky voice, "That.....hubby.....how old.....are you this year?"

Elvis glared at Lea coldly before replying, “I forgot.”

For....forgot?

Snake could remember approximately how old he was even though he had lived for over 1000 years but Elvis could not even recall an approximate number at all?

Chapter 580 - Do You Mind Being A Cougar?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Lea covered his mouth and giggled, asking, “Mengmeng, guess how old I am?”

Gu Mengmeng stared at Lea but eventually still shook her head slowly.

Why was the heavens so unfair?! After comparing Snake and Wabei the two old demons, Gu Mengmeng completely could not judge one’s age based on their appearance anymore.

Lea leaned his shoulder forward and squeezed his handsome face in front of Gu Mengmeng, speaking with a gentle and attractive voice, “Do you mind being a cougar?”

“Pfft....” Gu Mengmeng looked at Lea in terror.

She was 19 this year so if she were to think of ‘robbing the cradle’, she should be that cradle, right? Why did she suddenly feel that.....she was the one robbing?

Lea was pretty disappointed as his tail dropped and he asked obediently, “You can’t accept it? Our age don’t differ that much though.....”

Gu Mengmeng slapped Lea’s shoulder and demanded, “Lea, tell me honestly, how old are you this year?”

Lea grinned from ear to ear and requested instead, “Call me ‘Daddy Lea’ and I’ll tell you.”

Gu Mengmeng pinched Lea’s ear and prepared to twist it hard as she growled, “If you still want your ear, hurry and tell me.”

Lea twitched his lips and said with a wronged expression, “16.”

Crack.....

Gu Mengmeng felt that a strike of lightning struck her directly on her head.

She slowly let go of Lea and looked at him with a complicated gaze.

What the hell, she called a fox that was three years younger than her....’Daddy Lea’ for such a long time?

Lea was 16 this year so didn’t he start dating her when he was just 15? Was this considered.....

Gu Mengmeng’s face fell and she felt that she was so wretched and that she was a slut with no reputation left.

On the other hand, Lea covered his mouth for a giggle and said, “Isn’t a young body so much better than that old snake?”

Gu Mengmeng raised her head and wanted to scream ‘get lost’ but upon meeting gaze with Lea’s long eyes and considering his age, Gu Mengmeng could only extinguish that fire in her throat and speak in a gentle tone, “Lea, be good and go play at one side.

Lea burst out in laughter and said, “Why do you sound like you’re pacifying Hede and his brothers? Don’t tell me....you really want to own me as a son? Then can I also eat.....”

Lea’s gaze shifted to Gu Mengmeng’s breasts which she used two hands to cover instantly, roaring, “Eat your foot! You brat, why are you always learning the bad stuff and taking advantage of me all day and night?”

Lea giggled even harder as he tilted his head and said, “If you don’t want to be my Mother beast, do you want to be my younger sister? Committing incest and whatsoever.....you’ve such a strong taste. But if you like it, I can cooperate with you.”

Gu Mengmeng clenched her teeth and chided, “Being your Mother beast is also considered committing incest!”

Lea nodded his head after sudden realization as he looked at Gu Mengmeng and said, “So you like this kind of thing....”

Gu Mengmeng seriously wanted to bite her tongue off.

Elvis said with a cold expression, “Stop joking around with her or else she will really become flustered.”

Lea shrugged and clarified, “Alright alright, stop being conflicted. I’m not 16, I’m 21.”

Gu Mengmeng side-eyed him and asked in uncertainty, “Really?”

Lea nodded.

Gu Mengmeng then heaved a sigh of relief. The next moment, she suddenly lifted her head and asked Lea in shock, “So....who’s 16?”

Lea suppressed his laughter while Elvis’s face turned as black as the bottom of a pot. Gu Mengmeng turned her neck stiffly and looked at Elvis, pleading him, “Tell me, you’re not 16....I beg you.”

Elvis cleared his throat and avoided Gu Mengmeng’s sight, telling her, “I’m not 16.”

F!

Upon hearing Elvis’s words, Gu Mengmeng was more certain that Elvis was the one who was 16 years old! If not, he could have just told her his real age

Chapter 581 - I Won't Accept Any Reasons You Give For Not Loving Me.

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

After knowing Elvis's age, Gu Mengmeng could not face him normally anymore. Whenever he dared to look at her when she caught him being in a daze, she would immediately avoid him and become nervous. She started to reject Elvis's help in many things he used to take care of.....like changing her period pad.

Elvis was vexed and he started to see Lea as an eyesore.

But he knew that Lea's motive was to.....fight for more time to keep Gu Mengmeng in their cave.

Because if Gu Mengmeng acted too affectionate with the two of them, that pair of eyes that was watching them in the dark would not be able to control his jealousy and subsequently, snatch Gu Mengmeng away from them instantly.

And both of them had no ability to snatch her back.

He only had one chance to interact with her in one month so he could only withstand Gu Mengmeng's discomfort around him and control himself from not looking at her. Then, he used every cell in his body to feel her gaze.

A week was gone at the blink of an eye. When the colorful snakes appeared at the entrance of the cave, Lea's and Elvis's eyes dimmed a little but they still managed to hang a smile on their faces as they told Gu Mengmeng, "Snake sent people over to fetch you. You can follow these little snakes because they'll bring you back to Snake's cave."

Gu Mengmeng was aware that she felt uncomfortable after knowing Elvis's age so in this rare interaction period, she was unable to act affectionate with him, not even once. She felt rather apologetic and also did not bear to leave him so she held in her awkwardness and walked to Elvis, hugging him. "Elvis, why don't you send me over? I want to spend some more time with you."

Elvis's body froze for a period of time before he dared to hug Gu Mengmeng, saying, "I won't accept any reasons you give for not loving me."

Gu Mengmeng clamped her lips and muttered, "It's not about not loving you, I just felt that I had ruined an underage boy...."

Elvis leaned forward and kissed Gu Mengmeng's lips. After biting her lip lightly, he said, "Orcs are considered of-age from the moment they can evolve into human form. I've already become of-age for 15 years."

Gu Mengmeng looked at Elvis in shock, blinking her eyes and not saying a word.

Becoming of-age at one year old.....who the hell are you trying to con?

Gu Mengmeng tried to recall what she was doing when she was one year-old.

Erm.....

She completely could not recall but looking at other one year-old kids, they were all still sitting in their baby prams, biting onto their pacifiers and drinking milk. Are you trying to acting like an adult now?

Elvis tapped Gu Mengmeng's little head and said, "The timescale and growth pattern of orcs are different from your kind, don't compare them with that wild imagination of yours."

Gu Mengmeng rubbed her head unsatisfactorily as she refuted, "What's the difference? A brat is still a brat."

Elvis clenched his teeth and said, “A brat can’t make you pregnant but I can.”

Gu Mengmeng’s face turned red as she stomped her feet and turned her back against Elvis but did not walk away. The words ‘hurry and pacify me, I’m angry’ were clearly written on the back of her head.

Lea also knew that Gu Mengmeng’s awkwardness made Elvis uncomfortable these few days so he came out to mediate the situation and said, “Elvis is not wrong, orcs are considered adults once they gain the ability to evolve. Moreover, our lifespan should be different from your world.”

Gu Mengmeng side-eyed him and commented, “Yeah, all of you can live until you become thousand-year old demons but I can’t.”

Lea shook his head and said, “No, Snake is an exception because his bloodline is too special. And the lifespan of ordinary males like Elvis and I are based on our abilities and our females.”

Chapter 582 - Mengmeng, I Can Still Accompany You For Another 10 Years.

Gu Mengmeng was confused so she tilted her head and waited for Lea to continue.

Upon seeing how Gu Mengmeng was not that angry at Elvis anymore, Lea did not leave her hanging as he continued, “Fifth-level orcs like Elvis can normally accompany you for an entire lifetime unless you eat him up. And third-level orcs like me probably....can only live for 30 years even if I don’t die from a battle or get eaten up by you. I’m 21 this year so if I managed myself well.....Mengmeng, I can still accompany you for another 10 years.”

Gu Mengmeng was dumbfounded as her expression became rather solemn.

10 years.....

Was Lea’s life actually starting to experience a countdown already?

Gu Mengmeng bit her lower lip and asked cowardly, “Are you.....lying to me? How can beasts only live for 30 years? The physique of the people in my world differ so much from you guys but they have no problem living till 70 to 80 years old.....”

Lea smiled radiantly, looking as if he did not see death seriously at all. He said in a calm tone, “Males without the acceptance of any female means that they’re losers who have been eliminated and they do not have any need to exist. So, normally speaking, males who have not found a partner before 10 years old would voluntarily join some females’ family as storage food.

To them, if their females are able to last through winter, that's already the largest value in their lives."

Gu Mengmeng said, "But I had already accepted you, aren't you my beast pet?"

Lea chuckled, his gaze encompassing envy that could not be wiped away. Looking at Gu Mengmeng's exposed collarbone, he said. "Acceptance without a mark will not be acknowledged by the Beast Deity. But it's alright, even if it's only 10 years.....I'll still protect you well."

Hiss hiss hiss.....

The little snakes were hurrying them up.

Gu Mengmeng wanted to say something but Lea rubbed her head and comforted her, "Don't pity me, I don't feel that my 10 years of life is any more pathetic than Snakel's endless and pointless life. Unless....you decide to abandon me in 10 years."

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and her mood became rather complicated, she did not know what to say.

Hiss hiss hiss.....

The colorful snakes raised their upper bodies, making their intention more obvious.

Lea and Elvis exchanged glances before they nodded their heads and lightly turned Gu Mengmeng's body, pushing her towards the entrance. "If you don't leave any sooner, Snake would not allow you to come back and stay with us anymore."

"But....."

"No buts, Elvis and I will continue working on Hede and the other two. I'll settle the food and make them more delicate for you. If you've anything you wish to eat, you can tell the little snakes in the cave. They will transfer the message to me."

Gu Mengmeng turned back and saw how Lea and Elvis stood beside each other at the entrance, witnessing her leave.

Gu Mengmeng bowed her head in sorrow and did not say anything else, she just followed the colorful snakes back to Snakel's cave.

She was still scared of snakes so she did not dare to step too close to them. The little snakes were also aware that she was scared of them so they did not show any dangerous behavior as long as she did not leave the safe zone.

“Gu Mengmeng.” Halfway through the journey, a female's voice rang, interrupting Gu Mengmeng's route.

Looking up, Gu Mengmeng squinted and saw a female standing against the sunlight at a high spot. She could not see her appearance but just found her voice to be rather familiar.

“Ha, you're indeed the messenger of the Beast Deity. You're really quite capable to have all the outstanding males in the world revolving around you.” Her voice, alone, encompassed evil and jealousy that could not be hidden but the sunlight was too bright so Gu Mengmeng could not figure out who the person was.

Chapter 583 - Ellie's Appearance

“Who are you?” Gu Mengmeng used one hand to block the sunlight while she squinted her eyes and asked.

That female sniggered before tugging onto the tree vine in her hands, saying, “It’s alright if you can’t recognize me, but you can’t recognize your sons too?”

Just by looking at the figures against the sunlight, Gu Mengmeng could recognize that those three balls of flesh were her sons.

“Ellie?!” Gu Mengmeng was very shocked, she could have recognized her through her voice but the female standing in front of her was clearly a perfect female without her symbolic snake tail. That was what made her dumbfounded.

Gu Mengmeng wanted to run towards Ellie but the colorful snakes pulled her back.

Gu Mengmeng glanced at her sons and made up her mind, stepping on the snake pile harshly.

Let alone snakes, even if a land mine was blocking her way, she would still not hesitate to step on it.

Ellie smirked before turning away to escape.

Upon seeing how Ellie was running away, Gu Mengmeng was so flustered until her eyes turned red as she could not care much about anything else, running forward with all her might.

Sons, her sons!

If she let Ellie run away this time, she did not know when she would see her again.

Ellie did not run too far off as if she was deliberately waiting for Gu Mengmeng to chase after her. Whenever Gu Mengmeng was about to lose her, she would slow down to wait for her.

Gu Mengmeng did not run too far off and just passed a few turns when she completely could not figure out what was north south east or west because the road was a little winding.

Ellie paused her steps and finally turned to look at Gu Mengmeng. With a disdainful expression, she said while refusing to cast a glance on Gu Mengmeng, “You really dare to chase after me alone. After falling into my trap previously, you still did not learn from it, how could such a dumb female be chosen by the Beast Deity as the messenger of the Beast Deity?”

Gu Mengmeng held onto her knees with both her hands. She really wanted to say a few words to retort against Ellie but after coming to the Beast World, she was almost at a state where she need not use her legs at all. When Elvis was present, he would carry her, if not, Lea would be the one to carry her. After they reached the Snake King Valley, since Elvis and Lea were not around, Snake started carrying her. She, who seriously lack too much exercise, would never be able to persist until now if not for her sons.

“Tsk tsk tsk, you’re really too useless. You just ran a few steps and you’re panting like that? I really don’t know why the mighty Snake King took a fancy on you? Is it just for your face?” Ellie looked like she was not afraid of Gu Mengmeng as she threw away the tree vine that she used to trap the three little wolves in. Then, she walked up to Gu Mengmeng and pinched her jaw, smirking. “You don’t even have a male beside you now, I’ll like to see how much you the messenger of the Beast Deity can withstand.”

Gu Mengmeng wanted to push Ellie’s hand away but she realized that her fighting ability differed too much from this scheming bitch.

Hitting Nina was very easy because Nina was a proud female who was always cupped in others’ hands since she was born. She did not have any opportunities to train, let alone battle.

So, Gu Mengmeng, who had persisted in working out and who had learned some basic strikes, was able to win so easily.

But Ellie was different, she lived in the Snake King Valley since young and was the only female who emerged from the crowd to become the Saintess. She had more than some tricks of a woman faking her innocence and purity.

After Gu Mengmeng finished panting, she took advantage of the chance when Ellie was not paying attention to grab hold of her little thumb and twist it backwards. This kind of attack against one's weakest spots was a defense tactic her gym trainer taught her secretly. Normally, this was supposed to be used towards a pervert that was stronger than her but it was not a futile lesson if it was used on Ellie today.

Chapter 584 - Don't Be Afraid, Mommy Is Here To Save You!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Although Ellie was in pain, she transformed her snake tail out at the speed of light. The edge of the tail, that was filled with scales, twisted around Gu Mengmeng and wrapped her tightly, as if she was trying to kill her prey.

Her pupils turned into a straight horizontal line, with no sign of good intention in her gaze.

“Gu Mengmeng. You deserve to die! You should die!” Jealousy made Ellie’s expression look hideous. She totally did not bother about her fingers, even using more energy to directly jab her fingers in Gu Mengmeng’s hands till they were broken. Her bleeding hands then grabbed Gu Mengmeng’s neck, saying viciously, “I pampered him for hundreds of years, but he never gave me any attention. How could he be so obsessed with you from the moment you appeared? He should have killed you the second you set foot into the Snake King valley and not allow you to replace me as the most respected female here! You deserve to die! Gu Mengmeng you deserve to die!”

Gu Mengmeng wanted to struggle, but her whole body was tightly wrapped by Ellie. She could even clearly feel the pain from the suffocation start to disappear from the ankle up.

Seems like... it will snap for sure.

Gu Mengmeng could only move one hand. She raised it up, and directly jabbed it into Ellie’s eye.

Ellie did not expect Gu Mengmeng to have such a trick. She did not have time to protect herself, and could only duck instinctively, but Gu Mengmeng still managed to jab into one of her eyes.

When one is under lethal danger, their burst of power is extraordinary.

One of Ellie's eyeballs, stuck onto Gu Mengmeng's finger like a takoyaki.

In great pain, Ellie let go of Gu Mengmeng while covering her eyes and rolling around on the ground.

Gu Mengmeng lost her balance, falling onto the ground and taking deep breaths as if she was a fish that had been run ashore. The eyeball on her finger grossed her out, but she did not bother to think too much in that instant.

She shook her hands, trying to get the eyeball off her finger.

She tried to stand up, but found her legs presenting a spiral-like mode in an odd and peculiar position.

Indeed, it was broken.

It was lucky for Gu Mengmeng too, that after it hurt to a certain extent, she became numb to the pain.

Crawl, she had, to her sons, to at least untie the vines around their bodies so they could escape.

As long as her sons were alright, Gu Mengmeng would not hesitate to leave her life behind, much less break her legs.

Blood trails were created along Gu Mengmeng's path, drawing curvy lines on the ground as Gu Mengmeng grabbed on to the grass on the ground, trying her hardest to move her body forward.

Her aim was very clear, sons! She wanted to save her sons!

One step, one step!

One more step!

Gu Mengmeng's fingers were just about to reach Hede, when she saw Hede and brothers opening their mouths, as if they were trying to say something to her frantically.

Gu Mengmeng could only hear sharp screams in her ears, it was a pity, she could no longer hear her sons speaking.

"Don't be afraid, mommy is here to save you! Don't be afraid, mommy is here!" Gu Mengmeng said while smiling at the three pairs of fearful yet helpless eyes, trying to appease her sons' emotions with all her strength in her body.

Touched, she finally touched Hede.

A smile spread across Gu Mengmeng's face, but before she could widen her smile further, her body was dragged backwards and far away.

"Hede..." Gu Mengmeng stretched out her arms. The only wish in her heart then was only to untie to the vines on her children's bodies.

Chapter 585 - The Evolution

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Gu Mengmeng raised her arm in an attempt to block the attack, but her tiny arm had as little power as a strand of straw in comparison to Ellie's shocking biting force.

Was it death?

Was she... dying just like that?

True, how could a human win a demon?

Wasn't it all thanks to that monkey, that Xuanzang was able to live to obtain the scripture?

But her monkey... was not by her side.

The circle of life started spinning around in front of Gu Mengmeng's eyes, it was clearly an instant but she saw herself transmigrate, from being brought home by Elvis, to dating Lea, breaking up, mating with Elvis, giving birth to children...

Children, till the end, it was mommy who was too useless, and could not even save you once.

As for regrets... It would probably be not being able to hear you call...

"Mommy!" A crisp sound traveled into Gu Mengmeng's ears and stunned her, as her eyes opened wide, seeing three half-orc teens frantically rushing and pestering Ellie.

One used his sharp teeth to fiercely bite down on Ellie's tail, dragging her backwards. Another rode on her back, aggressively strangling her neck and yanking it backwards strongly. The last one bit on her throat, not backing up even when blood sprayed on his face.

Who was the one who called her, just now?

Gu Mengmeng's eyes turned red and actually started to cry.

Even the pain from her leg being ripped to smithereens did not make her drop a tear, but she had caved from the word "Mommy".

No regrets, she no longer had any regrets.

Her sons broke free from the vines, and can escape.

She also heard the "Mommy" she had been dreaming of before she died.

Gu Mengmeng wanted to struggle up to fight Ellie with her sons, but saw her suddenly transforming into an orc, becoming much stronger instantly.

Her snake scales were hard, and the three half-orcs that had just evolved simply could not bite through them.

Her three sons bounced off her, blood filling their mouths.

Ellie seemed to be filled with fury, her mouth gaping open and rushing towards the brothers, exuding an aura as if she planned to swallow them whole.

"No—!" Gu Mengmeng yelled in pain, wanting to rush over and protect her sons, but she could not even move for her leg bones had been shattered.

Ellie's body suddenly halted, wavering for a moment.

Gu Mengmeng thought her shouting worked, so she immediately continued, "Ellie, am I not the one you hate? Shouldn't I be the one to die? Come at me! I'm right here, come!"

Ellie shook her body, revealing her human head. Her expression was extremely horrifying, as she shot Gu Mengmeng a hideous expression, her gaze evil and twisted, “He wants to save you... He wanted to save you using his position as the Snake King?! I am his tribesman... I am his Saintess... I am the one who guarded him for centuries! Can’t I retaliate against the nature in my bones?! Can’t I?! Hehehe... Watch me retaliate! I want him to remember me, even if it means hating me!”

With that, Ellie rushed towards Gu Mengmeng with that as the only thought in her brain. Gu Mengmeng watched clearly as Ellie got closer with every inch, and how many scales fell off her body with each inch. By the time she was right in front of her, she had become a skinless, bloody worm. And all these happened in the blink of an eye.

“Ah—!” Ellie had bitten on Gu Mengmeng’s thighs, then twisted her body, almost ripping off Gu Mengmeng’s legs. Although Gu Mengmeng could no longer feel pain, she still screamed.

Half a second before Gu Mengmeng’s legs were ripped off by Ellie, a hand violently grabbed onto three inches at the back of Ellie’s head. Ellie’s jaw was forcefully released, which allowed Gu Mengmeng’s legs to remain intact.

Chapter 586 - Dreamland? Beast Deity.

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

The person who arrived was... Snake?

Gu Mengmeng thought Elvis would be the first one to rush over, after all... they have the attraction of the mating mark.

Elvis should already have known, since she was injured to that extent.

But why... wasn't he the first person to arrive?

Can't she even... see him for the last time?

Gu Mengmeng slowly started becoming unconscious, as the weight on her eyelids and coldness in her body became like a giant spiral, dragging her down against her will.

Snake stared coldly at the badly mutilated worm before him, and without a word, he squeezed his fingers together and strangled her alive.

Turning around, Snake carried Gu Mengmeng up. He frowned at the sagging curvature of her legs.

He has fantasized about if Gu Mengmeng had been a snake like him more than once, and how perfect it could have been. However, now... it was an ugly sight, to see her with a weak lower body.

No wonder she hated snakes, such an intolerable sight deserved to be hated.

Snake carried Gu Mengmeng back to his cave.

Elvis and Lea were lying there with injuries all over their bodies, at the gate of death.

Snake stopped in his tracks, looked at Elvis then threw two words at him, “How weak.”

Elvis gritted his teeth, not saying a word, for he had no right to retaliate.

A pair of bloody eyes landed on Gu Mengmeng, who was in Snake’s arms. He only felt as if something was cut into pieces in his chest, then continuously rubbed in with salt.

A few droplets of blood dripped down from Elvis’ mouth. He gritted his teeth so hard that blood had dripped out.

Snake side-eyed Lea, “Make my shed skin into clothes for her to wear.”

With that, Snake did not give any more explanation before he entered the cave.

The colorful snakes instantly clustered together, sealing the entrance of the cave.

Meanwhile, Gu Mengmeng who was in the cave, was already in an unconscious state.

In a world of endless whiteness, it was as if Gu Mengmeng was floating weightlessly, surrounded by fog, but not causing one to feel constraint, for it seemed for comforting, and relaxed.

“Child... you are very marvelous.” A loving voice rang beside Gu Mengmeng’s ears.

“Who? Who are you?” Gu Mengmeng felt someone touching her hair, movements gentle and loving. She wanted to know who was speaking to her, but she could not make any noise from her throat, and her eyelids were too heavy to be opened.

“I... am the Beast Deity.” It was as if that person could hear the voice inside Gu Mengmeng’s heart, and gave her an answer directly.

“Beast Deity?” Gu Mengmeng felt skeptical.

Beast Deity replied, “Yes, I am the Beast Deity. Child, your path ahead may be rough, but please maintain a kind heart.”

Gu Mengmeng was confused, and thought, “What does that mean?”

The Beast Deity smiled, “I am very sorry to have disrupted your original life. You must have been very helpless when you first arrived at the Beast World. But now, you have Elvis and Lea who love you, and the fellow tribesmen of Saint Nazaire who are loyal to you. In the future, you will have more and more followers, your thoughts and actions will affect the Beast World for millenniums to come. So, please do not lose your kind heart, do you understand?”

Question marks filled Gu Mengmeng’s brain, yet she could not form a legitimate question, only feeling muddle-headed.

The Beast Deity continued, “Child, do not feel sorrowful, do not be upset... For you have given him the greatest release.”

Gu Mengmeng still did not know what was going on, but felt someone pat her on the top of her head before she sank down the white fog like a free falling object.

Chapter 587 - Do You Know What It Is Like To Fall In Love With Yourself?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

“Ooh...” Gu Mengmeng made a groaning noise, and only felt as if her head so much it could split open.

“Xiao Meng.” A warm hug immediately encapsulated Gu Mengmeng, then Gu Mengmeng heard a deafening heartbeat slowly calming down, and the sigh that followed.

Gu Mengmeng opened her eyes slowly adjusting to the light and raised her hand, feeling a little out of sorts.

A dreamland...

So that was what it meant.

“Elvis, let go of me.” Gu Mengmeng’s voice was so tranquil it made one terrified.

Elvis’ body stiffened, but still slowly released his hands.

She deserved... to be angry.

He did not fulfill his responsibility to protect her, despite being her first partner.

Gu Mengmeng turned and sat up, looking at her three sons who were huddled in a corner of the wall, sound asleep.

Seeing the exhaustion on their faces, they must have been extremely tired.

Lifting the beast skin that originally covered her body, Gu Mengmeng gently used it to cover her three sons, then walked out without a word.

Elvis followed behind her silently, and silence was brewing in the air.

“Do you know... what it is like to fall in love with yourself?” Gu Mengmeng’s gaze landed on the huge, flat rock at the entrance of the cave, where a piece of clothing made from the shedded snake skin was being bathed in the sun.

Elvis did not say anything, only silently looking at the green snake that had its mouth gaped open to reveal its fangs that was on the back of Gu Mengmeng’s neck.

1Gu Mengmeng sat on the rock, gazing at the clothing made from shedded snake skin while in a trance.

The person who would reach his hand out and call her “Twomeng”, has now become a set of clothing.

“I thought, I was just an interesting presence in his long life. I had never expected, that I would be the only color, in the thousand years of his life.” Gu Mengmeng lowered her head, smiling bitterly, “He was truly resolute, using such a method for me to really feel how much he cared and persisted for me.”

Gu Mengmeng did not turn around, her gaze still fixated on the snake skin, her voice soft without much sorrow, but made one’s heart ache even more, “Do you know what his last sentence to me?”

Elvis stood behind Gu Mengmeng, not even having the courage to reply.

If it weren’t for him being too weak...

If it weren’t for him being too weak...

“He said, seemed like one would really get their retribution for teasing a married woman... It is like cutting one’s chest open to take their heart out.” Gu Mengmeng did not cry, instead, she smiled, “Then, he said thank you to me, he said... thank you for letting me live. He died for me, but thanked me for letting him live? What twisted logic was that... But now, I can't even blame him."

Gu Mengmeng grasped tightly at her chest, "What now? I finally felt deeply the amount of love he had for me, but we barely interacted for a month. In the past month, I never thought what he felt for me was love... I am Gu Mengmeng, I feel I should be guilty and cry. However, Snake has passed on all his memories to me. In his memories, the past month has been way more blissful than the past thousands of years of his life. His feelings told me, that if I lived on, he would be very happy. So I want to smile, and now I can't even tell if I am Gu Mengmeng or Snake. Am I a human or a snake, should I cry or laugh?"

Elvis went forward, gently hugging Gu Mengmeng in his arms, speaking with deep remorse, "Sorry, for not protecting you. I... was too weak."

Chapter 588 - Protection Mark

Gu Mengmeng wanted to lift her arm to return Elvis' hug, but only felt her arms were too heavy and unable to be lifted.

Sighing, Gu Mengmeng said, "Elvis, let go of me. I need to wear the clothes that Snake left behind for me."

COMMENT

Elvis released slowly, feeling as if a piece of skin was ripped from his chest.

Gu Mengmeng had always valued privacy, only changing in the cave, and even making him stay away most of the time.

However this time, she stood out in the open, removing the beast skin she originally wore on her body, then carefully wearing the clothes made from the shedded snake skin.

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head, asking, "Does it look nice?"

Elvis nodded, "No matter what Xiao Meng wears, you look nice in it."

The edges of Gu Mengmeng's lips tried to lift, but she found herself incapable of smiling, and could only sit back onto the rock, squinting her eyes while looking up at the sun, "Where's Lea? I haven't seen him since I woke up."

Elvis replied, "He said... he had some things, he wanted to settle."

Gu Mengmeng replied, “Cole?”

Elvis stayed silent without a word.

Gu Mengmeng responded, “Even if Cole broke his tail, he is still a peak fifth-level orc, and Lea alone... won’t be able to win him.”

With that, Gu Mengmeng looked into the distance, “Go find Lea, tell him I’m waiting for him and call him back.”

Elvis looked in the direction of Gu Mengmeng’s gaze, and only saw movements in the grass. If one did not look closely, they would think it was merely the grass moving because of the wind. However, a fifth-level beast has excellent vision, and he instantly saw traces of colorful snakes in the bushes.

“You...” Elvis was rather confused.

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head, not looking into Elvis’ eyes, only gently rubbing the back of her neck, “Sorry, I agreed that I would only have your mark on my body. But...”

Elvis replied, “Xiao Meng, Snake is the strongest of the Kings, I had nothing against you mating with him.”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head, “Snake did not mate with me, this mark... is a protection mark, not a mating mark.”

Elvis furrowed his brows, asking, “Protection mark?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded slightly, “I was almost killed by Ellie, and my bones were shattered into smithereens, even if I was saved, I would have been disabled, and probably would never be able to stand again. Furthermore, Ellie had used the most lethal form of venom in her last bite that she put all her energy into... Even Snake would not be able to clear it in a short span of time. So, he used the most simple, crude method to solve the problem.

Elvis remained silent, for he did not know the full story.

He only knew that the colorful snakes had sealed the entrance of the cave after Snake carried Gu Mengmeng back that day. By the time the snakes had left, there was only an unconscious Gu Mengmeng in the cave, and a huge piece of shedded snake skin beside her.

Gu Mengmeng calmed herself down, then continued, “He cut open his chest and gave me his gallbladder to neutralize the venom in my body so I could live. He then injected millenniums of disciplines in my body. Other than that snake skin, his everything... is on this mark. Oh, now the snake skin is on my body too.”

Gu Mengmeng continued, “Do you know why he wanted the mark on the back of my neck?”

Elvis shook his head. Based on Snake’s domineering personality, he would have imprinted the mark on Gu Mengmeng’s chest, occupying that position.

However, he chose the back of her neck? Why?

Chapter 589 - I Aged A Thousand Years Overnight

Gu Mengmeng responded, “Because he wanted to protect me from behind to prevent any sneak attacks. He said... he wanted to be the pair of open eyes on my back.”

Gu Mengmeng side-eyed Elvis, asking, “Funny, isn’t it? He’s dead, yet talking about protection... It’s just a mark, what can it protect...”

Elvis remained silent for a moment, then stretched out his right hand, transforming it into a wolf claw before suddenly attacking the back of Gu Mengmeng’s head.

“Ah...!” With a loud shrill of pain, Elvis fell onto the ground, with black venom all over his claw. His skin instantly started to rot.

Gu Mengmeng turned around, her eyebrows slightly furrowed. She flipped and jumped down, grabbing Elvis’ arm and putting it beside her mouth, gently licking the venom on it.

Gu Mengmeng’s tiny tongue easily cleaned up the venom, simultaneously forming a thin piece of transparent film on Elvis’ hand.

Gu Mengmeng watched Elvis silently, without a word.

However, Elvis smiled, “Look, although it is just a mark... but he can still protect you from behind.”

Gu Mengmeng sighed, “Don’t do such silly things to punish yourself, you should not feel apologetic to me, for you have done enough.”

Elvis' eyes sagged, replying in low spirits, "But I did not manage to protect you."

Gu Mengmeng responded, "It was not your fault. After all... it was the result of my stubbornness."

Elvis sat up straight, hugging Gu Mengmeng back into his arms again, "I swear, I will become stronger, even stronger, and will never let you get hurt again."

Gu Mengmeng smiled bitterly, "I have now... inherited Snake's everything... including his fighting skills and memories. Looking at the Beast World as a whole, I fear that no one else can hurt me now."

Startled, Elvis replied, "You mean..."

Gu Mengmeng nodded, touching the mark at the back of her neck once again, "Snake and I have become a single entity, he gave me his everything, very... thoroughly."

Elvis smiled bitterly, "This... should be a good thing. You won't have to worry about anyone plotting against you in future. You... won't need me anymore either."

Gu Mengmeng gently hugged Elvis back, pressing her lips, "I aged a thousand years overnight, and am still not used to many things. But one thing is for sure, you are my family, and I will need you at any time."

Elvis did not say a word, only gently returning Gu Mengmeng's hug.

Both of them did not say anything more.

A deafening sound came travelling from afar, and was coming closer.

Gu Mengmeng stood up, turning around to welcome it.

A huge python appeared before Gu Mengmeng, his head that was as big as the head of a train poked at the tip of Gu Mengmeng's nose. She would have screamed before, but now... she felt nothing, looking up at it, speaking calmly, “Haven’t I told you, I hate snakes, hate shit, hate snakes that look like shit.”

With that, Gu Mengmeng slapped the snake on its head, before the train head-like head smacked the ground, caving about half a metre into the ground.

Wabei transformed into human form, standing up and rubbed his chin, pointing at Gu Mengmeng’s nose, “Snake, I want to challenge you!”

Gu Mengmeng squinted her eyes, laughing coldly, “You can’t win me.”

Wabei was angered, as if he was trying his hardest to hold back some emotions, roaring, “I don’t care, I just want to challenge you. I want to defeat you, then replace you as the owner of the Snake King valley.”

Gu Mengmeng acknowledged, then said “Fine, you are now the owner of the Snake King valley.”

Wabei roared, “I do not need your pity! I want to snatch it with my own ability!”

With that, Wabei attacked Gu Mengmeng. Gu Mengmeng only tilted her body slightly, before she stepped on Wabei’s back, stomping him onto the ground directly. She looked down at him, replying coldly, “You’re so annoying.”

Wabei’s eyes turned red, but not out of anger.

He rolled, transforming into a python and attacked Gu Mengmeng once again.

Elvis wanted to join the battle, but was obstructed by Gu Mengmeng’s gesture.

Gu Mengmeng looked at Elvis, “Snake owed it to him, so I will return on his behalf. Do not get yourself involved.”

Wabei’s fangs appeared right in front of Gu Mengmeng the moment she finished speaking. His mouth that was gaping open had Gu Mengmeng within it, and a simple closure of the mouth would cause Gu Mengmeng to be swallowed whole.

Then, the next second.

The giant python landed on the ground, accompanied by countless specks of dust.

The world was shaking, and everything was in a double image.

Like a lifeless strand of noodle, Wabei was pressed flat on the ground. Even Elvis was not spared either, for he too was pressed onto the ground, incapable of movement.

Gu Mengmeng took a deep breath, then withdrew her beast pressure. She walked to Wabei, kicking him, “How weak.”

Wabei slowly transformed back into human form, but did not stand up, only sitting cross-legged at his original spot while lowering his head, muttering, “Thanks.”

Gu Mengmeng kept her frozen face, also sitting beside Wabei, cross-legged, “I have found my sons, so I will be leaving... tomorrow. Although Snake never fancied this Snake King valley, this place exists only because of him, so I do not wish for it to be destroyed just like that. You... can guard here, right?”

Wabei looked to the side, and met with Gu Mengmeng’s eyes before immediately lowering his head, staring dead at his own shadow.

That was the only way for him to continue fantasizing about how the person who battled with him and was sitting beside him was Snake.

“Since I did not win you, the Snake King valley is still yours. Guard it if you will, otherwise... otherwise...”

Gu Mengmeng patted Wabei’s shoulder, “Actually... Snake really cared about you.”

Wabei stiffened his neck and turned to the other side, not looking at Gu Mengmeng, “Yea right! He only dreamt of his own release, what about mine? I’ve lived for 800 years and looked for him to fight for 800 years. He was my only goal and role model, now that he’s gone... Where should I head to in life?”

Gu Mengmeng sighed. She knew too, that Wabei did not want Snake King valley all that much. Just like Snake, he was too lonely, so battling had become a twisted way for them to express how they cared and interacted with each other. Although it had always been Snake who won Wabei, but Snake never intended to kill him. Furthermore, in the long thousand years without Gu Mengmeng... If there was anything that Snake could look forward to, it would perhaps be the occasional challenges from Wabei.

Gu Mengmeng stayed silent for a moment, before responding, "Sorry."

Wabei grunted without a reply.

Gu Mengmeng felt that, some things should still be clarified, so she continued, "I know you and Ellie... but Snake killed Ellie for me. I am very glad that you could come today, because at least not everyone he cared for, died because of me."

Wabei replied, "Why would I fear the consequences of the mere mating contract? Pfft, what a joke! You don't have to say nice things on his behalf, what care or not... Gross!"

Chapter 591 - Just You Wait

Perhaps she was affected by Snake's memories, but it was difficult for Gu Mengmeng to stir up much emotion. As for Ellie, Gu Mengmeng did not wish to bring her up much either, only continuing to Wabei, "Do you really not wish to stay in the Snake King valley?"

Wabei's expression darkened, "Stay here to remind myself, that I will never surpass him?"

Gu Mengmeng watched Wabei silently, then sighed, "Then what plans do you have from here on?"

Wabei replied, "Aren't you planning to return to Saint Nazaire?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded.

Wabei responded, "I will go back with you."

Gu Mengmeng raised her brows, looking at Wabei, "You know I hate..."

Suddenly, Wabei sprang up, "Didn't you inherit Snake's everything? My challenges are included in his everything. Let me tell you, unless I defeat Snake, you have to fight me every time I look for you."

Gu Mengmeng stared fixedly at Wabei. She knew, he was probably the most upset that Snake was gone.

So, Gu Mengmeng grunted indifferently, "Overconfident."

Startled, Wabei looked at Gu Mengmeng, not saying anything for a long while. He only sat quietly beside her, furrowing his brows slightly.

“I know you hate snakes that look like shit, so I will try my best not to reveal my original form in front of you. If only you occasionally... speak to me in Snake’s tone like you just did, fight with me when I can no longer hold it in, and that would suffice for me.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled gently, stood up, patted her hands then slapped Wabei on his back, so hard that he flew out of the cave. She raised her head, “So annoying.”

Turning around, Gu Mengmeng did not look at Wabei’s expression.

She only heard him shouting behind her, “Just you wait, one day I will defeat you and throw you out of the Snake King valley!”

Gu Mengmeng knew, Wabei was crying...

The huge commotion outside had the three little wolves awake. They wanted to come out to see Gu Mengmeng, but were blocked by Elvis.

When Gu Mengmeng returned to the cave, the emotions she was feeling was a little difficult to express.

Her son, who was barely a year old, was standing right beside Elvis and staring at herself. He still had the body of a child and looked like he was about four or five.

Memories inherited from Snake told her that the children’s physical abilities spiked when they saw her life in danger and leveled up forcefully. Such rushed, forceful methods of upgrading have always possessed damage to bodies.

Gu Mengmeng caressed her sons’ faces, trying to recognize, “You are Hede?”

Out of the three, the one who seemed the most learned nodded, taking a step forward, chanting, “Mother Beast.”

Gu Mengmeng forced a smile, “I saw, you were the first to transform and bring your two younger brothers to rush over. However, in the future, I hope you will bring them to escape. If it weren't for Snake rushing in time, the four of us would have died right there and then. In such special situations that challenge my capabilities, it is only wise to save as many of us as we can, understand?"

Hede shook his head, "We are males, we should protect the females in the family. If we cannot even save our own mother, then we might as well die.'

Gu Mengmeng wanted to say something, but the youngest Kanwu took a step forward, "Mommy, don't worry, we will work hard to become even stronger, so we will never let you experience such things in the future."

Chapter 592 - I'll Give My Mother Face, And Not Haggle Over This With You

Kanwu's eyes resemble Elvis the most, as blue and deep as his. Gu Mengmeng caressed the tiny face of her son, "Kanwu is really a brave child. But did you know? The blood of snakes are poisonous, so you could have been poisoned when you bit into Ellie's throat like you did today. If not for..."

If not for Snake giving his blood to the three little ones while saving her, perhaps she would have had to face the pain of losing her children when she woke up.

Jialue came forward and hugged Gu Mengmeng's thigh, his tiny face looking up at his mother, "Mother Beast, don't worry, we will definitely think of more ways to protect you in the future, I won't let my brothers get hurt nor let Mother Beast worry again. I want to be the smartest Jialue for Mother Beast and live up to the name that you gave to me."

Gu Mengmeng kissed Jialue's tiny face, gently rubbing his furry little ears, "Jialue is so sensible."

Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng up, looking coldly at the three wolf cubs.

He could not help but say, these little things just knew how to gain the affection of Gu Mengmeng. He could not appease Gu Mengmeng no matter how hard he tried, but her spirits were lifted just by their words.

With their ability to speak now, they have become much bigger threats.

But.....

For the first time, he felt lucky that he had the three wolf cubs around.

If it were not for them suddenly transforming and holding back Ellie for a while, Snake might not have had sufficient time to save Gu Mengmeng.

“Your Mother Beast is tired and needs rest. Go outside.”

“Why?” Kanwu took a step forward, glaring at Elvis with a face of furious, “We want to stay by mommy’s side and protect her.”

Elvis ground his teeth, “I will protect my own female.”

Kanwu did not back down, “Really? Then where were you when she was in danger?”

Elvis felt his chest emptied, his fists clenched but incapable of saying a word.

Gu Mengmeng patted Kanwu’s little head, “Kanwu, you cannot speak to daddy like that.”

Although Kanwu felt wronged, but he did not want mommy to be angry, so he lowered his head, “Alright mommy, I know.”

Gu Mengmeng squatted down and looked at her three sons, “Your daddy is very brave. It was because of him and Lea tried their best to clear the trap that Cole had set, that Snake could rush back successfully in time to save us. Although they weren’t able to appear, but it did not mean they did not do anything. So, you cannot think of daddy like that, alright?”

Kanwu raised his head, looking at Gu Mengmeng then at Elvis, “I’ll give my mother face and not haggle over this with you.”

Elvis frowned, wondering why this little one seemed more and more annoying.

Hede pulled Kanwu, “Alright, stop disrupting mommy’s rest. Let’s go outside and wait for Daddy Lea’s return.”

Gu Mengmeng raised her brows, asking, “What did you guys call Lea?”

The three little ones replied unanimously, “Daddy Lea.”

Gu Mengmeng was amused. They did not even call Elvis “Daddy”, but called Lea “Daddy”?

“Why so?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

Hede replied, “Although he did not mate with mommy, but he is a family member approved by you and Beast Father, so we call him Daddy Lea.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded, the term “Daddy Lea” truly sounded very much different coming out of the children’s mouths compared to her own.

“Go.” Gu Mengmeng patted Kanwu’s tiny butt, then watched as the three brothers exited the cave.

Gu Mengmeng turned around to look at Elvis. She did not say anything, only pulling his arm.

Elvis took the opportunity to hug Gu Mengmeng in his arms, kissing her hair, “You just recovered, and still need to rest well.”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head, “I have great recovery capabilities now, and already don’t feel odd anymore. Furthermore, I don’t want to sleep. Everytime I close my eyes, I have Snake’s memories. Do you know... I can even see the previous messengers of the Beast Deity...”

Elvis lowered his head, gently rubbing Gu Mengmeng’s temple, “Not only did you inherit Snake’s memories, you also inherited all the memories from his family?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded helplessly, “Hmm, but many images are still very blurry, perhaps due to inability to clearly remember because it was too long ago, but the memories of Snake and his father remains very crisp in my head. Then... it seemed like I once loved the male of the previous messengers of the Beast Deity, then I was lonely for a thousand years, followed by falling in love with my own male... Weird isn’t it? I’m even starting to wonder, who exactly am I?

Pain filled Elvis’ eyes, as he hugged and kissed Gu Mengmeng, “You are my Xiao Meng, my mighty Queen.”

Gu Mengmeng’s fingers softly brushed against Elvis’ chest. The scar there had not fully faded, showing the vast difference in healing abilities between a fifth-level beast and the Beast King.

“Does it still hurt?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

Elvis held Gu Mengmeng's little hand that was brushing against the scar on his chest, shifting it to the left, "Yes."

Gu Mengmeng felt the beating of his heart from her fingertips. She looked up and into the deep, mystic blue eyes of Elvis, pursing her lips, "I don't want to lie and tell you that I'm fine. After waking up from that nightmare, I became a thousand years older. I'm very confused, uneasy, and I don't know how to face the fact that Snake sacrificed his life for me. However, I can assure that I will slowly get better. Be it for you, our sons, Lea and the tribe... or for Snake."

Elvis held Gu Mengmeng's hand, nodding, "I know you will get better, you certainly will."

Gu Mengmeng did not respond to Elvis anymore, only looking up towards the entrance of the cave.

Now... she has excellent hearing.

"Lea is back." Gu Mengmeng said.

Elvis asked, "Do you have anything to say to him?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded, side-eyeing Elvis, "I know I promised to only have you as a partner in this lifetime, but... now I understand how persistent a male is once they are in love. Snake barely knew me for a month, but Lea... has been by my side for half a year. If you blame me..."

Elvis smiled, and did not let Gu Mengmeng continue, only gently kissing her hair, "I will never blame you. I will support you no matter what you do, and will find whatever you are searching for you."

Gu Mengmeng nodded, contemplating whether to say "Sorry" or "Thank you".

After hesitating for a while, Gu Mengmeng finally said, "Hubby, I love you."

The edges of Elvis' lips raised, "I know. And, I love you too."

With that, Elvis let go of Gu Mengmeng and exited the cave after looking longingly at her.

Elvis and Lea met at the entrance of the cave. Elvis patted Lea's shoulder, telling him, "Congratulations."

Chapter 594 - Lea, Let's Mate.

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Lea was startled, but Elvis had already brought the three children far away.

However, Lea could not bring himself to take a step into the cave.

Congratulations?

Gu Mengmeng almost died, but he did not manage to catch Cole.

Elvis had brought the children away and congratulated him before they left.

Gu Mengmeng was waiting for him in the cave...

Congratulations... the congratulatory subject was self-explanatory.

However, he did not dare to take that step forward.

Scared, how could he not be?

What if he thought wrong again? What if it was empty happiness? What if... Mengmeng said she did not want him again?

Now, does the title of the wisest man of the Beast World not sound like sarcasm? What could he possibly plot? He could not even protect the female that he loved.

Like a statue, Lea stood at the entrance of the cave, looking in, as if there was a great attraction that was inducing his gaze, fixing it such that it could barely move an inch.

However, it was as if his legs were rooted to the ground.

"Lea." Gu Mengmeng greeted, standing three feet away from him.

Lea did not know why, but he had an urge to run away.

“Let’s mate.” Gu Mengmeng took a step forward, extending an arm, “I don’t want the remaining 10 years of your life. I want you to be by my side for a long time.”

Lea did not say a word, only moving forward and grabbing onto Gu Mengmeng’s wrist, thrusting her into his arms, hugging her tightly, and he just wanted to hug so tight they would become one.

Gu Mengmeng clearly heard the quiver in each breath Lea took. Every cell in his body was boiling, but words were stuck in his throat as he could not say a single word.

Gu Mengmeng returned his hug, gently sticking her face on his chest, “I did not understand how determined a male would be when he fell in love with a female. If I had known, I would not have believed the bullshit of you having anything going on with Nina... In the end, I did not trust you enough in the past. However, I tortured you for so long for that reason. Sorry, I was wrong.”

Lea shook his head, and kissed Gu Mengmeng’s lips.

She was not wrong, how would she be wrong? She was his Mengmeng.

He was wrong, the one at fault for thinking everything was under his control, for taking things for granted, for not protecting her carefully, and letting go of her so easily for such weird reasons.

*1*Torture? How was that torture?

Till the end, she had never treated him harshly, such that he never had to break down in desperation. He had brought all the pain upon himself.

While she, had grabbed tightly onto his hand kindly every single time he fell into the depths of helplessness, What did she do wrong? Why did she have to apologize?

Lea carried Gu Mengmeng up bridal style, taking big strides into the cave.

Beast skin had been set aside beside the fire. Lea placed Gu Mengmeng down gently, flipping over and brushing his finger across Gu Mengmeng's tiny face softly, arranging the stray hair on her face, "Mengmeng, is it really you?"

Gu Mengmeng pulled Lea's hand, placing it on her cheeks, her pupils sparkling in the light, carrying warmth, "Who would dare to snatch my man from me, in this world?"

Lea smiled, hiding the happiness in his eyes, "No point snatching, they can't..."

Gu Mengmeng wrapped her arms around Lea's neck, pressing her lips and continued, "I have inherited all of Snake's powers, so I'm a tiny poisonous human. If we mate, it might cost your life... So, I can only mate using another method, would you... mind?"

Lea kissed Gu Mengmeng's lips deeply, replying in a husky voice, "I won't even mind being your beast pet for life, what else would I mind?"

Chapter 595 - : I Do Not Want To Regret Anymore

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Gu Mengmeng flipped over, gently pushing Lea up, both of them seated side by side.

Gu Mengmeng's finger was cold, as it poked between Lea's eyebrows. She looked into Lea's eyes, confirming once again, "The so-called mating, is the combination of two people's vital essences. I will extract a little of your blood from between your eyebrows and deliver it to my heart, and we can still achieve the mating contract. If you regret... there is still time to turn back."

1Lea had a loving smile, as he held Mengmeng's wrist with one hand, and her chin with the other.

"Having, owning me, then... allowing me to dedicate all of my loyalty to you. Mengmeng, do you know how long I have been waiting for this day?"

1Gu Mengmeng returned a smile, with the aura of the Beast King at her fingertips. She poked between Lea's eyebrows, and a drop of blood formed on Gu Mengmeng's finger. She then delivered the drop of blood to her heart, letting it integrate into her body.

She bit the tip of her own tongue and initiated the kissing of Lea's lips.

A bloody kiss signalled the end of the mating.

Lea's head turned heavy, and the world started spinning around him.

Gu Mengmeng got up, arranging her clothes that had been messed up, then gently caressing Lea's sleeping face, smiling, "I still owed you in the end, but I don't want to contemplate anymore... Who knows whether an accident would come before tomorrow? I... do not want to regret anymore.”

Gu Mengmeng ordered the little snakes to call Elvis and the children back.

Elvis originally did not walk too far, waiting a slight distance from the entrance of the cave to guard for Gu Mengmeng. Noticing the snakes calling out to them, he brought the three little ones back.

However, Elvis was stunned upon entrance into the cave.

What was going on? Gu Mengmeng was sitting there fine, but Lea was unconscious?

Gu Mengmeng smiled rather awkwardly, “That... he...”

Elvis frowned, sighing, “I told him to stop eavesdropping long ago, look now... he clearly cannot hold it right?”

“Uh...” Gu Mengmeng choked, smiling slightly and did not reply, adding, “Bring Lea along, let’s start our journey. We can’t delay with the venom in Chixuan’s body any longer.”

Elvis single handedly tucked Lea while carrying Gu Mengmeng in his other arm, “Then let’s first return to Sauder.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded, not saying a word.

Once Elvis left the cave, a huge army of snakes followed behind him. Initially, it was just the colorful snakes, but the further out they walked from the valley, the more snakes followed, who were also increasingly thicker in size. When they reached the entrance of the valley, even Wabei had tagged along.

Gu Mengmeng looked back frowning. She was no longer afraid of snakes now, but if such an extent of number of snakes were brought out, it could have caused trouble.

Gu Mengmeng patted Elvis, signaling him to let her down.

She took a few steps back, and looked at the crowd of snake beasts behind her.

When the snake beasts saw Gu Mengmeng stop, those who could transform into human form transformed, while those who could not arched their bodies straight, looking fixedly at Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng said, “I know you have been by the Snake King’s side for thousands of years, but now the Snake King is no longer with us. Although I have inherited his strength, but I will not stay in the Snake King valley to protect all of you forever. However, I can assure you that as long as I am around, nobody would dare to invade the Snake King valley to harm you all. So, stay for those who are willing to, and feel free to go explore the world if you would like to.”

Chapter 596 - So It's Nice, That It Wasn't A Dream

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

“Mighty Saintess...” A snake beast took a step forward, “What will happen to us, with you gone?”

Gu Mengmeng’s gaze swept across the crowd of snake beasts and realised, other than Wabei, there were practically no orcs that were above third-level.

Was it the consequence of breaking the mating contract after Snake killed Ellie? There was a lack of strong members in the Snake King valley.

Ha, no wonder Ellie dared to lay hands on her. She was betting on whether Snake would sacrifice the lives of the strongest in the Snake King valley just to have her killed.

Sadly, she lost.

In Snake’s eyes, there was practically nothing that was more important than Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng’s eyebrows furrowed at the thought of Snake, her heart aching.

“After I send Saintess to Saint Nazaire, I will return and guard the Snake King valley on his behalf.” Wabei took a step forward, transforming into a half-orc, straightening his snake body, which was almost three floors in height, as he looked down at the crowd of snake beasts, asking, “Any more questions?”

Gu Mengmeng side-eyed, chuckling.

She knew, the “his” Wabei referred to was not herself, but Snake.

The snake orcs lowered their body in expression of agreement, before Wabei transformed into human form again, standing behind Gu Mengmeng, “Let’s go.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded, bring Elvis, Lea, Wabei and the three little ones out of the entrance of the Snake King valley.

Once they exited, they saw Ian, who was guarding at the entrance. He had always looked sickly, but now he looked even weaker.

Gu Mengmeng walked forward, bit her finger then squeezed out a drop of blood and rubbed it on Ian’s lips, “You have worked hard, for this period.”

Stunned, Ian wanted to rub the blood off his mouth, but realised that it had already seeped into his mouth and was taking effect speedily. It was as if all the blood in his body had been lit up, that boiling feeling was painful yet it brought a sense of relief. The feeling of inability to exert energy was fading away... She had, neutralised the venom in him?

Gu Mengmeng knew how confused Ian was feeling, but she did not wish to explain any further, only saying, “Let’s go to Sauder first, and I will slowly tell you the rest later.”

Ian did not say anything, only following behind Gu Mengmeng silently, having high alert against Wabei, who he saw as a potential enemy.

Wabei could not be bothered with him. If it were not for Snake who had ordered for him to be kept alive, that mere third-level bird would have long been a dish entering his body. He would not care to fight with a dish.

Gu Mengmeng’s body conditions were much better than before, so the progress of the journey was much faster than before.

Lea woke up that night.

Rubbing his head, the first thing he did when he opened his eyes was to look for Gu Mengmeng.

Tilting his head, he saw her zoning out beside the fire. Lea's gaze subconsciously became more loving.

Supporting his body, he sat beside Gu Mengmeng, wrapping his big tail around her waist, gently calling out, "Mengmeng."

Gu Mengmeng looked to the side at Lea, came back to her senses and smiled, "You're awake."

Lea's hand gently caressed Gu Mengmeng's tiny face, his gaze fell on her left ear, smiling extremely lovingly.

There was a white snow fox leaning on Gu Mengmeng's ear, his head at her earlobe facing upwards, as if he was running along her ear inside it. His big, furry tail occupied the outside of her ear, like a specially made earring, vivid as life."

"So... It's nice, that it wasn't a dream."

Chapter 597 - To Save Chixuan, I Have To Find Cole

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Three days later, Gu Mengmeng and gang arrived back in Sauder.

Sandy and Collin carried Chixuan to the stone house that Gu Mengmeng was living in, handing him to her.

Gu Mengmeng used her blood to feed to Chixuan, but he still did not wake up.

Gu Mengmeng frowned, not understanding why.

Based on Snake's memory, her blood should have the effects of antivenom. The blood Ellie used on the little wolves should be the same, since they were able to save Hede and brothers, there was no reason it could not save Chixuan?

Upon finding out about Gu Mengmeng's return, Dylan rushed over immediately, only going to see Gu Mengmeng after discussing with Lea. He was a little slow, but he still said, "There might be other things in little master Chixuan's body, other than Ellie's venom."

Gu Mengmeng asked, "What does that mean?"

Dylan replied, "Cole has never been one to put all his eggs in one basket, and is used to double protection. He dared to return little master Cole to you, which meant that he was certain he could make sure he would never wake up. Such skeptical people like him, would never bet everything on someone else."

Gu Mengmeng frowned, hugging Chixuan and sank into deep thought.

Gu Mengmeng was now extremely clear, as to how Cole once presented the offering to Snake.

Snake was no idiot either, he would certainly know Cole only treated him as a form of insurance, yet he still called Ellie to assist him. Firstly, it was because his interest towards Gu Mengmeng as the messenger of the Beast Deity was purely from what he heard about her world, so he did not take it too seriously. Secondly, it was because in Snake's eyes, there was nothing to Cole's methods... that one could praise. No matter what trick Cole has up his sleeve, he would always have a way to get him to send Gu Mengmeng to the Snake King valley.

However, from Cole's ways, her definitely was not one to only have a single method to doing things.

"So... To save Chixuan, I have to find Cole..." Gu Mengmeng brooded over everything that happened in the past, her brows tightly furrowed.

Hede and brothers surrounded Chixuan who was unconscious, sniffing and licking him gently. Hede pushed Chixuan, "Xuan, Xuan? Stop sleeping, come play with us? Look, Lue, Wu and I have evolved into half-orcs, so get up too, and you can evolve once you are awake."

Chixuan remained still, only silently lying there.

Jialue sighed, clearly a child but having a sense of maturity, as he gently tapped into Hede's shoulders, "Don't worry, I believe mommy will have a plan."

Kanwu ran down from the bed, to Gu Mengmeng's side, looking up at her, "Mommy, how can we wake Chixuan up? You are the mighty messenger of the Beast Deity, surely you would know, wouldn't you?"

Gu Mengmeng squatted down and carressed her son's little face, looking into his clear and expectant eyes, but shook her head, "Mommy doesn't know how to wake Chixuan up either, but I will try my best. Believe in mommy, alright?"

Kanwu nodded solemnly, “I believe in mommy.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled, looking at Chixuan and frowned again.

Kanwu’s little hand gently rubbed against the center of Gu Mengmeng’s eyebrows, rubbing her frown away, “Don’t worry mommy, if all else fails, just ask your Beast Father. He is the mighty Beast Deity, surely he would know everything.”

Chapter 598 - I'll Protect You Forever.

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback for a second before her eyes glimmered as she hugged Kanwu, landing a kiss on him. "You're indeed my son, how smart of you."

Kanwu felt absurd from the kiss as his face turned red instantly. Trying to force himself to act calm, he said, "That.....of course."

After Kanwu finished speaking, he ran to Hede and his brothers before they all surrounded Chixuan to wake him up with all ideas they could come up with.

Gu Mengmeng instructed Lea to send Dylan away before she walked to another room and lay on the bed.

Elvis followed her over and upon seeing her lie down, he asked, "Do you want to sleep for a while? I'll wake you up when Lea's done with dinner."

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and said, "When I was unconscious, I dreamed of the Beast Deity."

Elvis frowned and asked, "Your behavior diverged? Which part of it?"

Elvis's anxiety came from the analysis Lea told him before, the Beast Deity would point out and correct any behavior divergence of the messenger in their dreams. If the messenger did not make any changes or try to recuperate their mistakes to salvage the situation, the Beast Deity would be angered and in the end, the messenger would be punished.

He was dead scared of the punishment because whatever punishment it was, he would never let Gu Mengmeng be injured.

So, if Gu Mengmeng's behavior had diverged somewhere, even if he was asked to dig Snake up and replace him to die, he would definitely do it.

Gu Mengmeng patted Elvis's arm lightly and gestured him to not be nervous. Then, she spoke in a calm tone, "He's not here to warn me, instead, he seemed like he was greeting me and he even instructed me to maintain a kind heart."

Elvis looked at Gu Mengmeng in half-doubt as he questioned, "Are you sure? Did you miss out anything?"

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and said, "I won't miss out anything. You know too that my memory became extremely good after I inherited Snake's ability."

Elvis thought for a moment and finally put his heart slightly at ease. Grabbing onto Gu Mengmeng's little hand, he asked, "So, you want to find the Beast Deity in your dreams and ask him to teach you how to save Chixuan?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded.

Elvis was pretty dejected as he sighed and said, "In the past, I've always thought that I was invincible but now, why am I always so useless? Dreams.....how nice would it be if I can enter your dreams with you."

Gu Mengmeng gave a small smile as she assured him, "Hubby, you're doing it very well."

Gu Mengmeng knew that Elvis's confidence had decreased until none was left after experiencing Snake's torment. Especially after going through Ellie's suicidal terror attack, Elvis always felt a sense of helplessness enveloping him.

And just nice, at this time, she had one more pair of fox ears on her.

Gu Mengmeng felt really apologetic and guilty towards Elvis but she did not know how to comfort him.

Let it be, saving her son should be her priority.

Gu Mengmeng let Elvis hold her hand as she slowly closed her eyes and said, “Hubby, can you stay by my side to accompany me, that way, I can feel very at ease.”

Elvis slowly leaned forward and landed a kiss on Gu Mengmeng’s forehead, saying, “I’ll protect you forever.”

The sunlight shone through the window, landing gently on Gu Mengmeng’s face. It was warm and very comfortable.

The warmth from Elvis’s palm was very supportive as well.

Gu Mengmeng slowly fell asleep in an extremely relaxed environment and her faith supported her in finding the white dense fog no matter what.

Gu Mengmeng slowly fell into a deep sleep but her brows were still deeply furrowed.

Elvis sat by the bed, staring at her restless look. He whispered to himself, “If I can become stronger, will you not have this kind of uneasiness on your face anymore?”

Chapter 599 - No Matter How Ugly You Are, I Still Like You.

Slowly, a blur and dim white scene appeared in front of Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng tried to shout, “Beast Deity? Beast Deity?”

There was no reply, not even an echo.

Everything here was dead quiet, no life could be felt here.

Gu Mengmeng touched her way through the deep ends of the fog but she could not see anything other than the white fog.

“Beast Deity? Beast Deity?” Gu Mengmeng tried to continue shouting but she still could not get any reply.

Gu Mengmeng frowned, did she walk into the wrong door or was the Beast Deity not at home?

She was in doubt when an icy cold figure wrapped Gu Mengmeng from behind.

Gu Mengmeng was startled as she emitted her beast pressure upon instincts but the person behind her was not affected by it at all. Instead, he chuckled lightly and said, “Yeah, not bad. You still know how to use the weapon I left you to protect yourself.”

Gu Mengmeng was shocked as she froze entirely, not moving an inch.

“Twomeng,” As he said; he stretched one hand out from behind Gu Mengmeng, facing his palm up in front of her.

Gu Mengmeng lift up her shaky hand and held her fist weakly before she slowly placed her hand on his palm.

Wasn't it magical? She just heard his voice and saw his one hand but she could actually recognize who that person hugging her was.

"Snake? Is it you?" Gu Mengmeng did not turn back as she just asked softly.

He closed his big hand and wrapped Gu Mengmeng's little hand in his palm firmly. Then, he tugged his arm and Gu Mengmeng turned half a round before she stood facing him.

Raising her head, Gu Mengmeng saw that familiar and wickedly handsome face. Cool light was radiating from his jade green eyes but they did not make Gu Mengmeng scared.

That natural aura which exuded dignity and that high but mighty posture only made Gu Mengmeng feel at ease.

She pounced into Snake's arms voluntarily and the tears she held in ever since she woke up finally dropped down her face.

Snake was shocked as he held Gu Mengmeng's little chin and asked, "You're originally ugly but you're uglier when you cry."

"I'll just cry, I'm this ugly. If you don't like it, don't look then!" Gu Mengmeng was rather willful as she cried even more and uglier deliberately, creating a huge scene.

Snake's gaze was tender as he lightly touched Gu Mengmeng's face, comforting her, "No matter how ugly you are, I still like you. You know that you're the only color in my eyes."

Upon hearing Snake's words, Gu Mengmeng stopped crying and while sniffing, she lowered her head to avoid his gaze. She said softly, "Liking me is probably the unluckiest thing in your lifetime. Ha, you're just unlucky once in a thousand years but in the end, you sacrificed your life.....you shouldn't have saved me back then. You should've just let me crash to death from the skies."

Snake pinched Gu Mengmeng's little face and said, "Meeting you is not the unluckiest thing, that Beast Deity pitied me for going through a thousand years of life in shackles so he sent you to rescue me. But.....I really can't bear to force that thousand-years of loneliness on you."

Gu Mengmeng raised her head and said, "Then, can you discuss with the Beast Deity to let you come back? I'll return everything to you, can you come back?"

Snake chuckled lightly and said, "I can't come back anymore but the Beast Deity promised me that he will send me to another world to find you as a form of compensation."

Gu Mengmeng sniffed and asked, "What do you mean?"

Snake cupped Gu Mengmeng's little face and leaned forward to accommodate to her height. Looking right into her eyes, he replied her, "I'll head to your world and find you before you transmigrate. Then.....possess you solely."

Chapter 600 - Snake, I Like You.

Gu Mengmeng eyes watered, looking as if she didn't quite understand what Snake meant.

Snake smiled while pinching Gu Mengmeng's little face, saying, "So, I had been freed from the shackles. To me, death means that my happiness has just started. Twomeng, I left everything to you not because I want you to live on my behalf. I just want you to live well for yourself."

"Don't complicate your life with all your messy memories, just live your life like how you want. Smile if you're happy and cry if you're sad. If anyone dares to bully you, just hit them back. If anyone dares to plot against you, just torture them to death. This is the reason why I left everything to you."

"My Twomeng still suits this heartless personality best."

Gu Mengmeng's nose felt sore as she punched Snake's chest and questioned, "Are you complimenting me? Why does it sound so awkward?"

Snake held onto Gu Mengmeng's little fist, holding it inside his hands carefully and delicately, as if he was appreciating a precious art piece. He looked at her hand seriously and in detail, as if he wanted to remember every single line on her hand. Then, he said, "I don't have much time left so you've to remember clearly every word I say."

Gu Mengmeng nodded as she clamped her lips and kept quiet to listen to Snake's confession.

"After I injected my abilities into your body, I'm able to share all your memories. I know that you've always treated me as a friend and not as a male from the start to the end. Although it's quite regretful, it's too late to change anything already. In that world, after I found you, I will never let these kinds of things happen again.”

Gu Mengmeng raised her head and looked at Snake with shining eyes, confessing, “Snake, I like you.”

Snake was taken aback for a second before he broke out into a smile and said, “My Twomeng is so gentle and soft-hearted. I clearly know it’s fake but I still have to thank you for telling me this.”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head, wanting to explain herself.

However, Snake did not give her the chance as his body started to become transparent. Snake quickly made use of the time to leave his last words, “You’re Gu Mengmeng, not Snake. Regardless of whether it’s the Snake King Valley or Wabei, none of them are your responsibilities. You don’t have the duty to act as my replacement in front of them. Just live your life well and use my strength to.....protect yourself.....”

“Twomeng.....I like you.....”

“Twomeng.....thank you.....”

“Twomeng.....I.....”

Snake completely disappeared in front of Gu Mengmeng and no matter how much she tried to reach out for him, she could not catch even the slightest sight of him. Her chest tightened until she could not breathe as she squatted on the ground, wailing loudly.

Did she not like Snake? Did she only treat him as a friend?

Yeah, that moment before she shared her memories with Snake, she only treated him as a friend.

But after that, when she got hold of Snake’s memories, she clearly knew how much Snake liked her and cherished her. The scenes of every good thing he did for her started replaying in her mind like a destined parting movie. The sweeter they were, the more sorrowful the ending was.

Gu Mengmeng plopped down on the ground and shouted at the top of her voice, “Snake, it’s not that I don’t like you! I just.....don’t have the chance to tell you! I like you! I like you! I like you!

A warm hand was placed on Gu Mengmeng’s shoulder. She was crying until she could not lift her head up so the owner of the hand squatted down and used a squarish white silk handkerchief to wipe her tears away, comforting her at the same time, “Child, don’t cry. Snake didn’t disappear, he just went to another world to find you.”

Chapter 601 - It's Nice Meeting You For The First Time, My Daughter.

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

“I’m here! Where is he going to look for me?” Gu Mengmeng hollered.

That person was still very gentle and he said with a kind voice, “He went to your original world to find you before you transmigrated. He’ll live life in happiness so don’t cry, alright?”

Gu Mengmeng wiped her tears away and finally could see the person in front of her clearly. There was no white mustache or hair and he looked like he was just thirty plus years old but the level of tolerance and calmness that resembled an ocean could be seen in his eyes. That was a type of wisdom, farsightedness and an indescribable kindness.

“You’re the....Beast Deity?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

The guy nodded and replied, “Yeah, it’s nice meeting you for the first time....my daughter.”

Gu Mengmeng blushed as she hiccuped from crying too much. Sniffing again, she asked, “Are you aware of me spouting nonsense in the Beast World?”

The man chuckled and replied, “How’s that spurting nonsense? If you’re willing to be my daughter, then you’ll be my daughter. I don’t mind.”

Gu Mengmeng sniffed and turned her head away, refusing him, “But I mind.”

That man did not force her too as he said, “I know you’re here for Chixuan but.....I can’t help you.”

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback for a moment before she immediately knelt on the ground to hug onto the man’s arm, pleading, “Father, you’re my blood-related Father. You’ve to save your grandson!”

The man did not know whether to cry or laugh by Gu Mengmeng’s reaction so he just lightly patted her head and said, “It’s not because I don’t want to save him, it’s just that the Beast World has its own principles. If I forcefully intrude in its matters, it would only make things worse. All I can do is to guide.”

Gu Mengmeng looked up and said, “Can you please say words a human can understand? I don’t understand what you’re saying at all.”

The Beast Deity remained silent for a while before sitting down cross-legged next to Gu Mengmeng. He said, “You inherited Snake’s memories so you should also know about the previous messenger of the Beast Deity, right?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and answered him, “Yeah, I’m aware of some parts. They kind of started from how she found Snake’s Father, I’m not that sure about the parts before that.”

The Beast Deity still looked as if he wanted to smile but did not. He emitted an absurd holy halo that gave off the impression of a God loving the world. Gu Mengmeng truly felt like she was going to convert to his religion just by sitting next to him.

“The previous messenger of the Beast Deity is called Wang Xiaoxin. Over in your world, she’s an honorary advisor from the Yi Jing Association. The reason why I chose her was because she had strong attainments regarding metaphysics and her mission was to bring ‘faith’ to the Beast World.”

Gu Mengmeng digested the Beast Deity’s words. Actually, before the living Beast Deity appeared in front of her eyes, she was an absolute freethinker. She never believed in any Gods or else why did they not provided her aid when she was suffering back in those years? She had always been kind and never committed any ruthless wrongdoings before but she was still abandoned by her parents and had to live a cold and hungry life.

But now, a living God was sitting in front of her, his entire aura emitting a natural halo and he even sat down cross-legged to talk and explain to you in a down-to-earth manner. This made Gu Mengmeng waver.

Could she still say that there was no God in this world? Then who was the one sitting in front of her?

But waver was waver, the so-called metaphysics was all-along still swindle and bluff in Gu Mengmeng's perspective. There was still an honorary advisor from the Yi Jing Association involved, it was probably just a conman who could play a double game when she spoke to different people.

The Beast Deity seemed like he knew what Gu Mengmeng was thinking about so he was not angry too. He just smiled and said, "When she transmigrated here, she was as old as you. She was also 18 years old but.....she had already gotten a psychological doctorate degree."

Chapter 602 - Are You Being Sarcastic Towards My Stupidity?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

F!

Gu Mengmeng looked at the Beast Deity in grievance and asked, “Are you being sarcastic towards my stupidity?”

The Beast Deity gently shook his head and said, “Of course not. I’m just telling you why I can’t step forward to save Chixuan.”

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips, for her son, let alone being sarcastic towards her poor grades, even if he said she was a natural moron and said that she was the dumbest in the world, she had no comment.

The Beast Deity was still smiling as he continued, “When she came to the Beast World, she was competing hypnosis together with a few top-notch psychologists.”

Gu Mengmeng stared at the Beast Deity in shock as she questioned, “Hypnosis can still be competed? Do they find a few people to see who can hypnotize those people first?”

The Beast Deity shook his head and explained, “Those hypnotists entered a room at the same time and then hypnotized one another. All of them are professionals so it was not an easy task to succeed. That scene of a few authorized figures competing while not admitting defeat easily resemble fencing at Mount Hua, right?”

Gu Mengmeng looked at the Beast Deity and chuckled, commenting, “Immortals watch television too? Are you a Jin Yong fan?”

The Beast Deity touched his nose and said, “I’ve to choose suitable candidates to guide the people in the Beast World so how can I not do some research of your world first?”

Gu Mengmeng burst out into laughter and questioned, “Your way of research as an elderly is to watch television?”

The Beast Deity cleared his throat and appeared embarrassed but he was not angry. He continued, “I brought Wang Xiaoxin into the Beast World through that hypnosis but she thought that everything in the Beast World was just the effect of hypnosis so she resisted it with all her might, trying to wake up from the hypnosis. She tried to find everything that could allow her to escape and in her eyes, she saw everyone as an illusion in her hypnosis.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned and tried to recall the decisiveness and relentless personality of Wang Xiaoxin. So it was not because she was naturally ruthless but because she thought that everything was fake. So the things she did despite being unwilling was just her forcing herself to wake up, hoping that she could not withstand the torment?

The Beast Deity added, “After that, she became crazier and crazier. If everything carried on, she would exterminate the entire Beast World until nothing’s left so.....I entered her dreams and told her the method to escape the ‘hypnosis’. As long as she could achieve it, I will let her leave.”

Gu Mengmeng’s understanding towards hypnosis was only limited to the scenes from television dramas, something about forcing people who had amnesia to recall their past that they did not want to face or distorting others’ remains and also hypnotizing the damn fatso to dance in ‘The Return of the Condor Heroes’.....

The Beast Deity said, “She believed my words and thought that it was the key to escape from the hypnosis. So, she did all the terms I raised but.....she used the most resolute and cruel method.”

Gu Mengmeng raised her head and asked, “Such as mating with a cold-blooded Snake Beast to give birth to a son with the bloodline of a Beast

King then using him as a key to transmigrate back to the modern world?”

The Beast Deity nodded and said, “I eventually still thought too highly of the phrase ‘maternal love’. This proves that television dramas are all lies, not every Mother treats their children as their flesh and blood and not all are willing to change themselves for their children.”

Gu Mengmeng bit her lower lip and her brows were tightly furrowed together. She said, “So you lied to her about Snake being the key? Just so that she will not bear to leave her child and thus be willing to stay in the Beast World?”

Chapter 603 - I Didn't Lose You Even Until Death

The Beast Deity shook his head and said, "She's a professional psychologist, even if I was the one who lied in front of her, she could see through it with one glance. So, Snake being the key was true."

Gu Mengmeng frowned and asked only after remaining silent for a while, "So, did she return to her world?"

The Beast Deity stared at Gu Mengmeng quietly before shaking his head. "She stayed here for Snake's Father."

Gu Mengmeng widened her eyes in astonishment at the Beast Deity. Frowning, she asked, "Didn't she think that everything was just a hallucination? She could even bear to leave her own son, how would she...."

The Beast Deity was still smiling with a tint of disappointment in his smile. He asked, "Are you interested in hearing about what happened after Snake was born?"

Gu Mengmeng bit her lower lip before nodding.

The Beast Deity said, "Snake's memory should've stopped after his Father threw him into the winter lake, right?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded, admitting to what he just said.

The Beast Deity continued, "His Father threw the snake egg into the winter lake right in front of Wang Xiaoxin and told her that he was different from the other males. He was unable to let her leave him and wallow in sadness alone just because of her desire. He told Wang Xiaoxin that since she provoked him, she need not dream of ditching him in her entire lifetime. If Wang Xiaoxin wants to return back to her world, she can do it only if she brings him along or kills him.”

Gu Mengmeng looked down and stayed silent for quite some time as she thought of her black wolf.

He said something similar before too.

If this is a dream, please kill me before it ends, don't force me to face a world without you because it will be more tortuous than death.

The Beast Deity paused for a while and did not continue any further. He just stared at Gu Mengmeng, looking as if he was deep in thought while giving her some time to slowly recall.

After a long time, Gu Mengmeng spoke softly, “Since she thought that everything was just her hallucination after hypnosis, as long as she wakes up, Snake's Father would definitely disappear. Nobody had the ability to bring an imaginary person to the real world. If Wang Xiaoxin's a rational person, she would definitely think of this point. She can neither bring him along nor kill him because she did not bear so she decided to stay?”

The Beast Deity laughed lightly and shook his head, saying, “No, she decided to.....kill him.”

Gu Mengmeng was dumbfounded as she looked up at the Beast Deity, asking him, “Didn't you clearly say that she stayed behind for Snake's Father?”

The Beast Deity gave Gu Mengmeng a smile, asking her to hold her horses as he continued, “She plucked out the scale piece protecting the heart of Snake's Father with her bare hands and then used a sharp claw to pierce through his chest. His blood splashed all over Wang Xiaoxin's face and she just stared deadily at the bloody hole in his chest and her blood-stained hands. On the other hand, Snake's Father smiled and kissed her tears while hugging her. He told her, ‘This is good too, at least.....I didn't lose you even until death’.”

Gu Mengmeng's eyes widened as she could not say a word.

After inheriting Snake's memories, she knew how willful males in the Beast World were towards love.

As compared to death, they were more afraid of their loved females getting injured.

Back then, when Barete and Quentin were kneeling on the Platform of the Deity's Punishment, they rather become dried beasts and have their skins peeled instead of moving an inch because they were afraid that their loved ones would receive punishment.

And after that, Snake was like that too.

Although Ellie's last attack was her own venom, Snake had the ability to defuse it.

Chapter 604 - Could Not Bear For Her To Suffer

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

It's just that the process would be more tortuous and she would need to withstand a long period of agony from the venom. And even if the venom was defused, without the same recovery level as a Beast King, her two legs would definitely be crippled.

So Snake gave his life to her, it was not to ensure that she would not die by exchanging one life for another but because he could not bear for her to suffer.....that was all.

Gu Mengmeng remained silent and did not say a word. She just felt her chest being stuffy. She did not know whether it was because of Snake or because the memories of Snake inside her started creating a reaction upon hearing the tangle between his Father and Mother.

The Beast Deity patted Gu Mengmeng's shoulder lightly and then continued, "The death of Snake's Father gave Wang Xiaoxin a huge blow. She could not understand why she was in so much misery and pain when it was clearly just a hallucination. During that period of time, she fell sick and could not get up, although she tried to close her eyes tight, she still could not fall asleep. I know she wanted to sleep so that she can meet me. Thus, I helped her fall asleep so that she can enter her dreams to find me."

Gu Mengmeng looked up at the Beast Deity and awaited his next words.

There was a tint of melancholy on the Beast Deity's face. He sighed and added, "She asked me, was everything really a hallucination? I repeated the answer I told her when we first met and also told her that the snake egg did not crack. It was just below the winter lake. If she still wanted to return, I can help her retrieve the egg. But she shook her head and said.....she didn't want to return back anymore, she wanted to stay in the Beast World.”

Gu Mengmeng stared at the Beast Deity in confusion, she did not understand what Wang Xiaoxin was thinking about.

Just to return back, she did not hesitate to treat her blood-related son as a key.

Just to return back, she did not hesitate even the slightest bit before killing her own male with her bare hands.

But when everything was ready, she wanted to stay behind?

The Beast Deity looked at Gu Mengmeng and asked, “It’s unimaginable, right? I also thought that it was strange. So I asked her right then, why did she decide to stay behind? Her answer was, ‘I want to seek revenge for Wales’.”

Gu Mengmeng was speechless as she looked at the Beast Deity. The Beast Deity looked back at her while smiling quietly before saying, “Wales is Snake’s Father and Wang Xiaoxin’s snake male.”

Gu Mengmeng questioned, “But didn’t she kill him with her bare hands? Who was she going to seek revenge from?”

The Beast Deity nodded and laughed bitterly, “Seek revenge from herself.”

Gu Mengmeng was dumbfounded as she looked at the Beast Deity in confusion.

The Beast Deity answered her doubts, “She believed firmly that the Beast World was a hallucination on one hand and on the other hand, she could not breathe properly after being tormented by Wales’s death. Her rationality told her that as long as she could escape from the hypnosis, she was able to escape from Wales’s death because after she wakes up, she would slowly forget everything that happened in her dreams and that was normal. But she realized that she was unwilling to forget Wales and even if the final ending in her memories was that kind of torment she was suffering from, she still wanted to remember Wales and did not want to wipe him away from her heart. So she stayed behind and tormented herself to seek revenge for Wales.”

Gu Mengmeng froze and when she raised her head, tears filled her face and she asked the Beast Deity, choking with tears, “So, Snake came to see me just now because he was afraid that I will torment myself like Wang Xiaoxin.”

It was not a question but a statement.

No wonder he kept emphasizing that regardless whether it’s the Snake King Valley or Wabei, none of them were her responsibilities, she did not have the duty to act as his replacement as a Snake King, his Twomeng still suited those kinds of heartless dumb laughs best, what...Twomeng, I like you....Twomeng, thank you....Twomeng, goodbye...

Chapter 605 - What Damn Deity Are You?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

The Beast Deity wiped the tears off Gu Mengmeng's face gently and said, "Since you have understood his painful intentions, you should pull yourself together. He can never put his heart at ease if you keep crying like that."

Gu Mengmeng swatted the Beast Deity's hand away and howled at him, "Then you should return him to me! Aren't you the Beast Deity? I'm sure you can accomplish revival and whatsoever right?"

The Beast Deity sighed and explained, "Why do you still not understand? I can't interfere in the matters of the Beast World as I wish."

Gu Mengmeng retorted, "I don't understand!"

The Beast Deity said, "Back then, if I didn't forcefully intrude and told Wang Xiaoxin that her blood-related Beast King was her key to transmigration, everything that happened after that wouldn't have taken place. She would still have met Wales and would still have given birth to Snake. But, she wouldn't pierce through Wales's chest with a claw or maybe she would love her child like those Mothers from television dramas and eventually choose to stay behind willingly to become a better guide. In this thousand years, I kept reflecting myself over this matter but I still could not help but interfere in a few matters. And in the end, everything, as long as it concerns my interference, did not develop according to my initial intentions. Instead, they ended up far worse. This has finally made me understand that everything in this world has its own route and destroying the original direction will not only not make things better, it will lead us to extermination."

Gu Mengmeng glared at the Beast Deity coldly and said, “So, you’re just someone who watches television. Everyone in the Beast World are just serial dramas in your television and you can’t do anything other than watching it, right? You won’t care and interfere regardless whether others are dying or living how pathetically, right?”

The Beast Deity paused for a moment and nodded.

Gu Mengmeng questioned, “Then what damn deity are you?”

The Beast Deity was still smiling gently as he said, “If everyone needed the deity to help them whenever they meet difficulties, what will happen if the deity meets difficulties too? All I can do is to guide them.”

Gu Mengmeng stood up in a jiffy and growled, “What the hell did you even guide? You just guided Wang Xiaoxin to murder her husband and son and then torture herself to death!”

The Beast Deity lowered his head and said, “Wang Xiaoxin brought faith to the Beast World and you brought hope to the Beast World.”

Gu Mengmeng shouted at him with the top of her voice, “Hope my ass! I’m already in despair myself, how can I still give others hope? My son is unconscious now and his life is uncertain. I don’t need him to recover immediately, you can just tell me whether there’s any way for me to save him but you don’t even want to tell me any solution and you’re still discussing hope with me?”

The Beast Deity raised his head and accepted Gu Mengmeng’s chiding with a calm expression. After she finished her words like a machine gun, he then slowly said, “I can tell you the solution to wake Chixuan up but the result will only make him feel like death and it may even implicate many people you care for like Elvis, Lea or the other three little wolves. Do you still want an answer that will end with everyone in pain?”

Gu Mengmeng was shocked as she bit onto her lower lip hard.

If he said that it would cost her agony in exchange for Chixuan's consciousness, she would agree without any hesitation.

But why was it Elvis, Lea, Hede and his two brothers and even Chixuan's life feeling like death.....

The Beast Deity was still smiling as he said with a kind face, "Don't worry and believe me. I won't let my grandson die like that. Even if I don't tell you the way to save Chixuan, you will find it yourself."

Chapter 606 - Here My Fing Ass!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Gu Mengmeng was so startled she forgot to cry. She just stared at the Beast Deity with widened eyes and said, “Really?”

The Beast Deity nodded and said, “Deities can’t lie. I can provide you guidance but I can’t give you the answer. As long as you maintain a benevolent heart, you can definitely find a way to save Chixuan. And moreover, don’t you have two males who are willing to risk their lives for you? They will definitely not bear to see you sad.”

Gu Mengmeng asked again in half-doubt, “Then.....when will Chixuan be unconscious until?”

The Beast Deity shook his head and replied, “That.....I don’t know about it too. This is based on how hard you guys work.”

Gu Mengmeng tightened her fists and growled, “Do you know what level the mighty Beast Deity is? If the Beast King punches you, can you withstand it?”

The Beast Deity was taken aback before he suddenly broke into a smile and said, “This is your dream so you won’t be able to use your power as a Beast King. And moreover....I’m just a hallucination, you can never hit me.”

Gu Mengmeng raised her brow and swung a blow towards the Beast Deity, clearly not believing him. Indeed, she looked like she was waving her fists around in the air as she did not hit even the slightest opposition strength. But the next moment, Gu Mengmeng was hit by a moment of dizziness and she felt like she was falling down with the Beast Deity’s calm and amiable voice over her head, “Don’t worry, don’t be afraid, your Father beast will be here with you.”

“Mengmeng?” Lea gently tugged onto Gu Mengmeng’s little hand and asked with a worried expression, “Are.....you alright?”

Gu Mengmeng looked at Lea, then glanced at Elvis who was standing by the bed with a worried expression. After being dumbfounded for some time, she finally regained her composure and closed her eyes, leaning against Lea’s chest. Her one hand was being grabbed by Lea while she used her other hand to rub her temples lightly and assure them, “I’m fine, I just had a dream.”

Lea stood up and sat behind Gu Mengmeng. Then, he placed both his hands on Gu Mengmeng’s temples and started to rub them slowly.

Elvis sat at the spot where Lea was previously sitting before he held Gu Mengmeng’s hand and said, “You slept for two and a half days and kept crying and shouting.....’fing ass’ before you woke up. You still call that fine?”

Gu Mengmeng clenched her teeth and said, “I’m fine, I just went to see the Beast Deity....that old fellow dared to use such bureaucratic words to brush me off.”

The hands that Lea used to rub Gu Mengmeng’s temples paused its actions as he asked with a little hesitation; “Did.....he do anything bad to you?”

Gu Mengmeng kept quiet and was sullen.

Lea bit his lower lip before asking with caution, “Are we adding.....another male to our family?”

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback as she raised her head to look at Lea with a question mark written on her face.

Jealousy could be seen in Lea's long eyes and he said with a sorrowful tone, "In your dream, you kept saying you like him while crying and you also asked the Beast Deity to return him to you....you shouted really loudly.....tell me, which male did the Beast Deity showed you in your dream until you liked him so much just after sleeping once. I....I'll help you search for him."

Gu Mengmeng's gaze darkened and she lowered her head. After remaining silent for a long time, she finally opened her mouth to answer him, "I saw Snake in my dreams, he came to bid farewell to me."

Upon hearing Snake's name, Elvis's and Lea's expressions became shocked too.

Even if they surprisingly became the Beast King in the future, they would never have the chance to win him.

They are just weaklings who could only lie on the ground and never stand straight just from his glance alone.

Elvis always remembered what Snake said to him in the cave while carrying the critically ill Gu Mengmeng, "How weak...."

Chapter 607 - You're Really Slogging Your Hearts Out

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Gu Mengmeng told Elvis and Lea everything that happened in her dreams and the only conclusion they came up with was: wait.

Elvis and Lea had a blind sense of worship towards the Beast Deity and they said that since the Beast Deity mentioned he would guide her, they shall wait for his guidance patiently.

Gu Mengmeng was irritated internally but besides waiting, she could not come up with a better idea.

Rubbing her temples, Gu Mengmeng asked, “Did anything happen while I was sleeping these past two days?”

Lea and Elvis exchanged glances before Elvis spoke up, “The three little wolves came to visit you but they were chased away by me.”

Gu Mengmeng looked up at Elvis as the latter cleared his throat and explained, “I thought that you were not willing to let them worry too so I just said that you suffered from a shock at the Snake King Valley and were too tired after making the trip back. So, you’ve to replenish your sleep and I asked them not to disturb you.”

Gu Mengmeng thought over it for a while. The way Elvis handled them was correct so she nodded her head and did not pursue the matter anymore.

Lea continued, “When we were at the Snake King Valley, the snow fox tribesmen did not abide by the rules.”

Gu Mengmeng looked at Lea and asked, “What’s wrong with them? Are they trying to overthrow me to welcome Cole back?”

Lea was shocked as he did not understand why Gu Mengmeng would think about that. He just shook his head and explained, “No, they just felt that Saint Nazaire’s tribesmen are holding onto an esoterica you left behind so they forced Oakley to hand it over. Oakley then followed their assumption and used that ‘esoterica’ to threaten the few old die-hards from the snow fox tribe. Auretin and Barete are present all along so nothing much happened other than the two tribes experiencing some conflict. The males are still alright, it’s just that the females from both the snow fox tribe and Saint Nazaire....had a stronger smell of gunpowder. I heard that a few rounds of battles had happened and both sides suffered casualties.”

Gu Mengmeng rubbed her temples, appearing exceptionally helpless.

Originally, she thought they were going to act ‘Anti-Qing Sentiment’ but in the end, ‘Why Should Women Make Things Difficult For Women’ was the drama they really acted out.

Gu Mengmeng was aware that although Lea was the tribe’s witch doctor, she had left for an entire month and if she did not appear to solve those accumulated trivial matters, Lea would have to use 10 times or even 20 times more his strength to solve them.

Sighing, Gu Mengmeng ‘invited’ those tribe elders to the meeting room.

Gu Mengmeng sat on the master seat while Elvis and Lea stood beside her. Barete and Auretin stood next to Elvis and just stood there quietly, not saying anything.

Ian’s injury was a lot less serious than Elvis and Lea so he had recovered quite fully but his face was still sickly and lacking of energy. However, his coldness prevented others from looking down on him. He stood at a spot near Lea and peered down on the few tribe elders from the snow fox tribe who looked clearly disturbed.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled lightly and spoke, “it was hard on the tribe elders when I was absent this past month.”

The old fellows exchanged glances with one another before one of them stood forward and replied to her, “Sharing the mighty messenger’s worries is our original duty. We don’t dare to claim it’s hard.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed, why did she feel so annoyed whenever someone speaks such official words with her after her previous sleep?!

Gu Mengmeng’s voice started turning cold as she said without much emotion, “Is it? Then is forcing Oakley to hand out the ‘esoterica’ your duty as well? What about instigating the females to fight with each other? Is that your duty too? I’m not dead yet and you guys are calculating how to snatch my inheritance.....you’re really slogging your hearts out to ‘share my worries’.”

Chapter 608 - Wrong Move Wrong Move!

This was the first time the few tribe elders met Gu Mengmeng after she came back.

The scruple and submission they had towards Gu Mengmeng in the past was due to her title as the messenger of the Beast Deity. Now, their fear towards her was just merely because of her presence.

That person was still herself, petite and delicate.

But they could not see her past wit and purity in those clear eyes anymore. Instead, all they could see was emptiness, yeah, it's empty. An emptiness full of conceit.

The few tribe elders were still celebrating in delight when Gu Mengmeng banished Cole because they thought that this new messenger who had all emotions written over her face was easier to control than Cole who always used refined tricks and never allowed for a single sloppy work.

But now, they realized they were utterly wrong.

Was it because the past Gu Mengmeng had concealed herself too well or was it because something that turned the world upside down happened in the past month?

It was only a month.....what kind of change could have happened?

And that was....

The few tribe elders exchanged glances with one another and used merely the time of one breath to reach a common consensus — Gu Mengmeng hid her scheming side well and her previous naivety was all fake.

Was it a test? Gu Mengmeng handing an unstable Sauder over to just a second-level orc Oakley and leaving only two third-level orcs as a support to suppress the situation before bringing Elvis and Lea away to the Snake King Valley with her heart at ease.....everything was just a test?

The few tribe elders' knees weakened and they instantly knelt on the ground with a plop, their bodies starting to shake uncontrollably as they thought to themselves: "Wrong move wrong move!"

"Mighty messenger cease your anger....we just wanted to enshrine and worship the esoterica properly. We have no other intentions." A tribe elder spoke up with guilt. He himself did not know why he had so much difficulty trying to maintain his calmness in front of Gu Mengmeng but the suppressed atmosphere lingering in the entire room made him lose his breath.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and said, "Enshrine and worship ha, I remembered the rules stating that only the Leader and the witch doctor can inherit the esoterica, right?"

The tribe elder did not dare to raise his head as he could only admit to her words with his head lowered.

Gu Mengmeng continued, "I've brought away both the leader and the witch doctor, what position are you in to enshrine and worship the esoterica?"

The tribe elder was speechless upon hearing the question. How could he have the nerve to admit that he assumed Gu Mengmeng, Elvis and Lea would never return so he then dared to force Oakley in handing over the esoterica?

Seeing how the tribe elder was keeping quiet, Gu Mengmeng sniggered and said, "And moreover, even if I place the esoterica in front of you, do you know what's written on it? Enshrine and worship.....you're so hopelessly stupid."

The tribe elder's body became colder with every word from Gu Mengmeng and eventually, he shook so hard until he shivered with fear with his head still lowered.

Gu Mengmeng did not have much patience to continue speaking nonsense to these few willful fellows. Snake's thousand years of experience and subsidence created a huge change to the calmness of her mind. No matter how much he tried to convince her into not using his identity to consider matters, those thousand years worth of memories had already engraved itself into her body and started to influence her temper.

If it was in the past, Gu Mengmeng would definitely stomp her feet in a rage when faced with these fellows who took advantage of their seniority. Then, she would look at Elvis or Lea in hope that they would help her solve these nuisances and then pacify her.

But now, she just felt that these people are really childish and boring.

It was neither funny nor something to be angry over.

Her emotions were as calm as an ancient well and had no great waves.

Shaking her hands, she said, "I've already mated with Lea so the snow-fox tribe will also be my tribesmen. I won't be biased towards Saint Nazaire and neglect you guys but please don't always annoy me with such trivial matters. Believe me, you guys won't be willing to see me angry."

Chapter 609 - Is Your Heart Aching For Me Because You Can't Bear To Watch Me Work So Hard?

Gu Mengmeng's words were just a calm and slow statement but it made the few tribe elders sweat buckets, it was a cold threat that made one lose all hope.

"Yes." The tribe elders gave a submissive reply from the bottoms of their hearts and then left the room.

Before they left, one of them garnered up his courage to take a peek at Gu Mengmeng and after confirming the snow fox mark on her ear, he then heaved a sigh of relief and followed everyone out.

Gu Mengmeng rubbed her temples and her expression was cold.

Lea sat next to Gu Mengmeng and brought her head to his chest, wrapping one hand around her shoulders. Rubbing her temples, he asked, "Are you tired? Actually you can just leave these kind of matters to me."

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and replied, "You and Elvis had suffered such serious injuries in the Snake King Valley and after that, you guys were even controlled by Snake's snake venom. Your bodies have not yet recovered to your best state and moreover, you...." were still poisoned once more during mating, that's one disaster after another.

Gu Mengmeng frowned, she did not know whether she inherited her selfish trait from Snake or whether she was born with it.

To prevent herself from regretting and to let herself feel more comfortable, she mated with Lea without considering whether his body could withstand it.

Although it was just a drop of blood and they handled it with the antidote in time, that Lea back then was.....physically and emotionally exhausted and was at his weakest state ever.

Looking at Elvis, Gu Mengmeng eventually did not mention much about her mating with Lea.

She just said, “And moreover, do you have a bigger reputation than me? I just need to hide a few sentences to be able to get the effect I want, why do you need to waste your efforts to plan things out?”

Lea laughed lightly in a seductive and attractive way. He lightly hooked Gu Mengmeng’s chin and asked with his eyes filled with devotion, “Is your heart aching for me because you can’t bear to watch me work so hard?”

Gu Mengmeng forced a smile and replied, “Yeah.”

Lea kissed Gu Mengmeng’s lips lightly, it was just a soft peck, just like how a dragonfly skimmed the surface of the water before he released her.

“Sandy had long arrived and she’s waiting for you outside. Do you want to see her?”

Gu Mengmeng thought over it before nodding.

“Do we accompany you?” Lea asked.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and instructed, “There’s too many matters accumulated in the tribe. You and Elvis can go on to settle them. Hurry and arrange everything properly, I want to return to Saint Nazaire.”

Lea nodded, gently rubbing Gu Mengmeng’s head. Then, he looked towards Auretin and said, “You accompany her.”

Auretin did not have any expression on his face. He did not answer Lea either as he just quietly stepped forward to stand beside Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and rejected, “There’s no need to accompany me. Auretin has a thousand things waiting for him now, everything requires manual labor to handle. In my opinion, those faultfinders from the snow fox tribe are still kind of wary towards Auretin so let him stay behind to settle the matters for you.”

Lea did not say anything as he just looked at Gu Mengmeng quietly.

Gu Mengmeng looked down at her own hands. She did not know whether it was an illusion or not but she always felt her hands being colder than before.

Chuckling lightly, Gu Mengmeng said, “Who else can hurt me now? Even if it’s Cole, he’s just a loser whose power level is only measured at five in front of me. Auretin can’t protect me, if we face any situation, I still might need to protect him myself. And moreover....I hadn’t seen Sandy in such a long time, I want to tell her a few words. It’s not suitable for Auretin to be present.”

Chapter 610 - She's Forcing Herself To Put On A Brave Front

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Gu Mengmeng did not do it on purpose but her few words pressured the males so much they could not lift their heads up.

She did not know whether it was because her emotions became colder or because she had too much troubles in her mind that led her to act more carelessly. This was the first time Gu Mengmeng neglected Elvis's and Lea's emotions as she just left the meeting room with her head lowered.

Cole was a loser whose power level is only measured at five....

Amongst those people standing in the room, Elvis was the only fifth-level orc. He still had to use the mating contract as a trump to counter-charge against Cole back then.

And those third-level orcs like Lea, Auretin and Barete need not need to be mentioned, the first-level orc Oakley thus would not even be considered in the topic.

1Was their protection.....considered excessive in her eyes now?

Until Gu Mengmeng's figure completely disappeared from their sight, Elvis and Lea then kept their 'usual' smiley face and replaced it with their brows deeply furrowed and a dim gaze.

"She's forcing herself to put on a brave front..." Elvis muttered to himself.

Lea's lips were tightly clamped together and devotion could not be seen in his long eyes anymore. Instead, all there was left was worry.

“I’m scared that she would fall sick from holding it all in...” Elvis looked at Lea and said, “Do you have other methods to help her let it out? Be it crying or creating a fuss, if it’s really impossible....I’ll accompany her to have a battle.”

Lea laughed lightly and asked while glancing at him with the corners of his eyes, “Have a battle? Can you bear to lay a finger on her?”

Elvis frowned and he shook his head after contemplating silently for a while.

He was not Gu Mengmeng’s opponent now and all she needed to do was to emit a little beast pressure unknowingly for him to fear by nature. But towards Gu Mengmeng, he still only felt his heart ache. If you asked him to stretch out his sharp claws and teeth at Gu Mengmeng, let alone others, he himself would not even believe that he could do it.

But Gu Mengmeng was too good at tidying up her emotions, this made him flustered, uneasy and...heart-ache.

When Gu Mengmeng just woke up, her face still had sorrow and misery written on it. But as time went past, Snake’s memory grew more prominent in Gu Mengmeng’s body. Gu Mengmeng’s expression became a lot more calm and her personality became more reserved too. Someone who hung all her thoughts and emotions on her face suddenly became this icy cold....just like the past Lea and him.

Clenching his fists, Elvis said, “I can’t bear to lay a finger on her so I’ll just let her punch me up. As long as she could spit out that trouble she’s holding in, I’ll still smile even if I have to get beaten to death by her.”

Lea patted Elvis’s shoulder lightly and said, “If Mengmeng can become happier by beating up several people to death, I’ll accompany you to let her beat us up because that’ll be a worthy death. But you clearly know that Mengmeng is not a male, violence and fighting won’t make her any happier.”

Elvis sighed and nodded, replying, “These few days, even Hede and his brothers can’t make her happy. I’m really scared she can’t withstand it if this carries on.”

Lea’s gaze also became dim as he said with furrowed brows, “When Mengmeng’s with Sandy, her mood is always good. I hope that.....Sandy can make Mengmeng happier this time round.”

Elvis looked at him and asked, “You were the one who called Sandy over?”

Lea gave a bitter smile and said, “It’s pathetic, isn’t it? A beast pet who managed to rise up by pleasing his female don’t have any ideas to make her happy and had to actually rely on another female to pacify his own female...I’m really a good-for-nothing beast pet.”

Elvis remained silent and said, “Xiao Meng has your mark on her ear, you’re not a beast pet, you’re her partner.”

Chapter 611 - You Lost Your Favor?

After Elvis finished talking, he walked past Lea directly and left.

Looking at Elvis's back, Lea smiled and said, "That's why you're Mengmeng's First Partner. If it's me....I probably can't be as tolerant as you."

Shaking his tail, Lea looked behind Barete, Auretin and Oakley who were quiet all along before saying, "Why are you two guards and acting witch doctor still not moving?"

The three people whose names were called just looked back at Lea quietly, their troubles clearly written on their faces.

Lea laughed lightly and said, "Although Mengmeng has extremely strong abilities now, that doesn't mean you can neglect your duty of taking care of her. Keep all that useless inferiority of yours and find new positions for yourselves."

After Lea finished his words, he chased after Elvis while shaking his large tail.

Find a new position...?

In the past, their priority was to ensure Gu Mengmeng's safety.

But now, she seemed like she did not need it.

Then where would their new position be?

On the other side, Gu Mengmeng sat on the stairs outside the stone house while staring at Sandy who looked rather constrained.

She knew that they could never return back.

Her mentality changed after receiving that thousand years worth of memories. She did not forget Sandy but she was not able to play with her as she wishes anymore.

Cupping her face while teasing her that she was the most beautiful female in the world and that if she were a male, she would definitely marry her... she could never say it with her own mouth anymore.

And Sandy was feeling extremely guilty after stopping Collin from saving Gu Mengmeng previously even though Gu Mengmeng did not blame her.

After that, Collin left his position as a guard. He did not say anything because he wanted to comfort her and not let her imagination go wild but she was aware of the envy in Collin's eyes every time he saw Barete.

Originally, he could also become a guard working for the messenger of the Beast Deity.

But her selfishness created such an ending today.

She was guilty towards Gu Mengmeng and towards Collin. Sandy did not even have the courage to hold Gu Mengmeng hand when facing her now.

"Huh? You two changed your story setting? Are you two going for the concept of looking at each other in deep love?" Lea huddled into Gu Mengmeng's arms while shaking his large tail. He looked at Sandy casually and ridiculed her, "Or did you.....lose your favor? I said it before, how can your little short tail win me? Our Mengmeng's heart is still leaning towards us, am I right, Elvis?"

Elvis did not have the ability to hide his own emotions like Lea so he could only clear his throat and keep quiet.

Auretin followed Lea out and he just directly left without greeting anyone.

When Barete saw Sandy, he asked her, “Where’s Collin? Did he not come over with you?”

Sandy replied softly, “He sent me over and returned home.”

Barete understood that it was because Collin did not have any face left to meet Gu Mengmeng.

“Auretin is going on a hunt, he said he wants to share a meal with us later at night. I’m going to find some yellow sauce with Oakley so that we can roast some meat for dinner, okay?” Barete asked Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng understood that everyone was thinking of ways to make her happy but she just could not smile, there was no other problem.

Lifting her face, she saw how everyone was looking at her in anticipation. She did not want to be a wet blanket so she nodded her head and replied, “Okay.”

Lea held Gu Mengmeng’s little hand and pulled her in for an embrace. Looking at Sandy, he said, “Mengmeng likes to eat roast fish so you can ask your Bode and Collin to catch some fish for us to roast them for dinner together.”

Chapter 612 - Who Can Force Me, If I'm Unwilling?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

The biggest problem that lies in one maturing is that many issues finally become crystal clear.

Elvis and Lea's accommodation, Auretin and Barete's silent companionship, Oakley's hesitation before speaking, and the expectant yet uneasiness in Sandy's eyes...

These grave concerns caused Gu Mengmeng to not be able to catch a breath, but she did not want to let down the people who cared for her.

Tugging the edge of her lips, Gu Mengmeng nodded at Sandy, "Come earlier tonight, let's gather."

It was only then that Sandy smiled, then nodded. The moment she spun around, Gu Mengmeng saw tears in her eyes.

After Sandy left, Barete and Oakley set off as well to look for beehives nearby.

Exhausted, Gu Mengmeng leaned on Lea's chest, and her gaze fell on Elvis' face. She wanted to laugh when she saw his worried expression, but the edges of her lips were just too heavy, so she could only give up, speaking monotonously, "It's just that I am still not used to this thousand years of memories, nothing else... you don't have to worry so much."

Elvis walked towards Gu Mengmeng, holding her hand and pulling her into his embrace, hugging her tightly, wishing he could only squeeze all the warmth in his body into hers, then using his body to replace the thousands of years of unpleasant, dry memories. However, there are still things he could not do, despite being the first partner.

“No matter how strong you are, you will always be my soft spot. Not worrying about you... would be something that I would never learn how to do in this lifetime.”

Gu Mengmeng returned Elvis' hug, sticking her face on his chest gently, her eyes sagging as she slowly said, “Sorry...”

Lea also stood up from the steps, presenting his handsome, flawless face, and kissed Gu Mengmeng, who was in Elvis' embrace. His loving smile looked like it held the mystery from the deepest end of the sea, plotting to drown her. His voice was hoarse, but was still exceptionally flirtatious, “You clearly know, we prefer to hear you confess than apologise.”

Gu Mengmeng bit her bottom lip, but could not say a word.

Her feelings for Elvis and Lea needed no doubt.

However, she just could not get the words “I like you” out of her mouth right then.

Lea did not force it either, only rubbing Gu Mengmeng's tiny head, “Today is the first time I'm accompanying you to a gathering in the position of an official partner, if you don't smile... others would think you were forced into mating with me.”

Gu Mengmeng stopped frowning when she saw Lea's wronged expression, “I am the messenger of the Beast Deity, who can force me, if I'm unwilling?”

Lea went to the other side of Elvis, placing his arm on his shoulder, looking all sad, “The day when Sauder was choosing its warrior, you said you liked me, then you went back and cried like you were about to suffocate. That night, Auretin came to ridicule me, he said, “How much do you think Gu Mengmeng was not fond of you? To have cried so hard upon saying she liked you”.”

Gu Mengmeng looked at Lea imitating Auretin's paralysed expression and cold tone, finding it rather comical, and finally cracked a smile.

Finally, seeing a smile on Gu Mengmeng's face, Lea started trying even harder, continuing, "Then I fought with him, guess what the outcome was?"

Gu Mengmeng shook her head, expressing that she did not know.

Lea raised his head cockily, "Although we are both orcs that peaked at third-level, he is not as smart as me, so naturally he got the short end of the stick."

Chapter 613 - I Overheard You Speaking Just Now

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Gu Mengmeng just wanted to praise Lea, but heard Elvis say softly, “I remember your beaten up face when you came home that day, and totally did not look like you took advantage of him.”

Gu Mengmeng startled for a moment, then raised her eyebrows, gently poking at Elvis’ chest.

As expected, Lea started jumping around anxiously, messing around with Elvis.

Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng, not wanting to bother with him, but he continued to try to go into Gu Mengmeng’s embrace, whining for her to back him up.

Smile, Gu Mengmeng was trying her hardest to smile.

Such methods of exposure to fool around, was surely a form of fun they developed over the years?

When she was sad... they would cooperate to pamper her.

If she still did not smile, those two would be even more worried.

“Mommy...” Jialue rushed out from the house, jumping right into Gu Mengmeng’s arms.

Gu Mengmeng stably caught her son, who was at her thigh height, picking him up with one arm and softly arranging his hair that had been messed up from running. She rubbed his wolf ears, that were standing straight, lovingly. Out of the three sons who had evolved into half-orcs, Jialue’s evolution progress was the worst. Other than a pair of wolf ears, his tail was also not evolved. Gu Mengmeng guessed that perhaps Jialue was the most affected by her genes, which explains the obstructions in his evolution.

This had caused Gu Mengmeng to feel very apologetic towards Jialue. If her genes had caused the failure of Jialue's evolution, resulting in him stopping as a half-orc, then what would his life become? She did not even dare to think.

"Why?" Gu Mengmeng tried her best to make herself sound loving as she did not wish for her emotions to affect the children. Although they were very sensitive, she still hoped for them to not be affected so easily.

Jialue's caring nature resembled the Gu Mengmeng of the past a lot, as his amber eyes smiled like the warm sun, his childish face carrying the innocence only children would possess, smiling genuinely and warmly.

"I overheard you speaking just now." Jialue covered his little mouth, secretly telling the "little secret" to Gu Mengmeng, with a smug look in his eyes, coupled with secret delight.

Gu Mengmeng felt rather confused, not understanding what Jialue meant, so she said softly, "Eavesdropping is not right."

Jialue blinked, tilting his head looking at Gu Mengmeng, "Why not? Daddy Lea said, we should try our best to know every detail, so that we can control situations to the greatest extent, and protect mommy."

Gu Mengmeng turned around to look at Lea, who cleared his throat and tried to justify, "But I did not teach him to eavesdrop."

Jialue frowned, pouting, and noticed the threat in Lea's gaze.

Giving in, Lea came forward and whispered, "Don't betray me, I will teach you the art of inference."

It was only then that Jialue finally nodded in satisfaction, then smiling sweetly at Gu Mengmeng, "Hmm, Daddy Lea never taught me how to eavesdrop.”

Three black lines drooped down from the top of Gu Mengmeng’s head...

Jialue was now being hugged in her arms, and after inheritance of Snake’s capabilities, she possessed extremely good hearing. Should she not hear such “under-the-counter” things? Would it not seem too fake if she pretended not to hear even when it was said so closely to her ears?

Jialue held Gu Mengmeng’s face, beaming with the cutest smile, “Mommy don’t be angry, if you don’t like it, I will tell De, Wu and Xuan to cover their ears when mommy is talking to someone else in the future, that way we won’t be able to hear~”

Chapter 614 - Chixuan's Tiny Wish

Gu Mengmeng watched as Jialue used his tiny hands, that could barely reach his ears, to fold them on his head, his bright doe eyes sparkling innocently at herself. Smiling lovingly, she peeled Jialue's tiny hands off and held it in hers, hmm, how warm.

“Tell me, what happened... after the eavesdropping?”

Jialue looked as if he suddenly recalled something, as his face lit with excitement, asking, “I heard mommy and mother-in-law mentioning barbequing together at night, is it the kind with the campfire? The kind where many people come together to eat and chat, and also to hear mommy sing?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head gently, “No, it is just a few close friends eating together. No campfire, not many people, neither will I sing.”

Jialue sagged his little head, with a disappointed expression, “Oh...”

Gu Mengmeng used her finger to raise Jialue's little face, asking, “Why? Do you want a gathering with a bonfire, many people, and singing?”

Jialue nodded while pouting, “We could have attended the last one... It was all the weird snake's fault for kidnapping us, and I could only watch mommy sing and dance from afar, not even getting to hear properly because I was so drowsy...”

Gu Mengmeng looked at Jialue's disappointed expression, as he looked like he was on the verge of tears, and felt her heart ache. Her gaze swept across the room, and saw Hede, Kanwu and the sleeping Chixuan who were peeking their heads out from behind the door.

The other two watched Gu Mengmeng look over, and hid immediately. A while later, they all lowered their heads and came out from hiding, lining up in front of Gu Mengmeng.

“When the four of us were trapped in the cell underground, what we mentioned most was how mommy looked when you sang and danced that day, and the aroma of barbecued meat... We made an agreement, that the next time there was a gathering, we would stick tightly to mommy’s side, watching you sing and dance in close proximity, and eat a lot of fragrant meat... Mommy, do you think Chixuan would wake up, if our dream was realised? He clearly wanted to see mommy sing and dance the most...”

Hede carried the sleeping Chixuan in his arms. The three of them stuck to Chixuan every day, as if they were Siamese quadruplets, taking turns to carry Chixuan, not allowing anyone to snatch him away from them other than Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng thought, perhaps this kidnapping incident, really created trauma for her three sons...

Looking into the three pairs of expectant eyes, Gu Mengmeng lost her courage to shake her head, taking a deep breath and turned around to say to Lea, “Decorate a little, today the whole tribe shall gather, and there will be a campfire tonight.”

Lea smiled, “Reason?”

Reason...

There had to be a reason for celebration, to call the whole tribe over for a campfire.

If she said directly “My sons want to see, so I will hold one”, is truthful but not that nice.

Gu Mengmeng lightly rubbed her own ear, “Celebrating the mating of the messenger of the Beast Deity and the snow fox witch doctor. Is that good enough of a reason?”

Lea was stunned, his gaze soft.

He thrusted Gu Mengmeng and Chixuan into his arms, kissing Gu Mengmeng's lips, deeply, lingering, uncontrollably.

A long while later, Lea finally released Gu Mengmeng, replying in a husky voice, "Although it is just a reason, but I am very blissful."

Chapter 615 - Are You Both Planning To Tear Sauder Apart?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

That night, the bonfire lit up the night sky, to celebrate the joyous occasion.

Elvis and Lea sat beside Gu Mengmeng, not giving any attention to anyone else who came to celebrate.

Having learned from their mistakes, neither Barete nor Auretin were willing to leave Gu Mengmeng's side, standing behind Elvis and Lea like iron faced bodyguards. Gu Mengmeng persuaded them a few times, but both were unwilling to let their guards down. Gu Mengmeng had no choice and did not bother any longer.

The three little ones carried Chixuan while running about the campfire site, giving Chixuan non-stop updates as if they were doing a real-time livestream, about how big the fire was, how yummy the food was, and how mommy was about to sing... They wanted to tell everything interesting to Chixuan, in hopes he could wake up. However, despite the lack of response from Chixuan, the three little ones did not give up, only carrying him around everywhere.

The snow fox tribe was in high spirits today, especially those females that had conflict with those in Saint Nazaire, whose tails almost reached the sky. The expressions on their faces were clearly, "Look, who're the females the mighty messenger fancy."

Sandy wanted to reconcile with Gu Mengmeng, but did not care too much, only making Mandy and the newly joined females upset. Originally the first beauties of each of their tribes, they barely had a few good days in Saint Nazaire before they had to wander from place to place to follow big troops to fight, living their lives in fear. They finally managed to settle down temporarily, but still had to fight with this vixen.

Gu Mengmeng saw everything, but did not bother to care.

Women's issues, are a mess.

One cannot wish of getting out of it once they get involved.

Let them fool around, for they cannot play any tricks. As long as there was no extreme harm, Gu Mengmeng was too lazy to care.

Wabei walked towards Gu Mengmeng, looking coldly at Elvis then at Lea, then kicked Elvis aside, "Go away."

Elvis frowned, filling with murderous energy the moment he looked up.

Wabei smiled coldly like he looked down on him, and Elvis' muscles buffed up instantly.

He had been frustrated the past few days due to Gu Mengmeng's mood, yet he dared not express in front of her, and just nice lacked a place to vent his negative energy.

A snake beast that peaked at fifth-level huh? Perfect for a good fight.

Gu Mengmeng saw the angry sparks in both their eyes, and said, "Are you both planning to tear Sauder apart?"

The battle between fifth-level beasts would certainly not be as easy as the situation when Nina brought her partners to bully Sandy, with a few broken, bleeding heads.

If Wabei and Elvis were to fight, ha... there would be no need for a night campfire party, they should directly create a small meeting, to discuss the rebuilding of Sauder.

Hearing Gu Mengmeng's voice, Elvis forced himself to calm down. He did not say anything, only standing up silently, walking to a corner.

Wabei looked at Lea, raising one eyebrow, “The first partner already left, can’t you be a bit more tactful?”

Gu Mengmeng knew, Wabei never liked crowds. He was never close to anyone in the Snake King valley besides Snake. He was surely uncomfortable at a place with so many people. So, she tugged at Lea’s wrist, “Barbecue some meat for me, I’m hungry.”

Chapter 616 - He Said His Name Was Yoo Sijin

After Elvis and Lea left, Wabei whipped out a fruit. It was bright red and looked very tempting.

Tears filled Gu Mengmeng's eyes as she stared at that fruit for a long while, not reaching out for it.

Wabei just held the fruit like that, looking to the side, "He wanted to pluck this for you previously, but I plucked the wrong one."

Gu Mengmeng remembered that day, Wabei had roared to Snake, "Can't you pluck the fruit your female wants to eat yourself." which caused him to be kicked to the tree branch in anger.

Wabei got impatient seeing how Gu Mengmeng did not reach for it after a long while, so he stuffed it into her hands, then said, "This time it's right, it's the one at the highest point, the best and the biggest. Eat it quick."

Gu Mengmeng held the fruit up, then bit blankly. The fruit juices covered each of her taste buds. Clearly sweet, but Gu Mengmeng felt as if she was eating wax.

Furrowing her brows, she tried her best to smile, "Hmm, he always had good taste. Tastes really good."

Wabei turned around again, not looking at Gu Mengmeng, only coldly saying, "I will depart back to the Snake King valley later. I will guard, the place he used to live."

Gu Mengmeng nodded, acknowledging with a "Hmm."

Wabei took a deep breath, and continued, "Gu Mengmeng, you guard."

Gu Mengmeng looked up at Wabei, asking, “Guard what?”

Wabei still looked away, refusing to look at her, “Guard yourself, no injury, no sickness, no sorrow, and certainly no death.”

Gu Mengmeng was startled, not understanding Wabei.

Wabei said, “He once walked the entire Beast World, and eventually stayed at the Snake King valley. I think, that is the place he liked the most.”

Gu Mengmeng searched Snake’s memories, but could not recall exactly what he saw in the Snake King valley. She only knew, he was used to that place, so he did not come out again in the thousands of years.

However, how would he be used to a place he did not like?

With that thought, Gu Mengmeng nodded in agreement to Wabei’s words.

Wabei got a response, but his expression remained dim, “However, to protect you, he abandoned the whole Snake King valley without hesitation. So, you... are the one he liked the most.”

The hand Gu Mengmeng used to hold the fruit trembled. She bit into it, pretending she was too busy to reply to him.

It was as if Wabei did not care for her response, only continuing, “I will guard the Snake King valley he abandoned. You will guard for him... the Gu Mengmeng whom he wanted to protect. If you dare to let yourself get hurt, I will not go easy on you.”

With that, Wabei did not bother about Gu Mengmeng’s reaction, before standing up and leaving into the distance, not even turning around.

It was not that he did not want to turn around, he was just afraid that when he looked back, he would realise that the familiar beast pressure did not come from the person he was familiar with, and he would not be able to control his aggression.

After Wabei left, Elvis and Lea sat back by Gu Mengmeng's side, hugging her from each side, but not knowing what to say to comfort her.

The atmosphere was tense, but a snow fox ran over, bowing respectfully before Gu Mengmeng then said, "Mighty messenger, a male outside the tribe wishes to see you, do you want to let him in?"

Gu Mengmeng looked up, asking, "What male?"

The snow fox hesitated, "He said his name was Yoo Sijin."

Chapter 617 - He Was Just A Conman, What Is There To See?

Gu Mengmeng did not have much of a reaction, because from the reactions of Elvis and Lea ever since she told that story to Sandy, it seemed like countless people in this world would actually believe that Yoo Sijin existed for real. Till today, the reputation of her being the messenger of the Beast Deity has only been spreading further and wider, so it was not new that someone would pretend to be her ex-lover.

If it was the past, Gu Mengmeng might have ugly laughed, or get choked by her own saliva. However, now, she only said monotonously, “Send him off, I’m not seeing him.”

He was just a conman, what is there to see?

However, Elvis and Lea saw her lack of emotions differently.

Lea pressed his lips together and exchanged a glance with Elvis. In the short span of time only sufficient for one to take a breath, hundreds of battles had already played out in their gazes.

On one hand, this “Yoo Sijin” has exclusive memories with Gu Mengmeng that they both did not. Even the “Rather apologise, I prefer to hear you confess” line Lea always used was born from that male. In Gu Mengmeng’s words, that was her first love. Now that the male returned, he was a threat to Elvis and Lea’s positions.

On the other hand, Gu Mengmeng refused to see him, which meant that she was still angry at him. If she did not bother... why would she still be upset? Gu Mengmeng has been down this period, and both of them had not been able to share her burdens as much as they tried to, perhaps... “Yoo Sijin” could?

Eventually, both of them came to an agreement.

Gu Mengmeng was the most important, and as hard as anything would be, they would do anything to lift her spirits.

Hence, Lea moved his tail and leaned on Gu Mengmeng's knee, turning his handsome face and staring at Gu Mengmeng, asking, "Why not? Didn't you mention... Everyone who comes are guests?"

Gu Mengmeng did not see Elvis and Lea's exchange of glances just now, so did not know how far those two had thought, thus only plainly responding, "He's just a conman, what's there to see?"

Conman...

Didn't Yoo Sijin con her back in the day?

Or else, who would she be "picked up" by Elvis alone in the lake?

Biting his bottom lip, Lea held back his jealousy, "How can I let off anyone who lied to my Mengmeng scot free? I want to meet him."

Gu Mengmeng looked at Lea, confused, not saying a word.

Elvis held Gu Mengmeng by her shoulder, bringing her into his embrace and kissed her hair, "We know our limits, don't worry."

Don't worry what?

Gu Mengmeng did not understand.

Elvis, "Bring him in."

Seeing how both of them were suppressing the jealousy in their eyes, she finally understood even if she had not initially.

Whatever, let them be.

Her emotions must have caused them much stress over the past period, so it was nice that someone came up and can become their anger vent.

So, Gu Mengmeng nodded, and only then the snow fox turned and ran, supposedly to bring the man in.

Gu Mengmeng, who was uninterested initially, also started getting curious. How would the person who tried to pass off as Yoo Sijin, actually look like?

Not long later, a big and tall male followed behind the snow fox. His features were distinct and looked rather Eurasian. Hmm, single eyelids, black iris, round nose bright eyes, thin lips white teeth. It was indeed the way she described Yoo Sijin as, but... Yoo Sijin was a damned Asian, a pure one, without orc ancestry, none!

Chapter 618 - Sorry, Ah Yeon, I'm Late

Gu Mengmeng did not realise this, but ever since she inherited Snake's capabilities, there had been a drastic change in her entire aura. She clearly had a cute face, but her whole aura was gloomy and dark. She laid lazily in Elvis' arms, barely smiling at the male who was approaching her closer with every step. Rather than indifference, she had more of a King's contempt, as if she wanted to lock him down.

That was the aura Snake had been born with, and cannot be learnt. Even as a successor, Gu Mengmeng could only channel 80% at maximum, but it was sufficient to scare everyone in the world.

Judgment and belittling filled her gaze, as if she was the King of hell, staring at foolish humans with despise.

Her round, mellow tiny face, gave one a feeling of confusion.

The most innocent face had the scariest gaze, the difference was so weird it was not explainable, neither did it fit well.

There was an obvious scar on "Yoo Sijin"'s body, the most lethal one being the open wound that went down from his right shoulder to his lower left abdomen, making his flesh pour outwards. Although it had stopped bleeding, but it still looked extra hideous. There were countless other little injuries, some deep enough to see the bone. It was as if a chunk of flesh had been bitten off his leg, making his every step firm but difficult, allowing him to perfectly embody the spirit of a soldier from the special forces.

There was not even a slight change in Gu Mengmeng's expression, but Elvis and Lea exchanged a glance.

Carefully, they looked at Gu Mengmeng, possibly calculating... Would Gu Mengmeng feel her heart ache, seeing him so injured like that? Then, should they teach him a lesson, or bring him to get treated immediately?

That person stood by the fire, as if he had no fear with regard to the burning flame. However, not only can Gu Mengmeng see one's appearance, she could even see one's emotion, especially fear.

Perhaps it was because Snake has seen all different types of fear from people who have stood before him in the past millennium, Gu Mengmeng could tell from any minor detail as long as one was afraid.

Fear of fire...

Normal, the Beast World has never seen fire for centuries prior to her appearance.

Even the people of Saint Nazaire and Sauder took half a year to get used to flames.

This "Yoo Sijin" was not too bad, being able to force himself to this extent to show he was not afraid, and even stood by the fireplace which required some bravery.

"Sorry, Ah Yeon, I'm late." "Yoo Sijin" looked directly at Gu Mengmeng with love in his eyes, not avoiding her icy cold gaze and her sizing him up and down.

Lea's arm retracted, as if his heart had been grabbed.

Ah Yeon? So her real name was Kang Moyeon? Gu Mengmeng was a fake name?

Gu Mengmeng felt a sense of nervousness from her own arms and shoulders and smiled helplessly.

How insecure were those two fellows? They were already married, but they were losing their minds over the words of a conman?

Maintaining composure, Gu Mengmeng held Lea's hand again and put her head closer to Elvis' chest, using tiny movements in her body to comfort her two males. She then said, only one word, "Motive?"

"Yoo Sijin" was stunned, and panic ran across his face. Although it was just an instant, he was not able to hide it from Elvis and Lea, who had been staring at him with a guarded gaze.

"Ah Yeon, I promised I will be back to look for you once the war was over, so now I am here to fulfill my promise."

Chapter 619 - I'm Here To Look For Ah Yeon, Not To Fight

Gu Mengmeng retracted her own hand from Lea's then slowly closed her eyes, dreamily saying the word "Tired" before she no longer spoke.

Lea understood and decided to handle the "conman" on his own.

So, he wagged his tail, stood up, and walked down to him.

He walked a few rounds around Yoo Sijin, then asked, "Wolf beast?"

"Yoo Sijin" nodded.

Lea placed an arm on his shoulder, patting it a few times, then continued, "Third-level?"

"Yoo Sijin" nodded once again.

Lea shrugged, wagging his tail and walking backwards, still saying one word, "Conman."

"Yoo Sijin" was stunned, as he took a step forward, "I am not lying, I really am Yoo Sijin."

Lea looked to the side at him, "It is true that "Yoo Sijin" is third-level, but Mengmeng said before, he was from the white tigers, do you understand? Auretin, come here and let him take a look, and see what a white tiger looks like."

With that, Auretin, who had been guarding behind Gu Mengmeng, took a few steps forward and stood beside Lea, staring straight at "Yoo Sijin".

With two people around the same build standing together, "Yoo Sijin's aura immediately decreased with Auretin's appearance.

Auretin was the strongest out of the third-level beasts. Back then, other than Elvis, he did not lose to anyone.

Although the fifth-level Elvis and the Beast King-level Gu Mengmeng were seated before him, other than these two exceptions, in the Beast World, a third-level peak was already a commendable existence.

After all, most orcs no longer had opportunities to mate, so third-level was a great advantage. Also, many orcs are not even able to cross into the third-level realm their whole lives.

So, Auretin would not even be afraid... of Lea, much less this mere conman.

He shook his neck left and right as a warmup. This tiny action was something he had subconsciously learnt from mimicking Elvis, becoming a habit that could no longer be changed.

“I... I’m here to look for Ah Yeon, not to fight.” “Yoo Sijin” had looked up to Auretin for a long time, and felt immense pressure upon looking into the pair of tiger eyes.

Auretin was expressionless, as he coldly said, “If you cannot even win me, what right do you have to speak to the mighty messenger?”

With that, Auretin made a roaring sound, and proceeded to attack “Yoo Sijin”.

In the Beast World, people had no regard to whatever form of injury or disadvantages the opponent had.

Who is to blame for your injuries? It is your fault for not protecting yourself, why must others go easy on you over your lack of abilities? Sorry, no such logic in the Beast World.

After all, “Yoo Sijin” was a third-level beast. Although he was not as powerful as Auretin, it would not become a situation where he would be single handedly tormented by Auretin. He could hide and duck and occasionally attack Auretin back. After a while of fighting, there was only a tiny scratch on Auretin's arm, but "Yoo Sijin" became so hideous it was difficult to watch.

From the start till the end, Lea watched Gu Mengmeng's expressions, but could not spot any heart ache, and determined that the chap was evidently a conman.

However, his appearance was right on time, for everyone to vent their annoyance.

So, Lea stood up slowly, saying, "Nevermind, regardless of whether you are legitimate, I will admit you are "Yoo Sijin" as long as you can walk to Mengmeng."

With that, Lea stood beside Auretin, with an enchanting expression. Barete silently walked from behind Gu Mengmeng, and stood on the other side of Lea.

Chapter 620 - Ha, There's Nowhere To Run Now

Elvis also slowly stood up from beside Gu Mengmeng, taking a few steps forward and stopping behind Lea. He tilted his body and blocked “Yoo Sijin” from Gu Mengmeng’s line of sight.

Ian also flew over from somewhere, circling a few rounds in the air, then spread his wings open in mid-air in his half-orc form, looking down at “Yoo Sijin”.

It needed no exaggeration that in that moment, “Yoo Sijin” felt that there was a metal wall before him that was impossible to cross, which was extremely pressurizing, like a high wall that made it difficult for one to even breathe.

Walk past?

Haha, stop joking.

He had no suspicions that, by the time he managed to pass by those people by himself and reach Gu Mengmeng, he would not even be left with bones.

Every cell in his body was quivering. “Yoo Sijin” could not help but take a step back, “Can’t I... I... I just go?”

Oakley stood behind “Yoo Sijin”, leading a group of tribesmen as the witch doctor, including the snow fox tribe elders that were amiable with in in the past. There was a row of beasts lined up behind him. In the darkness, their bloodthirsty and vicious gazes shot lasers, making one tremble with fear.

Oakley chuckled, asking, “Where did you think this is? You can come and go, as you wish?”

There were no signs of kindness in the faces of the snow fox tribe elders, as coldness pierced through their eyes while they looked at “Yoo Sijin”, “You pretended to be the old lover of the messenger, disrupting the celebratory gathering of the messenger and the Ninth Highness of the snow fox tribe, which already offended the mighty Beast Deity. As the tribe elders of the messengers tribe, we cannot just let you leave so easily.”

“Yoo Sijin” was really frightened, he originally just wanted to try his luck, knowing his appearance suited the “Yoo Sijin” Gu Mengmeng mentioned.

He thought, since every aspect of him suited her descriptions, perhaps she would like him too if she saw him?

Males, can just be taken in if females are satisfied by their appearance. Who would care, whether he was really “Yoo Sijin”?

He did not think that things would get to this extent...

“I... I...” “Yoo Sijin” was terrified to no end, with a wall before him, a pack of wolves behind him, and a big bird above him.

Ha, there is nowhere to run now...

Next up, would be a live stream of a gang fight.

Yes, a gang fight.

A gang, fighting “Yoo Sijin” alone.

Seeing how Elvis did not have to make any moves, Auretin and Barete returned to Gu Mengmeng’s side, as Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng back in his arms while Lea laid lazily on Gu Mengmeng’s knees wagging his tail. Ian circled a few times, then disappeared into the darkness. The bunch of people beside the fire, were violently stomping on “Yoo Sijin”.

“Alright.” A while later, Gu Mengmeng spoke silently, finally saving “Yoo Sijin”’s life.

Lea looked up, his face filled with confusion. His tone rather sour, he asked, “You feel bad?”

Gu Mengmeng did not reply Lea, only sitting at her original spot, looking at “Yoo Sijin” who was beaten so badly he was barely breathing, “Tell me, who sent you here.”

“Yoo Sijin” laid on the ground. Before he came, he gave himself a body of injuries so he would look like his character, but now he did not have to, for his injuries were way more real than before.

Upon hearing Gu Mengmeng’s words, he shook his head slowly but sincerely, “No... Nobody sent me here...”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled, “So you thought of the idea of pretending to be my old lover yourself?”

Chapter 621 - Beauty Trap?

Startled, “Yoo Sijin,” shook his head, “N... No, a crippled beast taught me to.”

Crippled beast... Cole.

Gu Mengmeng’s smile turned cold instantly, as viciousness appeared in her gaze, her tone turning flat and monotonous with no signs of emotion, only asking, “Where is he?”

“Yoo Sijin” was stunned for a moment, then shook his head, “I don’t know, he met me when he happened to pass by our tribe, then he told me I looked particularly like one of the old lovers of the mighty messenger. He told me that if I came to see you under the name of “Yoo Sijin”, you would certainly like me, and I can become your male. Even if you did not, you would have allowed me to stay in the messengers tribe on the account that I look similar to that guy. Our old tribe was too small and weak, and every strong male left to develop in a better tribe, leaving us with the old and crippled. Every winter, waves of stray beasts would come to snatch our food... If we do not leave, we would all be forced to die.”

Gu Mengmeng stared coldly at the male who had been beaten black and blue, slowly speaking on his behalf, “So you escaped, and wanted to seek shelter from me?”

“Yoo Sijin” nodded with determination, replying, “Yes.”

Gu Mengmeng grinned, asking, “What made you think I would accept a deserter who turned his back on his tribe?”

“Yoo Sijin” was stunned for a moment, then shook his head, “I am not a deserter.”

Gu Mengmeng leaned backwards, and two thick tails supported her waist like luxurious sofas, allowing her to sit more comfortably.

Gu Mengmeng looked at “Yoo Sijin” indifferently, replying “Oh?” monotonously.

“Yoo Sijin” was rather agitated, “I am here to seek refuge, so the fellow tribesmen of Saint Nazaire can accept my tribe.”

Gu Mengmeng revealed a playful smile, “Beauty trap?”

Standing rooted to the ground, “Yoo Sijin” did not know how to continue.

He did not understand what a beauty trap was.

Gu Mengmeng tilted forward, her elbows on her knees, the back of her hands supporting her chin, while she sized up the “Yoo Sijin” who had injuries all over his body, smiling, “Would you be willing, even if I am willing to accept your fellow tribesmen into Saint Nazaire and call them my beast pets?”

The male nodded without hesitation, “Beast pets, guardian beasts, or even food, I will be willing.”

However, Lea choked on his laughter, side-eyeing “Yoo Sijin”, “You agreeing does not mean whether our Mengmeng is willing. You would require charm of at least my standards... to be a beast pet. Look at your rotten flesh, who would like it?”

Gu Mengmeng sat at her original spot, not acknowledging Lea’s words, only saying, “You also mentioned, your tribe is only left with the old and crippled. They would only be burdens if added to Saint Nazaire, why must I give my own tribe such trouble?”

“Yoo Sijin” frowned, “If not everyone can stay, at least allow the two females in our tribe to. Although they are only half-orcs... but...”

Gu Mengmeng stood up, making a gesture. The 16 valued women from the last beauty pageant, as well as the original female snow foxes shuffled before Gu Mengmeng. That was a riot of colors, beautiful women attractive in their own ways, but the point was – they were all complete females.

Gu Mengmeng stood between the bunch of females, clearly of the same sex but gave her a strong presence, an illusion of the prettiest among the beauties. To completely encapsulate it in one word – Unbeatable?!

Chapter 622 - Ashamed Of His Appearance

“Yoo Sijin”‘s gaze turned gloomy instantly, his ideal situation was to become Gu Mengmeng’s male and gain her love, using it to care for his fellow tribesmen. If that was not possible, Gu Mengmeng could have accepted the two female half-orcs, so the males are able to die in peace even if it meant they could not get through the winter.

But now...

Looking at his own swollen face that was black and blue, then at the males beside the messenger... Ha, so that was how it felt like to be ashamed of his appearance?

As for females, any other tribe would have accepted the females even if they were half-orcs, but... the messenger’s tribe seemed like it did not lack females.

Gu Mengmeng walked through the crowd, taking each step closer to “Yoo Sijin”, squatting down, and said to him with a flat, monotonous voice, “What you can provide for me is not of value. If you want to talk terms with me, at least give me some sincerity.”

“Yoo Sijin” did not understand, only looking at Gu Mengmeng, startled. He did not know why, he just felt like Gu Mengmeng was giving him a chance.

He thought for a moment and responded, “As long as the mighty messenger is willing to take in my fellow tribesmen, I will do anything. Anything!”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled, “Tell me everything about when you met that guy, don’t miss out any detail.”

“Yoo Sijin” furrowed his brows, recalling closely, then started describing, “Over 10 days ago, a group of stray beasts attacked our tribe. It was his sudden appearance that helped us win the stray beasts. We begged for him to stay at our tribe. Although he was a crippled beast, he was a fifth-level orc after all, so with him, we would not have to worry about stray beasts attacking our tribe again. However, he looked sorrowful, only gazing into the distance, plainly saying something like, “If I stay, that would be the real danger.” then he suddenly stopped talking and just stared at me, for such a long time, that I got goosebumps, before saying that I resembled the old lover of the messenger. He said if I wanted to save the tribe, I could only come to depend on Saint Nazaire, so I came...”

Thinking about it, what a fool he was.

He actually really brought his fellow tribesmen across mountains and waters here, purely based on advice given to him by a man whom he could barely name.

Gu Mengmeng smiled coldly, stray beasts attacking a tribe, and he appeared so coincidentally to save them? Cole did not seem like such a fox. Furthermore, his mating mark had been washed by Gu Mengmeng, so he was a stray beast himself, yet he attacked the stray beasts for the tribe? It seemed like it was a self-directed, self-acted out play all along.

Gu Mengmeng gave a sinister smile, but did not tell “Yoo Sijin” what she was really thinking, only replying coldly, “Did he say anything else?”

“Yoo Sijin” frowned, thinking carefully for a long while, “Oh, yes. He still said a strange line, something like, “If a fake appeared that looked more like the real, how long can you be adored for?”. I did not know what he was saying either, when I asked, he only smiled and said he was just talking to himself, so I did not take it to heart.”

Fake?

Gu Mengmeng turned back and evidently saw Lea’s stiffened face.

Ha, he even knew about Lea imitating “Yoo Sijin” to gain her affection, and still took the effort to look for a fake with the appearance that looked closer to “Yoo Sijin”, just to demoralize Lea?

Gu Mengmeng stood up, turning around to face Lea and Elvis, walking back, then suddenly stopped, “Your tribesmen can join Saint Nazaire, but you must be self-sufficient. And... if you want to continue living here, then don’t use the name “Yoo Sijin” anymore. Or else, who knows when the both of them might go crazy and rip you apart.”

Chapter 623 - My Name, Is Burke

For a moment, “Yoo Sijin” could not follow up to Gu Mengmeng, only lying on the ground, watching as Gu Mengmeng walked back to Elvis and Lea, sitting down and returning to their embrace. A black and a white tail swayed beside her, and the snow fox laid on her knee, full of fascination and affection.

The group of females went separate ways while giggling with one another, and the crowd that initially radiated ferocious energy also retracted their murderous intentions, returning to where they were supposed to.

As if the fight just now had not happened.

After being stunned for a while, he finally came back to his senses... Him and his fellow tribesmen can really stay in Saint Nazaire! They can become a member of the messengers tribe.

Trying his hardest to stand up, “Yoo Sijin” took a big step forward, and was blocked by Auretin. He did not say a word, only looking expressionlessly at “Yoo Sijin”.

Both third-level orcs, but “Yoo Sijin” clearly knew he was no match for Auretin, and he had no intentions to cause trouble, only wanting to express his thanks.

So he shouted at Gu Mengmeng, “Burke.”

Gu Mengmeng side-eyed him, not saying a word.

“Yoo Sijin” shouted again, “My name is Burke. From towards, my life belongs to the mighty messenger, and you can use it whenever you wish!”

Gu Mengmeng retracted her gaze, not caring about him.

She did not need anyone to hand their lives to her.

She no longer had the energy to carry another thousand years.

The moment she retracted her gaze, she noticed Auretin handing Burke to one of the tribe elders, conveying Gu Mengmeng's orders as the guard, allowing his tribesmen to temporarily stay in Sauder, and be brought away together when Gu Mengmeng returns to Saint Nazaire.

Lea slowly sat up, and kept his playful expression, looking at Gu Mengmeng asking, "You knew who told him to come, yet you're keeping him?"

Gu Mengmeng smiled, "The Beast Deity told me to have a kind heart, and said that was the only way to get the directions to save Chixuan."

Lea stayed silent. Chixuan's situation has been Gu Mengmeng's soft spot, as long as that little wolf does not wake up for a day, Gu Mengmeng would be forced to accept every tactic Cole tries.

Sighing, he said, "I'll ask people to keep an eye on him."

Gu Mengmeng smiled, "Afraid that he'd be another Ellie?"

Lea nodded, considering acknowledgement.

However, Gu Mengmeng shook her head, "No need to, one who would sacrifice himself for his tribe, would not place his tribe in a dangerous situation to achieve Cole's motives."

Elvis' voice ran cold, "You trust him?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded.

Not knowing whether it was because of Snake, but she could now easily tell slight changes in emotions in other people easily, especially lies and fear.

Elvis sighed, "Is it because, he really looks like "Yoo Sijin"?"

Gu Mengmeng smiled, side-eyeing Elvis then Lea, "You both still think that "Yoo Sijin" is a real person?"

Elvis stayed silent, while Lea nodded.

Helpless, but lazy to explain Gu Mengmeng only replied, “Pass down the message, if anyone claims to be “Yoo Sijin” in future, there will be no need to invite him in, just beat him away.”

Elvis frowned, his gaze gloomy, “However, I... really hope he finds his way here. So he can fulfill his promise, and stay by your side.”

Gu Mengmeng was rather confused, looking at Elvis like she did not understand.

Elvis continued, “If it was him... Perhaps he could cheer you up.”

Chapter 624 - Yo, Great Minds Think Alike

Gu Mengmeng felt a jab in her heart.

Had her emotions reached the extent that would have caused Elvis and Lea to not know what to do? Actually, there was really nothing, it was just her lack of interest towards anything in general, so she would not really feel that sad even when she was not happy.

As for Snake... She had already moved past it, or say, his feelings when he was saving her had neutralized her guilt. She was no longer so upset now, taking into account the urges from Wabei and the Beast Deity.

She was neither happy nor upset, but it seemed like that worried the two of them.

Gu Mengmeng pulled the edges of her lips, forcing a smile while looking at Elvis, "I'm really fine, after I get used to this thousand-year spirit within me, I will gradually be fine. Don't worry, alright?"

Elvis sighed softly, then hugged Gu Mengmeng even tighter. His husky voice rang above Gu Mengmeng's head, "I fear that the only thing I won't learn, in this lifetime, is how not to worry for you..."

Gu Mengmeng did not say anything, only quietly letting Elvis hug her.

Sweat was dripping off the heads of the three little ones who had been running, as they aggressively pounded into Gu Mengmeng's embrace.

Although now, Gu Mengmeng would not fall because of their pouncing anymore, Lea and Elvis still subconsciously blocked them. However, the three little ones were too active, sneaking through Elvis and Lea from three different angles using their tiny frames as an advantage, wiggling to Gu Mengmeng's side.

“Mommy, when will you sing again?” Jialue carried Chixuan in his arms, looking up at Gu Mengmeng asking.

Hede leaned beside Gu Mengmeng’s legs, his big bright eyes filled with expectation, but he pressed his lips together without saying anything.

Kanwu possessed the best position, as he hung in Gu Mengmeng’s embrace, looking up at her, repeating after Jialue’s words, “Yeah yeah, mommy, when are you going to sing?”

Gu Mengmeng rubbed Kanwu’s little head, then kissed Hede and Jialue before hugging Chixuan in her arms, “Right now.”

The eyes of the three children lit up, and Kanwu let his spot to Chixuan, following behind Gu Mengmeng tightly, asking, “Mommy, then can we follow you?”

Gu Mengmeng smiled, nodding, “Of course, I will give you guys the VIP seats.”

Jialue asked, “What are VIP seats?”

Gu Mengmeng brought the four children, walking towards the bonfire while replying, “Very—important—people. It means special guests.”

Kanwu giggled, then turned back to peek at Elvis, clearly trying to stir trouble.

An extra large hash sign appeared on Elvis’ forehead, as he walked forward and held Gu Mengmeng’s shoulders, “very accidentally” kicking Kanwu to the side, only looking at Gu Mengmeng’s profile asking, “Are Lea and I, VIPs too?”

The old Gu Mengmeng would not have noticed those tiny actions of Elvis and Kanwu, but it was especially clear to her now.

Chuckling, she replied, “VIP seats are limited. Carry Kanwu if you really want to sit, you both are considered one seat.”

Elvis frowned, looking down at Kanwu. The father and son duo were especially in sync, as they both said simultaneously:

“No!”

“No!”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled, “Yo, great minds think alike.”

Elvis gritted his teeth, scooping Jialue up from the ground into his arms, “Count Jialue and I as a seat.”

Chapter 625 - One In A Million

Kanwu jumped into Lea's arms, "I want to sit with Daddy Lea."

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. Clearly Kanwu resembled Elvis the most, but they had the most strained relationship.

Hede pressed his lips together, he wanted someone to hug too, but... why were there not a seat for him?

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head, carrying Chixuan with one arm while opening up the other, looking at Hede, "Come, mommy will hug you."

Hede looked up, smiling, then shook his head, "I am the eldest brother, I can walk by myself."

He was satisfied, just by not being ignored...

Mommy was already very tired, he could not be her burden.

Gu Mengmeng rubbed Hede's tiny head, bending down and still carried him up, kissing his tiny face, "You are the eldest brother to the three of them, but you are also my son."

With that, Gu Mengmeng felt a weight lifted off her arm, as Hede was carried over by Elvis, and Chixuan by Lea.

Lea had always had good relationships with the children, it was not weird that he would carry them. However, Elvis had refused to carry anyone other than Jialue, so it made Gu Mengmeng rather surprised that he was willing to carry Hede in his arms.

Elvis cleared his throat, "Your males are still alive, so there is no reason to tire you."

Gu Mengmeng smiled gently, “It’s just carrying two sons, they are not that heavy.”

Elvis stopped in his tracks, turning around to look at Gu Mengmeng, his mystic blue eyes filled with sincerity as he said each word, “No matter the weight, it should be carried by me.”

Gu Mengmeng did not reply further, because she knew, Elvis and Lea were frantic enough. They were desperate to do anything for her, anything to make her feel better. And what she could do, was to cooperate.

Nodding, Gu Mengmeng had already walked towards the bonfire.

The drum used to help Collin propose had been left in Saint Nazaire, but Lea made another new one after knowing that Gu Mengmeng wanted to hold another campfire and promised to sing for the children. It was basically a replica of the first one, with added improvements in terms of details, making it look much more exquisite than the previous one.

Gu Mengmeng held the drumstick, banging on the drum, the sound loud and travelling far. Upon landing, there was only the sounds of the firewood sparking in the whole parade, for every pair of eyes was fixated on Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng took a deep breath, flipping herself onto the drum, sitting sideways lazily with one foot on the side of the drum while the other sagging downwards.

Her hands gripped on the drumstick, she banged the drum to the rhythm again and again, each sound getting closer to the next, and with the last pound, Gu Mengmeng slowly opened her mouth and sang “Aliens”.

Since only a few exclusive tribes were able to sing in the Beast World, so “Aliens” had become the representative work of Gu Mengmeng, causing fellow tribesmen to feel their blood boiling every time they hear it.

Following Collin’s roar, everyone got so heated they almost lost control.

Subconsciously, Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Chixuan.

He still slept there silently.

Smiling bitterly, Gu Mengmeng's eyes sagged to cover her disappointment.

She knew too, that Chixuan had been poisoned by Cole, and how could he be awakened by a single song?

She agreed to Hede's request, because she could tell that the children were trying to find ways to cheer her up.

She could not bear to reject their kind intentions, but eventually thought too much as well.

What if...

What if...

What if Chixuan could really be awakened by a single song, then that would be the greatest pity the heavens could take on her.

However, the possibility of this happening... was one in a million.

Chapter 626 - My Female Should Be Dotted On Like That.

The night campfire party continued for a long time, to put it more accurately, it was a night of wild excitement by the snow fox tribe.

After 1000 years, the snow fox tribe finally became the closest tribesmen of the messenger of the Beast Deity once again. The worry that created an upheaval for a 1000 years slowly disappeared together with the mark on Gu Mengmeng's left ear.

In the next few days, Lea became rather busy. Gu Mengmeng intended on handing Sauder over to Oakley since Oakley had managed the tribe really well despite the estrangement between the tribes during the month when Gu Mengmeng was at the Snake King valley. So, Lea's main mission was to bring Oakley around on handling a few tribe matters and teach him how to balance the relationship between authority and interest.

After Lea and Gu Mengmeng mated, the people from the snow fox tribe became calm and were kept under control.

As what Lea said, they created such a scene previously because they were too restless and were afraid that Gu Mengmeng would abandon them. So, they were desperate to prove that they were stronger than the people from Saint Nazaire. This kind of situation was common and it was just describing a legendary saying, 'You show off what you actually lack'. But now, after Lea had confirmed his relationship with Gu Mengmeng and after Gu Mengmeng mentioned the word 'family' to the tribe elders, the arrogance and honor that the snow fox tribe had engraved onto their bones during these 1000 years had slowly woke up and became the best frame to restrain them. There was no need to waste any effort to control them because a simple sentence of 'don't forget you're from the snow fox tribe' was able to settle those tribe elders and picky females easily.

Rain started to fall all of a sudden.

Gu Mengmeng had never seen such a majestic setting that looked like it wanted to annihilate everything in the modern world before.

Sitting at the entrance of the stone house, Gu Mengmeng extended a hand to catch the rainwater which dropped from the skies.

Gu Mengmeng slightly frowned while looking at the raindrops which were the same size as a bean.

It actually hurt when they fell on her.

If it was him....would he be happy?

After all, he liked rainy days the most.

The next second, a beast skin was placed on Gu Mengmeng. She did not turn back to see who it was as she just directly huddled into a familiar embrace.

“This rain will continue for at least 10 days. We might not have enough storage food at home so I’ll head out later.” Elvis’s gentle voice rang over her head.

This family had too many people now.

Elvis and Lea originally had pretty big appetites so they would eat their full when they were out hunting. Accompanying Gu Mengmeng during meals was really just enjoying the feeling of eating with her.

The appetite of Hede and his two brothers had clearly grown after they evolved and they could almost finish a wild beast in just a meal.

After Gu Mengmeng inherited Snake’s abilities, her appetite also grew by quite a lot.

The consumption of a family was around five wild beasts a day.

There was indeed not enough storage food at home.

Gu Mengmeng slowly stood up and pushed the beast skin back into Elvis's arms. Then, she looked at the rain blankly and said, "I'll go, I'm more suited than anyone else...in this kind of weather."

Gu Mengmeng had just lifted one leg and was about to land her heel on the ground when she was tugged behind. In just one pull, her entire being lost balance and fell against Elvis's chest.

Hug.

Elvis draped the beast skin over Gu Mengmeng's body and then hugged her in his arms. After remaining silent for a while, he spoke up, "My female should be dotted on like that. As long as I'm still alive, there's no weather suited for you to rush about in. Do you understand?"

Gu Mengmeng looked up into Elvis's dark blue eyes. The corners of her lips curved upwards slightly and she grinned, replying softly, "Then...I'll accompany you."

Chapter 627 - Water Will Enter Your Brain.

Elvis frowned and said, “You can’t get drenched by the rain, water will enter your brain.”

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback for a moment before she burst out in laughter.

She remembered how she always ridiculed Elvis’s and Lea’s conversation in the past.

Back then, when they were digging bamboo shoots in the bamboo forest, Ian was present too and the three males started shaking their heads in all seriousness and said something like ‘anyway we can’t die from it, it shouldn’t be that serious’.

He actually believed it to be true and remembered it until now.

Elvis did not know why was his sentence funny to Gu Mengmeng but at least it was the biggest smile he had seen on her after they came back from the Snake King valley.

It was rare to see her with a radiant expression so Elvis felt as if spring had come and the flowers were in bloom under the bright sunlight upon seeing her smile.

Elvis cupped Gu Mengmeng’s little face with his big hands and her gaze between the gaps of his fingers appeared clear and calm. To Elvis, a small smile was valuable enough. He was suddenly scared of losing that smile of hers and he even wanted to see her...let her get drenched by the rain then, as long as she could be happy, even if she wanted him to accompany her in drowning in the rain, he was willing to do that for her.

As if he was possessed by a ghost or god, Elvis nodded his head and reminded, “Don’t run around and always stay in my sight.”

Gu Mengmeng knew that Elvis had agreed.

In the past, even if she acted coquettishly, created a scene or resort to every conceivable means, he would never give in to matters that harmed her health.

But now, he was willing to give in with just a smile from her.

Eventually, she made a mistake in the end, or else why did he appear....more and more inferior even though they had mated for more than half a year and had four children?

Gu Mengmeng clung onto Elvis’s arm and lied on his shoulder, nodding her head while replying to him, “Alright, I’ll just cling onto you like that.”

His heart seemed like it was being tugged on by something harshly.

Elvis lowered his head and kissed Gu Mengmeng’s hair. He just smiled in silence and wrapped her tighter with the beastrskin. Then, he carried her up and walked into the rain in big strides.

The raindrops gave off a concentrated ‘dong dong dong’ sound when they landed on the beastrskin. The beast skin had a waterproof function to a certain level and thus, the raindrops flowed down the fur on the beast skin to the ground and did not make Gu Mengmeng wet at all.

Gu Mengmeng’s arm was still encircled around Elvis’s neck so she stretched an arm out from behind him to catch the falling raindrops.

Yeah, it was the same level of pain but...this kind of feeling was not that bad either.

Elvis entered the central region of the forest in a jiffy and with a few leaps, he placed Gu Mengmeng on a spacious spot and arranged the beast skin properly on her before repeating himself again, “Don’t run around, do you understand?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and replied him with a smile to assure him.

Elvis evolved into his wolf form and rushed into the deeper regions of the mist from the rain.

He wanted to finish his task fast so that Gu Mengmeng need not wait for such a long time.

Gu Mengmeng sat in the rain, hugging her knees with both hands. She lifted her face up slightly and squinted her eyes while letting the raindrops hit her face.

Why did snakes like rainy days?

It was clearly painful when the raindrops land on one's body...

A person slowly advanced towards Gu Mengmeng.

The raindrops fell on the ground and rose again. Amongst the dense mist, Gu Mengmeng still could not see the real appearance of the person even with that eyesight of hers.

His scent was however quite familiar but she could not recall exactly who it belonged to.

He took a step and then a step forward. When Gu Mengmeng finally saw the person clearly, she had tidied up most of the emotions on her face.

“Was it you?” Gu Mengmeng asked softly.

The person nodded and answered her, “Why are you sitting here alone? Females will fall sick when they get drenched by the rain...”

Chapter 628 - So Please Leave, Stop Annoying Me.

Burke was standing beside her and blocking himself from the rain using his prey while Gu Mengmeng sized him up before asking, “What are you doing?”

Burke carried his prey on his shoulders and tried to block as much rain as possible from Gu Mengmeng. He was standing at a spot against the wind but he stood there firmly, not moving an inch even though the rain hit him from behind. “I met Elvis when I was on the way back...are you waiting for him?”

Gu Mengmeng did not answer him as she just quietly looked down at the pool of water by her feet. With every raindrop, the ripples spread open but not a single circle was created when their path was smashed by another drop of rain.

Burke did not mind her reaction as he continued, “I came out to hunt on behalf of the tribe elders, you said that...if we want to stay behind, we have to provide for ourselves and not become a burden for the tribe.”

Gu Mengmeng still did not reply to him.

After Snake’s incident, Gu Mengmeng was clearly aware that if you did not want to give others a chance from the beginning, you had to keep your kind and casual side to prevent giving them hope and creating misunderstandings.

Burke seemed like he could not see Gu Mengmeng’s repulsion towards him as he added, “I, Burke, always keep to my promise. Since you’re shielding our tribe, my life is yours.”

Upon seeing how Burke did not have any intention to stop, Gu Mengmeng looked at him coldly with the corners of her eyes and said, “Your life has no value to me. So, keep it to yourself because I don’t need it. And, you’re blocking my view of the rain so please leave, stop annoying me.”

Burke was taken aback for two seconds and his expression froze. Then, he lowered his head and said, “I’ll accompany you until Elvis returns. After all, you’re in the wild and it’s not safe for a female to be here alone.”

The rain was still falling heavily and the dense mist filled the surroundings. It was very cold but it made Gu Mengmeng feel comfortable.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled lightly and said, “Do you still think that....anyone can hurt me in the Beast World?”

Burke’s legs wobbled from the beast pressure Gu Mengmeng slowly emitted. Frowning, he clenched his teeth but still did not want to leave.

Gu Mengmeng kept her beast pressure and just stared at him calmly, saying, “I won’t accept you so you don’t have to waste your effort to garner my favor. There are many females in the tribe, your success rate will be higher if you change your aim.”

The rain was pelting down, making one feel the chill to their bones. Burke, too, felt cold sweat forming over his entire body, the chill inside him being worse than the rain.

Gu Mengmeng indeed had the ability to protect herself, she did not need him.

But, Burke still shook his head firmly and said, “I’ll accompany you until Elvis returns. Once he comes back, I’ll leave.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned and rejected him, “I said, I don’t need your accompaniment.”

Burke stood his ground stubbornly, “If you don’t need anyone’s accompaniment, don’t give off such a lonely expression. It really makes one's heart ache.”

Burke's volume was not high. If Gu Mengmeng did not have such sharp hearing now, she probably could not have heard him in this rain.

Startled for a moment, Gu Mengmeng stood up slowly and said, “Since you're not leaving, I'll leave.”

Burke looked at Gu Mengmeng walking speedily into the rain and lost all focus. Until she completely disappeared, he then lowered his head slowly and muttered to himself, “I just...wanted to accompany you.”

Gu Mengmeng accurately found where Elvis was after entering the forest.

When she had just reached, Elvis was biting onto the throat of a tiger. Its blood was diluted after being washed away by rainwater and tainted a large surface area of the trench between the soil, looking like blood vessels across a human body.

Chapter 629 - I'm Scared I'll Miss The Time When You Need Me

When Elvis saw Gu Mengmeng, he was taken aback for a second.

He threw the dead wild beast to one side and evolved back into human form before walking to Gu Mengmeng. His long black hair flowed down his back, showing off the smooth and defined lines of his muscles. The light rusty smell of blood contrasted against his presence in the rain, resembling a Datura Stramonium blooming in the prison, elegant and graceful.

“Why are you here?” Elvis frowned and pulled the beast skin slightly to cover her head completely, preventing rainwater from entering her eyes.

“I was a little flustered because you were away for too long so I walked in to check on you.” Gu Mengmeng looked at the pile of prey behind Elvis and asked, “You’re taking too long to kill them one by one. Why don’t you just directly emit your beast pressure, won’t that make things easier?”

Elvis wiped the rain off Gu Mengmeng’s face with a dotting smile and explained, “Emitting beast pressure will cause their gallbladder to burst and their meat will become bitter, how can we still eat them?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded her head, not fully understanding him.

As a human, Gu Mengmeng had zero hunting experience.

As a snake beast, Snake...just directly swallow whatever he wanted to eat in one gulp, there was no need for him to bring his prey back.

Elvis carried all the prey on his right shoulder and then stretched his left arm out to carry Gu Mengmeng, saying, “Let’s head back, it’s very dangerous in the forest on rainy days. If there's thunder, it's easier to get hurt."

Gu Mengmeng smiled and said, "So you placed me outside and came in alone?"

Elvis nodded before he gently kissed Gu Mengmeng's cheek, saying, "Let's head back."

Gu Mengmeng did not resist Elvis's kiss as she just leaned her face against his chest obediently. Then, she instructed him softly, "Put the prey down."

"Huh?" Elvis was confused but he still heeded her instructions.

Gu Mengmeng cast a glance and the next moment, several little snakes swam out from behind the trees and crawled under the prey before lifting them up.

Elvis chuckled lightly and commented, "That's good too, at least the blood won't taint your body."

Gu Mengmeng did not say anything as she just huddled deeper into Elvis's embrace while nodding her head, allowing Elvis to carry her back.

As they passed by the spot where Gu Mengmeng was previously sitting, Burke had already left.

When they returned to the stone house, Lea was sitting by the entrance, looking up at the rain with worry written all over his face. When he saw Gu Mengmeng, he finally heaved a sigh of relief.

Without saying anything else, he carried Gu Mengmeng over from Elvis and walked into the house. He removed her clothes and placed her into the stone bathtub filled with hot water.

"Thank you." Gu Mengmeng lied by the side of the bathtub and said while soaking herself in the hot water.

Lea was originally squatting outside the bathtub but he leaned by the sides and placed his face right in front of Gu Mengmeng, asking her, “This rain will last for around 10 days so won’t you be bored to tears at home? Why don’t I...bring Sandy over to accompany you?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and said, “She always looks like she had committed a big mistake and act so compliant whenever she’s faces me. I guess, she’s probably very stressed to see me, right? Forget it, I’m alright.”

Lea held onto Gu Mengmeng’s little hand and said, “Why don’t I push all the matters for Oakley to handle and then focus on accompanying you at home, alright?”

Gu Mengmeng laughed lightly and asked, “I just accompanied Elvis on a hunt, why are you this tight-up?”

Lea’s hand swept past the thick steam from the water and inched itself towards her neck by following the outline of her face. Then, he started drawing circles on her neck and said with a tint of disappointment in his gaze, “I’m scared I’ll miss the time when you need me.”

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback before she smiled slightly and asked, “Burke dropped by just now?”

Lea nodded and replied, “After I realized that both you and Elvis were not at home, I went out to find you because I was scared of something had happened. On the way there, I met Burke and he said...”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and continued his words, “He said that I was sitting in the rain alone and appeared lonely, looking as if I needed someone to accompany me?”

Lea hesitated for a second but eventually nodded.

He frowned slightly with heartache written in his long eyes. With a voice as gentle as the moonlight, he swept his long and slender fingers across Gu Mengmeng’s face and stopped at her left ear before he said, “My female needs someone to accompany her and I only know it from another male... I’m such a failure...”

Gu Mengmeng grabbed onto Lea’s hand and held it against her cheek. With a tender gaze, she comforted him, “I just accompanied Elvis on a hunt to relieve some boredom at the same time. I’m not lonely and you didn’t neglect me. I’m aware that you just want to return back to Saint Nazaire with me as soon as possible, that’s why you’re disregarding your meal times and sleep to teach Oakley on how to handle the tribe matters. Don’t worry, I’m fine. If I really need anything, I’ll tell you myself and you won’t miss the time when I need you by my side. As for Burke...ha, he’s just an outsider, why should you care so much about what he says?”

Lea chuckled and replied, “Yeah, that’s right, he’s not even the real Yoo Sijin.”

As they talked, Elvis carried a big bowl of ginger water out from the house. He squatted on one knee beside Gu Mengmeng before blowing the spoonful of ginger water to cool it down and then sent it into Gu Mengmeng's mouth. "Drink some, it can help warm your body up."

Gu Mengmeng did not reject Elvis and just let him feed her the entire bowl.

After Gu Mengmeng finished bathing and drinking ginger water, she put on some clean clothes and sat at the entrance, staring blankly at the outside.

Elvis and Lea were cleaning the prey inside the stone house.

In the rain, someone sprinted towards Gu Mengmeng but he stopped nearby and did not dare to step too close to her. However, he did not want to leave either, so he just stood rooted on the spot while staring at Gu Mengmeng. After a long time, he hung his head and turned around to leave.

Gu Mengmeng recognized that the scent belonged to Burke.

He should be here to see her but since he did not approach her, he most probably did not have any important matters to report.

Or maybe...he just wanted to ensure that she had returned back safe and sound.

Gu Mengmeng neither greeted Burke nor gave him any form of response, she did not even bother to glance at him. It seemed like he was just a drop of rain in this downpour and was not worth mentioning.

The rain continued for 13 days so Burke watched Gu Mengmeng for a total of 13 days.

Day 14, sunny.

Gu Mengmeng stretched her arms and finally walked under the sunlight.

Extending her hand out to block the bright sunshine, she squinted her eyes and tried to get use to the rays shining from the gaps between her fingers.

Gu Mengmeng was lifted up and landed against Elvis's chest. His warm voice rang from above her head as he said with a tender expression, "Where do you want to go? I'll accompany you."

Gu Mengmeng did not leave the house for a long time and she felt laziness creeping over her entire body. She cuddled inside Elvis's arms and said, "Let's go find Lea, if he finished settling most of the matters, we can advance on our journey back to Saint Nazaire."

"Alright." Elvis replied softly.

When Elvis reached the meeting room while carrying Gu Mengmeng in his arms, Lea was discussing the problem of their leave with Oakley.

Gu Mengmeng would definitely want to return to Saint Nazaire. They were going to finish the salt they brought along from Saint Nazaire so they ought to quickly return back.

But the problem now was, who should return to Saint Nazaire with Gu Mengmeng and who should stay behind in Sauder to defend the subunit.

Chapter 631 - Don't They Like The Esoterica? I'll Give Them The Esoterica

“Mengmeng.” Fatigue was written all over Lea’s face but when he saw Gu Mengmeng, his eyes still shined brightly.

There was a chair on the main seat in the meeting room, giving off the look of a hall used to hold justice. Nobody dared to sit on that chair besides Gu Mengmeng, even Lea himself did not sit on it before.

Gu Mengmeng did not have much thoughts regarding this kind of formalism but whenever she went to the meeting room, Elvis would always put her in that seat and as time passed, she had already gotten used to it.

Lea sat by Gu Mengmeng’s feet, lying on her knees to look up at her. He swayed his fluffy large tail and eventually landed it into Gu Mengmeng’s arms. Despite how tired he was, he still smiled in happiness and asked, “It’s rare to have such a sunny day, why did you choose to come to the meeting room instead of walking around outside?”

Gu Mengmeng ruffled Lea’s sturdy tail and glanced at Oakley who did not exchange much words properly with her after her identity as a messenger of the Beast Deity had been authenticated. She replied, “I’m here to see how busy you guys are and whether I can be of any help.”

Oakley lowered his head while standing at a side in respect. He said, “Servant and mighty Lea were discussing the candidates who will be heading back to Saint Nazaire with you. We wanted to seek the mighty messenger for advice regarding who you wish to bring along and leave behind?”

Gu Mengmeng looked at Oakley and did not say anything for quite some time. She pressed her lips together and appeared as if she was in a trance.

Back in the past, he used a white fox to garner her favor and dared to accompany her to gather honey despite not knowing anything. It was as if the scene of him roasting meat and preparing storage food together with Barete and Collin outside Elvis's cave before winter had just happened yesterday. Since when did that shy but clever Oakley become this distant towards her until he did not dare to come close to her at all?

Gu Mengmeng commented, "We did not....talk like this in the past."

Oakley pursed his lips and lowered his head, answering her, "You weren't....the messenger of the Beast Deity in the past."

Gu Mengmeng sighed and did not say anything else.

It was very hard to maintain basic friendships between females because that dividing line was too hard to control.

Snake was the best example.

Or maybe, that was already the best result.

Without any more entanglement, Gu Mengmeng rubbed her temples and said, "Those original tribesmen from Saint Nazaire can stay behind if they want. If not, they will head back with me. Burke and all the new tribesmen must leave with me. As for the snow fox tribe....other than Lea, all of them have to stay behind."

Oakley frowned and after contemplating for a while, he said, "If all of them have to stay behind other than mighty Lea, those few tribe elders will probably start being suspicious again."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and refuted, "Don't they like the esoterica? I'll leave one copy behind for them so they naturally will not create a scene anymore."

Oakley raised his head and stared at Gu Mengmeng with confusion written all over his face, not saying a word.

Gu Mengmeng ordered Auretin and Barete to get two large stone boards. They were around the size of the blackboards in school and their surfaces were smoothed to being almost flat.

Then, she used a tree branch tainted with the leftover wood-ash from the fire and wrote some words on the stone boards. After that, Elvis, Lea, Auretin and Barete slowly carved them into stone inscriptions following the wood-ash markings with their sharp claws.

They took a total of three days to finish everything.

Lea stared at the stone tablets for a long time before he pointed at one of them and asked, “Mengmeng, what is written there? Can you tell me?”

Gu Mengmeng smirked and replied him, “The thirty-six stratagems.”

Chapter 632 - If We Don't

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

“The Thirty-Six Stratagems?” Lea looked at Gu Mengmeng in confusion.

Gu Mengmeng nodded her head and explained, “Do you remember? You told me before that only the leader can learn half the content in the snow fox tribe’s esoterica while the witch doctor will learn the other half.”

Lea nodded, implying that he remembered.

Gu Mengmeng continued, “The deduction skills you learned are not from our world, I guessed the Beast Deity must have taught them to the previous messenger and told her to teach them to the witch doctor. Then, they were passed down from generations to generations. But, the part which the leader memorized would most possibly be the product from my era.”

Lea glanced at Gu Mengmeng and then looked at the unfamiliar characters on the stone tablet, asking, “Are The Thirty-Six Stratagems one of them?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and said, “I suspect Cole had memorized The Thirty-Six Stratagems.”

Lea questioned, “Did the Beast Deity tell you that?”

Gu Mengmeng said, “No, it’s just my guess.”

Lea did not probe further as he just looked at Gu Mengmeng quietly.

Gu Mengmeng walked to the second stone tablet and touched the words carved on it, reading them out, “The thirty-fourth stratagem, the trick of injuring oneself to gain the enemy’s confidence. Pretending to be injured has two possible applications. In the first, the enemy is lulled into relaxing his guard since he no longer considers you to be an immediate threat. The second is a way of ingratiating yourself to your enemy by pretending the injury was caused by a mutual enemy.”

The five males in the room all looked blank and even Lea could not fully understand what Gu Mengmeng was saying.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and continued, “This is one of the stratagems in The Thirty-Six Stratagems. In the past, I studied it before but I did not memorize it. However, after I inherited Snake’s abilities, everything I had seen before became very clear without any rhyme or reason, it feels something like....an extraordinary retentive memory.”

Upon hearing Gu Mengmeng mention Snake, Elvis and Lea tensed up, being extremely afraid that she would trap herself in that negative calmness again. Thus, Lea pulled Gu Mengmeng’s hand and asked her seriously, “So, what does this mean? Does this concern Cole?”

Gu Mengmeng answered, “Do you recall how Cole injured himself seriously and created a false impression of him saving Chixuan just to gain my trust after luring me into Sauder?”

Lea nodded, implying that he remembered.

Gu Mengmeng added, “His injury was so serious it almost robbed him of his life. It was not an exaggeration to say that his internal organs were visible right in front of me. If you did not ask Dylan to contact me previously, I might have believed that he was a good person, even though I was a little doubtful towards him. Now that I think about it, it’s really a trick of injuring oneself to gain the enemy’s confidence.”

Lea pondered over it and said, “If the person did not injure himself, he must have been attacked by someone?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and said, “That’s right.”

Lea frowned and asked, “Then, did Burke use the trick of injuring himself when he came to seek refuge from us with serious injuries?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and said, “Those injuries were not done by Burke on purpose, they were most likely left behind when the stray beasts were attacking the tribe.”

Lea remained silent for a while before he slowly opened his mouth and said, “Mengmeng, from the start, I never felt that this Burke is that simple.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed and said, “Cole will never take great pains to send a useless person over, he should have plans for later.”

Lea said, “That’s what I think so too. Cole is a stray beast now so how could he have the heart to banish stray beasts away for an unfamiliar tiny tribe? Ha, that doesn’t seem like his way of doing things. If they said he brought the stray beasts together to attack Burke’s tribe, I might believe it even more.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled as she slowly walked over to another line of words. She grazed past the carvings with her finger and read out loud at the same time, “The tenth stratagem, covering the dagger with a smile. Charm and ingratiate yourself with your enemy. When you have gained his trust, move against him in secret.”

Lea was shocked, as if he suddenly recalled something. He asked, “So Burke seeking refuge is one of the plans?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and stepped forward again. She touched a line of words and said, “The seventh stratagem, creating something out of nothing. You use the same feint twice. Having reacted to the first and often the second feint as well, the enemy will be hesitant to react to a third feint. Therefore the third feint is the actual attack catching your enemy with his guard down..”

Lea did not quite understand the meaning of that stratagem but he was very sure that in Gu Mengmeng’s heart, Burke seeking refuge was clearly not simple.

Elvis took a step forward and stood beside Gu Mengmeng. Frowning, he said, “Since there’s something wrong with Burke, there’s no need to bring him back to Saint Nazaire. I’ll make a trip later and settle it on the spot.”

Gu Mengmeng grabbed onto Elvis’s arm and shook her head gently. Then, she took two steps back and pointed her finger at another sentence. With a cold gaze, she read out, “The thirty stratagem, turning from the guest into the host. Usurp leadership in a situation where you are normally subordinate. Infiltrate your target. Initially, pretend to be a guest to be accepted, but develop from inside and become the owner later.”

Lea lightly grazed past that sentence before meeting Gu Mengmeng's hand. He grasped her little hand firmly in his.

There was some form of laughter in his eyes as he said, "Does Mengmeng intend to use Burke to lure Cole out?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded and said, "Although I'm still not sure why he pushed Burke to us but nothing will go wrong if we see through every trick he uses. He wants Burke to work for him so he must be meeting Burke once every week to exchange information. So we just have to watch Burke closely to be able to catch Cole."

Lea held Gu Mengmeng's hand and tugged onto it lightly, bringing her entire body towards his. Meeting eyes with hers, he said in a gentle and pampering tone, "I know you're anxious to save Chixuan but you have to promise me that you'll not put yourself in danger, alright?"

Gu Mengmeng chuckled before replying, "How long do you need to adjust to the Beast King strength in me?"

Lea shook his head, his gaze still fixated on Gu Mengmeng. With a serious and solemn expression, he explained, "Regarding abilities, nobody can match up to you. But when we were battling Cole back then, neither me nor Elvis were his opponents. If Cole really knows how to use the stuff carved on these stone tablets.....we have to be extremely careful."

Gu Mengmeng nodded her head, implying that she understood.

Better an open enemy than a false friend, an open foe may prove a curse but a fake friend is even worse.

She understood this principle.

"Alright, let's fix these two stone tablets to the wall first and then use beast skin to hide them."

There was a hole with the depth of half an arm dug on the wall a long time ago. They just needed to place the stone tablets slightly slanted and then pushed them in for them to be firmly secured. Gu Mengmeng shook them lightly and after making sure that they were fixed properly, she nodded her head in satisfaction and took two large beast skins to cover the hole up. Right after that, she invited the few tribe elders from the snow fox tribe in.

After the night campfire party, the few tribe elders boasted about being people of noble character and high prestige. And after a period of time, they really encompassed some form of outstanding behaviors like immortals in them.

“Servant pays a visit to the mighty messenger.”

The few old foxes bowed towards Gu Mengmeng in respect.

Gu Mengmeng lifted her hand and jumped straight into the main subject, “These two days, I’ll bring part of the tribesmen back to Saint Nazaire. I’ll leave Oakley behind in Sauder to manage everything so I hope the tribe elders can cooperate and work together with him.”

The moment she announced her decision, the tribe elders were all taken aback. They did not even have time to speak up before their expressions start to crumble.

Gu Mengmeng did not give them any chance to speak rubbish as she added, “I originally wanted the few tribe elders to stay by my side but...I have to leave a few important characters in Sauder so that I have a few trusted subordinates to help me guard this place.”

Chapter 634 - I'm Just Scared Of Your Affection Subsiding As My Beauty Withers Away Because You Won't Like Me Anymore After I Become Ugly.

Gu Mengmeng emphasised the two words 'trusted subordinates' and indeed it made the tribe elders' eyes shine, they even kept the obvious unwilling expressions on their faces.

Gu Mengmeng cast a glance to allow Auretin and Barete to remove the beast skin. The stone tablets with 'The Thirty-Six Stratagems' carved on them were presented right in front of the few old foxes.

The few tribe elders widened their eyes even more. Even though they could not recognize the words carved, they were aware that those were symbols used by the Beast Deity. Then, they hurriedly knelt onto the ground and kowtowed towards the stone tablets.

Gu Mengmeng somehow recalled the days when she worked in the theme park. Upon seeing stones with words carved on them, some older tourists also started taking photos of them as if they were possessed by those special stones.

However, these few were clearly crazier.

Facepalming, Gu Mengmeng coldly stared at how the few old foxes devote themselves in front of the stone tablets.

After they finished their stuff, Gu Mengmeng then opened her mouth to speak, "The Beast Deity orders that this esoterica be kept here in order to frighten the demons and protect the people. You few tribe elders are people of noble character and high prestige and are the best candidates to protect them. It's just that...."

Gu Mengmeng deliberately pulled her last word and sized the flustered tribe elders with the corners of her eyes. Upon seeing how they were going to pounce on her, she then continued, "It's just that Oakley's still young so I have to leave the few tribe elders behind to cooperate with his job but it will be quite inconvenient for all of you. Of course, although I'm the messenger of the Beast Deity, I'm also a democratic person. I respect the tribe elders' views, if you guys aren't willing, I definitely won't force it."

An old fellow took the lead to kneel on the ground first as he crept by Gu Mengmeng's feet, crying out, "I'm the most loyal servant of the messenger, it's my duty to share the messenger's worries. No inconvenience or force is involved. Protecting the esoterica is our honor. Mighty messenger, please fulfill our wish, I'm willing to stay behind to work with witch doctor Oakley."

Since one of them had agreed, how could the rest of them lose to him?

Thus, Gu Mengmeng settled those few old foxes with just two stone tablets.

After a series of pacifying and comfort, the tribe elders left the meeting room in gratification and their old faces covered with tears.

Gu Mengmeng heaved a deep sigh of relief as she lied on her seat in clear fatigue.

Lea stood beside Gu Mengmeng and placed his arm over her shoulders, then circled it over her neck. He said while rubbing her temples gently, "Why do you need to interact with them yourself? You can just leave these stuff to me."

Gu Mengmeng lifted her head and smiled. "You've already worked so hard for half a month just to let me return to Saint Nazaire. Your dark eye circles are all out already."

Lea touched his own eyes instinctively and asked her with some form of worry, “Is it ugly?”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and teased him, “Didn’t you claim yourself to be the best-looking male in this world? You’re even worrying now?”

Lea pinched Gu Mengmeng’s little nose and said, “I’m just scared of your affection subsiding as my beauty withers away because you won’t like me anymore after I become ugly.”

Gu Mengmeng huddled deeper into Lea’s arms and said, “I’m leaving the entire snow fox tribe behind, will you....feel uncomfortable?”

Lea paused for a moment before shaking his head. He replied, “No matter how much they treat me with respect today and serve me as the Ninth Highness, I’m aware that I can never treat them as my own tribesmen anymore.”

Gu Mengmeng raised her head to glance at Lea, her gaze filled with heartache.

Lea, however, smiled as he looked at Gu Mengmeng with devotion written in his long eyes. He comforted her, “I don’t belong to Sauder or Saint Nazaire. I only belong to you. Other than you, I’m not related to anyone else.”

Oakley frowned and looked as if he had many troubles. He wanted to speak but did not.

Gu Mengmeng looked up at Oakley and said, "If you've anything you want to say, just say them. Don't keep them inside you until you suffer from internal injuries."

Oakley hesitated for a while before saying, "Is it really alright to leave these stone tablets here...? What if Cole's people comes to steal them...."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and said, "The Thirty-Six Stratagems is just a normal book over in my world, anyone can read it. But being able to read it and being able to use it are two completely different concepts. Let's not mention those who are illiterate, those who can recognize these characters...how much do they even know?"

Oakley did not understand her as he questioned, "Didn't you say that Cole knows how to use them?"

Gu Mengmeng glanced at Lea and then looked back at Oakley, smiling, "Cole knows how to use 'The Thirty-Six Stratagems' not because he recognized these characters but because his ancestors had read them out loud and passed it down one generation after next. He is probably smart and knows how to make use of some tactics but that is clearly not mature enough. If you want to understand these stratagems, you've got to work together with some historical allusion. A 'Thirty-Six Stratagems' without historic allusion is like a martial arts esoterica without the mental cultivation methods. It's just an empty and nice shell that can't kill anyone."

Oakley stared at Gu Mengmeng in half-understanding and then looked at Lea. Lea ruffled Gu Mengmeng's hair with a doting gaze before peering at Oakley with the corners of his eyes, instructing him, "Listen to Mengmeng. You don't have to understand, just follow her instructions."

Oakley still felt insecure but he could not resist any further.

After contemplating for some time, he lifted his head and asked, "If Sauder meets any problem I can't solve, how should I inform you?"

Gu Mengmeng looked at the entrance and said with a plain tone, "Stop hiding and come on in."

After a series of rustling, a male with a feminine appearance walked into the meeting room. His gaze was only fixated on Gu Mengmeng as he bowed towards her in order and called, "Saintess."

After Snake tilted her the Saintess of the Snake King Valley and announced her position, the meaning of Saintess became different from the past.

Originally, Snake had promised her to get rid of this title, but....it was too late.

Forget it, this title was also a memento Snake left behind for her. Anyway, nobody could force her to do anything, let them call her Saintess then.

"Did Wabei send you guys over?" Gu Mengmeng asked.

The snake beast nodded and answered her, "Wabei ordered us to stay by your side to protect you. If you face any trouble, we'll transmit the message back to the Snake King Valley and they will step forward to settle it."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled, she was aware that Wabei's protection towards her was merely because of Snake.

“You can stay behind in Sauder to help Oakley. If you guys face any tense situation, all that’s left is a little snake to transmit the message to Saint Nazaire.” Gu Mengmeng said.

The snake beast’s face darkened and he cast a glance on Oakley, saying unwillingly, “I need to protect the Saintess.”

Gu Mengmeng sniggered, slowly emitting the Snake King beast pressure in her. The snake beast knelt on the ground while shaking, perspiration dotting his forehead. He bit onto his lower lip and did not dare to oppose her.

Gu Mengmeng kept her beast pressure slowly and said, “Keep that useless worry of yours and abide by my order.”

The snake beast answered with a quivering voice, “Yes.”

Gu Mengmeng stood up and the next second, Elvis reached forward to carry her. When they walked past Oakley, Gu Mengmeng said, “If there’s no other problem, I’ll set off back to Saint Nazaire three days later.”

Oakley took a step back and lowered his head, assuring her, “I’ll arrange everything perfectly as soon as possible. You need not worry, mighty messenger.”

The moment Gu Mengmeng left the meeting room, she saw Hede and his two brothers playing near the entrance while carrying Chixuan. Upon seeing Gu Mengmeng, they all pounced towards her.

“Mummy.” Kanwu was the first one to reach Gu Mengmeng. He lifted his head up and asked, “Are we going home?”

Gu Mengmeng wanted to break free from Elvis’s embrace but he held her even tighter and stared down at Kanwu in a condescending manner. He did not even say a word when a ‘hurry and get lost’ aura embraced them.

Gu Mengmeng knew that Elvis was comparing himself to Kanwu again but it was not nice to embarrass the children’s father in front of them. Thus, she lightly patted Kanwu’s head and answered him gently, “Yeah, we’re going to set off three days later. Are you happy?”

Kanwu chose to completely ignore Elvis’s actions as he nodded and replied, “I’m happy. I can participate in hunting with the tribe on the way back.”

Jialue also joined in, “Yeah, there are not that many matters to work on as we head back so Daddy Lea has time to teach me deduction skills.”

Hede looked at Chixuan who was lying in his arms and smiled kindly. He had a sense of maturity that was clearly not matching with his age. He asked, “If we return back to the place we’re familiar with, will you wake up?”

Gu Mengmeng glanced towards Chixuan and did not say anything. She just silently calculated, what exactly was Cole planning when he pushed Burke to her side? Everything must be followed by a motive, then what was Cole’s motive?

It seemed like she had to work on Burke to be able to catch Cole.

Gu Mengmeng looked back towards Barete and ordered, “Call Burke over for me.”

Barete nodded and did not say anything. He just turned around and headed towards the borderline of Sauder.

Auretin followed behind him for two steps before he looked up at Gu Mengmeng and said without any expression, “I’ll go hunt and then share a meal with you guys.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and questioned, “Sauder is filled with so many beauties, did you really not take a fancy on any?”

Auretin seemed like he did not quite understand Gu Mengmeng as he just stared back at her blankly, neither saying a word nor moving.

Gu Mengmeng said, “Find a suitable female and start a family, sharing meals with me is not sustainable in the long run.”

Auretin refuted, “I’m your guardian beast, I can’t start a family with other females.”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and asked, “You don’t like me, right?”

Auretin lowered his head slightly and pondered over it in serious thought. Then, he shook his head and confessed, “I like you.”

Gu Mengmeng was slightly surprised as she asked, “Like me? Which part of me do you like?”

Auretin replied to her in an extremely serious tone, “Your family’s food is the most delicious.”

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback for a moment before she suddenly burst out in laughter and said, “You two clearly have such different personalities but why is your foodie trait so similar to Sandy’s?”

Auretin did not know what Gu Mengmeng was laughing about so he shifted his gaze to Elvis before noticing that tenderness was written all over his face. His pair of dark blue eyes followed Gu Mengmeng's smile and slowly curved upwards.

Auretin could not quite relate to the feeling of how one's emotions could be affected by a female. He did not know whether all the females had the ability or whether it was only Gu Mengmeng. He did not know whether people like him whose emotions had already been almost forgotten...still had the chance of being saved if they mated with Gu Mengmeng. One day in the future, could they still unknowingly smile in happiness like Elvis?

Clearing his throat, Auretin said, "I'll go hunt and come back to share a meal with you. Don't mention anything about mating, I don't like it."

Chapter 637 - Are You Not Leaving With Me?

Gu Mengmeng did not insist any further, she did not have the enthusiasm like how she matched and put together Sandy and Collin in the past. She did not want to....interfere too much into other people's lives.

When Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng back to the stone house, Barete and Burke were already standing at the entrance.

Upon seeing Gu Mengmeng, Barete straightened his body and maintained a model soldier-like face. His expression seemed like it became more resolute from the past two months and he also became more quiet, as if he opened his mouth a lot lesser unless he was facing Gu Mengmeng.

"I brought him over." Barete opened his mouth and reported in a brief and concise manner. After he finished his words, he stood behind Elvis and continued playing his role as a messenger's guard. He was not talkative and did not steal anyone's show. If you did not look at him in detail, he appeared as if he was a background behind Gu Mengmeng.

Elvis sat down on the stone steps at the entrance while carrying Gu Mengmeng. On the other hand, Lea walked past Burke while swaying his large tail and slightly paused for a moment before he laughed lightly. However, he did not say a word as he just walked to the simple cooking range to start a fire.

Gu Mengmeng sat in Elvis's arms and looked at Burke with the corners of her eyes lazily. She also laughed lightly and ordered, "I'm going to head back to Saint Nazaire three days later. You and your tribesmen shall head back with me."

Burke clenched his fists by the two sides of his body and held them tightly before slowly letting them go. He did not dare to stare directly into Gu Mengmeng's eyes as he just looked intently at her shadow that had been pulled long by the sunlight. Frowning, he replied, "Can we....stay in Sauder? My tribesmen are already too old, they can't withstand such continuous traveling and migration...."

Gu Mengmeng was shocked and pretty surprised too.

"Are you not leaving with me?" Gu Mengmeng asked.

Was Cole's motive to control Sauder again instead of her when he planned Burke into the picture?

Burke shook his head with much difficulty and explained, "I wish to leave with you too but if I leave, nobody can provide food for my tribesmen. Originally, I still have two half-orc females in my tribe to recruit more family members through mating and thus take care of my tribesmen better. But..."

But Sauder did not lack females. How could the two half-orc females succeed in snatching resources from the group of top perfect females?

Let alone implicating a whole family of old, weak, sick and crippled, even if half-orc females whose families were rather strong such as Maya and Sandy, they did not take in any new family members after coming to Sauder.

Of course, Sandy was deeply satisfied after getting Collin so she did not give any chances to other males. Or else, with her identity as the bosom friend of the messenger, there would still be males who were willing to mate with her.

Gu Mengmeng nodded her head and did not force him any further as she said, "Since that's the case, I won't force you anymore. You can go back now."

Burke quietly shifted his gaze up and looked at Gu Mengmeng in deep affection.

Her lonely figure in the rain made him toss and turn restlessly in bed which eventually caused him to stay up all night . He did not know whether it was tears or rainwater on her face that day but her clear eyes were so calm and peaceful that it made one's heart ache and aroused one's desire to protect her.

If it was possible, he wished to stay by her side to protect her no matter what happened so that she need not sit in the rain alone and need not feel lonely again.

But....

Eventually, Burke just replied an 'alright' before he turned around and left the place slowly with heavy footsteps.

After Burke had left, Gu Mengmeng and Lea exchanged glances and chuckled, "You smelled it too?"

Chapter 638 - I'm Not Dead Yet.

Lea put down whatever he was doing and walked to Gu Mengmeng. He hooked Gu Mengmeng's chin lightly with his long finger and squinted his eyes, looking at her with a bitter gaze. "Why do I feel so upset seeing how you're so familiar with his scent?"

He meant that Gu Mengmeng did not smell wrongly.

Chuckling, Gu Mengmeng looked towards Barete and said, "Seems like you've to stay behind this time."

Barete turned around and stared in the direction where Burke had disappeared, asking, "Stay behind to watch after him?"

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and explained, "Stay behind to help me protect Oakley. When faced with any uncontrollable situation, both of you must at least make it back to Saint Nazaire alive."

Barete looked towards Gu Mengmeng and clamped his lips before finally replying, "Alright."

Lea, however, was reluctant to end this topic as he tilted Gu Mengmeng's chin back to face him and he stared right into her eyes, asking, "What do you plan to do after you catch him?"

Gu Mengmeng smirked and replied, "I don't know too...ha, what extent can I go to for my son?"

Lea raised his head and asked, "What if he requests to be your beast pet? Will you agree for Chixuan?"

Gu Mengmeng looked up straight into Lea's eyes and said, "Beast pet? I'm afraid he doesn't have the courage to raise this up....."

Lea probed further, “What if he raises it up? What do you plan to do?”

Gu Mengmeng smiled until her shoulders shook, appearing quite ghastly as she said with a cold gaze, “If he raises it up, I’ll agree....and see whether he has the luck to enjoy my body filled with poison.”

Gu Mengmeng felt pain in her chin and shoulders at the same time so she frowned but did not resist.

Elvis’s voice exploded from over her head like a bass cannon. Every word was pounded on Gu Mengmeng’s chest, “I’m not dead yet.”

Lea held onto Gu Mengmeng’s little face as a dimple formed on his holy and seductive face. But why did that smile look as if a layer of icicles was frozen on it?

“I’m still alive too.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled guiltily and explained herself, “I know, I know, I just randomly said it....randomly said it....”

Lea was smiling even more gloomily and his voice was clearly very calm but it gave people a stressful feeling as if the gale is raging and a storm is about to burst. It felt as if Lea’s pressure in the 100 meters circumference was shrinking. He leaned forward slightly and enclosed the entire Gu Mengmeng up. A seductive aura that was filled with danger and fatality filled his eyes and he slowly opened his scarlet thin lips, giving off a unique fragrance that smelled like the flowers from the opposite bank, causing one to be lost in wild and fanciful thoughts.

“Both of us are not useless to the extent of forcing our own female to sacrifice her body to settle the problem.”

Lea was just a third-level orc...right?

Gu Mengmeng was uncertain for a moment, wasn’t her skills better than Lea now? Why did it felt as if she was losing to him?

It was a cowardly act of her, but her heart was beating very crazily.

“Umph...” Her lips were sealed by Elvis before he extended his tongue directly into her mouth, stealing away all her fragrance.

There was a sense of numbness from her neck so Gu Mengmeng looked towards it and realized that Lea was nibbling on her neck. He was neither hard nor light on her, it was slightly painful but it would not injure her, giving off some lust and punishment at the same time.

After a long time, until Gu Mengmeng’s entire body softened, the two fellows released her in common consensus.

Elvis cupped Gu Mengmeng’s little face warmly, his dark blue eyes were so deep until nothing but only her reflection could he seen clearly. With his voice sounding like hot sand rubbing against iron that sent electric currents all over Gu Mengmeng’s body following her bloodstream, he said, “Your two men at home are still hungry but you’re thinking of feeding other people? Huh?”

Chapter 639 - As Compared To You, My Pain Doesn't Deserve To Be Mentioned.

“Barete is still looking.....both of you...umph umph...stop joking around....” Gu Mengmeng could not even finish her words when Elvis and Lea started fiddling around her body as if they had come to an agreement together, disturbing her so much until her heartbeat started becoming unstable.

Barete hung his head silently and said, “I’ll head over to Oakley and inform him.”

...

Barete only left a resolute back view to Gu Mengmeng, he liked Gu Mengmeng, he liked her ever since she came to the tribe.

But he knew that protecting her as her guard is already the closest distance between them.

Elvis and Lea...would not give him a chance to improve.

If he was too greedy, both of them would definitely not be able to stand him.

So, knowing when to leave was the only way to stay by her side.

After Barete left, Elvis and Lea let Gu Mengmeng off forcefully after her endless pleading.

“Don’t say those words again...or else I’ll kill Chixuan with my bare hands.” Elvis said coldly.

Gu Mengmeng clamped her lips as her gaze became cold.

This was the second time he mentioned killing her sons, it was Kanwu the previous time and now it was Chixuan, why were her sons so worthless in his eyes?

Elvis seemed like he knew what Gu Mengmeng was thinking about so he turned her body to face his before speaking in utmost seriousness, “As compared to you, everything in this world doesn’t mean a thing. The same goes for our tribe and our sons and even myself. You became like that because of them so this is already the most I can hold myself back. If you continue to put yourself at risk for them, I can only kill them myself to protect you.”

“If you dare touch my sons, I’ll hate you.” Gu Mengmeng said with a tint of anger and unhappiness in her tone.

Elvis smiled bitterly and pacified her, “I know. If you hate me, I’ll live life like death but as compared to you, my pain doesn’t deserve to be mentioned.”

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head and stared at her knees.

Snake exchanged this pair of legs...with his life.

She was so much clearer than anyone else regarding how stubborn the love of males could get in the Beast World, right?

“If you really want....Lea and I are willing to sacrifice our lives to accompany you in the spring night.” Elvis hooked Gu Mengmeng’s chin and kissed her lips. This kiss was different from the previous punishment kiss, this kiss was done with extreme gentleness.

It was only a kiss but it made Gu Mengmeng’s brain lack oxygen and her breathing became difficult.

Elvis hugged onto Gu Mengmeng's shoulder and pressed her against his chest. He gave her a strong backing while not letting her notice the hurt in his eyes at the same time.

"If you want a few more partners...Barete, Auretin, Ian are all good choices but...not Cole, he's not worthy enough."

Gu Mengmeng lied in Elvis's embrace and chuckled, explaining herself, "I know, I have no intention of taking in more partners and I won't take in Cole as a beast pet too. It was just words I said in a moment of anger, why do you guys need to take it so seriously?"

COMMENT

Lea squatted in front of Gu Mengmeng and placed a knee on the ground, holding Gu Mengmeng's little hand to his lips to land a kiss. Then, he stared straight into Gu Mengmeng's eyes and said, "If it makes you happy, we don't mind having a few more family members, regardless of whether it's a partner or a beast pet as long as it can make you happy. But...not Cole, he's too dangerous and dirty."

Gu Mengmeng smiled and replied, "I only need you and Elvis. I don't need any new partner or any new beast pet. I don't want Barete, Auretin, or Ian, let alone... Cole. Don't worry, alright?"

Chapter 640 - Setting Off Back To Saint Nazaire

Chapter 640: Setting Off Back To Saint Nazaire

Three days later, Gu Mengmeng headed back to Saint Nazaire.

Amongst all the tribesmen from Saint Nazaire who rushed here during the attack of Cole, all of them left with Gu Mengmeng except for Oakley and Barete.

A few tribesmen from the snow fox tribe wanted to follow Gu Mengmeng back to Saint Nazaire but Lea used the two stone tablets to keep them behind.

Sixteen precious females including Maya and Sandy, eighteen big families and a few single males who had not mated yet walked out of Sauder's main door in a mighty formation with great strength and vigor.

Gu Mengmeng turned her head back and saw Oakley, Barete and the snake beasts Wabei sent over standing by the entrance gazing at them like abandoned dogs.

Gu Mengmeng sighed and turned her head back.

Elvis tightened his arm around her waist and asked, "Are you worried?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded and said, "Barete is just a third-level beast, if he really faces Cole, he won't be able to even protect himself, how can he protect Oakley? I still think that it's....too risky."

Elvis asked her, "Should we send someone to the Snake King Valley and call Wabei over to protect them secretly?"

Gu Mengmeng thought over it for a moment before she shook her head and rejected the idea, “If Wabei is present, Cole won’t even dare to appear. Moreover, with Wabei’s temper....I’m scared that Barete and Oakley will die in Wabei’s hands before Cole appears.”

Lea walked to Elvis and held Gu Mengmeng’s little hand in his, saying, “If you’re still worried, I’ll call both of them over to return to Saint Nazaire with us and Sauder will be handed over to those old fellows. If Cole’s motive is to snatch Sauder back, I guess their absence will be more advantageous to Cole.”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and said, “Cole clearly knows that I had figured out that Burke came to Sauder upon his instigation. If I’m not the least defensive... this will only attract his suspicion.”

Elvis said slowly, “Is being too perfect a loophole....too?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and did not say a word. She just calculated in her heart once again and tried to think through the details more clearly to tackle the problem.

The speed of the rest was a lot slower than Elvis, Lea and Gu Mengmeng.

Females were too pampered so they could not stand traveling for long distances. Although they were better this time after having experienced it once, a whole morning of rushing about resulted in them whining and complaining.

Gu Mengmeng was not anxious in returning back to Saint Nazaire too so she found a better spot in the forest to take an afternoon break.

The males went out to hunt while the females gathered together around Gu Mengmeng. Their respective partners could only sit by the boundaries of the crowd to protect the females after not being able to squeeze beside their own females.

And even Elvis and Lea.....were being pushed out by those females.

Gu Mengmeng threw them a smile to set their hearts at ease and then sat in the crowd of females to start chatting with them as a way to pacify their emotions.

“Mighty messenger, I heard from Sandy regarding the story between you and Yoo Sijin but I’m still very curious....can you tell us once more? The person who raised this request was Mandy, the First Beauty that Gu Mengmeng specially picked.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and shook her head, saying, “All of you have heard of that Yoo Sijin story so many times already, are you girls still not sick of it?”

Mandy’s eyes brightened and she huddled closer to Gu Mengmeng, asking, “Does the mighty messenger mean that.....she has more stories to tell us?”

Gu Mengmeng laughed and could only nod her head upon seeing the eighteen pairs of glistening bright eyes filled with anticipation. She started, “Yeah, I’ll tell a story to all of you. This story starts off with this fish falling in love with a flying bird.”

Chapter 641 - Just Let Her Do Whatever She Wants

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Although Gu Mengmeng claimed it was a story, it was just a script from a play that she acted in before when she was working at the theme park in the past.

The whole play was approximately 40 minutes long but when Gu Mengmeng was the only one to narrate it, it was at most a 10 minutes long story.

The males who went hunting came back one after another. From faraway, Gu Mengmeng could spot her two balls of flesh in the formation. Jialue stayed behind to take care of Chixuan while pestering Lea to tell him about some deduction methods so he did not join the hunt. On the other hand, Hede and Kanwu followed the rest.

Upon seeing her sons, Gu Mengmeng's gaze became a lot gentler. She dusted her hands and announced, "Alright ladies, I'll tell the story until here today. All of you shall return back to your own males and have a good rest. We'll continue our journey back in the late afternoon after we finish eating."

The females wanted to hear more stories, but they did not dare to pester her too much.

Mandy and Sandy led the way to disperse a few females each before everyone left one after another

Mandy stood behind Gu Mengmeng and pulled the side of her dress in a bashful manner, asking softly, "Is that flying bird who fell in love with the fish.....Ian?"

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback for a moment before she shook her head helplessly.

This Beast World was good in all ways but the only bad thing was their bad habit of letting their imaginations go wild and taking different roles recklessly.

Gu Mengmeng lightly held Mandy's shoulder and said, "That's just a story, don't think about it too much. Hurry and go back, your male is still waiting."

Mandy nodded, but she landed her gaze towards the top of the tree secretly.

Gu Mengmeng knew that she clearly had assumed that Ian was the main character in the story.

Forget it, just let her do whatever she wants.

After sending away Mandy, the two balls of flesh who had just returned from hunting had also rushed to Gu Mengmeng.

"Mummy, this is for you." Kanwu was always faster. Although Hede was his older brother, Hede's fitness could never beat Kanwu. When Kanwu reached Gu Mengmeng, Hede was still around 5 to 6 meters behind him.

Gu Mengmeng looked at the dead rabbit and rubbed Kanwu's head gently, praising him, "Yeah, Kanwu is so awesome. Rabbits are so agile until it's difficult to even catch one. You're so brilliant."

Upon receiving her compliment, Kanwu was extremely cocky. The gaze from his azure blue eyes flew towards Elvis deliberately. It was clearly a young and fresh little face but it somehow gave off a sense of provocation.

Elvis clenched his teeth and walked to Kanwu. Clasping on the back of his neck, he lifted Kanwu up to where his eyes were and coldly said, "You can only bring back your prey after you finished handling it. Do you not know this little rule?"

Kanwu swayed his limbs around, baring his fangs and brandishing his claws but he could not even touch a strand of Elvis's hair. Baring his fangs further, he refuted, "This prey is for my Mother, nothing matters as long as my Mother likes it, why are you poking your nose into this?"

Elvis pinched Kanwu's face and forced himself to turn his face away to the completely dead rabbit. Then, he said each word coldly, "Do you think my wife will like this bloody and ugly rubbish?"

Kanwu was speechless, this was the first time he joined the hunt and that rabbit was also too sly so....erm.....it did die a little too tragically. But upon being criticized by Elvis like that, he more unwilling to admit defeat.

Upon seeing how her son was about to break out in tears by Elvis's words (Kanwu completely did not have any intention to cry, this was just a scene his blood-related Mother imagined), Gu Mengmeng hurriedly stood up and grabbed onto the rabbit's ears, laughing lightly while saying, "Ha...ha ha.....such a coincidence, I have a huge craving for rabbit meat today, it's great, great."

Elvis threw Kanwu carelessly and then took the bloody rabbit from Gu Mengmeng's hands, saying; "I'll help you hunt an enormous rabbit, this....ha...."

Gu Mengmeng punched Elvis's chest lightly and whispered, "This is our son's first hunt and he gave his first prey to me. Can you stop attacking him?"

Elvis raised his brow and said, "It's not good enough, am I not allowed to speak the truth now?"

Gu Mengmeng looked at Elvis, slightly angry and blaming him.

Elvis breathed in deeply and said while wiping the tainted blood on Gu Mengmeng's fingers, "You glared at me again for him....indeed, I'm starting to hate them more and more."

Gu Mengmeng scolded, "Hubby!"

Kanwu walked forward and hugged Gu Mengmeng's thigh, raising his head at her. Then, he said seriously, "Mummy, don't be upset, it's alright if he hates me. Anyway, I don't like him either."

The corner of Gu Mengmeng's lips twitched....

They were indeed a pair of blood-related father and son, verification completed.

Elvis ignored Kanwu as he ran straight into the forest after informing Lea.

Hede was holding a wild bird's neck in his hands as he stood two steps away from Gu Mengmeng, hesitating whether he should step closer.

Gu Mengmeng gestured Hede to come over. Touching his sweaty face, she asked, "What did you hunt? Let Mummy see it."

Hede placed the wild beast in front of Gu Mengmeng while muttering to himself, "My prey is not as good as Kanwu's...."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and said, "Both of you are brilliant. This kind of result is already considered very good for your first hunt."

Hede said, "But Father Beast said...."

Gu Mengmeng pinched her two sons' faces and said, "Father Beast is using his own method to encourage both of you, he just hopes that you guys can do better. Don't be sad, he really doesn't despise all of you."

Kanwu sighed and said, acting like he was an adult, "Running off after he created trouble and letting Mother clear up his mess.....sigh, when can he be more reliable?"

Gu Mengmeng broke out into laughter by Kanwu's words. She hugged Kanwu and kissed him, explaining, "Your Father Beast is just scared that we don't have enough food, so he went to replenish the prey...."

Kanwu hugged Gu Mengmeng's neck and kissed her cheek before looking at her seriously with his azure blue eyes, saying, "Forget it, don't bother to explain for him. You're already too troubled with this unreliable First Partner. But that's alright, we four brothers will grow up as soon as we can so you don't need to rely on him then because four of us will protect you."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and nodded, saying, "Alright, I'll wait for my baby sons to grow up quickly to protect me."

Lea swayed his large tail and walked over while holding onto Jialue. After he lightly swatted his hand away, Jialue went forward to stand next to Hede and Kanwu while carrying Chixuan.

Lea slowly squatted beside Gu Mengmeng before wrapping his fluffy large tail around her waist. Pulling her in, he supported his face with both hands and smiled kindly, chiding, “Little rascal, are you seducing my female?”

Gu Mengmeng’s face darkened and she slapped Lea, scolding him, “Watch your words, he is my son.”

Kanwu sighed and shook his head, landing a hand on Gu Mengmeng’s shoulder. In a grave and sincere tone, he suggested, “Mum, do you want to consider taking in a few normal partners? Just like Mother-in-laws’s Bode or Collin, those whose brains are functioning well...”

Lea hugged Gu Mengmeng in his arms and smiled a sinister smile. Staring at Kanwu, he said, “From today onwards, you’re restricted from heading out to hunt.”

Chapter 643 - Normal People Can Never Win A Lunatic.

Lea's casual sentence made Kanwu explode instantly.

This was the first time he went out to hunt with his fellow tribesmen. It was a nerve-wracking and exciting experience. Although he had just hunted a little rabbit, and.....erm....he still had a long way to go in terms of his methods, he received a compliment from his Mother!

Restricting him to head out on a hunt? Why don't he just directly chop his four limbs off?

He bared his teeth menacingly at Lea and looked like he was about to explode in anger. If Lea was not carrying Gu Mengmeng, Kanwu would definitely pounce on him and land a bite on him.

Jialue pulled Kanwu back lightly and then whispered something into his ear. The next moment, Kanwu paused abruptly before breaking out into a sneaky smile. Then, his anger subsided completely as he sat on the ground with a plop, raising his head at Gu Mengmeng. His stare with those azure blue and watery eyes melted Gu Mengmeng's heart.

Sniffing, he pouted and said, looking as if he was wronged and was on the verge of tears, "Mummy.....do you not like the little rabbit I hunted? You despise the prey I give you too, right? So....weep weep weep...."

Jialue's little trick was too obvious in Gu Mengmeng's eyes.

But seeing through everything did not obstruct her heart from aching for her son.

Gu Mengmeng pinched Lea and then scrambled out from his arms to pull Kanwu in for a hug. She comforted him softly, "Kanwu, be good, Kanwu, don't cry. Mummy likes the prey Kanwu gave, you're doing it very good already. Mummy is very proud of you."

Kanwu whined, "Weep weep weep... but I can't hunt for Mummy anymore... weep weep weep....does that mean I can't receive any more compliments from Mummy anymore?Does that mean I can't take care of Mummy anymore too.....then will I get abandoned by Mummy and become a wild wolf that nobody wants?weep weep weep....Mummy...."

Kanwu created a big fuss by being unreasonable and rolling about on the ground, strictly speaking, what he said made no sense at all.

But which Mother in this world would not feel warmth when they heard how much their son wanted to protect themselves and how much their sons wanted to prove his ability in front of them?

Gu Mengmeng lightly patted Kanwu's back and then turned her head to glare at Lea, clearly standing on Kanwu's side without any principles. She chided, "It's alright if only Elvis is like that but how can you act like him too? Is it fun abusing your authority to threaten a child?"

Lea was dumbfounded for a moment after getting scolded by Gu Mengmeng but he shortly broke out into a radiant smile and inched his handsome face in front of Gu Mengmeng, pressing the tip of his nose against Gu Mengmeng's, as if he was about to rub Gu Mengmeng into his eyes.

His two snow-white fox ears twitched on top of his head and the moment he opened his thin lips, his unique warm scent spewed against Gu Mengmeng's face, giving off tender and romantic sentiments. With an ambiguous and excited voice, he said,

"Mengmeng, you look really attractive when you're angry...."

Gu Mengmeng's face blushed upon hearing Lea's words and she took a step back on her instincts.

However, Lea did not give up as he quickly used his large tail to possess Gu Mengmeng's waist, pulling her towards himself. Using one hand to support the back of her head, he slid his other hand to her palm following her arm and then interlocked his fingers with hers. Grabbing her hand firmly in his, their ten fingers were securely fixed together.

"If you're angry.....do you want to pinch my ear? Hmm?"

Gu Mengmeng's body became stiff by Lea's actions and she did not know what to do. She turned her face to seek help from her sons but she only saw Jialue sigh while patting Kanwu, saying, "Forget it, don't fight with someone who is a masochist . Normal people can never win a lunatic."

Kanwu tilted his head to look at Lea and then glanced towards Gu Mengmeng. He deeply learned a lesson: he can work hard to win those with psychotic abilities but....he can never win those with psychotic mentalities.

Chapter 644 - Masochists Lunatics

Chapter 644: Masochists Lunatics

Gu Mengmeng's four sons sighed and then walked away quietly, causing her to facepalm.

Where's the so-called father's love is like a mountain with a tall and imposing image?

Why were her two fellows being despised by her sons one after another?

Was it really because there was a problem in her taste in men? Gu Mengmeng felt a strong sense of sorrow....

Elvis did not need much time to hunt so not long after the four little ones left, Elvis walked over with an enormous rabbit three times his human size on his shoulders.

Gu Mengmeng felt pretty amazed upon seeing such a whole prey after a long time.

Pushing Lea away, Gu Mengmeng walked to Elvis and saw how he deliberately placed his prey on top of Kanwu's little rabbit, then poked the skull of the enormous rabbit with one elbow before placing his palms on its temples. Sighing, she asked, "Does winning your son give you a huge sense of achievement?"

Elvis pulled Gu Mengmeng into his arms and kissed her forehead, replying, "I've to let him know who's the leader in the family."

Gu Mengmeng shook her head helplessly and said, "Do you know that you and Lea became psychotics in their hearts?"

Elvis shrugged his shoulders, not taking it to heart as he said, "Let them think whatever they want, I don't really care."

Gu Mengmeng was helpless as she sighed and admitted to her fate, not forcing it anymore.

Lea inched closer and placed one hand on Elvis's shoulder and used his other hand to ruffle his own tail. He said in an utterly bored tone, "Sigh, I was chided just now."

Elvis frowned and asked Lea while looking at him sternly, "Really? Xiao Meng chided you?"

Both of Lea's eyes glistened and he nodded in head in unusual excitement, as if being scolded was something exceptionally honorable.

Elvis was pretty agitated too as he asked, "Did she do anything else? Did she hit you?"

Lea's gaze darkened and he shook his head in disappointment, replying, "Nothing else."

Elvis sighed too and he said with a regretful tone, "Forget it, it's not easy for her to lose her temper and chide someone. This is good news and maybe she can hit someone next time."

A thick vein on Gu Mengmeng's forehead started twitching.

No wonder her sons said that these two were masochist lunatics.

It's alright if they thought of ideas everyday to make her happy but they succumb to feeling proud now if they could just arouse her anger?

Gu Mengmeng stepped forward and stretched her two little black hands out to twist Elvis's left ear and Lea's right ear. She asked while grinning widely, "How? Are you two satisfied now?"

The wolf and fox whose ears were being twisted had their eyes glow up suddenly, as if they had just won 1st prize after checking their lottery tickets in front of the television.

They hugged Gu Mengmeng in agitation, squeezing her in between a black and white figure, creating a human wolf fox sandwich.

“Erm.....I can’t breathe.” Gu Mengmeng howled, as if life was meaningless.

Elvis and Lea then tidied their emotions and released her.

Lea held onto Gu Mengmeng’s shoulder and said, “That’s great, Mengmeng, you’re finally angry. This period of time, you neither smile nor create a ruckus, my heart aches just at the thought of it. It’s good for you to lose your temper, it’s good for you to have changes in your emotions....I’ll make food for you, just a while will do.”

As he said, Lea landed a heavy kiss on Gu Mengmeng’s cheek before swaying his tail to handle the enormous rabbit.

It’s not exaggerating to say that Gu Mengmeng saw countless flowers blooming around Lea brightly.....

The reason why she was so depressed.....was probably a result of these two fellows.

Chapter 645 - Damn It, We've Been Surrounded.

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

After three days, they were already halfway to Saint Nazaire from Sauder.

The nearer they were to Saint Nazaire, the more uneasy Gu Mengmeng got. She always felt that a pair of eyes were watching her in the dark but when she checked her surroundings, she did not notice anyone.

And even Ian who was hovering in the air did not notice any suspicious action so Gu Mengmeng had no other choice but to treat it as nostalgia before returning to her hometown.

At night, the round moon hung itself in the sky, radiating a tint of a chilly feeling through its bright moonlight, as if a silky white gauze was enclosing the entire night scene.

The ancient dark green woods that stood tall and straight gave off an eerie atmosphere in the dark, causing one to feel terror creeping over their bodies uncontrollably.

Everything was dead silent and it was a night suitable to have a sound sleep.

Suddenly, an ear-piercing howl broke the silence.

Gu Mengmeng opened her eyes abruptly and saw how Elvis and Lea were already protecting her by her sides.

Gu Mengmeng frowned and asked, "What happened?"

Elvis threw Lea a glance and the next moment, Lea headed out to control the situation. Every family was a unit with the males circling their own female to protect them.

Elvis scanned his surroundings warily and answered, “It’s the stray beasts.”

Stray beasts....

Gu Mengmeng had limited knowledge to these two words, she just knew that they were banished orcs who were cold-blooded and heartless.

She only met them once after she had just mated. Those few stray beasts were attracted into her cave by her singing and ended up injuring Elvis seriously. Lea then eventually moved into her cave.

Upon recalling how those stray beasts tore apart her partner, Gu Mengmeng felt a sense of disgust.

Frowning, she asked, “Can I just directly emit my beast pressure to banish them?”

Elvis rejected her idea, “If there’s only two of us here, this idea will be the simplest and most effective one, but...”

Elvis’s gaze landed on the massive crowd of people, especially those eighteen delicate females who were already on the verge of tears.

“If you emit your beast pressure, half of our tribesmen will definitely not be able to withstand it and just directly be scared to death before those stray beasts can even be scared away.”

Troubled, Gu Mengmeng frowned and sighed, saying, “Go on and help Lea, do your best to protect our tribesmen. Don’t worry about me, nobody is my opponent in this Beast World now.”

Elvis hesitated, but eventually nodded.

He did not care about Saint Nazaire’s ending but he knew that she cared.

Elvis and Lea used their fastest speeds to set up defense in utmost teamwork while Ian led his tribesmen from the Eagle-owl tribe to hover in the skies for two rounds. Shortly after, they crowded to point out the enemies' location.

Elvis frowned and cursed softly, "Damn it, we've been surrounded."

Showing off their mighty formation, Elvis, Lea and Auretin stood in front of the crowd in a triangular formation while Ian controlled the entire situation by leading the Eagle-owl tribe in the skies and preparing for an opportunity to make a sneak attack.

Gu Mengmeng squinted her eyes and clenched her fists as she watched how pairs of dark green eyes that resemble demonic fire inched closer to her from all directions, pressing nearer and nearer with each step.

There were quite a few of them and they were all third-level to fourth-level orcs. Emitting beast pressure was the easiest method but her team members would definitely fall to the ground earlier than her enemies during the emission.

What to do.....

Just when Gu Mengmeng was contemplating, the battle had already started.

Collin pushed Sandy next to Gu Mengmeng before howling, "I'll pass Sandy to you." Then, he rushed directly into the front line of the battle and formed a square defense formation with Elvis and the rest. The next second, they started the killing in a most cruel fashion.

Chapter 646 - Kanwu Is Missing!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Seven to eight four-level orcs trapped Elvis tightly. Elvis could not carelessly emit his beast pressure because the beast pressure needed to keep the few fourth-level orcs under control would crumble 80 percent of their army. Fighting hand-to-hand was the only method he could use but although he had strong abilities, the attack strategy of the stray beasts as if they were not afraid of death were not easy to tackle.

Lea kept maintaining an absolute calm attitude during the battle and despite feeling challenged when facing two third-level orcs, he did not give in at all as he protected his spot firmly.

The Eagle-owl tribe that Ian led made their rounds in the skies. At times, they swiftly flew down to the ground to catch a stray beast that was alone, then fly back to the skies to tear the stray beast up with their claws as sharp as razors before smashing him hard on the ground.

Auretin was used to the attack of the stray beasts so he was currently in a draw against a fourth-level orc with no side gaining any advantage.

After having mated with Sandy, Collin had leveled-up to third-level, He was fighting his utmost best probably because he could not participate in the previous battle.

But the damage that arose from the level system was still evident. Facing a fourth-level stray beast, wounds of different severity started appearing on Collin's body.

The other males who were grouped into family units were also greatly involved in the buzzing battle at full swing. At that moment, the scene appeared bloody and violent with severed limbs flying endlessly in front of Gu Mengmeng.

She thought that she would be afraid but the burning sensation in her was not due to fear but instead, it was excitement.....

She wanted to join the battle, or even tear her enemies to pieces with her bare hands.

Gu Mengmeng was very clear that this excitement did not belong to her. Instead, it belonged to the bubbling blood of Snake that settled in her body.

Sandy was so terrified until her little face turned pale and she clutched onto the corner of Gu Mengmeng's dress tightly, not willing to let go.

Gu Mengmeng clamped her lips as she stuffed the bag she protected on Elvis's behalf into Sandy's arms, saying, "Help me take care of these four....."

Lowering her head, Gu Mengmeng was shocked for a second then her mind exploded, as if a lightning directly struck her brain.

"Where's Kanwu?!" Gu Mengmeng asked with fiery eyes.

Hede was carrying Chixuan while blocking Jialue behind him. He was clearly looking very scared but he still put on a brave front to protect his brothers. After hearing Gu Mengmeng's question, he then suddenly realized that Kanwu was missing. He looked around, flustered but everywhere was filled with killings and blood was splattered all over the place. Hede's little body kept quivering and his throat seemed like it was locked tight as he could not mutter out a single word.

Gu Mengmeng frowned, squatting down to stare into Hede's eyes. She held onto his little shoulders and instructed, "Hede, Mother is going to find Kanwu now. You're the oldest so you have to take care of your younger brothers well. Before Mother comes back, find a place to hide yourself well and protect yourself and your Auntie Sandy well too. Do you understand?"

Hede nodded while shaking, in a clearly terrified but firm stance.

He was their oldest brother, he could not turn weak at this time.

Gu Mengmeng looked up at Sandy and said, “Help me take care of my kids, I’ll be back soon.”

Sandy nodded with much difficulty. Her tears were all welled in her eyes, she really wanted to cry so badly but she still managed to release Gu Mengmeng’s hand. Biting her lips, she advised, “You’ve got to be careful....”

However, Gu Mengmeng did not hear Sandy’s advice.

Because after finishing that sentence, Gu Mengmeng had turned around to rush into that murderous Shurabu.

She did not bare her fangs or her sharp claws but she opened a bloody route for herself. With every step she took, she accurately took every stray beast down with her bare hands.

She searched around for Kanwu’s figure in the battle like a madwoman but all she could see were orcs battling one another in their original forms. Kanwu was as small as a Siberian Husky so it was too difficult to spot him in this situation.

Chapter 647 - The Thing I Regret The Most In My Life

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Gu Mengmeng's eyes kept searching for Kanwu's figure in all the killing. At that moment, a leopard with bloodshot eyes suddenly leaped up after biting off an orc's throat, aiming straight towards Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng did not see this dangerous attack but Snake's memory regarding battles in her made an innate reaction.

She lifted one leg up to more than the leopard's height before landing it down harshly. Her heel directly crashed against the leopard's nose bridge and he fell to the ground, creating a huge hole. Gu Mengmeng did not bother to look down at him as she just continued searching for Kanwu.

That leopard was only left with half a head while his brain juice splattered everywhere. But nobody cast a pitiful glance on him.

Gu Mengmeng did not emit her beast pressure, but she still attracted the stray beasts' attention like a magnet or maybe it was too eye-catching to have a female walking around in a battlefield until those stray beasts decided to use the most extreme attack to tackle the obstacle in front of them. The next second, all of them started surrounding Gu Mengmeng.

Elvis was scared that Gu Mengmeng would get injured so with bloodshot eyes, he could not care much about sacrificing his own tribesmen as he emitted his beast pressure to knockdown the few fourth-level orcs around him instantly. Then, he hurriedly rushed to Gu Mengmeng and protected her in his arms.

“Why did you come here? Are you injured anywhere?”

Gu Mengmeng was still looking around as she replied him anxiously, “Kanwu is missing, I want to find Kanwu.”

Elvis frowned as he growled with a ferocious gaze, “You place yourself in danger again because of that little wolf rascal!”

Gu Mengmeng pushed Elvis’s hands away as she lifted her leg up to kick the stray beast who tried to attack Elvis from his back after recovering himself from the beast pressure. Then, she turned to look at Elvis and said, “This kind of attack is not considered a danger to me.”

Elvis clenched his teeth and said harshly, “The thing I regret the most in my life is letting you give birth to them!”

Gu Mengmeng was entirely lifted off the ground by Elvis as he turned around and protected her against his chest. He looked back abruptly and glared at the bloody beast less than one inch behind his neck with his bloodshot eyes, spitting out two words , “Seeking death!”

He swatted his thick and sturdy tail towards the attacker’s waist like an iron whip, sending the stray beast to around seven to eight feet away, his intestines and internal organs flying in all directions at the same time before he disappeared in all the bloody mess.

Gu Mengmeng scrambled out of Elvis’s arms and ordered, “Let’s go separate ways, you’ve to bring Kanwu back safe and sound. I don’t want another of my son to be facing the risk of death.”

Elvis seriously wanted to bite Kanwu to death after finding him but as he met eyes with Gu Mengmeng’s worried gaze, he eventually nodded. Frowning, he said, “Don’t get injured.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded to assure him as she said, “I know, you be careful too.”

After she finished speaking, Gu Mengmeng continued heading another direction to find Kanwu. On the other hand, Elvis clenched his fists tight and forced himself to turn around so as to quickly find his damn son who sought his own death in this battlefield.

That way, Gu Mengmeng could then stay behind them with her heart at ease and need not get herself involved in this filthy bloody war.

A white shadow swept past Gu Mengmeng. The snow fox's original snow white and spotless skin was tainted with a hideous blood red color as his flesh was flipped outside with blood gurgling out.

Lea's.....injured!

A tiger beast pounced towards Lea from the back and Lea staggered to avoid him but he exposed his stomach to another stray beast in front of him.....

Chapter 648 - A Land of Wailing and Despair

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

If that stray beast bit Lea, he would either die or be seriously injured.

At that crucial moment, Gu Mengmeng clenched her fists tight as her whole body shook.

In a second, the whole world was shaking. Everything started having double-images and orcs from all levels fell to the ground at the same time within that second.

Worry and terror controlled Gu Mengmeng's emotions. She emitted her beast pressure unknowingly and she did not even notice that Lea had escaped from the dangerous situation.

A warm embrace wrapped the exploding Gu Mengmeng tightly as a gentle voice spoken with difficulty rang beside her ear, "Xiao Meng, everything's fine. Don't be scared, don't be scared...."

Pfft...

Elvis's blood spurted out from behind Gu Mengmeng's ear. That rusty red color pierced Gu Mengmeng's eyes and also called her rationality back at the same time.

Turning her head behind, she saw Elvis slowly falling to the ground with a weak but assured smile.

Gu Mengmeng extended her hand to catch him but she could not catch him at all. She only saw how Elvis evolved into that black wolf from his human form, slowly collapsing while grazing against her fingertips.

The whole battlefield fell silent instantly.

All the killing just a moment ago disappeared, not leaving any trace at all.

Gu Mengmeng stood on the blood-soaked ground and lowered her head but she could not differentiate whether those bodies fainted because of her beast pressure or.....whether they were dead corpses.

The moonlight was still obscure, as if a piece of gauze covered the entire land of wailing and despair, giving off a cold mysterious vibe to this bloody mess.

Gu Mengmeng stood in the moonlight, her two legs feeling heavy as if there was lead in them.

She was clearly aware that she lost control at that moment.

If Elvis didn't hug her, the only living thing left here was probably just her when she finally regained composure.

Gu Mengmeng just stared blankly at everything with a numb and empty gaze.

Quiet, this world was so quiet until not a single ounce of wind dared to blow into this cruel scene....

Suddenly, her sight became blurry and Gu Mengmeng looked like a puppet whose soul had been sucked away. She fainted and fell to the ground, losing her consciousness without any prior warning.

Under the moonlight, someone walked to her from afar.

His pair of fox ears was eye-catching as he walked towards Gu Mengmeng, following the side of the pile of corpses. His expression was calm and elegant while his gaze was gently but overly obsessed, as if he was stepping on a road bloomed full with flowers instead of dead bodies.

When he reached Gu Mengmeng, he kneeled on the ground with one knee and grazed Gu Mengmeng's face with his long fingers lightly. With a pampered and connivance smile, he spoke with an icy-cold voice with a tint of darkness, as if he was a stubborn husband watching his beloved wife create a scene in connivance, “Ah Gu, don’t be anxious. I’ll let you see the truth slowly, only I, Cole, has the right to stand next to you on the highest point in the world while looking down on the other living creatures.”

“Not long later, you’ll be sick of these trash who will only obstruct you, then.....kill them with your bare hands.”

“I’ll plan everything for you and then stand at the brightest spot to await your arrival.”

As Cole said, he slowly leaned down to kiss Gu Mengmeng’s cheek.

However, when he had just reached the distance of half an arm from Gu Mengmeng, he felt an immense pain on his face.

Cole paused and returned to his original position. Then, he touched his face and realized that it was already decaying.

Cole held onto his wound and glared fiercely at the snake mark on the back of Gu Mengmeng’s neck. He said coldly with venom exuding out from his both eyes, “Snake.....you’re already dead so why do you still want to stop me. One day, Ah Gu will carve out your mark for me and you’ll become a complete dead snake! Dead snake!”

Chapter 649 - I Dreamed That You Died

Swaying, the entire world was swaying.

Everyone fell one after another in front of Gu Mengmeng, no matter whether they were enemies.....or friends.....

The blood droplets seemed like they were flowing backwards as every drop started surfacing from the ground and hanging in mid-air to form a gigantic blood ball that was as big as the moon.

Then, it exploded suddenly. All the blood started shooting themselves towards Gu Mengmeng like sharp knives. However, Gu Mengmeng could not move at all as all she could do was watch the blood knife aim itself for her eyes.

Pfft...

A mouth full of fresh blood was spurted onto Gu Mengmeng's face and that familiar smiley face became more blurry in front of her. He placed his slender fingers gently on her face, so gentle until Gu Mengmeng could not hear the slightly weak voice ringing beside her ear, "Mengmeng, you're fine.....that's all that matters...."

The original fluffy and spotless tail was tainted with mud as Lea's seductive and holy face slid down slowly in front of Gu Mengmeng. Gu Mengmeng felt her throat being clasped tight by something and she could neither cry nor scream, not even move. All she could do was watch Lea fall into the snow, staring at her with his long and affectionate eyes while smiling. His eyes were clearly dim and no light was in them but he still could not hide that tinge of relief and pamper in them.....

"Lea——!"

Gu Mengmeng sat up abruptly, her forehead dotted with cold sweat as she felt a wave of giddiness, tilting her body to the sides. Then, she landed in a warm embrace.

A fluffy large tail was squeezed into her arms and Gu Mengmeng hugged it tightly on instincts. Turning her head, she stared at the smiling face just right before her watery eyes, listening to him speaking gently, “Mengmeng, I’m here.”

Gu Mengmeng pounced into Lea’s arms and wailed out loud.

That dream was too real, it seemed like she really experienced Lea’s death once.

“Mengmeng, don’t be afraid, everything’s fine now.” Lea hugged Gu Mengmeng lightly and gently patted her back, comforting her from time to time.

After crying for quite some time, Gu Mengmeng finally calmed down. She said while choking on her tears, “I dreamed that you died.....”

Lea chuckled as he lifted Gu Mengmeng’s chin up with his finger. His eyes were so deep and affectionate while his voice was as gentle as the spring breeze. Opening his thin lips, he said, “You’re the one who saved me so I won’t die. Don’t be afraid, don’t be afraid.

“I.....saved you?” Gu Mengmeng was dumbfounded for quite a while before she recalled that killing. The last remnants of her consciousness was a stray beast pouncing towards a seriously injured Lea. Lea wanted to avoid him but ended up exposing his stomach to another stray beast. She was extremely afraid then so her brain lost control and became irrational.

And then.....

Gu Mengmeng widened her eyes as she scanned her surroundings frantically, shouting, “Elvis! Where’s Elvis?!”

Gu Mengmeng's head was pressed on by someone and the next moment, a figure enclosed her from behind, pulling her away from Lea and pressing her against his own chest. Pecking Gu Mengmeng's little face, he said in a husky voice with a little laziness in it, "I'm fine, don't panic."

Gu Mengmeng hugged Elvis back tightly and then heaved a long sigh of relief.

Her heart resumed its normal beat before she spoke, "I remembered you....vomiting blood."

Elvis played with Gu Mengmeng's long hair and replied softly, "Yeah."

"Did I... injure you?" Gu Mengmeng lowered her head and said with extreme guilt, "You clearly told me before to not emit my beast pressure as I wish, but I.....I'm sorry."

"An apology after 'domestic violence', how can you not have the least bit of sincerity?" Elvis hooked Gu Mengmeng's chin lightly and sealed her lips with his. He stuck his tongue into her mouth, entangling both their tongues together, not bearing to separate.

Lea stood on one side and chuckled, looking at her with tender eyes.

This stray beast attack was probably a disaster to Saint Nazaire but to Elvis and Lea, it was a form of redemption.

During this battle, Gu Mengmeng seemed like she had been freed from the pressured emotions Snakel's memories gave her. She slowly showed her original self, be it frustration, worry or.....her bashful self.

They were aware that their Gu Mengmeng was returning little by little.

This was good news, although.....they had to pay a high price for it.

Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng until she lied there softly in his arms before finally bearing to release her.

Wiping away the saliva from the corners of her lips, he gave a smile that showed his dissatisfaction.

Gu Mengmeng sat up straight, lowered her head and asked softly, "Kanwu...."

Elvis's smile instantly became colder by eight degrees as his gaze faltered to a faraway spot. With a tint of strange calmness in his voice, he said, "We found him, he's fine."

Gu Mengmeng heaved a long sigh of relief and finally put her heart at ease.

Raising her head, Gu Mengmeng scanned her surroundings and realized that she was not at the place where the stray beasts sneak-attacked them that night.

It made sense too, that place almost became a blood river. The first thing Elvis and the rest decided to do was naturally to leave the place as soon as possible to prevent the stray beasts from having an alternative plan.

Gu Mengmeng wanted to stand up to look at her children but when she tried to support her body, she realized that her whole body was extremely soft. It was nearly impossible to stand up.

Lea carried Gu Mengmeng up and informed her, “Snake’s abilities far exceeded the limits your body can withstand. Forcing to emit his beast pressure will damage your main and collateral channels. If it wasn’t for the recovery abilities of the Beast King, you would’ve become a pool of blood after emitting.”

Gu Mengmeng did not struggle, she just turned her head around to look at Elvis quietly.

He...

Something was wrong.

In the past, as long as Elvis was present, he would never let anyone carry her but today, he handed her to Lea.

And moreover, he actually supported himself against the tree to stand up. Although it looked effortless, but.....since when did Elvis support his body against something before?

There’s something wrong, definitely something wrong.

If.....she almost became a pool of blood even with the abilities of a Beast King, how.....seriously injured was Elvis after he forced his consciousness to step close to her when she exploded in an unclear state?

“Hubby.....” Gu Mengmeng bit her lower lip but she could not say a word.

Elvis looked up, his dark blue eyes shimmering a kind of connivance and love seen in the quiet night sky. He stretched his hand out to pat Gu Mengmeng’s little face while asking, “Do you want a hug?”

As Elvis said, he extended his hands out to take Gu Mengmeng into his embrace.

Gu Mengmeng could clearly feel Lea's hesitation, it had nothing to do with jealousy, he was just worried about Elvis's body.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and just stretched a hand out with her palm facing upwards. "I want to hold hands."

"Alright." Elvis held Gu Mengmeng's little hand in his big hand and turned it around, bringing the back of her hand to his lips to kiss it. Then, he looked like he was cherishing the most precious treasure on Earth as he clasped her hand tightly in his palm.

Lea and Elvis brought Gu Mengmeng to a nearby big tree. Hede was sitting under the tree carrying Chixuan and daydreaming while Jialue rushed towards them after seeing Gu Mengmeng from afar.

And Kanwu.....was hanging upside down the tree with a tree vine.

Under the tree sat a familiar figure. When he saw Gu Mengmeng, his expression became frozen for a second.

Chapter 651 - Educating Our Son

“You...” Gu Mengmeng was very confused as she asked, “Why are you here?”

“I was worried for you....guys. So I sought help from Barete to take care of my tribesmen temporarily first. I’ll head back to Sauder once I see you return to Saint Nazaire safely. This period of time, Barete provided my tribesmen with a lot of prey so I’ll compensate him back more before winter.” Burke looked up at Gu Mengmeng while still sitting under the tree. He smiled slightly but did not dare to move any closer to her.

Gu Mengmeng nodded her head, implying that she understood. Then, she glanced at Elvis and then Lea before asking, “Who was the one who hung Kanwu on the tree?”

“It was me.” Elvis said with a husky voice.

Gu Mengmeng frowned before turning around to meet Elvis’s dark blue eyes.

He suffered injuries on his body because of her selfish self so Gu Mengmeng could only clamp her lips together, not bearing to blame him at all as she swallowed more than half of her words back into her stomach. “Our kid is still young, we can teach him slowly if he made any mistakes. Put him down first.”

Elvis stepped two steps forward, stopping before Kanwu. He turned around and leaned against the tree trunk. The sunlight gave off mottling rays through the layers of trees, landing around him as he supported his long fingers on Kanwu’s back, pushing him casually. “Little rascal, do you think you can come down now?”

Kanwu bit his lip and swung there for half a day before firmly controlling his body with much difficulty. Raising his head willfully to look at Gu Mengmeng, his azure blue eyes looked as clean and clear as the skies that were washed by water so much so until the tint of sorrow was visible in them.

Gu Mengmeng's heart throbbed after looking at Kanwu's eyes and she instinctively stretched her hand out to hug and comfort him. But she did not even lift her hand up when she heard Kanwu speak with a strong nasal voice, "Mummy, I'm sorry. It was my overestimation for rushing into the battlefield that implicated you into danger. Our fellow tribesmen had paid a painful price for my rash actions and you had also been unconscious for two days and two nights....I had made a mistake so I should receive punishment. Please do not plead for me and let me shoulder this responsibility myself."

Gu Mengmeng's heart ached terribly. Lea seemed like he could read her mind as he carried her to Kanwu. Gu Mengmeng hugged Kanwu tightly and patted his back, comforting, "You foolish boy, this is not your fault. You just want to protect your Mother and tribesmen from the stray beasts' sudden attack. This is not wrong, so you can't be blamed for it....."

The tears that Kanwu had held for two whole days instantly flowed out upon hearing Gu Mengmeng's gentle and warm words. He wailed out loud at the top of his voice and until he could not make any more sounds, he then looked like he was about to lose his breath with a reddened face.

Gu Mengmeng felt her heart breaking into pieces as she hurriedly pacified him, "Kanwu don't cry, don't cry, be good...."

Snap.

The tree vine that hung Kanwu up the tree broke. Gu Mengmeng did not have any mental preparation and also lacked the energy to catch Kanwu so in the end, Kanwu crashed to the ground pathetically. This fall made Kanwu dumbfounded as he even forgot to cry and just looked blankly with his azure blue eyes at Elvis who was standing tall like the clouds in the sky, not knowing how to react.

Elvis turned his head to the side and frowned. With a cold gaze, his whole figure emitted a dark aura. It was not an exaggeration to say that he looked like he could stomp Kanwu to death the next second.

“As a wolf, you actually cried until this dumb state.....and you’re still my son, it really makes me feel displeased.”

Gu Mengmeng wanted to shield Kanwu but Lea gestured a silent motion before whispering into Gu Mengmeng’s ear, “Believe Elvis, he has his own motive.”

Chapter 652 - Hey, Will You Teach Me?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Gu Mengmeng bit her lower lip and furrowed her brows deeply, but she eventually did not speak up.

Being educated by his father.....

Was a critical component in shaping a kid's personality foundation, especially a boy's.

She did not have any recollection of her Father's education in her memory anymore.

But.....her son should be different from her.

Elvis slowly squatted down with a layer of darkness still hanging on his face. Looking at Kanwu with an unfriendly and murderous gaze, he said, "You should think of ways to make up for it upon knowing that you made a mistake instead of crying and apologizing like a coward."

Kanwu's tears were still circling in his eyes but the tiny and stubborn kid bit his lips harshly in an attempt to push his tears back in. He just continued to glare hard at Elvis, as if he wanted to use this method to prove that he was different from what Elvis had described.

Elvis sniggered and pinched Kanwu's little face, speaking in a despising tone, "Yeah, your gaze is not bad. But.....provoking a strong male whom you can't win is not a rational act."

"I'll surpass you one day! One day!" Kanwu howled loudly.

Elvis stretched his sharp claws out and swung them down on Kanwu's back.

Kanwu tried to dodge him on his instincts but he bit down on his teeth and shut his eyes tight to control his body with all his strength.

He can't dodge, he can't avoid him! Or else, that would mean that he had admitted defeat!

When he did not feel the pain he had imagined, Kanwu secretly opened one eye and realized that the tree vine tied around him had already broken into pieces while he was.....safe and sound.

Elvis stood up and turned around to back face Kanwu. He looked slightly to his side and said with a cold gaze, "The more afraid you are, the more you have to remain calm. Closing your eyes in front of your strong enemy just means that you're giving up on your own life."

Kanwu staggered to stand up as he clenched his little fists by his sides. Shrugging his shoulders and keeping his chin towards his collarbone, he raised his head to glare harshly at Elvis.

Elvis turned his head away and did not look at Kanwu anymore. He said without much emotion, "It was not wrong to rush into the battlefield because my son is never a weakling that needs to be protected. Your mistake.....lies in not being strong enough."

Kanwu's little figure seemed like it was withstanding an immense strength as his arms were shaking from clenching his fists too tightly. He stopped howling and was unbelievably calm. He said with a peaceful and uncowardly voice, "Hey, will you teach me? Teach me to become stronger."

Elvis sniggered and turned around to look at him with the corners of his eyes. The corners of his lips curved upwards with a tint of despise as he said with a sarcastic tone, "Why should I?"

Kanwu lowered his head and did not look at Elvis anymore. After staying silent for quite some time, he opened his mouth to speak again, "Before I surpass you, can you protect my Mother well?"

“If you’re not my son, this sentence is enough for me to take your life away.”

Kanwu took a step forward and raised his head to look at Elvis. With an expression that was not seen in other kids his age, he really looked like a young version of Elvis, the same smirk, the same disdain, the same provocation. “What’s the use of making it sound as if you love me? You’re not killing me because you’re scared that Mummy will be sad.”

Elvis smirked in admission to his words.

Kanwu took another step forward and stared directly into Elvis’s eyes, shouting, “I’ll defeat you, I will!”

Elvis had disdain written on his face as he said, “Just from this little rascal who only knows how to cry after meeting obstacles? Alright, I’ll anticipate it since you’re my son....”

After he finished speaking, Elvis walked back to Gu Mengmeng. Arranging the beast skin on her, his actions were natural and gentle and even his gaze became tender instantly after looking at her. His voice also became full of deep love like seawater as he said, “You’ve finished checking on the little wolf cub so let’s go back and rest. You’ve just woken up and your body is still weak.”

Chapter 653 - This Is Not Gratitude, It's A Reward.

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Gu Mengmeng really wanted to stay behind to comfort her son but after Elvis's way of 'educating' Kanwu just now, it was very disadvantageous in terms of education to comfort him at this moment. The kid would assume that he had his Mother's backing and would continue to doubt and provoke his Father's authority. Especially in this Beast World where female rights were extremely psychotic, her actions might make Kanwu become someone who had no respect for anyone.

Although she could not consent entirely to Elvis's hegemonic education, what she could not deny was that abilities meant everything in this Beast World where law did not exist.

It was either win or defeat, there was no third route left.

Peace....

Ha, after experiencing so much, if she still wished for everyone to reach a common consensus after a series of debate at the meeting table, she would not be so simple-minded anymore, it was just plain dumbness!

Lea carried Gu Mengmeng in his arms and did not rush to leave. He glanced at Burke who was still sitting against the tree trunk quietly, his gaze fixated on Gu Mengmeng all along. "Since you saved our little cub, to repay you....you don't have to return the prey Barete provided for your tribesmen. But....the way you look at my Mengmeng makes me really displeased. If you still want your eyes, you better don't let me see Mengmeng in those eyes of yours again."

Burke was still sitting there, not moving an inch. He turned his gaze slightly to meet Lea's eyes and he did not avoid him. After adjusting his breath, he then slowly said, "It's my choice for saving Kanwu and asking Barete to take care of my tribesmen, you don't have to thank me."

Lea sniggered slightly and replied, "You've misunderstood, this is not gratitude, this is a reward. Kanwu is the messenger's son, anyone will get a reward for saving him."

To put it simply, you're not special.

You saved the Messenger of the Beast Deity's son, Saint Nazaire would return you your reward based on the regular course of official duties.

This was not mixing your private matters with official duties.

Don't expect that you can create any private interactions with Gu Mengmeng from this matter.

Burke was not a fool, there was no way he could not understand what Lea had said so clearly. All males in this world were the same, if he switched positions with Lea, he would probably do things more cruelly and maybe even settle him completely before Gu Mengmeng wakes up. After all..... Gu Mengmeng did not know that he came.

Burke's gaze fell back onto Gu Mengmeng's face as he awaited her stance.

Gu Mengmeng's attitude.....

was directly turning around to lie back on Lea's shoulders. She tilted her little head and huddled inside the pit of Lea's neck before she closed her eyes and ignored everything.

Lea chuckled before his gaze returned to a soft one. He looked at Burke with a tint of disdain and said, "Tell that person, using a counterfeit item to battle another counterfeit item is not a smart move."

After he finished speaking, he turned and left.

Elvis did not say anything all along as he just followed Lea back once he turned around.

Hede and his two brothers looked at one another before eventually chasing after Gu Mengmeng while carrying Chixuan.

Kanwu was the last one to leave, he seemed like he decided upon something as he turned back and ran towards Burke.

...

Returning to the place where she woke up, Auretin had already placed the pieces of handled prey beside the pot. Upon seeing Gu Mengmeng, he took two steps forward as his gaze flew towards the side of the pot. Based on his usual face-paralysis nature, this was already the most extreme anticipation he had ever shown. Clearing his throat, Auretin opened his mouth with much difficulty and said, "I'm here to share meal.....can we.....eat hotpot?"

Chapter 654 - Play It Along

Sometimes, Gu Mengmeng really hoped that she did not inherit Snake's ability that completely.

If she did not have such sharp observation skills, she might be able to joke around with Auretin and teased him about how he was an expressionless foodie.

But...

What could she do? She could see the wounds on Auretin's body so clearly.

The key point was, the wounds were not external injuries.

Ha, was it from the explosion of beast pressure?

Killing a thousand enemies but hurting eight hundred of her own kind, ha.

She felt remorseful. What kind of disaster did she bring to the tribesmen just because she could not control her emotions for once? Everyone pretended all was well in front of her, just like the previous time after starting the war with Cole. She had not seen Barate for a while and they appeared like nothing had happened, but they could not hide the slight presence of weakness in them.

This time, yet again?

Acting like everything was peaceful in front of her to avoid affecting her mood?

Then did she have to cooperate and play it along to not waste the effort and planning they put in?

Gu Mengmeng grinned and said with smiley eyes, “Alright, I haven’t had steamboat for a while too.”

Lea placed Gu Mengmeng in a big hole of a tree, which was clearly not formed naturally but dug afterwards. The strong smell of fresh wood had not dissipated into the air, dried grass were laid underneath the hole and Gu Mengmeng felt it was soft sitting on it. Leaning to one side, the surroundings of the hole were covered by hide to make it steady and soft. She sniffed closely and recognized Lea’s smell.

This should have been dug out when she was still in her sleep.

Elvis sat beside Gu Mengmeng’s laps, with his back against the tree trunk and one hand on Gu Mengmeng’s laps, he enjoyed the sun and her scent with his eyes closed.

Gu Mengmeng reached out to touch Elvis’s cheeks with heartache in her eyes.

Sensing Gu Mengmeng was looking at him, Elvis opened his eyes slowly. A pair of sapphire blue eyes met Gu Mengmeng’s clear eyes accurately, he grinned and said with a wicked and dispirited voice, a little coarse but knowledgeable, “Looking at me in this way... are you thinking of that?”

Gu Mengmeng was stunned for a moment and did not understand what he was saying.

Elvis supported the ground with one hand and another beside Gu Mengmeng’s ears, leaning his whole body in. His slender legs knelt at the corner of the tree hole, pressing against Gu Mengmeng’s legs. A simple gesture had forced Gu Mengmeng to a position that she had nowhere to retreat to.

“The last time... was helping you with blood circulation in the Snake King valley... I had abstained for too long.” With that, Elvis bent down and kissed Gu Mengmeng on the neck, engraving a fiery hickey on her snow-white neck, enchanting and obvious.

Elvis looked up slowly and licked onto Gu Mengmeng's right earlobe lightly. Looking at how she shivered like a scared little rabbit, he chuckled and said, "You are so sensitive... must be because you had suppressed it too long... Blame this on me... So... Xiao Meng, how do you want to punish me? Huh?"

Gu Mengmeng's hand was pressing against Elvis's chest, she wanted to push but did not have the guts to do it, afraid that she could not control her strength and adding injuries to him. She bit her lower lip and said, "Stop fooling around, I am serious."

Elvis looked down at her pair of skinny and fair hand, chuckled and said, "What else is more serious than pleasuring my own female?"

Chapter 655 - If It Is You, I Will Accept Anything

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head, blushed and whispered in soft words, “There are poisons in me... Deadly ones...”

“I know.” With that, Elvis kissed down her neck, brushing past Gu Mengmeng’s collarbone with the tip of his tongue. He said with a hoarse voice, “But I am willing to...”

Gu Mengmeng put both of her hands on Elvis’s shoulders as her body shook uncontrollably. She bit her lower lips and said with tears forming in her eyes, “But I am not.”

Elvis paused for a moment and he stretched his back up straight. With one hand lightly hooking onto Gu Mengmeng’s chin, he stared at her teary face and said, “Are you... looking down on me?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and dared not to look at Elvis in the eyes. She said softly, “I know that you are injured and it hurts to even stand or sit down, right? But, if you don’t want to admit... I won’t ask. So, don’t ever cover up your wounds like this, I will feel heartache.”

Elvis felt sharp pains in his heart by Gu Mengmeng’s words.

The Gu Mengmeng now was not someone that he could hide his weaknesses by pretending nothing had happened anymore?

She had known everything, but held it in, forcing out smiles and laughs and playing it along with them in exchange for their hearts’ content...

Elvis hugged Gu Mengmeng into his arms and said in her ears, “I really do hate that snake, whom made your sense so sharp... but did not give you the intelligence to match up to it.”

Gu Mengmeng was stunned for a moment, she blinked her eyes and felt that the worries she had was disrupted by the second half of Elvis’s sentence.

Elvis took a deep breath as he held onto Gu Mengmeng’s shoulders. His sapphire blue eyes stared straight into her eyes and said, “Did you not understand? I said that... I am willing to.”

Gu Mengmeng felt that her brain had malfunctioned and she was having difficulty breathing. She stared back at Elvis without moving, as though her soul had been attracted to that pair of eyes.

Elvis’s smile was gentle and filled with fondness. He rubbed Gu Mengmeng’s small head and said, “Being ‘domestically abused’ by you to death... would probably be the happiest way of dying in this entire world. If it is you, I will accept anything. Even death itself.”

Gu Mengmeng felt like her heart was being grabbed forcefully. There were no roarings and every word Elvis said was peaceful and gentle, but it was like a tender hand that held her heart steadily. If he just closed his fingers now, she felt that her sensitive heart might explode.

Gu Mengmeng raised her hand to hug Elvis back, she buried her small face into Elvis’s neck and shed the first tear ever since she left the Snake King valley.

“Hubby... What can I do... I am so scared... I don’t know what had happened, I couldn’t control my emotions at that time... What if... What if... Sobs sobs... What if one day, I murder all of you accidentally...”

Gu Mengmeng was crying, but Elvis was laughing.

Finally, the enclosed door that Snake had built with a thousand years of loneliness had been pushed opened by a small margin.

Her Gu Mengmeng was escaping from that small gap.

As long as he could hold her hand, whether it was pulling her out from there or accompanying her in, it did not matter anymore.

“Idiot.” Elvis kissed on Gu Mengmeng’s tears and his voice was filled with his whole life of emotions, while his eyes were as gentle as the infatuation from the deepest part of the ocean. He patted her back softly and said, “I will never die. Remember? I will never do anything that will make you sad. So, try to believe in me and leave everything that makes you unhappy to me, alright?”

Chapter 656 - You Can't Get Envious Over This Kind Of Matter.

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Lea walked over and lied against the tree trunk. Chuckling, he said, "Alright alright, if you keep being like this, I'll be jealous."

Elvis snickered before slowly standing up.

Gu Mengmeng could see that Elvis had not recovered from his injury, he was putting on a fake front.

Lea carried Gu Mengmeng out from the tree hole and tapped her little nose, assuring her, "Elvis is a fifth-level orc. Although he was quite badly injured, his recovery speed is already very shocking. And moreover, don't you still have me? I won't give him any chance to die in front of me and then watch you cry buckets of sorrowful tears for him."

Gu Mengmeng was aware that Lea's motive of deliberately using this kind of jealous tone to comfort her was for her to quickly get out from all the sad emotions.

Wiping away her tears, Gu Mengmeng wrapped her arms around Lea's neck and asked, "What about you? Were you badly injured anywhere?"

Lea chuckled, his expression turning awkward as he said, "I'm not Elvis, I can't withstand the beast pressure and not admit defeat so as to hug you when you were emitting your beast pressure."

Gu Mengmeng recalled that if it was not for Elvis's hug back then, she would not know how long her emotions would go out of control.

Elvis took two steps forward and held Gu Mengmeng's little hand up to peck it. "Once you emitted your beast pressure, he just directly fainted in his original form.”

Lea used his nose to sneer at Elvis before he turned his face away, as if he was stuck in a predicament.

They sat around the fireplace before Lea started sending the meat into the pot after he had placed Gu Mengmeng properly in her seat. The soup which had already been seasoned gave off a fragrant bone smell, causing one's appetite to grow bigger as a result.

Auretin peeled two tree branches and made them into chopsticks. Then, he told Gu Mengmeng while pinching the meat from the pot, “Yeah, what Elvis said was true. I fainted around a breath later than Lea and it was in my original form too.”

Gu Mengmeng face-palmed, too speechless to say anything.

This face-paralysis male, Auretin, gave off an absurd comedic effect as he reported his duties while eating meat.

Lea rolled his eyes at Auretin as he clenched his teeth and speedily snatched the big piece of meat Auretin had cooked in the hotpot, placing it in his little wooden bowl. After cooling it, he sent it into Gu Mengmeng's mouth and said while feeding her, “Say it all you want, it's fine to keep being sarcastic towards me, you don't have to stand on ceremony. Anyways, I earn a living with my face and not my skills, right Mengmeng~”

Gu Mengmeng laughed, a part of Snake's memory surfacing in her mind. That time, Snake also emitted his beast pressure to bully Elvis and Lea. And then, this fellow swayed his tail and huddled inside her arms to act coquettishly. Back then, Snake even suspected whether Lea was a snake as he growled internally, “You still have logic after being so weak?!”

Although Lea said he was not affected, he kept snatching away the meat Auretin had cooked. He did not eat them either as he fed them all into Gu Mengmeng's mouth, which made it hard for Auretin to lose his temper too. After all, he was a male, he could not possibly get angry over a female eating a little of his meat, right? But Lea's sneaky actions really made one's blood boil.

Auretin raised his head and stared intently at Lea. His brows were furrowed slightly, for someone with face-paralysis, this was already a pretty solemn expression.

But what a pity, Lea did not feel Auretin's anger at all and he even misunderstood the information his facial expression gave off. Shaking his head, he said, "There's no use looking at me like that, after all.....one can improve his skills in the long run, but he can't change his appearance. I was just born with good skin. I just need this face of mine to let Mengmeng favor me forever. It's useless even if you glare at me until your eyeballs fall out, you can't get envious over this kind of matter."

Chapter 657 - You Don't Earn A Living With Your Face, But With Your Cheap Actions

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Auretin clenched his teeth as he cooked another piece of meat. He did not eat it too as he directly just placed it into Gu Mengmeng's bowl. Then, he side-eyed Lea with a blank expression and retorted, "You don't earn a living with your face but with your cheap actions...."

"Cough...." Gu Mengmeng choked at Auretin's words as she almost threw up the meat she just swallowed.

The previous time, Auretin also commented Lea as 'nasty' with a straight face.

Ah, a ninja who hurt others with his words.

Gu Mengmeng thought that Lea would get angry and would grab Auretin for a battle to clear his name.

However, this fellow just turned his head away in an extremely slutty manner before looking at her pitifully, just like a pet dog. "Mengmeng, he bullied me...."

The tips of Gu Mengmeng's mouth twitched as she did not know whether to cry or laugh. She asked, "Erm....do you want me to punch him on your behalf?"

Lea looked at Gu Mengmeng seriously and then....nodded his head in absolute determination.

Yes, he nodded his head....

Gu Mengmeng face-palmed and forced herself to raise her arm, saying, “But I have no strength in my limbs now.”

Lea pulled Gu Mengmeng into his arms and then pecked her little face, inching his thick and red lips closer and closer. After licking the meat sauce off the corner of Gu Mengmeng’s lips, he rolled his tongue and kept it back in his mouth. Then, he moved his thin lips near Gu Mengmeng’s ear and said in a soft but affectionate tone, “The way you eat is too seductive, I don’t want others to see it.....can we not let Auretin share meals in the future?”.

A vein suddenly popped up on Auretin’s forehead as he glared at Lea fiercely, looking as if he wanted to fight Lea.

What a joke? Snatching food from the jaws of a tiger?!

Lea, on the other hand, did not really care much as he side-eyed Auretin and chuckled, speaking in a dark tone, “Praise me or else.....once Mengmeng says it, there’s no turning back. Ah, hotpot, roasted meat, braised joint....I don’t know what other delicacies will Mengmeng bring in the future. If you can’t eat it.....will you regret?”

Auretin clenched his teeth and forcefully squeezed out a sentence, “You’re something.”

Lea chuckled and then looked at Auretin as if he was harboring evil designs, saying, “You’re at least tactful enough. Since you’ve admitted defeat, I’ll not stop Mengmeng from banning you from sharing meals with our family since a great man rarely stoops to pettiness for past wrongs.”

Auretin really could not stand Lea’s behavior that resembled a small man being intoxicated with success so he turned his head to one side and extended his bowl out, saying, “Give me meat.”

Lea sniggered in a spoiled manner before speedily scooping all the meat from the pot into Gu Mengmeng’s bowl. He chided, “You’re not even my female, why should I take care of you? Do you still have any face left? Huh?”

A thick and big vein popped out on Auretin's forehead....

What the f, being scolded shameless by a true shameless really felt awfully wrong!

Gu Mengmeng laughed, moving a big piece of meat from her bowl into Auretin's bowl, commenting, "Stop joking around, hurry and eat it."

Upon looking at the meat in his bowl, Auretin's expression then became better. He replied 'ok' before sending the meat into his mouth.

Then.....

The meat was snatched away when it was just by his mouth.....

A nasty face stopped before his eyes and munched deliciously onto the meat that should originally be in his mouth. He still chomped onto it deliberately, making loud chewing noises.....

If the tiger doesn't roar, you really treat me as hello~kitty?!

Auretin stood up abruptly and chased after Lea, threatening to hit him. Lea did not attack back as he just tried to dodge Auretin, creating a loud scene.

Elvis sat beside Gu Mengmeng and picked up the bowl and chopsticks Lea handed over to him before the chase. He chose a piece of meat with the right temperature and sent it into Gu Mengmeng's mouth. Looking at her helpless smile, his gaze became gentler too.

It was fortunate that there was still Lea who knew how to distract her and make her happy without making it obvious...

She smiled again, that's nice~

Chapter 658 - Kanwu Apprenticing A Master

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

The person who made Auretin and Lea end their fight was Burke who was walking towards them while being supported by Kanwu and Jialue.

Hede was carrying Chixuan in his arms as he walked to Gu Mengmeng. Looking at her with his clear and bright eyes, he asked, “Mummy, can we invite Kanwu’s master to join us for a meal?”

“Master?” Gu Mengmeng frowned slightly.

Kanwu walked to Gu Mengmeng, treating Elvis who was sitting beside her as transparent air. His eyes that were 80 percent similar to Elvis had a sense of willfulness that other kids his age did not have as he said, “Master Burke was injured because of me so he can’t hunt for the time being. I feel that I should at least be responsible for his food before he recovers fully but I’m.....too weak now. Mummy, can you allow Master Burke to eat with us temporarily?”

Gu Mengmeng placed her hand gently on Kanwu’s little head and rubbed it, consenting to his request, “Being considerate in return is a good principle, Mummy will definitely support you.”

Kanwu pounced into Gu Mengmeng’s arms, hugging Gu Mengmeng’s neck tightly with his little arms. He pressed his chubby cheek against Gu Mengmeng’s face and whimpered for a while before speaking up, “Mummy, thank you.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled as she hugged her awkward son back. She raised her head to look at Burke whose face was as pale as a sheet and said, “Sit, let’s eat together.”

Burke took a step forward but Lea blocked his way and cast a cold gaze on him. “I remembered, I gave you your reward already.”

There was a tint of inferiority in Burke’s gaze, he obviously knew about the difference between him and Lea, let alone the difference with Elvis who was sitting beside Gu Mengmeng.

He also knew that being greedy was harmful so when Gu Mengmeng suggested bringing him back to Saint Nazaire, he wanted to agree without thinking about any consequences.

But, in the period of time he spent in Sauder, he slowly knew what kind of person Cole was when he guided him to Gu Mengmeng.

He did not know what kind of role he was playing in Cole’s plan, he was greatly afraid that he would become a pawn to hurt Gu Mengmeng so he chose to distance himself from her and watch her leave.

But...

He could not control his heart.

He was so urgent in hoping to get closer to her just a little, just a little will do.

Not knowing what tricks Cole had up his sleeve towards her, he really could not put his heart at ease.

So he came, secretly behind the big formation, looking at them from afar.

He was so far from them that the last person from the formation was only the size of a sesame seed. That way, he would not be discovered.

Until he discovered the stray beasts’ attack, his brain seemed like it went out of control. He clearly knew how dangerous the stray beasts were but he still rushed out without caring about anything.

He saw how Kanwu was being attacked by two stray beasts, one of their attack being almost fatal.

He did not have Elvis's abilities and he could not solve this attack, the only solution was to block the attack for him.

He knew that even if it was him, he might die from this attack.

But the scene of Gu Mengmeng's sorrowful and helpless gaze while carrying Chixuan kept replaying in his mind.

She already had a son that was on the verge of death, she could not have another one!

As long as she was fine, he was willing to sacrifice himself and replace Kanwu to die.

He was carrying this kind of mentality when he rushed forward to protect Kanwu in his arms but he just suffered a little of the attack on his back when he suddenly felt an immense blow of beast pressure. He did not have any chance to struggle when he fainted. When he was discovered by others, he had clearly lost consciousness but he was still hugging onto Kanwu tightly in his arms.

Chapter 659 - Jialue Battling Lea

Jialue took two steps forward and tugged onto Lea's beast-skin dress lightly. Lifting his little face up, he looked at Lea with a pair of eyes that were extremely similar to Gu Mengmeng's and said, "If you drive Burke away, Kanwu will definitely go hungry with him. As his blood-related brother, we will all go through this together with Kanwu. If four of us lives without food...whose heart do you think will ache?"

Lea raised his brow and smiled while looking down at Jialue. He asked, "Are you threatening me now?"

Jialue did not deny as he just continued looking up at Lea, saying, "I heard you're always going around to provoke others but Mummy always shields you."

Lea laughed, replying to a 'mm', with quite some form of pride in his tone.

Jialue provoked, "Then what if all four of us cry while hugging Mummy? If we said you bullied us....who do you think Mummy will shield?"

Lea's eyelids twitched as his gaze on Jialue became a little dangerous. He warned, "Little rascal, you're playing with fire."

Jialue shrugged and retorted, "Stop acting, with these eyes, you can't do anything."

Lea clenched his teeth, he thought he had hid it well but in the end this rascal still got hold of his Achilles heel.

Yeah, looking at these eyes that were the exact same as Gu Mengmeng's, he indeed could not make up his mind to do anything.

Jialue continued, “Let Burke stay behind or else I’ll tell Mummy you hit us before...”

Lea raised his brow....was this.....this creates a maligned scene? When did he ever hit them?

Jialue added, “And you and Auntie Mandy throwing flirtatious looks at each other....”

Lea’s eyes widened as he instantly understood Jialue’s intention.

Gu Mengmeng’s hearing abilities were now different from the past, she could clearly hear all of the words this rascal was saying now!

Jialue raised his head and smiled radiantly but his eyes were sparkling an evil glow. He said, “You were still calling a female’s name in your sleep....what Gillian....”

The vein on Lea’s forehead twitched several times, this little wolf cub was really gifted in cooking up stories.

Why did he not mention other females? He had to deliberately mention the snow fox, Gillian, who was engaged to him previously.

Jialue wanted to go on but Lea covered his mouth hurriedly and admitted defeat with a dark expression, “Eat, I’ll let him eat alright? If you continue fabricating stuff, your Mother will explode.”

Jialue gave a delightful smile and swatted Lea’s wrist away. He turned and walked back but backtracked after two steps. Patting Lea’s shoulder, he said in an earnest manner, “I had no other choice but to do it for my own brother. Don’t take it to heart, anyway.....you don’t dare to kill me too. Also...your Mother is the one who’s going to explode, your entire tribe is going to explode.”

After finishing his words, Jialue sighed in an old man’s way and then walked to Burke, supporting his arm while saying, “My Mother’s males don’t have normal brains, you don’t have to fight with those lunatics. Since my Mother said you can stay behind, you just put your mind at ease and eat your full. After all, my Mother is the one who makes the final decisions in the family.”

Kanwu stood up from Gu Mengmeng’s arms and hesitated for a moment before pecking her cheek. Then, he did not say anything else as he just walked to Burke’s other side, standing like guards beside him together with Jialue near the fireplace.

Hede handed Chixuan to Jialue while he himself went to get some bowls and chopsticks. He filled the four little bowls with meat and handed them to his brothers and Burke. Then, he took Chixuan back into his arms and said, “Alright, let’s dig in.”

Chapter 660 - I'll Repay What I Owe.

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

The atmosphere during the meal was quite strange.

Auretin was glaring at Lea, giving off a face-paralysis look whose desires had not been met.

Lea's and Elvis's sharp gazes looked like they were about to poke Burke into a honeycomb briquette and what they were chewing on seemed like it was not meat but Burke's bones instead.

Burke and the three little ones ate their food quietly, trying to control their eyes with all their might but they still ended up peeking at Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng face-palmed, how she wished her observation skills were not so sharp.

She just wanted to have a good meal.

Stretching her arm out to hug Kanwu, Gu Mengmeng noticed that he did not touch the meat in his bowl so she asked out of concern, "Why are you not eating?"

Kanwu lowered his head and stared at the meat in his bowl, replying, "I invited Master Burke back so I gave my portion of meat to him."

Gu Mengmeng frowned, her heart aching for him.

She knew Elvis's education was too much and it resulted in a huge mental pressure on the kid.

But she could not criticize Elvis in front of the kids so she could only comfort him, “Foolish son, Burke saved you so he is our entire family’s benefactor. Even if you did not invite him back, Mummy will not let him go hungry. So you don’t have to save up on your food for him, be good and eat up, alright?”

Kanwu lifted his head and looked at Gu Mengmeng but lowered his head the next second. Shaking his head, he said, “No, I’ll repay what I owe.”

Gu Mengmeng did not miss how Kanwu’s gaze landed on Elvis when saying that sentence. Since her heart ached for her son, her gaze towards Elvis also became a blaming one.

Elvis sighed in defeat but he did not say anything.

Kanwu looked up at Gu Mengmeng and said with an exceptionally serious expression, “Mummy, I apprenticed Burke as my Master so he will teach me how to become stronger. From tomorrow onwards, we will start the training from hunting so you don’t have to get too worried because I’ll be responsible for my own decisions.”

How could a child who had not reached one year old talk about being responsible? It really made one’s heart ache.

Gu Mengmeng pulled her son in for her hug and then shared half her meat with Kanwu, saying, “How about this, you give your share to Burke and Mummy share half of hers with you. Is that fine?”

Kanwu shook his head and returned the meat back into Gu Mengmeng’s bowl. He looked at her with a clear but resolute gaze, saying, “I’m a male beast, how can I snatch a female’s food? Mummy, you will make me feel useless this way.”

Gu Mengmeng bit her lower lip, she really wanted to lend a mobile phone to use the Internet and upload a post titled, “What should I do if my child is too strong? Is there anyone whose son had become rebellious at the age of one? Please advise! I’m waiting online, it’s an urgent matter.”

Elvis slowly stood up and walked to Gu Mengmeng. He kicked Kanwu to the ground and then held the bowl up to pour the meat directly into his mouth. Then, he used his large palm to cover Kanwu's mouth like an iron vise and warned, "Eat it, don't make my wife worry."

Kanwu's eyes turned red, but he forced himself to not cry as he swallowed the meat in his mouth without chewing on it.

When Gu Mengmeng hugged Kanwu in her embrace after pushing Elvis away, he had already swallowed the meat in his mouth.

Elvis turned the empty bowl upside down and showed it to Gu Mengmeng, assuring her gently, "It's done, he ate it. Don't worry."

Gu Mengmeng frowned as she could not hold in anymore and howled at Elvis, "What's your problem?! Are you feeding your son or torturing a criminal?! Is he your son or your enemy?"

Chapter 661 - A Revolution's Coming!!

Elvis was speechless as he looked at the empty bowl, not knowing what to do.

Was feeding his wolf cub meat....wrong too?

Kanwu bit his lower lip and held his tears back in before saying, "Mummy, don't be angry. Weaklings originally don't have any rights to resist. One day, I'll become strong and not let you worry over me!"

After he finished speaking, he stood up abruptly and ran away.

Gu Mengmeng wanted to chase after him but when she stood up, her whole body tilted to one side. Fortunately, Elvis was just nearby and he caught her swiftly.

Gu Mengmeng wanted to push Elvis away but the next moment, she heard a low groan. Turning to look at him, she realized that Elvis's forehead was already dotted with fine perspiration, probably due to the unhealed wound because of her loss in control previously.

It was hard to walk straight so it was definitely tougher to catch a free-fall female.

The chiding words were stuck in her throat and Gu Mengmeng could only look worriedly at Kanwu who had ran faraway while biting her lower lip, not being able to say anything.

Burke stood up with Jialue's support and he walked to Gu Mengmeng, comforting after standing beside her, "Don't worry, I'll take care of him."

Gu Mengmeng looked towards Burke, as of now.....there was no better solution.

“Sorry to trouble you.”

Burke chuckled and said, “If you didn’t emit your king pressure back then, I wouldn’t have been able to withstand the second attack from the two stray beasts so.....you’re the one who saved my life. So to repay you, taking care of Kanwu is actually nothing much. He....is a really sensible child.”

After he finished speaking, Burke walked towards the direction where Kanwu had disappeared.

Hede walked to Gu Mengmeng while carrying Chixuan. Looking up at her, he said, “Mummy, your body is too weak, you need to rest well in order to recover fully. I’ll take care of my brothers and not let them create trouble. So, don’t worry too much, alright?”

Gu Mengmeng rubbed Hede’s little head, guilt creeping all over her heart.

If she could take care of her sons properly back then and prevent them from experiencing that kidnap attack and not let them witness her getting tortured badly by Ellie, would they not have matured so early?

Being forced to grow up is a mental trauma.

But she did not know how to make it up for them.

Hede looked at Elvis and then looked at Lea. Sighing, he did not say a word and just shook his head before leaving.

A vein suddenly twitched on Elvis’s forehead.

A revolution’s coming!

Until Burke and the three premature kids completely disappeared, Gu Mengmeng shifted her gaze to Elvis and demanded, “How seriously injured are you? You’re not allowed to hide it from me, speak the truth.”

Elvis felt his heart thump, he thought that Lea’s and Auretin’s ruckus had hid this matter well and Gu Mengmeng would not pursue it anymore.

Frowning, Elvis disliked those few little cubs even more.

If Kanwu did not suddenly run away, causing Gu Mengmeng to rise and almost lose balance, he would not have rushed over to catch her. Then, his wound would not be pressed against and he would not show any signs of being injured, creating worry for Mengmeng.

Lea took two steps forward and took Gu Mengmeng from Elvis's arms, placing her on his legs. He replied on Elvis's behalf, "Normally speaking, when one meets a strong pressure, choosing to submit will not create much problem. He clearly could not withstand the king pressure but still did not want to admit defeat no matter what and even walked closer to you. So, all his bones had broke. If he isn't a fifth-level orc.....tsk tsk tsk, he would've become a pool of wolf meat, the type that can directly squeeze out meatballs."

Chapter 662 - Go There And Lie Down Straight!

Gu Mengmeng felt her heart being tugged on as she frowned to look at Elvis. “Is it that serious?”

Elvis glared at Lea and then touched Gu Mengmeng’s face gently, comforting her, “I’m a fifth-level orc. Although I can’t be compared to you, I’m at least an outstanding figure who had emerged as champion. Don’t let Lea scare you, aren’t I standing well here?”

Gu Mengmeng bit her lip and shouted, “Go there and lie down straight!”

Elvis was taken aback by Gu Mengmeng’s howl and upon seeing the tears welling up in her eyes, he became more flustered and terrified than when she lost control and exploded.

“Don’t be angry, I’ll lie....lie down, alright?”

Elvis walked to the place where Gu Mengmeng directed him to and lied down straight obediently. He looked at Gu Mengmeng in utmost cautiousness and said, “I’ve lied down straight, do you want to come over?”

Gu Mengmeng sniffed and let Lea carry her to Elvis. Lea sat on the ground cross-legged while Gu Mengmeng sat in his arms, her waist fully supported by Lea’s large tail. She just lied in his embrace without using much energy.

“Why don’t you lie down properly when you’re so seriously injured?” Gu Mengmeng was angry, she was angry that he did not cherish his own body, and was even more angry that she caused his injury.

Elvis looked at Gu Mengmeng with a deep gaze and said, “I’ll get flustered if I can’t see you for a while so wherever you are, I’ll be there.”

“Foolish wolf.” Gu Mengmeng rubbed her eyes and then turned to look at Lea, asking him, “What about you? Are you really fine? You’re not lying to me? I clearly saw two stray beasts working together to kill you....”

Lea deliberately spoke in a jealous tone, “You only thought about caring for me now? Tsk tsk tsk, I thought that I’m not receiving any love from you and you won’t even care if I die.”

Gu Mengmeng glared at Lea and warned him with a strict expression, “Don’t try to muddle through, report everything honestly.”

Lea immediately kept his joking attitude as he avoided gaze with her cowardly and then secretly peeked at her with the corners of his eyes. He said guiltily, “I’m not as seriously injured as Elvis, I’ve already recovered quite fully.”

“Really?” Gu Mengmeng maintained her doubtful attitude.

Her two males were too obsessed with flaunting their superiority, they always pretended that everything was going well in front of her.

Lea cleared his throat and explained, “My injuries are mostly external injuries inflicted by those stray beasts. I always have this kind of injury in the past, they aren’t that pain and I’m already used to it. They will recover naturally in at most three to five days.”

Gu Mengmeng stretched her hand out and poked Lea’s body. After making sure that there was not much of a problem with him, she then heaved a sigh of relief.

“What about Elvis? Are we just waiting for him to recover on his own?”

Lea nodded and said, “Don’t worry, we had already passed the most dangerous period of time. Being able to stand, walk and talk proves that he won’t die.”

Actually, Lea did not speak the truth.

To call Gu Mengmeng back to reality so as to prevent her tiny body from exploding into a pool of flesh after not being able to withstand the impact, he held in the agony to walk to her and eventually injure not only his bones but his internal organs too.

If Gu Mengmeng kept her beast pressure a second later, Elvis's heart would break into pieces and they might not even be able to recover his full corpse.

Although he had the recovery abilities of a fifth-level orc, Elvis was too badly injured. Lea did not consent to Elvis acting normal in front of Gu Mengmeng and he even asked Elvis to rest well but Elvis just did not listen to him as he insisted on following Gu Mengmeng to prove that he was well so as to prevent her from feeling guilty.

And in the end?

Look, she saw through all of it at one glance.

Chapter 663 - She Cares For Him Now.

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Did he still not understand? He was not the previous nonexistent Elvis who would not get any pressing questions from Gu Mengmeng when he appeared while lugging an injured leg.

She cares for him now.

He could never hide any small abnormality from her eyes.

When Gu Mengmeng knew that Elvis's life was not in danger, she finally put her heart at ease.

Looking back, she caught Auretin scooping as much meat from the pot as possible.

Auretin met eyes with Gu Mengmeng, creating a moment of awkwardness.

He shifted his gaze in stiffness but his hand was still in the position of scooping meat from the pot. He had no expression on his face but it gave off an awkward atmosphere.

Gu Mengmeng could not help but chuckle as she asked, "Auretin, what about you? Is your injury serious?"

Auretin cleared his throat and kept his chopsticks. He sat in all seriousness while looking at Gu Mengmeng, maintaining his usual face-paralysis and calm expression. "To me, battling with stray beasts is a daily routine. There's a limit to how much they can hurt me. So, as compared to Lea, my injuries are lighter, they aren't that serious."

Gu Mengmeng shifted her gaze to stare intently at her own knees. After hesitating for some time, she slowly opened her mouth and asked, “What about the others...are they....fine?”

Lea knew that some matters could never be avoided, Gu Mengmeng definitely could see that quite a lot of people were missing from the crowd when they set off two days later.

Pulling Gu Mengmeng into his arms, Lea placed his chin gently on the top of her head and comforted her, “No tribe will dare to say they didn’t suffer a single casualty when battling with stray beasts. Even the previous messenger of the Beast Deity experienced both wins and losses, she didn’t have a straight ‘all-win’ before. So....”

Gu Mengmeng clenched her fists tightly and frowned. The tightness in her throat caused her voice to become dry and hoarse as she probed, “How many people died in the hands of the stray beasts? And how many.....died because of me?”

Lea wanted to say that all of them died in the hands of the stray beasts, but.....how could he successfully trick Gu Mengmeng into believing his lies?

Lea held Gu Mengmeng’s shoulders and said, “You couldn’t control your own emotions because you saw me being in danger, so they died because of me and not you. I’ll become stronger to protect myself and my tribesmen and I won’t let you lose control because of me again. So, don’t push all the responsibilities to yourself, do you hear me?”

Gu Mengmeng was still frowning as she looked up into Lea’s eyes and demanded, “Tell me, how many.”

Lea hugged Gu Mengmeng in his arms, his heart aching for her. Sighing, he confessed, “72 of them died in the battle and....90 died during the beast pressure.”

Gu Mengmeng's body grew weak as she lied in Lea's arms.

A majority of the tribesmen applied to join Saint Nazaire during the beauty pageant in Sauder back then. She clearly promised them that she would lead them to live good days but those good days had not yet arrived when they already died in her hands.

Lea patted Gu Mengmeng's back and said, "Mengmeng, hear me out. In the Beast World, the death of males is an extremely normal matter, this is the result of survival of the fittest that can't be avoided. The males are useless for not being able to protect their own lives, this is not your fault."

Gu Mengmeng breathed in deeply and assured him, "Don't worry, I'm fine. I won't avoid my responsibilities but I won't let myself sink in sorrow and self-blame. The most pressing matter is to get hold of the method to control Snake's abilities as soon as possible so that this tragedy will not happen a second time."

Chapter 664 - I Don't Know Whether To Say This

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Lea and Elvis exchanged glances, clearly heaving a sigh of relief.

Gu Mengmeng continued, “162 males....I’m afraid every family had losses. Arrange the single males to protect and take care of females with fewer family members to make sure that the quality of the females’ lives don’t deteriorate. No issues should arise in their safety too.”

Lea threw a glance at Auretin. Auretin, who was just sending a piece of meat into his mouth, sighed and said, “Noted, I’ll arrange it.”

After walking away for two steps, Auretin came back and looked at Gu Mengmeng’s expression. He pressed his lips into a line and the words ‘I don’t know whether to say this’ were clearly written all over his face.

Gu Mengmeng lifted her face and asked him, “What’s wrong? Speak.”

Auretin cleared his throat and asked with a serious expression, “I want to share dinner too, can we roast some meat?”

Gu Mengmeng was speechless, “...”

Under this kind of circumstances, what Auretin was concerned about was actually dinner....

Ha, Lea really got it right.

In this Beast World, everyone seemed to have reached the state of numbness towards males’ death.

Lea sneered and looked at Auretin, questioning him, “Roast what meat? Can’t you see that my Mengmeng is in a bad mood? You can’t share dinner with us tonight, go and settle it yourself in the wild.”

Auretin frowned and his gaze towards Lea became exceptionally unfriendly. This was hatred coming from a foodie.

Gu Mengmeng shook her hands and said, “Call the females over, we’ll roast meat tonight. They’ll feel a lot more assured if they see me alive.”

“Yeah.” Auretin’s expression became a lot better. He ignored Lea and left directly.

After Auretin walked away, only Gu Mengmeng and her two males were left there.

Lea placed Gu Mengmeng back into the tree hole and then sat down on his two knees by her feet. His fluffy large tail landed gently in her embrace, covering her just like a warm blanket. He supported his elbow against the sides of the tree hole and looked up at Gu Mengmeng’s little face, smiling without any words.

Gu Mengmeng looked back at Lea and asked, “What’s wrong? Why are you looking at me like this?”

Lea chuckled and replied, “I feel very complicated now, I’m proud but disappointed....what should I do?”

Gu Mengmeng stared at Lea in confusion, waiting for his next sentence.

Lea patted Gu Mengmeng’s little face gently and explained, “You became a lot stronger and now think matters through very clearly. This is a good growing sign because this means that you won’t split hairs to go down a dead end and won’t lock yourself up in a dark sorrowful space in the future. This is good news and I should be happy for you, I should also feel proud for your growth but....this also means that you have one less thing that requires Elvis's and my accompaniment and comfort. Your reliance on us will then be reduced. I feel....empty. I'm afraid that as this goes on, one day, you will not need us completely...."

Gu Mengmeng did not know whether to cry or laugh at Lea's worry. This feeling of anticipating your independence but being afraid of losing your reliance.....wasn't this what parents go through when they send their children to kindergarten?

Holding Lea's hand, Gu Mengmeng looked towards Elvis. His expression told her that he was feeling the same too.

They really had....good teamwork.

Gu Mengmeng breathed in deeply and said, "To examine whether a romantic relationship is a good one, we have to see if we became better people after sinking ourselves in love. You two made me stronger and braver but....this doesn't obstruct me from loving and relying on you guys."

Chapter 665 - I Left My First Time For You

Lea landed a peck on Gu Mengmeng's forehead while Elvis tightened his grip on her hand.

Gu Mengmeng sighed and then turned to look at Lea, asking him, "Can you tell me now? What does 'using a counterfeit to battle another counterfeit' mean?"

Lea was shocked for half a second before he broke out into a smile and rubbed Gu Mengmeng's little head. He replied, "Ha, indeed, I can never hide things from you."

Gu Mengmeng did not say anything but her instincts told her that this had got to do with Cole.

Lea positioned his chin on Gu Mengmeng's head and said tirelessly, "Do you recall what Cole said to me when we banished him?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded, her memory now was so good it scared herself, it was not easy to forget something.

Lea laughed and said in an indifferent tone, as if he was narrating a story of no relation to him, "The few years after I was banished, I hated Cole to the core. But the difference in our abilities prevented me from seeking revenge. Getting closer to Cole only made me fall for his tricks once more. I don't want to become a clown for him to manipulate so the only solution was to understand him and surpass him."

Gu Mengmeng frowned, she originally had no feelings towards the relationship among siblings but they eventually belonged to the same family. She was unable to understand why Cole sought all ways to harm

Lea. Cole just had to nod his head to kill Lea, and with his skills, it was not hard to kill him too but he did not do it and instead, use the most cruel means to torture Lea's mentality, causing him to live life like death.

Lea suddenly chuckled and turned to look at Elvis, saying, "Hey, it's so magical. Now whenever I mention Cole, I don't feel any anger and won't be so agitated until I feel like killing someone, I even.....don't feel anything at all."

Elvis smiled and said, "Congratulations, you finally escaped Cole's torment. Hatred is not the support in your life anymore."

Lea raised his brow and agreed, "Yeah, thank you for your congratulations."

Gu Mengmeng facepalmed and looked coldly at the two fellows who were not speaking human words again. She chided, "After thanking him for his congratulation, should I push both of you to perform a wedding ceremony?"

Lea was taken aback but the next moment, he looked at Gu Mengmeng ambiguously and asked, "Are.....you lonely? Huh? You want to see....that to soothe yourself?"

For a moment, Gu Mengmeng did not understand what Lea was talking about as she tried to dodge him upon her instincts. However, Lea inched closer to her and pressed his upper body on top of hers, clutching her little hands tight above her head with his slender fingers. With his other hand, he hooked her chin and said in an affectionate way, "I left my first time for you....how can I give it to Elvis? No matter how much you want to see it, at least.....let me taste your sweetness first, alright?"

Gu Mengmeng felt steam coming out from her ears, just like white smoke spewing from a steam train after the whistle was sounded.

Twisting her body, her face flushed red as she said, "Who....who wants to see...."

Lea increased their distance and stared at Gu Mengmeng with a sly gaze. He grazed his finger across his lips and licked them with his tongue. His expression was charming and seductive, resembling poppies that bloomed in the night, causing one to hold their breaths uncontrollably.

“You really...don’t want to see? If you speak up....maybe I will be happy to cooperate?”

Elvis’s whole body was giving off a black and pressured aura. The sound of him clenching his teeth could be heard from far away. “Watch your words and reply Xiaomeng properly. Don’t bring in any weird topics, or else I’ll....execute the family rules with my identity as the First Partner.”

Chapter 666 - A Child Who's Blessed By The Beast Deity

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Lea pushed his hands away and shrugged his shoulders, smirking. “Look for yourself, who’s willing to do anything for you~”

Gu Mengmeng face-palmed, feeling as if she was almost tricked by Lea again.

If Elvis did not speak up just in time to break this scene filled with gay aura, she would have suffered from a nosebleed again by Lea’s ‘bitchy and scandalous’ look.

Elvis placed one hand on Lea’s shoulder and supported his forehead with his other hand. Looking up slightly, he gave a cold smile and warned, “Don’t try to confuse her, say the main point!”

In a carefree and lively manner, Lea nodded. Actually, he joked around just because he was scared that the story was too solemn that it would suppress Gu Mengmeng’s emotions.

If it was possible, he would not narrate these unhappy and imperfect memories, what he wished for was for his Mengmeng to see the world as wonderful as fairytale in her eyes.

But, he could not achieve it now...

“Cole is the most gifted male in the entire snow fox tribe’s history. No matter whether it is in terms of intelligence or skills, he always emerged as champion. But what a pity, his identity was not enough to hold his ambition, both eldest brother and I were obstacles in his route to success. And moreover....as compared to eldest brother, he seemed to hate me more.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned and asked, “Why? Didn’t you say that your relationship with Cole was not bad when you were young?”

Lea gave a bitter laugh, helplessness written in his eyes. He said, “Yeah, I thought that it was not bad. I thought that second brother cherished me a lot.....but, do you think the thing you think about will be the truth you’re thinking about?”

Gu Mengmeng felt a little faint at Lea’s words, so many ‘think’s.....

After digesting the sentence by herself, she then asked, “Cole has an ulterior motive for treating you well from the start?”

Lea leaned his body backwards, lying against the sides of the tree hole. Raising his head to look at the skies, he had laziness written on his face. He spoke in an indifferent manner, “There’s only one child who’s blessed by the Beast Deity in a few hundred years and just nice.....the child’s me.”

Gu Mengmeng blinked her eyes at Lea and said, “Blessed by the Beast Deity? How did he bless you? Why didn’t I see it at all?”

Lea swayed his tail and said, “You saw many foxtails in Sauder but did you notice the difference between mine and theirs?”

Gu Mengmeng recalled for a moment in detail and then stared at Lea’s tail before answering, “I didn’t notice anything...”

Lea’s pupils squinted slightly and he inched closer to Gu Mengmeng, speaking with a little anger, “Am I not special in your eyes?”

Gu Mengmeng felt really wronged this time round, firstly, she did not look at others’ tails in detail before and secondly...who the hell could differentiate every fox tail that clearly?

Lea sealed Gu Mengmeng’s lips with his and nibbled on them to punish her. Until he tasted her blood, he then slowly released her and leaned backwards, continuing, “Other snow foxes’ tails will have a little silver fur and this will create an effect like the reflection from the sun during movements. But my tail is pure white, there is not a single strand of stray fur. This is the reason why I'm the only one who can utilize the deduction methods passed down by generations of witch doctors.

What's.....the damn difference between white and silver?!

Please pardon Gu Mengmeng for not being sensitive to colors, unless it was a clear distinction like Elvis's black and Lea's white or else she really could not see that there were a few strands of silver fur in those pure white tails.....

Clearing her throat, Gu Mengmeng asked, "You guys.....use your tails to come up with the deduction methods?"

Chapter 667 - Irreplaceable but Destructible

Chapter 667: Irreplaceable but Destructible

Lea shook his head and said, “Only pure white snow foxes can feel God’s orders to decode the hidden message in the deduction methods. And others.....can’t understand anything even if they learn the deduction methods.”

Upon mentioning the Beast Deity, Gu Mengmeng rolled her eyes and muttered, feeling unhappy, “He doesn’t look that reliable, why do you guys trust him so much?”

Lea rubbed Gu Mengmeng’s little head and said, “When I was struggling in the hate I had towards Cole during my banishment, I asked myself the same question too. Am I really a child blessed by the Beast Deity? Why did I need to undergo this hardship? Until....he guided me to you. I then understood that he really cared for me, he didn’t allow me to waste my luck on other places because I had to gather enough luck to meet you and accompany you. As compared to you, the things I went through didn’t deserve to be mentioned at all.”

Elvis said similar words before.....

Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Elvis with a deep gaze.

Her two males always used the words ‘didn’t deserve to be mentioned’ to describe their painful pasts.

But how could she believe them?

How many times had they experience a close shave and had their lives hanging on a thread to exchange a ‘didn’t deserve to be mentioned’?

Sighing, Gu Mengmeng held Lea's hand and said while looking at him tenderly, "The child who's blessed received the protection and preferential treatment from the entire tribe so Cole got jealous, right?"

Lea nodded his head in agreement and chuckled, as if this was someone else's story. "Yeah, if he wanted to be the tribe leader, he just have to kill eldest brother but even if he kills me.....he can't replace me. I asked him why he harmed me on the day he banished me. He replied, 'Because you're the Ninth Highness'. Irreplaceable but destructible... this should be what he meant.

Gu Mengmeng's heart ached for Lea, what could have hurt more than being betrayed and harmed by someone you rely on with all your heart?

However, Lea smiled in a carefree and lively manner and pecked Gu Mengmeng's little face. He said, "I was scared that you will react this way so I didn't want to tell you all these. All of these happened in the past, I don't take them to heart anymore."

Gu Mengmeng clamped her lips and remained silent.

Don't take them to heart?

If he really forgot, put it down and let bygones be bygones, why would he establish Saint Nazaire? And he even dared to include the messenger of the Beast Deity in his plan of retribution. As a witch doctor, he should be clearer than anyone else that plotting against the messenger of the Beast Deity was a huge disrespect to the Beast Deity and he would undergo torment and punishment. But despite being aware of that, he still went ahead to do it.

How was this forgiving and letting things go?

Lea pinched Gu Mengmeng's little face and said, "If you continue looking at me with such worry, I cannot continue my story."

Gu Mengmeng turned around to lie into Lea's arms.

She placed her back against his chest and lay her head on his shoulder. Closing her eyes, she said, "I won't look at you, you can continue."

Lea kissed her hair before continuing, "I want to win Cole because I want to learn how to ponder over questions from his point of view. Thus, I started imitating his actions, guessing his thoughts....slowly, I started to forget how the original Lea was. My state had become the 'Cole's state'. Strictly speaking....I'm just Cole's counterfeit item, a high quality one."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and said, "So, that was why you said you were worried that I would fall in love with Cole when I was lured into Sauder by him, right?"

Chapter 668 - I Know How Selfish I Am.

Lea squinted, trying to adjust to the sunlight shining on his face. Turning to look at Gu Mengmeng, he placed his fingers on her left ear and said after a chuckle, “Back then, you took away all my confidence. And....Cole was indeed better than me in some areas. After all, I kept imitating him. How can I surpass him if I kept stepping on his footprints?”

Her two males had confidence near to a level of conviction in other areas but when it comes to relationships, they both were so inferior until they disappeared like dust.

Gu Mengmeng was helpless as she asked while staring at Lea, “You’re not scared now?”

Lea pulled Gu Mengmeng up. She did not have any strength left and did not want to resist either so she just allowed Lea to pull her against his chest like a puppet.

Lea kissed Gu Mengmeng’s earlobe and then chuckled, asking, “Do you know why I insisted on letting Elvis take the role as your First Partner?”

Gu Mengmeng pondered over it for a moment before replying, “You’re scared that I won’t accept Elvis after I mate with you and you can’t fulfill the promise back then?”

Lea shook his head and said, “You’re not entirely heartless towards Elvis and besides, you’re kind and have a soft heart. If I was the one to set things up....the time you’ll take to accept him will be shorter than the time you took to accept me.”

Gu Mengmeng thought about it, oh right.

Nodding her head to give her silent consent, she asked, “Then why?”

Lea touched the snow fox mark on her ear and said with a misted gaze, “Because I know how selfish I am.”

“Huh?” Gu Mengmeng did not understand Lea.

Lea gave a bitter laugh and explained himself, “If I’m the First Partner, even if I know that I can’t protect you alone, I rather pull you to die with me instead of letting you take in a second male. But Elvis’s different, for your sake, he can abandon everything and can also overcome everything, even if you want him to crush his own heart bit by bit. As long as you’re happy, he won’t object to it. It’s the safest and most beneficial choice for him to become your First Partner. Both of you have to mate first for his abilities to surpass me so that I can put my heart at ease to stay by your side because.....when I lose control and become crazy from all the jealousy, someone can protect you amidst all the chaos.”

Lea criticized himself until he was worthless but Gu Mengmeng smiled and poked Lea’s brows, comforting him, “But a selfish you gave your position as First Partner to Elvis just to ensure my safety. So....I believe that regardless of whether it’s you or Elvis, both of you won’t hurt me.”

Lea let Gu Mengmeng poke his forehead as much as she wanted. The corners of his lips curved upwards unknowingly while watching her gentle and calm eyes.

“We naturally won’t hurt you, but....I’ll hurt those males who have a motive for getting close to you.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed lightly, not denying what he said

She just need Lea and Elvis in her life. After going through the incident with Snake, she clearly knew that she should not emit any kindness from the start if she did not want anyone to get the wrong information.

At times, turning a blind eye was a type of benevolence.

Lea said, “Elvis and I will give you absolute doting and pampering to satisfy all your needs.....so, I won’t give any male the chance to snatch your favor away. I don’t care about the price I have to pay and will go to all extents to stop them.”

Chapter 669 - Suffering a Double Loss

Chapter 669: Suffering a Double Loss

“Yeah, I understand.” Gu Mengmeng laughed.

What Lea meant was for her to not worry about Cole’s plans because he and Elvis would do everything to stop Cole from stepping close to her.

Actually, he was protecting her, right?

How stiff, why must he say it in such an awkward way?

“You really understand?” Lea asked in half doubt, “What do you decide to do with that Burke?”

Gu Mengmeng sighed and said, “Kanwu seemed like he quite valued this Master of his, even Hede and Jialue side him too. I’m scared that the kids will be sad if my attitude is too hard on him....the little wolves can’t receive any more blows.”

Lea squinted and said with a tint of dangerous aura, “So, you plan to allow him to wander about by your side using the little wolves?”

The thought of it made him annoyed.

Gu Mengmeng glanced over at Elvis who lied on the ground, not daring to move a single inch. She said with a displeased tone, “Don’t we have to blame a particular person? Our son already opened his mouth to request for guidance but he still acted haughty and even asked our son ‘Why should I’. Tsk...”

Elvis wanted to explain but he swallowed his words back after thinking over it.

Upon seeing how Elvis wanted to say something but could not, Lea laughed and said, rejoicing over his misfortune, “That particular person wanted to train Kanwu’s arrogance so he wanted to let Kanwu beg him a few more times in order for the little wolves to identify who had the real authority in the family was. But what a pity, Kanwu turned his head around to make Burke his Master. Now all’s good, he didn’t even get to control his son when he lured a potential love rival back home. Ha, isn’t this suffering a double loss?”

Elvis did not dare to retort Gu Mengmeng, but that did not mean that he would allow Lea to step over him. Thus, his face darkened and he said, “I heard you taught Jialue for a long time, judging from today’s situation.....your coaching is quite effective.”

Lea almost bit his tongue. Recalling how Jialue acted earlier, it really made him boil in anger but there was nothing he could do either.

Turning to look at Gu Mengmeng, he pinched her little nose, punishing her before saying, “You always shield them, that’s why they defy all laws and regulations. I’m afraid there’s no one left to control them in the future.”

Thinking about her own sons, Gu Mengmeng’s eyes started spewing out a Mother’s glow. She lied against Lea’s chest and said, “Indigo blue is extracted from the indigo plant but is bluer than the plant it comes from, the next generation will be stronger than the previous one.”

The rays from the sun made her feel comfortable and she was also tired from all the ruckus in the afternoon so she lied there and fell into a deep sleep.

When she opened her eyes again, she was lying in Elvis’s arms.

Elvis sat in the tree hole with a formidable aura, as if that was not a tree hole but a supreme king’s seat. He resembled a ruler in the night, looking down from a commanding position in overweening arrogance. Gu

Mengmeng appeared exceptionally petite and vulnerable in his arms, giving off the scene of King Zhou of Shang with his demonic concubine Daji.

There were 19 fireplaces in front of them with two of the biggest ones set beside Gu Mengmeng. Lea and Auretin were working together to skewer the meat together before placing them on some clean leaves. Ian was half-lying and half-sitting on the tree branch above Gu Mengmeng, giving off an unruly and carefree aura like a drunkard lying on the battlefield. It's just that he was still looking ill, causing him to lack the bold and romantic charm of a warrior. Instead, he looked like a sick and weak crown prince who was just following the army, he was a pretty decoration but not useful in killing the enemies on the battlefield.

“You’re awake?” A gentle voice sounded from above her head. Gu Mengmeng lifted her face and her eyes met with Elvis’s deep gaze. She chuckled and nodded.

Chapter 670 - What If He Ruins You With His Stare?!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Elvis's two simple words successfully grabbed hold of everyone's attention.

Instantly, other than the sound of the flapping sound from the firewood, everyone just stared at Gu Mengmeng in silence, causing her to feel uneasy uncontrollably.

She just took a nap, was there a need for the whole tribe to surround her?

"Alright, let's dig in." Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng and stood up, sitting down again after reaching the campfire.

Gu Mengmeng was pretty worried so she asked, "Your body's still not recovered, is there no problem carrying me like that?"

Elvis raised his brow and laughed, saying, "It's just a small injury. After carrying you for a whole afternoon, I've already recovered quite well."

Gu Mengmeng rebuked, "What's the use of carrying me? I'm not even medicine."

Elvis played with Gu Mengmeng's hair, tangling it around his finger and pulling it to his nose to take a sniff. Chuckling, he said, "You're my elixir savior, nothing is more effective than you."

Gu Mengmeng did not answer him. If she was not aware that there was no Internet here, she would have suspect Elvis of reading some strange online novels while she was asleep.

She looked at the campfires surrounding her, including her campfire, there was a total of 19.

Every family had a fireplace, that means that no female died in this battle.

Ha, yeah, even if all the males in a family were killed, single males would take the initiative to continue protecting the females. Unless not a single male was left in the tribe, or else the females would definitely be protected well.

Gu Mengmeng inherited Elvis's good eyesight so she could see exceptionally well in the light from the fire.

Every familiar face was so calm that not a tint of sorrow could be seen.

Like in the past, they were just instructing the males to eat this and that, to do this and that....

Gu Mengmeng felt weird.

She was prepared to see the sorrowful sides of the females tonight and then get tortured until her whole body was covered with cuts and bruises from all the guilt and no other injury could be added.

She knew that it would definitely be very painful but she also knew that she deserved to undergo that torment.

However, she did not imagine that these females were not the least sad, as if the males who died were strangers they had not seen before instead of their partners who went through life and death with them and took care of them painstakingly.

This helped reduce Gu Mengmeng's mental burden but she felt a surge of indescribable sadness.

Sandy's fireplace was the closest to Gu Mengmeng's, just on the right side of the tree hole.

Sandy sat back-facing Gu Mengmeng and did not turn her head from the start.

Hede and his two brothers did not prepare to roast meat at Gu Mengmeng's fireplace but instead, sat beside Sandy's fireplace. Burke sat beside Kanwu, his gaze piercing through the fire and landed on Gu Mengmeng with a scorching temperature, as if he could not control his thoughts about her.

Lea pinched the tree branch meant to roast meat and broke it into two parts with a crack. He smirked and said, "That pair of eyes really makes one feel uncomfortable.....I really want to dig them out."

Gu Mengmeng shook her hands and sighed. "Forget it, the kids know that you guys don't like him so they brought him to Sandy's side to get some food. Just ignore him, let him see all he wants."

Lea took two deep breaths before walking to Gu Mengmeng, using his body to block Burke's sight. He glared at Burke with a black face and an almost terrorizing gaze, saying, "How can I do that? What if he ruins you with his stare?"

Gu Mengmeng did not know whether to cry or laugh. She patted Elvis's shoulder and signaled him to turn around.

Elvis heeded by her instructions and completely turned his back against Sandy's fireplace. Gu Mengmeng huddled into Elvis's arms and snuggled up against his chest. Then, she lifted her face to smile at Lea which Lea returned with a snort before continuing to roast the meat.

Chapter 671 - I'll Only Acknowledge The Master I Chose.

The roasted meat coated with a layer of oil gave off a strong aroma, igniting one's appetite to grow in heaps.

Lea's culinary skills had a reputable name for itself. Although the concept knowledge came from Gu Mengmeng, he was so much more skilled in cooking than her.

This was the reason why Auretin never hit Lea's hands when fighting with him!

That pair of hands concerned his meals, he can't be careless with them!

"Mighty messenger." A light call rang from above Gu Mengmeng's head. She felt her scalp go numb....did this fellow not notice that her two males were putting their guard against him as if he was a thief? He still had the nerve to come over and seek death?

Gu Mengmeng turned her head away and wanted to pretend that she did not hear him so that Burke could retreat before the impossible and leave before getting the cold shoulder.

However, Burke did not react how Gu Mengmeng desired. He did not leave and instead, squatted down on one leg in front of Gu Mengmeng, pushing Kanwu to her. He said, "Kanwu was injured from today's training. It's not serious but it will be better for the witch doctor to treat it slightly."

Upon hearing Kanwu's name, Gu Mengmeng turned her head around abruptly. She then noticed that one of Kanwu's claw nails was flipped open and he suffered from a few bruises, as well as, wounds of all sizes. The skin at the corner of his lips was rubbed off and blood could be seen. He lowered his gaze, not daring to look at Gu Mengmeng, resembling a child who brought his zero-marks test paper back for his parents to sign.

Gu Mengmeng felt her heart being tugged at as she cupped Kanwu's face and asked in pain, "Who landed you up in this state?"

Kanwu lowered his head and replied softly, "I.....I went to hunt...and met a tiger.....I didn't manage to defeat it....."

Gu Mengmeng clenched her teeth and raised her hand to give Kanwu a tight slap. But when she almost landed her hand on him, she did not bear to do it and just looked up to glare fiercely at Burke. She said, "Do you take care of your disciple like this after Kanwu apprenticed you as his Master?"

Burke did not try to explain as he just looked at Gu Mengmeng in silence, allowing her to throw her temper at him.

Kanwu pulled Gu Mengmeng's sleeve and explained, "Mummy, don't scold Master Burke. Master Burke originally wanted me to hunt a rabbit but I was too greedy and overestimated my abilities so I trespassed the tigers' territory in secret. If Master Burke didn't save me in time, I would not have the chance to return today."

Gu Mengmeng was aware that it was wrong to shift the blame to Burke but her son was already seriously injured. Let alone hit, she did not even bear to scold him harshly.

Clenching her fists, Gu Mengmeng threw him a cold glance and commented, "Thank you for saving my son again but I feel that you're not suitable to be his Master. Kanwu's Father will teach him in the future."

Burke did not say a word as he continued standing there quietly.

Kanwu, on the other hand, lifted his tiny face and frowned in seriousness at Gu Mengmeng. He said, "Mummy, I'll only acknowledge the Master I chose."

Elvis pulled his arm in, bringing Gu Mengmeng back into his arms. The way he peered at Kanwu gave off a despising feel as he questioned, “If it was me...I wouldn’t have saved him today. He can’t even defeat wild beasts, what right does he have to survive?”

Gu Mengmeng turned around and glared hard, shouting, “Elvis!”

Elvis rubbed Gu Mengmeng’s tiny face, relaxing her brows gently. “The growth of males are accumulated one wound after another. If you can’t bear for him to get injured, that will only make him a weakling who can only wag his tail and beg for mercy for his entire life and hand his life over to the ‘benevolence’ of his enemies. But what a pity, there’s no such thing as ‘benevolence’ amongst the males on this Beast World.”

Chapter 672 - Aren't I Your Hero?

Hooking Gu Mengmeng's chin, Elvis smiled a dark and evil smile as he stared at her in deep affection, saying, "As long as you're happy, it doesn't matter to raise a little wolf cub to failure. But one thing you have to remember, when he becomes food for the enemies, you're not allowed to be sad and cry."

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips.

She knew about the survival of the fittest principle, there was too much of Snake's memories that concerned the concept of passing down.

And wasn't this attack of the stray beasts a living example?

Even a baby eagle would not learn to fly when he was being raised in his Mother hen's nest.

She was aware of all the principles but... Kanwu is her blood-related son, her heart will definitely ache for him.

Kanwu completely ignored Elvis as he treated his words as a puff of wind passing his ear that disappeared upon a wind's blow.

Kanwu placed his little hand on Gu Mengmeng's leg as his azure blue eyes reflected the glow from the campfire. He had a type of persistence that kids his age did not have. Frowning slightly, he looked into Gu Mengmeng's eyes and assured her, "Mummy, don't worry. I'm not in pain, I'm really not in pain. As a wolf, this trivial injury is nothing."

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback for a moment before she broke out into a smile.

Kanwu this little rascal....

Although he said he hated Elvis and was always on loggerheads with him, but in reality.....the influence of his Father had developed roots in his heart.

That furrowed brows and that deliberate, mature gaze of his, together with his words 'as a wolf'.....

If you look closely, it would not be hard to notice that Kanwu had many details imitating Elvis unknowingly.

Rubbing Kanwu's little head, Gu Mengmeng nodded in gentleness and commended, "My son is so brave."

Kanwu was surprised, he thought.....that his Mother will get angry.

He provoked the authority in his family and went against his Mother's arrangements. If he did not run into the battlefield on his own will, his Mother would not chase after him into the battlefield. That way, his Mother would not emit her beast pressure upon agitation and would not end up being so weak

But his Mother did not chide him.

Not even a sentence.

But before his Mother woke up, he was ready to be hung on a tree and die from heating under the sun or even banished from the tribe.

"Mummy...." Kanwu felt his nose scrunch up as he called out in a baby voice.

Gu Mengmeng opened her arms wide and hugged Kanwu, patting his back lightly. "My son's all grown up, he's not the little wolf cub who only knew how to hide behind his Mother's back to seek help after being bullied by his Father. In the future, Mummy will rely on you guys for protection, alright? My little hero."

Kanwu looked up with tears welled up in his azure blue eyes. He nodded firmly and promised, "I'll protect Mummy forever and forever."

Gu Mengmeng cupped Kanwu's face and landed a peck on his forehead, saying, "Alright, I'll be looking forward."

Kanwu wanted to add something but Lea had already grabbed him by his neck out from Gu Mengmeng's arms. Lea smiled a gentle smile and said, "Kanwu still have to treat his injuries, after all, he's just a half-orc so his recovery abilities are still too poor. If we don't treat him in time, I'm afraid he will have it hard later on in life."

Gu Mengmeng nodded and gave her consent, "Alright, I'll hand Kanwu to you."

Lea carried Kanwu and turned his head to walk away, leaving a sentence, "Don't worry."

Gu Mengmeng did not know why but upon hearing Lea's words, she felt a chill down her spine. Why did he look so much like a.....human trafficker when he lifted Kanwu away.

"Aren't I.....your hero? Hmm?" A deep and husky voice sounded over her head, encompassing a strong emotion to kill someone....

Chapter 673 - Mother-in-Law is Crying

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Hede carried Chixuan to Gu Mengmeng and asked, “Mummy, can we eat with you?”

Gu Mengmeng poked Elvis with her elbow and whispered, “The kids are here, don’t create a scene.”

Elvis was unhappy, he disliked the few little wolves even more now.

Whenever they are present, he can’t even be close to her?!

Annoying, back then, he should not have placed them into Gu Mengmeng’s stomach. He should just directly smash them to the ground, how nice!

Seeing how Elvis turned his face away and kept quiet, Gu Mengmeng then replied Hede, “Of course, you guys are my children, you all should originally be eating with me.”

Hede asked again, “Can Master Burke join us?”

“That....” Gu Mengmeng was put in a difficult position.

The tribe’s night campfire party had each family unit sharing a fireplace. As Auretin was Gu Mengmeng’s guardian beast, he could stay behind to share a meal with them. On the other hand, Ian did not even think of coming down from the tree to eat. There was also no problem for Hede and his brothers to come back to eat but Burke....

Jialue walked to Hede and squatted down, hugging his knees with both his arms. He stared at Gu Mengmeng with his chubby little face and did not even need to say a word when he melted Gu Mengmeng’s heart.

And let alone Gu Mengmeng, even Elvis could not resist himself when looking at his posture.

Damn it, his position and expression was too similar to Gu Mengmeng when she just arrived in Saint Nazaire.

Jialue tilted his little head and said with a troubled expression, “Originally, we wanted to share a meal at Mother-in-Law’s house. Uncle Collin also agreed but Mother-in-Law’s eyes were very red and her tears kept falling down like raindrops. Looking at her.....we’re not in the mood to eat anymore....”

Gu Mengmeng turned around and the first thing she saw was Sandy’s body turning stiff. She obviously heard Jialue’s words as she stood up in a hurry, intending to leave the scene when she staggered and fell into Collin’s arms.

“Sandy, what’s wrong?” Gu Mengmeng was not free to move around so she could only open her mouth and call Sandy.

Sandy did not want to turn back as she just buried her head in Collin’s chest. She stuttered, “I’m.....I’m fine, I just didn’t sleep well for the past two days so my eyes are a little red. I’ll head back first....I....”

Gu Mengmeng knew that there must be something going on with Sandy.

In the past, when did Sandy not pounce on Gu Mengmeng whenever she saw her? Even if she was not as close to her after Collin missed the chance to save Gu Mengmeng together with Elvis and the rest, she had never not look at Gu Mengmeng before.

“Your nasal voice is so serious and you’re still claiming you’re alright?” Gu Mengmeng frowned, glaring at Collin, instructing, “Come over, I’ll take a look.

Collin patted Sandy’s back lightly before carrying her to Gu Mengmeng.

Collin was not the messenger’s guard anymore so he had no right to share food beside Gu Mengmeng’s campfire. Thus, after he placed Sandy down, he backtracked back to Sandy's fireplace and looked at the back views of Sandy and Gu Mengmeng quietly, not uttering a word.

Gu Mengmeng grabbed onto the little hands Sandy used to cover her face and pulled them away. The next second, she saw how her eyes were red and swollen like peaches from the crying.

"Are you...." Gu Mengmeng's gaze swept past Sandy's fireplace and she realized what had happened, but she did not have the courage to continue asking.

Sandy shook her head and explained, "I'm alright, my eyes just got choked by the campfire, that's why tears are dropping. I'm fine, I'm really fine."

"Sorry." Gu Mengmeng frowned and lowered her head.

Sandy only mates with the males she liked. She had the least number of partners in Saint Nazaire, originally she had nine....now, there were only six left.

Chapter 674 - Guard Against Fire, Thieves and Bosom Friends

Sandy lifted her head and followed Gu Mengmeng's gaze to look back. After being taken aback for a second, she lowered her head again and gave a bitter smile. "I forgot you knew how to count....when spring had just arrived, you knew how many of Nina's countless partners were missing with just one glance. I've so little partners.....how can I hide it from you?"

Gu Mengmeng hugged Sandy warmly, biting on her lower lip in silence.

Sandy shook her head and forced a smile, "You don't have to apologize, the three of them....died from protecting me, it's not your fault."

"If you want to cry, just cry.....why are you putting on a brave front in front of me?" Gu Mengmeng's heart aches terribly, she really felt bad for this foolish girl who continued to finding excuses for her even after she lost three of her partners.

Sandy bit her lower lip and shook her head. Sniffing, she then spoke up, "It's very normal for males to die in battles, I'm not sad, I'm not the least sad....."

Sandy's nasal voice was so strong it created an impact on her breathing when she spoke a long sentence. Gu Mengmeng frowned and lowered her voice, "You're scared I'll blame myself so you keep back-facing me because you don't dare to let me know how sad you are? I'll blame myself more if you keep forcing a smile....foolish girl, I rather you scold me or challenge me to a fight...."

The exposed Sandy eventually could not conceal herself any further. Her tears dropped down like raindrops as she said, choked with tears, "I can't defeat you.....”

Gu Mengmeng assured her, “I’ll stand still and let you hit me.”

Sandy said as she cried, “I can’t do it.....sob sob sob.....”

When Lea returned, the first thing he saw was Sandy hugging Gu Mengmeng, crying like a dog. He threw Kanwu to a side and snatched Gu Mengmeng away from Sandy’s arms. He glared at Elvis, as he said, clearly unhappy, “Tsk, she’s already ruined from all the hugging, are you not going to intervene?”

Elvis sighed helplessly and pointed at Sandy, staring back at Lea while questioning him back, “Do you think I can win her in snatching?”

Lea hugged Gu Mengmeng in his arms for quite some time, arranging her clothing at the same time. Then, he pushed his smiley face nearer to Sandy and said, “How nice will it be if you’re a male, that way, I can tear you to pieces.”

“Cough.....” Sandy hiccuped in fear upon looking at Lea’s smile. She even forget to wipe her tears away as she stood there blankly, not knowing what to do.

Gu Mengmeng slapped Lea’s chest and chided, “Don’t do that, Sandy’s already sad enough.”

Lea clasped Gu Mengmeng’s little hand in his and pressed it against his chest. He stared into Gu Mengmeng’s eyes with his long and affectionate pupils, asking, “You’re mine, how can I let others hug you as they wish?”

Gu Mengmeng sighed, Lea’s and Elvis’s jealousy were equally strong but the difference in their targets were very obvious.

In Elvis’s eyes, his top love rivals were the four little ones, with Kanwu as the representative.

And in Lea’s eyes, his top love rival was Sandy.

Gu Mengmeng admitted defeat, losing all hope. Regardless of whether it's the four little ones or Sandy, they all would never develop any strange romantic feelings with her. She had no idea why these two fellows had to fight with them.

Upon seeing how Lea was about to explode with anger, Gu Mengmeng wrapped her arms around his neck and kissed him. Then, she chuckled and tried to change the topic, "Erm, when will the roasted meat be done?"

This tactic was very effective on Lea. He squinted his eyes and handed Gu Mengmeng back to Elvis. After exchanging glances with Elvis, he then said in all seriousness, "Guard against fire, thieves and bosom friends, do you understand?"

Elvis frowned and looked at Sandy with a defensive gaze. Then, he nodded at Lea.

Gu Mengmeng really wanted to find a piece of tofu and knock herself to death, the 'guard against fire, thieves and bosom friends' principle is not supposed to be used in this way, alright?!

Chapter 675 - He Thrilled In The Torment, Not The Killing

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Gu Mengmeng's appearance soothed this frenzied person.

As long as the messengers of the Beast Deity were being protected, all their sacrifice would have been for glory.

Gu Mengmeng and Elvis were both powerful higher-ups. Although they had been heavily injured, their healing speed was also the fastest.

The other second and third-level beasts were not so lucky. Not only had they been attacked by the stray beasts, they suffered internal injuries caused by the force unleashed by Gu Mengmeng's loss of control. It would not be easy to recover.

Lea arranged to have everyone settle down at this spot, to continue their journey only after they have mostly recovered.

Every night over the past days, Burke would bring Kanwu back for dinner with everyone.

Kanwu appeared with fresh injuries daily. He was always either limping or had a swollen face. Gu Mengmeng was pained to see him in this state, but stopped trying to persuade him to give up.

Watching Kanwu return every night to report on his progress and improvements, Gu Mengmeng didn't do anything else except repeatedly filling his bowl with pieces of meat.

The sun shone brightly at noon.

Gu Mengmeng sat in the hole dug for her by Lea. She stroked Lea's tail.

Lea laid across Gu Mengmeng's knees with eyes narrowed in contentment.

Elvis was standing on a branch, as his gaze lingered over Gu Mengmeng. His eyes were filled with a warmth and gentleness akin to the sun's rays.

"It's been seven days and no sign of the next step..." Gu Mengmeng said gently.

Lea's fox ears twitched and his lips curled. "Yes, this is really unlike Cole."

Elvis passed a cup of warm water over to Gu Mengmeng. "He mustered such a large number of people just to send Burke to us? Was he not afraid that we would just kill him and settle things once and for all?"

Lea nudged at the cup in Gu Mengmeng's hands, urging her to drink a bit more.

Looking at her moistened and tender lips, his gaze turned much gentler. "Mengmeng wishes to save Chixuan, and to do so, we need to find Cole. That was why he had purposely left his own scent on Cole, so that we can't kill Cole but have to use him as a hostage in exchange for his appearance."

Gu Mengmeng sighed. "I really don't understand what is Cole's intentions in doing all this? To kill you? To kill me? Or to kill Elvis? No matter who he is targeting, Burke alone is unable to do it..."

Lea touched Gu Mengmeng's little face lightly with his finger. "Cole always had a malevolent personality. For him, it is never about the killing, but it's all about the torment. Take me for example, I am small and young like an ant and he can easily kill me without a trace. But he doesn't want me dead. He wants me to live on and watch as he takes everything away from me. Cole wants me to spiral down from my high position as the Ninth Highness right into the mud below. He enjoys watching me struggle to no avail under his foot. To see my distressed expression and internal torment."

Gu Mengmeng propped up her cheek. "So Cole is one disturbed pervert."

Lea chuckled and nodded. "Um, you can say that."

“If tormenting people is his hobby, then Mengmeng should be safe,” Elvis said faintly. “If he wishes to torment you or me, nothing will be worse than taking away Mengmeng. But if he wants to torment Mengmeng, he must keep her alive then.”

Chapter 676 - Lea Daddy, Are We Playing Bondage Games Today?

Gu Mengmeng understood Elvis' line of thought. "Is Cole intending for Burke to kidnap me?"

Lea didn't appear to mind and looked up at Gu Mengmeng. "I don't think so, Burke and you... it's just like those playthings which Cole brought back for me from outside the tribe. Just an expression of goodwill."

Elvis gazed afar. "Or it might be a reenactment."

Gu Mengmeng was stunned for half a second before sitting up. "You are saying... they want to kidnap Kanwu and the rest to hold them over me?!"

Lea patted Gu Mengmeng's shoulder soothingly. "If that's the case, Burke would not be hanging around so closely to Kanwu and the rest. Cole is obviously using Burke as a bait. As long as we keep up this vigilance against him, what chance does he have?"

Gu Mengmeng was still worried. Her children had been far too close to Burke in recent days. If Burke wished to take them away, his chances of success were very high.

Elvis held his large hand over Gu Mengmeng's head. His gaze was profound and calm. "Don't worry, Ian and his men are watching over them. I will never let those wolf pups draw you into danger again."

Gu Mengmeng was finally somewhat reassured. She wandered over to the edge of the tree hole. "Kanwu and the rest have been too close to Burke these days. I just don't like it... why don't you teach them personally? You are so powerful. You would definitely be a better teacher than Burke."

Elvis got down on one knee and kissed Gu Mengmeng's forehead while holding her little hand. "You are sure that you want me to go?"

Gu Mengmeng looked inquiringly at Elvis. “What’s the matter?”

Elvis chuckled. “Nothing. I was just worried you couldn’t bear it.”

Gu Mengmeng felt a faint sense of foreboding. She tugged at Elvis’s arm. “Tell me, how are you going to train my sons?”

Elvis thought for a moment. “Chixuan is still in a coma and cannot train. I will leave him at home for the time being as a toy for you play.”

Gu Mengmeng felt his words were rather strange, but failed to see exactly how.

Nevertheless, Chixuan was really unable to train in his current condition. Even a rabbit could bite him to death now.

Elvis continued. “Jialue and Lea are the same, with intelligence as their core ability, and physical prowess as an auxiliary skill. Just pass that kid over to Lea.”

Thinking of Jialue, Lea put his hand to his cheek. “I have always been the one to cause trouble for others. But that young punk is a pain in the neck, completely undisciplined. Still acting cute in front of me when caught in the act... and you know that I am helpless before that pair of adorable eyes. I will be eaten alive by that kid... there was once I blindfolded him with a piece of animal skin. Guess what happened next?”

Gu Mengmeng snorted in laughter as she was present then.

That brat Jialue used his paws to pull down one side of the blindfold and nibbled on one finger as he asked Lea, “Lea daddy, are we playing bondage games?”

Lea had been completely frazzled. Jialue’s tone and expression was a perfect imitation of Gu Mengmeng. If Gu Mengmeng had been the one who uttered those words, Lea would have immediately pounced forth to bind her up, strip her naked and have his way with her. But it was Gu Mengmeng’s own son who had spoken those words.

As a result, Lea had immediately carried Gu Mengmeng off to his room and spent half a day inside before his anger was finally vented.

Chapter 677 - What Should I Do? I Am Also At My Wits' End.

Lea turned around to glare at Gu Mengmeng. “You are still laughing?! What did you tell those wolf pups?!”

Gu Mengmeng shrugged helplessly. “It’s not my fault. There were just things I mentioned when telling stories to Sandy. She can’t understand their meaning, anyway. When we went for that beauty pageant and entrusted those wolf pups to Sandy’s care, she had recited the same stories to them at bedtime. What could I do? I am also at my wits’ end at that.”

Lea sighed. “I have no idea what to do with that Jialue. You teach your own brat, I can’t.”

Elvis harrumphed. “Would I still need you to teach him if I could handle him myself?”

Lea looked at Elvis with sympathy. “Ah... so you are also at your wits’ end with that kid.”

Elvis cracked his neck. “Once, when Mengmeng wanted to speak in private with Sandy, hadn’t I led those four little ones for their basic training? I had thrown three of them into a mud puddle, and when the time came for Jialue, he put on a pitiful look and hugged my leg, asking me 「Are you really going to throw me in?」 That expression was exactly like Xiao Meng’s and I couldn’t bear to do it... in the end...”

Elvis clenched his fists with a cracking sound, as a vein on his forehead throbbed. “In the end, that young punk climbed onto my head and peed on me!”

“Pfft...” Gu Mengmeng couldn’t help laughing out loud. “I thought Kanwu was the most difficult for you to handle, but Jialue is the real troublemaker.”

Elvis and Lea exchanged glances before turning to look at Gu Mengmeng and saying in unison, “All because he inherited your eyes...”

Gu Mengmeng fiddled with her hair and winked at Elvis with a mischievous glint in her eyes. “If Lea is unwilling to help you, how do you intend to train those three?”

At the mention of his four sons, Elvis really had no idea.

Since the day they were born, he had always regretted doing such a foolish thing?! Those four fellows were obviously sent by the Beast Deity to torture him.

But...

Xiao Meng loved them.

With a sigh, Elvis said, “I will just throw them into the wild wolf pit and let fate decide their life and death.”

Gu Mengmeng was stunned and she carefully scrutinized Elvis’s expression, trying to find some hint that he was just joking.

Nothing, absolutely nothing.

He was being serious.

Before Gu Mengmeng could speak, Lea held onto her shoulder. A flawlessly handsome profile blocked Gu Mengmeng’s line of sight. “Elvis grew up among the stray beasts and the training he endured was far more strenuous than the one he has planned for them. That was why Elvis predicted you could not bear it, and the reason why he rejected Kanwu’s request for him to train them.”

So it was not... to wear down Kanwu’s arrogance?

But because... Kanwu would probably not survive his training?

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head and reached out her little hand to tug at Elvis' arm.

Elvis pulled her into his embrace. He couldn't understand the origins of her pain, but still held her tenderly.

“I am just saying that, I will not really throw them into the wild wolf pit. Anyway, even if I am willing to teach them, they may not want to learn from me. Burke's methods are more mild, but ultimately safer. Don't worry, it'll be fine.”

Elvis could only come up with this consolation.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. “Hubby, what did you experience before you met me.”

Elvis chuckled and he held Gu Mengmeng's little face with both his hands. "If I could turn back time, I will go through that long period of suffering again. I will choose to undergo even more toil and grind, to become an even better version of myself to receive you, protect you and look after you."

Gu Mengmeng lowered her eyes. "I would rather you to be a little weaker and have to undergo less suffering."

Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng's delicate face. "If I was weaker, I would probably never have met you, you silly girl."

Gu Mengmeng looked up, her eyes full of tenderness and aching.

Elvis pinched her little nose. "Alright, let's stop talking about me. Let's discuss about Cole. That fellow... we must guard against him."

Lea nodded. "The injured have more or less recovered. We cannot continue sitting here to wait for Cole's next move. If he does not do anything in another three days, we will continue towards Saint Nazaire.

Gu Mengmeng nodded and pondered for a moment. "Maybe... I should conform to Cole's script."

Lea looked askance at Gu Mengmeng with a stern expression. "What are you intending to do?"

Gu Mengmeng gave a light laugh at patted Lea's shoulders. "Don't worry, I will not mess around like before. The current me is a wise, old demon."

Lea smiled at Gu Mengmeng's words and nodded. "Tell me your plan and we will discuss it."

Gu Mengmeng nodded and shared her thoughts.

The frowns on Lea's and Elvis' faces deepened as they listened. In the end, Elvis was clenching his fists so tightly that his bones cracked, while his brows were in knots. "I think I would rather just kill Burke and then make our way back to Saint Nazaire, while waiting for Cole to make his next move."

Lea nodded. "I agree."

Gu Mengmeng propped her cheek on one hand. "How will you answer to Kanwu if you kill Burke? Moreover, as Lea said, Burke is just a bait set by Cole. He is also an innocent party being used. Why take his life?"

The other two knew Gu Mengmeng too well. They knew she had already made up her mind just by that look on her face.

Sigh...

Apart from sighing, Elvis and Lea could only go over the plan repeatedly, to ensure no room for mistakes.

That night, Kanwu was once again full of injuries when Burke led him and his brothers back for dinner.

Gu Mengmeng held Kanwu in her arms as she comforted him and listened to his stories of today's progress. She cupped his little face and gave him a tender kiss.

"Burke, for your training session tomorrow... can you bring me along? Gu Mengmeng turned towards Burke as she made her request.

Burke gave a slight start before instinctively looking at Elvis and Lea.

Elvis and Lea both looked away as a show of silent consent.

Burke couldn't rein in the look on his face. He thought that he was already doing all he could for Gu Mengmeng by training Kanwu. The dinner every night was the part of the day he looked forward to the most. He never expected for the chance to get even closer to her. It was like a dream come true.

Gu Mengmeng gazed at Burke's rapidly shifting expressions and cleared her throat. "Would it be... convenient?"

Burke hurriedly shook his head. "No inconvenience. None at all."

Chapter 679 - Lea Loses Control

Having realized he had answered too quickly, Burke cleared his throat and lowered his head. He dared not look Gu Mengmeng in the eye. With blushing red ears, he hastily added, “I am worried that you cannot bear to watch them...”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “Children have to grow up, eventually. I am willing to do anything for them, but cannot take their place in growing up.”

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head with a smile. Burke only caught a glimpse of it but already felt as if his heart was blooming with countless flowers. It was as if the entire world was an illusion and that smiling face was all he saw.

Burke was finally led away by the three youngsters as he stumbled after them like a lost soul.

Feeling sour, Lea held Gu Mengmeng in his embrace and propped his chin on top of her head. He gazed toward the departing Burke, and said unhappily, “How long has it been since you spoke to me so gently? Huh? This Burke... tsk, it’s better to kill him.”

Gu Mengmeng pinched Lea. “”He is just a pawn being used. Embroiled into the conflict between Cole and us. He is already very pitiful. Anyway, he is Kanwu’s teacher after all.”

“Humph.” Lea harrumphed loudly.

He reached out to pull up Gu Mengmeng but was intercepted by Elvis.

Looking at Gu Mengmeng being held in Elvis’s arms, Lea felt an uncontrollable sense of frustration. He charged at Elvis with bared teeth and a rage-filled expression.

Gu Mengmeng was shocked. Apart from the time when he was heavily injured and Lea took over the duty of becoming her legs, Elvis had always been the one carrying her around. Lea had never been upset by that, so why now...?

Elvis looked exceptionally stern. He held Lea's head with one massive hand and frowned angrily. "Are you challenging my authority as the first partner?"

Lea was stunned as he stared into Elvis' eyes. He froze and only managed to compose himself after some time. He pushed off Elvis' hand and rubbed his temples. "I am sorry, I was wrong."

Elvis wiped off the anger and murderous rage on his face. He didn't say another word and just carried Gu Mengmeng off. Lea didn't follow them.

After moving a distance, Gu Mengmeng saw that Elvis still looked very grim. "Are you still angry?"

Elvis shook his head. "I am not angry, but just worried. Lea's behavior... is not normal."

Gu Mengmeng recalled Lea's vicious expression earlier and nodded. "Perhaps he has been overly distressed regarding the situation with Cole. The stress of it caused him to lose control of his emotions. Don't take it to heart."

Elvis sighed. "I hope so. But Xiao Meng, there is something you should know."

"Huh?" Gu Mengmeng responded with a single syllabus.

Elvis said, "In a family, the authority of the first partner is absolute. Only then can he provide the best living environment for the female. Although our family has two males, me and Lea, the same rules apply. I can accept your love for Lea but I cannot allow him to challenge my authority as the first partner. If this happens again... I will not let him go so easily."

In reality, Gu Mengmeng didn't really understand all that about authority within a family.

Wouldn't it be better for a family to discuss things amiably whenever a situation arises?

But earlier on, she was very sure... if Lea had not apologized, Elvis would have really killed him.

Chapter 680 - Don't Worry, That Won't Happen.

Gu Mengmeng held Elvis' face in her hands and kissed his chin. With a gentle gaze, she said, "It's not so serious, don't take it to heart."

Elvis turned Gu Mengmeng to face him. "If the authority of the first partner has been challenged, the other family members will also start to create trouble. Every one will want to replace the top position. When that happens, the conflicts within the family will become increasingly fierce. Following that, the female will be subjected to deception, bewitchment and coercion. This kind of situation is a major threat to the family, to the tribe, and even to the entire Beast World."

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback. She never thought things could turn so grave.

But Elvis's worries were not unfounded. She was not sure just what kind of battles went on between the males, but she had watched "Empresses in the Palace" and "War and Beauty". A woman could stoop to anything so as to become an empress. In the Beast World, a male would probably commit even crazier acts over his blind love for a female.

A family would fall apart sooner or later if all the males were plotting to overthrow the first partner and take his place.

A tribe with all the families in this state would self-destruct as time went by. There wouldn't even be a need for any external enemies.

And if the entire Beast World was full of such families...

What kind of malevolent consequences would there be?

If she was not the Messenger of the Beast Deity, perhaps such matters would be unimportant.

But she happened to be a Messenger of the Beast Deity, and all eyes were on her. If the situation of a partner challenging another partner occurred in her family, it may lead to some crazy butterfly effect. Just look at how the 16 valued women, all pampered First Beauties in their tribes, had all mimicked her kind and gentle ways.

Gu Mengmeng nodded. "I understand. I will speak to Lea and tell him not to do act like that again."

Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng's delicate face and said in a raspy voice, "I am reluctant to do anything that will cause you sadness... but if it is for your safety, I have no choice."

Gu Mengmeng leaned against Elvis and pressed her face against his chest. Listening to his heart beating until it was in sync with her own, she gave a slight laugh and nuzzled gently. "I know you love me and I know Lea would never hurt me. Don't worry, such a thing won't happen."

Elvis sighed softly. "I hope so."

That night, Gu Mengmeng slept in the tree hole while Elvis sat by the entrance with her little hand in his. He used his chest as her pillow and his tail as her blanket. Elvis also discreetly released a little beast energy to chase off the surrounding insects, so that Gu Mengmeng could have a peaceful sleep.

Lea didn't return that night. They didn't know where he went.

When Gu Mengmeng woke up the next morning, her three sons were obediently sprawled beside her. The comatose Chixuan was nestled comfortably in her arms, as if just asleep.

Lea was preparing breakfast and acted as if yesterday's incident didn't happen.

Elvis called Burke aside and instructed him to take good care of Gu Mengmeng. This made Gu Mengmeng feel somewhat incredulous... he was actually going to allow her to spend time alone with Burke? She had thought he would definitely come along.

She was not used to this sudden magnanimity of his.

Chapter 681 - He Is A Wolf, A Pure Wolf.

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

In the dense forest with trees so tall that you couldn't see their tops, the foliage layered over one another to form a thick green canopy that blocked out most of the sunlight.

Scattered rays of sunlight shooting through the dense foliage gave the forest an otherworldly feel, as if one might spot a fairy peeking from behind a tree at any moment now, fluttering its delicate wings.

Burke carried Gu Mengmeng on his shoulder and climbed onto a branch in his human form. Gu Mengmeng had a view from about three meters up in the air, and she could see everything beneath that tree clearly. But unless the fighting happening below was intentionally directed at her, it would not affect Gu Mengmeng.

Burke sat beside Gu Mengmeng with an uneasy expression. He fixed his gaze at the three youngsters, all of whom were already well-hidden. Nevertheless, he couldn't help stealing glances at Gu Mengmeng's reaction.

This was the first time Gu Mengmeng would be watching her children hunt. Although she was just an observer with a VIP seat, this did not prevent her emotions from churning wildly.

Feeling as if she was watching her children participate in some performance, she felt the urge to prod the person beside her to say, "Look, the most handsome boy on that stage is my son."

Everything had been prepared. The three youngsters exchanged a glance and Jialue ran into the dense under bush.

Gu Mengmeng frowned. Concern was written all over her face.

Her son was not even a year old, and having him run alone into such a risky place was inevitably worrying.

Burke had been observing Gu Mengmeng's reaction. Seeing her frown, he understood her concerns and wanted to pat her shoulder. However, he was worried about overstepping himself and just said in a low voice, "Don't worry, Jialue is very smart and will be fine."

Well... that was true.

She understood the reality of things, but that didn't prevent her from worrying.

Gu Mengmeng's eyes kept flitting back-and-forth Kanwu and Hede. She discovered that her two sons had been maintaining calm and focused expressions throughout. They had complete confidence in their plan, and fully trusted their brother.

Gu Mengmeng knew that she must also learn to have faith in her own children.

They were not yet a year old, and would be sitting in baby prams with pacifiers in their mouths in the modern world. However, in this world now, they were already half-beast youths. Due to her protectiveness, her children had already started their training later than the rest. If she continued to hover over them like an old hen, how could they survive in future?

Her lips pressed into a firm line, Gu Mengmeng gripped the branch beneath her tightly to keep herself in place. She was afraid of losing control and jumping down, thereby spoiling her sons' practice.

Soon after, Gu Mengmeng heard running steps of a wild animal.

She turned instinctively and caught a glimpse of Jialue's profile.

He was in beast form. He was not pure black like Elvis, but had coffee-colored streaks here and there, looking very much like a husky...

No, no matter how much like a domestic dog one might look like, Gu Mengmeng could clearly feel the difference between a dog and a wolf.

She looked on as Jialue was obviously being chased by a fierce animal. Nevertheless, Gu Mengmeng could clearly see the cunning and confidence in Jialue's eyes. He was the perfect combination of Lea's intellect and Elvis' bravery. He gradually led the prey step by step into the trap set by his brothers. Without hesitation, without delay, without worries. He radiated absolute confidence and courage. He was a wolf, a pure wolf.

Chapter 682 - Kanwu's Mistake

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Running into the ambush, Jialue suddenly turned around and faced the pursuing leopard with bared fangs.

The leopard remained unruffled. It was more than twice Jialue's size after all.

Drool dripped down from the sides of its jaws as it marked Jialue as its next meal. A fat, tender piece of meat.

But when Kanwu and Hede slowly emerged from the foliage and surrounded it, the leopard's expression changed from one of confidence to anxiety. The change occurred within seconds.

The leopard started spinning around trying to find a way out of the ambush, but the three youngsters were in perfect coordination with each other. They maintained the perfect amount of space between them, and there was not the slightest chance of escape. At the same time, the leopard realized its own companion had somehow not caught up with it.

The three youngsters might only be half-beasts but their beastly energy against that wild animal was overpowering. Further, it was three-against-one? It was a sure-win situation.

Who knew if it was because brothers from the same brood were more in sync with each other, or was it because of Burke's training, the three youngsters attacked in perfect unison.

This was not from the biased point of view of a mother, but Gu Mengmeng still held the memories belonging Snakel. Although her only experience with combat had been that earlier fight with the stray beasts, Snakel's memories possessed quite a bit of knowledge pertaining to battle. As a result, Gu Mengmeng was a good judge of combat abilities.

Although they were very young, those three youngsters had already showed the first promising signs of immense talent.

Gu Mengmeng was completely focused on the battle between her three sons and that leopard. She nearly wanted to open her mouth to cheer them on, but resisted the impulse for fear of interfering with her sons' performance.

If things continue as planned, the three youngsters would be ending this fight soon.

Perhaps it was because mother was watching, but Kanwu's performance was especially vigorous.

He was too anxious to prove his own progress and before the time was ripe, he suddenly launched the final attack on that leopard.

The leopard was at the precipice of death which made it even more ferocious than usual.

Kanwu's jaws failed to clamp down on the leopard's throat as it dodged to the side, but instead made contact with its muscular chest. Instinctively realizing his mistake, Kanwu was about to retreat when the leopard bit down on the back of his neck.

Gu Mengmeng was in a fluster. Kanwu's spine would be broken if the leopard jerked him back.

She was just about to jump down to save her son when Burke held her back.

Before she could turn to glare at Burke, Jialue had pounced onto the leopard's back and bit down on the base of its tail. With a snapping sound, the leopard's tail was pulled off.

The leopard howled with pain and loosened its jaws.

Kanwu took the opportunity to retreat and gave his head a shake before pouncing on the leopard again. He was no longer targeting the throat, but leaped onto its back and bit its spine.

Gu Mengmeng breathed out in relief. Did the kid learn this from Elvis or Lea?

Eye for an Eye, a tooth for a tooth. Always return the favor.

Biting the throat was obviously his best attack. If not for his earlier impatience, Gu Mengmeng believed that Kanwu's first attack would have finished off that leopard. From that practiced movement, it appeared like Burke had been teaching them to always aim for the throat.

Chapter 683 - Battle Debriefing

In the end, Kanwu still broke the leopard's neck with his bite. With a mouth full of blood, he flung the leopard's head to the side before morphing back into his human form of a neat and tidy-looking six-year-old boy.

Raising his head, he fixed a pair of calm, blue eyes on Gu Mengmeng. He looked somewhat clueless and uncertain as if he had scored 80 points on a test and was looking at his mother to see if she was going to praise or criticize him.

Burke jumped off the tree first before holding out his arms to catch Gu Mengmeng.

This was as instructed by Elvis, to not allow Gu Mengmeng to jump off from a high place directly. Although she had Snake's healing abilities and would recover quickly, any injury would cause pain.

However, Gu Mengmeng was somewhat single-minded now and only had eyes for her sons. She immediately jumped down without hesitation.

Burke caught Gu Mengmeng firmly. He was momentarily dazed as he watched her leap off the tree, feeling a moment of bliss at her trust in him. Even though she had not even glanced at him the entire time, he felt extremely satisfied.

Burke didn't know that Gu Mengmeng was just confident of herself. It wasn't that she believed Burke would definitely catch her, but that she knew she was perfectly capable of that jump.

After flipping off from Burke's arms, Gu Mengmeng hugged Kanwu and gave him a big kiss. "Kanwu, come here. Open your mouth and let me see your teeth."

Kanwu didn't know what was going on but obediently opened his mouth for his mother to check.

His clean, white teeth showed no signs of damage. Gu Mengmeng prodded his teeth with her finger to make sure that none of them were loose, before letting Kanwu close his jaws. She planted another kiss on his round face. “Kanwu’s teeth are growing so well. It was effortless for him to bite into something so hard. My teeth are not as good as yours, I can only eat softer things.”

Kanwu poked at his own teeth like Gu Mengmeng did. He looked closely at Gu Mengmeng’s smiling face, and hesitated a moment before reaching out one plumb hand to prod Gu Mengmeng’s front teeth. “Mother’s teeth are also very good. Straight and beautiful. You are a female and do not need to bite hard stuff. I will leave the best parts of a prey for mother to eat.”

Gu Mengmeng was touched to tears and showered kisses on Kanwu until he blushed red.

Jialue came up and asked, “Mother, did I perform well? Why are you only praising Kanwu?”

Gu Mengmeng also pulled Jialue into her embrace and kissed him several times. “Of course you performed well. Do you know how anxious I was when I saw you lure that leopard over all by yourself? I was already seeing special effects.”

Jialue asked, “What special effects?”

Gu Mengmeng thought for a moment before answering. “Like using a chopper to hack at an electric line. Spark and electricity shooting everywhere. Very dashing~”

Hede lifted Chixuan back into his arms and walked up to Gu Mengmeng. He poked Kanwu’s little head. “Your performance today is not good enough. I hope you won’t commit the same mistake in the future.”

Gu Mengmeng was shocked. Was this the debriefing of that battle? What? Wasn’t that Burke’s job? Why? Was Hede the representative?

As someone who dared to provoke Elvis, Kanwu was nonetheless extremely compliant towards Hede. He did not retort at all, but lowered his head. “Brother, I know my mistake. I will not do it again.”

Chapter 684 - You Know, Your Males Are Crazy

Hede didn't continue to chide Kanwu. With one arm carrying Chixuan, he patted Kanwu's shoulder with the other. "I believe you."

At that, Hede walked before Gu Mengmeng and handed Chixuan over to her. Thereafter, he and Jialue carried that leopard towards the water source to clean their prey.

Kanwu went over to Burke and looked up at him. "Teacher, let's go to. The smell of blood here is too strong and will attract other wild animals."

Moreover, mother didn't like the scent of blood.

Burke nodded and looked at Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback. She realized Burke wanted her to make the decision on where to go next.

Heh, females held an exalted status. As long as a female was present, the males had no right to even decide on where to eat.

Gu Mengmeng placed her hand on Kanwu's shoulder and pulled him into her arms. "Let's go that way. On the way here, I noticed a patch of grass suitable for a picnic."

Burke nodded with a smile and quietly followed Gu Mengmeng. He was in a blissful stupor, enjoying a scene that felt too good to be true. He dared not even speak, fearing that he would spoil that feeling.

The fresh green grass patch had one feeling happy and carefree.

Gu Mengmeng stretched out lazily before sitting down. Kanwu kept by her side, glancing at her now and then with his clear, blue eyes. He couldn't help feeling very happy and contented with her earlier praise of him.

Burke sat an arm's length away from Gu Mengmeng, stealing glimpses of her from the corner of his eye. His gaze was full of warmth as he observed the mother and son enjoying time together.

He never knew that females could be like that.

Hede and Jialue returned with a piece of leopard skin and multiple messy pieces of meat.

Gu Mengmeng opened her arms with a smile to welcome her two sons.

Jialue leaped into Gu Mengmeng's embrace and gazed at her with a pair of deep amber-colored eyes. "Mother, look, Hede and I tanned this animal hide."

Gu Mengmeng took the piece of skin over for a look... erm... it couldn't really be used.

Nonetheless, Gu Mengmeng gave a gentle smile. "Mm, not bad. I think I can use it as a tablecloth or door screen. What do you think?"

Jialue shook his head. "No, I want to keep it for the winter days, then mother can use it as a base for her bed."

"Bed... that's also fine. But why only as the base?" Gu Mengmeng tilted her head in question.

Jialue chuckled. "Leopard skin is not the best nor the softest, and will be uncomfortable in direct contact with skin. So put it at the base to provide a warming effect. We will be happy enough then."

Gu Mengmeng was extremely touched and kissed her son. "Okay, when the time comes, we will place this skin at the base and sleep in that bed together, alright?"

Jialue blushed before taking a step back. "Mother, we are already grown ups and cannot sleep with you on the same bed again. You also know that your males... are quite crazy. They might bite us to death.”

Gu Mengmeng held her cheek. Her son was of the opinion that her males were mental cases, what should she do? How despairing. Sighing, Gu Mengmeng said, “That won’t happen. They will not do anything to hurt me. So don’t worry, okay?”

Jialue kissed Gu Mengmeng with a smile. “We will also not do anything that will cause trouble for mother. That is why we will learn to be independent and not give your males an excuse to go crazy.”

Chapter 685 - If Mengmeng Likes It, I Can Accept It.

Gu Mengmeng and Burke led the four little ones to the grass patch for their picnic. It was just one leopard and its meat was not enough even for a wolf pup, not to mention the fully grown Burke.

This bit of meat was way too little for them, but it was something her sons had successfully hunted down and a symbolic taste was enough.

Burke made a fire and roasted the pieces of prepared meat.

The group of them chatted amiably with one another.

Some distance away, two figures, one black and one white, sat quietly watching them, not daring to go any closer.

Mengmeng must know they were there as she had already turned around to smile at them a few times.

And with Burke's capabilities, although they had already sealed off their beast aura, they would be discovered by him if they went any closer.

Elvis frowned. His eyes held a deep chilliness. "How long do you think Mengmeng will have to hang out with Burke before Cole makes his move?"

Lea shook his head with a sigh. "I don't know."

Burke was handing a piece of roasted meat to Gu Mengmeng. It was too far away to hear what he was saying, but Gu Mengmeng received the meat and smiled at Burke.

Lea gripped a tree branch and snapped it in two, leaving a splintered wound on the side of the tree.

“A leopard’s meat is sour and tough, Mengmeng will get an upset stomach from eating it!” Lea said. He made to go forward with the intention of bringing Gu Mengmeng back.

Elvis held him back. “This is Mengmeng’s decision. We must obey.”

Lea turned with a cold smile. “Are you not afraid that Burke, who looks like Yoo Sijin, will become the third male in our family?”

Elvis frowned as he watched Gu Mengmeng’s gentle, quiet manner. His chest felt tightly constricted and he failed to rein in the murderous rage in his eyes. Nevertheless, he reluctantly nodded. “If Mengmeng likes it, I can accept.”

Lea shrugged off Elvis’ hand coldly. “You can, but I can’t. Mengmeng already has the capabilities of a Beast King, and no longer needs the protection of a powerful partner. That is why I will never not allow another male into our family to fight for her affections!”

With that, Lea strode towards Gu Mengmeng.

Elvis leaped in front of Lea and stated with a grim face. “Neither you nor I have the right to stop Mengmeng from taking on another male partner. As you mentioned, Mengmeng is the Messenger of the Beast Deity and she has the right to take on all the males she fancies.”

Lea lifted his head and exchanged a chilly glance with Elvis. “Did you hear Maya’s words this morning?”

Elvis frowned and remained silent. Nevertheless, that malevolent glint in his eyes confirmed Lea’s guess.

As Burke led Gu Mengmeng and the four little ones off this morning, they had passed by Maya’s temporary lodgings. She had told her partner then, “Burke is also a wolf beast. From this perspective, I would have thought he is Gu Mengmeng’s real partner and the father of those wolf pups.”

Waving his tail, Lea said, “Will you really be content to let him replace your position by Mengmeng’s side?”

Elvis narrowed his eyes and radiated a dangerous aura all over. He gnashed his teeth. “He will never replace me. I am Xiao Meng true first partner.”

Chapter 686 - We Have Come to Fetch Her Home For Dinner

Lea smirked. “Go ahead and live your days clinging onto your position as the first partner if you want to, I am just a beast pet who managed to climb his way up to a partner status. I don’t need such a nice-sounding title. I just want Mengmeng.”

With that, Lea turned into a fox and ducked out from under Elvis’ arm, dashing right towards Gu Mengmeng.

Elvis’ frowned deeply as he watched Lea sprinting away.

Actually, Lea was right. He was also jealous and also wanted to go crazy and charge over to snatch Gu Mengmeng away.

Moreover, it’s not that important for a first partner to show generosity... otherwise, how could Lea have so easily escaped him?

Sighing, Elvis made to catch up with Lea, heading towards Gu Mengmeng.

Lea already had Gu Mengmeng in his arms. His furry tail had replaced Chixuan’s earlier position as he monopolized Gu Mengmeng’s embrace. Hede held onto Chixuan as he looked helplessly at Gu Mengmeng, while Lea glared at Burke. With no other choice, Hede tugged at Jialue and Kanwu. “Let’s go over there to eat.”

Jialue and Kanwu looked haplessly at Gu Mengmeng and shook their heads. Without another word, they followed Hede over to the fire to start portioning out the roasted meat.

By the time Elvis arrived, Lea was hugging Gu Mengmeng and showering her with kisses and nuzzles. It was as if he was trying to replace the scent that Burke had left on Gu Mengmeng.

Burke was standing about three steps away, quietly watching Lea throw a tantrum which Gu Mengmeng accepted without qualms. There was an envious look in Burke's eyes.

Elvis took Gu Mengmeng over from Lea and turned towards Burke. "Thank you for taking care of Xiao Meng this afternoon. We have come to fetch her home for dinner."

Burke's gaze fell upon that piece of meat which Gu Mengmeng had only taken a couple of bites before Lea had knocked it away. He felt rather despondent but had no right to object. He could only nod in silence.

Carrying Gu Mengmeng, Elvis turned to leave. Lea passed by Burke and chuckled. "The wounds on your back have more or less healed. Do you intend to keep letting those wolf pups hunt for your?"

Burke kept quiet but just watched in silence at Gu Mengmeng's gradually departing back profile.

A red glint flashed across Lea's pupils before vanishing again. He gave a faint smile, filled with a remote chilliness. After waiting for Gu Mengmeng to be out of hearing distance, Lea continued. "I don't care what motive he has for letting you get close to Mengmeng, but I will not let you succeed. You better win over Kanwu now, in case he discovers your true face one day. By then, I will reacquaint you with Lea, the witch doctor of Saint Nazaire."

At that, Lea sprinted away to catch up with Elvis and Gu Mengmeng.

"Mengmeng, I will braise a fowl for you today."

"Mengmeng, did you miss me this afternoon?"

"Mengmeng, call me daddy~"

Burke remained rooted to the spot, silently watching Gu Mengmeng disappear into the horizon. He gradually relaxed his tightly clenched fists.

What motive did that person have?

Even Burke himself did not know.

He felt that the person was not just helping him pursue Gu Mengmeng. He must have an ulterior motive.

Nonetheless, Burke could not resist following his instructions. Apart from everything else, he just wished to get closer to her... just a little.

Chapter 687 - You Can't Even Tell Me A White Lie Now?

Returning to their tree hole, Lea didn't start making dinner but just laid across Gu Mengmeng's knee. He gazed up at her. "I don't like Burke. I hate his Yoo Sijin-like face and that he is using Kanwu to get close to you."

Gu Mengmeng held Lea's face and kissed the tip of his nose. She said with a smile, "It's not possible between Burke and I. You understand that I am just acting according to Cole's script, to lure him out and finish him once and for all."

Lea grasped the back of Gu Mengmeng's head with one hand to stop her from moving away and kissed her fiercely. His eyes were filled with a clingy obsession as he licked his lips, tasting her sweetness with a sense of satisfaction. This improved his mood by quite a bit, but he was still unable to understand the situation with Burke.

"Cole will still appear even if we don't follow his directions." Lea became much gentler after that kiss, but his tone remained stubborn. "I cannot stand the sight of you and Burke standing together. It hurts my eyes. I will lose control and tear him to pieces."

Gu Mengmeng gazed at Lea with an unexplainable feeling.

Lea had been acting rather strange these past few days. He was being very paranoid and his jealousy had risen to new heights.

He bared his fangs at Elvis to fight for the chance to hold her. This was an inexplicable situation. After all, he had initially took the risk of losing her by pushing her into Elvis' arms.

Gu Mengmeng held Lea's face and asked, "Is there something on your mind? I feel that you have been acting strangely."

Lea placed his hand lightly over Gu Mengmeng's little hand and gazed at her with eyes filled with emotion. "It is my goal to have you. Will you let me?"

Gu Mengmeng laughed lightly and circled Lea's neck. "There's no need to have me. I am already yours."

Lea chuckled, before seductively whispering in Gu Mengmeng's left ear. "I mean... have you all to myself."

Gu Mengmeng was stunned. She instinctively looked towards Elvis, before rebuking him with a frown. "Lea."

Lea gave an embarrassed laugh and leaned back from her. He sighed softly. "So you can't even tell me a white lie now?"

Gu Mengmeng felt hapless. She didn't know what had gotten into Lea. Why was he so incensed by that Burke? He had been getting along very well with Elvis and was also at ease with Snake. He also didn't seem to mind having Auretin and Ian around her. What was so special about Burke that had him so jealous?

Lea waved his hand. "Elvis is fine, but I cannot accept the others. If you still hang out with Burke alone, I will treat him as my love rival and get rid of him."

Gu Mengmeng felt as if she had no choice. She believed that they would definitely catch Cole if they continued using Burke, but if the males in her family were so distressed by her plan, she could only give in to their wishes.

Shrugging her shoulders, she said, "Alright, don't become so anxious over someone so insignificant. If you don't like it, I won't interact with Burke anymore. We will think of another way to resolve the situation with Cole. Anyway, even if we wish to let him go, Cole will still pursue us to the end. So... there will always be another way."

Lea hooked Gu Mengmeng's chin with one finger and kissed her as a reward. He said in a gentle voice, "Good girl."

Gu Mengmeng's head spun at being coaxed like a little kid by Lea. She laughed without a word.

Chapter 688 - The Last Time

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

After giving up the plan to make use of Burke to lure Cole out, the tribe had also more or less recovered and there was no need for them to continue recuperating at the same spot.

Auretin and Ian made the necessary arrangements and the next morning, everyone got ready to set off towards Saint Nazaire at Gu Mengmeng's command.

Burke had been inviting Gu Mengmeng every morning to come along with him for the hunting expeditions of Kanwu and his brothers. However, Gu Mengmeng never agreed again. She replied with a "You guys go ahead, I am not going." every single time, not even bothering to make up an excuse.

Nevertheless, Burke persisted in appearing before Gu Mengmeng every morning to inform her of where Kanwu and his brothers would be training that day, what type of wild animals would they encounter, as well as what kind, brave performance her children might put up.

At the start, Gu Mengmeng steadfastly rejected.

However, she was rather tempted by the progress of her children.

But whenever she was nearly convinced by Burke and wanted to tag along, Lea would suddenly scurry over and pull her into his arms before baring his teeth at Burke. Sometimes, he would even attack Burke with a paw or a vicious swipe of his tail.

Burke behaved like a piece of wood. He did not retaliate or become angry at the blows.

Heh, Gu Mengmeng knew that this was an ordeal that all males must undergo when pursuing a female. Before getting the permission of the female to become part of the family, single males in the territory of a female would naturally be treated as an invader.

There were only three outcomes to this situation: The suitor was so powerful that the original partner had no choice but to cede; the original partner was so powerful that he would chase after the suitor and kill him; or the female was touched by the suitor and accepted him as a partner.

Only the above three scenarios would end the conflict.

Burke and Lea were both third-level beasts. He was not in peak condition and may not be Lea's match, but he would not be an easy fight. Nevertheless, he was content to stand there and absorb the beatings. Burke was putting up a subservient front so that they would all get along when they became one big happy family one day.

Gu Mengmeng sighed. It looked like this Burke had truly fallen for her.

Realizing that, Gu Mengmeng started avoiding Burke when he came to invite her, so as to prevent the insanely jealous Lea from accidentally killing Burke. She pestered Lea to hold her while having Elvis go reject Burke's invitation.

A team with 18 females moved at a snail's pace.

They finally reached somewhere near Saint Nazaire five days later.

"Settle down and take a rest." Elvis raised his hand as a signal, while still carrying Gu Mengmeng.

A simple sentence uttered from his lips was like a decree that could not be defied. Everyone had no choice but to comply.

Burke came over once again. This was the second time today he had sought out Gu Mengmeng.

"At this rate, we should be able to reach Saint Nazaire by night time." Burke stood about five paces away from Gu Mengmeng. He gazed at her with profound eyes. "After reaching Saint Nazaire, I need to return to Sauder to continue taking care of my tribe. That is why today will be the last time Kanwu and the rest will be training under me... we will be carrying out a coordinated hunt and the prey might be a tiger or horned animal. It will be a major challenge for the children. Do you... want to come along?"

Chapter 689 - : I Am Gradually Losing Control Of Myself

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

It was like a graduation ceremony...

Gu Mengmeng was extremely tempted. Her children had been training resolutely everyday and they had not been back for dinner the past few nights. Instead, they had been out eating their hunted prey with Burke. This made Gu Mengmeng very unhappy, as if her own children had been snatched away. However, she could not force them to stay by her side. They already had their own minds and had the ability to judge for themselves who to hang out with.

Lea came up and clutched Burke's neck. His nails extended slowly, pinching against Burke's flesh. Blood snaked down Burke's neck and dripped onto the ground.

"Leave quietly before I kill you."

Burke showed no fear but looked calmly at Gu Mengmeng. He completely disregarded Lea's threat.

His attitude successfully incited Lea and his fingers tightened around Burke's throat like an iron vise, squeezing tighter and tighter, inch by inch.

Burke's face had turned red and his eyeballs were bloodshot and bulging. Nevertheless, he just stood there clenching his fists and resisting the instinctive urge to flee or retaliate.

Fleeing would mean giving up, while retaliating... even if Gu Mengmeng accepted him, he would never be able to get along with Lea in the future.

Gu Mengmeng liked Lea so much that he could not afford to get on his wrong side.

Gu Mengmeng hurriedly jumped down from Elvis' arm and charged into Lea. She had her back towards Burke and didn't even glance at him.

She gazed up at Lea with limpid eyes. "I want a hug."

Lea lowered his head and his jealousy dissipated at Gu Mengmeng's coquettish manner. He gradually drew back his hand, morphing it into a fox's paw before morphing it once again back to human form, to get rid of all traces of blood.

He carried Gu Mengmeng and turned to walk away without another look at Burke.

After walking to a far enough distance such that no one else could eavesdrop on them, Lea finally leaned against a tree with Gu Mengmeng in his embrace. He slowly closed his eyes.

Lea's big tail curled around Gu Mengmeng's waist as the side of her face pressed against his chest. His chin rested lightly on the top of her head.

"I feel... I am gradually losing control of myself." Lea's voice held a tinge of fatigue and a sliver of frustration. "You are becoming increasingly important to me. My tolerance for the other males trying to get close to you has also become lower and lower. If this goes on, I cannot guarantee that I will stop my attack on Burke the next time he comes to invite you."

Gu Mengmeng could also feel the recent changes in Lea. Although he no longer behaved with animosity towards Elvis, she could clearly see the anger in Lea's face whenever Elvis was holding her.

This was why she had not been willing to accept two partners.

Not everyone could enjoy a blessed polygamous relationship.

Gu Mengmeng asked herself if she felt indebted to Lea and Elvis in terms feelings. That was why she was unable to bring herself to berate Lea or even leave him, even though that was what a female should do when a male behaved so badly.

“It doesn’t matter. We will reach Saint Nazaire tonight and Burke will leave then.”

Chapter 690 - Your Gentleness Just Makes Me Greedier

“Your gentleness just makes me greedier.” Lea held Gu Mengmeng tighter, the fatigue on his face dissolving from her hapless pampering.

Many times, it was not that a male was not jealous, but he would suppress the jealousy in his heart for fear of being abandoned.

If Gu Mengmeng had directly warned him “I will kick you out if you continue behaving this way”, perhaps he would not dare to treat her suitors with such obvious animosity.

But what could she do? Mengmeng had never lost her temper with him before. Only when he had nearly lost control and wanted to murder someone did she throw a tantrum to lead him away, so that he could calm down.

This silent assent was actually indulging his possessiveness. It was an unexplainable sense of superiority, as if telling every suitor that as long as he was alive, they would forever remain slaves.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “You are jealous because you care about me. Do you want me to get angry at you for caring about me?”

Lea, “Will you not get angry if I really killed Burke?”

Gu Mengmeng thought for a moment. “Perhaps a little angry.”

Lea frowned. “Why? Are you touched by Burke? Why were you so harsh towards me initially, but so soft-hearted with Burke now?”

Gu Mengmeng looked up and reached out to poke Lea's head. "What are you saying. I mean that Burke is a member of the Saint Nazaire. You and Elvis have already set down the rules that Saint Nazaire tribesmen will never kill their own. If you broke the rules just because I failed to give you an adequate sense of security, I might be... a little angry at myself."

Lea got a slight shock before pulling her into his embrace again. He continued to use his chin to press down on Gu Mengmeng's little head. "Mengmeng, after we capture Cole and reawaken Chixuan, let's go find the Kiss of the Ocean."

Gu Mengmeng stiffened and lowered her eyes with a frown. With a slight quiver in her voice, she asked, "You... know about the Kiss of the Ocean?"

Lea was so sensitive, how could he not have noticed Gu Mengmeng's peculiarity?

He held Gu Mengmeng's shoulder and looked at her shining eyes. "My father told me before that the Kiss of the Ocean is the essence of the sea. It can cleanse away and forgive everything. So I was thinking, if we can find that... perhaps it can wash away Snake's poison in you. Then we can mate."

Gu Mengmeng nodded stiffly, as she instinctively avoided Lea's eyes.

Lea's well-defined fingers gently cupped Gu Mengmeng's chin, not allowing her to avoid his probing gaze. "What are you worried about? Tell me."

Gu Mengmeng bit her lips and shook her head. "Nothing."

Lea didn't say another word but just hugged Gu Mengmeng and sighed. "I know you are hiding something but I dare not probe further... what should I do? This feeling is even more unbearable than having to see Burke pursuing you. Wanting to know the truth but getting the feeling that the truth might push me beyond the brink of insanity..."

Gu Mengmeng remained silent and just returned Lea's embrace until he thought she had fallen asleep. She then said lightly, "Don't worry. I will not leave you all.”

This sentence struck Lea like a bolt of lightning.

He suddenly thought of the time in the Snake King valley, when they were begging Snake to let them see Gu Mengmeng...

Chapter 691 - Hold Her Tightly, Hold Tight!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

At that time, she mentioned that Snake knew of a method to let her return to her original world. However, she didn't listen to him and she didn't allow Snake to tell her. She said that she didn't want to know as she didn't want to go back...

But she had now inherited Snake's entire memory.

And in his extensive memory, apart from that interminable period of solitude, it included that method.

Feeling as if his brain had exploded, all sorts of thoughts flitted across Lea's mind but he was unable to focus on any of them. Apart from holding Gu Mengmeng tighter, he had no way of convincing himself that she would not leave him.

After a long time, he stood up, still trembling. "Let's head back or Elvis will be worried."

"Mm." Gu Mengmeng didn't object and allowed Lea to carry her back.

They returned to find that Elvis had already chased Burke away.

Lea placed Gu Mengmeng back into Elvis's embrace. He watched as Elvis supported Gu Mengmeng's petite behind with one hand while her face rested against Elvis' shoulder with a heavy expression. Lea couldn't help feeling a sense of unease. He caught hold of Elvis' free hand and pressed it firmly on Gu Mengmeng's back. With eyes filled with distress, he urged. "Hold her tightly, hold tight!"

Elvis stared blankly at Lea. "What's the matter?"

Lea had been behaving very strangely these few days. He had been trying to keep Xiao Meng for himself, and would never let go of her if he could. Why was he suddenly pushing her into his arms now?

Lea shook his head. “Mengmeng is hungry, I am going hunting.”

Before Elvis could say anything, Lea had transformed into a fox and ran off.

He’s only going hunting... why did he need to turn back to his original form?

Elvis stared after Lea in puzzlement, but didn’t say anything else. He just gazed down at the obviously depressed Gu Mengmeng. “Did you quarrel with Lea?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head but kept silent.

Elvis patted Gu Mengmeng’s little head. “Lea has been increasingly out of control these days. He would be even more upset than you if you were angry. How about letting me help you teach him a lesson when he returns, so that you can stop being so sad?”

Gu Mengmeng looked up and twisted her lips. After a slight hesitation, she said, “Elvis, since I inherited Snake’s abilities, I have not mated with you... do you... hold that against me?”

A sudden jolt shot through Elvis’ heart. Gu Mengmeng remembered inheriting Snake’s abilities, while all Elvis could recall was the sight of her nearly being killed by Ellie due to his incompetence.

He would forever remember that day when Snake carried her battered body before him. She had been so gravely injured and her breathing so weak. Meanwhile, he did not even have the strength to rise up and hold her.

So weak!

Those two words had been tormenting him day and night. He needed to become stronger so that he could protect her.

Presently, he could not touch her as her body was full of venom—wasn't it all because he had been too weak to protect her?

Hold it against her? What right did he have? He was already thanking the heavens that she didn't abandon him because of his inability.

Gu Mengmeng couldn't read Elvis' mind. As he maintained his silence, she could only continue speaking. "Lea wants to seek the Kiss of the Ocean to cleanse the venom in my body. Only then can I mate with you two. But..."

Chapter 692 - Xiao Meng, I Love You.

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

For some reason, Elvis' heart started beating faster.

After finding the Kiss of the Ocean, he would be able to press down on Gu Mengmeng like before and indulge in his fierce love for her. This was such a blood-pressure-inducing news.

He did not dare to raise this issue previously not because he didn't desire it, but because this thirst was always accompanied by an intense sense of guilt, which made him utterly depressed.

However, Gu Mengmeng's "but" at the end of her sentence felt like a heavy stone smashing down on Elvis' chest. It was so sudden that he had no time to feel pain, but instead experienced a suffocating agony.

He sealed Gu Mengmeng's lips with a kiss. He did not want to hear her "but".

His lingering kiss was shrouded with unease.

Only until Gu Mengmeng was gasping for breath did Elvis finally slowly release her lips. Pressing his forehead lightly on hers, he breathed heavily, exhaling his warm breath onto the tip of her nose. His clear, blue eyes were filled with desire while his Adam's apple bobbed slightly. When he finally spoke again, his voice was raspy and each word thumped against her heart.

"Xiao Meng, I love you."

This was their secret code. When they first became partners, Gu Mengmeng told him to say "Xiao Meng, I love you" whenever he needed her comfort and company.

Her males were all so intelligent and sensitive. Although she did not complete her sentence, Gu Mengmeng believed that her two males understood what the Kiss of the Ocean would mean.

Although it would mean they could enjoy a healthy sex life, it would also trigger the wheels of destiny and push open the doors of time.

That was why even without prior arrangements, they had both agreed to be partners of her soul. They did not dare to run the risk of losing her, who cared if they never had sex again in this life?

If there was any challenge in this world that they would not have the courage to even try, it would be called “Gu Mengmeng”.

The fire had been burning for some time and Auretin, who had been busy all day prepping the hunted prey, had already brought over the meat. However, Lea had yet to return from his hunting.

Gu Mengmeng was quite worried but didn’t know what to do.

She turned around to look at Ian, who was resting on a tree branch with his eyes closed. After a slight hesitation, she asked, “Ian, could you help me go look for Lea?”

Ian lowered his head and gazed disdainfully at Gu Mengmeng. “Just twitch your ear and he would come running back?”

Gu Mengmeng was momentarily stunned. She couldn’t understand Ian’s meaning.

Ian didn’t explain. Nevertheless, he stretched out his wings and flew off with an impatient grunt.

It had been a long while since Gu Mengmeng done any cooking. After all, Lea’s culinary skills were far better than hers. However, Lea was not around today and Auretin was not her own male. Anyway, he was already providing them with meat and she could not ask him to cook too. As for Elvis... heh, Gu Mengmeng felt that his cooking might be even more deadly than Snake's venom.

The skewers of meat prepared by Auretin were put to roast on the fire rack. Gu Mengmeng felt much stronger now than before. Elvis might not even be a match for her in arm-wrestling. However, that cute face was deceiving. Although he could pick up the thick meat skewer as easily as a toothpick, Elvis felt that there was something comical about this scene. It was probably the role-reversal phenomenon one had always heard about.

Chapter 693 - I Might Need To Do Something Which Will Make You Sad

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Strangely, the sun had already set but Lea still did not return. Ian had also not come back. Even the three young ones and Burke, who would usually report back at this time, did not turn up...

The journey was once again delayed by these missing persons.

Gu Mengmeng could feel something was not quite right. Her heart was filled with anxiety.

“Hubby, should we go take a look,” Gu Mengmeng asked Elvis.

Elvis nodded and carried Gu Mengmeng in his arms.

He didn’t know what was going on with Ian, and he did not care about Burke and the three young ones. However, the failure of Lea to return presented a major problem.

With Lea’s clingy personality, even if he had fled after hearing Gu Mengmeng’s “but”, he wouldn’t have gone missing for a whole afternoon.

Lea would only leave Gu Mengmeng if he was dead or kidnapped.

Gu Mengmeng would be upset with either outcome.

That was why Elvis looked so grave. It was critical that he found Lea.

With this thought, Elvis morphed into his beast form and flung Gu Mengmeng onto his back.

Gu Mengmeng knew that Elvis' sense of smell and hearing was extremely sensitive when he was in beast form. She kept quiet and just held onto Elvis' back while he charged into the night.

Wind roared past her ears. It was now the warm season but Gu Mengmeng felt a chill.

Her fingers had turned pale and bloodless and felt icy-cold.

They galloped along the moon-soaked lands, as both Elvis and Gu Mengmeng reached out with all their senses to detect the slightest hint in the darkness.

When Elvis and Gu Mengmeng finally found Lea, they saw him drenched in blood, eyes blood-shot, with fangs and claws all drawn out. He looked very much like the nine-tailed fox in the comic "Naruto", as if he was a malevolent specter who had just crawled out from hell. Lea appeared to have noticed Gu Mengmeng and Elvis, but he remained standing there staring back at them, unmoving.

Meanwhile, beside Lea was a gray wolf who had been completely butchered. It was a mess of flesh and blood with its four limbs all splayed out at awkward angles.

Gu Mengmeng was speechless from shock. She covered her mouth haplessly.

Elvis turned back into human form and shielded Gu Mengmeng with his body. Frowning with anger, he clenched his fists and gnashed his teeth. "Xiao Meng, I am sorry. I might need to do something which will make you sad."

Before Gu Mengmeng could react, Elvis was already charging towards Lea.

Without hesitation, Elvis' claws was aimed directly at Lea's heart. But Lea seemed to have predicted that and ducked aside. At the same time, he opened his jaws and bit into Elvis' arm.

Feeling the pain, Elvis tried to draw back his arm. He then used his other hand to smash viciously into the back of Lea's neck.

Lea suddenly released his grip and Elvis' palm landed on his own arm.

Bones shattered with a cracking sound. Elvis' arm drooped down like a pendulum as he emitted an earth-shattering howl.

Lea pounced forward and bit Elvis' throat. His gaze was full of ferocity and malevolence, as if he truly wanted him to die.

Chapter 694 - Are You Abandoning Me?

“No!” Gu Mengmeng hollered and sped over.

Gu Mengmeng successfully distracted Lea and he was startled for half a second. He pushed Elvis aside and ran towards Gu Mengmeng. Lea threw her across his shoulders and sprinted in the opposite direction.

Gu Mengmeng was feeling very nauseous from being spun around like that, but she didn't stop Lea's madness.

After running for a whole night until the sun rose the next morning, they reached an extremely dense part of the forest.

Lea gradually slowed down and stared at his surroundings in a daze.

Brows tightly knitted, Lea put Gu Mengmeng down. His frown deepened when he noticed her pale face.

Twisting his lips, Lea was unable to utter a word of explanation.

How to explain?

That he had secretly started spiking Elvis' food from seven days ago. That Lea had made use of Elvis' complete trust in him to spike his food and weaken his body. That he had done it so Elvis would not be able to fully display his fifth-level beast power last night and enabled Lea to snatch her away?

She had such a good sense of sight, she must have clearly seen how despicable his face was last night.

What else could he say to her now?

Gu Mengmeng leaned against a massive tree and gradually sat down. She breathed out and looked up at Lea with a smile. “Not running anymore?”

Lea nodded in silence. He just waited quietly for her questioning and reprimand.

But...

“Next time, could you carry me across your back when you go for a long-distance run like that? Hanging me across your shoulders made me so nauseous...”

Lea, “...?!”

Gu Mengmeng raised her head and gazed at Lea’s befuddled expression. She chuckled. “I am hungry and thirsty after a long night of running. Could you get me something to eat?”

Lea gaped and wanted to say something but his words got stuck in his throat. After much back and forth, he finally spoke a single word. “Alright.”

Lea surveyed the surroundings and discovered a tree not far off, full of juicy fruits hanging off its branches. He quickly went over and plucked two of them. After wiping them clean, he presented the fruits to Gu Mengmeng. “Eat this first to stave off your hunger. I will go hunting in a while and make you something nice later.”

Gu Mengmeng received the fruits and smiled with one raised eyebrow. “”Wow, never thought that I could still eat peaches in this place.”

“Peaches?” Lea asked.

Gu Mengmeng nodded. “This is something that can be found in my previous place. However, they were not as big as this.”

Taking a bite, the peach was revealed to be full of sweet juices. Gu Mengmeng squinted in satisfaction and handed over the other peach to Lea. “Ooh, delicious. Take one.”

Lea shook his head and just continued to look at Lea in silence.

He was thinking that if he could have been a bit more selfish right from the start and let go of all that grievances and thoughts of revenge. If he had taken her away like he had now, hiding in the deep forest and never letting the Messenger of the Beast Deity appear. Then she would never have had to go through all that pain and torment. Could they have avoided all this aimless drifting? She would be like how she was now smiling because of the sweetness of a fruit and sharing it with him.

Lea pushed the peach back into Gu Mengmeng's hands and kissed her lightly on the head. "Mengmeng, I love you... Mengmeng, sorry."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. "Did you bring me into such a deep part of the forest just to abandon me?"

Chapter 695 - I Will Never Abandon You

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Lea was taken aback. He shook his head. "I will never abandon you."

Gu Mengmeng nodded with satisfaction and took another bite of the peach. "In general, saying sorry right after saying I love you means you are going to dump me. If you have no intention of abandoning me, don't say such things. Otherwise I will misunderstand."

Lea didn't expect such a response from Gu Mengmeng. He was momentarily at a loss.

After a long hesitation, Lea asked her cautiously, "Are you not angry? I..."

Gu Mengmeng smacked her lips after finishing the first peach. It was quite a big fruit and Gu Mengmeng placed the peach pit into her clothes. She then looked up at Lea. "Why should I be angry? Because you snatched me away to enjoy a romantic honeymoon?"

From the stories which Gu Mengmeng told Sandy, Lea knew what was a romantic honeymoon.

From some angles, that was true.

Lea nodded woodenly in assent at Gu Mengmeng's words.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and patted Lea's shoulders. "You behaved so wantonly yesterday, Elvis would never let you off lightly when we return. Let him maintain order in the family since he is the first partner. I... since we are out, let us enjoy ourselves now."

Lea thought Gu Mengmeng would be furious at him and would punish him, or even kill him. He never expected her to hold such an attitude.

Twisting his lips, Lea probed. "If... I say we are not going back?"

Gu Mengmeng laughed and rubbed the black wolf mark on her collarbone. "You better think of how to repent when Elvis finds us."

Lea kissed Gu Mengmeng lightly on the forehead. "Alright, let's enjoy our romantic honeymoon before he finds us."

Gu Mengmeng nodded and bit into the second peach.

Saint Nazaire was currently in chaos.

But Gu Mengmeng believed that Lea would never do anything to hurt her. Everything he did was for a reason.

If he did not want to say, she would not ask.

All she could do was to have absolute faith in him. She would not have a repeat of Nina's disastrous situation.

There would not be any more misunderstandings between them.

For the next three days, Gu Mengmeng and Lea enjoyed a loving, romantic time like before.

Lea brought Gu Mengmeng around for leisurely, sightseeing jaunts. They gazed at the stars, the moon and the sunrises.

He hunted for her, cooked for her and protected her from the elements.

Gu Mengmeng didn't question what happened that night, and what they were doing now. She never mentioned returning to Saint Nazaire. As Lea immersed himself in this bliss, the maliciousness that was on his face that night didn't reappear.

It was night, quiet and wondrous.

Gu Mengmeng was sleeping by the bonfire, with Lea's chest as her bed.

His large, furry tail was draped lightly over Gu Mengmeng's body. His gaze grew gentler as he watched her sleeping profile.

Crunch, crunch.

Sounds of footsteps on the ground gradually came closer.

Lea's eyes sprung open in vigilance. His slanted eyes stared fixedly in the direction of the footsteps. Fire burned in his pupils, which was turning a hazy, blood-red.

Chapter 696 - Killing You Is Such A Small Matter, I Can Do It Personally

Chapter 696: Killing You Is Such A Small Matter, I Can Do It Personally

“It looks like she doesn’t like the beast pet I prepared for her.” Cole stood at a distance away from the fire. He stared openly at the sleeping Gu Mengmeng, as if looking at something that belonged to him. He gave light laugh which held a hint of perverted obsession. “Well, she always had good taste. In this world, only I am good enough for her liking.”

Lea gently drew back his arm from under Gu Mengmeng’s neck and slowly stood up to face Cole. His gaze was empty and dull.

“You are truly the Ninth Highness blessed by the Beast Deity, able to snatch Ah Gu right from that wolf’s hands.” In a flash, Cole instantly appeared before Lea and clutched his throat viciously. He laughed. “You no longer have any use for me. Die in peace, ninth brother.”

Cole tightened his fingers, slowly and resolutely. His eyes were cool and the corners of lips curled upwards. Lea’s suffocating face was such a pleasing sight to him.

Cole felt a sudden pain in his chest. He stared in disbelief at the sharp claws stabbing into his chest. Without thinking, he instinctively flung Lea aside.

Lea rolled a distance away. He landed in a firm seated position on the ground and did not collapse in a wretched heap.

Looking at the blood on his own hands, Lea smiled enchantingly. He waved his tail. “Long time no see, my dear second brother.”

“You...?!” Cole was momentarily stunned, but quickly recomposed himself. He chuckled. “You found a remedy for my potion?”

Lea sneered as if he had just heard the most ridiculous thing in the world. “Using a potion on a witch doctor—you think too highly of yourself.”

Cole narrowed his eyes. Disregarding the wound on his chest, he laughed coldly. “It doesn’t matter. So what if you counteracted my potion? You are just a third-level beast while I am an elite fifth-level. Everything will end the moment I kill you and replace you.”

Lea raised his eyebrows with a chilly, “Oh?” He then said, “Do you not feel regret after failing to witness Mengmeng personally killing me?”

Cole gave a low laugh. “I thought that Ah Gu would definitely kill you in a rage after she sees you killing Burke and harming those four little ones and Elvis. Indeed, I had looked forward to watching you die at the hands of your most beloved female. But a pity that Ah Gu seems to really like you. She did not even scold you after you committed such grievous offenses. That is why I changed my mind. Killing you is such a small matter... I can do it personally.”

With that, Cole charged viciously at Lea, bringing along a sharp and malevolent killing aura.

The sense of oppression a higher level had on a lower level was absolute. Although Cole had lost his tail and one arm, he had already adapted to it and could attack with ease. As a result, as Cole launched himself at Lea, Lea felt a massive pressure on his heart, as if it was going to explode any time.

His instincts were trying to make him kneel down in submission, but another reason gave him the ability to fight back.

With resolution and savageness in his slanted eyes, Lea smacked the ground heavily with his palms and leaped up with vicious force...

Chapter 697 - I Gave You Your Chance

Lea's legs clamped down on Cole's waist while his hands gripped at Cole's underarms to control his hands. His huge tail curled around Cole's neck. Lea was like a rope binding Cole tightly.

Cole struck Lea's nose with a vicious head butt.

Blood spurted out but Lea appeared unconcerned. His tail remained tightly wound as he held firm to the resolution to kill Cole.

Cole narrowed his eyes dangerously and gazed towards the still-sleeping Gu Mengmeng. With a smirk, he unleashed his fifth-level beast aura to force Lea off him.

Such a powerful aura was not something pure willpower could withstand. Lea was forced down to the ground and could not even lift his head. It was as if every inch of his bones had been ground to dust. Blood spurted out of his mouth, but he maintained his sly smile.

Lea's chest heaved and his gaze slackened for a moment.

"What did you do?!" Cole asked as he gripped Lea's neck.

Lea suffered serious internal injuries and spat out blood with every cough. He was obviously very weak now but still kept his victorious smile. "Give me the antidote for Chixuan and I will tell you... how to counter your poison."

Cole held his head and laughed coldly. With his features half-hidden in the shadows, he looked horrifying and sinister.

“As long as I replace your position beside Ah Gu... what fear should I have against any poison?” Cole slowly pulled Lea closer to him. His smile was twisted and heinous. “Didn’t you know that Snake’s Tear of the Beast Deity is immune to all poisons? I just need to mate with her once, there is no poison that can’t be counteracted.”

Lea snorted. “It seems like you have a poor understanding of the Tear of the Beast Deity.”

Cole loosened his grip and flung Lea to the side. He squatted down while using his beast aura to restrain Lea. “What do you mean?”

Lea spat out some blood and placed one hand on the ground and the other over his own chest. “Mengmeng’s body is filled with venom now. Whoever mates with her will die of poison.”

Cole sneered. “Ninth Highness, your lying skills are so lousy. If she cannot mate, why is your mark on her ear?!”

Lea stared at him scornfully. “So what if I am lying? Do you think that you can still force her at this stage?”

Cole frowned with disapproval. “I didn’t force her then, and I will not force her now. I just... want to replace your position.”

Lea furrowed his brows and clenched his fists. Cole’s face was now even uglier and more twisted than that time when he placed him in exile. However, he could not summon the same hatred and rage as before.

Relaxing his fists, Lea shook his head with disdain. “I gave you your chance. It would have been great if you had just handed over the antidote for Chixuan, at least... your corpse would have been whole.”

Before Cole had time to comprehend Lea’s words, his innate fighting abilities caused his body to react. He took a huge leap backwards to find a murderous-looking Elvis standing in Lea's original spot.

"Your hand...!" Cole was stunned.

Elvis smiled with a measure of scorn. His voice was cold and calm like the waters in the deepest wells of hell. Clear and without a ripple. "Having made so many mistakes and not even realizing it. You are truly... stupid."

Elvis and Beast started fighting. The collateral damage caused by a battle between fifth-level beasts was equivalent to that of a nuclear bomb.

Lea didn't care to watch the battle. He quickly drew back towards Gu Mengmeng to protect her, only to discover... she had already awakened, but had remained unmoving.

“Mengmeng...”

Only then did Gu Mengmeng sit up and smile at Lea. “Can I wake up now?”

Lea nodded. “You knew it all along?”

Gu Mengmeng reached out to Lea. “Silly boy. You knew he was coming today and you still spiked my food?”

Lea gave a bitter laugh. “You might be all-powerful now, but I still want to try my best to protect you.”

Gu Mengmeng sighed helplessly. “You know that I can easily defeat him, but you still insisted on undergoing all that and endured so many injuries...”

Lea shook his head and held Gu Mengmeng gently. “If I did not suffer these injuries, how to coax you into forgiving me for doing all this.”

Bang!

With a massive bang, a huge crater appeared beside Gu Mengmeng.

Turning their heads, they saw Cole flattened into the ground with Elvis stepping on his shoulder with one foot, and peering down his nose at him. Elvis looked like a god of death about to massacre all life, watching with a cold eye at the lives and deaths of all.

Gu Mengmeng stood up and walked to Elvis' side. She gave him a light hug and kissed his chin as a sign of greeting after these past few days apart. She then leaned gently against his chest and looked at Cole. "Give us the antidote for Cole and I will let you go."

Cole gazed up at Gu Mengmeng with eyes filled with a destructive madness. He wiped off the blood from the corners of his mouth and curled his lips at Gu Mengmeng with what he thought was an elegant smile. "Ah Gu, do you think I am a coward afraid of death?"

Gu Mengmeng remained expressionless. "I don't care if you fear death. I just don't want to dirty my hubby's hands. So give me the antidote and then get lost. Don't ever let me see you again."

Cole appeared unaffected by Gu Mengmeng's words. No matter how harshly she spoke, he still looked as if she was speaking sweet nothings to him. "If you are willing to leave with me, not only I will give you the antidote, I can give you the whole Beast World."

Gu Mengmeng laughed lightly and squatted over closer to Cole. "You know that I inherited Snake's memories, which hold many many ways to torture a person. I can easily make you feel immense pain without letting you die. Do you... wish to try?"

Cole puffed up his chest and laughed indulgently. "If Ah Gu wants to torture me, it will be... my honor. I will enjoy every ounce of your love and accept all the torture you can give me."

Gu Mengmeng was completely disgusted.

Cole had degraded into a perverted and twisted masochistic behavior. He had a "hurry up and come whip me" face. Every word he uttered was revolting.

Gu Mengmeng stepped back with a disdainful and disgusted look.

Cole laughed with satisfaction. “Heh, so Ah Gu can’t bear to bully me.”

The hackles on Elvis rose and he pushed Cole deeper into the ground with his foot. The sounds of cracking bones resonated, but Cole didn’t seem to feel any pain. He laughed maniacally. “Or else, find these five items for me, and I will hand over the antidote for the little wolf pup.”

Gu Mengmeng glanced at him from the corner of her eye. “What do you want?”

It would be best if they could talk conditions.

She did not mind if Elvis killed Cole, but she cared about the fact that Cole was the only one who knew how to revive Chixuan.

“Kiss of the Ocean, Love of the Sky, Soul of the Forest, Heart of the Desert and Spirit of the Rocky Cliffs.” Gu Mengmeng’s face darkened at Cole’s every word, until her face was completely black at the end of his sentence.

Cole chuckled and raised three fingers. “Be my female and stay by my side forever, at which I will give you everything in the world; find those items for me; or....let that little wolf pup sleep on forever. Which will you choose?”

Gu Mengmeng clenched her fists tightly and glared at Cole. Her chest heaved and uncontrollable waves of her Beast King aura radiated from her body.

Elvis hurriedly moved over to Gu Mengmeng and held her tight. He did not care about Cole anymore.

“Xiao Meng, don’t get so agitated. Leave this to Lea and I to handle.”

Elvis’ voice was like a warm trickling fountain by Gu Mengmeng’s ear, gradually calming down her emotions. She slowly relaxed her fists and stared frostily at Cole. “I will find these five items for you. But if you dare go back on your word... I will guarantee that you will end up in a state worse than death.”

With that, Gu Mengmeng turned and left.

Elvis threw Cole one final glance before carrying Lea to chase after Gu Mengmeng.

Cole laid limp on the ground and gave a coughing laugh. Blood snaked down the corners of his lips and he casually wiped it off. He stared after Gu Mengmeng’s departing back profile, his eyes full of a determined resolution to win. He whispered. “In the end, you will still come back to my side... why do you want to go through all these and suffer so?”

...

Elvis had already arranged for most of the team to head towards Saint Nazaire first. Lea was gravely injured and not well enough to travel for a long distance.

As a result, Gu Mengmeng and company didn’t hurry back, but sought temporary shelter in a cave to allow Lea to recover.

The bonfire heated the cave until it was dry and Gu Mengmeng sat by the fire, gazing at the sheepish-looking Lea, as well as Elvis, who was sitting in silence beside Lea with a lowered head.

With a snap, Gu Mengmeng broke a wooden branch and threw it into the fire. That crisp sound gave the two males a right fright.

“Are you going to explain yourselves, or are you waiting for me to ask first?”

Elvis suddenly raised his head and stepped forward. “He came up with the idea, I am just the muscle.”

Gu Mengmeng raised her brows with a cold smile. He had been so quick to shift the blame.

Lea struggled to sit up and put on a frail and pitiful look. He coughed a couple of times and said in a weak voice, “Mengmeng... it’s all my fault... cough... if you want to blame someone, just blame me...”

Gu Mengmeng gave them a fake, sweet smile and said, “It looks like during those years I was away, you two had become quite close and cooperative?”

Plan A had been spoiled...

Awkwardly, Elvis returned to his seat on the bed, while Lea also laid back obediently. It looked as if someone had pressed the rewind button, and they were back at their same positions three minutes ago.

Snap. Gu Mengmeng broke another branch in two and flung it into the fire. Her gentle voice held a hint of sinister threat. “Leniency to those who confess, severity to those who resist... oh~”

Elvis and Lea exchanged a glance. They knew that Mengmeng would never let them off if they didn’t reveal the truth.

Chapter 700 - Can You Come Over To Let Me Hug You?

“Cole was behind that previous attack by the stray beasts,” Elvis said.

Gu Mengmeng nodded. “I know. That was to give Burke a way in, to let him stay by my side. Didn’t we already guessed that long ago?”

Elvis shook his head. “Cole hoped we would think that. That was why he purposely left his own scent on Burke. But in reality, Cole’s true intention was to check out your true abilities and... to drug Lea.”

Cole knew that Gu Mengmeng had inherited Snake’s abilities and she could understand him making use of the stray beasts to test her out. But why the hell did he want to drug Lea?

Lea propped himself up and leaned against the wall. Although he was not as weak as he pretended to be just now, the fight against Cole had indeed caused him much damage. He was quite drained and his voice seemed to drift with little energy.

“Everyone fainted when you unleash your beast aura that day. And Cole took that opportunity to place a bug into my ear.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned. “What bug?”

Lea replied. “There is an ancient secret skill passed down the Snow fox tribe, that can mess up a person’s thoughts and make him susceptible to the manipulations of the owner of the bug.”

Lea looked at Gu Mengmeng’s concerned gaze and smiled warmly. He felt very blessed.

He was very contented with the concern Gu Mengmeng was showing him and very satisfied with her care.

“This type of bug is very hard to cultivate and needs to be bathed in a special type of potion from the time it hatches. The recipe of that potion is known only to the leader of the tribe. Witch doctors know how to counteract potions, but as the effects only worked to magnify the latent emotions of the victim and manifested gradually, most drugged victims would not notice their own changes. Meanwhile, the people around them would think that the drugged person’s anxiety must be due to some agitating incident. No one would care about a male who exhibits such behavior. Everyone would just distance themselves from him and abandon him...”

Lea gave a light laugh as if talking about somebody else.

Gu Mengmeng sighed and asked, “Then when did you discover you had been drugged?”

Lea put on a pondering face before replying, “I think... it should be the first time I expressed jealousy towards Elvis.”

Magnify the latent emotions... is it?

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head. So Lea had always envied Elvis?

Envious of his status as the first partner and able to hold her as and when he wanted? Or envious of the fact that although he did not get along well with the wolf pups, they were still his own seed?

Meanwhile, although Lea held the status of a partner, apart from the mark on her ear, she could not give him anything else that could give him a sense of security.

Lea seemed to understand Gu Mengmeng’s thoughts and hurriedly waved at her. “I am feeling weak now and cannot go over. So... can you come over to let me hug you?”

“Huh?” Gu Mengmeng looked over at Lea.

Lea smiled with exceptional gentleness. “I won’t feel so much pain if I can hug you.”

Gu Mengmeng stood up and obediently walked over to Lea’s side. She carefully leaned into his embrace.

Lea’s lips curled slightly, his voice as gentle as the ocean waters. “Elvis and I will always be jealous of each other. This is not strange, because we both love you. Perhaps you don’t know this, sometimes... I would even be jealous of my past self for the ability to command your full attention.”

Chapter 701 - The Jealousy You Cause Makes Me Feel Very Blessed.

Gu Mengmeng didn't know how to answer and just listened quietly.

Lea put his hand lightly on the back of her head and sealed her lips with a gentle kiss.

That slanted pair of eyes stared with deep affection at Gu Mengmeng. "But the jealousy you cause makes me feel very blessed."

Thump~thump~

Gu Mengmeng's heart beat rapidly. They had already spent nearly a year together but Lea's intimacy and affectionate words still made her feel quite faint.

Lea kissed Gu Mengmeng lightly on the lips and held her against his chest. "That is why when I felt animosity arising from jealousy towards Elvis, I realized I might have been drugged. Thereafter, I discovered that every time Burke appeared before me, jealousy in my heart would be inflamed beyond control. That was when I was sure that Cole had planted the bug poison on me."

"Why didn't you tell me" Gu Mengmeng's heart ached. A person who was ill was most in need of the companionship of his family. But she didn't do anything when he was sick, and just fell into Cole's trap like an idiot. And all the while thinking she could capture Cole.

Lea rested his chin gently on the top of Gu Mengmeng's head. With a light laugh, he said, "Silly girl, do you think I will tell you this and let you worry over Cole? I am no fool, why would I allow another male to dominate your thoughts?”

Gu Mengmeng was speechless over Lea’s twisted logic. She tightened her arms from his waist and rubbed her little face on his chest. “So you decided not to counter that bug poison?”

Lea laughed. “You are half right.”

Gu Mengmeng looked up. “Which half?”

Lea replied, “You were right that I beat him at his own game. But I did neutralize that bug. I am not mad, why would I allow Cole to control my lifeline?”

Gu Mengmeng breathed a sigh of relief before smiling. “I guess you are smart.”

Lea lifted his chin and smiled smugly. “Of course. I am the male of the Messengers of the Beast Deity.”

Gu Mengmeng couldn’t help smiling at Lea’s words. She suddenly recalled the sight of him standing at the Platform of the Deity’s Punishment and announcing to the whole world that he was her beast pet. She felt like her heart was bursting with warmth.

Lea continued. “Cole instigated Burke to make use of Kanwu and gang to get close to you. His goal was never to seduce you but to trigger the bug in my body. To let my emotions quickly turn chaotic.”

“Eh?” Gu Mengmeng was astounded. She thought she was the reason Cole had sent Burke to them. So Lea was the actual target?

Lea played with Mengmeng’s hand and said, “From the moment he used the name “Yoo Sijin” when he arrived at Sauder, it was fated that I would hate him. Cole purposely left all sorts of obvious markings on him to let me take note of him. It was a type of subconscious hinting that he would eventually snatch you away. It was the most effective way to trigger the bug poison in me.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned. “So right from the start when Burke joined Saint Nazaire, Cole had already planned to use the bug poison to kill you?”

Lea nodded. “No, his goal was not to use the bug poison to kill me, but to have me... die by your hand.”

Chapter 702 - Are You Trying To Murder Your Lover?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

“Die by my hand?” Gu Mengmeng was stunned. “He wanted me to believe that you hurt Hede and his brothers, and then kill you in rage?”

Lea shook his head with a chuckle. “That would be too good a death for me. After all, dying at the hands of his own female is a kind of blessing for a male. It is still better than being killed by Cole.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned. “Then...?”

Lea said, “Cole’s bug poison will trigger my jealousy, and when one’s jealousy reaches its peak, he will want to possess you all for himself. He correctly predicted that I will snatch you away and hide. However, he never expected that after seeing me hurt those four little ones and Elvis, you didn’t just kill me and return to their side.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned, she simply couldn’t wrap her head around the matter. She couldn’t understand Lea’s meaning.

Lea chuckled and rubbed Gu Mengmeng’s head. “If you saw your son and Elvis being hurt and killed me in rage, it would just be me paying the price for doing something wrong. However, what Cole wanted was for you to choose to abandon me. On one end of the scales, he had Elvis, the four little ones and several other inadequate reasons, while on the other end he had me, who was out-of-control and wished to possess you all for myself. Cole wanted to see you abandon me in favor of Elvis and the children... you know that being abandoned is the true torment for a male.”

“Of course, being controlled by the bug poison, I would never have let you go and I would do anything to keep you by my side. I might threaten you, harm you... in the end, it would be so unbearable for you that... you would kill me and then return to Elvis.” Lea stroked Gu Mengmeng’s hair as he spoke. “Now that I think of it, it is truly terrifying. What if you were really enraged by me? Just one look from you is enough to kill me.”

Gu Mengmeng pinched Lea’s waist gently. “Scared now, aren’t you? Why didn’t you tell me right from the start? I could have accommodated your act.”

“Aiyo aiyo, so painful...” Lea exaggerated his frailty and looked pitifully at Gu Mengmeng. He bit his lips in a show of being miserable. “Are you trying to murder your lover?”

Gu Mengmeng rolled her eyes. “Yes, I should pinch you to death now!”

Lea pulled Gu Mengmeng back into his arms and whispered in her ear. “If you really wish to pinch me to death, go ahead. I will let you do anything you want, as long as you like it.”

Gu Mengmeng harrumphed without answering.

Lea said, “I am being serious. If you want me to die, I will comply. If you want me to live, I will watch over you. My life, death and fortunes are all decided by your word.”

Lea’s voice was light, like a feather brushing against Gu Mengmeng’s heart. Her temper had been dissolved by his coaxing and she just cleared her throat. “Don’t try to bluff your way out of this. I am asking why didn’t you forewarn me?”

Gu Mengmeng kissed Gu Mengmeng’s temple. “Because... I also wanted to know if you would have chosen me? Or... would you have abandoned me?”

Gu Mengmeng was stunned. She looked at up Lea. “Were you not worried that I would lose control and kill you by mistake?”

Lea chuckled. “That would not happen if you trusted me. You would know that even if I turned mad, I would never do anything to hurt you. If I didn’t even possess that level of trust in your heart... then I would rather be dead.”

Chapter 703 - I Believe My Mengmeng Will Bring Me Joy.

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Gu Mengmeng sighed. “How many tribulations have we undergone due to a lack of trust? I have already learned my lesson. So regardless of what I see, I choose to have complete trust in Elvis and you.

Lea hugged Gu Mengmeng and nuzzled her neck. Gentleness and contentment glowed in the deepest recesses of his eyes as he kissed the side of her face. “Thank you. I love you.”

Gu Mengmeng leaned into Lea’s embrace and chuckled. “Don’t think that I will let you off just because of a few sweet nothings. Why did you drug my dinner?”

Lea stiffened like a child who knew he was in the wrong. He murmured in a low voice. “You are afraid of blood...”

Eh...

It was the same misconception set down by that perverse Coming-To-Age Ceremony.

Since she cried from fright during her Coming-To-Age Ceremony, no matter how hard she tried to explain, Elvis and Lea believed that she was afraid of blood.

But heaven knew her body now contained a thousand-year-old lonely soul, and it was the most bloodthirsty and cruel soul in the whole world.

There were so much blood-drenched scenes in her memories that she was already numb to the sight of it.

“How did you know that Cole would come today?” Gu Mengmeng could no longer be bothered to explain that she was not afraid of blood. Anyway, she could try to convince the two of them until her throat was dry and they still would not believe her.

Lea narrowed his eyes slyly. “Because he is greedy.”

“Huh?” Gu Mengmeng was confused.

Lea gently stroked Gu Mengmeng’s hair and whispered into her ear. “He thought that you would definitely choose to abandon me when faced with such a situation, but you didn’t. Not only did you not abandon me, you bore no grudge against me and accompanied me on a jaunt. Your love and doting for me ignited Cole’s jealousy. That was why he would definitely appear to snatch you away and destroy everything.”

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head. “So this is your original plan? You knew I would definitely not abandon you and would make the choice that would drive Cole to jealousy?”

A sliver of hesitation and lingering fear flashed past Lea’s eyes, but was quickly replaced by a happy relief. “Yeah, I believe that my Mengmeng will bring me joy.”

Gu Mengmeng knew that whether it was Lea or Elvis or some other male in this Beast World, love would always be entwined with loss. They lived in a situation that meant they could be abandoned at any time. It was a very difficult thing for them to have absolute trust. Nevertheless, Elvis and Lea had been trying their best to believe in her.

But...

If she told them the story behind those five treasures, would their hard-fought trust in her survive?

Gu Mengmeng frowned worriedly.

After all, Elvis would nearly go mad if she just went near the side of the lake.

Lea was holding Gu Mengmeng from behind and didn't notice her frown. But Elvis was facing her and clearly saw her worried face. He slowly settled down beside Lea but didn't pull her away from him. Elvis just gently took up her little hand and gazed at her with deep, warm eyes, without saying a single word.

Lea looked at Elvis and again at Gu Mengmeng. He could not detect the slightest trace of that crazy jealousy.

Curling his lips upwards, Lea kissed Gu Mengmeng left ear. "I feel that our current state is optimal. I am happy as long as you are happy."

Chapter 704 - I Didn't, I Really Didn't!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Gu Mengmeng composed herself. She did not wish to cause anxiety to Elvis and Lea. As such, she tried her best to hold back the worry in her eyes.

“There is one more thing which I didn't like. Cole kept talking about replacing you. What did he mean? Did he believe that I will like him if he killed you?”

Lea shook his head. “He wanted to make use of the Fox Seductive Fragrance to bewitch you and transfer your feelings for me onto himself. It means... he would steal our memories and make you believe that you had always loved him.”

“Fox Seductive Fragrance?” Gu Mengmeng was stunned. “Didn't you already pluck off his tail at Sauder, and said that he would never give off the Fox Seductive Fragrance anymore?”

Lea pinched Gu Mengmeng's chin. “Silly girl. The Fox Seductive Fragrance does not need to be Cole's own. Moreover, even if he still had his tail, his own fragrance cannot steal memories.”

Gu Mengmeng was totally confused by Lea's explanation. She always thought the Fox Seductive Fragrance was akin to the kind of medicine in this world used to spice up one's love life. How could it possess such evil effects?

Lea said, “A male fox's fragrance exists solely to attract a female, while a female fox's fragrance... is the truly powerful thing.”

Gu Mengmeng looked askance at Lea. “So there is a female in Sauder who is together with Cole now?”

Lea nodded, implying that he agreed.

Gu Mengmeng closed her eyes and started to recall all the females in Sauder. But she could not think of anyone particularly suspicious. She looked at Lea again and asked, “Who could it be?”

Lea raised three fingers. “There are only three females in the Snow fox tribe who can emit such a high level Fox Seductive Fragrance.”

Keeping the first finger, Lea said, “Cole’s former partner, Gillian.”

He kept the second finger. “My first brother’s missing partner, Lisa.”

Lea stared at his last finger and suddenly looked very awkward.

Gu Mengmeng didn’t know the reason behind the deep forbearance in his eyes, but didn’t wish to let him brood alone. She gently held his wrist with her free hand. “What’s the matter?”

Lea recollected his senses and took a deep breath. He forced a casual laugh. “Nothing. There is also my father’s concubine, Miranda.”

Gu Mengmeng was momentarily stunned, as she instantly understood the mortification behind Lea’s forbearance.

She took a breath but didn’t know how to comfort Lea.

Lea tightened his embrace of Gu Mengmeng. Unease and pleading filled his eyes. With a raspy voice, he said, “I didn’t... I really didn’t...”

Gu Mengmeng returned Lea’s hug and gently patted his back with a warm smile. “How could Lord Lea, the most intelligent person in the Beast World, also succumb to a bout of foolishness? Your partner mark is already on my ear. Isn’t that the best proof of your innocence that year? If I didn’t suspect you then, I certainly don’t suspect you now.”

Lea was taken aback. He suddenly laughed out and rubbed Gu Mengmeng’s left ear gently. His laugh held a hint of the relief that came after a escaping a tight spot. ” My partner mark is on your ear now. I will say the sweetest nothings for you to hear every day.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled. “But these three females are all missing now. I wonder who is in Cole’s hands, or rather... how many of them?”

Chapter 705 - I Regret It Now, It Is Too Horrifying.

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Gu Mengmeng crossed her fingers and pondered for a moment. “I feel... Gillian might be the most likely candidate. After all, she had disappeared right after Cole was released. It is normal for her to help Cole as they used to be partners.”

Lea chuckled. “Cole kept her locked inside a secret room for so long that she already forgot how to turn back into human form. How could there still be any love lost between them?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. “There is a mental sickness called the Stockholm Syndrome in this world, where a victim starts to develop positive feelings and a sense of dependency towards their captor, and might even help him harm others.”

Lea and Elvis fell into deep thought, as if they could not really understand Gu Mengmeng’s words.

Gu Mengmeng continued. “To put it simply, Cole had imprisoned Gillian for a long period of time. Whenever he appeared before her, he would bring food and water, and would be Gillian’s only form of contact. During her long periods of darkness and solitude, she would start to look forward to Cole’s appearance. Whether he brought pain or torment, it would be her only way of feeling anything. As time passed, Gillian would feel increasingly dependent on Cole. Her desire to see him would become more pressing until it morphed into a twisted kind of love. The conclusion made by the expert who came up with the Stockholm Syndrome was this: A person could be domesticated.”

Elvis and Lea had both clenched their fists. Gu Mengmeng could even sense that their palms were drenched in sweat.

“What’s the matter?” Gu Mengmeng was befuddled.

Lea said, “I regret it now, it’s too horrifying.”

Gu Mengmeng asked, “What do you mean?”

Lea said, “What if my plan had gone haywire and Cole had kidnapped you, imprisoning you like he did with Gillian. Then...”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “You are afraid that I would succumb to the Stockholm Syndrome?”

Lea just felt uncomfortable all over when he thought of how Gu Mengmeng might end up with such a twisted love for Cole.

But Gu Mengmeng just laughed. “Firstly, he must be able to restrain me.”

Elvis and Lea were taken aback. Ah, they had forgotten that Gu Mengmeng now possessed the powers of the Beast King. How could Cole alone even hope to ever restrain her?

They understood the logic, but still couldn’t help worrying.

Gu Mengmeng exhaled and patted both Lea and Elvis. “We just need to be careful now that we know Cole has someone who can provide him with a high level Fox Seductive Fragrance. The more urgent task now is to gather the items that Cole wants, so that we can get the antidote for Chixuan.”

Elvis looked at Lea as he asked, “Do you think Cole will really hand over the antidote after we gathered all those items?”

Lea thought about it and shook his head. “Chixuan is the only bargaining chip he has to tie down Mengmeng. I don’t believe he will hand it over.”

“He will,” Gu Mengmeng said in a low voice. Taking a deep breath, she looked up with a solemn and calm expression. “That is because the five items he is asking for, will form part of the key to open the doors of space and time.”

Open the doors of space and time...

Those words jolted the hearts of Elvis and Lea painfully.

An all-encompassing fear mixed with unease entwined every single cell in their bodies and every single thought in their minds.

She would leave.

And return to her original world.

And they...

They would be helpless.

Elvis held Gu Mengmeng's hand tightly. His fingers were trembling as he said in a raspy voice, “Even without Chixuan, we still have Hede, Jialue and Kanwu...”

Chapter 706 - Personally Giving Rise To A Demon Fiend In The Beast World

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Gu Mengmeng's eyes darkened.

She had always known Elvis didn't like children.

Even though he was still very happy during the time she was pregnant, the agony she endured during childbirth would forever remain a sore spot in his heart.

Sighing, Gu Mengmeng gripped Elvis' hand. "To open the doors of time and space, apart from the five items requested by Cole, he will still need the Tear of the Beast Deity and the Key of the Beast King. There is only one Tear of the Beast Deity in this world and it is already inside me. As for the Key of the Beast King... heh, let's not talk about the fact that it doesn't exist in this world, even if it did... I will never use my child to open that door."

The Tear of the Beast Deity... was Snake's gallbladder.

The Beast King was the Beast Deity's favorite child. For a beast to be able to attain that level would mean he was already invincible. So the only way they could die was by their own will.

Just the word love had him opening his chest and taking out his gallbladder...

Even a Beast Deity would tear at that.

And so came the name of Tear of the Beast Deity.

Snake was the only Beast King in this world and his gallbladder was already inside Gu Mengmeng.

As for the Key of the Beast King, it must be a child whose veins flowed with the blood of the Beast King.

This child could only be borne of Gu Mengmeng.

So as long as Gu Mengmeng never gets pregnant again, this door of time and space would never be activated.

With this level of understanding, Elvis and Lea calmed down a little.

However, with Cole's cunning and malevolent personality, who knew if he would find another way to open that door?

What if he used the Fox Seductive Fragrance to bewitch Gu Mengmeng? What if he used other means to force Mengmeng to bear him a child?

Cole... must be exterminated.

Some things were better left unsaid to the female.

No matter how powerful she was, she was still their weak spot. They could not help protecting her, coaxing her, providing for her.

Sometimes, Gu Mengmeng herself didn't wish to look through Snake's broken, world-weary eyes.

That gaze was too sharp and too sensitive. Sometimes, even when Elvis and Lea tried their best to conceal their emotions, she could still see them clearly.

She started to understand the transparency in Snake's eyes. It was a look that could only be formed after a thousand years of precipitation.

Gu Mengmeng relaxed and tugged at Lea and Elvis. "No matter how many sons I have, I will never give up on Chixuan. So, we better think of a way to find those items for Cole."

Elvis frowned. “What if he really goes back on his word?”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “Isn’t my father the Beast Deity? If he dares to deceive me, I will report him to my father and have him dismembered.”

Gu Mengmeng didn’t tell Lea and Elvis that apart from the opening the doors of time and space, those treasures could also... be exchanged for a Tear of the Beast Deity.

If Cole obtained those five items, he could become the next Beast King. What kind of power would he possess once that happened? Even Gu Mengmeng dared not imagine.

Personally giving rise to a demon fiend in the Beast World to save her son. Did this count towards letting down the “benevolence” as preached by the Beast Deity?

Or should she... give up on her own son to ensure world peace?

Sorry, even without the influence of Snake’s blood, Gu Mengmeng could not reach that level of benevolence.

She must save her son. Even if she must sacrifice her own life in the end... she would save her son first and think about that later.

Chapter 707 - Finally Home

“Oh yes, what should we do with Burke and the children?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

Elvis replied, “Burke’s injuries are quite serious but he will live. The four little ones had been drugged unconscious by Lea and will recover within a few days. I had asked Collin to bring them to Saint Nazaire and take care of them. You don’t need to worry.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded before relaxing.

Having rested for four days, Lea’s injuries had already more or less healed.

Gu Mengmeng leaned against Elvis with some worry. “Did you all also suffer such injuries in the past? Why do I feel that you both have never been well since being with me?”

Elvis rubbed Gu Mengmeng head. “What are you saying? It’s very normal for a male to suffer injuries.”

Lea also smiled. “That’s right. If I don’t get injured, how to make you ache for me?”

Gu Mengmeng understood that they were just comforting her.

Sandy had told her quite a number of the past great feats performed by Elvis and Lea. It was mostly about how they had emerged victorious from countless fierce battles, and escaped from endless dangerous situations. They had been described by Sandy as sort of Arnold Schwarzenegger-like commandos. Their accumulated trials and tribulation had resulted in the present-day Saint Nazaire.

But since meeting her, these two somehow always looked rather wretched, constantly suffering from one injury or another.

Gu Mengmeng smiled and didn't expose their ruse. She just nodded. "Since Lea has more or less recovered, why don't we head back to Saint Nazaire. I am worried about the children, and... to find the items for Cole, we need to plan properly."

Elvis and Lea didn't object. They would yield to her every whim. For better or for worse, they would accompany her even to the depths of hell.

As long as it was for her, anything was possible.

The three of them took two days to return to Saint Nazaire.

After that incident during that memorial, she had been tricked into Sauder by Cole. Thereafter, it had been to the Snake King valley and then back to Sauder. They had finally settled the matter at Sauder and was about to hurry home when this situation happened.

It was just a trip back home. How did such a simple matter become even more challenging than getting a train ticket back home during the Spring Festival?

Even as Gu Mengmeng stood before her own cave, she felt a sense of bewilderment and surreality.

"What's the matter?" Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng's little face.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. "Nothing, let's go home."

Elvis placed Gu Mengmeng down and held her left hand while Lea took her right hand. The three of them entered the cave.

Yeah, in the past, they had returned home in this manner too.

On the day that the Platform of the Deity's Punishment allowed them to bring Lea home, they had enlarged the entrance of the cave to make it possible for the three of them to enter at the same time.

Hede and his brothers were not home. Gu Mengmeng was rather disappointed and looked at Elvis. “Where are the children? Are they still at Sandy’s?”

Elvis kissed her forehead. “Don’t worry, we had given off our scent on the way home, and everyone knows we are back. Those wolf pups will return soon.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and remained silent.

Giving off their scent... she was still not used to it.

As expected, Sandy were leading the four wolf pups over before long.

Chapter 708 - Why Did You Not Want To Get Promoted?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Elvis held Gu Mengmeng's waist. "Stay home with Sandy. Lea and I will go hunting."

Gu Mengmeng nodded in assent.

Lea and Elvis exchanged a look before leaving together. They morphed into beast form in unison at the entrance and sprinted off.

They were the masters of the Saint Nazaire territory. The other tribes would start to make trouble if they were away for too long. Now that they were back, they naturally had to reaffirm their authority.

After running around the borders of their territory, the two of them stopped beneath a tree.

Lea let Elvis wait below while he climbed up to raid a bird's nest.

He used his tail to form a temporary pouch and placed the eggs securely inside. He then slowly climbed down.

Elvis took over the eggs and frowned. "Why so few?"

Lea smiled. "Mengmeng doesn't allow us to take everything all at once. We can only take half at the most. These can last Mengmeng at least one or two days. I will go raid another nest during our patrol of the territory tomorrow."

Elvis nodded without a word.

The territory of Saint Nazaire was very expensive. It wasn't impossible to patrol the entire area within a day, but the two of them... didn't want to be away from Gu Mengmeng for too long.

Holding those eggs, they made their way back. Lea also hunted two wild animals and he and Elvis each carried one on their shoulders. They then headed home.

Lea looked extremely blissful. Having a home to return to was a luxury, and he now had that luxury.

When they were nearing the living quarters, Elvis stopped and frowned, "Why did you not want to get promoted?"

"Huh?" Lea was taken aback. He turned to look at Elvis and suddenly laughed. "You could tell?"

Elvis nodded. "I didn't intervene sooner when you were battling Cole, as I was waiting for you to be promoted. You were clearly nearing the next stage and would have surpassed it if you had put in a bit more effort. Why did you give up?"

Lea lowered his head and gazed upon those few eggs. He said with some melancholy, "I promised Mengmeng that I will never make things difficult for her, in matters between you and me."

Elvis replied, "I don't understand."

Lea sighed. "Mengmeng is already powerful enough. No one can easily cause her any harm. Moreover, doesn't our family already have you, a fifth-level beast? So it doesn't matter if I am a bit weaker."

Didn't matter?

Gu Mengmeng might be fooled by these words.

But Elvis was well aware that Lea had nearly lost his life during that earlier attack by the stray beasts. When Gu Mengmeng lost control of her beast aura and killed several of their enemies and fellow tribesmen, the one who suffered the blame for the incident was not Gu Mengmeng. Instead, it was Lea, who had been held accountable for not being strong enough.

Everyone was secretly blaming Lea. Not only did he fail to protect his own female, he had let her fall into danger and indirectly caused the deaths of so many fellow tribesmen.

Elvis had clearly seen the anguish Lea had suffered. As a male, he didn't believe Lea would be contented to remain a weakling and be labeled a burden to Gu Mengmeng.

But he obviously had the chance to be promoted, why didn't he take it?

“What are you worried about?” Elvis pursued.

Lea lowered his head and avoided Elvis' eyes. He chuckled. “You are thinking too much. I am not worried about anything.”

Elvis exhaled loudly and lifted his chin. “If so, then there is no need to hide this matter from Xiao Meng, right?”

Chapter 709 - The Master Of The Tribe Wants To Be A Tattletale?

Lea was stunned for a moment before blocking Elvis' way. "You wouldn't? A master of the tribe wants to be a tattletale?"

Elvis put on a righteous face and nodded with conviction. "Yeah, Xiao Meng seems to like it every time you tell tales. So I want to try it too."

Lea was speechless. He had indeed been a regular tattletale to Gu Mengmeng, especially against Snake.

However, he told those tales just to reassure Gu Mengmeng, and was just messing about.

"No no no, we cannot let Mengmeng know of this."

Elvis raised his brows. "Why not?"

Lea twisted his lips and sighed. "Alright, I will tell the truth."

Elvis continued to look at Lea in silence.

Lea's shoulders slumped helplessly. "I am afraid that if I get promoted, I will end up wanting to challenge you... the suppression imposed due to our differences in levels will put me in my place and avoid any unrealistic ideals from surfacing. Those ideals might put Xiao Meng in a difficult position, and must be weeded out at the root."

Elvis gave a scornful smile and patted Lea on the shoulder. "Do you think I will be scared of you challenging me?"

Lea shook his head. “You won’t be scared. I know you will never give way on matters concerning Mengmeng, which is why I don’t dare to progress. If we come into conflict... Mengmeng will be in a tight spot.”

Elvis flung their hunted prey onto the ground and stood up straight. “If you remain at the third-level, you will only have 10 years left on your lifespan. Can you bear to leave Xiao Meng behind after 10 years?”

Lea’s heart jumped as he shook his head with reluctance. “10 years into the future... who knows what might happen? Perhaps I might not even make it another 10 years.”

Elvis said, “Xiao Meng is still upset over the loss Snake. I cannot imagine how she will react when she loses you. So let go of these unnecessary worries and quickly grow stronger so that you can protect yourself and not provide Cole any opportunities. I don’t wish to see Xiao Meng lose control because of you, and I don’t wish to see her cry over you. This is my duty of a first partner. As a member of the family, you have no authority to reject me.”

Lea and Elvis stared at each other for a long time, before Lea gave a sudden laugh. “Tsk tsk tsk, you are truly a tyrannical first partner. A snow fox’s appearance will become even more alluring as his level increases. Are you not afraid that after I attain the fifth-level, I will become so handsome that Mengmeng will not even glance at you?”

Elvis sneered challengingly. “You can try, if you got the goods.”

Lea didn’t reply but just continued to make his way back with the prey over his shoulders. There was the hint of a smile on his lips, which traveled to his eyes.

So Gu Mengmeng’s first partner had to be Elvis and not him...

Ah, the decision made then was still the right one.

Although it was a heavy price and the process had been painful, in the end... it was a good outcome.

...

Meanwhile, after Lea and Elvis left, Gu Mengmeng held onto Chixuan as she listened to Sandy telling her all the things that happened over the past few days.

Holding Sandy's hand, Gu Mengmeng said, "Sandy, thank you for this period. The young ones must have given you much trouble."

Sandy lowered her head and looked at Gu Mengmeng with some hesitation. She asked timidly, "Do you still regard me as your friend?"

Chapter 710 - I Heard That Bear Paws Are Very Delicious

Gu Mengmeng was momentarily dumbfounded. It was true she also felt that she was no longer as close to Sandy.

One reason was because Sandy was still unhappy that Collin didn't join in the fight to save the camp. The second reason was because Gu Mengmeng was now a thousand years old mentally, and no longer had the mood to indulge in frivolous play with Sandy.

However, Gu Mengmeng had never regarded Sandy as an outsider.

She was just not as intimate as before. Sandy must have felt very upset over her remoteness?

But too many things had happened over this period of time. Gu Mengmeng really didn't have time to show concern for Sandy's feelings. As bosom friends, this was her fault.

Gu Mengmeng reached out to tug at Sandy's little hand and smiled warmly. "You know that something happened to me at the Snake King valley, and it is very difficult for me to adjust my emotions. I am working very hard to adapt to my new circumstances and also trying my best to regain my original self. This is a very challenging matter for me."

Sandy wasn't entirely clear about what happened to Gu Mengmeng at the Snake King valley, but she did know of the general situation.

After all, Collin used to be one of Gu Mengmeng's guards. In addition, of all the rest of the people, Sandy cared about Gu Mengmeng and missed her the most. So she had tried her best to gather all the information she could about the incident. Although she still did not have a complete picture, she knew more about it than anyone on the outside.

Sandy held Gu Mengmeng's hands in her own, which were warm and soft. With clear eyes shining tenderly, she said shyly, "I want to do something for you... anything... Gu Mengmeng, tell me, what can I do to help you?"

Gu Mengmeng smiled. "You don't need to do anything. Just your presence is enough to bring me warmth. After I inherited Snakel's memories, my personality had turned somewhat reserved, but you must believe me that I don't hate you, I don't blame you and I am not trying to distance myself from you... I learned many things from Snakel's memories, but also forgot how to get along with others."

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head and looked at Sandy's little hand holding hers. Her gaze held a sliver of tenderness. "I already feel very moved that you can hold my hand and listen to my complaints."

Sandy was quite affected. Actually, she had always thought Gu Mengmeng didn't want to remain friends with someone as selfish as her.

Instead, Gu Mengmeng was now saying her presence was enough to bring her warmth.

On the edge of tears, Sandy pulled Gu Mengmeng into her arms and started sobbing freely.

"Wah... Gu Mengmeng, I thought you no longer wanted to be my friend... sob sob sob... you forgot, never mind... ah ah ah... I remember, I remember everything... wah wah wah... I will help you regain your memories, I will help you..."

Before Sandy could finish her sentence, she had been pulled up by the back of her neck by Lea.

Sandy was still in the throes of her weeping. She felt that the walls constraining her had finally collapsed. She could now face Gu Mengmeng without shame again. The joy of regaining her one and only friend consumed her mind and she didn't feel anything else.

Only when she met Lea's dangerous eyes did the hairs all over her body stand straight up. Her teary eyes cleared immediately and shone with obvious fear.

"Hiccup~" Sandy stifled a sob.

Lea remained unsympathetic and just narrowed his eyes fiercely. He said in a cold voice, "I heard that bear paws are very delicious... I think that paw of yours which was holding my Mengmeng, looks pretty good."

Chapter 711 - Hugging My Female When I Am Not Around?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

“Gu...” Sandy sniffled and gazed pitifully at Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng held her cheek haplessly.

Tugging at Lea’s arm, Gu Mengmeng said, “Sandy has always feared you so don’t scare her anymore. Will you only be happy after you scare away all my friends?”

Lea would really be happy at that. He hooked Gu Mengmeng’s chin, his eyes as deep and profound as the ocean. He leaned in close towards Gu Mengmeng’s lips but didn’t kiss her. A languid and sultry voice drifted into Gu Mengmeng’s ear. Mixed with Lea’s unique scent, the effect turned Gu Mengmeng’s face red. “Hugging my female when I am not around... shouldn’t I take off one of her paws? Or are you trying to hint at Elvis and I that we have not been ‘serving’ you well enough the past few days, that you are being forced to seek comfort from the body of another female? Hmm?”

Gu Mengmeng suddenly realized something was not right.

And that was although Snake’s memories held a thousand years of killing and solitude, regarding the matter of love... it was a total blank.

Including several generations of snake beasts that had been with Snake over all those years, he knew nothing about the matters of the heart. He just mated with the female snakes to produce eggs, but did not express any other interest in both the females and his heirs.

Of the eight generations of ancestors before him, he only felt some affection for his father, Wesley. And that ended up as a case of extreme paranoia gone wrong.

As a result, Gu Mengmeng's reaction was now even greater than before when faced with Lea's teasing.

The sensation of her heart thumping so hard that it was nearly flying out of her chest had Gu Mengmeng reeling from a shocked daze. It was as if the doors to a whole new world had been opened to her. In her eyes, Lea even looked like he was glowing with an inner light.

Gu Mengmeng, who had two partners, was suddenly experiencing a sort of latent blooming. It was like how an old spinster must have felt when the spring mating season had finally arrived for her...

F!

Gu Mengmeng was biting her lips, which started to tremble.

Lea was even more dumbstruck than Gu Mengmeng. He thought Gu Mengmeng would ask him to get lost, and he had been prepared to run off to prepare her meal.

But she was staring at him with her little face blushing with such a deep red, that he felt uncontrollably aroused.

"Cough cough!" Sandy cleared her throat. She sniffled as she discreetly took Chixuan from Gu Mengmeng's arms. As if she was a backstage staff who had accidentally stumbled in front of the camera, she quickly called to Hede and the rest in an embarrassed manner, "I think you guys better follow me back today. Your mother is too tired and needs her rest."

The three little ones may not be grown up but the Beast World did not have the concept of modesty. Many family members would just do whatever they wanted when the mood struck, and the three youngsters could also more or less understand what would happen next.

It was really not that convenient for them to be around.

So without another word, they obediently followed Sandy out of the cave.

Before they had too far, they saw Elvis returning after prepping the hunted prey.

Kanwu stopped and looked up. “Hey.”

Elvis stood before Kanwu and peered down his nose at the little brat. “What?”

Kanwu rolled his eyes at Elvis. “My mother is now very lonely. If I were you, I won’t have the time to bother about that meat. Otherwise, after my mother becomes nice and warm, you won’t have anything left to eat.”

Elvis was stunned. He sniffed about and as expected, he detected the fox seductive fragrance in the air.

Frowning, Elvis remembered Lea saying that Gu Mengmeng didn’t really like it when he used the fox seductive fragrance. But from what Kanwu said...

Smack. Elvis threw down the prepared meat and sprinted towards the cave.

Chapter 712 - Is That How You Trick Your Father?

Kanwu smirked and picked up the meat on the ground. He looked at Sandy. “Mother-in-law, there is food falling from the sky today.”

Sandy poked Kanwu’s little head. “Is that how you trick your father?”

Kanwu was nonchalant. “I was clearly helping him”

Sandy didn’t say anything more but just had the three of them pick up the meat brought back by Elvis before heading back towards her own cave together.

From that day onwards for two consecutive days, it was as if Saint Nazaire had entered the mating season. There was not a female to be seen on the streets, while even those males who were out hunting were impatient for the hunt to be over so that they could rush home.

A primeval and smoldering aura permeated the entire Saint Nazaire. Only Sandy’s home remained uncorrupted.

No matter how Bode and Collin pestered her, no matter how consumed with physical desire her body was, Sandy would still bite down on her lips and say, “Gu Mengmeng handed her children to me so I must take of them... I promised her..I cannot set a bad example for them.”

The males in Sandy’s house sat in a line outside the cave. They must suggest to Lea to seal up the entrance to his cave the next time he mated, to prevent his fox seductive fragrance from spreading out?! If not, he should look after the children of his own household himself. Don’t only focus on his own pleasure to the detriment of others!

On the third day, the thick fox seductive fragrance dissipated. An overly fatigued Gu Mengmeng, as well as Lea, who had fainted from being poisoned, finally awoke.

Elvis had casually thrown an animal hide over his body, seductively half revealing the muscles of his body. A pair of clear, blue eyes gazed languidly upon Gu Mengmeng's face. A deep warmth rose in those eyes, as his lips curled up in a doting smile. It was an obvious expression of bliss.

He had never thought that Saint Nazaire was anything special. He and Lea had just established it on a whim. The previous time they left this place, they were consumed by so many urgent matters that they didn't have the time to miss home. But with this return, Elvis suddenly felt an unprecedented sense of belonging.

It had nothing to do with him. It was just that every corner in this place held some memory of Gu Mengmeng.

Ah, so this was what it meant to have a home.

For somewhere to become a home, it was because this place held something which you longed for.

Gu Mengmeng laid across Elvis' chest like a lazy cat. His large hand stroked her hair gently and with cherish.

Lea looked rather weak from the poison, but couldn't contain the smile in his eyes. He gazed back at Gu Mengmeng now and then, before turning back to continue preparing her meal with contentment.

Lea felt his heart thump every time he thought back to that joyous scene.

Yeah, the way she looked at him then was beautiful.

He had been worried that he was no longer that "Daddy Lea" who could make her blush. Now it seemed that he had been over-thinking things.

When dinnertime came, both Auretin and Ian promptly appeared.

Lea frowned and glared at Auretin. "You didn't bring any hunted prey. Are you contributing to the meal or just bumming off us?"

Auretin pointed behind him. Lea tilted his head to look and saw two big piles of prepped meat. He had used the meat from there to prepare this meal.

But that... wasn't that brought back by Elvis the previous time?

Chapter 713 - Dear, Have You Taken Your Medicine Today?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

“Two days worth of hunted game have been piled there. But you were all too busy mating and didn’t have the time to cook for me...” Auretin sighed with a cryptic look at Gu Mengmeng. His face was expressionless but she could feel his resentment.

So... he was blaming her for delaying his meals?!

Tsk tsk tsk, this freeloader had the cheek to complain...

Lea shifted his body to block Auretin’s view of Gu Mengmeng. He lifted his chin. “Look again and I will gouge your eyes out.”

Auretin maintained his blank expression and stared back at Lea with eyes half-closed. He snorted derisively. “You cannot beat me.”

Instead of being angry, Lea smiled malevolently. “Have you forgotten... who makes the meals in this family?”

With a start, the disdain in Auretin’s eyes quickly cracked. It turned into a look of surrender and ingratiating. “You win, I won’t look anymore.”

Lea lifted his head and snorted arrogantly. He then turned back to continue his cooking.

Ian shook his head. “Where in the world did you throw your dignity? Breaking down over a bite to eat... Auretin, are you not afraid of being a laughingstock if news of this gets out?”

Auretin’s gaze landed on that plate of braised meat by Lea’s hands, and didn’t respond to Ian’s chiding, except with a look of gluttony. He replied leisurely, “Whoever dares to make fun of me, I will bite them to death.”

“Tsk, boorish.” Ian’s face was full of scorn. He scooted closer to Gu Mengmeng and away from Auretin.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. She felt rather contented with such a family scene didn’t wish to spoil it.

Outsiders all thought Auretin came to Gu Mengmeng’s cave daily as he had designs on her. But in reality, he was just after the meals at her home...

Who would believe it? She was a Messenger of the Beast Deity and beautiful beyond belief. But in Auretin’s eyes, she was no match for a plate of braised meat.

Nevertheless, it was because Auretin did not have designs towards Gu Mengmeng that Lea and Elvis permitted him to hang around her daily without taking any extreme action.

Ian crossed his arms in front of his chest and leaned back to look at the sky with a sense of satisfaction and laziness.

A gentle breeze blew through his hair and the two exquisite feathers at the tips of his ears quivered under the sunlight.

But his face held a constant sickly cast, such that one couldn’t help but ask him with concern: Dear, have you taken your medicine today?

“Gu Mengmeng. “Ian spoke up.

“Huh?” Gu Mengmeng replied with a single-syllabus.

Ian glanced at her from the corner of his eyes. “That Cole... has been skulking around the outside of Saint Nazaire all this while. Do we need to settle him?”

Gu Mengmeng frowned as the warmth in her eyes dissipated. “Is he alone?”

Ian nodded. “Yeah, he is alone and behaving wantonly..”

Gu Mengmeng raised her brows. “Oh?”

Ian said, “With his cunning, it should not be difficult for him to stay out of sight. But he has absolutely no intention of hiding. Instead, he is recklessly moving about right outside Saint Nazaire, and looks rather pleased with himself.”

Gu Mengmeng looked at Elvis and asked him, “Who is in charge of the territory beside Saint Nazaire? Is there no one?”

Elvis chuckled. “He is a fifth-level stray beast and the formerly renowned Lord Cole. As long as his target is not their own territory, who will dare to provoke him?”

Chapter 714 - In The End, It's Because You Are Too Alluring

Gu Mengmeng played with Elvis' tail as she looked at Lea. "Lea, what do you think?"

Lea was stirring the pot of meat with one hand while pinching up some salt with the other. He turned back with a smile at Gu Mengmeng. "He is behaving so wantonly as he probably expects you to want to meet him. To think of it... it can only be because of Chixuan."

Chixuan...

Gu Mengmeng's heart gave a jolt.

Chixuan had been in a coma for very long. Although he had been breathing steadily as if he was just asleep, he had become thinner as of late.

Could it be... related to Cole?

Elvis smoothed over Gu Mengmeng's brows gently with a smile. "If you want to see him, go ahead. If you don't... I will drive him off."

Kill... they could not kill him for the time being. He still held Chixuan's antidote in his hands. Although Elvis did not care about Chixuan's life and death, he cared for Gu Mengmeng's feelings.

Wanting to kill the enemy, but fearing that it would cause harm to your loved ones. That pretty much summed up the situation.

But while they could not kill him, it did not mean they could not beat him up. Beating him up to an inch of his life would also feel pretty good.

With this thought, Elvis' clear, blue eyes deepened with a harsh glint.

Gu Mengmeng sighed. “Let’s go meet him after dinner.”

It was not the answer Elvis wanted, but... as long as she was happy.

Auretin ate about half that pot of meat. Gu Mengmeng had a small appetite and was full after a few bites. Elvis and Lea each had a big bowl just to accompany Gu Mengmeng.

Lea was up to his tricks again. He claimed he was weak from the poison and having slaved away at the stove all the day. As such, he flopped across Gu Mengmeng’s knee and insisted she feed him.

Feeding him was not a difficult task. But the problem was that the sight of Lea sprawled across Gu Mengmeng’s knee while she leaned against Elvis was especially erotic.

Of course, it was perhaps Gu Mengmeng herself felt sheepish that she couldn’t help blushing.

She wanted to reject him but Lea pouted dejectedly. “It must be because I haven’t served you well enough, that is why you are punishing me by not letting me eat? I know I shouldn’t have lost control and tasted the forbidden fruit, that is why I fainted from the poison before I could satisfy you... I don’t dare to next time. Can you forgive me this time? In the end, it’s because you are too alluring...”

Gu Mengmeng ladled up a pile of meat and shoved it into Lea’s mouth.

Gu Mengmeng could not let this guy speak like that anymore, or her face would start emitting smoke like a steam engine.

So when Cole was led into the cave by Ian, he was treated to the sight of the powerful ruler Elvis sitting on his throne with a gorgeous beauty in his arms, who was just then coaxing a coquettish fox. The romantic energy radiating from that trio was still hanging thickly in the air. The faint love bites on Gu Mengmeng had yet to fade, making the scene look extra titillating and hedonistic. But this just made Cole’s heart beat faster.

Instead of that powerful ruler Elvis, he actually wished to be Lea, who was being “taught a lesson” by Gu Mengmeng.

Chuckling, Cole’s gaze landed on Gu Mengmeng’s face. Without hiding that glint of possessiveness in his eyes, he placed his right hand over his left chest and got down on one knee. He was striving to behave like a gallant knight. “My dear mistress, what can I do for you?”

Gu Mengmeng just felt a wave of revulsion. They had already reached that stage where their relations were irreparable, but he still wanted to put up a polite and refined front? Would that help? He’s crazy!

Chapter 715 - What Solution? What Conditions?

“Don’t acknowledge people any old how. I don’t have such an evil creature as you. Speak, why are you skulking around outside Saint Nazaire?” Gu Mengmeng’s face was cold and her gaze calm. She didn’t purposely effect a lofty aura, but Snake’s arrogance accumulated over a thousand years had already seeped into her blood. The imperious aura of a true-born ruler was something that came from within. As subtle as it was, it could not be ignored that easily.

Cole’s eyes were ignited by that petite face. The more he gazed upon it, the more he desired to own it.

She smelled so good, he could almost imagine her satisfying his every physical desire, how wonderful that would be.

Suddenly, a harsh murderous aura blew by.

Although it was just a second, it successfully burst Cole’s filthy bubble.

Cole looked towards the source of that murderous aura and met Elvis’ deep, blue eyes. He sneered with a measure of disdain.

Cole remained kneeling on the ground and looked up at Gu Mengmeng with a smile. “I am worried that young master Chixuan’s body will be too weak to hold on until you manage to gather the five treasures in exchange for the antidote. I am afraid that you will come looking for me then but can’t locate me. So I have come to you instead.”

The spoon in Gu Mengmeng's hand paused. Lea stretched out his neck towards the spoon and gobbled up the meat. Like a drunk concubine sprawled across Gu Mengmeng's knee, Lea glanced askance at Cole. "Yeah, our little wolf pup has become thinner as of late. What solution do you have? And on what conditions? Spit it all out now and stop wasting the air in our home."

Cole ignored Cole. It appeared that he would only acknowledge Gu Mengmeng's word.

As much as she hated speaking with him, Gu Mengmeng had to do so for her son. "Speak, what solution? What conditions?"

Cole stood up straight as if he was a noble European prince. There was not the slightest trace of the aura of a stray beast on him.

He resumed his former elegance and smiled graciously. However, Gu Mengmeng would never again be charmed by that smile and believe that he was a good guy.

"I can let young master Chixuan wake up but he must remain by my side. I will return him to you after you have given me the five treasures." Cole proposed.

"You want me to hand my son over to a despicable stray beast?" Gu Mengmeng frowned unhappily.

Cole didn't appear offended. "Let a stray beast take care of him, or let him die of starvation... you can take your time to consider it. I am in no hurry."

Gu Mengmeng clenched her fists tightly together, as a million thoughts raced through her mind.

She couldn't understand what Cole was playing at? How could any good come out of handing Chixuan over to him? He would turn her precious son into a pervert?!

But they didn't know where those five treasures were. It was clear that Chixuan would not last until they manage to collect all five items in exchange for the antidote.

Cole waited patiently as Gu Mengmeng struggled with her dilemma. He continued smiling calmly at her.

It's also a sort of honor to have you trouble over me.

Gu Mengmeng took a deep breath and turned to look at Auretin. "Go fetch Chixuan from Sandy's."

Without a word, Auretin left to fetch Chixuan from Sandy's.

Cole chuckled and continued. "So, my dear mistress, do you want me to remain in Saint Nazaire to take care of young master Chixuan, or do you want me to leave here with him?"

Chapter 716 - Cleanse Your Eyes

Gu Mengmeng gave a cold laugh. “Heh, Cole is indeed a very daring and confident person. Are you not afraid that I will kill you after Chixuan wakes up?”

Cole continued to look as if Gu Mengmeng’s every word was a sweet nothing to him. He replied in a warm and loving tone, “The antidote I will give young master Chixuan is just a temporary one. He will need to take it at regular intervals. If there is a break in the cycle... the poison suppressed in his body will spread at an exponential rate. At that point, even the Beast Deity himself cannot salvage the situation. For young master Chixuan’s sake, my dear mistress will not bear to let me die, right?”

Gu Mengmeng gritted her teeth in anger, but was hapless before Cole’s machinations.

Grinding her teeth, Gu Mengmeng said, “That’s right, I really cannot bear to have you die.”

A look of gentle wonder bloomed across Cole’s face. He grinned. “To hear my dear mistress say that, I can die without regrets.”

Gu Mengmeng closed her eyes, she could no longer stand to look at Cole for another second.

Lea wrapped his big tail lightly across Gu Mengmeng’s shoulders. He then faced Gu Mengmeng directly and kissed each of her eyes. “Mmm, we need to cleanse your eyes.”

With that, he tugged gently at Gu Mengmeng’s little hand to pull her from Elvis’ arms into his own embrace. He placed her hand on top of his heart and then reached over to pull off the animal hide which Elvis was wearing. Gu Mengmeng was momentarily stunned before blushing a fiery red. He whispered into her left ear. “How about it? Has your eyes been thoroughly cleansed?”

Pfft...

Gu Mengmeng felt her nose would bleed out at any second now. With trembling hands, she quickly covered Elvis again with the animal hide. “What happens in the family should stay in the family!”

Elvis couldn’t help laughing at her reaction. He teasingly held her waist with one arm and propped up her chin with the other hand. Narrowing his clear, blue eyes, he said in a raspy voice, “Last night... you weren’t saying such things.”

The fox seductive fragrance would make a person secrete vast amounts of adrenaline, numbing the cognitive part of the brain while magnifying the limbic part. However, unlike alcohol, a person’s memories would remain intact, and she clearly remembered everything that had happened the past two days.

With Elvis announcing that to the whole world, Gu Mengmeng could no longer maintain her imperious demeanor.

She clambered onto Elvis’ chest and sealed his mouth with both hands. “You are not allowed to speak!”

“Urgh.” Elvis’ eyes darkened as he gazed at Gu Mengmeng with an indescribable expression.

Gu Mengmeng gave a start before realizing where her knee was positioned. With a light leap, she returned to Lea’s embrace, her face red as a tomato. She burrowed into Lea’s shoulder, as if she was afraid to face anyone else.

Elvis and Lea exchanged a look. Their hearts felt a tad lighter.

Good, they had found a way to tease Mengmeng. Regarding matters of the heart, she seemed more sensitive now than before.

Meanwhile, Cole's intense jealousy was ignited as he witnessed the entire scene.

When Auretin returned with Chixuan—Sandy, Bode, Collin and the three young ones had also tagged along.

With Chixuan in her arms, Sandy walked over to Gu Mengmeng while guardedly watching Cole. She asked in a small voice, “Are you really going to hand Chixuan over to that bad guy?”

Chapter 717 - He Can Be Even More Vicious Than Me, Just To Keep You By His Side.

Gu Mengmeng took Chixuan over from Sandy and held him for a long while before kissing his tiny head. Her eyes dimmed. “If he can save my son, I don’t care what kind of person he is.”

Sandy didn’t say another word but just held onto Gu Mengmeng’s hand and stroked Chixuan’s head.

This kid had become very skinny as of late. If he continued to starve... he would probably not live for long.

Gu Mengmeng personally handed the child over to Cole. The top of her head only reached Cole’s chest and she needed to look up to speak to him.

“If anything happens to my son, I will make sure you regret it for the rest of your life.”

Cole took Chixuan into his arms with practiced ease. He tilted his head with a light smile. With a doting look and indulgent tone, he promised. “Don’t worry, I will treat him as lovingly as if he is my own son.”

Gu Mengmeng knew Cole was taking advantage of her but she had no choice. She gave a cold laugh. “Your own son? Elvis would never have poisoned his own son.”

Cole leaned over beside Gu Mengmeng’s ear. “That is because you didn’t leave him. Otherwise... he can be even more vicious than me, just to keep you by his side.”

Gu Mengmeng laid one hand over Cole's shoulder. Exerting just a bit of strength, the sound of bones breaking could be heard.

Lifting her head, Gu Mengmeng gave an exceptionally bright smile. "Don't compare yourself with my partner. Hearing that will upset me."

Sweat beaded across Cole's forehead, but his smile deepened. "I will remember that. My status here is unique from my mistress' other partners. I will not compare myself to the rest of them again."

Gu Mengmeng no longer wished to continue talking to Cole and returned to Elvis' arms. She closed her eyes. "Auretin, see our guest out."

Auretin stood expressionlessly before Cole. He did not say a word but just stared at Cole with a frosty gaze.

It was an undeniable fact that a higher level beast could make a lower level beast feel totally suppressed.

But faced with a stray beast, no matter how high his level was, there would not be any shrinking or fear. One would only feel anger and animosity.

Cole had no intention of creating a scene. He ducked away from Auretin to nod at Gu Mengmeng, before leaving with Chixuan in his arms.

He had carved out a large piece of land right outside Saint Nazaire, which meant he had effectively taken over a piece of someone else's territory. This was a very severe matter but the owner of that land felt he could not afford to offend Cole. As a result, he swallowed his pride and closed one eye to this humiliating situation.

Cole dug a square-shaped cave, which looked a bit like the stone houses at Sauder. It was a simple structure but constructed very well.

Cole fed Chixuan a pill before laying him across his own knee and stroking his back. Sounding as if he was talking to himself, Cole said, "You must live and grow well. So that when she wants to see you... she has no choice but to seek me out. Heh, if you can really help to reunite us, I will teach you how to become the ruler of the whole world. How about that? In the future, when she and I have dominated the world, you will be our heir. You will be our one and only beloved son. All our power and privileges will be passed onto you. How about that? My son...”

Chixuan’s eyelids fluttered and his tiny nose sniffled. He then gradually opened his eyes.

Chapter 718

Chapter 718: Kid, I Never Knew You Had Another Side To You?!

After Cole left, Gu Mengmeng behaved rather listlessly. Sandy shot Bode a look, after which he said he would bring the three little ones out to practice their hunting.

Since Burke left, Kanwu and his brothers had been under the constant eye of Sandy, and had no chance to go out and play at all. As a result, they were overjoyed with this special privilege today.

Crowding around Gu Mengmeng with wagging tails, they gazed expectantly at her. “Mother, do you think we should go?”

Gu Mengmeng knew her sons really wanted to go. Nevertheless, they still asked for her opinion as they knew she would probably worry.

Gu Mengmeng’s heart grew warm at her sons’ concern for her. She rubbed their little heads. “I will have uncle Auretin go with you, okay?”

A male had a natural sense of respect and adulation towards a powerful figure.

Just like how Auretin respected Elvis, those three little ones also worshiped Auretin for his legendary escapades.

They beamed happily after hearing that their idol would be tagging along.

Gu Mengmeng looked at Auretin. “You are going hunting anyway, help me bring my sons along.”

Auretin remained silent for a moment before saying, “If I bring them along... I cannot guarantee the quality of the hunted prey.”

Gu Mengmeng's lips twisted. Were her sons being sniffed at?

“Uncle Auretin, don't worry. We promise to behave. We will stay obediently by your side to learn from you. We can also protect ourselves while you are on the hunt.”

It was Kanwu who spoke, which shocked Gu Mengmeng.

After all, when this kid spoke to Elvis, it was always a “Hey, do you know who my mother is” type of mob boss attitude. Why did Kanwu transform into a little fan boy in front of someone like Auretin?

Kid, I never knew you had another side to you?!

Auretin looked at Kanwu and hesitated for a moment. He then glanced at Elvis with sudden realization.

Being gazed upon with adoration by a pair of eyes which looked like his own idol—this feeling gave one an inexplicable sense of satisfaction.

“Alright.” His face remained stoic, but his mood had obviously improved.

Auretin turned to leave and the three little ones followed close behind. Sandy instructed Bode to look after them well, and to not let anything happen to them. Bode was contented to let his own female order him around.

Although, if... one of those three little was their own child, it would be even better.

But since Sandy was exceptionally concerned over those three wolf pups, then he will defend them with his life.

After the children left, Gu Mengmeng looked like a deflated balloon leaning limp against Elvis. Sandy sat in front of her holding her little hand. With a pang in her heart, she asked Gu Mengmeng, “It is obvious that Cole has nefarious motives. You really won't be able to touch him now that he has Chixuan in his hands... you, what plans do you have?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. “I thought before that the Kiss of the Ocean could cleanse and purify everything. Perhaps it could be used to purge the poison from Chixuan’s body... but Chixuan has yet to transform. In his current condition, he cannot withstand the immense power of the Kiss of the Ocean. If we force it upon him, I am afraid Chixuan will just self-destruct... so the only way is to assemble those five items for Cole, in exchange for Chixuan’s antidote.”

Sandy’s heart also ached. She had also spent a long period of time with those four little ones, and it could be said that she had brought them up. Although they were not her own flesh and blood, she treated them as such. How could she also not fret and worry over them?

Chapter 719 - You Two Are Using Me As A Marriage Bait?

Chapter 719: You Two Are Using Me As A Marriage Bait?

“Any leads? Where are the items he wants?” Sandy asked.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head with a sigh. “If I had any leads, I wouldn’t have come back to Saint Nazaire but would have already gone to seek them. The key thing is... I have no idea where to look.”

Sandy thought for a moment before continuing. “Why don’t... you have others send them to you.”

Gu Mengmeng looked at Sandy dubiously.

Sandy said, “To find these few items in the vast Beast World is like searching for a needle in the haystack. Even if the entire population of Saint Nazaire heads out to help you find them, the rate of success will be very low. Why not spread the word and announce that anyone who can help you find those items, you will provide him with one year’s worth of free meals. The food from your household is so delicious that everyone will be more than happy to help you.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. She thought: One year’s worth of free meals? Only Auretin and you would be motivated by such a prize.

Nevertheless, the idea of spreading the news was feasible.

With an attractive award, someone would definitely step up to it.

This was a saying that had stood the test of time.

But what did she have that could properly motivate everyone to help?

Gu Mengmeng fell into a deep thought, but couldn't think of anything.

Lea waved his tail and walked to Gu Mengmeng's side. He squeezed himself between Gu Mengmeng and Sandy, and sat down. "You can use your status as the Messenger of the Beast Deity to grant one wish to anyone who can successfully present you with the five treasures."

Elvis chuckled. "Wouldn't you be opening a back door to welcome new family members?"

Lea lifted one finger and waved it lightly. "Although a large number of people will request to be Mengmeng's partner, don't forget that he must still challenge her other partners before that can happen... tsk, are there any third-level single beasts that can win you?"

Elvis snorted. "What if the one who delivers the treasures is a drop-dead gorgeous guy? What happens if Xiao Meng takes a fancy to him?"

Lea waved his own tail enchantingly. "In terms of good looks, not many can surpass me. If someone like that really appears... in order to secure my position as the best-looking in Mengmeng's eyes, I am willing to deflower him."

Cough...

Gu Mengmeng choked on her own saliva and started coughing.

Elvis patted her gently on the back, only to see the still-coughing Gu Mengmeng staring at Lea with a doleful face. "That's not the right way to use the word 'deflower'."

Lea shrugged nonchalantly. "Regardless, with the both of us around, I want to see just who has the ability to enter that door."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. "So you two are going to use me as a marriage bait? What difference is there from a love scam? It's not right to cheat people's feelings."

Lea smacked his lips. “What marriage bait? You are just offering them a chance to woo you. If they cannot beat your partners, it’s because they are too weak. How can they blame you then?”

Gu Mengmeng prodded Lea’s forehead. “Nonsense.”

With a smile, Lea fell backwards to play along to Gu Mengmeng’s prod, before bouncing back to kiss her lightly on the side of her lips. He then sat back down with satisfaction and grinned at Gu Mengmeng’s blushing face.

Gu Mengmeng cleared her throat. “What if... what if the person makes a request which I cannot fulfill? Resurrection and all that...”

Lea’s voice was gentle and calm, and carried with it the power to soothe one’s nerves. “No matter what request the other party makes, Elvis and I will fulfill it. So don’t worry, go and do what you want to do. Whatever may come, just leave it to us.”

Chapter 720 - Everyone Has Their Own Dreams.

Chapter 720: Everyone Has Their Own Dreams.

The next morning, the members of the Eagle-owl tribe in Saint Nazaire prepared to move out. The beasts of flight had their own ways, and their method of spreading the news was faster and would reach a wider audience.

As the only one who knew the route, Ian went to the Snake King valley to transmit Gu Mengmeng's message to the snake beasts, who then also helped to spread the word that she was offering a reward for finding those treasures..

At the same time, news that the Messenger of the Beast Deity Gu Mengmeng had received Snake's Tear of the Beast Deity, and ascended the position as Saintess of the Snake King valley was also announced.

Gu Mengmeng's move sent forth the new attitude that the Snake King valley was no longer a taboo place, but was under her protection. Whoever dared to invade the Snake King valley must first overcome Wabei, and then ask for her permission.

As such, the notorious Snake King valley once again became a hot topic of discussion.

Under the cooperation of the Bird tribe and the Snake tribe, Gu Mengmeng's message had spread throughout the entire Beast World within 10 days.

Everyone had their own dreams.

Beasts were no different.

As the outside world started bustling about to seek out the treasures, Gu Mengmeng went about settling more practical matters.

She had been to visit Chixuan, who had indeed woken up.

That perverted Cole was treating Chixuan exceptionally well. He not only coaxed him to eat to drink, he brought him along on hunting expeditions to teach him some skills. He took good care of him, and if not for the difference in species, outsiders would have taken Cole to be Chixuan's real father.

All the same, if Gu Mengmeng came to visit Chixuan alone, Cole would welcome her with open arms and treat her with great hospitality. However, if someone else accompanied Gu Mengmeng, whether male or female, Cole would hide Chixuan away and she would not be able to see him for the next few days.

After that happened a few times, Gu Mengmeng understood Cole's intentions.

"You have come." Cole smiled warmly, as if he had been awaiting his wife to return from shopping at the market.

Cole no longer looked like a stray beast since he started taking care of Chixuan, but this only raised Gu Mengmeng's guard against him. No matter how nice he appeared, Gu Mengmeng would never speak a single word towards him.

Going right past Cole, Gu Mengmeng entered his cave. Chixuan was taking an afternoon nap and felt the incoming presence of someone. He immediately raised his head and ears vigilantly towards the entrance of the cave. After recognizing his mother, he relaxed and started howling until Gu Mengmeng sat beside him and he could snuggle into her arms.

Chixuan had yet to evolve and was the only one of her sons to still be in beast form.

Having been through Cole's training, he had become stronger and his fur gleamed. Chixuan's eyes were also spirited and he was obviously being treated well. Nonetheless, Gu Mengmeng still felt she had let her son down.

Kissing Chixuan, she said, "Your brothers all miss you. Wait for mother to gather the treasures, then I will bring you back to reunite with everyone."

"Wo0000~"

This was her own son but Gu Mengmeng couldn't understand what he was saying.

Cole brought over a bowl of fruit and placed it beside Gu Mengmeng. He completely didn't mind her coldness. "The dry season is almost here. Have you prepared your water sources?"

Gu Mengmeng treated Cole as empty air. She refused to eat anything he offered and never answered his questions. She just concentrated on holding her son, looking him over and kissing him.

Chapter 721

Chapter 721: Are You Looking To Get Beaten Up?

“Sauder has some water wells, why don’t you go over there for a spell?”
Despite not receiving any response, Cole continued to talk to Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng hugged Chixuan and kissed his tiny face. “My good son, continue your nap. Mother will leave now and come back tomorrow to visit you.”

With that, Gu Mengmeng placed Chixuan onto the bed and patted him gently on the back. She stood up to leave and didn’t even glance at Cole the entire time.

Watching Gu Mengmeng’s departing back profile, Cole smiled and rubbed Chixuan’s back. “Look, your mother is still throwing a tantrum. It seems like I must continue to cajole her. I will redouble my efforts.”

...

Returning to her own cave, Elvis had already heated up Gu Mengmeng’s bath water for her.

Just as Cole didn’t allow anyone else to come to his cave to visit Chixuan, Elvis and Lea also couldn’t stand the smell of Cole on Gu Mengmeng.

So after her every visit to Chixuan at Cole’s cave, she had to immediately bathe or the two of them would put on black faces.

After a comforting bath, Elvis placed Gu Mengmeng on the bed drowsily. But a familiar feeling dispelled all intentions of sleeping.

Gu Mengmeng sat up after pulling on her snake skin. She sprinted out of the cave and as expected, she saw a massive, familiar-looking snake meandering over.

Hiss hiss hiss~

With a head as huge as a train, the snake was moving with fierce resolution towards Gu Mengmeng's front door.

Gu Mengmeng immediately slapped Wabei to the ground. She raised her eyebrows. "How many times must I tell you? I hate snakes, I hate shit, and I hate snakes that look like shit. Why can't you appear before me in human form? Why must you make me hit you every time, and make me feel like I just grabbed a pile of shit? Isn't it so disgusting?"

Wabei did a flip before morphing into human form. Having shrunk considerably, his jaw was all blue-black. Obviously, Gu Mengmeng had hit him too hard.

"Tsk." Wabei looked at Gu Mengmeng with disdain. "Do you think I like it? The world outside the Snake King valley is too dry. Human legs are so slow that I would dry up if I didn't travel in beast form."

Gu Mengmeng took a step back and sat down. Elvis caught her in a steady embrace. His black tail wrapped around her slender waist and his chest supported her back. Without a word, he used a piece of cloth to wipe Gu Mengmeng's "tainted" hand.

"Why have you come out even though the outside air is not suitable?" Gu Mengmeng asked.

Wabei looked rather awkward. "The days are getting drier and it will be winter season soon. I must hibernate then. If I don't come find you for a fight now, I will have to wait till next year."

Gu Mengmeng smirked. "So you have come all this way just to get beaten up?"

Wabei blushed, as Gu Mengmeng had obviously struck upon the truth. Nonetheless, he stubbornly denied it. "Of course not!"

“Oh.” Gu Mengmeng looked at Wabei with a “please begin your performance” expression. “Then why else have you come looking for me?”

Wabei raised two fingers. “Two things.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and indicated that he should continue. “Yeah, speak.”

Wabei drew back his hand and cleared his throat. “New sprouts have grown out of the fruit you buried in the ground. I think you like to eat that type of fruit... you will be able to taste them again in another 10 to 20 years.”

Chapter 722

Chapter 722: I Am Going To Find My Father To Talk About Life

Gu Mengmeng's heart stirred. Those fruits...

It was that fruit tree kicked down by Snake, right? He had asked his snake beasts to pick all the fruits on that tree for her. Unfortunately, she had been unable to finish the fruits and asked for them to be buried.

She had just tried it on a whim and never expected them to really sprout.

Wabei looked rather awkward and avoided Gu Mengmeng's eyes. He put on a nonchalant face and said, "He said you liked trees, especially that precious one. Now that it has sprouted, I came over to inform you of that. After all, if you are happy, he... will also be happy."

Gu Mengmeng smiled. "Yeah, I know. Thank you Wabei."

Wabei lifted his head. "I put in so much effort just to pass this message to you, of course you should thank me. But... are you going to give me just a verbal word of thanks?"

Gu Mengmeng was stunned. "Aiyo? So you have already thought of a way for me to repay you before coming over... speak. What do I have that the great Wabei wants?"

Looking rather stiff, Wabei said carefully, "The Beast Deity is your father... can you ask him about that person... how is he now?"

Ah, right.

The people of the Beast World believed that they would return to the embrace of the Beast Deity after death.

She said her father was the Beast Deity, so...

Gu Mengmeng smiled. "Alright, I will try."

With that, Gu Mengmeng stood up and turned back to her cave.

Wabei never expected Gu Mengmeng to agree so readily and was taken aback for a moment. He thought Gu Mengmeng would be performing a Heaven Opening rite, to communicate with the Beast Deity. Why had she turned back towards the cave?

"Eh? What are you doing!"

Gu Mengmeng didn't even turn around. "I am going to sleep!"

Wabei was nonplussed. He thought about it... perhaps the Heaven Opening rite was a strenuous activity and she needed to sleep to replenish her energy first?

He had never opened the heavens so he did not know.

As a result, the magnificent and great Wabei behaved like an abandoned dog, obediently squatting underneath a shady spot outside Gu Mengmeng's cave. He drew circles in the dirt with a branch to pass time waiting for her to wake up.

Stroking his own chin, Wabei gave a foolish grin.

So painful, nearly as strong as he was...

Meanwhile, Gu Mengmeng had called Lea and Elvis to her side. "I am going to find my father to talk about life. I don't know how long I will be asleep. You two go about your own matters, there is no need to guard over me. The great Wabei is squatting outside the cave and most people are so scared of him they will shiver as they pass."

Elvis placed Gu Mengmeng on the bed and covered her carefully with a blanket. In a gentle and doting voice, he said, "Don't worry, you just have a good sleep. Lea and I will handle all matters concerning the tribe."

Gu Mengmeng nodded and slowly closed her eyes.

Apart from that time when she bid farewell to Snake, Gu Mengmeng had never made the first move to contact the Beast Deity. Firstly, it was because she was angry he refused to help save her son. Secondly, she blamed him for Snake's death.

But it had been a long time, and Gu Mengmeng had started to let those grievances go.

The Beast Deity. Such a high and mighty external force. It was better to maintain good relations with him.

And so, Gu Mengmeng held onto a positive and amiable attitude as she drifted off to sleep.

Covered in a white fog, one could not tell where one was. Gu Mengmeng smiled. "It is father alright. You knew I am looking for you and you let me in."

An ethereal being walked out of the fog. He did not look old but bore a benevolent face. Rubbing Gu Mengmeng's little head, he said, "There are no overnight grudges between father and daughter. The runaway daughter wishes to return home, how could I not open the door?"

Chapter 723

Chapter 723: Tyrant Senior Who Passed Through Time Fell In Love With Me

Gu Mengmeng felt that since Beast Deity actually liked this type of father-daughter role-playing, then she would go along with it. Just take it that she had lacked paternal love while growing up.

“Since father already knows I am coming back, he must also know the reason?” Gu Mengmeng tilted her head with a smile.

The Beast Deity maintained his benevolent expression and stroked his chin. “Do you want to watch television together?”

Gu Mengmeng raised her brows, looking very much like a rebellious teenage girl.

The Beast Deity didn’t get angry but just grinned. He added mildly. “The movie ‘Tyrant Senior Who Passed Through Time Fell In Love With Me’ starring Snake.”

Gu Mengmeng’s face instantly changed and she gave a sweet smile. “Alright.”

The Beast Deity and Gu Mengmeng sat down there and then. With a wave, the white fog dissipated to reveal a window. It looked like a family-own theater.

Gu Mengmeng didn’t bother to consider whether this was advanced technology or metaphysics. She just focused on finding Snake within the screen.

An ancient European castle having endured the sands of time. The birth of a child bringing hopes of the future for a family.

However, this child was very strange. Right from the moment of birth, he never cried.

His parents were both blue-eyed but his own pupils were green. He was obviously a newborn infant, but bore a foreboding presence.

His grandfather stared at the child for a long while before nodding with gratification. "Our family's future fortunes will all be linked to this child."

One sentence cemented this child's status within the family.

Six years old. The child sat before a computer, his short fingers tapping rapidly on the keyboard. It was 2.59pm and he pressed the enter key. Far away, the shares of a company listed on the stock exchange was attacked without warning and without any chance of retaliation.

The child jumped down from the computer table and looked at his shocked father. He was looking up at him, but his presence was still far more dominating. His tiny face was expressionless as he commanded. "I have completed the buyout that you wanted. So go and change my name to Snake."

Without waiting for his father to reply, he turned and left with his hands crossed behind his back.

The father was dumbstruck for a second after hearing the longest sentence his son had spoken to him since his birth. He watched his son's tiny back profile. Only then, did the father slowly reply with an "Okay".

Eight years old. Snake had already become the head of the family. He seldom bothered himself with the more trivia matters, but his word was final. No one in the family dared to go against any of his express wishes.

This was because, as proven in countless past incidents, he was always right.

Whether it was in the face of danger or opportunity, his instincts were always sharp and his judgment always accurate.

And because of him, an old-money family which had fallen through the years had suddenly risen up again. The past few years saw them regaining their former glory days.

As a result, kidnappers had their eye on this mere, eight-year-old kid.

A car accident with the driver dead on the spot, and Snake missing.

The family anxiously mobilized a search party, but to no avail.

By the time the police were forced to the brink of despair, Snake returned home wearing a tidy western suit and spotless leather shoes. His gait was steady and robust.

No one knew what happened that day and no one knew where those kidnappers had gone. Some time after, news spread that the abandoned factory where Snake was imprisoned had been overrun with snakes. The situation was so bad that even professional snake catchers dared not take a single step in.

Chapter 724

Chapter 724: Tyrant Senior Who Passed Through Time Fell In Love With Me

This elegant prince would fly on a private plane to a Chinese city every weekend, at a certain time and to a certain amusement park, to watch an extremely childish play staged for little kids.

At night, he would head to a nondescript casual eatery to eat a meal which could only be described as coarse and vulgar. Thereafter, he would stand quietly under a street lamp, watching until the last restaurant staff had left, before taking the plane back to his castle.

No one knew why he had such a peculiar hobby. Anyway... most geniuses were weird.

When he was 17 years old, he announced that he would be going to China to study.

The entire family was in a fluster. He was a genius with two Masters degrees from the world's top university, why would he want to go to a third-rate college in China to study some random subject? WHY?!

Faced with his family's strong objections, Snake just smirked and said, "Bringing a family glory is easy. Destroying a family is....even easier."

The next day, Snake had completed the new student applications.

After waiting for 17 years, he would enroll in this college next year.

In this 17 years, he had never interfered with anything in her life as he could not afford the consequences of meddling with cause and effect. As a result, he had watched her quietly as a bystander to her life.

Today, he made the decision to alter the first thing in her life.

There was one position which he would never give up to anyone.

An application to join the club was placed on the table of the president. A robust-looking fourth-year senior looked up to see the new exchange student. This new student had been labeled the coolest dude in school due to his foreign looks.

With a smile, he immediately arranged to approve his application.

Don't ask why. Just take a look at those girls behind him, all just dying to join the club now... what other reason could he need?! Did he need any?! No need!

Snake's presence at S College's formerly-unknown swimming club had turned it into the hottest place to be. But Snake had a principle, which was he would only compete in state-level swimming competitions, and would never join a competition that was held out of S City. It didn't matter who tried to persuade him, he would steadfastly refuse.

Thereafter, a rumor spread through S College.

The coolest dude in school was good in anything, but was unfortunately a mute.

He had not spoken a single word to anyone from day one.

All the most beautiful and sought-after female students had confessed their romantic feelings to him—but he just passed them by without a glance.

Until the second year, two months after the new students enrolled...

A female student stood on the school courtyard holding a letter with a heart-shaped sticker on the envelope. This was a common scene and anyone could see it was a love letter.

"Senior, I like you." Gu Mengmeng handed over the love letter with a lowered head. She did not dare to look into the eyes of the person in front of her.

“Gu...” Before the senior on the receiving end of the confession had time to reply, the love letter in Gu Mengmeng’s hand was snatched away.

A tall and sturdy figure stood between him and Gu Mengmeng, effectively blocking him off. Gu Mengmeng looked up in shock at the person who had snatched away her love letter.

Dark green eyes glinting with malevolence and anger stared back at her. His lips were curled upwards, but the effect was spine-chilling. In a cold voice that was void of any emotion but still held a curious power that made one obey, he said, “A person who already has a boyfriend but is confessing to another person. Do you think that is appropriate?”

Chapter 725

Chapter 725: Tyrant Senior Who Passed Through Time Fell In Love With Me

“A person who already has a boyfriend... who?” Gu Mengmeng was nonplussed and didn’t know what was going on.

Snake took a step forward and leaned over to look into her clear eyes.
“You.”

Gu Mengmeng took an involuntary step back. “Senior has not replied to my confession yet... I...I don’t have a boyfriend.”

Gu Mengmeng took another small step back while Snake took one big step forward. The distance between the two narrowed until Gu Mengmeng could feel the energy emanating from Snake’s body.

“You do.” The two words were spoken gently and filled with ambiguity.

Gu Mengmeng blinked in exasperation. “When did that happen? How come I didn’t know...”

As Snake continued to close in on her, she missed a step and fell backwards.

Snake instantly held onto Gu Mengmeng’s waist and pulled her into his arms. She knocked her nose into his chest, which turned red as her eyes watered from the pain. The satisfaction from catching her in his embrace soothed Snake’s emotions and he stroked her little head contentedly. “I am now officially informing you that from this second onwards, I am your boyfriend. Do you know now?”

Gu Mengmeng stared at Snake as if he had gone mad. She reached out to snatch back her love letter. “That... senior, you might have read too many love stories, but... I don't like you. Give me back my letter... return it to me..."

Gu Mengmeng's petite limbs was no match for Snake. Watching her struggle in his arms, he frowned. "Your first love letter is not written for me... are you sure?"

Gu Mengmeng suddenly felt a cold gust rising from the ground, and was petrified.

Wasn't he the one who had abruptly appeared and spoiled her confession? Why was he behaving so righteously while she was flushing like a ripe tomato?

Feeling inexplicably sheepish, Gu Mengmeng carefully drew herself out from Snake's embrace. With a bitter smile, she said, "Then... senior, you go ahead with your matters... I won't bother you anymore..."

Before she completed her sentence, Gu Mengmeng had already vanished without a trace.

What confession, forget it.

She now felt like her own life was in danger.

Looking at her flee in fear, Snake was happy nonetheless. He smiled and muttered to himself. "Yeah, you have grown more capable. The previous time we met you had just straight away fainted."

The boy whom Gu Mengmeng was confessing to was just about to sneak off when Snake turned around and commanded. "Come over here."

That boy froze on the spot and turned back stiffly. He then stood before Snake like an compliant soldier.

Snake frowned. This guy was not that Prince Charming Senior of the Swimming Club. That fellow had already changed schools after being tormented by Snake... hiss, where did this eyesore come from?

“Which club are you from?” Snake asked.

“Basket... basketball,” The boy answered.

Snake nodded. Perhaps his interference had changed Gu Mengmeng’s interests. Never mind, he would do whatever she liked.

Patting that boy on the shoulder, he said, “Go get a club application and bring it to me at Block A Classroom 9.”

“Y... yes yes.” With that, the boy fled.

Snake turned and walked towards Block A Classroom 9.

Second Meng, I have set up this scene for the past 18 years. Do you think you can escape?

Chapter 726

Chapter 726: I Will Bear The Consequences Of My Own Actions

The fog thickened again and Gu Mengmeng smiled haplessly at the Beast Deity. “Yeah, whether Snake is in human or snake form, I am always terrified standing before him.”

The Beast Deity continued to smile benevolently. He tilted his head at Gu Mengmeng. “Seeing him like that now, are you reassured?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded. “I feel relieved now that I can see he is doing well. It doesn’t matter even if he likes another person. I am contented as long as he can attain happiness.”

The Beast Deity shook his head. “What do you know? Even though he has gone to that world, Snake is still a beast at heart. His love for a person would not change even in death. He would never have a change of heart.”

That’s also true. How could a thousand years of feelings be wiped off in just a few years?

Gu Mengmeng laughed helplessly. “But I am so timid while Snake is so domineering. Going by my personality... I must have been scared witless by him.”

The Beast Deity nodded profoundly. “That is why this “Tyrant Senior Who Passed Through Time Fell In Love With Me” movie will be a pretty long series. If you are interested, come over again to watch it with me?”

Gu Mengmeng smiled. “Are you being a retired, lonely old man appealing to his daughter to visit him regularly? Others call their children back for dinner, while you are asking your daughter to come watch a movie series with you? And a teenage romance flick at that...”

The Beast Deity laughed but didn't say a word.

Gu Mengmeng paused and looked at the Beast Deity. "Was what I just watched all real? You wouldn't be using some kind of magic illusion to trick me, would you?"

The Beast Deity nodded. "Deities cannot lie."

Gu Mengmeng breathed a sigh of relief. She felt a burden lifted off her shoulders.

They might be in different space-time dimensions, but it was great to see Snake happy.

He had previously said that he was the most powerful Beast King ever. He would be the ultimate ruler no matter which dimension he existed in.

At that time, she had thought he was just boasting.

But now, it appeared that he was talking sense.

"Alright, I am leaving now. There is someone waiting outside my cave to hear this news."

The Beast Deity tugged at Gu Mengmeng to have her wait a moment.

Gu Mengmeng turned and looked at the Beast Deity, waiting for him to speak.

The Beast Deity thought for a moment before saying, "Are you really going to seek out those items for Cole?"

Gu Mengmeng smiled "Why? Are you afraid he would activate the Beast King bloodline after getting those treasures, and harm all life?"

The Beast Deity hesitated before nodding.

Gu Mengmeng grinned. "Good. Give me Chixuan's antidote or tell me how to counteract the poison in my son's body. Then I will not help Cole find his treasures. If need be, I can even personally kill him, in any way you please.”

The Beast World sighed and with a frustrated tone meant for a roguish daughter, he said, “You know I cannot meddle in the affairs of the Beast World.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed. “Are you not meddling by asking me not to find those five treasures for Cole then?”

The Beast Deity looked as if he had already guessed she would say that. He didn’t get angry but replied in a mild manner, “I am just worried you don’t know what those five treasures can do, and trigger off a disaster you might regret.”

Gu Mengmeng waved. “Don’t worry. He is a Beast King, so am I. Snake has lived a thousand years more than him, and is still a grand elder of the Beast World. Even if I cannot subdue him, I can still fight to the death with him. I will bear the consequences of my own actions.”

Chapter 727

Chapter 727: Strike Me If You Dare?

Gu Mengmeng turned to leave but the Beast Deity sighed again and said in a low voice. “Which father will want to see his own child perish together with someone else...”

Gu Mengmeng woke up feeling pretty good. She felt as if even the sky looked bluer.

Stretching out lazily, she took the cup of water which Elvis had promptly delivered to her. After taking a sip, she smiled warmly. “Thank you.”

Elvis poked Gu Mengmeng’s head. “Are you thanking me?”

Gu Mengmeng thought about it, oh right.

Elvis had done so much for her. What had he done that could be simply repaid with a superficial word of thanks?

Circling Elvis’ neck, she kissed him before snuggling into his embrace.

Elvis enjoyed this intimate act, which Gu Mengmeng had not done for some time.

His Xiao Meng was getting better by the day. Although still different from before, at least she was behaving nearly the same whenever she was with him and Lea.

That was enough.

As to whether she wanted to save the world or destroy it, he didn’t care. As long as she was happy.

“How long was I asleep?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

Elvis replied, “Two days and one night.”

“What about Wabei? Is he still outside?”

Elvis nodded. “Yeah, he never moved.”

“Let’s go take a look.”

Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng out of the cave without a word.

Her slumber had been restorative and she felt well rested. Her heart felt calm and she knew Snake was getting on rather well. Although she was timid and awkward, and Snake’s overbearing pursuit would just make her run further, but... it might be a good thing to cause a little trouble to Snake?

His life had been too placid, too boring.

With no one daring to rebel against the ultimate ruler of the world, it must have been very lonely after a long while.

Just let herself give him a taste of trouble in that other dimension. It should be pretty good.

With her lips curved in a smile, Gu Mengmeng’s reached out to hit Wabei from behind in a sneak attack.

Wabei was very agile and instantly ducked.

That feeling of suppression was very familiar. Dangerous but with no intention to kill. That was why Wabei knew all along it must be Gu Mengmeng. However...

“He would never do such a sneaky thing. So disgraceful.” Wabei’s face was full of disdain.

Gu Mengmeng shrugged nonchalantly. “He said it before, he is he and I am me. I will act as I please. So, if I like to carry out sneak attacks, so what? Strike me if you dare?”

Wabei rolled up his sleeves and stood up. “Let’s fight then. Who’s afraid of whom!”

Gu Mengmeng pushed Elvis aside and stepped forward with arms wide open. “Come on, hit me. I won’t retaliate. But if you accidentally kill me... you have to answer to the Beast Deity himself.”

For a long while, Wabei pondered seriously over whether to attack her. But looking at Gu Mengmeng’s fearless expression, he really did not dare to strike.

No matter how much power her body held, she was still physically very petite and looked very nondurable.

He had dared to fight her previously as he knew he could not beat her. But now, she was obviously not going to retaliate or duck. How to fight like that?!

What if he really injured her? How could he answer to Snake then?!

After waiting for a long while, Wabei remained motionless. Gu Mengmeng smiled tauntingly. “Eh, are you going to strike me? If not, I am leaving.”

Chapter 728

Chapter 728: I Want To Fight Him.

Wabei wanted to reach out to grab Gu Mengmeng's arm, when he thought of Snake's warning stare. He ended up opening up his arms to block Gu Mengmeng's way. "You cannot leave before telling me how is he?"

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. "I thought you were never going to ask."

Wabei glared at her. "I have waited here for two days and one night. How could I possibly not ask?"

Gu Mengmeng didn't get angry but just sat down. Elvis knew Gu Mengmeng didn't want to talk about Snake in front of him so he turned back into the cave to tidy up the bed she had just slept in.

Wabei sat beside Gu Mengmeng and kept silent for a moment before saying, "I want to know if he is doing well. If he has anyone to fight with..."

Gu Mengmeng raised her head to enjoy the sunlight. "He is doing well very, and is still the one and only mighty Snake. He holds a highly respected and powerful status. However, there doesn't seem to be anyone as formidable as you for Snake to practice his fighting with, and no one who dares to go against him. Nevertheless, don't worry, he is not lonely. Because over there... there is another me accompanying him."

Wabei was shocked. "You can accompany him? Does that mean I can too? Can you bring me over to visit him? I... I want to fight him."

Gu Mengmeng giggled and patted Wabei's shoulder. She shook her head. "I am just the Messenger of the Beast Deity and not the Beast Deity himself. I don't have such a huge ability."

Wabei kept silent for a moment before looking up again at Gu Mengmeng. “What if I can help you find those items you are seeking? As a reward, can you help me appeal to the Beast Deity to let me stay by Snake’s side?”

Gu Mengmeng thought for a moment and nodded. “I can help you appeal, but I cannot guarantee results.”

Wabei nodded seriously. “Good. It’s just Kiss of the Ocean and Love of the Sky and whatever. I can find them for you. By then, remember your promise.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and Wabei left without turning back.

After Wabei left, Elvis reappeared and hugged Gu Mengmeng. “He traveled such a long distance to pick a fight and you let him leave just like that?”

Gu Mengmeng leaned against Elvis. “The weather has been so dry and he has been out here for two days. His snake skin is nearly splitting apart. I can’t bear to strike him...”

Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng’s delicate little face without a word.

The issue of water source...

He and Lea would definitely resolve it.

“I have not been to visit Chixuan for two days. He must be worried sick. I am going to visit my son,” Gu Mengmeng said.

Elvis didn’t object and just escorted her to the borders of Saint Nazaire.

On her own, Gu Mengmeng walked to Cole’s cave and suddenly felt something was not quite right.

She hastily entered the cave to find it empty.

Cole had gone, while Chixuan had also disappeared...

All the daily living essentials had also been emptied out. The cave had obviously been abandoned.

Gu Mengmeng clenched her fists and looked towards a distance. She gritted her teeth. “Cole!”

Gu Mengmeng searched about for a long while but Cole didn’t leave any trace behind. Helpless, she returned to Saint Nazaire to find Lea and Elvis already waiting for her return.

Elvis frowned upon seeing her distressed face.

She had been fine when she woke up. Why the sudden change after visiting Chixuan?

Chapter 729

Chapter 729: Cough Cough Cough, Hurry Up And Show Me Some Concern

After Gu Mengmeng told them about Cole's situation, Lea smiled and poked her little head. "Don't worry, Cole has just brought Chixuan somewhere with a good water source. He might be a stray beast now but is already used to a comfortable lifestyle. He will never endure thirst."

"Really?" Gu Mengmeng was still quite dubious.

Lea nodded his guarantee. With his understanding of Cole, he was sure of it.

Lea was always right.

With this thought, Gu Mengmeng felt more reassured.

Stroking Lea's face, Gu Mengmeng asked with a frown, "Why have you become so skinny? I have just slept for two days and your eye bags have all come out."

Lea's heart warmed on hearing Lea's concern for him, yet he didn't want her to worry. He exaggerated his weak condition and put up a fuss. Wrapping his tail around Gu Mengmeng's arm, he put on a "cough cough cough, hurry up and show me some concern" face. He whined. "There are not enough water sources in the territory. I have been working so hard these past two days to seek out new water sources, but to no avail... look, my legs have slimmed down from all that running around. I need Mengmeng to massage them."

Seeing that he still had the heart to make a fuss, she knew that he should be fine even though he looked rather tired.

As such, she gave him a push and snuggled back into Elvis' arms. "What was the situation like in the past?"

Seeing that Gu Mengmeng wasn't convinced by his performance, Lea stopped his charade and put on a serious face. "In the past, there were only three females and over a hundred males. But this year, we have 19 females and more than 300 males. So..."

Gu Mengmeng propped her cheek on her palm. She had forgotten about the increase in population.

Gu Mengmeng remembered Sandy telling her before that water became scarce once the winter season arrived. Even females were only allowed to use the water for drinking, and could not use the water for bathing. Males generally didn't even touch the water, and would just drink the blood of their prey as a water source.

It could be seen how urgent the water situation was in Saint Nazaire during the winter dry season.

Gu Mengmeng held her head as she thought for a moment. "Apart from that small stream and that lake, what other designated water sources do we have?"

Elvis shook his head. "That small stream still has water and Lea has already instructed the males to hurry up and make more wooden pails to store the water. However, there is also a limit to the amount of water we can store in those pails. Even if we don't finish drinking it in a few days, it would eventually all leak out. But other than that, we don't really have any other better methods."

The wooden pails were constructed by digging a hole into the middle of a piece of wood. Although there were no gaps, wood itself was permeable and was not suitable as a material for long-term storage.

Gu Mengmeng thought for a moment before standing up. "Come with me for a walk."

Elvis and Lea did not hesitate. No problem was more important than Gu Mengmeng.

So what if there was no water source? They would not let Gu Mengmeng go thirsty even if they had to go steal from another tribe.

As for the life and death of others... what did it matter to them?

Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng while Lea walked beside him. Walking out of Elvis' territory, Auretin and Ian also followed.

Yeah, the entourage of the Messenger of the Beast Deity was rather complete.

“Every year during the dry season, is there any part of our territory where the vegetation does not seem that affected?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

Lea's eyes brightened. “Do you mean...”

Chapter 730

Chapter 730: Happy At Her Own Little Mischief

“Isn’t the reason why Sauder doesn’t lack water during the dry season because they have water wells? Gu Mengmeng continued Lea’s sentences.

Lea couldn’t conceal the amusement on his face. “How could I have forgotten. You are the Messenger of the Beast Deity and can appeal to the Beast Deity to bestow upon us the Eye of Life.

Gu Mengmeng rolled her eyes. The previous Messenger of the Beast Deity had given everything in this world names which felt so immature.

Fire was just fire, why did it have to be called Flame Devil.

A well was a well, why did it have to be called the Eye of Life.

Elvis stiffened as he looked at Gu Mengmeng. “We... can also have our own Eye of Life?”

It meant a water source that would never go dry. The drought season would never again be a test of survival for them.

Gu Mengmeng sighed and held Elvis’ face in her hands as she stared into his eyes. “I am different from Wang Xiaoxin. I particularly hate making everything sound so mysterious and fantastical. Let’s be serious. That thing is called a water well, can you remember that?”

Elvis supported Gu Mengmeng’s tiny butt with one hand while his other hand held the back of her head. He drew her face towards his lips and kissed her.

The clear, blue pupils were full of pride and doting. “You always manage to surprise me. I wonder how many secrets do you still hold.”

Gu Mengmeng blushed from being kissed. She intoned mischievously. “I have many secrets and I won’t tell you any. I won’t tell you any, I won’t tell you any.”

Elvis saw that Gu Mengmeng was so happy at her own little mischief that he didn’t pursue.

They had a lifetime to slowly get to know each other, and for him to discover more of her little secrets.

While Elvis and Gu Mengmeng were flirting with each other, Lea was meticulously recalling the geographical landscape of Saint Nazaire. “Saint Nazaire has about seven to eight areas where the vegetation remains lush during the yearly dry season. Should we go to the nearest one to take a look?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. “We should go to the lowest area first.”

Gu Mengmeng was unable to explain to them why she would know such a mysterious skill.

You may not believe it even if I told you. A girl living in the city and running around doing various odd jobs—how did she know the trick to digging a well?

Yeah, this was a mysterious question but the answer was very unique.

Gu Mengmeng got this knowledge from a romance novel...

A powerful female warrior god passed through time to an unknown era, bringing with her an abused mother and a weak brother. She then developed the family fortunes and met a handsome boy. The trick to digging a well was mentioned somewhere in that story.

Gu Mengmeng was acting in accordance to that author’s instructions, and not just plucking things out of thin air.

Lea lead Gu Mengmeng and Elvis to an area covered in dense vegetation. As the dry season had already begun, the surrounding vegetation had already shown some signs of yellowing. However, the plants within this area continued to flourish.

Gu Mengmeng nodded and looked around. She plucked off a thick, sturdy branch of about 1.8 meters in length.

She placed the tip of the branch on the ground and drew a circle in the dirt. Gu Mengmeng then patted off her hands. “Go and get some men over to dig a hole in this circle I have marked out.”

“Arhwoo!” Elvis’ howl resonated across the entire Saint Nazaire.

Chapter 731

Chapter 731: That Romance Novel Didn't Pull One Over Me After All.

How much blind faith did the people of Saint Nazaire have in Gu Mengmeng?

Hmm...

It could more or less be discerned from this digging expedition.

All the females and males from the tribe came. They were highly curious over that circle of dirt.

The 18 females stood closest to the circle and scrutinized it, as if they could eventually analyze what kind of trick was it.

The males all stood compliantly beside Elvis, waiting for his command.

After that battle with the stray beasts and Gu Mengmeng's accidental loss of control, there were no longer any first-level beasts in Saint Nazaire.

All those who stood here now had pretty strong combat prowess.

Elvis ordered everyone to dig into the ground according to Gu Mengmeng's circle. There was no explanation, just an order. The males all flashed their claws and started digging.

Actually, they didn't need to dig too deep. A depth of about three to four meters was enough.

But without any digging machinery, it was hard work to dig manually by hand.

Since she had ordered the males to perform that task, Gu Mengmeng naturally had to take care of the females in return.

Luckily these females were all fans of Gu Mengmeng. They clamored around her, hoping to hear her stories.

But this time, they didn't want to hear stories about Yoo Sijin. Instead, they wished to hear about Snake. Information about Gu Mengmeng's experience in the Snake King valley had spread like wildfire, but none of the versions were wholly accurate. Each version was more fantastical than the one before, making everyone itch for more details. Now that they had the rare chance to hear the story from Gu Mengmeng herself, of course they must seize it.

Gu Mengmeng couldn't fend off their enthusiasm and so started to narrate her experience right from the moment she opened her eyes in the Snake King valley.

How she entered, she could not say...

She had promised Ian never to let anyone know she rode on his back.

When she reached the part where Ellie was trying to kill her, the eyes of all the females went red with anger. "If not for the kindness of the Messenger to let her stay on, she would have been snatched away by stray beasts. And she still behaved so wickedly?"

"She is obviously a complete female, but pretended to be a half-beast female to infiltrate the tribe. She had ulterior motives right from the beginning."

"I was thinking why was she always going over to Sandy's place. So she was going there to sow discord. Luckily Sandy wasn't tricked, if not..."

Gu Mengmeng didn't respond to their comments.

Hatred for Ellie?

She did not have the right to.

It was just a matter of different circumstances.

Being beaten into such a pitiful state, she could only blame herself for being too weak and unable to protect her own children as well as herself. It was also because of her that Elvis and Lea had to endure the punishment from the mating contract.

Anyway, she was already dead. All grievances should be in the past.

It was not worth it to continue holding grudges against a dead person. After all, no matter how much you hated her, there was no way you could snatch her back from hell to kill her all over again.

The conversation had completely gone off-topic as the females conducted a heated debate.

Three women made a market and four a fair. There were 19 females here... heh, it was like a farmers' wholesale market.

Gu Mengmeng did not intend to pull them back to the original topic. She let them go on chiding Ellie with indignant righteousness.

All the way until a cheer erupted from the males at the digging site, did the females finally pause in their discussion.

Gu Mengmeng rose and walked to the side of the well. She looked down and smiled.

That romance novel didn't pull one over me after all.

Chapter 732

Chapter 732: Auretin Guards The Well

They had no bricks so Gu Mengmeng had some people retrieve two large stone slates and then directed Elvis and Lea to demonstrate how to cut the stone slates evenly into multiple pieces, before setting them at the mouth of the well.

Lea had seen water wells before at Sauder so he more or less knew how to perform the task. As such, there was no need for Gu Mengmeng to worry.

After settling everything, the problem of water shortage no longer existed in Saint Nazaire.

The atmosphere of the whole tribe was energized with the success of the water well.

The days passed and the resolution of Saint Nazaire's water shortage issue slowly morphed into the eye of a storm.

Envy and jealousy spread uncontrollably. From small scuffles over discreet stealing of water to wanton robbing in broad daylight.

Yes, Saint Nazaire had Elvis and Lea holding the fort, and there was also Auretin and Ian standing guard. But so as to not let their own females suffer, so what if they had to die for it?

The area beside the well had turned barren as thick blood permeated the earth. If not for the taste of blood Gu Mengmeng detected in the water she drank, she might never know about the conflict caused by that well.

When Gu Mengmeng led Elvis and Lea to the well, someone from goodness-knows-which tribe was just fighting with Auretin.

The opponent was obviously not a match for Auretin and had already been restrained on the ground by Auretin's foot.

Just one strike and the opponent would be disemboweled on the spot.

"Stop." Gu Mengmeng frowned as she walked over.

Seeing someone approaching, Auretin halted and morphed back before walking to Gu Mengmeng's side. He carried out his bodyguard role very professionally.

That person had been beaten into a daze and could no longer see clearly. He remained stunned for a long while before flipping over and crawling on the ground with fear and trepidation.

Gu Mengmeng was somewhat astounded. Earlier, that person was still looking resolute despite the beating by Auretin. Why had his demeanor suddenly changed?

Could it be Snake's domineering air had leaked out of her again?

"Messenger... the great Messenger... I just wish to let the female in my family have some water... I deserve to die for offending the great Messenger. Please don't be angry at Shage. Just punish me. Please!"

Gu Mengmeng chuckled, feeling exasperated.

The only thing that could strike fear in these tough males was their own females.

Gu Mengmeng walked to the side of the well and looked in. The water level still looked about the same.

This well was obviously drawing from an underground stream and probably had an infinite supply. There was absolutely no need to fight over it like that.

However, the well was located within Saint Nazaire. If they allowed others to enter to retrieve the water, it would become a matter of territorial rights.

Elvis and Lea had fought tooth and nail for Saint Nazaire. Even if she could not expand the territory, there was no reason for her to allow others in. With this thought, Gu Mengmeng looked down at the cowering male. “Does your tribe have a witch doctor?”

The male shivered, thinking perhaps he was going to be sacrificed to the heavens as a punishment. Never mind, as long he didn’t drag Shage down with him.

Gritting his teeth, he nodded. “Great Messenger, our tribe... has a witch doctor.”

Gu Mengmeng gave a light “mmm” before saying, “From now on, this well will be opened to the public every afternoon at a designated time. Just have your witch doctor come over to collect.”

Chapter 733

Chapter 733: How Did A Nice Water Well Become A Murder Scene

The male raised his head. His face was full of shock and confusion. She had asked him whether they had a witch doctor... not to sacrifice him to the heavens but to give out water?

Gu Mengmeng continued in a mild tone. "Witch doctors are members of the holy order and can be counted as my subordinates. I permit them to use my name for the benefit of their tribes. But apart from the witch doctor, anyone else who enters Saint Nazaire would be punished as a trespasser. In addition... they would be stripped of all water-collecting privileges from then on. Did I make myself clear?"

"Yes... yes... I hear you loud and clear." The male nodded vigorously at Gu Mengmeng. He then crawled back up and fled.

Gu Mengmeng sighed and looked at Lea and Elvis haplessly. "How did a nice water well become a murder scene. What happened?"

Elvis frowned and twisted his lips. He pondered for a long moment before speaking. "What happens if we distribute the water to them and you don't have enough to drink?"

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. "Just because of that, you two threatened the lives of all those who came to get water?"

Elvis nodded. "The lives of the females in our tribe depend on this water well. We males need to guard it with our lives."

Gu Mengmeng leaned into Elvis' arms. "Why didn't you tell me that there were people coming to steal it?"

Elvis sighed. “I didn’t want to trouble you over such a small matter.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled. “Yeah, if I continued to remain in the dark, did you intend to keep killing all those who came to get water?”

Elvis nodded solemnly.

Gu Mengmeng didn’t know what to say. “Lea, why didn’t you try to stop this?”

Lea shrugged. “Why should I stop it? If they had come right out and appealed to us nicely, I might have accommodated some. But since they wanted to secretly steal from us, we cannot let them off.”

Gu Mengmeng felt rather helpless. The Beast World never had rules regarding appealing for help. People just snatched away whatever took their fancy.

Waving her hand, she said, “Never mind. Inform the nearby tribes that if they need water, send their witch doctors to Saint Nazaire to negotiate. Anyone who still trespasses will be charged with defying the Deity.”

“Yes.” Auretin responded before taking his leave.

He was the Messenger’s guard and it naturally fell to him to arrange for the dissemination of her message.

Gu Mengmeng clicked her tongue twice. “Look at all that blood everywhere. It’s horrifying.”

Elvis drew Gu Mengmeng into his embrace and kissed her petite face. “I will have my men get fresh soil from elsewhere and give this area an overhaul.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded before following Elvis and Lea back to their cave.

Lea was put in charge of all matters concerning the collection of water by the witch doctors. Gu Mengmeng was then free to spend her days in leisure, sunbathing on a large rock with her three sons.

Two months have passed in the blink of an eye. The Saint Nazaire tribe had an Eye of Life and news of the Messenger of the Beast Deity permitting witch doctors from the various tribes to collect water spread throughout the Beast World.

It was just a small matter to Gu Mengmeng but it once again augmented her reputation in the Beast World. People discussed about her as if she was an angel descended from the heavens...

But there was a sudden change in the situation. Lea was just assembling the group of witch doctors who was to collect water that day, when a head slowly bobbed up towards the surface of the well.

Everyone was shocked. This well was no longer just the lifeline of Saint Nazaire. The survival of several nearby tribes also depended on it. What would happen if someone else seized it?!

Chapter 734

Chapter 734: No More Water? Well Was Sealed

Lea's claws were already reaching towards that head, not to slice it but to draw it out from the well.

There must not be any blood here. What would Mengmeng drink if the water source was tainted?

But that head was very cautious. It immediately dipped back below the waters with a rippling sound the moment it saw Lea approaching.

Lea frowned impatiently. The waters would be completely polluted if anyone drowned inside.

He quickly went forward and leaned into the well to take a look. A funnel of water shot out. Lea quickly ducked but his face was still scratched by the water. A drop of blood trickled down the side of his face. Lea frowned as a murderous look surfaced in his eyes.

This was a face which Mengmeng had praised multiple times before. And it was wounded by him!

When Lea looked into the well again, it was with a murderous expression.

"I want to meet the Messenger of the Beast Deity." A voice echoed out from the bottom of the well.

"Who are you?" Lea asked in a low voice. His tone was even and casual, but the witch doctors standing beside him had all broken out in cold sweat, their hearts pounding with fear.

The person in the well didn't speak again. Only the rippling sound of water could be heard.

His meaning was very clear. As long as the Messenger of the Beast Deity did not come, he would stake out the well and not allow anyone to draw even a single drop of water from it.

The well was very important, but Gu Mengmeng was even more so.

Lea would never allow such an antagonistic person with unclear origins get close to Gu Mengmeng. As a result, this incident was suppressed by Lea.

The witch doctors didn't manage to get any water, but they dared not say anything. They just waited for Lea to think up of a plan to get that fellow out of the well.

But...

How long could this matter be kept under wraps?

Gu Mengmeng felt something was wrong when their water supply at home started dwindling.

The well drew water from an underground stream and the supply should be limitless. How could there be no water at home?

When she brought the children to Sandy's place to play, she discovered that there was also no water at Sandy's house. Sandy's mouth was so dry that it was cracking, and she was just lying around too lethargic to move. She only forced herself to sit up when she saw that Gu Mengmeng had come.

"You also have no water?" Gu Mengmeng asked.

Sandy nodded. "Collin went to the well two days ago but returned with a grim face. He refused to tell me what was going on and just said that there is no water for the time being. Gu Mengmeng, do you know what happened to the well? Has the water supply been used up?"

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. "I also don't know what's going on. But... Lea and Elvis have been acting rather strangely. They will immediately change the subject whenever I mention the well. They have also obviously been keeping me from going over there."

Sandy tugged at Gu Mengmeng's arm. "Why don't we dig another one? I am really too thirsty..."

Gu Mengmeng patted Sandy's hand. "Why don't you accompany me to the well to see what is going on? If there is really no more water, then we will dig another one."

Sandy's eyes brightened the moment she heard that there could be water to drink. Without another word, she immediately stood up to lead Gu Mengmeng in the direction of the well.

Subsequently...

Gu Mengmeng was somewhat stunned. Who had dug up Saint Nazaire until it looked like a whack-a-mole arena?

"This..." Sandy was also very shocked. They looked at each other speechlessly.

"Come, let's go over to take a look." Gu Mengmeng led Sandy over to the side of the well. They discovered a massive rock covering the well, completely sealing it off.

Chapter 735

Chapter 735: Fei Rui, Prince Of The Mermaid Tribe

Gu Mengmeng loosened Sandy's grip and asked her to stay back and wait.

Sandy nodded compliantly. She continued to watch Gu Mengmeng with her neck stretched out.

Gu Mengmeng walked to the side of the well and patted the massive rock. She would have immediately given up in the past, but now...

With one smack, that huge rock flew far away and landed on the ground with a thud, creating a great dust cloud.

Gu Mengmeng peeped into the well but couldn't see anything. A jet of water shot out.

Thanks to Snake, Gu Mengmeng's reflexes had become extremely agile and she ducked slightly to the side. In that startling moment, the person in the well also saw Gu Mengmeng's face.

After a moment of silence, a careful voice came out of the well. "Are you... the Messenger of the Beast Deity?"

There was someone there?

Gu Mengmeng's first impression was that someone must have fallen in.

Had this become a palace drama of the Qing dynasty? Using a rock to seal up the well after throwing someone in? To destroy evidence of a body?

But that also didn't seem right. Everyone in Saint Nazaire and the surrounding tribes viewed this well as a precious lifeline. There were so many ways to kill a man. Who would desecrate this well just for that purpose?

“Who are you?” Gu Mengmeng asked without responding to the person’s question.

Slowly, a head surfaced. Bright eyes carrying a cautious glint surveyed Gu Mengmeng from the edge of the well. After a long while, he finally spoke. “May I know... if you are the Messenger of the Beast Deity?”

Gu Mengmeng had seen countless handsome men since coming to the Beast World. The three marks on her already symbolized three drop-dead gorgeous men. Even so, Gu Mengmeng fell into a trance as she gazed into those eyes.

It had nothing to do with sexual desire or other related passions, it was because...

It was as if through those eyes, one could see the entire Milky Way flowing right before you. Completely unsullied and without the slightest bit of pollutant.

It was so pristine that one could not resist the urge to protect it, to not allow any filth to taint its purity.

It went without saying that Gu Mengmeng was willing to believe that the owner of such a pair of eyes could not be a bad person.

Gu Mengmeng’s voice softened a few degrees as she replied in a coaxing tone. “Yes, I am the Messenger of the Beast Deity, Gu Mengmeng. You? Who are you and why are you in the well?”

The owner of that pair of eyes reached out two hands to pull himself up the walls of the well. His small head emerged and with a twist of his lips, he replied, “I am Fei Rui, Prince of the Mermaid Tribe.”

Fei Rui’s face was the kind that made one feel like protecting him. It was no exaggeration to say that Fei Rui triggered Gu Mengmeng’s maternal instincts even more than the four little ones. Bright, intelligent eyes, a round, pert nose and pouting, pink lips. He looked just like a mistreated child. With his round baby face, he gave off a cute and adorable vibe.

Mermaid...

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “Are you unable to come out onto the ground because you have no legs?”

Fei Rui was slightly taken aback and shook his head. “I am a second-level Beast and can morph into human form. But it would be in contempt of the deity’s authority if I were to step out without the Messenger’s permission... so I don’t dare to.”

Gu Mengmeng turned into a doting parent when faced with Fei Rui’s eyes. She reached out to him and grinned. “I permit you to enter Saint Nazaire. Come out, Fei Rui.”

Chapter 736

Chapter 736: Could You Let Me Become One Of Your Partners?

Fei Rui timidly reached out one tiny hand. He was obviously very scared but struggled to trust in Gu Mengmeng. His demeanor nearly melted Gu Mengmeng's heart.

Without much effort, she pulled Fei Rui out of the well. He could have climbed out himself but was just waiting for permission.

"Thank you." Fei Rui was very obedient. His smile revealed an eye tooth and he looked just like your neighbor's little brother.

His hands were cool and felt very much like Snakel. Gu Mengmeng's eyes dimmed a little. She knew Snakel was doing well but she could not help feeling a sense of longing.

Gu Mengmeng brought Fei Rui back to her own cave. Worried about leaving Gu Mengmeng alone with this stranger, Sandy also tagged along.

Fei Rui expressed curiosity over everything. He kept gazing about and was full of questions. He wanted to reach out and touch all sorts of things, but was unwilling to let go of that first touch of warmth. In this manner, he followed Gu Mengmeng into the cave and sat compliantly to the side with both hands on his knees. His bright eyes tracked Gu Mengmeng steadily and he behaved like a good student listening attentively to his teacher.

"Why were you in the well?" Gu Mengmeng spoke in a gentle voice, as if she was a teacher addressing her favorite student.

Fei Rui pouted as he replied bashfully. "I wanted to travel along that little river, but it had dried up. So I had no choice but to swim over along the underground stream. I noticed a strange opening and came up through there, but was attacked... I counterattacked and that opening was subsequently sealed..."

Hearing Fei Rui's sob story, Gu Mengmeng just felt like hugging him and buying him a sweet to comfort him.

"So you have come to find me?" Gu Mengmeng asked again.

Fei Rui nodded. Under Gu Mengmeng's encouraging gaze, he spoke again. "I know where the Kiss of the Ocean is. Can I exchange it for a wish?"

Kiss of the Ocean...

Gu Mengmeng's heart skipped a beat.

Her heart was in turmoil. On one hand, she wished to use those five treasures to exchange for Chixuan. On the other hand, she felt that handing over those five treasures to Cole was an extremely dangerous matter. She subconsciously hoped that she would never find them.

But now that one had found its way here, perhaps it was heaven's will.

Gu Mengmeng calmed herself. "Yeah, of course you can. Tell me about your wish."

Fei Rui squeezed his fingers and took several deep breaths. He then raised his head and looked at Gu Mengmeng with resolution. "Could you let me become one of your partners?"

Pfft...

Gu Mengmeng nearly choked to death on her own saliva.

She looked at Fei Rui in exasperation. "Do you like me?"

Fei Rui lowered his head and thought for a moment. He shook it. "I don't know what is like. But I need your power to protect my sister."

Before Gu Mengmeng could question him further, two shadows descended.

Gu Mengmeng came face to face with a wide, sturdy chest. She looked up into a pair of clear, blue eyes.

“If you wish to become Xiao Meng’s partner, you must challenge her current partners. Do you wish to challenge Lea or me?” Elvis’ face was calm, without any trace of anger or rage. Nonetheless, it held a sharp malevolence which made one break out in a cold sweat.

Lea waved his huge tail and gave an overly “gentle” smile at Fei Rui. “Why don’t you challenge me. Let’s settle both new and old scores once and for all.”

Chapter 737

Chapter 737: You Just Want To Protect Him, Right?

Gu Mengmeng stood up and shielded Fei Rui. She crossed her arms over her chest and looked at Elvis and Lea. Somehow, this felt just like a case of schoolyard bullying. Anyone with the slightest sense of righteousness would not stand by and let it happen.

“The two of you are a fifth-level and a third-level beast. How could you bully a second-level beast? Fei Rui is a mermaid and his combat prowess on land would not even be as high as a first-level beast. What kind of satisfaction would you two get even if you won?”

Not only did Gu Mengmeng’s defense of Fei Rui fail to save him, it made Elvis’ and Lea’s faces grow even darker.

Elvis’ huge hand rested on Lea’s shoulder and pulled him back behind him. He then straightened himself and stood before Gu Mengmeng with a grim look. “You like him?”

Gu Mengmeng sighed. “Fei Rui is just a child.”

Elvis pulled Gu Mengmeng into his embrace with one arm and then pointed at Fei Rui. “A second-level beast is already an adult. Not a child.”

Here we go again...

In Elvis’ eyes, every male in the world wished to get it on with Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng said in frustration, “He sought me out to present the treasure, just so he can save his sister as the reward.”

Elvis’ face was still black. “Yeah, and the way to save his sister is to be your partner.”

Gu Mengmeng felt somewhat exasperated. “He has lived his whole life in the ocean and has never seen the world. He doesn’t know that there are many ways to save a person. If his goal is just to save his sister, we can suggest other methods to him, right?”

Elvis remained stubborn. “But he had already asked to become your partner. So either Lea or I must step up to the challenge.”

Gu Mengmeng held her cheek feeling extremely frustrated. She looked at Fei Rui’s confused and guarded expression. She felt just like Cinderella’s evil stepmother, while Elvis and Lea... erm... were probably Cinderella’s two elder stepsisters.

Gu Mengmeng stared helplessly at the icy-cold Elvis and Lea. “We must still test the goods first, right? What if he can’t give us the Kiss of the Ocean? Then we don’t have to talk about a reward anymore, right?”

Elvis kept quiet but his heavy breathing indicated that he was angry. Very, very angry.

Lea waved his tail and rested one arm on Elvis’ shoulder. He looked accusingly at Gu Mengmeng. “You just want to protect him, right?”

Gu Mengmeng did not know how to respond to Lea’s words and stammered. “Look, Fei Rui has traveled a long way from home to deliver this news. We can’t bully him just because he is not from around here, right? That would be so unfriendly, wouldn’t it be?”

Lea picked up Gu Mengmeng’s hand and gently placed it on his own face. He continued in his accusing tone. “But he nearly destroyed my face. You won’t like me anymore if my face was ruined by a scar. I cannot take this lying down. Why are you not standing up for me?”

Gu Mengmeng’s mind stalled for a few seconds. She felt like she had walked into the wrong play.

Such a... presumptuous question. Was this still the carefree Beast World? Or was she now in “Empresses in the Palace” or “War and Beauty”?

Gu Mengmeng fell into a long daze as she looked at Lea's "feeble and long-suffering" expression. She finally replied, "So you were the one who attacked Fei Rui and used a rock to seal up that well?"

Lea took a step back and stared at Gu Mengmeng as if she was being completely heartless. He replied with teary eyes. "You don't care about my face, you are just concerned for him... sob sob sob. Mengmeng, did you have a change of heart?"

Chapter 738

Chapter 738: Indulging My Jealousy, How Can I Repay You

“Sorry, I apologize.” A tiny voice drifted softly from the corner.

Lea’s face froze. He turned to look at the earnest, but frightened-looking Fei Rui. Why did he feel like he had just fallen into a trap?!

Fei Rui’s apology made his earlier actions appear exceptionally unreasonable.

Lea gritted his teeth and tossed out a casual sentence. “Green tea bitch.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled as she recalled her earlier explanations to Lea and Elvis on the concept of green tea bitch and white lotus flower. Her heart lightened considerably.

She started to understand why guys always had a “you are being unreasonable” expression when their girlfriends scolded someone else a green tea bitch.

Actually...

She really had no amorous intentions towards a fellow as young and naive as Fei Rui.

Gu Mengmeng would never take advantage of such a vulnerable boy.

Gu Mengmeng held Lea’s face and kissed him with a smile. “You still look very handsome when jealous. But I like your confident face more.”

Lea threw a disdainful sideways glance at Fei Rui. The corners of his lips curled up slightly, but he remained silent. Nevertheless, the gloating and provocation on his face was clear to Gu Mengmeng. That expression fully exhibited his typical “Gu Mengmeng’s heart will always belong to us” attitude.

Lea had treated Snake in the same way previously. But at least Snake was a highly capable adult male. Treating Fei Rui in the same manner... he was making too much of a fuss over nothing.

However, being so treasured by her males and being able to cause them such anxiety—yeah, it was a pretty good feeling.

Faced with a romantic rival, how could Lea allow Gu Mengmeng to escape with just a superficial kiss?

With one hand cradling the back of her head, he drew Gu Mengmeng back into a deep kiss, until all her energy had been expended and she fell limp against him. Only then did he finally release her.

He lifted her chin gently. Satisfaction filled his slanted eyes while his lips curled seductively. “Indulging my jealousy... how can I repay you? How about... I give myself to you?”

Gu Mengmeng discovered that she had become increasingly sensitive to matters of the heart. The desperate thirst of that lonely soul which had been devoid of any affection for thousands of years was pressing. And so, faced with Lea’s teasing, she could barely control herself.

She patted Lea in a show of bravado. Lifting her petite face, she said, “You have been mine all along. Your mark is already on my ear. Using my own things to repay me? Only you can think of something like that.”

Lea just rested one arm on Elvis’ shoulder, while his other hand lightly stroked the fox mark on Gu Mengmeng’s left ear. With a blissful glint in his eyes, Lea chuckled and licked his lower lip. He gave Gu Mengmeng a slavering look. “Mengmeng, say that again.”

“What... say what...” Gu Mengmeng was blushing furiously as her breathing turned uneven.

She was being held in Elvis' arms while being teased by Lea right in the open public. What was going on?

So shameful, but her heart was beating so fast.

"Say I am yours." Lea's lips gradually came closer until it was nearly upon the tip of Gu Mengmeng's nose.

Gu Mengmeng shrank bashfully into Elvis' arms. Nevertheless, with her face all red, she said in a small voice. "You... you are mine..."

Lea pecked Gu Mengmeng lightly on the lips before drawing his lips to her left ear. He breathed warm air into her ear as he whispered in a raspy voice. Each word thudded upon Gu Mengmeng's heart. "That was the most romantic thing anyone has ever said to me. I am yours, for you to take as and when you want... for you to use as and how you please."

Chapter 739

Chapter 739: A Benefit That Belongs Only To Elvis And I

Gu Mengmeng felt as if her heart was nearly jumping out. She gave Lea a hasty push and buried her red face into Elvis' chest without another word.

Lea just laughed in high spirits and and prodded Gu Mengmeng's small head. "Alright, come on out. I won't tease you anymore. Elvis will kill me if you suffocate in there."

"Ugh!" The more Lea prodded, the more Gu Mengmeng hid. She really felt like she could not face the world now.

It wouldn't matter that much if Sandy was the only person around. But Fei Rui was also here, and he was still a kid...

Flirting right in front of a kid, was it appropriate?

Elvis smiled with warmth and resignation as he watched Lea and Gu Mengmeng's interaction.

Luckily, compared with that fragile and innocent-looking Fei Rui, Gu Mengmeng clearly still preferred Lea's flirtatious and slutty ways.

It seemed like there won't be another member added to their family. Elvis breathed a little easier at that. He looked at Fei Rui again, who did not exhibit the slightest sign of jealousy or envy at Gu Mengmeng and Lea's flirting. He just watched on with a face full of befuddlement and wonder, as if the door to a whole new world had been opened before him.

Those eyes...

They were really pure beyond anything of this world.

Elvis lifted one idle hand and rested it on Lea's shoulder. "Know when to stop."

Lea had also been observing Fei Rui and discovered that although he had requested to be Gu Mengmeng's partner, he did not appear to understand what it meant.

In other words, he did not have any intentions towards Gu Mengmeng.

After completing his analysis and exchanging a look with Elvis, they both ranked Fei Rui as a second-level threat who required further observation but did not necessitate any special precautions.

Only Sandy and those four little ones were still ranked as first-level threats.

As for the people ranked as second-level threats...

Erm, everyone else who was not a first-level threat fell into that category.

Lea made a big pot of stewed meat from the food supply provided by Auretin, who never failed to appear during mealtimes.

With Sandy's chowhound personality, she completely ignored Lea's and Elvis' "why are you still here" looks when faced with that big pot of food. She tugged at Gu Mengmeng's little hand and sat beside her, eating to her heart's content.

It was Fei Rui's first time seeing land-bound beasts having a meal, and was bewildered but not taken aback. He felt the urge to try the food when he saw them eating so ravenously.

Gu Mengmeng pulled back his outreached hand and shook her head. "This is very hot and you will be hurt if you touch it with your bare hands."

"Oh." Fei Rui lowered his head like a child who had misbehaved. He continued to stare at the delicious-smelling meat, as he swallowed his saliva in a pitying manner.

Gu Mengmeng used her chopsticks to pick up a few pieces of meat and placed them in clear water to wash off the chilies. She then passed the bowl and a pair of chopsticks to Fei Rui with a smile. “Here, this is for you to eat.”

Fei Rui’s eyes brightened and his smile was so pure that it made Gu Mengmeng feel as dazzled as if she was immersed in the Milky Way.

Subconsciously influenced, she returned with an equally dazzling smile.

But this interaction triggered Lea’s jealousy.

Lea held Gu Mengmeng’s face and kissed it. He took over the few pieces of meat that were still in her mouth and swallowed them.

Looking at Gu Mengmeng’s bashful little face, he narrowed his eyes. “I am not that generous as to allow others to enjoy your smile. That is a benefit that belongs only to Elvis and I.”

Chapter 740

Chapter 740: Using My Name to Impose Your Will On Others?

After lunch, Auretin was in charge of cleaning up, while Sandy left after finally being unable to bear Lea's and Elvis' black faces.

Thereafter, Fei Rui sat in a corner faced with a grinning Gu Mengmeng and the grim-looking Elvis and Lea standing on either side of her. He felt like he was standing before a tribunal.

Gu Mengmeng always had patience with beautiful children. Smiling from ear to ear, she said, "Alright, now tell me properly. What happened to your sister? Why do you need me to save her?"

At the mention of his sister, Fei Rui's face was traced with worry. Twisting his lips, he replied, "My sister is the most beautiful Princess in the Mermaid Tribe. She is intelligent and kind, which incurred Dora's jealousy. Dora stole the Giant Fish Tribe's treasure and made my sister the scapegoat. As a result, the leader of the Giant Fish Tribe kidnapped my sister..."

Gu Mengmeng wrinkled her brows as she sighed.

A woman's jealousy could sometimes be really crazy and without reason.

"What do you want me to do? If this is in the sea... even my powers would be limited. Elvis might be a fifth-level beast but he also cannot exhibit his full capabilities there." Gu Mengmeng wanted to help but the reality of the situation could not be ignored.

If the person with the power of the Beast King was Snakel and not herself, she could easily agree to Fei Rui's request.

If Snakel paid a visit to the ocean, the Giant Fish Tribe might just obediently hand over the sister without any need for him to make any moves.

Even though she now possessed Snakel's powers, she was not a snake. Breathing and fighting underwater would be a major restriction on her.

She might be able to kill in a crazed frenzy, but to save someone...

Gu Mengmeng did not have that ability yet.

She did not wish to give Fei Rui any false hopes only to shatter them after. It was best to just tell the truth now.

Fei Rui shook his head. "Although I really wish to save my sister, I do not want the great Messenger to risk her own life. You are the hope of the entire Beast World and no mishap must befall you."

These words pleased Elvis and Lea.

Their animosity towards him lessened a little. Even the temperature in the cave rose a few degrees.

"Then..." Gu Mengmeng prompted Fei Rui to continue.

Fei Rui clenched his little fists and placed them on his own knees. He looked up with resolution in his bright eyes. "So I hope the great Messenger can accept me as your partner. In this way, I can become the link between you and the tribes of the ocean. By then, the Giant Fish Tribe will definitely return my sister to me."

Gu Mengmeng understood Fei Rui's thinking.

He was offering himself in an allied marriage for his sister. The Kiss of the Ocean would be the betrothal gift.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head as she smiled. She rubbed Fei Rui's little head. "So you are planning to use my name to impose your will on others?"

Fei Rui was stunned as his face turned red with guilt. He bit his lower lip and nodded with reluctance.

“Dora went into hiding once she knew the truth had been exposed. The Mermaid Tribe has searched everywhere but the ocean is just too big. We can’t find her anywhere. I have gone to explain to the Giant Fish Tribe but they refused to listen. They insisted that it was my sister who stole their treasure... I really do not have any other solution. I just wish to rescue my sister...”

Chapter 741

Chapter 741: Do You Want Everyone In The Tribe To Drink Your Bathwater?

Gu Mengmeng tapped her finger rhythmically on Elvis' arm. This was a sign of her being in deep thought.

Actually, Elvis and Lea would have countless ways to resolve such a small matter. Although the stage of this incident was set in the ocean which might present some unexpected scenarios—forcing a person to hand over something was something that Elvis and Lea were all too good at.

Nevertheless, they kept silent and waited for their woman to think up of a solution herself. A solution which perhaps would not involve anything too preposterous or involve a long roundabout route. They would allow her to try out her method—and then even if it completely failed, they would be there to support her.

Yeah, the true value of a male was his ability to clean up any mess created by their female.

Ah, they really missed the days when she was a big bully.

In saying so, they did kind of missed Nina.

Gu Mengmeng suddenly stopped tapping her finger. A sly smile played across her lips. “Since it is so difficult to find a certain mermaid in the great ocean, why don't we have this mermaid seek us out on her own.”

Fei Rui tilted his head as his bright eyes were filled with confusion.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “The Mermaid Tribe's Dora has found the treasure needed by the Messenger of the Beast Deity. She will get a wish granted as long as she can hand it over to me...”

Lea and Elvis exchanged a smile. How come their female still looked so adorable even when she was defrauding someone?

The slyness in her eyes was so naughty. But also very alluring.

Fei Rui didn't understand Gu Mengmeng's plan and shook his head. "Dora did steal the Giant Fish Tribe's treasure but it is not the Kiss of the Ocean."

Gu Mengmeng was tickled by Fei Rui's naivety. She shook her head in exasperation. "You are truly just a child. The intrigues of the adult world are not suitable for you. Just leave this type of trickery to me, and wait for Dora to send over the item. You can then use it to exchange for your sister."

Fei Rui still didn't understand Gu Mengmeng's plan but he felt that the three persons before him held a certain kind of power. Her word alone was convincing and did not require any proof.

Gu Mengmeng went over the plan a few times in her mind to sort out the logistics. She then stretched lazily and gazed at Fei Rui. "Is it alright for you to leave the water for such a long period?"

Fei Rui blinked and nodded. "Actually, I do feel rather uncomfortable..."

Gu Mengmeng said, "Why don't you go back to the well first to soak in the waters?"

Fei Rui's eyes brightened with anticipation. "Can I?"

Lea objected. "No!"

Gu Mengmeng, "..."

Lea shot Gu Mengmeng a rebuking look and she tactfully shut her mouth.

What a joke. If the brimming jealousy of her two males bubbled over... haha, Fei Rui would become fish food.

Lea said, "The well is the water source for our entire tribe. Do you want everyone in the tribe to be drinking your bathwater? You better go back to the sea and wait for news. We will notify you when Dora comes knocking on our door.”

Fei Rui’s eyes dimmed as conflict washed over his plump, little face. He looked just like a child who was being bullied. Biting his lower lip, he said, “I won’t go into the well. It’s okay if I don’t soak in water. I... I will wait for you all to return to the sea with me.”

“Return to the sea with you?” Lea snorted. “You are thinking too much. When Dora hands over the item, you will bring the Kiss of the Ocean to exchange for it. Leave the Kiss of the Ocean here and take back the Giant Fish Tribe’s treasure to save your sister. It will be a clean one-for-one exchange and we will not owe each other anything.”

Chapter 742

Chapter 742: The Forbidden Abyss

Fei Rui was slightly taken aback. He then shook his head. “No, you must all follow me back to the ocean.”

Lea gave a cold laugh as his gaze turned sharp. His words dripped with heavy emphasis. “No? Must? Who do you think you are?”

Fei Rui was frightened by Lea’s imposing manner and shrank back. He avoided Lea’s stare and just looked at Gu Mengmeng. “I know where the Kiss of the Ocean is, but I am unable to retrieve it. The Messenger herself must personally go there...”

“Oh?” Lea didn’t believe him. Elvis and him would be greatly disadvantaged the moment they entered the water. They had already experienced that terrible sense of helplessness during their time in the Snake King valley, and they did not wish to go through that again.

Fei Rui felt somewhat anxious. He suddenly found it difficult to put his thoughts into words and struggled to explain the situation. He nearly bit his tongue in his efforts but still failed to clarify the issue.

Gu Mengmeng felt that Fei Rui looked just like a child who could not find his homework and she went up to rub his head with a smile. “Don’t worry, don’t panic. Take your time to explain.”

It was very strange but Gu Mengmeng had the ability to calm someone down.

Fei Rui looked into Gu Mengmeng’s clear eyes and nodded. He slowly regained his composure and took two deep breaths. “The Kiss of the Ocean is a pearl. It is located in the Forbidden Abyss of the Mermaid Tribe and guarded by an old oyster spirit. He will only hand over the Kiss of the Ocean to the Messenger of the Beast Deity. No one knew why, but the previous Messenger sent back the Kiss of the Ocean, and in over a thousand years since, many people have tried to retrieve the Kiss of the Ocean but none of them was able to even enter the Forbidden Abyss.”

Gu Mengmeng was slightly dazed from his narration. Old oyster spirit...

Another thousand-year-old monster? The Beast King of the ocean?

Didn't Snake say that he was the only Beast King in the Beast World?

Who the hell was that then?

Gu Mengmeng pondered a moment before shifting the focus to a more practical point. “Forbidden Abyss?”

Fei Rui nodded. “I heard the elders say that the area didn't use to be forbidden. It only became restricted after the previous Messenger of the Beast Deity placed the Kiss of the Ocean there. The Messenger placed a spell on that area and no one can enter.”

Wasn't the previous Messenger Snake himself? That crazy guy with the split personality who at times played the fool, and at others was as cold as ice.

He could also cast spells?

Gu Mengmeng didn't quite believe it.

Snake's memories also held the memories of his father and she could tell from the interactions between his father and Wang Xiaoxin that he was just adept at I Ching divinations. The ability to cast spells only existed in shows like “The Legend and the Hero”. She did not hold such capabilities.

Gu Mengmeng stroked her chin as she considered.

But Elvis patted her little face and stared at her with his clear, blue eyes. “You cannot go.”

“But...”

“No buts. Lea and I cannot protect you in the ocean. It is too dangerous. You cannot go.” Elvis was resolute.

Gu Mengmeng thought for a moment before laughing out. “We will bring along a bodyguard who is adept at fighting in the water. Then you don’t need to worry about my safety anymore.”

Elvis frowned. “Who?”

Gu Mengmeng laughed cunningly. “A highly skilled person who might treat me as a romantic rival and will never let any harm befall me.”

Chapter 743

Chapter 743: An Affair With Snake? Unsuccessful Attempt.

Elvis frowned and thought for a long while. He considered everyone around Gu Mengmeng but was unable to think of anyone reliable who fit Gu Mengmeng's description.

But Lea was more astute and smiled knowingly. "Are you referring to Wabei?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded. "Bingo."

Lea nodded as he considered the possibility. "His combat skills are indeed undeniable. After all, he had been under Snake's tutelage for over 800 years. He would crush anyone anywhere. But... he treats you as a romantic rival? Could it be..."

Lea looked suggestively at Elvis as he spoke.

The fur Elvis' tail bristled as he gritted his teeth. "It's not me!"

Lea shrugged. "It's not me either."

Gu Mengmeng covered her mouth as she smiled. "It's Snake."

Lea's eyes glinted with a raunchy light. "He had an affair with Snake?"

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and replied in a small voice. "Unsuccessful attempt."

Elvis looked at the mark behind Gu Mengmeng's neck and suddenly felt that Snake was rather pitiful.

Clearing his throat, he said, "He will definitely be able to ensure your safety. But why will he be willing to accompany you?"

Gu Mengmeng gently rubbed the back of her neck with a bland expression. “We will pass on a fake sacred decree... he will never reject it.”

Elvis was momentarily taken aback. “You want to tell him that it is Snake who asked him to accompany you?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded.

Lea kissed Gu Mengmeng little face. “You are still a softy at heart. There are thousands of ways to make him obey but you chose the one method that will offer him a sliver of hope.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “I just can’t stand him behaving like Snake’s widow. That’s why I want to play a trick on him.”

Lea didn’t press Gu Mengmeng further but just pinched her little nose. “Snake will be delighted to hear that. He must think you are jealous.”

Recalling her time with the Beast Deity, where they watched Snake woo her in the present world, Gu Mengmeng’s heart suddenly lightened several notches.

She said, “He might already be very happy now. I will definitely try my best to give him trouble. Humph, who asked him to make the decision to die, causing me to grieve for such a long time. Punishing him... is a must.”

Lea rubbed Gu Mengmeng little head and didn’t continue to pursue this topic.

He and Elvis understood clearly that even though Mengmeng was much better now, her guilt towards Snake was still buried somewhere deep in her heart, where it would hurt whenever prodded.

“If we want Wabei to follow us, we must move quickly. The rainy season will come after this dry spell, and that is the time when we must start preparing provisions for the winter. By then, Wabei will also be preparing to go into hibernation. We are short on time and cannot delay things further.”

Elvis was happy to let Gu Mengmeng focus her energies on a task, so that she would not have the time to let her thoughts run wild.

Snake, Chixuan and Cole—such frustrating matters were best relegated to the back of one's mind.

He was only worried about her safety when he refused to let her go. Now that they had a solution, he would naturally not stand in her way.

Gu Mengmeng nodded with a bitter smile. “It looks like I must get Sandy to take care of my sons again. Those three fellows are always at Sandy's. I don't know if that would hinder their plans to marry...”

Sandy didn't have the time to bear daughters. Who would they marry then...

Chapter 744

Chapter 744: All's Fair In A Fight And This Is War.

Once the plan was fixed, there would be no more hesitation.

After all, they were really pressed for time.

Gu Mengmeng handed her three children over to Sandy, even though she was truly reluctant to do so.

However, Sandy was very happy. She felt that Gu Mengmeng let her take care of her kids only because she trusted her. This meant that Gu Mengmeng still treated her as a friend.

The moment those three young ones knew their mother was going to get the “ransom” needed for Chixuan, they obediently promised to stay home and train, and to patiently await her return.

Elvis and Lea handed the management of all matters concerning the tribe over to Auretin and Collin.

This was a risky move as these two had the same attitude towards certain things, and that was they always preferred action over words.

However, Collin's character had improved a lot since getting a partner. Auretin had also been the Messenger's guard for so long that most things should not be a problem as long as nothing incited his temper.

Meanwhile, everyone knew these two did not have good tempers and would not dare to create much trouble.

Gu Mengmeng, Elvis and Lea hit the road once everything was prepared. At the same time, they had Ian acting as support and he traveled by air. Meanwhile, Fei Rui had jumped back into the well and returned to the sea to prepare for their arrival.

Gu Mengmeng had traveled this route from Saint Nazaire to the Snake King valley before. However, this time, her heart had undergone an earth-shattering change. Walking along this same road, she felt as if a whole generation had passed by and she was looking at the same things through different eyes.

Several days later, Gu Mengmeng stood at the entrance to the Snake King valley. Strangely, she felt as if... she had come home.

This feeling was probably triggered by Snake's memories. After all, having spent a thousand years here, this was the place he was most familiar with.

Stepping in, the rustling sounds from both sides didn't make her stop.

They had just arrived at the entrance to Snake's cave when she felt an oncoming attack from behind.

Gu Mengmeng didn't retaliate but just turned around and grinned at the venomous fangs right in front of her face. She raised her brows and waved. "Hi! Do you want to bite me? If so, do it quickly and don't drip any saliva on me. It's disgusting."

With his mouth wide open, Wabei felt rather confused. What was this stupid female smiling about? Why was she not immediately giving him one tight slap across the face?

Why was she not acting according to script?!

He felt rather awkward with his mouth gaping like that.

Turning into human form, Wabei looked at Gu Mengmeng with disdain. He frowned. "If you are not going to fight me, why have you come?"

Gu Mengmeng laughed happily before sending Wabei flying off with one smack.

Wabei crashed into a tree with a bang. That tree collapsed as if it had twisted into two.

Wabei jumped up in rage and charged back towards Gu Mengmeng. He pointed at her nose angrily. “What are you doing?!”

Gu Mengmeng shrugged. “A sneak attack. All’s fair in a fight and this is war.”

Wabei was turning circles in rage. “Ambush me if you must, why did you destroy that tree?! He did not allow for any tree to be destroyed. He said not to...”

Gu Mengmeng laughed. “He said not to destroy any fruit tree, as I like them. That earlier tree was obviously not a fruit tree and I didn’t like it that much. So don’t worry, he won’t blame you.”

Wabei gnashed his teeth and suddenly felt completely helpless...

He really did not know how to handle this female. Gu Mengmeng was the greatest challenge that Snake had left him.

“Speak. I am sure you didn’t come here just to destroy that tree?”

Chapter 745

Chapter 745: You Are A Pile Of Shit But Still Wish To Become A Divine Creature?

Gu Mengmeng nodded. “Yeah, I am going to the ocean and you are to come with me.”

Wabei grunted. “Not free, I am not going.”

Gu Mengmeng clasped her hands behind her back and casually said, “Snake asked you to accompany me.”

Wabei completely froze just at the mention of that name.

His hands trembled uncontrollably as he looked at the female who so casually spoke that name before him. He finally recovered his voice after a long while. “If you dare to deceive me, I will kill you...”

Gu Mengmeng smiled innocently and raised her eyebrows. “Stop your bullshit. You can’t defeat me.”

“I will become the Beast King one day!” Wabei hollered.

Gu Mengmeng shrugged. “Even so, we will just be an even match. Moreover... you are just a pile of shit, but still wish to become a divine creature?”

Wabei went red with anger. “Are you still picking on my appearance?!”

Actually, he had always been rather confident of his appearance over the past 800 years. He believed that only Snake was more good-looking than him.

But since the arrival of this little girl, his confidence in his own looks had been gradually grounded into dust. A shadow of doubt had been cast onto his mind.

Especially since accompanying her to Saint Nazaire, he had seen what the “shit” produced by four-legged creatures looked like...

Gu Mengmeng’s right hand circled three times before covering it over her own chest as she bowed in a gentlemanly gesture. “I am Gu Mengmeng. The Appearance Association’s Honored Chairman, Supreme Senior Member, as well as Avid Supporter of the belief that the value of a person lies in his looks.”

“You...!”

“What about me?” Gu Mengmeng was obviously emboldened with the knowledge that she had nothing to fear.

Meanwhile, Wabei truly did not know how to handle her. Wringing his hands, Wabei wanted to just turn around and leave. But he had just taken one step when he stopped. Without turning around, he asked in a cold, strained voice. “When do we leave?”

Gu Mengmeng did not continue making things difficult for him and just replied simply, “Tomorrow morning.”

The Snake King valley was a place which held unpleasant memories for Elvis and Lea. That was why Gu Mengmeng had them wait outside for her.

And tonight, Gu Mengmeng had no intention of sleeping.

She wandered aimlessly around the Snake King valley, only to discover that everywhere held traces of Snake.

Ah, apart from the month they spend together, she still held the thousand-years’ worth of his memories inside her. No wonder she saw him wherever she went...

A few small snakes led Gu Mengmeng to the place where the fruits from the trees trampled by Snake had been buried. Gu Mengmeng squatted before a tender green sprout and couldn't resist reaching out to stroke a leaf gently. She murmured to herself. "A new cycle, a new beginning... Snake, you are also doing well over there?"

Gu Mengmeng didn't return to the cave but just slept at a spot near that new sprout. Before sleeping, she instructed the little snakes that if she didn't wake up tomorrow morning, to have Wabei carry her out. Elvis and Lea would be waiting outside for her and they knew where to go.

Slowly closing her eyes Gu Mengmeng thought to herself: Lonely old man, your filial daughter is coming back to watch that romance series with you now.

The white smog became thicker but Gu Mengmeng no longer felt her initial unease and panic. Instead, she waited calmly for the arrival of that young-looking chap who still liked to put on a benevolent "fatherly" expression.

Chapter 746

Chapter 746: Tyrant Senior Who Passed Through Time Fell In Love With Me

“Daughter, you have come back.” Yeah, this conversation should have been with an apron-wearing old man bearing two plates of hot dumplings, and not this smiling youthful-looking chap in a white outfit.

Gu Mengmeng no longer had the energy to complain about this father-daughter designation. She was the one who had run off her mouth and used his name all over for her own benefit.

“Lonely old man, I want to ask you about something.” Gu Mengmeng was afraid she might forget about this matter after watching the television series. Hence, she wanted to ask about this first. “Did Wang Xiaoxin know how to cast spells? Like in ‘The Legend and the Hero’?”

The Beast Deity chuckled and shook his head indulgently. “She does not.”

Gu Mengmeng said, “Oh? But Fei Rui said the Kiss of the Ocean is in some Forbidden Abyss and is under some spell of hers...”

The Beast Deity maintained his benevolent smile. “Wang Xiaoxin did not cast the spell on the Forbidden Abyss. I did.”

“Pfft...” Gu Mengmeng really felt like spitting in his face, but controlled herself as she needed to ask a favor from him. “How to break the spell? I want to enter to retrieve the Kiss of the Ocean.”

The Beast Deity replied, “There’s no need to break the spell. You can just enter directly.”

Gu Mengmeng said, “Really?”

The Beast Deity continued. “The spell is only effective against tribes in the ocean. It is useless against other tribes.

Gu Mengmeng looked skeptically at the Beast Deity. “Are you kidding me?”

The Beast Deity put on a serious face. “Deities cannot lie. I had initially cast the spell to prevent the treasure from appearing on earth. It will trigger chaos and no one would be able to handle the resulting consequences. That was why I forbid the ocean tribes to take it out of the sea. And this Forbidden Abyss is situated deep in the ocean and no one except the ocean tribes have the ability to reach it. As a result, the spell was cast with only the ocean tribes in mind.

Gu Mengmeng grinned and linked her arm around the Beast Deity’s arm. “Daddy, will you help me?”

The Beast Deity looked at Gu Mengmeng and paused before speaking. “You call me Daddy only when you need something. Otherwise you call me a lonely old man... tsk, where did you learn such curry favoring skills?”

Gu Mengmeng smiled with a naughty expression. “Daddy, all daughters are like that. They will only be good girls when they need more pocket money. You will learn to accept the reality of it.”

The Beast Deity thought for a moment before sighing in resignation. “Alright, good girl. Watch this television series with me and I will give you some pocket money.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and sat down happily. “That’s great, Dad.”

The white fog emptied out with a wave of the Beast Deity’s hand. Gu Mengmeng felt like a deity sitting leisurely upon a white cloud and observing the world below. She watched with interest at the romantic idol series starring Snake and her other self.

Yeah, Snake was in charge of the romance and the idol part. She could only contribute to the drama part.

The bell signaling the start of class had just rung. The professors were all taking attendance.

Gu Mengmeng sat at the far-most corner of the room. This was a self-study class and about 200 students were gathered in that room. The previous incident at the courtyard had left her heart in a flurry and she wanted to find a quiet corner to calm herself down.

But someone was obviously unwilling to let her have her wish.

A slender figure leaned against the doorway, as the sunlight lengthened his shadow. He zeroed in on that huddled figure. Green eyes carrying a trace of teasing and plenty of doting instantly picked her out of the sea of nearly 200 students.

Gu Mengmeng was staring in a daze at the figure standing in the doorway, separated by a whole roomful of murmuring heads. She forgot to avert her eyes and forgot that the teacher was currently taking attendance...

Chapter 747

Chapter 747: Tyrant Senior Who Passed Through Time Fell In Love With Me

“Gu Mengmeng.” The professor had his head bent over the attendance list and didn’t notice that the female students in class had all fallen into a deep trance. Unhappy at the lack of response, the professor shouted, “Is Gu Mengmeng here?”

“Here.” Snake raised his hand before walking gracefully in.

That simple word caused a major furor within the classroom.

Shocking! The coolest dude in school was not a mute!

Even as the surrounding students were breaking out in a frenzy, Snake only had eyes for Gu Mengmeng. He gradually stepped closer to her.

He leaned over, feeling satisfied that her gaze never left his face.

With a sly grin, he said, “Move in, I will sit beside you for you to look all you want.”

Gu Mengmeng finally snapped out of her trance before lowering her head hastily. “Who’s looking at you. Don’t think too much.”

Snake narrowed his eyes unhappily. “Or do you feel that I look better when I am standing in the doorway? If so... I can go back to standing there.”

A commotion had already started among the other students. Gu Mengmeng’s face had turned a deep red. She was very sure that if Snake really went back to stand at the doorway for the entire lesson, she would definitely become public enemy number one.

Who knew if there was something wrong inside her head, but Gu Mengmeng stood up and addressed the professor. “Professor, this person does not belong in our class! He is causing a disruption. Why are you not throwing him out?”

The professor had been stunned by Snake’s appearance. He frowned deeply. He had planned to just keep silent to maintain the peace, but now that Gu Mengmeng had spoken up, he had no choice but to ask. Clearing his throat, he directed his question at Snake. “Are you in my class?”

Snake turned around and smiled politely. “No, I am a family member.”

With that, he immediately sat down on Gu Mengmeng’s seat before she had time to react. He then looked up at her with a smile. “Move in or sit in my lap? Your choice.”

“You...!” Gu Mengmeng’s face was as red as a pig’s liver. She had chosen this corner spot for some peace and quiet, but was now trapped by Snake. Unless she could fly, there was no way she could escape.

“Alright, he is just a visiting student. Don’t you have a seat right where you are? Quickly sit down and don’t disrupt the class.” The professor promptly lectured Gu Mengmeng until she had nothing else to say. Fuming, she pressed herself right against the wall and sat down. How she wished that she could just go through the wall.

Snake chuckled. This professor’s research paper had been funded by him. The research had begun three years ago and was now in its final and most critical phase. Snake had then suddenly withdrawn his funding. Only when the professor was nearly pulling out his hair in anxiety had Snake then arranged for a meeting with him.

Ah, a dog would always acknowledge its owner.

With one hand on the desk, Snake smiled at Gu Mengmeng, who was shrinking away from him as if he had an infectious disease.

He did not like this feeling. She had feared him before, but did not avoid or reject him like she did now.

With his palm facing upwards, Snake said gently. “Two meng.”

Gu Mengmeng grunted. She did not feel the need to respond to his calling her like she was his pet dog. With a roll of her eyes, she turned away and ignored Snake.

Chapter 748

Chapter 748: Tyrant Senior Who Passed Through Time Fell In Love With Me

How could Snake allow someone to ignore him like that? Especially if that person was Gu Mengmeng. He would never allow that.

So he placed his hand on Gu Mengmeng's arm and dragged her entire person from her seat into his arms.

It was a rather big action and everyone in class watched it happen. This created an even greater commotion.

Gu Mengmeng's face was red beyond belief. She glared at Snake. "What are you doing? Going all gangster on me?!"

Snake just laughed. He liked it when she looked at him. It didn't matter whether she was being shy or angry. As long as she was looking at him.

He remained seated lazily in his original spot. Without moving an inch, he smiled. "Being in my arms is the safest and most comfortable place to be. Much better than that hard chair."

"Crazy." Gu Mengmeng scolded in a low voice before trying to stand up.

Snake's large hands held onto Gu Mengmeng's waist as he used his own weight to drag her back down. His eyes narrowed as he gave her a rather sinister smile. He whispered in her ear. "If you dare to stand up, I will kiss you right before everyone."

Gu Mengmeng instinctively covered her own mouth tightly with both hands. She glared at Snake with rebuke and guardedness, but felt totally helpless against him.

Snake stroked Gu Mengmeng's head with a smile. "Sit quietly in my lap and look at me."

Gu Mengmeng was completely frustrated. He was the most handsome guy in school, yet here he was acting like there was something wrong with his head? Did he lose a bet during a game of truth or dare?

Sob sob sob. Great heavens! Was there a mighty deity somewhere who would help get rid of this evil being?!

Finally enduring it to the end of the class, Gu Mengmeng immediately fled without a second's delay.

A doting smile played across Snake's lips as he watched her leave in a fluster, clumsily crashing into several tables and chairs, as well as knocking over a number of her classmates.

Yeah, his Two Meng was well and alive. She was very healthy and could run very fast.

Standing up, Snake walked towards the door. A group of female students who had been waiting for their opportunity the entire lesson surrounded him. They had made use of the lesson time to write their love letters, which they now presented before him. However, Snake just frowned and his gaze turned sharp and chilly.

Without even bothering to tell them to get lost, he just maintained a stony expression as he forced his way through the crowd.

Such a nuisance. They delayed him by a whole 17 seconds.

This 17 seconds should have been enough for him to catch that frightened little rabbit.

Meanwhile, Gu Mengmeng's mind was a blank. Hugging her school bag, she fled into the female toilet.

She had not committed any wrong but she somehow felt very scared and very guilty.

Her heart was nearly leaping out of her throat, but she had no idea what she was afraid of?

Her mobile phone rang and Gu Mengmeng immediately answered it when she saw that it was her workplace calling.

Before she could speak, the company foreman informed her that she no longer needed to report to work from now on. He said that the company had undergone a restructuring and didn't need a temporary staff anymore. Her wages had already been transferred to her bank account. He then hung up...

Gu Mengmeng had no time to react before her mobile phone rang once again. It was the manager of the school hostel. She said that someone in her dorm room had been cooking, which was against regulations. Hence, the hostel rights of everyone in that room had been revoked. Her luggage had already been packed and was now stored in the storage room. She must go over to retrieve her luggage as soon as possible...

Chapter 749: Tyrant Senior Who Passed Through Time Fell In Love With Me

Holding onto her mobile phone and schoolbag while squatting in the toilet, Gu Mengmeng suddenly felt like she was in a trance.

She had read her horoscope before leaving the house and it had said that today was a good day to confess romantic feelings. But why did all sorts of unlucky things start to happen from the moment she had done so?

The bell signaling the start of class was ringing but Gu Mengmeng had no intention of going for her lessons.

Her job was gone. Her lodgings were also gone...

She had a small amount of savings which should be enough to last her until she found a new job. But the lack of accommodations was a pressing problem and she needed to find a replacement immediately. Otherwise, she would be sleeping under the bridge tonight.

Still in a daze, Gu Mengmeng washed her face and gave her mirrored reflection a pep talk. She then left the washroom and prepared to search the nearby areas to see if there were any available rental rooms suitable for a female student.

She had just left the washroom when she saw someone leaning against the wall outside the exit. It was a man who possessed your classic European good looks and who radiated an irresistible air of nobility. Even though he was smiling, one still felt the urge to rush over and prostrate themselves before him.

Without any apparent reason, Gu Mengmeng felt herself blushing helplessly.

Lowering her head, she turned to flee in the opposite direction. But how could her short legs hope to go any faster than his long limbs?

With one step, Snake easily grabbed hold of Gu Mengmeng's school bag and pulled her back, causing her to fall backwards.

He was already well prepared to catch her in his embrace, as he held her firmly against his chest and used one hand to pinch her chin. There was a playful glint in his eye and a teasing curl of his lips. His words were as clear as pearls landing on a jade platter. "Did you cry?"

Gu Mengmeng was stunned. She guessed that Snake must have been referring to how he had held her in class earlier.

Not daring to provoke this young master, Gu Mengmeng forced a smile. "Did you lose in a game of truth or dare? The punishment was to make me cry? Then... should I help you out by shedding a tear or two?"

Snake's face was stony. "You cannot cry. It'll be too ugly."

"Then I won't cry, oh great one. Can you let me go now?" Gu Mengmeng looked pleadingly at Snake.

Snake raised his brows. "On what grounds?"

Gu Mengmeng was caught unawares by his question and had no response to it. He should not even be holding her like that, so shouldn't he be letting go? What did he mean by on what grounds?

Snake's lips curled upwards. "You nearly fell and I caught you. You want me to let go without a word of thanks?"

Understanding dawned on Gu Mengmeng and she hurriedly nodded. "Oh, I forgot in a moment of confusion. Great one, thank you. Thank you thank you thank you."

"Do you know who I am? Hmm?" Snake continued to hold on firmly to Gu Mengmeng, who was struggling to escape.

Gu Mengmeng put on a fawning expression. “Who in the entire S College doesn’t know you. Your great reputation is like the sound of thunder to the ears, like the bright sun across the sky, like...”

“Who am I?”

Gu Mengmeng said, “The coolest dude in school...”

“My name?” Snake remained unsatisfied.

Gu Mengmeng’s lips formed a straight line, before she finally shook her head in all honesty.

Snake narrowed his eyes, obviously angry.

Was he still not famous enough? So as to hold the status of “Senior God” in her heart, he had gone as low as swimming with a bunch of useless idiots, and provided base entertainment for the masses. Yet this heartless girl didn’t even know his name?

Grinding his teeth, Snake asked, “Answer me. Take it as my acceptance of your gratitude. Didn’t you used to like guys in the swimming club? Why don’t you like them anymore?”

Chapter 750

Chapter 750: Tyrant Senior Who Passed Through Time Fell In Love With Me

Gu Mengmeng looked at Snake in stunned confusion.

“I like guys in the swimming club? No...”

Snake sighed depressingly. Nevertheless, he let go of his hold on Gu Mengmeng.

So as to attain the status of “Senior God”, Snake had used all sorts of means to terrorize that student whom Gu Mengmeng had idolized. So much so that the student was starting to have doubts about whether life was worth living. But this girl didn’t even like guys who could swim?!

Didn’t she like him because she saw him swimming?

If he had known, he wouldn’t have waited two months. He should have immediately chased after her right from the start of the school term. Then situations like this morning’s incident would not have happened.

Giving someone else a love letter which he had been waiting to receive for over a decade. The more he thought about it, the angrier he got.

Gu Mengmeng felt a heavy sense of resentment emanating from Snake’s whole body. She slowly stepped away from him, hoping to make a successful escape.

Unfortunately, her mobile rang at this inopportune moment, startling her until her hairs were standing straight up.

Snake took a deep breath as he emerged from his grudging thoughts. He looked calmly at Gu Mengmeng with a measure of arrogance. Looking neither happy nor angry, his blank face was rather scary.

“Your phone is ringing. Why don’t you pick it up?”

Gu Mengmeng looked down and saw that it was an unfamiliar number. With some uncertainty, she answered it. “Hello, who is this?”

Snake continued to look at Gu Mengmeng with his arms crossed. Her face underwent a myriad number of changes as if she was acting in a Sichuan opera. All the way until she finally hung up and started jumping up and down with glee.

Yeah, it was a very satisfying result.

It had been worth it for him to buy over the chain of eateries and to donate a new air-conditioning system to the school’s entire hostel building.

He had wanted to see her progress from depression to exuberance, but this girl was more resilient than he thought. She hadn’t been crying when she stepped out of the washroom.

Nevertheless... he wasn’t really looking forward to seeing her crying face.

It was much better this way.

Gu Mengmeng finally calmed down after spending a long time whooping with joy. She was grinning from ear to ear and showered her mobile phone with kisses.

Snake was very unhappy. Why was she kissing her phone? Shouldn’t she be kissing him instead?

Tsk, that lousy mobile phone. Which company produced it? Why did it look so ugly and offensive to the eyes?

Gu Mengmeng looked like she wanted to say something to Snake and he was also waiting for her to share her joy with him. But then she just gestured a couple of times to him before turning around to run off without a word.

Snake held onto her school bag and asked, “Where are you going?”

He asked even though he knew the answer.

Gu Mengmeng was extremely excited and couldn’t wait to share her news with someone. Although Snake was not an ideal candidate, he had presented himself to her.

Hence, Gu Mengmeng hugged Snake and hopped a couple of times before replying, “I just received a call from MonSir company, informing me that I have passed their interview and can start work there now! I will have a monthly salary of $4,500, plus my food and lodgings will be covered. Ah, I am so happy!”

Snake was happy from being hugged by Gu Mengmeng and was even more pleased by her happy expression.

Hmm, was she so happy just to be by his side?

Since she yearned so much to be by his side, he would grudgingly forgive her for not knowing his name.

Snake circled Gu Mengmeng’s waist with his hand. “Such a coincidence. I am also going to MonSir company. Let me accompany you over to settle the administrative matters.”

Chapter 751

Chapter 751: Tyrant Senior Who Passed Through Time Fell In Love With Me

Gu Mengmeng's mind was in a heightened state of exhilaration and was completely ignorant of anything else. Even when the employment contract and work badge were finally in her hands, she still felt like she was in a dream.

Snake narrowed his eyes unhappily.

What's so great about a lousy badge? Was it better to look at than him? Why was she staring at that badge and not at him?

He reached out and knocked Gu Mengmeng on the head. "Hey, wake up."

Startled, Gu Mengmeng stared at Snake for a long while before saying dazedly. "Eh... why are you here?!"

Snake nearly puked blood in anger. He ground his teeth. "Who do you think drove you over here and accompanied you while you completed the induction process?"

Gu Mengmeng smacked her own head and giggled. "Right, right right. Thank you Mister School Hunk for sending me."

Snake cleared his throat and looked haughtily at Gu Mengmeng. "Do you think just one word of thanks is enough? Nothing more substantial?"

"Yes, yes, yes. I will treat Mister School Hunk to a meal. At the school cafeteria. Eat all you want." Gu Mengmeng patted her chest generously.

Snake smirked and pinched her cheeks. "How 'sincere' of you."

With her face still twisted in his pinch, Gu Mengmeng muttered. “What. I have just gotten the job and don’t have my wages yet...”

Snake laughed. “No need. Tonight... someone will be cooking for me. I am very much looking forward to it.”

Gu Mengmeng thought that this was pretty good. She could save some money.

Life was so beautiful...

Snake ignored her and headed out. Gu Mengmeng instinctively followed him into a lift.

She gazed at her own work badge again. She just couldn’t stop looking at it.

But...

Hmm? Didn’t she apply for a position in HR? What in the world was special assistant to the CEO? Was there an error in printing...

Gu Mengmeng was somewhat confused. She wanted to head back to clarify but found herself already in the lift with Snake.

Ding.

The doors to the lift opened to a clean and spacious office. High-level executives in business suits were seated along the four tables facing the lift entrance. They rose in unison when the lift door opened.

Gu Mengmeng tugged at Snake’s arm. “Eh, don’t fool around. This is my first day at work. Don’t make trouble for me. This job is very important to me!”

Snake smiled as he stroked her head. “Yeah, I know. This job is very important to you. That is why I have brought you here so that you can ingratiate yourself to your boss.”

With that, Snake dragged Gu Mengmeng out from the lift.

The high-level executives all bowed courteously as they greeted. “Good day, CEO.”

C... E...O?!

Gu Mengmeng stared in befuddlement at Snake, as her brain suddenly stopped working.

At this scene, the white fog once again thickened.

Gu Mengmeng knew that this meant the second episode was over.

Turning to look at the Beast Deity, she asked, “Ending the episode at such a suspenseful moment. Aren’t you worried about being beaten up?”

The Beast Deity rubbed his nose with a smile. “You have been asleep for a long while. If you don’t wake up soon, your two partners will go crazy.”

Gu Mengmeng could accept this explanation.

Standing up, she reached out an upturned palm towards him. “Dad, pocket money.”

The Beast Deity placed two hands on Gu Mengmeng’s shoulders and brought her before him. He gave her a light peck on the forehead before letting go. “The Kiss of the Beast Deity. A father’s love will always be with you.”

Chapter 752

Chapter 752: Are You Staring At Me? So What If I Am Staring At You?!

Having gotten used to the feeling of falling from a high point, Gu Mengmeng felt that any of the present day roller-coasters would be nothing to her.

Gradually opening her eyes, she stared right into Elvis' deep, blue gaze.

She gave a faint smile and wanted to say something, only to find that her throat was rather dry.

Without waiting for Gu Mengmeng to speak, Elvis was already kissing her. The saliva in his mouth trickled into hers, moisturizing her parched throat.

The drought was followed by a lingering kiss.

Gu Mengmeng spoke after Elvis finally drew back. "How did you know I was thirsty?"

Her voice was raspy which Gu Mengmeng felt sounded rather sexy. She would be able to sing a classic rock song with good flavor now.

However, this voice brought a pang of pain to Elvis and Lea.

Elvis continued to feed Gu Mengmeng water through his own mouth, before speaking. "You have been asleep for three days and two nights. How did you think I was able to feed you water?"

Gu Mengmeng blushed as she gave a soft "oh".

Elvis didn't know she was thirsty, but was just feeding her water when she happened to wake up.

Stretching herself out, Gu Mengmeng took in her surroundings and asked, “Where are we? How far are we from the ocean?”

As there were only those few males, no one had the mood to make any proper meals. They just satisfied their hunger as and when they hunted their prey, so as to make as much headway towards the ocean as possible. Every second was precious as they didn’t want Wabei to enter into hibernation before the matter was settled. By then, no one would be able to protect Gu Mengmeng. But since Gu Mengmeng had awoken, making a good meal had become a top priority. Nothing was worse than letting Gu Mengmeng go hungry.

Lea tugged at Gu Mengmeng hand and leaned into Elvis’ arms to give Gu Mengmeng a tender kiss. He then said, “I will go get something for you to eat.”

“Oh...”

Since discovering that she was now extremely sensitive to matters of the heart, Elvis and Lea started going all out with all manners of intimate and gooey behavior. They flirted and teased her to no end, making her heart pound so fast that it was nearly numb now.

She had obviously asked “Where are we?” but he answered with just a kiss...

Wabei observed their intimate behavior coldly and silently. He just glared unwavering at Gu Mengmeng, looking like he wanted to submit her to a torturous interrogation.

His stare incited Elvis and he subconsciously started grinding his teeth. Gu Mengmeng could feel the muscles on Elvis’ body throbbing. Was he going to fly into a rage and fight Wabei?

Gu Mengmeng’s little hand rubbed Elvis’ chest gently. “Hubby, I have been asleep these past two days, it must have been hard on you.”

Elvis' temper was dissipated by Gu Mengmeng's soft, coaxing voice. He looked down into her eyes with warmth.

Kissing her little face, he replied, "Protecting you is not a hardship at all."

Gu Mengmeng gave Elvis a big kiss before smiling sweetly.

Successfully soothed his ruffled feathers, YEAH!

Turning around to look at Wabei, her expression turned chilly. With a "bite me" look, she asked, "Are you staring at me?"

Wabei replied, "So what if I am staring at you?!"

Under usual circumstances, Gu Mengmeng should have replied with a "Come over here, let me tell you!" before unleashing her beast pressure to completely suppress Wabei.

Unfortunately, Gu Mengmeng had never been one to act according to script...

Chapter 753

Chapter 753: WTO Savage Life And Death Version

Gu Mengmeng shrugged and put on a helpless look. “Snake doesn’t like you to stare at me like that.”

Wabei’s eyes brightened as he hurried over. He wanted to ask but didn’t want to admit it. “Stop bullshitting. He didn’t know I was staring at you when you went to meet the Beast Deity.”

Gu Mengmeng turned around and pointed at the mark behind her neck. “What did you just say? Say it again?”

Wabei stared at the tiny mark and was momentarily lost for words. After a long silence, he whispered. “Don’t tell me... his soul still lives on in your body? Can you feel his state of mind and communicate with him? Then... can you let him out to say a few words to me? Just a few words. I will... I will even let you punch me in return.”

Gu Mengmeng gurgled with laughter as she gave a malicious look. “You believe in such bullshit? How did you manage to survive all those 800 years?”

Stunned, Wabei turned angry in an instant as his eyes narrowed into slits. His fangs dripped venom as a murderous aura enveloped him.

Gu Mengmeng reached out her fair arm right in front of Wabei. “Do you want to bite me? Here, bite me.”

Wabei opened his mouth wide, but was still unable to bite her.

Her arm was too slender. It would break in two if he bit down on it.

And if her arm really broke... that person would be totally heartbroken.

“Look at you, can’t stand me but can’t get rid of me. How are you still the legendary Wabei, feared by all? Tsk, little shit, submit to your fate. You can’t handle me.”

“Little shit...” Wabei repeated those words through clenched jaws. His face was black as thunder.

With a roll of his eyes, Wabei suddenly smiled malevolently. “Since ancient times, males have always had to clear up the mess caused by females. I cannot hurt you but I can challenge your partner. Guess if your stupid wolf and slutty fox will be enough to fill the gaps between my fangs?”

Gu Mengmeng shrugged and rose from Elvis’ arms. She leaned over to look at Elvis with a grin. “Hubby, he said that he wants to challenge you.”

Elvis snorted and stood up. He twisted his neck as a form of warm-up. “Good. This is an isolated area so there’s no fear of causing any damage to others. It’s a good place to loosen one’s limbs.”

Wabei’s eyes brightened as he looked at Gu Mengmeng. “Can we really fight?”

Gu Mengmeng sat at the side drinking water. She glanced back at Wabei. “Why are you asking me? I am not the one you are fighting.”

Since Snake’s departure, Wabei had not met a suitable opponent for a long time. Having not fought for such a lengthy period, he felt as if his entire body was in decline.

Meanwhile, Elvis was also bored and restless. He had been harboring a simmering grievance since that time at the Snake King valley, unable to find any opportunity to release it.

A fifth-level elite. Haha, he should be a good fight.

The two of them were already cracking their knuckles in eager anticipation. Gu Mengmeng rushed over to Ian. “Hey, brother. Do you want to come over to watch? WTO Savage Life and Death version. It should be pretty exciting.”

Ian sat down with a weary look. He glanced at Gu Mengmeng and pointed at the two beasts who were both bristling with aggression. “Are you really going to let them fight? Are you not afraid something might happen?”

Gu Mengmeng took a drink of water from the cup and smacked her lips. She smiled. “Aren’t I sitting here to play referee? All is good as long he doesn’t die. After all, the healing abilities of a fifth-level beast is very strong.”

Chapter 754

Chapter 754: A Meaningless Brawl

By the time Lea returned, the entire area looked like a disaster site, while the two males were sprawled exhausted on the ground.

He walked suspiciously towards Gu Mengmeng, who was sitting calmly at the side and drinking warm water from a cup. Meanwhile, Ian looked like he had just seen a ghost. Lea had no idea what happened.

He skewered the prepared meat on a tree branch before placing it onto the fire rack to roast. Lea said, “We didn’t bring along the pot so I am afraid you will have to bear with eating roasted meat. I will continue to look for suitable materials to make a pot, so that I can cook a delicious meal for you tonight.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded in assent. She continued to hold a faint smile on her face.

Lea pointed at the two beasts who were still sprawled on the ground, too exhausted to morph back to human form. “Those two... what happened?”

Gu Mengmeng twisted her lips in a smile. “They just underwent an unfriendly physical exchange.”

Lea was shocked. “Wabei challenged Elvis?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded.

Lea’s face darkened as he asked coldly. “Who won?”

Gu Mengmeng glanced at them. “It should be a draw? They both endured serious injuries and look half-dead.”

Lea stretched out his neck to take a look. “Since there was no clear winner, he cannot join our family.”

“Who?” Gu Mengmeng was taken aback. She then laughed out loud. “You can’t possibly have thought that Wabei challenged Elvis so that he could become my partner?”

Lea didn’t find the situation funny at all. He raised his brows. “Wasn’t that so?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. “They were both just restless and engaged in a meaningless fight.”

Lea looked suspiciously at Elvis, and then at Wabei. He finally calmed himself down. “That’s good. At least he knows his place.”

Gu Mengmeng leaned against Lea and chuckled. “Suppressing one’s emotions for too long will turn one to perversion. What about you? Do you want to find an opponent to relieve some stress? I think Ian will be a good fit. Your skills are on par with each other and it should be an even fight.”

Lea kissed Gu Mengmeng on the forehead and smiled gently. “Such barbaric actions are not suitable for me. If I need an outlet for my stress... apart from you, no one else can do it.”

Lea’s soft, airy voice tickled Gu Mengmeng’s heart like a feather. Every word titillated Gu Mengmeng’s heart to no end.

Giving Lea a light push, Gu Mengmeng walked to a spot between Elvis and Wabei. She asked with a grin. “Are you done fighting?”

Wabei was lying face-up. His combat skills may not be the best but having been beaten by Snake for 800 years, his defensive abilities were second to none in the Beast World.

After resting for a long time, Wabei could finally morph back into human form. His face was covered in wretched bruises, but he felt strangely at ease.

He looked appreciatively at Elvis, who had obviously become a worthy opponent in his eyes.

Two of Elvis' ribs had been broken by Wabei and he could not turn back into human form for the time being. Nevertheless, that fight had unleashed the foul tension balled up inside him.

For the past six months, he had been training himself to have more patience and forbearance. How long had it been since he could behave with such recklessness?

Chapter 755

Chapter 755: Will It Kill You To Praise Me For Once?

Looking at Gu Mengmeng's exceptionally gentle look, even his wolf eyes could not conceal the tenderness in his gaze.

His female truly understood him.

However, Lea's words reminded him that rather than battling Wabei, it might be more effective if he went one round with Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng held Elvis' face. It was the obviously savage face of a wolf but she did not feel frightened at all. Even if she were to reach her hand into Elvis' mouth to count his sharp teeth, she would not feel the slightest trace of fear.

Giving Elvis a kiss, she said, "You are looking at me with such impure intentions. You look like you want to eat me up."

Elvis growled: You guessed right. I really want to "eat you up".

Gu Mengmeng patted Elvis gently. "Alright, today you will lie here and rest. We will not do any traveling today. We will move out tomorrow after you have recovered."

Elvis didn't object and just nodded.

After all, they had made good time during the three days when Gu Mengmeng was asleep. They had specially done that so that they could slow down the pace when she woke up, to make the journey less strenuous on her.

Gu Mengmeng walked over to Wabei's side and sat down in a kneeling position. She sneered at him. "What do you think? I have good taste in men, right?"

Wabei snorted. “So-so. If not for your interference just now... he would be suffering from more than just two broken ribs now.”

Gu Mengmeng thought: Yeah, if I had not interfered just now, that superficial wound on your chest would be one gaping hole. You don’t need your organs anymore?

The more these two had fought, the more heavy-handed their moves had become. Tsk, no self-control at all.

Nevertheless, Gu Mengmeng didn’t wish to provoke them further. After all, all this was just so they could vent their frustrations. Now that she had achieved her intended results, why stir up new resentments?

So Gu Mengmeng held her tongue and instead asked, “Will it kill you to praise me for once?”

Wabei remained stubborn. “It’s not my fault if you have bad taste. I am not one of those fools so besotted by you. You want me to flatter you? Wait another hundred years!”

Gu Mengmeng laughed and gazed coquettishly at Wabei, until he felt his hairs all standing up. She then casually pointed to the back of her neck. “Don’t you forget, Snake is also my man...”

Although they did not become partners in the Beast World—looking at the present-day Snake, her other self probably stood no chance against him. So it was not a lie to say so in principle.

Wabei choked as his face turned red. After a long silence, he finally spat out the words. “You have such good taste!”

Gu Mengmeng laughed. “Aiyo, a hundred years passed so quickly. In the blink of an eye.”

Wabei slumped over, utterly depressed. He was already at the ripe old age of...800 years old.

The next morning, they prepared to move out. There was not much to pack, with only two newly skinned furs from the prey hunted by Lea yesterday. They would be used as cushioning for Gu Mengmeng during the journey.

As they left, Gu Mengmeng gave a light laugh and called out. “You finally ditched your little tails.”

Wabei chuckled. “So you planned for this when you had Elvis and I engage in battle yesterday.”

Gu Mengmeng didn’t reply but just smiled.

Wabei had brought along some colorful snakes for this trip, but kept them away from sight as he knew Gu Mengmeng didn’t like them. Instead, he dispatched them to their surroundings as security alerts and scouts.

Chapter 756

Chapter 756: After All, She Is Still A Second Generation Immortal

Their location yesterday was an old nesting spot for a gang of stray beasts. As they had Elvis and Wabei on their side, they naturally did not fear any stray beasts.

However, most of the stray beasts were bloodthirsty and would attack them with no regard for their own lives. They totally did not care about the vast disparity between their abilities and that of their opponent. They just hankered after a bloody massacre and the ensuing release.

Since they already had a death wish, Gu Mengmeng naturally did not care for them.

But she was unwilling to witness such foul killings.

Hence, she had Lea go hunting and sent those little snakes along for protection.

She then called Ian to her side and allowed Elvis and Wabei to battle. She thought that the fight between two fifth-level beasts would be enough to ward off those stray beasts, but they had instead become even more excited. Left with no choice, Gu Mengmeng unleashed her Beast King's beast pressure. On the surface, it was to hold back Elvis and Wabei, but in reality, it was to frighten off those stray beasts who had been lying in ambush.

They hankered after blood, killings and death, but their deep instinctual fear of a Beast King-level aura was enough to suppress them.

Hence, none of them dared to attack yesterday but had quietly followed behind the group. They only fell back when the group left the territory.

“Winning a battle without drawing blood is the best strategy,” Gu Mengmeng said casually.

Elvis remained silent as he held Gu Mengmeng. He looked rather peaky, as he was probably still recovering from his injuries.

No one took to heart this little diversion, but just continued their way to the ocean.

The air turned increasingly humid as they neared the ocean, and Wabei’s spirits lifted considerably. After traveling for nearly 20 days, they finally arrived at the seaside and met up with Fei Rui.

Gu Mengmeng turned around and kissed Elvis and Lea goodbye. “I will go with this fellow into the ocean to take a look at the situation. I will be back before dark.”

Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng again and instructed her worriedly. “You cannot rely on your powers as the Beast King to get your way. The ocean is not a good place for you to exhibit your full powers. Protect yourself at all times and don’t leave Wabei’s side. Understand?”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “Don’t worry, this guy is even more scared of seeing me injured. He will definitely keep a close eye on me. Moreover...”

Gu Mengmeng pointed to the sky and smiled mysteriously. “I have someone up there.”

Elvis and Lea gazed up towards the sky. They smiled. “But didn’t that old man say he cannot interfere with matters of the Beast World?”

Gu Mengmeng shrugged. “He cannot interfere with matters of the Beast World in principle. But he didn’t say that he must stand by and do nothing if his dear daughter is in trouble. I am after all a second generation immortal. Even if it’s just a false front, I should be able to put up some show of arrogance, right? Don’t worry, that movie-loving, lonely old man up there will look after me.”

Elvis and Lea only half-believed her, but didn't want to probe further.

Elvis looked at Wabei and said seriously, "Help me look after Xiao Meng. I will return this favor one day."

Wabei just snorted with derision. "I am not doing this for you. I am doing this for that mark behind her neck."

Elvis didn't argue with Wabei but just replied with all sincerity. "Regardless, please take care of Xiao Meng."

Gu Mengmeng circled Elvis and Lea around their necks and kissed them again. She then entered the ocean with Fei Rui, calling out along the way. "Let's go, little shit."

Chapter 757

Chapter 757: Brother, Bring Me Along For The Ride.

Lea and Elvis exchanged a look after Gu Mengmeng, Fei Rui and Wabei disappeared into the ocean.

Lea didn't ask any questions while Elvis also didn't make any comment.

Meanwhile, Gu Mengmeng didn't have any problems breathing after entering the sea. The Kiss of the Beast Deity was good stuff. This was probably a cheat code that the Beast Deity gave his Messengers?

After entering the sea, Fei Rui and Wabei kept their eyes on Gu Mengmeng, as if worried that she would be unaccustomed to being underwater. However, they discovered that Gu Mengmeng behaved like she had shed off a heavy weight and was full of curiosity for the myriad types of colorful marine life. She even stuck two pieces of coral in her hair and asked Fei Rui if she looked like a dragon?

Fei Rui's legs had morphed into a fish tail after entering the water, with his upper body naked. This young chap appeared young and fragile in human form, but now looked like a boy god on the verge of maturity in his half-beast form. He had a certain college-vibe... no, it was a high-school vibe that screamed of a "young man adept at both basketball and guitar, who would send you to school on a motorcycle while dressed in white shirts and jeans."

Yes, high-school era. Not older than that.

If based purely on his face, Gu Mengmeng might even say middle school.

But that physique...

A middle school boy would never have such lean muscles even if he spent all day at the gym.

Gu Mengmeng's impish hands reached towards Fei Rui's fish tail. She smiled salaciously. "Can I touch it?"

"Erm..." Before Fei Rui could answer, Gu Mengmeng had already plastered her hands on his tail.

Wow! The scales on the tail of the mythical mermaid was smooth and shiny, reflecting the sunlight that penetrated the ocean to emit a dazzling, yet gentle glow. If one must nitpick... tsk, was this a male? His chest was too flat which interfered with the rest of his perfection.

Although Gu Mengmeng had just touched him briefly, Fei Rui's face had turned as red as a monkey's buttocks. She felt a pang of guilt, as if she had accidentally tarnished an innocent soul? But she was truly just curious and didn't know that mermaids' tails were exceptionally sensitive.

Retrieving her hand, Gu Mengmeng laughed dryly. "I won't touch you anymore. Let's go. Aren't you in a hurry to save your sister?"

Fei Rui's face dimmed at the thought of his sister. He nodded and swam forward.

After a while, he turned back only to discover that Gu Mengmeng was trailing far behind...

He had already slowed down his pace, but she was still unable to catch up.

Her swimming style was very strange. It looked good but... it was way too slow?

Gu Mengmeng noticed the uncertainty in Fei Rui's face and sighed inwardly. With no choice, she held onto Wabei's neck and smiled. "Brother, bring me along for the ride."

"Why should I?" Wabei glared at Gu Mengmeng coldly.

Gu Mengmeng turned and revealed the mark on her neck. "Because of this. Okay?"

Wabei gritted his teeth and grabbed hold of Gu Mengmeng's armpits. As if he was moving luggage, he carried Gu Mengmeng and caught up with Fei Rui while in his half-beast form.

Seriously, that fish and snake moved so fast in the water, it was like traveling on an express train without seat belts. Very exhilarating.

Gu Mengmeng was only able to relax after Fei Rui and Wabei finally slowed down. At the same time, she could see an increasing number of mermaids in their surroundings. They stared at her and Wabei with eyes filled with wonder and surprise, mixed with intense fear.

Chapter 758

Chapter 758: A Familiar Taste From A Familiar Recipe.

Gu Mengmeng indicated Wabei to let go of her, before assuming the noble and wise air of that movie-loving, lonely old man. Imitating his benevolent smile, she addressed the crowd. “Hello everyone. I am the Messenger of the Beast Deity, Gu Mengmeng. Pleased to meet all of you.”

The subsequent whispered murmurings of the crowd were foreign to Gu Mengmeng.

Thereafter, one of the mermaids morphed into half-beast form and approached her with some tentativeness. Maintaining a safe distance, he asked, “Are you really the Messenger of the Beast Deity?”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “Apart from the Messenger of the Beast Deity, have you met any female from a non-ocean tribe, who can talk and move like me in the deep ocean?”

The mermaid thought about it and felt that there was some logic to Gu Mengmeng’s reasoning.

Nevertheless, he was obviously very scared of Wabei, who was standing behind Gu Mengmeng. He pursed his lips and said carefully. “Then... is he your partner?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. “No, he is my friend.”

The mermaid remained very uncomfortable. He tugged at Fei Rui’s arm. “Prince, that looks like a snake beast... we cannot afford to provoke him, better have him leave.”

But Fei Rui shook his head. “No, we need his power to save my sister.”

The mermaid continued. “Do you want to drag down the entire Mermaid tribe for your sister? We have already been driven out of our homeland by the giant fish beasts. If we continue to create trouble, the giant fish beasts might annihilate us all.”

Fei Rui was resolute. “The great Messenger will protect us.”

The mermaid persisted. “But the Messenger will not remain in the ocean forever. What will happen after she leaves? Who will protect us when they return to seek revenge?”

Fei Rui bit his lips as he was unable to respond to that mermaid’s question.

The Giant Fish Tribe were tyrants of the ocean world and the mermaids were not their match at all. If the giant fish beasts attacked them after Gu Mengmeng left, he would not be able to protect his own people or his sister.

That was why he wanted to become Gu Mengmeng’s partner and use that status to intimidate the giant fish beasts. With his status as the partner of the Messenger, as long he remained alive, the giant fish beasts would not dare to bully his people.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head at Fei Rui’s distressed expression. His personality was too weak. If even his own people could pressure him into such a state, how could he face the giant fish beasts?

She didn’t wish to interfere but Fei Rui kept glancing at her. Unable to bear Fei Rui’s pleading eyes, Gu Mengmeng sighed. “Has that Dora resurfaced?”

Fei Rui shook his head. “No, there has been no news at all...”

Gu Mengmeng frowned. This shouldn’t be the case. A wish by the Messenger of the Beast Deity should be very valuable. Why was Dora not tempted? If she was a pure-hearted child with no greed, then she wouldn’t have stolen the Giant Fish Tribe’s treasure in the first place.

Could it be... she was already dead?

Or perhaps...

“Fei Rui, do you know what is the Giant Fish Tribe’s treasure?” Gu Mengmeng was detecting the faint taste of deceit.

Moreover, it was a familiar taste from a familiar recipe.

Fei Rui shook his head. “I don’t know. We have never had much interaction with the Giant Fish Tribe...”

Gu Mengmeng gave a faint smile. “Then how was the Giant Fish Tribe so sure that it was your sister who stole their stuff?”

Fei Rui bit his lips with an anguished look in his eyes. He lowered his head and remained silent.

Chapter 759

Chapter 759: Weakling, Have You Come Looking For Another Thrashing?

Gu Mengmeng patted his shoulder. “To save your sister, you must tell me the whole truth. If you hide anything... I cannot help you.”

Fei Rui sighed as all light left his eyes, like storm clouds covering the stars. He frowned and said with guilt and heartache. “The Giant Fish Tribe’s leader, Carter, led a team of his people to our tribe and kidnapped my sister. He claimed that Dora personally admitted that their treasure is in our sister’s hands. They refused to accept our explanations and we can’t beat them... we were helpless as they snatched my sister away...”

The curl on Gu Mengmeng’s lips deepened. She prodded Fei Rui’s head. “Then how did you guys get driven out of your territory?”

Fei Rui frowned and replied with much forbearance. “It was because I kept pestering Carter to return my sister to me. He found me a nuisance and challenged me, saying that he would release my sister if I won. But if I lost, the Mermaid Tribe’s territory would be his. I knew I was no match for him, but... I still agreed. As a result of my stupidity and rash behavior, I implicated my people and my sister.”

Gu Mengmeng patted Fei Rui’s shoulder in a comforting gesture. “Oh, I see now. Alright, we don’t need to wait for that Dora anymore. We will seek out Carter directly.”

Fei Rui looked up at Gu Mengmeng in confusion.

Gu Mengmeng smiled. “We can challenge him right? I will help you defeat him and win back your sister.”

Fei Rui stared at Gu Mengmeng in a daze. “Can... can we do that?”

Gu Mengmeng smiled again. “Why not?”

Fei Rui hesitated a moment. He knew that the consequences of doing so would be just as what the mermaids feared. Once Gu Mengmeng left, the giant fish beasts would counterattack them in revenge, and they... would be helpless.

But even so, he was desperate to rescue his sister.

Just this once. Just let him behave rashly one more time.

He felt that if it was Gu Mengmeng, perhaps they could have more faith!

Paying no heed to the objections of his people, Fei Rui nodded and took hold of Gu Mengmeng’s hand, immediately shooting off like a rocket.

Wabei gave an impatient grunt, but went after them.

The rest of the Mermaid Tribe were all cowed after being defeated by Carter. None of them dared to follow. They just quietly returned to the dark corners of the ocean. Apart from the stream of bubbles, it was as if nothing had happened there.

The mermaids’ original territory was a vast and vibrant coral reef, peaceful and beautiful. It was full of countless aquatic vegetation, too many to name. Forming a symbiotic ecosystem with the coral reef, the territory was a thriving metropolis. Some might even compare it to the palace of the east ocean.

Several giant fish beasts were patrolling the borders of the territory.

They morphed into half-beast form the moment they saw Fei Rui. They looked at him with disdain and called out mockingly. “Weakling, have you come looking for another thrashing? You have already lost your territory, what else could you possibly offer to challenge our leader again?”

Fei Rui clenched his fists and bit down on his lips in silence.

Gu Mengmeng stepped forward with a grin. “Get Carter out to meet me.”

The giant fish beasts sized up Gu Mengmeng with a dazed look...

They had never seen such a gorgeous female. She was beautiful beyond description.

Chapter 760

Chapter 760: What Are You Glaring At Me For? I Am Not Scared Of You.

Wabei stepped forward and narrowed his eyes. “Are you deaf? She asked you to go get Carter. Continue staring and I will dig your eyes out.”

“Snake... snake beast?!” The guards of the Giant Fish Tribe were clearly frightened. They immediately jumped back several meters and stared at Wabei from a distance, shaking with fear.

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head as she glanced at Wabei. “Why are they so scared of you? Did you harm anyone here before?”

Wabei snorted. “Not me, it was him.”

At that, he tapped the back of Gu Mengmeng’s neck.

Gu Mengmeng fell into deep thought. Snake had indeed visited the ocean floor before. But he had only visited this place now and then to find some seafood to supplement his meals. It didn’t seem like... he had caused any harm to anyone... right?

Wait a minute!

What did he eat then?!

Gu Mengmeng felt a sudden chill. Shaking her head, she now knew why the ocean tribes were so afraid of the snake tribe.

Giving a helpless sigh, she grinned as she watched the giant fish tribe flee in fear. They were compliantly going back to pass the message.

Chuckling in exasperation, she said. “Look now, if only you guys obeyed us right from the start? Why must you incur the wrath of our little shit? Tsk, wretched punks.”

“Gu Mengmeng!” Wabei gritted his teeth as he hollered her name.

Gu Mengmeng just gave a nonchalant smile. “What are you glaring at me for? I am not scared of you.”

Wabei was fuming. He grabbed Gu Mengmeng by the shoulders and turned her around, before speaking to the mark on the back of her neck. “Snake, come and take her back with you!”

Following that...

Wabei was stunned.

There was actually venom on his hands.

He was already long immune to this venom. After all, he had been exposed to poison for the past 800 years.

Although the poison was quickly dissipated by the ocean water, he could recognize it as Snake’s venom!

Staring at the mark on the back of Gu Mengmeng’s neck, he started to believe her earlier words. Snake was inside her body. She was lying when she said she was just joking. Snake was here. He must be!

This discovery sent Wabei into a frenzy. He shook Gu Mengmeng by the shoulders. “Snake, you are in there, right? Come out, let’s have a battle?!”

Gu Mengmeng was dizzy from being shaken by Wabei. Actually, it was because Wabei was too aggressive towards her earlier, which triggered the protective mark of Snake. It had nothing to do with Snake’s apparently angry soul. But it didn’t matter what she said now, it would be useless.

Steadying herself, Gu Mengmeng turned around to look at Wabei. “Tsk, stop manhandling me.”

Wabei was momentarily taken aback, before he continued to shake Gu Mengmeng. She was really feeling very nauseous from all that jiggling. Unable to bear it any longer, she smacked Wabei to a far distance.

This scene was clearly witnessed by Carter, who had just arrived at the border.

There was only one fifth-level male snake beast in this world. How powerful was he? Probably... even though they had never met, just one glare from him would be enough to make Carter tremble with fear.

And such a person was sent flying off... with just one smack... from a petite female?!

Fei Rui instinctively hid behind Gu Mengmeng the moment he saw Carter. But he quickly recomposed himself. After all, he was a male. As scared as he was, how could he hide behind a female! As such, he stepped up and stood protectively in front of Gu Mengmeng. Staring straight at Carter, he said with resolution. "Carter, give me back my sister."

Chapter 761

Chapter 761: Take Her Back If You Can.

The shock that Carter experienced when he saw that smack Gu Mengmeng gave Wabei, was shattered by Fei Rui's appearance.

The moment he saw Fei Rui, Carter's eyes filled with a supercilious disdain. Curling the corners of his lips, he said in an arrogant tone. "Take her back if you can."

Gu Mengmeng patted Fei Rui, who was obviously scared but still wanted to charge forward. She smiled at him comfortingly.

Fei Rui was a good kid. His thinking was still immature and his abilities lacking—but looking at him still trying to protect Gu Mengmeng despite his fear, this was enough to make Gu Mengmeng want to help him.

Not for the Kiss of the Ocean and not for any other reason. Just because Gu Mengmeng felt Fei Rui was a decent person.

Fei Rui's lips were pressed into a straight line. He was still somewhat hesitant but calmed down.

On one hand, he believed in Gu Mengmeng's capabilities. But on the other hand, he was very worried about her getting hurt, after all... she was a female.

With such thoughts running through his head, he kept his eyes on Gu Mengmeng, using every fiber of his body to guard against Carter.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled at his anxious face, but didn't say anything more.

Taking a couple steps forward, she surveyed Carter.

He had a sturdy physique and a masculine face. If he had a trident in hand, he would look exactly like Poseidon, god of the sea.

From some angles, his demeanor was somewhat similar to Elvis. He radiated an aura that said “stay away”. Moreover, she was very familiar with the way he was looking at her. This was because this was how Elvis and Lea stared at others apart from herself—with a measure of aloofness and guardedness.

Gu Mengmeng crossed her hands behind her back and gazed at Carter. Her petite body possessed major power. The air of nobility cultivated by Snake over a thousand years was not something that someone like Carter could compare against.

That was why if Gu Mengmeng wanted to posture, unless Snake was resurrected, no one else in the Beast World could posture better than her.

With a light laugh traced with derision, she commented in a languid manner, “So, are the ocean tribes no longer under the purview of the Beast Deity?”

Carter was taken aback. He frowned, as if he didn’t understand her meaning.

Wabei had already stood back up after being smacked to the side by Gu Mengmeng. Since there was an outsider around, he had to play his own part well. They could not afford to lose face in front of others.

As such, Wabei stared coldly at Wabei without a word.

Meanwhile, Fei Rui was standing on the other side of Gu Mengmeng. Although he was still a bit scared, he spoke out. “This is the Messenger of the Beast Deity, Gu Mengmeng. Carter, as arrogant as you are, you should know your limits.”

Messenger of the Beast Deity....?

Carter lowered his eyes and made some chewing motions, as if trying to size up the situation.

Clenching his fists tightly by his sides, he paused for a moment before lowering his head and greeting politely. “It is my honor to meet the Messenger of the Beast Deity.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and rested one arm on Fei Rui as she leaned against Wabei’s shoulder. She looked very much like wayward elder used to getting her own way. With another light laugh, she said, “No need for pleasantries. I am here to see... eh, what’s your sister’s name?”

Fei Rui whispered in Gu Mengmeng’s ear. “Melinda.”

Gu Mengmeng continued. “Yeah, right. I am here to see Melinda. Carter, make it happen.”

Carter tightened his fists with the intention of stopping her. But Gu Mengmeng and Wabei just strolled past him without waiting for his response.

Chapter 762

Chapter 762: Mermaid Princess Melinda

Wabei knocked into Carter as he brushed passed, causing Carter to stagger pathetically. Nevertheless, Carter was helpless against Wabei. He just clenched his fists tightly and trailed behind them.

This place used to belong to the Mermaid Tribe, so Fei Rui was very familiar with the area. He easily located his sister's original residence.

Pink coral cordoned off an area, within which a massive shell laid opened. It was filled with fresh seaweed neatly arranged, while a pillow made from a smaller clam laid on one end. Beside it were some food items which Gu Mengmeng had never seen before. They were perhaps some type of underwater fruits and vegetables?

A teenage girl sat kneeling on the floor, with her upper body leaning over the seaweed upon the shell bed. She had buried her face in her arms, refusing to look up. Her wavy golden hair was not showy at all, but instead looked refined. Gu Mengmeng usually didn't find blond girls sophisticated. Even those golden-haired European film goddesses, Gu Mengmeng would at most say they had a certain presence. She felt that only black-haired Chinese women had that air of elegance.

But somehow, even though it was just a back view—for the first time in her life, Gu Mengmeng felt that a blond girl possessed that very air of elegance.

She laid there unmoving, looking like the injured swan in the ballet Swan Lake. She held traces of despondency and helplessness, but still possessing a determined strength.

Even before seeing her face, Gu Mengmeng felt her heart ache for this girl.

“Melinda.” Fei Rui called out in agitation.

The girl froze, before suddenly turning around. A pair of eyes identical to Fei Rui's was drenched in tears. Nonetheless, a joyful smile blossomed across her lips.

"Brother." The girl stood up even though her legs had already gone numb. She limped towards Fei Rui with awkward determination.

At the same time, Fei Rui was also charging towards her. He embraced his little sister tightly in his arms, gently and patiently comforting her.

Gu Mengmeng looked at Carter, whose eyes were filled with complicated emotions. Forbearance? Sadness? Frustration? Or perhaps it was pain... but no anger at all.

This was not the look a criminal ought to have.

Gu Mengmeng was not a stranger to such a look. Elvis and Lea looked like that all the time when they were gazing at her.

"You resent this?" Gu Mengmeng asked Carter.

Carter clenched his jaws. "Unless the great Messenger remains in the ocean to protect the Mermaid Tribe, otherwise..."

"You still want to use the excuse of having your treasure stolen to imprison this young lady?" Looking at him from the corner of her eye, Gu Mengmeng observed Carter's shocked expression. This fellow must have thought he was such a good actor that no one would guess the truth. Gu Mengmeng smiled smugly. She then said casually, "Doing so will only drive her against you. If you are forever the enemy in her eyes..."

Carter's pupils dilated at Gu Mengmeng's words. He didn't even react so strongly when he saw Wabei.

"As expected... nothing can escape the Messenger of the Beast Deity's eyes." Carter relaxed his fists but his brows remained tightly knitted. He looked on as Melinda cried like a baby in Fei Rui's arms. For a long time, she had not expressed any kind of emotion but maintained a poker face. Her miserable tears pounded against his heart but he didn't even have the right to offer her a word of consolation.

Chapter 763

Chapter 763: She Was The Type Of Princess Who Should Be Loved and Cherished

Fei Rui finally managed to coax Melinda into stopping her tears. He then held her little hand and led her to Gu Mengmeng. Looking at Gu Mengmeng with some trepidation, he said, “Great Messenger, can my sister leave with us...”

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head. “I just came in to confirm that your sister is alright. You have to ask Carter whether we can bring your sister along with us.”

Gu Mengmeng’s words stunned both Fei Rui and Melinda. Even Carter was shocked.

The three pairs of eyes widened in confusion as they looked at Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng shrugged. “Of course, no one can stop me if I decide to snatch her away today. But... do you want the reputation of being a thief to always hang over Melinda’s head? Think carefully. If she were to leave with me today, it would be as good as admitting that she stole their treasure. She will never have the opportunity to clear her name in the future.”

Gu Mengmeng waved nonchalantly. “Well... even though just taking her away will be easier for me—after all, our deal was for me to just rescue your sister. It doesn’t include helping to clear her name and also doesn’t cover what happens after I leave... whether she will be snatched away again.”

“Then...” Fei Rui was once again in distress. He bit his lips. “No matter. I can bring my sister to another part of the ocean to start afresh. We will go somewhere far from here where no one knows us and no one can find us.”

Carter's eyes narrowed at the mention of them leaving.

The veins on his fists throbbed fiercely, clearly indicating his anger.

Gu Mengmeng tugged at him and shook her head gently. She then gazed upon Melinda's face with a warm smile.

Melinda completely fulfilled Gu Mengmeng's fantasy of the perfect mermaid. She was not just stunning from behind.

Although she had been brainwashed by Elvis and Lea for over half a year into believing that she was the most beautiful woman in the world, Gu Mengmeng still felt a sense of inferiority standing before Melinda.

Having lived in the ocean for years, her skin was fair and smooth. The constant swimming also gave her body a slender physique, without the slightest trace of any excess fats. She was the embodiment of perfection. Her face was so pure that no one could bear to say a harsh word in her presence. She was the type of princess who should be loved and cherished.

Melinda completely revamped Gu Mengmeng's knowledge of the Beast World. She was the most beautiful female Gu Mengmeng had ever seen in the Beast World. No one else could compare!

At this point, Melinda twisted her lower lip and hesitated for a long time. She then raised her head and looked at Gu Mengmeng with resolution. "No, I will not leave. I didn't steal anything, why should I flee?"

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. Out of the corner of her eye, she noticed that Carter had also relaxed. He no longer looked like he was going to faint from holding his breath.

Gu Mengmeng walked before Fei Rui and patted his shoulder, gazing gently into his bright eyes. "I will stay by the seaside for awhile, to help Melinda settle this theft accusation. So that she can live honestly and openly anywhere she wants. Do you want to trust me this one time?"

“But..” Fei Rui looked in the direction of Carter with much reservation and animosity.

Without hesitating, Gu Mengmeng raised her hand and sent Carter flying off with one smack. She then slapped her hands together. “With me around, I want to see who will dare to bully my little mermaids.”

That one smack had Carter spitting out blood. Clutching his chest, he walked back to the group. “I guarantee that no one will harm Melinda.”

Chapter 764

Chapter 764: Upholding The Twisted Logic Of I Am Torturing You Because I Love You

Returning to the beach, the moon was already high up in the sky.

Lea sat beside the bonfire stirring a pot of food. He kept glancing at the ocean until he finally saw a familiar figure running towards him. Only then did his worried heart settle down.

Elvis retrieved the fur skin which had been warming by the fire and wrapped Gu Mengmeng in it. He then glared at Fei Rui with a stony face until he fled back into the ocean. Seeing that Wabei had tactfully wandered into the forest to forage for food, Elvis made sure there was no one else on the beach. He then hurriedly helped Gu Mengmeng change into clean clothes, in case she caught a cold.

As she changed, Gu Mengmeng reached out for something to eat. She was really hungry. Although she had been carried by Fei Rui or Wabei most of the journey, she swam a distance that was equivalent to three ironman marathons. It was not your usual physical exertion.

Elvis was always happy to see her with a good appetite. He asked as he fed her, “How did things go today? Did the leader of the Giant Fish Tribe give you any trouble?”

Gu Mengmeng laughed. “The situation is unbelievably dramatic. It is akin to the deep sea version of “I love my president though he is a psycho”. Upholding the twisted logic of I am torturing you because I love you... ha, I suspect that the heads of you males are all filled with liquid detergent.”

Lea and Elvis looked nonplussed. They had no idea what was liquid detergent, but hearing her tone... it was probably not a compliment.

But there was one point which caught their attention. “I am torturing you because I love you”?

So...

Not only did Gu Mengmeng attract yet another romantic rival in the ocean today, she had suffered at his hands.

Without a need for them to say anything, Gu Mengmeng could tell the two of them had misunderstood just by their expressions. She raised her hand in time to intervene. “Stop. Don’t let your thoughts run wild. He didn’t fall for me. In this case, I am just a matchmaker.”

“Yeah?” Elvis responded with a solemn face.

Gu Mengmeng took another piece of meat in her mouth and smiled before swallowing it. Turning her head, she used her chin to indicate the sea. “There, the male lead is here. Ask him directly if you are so curious.”

Carter had come to ask Gu Mengmeng why she was helping him, and to clarify what should he do next. But seeing that there were others present, he felt too embarrassed to speak.

He wanted to turn back but as he watched Gu Mengmeng, Elvis and Lea’s cozy interaction, he felt a pang of envy. In a daze, he inadvertently stepped closer.

Now that Gu Mengmeng had spotted him, he had no choice but to morph into human form and head over.

Elvis handed Gu Mengmeng over to Lea and stood up. He walked up to stand before Carter and asked with a chilly expression. “What did you do to Xiao Meng?”

Carter had already noticed Elvis’ mark on Gu Mengmeng’s collarbone and was naturally aware of their relationship. Twisting his lips, he replied, “I was smacked by the great Messenger. Does that count?”

Without another word, Elvis punched Carter in the face, knocking him onto the ground in a daze.

Carter was a tyrant in the sea but his powers were limited on land. In addition, he was just a third-level beast. A punch by a fifth-level beast like Elvis was no joke for him.

Elvis said in a crisp voice, laced with anger. “Xiao Meng will never hit anyone without reason. If she hit you... you must have done something to deserve it.”

Carter stared at Elvis but didn't offer any protest. On one hand, he instinctively feared a more dominant opponent. On the other hand, he had a favor to ask of Gu Mengmeng. Such a price was something he was willing to pay.

Chapter 765

Chapter 765: I Asked You To Sit Down, Not To Kneel Down.

Gu Mengmeng didn't stop Elvis from beating Carter up. She just continued to enjoy her delicious food.

After eating to her fill, she shouted out. "Hubby, time to clean up."

Elvis threw down Carter and returned to Gu Mengmeng's side. He kissed her oily lips before taking Lea's newly forged stone pot to the sea to wash.

Only then did Carter crawl up in a wretched state. He walked to Gu Mengmeng's side and bowed. "Great Messenger."

Gu Mengmeng acted like she didn't notice his battered body. "Sit down, tell me your story."

Carter was shocked. He thought since Gu Mengmeng was brought over by Fei Rui, she must hate him as much as Fei Rui did. However, she did not express any animosity towards him during their time in the ocean, and even discreetly helped him to make Melinda stay. He was totally unable to read the intentions of this great Messenger.

Moreover, he thought Gu Mengmeng would ask him why was he seeking her out. But instead, she was asking him to tell her his story?

He had come bearing a bellyful of questions waiting to be answered, and not to do any storytelling...

Gu Mengmeng smacked her lips, as if relishing the lingering taste of meat. She swallowed her own saliva with satisfaction and spoke again. "I will stay here for ten days. Within this ten days, if you cannot settle Melinda, I have no choice but to bring the two siblings away with me."

"Great Messenger." Carter gave a low shout.

Lea smirked as he pulled Gu Mengmeng into his arms. He stared at Carter with slanted eyes full of scorn and provocation. His tone was calm but even icier than the moonlit ocean waters. "It might be simpler if we just kill you here and now. How long have I not tasted fish? Now that I think of it... I am getting a bit hungry."

They were both third-level beasts, but Carter was no match for Lea on land.

If he wanted to flee back into the ocean...

Elvis was standing guard at the side and would never allow him the opportunity to escape.

Moreover, he had come to seek guidance and not to create trouble.

Carter kneeled before Gu Mengmeng and lowered his head. "Will the great Messenger please help me. Tell me how to get Melinda to accept me."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled as she leaned into Lea's arms. "I asked you to sit down, not to kneel down. Kowtowing to me is useless if I don't wish to help you. But if I want to help you, I will not trample upon your dignity. Understand?"

Carter nodded with uncertainty before settling into a seated position. He stared at Gu Mengmeng with shining eyes, as if hoping to see a blooming flower emerge from her face. A flower which he could pluck and present to Melinda to win her heart.

Gu Mengmeng sighed. "In order for me to help you, I must understand what is going on. Tell me the story of you and Melinda. I will think of a solution after that."

Carter nodded. He was obviously a hardened man, but a gentle and bashful look crossed his face as he thought about the person he loved.

"During one of the territorial battles between the tribes, I suffered heavy injuries and nearly died. I was saved by Melinda, who just happened to be nearby on a leisurely stroll. I fell in love with her at first sight and was determined to have her. After recovering, I returned to the Giant Fish Tribe. The battle was still ongoing and I had to help my own people... but after the battle was over and I sought her out again, she no longer recognized me. She detested me, rejected me, avoided me... she is scared of me...”

Chapter 766

Chapter 766: It's Not My Fault That He Couldn't Beat Me

“She is the most beautiful female in the whole world. I swear that I will cherish her and protect her and give her the best of everything. But... she treated me so well when I was injured. Why is she spurning me after I recovered? I never did anything to hurt her. Why does she fear me? Even if you are able to see my true feelings towards her with just one glance. Why does she not understand? I will never harm her...”

Carter felt very hopeless and frustrated. He slumped over and sighed without another word.

Gu Mengmeng laughed. “You snatched the Mermaid Tribe’s territory and caused her people to be homeless. You humiliated her brother several times and forced him to travel all the way to Saint Nazaire to seek my help. Do you think such actions are not hurtful?”

Carter looked up with a lost expression. “I took over the Mermaid Tribe’s territory as she didn’t like living in the Giant Fish Tribe’s area. She said she missed home so I snatched it over for her.”

Gu Mengmeng couldn’t contain her laughter. She had truly seen it all now.

His way of thinking was really bizarre and twisted.

How did he come up with such a solution? Gu Mengmeng really felt that nothing could be more different than the thought processes of the two genders. How in the world did such a vast difference come about?

“And that Fei Rui. He was the one who kept challenging me. I never sought to give him trouble... it’s not my fault that he couldn’t beat me...”

Gu Mengmeng propped her cheek on her hand. “Young man, your way of thinking is what we call ‘destined for a solitary life’, understand?”

Carter shook his head in all honesty.

Gu Mengmeng explained kindly. “It means you are doomed to be alone forever.”

Anxiety crept over Carter. “Why? What... what did I do wrong?”

Gu Mengmeng just felt like laughing. This totally felt like a student asking his teacher after handing over a blank script “Teacher, where do you think I went wrong? In what areas can I improve?” The teacher’s only possible answer would be: You have messed up so badly, you didn’t even write your own name!

Gu Mengmeng patted Lea’s chest. “You tell him where did he go wrong. I am afraid I might lose control of myself and nag him to death.”

Lea suddenly felt that this Carter wasn’t that hateful. After all... he was blind. A handicapped fish was really quite pitiful.

Huh? Why did Lea say that Carter was blind?

Of course it was because Carter said that Melinda was the most beautiful female in the world.

You must be kidding me. The most beautiful female in the world was Gu Mengmeng, alright? He must be blind if he couldn’t even see that?

Faced with a handicapped person, Lea would still show some kindness.

After all, witch doctors were sort of like nurses. Taking care of the infirm was his duty.

But on the criteria that the aforementioned sick person didn’t covet his Mengmeng.

Clearing his throat, Lea inserted his tail into Gu Mengmeng’s arms for her to play. Narrowing his eyes, Lea said, “With your intelligence, I guess that framing her for stealing your treasure was not your own idea? Tell me, who was the mastermind behind that.”

Carter was nodded rather honestly. “The idea was Dora’s. She said that as long as I kept Melinda by my side, she will eventually discover how good I am to her. I am to wait until she likes me back before telling her the truth. By then, even if she gets angry, she can hit or punish me however she likes—but after her anger has subsided, she will remain by my side.”

Chapter 767

Chapter 767: You Are Really Exceptionally Stupid

Gu Mengmeng and Lea exchanged a knowing smile.

Lea asked again. “Snatching her tribe’s territory after hearing her say she wanted to go home. This idea...?”

Carter replied with the ignorant expression of a chauvinistic male. “Oh, this was my own idea.”

Lea chuckled. “No one suggested it to you?”

Carter thought for a moment before replying. “Dora gave some advice.”

Lea chuckled again and shook his head with a sigh. He ignored Carter and hooked Gu Mengmeng’s chin. With a loving expression, he said, “Mengmeng, promise me that you will never choose a partner from the ocean tribes... their stupidity is so profound that they will lower our household’s average IQ.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded wisely. “Don’t worry, I despise males who can’t recognize a bitch when he sees one.”

Elvis had already cleaned the pot and leaned it against a large tree by the side. He then washed his hands and drew Gu Mengmeng back into his arms.

Elvis had overheard the entire conversation. He could behave rather civilly towards a male who had no intentions towards Gu Mengmeng.

Kissing Gu Mengmeng’s little face, he said, “Let’s leave after you get the Kiss of the Ocean. His type... is hopeless. Don’t waste your time.”

Carter was in a daze from all their admonishments. He did not really understand and could offer no objections. Only when Elvis said not to bother about him did he finally snap out of his trance. He looked at Gu Mengmeng with desperation. “Great Messenger. Where did I go wrong? Please tell me. I am willing to change! For Melinda, I can change anything.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “Do you know what is your biggest mistake?”

Carter shook his head. Everything he had done was for the sake of keeping Melinda by his side. He didn’t feel that he had done anything wrong.

Gu Mengmeng continued. “Yeah, as expected... a male suffering from chauvinistic cancer will never know when his illness has reached the terminal stage.”

Carter was taken aback. He glanced down at his own body and frowned. “Am I... going to die? That’s why I cannot bring her happiness?”

Gu Mengmeng thought that the generation gap between Snake and her was the widest she had ever experienced, but it appeared that she was wrong.

In the Beast World, there was always another person who would be even more difficult to get through to!

Generation gap, haha, it was something which had no limits.

Lea gave a light laugh. “Failing to make your female happy is your greatest mistake.”

Carter fell into deep thought, before nodding urgently. “I know. It’s my fault. But I don’t know how to change. That’s why I need the great Messenger to teach me...”

Lea shook his head. “Taking instructions from another female other than your own female is your second mistake.”

Carter’s face froze as he listened to Lea’s words like he was preaching from the Heavenly Book. With a gaping mouth and confused eyes, he stared uncomprehending at Lea.

Lea pointed at Elvis, and then at himself. “Our Mengmeng liked me first, but he is Mengmeng’s first partner. Do you know why?”

Carter thought about it before answering. “Because he is a fifth-level beast and you can’t defeat him.”

Lea gave a mocking laugh. “You are really exceptionally stupid. How could he be a fifth-level beast before becoming a partner?”

Carter slapped his head as he remembered about the third-level boundary.

Lea ignore Carter and continued. “Because like as you, I committed the biggest mistake in this world. I did something which made my female unhappy.”

Chapter 768

Chapter 768: I Want Her To Be Happy

“I thought I was being good to her, and she will definitely forgive me after she learned the truth. I was well prepared to accept all the resulting punishment... sob, I thought I was doing something good.” Lea recalled that unforgivable period. Gu Mengmeng kept referring to him as an ex-boyfriend, making him keep his distance and asking him to stop pestering her. Every word spoken by her was like a sharp claw tearing into his heart. That pain was a constant reminder to never do anything that would make Gu Mengmeng unhappy again. He was unable to bear the consequences.

Looking up with a “been-there-done-that” expression, Lea said, “All the punishment includes her tears and rejection. If your only punishment is her crying while telling you that she forgives you, doesn’t hate you, and that you two owe each other nothing and should go your separate ways? You... are you prepared to accept that?”

Lea was speaking lightly but Carter felt as if his chest was being viciously torn apart. It was as if he was seeing those limpid eyes, shining with tears and speaking of a forever farewell, right in front of him now. At that moment, he felt as if every drop of blood in his body had hardened. He was frozen and unable to move.

Lea chuckled. “See, you aren’t ready and cannot accept that.”

With his temple throbbing, Carter remained silent for a long while before recovering his voice. Like a drowning person clutching desperately to his last hope of survival, he said in a trembling voice. “But you eventually gained her forgiveness... didn’t you?”

Lea looked at the mark on Gu Mengmeng’s ear with gentleness. His eyes were filled with gladness and cherish. He reached out and caressed Gu Mengmeng’s little ear before gazing rather arrogantly at Carter. “The difference between you and me, apart from Mengmeng, is that I will never listen to the words of any other female. Every mistake I made was by my own hand. But you... you listened to Dora and hurt Melinda. This is a fundamental difference. Understand?”

“I... I just didn’t want Melinda to leave me...” Carter felt deeply stricken by Lea’s words. There was nothing between Dora and him, so why was he feeling so sheepish after hearing Lea’s admonishment?

Lea snorted scornfully. “Oh, so your own wishes overrides her happiness....it seems like you don’t like her that much.”

“No, it’s not like that!” Carter wanted to explain but he didn’t know how to.

Gu Mengmeng smiled. There was no way Carter could out-talk Lea.

She said with a wave, “Carter, you must first be clear on what exactly it is that you want? Do you only wish to keep her by your side, or do you hope for her to like you, love you and then accept you?”

Carter asked helplessly, “Is there a difference?”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “Of course. There is a huge difference between doing something out of one’s own free will, versus being forced to do so. The former represents happiness while the latter represents torment. How can there be no difference?”

Carter didn’t hesitate. “I want her to be happy.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded. “The first step is to clear her name. Make amends for all the wrongdoings you committed. Only then do you have the right to stand before her and pursue her.”

Carter nodded. “Alright, I will go back now to announce that Melinda never stole anything.”

Gu Mengmeng held her own cheek as she laid against Elvis’ shoulder. She looked at Lea with a pleading gaze.

Lea smiled warmly as he stroked Gu Mengmeng's head. "Leave it to me."

Chapter 769

Chapter 769: My Sister Is Free!

Lea led Carter to the side and guided him through it all. Gu Mengmeng truly couldn't bear to listen to Carter anymore.

How could such a usually intelligent person become such a retard when talking about matters of the heart?

Nestled in Elvis' arms, Gu Mengmeng sighed. "Thankfully, you were the one I met at that time. Otherwise, I would have been driven to my death in a rage."

Elvis' eyes glowed with love and doting. He kissed Gu Mengmeng's eyelids and whispered in a raspy voice. "Silly girl. I am the one who should be thankful."

Carter spent that entire night listening to Lea's teachings. Wabei didn't return and Ian also laid low in some random tree in the forest.

Meanwhile, Elvis held Gu Mengmeng as he listened to her count the stars and explain about horoscopes. He didn't really understand it but still found it rather interesting.

Her voice was so gentle that he spent the entire night awake just to listen to her. He didn't even want to miss the sound of her breathing.

The next morning, Wabei brought back some fresh fruits while Ian returned with an armful of bird eggs. It was a bizarre sight and Gu Mengmeng stared at him as if he was a pervert. Ian snorted in response. "Our Eagle-owl Tribe doesn't have any descendants. Why should these unborn dumb birds proliferate?"

Gu Mengmeng clicked her tongue, sighing at the fact that Ian was such an inwardly evil person. Such a "if I can't be happy, I don't want anyone else to be” mentality was really too evil.

Nevertheless, Gu Mengmeng knew in her heart that it was Lea who instructed Ian to gather those bird eggs.

Gu Mengmeng remained nestled in Elvis’ arms. Somehow, Gu Mengmeng could that that something happened to Elvis during that one day when she was away in the sea. On the surface, nothing appeared to have changed, but Gu Mengmeng could feel that Elvis was very ill-at-ease, as if he especially missed her.

But since he didn’t wish to tell her, Gu Mengmeng could only chose not to pursue the matter.

Gu Mengmeng bit down on the fruit brought back by Wabei. She waited eagerly for Lea to finish cooking the eggs. Before the eggs were done, several familiar-looking people emerged from the sea.

Fei Rui was running over with Melinda in tow.

Looking at the smiles upon their faces, Gu Mengmeng knew Carter had quickly and effectively completed his mission. It was already late at night when he finally went home yesterday, but he managed to clear Melinda’s name so soon.

“Great Messenger!” Fei Rui’s skin was as fair as Melinda’s. So fair that Gu Mengmeng couldn’t bear to let them bake in the sun for too long. It was as if the sunlight might melt them.

The cheeks of both Fei Rui and Melinda were currently flushed. The Mermaid Tribe had no sweat glands so their skin remained dry. Nevertheless, their panting expressions revealed just how eager this pair of siblings wished to tell Gu Mengmeng their good news.

Gu Mengmeng patted Fei Rui on the shoulder. “It’s alright, take your time to speak.”

Fei Rui composed himself, his eyes sparkling like the winter star. Nearly crying for joy, he said, “My sister... is free!”

Gu Mengmeng maintained a polite smile. Although this news... she already knew it last night, she still wanted to convey her happiness and congratulations. She handed a fruit to Melinda. “Here, for you to eat. To celebrate your freedom.”

Melinda was somewhat bashful before Gu Mengmeng. She pouted as she looked at Fei Rui, who nodded at her encouragingly. She then took over the fruit from Gu Mengmeng and said demurely, “Thank you, great Messenger.”

Chapter 770

Chapter 770: Don't Put Yourself Down And Imitate Others

Gu Mengmeng looked behind her. As expected, a familiar figure was hiding behind a distant rock, gazing in their direction. He was obviously dying to come over but could only gaze at them from afar. He looked rather pitiful.

“Who is that? Come over here.” Gu Mengmeng pointed at the figure behind that rock.

Carter was taken aback, but still swam out from behind that rock and came onto the beach in human form.

His eyes kept returning to Melinda, who instantly noticed his appearance. Melinda turned stiff and shrank behind Fei Rui.

She was still afraid of him...

“Great Messenger.” Carter lowered his head and gaze. He was unwilling to witness Melinda’s flustered expression, but couldn’t help wishing to be closer to her.

Gu Mengmeng ignored the conflict between those two and just said, “We feel like eating seafood. Go with Fei Rui to net some for me.”

Carter nodded. “Yes.”

Fei Rui was reluctant to speak with Carter, but Gu Mengmeng was still the Messenger of the Beast Deity. If not for her, Melinda would still be imprisoned. Although it looked as if Gu Mengmeng had nothing to do it, Fei Rui knew that if Gu Mengmeng had not spoken up for them, Carter would never have released Melinda even if faced with evidence of her innocence.

Hence, it was his honor to be able to do something for Gu Mengmeng.

Although Gu Mengmeng hadn't done that much for the siblings, it had put his heart at ease.

As a result, even if he had to cooperate with Carter, Fei Rui didn't reject Gu Mengmeng's request. He stood up and followed Carter into the ocean.

Gu Mengmeng liked pretty girls, especially those who were pretty and kindhearted.

Noticing that Melinda still hadn't taken a bite of the fruit, Gu Mengmeng asked pleasantly, "Don't you like to eat this type of fruit?"

Melinda shook her head. "I... never tried it before."

Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Wabei. "Is it very difficult to find this fruit?"

Wabei pointed to the nearby forest. "Plenty over there."

Melinda's face turned red as she lowered her head. "This is the first time I have come ashore..."

Gu Mengmeng held onto Melinda's little hand with a smile. "I am very honored to be able to share this special occasion with you."

Melinda smiled sweetly and bashfully. "Thank you, great Messenger."

Gu Mengmeng took a bite of the fruit in her own hand, before indicating that Melinda should also try it.

A beautiful woman always looks exceptionally refined, even when eating. Her tiny bite looked as if she was kissing the fruit.

Looking at the huge bite on her own fruit, Gu Mengmeng suddenly suspected her own demureness.

Having been partnered for over half a year, had she already forgotten to maintain her image in front of Elvis and Lea? Was it really okay for her to eat in this manner...

Gu Mengmeng thought about it and started to eat the fruit with small bites. However, Elvis pressed down on her hand and kissed her lips. “I like your original manner. Don’t put yourself down and imitate others.”

Gu Mengmeng blushed. She didn’t think that Elvis would notice such a small detail.

The more she thought about it, the more she acquiesced. After all, when she was carrying Hede and his brothers, Elvis had been the one who carried her out to relieve herself. What could be worse than that?

He had seen her at her most wretched, filthy and pathetic state—but he still loved her.

As she thought about that, Gu Mengmeng’s smile filled with sweetness and bliss, at which Elvis couldn’t help kissing her again.

Chapter 771

Chapter 771: Brother, Your Comeback Is So Fierce.

Melinda told Gu Mengmeng about what happened last night. It was more or less the same as what Lea told her.

Fearing the curse of the Beast Deity, Dora took the initiative to return the Giant Fish Tribe's treasure and admitted to framing Melinda for the theft. Dora was imprisoned by the Giant Fish Tribe as a slave, awaiting her fate as a bartered good with other tribes. To a female, it was not much of a punishment. She would still be treated as a cherished item even after being traded to another tribe. After all... she was a female.

Nevertheless, since Melinda's criminal charges had been cleared, the Giant Fish Tribe no longer had the right to imprison her.

Moreover, Carter had returned the Mermaid Tribe's territory as compensation for wronging her.

Everything had returned to its original state.

However, Carter's love for Melinda was growing deeper by the day.

While Melinda's fear towards Carter was increasingly obvious.

Gu Mengmeng struggled to control her laughter after hearing Melinda's narration.

Curse of the Beast Deity? What the hell was that? They were so easily deceived...

As Gu Mengmeng and Melinda chatted, Fei Rui and Carter returned with some seafood.

When Gu Mengmeng saw the “fish” that Carter had brought back, her heart started racing...

Yes, she said she wanted to eat seafood, to eat fish.

But there was no need for you to bring back a whale?!

Gu Mengmeng’s jaw nearly dropped to the ground as she watched Carter drag the whale by its tail onto the shore.

Brother, your comeback is so fierce.

Melinda was also shocked. Although Carter didn’t exhibit any particular expression when dragging that fish ashore, Melinda already saw him in a cruel and savage light. Her petite body shivered as she gripped Gu Mengmeng’s little hand. Her fingertips had gone white with fear.

Capability equaled attractiveness. This was a hallucination resulting from the male brain being slammed between the doors.

“Wabei, this fish is for you to eat.” Gu Mengmeng pointed at the whale brought back by Carter. “Go eat it in the sea. Don’t let me see the sight of you eating. It will scare me.”

Since Gu Mengmeng didn’t call him a little shit, Wabei happily walked to Carter’s side and dragged that whale back into the ocean without another word.

Carter didn’t know what was happening at all. But looking at Lea’s and Gu Mengmeng’s disdainful expressions, as well as Melinda’s scared face, he knew... he had done something wrong again.

He just wished for her to see that he was very powerful and could protect her. How did he mess things up again?

Despondent, Carter stood helplessly on the spot.

Fei Rui ignore him and sat himself beside Gu Mengmeng and Melinda. He arranged a few shellfish on the ground. “This type of shellfish is very fresh and tasty. Try it.”

With that, Fei Rui cracked the hard shell into bits and pieces, revealing the still-moving insides. It looked rather disgusting...

Gu Mengmeng sighed. “A nobleman should stay clear of the kitchen.”

Fei Rui didn’t understand her meaning and waited for her to explain. Gu Mengmeng looked at his clear eyes and then at the mess of shellfish in his hands. She smiled warmly. “It means that you should just go play by the side.”

Fei Rui lowered his head like a child who had done something wrong. He thought Gu Mengmeng didn’t like this type of shellfish and decided to take it away.

Gu Mengmeng’s heart softened at his sad face. “Leave it, I will settle this.”

Chapter 772

Chapter 772: Don't Be Scared, Leave It To Me.

Lea raised a fire before putting a flat stone plate on the fire rack. He placed the shellfish on the plate, which all opened up after a while.

Fresh, organic seafood didn't contain any impurities and Gu Mengmeng just used a simple marinade to flavor the shellfish, before using skewering the shellfish meat on a tree branch to roast.

No choice. There were no baking pans here and they could only eat cooked shellfish roasted on skewers.

Boiled shellfish... tsk, not interested.

After Gu Mengmeng demonstrated the first skewer, she handed the cooking task over to Lea. Gu Mengmeng was more interested in the hard shell itself. That nameless shell emanated a rainbow-like glow under the sun. Gu Mengmeng and Melinda each took one and couldn't bear to put them down. Especially after discovering a few pearls in one of the shells—the two females became as excited as if they had just discovered a new country.

The pearls were as luminous as the shells, but wasn't well-shaped. They were not in your regular shape but instead looked a bit... erm... like a lazy hairstyle.

Although this type of pearls were not any premium items in the ocean, the two female treasured them to no end.

Gu Mengmeng held a pearl up against Melinda. Pearl earrings would suit Melinda's face perfectly.

She used a tree branch to draw a simple illustration on the sand, which Melinda gazed with rapture.

A female's desire for jewelry could probably be compared to Auretin's craving for food.

The earring was eventually completed, thanks to Fei Rui's water-spitting abilities.

He spat a stream of water, as fine as a needle, directly at the pearl. With dead accuracy, it pierced through the pearl right at the spot indicated by Gu Mengmeng, forming a tiny perforation.

Gu Mengmeng was very pleased. She took a hair from Melinda and passed it through the hole before tying it into an exquisite flower knot.

Buried within the generations' worth of memories in Gu Mengmeng informed her that a mermaid's hair was extremely durable. Moreover, Melinda's hair was long and of good quality. Using her hair to make earrings to adorn her own ears was perfect.

Everything had been prepared and the last stage was to pierce Melinda's earlobes.

It must be said that one was not afraid to die for the sake of beauty.

So that she could wear those earrings, the petite little girl presented her earlobes without hesitation, for Fei Rui to pierce with his water-spitting abilities.

Fei Rui was scared witless. She must be kidding him. His heart ached even at the slightest frown shown by his precious little sister. She wanted him to attack her now? No way!

Gu Mengmeng clicked her tongue. Really useless.

"Carter, come over here." Gu Mengmeng waved him over.

Carter walked over silently and stood beside Gu Mengmeng. His eyes never left Melinda.

Gu Mengmeng pointed at the center of Melinda's earlobes. "Pierce a small hole here, can you do it?"

Carter frowned and looked at Melinda. "Do you really want to pierce a hole in your earlobes?"

Melinda was scared of Carter and instinctively wanted to hide. But she looked at Gu Mengmeng and then at the tiny pearl earring. She hesitated, but nodded in the end.

This was the first time Melinda had asked something from him. No matter how hard it was for him, Carter would never disappoint her.

Slowly leaning in close to her earlobe, Carter's steady voice was comforting. He said gently, "Don't be scared, leave it to me."

Chapter 773

Chapter 773: Introducing A Prospective Match Doesn't Guarantee Marriage and Babies

This was clearly the person she was the most afraid of, but somehow, Melinda felt comforted by his words.

Blushing, Melinda didn't have time to consider anything else before she felt someone blowing a gust of warm air at her earlobes. She instinctively wanted to duck, but Carter was already holding her face securely in his hands. With a gentle pull, her face was pressed against his chest. His heart raced wildly. He didn't know if it was because he was worried that he would miss and hurt her or because this was a rare opportunity when she was willing to let him be so close to her. He only knew her face was red and his body had reacted faster than his brain.

He wanted to hold her. He truly just wanted to hold her.

Melinda didn't struggle and didn't resist. It was as she had fallen in a trance, letting Carter hold her for a long while.

Fei Rui was displeased and wanted to separate them, but was held back by Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head gently. "Wouldn't it be a good thing to have another reliable person to protect her with you?"

Fei Rui was momentarily taken aback. He scrutinized Carter and Melinda's expressions, before gradually averting his gaze.

After hugging her for a long time, Carter let go of Melinda.

It was not that he had had enough, but that he didn't dare to ask for too much.

He wanted to hold her and never let go. But if he hugged her for too long, she would get angry again and push him away...

Steadying himself for Melinda's rebuke, he carefully met her eyes, only to see a flash of disappointment in them.

She...

Perhaps she liked being in his embrace?!

After a slight pause, Carter immediately drew Melinda back into his arms.

He held her like there was no tomorrow.

At this moment, Melinda woke up from her reverie.

She pushed Carter away and walked to Gu Mengmeng's side. Twisting her lips, she hid behind Gu Mengmeng without a word. She was still resisting Carter.

Gu Mengmeng pretended like she hadn't seen anything. She just chatted happily with Melinda, as she put on the pearl earrings for her. She then gave a heartfelt sigh.

She led Melinda to the waters to view her reflection, to see if she was satisfied with the results. However, Melinda kept stealing glances at Carter's reflection instead.

Gu Mengmeng pulled Melinda back and put on a nonchalant face. "Carter, what do think of this earring? Do they look good on Melinda?"

Carter's eyes had been on Melinda's face right from the start. Meeting her timid and expectant gaze, Carter gave a shy and doting smile. "Very beautiful. Very beautiful."

Gu Mengmeng saw that Melinda's face had turned red, but continued to pursue her questioning. "Are you saying the earring is beautiful, or that Melinda is beautiful? You should speak more clearly."

Carter replied without hesitation. “Melinda is beautiful. She is the most beautiful female in the world and is the embodiment of all that is good.”

Gu Mengmeng beamed and nodded. She then sighed with regret. “What a pity. There is only one. If only we can find another identical pearl to make it a pair...”

Carter didn’t say anything but Gu Mengmeng recognized his expression. It was the same look that Elvis and Lea had every time she made a passing remark—the look that indicated that they were quietly storing her remark in their minds.

She believed that Carter would find an identical pearl for Melinda, even if he had to turn over the entire ocean.

Nevertheless, that was in the future and one should leave such matters to time.

Gu Mengmeng had done all she could, after all... just because she had introduced a prospective match, she couldn’t guarantee marriage and babies, right?

Chapter 774

Chapter 774: She Is Backed By Someone Up There Now, Okay?!

On the third morning, after spending two days to regroup themselves, Fei Rui and Carter each led their tribesmen to the beach to welcome Gu Mengmeng into the Forbidden Abyss.

It was a grander occasion compared to the first time she entered the ocean.

Gu Mengmeng was nestled within Wabei's curled tail and felt like an empress being led to the palace by a mystical beast.

Even though this mystical beast looked like a piece of shit soaked in water.

But she bore it stoically. After all, there was a huge crowd of fish following behind her, which looked rather awe-inspiring.

Elvis and Lea wanted to follow too, but was rejected by Gu Mengmeng.

The Mermaid Tribe's bubbles would allow them to breathe underwater, but if anything happened and the bubble burst—they would definitely die in such deep waters.

In addition, even if nothing happened to the bubble, the underwater pressure was also a life-threatening issue. It would be a great strain on beasts who have been living on land all along.

Why was Gu Mengmeng alright then?

What a silly question. She possessed Snake's Beast King powers, as well as the Kiss of the Beast Deity bestowed by a lonely father for his dear daughter. Of course she was fine.

As they approached the Forbidden Abyss, Gu Mengmeng realized why Fei Rui said the Messenger of the Beast Deity needed to come here personally.

The area was dense with poison even though there was good water circulation. It was as if venom was being continuously emitted from the depths of the abyss, forming a thick cloud of poison which even the great ocean could not dissipate.

Fei Rui and company could not swim any nearer. They looked as if they were suffocating and Gu Mengmeng didn't wish to make things difficult for them. Hence, she ordered them to back away. Wabei and her could continue the journey themselves.

Fei Rui was worried but knew that with his abilities, he might just mess things up if he insisted. Hence, he instructed Gu Mengmeng to not force things, and to immediately turn back if anything was amiss. They would think of another solution then.

Gu Mengmeng gave a "don't worry" gesture, and asked them to move back further, so that they wouldn't be affected by the poison.

Fei Rui and Carter said they would wait for her at the entrance.

Gu Mengmeng didn't protest but just led Wabei into the deep darkness.

Gu Mengmeng had inherited Snake's night vision abilities, so her fear of the dark had become negligible.

But the absolute darkness paired with the complete silence gave her a chilling sense of unease.

The abyss in the deep ocean was limitless. Gu Mengmeng instinctively held Wabei's hand, to which he commented snidely. "Do you know how strong your grip is? If you break my arm, I can't help you when we meet with any danger."

It must be said that Wabei's sarcastic words had effectively dispelled Gu Mengmeng's fear.

But it was true. She was the most powerful being in the entire Beast World. If she met with any danger, she could just lay low and unleash her beast pressure.

And if it was some bizarre monster...

Didn't she still have that lonely old man as backup?

Damn, she is backed by someone up there now, okay?! She was, after all, a right and proper second generation immortal.

Because of Snake's Tear of the Beast Deity, Gu Mengmeng's body was immune to all types of venom. Nothing in this world was more poisonous than her blood. Fighting poison with poison—of course the weaker one would perish.

But Wabei obviously did not hold such capabilities. The deeper they went, the thicker the poisonous fog became. Wabei was starting to fade a little.

Gu Mengmeng didn't want to drag Wabei down with her and asked him to turn back and wait for her with Fei Rui and the rest.

But Wabei said, "If I desert you now, I will never be able to look in him the eye for the rest of my life."

Chapter 775

Chapter 775: Deep Sea Swamp

Gu Mengmeng wanted to tell him that there was no need for his services in such a place. She had the Kiss of the Beast Deity to protect her and was completely unaffected in these waters. It wouldn't be a problem even if Wabei was not around.

Nevertheless, Gu Mengmeng knew that males had their pride and dignity. Sometimes, they would regard certain things as even more important than life itself.

She didn't put up much objection as any further hesitation and delay in this place would just cause more pain and suffering to Wabei.

Nodding, Gu Mengmeng said, "Immediately head back if you can't bear it. I will not blame you. Snake will also not blame you. On the contrary, if anything happens to you, I am the one who will be answerable to Snake."

Wabei tucked Gu Mengmeng under his armpit and charged into the abyss in his half-beast form. His speed was at the maximum and he obviously wished to complete this mission as quickly as possible.

His tightly knitted brows and exceptionally solemn expression proved that he was not in a good state. Nevertheless, he gritted his teeth. "I don't need you to answer for my life!"

Within the dense poisonous fog in the deep ocean, there was nothing apart from the water current.

Wabei's speed was too fast until all Gu Mengmeng could feel was the poisonous fog whizzing past her ears. Her body was descending quickly, but how long can they sustain this speed? How deep and how far? Gu Mengmeng was totally unable to estimate that.

Only when Wabei finally halted did Gu Mengmeng see that the scales on his tail had been eroded by the poison, until the flesh beneath was exposed. There were also festering patches on his chest. They were not life threatening, but still looked terrible.

“Pfft.” Wabei spat out a glob of saliva, which was mixed with blood. He wiped his mouth and smiled arrogantly. “Fighting me with poison? In my lifetime, only Snake is more poisonous than me.”

Gu Mengmeng was reaching out to support him but seeing that he was trying to put on a brave front, she drew back her hand.

Sometimes, one must know when to hide one’s pity to preserve a man’s pride and dignity.

Gu Mengmeng smiled and carefully patted Wabei on one of his uninjured spots. “Alright, I thought you would never make it so deep down.”

“Chey, the only person in this world who can kill me has already been exterminated by you,” Wabei said moodily before starting to survey his surroundings.

The poisonous fog hung above their heads like a heavy storm cloud. But the area beneath the cloud was clean beyond belief.

Gu Mengmeng purposely swallowed a mouthful of seawater, only to find that it was not salty.

In other words, beneath the poisonous fog was not seawater but freshwater. Not only that, it was of a mineral-water type of quality.

It was very strange. Gu Mengmeng didn’t know what kind of geography would result in such a phenomenon. Could it be related to the poisonous fog?

Regardless, Gu Mengmeng didn’t hold much interest in underwater geography. She just started walking along a pathway along the seabed.

It was also strange that there was no current flow down here at all.

Equally bizarre was the appearance of that little pathway, which looked just like a forest trail and contrasted clearly with the rest of the muddy seabed. As if it had been placed there specially to direct her movements.

After a short while, Gu Mengmeng felt something was not right. She was sinking deeper and deeper into the floor, and found it increasingly difficult to draw out her feet.

A deep sea swamp?

Gu Mengmeng frowned and wanted to swim across instead.

After trying for a while, she was astonished to discover that she was unable to float? She was totally unable to swim, and could only walk.

Chapter 776

Chapter 776: Kiss of the Ocean?

Gu Mengmeng tried to walk beside the pathway instead, only to discover that the suction force there was even stronger. She had just touched the ground lightly and was nearly sucked right in.

Wabei used his snake's tail to raise Gu Mengmeng onto his head. He had now morphed into his full snake form.

The massive snake was as large as a train and offered Gu Mengmeng much stability.

Wabei slithered along the little pathway like a fish swimming in water.

Gu Mengmeng laughed. Thank goodness Wabei had insisted on coming along with her. Otherwise, she really didn't know how to continue on.

"Little shit, never knew that you can be so useful." Gu Mengmeng patted Wabei's head.

Wabei swallowed and used snake language to reply, "Don't call me little shit. Do you believe that I will throw you into the swamp?"

Gu Mengmeng shrugged. "I don't believe."

Wabei gritted his teeth, unable to retort.

Because...

He himself didn't believe it either.

Thanks to Wabei's abilities, they reached the end of the pathway in about half an hour. Nothing happened during that time.

Following that...

Gu Mengmeng was stunned.

The ocean was behind them like a huge ball of water. Ripples of water could be seen, but it remained as one solid form.

Meanwhile, they were standing in dry, empty air.

It was not some underwater cave or any other land. They were at the bottom of the ocean, but all that water was behind them. It was as if an invisible wall of water was keeping the sea water at bay. Not a single drop could be seen leaking out.

Wabei had turned into human form and the injuries on his body had miraculously healed. Not only that, Gu Mengmeng felt his skin now looked even better than before.

She heard that a type of deep sea mud was good for the skin, but never imagined that it was really so effective.

Gu Mengmeng secretly promised herself that she must bring some back with her later. It would make a good gift to her close friends, right?

Wabei also discovered the changes on his body, but didn't think much of them. He just urged Gu Mengmeng to move forward quickly.

After walking for a short while, Gu Mengmeng could see a gigantic clamshell.

Yes, just one dried-up clamshell.

Ha, it appeared that not all bizarre monsters could live beyond a thousand years.

Gu Mengmeng stepped forward with the intention of prying the shell open. But the moment she touched it, cracks appeared on that clamshell and it crumbled to pieces...

So easily eroded?

Gu Mengmeng shrugged helplessly and pushed aside the resulting debris. She uncovered a black pearl the size of a fist. It shone with a faint greenish-black light, looking very mysterious.

Gu Mengmeng held it in her hand and looked around to see if there was anything else. She was thinking... was this the Kiss of the Ocean? A black pearl?

It was certainly big, but just didn't look to be anything special.

The night pearl that Elvis had given her was not much smaller than this. It was nothing unique.

Gu Mengmeng held it in her hand for a long while but couldn't think of anything. There was really nothing else here. Apart from that disintegrated clamshell, there was only this pearl.

And Gu Mengmeng would fully experience the awesomeness of this pearl on her journey back.

Returning to the underwater swamp, Gu Mengmeng filled her sleeve pockets with the deep sea mud. She also had Wabei roll around in the mud until he was completely covered in it. Only then did they set off towards the poisonous fog.

Chapter 777

Chapter 777: Don't Be Fooled By That Pearl's Appearance

They had just entered the poisonous fog when Gu Mengmeng was dumbstruck by the scene before her.

The poisonous fog started swirling like water emptying down the bathtub drain.

And this drainage opening was the black pearl in Gu Mengmeng's hand—the Kiss of the Ocean.

F?!

Don't be fooled by that pearl's appearance!

Gu Mengmeng stared speechless as the poisonous fog swirled around until it was like a massive tornado, being rapidly sucked into the black pearl at its thinnest point. She didn't know how to react.

When Gu Mengmeng finally composed herself, the poisonous fog around them had thinned considerably, such that they could now vaguely see to a distance of about three to five meters. This scene had a distinctly beautiful and otherworldly feel.

Gu Mengmeng thought about it. Wabei swam for half a day in order to bring her down here. As powerful as the pearl was, it would take some time for it to finish absorbing the whole poisonous fog. It would be too time consuming. Fei Rui and Carter—not to mention Elvis and Lea—would all be driven mad with anxiety if she went back later.

Hence Gu Mengmeng stood beside Wabei and said, "Let's start swimming now, as the pearl continues to absorb. I think it will be a long time before the entire fog gets sucked in."

Wabei had come with the intention of escorting Gu Mengmeng. He was totally not interested in the poisonous fog and the Kiss of the Ocean. Hence, he nodded and tucked Gu Mengmeng under his armpit again. He swam leisurely upwards, purposely heading towards areas where the poisonous fog was exceptionally thick, so that the pearl could absorb the venom faster.

Gu Mengmeng detected the scent of blood even before they left the fog.

She frowned. Could it be the Giant Fish Tribe and Mermaid Tribe had started fighting?

Tsk, why were these fish so aggressive.

Gu Mengmeng was worried that Fei Rui would be disadvantaged and urged Wabei to speed up. The closer they got, the more Gu Mengmeng felt that something was not quite right.

The sounds of fighting intensified, and it didn't sound like Fei Rui and Carter.

After all, Fei Rui was so small and weak compared to Carter. It would have been a one-sided battle. There was no way that the fighting could be so fierce.

In addition, Carter still wanted to pursue Melinda. He couldn't possibly be so heavy-handed towards Fei Rui. If he really thrashed Fei Rui to a pulp, he could forget about ever developing his relationship with Melinda.

Gu Mengmeng choked after emerging from the poisonous fog.

It was not an issue with the sea water, but the thick amount of blood in it.

Gu Mengmeng nearly couldn't believe her eyes. What happened? Did she swim into a cemetery of the ocean tribes? Why were there so many dead bodies? Although they had been beaten back to their original fish forms, Gu Mengmeng could tell that they were not your usual fish, but were people of the ocean tribes. However, Gu Mengmeng was unable to recognize any one of them in this form.

The bodies of the ocean tribesmen were different from normal fish. The corpse of a normal fish would float up while the body of an ocean tribesman would sink down.

The poisonous fog had thinned out and they could see bodies gradually sinking into the fog.

The bodies already held injuries, plus they were very vulnerable to the poison. As a result, the corpses gradually disintegrated in the fog, until even not a single fish bone was left.

Gu Mengmeng didn't have time to care about those that were already dead. She had to see if there were any survivors. She had to try her best to save anyone left.

Chapter 778

Chapter 778: Even If We Die, We Must Die Together.

Wabei continued swimming upwards carrying Gu Mengmeng. They could already see people fighting.

Huge currents were churning beneath the ocean surface. The battlegrounds of the ocean tribes was even more savage than that of the wild beasts on land.

Gu Mengmeng struggled to distinguish between friend and foe on the battlegrounds. She finally noticed a head of blond hair and found Fei Rui and Carter. They were being attacked by another ocean tribe. From the looks of it, that person was also a third-level beast. If it was a straight-on battle with Carter alone, it would be difficult to say who would win. But Carter had to keep an eye on Melinda and was inevitably distracted. As a result, he was being attacked from all sides.

Gu Mengmeng quickly swam over and placed herself in front of the siblings to protect them. She faced the enemy's attack with just a cold smile, not even lifting a finger.

The attacker didn't appear to hesitate because of Gu Mengmeng's appearance. His movement didn't slow down and even seemed to sharpen. He just made an instantaneous slight change in the angle... with the intention of taking Gu Mengmeng's life.

Nevertheless, before that high, aquiline nose could even come within three steps of Gu Mengmeng, it came to a stop with a grunt.

The attacker frowned and suddenly turned to look behind him. His heart jumped as shock and fear twisted his facial features. Without even the time to shout, he was bitten in half by Wabei.

Blood spread out across the waters like a red spider lily. Strangely alluring, it was breathtakingly beautiful even as it carried the thick aura of death.

Wabei used his tail to flick away the corpse with disdain. He then stared disgusted as the body slowly sank into the depths of the poisonous fog, gradually eroding to nothing.

Cracking his neck to loosen it, he then surveyed the surroundings. That expression... like looking at a sumptuous meal.

“Great Messenger.” Fei Rui gripped Melinda’s hand and pushed her to Gu Mengmeng’s side. “Would the Great Messenger please take care of my sister. If we all die here today, will you please bring her back to Saint Nazaire. She can even partner with a land beast. It doesn’t matter as long as she stays alive.”

With that, Fei Rui’s gaze drifted over to Carter.

Carter pursed his lips but kept quiet.

The opponent had come prepared and targeted Melinda right from the start, forcing him to stay by her side constantly to protect her. He watched helplessly as his own tribesmen get massacred by the enemy.

The Giant Fish Tribe suffered heavy losses. Looking at the current situation, it was questionable whether they could even make it to the end, not to mention whether he could protect Melinda.

He wanted to have her, but more importantly... she must live.

With her beauty and kindness, even the most vulgar land beasts would cherish her.

And if she was in the Messenger of the Beast Deity’s tribe... she would live a good life.

Clenching his fists, Carter slowly stepped forward to welcome the enemy’s attack. It was the awe-inspiring but melancholy look of a warrior who was prepared to die in battle.

But he had just taken one step when he was tightly embraced by the waist.

Melinda was hugging Carter from behind and said nasally, “I won’t leave. I want to be with Carter. Even if we die, we must die together.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled, completely calm even in the midst of this apparent danger. She clapped. “This is like the show ‘Love on the battlefield’. My lonely old man at home loves such romantic films. Seeing as how you are putting on such a good show for my old man, I will give you a present.”

Chapter 779

Chapter 779: Children, Time To Eat!

Carter and Melinda had no idea what Gu Mengmeng was talking about. She gently pushed the three of them out beyond the battlegrounds, before instructing. “Everyone from the Giant Fish Tribe and the Mermaid Tribe are to retreat and stay behind your leaders.”

At her command, the scattered tribesmen retreated in a rather pathetic manner.

Shocked by Wabei, the enemy remained unmoving and just stared on helplessly as they left.

“Is that everyone?” Gu Mengmeng turned and asked.

Carter took a quick survey and nodded.

Gu Mengmeng smiled deviously. “Children, time to eat!”

The moment she finished her sentence, countless water snakes surged from all directions and surrounded the battlegrounds. The snakes gradually closed in, forcing the enemy into a tight group. Anyone who tried to break out of the boundary was immediately bitten by a water snake and swallowed whole.

No one else dared to escape and just huddled towards the center, trembling in fear.

And waiting for them right in the center was Wabei in full beast form.

His jaws were wide open, as if waiting for them to jump in by themselves.

Retreat, but there was nowhere to retreat.

Attack, but the mismatch in abilities was too great.

The original sure-win result had been turned around just because of the appearance of one female.

Damn, when did these snakes appear.

The enemy were squeezed together by the snakes like sardines in a can. Wabei could probably swallow all of them up in just two bites.

“Wait a moment!”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and made a halting gesture. The snake beasts stopped compressing the group. Wabei also turned back into his half-beast form in a bored manner. He used his tail to fling the person who spoke, to land in front of Gu Mengmeng.

Fish would never look wretched in the water. Even though he had been tossed, the opponent landed steadily before Gu Mengmeng, looking rather stubborn and unbending.

“Great Messenger.”

Gu Mengmeng sized him up and gave a light laugh. “Wow, there are also stray beasts in the ocean.”

That person straightened up. He was not surprised at being identified as a stray beast. After all, although his side comprised enough people to make up a tribe, they were of different races. On land, a tribe could be made up of different races, but ocean tribes were mostly uniform. In addition, the females within a tribe would never partner outside of her own race, so as to preserve the purity of the racial bloodline.

This was one of the reasons why, although she had saved Carter, Melinda rejected and avoided him when he tried to woo her.

“Stray beasts might be beasts who have been abandoned by the Beast Deity, but even so, he should not get his Messenger to annihilate us all? Why is the Great Messenger interfering with our conflict?” It must be said that the person possessed a certain amount of will. He did not feel that it was wrong of him to have initiated a battle. After all, in this world, the powerful ruled over the weak.

Gu Mengmeng grinned at him. “The Beast Deity didn’t ask me to annihilate you all. If so, do you think you would have the chance to stand here now and spout nonsense to me?”

Gu Mengmeng slowly unleashed a whiff of her beast pressure. It was very subtle but enough to send a chill down everyone.

A Beast King-level pressure...

That person clenched his jaws and lowered his head in submission. He was submitting to a more powerful person, and to the instinctual fear of a higher being.

Chapter 780

Chapter 780: Benevolence To Your Enemy Is Cruelty To Yourself

Behind her was a bunch of weaker folks. After her previous battle with stray beasts, Gu Mengmeng knew the importance of controlling her emotions.

She had been working very hard at practicing how to precisely control the release of her beast pressure, and had achieved certain results.

Seeing that the negotiator had submitted, there was no need for her to continue increasing the pressure.

After all, Melinda might be scared to death before that bunch of stray beasts succumbed...

“As to why I am interfering with your conflict... you must ask yourselves that question.” Gu Mengmeng smiled rather derisively. “Don’t tell me it was a coincidence that on this very day, the various exiled stray beasts decided to go grocery shopping together, and just happened to see these folks and felt like destroying them.”

“Why not? Stray beasts have never been one for rules.” That person looked somewhat sheepish, but forced himself to put on a calm face.

Gu Mengmeng replied, “Oh, so there’s no need for rules among stray beasts. That’s good. Let’s leave stray beasts matters to stray beasts themselves then.”

Gu Mengmeng stepped forward and smacked the negotiator on the shoulder, pushing him back into the snake circle.

Gu Mengmeng was too powerful and he was naturally unable to resist her push.

He steadied himself but before he could say another word, he felt a pain spread across his lower body. Looking down... he discovered that he was already waist-deep in Wabei's jaws.

Those venomous snake's eyes shone with chilly intent.

Before he could beg for mercy, Wabei swallowed him whole.

If this was in the past, Gu Mengmeng would be frightened by such a scene. She would shrink back and feel faint of heart.

But since inheriting Snakel's memories, she was certain of one thing. And that was benevolence to your enemy was cruelty to yourself.

She had already heard the water snakes' report. These stray beasts intended to kill off Carter, Fei Rui and the rest, before disguising themselves as them. They would then wait in ambush for Gu Mengmeng to emerge and steal the Kiss of the Ocean.

However, they failed to account for several things. First was that the poisonous fog didn't kill off Wabei and didn't weaken Gu Mengmeng. Secondly... they underestimated Fei Rui, Carter and gang. They never expected them to fight so desperately so as to guard over Gu Mengmeng's return. They were obviously the weaker party but none of them tried to escape.

If Gu Mengmeng had returned any later, ha...

Seeing that there were not even 20 people left behind her, Gu Mengmeng's heart bled.

Didn't they arrive with such pomp and circumstance? Now, less than 20 were left in just half a day's time.

Gu Mengmeng held onto Fei Rui's arm and grinned. "Our little shit looks so brutal when eating. Let's not frighten Melinda and head back to shore first.

Fei Rui and Carter turned to look at Wabei. The difference in power was clear for all to see. The stray beasts who had just been butchering them with such savageness were now trapped by the circle of water snakes and Wabei, looking like delicacies served on a platter. They had lost all hope of resisting and were just waiting for death with sorrowful faces.

Such a scene was not suitable for a female to witness.

Nodding, Fei Rui carried Gu Mengmeng in his arms while Carter had Melinda climb onto his back. They swam vigorously towards the surface.

Chapter 781

Chapter 781: Forget It, I Surrender.

They broke the surface, creating ripples which disrupted the reflection of the setting sun.

An orange-red glow enveloped everyone, making them look like solemnly tragic warriors returning from a bloody battle.

Elvis sped towards the waters and took Gu Mengmeng over from Fei Rui. Holding her in his warm embrace, he scanned her body like an x-ray. He finally relaxed when he confirmed that she was alright.

Lea wrapped Gu Mengmeng up in the skinned fur which had already been warmed by the fire. He took a quick headcount of the group and frowned slightly, but didn't say anything.

They had departed with a huge crowd but returned with only a handful—including the heavily wounded Fei Rui and Carter, a pale-faced Melinda and less than 20 other pathetic stragglers. One could guess what had happened even without asking.

Lea and Elvis knew very well that Gu Mengmeng cherished life above all. They did not want her to blame herself for the loss of those lives.

They carefully observed Gu Mengmeng, who looked like she hadn't been much affected. Only then did their heart settle down.

What they didn't know was that the present-day Gu Mengmeng had a much better control over her own emotions. It was not that she had become numb towards death, but she knew there was nothing she could do for those who had died. She had to look forward, to be brave—so that those who were still alive around her would not be affected by her depression.

Remember how her earlier emotional state had brought so much torment to Elvis and Lea?

Her heart ached for her own men. She couldn't always start sobbing every time she met with some issue, and cause Elvis and Lea to worry?

Gu Mengmeng held up the black pearl for Elvis and Lea to see. "This item is quite awesome. I want to go back down tomorrow and use it to finish absorbing the rest of the poisonous fog, in case our water source gets tainted."

"What poisonous fog?" Elvis asked with a stony face as his heart gave a jolt.

Gu Mengmeng narrated the entire story, including how they descended, how they retrieved the Kiss of the Ocean, what happened on the way back, as well as what Wabei was busy doing now...

The more Elvis and Lea heard, the more concerned they became. They clenched their jaws, desperately wishing they could pinch that trouble-making girl to death. Why was she always running towards danger? She had just charged into a poisonous fog so thick that even Wabei could not withstand? She was so delicate and fragile, how could she be more resistant than Wabei's snake scales?

Regardless of how Gu Mengmeng tried to explain that she was fine, Elvis and Lea had made up their minds that she must have lost several layers of skin in that poisonous fog.

"Well, no matter what, we already have the Kiss of the Ocean now. But..." Gu Mengmeng's gaze landed on Carter and Fei Rui, and at Melinda, who was still suffering from her fright. "The Mermaid Tribe and the Giant Fish Tribe suffered major losses while awaiting my return. I cannot just leave them like that."

Lea stroked Gu Mengmeng's hair. "We can discuss other matters, but no way are you going back into the sea."

Gu Mengmeng protested. “I still need to finish absorbing that poisonous fog. How to do that without going back down?”

Lea refused to give in. “Let Wabei take that stupid pearl to go and absorb the poisonous fog. You be a good girl and stay on shore.”

Gu Mengmeng. “I refuse!”

Lea chuckled. His eyes filled with a lingering warmth. He whispered gently in Gu Mengmeng’s ear, “You must believe... Elvis and I have a hundred ways to make you too exhausted to go back down... do you want to try?”

Gu Mengmeng gave an embarrassed smile. “Forget it, I surrender.”

Chapter 782

Chapter 782: Merging The Tribes: Bridges

What kind of joke was that? Try it? She was no fool.

Just Elvis alone could easily cause her to remain bedridden for three days. Now with Lea, these two immoral men would really give it to her and tear her apart in bed.

Lea smiled with some regret at Gu Mengmeng's surrender. He hooked her little chin and said in a grudging tone. "What a pity, I wanted to try out a restraining role-play."

Gu Mengmeng blushed a deep red. She gave Lea a shove before looking at Fei Rui and Carter. "You only have a handful of people left, and it's not practical to split into two tribes. Why don't you... merge?"

Fei Rui doted on his sister very much. He could see that Melinda's feelings towards Carter had changed. He did not want his sister to be disappointed.

Carter was even more willing. He could even sacrifice his own life for Melinda, what other constraints could there be?

However, there had never been a merger of the tribes before in the ocean. There might be only about 20 mermaids and giant fish left, but they didn't know what to call themselves.

Melinda was in a dilemma over this. She hoped her brother and Carter could become one family as she didn't wish to leave either one of them. However, which tribe should give up its name forever, that was a very serious issue. Regardless of what she chose, one party would suffer. This was not something she looked forward to.

Hence, Melinda took a step forward and looked at Great Messenger rather timidly. "Great Messenger, you have saved all our lives and are our benefactor. We are willing to listen to you and merge the tribes. But the name of the tribe... could you help us decide?"

Gu Mengmeng looked at Melinda, feeling that she was infinitely adorable.

She was completely different from those cheap vixens. She was so genuine that even other females would want to hold her in their hands and protect her. Even the most demure of girls would turn into strong women before her, so that they could prevent others from bullying her.

Gu Mengmeng thought about it. If she had a daughter one day, she must have Melinda become her godmother. Melinda must help her raise her daughter, to become as chaste and refined as her. Melinda was totally like that "neighbor's perfect daughter" whom mothers all over the world liked to compare their own daughters to. She was truly that flawless and rare .

Gu Mengmeng was defenseless against Melinda's request.

She nodded and thought for a long while. But naming something... the more one tried, the harder it was.

Gu Mengmeng pondered a moment longer before asking Lea, "A deity's blessings in the language of the Beast World—what is it called?"

Lea answered, "Bridges."

Gu Mengmeng felt it sounded rather nice and turned to look at Carter and Fei Rui. "What do the two of you think of that?"

This name... was too big for them.

Honestly, they only had about 20 people, while even a 2,000-strong tribe would not dare take on such an arrogant name.

A deity's blessing...

"You don't like it?" Gu Mengmeng noticed the expressions on Fei Rui and Carter's faces. Instead of delight or dissent, they looked rather scared.

Fei Rui's way of thinking was much more simple. At Gu Mengmeng's question, he instinctively shook his head. "It's not that we don't like it, but... using such a name, wouldn't the Beast Deity be angry?"

Chapter 783

Chapter 783: New Tribal Chief

“Why would he be angry?” Gu Mengmeng was nonplussed.

Fei Rui lowered his head. “We obviously didn’t receive the great Beast Deity’s blessings. To use such a name would be disrespectful to him.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “Who said you are not recipients of the Beast Deity’s blessings?”

“Ah?” Fei Rui looked up at Gu Mengmeng with a foolish expression. His sparkling eyes shone with hope.

Gu Mengmeng pulled Melinda over and pecked her on the forehead. It was just like how the Beast Deity kissed her own forehead during her dream. It carried a sense of blessing. “You all staked your lives in order to watch over the Beast Deity’s daughter. How could he not bless you guys?”

Melinda blushed all the way down to her neck from Gu Mengmeng’s kiss. It had nothing to do with love, hate, loathing or desire. It was just from excitement, as if you were suddenly invited to meet with the nation’s president, who not only treated you with intimate familiarity, but even shook your hand and said “Child, you did very well in the exams and I congratulate you on behalf of the entire country.” You would have blushed if it were you.

Gu Mengmeng looked at Fei Rui and Carter again. “What do the two of think? If you don’t like that name, I can find another one. I have no opinion. After all, this is your own tribe and you hold the right to name it.”

Fei Rui and Carter exchanged a look before bowing towards Gu Mengmeng. “The Bridges Tribe would forever follow the Great Messenger. We will be your most loyal servants in the ocean.”

Actually...

Gu Mengmeng had no intention of recruiting any followers.

She might have liked a senior from the swimming club, but was not familiar with the act of swimming itself.

Now that they had retrieved the Kiss of the Ocean, she did not expect to return to the seaside again.

Nevertheless, after her departure, this tiny tribe would definitely have a hard life in the ocean. If her name could bring some protection to them, so be it.

She nodded in acceptance of the Bridges Tribe's offering of loyalty.

"Fei Rui was the prince of his original tribe and should be the chief of this new one." Carter spoke up first. His determined eyes were filled with love as he held Melinda's small hand. He was giving his everything to Melinda and just wanted to stay by her side. He didn't have any inclination to bother about any other matters.

Fei Rui shook his head. "The capabilities of the chief determines the standing of the tribe. I am unable to hold up the name of the Bridges Tribe. You should be the tribal chief. Although I don't like you, I cannot deny your abilities. Moreover... my sister is a princess and her first partner cannot be someone with no standing."

Carter wanted to say something but Fei Rui laughed and continued. "In addition, after you become partners, I want to follow the Great Messenger back to Saint Nazaire."

Everyone was dumbstruck by his announcement.

Elvis pulled Gu Mengmeng back into his arms and unleashed a powerful pressure until everyone was nearly kneeling on the ground. His face had turned black and he looked like he wanted to tear Fei Rui to bits. "What are you intending to do?"

Fei Rui was trembling from fear. His clear eyes filled with grievance and looked like he was about to cry. “I... I want to learn new skills from the Great Messenger... and bring those miraculous abilities back to the ocean...”

Chapter 784

Chapter 784: Can You Not Be So Hardcore?

Gu Mengmeng patted Elvis. “He is still a child. Why are you scaring him? See, he is nearly in tears because of you.”

Elvis was quite satisfied with Fei Rui’s answer. Hence, he didn’t pursue the matter after Gu Mengmeng’s words. He just calmly recalled his pressure and said mildly, “As long as he doesn’t harbor any nefarious intentions, he will not encounter any unexpected misfortune.”

This chapter ended thus. Gu Mengmeng didn’t know at that time that the Bridges Tribe would become a powerful tribe in the near future. After all... she neglected the fact that fishes were very good at proliferating.

Gu Mengmeng didn’t attend Melinda and Carter’s wedding. After all, there were no elaborate formalities regarding weddings here. It was a simple and vulgar affair, where the couple directly entered the bedroom to consummate the marriage.

Although Gu Mengmeng had already borne four children, she was still conservative about watching others consummate. It would be too stimulating to listen to such sounds through the walls. No way.

Hence, Gu Mengmeng bid farewell to everyone at the seaside. Fei Rui remained to oversee Carter and Melinda’s partnering, before heading back to Saint Nazaire via the water route. Meanwhile, Gu Mengmeng and company headed back with the Kiss of the Ocean.

Gu Mengmeng wanted Wabei to go straight back to the Snake King valley, but he behaved in a non-committal manner, neither agreeing nor protesting.

Gu Mengmeng knew he was still worried about her, worried that he would be letting Snakel down if anything happened to her.

She was obviously now so powerful that she feared no one. But Wabei still treated her like a parent watching over his child. Gu Mengmeng was exasperated but not repelled.

Sometimes, she even felt that Wabei was like her own brother.

Rowdy bickering and rude behavior—but always shielding her from danger at all costs. No matter how powerful she was, he never believed that she could handle trouble and danger.

It was a pretty good feeling. After all, in the Beast World, a male was only good to a female with the motive of being her partner. Wabei was the exception.

If she must nitpick...

This brother was older than her by 800 years.

Tsk, this generation gap was a bit wide.

The journey back was uneventful. From time to time, Gu Mengmeng could detect others monitoring them from the darkness with ill-intent. But they were clearly afraid of Wabei and Elvis' pressure and dared not reveal themselves.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. This... must be because of the Kiss of the Ocean?

“Ha, so convenient, “Wabei said lazily. “This is the first time a prey is following me. I don’t need to travel far to hunt.”

Gu Mengmeng rolled her eyes. “Can you not be so hardcore? We cannot attack before they make the first move.”

Wabei clicked his tongue impatiently, expressing disdain.

Gu Mengmeng didn’t back down and harrumphed right back at him.

It was night, and all was quiet.

Under the cover of darkness, several black figures tiptoed closer to the sleeping Gu Mengmeng.

They were secretly delighted. She might have fearsome powers but she was being too arrogant and reckless. Sleeping so soundly without any vigilance.

One hand reached towards Gu Mengmeng, wanting to steal the Kiss of the Ocean from her arms.

Before that hand could even touch her clothes, an intense pain shot through it. He looked down to see that a severe rot had appeared on his palm.

“Ah!” A wretched cry reverberated the night sky. In the next second, a pair of clear, blue eyes shone coldly in the dark like a devil of the night, sending chills down that person’s body.

Chapter 785

Chapter 785: You Can Try To Take It By Force, But Cannot Secretly Steal.

“Tsk.” With that soft sound, the figure with that rotten hand was flung aside. Lea swished his huge tail with a trace of disappointment. “Don’t you have any professional pride? How can you make such a loud noise when stealing something? I can’t even pretend to not notice. So unprofessional. I expected more from you.”

The other figures looked at each other. What did he mean?

Gu Mengmeng sat up from Elvis’ embrace, whose blue eyes followed her with a doting gaze. He stroked her head. “The noise still woke you up, didn’t it?”

Gu Mengmeng sighed. “I can’t sleep properly knowing that they have been following us.”

Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng gently on the face. “No matter, it will be resolved soon.”

With that, Elvis stood up and walked towards those thieves who had disturbed Gu Mengmeng’s sleep.

Even stray beasts should have rules.” Elvis cracked his neck to loosen up. In a flash, he grabbed one of the rat beasts who tried to escape, and flung him into the sky. A huge eagle-owl swooped down and clamped into the rat beast’s flesh with sharp talons. The eagle-owl carried the rat beast into the distance before dropping him. With a piteous howl, the rat beast smashed onto the ground in pieces.

A gust of wind blew past and the eagle-owl circled the sky before landing steadily on the ground. His face was lifeless and weary from sickness, and pale as the moon. His cool gaze was not sharp, but could still make one grip his throat from fear.

And all this happened under five seconds.

Taking another step forward, Elvis unleashed a dangerous aura like darkness spreading across the night. He looked just like the King of Hell, unforgiving and merciless. His words resonated in the night, like a god setting down his decree. They were scared witless and could only submit to him. “You can try to take it by force, but cannot secretly steal. And you... have broken this rule.”

The legs of one of the stray beasts went soft with fear. He turned and tried to run away but seemed to have knocked into something. Terror traveled up his whole body but he didn’t even have the courage to look back.

The cool tongue of a snake licked his neck, as a languid and sinister voice whispered by his ear. “Supper? Doesn’t look that appetizing...”

Before he had time to scream, the thick tail of a snake had wound tightly around his lower body, while his upper body... was already between the snake’s jaws.

The remaining three thieves exchanged a look. They instantly zeroed in on the weakest link—Lea.

Although both Ian and Lea were third-level beasts, they had no advantage over a beast who could fly. Meanwhile, that fox was obviously just a pretty face and the most vulnerable person in the group.

Turning around viciously, the three thieves charged towards Lea.

Lea just laughed as he pointed at his own nose nonchalantly. “I have been looked down upon.”

Lea easily avoided the first wave of attack with a turn of his body. His bushy tail brushed teasingly across the assailant’s face, carrying with it an intense air of provocation.

As they passed each other, Lea extended his sharp claws and drove them into his attacker's abdomen. By the time the second stray beast made his move, the first stray beast had already been sliced in two. And all that took less than a second.

Chapter 786

Chapter 786: Lea, I Forbid You From Getting Injured!

Lea gripped the second stray beast by the wrist, which he fractured with a loud crack. It was not a clean break. The flesh was still intact but the bones inside had been shattered. The hand flopped about like a pendulum.

“Tsk tsk tsk, Extending your claws at a witch doctor, it appears that you really don’t want them anymore.”

Lea nimbly ducked under the second person’s other arm, hiding behind him. Meanwhile, the third attacker’s claws had already penetrated the second guy’s chest, heading straight for Lea’s throat.

Thank goodness Lea hadn’t pressed himself close behind that second guy, but had maintained a reasonable distance. Hence, the third assailant’s bloody claws met empty air. He drew back his hand and tossed his compatriot’s body aside without the slightest trace of guilt.

Lea patted his own chest. “Aiyo, so scary. You nearly touched me. Tsk, so hateful. Our Mengmeng doesn’t like others to touch me.”

Only one of the stray beasts was left, and he was a fourth-level beast.

With Lea’s current abilities... it was very dangerous for him to fight him.

Lea had dispatched the other two third-level beasts so that he would not be surrounded by enemies on all sides. But even one-on-one, the difference in levels made this a very tough match.

Wabei had always been a cold fish. Apart from Gu Mengmeng, he didn’t care about the life and death of anyone else.

Ian wanted to go forward to help Lea, but was held back by Elvis.

Ian looked at Elvis in confusion, but Elvis just indicated at Gu Mengmeng.

With Gu Mengmeng's present abilities, it would be a piece of cake for her to help Lea. But she remained on the spot. She just stared unwavering at Lea with her fists tightly clenched. She didn't even exhibit any intention of having Elvis help Lea. Then...

Elvis' gaze was gentle, as a faint smile played across his lips.

Lea, you punk. She has seen through you.

The stray beast's fangs hovered near Lea's spine. Lea would die or be handicapped by just one bite.

"Lea, I forbid you from getting injured!" Gu Mengmeng sat in her original position. Her voice was just a faint ripple, but couldn't conceal the churning emotions beneath.

Her voice was trembling. She was scared.

This made Lea hesitate. Should he continue to pretend?

If he was making her worry for her own good, then... should he persist?

No, he could not.

Because "for her own good" had already hurt her once. There cannot be a second time!

With a flick of his fluffy tail, he sent the stray beast flying away with one smack. He leaped into the air with a light step, and landed beside the fallen stray beast with one foot on his waist. The huge impact of the landing plus Lea's foot severed the stray beast's spine. His body was flung aside awkwardly, like an unworthy broken doll.

Thereafter, moonlight sheathed Lea's body, making him look just like an elf of the night. The blood on his body didn't appear heinous, but instead looked like poppies blooming on a cliff. Lethal and alluring.

Lea stepped towards Gu Mengmeng, and got down on one knee. With one hand holding her cheek, he smiled gently. “As you wish. I didn’t get injured. Mengmeng, are you satisfied?”

Chapter 787

Chapter 787: Lea, Congratulations On Your Promotion.

Gu Mengmeng held Lea's face and kissed him deeply and with a lingering feel.

"Lea, congratulations on your promotion."

Lea didn't answer but just embraced Gu Mengmeng.

This little girl was just too smart. It was getting increasingly difficult to bluff her. But this type of difficulty gave him an unprecedented sense of bliss.

She had been observing him closely. She hadn't said a word but she knew everything.

The ordeal had lasted half a night, plus the ground was full of blood and corpses, making it look like a slaughterhouse. There was no way they could sleep here now.

Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng and covered her with the skinned fur, so that she could catch up on her sleep. The few males then continued making their way back to Saint Nazaire.

It was normal for males to go several days without sleep. They had stopped every night to rest just for Gu Mengmeng's sake.

Although Gu Mengmeng didn't make any moves during last night's trial, her anxiety was real. She could finally settle down now and sleep enveloped her.

She slept all the way till noon, before she was awoken by hunger.

The sun was shining at its most intense and was the most torturous time for Wabei. He sprawled lazily on a tree with his head drooping down. He ignored everyone, not sleeping and not moving, acting just like a rubber snake.

Although Ian could fly, his abilities peaked at nighttime. During the day, his already sickly face looked even more lifeless, as if a gust of wind could knock him over. He was a male but looked so anemic, as if he had been having his menstrual period for a whole month. No one knew what was the matter with him. Looking at his weak manner, Gu Mengmeng felt that there was no way he could go hunting.

As such, Elvis handed Gu Mengmeng over to Lea and went hunting himself.

Gu Mengmeng sat in Lea's embrace and played with his bushy tail. "Eh, your tail appears to have become coarser after your promotion."

Lea saw that Gu Mengmeng liked his change and couldn't help smiling. "The appearance Snow Foxes will change according to the level promotions."

Gu Mengmeng turned back to scrutinize Lea's face.

Lea had always been good-looking and he bore an otherworldly beauty. One might become immune after some time, so it had been a long while since Gu Mengmeng studied Lea's features.

At his mention, Gu Mengmeng looked over his face seriously.

Yeah, his brows looked thicker. They appeared less gentle now, but more valiant.

His nose had also narrowed, becoming more like the standard aquiline western nose, and not like the flatter oriental ones. His higher nose gave his features more depth.

Meanwhile, Lea's slanted, emotive eyes looked like they were brimming with clear spring water. He gazed with a deep love at Gu Mengmeng, as if she was the only one in the world who he could see.

His thin lips were without any wrinkles, as if god himself had crafted them. Slightly parted, they looked so inviting that Gu Mengmeng felt herself unwittingly drawn towards them.

Lea's face had become even more perfect than before. So perfect that he looked like he had been created by god's own hands from every angle.

With a light laugh, Lea hooked Gu Mengmeng's chin and parted those alluring lips. His words made Gu Mengmeng blush. "You are looking at me as if you want to eat me up. What should I do so that I won't waste your tender love?"

Chapter 788

Chapter 788: You Will Give Me Some Love When Night Falls?

“Day... it’s broad daylight now. What nonsense are you saying?!” Gu Mengmeng blushed and lowered her head.

Lea just gave a meaningful “oh” before whispering close to Gu Mengmeng’s ear. His warm and seductive breath engulfed Gu Mengmeng’s ear, as he said in an enticingly raspy voice, “ So, is this an invitation? You will give me some love when night falls?”

It might just be a psychological effect, but Lea seemed to be radiating even more hormones after his promotion.

She should have been used to being teased, but even after half a year, she remained defenseless against Lea’s attack.

Lea traced one finger down Gu Mengmeng’s arm, from her shoulder to her wrist. It was as if electricity was shooting out from his fingertip, making Gu Mengmeng feel numb all over. The only place she could hide was deeper into his embrace.

Lea was very satisfied with Gu Mengmeng’s subtle action, but he just casually tapped at the Kiss of the Ocean in her hands. “The Kiss of the Ocean can absorb the poison left behind in your body by Snake. If you eat it, we can mate in the future.”

Gu Mengmeng looked at the fist-sized black pearl and pursed her lips. “Are you sure I won’t choke to death on it?”

Lea tapped Gu Mengmeng lightly on her head. “Silly girl, who is asking you to swallow the pearl whole? I can crumble it into pieces for you to eat.”

Gu Mengmeng thought Lea had made the suggestion in jest, but saw that he was really preparing to crush it. She panicked and drew the Kiss of the Ocean back into her embrace with a frown. “No, this is for Chixuan’s ransom. We cannot touch it.”

Lea sighed, but didn’t reach for the Kiss of the Ocean again. He just held Gu Mengmeng in his arms. “What should I do? I am jealous...”

“Oh?” Lea was pressing down on the top of Gu Mengmeng’s head with his chin. She was unable to look up to see his expression.

Lea said, “I concede to the fact that Elvis holds a higher place in your heart, as he is your first partner. But now that wolf pup is also more important than me... Mengmeng, my heart aches.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed in exasperation. “You are all my family and equally important to me. It’s just that Chixuan is in danger now, so I have no choice but to put him as my top priority...”

“I know,” Lea said, “I also promised that I will never put you in a spot. I understand the logic behind it all, but... I just feel rather depressed. I am too greedy, aren’t I? Wanting to be the most important person to you...”

Gu Mengmeng hugged Lea and pressed her face into his chest. She said softly, “I am sorry.”

Startled, Lea twisted his lips and chuckled. “You clearly know that rather than apologizing, I prefer to hear you confess your love.”

Gu Mengmeng didn’t hesitate. “I love you.”

Lea smiled with satisfaction and didn’t say another word.

He had committed a taboo. He shouldn’t have made a fuss over the “most important status” in front of Gu Mengmeng. Mengmeng had wanted to make him her one and only then, but Lea had insisted on pushing her into Elvis’ arms.

Thereafter, Mengmeng wanted him to give up. It was Lea himself who said he wouldn’t mind being a beast pet, as long as he could remain by her side.

But now, he was already her lawful partner, and could rightfully hold her in his arms.

However, men would always be greedy.

They will always yearn for what they could not have. Hankering for more after getting it.

Chapter 789

Chapter 789: No Matter How Powerful You are, You Will Always Be My Weak Spot

“Actually, you could have been promoted long ago, right?” Gu Mengmeng pressed her little face into Lea’s chest, listening to his heartbeat.

It was a statement, not a question.

Lea chuckled without denying it.

Gu Mengmeng continued. “I have turned this matter over in mind many times. During the first stray beast attack, although you were being assaulted from both sides, the opponents were also third-level beasts. With your accumulated third-level skills, you could have broken through the boundary and then made use of your higher level to turn the situation around. But you rather get injured than get promoted... I always found it strange. Until last night, when those three stray beasts all attacked you without even the need for any prior agreement, I finally understood your mindset.”

Lea held a doting smile on his face. He had never liked it when others saw through him. Whenever that happened, he would be very resistant and force himself to bury his own emotions and thoughts even deeper.

But he just felt happy and expectant at being seen through by Gu Mengmeng.

It was as if his carefully wrapped present had been opened by his loved one, who instantly saw with just one look how much time he had spent choosing that gift and making it look nice.

This type of feeling, when one’s efforts were being noticed and cherished, felt really good. It was as if a gentle warmth was flowing through his veins, nourishing each and every one of his cells.

“Hmm, tell me.” Lea prompted Gu Mengmeng to elaborate. He liked to hear her explain her thought process, as he was unable to burrow into her mind to see just what she was thinking. Hence, he valued each and every word she spoke. Even more so, he cherished the bright look on her face whenever she talked about matters between them.

Gu Mengmeng didn’t know how Lea was feeling now. He was gazing at her with deep affection, but she was already used to that.

She couldn’t help feeling some heartache at the reason behind why Lea refused to be promoted. “You don’t want to be promoted so that when situations like yesterday’s incident occurs, you can focus all the danger on yourself. You want to use yourself as bait to protect me.”

His heart shivered.

He felt warmth and pride towards Mengmeng’s perceptiveness, but also a sliver of unease.

She was so perceptive, and would never just foolishly accept his goodwill.

Gu Mengmeng looked up and met Lea’s eyes. She said in all seriousness, “You know I am powerful enough now. You don’t need to do this anymore.”

“Silly girl.” Lea stroked Gu Mengmeng’s head. Dappled sunlight fell across his face, infusing even more warmth in his smile. He kissed Gu Mengmeng’s little hand before continuing. “No matter how powerful you are, you will always be my weak spot. My heart would be broken if you sustain any injuries.”

“So you rather get injured or even die, rather than get promoted. This is so you can remain the weakest member of the family—our enemies would then target you as the weakest link and all danger would be focused on you, right?” Gu Mengmeng was rather agitated. Her eyes had turned red and she looked like she was about to cry. “But did you ever consider the fact that my heart would also feel pain?”

Chapter 790

Chapter 790: Elvis Got Injured

He didn't know her heart would also feel pain?

No, Lea always knew that.

On one hand, he hoped that Gu Mengmeng would never see through him. But on the other hand, he had always hoped to hear her say her heart would feel pain for him.

Gu Mengmeng looked into Lea's eyes and said solemnly, "I was a wreck when Snake died. If not for you and Elvis by my side, I would probably never have come out of my depression. Do you wish to let me go through that again? If the one who died was you... I would crumble."

Lea held Gu Mengmeng tightly and kissed her left ear, rubbing it intimately. "I was wrong. I shouldn't have let you worry. Don't be angry, don't be sad... forgive me, alright?"

Gu Mengmeng placed her chin firmly on Lea's shoulder and turned her face. She said softly, "Become stronger as soon as possible. Didn't you promise to become my partner in crime, where we will go around terrorizing everyone else..."

Lea chuckled. He held Gu Mengmeng's petite face as he kissed her on the lips. His smile was exceptionally radiant under the sunlight. "Alright, I will do whatever Mengmeng says. I will become stronger as quickly as possible and accompany you in your reign of terror."

Basked in the warm sun, Gu Mengmeng felt her heart lightened after speaking her inner thoughts.

Lea always kept his promises to her.

He said he would become stronger and would never use himself as bait again.

This gave Gu Mengmeng's heart a measure of calm.

After a long while, Gu Mengmeng turned to look into the distance with some worry. "Why hasn't Elvis returned?"

Lea also felt that given Elvis' abilities, his hunting jaunt had taken a bit too long. Unwilling to make Gu Mengmeng worry, he said casually, "This isn't our territory after all. Perhaps it is harder to locate a suitable prey here. You know that apart from meat, he is also picky about the hide."

Gu Mengmeng nodded. It would be winter soon after the end of the rainy season. Elvis was indeed starting to prepare the skinned furs for use during winter.

Since Gu Mengmeng's appearance, Elvis had become increasingly critical of the skinned furs that could be used. Sometimes, she even suspected that Elvis must be a Virgo.

With that thought, she didn't say anything more. She just continued to nestle in Lea's embrace while playing with his upgraded version 2.0 tail, while awaiting Elvis' return.

With no watch, Gu Mengmeng could only estimate the time.

About two hours later, Elvis finally returned with the prepared game.

But...

"You got injured?!" Gu Mengmeng jumped up from Lea's arms as she saw the fist-sized wound on Elvis' shoulder. Pain shot through her heart. "What happened? Did you meet with danger?"

Elvis glanced at his own wound and chuckled. He stroked Gu Mengmeng's little head. He drew her into his embrace as he handed the game over to Lea for cooking. "No. I was accidentally bitten during my hunt. My recovery abilities are strong and will be fine by tomorrow. It's nothing."

Gu Mengmeng frowned at Elvis. “You promised never to lie to me.”

A fifth-level beast getting bitten by his prey during a hunt?

Why didn’t you just say that a vicious wolf was eaten by a rabbit after jumping into its burrow?

Elvis hesitated before lowering his head. He avoided Gu Mengmeng’s gaze. “I didn’t lie. I was really bitten during the hunt...” But he never said he was bitten by the prey, so that’s not considered a lie, right?

Chapter 791

Chapter 791: My Man Got Bitten?!

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips and took a deep breath. She stared at Elvis in silence.

Elvis felt sheepish from her stare. Gu Mengmeng's powers of observation were too sharp now. It was too difficult to try to hide anything from her.

"Xiao Meng..." Elvis began his plea.

But Gu Mengmeng didn't give him the chance. She just lifted her chin and shouted, "Lea, Ian, Wabei. Let's go."

Pushing Elvis aside, Gu Mengmeng jumped out of his arms.

The other three males didn't say a word but just stood quietly one step behind Gu Mengmeng.

"Xiao Meng." Elvis started to speak but stopped. He wanted to call after her, but didn't know what to say.

Gu Mengmeng frowned and stared at the wound on Elvis' shoulder. Filled with displeasure, she tossed her head. "Biting my man like that. If I don't pluck out all his teeth, my name is not called Gu Mengmeng."

With that, she turned and left.

Lea glanced at Elvis, his eyes filled with conflict. Nevertheless, he remained silent and just carried Gu Mengmeng in the direction of where Elvis came back from.

Out of the forest undergrowth came a rustling sound. Gu Mengmeng knew that it was the little snakes brought over by Wabei from the Snake King valley.

She commanded. “Lead the way. Find me that person who bit Elvis.”

The little snakes stuck out their tongues and acknowledged Gu Mengmeng’s command in their snake language. They then shot off like arrows as they fanned out in all directions to investigate.

How could Elvis let Gu Mengmeng leave like this? Even if she possessed the abilities of a Beast King, and had the fifth-level Wabei escorting her, she was still his female. How could he let her charge into an unknown situation?

Quickly catching up, he wanted to take her back from Lea’s arms but Gu Mengmeng turned her head in objection.

“Xiao Meng.” Elvis sighed in a show of eventual surrender. “I will tell you the truth, okay? Don’t be angry, please?”

Only then did Gu Mengmeng finally turn to look at Elvis, with an expression which clearly said “lie to me and you will die”!

Elvis was not afraid of the heavens or the earth. He was not scared of pain or death. The only thing that could bring fear to him was this fragile little figure in Lea’s arms.

The stray beasts here are old acquaintances of mine,” Elvis said with a frown.

Gu Mengmeng was stunned. Old acquaintances?

Could it be...

Elvis nodded. “This is where I was born.”

Everyone halted at Gu Mengmeng’s signal and stared steadily at Elvis.

Gu Mengmeng sighed and opened her arms towards Elvis. “Hug me.”

Elvis chuckled and took Gu Mengmeng over from Lea’s arms. He kissed her on the face and took a deep, greedy breath of her scent. Only then did the unease plaguing his heart fade away.

Wabei and Ian tactfully drew back, giving the three of them some privacy.

Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng to a big tree and leaped up onto a branch. Gu Mengmeng remained sitting steadily in his arms. Meanwhile, Lea chose a slightly lower branch to perch on, so that he could face Elvis and Gu Mengmeng.

Elvis composed himself before speaking slowly. “The person who bit me is my biological beast Father.”

Gu Mengmeng was dumbstruck. Did she just say... that she wanted to pluck out all the teeth from her own father-in-law?”

Chapter 792

Chapter 792: Let's Elope

Elvis saw that Gu Mengmeng looked rather grim and his heart ached. “You don’t need to confront him. I can handle it.”

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head in silence.

She was already playing out a dramatic soap opera in her head.

Elvis’ father would fling a blank check in her face and say solemnly, “Fill in any figure you want. Take the money and leave my son alone. A woman like you is not worthy of my son.”

Thereafter, Gu Mengmeng would slam the table as she stood up to retort with a classic line. “I am different from other women. I am not with him for his money!”

Elvis’ father would then smirk maliciously. “You are choosing punishment over reward, very well... misfortunes will start to befall your friends one by one. I want to see how long you can fight against me?”

...

Gu Mengmeng had already started to tremble.

Should she have obediently taken the blank check given by Elvis’ father and then live off the money with Elvis in secret? Or should she have definitely torn it into bits and threw it back in the father’s face?

Wait, she seemed to have neglected a crucial issue...

What issue...?

Ah!

There were no checks in the Beast World.

Then... what would his father throw in her face? A beast skin?

“Xiao Meng?” Seeing that Gu Mengmeng had remained silent with an ambiguous expression on her face, Elvis felt rather worried and anxious.

He had already tried his best not to get injured. But that old fellow still bit his shoulder.

Damn it!

Gu Mengmeng looked up with a trace of resentment in her features. “Are you going to listen to your father?”

Elvis: ...?

Gu Mengmeng continued. “If your father objects to the two of us being together. Will you abandon me?”

Elvis: ...!

Gu Mengmeng looped her arms around Elvis’ neck. “Let’s elope. Let’s head back to Saint Nazaire right now, far far away from him...”

Elvis laughed out loud. All his worries were erased by her invitation to “elope”. He had already planned a speech to explain and comfort her, but all that was reduced to a doting “alright”.

Lea held his forehead, exasperated at the scene.

He had already detected something strange going on with Elvis during their journey. Combined with the aura of those beasts secretly tailing them, he more or less guessed that they were related to Elvis.

But it was very obvious that the relationship between Elvis and his beast Father was totally different from what Gu Mengmeng was thinking.

But since she did not broach the issue, he and Elvis were more than happy to let things be. As a result, Lea didn't pursue the matter. He just said, "If we are to run, we must do so quickly. Otherwise, they will catch up soon."

Gu Mengmeng straightened herself as she prepared to leap down the tree with Elvis. She had just moved when she got a slight shock. A bitter smile crossed her face. "Too late."

Lea and Elvis instantly went into alert mode. They knew that Gu Mengmeng's senses were now more acute than theirs.

Gu Mengmeng sat on the branch and pointed to a nearby patch of undergrowth. She grinned. "Since you have come all the way here, why hide?"

The undergrowth rustled a little before a male stood up from within. He was tall and sturdy, radiating a formidable aura. He looked just like a dark version of Elvis. Their similarities were so obvious that there was no need for any DNA testing...

Chapter 793

Chapter 793: I Really Don't Like My Man To Be Bullied By Others

Gu Mengmeng still felt a pang of anxiety when she saw that face. After all, this was the first time she was meeting her father-in-law.

“Great Messenger.” Elvis’ father spoke first. He bowed to Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng felt rather awkward. With her arms circled around Elvis’ neck, she let him jump down with her in his embrace.

She was just about to say something to Elvis’ father when Elvis spoke up first. “Ha, you dare to come here all alone. You must have really gotten foolish with age?”

Gu Mengmeng was shocked, but didn’t know what to say.

16 years old...

Was Elvis going through his rebellious stage now?

“It seems like the wound on your shoulder is not enough to make you understand the gap between you and me, is it?”

Gu Mengmeng frowned. So Elvis’ method of raising Kanwu was learned from his father? Was his family all along so harsh?

Elvis handed Gu Mengmeng over to Lea before walking towards his father. He stopped three paces away from him and they entered into a staring match. Gu Mengmeng could nearly see the sparks going off between them.

“For a male to get a female, it is as good as taking on some reservations and vulnerabilities. My idiot son, you are still trapped by this nonsense. You have really failed all my high expectations of you.”

Elvis smirked as he cracked his neck. This little movement indicated he was prepared to attack. Gu Mengmeng knew that the moment he did that, it meant his subsequent attack would be vicious and relentless.

Towards his own father... did he need to be so vicious?

Gu Mengmeng was worried something bad might happen and called out. "Hubby, stop it."

Elvis' spine stiffened, but still dutifully returned to Gu Mengmeng's side.

His father kept quiet, with just a scornful smile on his face.

The sarcasm and arrogance conveyed by that smile made one feel an indescribable sense of discomfort.

Gu Mengmeng didn't like this father-in-law. He might look like Elvis but she still didn't like him.

Faced with that conflict, her tone was naturally not very friendly. She said coldly, "I respect the fact that you are Elvis' father, so I don't intend to treat you like an enemy. But I really don't like my man to be bullied by others. So please stop. If you are looking for me for something, please speak quickly and leave after. Because my man clearly doesn't wish to see you."

Elvis' father stepped forward and sized her up. He wasn't looking at her like a daughter-in-law, but rather... like looking at food.

Gu Mengmeng didn't like his look but didn't wish to kick up a fuss.

He wanted to eat her? She was afraid that his teeth were not good enough and cannot bite down hard enough.

"I want the Kiss of the Ocean. Give it to me and I will leave."

"No way. I have my own uses for this item." Gu Mengmeng rejected with conviction.

Elvis' father looked like he had guessed Gu Mengmeng would not assent readily. He rotated his shoulders to loosen the muscles and said, "In that case, I have no choice but to snatch it with my own hands."

He gazed at Elvis with malevolent and murderous eyes. "I heard that he is your first partner, so I will start by killing him. Just give me a shout when you change your mind and am willing to hand over the Kiss of the Ocean. If you do so in time... perhaps he might still live."

Before Gu Mengmeng could speak, Elvis and his father were already embroiled in battle.

Chapter 794

Chapter 794: Winner Is King, Loser The Outlaw. Kill If You Must.

The two of them fought viciously. Every move was a lethal one, without any sloppiness at all,

Anxiety filled Gu Mengmeng as she clenched her fists to control her emotions.

A cooling sense circled her ankles. Looking down, she saw a familiar snake tail wrapping around herself.

“Wabei?” Gu Mengmeng was nonplussed.

Wabei gave a casual yawn. “I need to protect you so that your little wolf doesn’t need to worry about you at the back of his mind. Didn’t you notice? Every time that fellow launches a fake attack at you, your little wolf falls for it and becomes distracted. They are clearly an even match, but Elvis is losing.”

Despite knowing that no one in the Beast World could hurt her, she remained his weak spot...

This statement was not just empty talk.

As expected, after Wabei had Gu Mengmeng shielded well, Elvis finally let go of his passivity. Although he had already endured much injuries, his eyes became more focused and sharp.

Including that time in the ocean, Gu Mengmeng had engaged in battle with stray beasts twice.

She knew that stray beasts fought in a barbaric and savage manner, but didn't know it could be that brutal.

If we compared the battle between a regular tribe and stray beasts to an NBA basketball match—exciting and nerve-wrecking, where no mistakes were allowed as every point scored could determine the outcome of the match.

Then the battle between Elvis and his father was like a basketball match in hell, where the outcome of the match decided between life and death.

So, unless Elvis killed his father or was killed by him, this battle could never end?

Why did he need to force his son to such a state just for the Kiss of the Ocean?!

Gu Mengmeng really didn't understand how family ties worked within the Beast World. She thought that the relationship between Elvis and Kanwu was weird enough, who knew it was already the sanitized version.

“Mengmeng, do you want to eat the Kiss of the Ocean?” Lea suddenly asked.

Gu Mengmeng was momentarily taken aback. She then smiled. “Yes, I am going to eat it, so that the old fellow wouldn't think of stealing or snatching it again.”

As expected, the moment she said this, Elvis' father panicked. He disregarded his battle with Elvis and the fact that Wabei was protecting Gu Mengmeng—and just charged towards her, prepared to snatch the Kiss of the Ocean from her hands.

The moment he exposed an opening, Elvis bit down on his thigh without any hesitation. He dragged him back and flung him onto the ground. Elvis then stepped down on his father's lower back and stared down at him like a messenger from hell passing down a death sentence. His face was cold and calm, as if he was already immune to the face of death.

A flash of regret flashed across his father's face. He snorted. "Winner is king, loser the outlaw. Kill if you must."

Elvis didn't have any intention of sparing him and aimed his sharp claws right at his heart.

"Wait." Just that one word from Gu Mengmeng dispelled Elvis' murderous aura. His claws morphed back into human hands as he turned to look at Gu Mengmeng, as if waiting for her to continue.

Gu Mengmeng knew Elvis didn't like his father. Even though she didn't know what had happened between them in the past, their brutal fight made clear his dislike.

But killing one's own father was something Gu Mengmeng could not bear.

It was not that she was being sentimental... she just didn't wish for Elvis to have any regrets in the future.

Chapter 795

Chapter 795: Her Man Should Never Have To Suffer Conflict From A Kill.

“I cannot give you the Kiss of the Ocean, but if you are willing to tell me why you need it, perhaps I can think of another way to help you.” Gu Mengmeng pushed Wabei away and walked to Elvis’ side.

She opened her arms and made a “hug me” gesture.

She did not fear the murderous aura on Elvis at all. She just hoped to bring some peace and happiness to Elvis.

Killing might be the easiest and most straightforward solution, but it would never bring one joy.

Her man should never have to suffer conflict from a kill.

Elvis had never rejected Gu Mengmeng’s intimacy, regardless of the situation.

He drew Gu Mengmeng into his embrace before moving back guardedly. Wabei lazily placed himself between Elvis and his father while Lea stood beside Elvis and slightly to the front. Even Ian was hidden in the trees in a vigilant manner. Meanwhile, countless little snakes were in the undergrowth ready for action. The moment Elvis’ father made any suspicious movement, he would be attacked from all sides.

He sighed—the surrender of a formidable and ambitious person.

He forced himself to sit up. As a stray beast, he knew all too well he had no moves left and was reconciled to it.

He had clearly been seeking death's release all this while, but was unable to die.

He couldn't let go of that person whom he was supposed to hate. If the leader of the stray beasts himself died, what would happen to that person...

He should be feeling the thrill of vengeance, but just felt a raw ache in his heart.

"I want to use it to save someone," Elvis' father said.

"Who?" Gu Mengmeng asked.

Elvis' father hesitated before pointing at Elvis. "His beast mother."

"Your wife?" Gu Mengmeng blurted out despite knowing that couldn't be the case.

If Elvis' mother was his wife, how could he have become a stray beast?

So...

As expected, Elvis' father quivered as if he had been stabbed in the heart.

Knowing that she had said something wrong but also knowing that an apology would sound too false, Gu Mengmeng just changed the subject.

"What happened to her?"

The eyes of Elvis' father clouded over. He lowered his head and said with reluctance, "She's dying."

Stunned, Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Elvis.

Elvis bore no expression, as if he was listening to a story that had absolutely nothing to do with himself.

It was not that he was cold-blooded. It was just that the concept of a mother was totally foreign to him.

He had never experienced the slightest bit of gentleness from his mother. On the contrary, nearly all the hardships he had endured in his youth stemmed from that female.

Pity...

It was too difficult for Elvis to feel that.

But he had never mentioned any of that to Gu Mengmeng before.

It was not that he didn't desire comfort, but that he was unwilling to expose her to such ugly memories.

Her presence by his side was already the greatest comfort he could receive.

Gu Mengmeng knew Elvis had an unhappy childhood and suffered much pain. She didn't wish to force him to forgive his father, but to at least spare his life. In this way, if Elvis wanted to forgive his father one day, he would have the chance to hear him say "sorry".

"Lea." Gu Mengmeng turned towards Lea. He was the true expert in saving lives.

Lea chuckled and stroked Gu Mengmeng's little head. "I got it. I will go with him to see that female."

Chapter 796

Chapter 796: An Indisputable Reason

Gu Mengmeng glanced at Elvis' father before shaking her head. "Let's go together."

Lea tilted his head and raised his brows. "Are you looking down on me, thinking I will be bullied?"

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. "I can't bear to be apart from you. Not even a second."

Yeah, this was an indisputable reason.

Lea clearly knew Gu Mengmeng was just trying to soothe his ruffled feathers, but couldn't bear to expose her sweet little lie.

The feeling of her being all clingy... was really good.

Looking at Elvis, Lea asked with a light smile, "First partner, your female has spoken. What should we do?"

The place which had been like hell to him no longer held any special meaning for Elvis.

That male whom he had always believed he would never defeat—his leg had been nearly bitten in half by Elvis.

The female who had always regretted bearing him and begrudged his existence—Elvis could barely even recall what she looked like.

As such, since Xiao Meng felt they should go take a look at her, so be it.

Carrying Gu Mengmeng over to his father, Elvis looked at him coldly as if staring at a stranger. When he spoke, his voice was like that of a demon from the depths of hell. “Peter, you better not be up to any tricks. Otherwise, I can easily destroy your everything, including that female.”

Threatening his own father... whether it was his expression or words, he was being much harsher than he had ever been with Kanwu.

Compared to this, Elvis was like a benevolent father towards Kanwu.

Gu Mengmeng held her cheek. She no longer had the energy to comment on the dynamics between father and son.

Ignoring Peter, Elvis walked past him. Based on his own memory, he headed off in the direction of the place he used to call home.

Wabei followed in his typical languid manner, while Ian circled the skies. With unexpected kindness, Lea fastened a tree branch to Peter’s leg to stabilize it. He then followed after Gu Mengmeng with his tail swishing. Smiling shamelessly, he tried to make her repeat that she couldn’t bear to be apart from him, not even a second.

Perhaps it was because this was the first time anyone had actively entered the stray beasts’ territory, and in such a happy and leisurely manner. This scene was exceptionally astonishing in the eyes of a stray beast.

By the looks of it, fifth-level snake and wolf beasts, a fourth-level snow fox and a third-level birdman...

Tsk, such a group was not to be trifled with.

But the little beauty in that wolf beast’s arms looked so alluring and smelled so good...

Triggered by primitive urges, low gurgling noises and lascivious eyes lingered over Gu Mengmeng’s body. It made her feel ill-at-ease.

She held Elvis’ face in her hands and glanced at Lea. “You must tell me if you feel uncomfortable.”

The two males chuckled in exasperation, but just nodded.

Then as she swept her surroundings with a cold gaze, Gu Mengmeng unleashed a powerful pressure, causing those stray beasts to instantly collapse on the ground.

Elvis and Wabei were still alright, while Lea's face looked rather grim but still bearable. However, poor Ian fell straight down from the sky and glared wretchedly at Gu Mengmeng.

"Sorry." Gu Mengmeng stuck out her tongue in apology at Ian.

First and second-level stray beasts had been forced back to their original forms by Gu Mengmeng's pressure. Beasts who were third-level and above would not die, but their minds would be befuddled... the power of a Beast King? Beast King...

Bones still trembling, fleeing was the only thing one could do.

Peter ignored his men and just walked to the front with a blank face. He led them into his own cave.

Chapter 797

Chapter 797: As Long He Is Alive, That Is Enough

The inside of the cave made Gu Mengmeng think of the Waterfall Cave from the classic Chinese novel “Journey to the West”. Apart from the fact there was no waterfall at the entrance, any monkey standing here with a stick could claim himself to be the “Great Sage who was equal to the Heavens”.

She really couldn’t tell that this was the cave belonging to the leader of the stray beasts. She thought stray beasts lived in places with the same bold air as the Lion Camel Ridge from “Journey to the West”.

After a few steps into the cave, they could see a bed made from thick layers of skinned furs. An extremely emaciated female laid upon it.

Gu Mengmeng gave Lea a look and he went up to check the female’s condition. Strangely, she had no external injuries or internal ills, but she still looked like she was about to die.

Lea looked at Peter. “How long has she been like this?”

Peter frowned. “Since the monsoon season ended. She has been refusing to eat and is starving to death.”

Gu Mengmeng instinctively glanced at Elvis. He had no reaction and bore a mild expression, as if this female was just a stranger.

Gu Mengmeng sighed. “Go out, all of you. Let me talk to her.”

Elvis surveyed the surroundings to ensure that there was only this female here. Without any reason to worry, he turned and left. Peter was concerned but had no choice but to follow the others out.

After everyone had left, Gu Mengmeng sat down beside the female. “I am Gu Mengmeng and is Elvis’ partner.”

The female’s eyes brightened at her words. Her first reaction was to glance about the entrance of the cave, but Elvis had already left.

Disappointment flashed across her face. She lowered her head without a word.

“Shall I call Elvis in and have him speak to you?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

The female hesitated before shaking her head. “I don’t have the right to face him... as long as he is alive, that is enough...”

Mothers all over the world were the same. Who would not love her own child?

Seeing that this female was willing to talk about Elvis, Gu Mengmeng continued her line of inquiry “Elvis never wanted to tell me about his childhood, but I have always been rather curious. If you are willing... why don’t you tell me about it?”

The female’s gaze dimmed and she lowered her eyes. Even her fingertips were quivering.

“His childhood was a disaster... you should never have brought him back here. He only managed to escape after much efforts...”

Recalling the reunion between Elvis and his father, Gu Mengmeng could more or less understand what that disaster was.

“But we heard that you are very ill. We cannot sit back and let you die. After all, you are Elvis’ mother,” Gu Mengmeng said.

The female slowly closed her eyes, and a tear dropped from the corner of her lids onto the skinned fur. “Elvis... probably hopes he never had a mother like me. Leave, there is no need to worry about me. All this is the price I have to pay.”

Gu Mengmeng didn't understand her meaning. She just felt that single tear really looked very tragic.

“Perhaps, you could tell me your difficulties. I might be able to help you.”

The female shook her head. “He will never agree. No one can save me... knowing that Elvis is safe and sound before my death, I am already very contented. It can be said that... I can die without regrets.”

“You are seeking death by going on a hunger strike?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

Chapter 798

Chapter 798: Do You Know What Is Despondency?

The female was clearly smiling but her face was filled with despondency.

“Why?” Gu Mengmeng did not understand.

Gu Mengmeng could empathize if the female had just been snatched by stray beasts and wished to die because she couldn’t stand the torment. But now, Elvis was already 16 years old. If she had wanted to die from the shame of it... hadn’t she waited too long to react?

Peter also did not treat this female like how a typical stray beast treated a female he had snatched over. This could be seen from her lodgings, as well as Peter’s willingness to risk such danger to steal the Kiss of the Ocean for her.

Let’s not mention about her own powers. Just Elvis and Wabei those two formidable opponents—to face them alone was like courting death a hundred times over. If he was willing to risk such danger for her... Gu Mengmeng didn’t believe he wasn’t good to her.

So Gu Mengmeng didn’t understand exactly why had she suddenly decided to give up on life?”

“Do you know... what is despondency?” The female asked slowly. Her voice was as faint as a feather being blown into the dirt. One could barely hear her voice.

Despondency?

Gu Mengmeng did not have much experience with that term.

In the present world, she was a child whom nobody loved or cared about.

When she was four, her father had married a young third wife and forced a divorce upon her mother. When she was six, her mother brought her along when she remarried. She had witnessed how her mother had suffered from domestic abuse because she was towing along a child from her previous marriage. Everyday, she would tremble all over in fear the moment the doorbell rang. Nevertheless, this kind of life only went on until she was 13.

Her stepfather could no longer stand having an extra person in the household and drove her out the door.

Holding her two-year-old brother, her mother chose her current family over her.

Many people said she was very tragic and deserved to be pitied.

But she herself never felt so.

Life was full of ups and downs. It would never only spiral downwards. When you finally reach rock bottom, the only possible way forward was up.

So she had fought desperately to find somewhere to work without personal identification. She did not care how low the wages were, as long as she could have food to eat and a place to stay.

Although life was very tough, she felt her situation was improving day by day.

Despondency was not a word which existed in her dictionary.

When she had crossed over to the Beast World, she was in a panic and didn't know what to do. But Elvis's and Lea's love and care for her was more than all the warmth she had ever received over the past 18 years. Although there were still problems here and there, she never doubted the blessings in her life.

So, just what kind of despondency would make this female give up on her own life?

Going on a hunger strike and starving herself to death. Such a long and tortuous way where every second was a struggle. Your stomach would endlessly challenge your will to die. Even so, she had endured this for nearly half a year?

“I was the one who made Peter into a stray beast. So he hates me... that is as a matter of course,” The female said faintly. Her face was blank as a deathly sadness consumed her. “When he snatched me from my tribe, I had still hoped that my males would come rescue me. But every time Peter went out, one of my partner marks would disappear... I was fearful and panicky. I started to wish they would not come and rescue me anymore. I just wanted them to live on...”

Chapter 799

Chapter 799: I Actively Seduced Him

“After that, I started to try keeping Peter back, so that he could not go out and hurt my males. I even actively seduced him...” The female’s gaze remained blank, as if talking about something that had happened to a third party. She had distanced herself from the matter so that it wouldn’t hurt so much.

“It was then that I conceived Elvis.” At the mention of Elvis, the female subconsciously gazed towards the entrance of the cave. A pity there was nothing there.

“Although I don’t love Peter, it was still my first pregnancy and I was very happy. But Peter forced me to choose between my child and my remaining partners. He said if I wanted to save my partners, I had to mate with him until I miscarried. If I wanted to keep the child, he would immediately leave the cave until I gave birth... but the price of it was that the remaining two marks on me would definitely disappear.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned. Even with the present-day mentality towards marriage, she could still understand his strong aversion towards other males. But to mate until she miscarried, wasn’t this too depraved? Moreover, the unborn child was his own flesh and blood.

The female didn’t seem to notice Gu Mengmeng’s expression. Or rather, she did not care how Gu Mengmeng reacted. She just needed an outlet to vent all the frustrations she had been forced to keep inside her all these years.

“I was selfish in the end. I wanted to keep my child. So that night... the two marks on me disappeared at the same time. I had prayed continuously that the two of them could escape, but they still died.”

“For the sake of my unborn child, I forced myself to live on. I must live on! So regardless of how much I vomited or how painful it was, I gritted my teeth and persevered.”

“But he... took all my children away before they were even a month old. I was imprisoned in this cave with no chance to see any daylight. Just so that I could see my child, I forsook my dignity and tried my best to ingratiate myself to him. But all I got in return were death notifications, one after another. Six wolf pups until only Elvis was left. He continuously used Elvis to threaten me. If I caused him even the slightest bit of displeasure, he would torture Elvis... I didn't even dare to die.”

“During the monsoon season, I finally know that my Elvis is powerful enough and would not be easily harmed by him. I can finally let go of my worries... finally gain release.”

“He killed my partner and my sons and imprisoned me here to torture and ravage. While for me... after so long in here, even my hatred has withered. True despondency is when even the desire to kill him in revenge has vanished. In this world, there is nothing left that will hold me back. Be it love or hate, there is nothing left...”

Gu Mengmeng listened quietly and without interruption until she finished her narration. Thereafter, the female slowly closed her eyes and remained still. She bore a resigned expression, as if she only had death to look forward to. Gu Mengmeng then spoke with some tentativeness, “Perhaps, I can bring you away. I can bring you to Saint Nazaire to live with Elvis and I... if so, are you willing?”

The female's lashes fluttered. Gu Mengmeng's words were like a tiny rock thrown into the calm lake of her heart, triggering multiple ripples.

But the ripples quickly faded away. She shook her head. “No need. It will be winter after this rainy season... I will gain release then.”

Chapter 800

Chapter 800: My First Time Meeting My Mother-In-Law, And I Have To Persuade Her Not To Commit Suicide

Yes, in her current condition, even if she had a good meal now, she might not be able to last through the harsh winter. Not to mention she still bore a strong death wish.

“Elvis and I, we have four sons. A pity we didn’t bring them along this time. Do you wish to meet them?” Gu Mengmeng continued to try to persuade her.

The corners of the female’s lips curled up slightly in a small sign of happiness, but she didn’t say a word. Instead, she had a “I can die without any worries now” look.

Gu Mengmeng tugged gently at the female’s hand. She had seen many battles between women and their mother-in-laws, but never imagined that the first time she was meeting her mother-in-law, she had to persuade her not to commit suicide...

Perhaps she was really weak, and had fallen asleep from the strain of talking so much.

Gu Mengmeng tucked the skinned fur over her properly before leaving the cave.

Elvis was impatient with waiting and was stomping around the outside when he finally saw her emerge. His tight-wound brows relaxed and he drew her into his embrace for a fierce hug. Only then did he feel at ease.

“She...” Peter’s eyes were filled with concern as he gazed inwards, even though there was no way he could see the female inside from this angle.

Gu Mengmeng said, “She said many things and is very tired now. She has fallen asleep.”

Peter was taken aback. He stared at Gu Mengmeng with disbelief for a long while before asking her dubiously, “She... she spoke to you?!”

Gu Mengmeng nodded. Peter was nearly in tears from the agitation.

“It’s good that she spoke... she has not uttered a single word in months. No matter what I do, she refuses to say anything to me...”

Gu Mengmeng really didn’t understand. Since Peter loved her so much, why had he done such cruel things to hurt her? What were his motives?

“Lower your voice. She has just nodded off.”

Gu Mengmeng had barely finished her sentence before Peter was already nodding earnestly and pressing his lips tightly together.

Gu Mengmeng circled Elvis’ neck and indicated him to walk further out.

Peter wanted to ask about his female, and so naturally followed.

Gu Mengmeng had Elvis stop after they reached a reasonable distance. She then frowned as she sized up Peter.

“She... what did she say to you?” Peter desperately wanted to know every single word she said. Even if he could only hear it from a third party, it would be a great comfort to him.

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips and remained silent. She continued staring at Peter.

Wabei said lazily, “I am sleepy and will find someplace to sleep. Wake me when it’s time to eat.”

Ian just shot a dirty look at Gu Mengmeng. He obviously still begrudged her for unleashing her pressure and causing him to fall down. He followed after Wabei without a word.

Lea sighed. Although he was also Mengmeng's partner, this was obviously an old, domestic issue concerning Elvis' family. It was not very convenient for him to stay on and listen. As such, he kissed Gu Mengmeng's little face. "You haven't eaten lunch yet. I will go prepare something delicious for you. Auntie looks very weak, so I will prepare something easily digestible for her."

Gu Mengmeng understood everyone's kind consideration. Hence, she nodded and returned Lea's kiss. "Thank you."

Lea swiped Gu Mengmeng's little nose with a smile. "Silly girl. Why are you thanking me?"

After Lea left, only Gu Mengmeng, Elvis and Peter were left. Only then did Gu Mengmeng finally speak. "You will never wake someone who is pretending to sleep. Similarly, you will never be able to save someone who wishes to die. If you want to save her, tell me the truth."

Chapter 801

Chapter 801: Jerks Will Be Jerks

“What truth?” Peter asked.

Gu Mengmeng looked at Peter’s expression and knew he had more or less guessed the truth. He was just unwilling to admit or mention it.

“She said she was the one who turned you into a stray beast. So you used to be partners? I saw that you still have very strong feelings for her. She also doesn’t seem like an unreasonable female. What happened that the partner mark had to be removed?”

Peter laughed bitterly. He gazed towards the cave and said in a vague manner, “She really talked to you...”

Gu Mengmeng sighed. “If you don’t wish to tell me, I won’t force you. But I can honestly tell you that in her current condition, she will not be able to survive this winter season. Even if I give you the Kiss of the Ocean, she is unable to withstand its power in her present state. If you force it on her, she will die from it.

Peter frowned. He stared at Gu Mengmeng aggressively. He was obviously stung by Gu Mengmeng saying that that female will die.

But...

This little female who said that she will die, was the only person who could make her talk over the past few months.

Perhaps, she really had a way?

Suppressing his displeasure, Peter spoke gradually. “The divorce... was because she had never liked me right from the start. No matter what I did, she would only avoid me. She ran the moment she saw me, and did not give me any chance at all. So... I forced myself on her.”

Gu Mengmeng was stunned. So he raped her?! No wonder she couldn't care less about your life and death and wanted to divorce you. If it was Gu Mengmeng, she would also never allow the mark of her rapist to remain on her own body.

“Don't look at me like that. Even now, I don't feel like I did anything wrong.” Peter lifted his head and continued. “Firstly, the fact that I was able to snatch her from her partner and bring her to a remote location to force myself on her—this proved her partner was too weak and was unable to protect her. She needed a strong partner to protect her. Secondly, I mated with her using my own life as a betting chip. After I mated with her, her life would be equal to mine. She would know that I would never harm her. Even if she was unable to love me, I am willing to watch over her for the rest of my life without anything in return. To hold off all danger for her. Even if I were to perish, I was willing.”

“But obviously... I lost. Even though I handed my life over to her, she remained unwilling to even look at me. She was still afraid of me and resisted me. She was unwilling to believe that I would never hurt her...”

Gu Mengmeng interrupted Peter coldly. “But the fact is that you did hurt her. Jerks will be jerks. No matter how much you pretend to be deeply in love, it does not change the fact you tormented her for over 10 years.”

“I didn't!” Peter denied vehemently.

Not to be outdone, Gu Mengmeng asked, “You didn't? You raped her, didn't you?”

“I just needed a chance to prove to her that I love her!” Peter rumbled.

Gu Mengmeng sneered. “You love her so you forced her to do something she didn't like? Did you ever think that your so-called ‘chance’ would make her feel so helpless, so humiliated, so frightened? You are trying to prove to her that she doesn't need to be afraid of you, via such a hurtful process?

This is a ridiculous point of view."

Chapter 802

Chapter 802: My World Is In Chaos

Peter clenched his fists and growled angrily. “Even so, why didn’t she just kill me?! If she hates me, she can just kill me!”

“She didn’t have a partner who could defeat you, how to kill you?” Gu Mengmeng growled right back at him.

Peter smirked. “If she wanted me to die, just one word from her is enough. I will personally dig open my own chest and pluck out my heart for her. As long as I can bring her a little bit of happiness, just a little would be enough...”

Gu Mengmeng was totally speechless. How did the males in this Beast World get such a weird viewpoint on love? It was as twisted as instant noodles.

“But she never even tried once. She must have truly hated me to use such a method to torment me...” Peter slumped down on the ground as if drained of all energy. The wound on his leg had split open and blood was flowing from it. But he appeared not to have noticed and just continued, “Even though I became a stray beast, I still love her... no matter how many females were snatched over, I never touched any of them. I would feel disgusted if it was not her... so I kept going back to snatch her.”

“I thought that since I am already a stray beast, snatching females is one of the most common acts. So what if our mating contract has dissolved? I just want her to remain by my side. I want to torture her, take my revenge on her. In the end, I remained utterly defeated before her. My world turned to chaos whenever she cried... ha, everyone says that stray beasts are heartless. So why does my heart still hurts so much?!”

Gu Mengmeng frowned. “In that case, why did you still go and kill her partners and make her sad?”

Peter looked up and stared at Gu Mengmeng for a second before laughing out. “Does she still think that those partners were killed by me? After so many years, she still thinks so... she still doesn’t believe that I will never hurt her...”

Gu Mengmeng frowned as she thought to herself: Could it be a misunderstanding?

But she clearly said that every time Peter went out, some marks on her body would disappear. Once or twice could be a coincidence, but every single time?

Peter sighed again. “She is ignoring me now and will never believe anything I say. If I tell you the truth, will you help me persuade her?”

Gu Mengmeng didn’t immediately assent, but just said, “It depends on how truthful you are, and whether you deserve my help.”

Misery flooded Peter’s face. “After I snatched Natalie over, her partners went on a crazed search for me. They eventually found me here and contacted other males whose females had also been snatched, to start a battle. But how could a bunch of fellows with no battle experience defeat stray beasts? Every time they attacked, I didn’t go to kill them... but to save them. However, they refused to listen to me. I also had to conceal my identity so that the other stray beasts would not discover me. I really tried my best. But I couldn’t save everyone each time. As you said, I cannot save someone who wishes to die. Their attack then was no different from a suicide mission... I tried my best. I really tried my best. But in the end, I couldn’t save any of them.”

Peter’s expression was especially grim, as if he still remembered how Natalie had looked at him with accusing eyes.

“She just saw that I came back drenched in blood and that the marks on her body disappeared—and determined that I killed her partners.”

Chapter 803

Chapter 803: I Couldn't Say That I Didn't Need That

“Then why didn't you explain?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

Peter looked like she had just told a joke. “Explain? Ha, the first time she smiled at me and asked me coquettishly not to leave—she was obviously trembling in fear all over but still nestled into my arms. She kept whimpering and saying she was afraid of the dark. She said that she needed me and wanted me to hold her... how to explain? How to push her away and tell her I didn't kill her partners. She didn't need to ingratiate herself to me... even though I knew she was lying to me, I couldn't refuse. I couldn't say that I didn't need that! I just couldn't get rid of my damn greediness!”

Gu Mengmeng felt her heart constrict.

Peter grabbed his own hair as if he wanted to tear off his own head. “More than anyone else, I don't wish for her partners to die. If only they were still alive, Natalie would continue to fawn over me just to protect them. For the sake of that lie, I went all out to ensure her partners continued to live.”

“But what could I do? Those two fools thought I was using them to blackmail Natalie. They threw themselves off a cliff. Smiling as they fell, they cried out that I no longer have any leverage to keep Natalie imprisoned... what would I give to drag them back up and rip open their heads to see if they had any brains?! If they all died... all the more I wouldn't be able to let Natalie go. Apart from me, there is no one left to take care of her. How could I let her go...”

Gu Mengmeng frowned. “But she said you forced her to choose between her unborn child and those two partners.”

Peter shook his head. “When I forced her to choose, those two fools were still alive. Her first and second partners. I thought those two fellows would be so important to her that she would abort her unborn child for them. After all, that child was created by someone she hated—me. I planned it carefully. Abort the child... then release her... because I knew that her partners would never give up in trying to rescue her. If those two died, she would crumble.”

Gu Mengmeng couldn't help glancing at Elvis. She twisted her lips in silence.

She nearly never got the chance to meet her own hubby.

Was the random desire to kill their own sons something passed down his side of the family?

She instinctively held onto Elvis' neck, as if he might disappear any time.

In the face of Gu Mengmeng's sudden unease, Elvis kissed her gently on her little face and said in a comforting tone, “Don't be afraid, I will never leave you.”

“Mmm.” Gu Mengmeng nodded and pressed her cheek against Elvis' own.

Peter observed Gu Mengmeng's and Elvis' interaction with envy. “If only she could rely on me like that, just one time... we would never end up in such a state today.”

Gu Mengmeng remained silent. Their relationship had started off on the wrong foot right from the start. No matter what, forcing a female to mate was something that was completely unforgivable.

Peter continued. “For the sake of her unborn child, Natalie was willing to remain by my side, perhaps... that was the most benevolent and most cruel thing she had ever done to me.”

Gu Mengmeng looked at Peter in confusion, but he just looked at Elvis. “Believe it or not, the fact that you are alive, is something I tried my best to ensure.”

Chapter 804

Chapter 804: There Is A Difference Between Insanity And Perversion

Elvis was calm beyond reason. He was completely unruffled by Peter's words, but just replied coldly, "It doesn't matter whether I believe it, because... I just don't care."

Peter chuckled and nodded. "Absolutely right. I don't care either. Whether it was you or one of your other brothers, it didn't matter which one, as long as just one of you remained alive..."

Just one remained alive?

Gu Mengmeng remembered Natalie saying that she bore six...

No wonder she never heard Elvis mentioned about his own brothers. They had all died?

Peter gazed absently in the direction of his cave. "Stray beasts should never have children. Stray beasts only snatch females back to satisfy their sexual urges. Children? They are a shame. I don't care about passing on my bloodline. For someone who has been abandoned by the Beast Deity, what's there to pass on? However, that child was borne by Natalie for me. If possible... I still hoped he could survive."

"In that case, why did you kill your own children, and purposely use that to incite her?" Gu Mengmeng couldn't understand. Was this the so-called love-hate relationship? "Did you know, when Natalie mentioned those children, how miserable she looked?"

"Miserable...?" Peter suddenly laughed with a measure of comfort. "So, it appears that those children didn't die for nothing."

Gu Mengmeng clenched her fists. As cruel as a tiger might be, it would never devour its own cubs. How could this person be comforted by the death of his own children? What did he mean by they didn't die for nothing?

Somehow, this reminded Gu Mengmeng of something Elvis once told her.

He said that in order to become as powerful as he was now so that he could protect her, it was worth all the hardships he had endured.

She replied that she didn't mind if he was weaker. Her heart ached for the pains he had suffered as a child.

But he said...

If he had been weaker, he probably wouldn't have the chance to stand before her.

At that time, she thought he meant that she only liked powerful males. If he was not powerful enough, she wouldn't like him.

But now, it appeared that she had misunderstood.

He meant that if he had been even slightly weaker... Elvis would have ended up one of the five dead children.

As she thought of how her man had nearly died in Peter's twisted love story, pain shot through Gu Mengmeng's heart. She really wished to give him one tight smack straight to hell.

"After all her partners died, she wanted to use death to leave me. She had already abandoned me once, how could I let her leave me again? Moreover, she was so perfect that she would definitely return to the Beast Deity's embrace after death. While for me... I am destined to be abandoned and bound for hell. Now that I think of it, Natalie still trusted me. She trusted in me just so she could abandon me..."

"She said that these children were the only gift she would ever give me. Since I loved her so much, I would definitely treat our children well. As such, she could die without regrets.”

“I couldn’t let her die without regrets. I couldn’t! I couldn’t allow her to hand those children over to me without any worries and leave me forever. I forbid it!”

Gu Mengmeng felt so suffocated that she didn’t wish to continue listening to his story.

She knew how crazy a male could be over love. Snake had already used his own life to teach her that fact.

However, there was a difference between insanity and perversion.

“No wonder she would rather die than remain by your side...” Gu Mengmeng stared at Peter coldly.

Chapter 805: What Could They Be Hiding?

“I know, so that she would live on... I continuously tortured our children so that she would not trust in me. Only then would she not dare to die. Even if she hates me... even if she hates me... it doesn't matter. It was enough as long as she lived...” Peter was smiling but his face held traces of intense bitterness.

“In that case, why has she decided to seek death now?” Gu Mengmeng had always been a soft-hearted person but she did not hold an ounce of pity for someone like Peter.

As pitiful as a person was now, he must have had done something wrong in the past to end up in this state.

She only wished to preserve Natalie's life now. Although Elvis had no impression of her at all, at least that female was willing to endure unmentionable torment for Elvis. Death was a release, but to protect her own son, she chose to live on and to put up with humiliation and suffering.

Every day was a challenge but she still gritted her teeth and withstood it.

Elvis might not have seen or felt any warmth, but it did not mean her maternal love was not there.

Peter shook his head. “After Elvis escaped, Natalie and I reached an agreement. In exchange for letting Elvis go and not pursuing him, she would remain obediently by my side...”

Gu Mengmeng frowned as an idea suddenly flashed across her mind. She hurriedly asked, “When did Natalie start refusing food?”

“When the monsoon season was about to end,” Peter replied.

When the monsoon season was about to end...

That time...

Gu Mengmeng lowered her eyelids and asked in a low voice. “During that time, did anyone in particular come over?”

Peter was startled. He appeared to have thought of something, but just shook his head without a word.

Gu Mengmeng smirked. “As things are now, what else do you have to hide? It doesn’t matter, don’t tell me if you don’t wish to...”

With that, Gu Mengmeng circled Elvis’ neck and turned her face away, ignoring Peter.

Her heart felt choked. Whether it was Peter or Natalie, both sides of their stories held a common point—they were unwilling to divulge what Elvis had suffered during his childhood.

Peter had just used a simple “torture” to gloss over that detail. He was obviously trying to hide something.

That so-called “torture” that year involved Elvis, Peter and Natalie. They were all on different sides and hated each other, but had all silently agreed to keep the matter to themselves.

What could they be hiding?

Elvis didn’t like Gu Mengmeng being dragged into such unhappy matters. It was obviously all in the past, why bring these things up now?

What has the conflict between Natalie and Peter got to do with him? What right did they have to implicate his female?

Unhappiness and sullen anger was written all over Elvis’ face.

“Lea should be back soon. Let’s go eat something first.” Elvis was unwilling to let Gu Mengmeng and Peter continue sharing the same space.

Because of Peter's presence, there was a constant scent of blood in the air. It made one lose his appetite.

With that, Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng towards the outside of the territory.

Lea had already started a fire out there and were in the advanced stages of cooking. He had wanted to call them over when things were done, but they appeared before the food was ready.

Lea smiled. "Almost done. Just wait a while longer and we can eat."

Gu Mengmeng answered with a single "mmm" and fell back into silence. She just held tightly onto Elvis' neck. Her little head was pressed into his shoulder, unwilling to loosen her grip.

Chapter 806

Chapter 806: Just Say The Word And I Will Do It For You

Gu Mengmeng relied on Elvis, and he knew that all along.

But her current clingy behavior was rather unusual.

For the first time ever, she wanted Lea to feed her during mealtime. Meanwhile, her little hands remained circled around Elvis' neck, unwilling to let go for even a second.

Elvis thought it might be because Peter's story had upset her?

Frowning, he wiped her mouth which was dirty from eating. "You saw the female and listened to their story. Let's go back. The children are waiting for us."

Elvis' heart ached even if Gu Mengmeng suffered the slightest discomfort. He could not forgive Peter for dredging up those unhappy matters from the past to make Gu Mengmeng feel depressed. He must settle this score with him sooner or later. But rather than venting his own frustrations, it was more important to bring Gu Mengmeng out of this gloomy and rundown place. He cannot let her continue to be so affected.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and looked up at Elvis. She pressed her lips into a firm line. Worries filled her eyes but she refused to speak.

Her expression made Elvis feel heartache and frustration. He looked at Lea, signaling with his eyes for him to think of a solution.

But Lea just shrugged. He had a "she's in your arms now and doesn't even want to look at me. What can I do?" face. He took the plates and pots for washing, obviously distancing himself from the issue.

Elvis frowned. He was willing to do anything for Gu Mengmeng. He could do anything as long as it was good for her.

However... he did not know how to handle her emotional state as well as Lea.

She was refusing to talk and he was at a loss.

“Xiao Meng...” Elvis sighed. He stroked her little head. “What are you thinking about? Tell me, please?”

Gu Mengmeng kept lips tightly pursed and refused to speak. She just held onto Elvis’ neck and burrowed her face into the crook of his neck, breathing warm air onto his skin.

Elvis really had no idea how to handle Gu Mengmeng.

He liked her being coquettish and clingy, and wished for her to always stick to him like that, never parting from him even an inch.

But it must be on the condition of her being happy.

Her troubled expression gripped his heart.

He had already mentioned the wolf pups, but she still refused to return to Saint Nazaire...

Who knew what potion that female gave her just now in the cave. Causing her to behave like this in such a short while.

He still preferred her rowdy, trouble-making self.

Gently holding Gu Mengmeng’s head, he said in a voice laced with doting and exasperation, “What can I do to make you happy again? Just say the word and I will do it for you. Alright?”

Gu Mengmeng thought about it before lifting her head. She looked doubtfully at Elvis. “I want to save Natalie. Will you help me?”

“Save her?” Elvis was astonished. Although related by blood, she was just a stranger to Elvis. “Although she is a complete female, she is already very old. Even if we bring her back to our tribe, no one will be willing to be her partner... nevertheless, if you wish to save her, then we will do so. Our tribe is so big, we can afford to feed one female. However, she is very weak now—you cannot cry if she still ends up dying.”

Chapter 807

Chapter 807: Openly Finding A Stepfather For Himself?

Gu Mengmeng was speechless. Why did Elvis sound like he was buying a pet for his wife from the pet shop?

Also, what did he mean by there would not be any male willing to be her partner? Was he openly finding a stepfather for himself?

Elvis, you are truly magnanimous...

“I will go get her from Peter. If he refuses... I will destroy him. It will be considered a service to the public.” Elvis made to put Gu Mengmeng down as he said that. But she continued to hang onto his neck. He dared not force her and could only allow her to remain clinging to his body. He then turned and headed towards Peter. “You will no longer be upset if I let you bring Natalie back?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head.

Elvis paused and looked at Gu Mengmeng with a confused expression.

Gu Mengmeng said in a small voice, “I am not upset over Natalie and Peter. It is because of you...”

A chill shot through Elvis. He was flustered and didn’t know what to do, but just immediately blurted out. “Xiao Meng, I am sorry. I am in the wrong. Don’t be angry. Tell me what did I do that made you so unhappy? I will change. I will change immediately. Alright?”

Gu Mengmeng held Elvis’ face and kissed him on the lips.

Blushing, she finally released him after a long time.

“No need to apologize. You didn’t do anything wrong. My heart just... aches a lot for you.”

Elvis froze on the spot. Warmth flooded his heart.

This was the first time Mengmeng made the first move to kiss him...

Ha, his Xiao Meng made the first move to kiss him.

“I am already the world’s happiest man. Why does your heart still ache for me?” Elvis couldn’t help smiling as his blue eyes filled with joy.

Gu Mengmeng circled Elvis’ neck and held him tight. She murmured in his ear, “Not enough, not enough. I want you to have even more happiness. To make up for everything you endured as a child...”

Elvis smiled at Gu Mengmeng’s words. He propped her by the underarms before him and looked directly into her eyes. “Is that why you are in a bad mood, because of what happened to me during my childhood?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded. Her large eyes were filled with tears.

After inheriting Snake’s memories, she thought her heart had become hard enough, that she had become so jaded that no tragedy could move her anymore.

But she was wrong. Her hardness and jadedness collapsed in the face of people whom she treasured.

She only had to think of the nameless pain that Elvis had suffered before he met her, and her heart would be choked with sadness, nearly suffocating her.

Even scarier was the fact that the entire world was hiding it from her. Not allowing her to know just what did Elvis suffer during that period. This made her imagination run wild until she was nearly driving herself mad with anxiety.

“That’s the reason behind your wish to save Natalie?” Elvis asked.

Gu Mengmeng nodded. “I want her to live, so that she has a chance to make amends for all the childhood joy you missed.”

Elvis pinched Gu Mengmeng’s little face. “Silly girl. What are you thinking? Only you can bring me joy. Your smile is the only thing that can pull me from the depths of hell. Apart from you, no one else can bring me happiness.”

“But...” Gu Mengmeng’s face was full of conflict. She just didn’t want Elvis to have such a regret in life.

Chapter 808

Chapter 808: You Can't Run Away In Our Next Life.

Elvis lowered his head and kissed Gu Mengmeng's collarbone. He said in a raspy, low voice, his gaze as deep as the ocean. "No matter what you want to do, I will support you. But you must promise me that you will not be sad. When you are sad... my heart will crumble into pieces, it's very, very painful."

Gu Mengmeng kissed Elvis' forehead in return. Her gaze was calm and gentle. In a voice as light as a feather across Elvis' heart, she said, "As long as you all are well and happy, nothing will make me sad."

Elvis knew that Gu Mengmeng's "you all" included him, Lea and those four little ones. It even included Sandy, Auretin, Ian, Wabei and all those whom she cared about.

In reality, it was not an easy thing to have everyone be "well and happy". After all, fighting was an integral part of life for males. They were constantly engaged in the battle for life and death. To be able to live to a ripe old age like Snakel—he was the only one the Beast World who was able to do that.

But for Gu Mengmeng' sake, Elvis was willing to shoulder that burden and protect everyone she cared about. As long as she could be well and happy.

Gu Mengmeng leaned against Elvis' chest, her eyes full of a faint heartache.

"Hubby, could you tell me what happened during your childhood? I am nearly driving myself crazy thinking about it..." Gu Mengmeng interrupted herself halfway. "But if talking about it will bring back the pain, it doesn't matter if you don't tell me, I... don't really want to know that much, anyway."

Elvis rubbed Gu Mengmeng head with a smile. “Silly girl, didn’t I tell you before? Although the past was not that great, it made me the powerful person I am today, making it possible for me to meet you. So, if that was the price I had to pay to meet you, I feel it was too little, actually... it could have been even more painful.”

Gu Mengmeng was amused by Elvis’ bizarre logic. Her doe-eyes shone with a sweet glow. “No wonder our sons said you and Lea are weirdos. Who will ever wish for more pain?”

Elvis pinched Gu Mengmeng’s little chin and kissed her alluring lips. “As long as I can meet you, I am willing to pay any price.”

“I guess I must have saved the Milky Way in my previous life, to be able to meet such great guys like you and Lea.”

Elvis didn’t know what was the Milky Way, but...

“If saving the Milky Way will enable me to meet you, then Lea and I will go save him in this lifetime. So that you can’t run away in our next life.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled and nodded. “Yeah, I won’t run. I will obediently wait right here for you two.”

Elvis’ heart softened at finally seeing a smile from Gu Mengmeng. “I will bring you to see my “childhood”. Otherwise your imagination will run wild.”

“Really?” Gu Mengmeng’s eyes brightened.

Elvis nodded.

Gu Mengmeng happily pecked Elvis’ on the face. The knot in her heart gradually relaxed.

She knew that Elvis’ past was not pleasant. But that was precisely why she wanted to understand it and be involved in it.

No matter what terrifying scars he bore from the past, she wished to use warmth and love to erase those wounds.

Elvis' called out to Lea and then carried Gu Mengmeng into the depths of the stray beast territory. They encountered fights between stray beasts on the way, but Elvis ignored them and walked right past. No matter how savage and bloody the fight was, he maintained a jaded expression, without even the tiniest flicker of his eyelids.

Chapter 809

Chapter 809: Elvis' Childhood

After walking for a long time, Elvis stopped at an empty piece of land, his calm eyes betraying no emotion at all. He pointed at three huge pits in front of them. "Peter took me away after I was a month old, and the first place I stayed in was here."

Gu Mengmeng followed Elvis' gaze towards the three huge pits before them. She looked confused.

Each pit was about two meters in diameter. Looking in, they were about 1.7 meters deep and totally empty.

Elvis sat down in a kneeling position beside the pits and then placed Gu Mengmeng on his lap. He pointed at one of the pits. "Six brothers, two to a pit. At first, we were fed with leftover scraps of meat and organs. Although not good in quality, it satisfies our hunger. But... as we grew bigger, not only did the amount of food not increase, it somehow decreased. Until three months later... no one threw in any food for us anymore."

"At first, we didn't know what had happened. We even tried our best to jump upwards, hoping that someone would see us and throw down some food... but nothing. Apart from the hot sun, the howling winds and pouring rains, nothing else happened."

"Thereafter, we started hearing blood-curdling cries from our brothers in the neighboring pits... meanwhile, the brother who was imprisoned in the same pit at me—we started to eye each other as food."

"In the end, two brothers who used to huddle together for warmth started flashing their fangs and claws at each other. I won, and he became my food while I turned into a monster."

Gu Mengmeng's heart constricted violently. Her hands started trembling uncontrollably.

What kind of pervert was Peter? How could he dream up of such a twisted method to torment his own sons?!

Ha, and he still had the cheek to claim that Elvis had managed to stay alive solely because Peter had tried his best to ensure that!

Bullshit!

Which father would want to see his own sons kill each other and treat each other as food?!

Disgusting pervert! Disgusting pervert!

Elvis gently held Gu Mengmeng's quivering little hands. He kissed them. "Silly girl, I am telling you this not to make you scared."

Gu Mengmeng remained silent and just gazed at Elvis with heartache in her eyes.

But Elvis just smiled warmly. "Although this makes your heart ache for me, I feel very blessed knowing it. But don't ache too much or I cannot bear it."

Gu Mengmeng took the initiative to move closer and kissed Elvis on the lips. She used a wordless gentleness to assuage Elvis' old hurts.

Or perhaps, the person who needed comforting was her?

Elvis enjoyed Gu Mengmeng kissing him on her own accord. It brought so much joy to his heart, such that he no longer felt anything for those painful past memories.

Those terrible grievances had turned to ashes from her gentleness—still there, but no longer posing any obstacles.

Gu Mengmeng wrapped her arms around Elvis' waist and pressed her little face into his chest. She stared vacantly at that huge pit. Her mind was full of the image of a young, helpless Elvis. In a low, soft voice, she asked, “What happened after that?”

“You still want to hear?” Elvis thought that for such a depressing story, just sharing a little would be enough. But it was like Gu Mengmeng had pushed open some mysterious door, unwilling to give up until she had explored all the secrets held within.

Chapter 810

Chapter 810: Such A Disgusting And Meaningless Life, No Harm In Letting Him Have It.

Gu Mengmeng looked up expectantly.

Not know what else to do with her, Elvis swiped her little nose. “You can listen to my story but you cannot become too sad. All that suffering contributed to me being able to meet you. If you pity me... I will become very pathetic.”

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips and nodded.

Elvis continued. “When only one wolf was left in each of the three pits, some people came over again. However, they did not come to feed us but to fill up the pits. They repeatedly threw rocks in, which bashed into us as we were completely defenseless. The amount of space left to maneuver about in the pit became smaller and smaller, while they also stacked rocks at the side to make the pit opening higher and higher. The narrowing space had us all in a panic—we dug deep grooves into the sides of the walls with our bare claws... until one day, the huge rocks stacked by the side of the pit opening suddenly collapsed inwards. We were forced to a corner to avoid the falling rocks. Making a split-second judgment, we quickly clambered up the piled up rocks and escaped the pit.”

“Of the three pits, only two wolves escaped with their lives. The last one... was completely smashed and buried under the pile of rocks.”

“And things have yet to come to an end... it was just the beginning.” Elvis’ gaze gradually drifted and he pointed at the wide space outside the three pits. “The other wolf and I viewed each other as enemies. In our eyes, we were just food for each other. By then, any brotherly love... had long been eradicated.”

“He had suffered more serious injuries than me from the rocks. Hence, I became the final survivor.”

“In the years before I met you, I had repeatedly pondered... I should never have resisted, I should have just let him eat me? Such a disgusting and meaningless life, no harm in letting him have it. But now... I feel really lucky for my crazed desire to survive then. Thankfully I survived, no matter how terrible the process was, as long as it was for you... it was worth it.”

Gu Mengmeng’s hands were trembling, as she pursed her lips in silence.

Elvis hooked Gu Mengmeng’s chin, his gaze as deep and profound as the great blue ocean. “You promised not to pity me.”

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head and smiled. With the gentlest voice, she said, “I am just very touched. To meet me... you did something so brave.”

“Brave? Ha, you are always able to think of some nice way to describe ugliness. But I like it. ” Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng on the lips. It was a mild, sweet kiss, without any lust but full of love and tenderness.

Gu Mengmeng indicated that Elvis should continue his story, at which he felt rather exasperated. He really didn’t think that such matters from the past were worth talking about. It was not as if they were any brave deeds.

But he must admit that regardless of how meaningless those memories were to him, he felt an unprecedented sense of lightness in his heart after sharing them with her.

It was as if the garbage from those memories were being gradually cleaned out with every word. His whole heart started to glow.

Smiling, Elvis tried his best to talk about his brutal past in a light tone.

“Having become murderous and bloodthirsty, I was thrown into an underground wolf cave. At that time, I was about the same age as Jialue and the rest now. Hunger, pain and fear—they were all I had then.”

Chapter 811

Chapter 811: Fight Or Die, I Had No Other Way Out.

“Fight or die, I had no other way out.” Elvis rested his chin gently on the top of Gu Mengmeng’s head. He bypassed details of the countless battles, brutal attacks, bloodshed and lucky escapes, to offer this conclusion. “The wolves in that underground cave all turned into my food in the end. When I emerged from the cave, I had just turned one year of age, and had just morphed into a first-level beast.”

Gu Mengmeng could almost imagine what Elvis must have looked like when he crawled out of that underground wolf cave. He must have looked like a malevolent spirit newly emerged from hell, crushing all hopes and doling out destruction with a vengeance. Descending upon every one of his enemies.

“Thank you for surviving.” Gu Mengmeng pressed her cheeks against Elvis’ chest to listen to his heartbeat. She held no fear, only gratefulness. Grateful that he wasn’t beaten down by that terrible tribulation and survived to meet her.

If she had missed him, how regretful her life would be?

“Silly girl, why are you saying thank you?” Elvis lifted her face and kissed her on the brow. His eyes held a certain sincerity, as if he was not looking at his own female, but at life’s only beacon of light. “You were the one who led me out of that darkness and horror. If I hadn’t met you, I would probably still be killing for fun, and taking my own life for granted, just waiting for death. It was you who pulled me out from the depths of despair. Why are you thanking me instead?”

Gu Mengmeng felt a strong tug at her heartstrings. She didn’t protest but just smiled. “We were both aimlessly going on about life, vulnerable and lonely, when we were lucky enough to meet each other. We lit the fire of hope in each other's eyes, which cast a warm glow upon our shared lives. We are a family, a family who must always stay together, so... we don't need to thank each, right?"

Elvis' heart melted at Gu Mengmeng's words. He kissed her sweetly.

"Hubby." Gu Mengmeng hesitated, but still continued. "I feel that I can never forgive Peter..."

"Mmm, then I will kill him." Elvis replied calmly and firmly, without any hesitation. It was as if Gu Mengmeng had just asked him to pick a wildflower for her, and he replied "okay".

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. "I don't mean that."

"Huh?" Elvis glanced at Gu Mengmeng out of the corner of his eye, his gaze still warm.

Gu Mengmeng explained. "Although Natalie and Peter are your parents, I am not going to stand on my high horse and ask you to forgive them. Even for me, having heard the atrocities of your childhood, I just want to tear Peter apart. Not to mention you were the one who endured that experience. Only those who felt the knife carving into their own flesh would understand the pain. So, regardless of what you decide, I will support you without any qualms. Because only you have the right to decide whether to forgive."

"But I just want to tell you what I know. To let you make a decision based on all the facts, so that you will not have any regrets. Okay?"

Elvis remained silent, as forgiveness really meant nothing to him. However, looking at Gu Mengmeng's expression, he couldn't bear to disappoint her and just nodded. He quietly listened as Gu Mengmeng repeated all the things that Natalie had told her in that cave.

Chapter 812

Chapter 812: Actually I Really Don't Need That

After hearing Gu Mengmeng's narration, Elvis' face remained unmarked by emotion, even his inner heart was a sea of calm.

His desire for kinship had long been eradicated in those pits.

Now that he suddenly had a mother who had lived on in shame and suffering for his sake, the only reaction he had was: Actually I really don't need that.

Slowly exhaling, Elvis took over the cup of water brought over by Lea and fed some water to Gu Mengmeng. Seeing her lips moistened, his brows relaxed and he chuckled.

"Xiao Meng, so what do you hope for me to do?" Elvis asked in a soft voice.

Gu Mengmeng was momentarily taken aback. She shook her head and gently pressed a fingertip at a spot on Elvis chest, directly over his heart. She said, "I hope that you will follow your heart. Do whatever your heart tells you to do."

Elvis covered Gu Mengmeng's little hand and held it tight to his chest. Her soft palm pressed against his left ribs.

He stated in a low, raspy voice, every word dropping straight down upon Gu Mengmeng's heart. "At this spot, there is only you. There is nothing else."

Gu Mengmeng blushed. She gazed directly into Elvis' eyes, as if she was being sucked in.

“Honestly, I really don’t care what happens to them. I think they don’t need my forgiveness either. But, if I can make you feel better by forgiving them, then I will do so.”

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head. She had no idea what she was feeling.

Subconsciously, she still hoped that Elvis could forgive his own parents. Because only then would he be able to achieve absolution from that nightmare. But if he was only forgiving them because of her... there would be no meaning to it?

Sighing, Gu Mengmeng raised her head. “Let’s not talk about forgiveness for the moment. The important thing now is how to save Natalie.”

“Alright, we will think of a solution to save her.” Elvis always gave in to Gu Mengmeng. Whatever she wanted to do, no matter how difficult, he would accompany her.

Gu Mengmeng didn’t say another word but just quietly leaned against Elvis’ chest, refusing to budge.

Elvis gladly accepted her reliance. But to save Natalie, they had to stay here for the time being.

Exchanging a quiet look with Lea, they silently agreed to get up and head back.

Elvis was a former member of this stray beast tribe, and this was their original base. In the years since, the stray beasts had not moved and no proper tribe had dared to come and challenge this territory. As a result, the original caves were still more or less preserved.

However, the cave which Elvis used to stay in had changed owners several times. Currently, there was only a second-level leopard living there. Although it looked vicious and savage, it was also very sensible. Seeing that the incoming folks were way beyond its own capabilities, it fled with its tail between its legs.

Elvis and Lea dug at the cave to make it deeper and more spacious. After all, they had to stay here for the time being, and they couldn't let Gu Mengmeng suffer.

Gu Mengmeng sat at the entrance of the cave and watched as her two men toiled. Her heart grew warm at the sight.

They had endured so many cruel hardships but grew into such kind and gentle men. This in itself was something that was worth celebrating.

"It's all stray beasts here. Don't go through into heat as and when you like. If your slutty fox mates here with you... tsk, don't go looking for trouble," Ian said as he sat down beside Gu Mengmeng.

Chapter 813

Chapter 813: My Hands Are Tied If You Don't Tell Me The Truth

Gu Mengmeng blushed as she glared at Ian. “You are the one in heat. Your whole family is in heat!”

Ian snorted. “I am the only one left in my whole family.”

Gu Mengmeng was choked speechless. She bit down on her lips and wrinkled her nose into a threatening expression.

Ian rolled his eyes in disdain. He leaned to the side in a sickly manner. “You know very well that your fox will emit a thick Fox Seductive Fragrance during mating. The last time you guys mated, the entire Saint Nazaire became “excited” for three days. If you all get “intimate” here, Wabei and I will have to slaughter the entire gang of stray beasts in order to protect you. During my reconnaissance, I estimated that there are about a few hundred of them. Even if killing them will be as easy as chopping carrots, it will still be very tiring. You better behave yourselves. Please maintain some level of dignity during your displays of affection, alright?”

Gu Mengmeng’s face had turned a fiery red from Ian’s words. She dissed him back. “I told you I am not in heat!”

Ian just snorted derisively. “Just look at the expressions of your two males. Their eyes are nearly popping out. Further, you are drooling so much that a puddle has formed in front of you. See that? And you claim you are not in heat?”

Gu Mengmeng instinctively touched her chin. But there was no saliva at all?!

“You have such a despicable mouth. Be careful that no female will ever want you!”

Ian shrugged nonchalantly. “Anyway, there are already people within the Eagle-owl Tribe who have mated. As long as we can proliferate and not become extinct, I have done my duty to my ancestors.”

Gu Mengmeng grimaced at Ian. “If your ancestors knew what an underachiever you are, they will probably crawl out of their graves and beat you to death.”

Ian didn’t deny it but just replied, “Anyway, control yourself.”

“I got it. You are such a nag.” Gu Mengmeng turned away and ignored Ian.

Elvis and Lea were both strong—digging a cave was as easy as slicing tofu for them. Anyway, they were not going to stay here permanently, so the cave did not have to be big. They just didn’t wish for Gu Mengmeng to suffer, and so paid more attention to the details.

Within an afternoon’s time, the cave already looked as good as new. The interior no longer looked or smelled like anyone else had lived inside. Only then did Elvis carry Gu Mengmeng in.

The sky had already darkened and Gu Mengmeng was very tired. She only managed a few bites of roasted meat before falling into a deep sleep in Elvis’ arms.

The next morning, Peter anxiously dashed towards their lodgings.

Wabei was outside and blocked his entry. Even at his prime with no injuries, Peter was no match for Wabei. Moreover, he had come forth to beg for help, and naturally did not dare to force his way in.

He waited anxiously till Gu Mengmeng had awoken and was strolling lazily out of the cave, before finally shouting. “Great Messenger, please save Natalie.”

Gu Mengmeng was momentarily startled. She walked towards Peter and saw that the panic in his eyes was real. It appeared that Natalie's situation was truly dire.

Gu Mengmeng lowered her eyes. "My hands are tied if you don't tell me the truth."

Peter clenched his jaws and stomped his feet, as if setting down a firm resolution. "I will tell you. I will tell you everything."

Gu Mengmeng didn't reply but just quietly looked at Peter.

Peter took a deep breath. "When the monsoon season ended, the exiled Snow fox Cole came over here."

Chapter 814

Chapter 814: I Don't Care

Gu Mengmeng didn't look surprised at all. On the other hand, both Elvis and Lea looked rather shocked.

"You already guessed that?" Knowing that Peter was outside, how could Elvis allow Gu Mengmeng to come out alone to meet him? That was why less than two seconds after Gu Mengmeng had just stepped out, Elvis was already right behind her. Seeing her expression, he knew that she had already expected that answer. Otherwise, she wouldn't have said things like "My hands are tied if you don't tell me the truth" to Peter.

He knew that this girl had long ago made up her stubborn mind to save Natalie.

So even if Peter didn't say anything, Gu Mengmeng would never really stand by and do nothing.

Gu Mengmeng nodded. Without denying anything, she said, "The ending of the monsoon season, stray beasts and Natalie's hunger strike. When you think of these things in relation to one another, it's not difficult to guess."

Lea rested one lazy arm on Elvis' face, as if he hadn't fully woken up. His slanted eyes still held the vestiges of sleep as he said with a raspy voice into Gu Mengmeng's ear, "Yeah, let me think... you mean that the stray beast attack on our way back from Sauder to Saint Nazaire—Cole had instigated the stray beasts from here?"

It sounded like a query but Lea was stating it as a matter-of-fact.

Without waiting for Gu Mengmeng's answer, Lea hooked her face and kissed her brow. He said in a low, hoarse voice, carrying with it traces of delight and much affection, “It looks to me that you are the real little fox. You managed to surmise all that from so little clues.”

Lea and Gu Mengmeng’s interaction was as fluid and quick as a Taiji match. But Elvis and Peter were no fools. There was no way they could have been leaders of their tribes for so many years if they weren’t smart enough to follow their line of thought.

Peter frowned deeply. His eyes were full of a sharp malevolence. “Do you mean that it was Cole who made Natalie like this?!”

Gu Mengmeng sighed. “Yes, and no.”

Peter glared angrily at Gu Mengmeng. He was unhappy with her tone.

Elvis stepped forward to cut off his glare. With a thick, murderous aura, he warned. “You better control the look on your face. Otherwise, your female will be the one to suffer.”

At the mention of Natalie, Peter instantly deflated as if someone had gotten hold of his weak spot. He could have answered back sarcastically and thrown the same words back at his opponent.

Threatening someone was a natural ability possessed by stray beasts.

The opponent was a female whom he could clearly crush with one hand, but also a female whom he desperately needed help from.

Averting his gaze, Peter said in a cold voice. “That’s your mother.”

Elvis chuckled. “I don’t care.”

“You...!” Peter was enraged. Not for himself but because his heart ached for Natalie who had quietly suffered so much for Elvis, while Elvis didn’t appear grateful at all.

Elvis raised his head and looked scornfully at Peter. “It is unwise to wantonly challenge someone you can’t afford to offend. Peter, have you really gone stupid with age?”

Peter clenched his fists, but didn't continue going against Elvis. He just gave a long exhale before speaking. "Great Messenger, please tell me how did Natalie become like that. Is it because of Cole?"

Gu Mengmeng hung onto Elvis' arm as she allowed him to draw her into his embrace. After gazing steadily at Peter for a long while, she finally spoke. "Cole is one of the reasons, but at the root of it, you are the true crux of the matter."

Chapter 815

Chapter 815: Knowledge Through Experience

Without giving Peter any chance to object, Gu Mengmeng continued. “If I guessed correctly, when Cole brought the surviving stray beasts home, he also brought a piece of news back to Natalie. That Elvis is already a fifth-level beast with a powerful companion—the Messenger of the Beast Deity who had also inherited all the powers of that Snake King valley’s Beast King. One just had to look at all those who were heavily injured by the tremendous beast pressure for proof of that. Ha, Cole is really resourceful and devious. He must squeeze every bit of opportunity and advantage dry.”

Peter was not as intelligent as Lea and was not like Gu Mengmeng—a traveler from another dimension who had the knowledge from the experience of watching so many television series. But as long as it concerned Natalie, there was nothing he could not understand.

After all, he had spent his entire life studying that one person.

Natalie had not fussed all those years, quiet like a soulless doll. She clearly did not care for anything in the world, but persevered in living on. All so she could watch over Peter and ensure that he kept his promise to her, not to go and harm her one remaining son.

But then Cole had told her that her son was now powerful beyond belief, and that he had the almighty Gu Mengmeng as his partner. Peter no longer had the ability to be of any threat to him. Peter would never be able to hurt Elvis any more...

It was as good as telling Natalie that you can go and die now. There was no longer any reason for you to live on in such sufferance.

Peter clenched his fists as his face twisted heinously. If Cole was standing right before him, even though they were both fifth-level beasts, he would have fought him to the death.

No wonder Natalie, who had never expressed interest in anything, had suddenly said she wanted to go out for a walk that day. He had still foolishly thought that Cole really managed to convince her to start accepting him, to open her heart.

When in reality, she was just going out to confirm if Cole's words were true.

When in reality, she was just... abandoning him once again.

The only difference was that she was being even more cruel than the previous time. She was planning to end her own life in order to abandon him.

Even so, he still could not bear it...

"You have a way to save her, right?" Peter asked Gu Mengmeng.

He was asking her even though he was already sure of her answer.

Since Gu Mengmeng had already guessed it all, then there was only one reason why she had forced him to reveal that it was Cole: She could save Natalie, but he needed to pay the price. Telling them about Cole was just forcing him to show his sincerity.

"As long as you can save Natalie, I will agree to any condition, any price."

"Including allowing her to leave you?" Gu Mengmeng asked casually.

Peter gripped his fists so tightly that his bones were nearly crushed to bits. Gritting his teeth, his eyes were shot through with red, as if pierced by sharp knives. He forced out his words through tightly clenched jaws. "If that is the only way for her to get better, I am willing to let her go."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled but shook her head. "I hate you, but torturing someone is not my cup of tea. I will save Natalie and let you two stay together. But you must be clear on one point, I am doing this only because in the whole world, there is no one else who holds her in higher regard than you. However... you must be prepared that she would probably hate you all over again.”

Chapter 816

Chapter 816: I Plan to Throw A Pot Of Dirty Water All Over You

Peter slowly relaxed his tightly clenched fists. He smiled bitterly. “She has already hated me for so many years. There are so many reasons for her to hate me, just one more wouldn’t do much harm.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded. “Yeah, it’s good that you understand that.”

Peter hesitated a while before saying, “What do you intend to do? Will she... be in any danger? How upset will she be this time?”

Gu Mengmeng touched her finger lightly to her own chin, as if pondering how to reply to Peter.

After thinking for awhile, she suddenly smiled. “She should not be too upset. At the very most, she will feel so angry that she would want to bash you to death.”

Peter was taken aback, before laughing out loud.

“If I am the only one getting injured, you can go ahead and do whatever you like without any worries. As long as it is effective, it doesn’t matter how many injuries I receive.”

Gu Mengmeng believed in Peter’s words.

No one knew better than her just how blindly devoted the males of the Beast World could be in the name of love, right?

Gu Mengmeng said, “Just a heads up, I plan to throw a pot of dirty water all over you.”

Peter nodded and stood up straight. “Let’s do it.”

Gu Mengmeng's face froze as she stared rather awkwardly at Peter, who was waiting earnestly for the "dirty water". She sighed inwardly:
Communication gap.

Taking a breath, Gu Mengmeng adjusted her expression before saying, "Elvis and I have four sons. One of them was poisoned by Cole and was in a long-term coma. He just woke up recently, but is still under the control of the poison. Without Cole's antidote, he is unable to return to my side. So... this matter, I plan to blame it on you."

Peter looked blank. Regarding matters that had nothing to do with Natalie he was not too quick on the uptake.

Elvis' son was under Cole's control because of a poison. What did that have to do with Natalie?

Seeing that he didn't understand, Gu Mengmeng knew that this guy had a really low emotional intelligence. How could he fail to see such a simple connection?

Sighing, Gu Mengmeng held a "let's not get serious with fools" attitude. "You just need to remember that you are involved in this matter. When Natalie comes looking for you, you must stay in character and maintain your role. That's all you need to do, got it?"

Peter nodded in confusion. As long as Natalie could live on, he was willing to do anything.

But...

Didn't she say she was going to throw dirty water at him? Had she changed her mind?

Sigh, although Elvis was his son and looked exceptional from all angles—his only flaw was his taste in females. Of all the females out there, why did he choose this weird one? Elvis definitely didn't get that from him. He probably got that trait from Natalie. After all, Natalie's only flaw was her poor taste in partners. Otherwise, why had she chosen a bunch of useless fools over him?

Gu Mengmeng didn't care about what Peter was thinking. She just followed Elvis and Lea back to their cave and had a simple breakfast. She then had Elvis carry her to Natalie's cave.

Elvis had already promised to support Gu Mengmeng's attempt to save Natalie, and naturally did not object.

So no matter what she asked, he cooperated.

When the two of them entered the cave, Natalie was still lying there in the same quiet manner as yesterday. She looked as if she had not moved an inch.

Hearing Gu Mengmeng's voice, Natalie's lashes fluttered slightly, but she didn't open her eyes.

Towards this son, she was both a familiar person and a stranger. Full of heartache and guilt.

Chapter 817

Chapter 817: Sea Of Jealousy

Even in her dreams, she wished to know of how her son was doing. Had he grown taller? Did he have enough to eat? Was he being bullied?

But now that he had really appeared, she didn't have the courage to even glance at him.

How could she tell him that everything he had suffered originated from her...

Gu Mengmeng turned around. She gently tugged Elvis' hand and placed it on Natalie's own.

Elvis was very resistant. It was not that he was unable to forgive Natalie, but that he didn't like the touch of any female other than Gu Mengmeng.

Especially when it was Gu Mengmeng herself who had placed his own hand on that female. This made Elvis feel exceptionally displeased.

Frowning tightly, sparks were nearly shooting out of his pupils.

When Lea was embraced by Nina, Gu Mengmeng was so mad that she wanted to chop people up.

But Elvis' hand... could be touched by just anyone?

Lea's constant "Mengmeng doesn't like anyone else to touch me" attitude now caused a piercing pain to Elvis' heart.

He thought she was exceptionally obsessive compulsive over her own males, so he and Lea held the same stringent standards for themselves. Apart from battles, he did not allow anyone else to touch him.

It appeared that he was thinking too much...

Xiao Meng was only concerned about Lea.

Elvis' heart was a sea of jealousy. But Gu Mengmeng remained ignorant.

But we really couldn't blame her. That female lying there was Elvis' own mother!

"Natalie, actually... I have a favor to ask of you." Gu Mengmeng's tone was soft. She sounded rather embarrassed and reluctant. To hear the word "please" from the great Messenger of the Beast Deity was no small matter. That was why Natalie's heart gave a violent jump at Gu Mengmeng's words. Although she didn't open her eyes, her brows knitted tightly together, indicating that she was listening very seriously.

"Actually, we came this time to seek Peter." Gu Mengmeng could feel that Natalie's hand instantly turned cool and trembled at the mention of that name.

Although Gu Mengmeng felt quite guilty at that, what else could she do?

"Chixuan... he is one of our children, was poisoned by a stray beast, and is now being taken hostage. We don't know where he is and whether he is still alive."

Gu Mengmeng hadn't even finished explaining when Natalie slowly opened her eyes. The moment the eyelids parted, tears trickled down her face. When that gaze landed on Elvis' face, it was full of guilt and despair.

In a hoarse, nasal voice, as weak as gossamer, she said, "Get Peter here. I want to see him."

Gu Mengmeng knew that she didn't have to say anything else.

Natalie had already conjured up a scenario of grandfather kidnapping his grandson and subjecting him to endless torture. There was no way Gu Mengmeng would be able to think up of a scenario even worse than what Natalie was imagining now.

Nodding, Gu Mengmeng led Elvis out of Natalie's cave.

Meanwhile, Elvis instantly strolled off the moment he extricated his hand.

This was the first time in history that he had left Gu Mengmeng behind him and departed without even turning his head.

Gu Mengmeng thought it was because Elvis was unable to forgive Natalie, and so felt very uncomfortable at being forced to come... she had no idea that he was actually stewing in jealousy.

Peter was waiting right at the entrance of the cave as Gu Mengmeng approached. His face was laced with panic, at complete odds with his usual demeanor.

Chapter 818 - I Will Cry If You Dare To Shrug Me Off.

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

How to explain it. In Gu Mengmeng's eyes, Peter was a vicious and ruthless character. He did not care about right or wrong, life or death. He paid no heed to anyone else, not even himself.

Apart from Natalie, he cared about nothing else.

But such a person was now behaving as frantically as an adolescent boy experiencing love for the first time. He was flustered and ill-at-ease, as if he was holding a love letter and about to present it to his intended.

Just how deep was that love, which could drive a person who was able to torture his own sons without batting an eyelid—into exhibiting such an emotional state?

Gu Mengmeng couldn't hold back her amusement. It appeared like that fragile female in that cave was even more formidable than this ruthless male before her.

Gu Mengmeng and Peter totally ignored each other as they brushed by.

Lea immediately embraced Gu Mengmeng the moment she exited the cave. He used his chin to gesture towards Elvis, who was standing some distance away with his back towards them. "What did you do to him? Why does he look so unhappy?"

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head and looked at Elvis' back profile. She felt an inexplicable sense of pressure.

They had already discussed the Natalie situation earlier, but he didn't react so dramatically then? Could it be that he was suddenly overcome by the sight of his mother?

“Let me go take a look.” Gu Mengmeng extracted herself from Lea’s arms and walked to Elvis’ side.

Elvis knew Gu Mengmeng had come over, but he refused to turn around and look at her. Every single cell in his body had involuntarily focused on her every move. He was aware of the very moment she had stepped out of the cave.

“Elvis.” Gu Mengmeng gently tugged at Elvis’ arm.

Elvis turned away. His rejection was obvious.

Gu Mengmeng was dumbfounded. He didn’t look like he was upset over the matter regarding Natalie. Instead, he looked like he was angry at her?

But...

Why?

Despite not knowing what she had done wrong, Gu Mengmeng felt very sheepish.

Because Elvis had never been angry at her before. No matter how unreasonable she had been, he had always accommodated her.

Today... what happened?

Gu Mengmeng was at a loss. She jiggled Elvis’ arm and infused sweetness into her voice. “Hubby...”

Elvis remained unmoved. With his face still turned away, he even started to draw back his arm from Gu Mengmeng’s hand.

He was really angry?

Gu Mengmeng finally experienced how helpless Elvis must have felt every time she was angry, when he would say with all sincerity: Xiao Meng, I was wrong. Although I don't know what I did, but I must have done something bad to make you so angry. Tell me, tell me where did I go wrong. I will definitely change.

Ha, it was probably more or less like what she was feeling now.

Twisting her lips, Gu Mengmeng looked up at the back of Elvis' head. She inhaled. "I will cry if you dare to shrug me off."

Elvis suddenly turned around and met Gu Mengmeng's misty eyes. An indescribable panic rose in his clear, blue eyes.

If there was anything in this world that could easily sway Elvis, it would be the name "Gu Mengmeng".

No matter how angry he was, he still couldn't bear to see her cry.

He reached out one hand, intending to stroke her little face, but halted stiffly in mid-air...

That hand had been touched by another female and was too dirty.

He suddenly drew back that hand and switched to another to hold Gu Mengmeng's face. He sighed with a deep sense of melancholy. "Don't cry, I won't shrug you off."

Chapter 819 - It Is My Own Fault That I Can't Make You Like Me, I Don't Blame You.

“Are you still angry then?” Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips with a “I will cry if you don't tell me what I want to hear” look.

Faced with Gu Mengmeng, Elvis would always be the one to surrender first.

Sighing in exasperation, Elvis forced a smile. But the corners of his lips betrayed a bitterness as he said in a low voice, “I am not angry.”

Gu Mengmeng felt a tug at her heartstrings. Elvis had clearly said he wasn't angry, but why did she feel that she preferred him to just throw a tantrum and berate her?

Only then did Gu Mengmeng realize she might have been spoiled by Elvis and Lea, so much so that she now had the tendency to hanker after punishment?

Letting go of Elvis' arm, Gu Mengmeng threw herself into his embrace and wound her arms tightly around his waist. She burrowed her chin into the spot over his heart and looked up at him with teary eyes. Her long lashes fluttered piteously. Without even the need to say a single word, Elvis had already shed his hard shell and surrendered completely to her.

Using his clean hand to stroke Gu Mengmeng's little head, he hesitated before finally kissing her brow. “It is my own fault that I can't make you like me. I don't blame you.”

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback. She asked in a muffled tone, “Who said I don't like you? You are my hubby. How can I not like you? Did you forget?”

I told you before that I love you.”

Elvis chuckled. “You are still willing to lie to me, at least this proves you still care about me, right?”

“I am not lying.” Gu Mengmeng was rather anxious. Why was he suddenly saying that she didn’t love him?

Elvis just smiled, his eyes as deep as the abyss.

Gu Mengmeng went on tiptoe, barely reaching Elvis’ chin. She kissed it and said intimately, “Hubby, what happened? You are making me anxious with your behavior. I feel as if you are going to abandon me...”

Elvis tucked that hand which was touched by Natalie behind him, and used the other hand to circle Gu Mengmeng’s waist, afraid that she would make a false move in her current panic. His action was completely subconscious and he didn’t even realize he had done so. As despondent and upset as he was, he still held the instinctive urge to protect her.

Elvis usually drew her into his arms the moment he saw her. Still keeping one hand behind his back even though she had thrown herself into his embrace—this was something that had never happened before.

Gu Mengmeng pouted and stepped back. She glared at Elvis with red-rimmed eyes. “If you are upset because of your childhood memories, I can coax you and keep you company. I can do all of that. But if you really wish to abandon me... me... me...”

“Silly girl, why would I abandon you?” Elvis’ heart ached as he saw that she was really going to cry.

“Then why are you not hugging me?” Gu Mengmeng asked stubbornly.

Elvis drew out the hand behind his back. With a mild expression, he said, “Dirty.”

Gu Mengmeng was dumbstruck. She stared at Elvis’ long and well-defined hand, before looking up in confusion. “It’s clearly clean, how is it dirty?”

“It was touched by someone else, how could it not be dirty?” Elvis looked directly at Gu Mengmeng, his eyes held traces of hurt and disappointment.

“Or do you only care if Lea is clean? While for me... it doesn’t matter?”

The clear, blue eyes held a desperate wish, as if saying “Please, lie to me once more. Deny it, quickly deny it!”

Chapter 820 - I Knew You Can't Bear To Let Me Fall

Gu Mengmeng stared dumbly at Elvis' hand. She then gazed into his eyes, before looking again at his hand. She kept going back and forth like this a few times...

After hesitating for a moment, she probed. "So, you are throwing a tantrum because I let Natalie touch you just now?"

Elvis was unwilling to admit it. He just gazed into the distance.

Gu Mengmeng burst out laughing. The tears in her eyes evaporated and she hugged Elvis' waist securely. "Ha, so you are jealous... why are you so silly? Natalie is your mother and her love for you is pure. How could I say that her touch will taint you?"

Elvis frowned. He was clearly not buying into Gu Mengmeng's explanation.

Now that Gu Mengmeng knew what the crux of the issue was, she was no longer aggrieved. She clambered onto Elvis' body. He didn't reach out to hold her, but didn't shy away. He even instinctively held one hand beneath her, for fear of her falling off.

Gu Mengmeng was like a monkey clinging onto Elvis' body. She kissed him on the side of his lips. "How can you have the conscience to claim that I don't care about you? Have you forgotten how mad I was when Ellie hooked your hide dress?"

Elvis's heart thumped. He recalled his first meeting with Ellie, when her flirtatious and ambiguous words caused a misunderstanding between Gu Mengmeng and him. In the end, Gu Mengmeng slapped Ellie right in the face...

His lips curled upwards. Who said his Xiao Meng never got jealous over him before?

She also didn't like others to touch him.

Gu Mengmeng said in a gentle tone, "My arms are tired, are you really not going to hold me? I am falling off... so high, it will definitely hurt if I fall..."

At that, Gu Mengmeng closed her eyes stoically before loosening her grip, letting herself fall without any warning.

But would Elvis ever let her fall off his body?

You must be kidding!

His body reacted faster than his brain. Before Gu Mengmeng's little hand had even left his neck for a fraction of a second, Elvis' large hand was already firmly supporting her butt.

Gu Mengmeng smiled slyly as she kissed Elvis on the cheek. "I knew you can't bear to let me fall."

Elvis remained silent, frowning grimly.

He was very happy that she was willing to coax him.

But she could not put herself in harm's way!

Gu Mengmeng held Elvis' face in both hands and said, "Hubby, actually I am really very petty. If not for the fact that Natalie really wants to die, and that you are the only trigger that can motivate her will to live, even if she was your own mother, I would never have let her touch you. This time, take it that I was repaying a kindness. Next time, anyone who dares to even reach out one paw towards you, I will immediately chop it off."

Elvis couldn't help softening on seeing Gu Mengmeng put on a fierce act. Even his tone subconsciously turned gentler. "Repaying a kindness?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded. “If Natalie hadn’t given birth to you, how could I get the chance to meet such a wonderful hubby?”

Elvis raised his brows. “Using me to repay a kindness?”

Gu Mengmeng hung onto Elvis’ neck. “I will never return you to her. But since she gave birth to you herself, just one touch should be fine, right? If I can’t even touch Hede and the rest after they get partners in the future, I will definitely be very upset... we are all mothers under the same sky. Why make things difficult for one another? Don’t you agree?”

Chapter 821 - He Was Smiling At Her Mischief

Chapter 821: He Was Smiling At Her Mischief

No idea why, but Elvis just liked Gu Mengmeng's mischievous behavior. His heart was at its lightest when she was laughing guilelessly.

He kissed Gu Mengmeng on the mouth and bit her lips as if punishing her. Elvis' heart turned into mush as he gazed into her teary eyes, which were staring right back at him in a piteous and pleading manner.

He had surrendered, but with only one demand. "You cannot put yourself in harm's way next time, do you hear me?"

Gu Mengmeng fluttered her eyelids. She knew Elvis was referring to her suddenly releasing her grip and "pretending to fall". She laughed and smacked her lips against his neck. "Is there anywhere else on earth that is safer than me being in your arms? I don't believe that you would just let me fall and not catch me."

She was obviously being mischievous but Elvis couldn't help smiling.

The feeling of being completely subdued by her was really quite wonderful. Her smug and confident expression made Elvis feel as if a drop of moisture had dripped onto the dry ashes of his heart, nourishing his entire body and making him feel soothed all over.

Without a word, Elvis starting walking with Gu Mengmeng in his arms.

"Where are we going?" Gu Mengmeng asked.

"To wash my hand." Elvis was still smiling. His earlier depression had already been completely chased away by this girl's mischievous behavior.

Was there really no hope for him? He was clearly a powerful fifth-level beast and should possess an absolute confidence in himself as a result of his abilities. He was a perfect partner and any female with an ounce of common sense would never abandon him.

But faced with this girl, he still suffered from the fear of losing her...

He suddenly understood what she had said to him earlier, during the time they had fallen out at the beginning of their relationship: I want to become your partner because I love you, not because you are powerful.

He understood better now that as powerful as a male was; he was helpless in the face of love.

He knew he loved her. It was something he always knew.

But he still felt very happy at having concretely proved to himself just how much he loved her.

Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng to the side of the lake. He placed her down before starting to wash his hands vigorously.

That level of vigor made Gu Mengmeng feel that he was not just washing his hands, but was trying to scrub off a layer of skin.

This method of washing... by the time he was satisfied with the state of its cleanliness, probably only his bones would be left.

Gu Mengmeng squatted beside Elvis and wet her fair hands. She then pulled Elvis' hand over and gently and thoroughly helped him wash it.

After ensuring that every groove had been washed clean, Gu Mengmeng kissed his hand before placing it on her own face. She smiled sweetly at him. "Alright, it's clean now. This hand only has my scent. Smell it."

Elvis flipped Gu Mengmeng's grip around so that he was now holding her hand instead. He then smelled the back of his own hand, to ensure there was only her scent. Only then did he smile with satisfaction. "Yeah, very fragrant, very sweet."

Before he had even completed his sentence, Elvis reached out and drew Gu Mengmeng into his arms. He kissed her collarbone. “Next time, don’t push me towards anyone else, okay?”

Gu Mengmeng smiled, wanting to say that she was your mother and not just anyone.

But Elvis didn’t give her a chance to speak. He placed her hand over the left side of his chest. “When you pushed me over, it hurt right here... like a piece was being dug out.”

Chapter 822 - No One Is Allowed To Touch My Hubby Again

In the end Gu Mengmeng didn't try to explain further. If she was Elvis' only sense of security, as selfish as it might be, Gu Mengmeng was more than willing to enjoy this special privilege.

She wished to preserve and cherish this feeling. She felt that being the special one in Elvis' eyes was something which brought her joy.

Hugging and kissing Elvis, Gu Mengmeng promised. "Never again. No one is allowed to touch my hubby again."

Gu Mengmeng's coquettish words turned Elvis' heart to mush.

By the time he carried Gu Mengmeng back to Natalie's cave, it was already noon.

Lea had been cooking a big pot of meat, which had been stewing until it was extremely tender now. Although it was meat, it was not at all greasy and very suitable for the weak Natalie.

Gu Mengmeng was just about to bring a bowl of the meat to Natalie, when she saw Peter exiting the cave with a foolish smile on his face. His gaze was bizarrely gentle, and that pose where he was holding his cheek... um... indescribable.

Peter nearly collided into Gu Mengmeng before he suddenly halted and stared at her, startled. He then awkwardly cleared his throat and turned to the side. Only then did Gu Mengmeng see the red palm mark on the side of his cheek.

Did this mean he had been slapped? Why was he still smiling... so amorously?

Could it be Peter was different from the rest, that his sensitive spot was on his face? Being slapped felt good to him?

Although it was rather inappropriate to make such conjectures about her own father-in-law, Gu Mengmeng really couldn't understand Peter's expression.

Are you going to behave awkwardly or continue smiling so amorously? Can you not do both at the same time? It looks very bizarre and creepy...

Opening his mouth, Peter looked like he wanted to say something to Gu Mengmeng, but hesitated for a while before falling silent. He just skirted around her and left.

Gu Mengmeng glanced at Elvis at which he returned her gaze with a "he's crazy" look. They didn't say a word but just shrugged and headed towards the cave.

After entering, they saw that Natalie had already sat up, and looked very angry... yeah... totally furious.

Her originally pale faced was now flushed with rage, while her chest heaved heavily. It was obvious that she had just been in an argument, or rather... she had just finished berating someone.

Her eyes still bore the fumes of anger, as she held the skinned furs in a death grip, as if it was a certain someone whom she wished to tear to pieces.

She looked up and was startled to see that it was Gu Mengmeng who had come. She instinctively looked towards Elvis, after which her eyes dimmed and she lowered her head. Just that one look was full of guilt.

Gu Mengmeng brought the food to Natalie's side. "This is food made by my other partner. It is very delicious, do you want to try?"

Natalie didn't accept the food, but just pursed her lips and continued to grip the skinned furs with trembling hands. After staying silent for a long while, she finally spoke. "I will definitely get the antidote for you. No matter what... I will never let him harm you all again... I...I... can definitely do it.”

She was obviously frightened, but still made a resolute promise.

Gu Mengmeng’s heart warmed. She now knew that Elvis was not all alone before he met her. Although Natalie was unable to stay by his side, she had never stopped loving him.

Gu Mengmeng placed her hand gently over Natalie’s and said in a soft voice, “Thank you, Natalie.”

Chapter 823 - Touching Someone Else In Front Of Me? Do You Think I Am Dead?

Chapter 823: Touching Someone Else In Front Of Me? Do You Think I Am Dead?

Elvis pulled back Gu Mengmeng unhappily as he glared at her hand. “Touching someone else in front of me? Do you think I am dead?”

Gu Mengmeng did not mind Elvis’ possessive attitude. Instead, she felt gladdened by it. My hubby is so overbearing and domineering, don’t you agree? Oh, my racing little heart...

Smiling sweetly, she looked at Elvis with her head tilted and face full of adoration. “Wah, my hubby is so dashing...”

Elvis couldn’t maintain his black face and laughed out. “Why are you still touching someone else if I am so dashing?”

Gu Mengmeng blushed. Was she really going to flirt with her hubby in front of her mother-in-law?

Stealing a glimpse at Natalie, she discovered that Natalie looked overwhelmed. As if she had been struck by lightning, she appeared rather flustered and ill-at-ease. She also looked like she was about to cry.

Gu Mengmeng felt it strange. Peter and Natalie had just had a major quarrel until she had even smacked him. Even then, Natalie held firm and didn’t cry, now... why was she crying? Could it be that she was feeling a pang of nostalgia for her dead partners, after seeing the flirting between Elvis and her?

But that shouldn’t be the case, her expression was obviously one of fear...

What was she scared of?

“Still looking at her?” Elvis was unhappy that someone had distracted Gu Mengmeng’s attention from himself. Even though it was a female, it made him furious.

Gu Mengmeng felt that if she didn’t smooth his ruffled feathers now, Elvis might just stomp off.

She didn’t want Elvis to get jealous over nothing again. Hence she held his face and kissed his cheek. “I won’t look anymore. I only have you in my eyes and my heart. My gut, my fingertips...”

Even though he knew she was obviously acting silly, Elvis still enjoyed it immensely.

Seeing his smile, Gu Mengmeng knew she had successfully pacified him. Taking advantage of the moment, she said, “Hubby, I want to tell you something.”

“What?” He knew she would have an ulterior motive after being so unaccountably solicitous.

Gu Mengmeng batted her eyelashes. “I saw some grapes on the way back. I want to eat grapes...”

She had indeed spotted some wild grapes growing on a cliff on the way. The dense clusters of deep purple grapes looked extremely delicious. However, she had not bothered with them then, intending to ask Lea, Wabei, Ian and the rest to go pick some after they returned.

At this point, she had no choice but to use this reason to cajole Elvis to leave.

“Grapes?”

It was very normal for her to ask her own male to get something she wished to eat.

But she didn't mention it on the way back. She also didn't mention it when they met Lea at the entrance. She was deliberately mentioning it only now.

Elvis would be a fool if he couldn't tell that she was deliberately trying to bait him to leave.

But seeing her greedy face, he couldn't bear to disappoint her. Even though he obviously knew she harbored ulterior motives, he just nodded and headed off at her directions to the place where those "grapes" grew.

Natalie's emotions had stabilized, but she still looked at Gu Mengmeng with some trepidation. She appeared to be in a dilemma, but eventually spoke. "Could you not... abandon Elvis?"

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback. She pointed at her own nose and asked, "Me? Abandon Elvis? Why would I abandon Elvis?"

Could it be her interaction with Elvis was not as sweet as she thought it was? Could it be in Natalie's eyes, they looked like a couple just playacting and on the verge of divorce?

Chapter 824 - Mother-In-Law Misunderstands

Natalie straightened herself and kneeled beside Gu Mengmeng. Hesitant and fearful, she still took Gu Mengmeng's hand in hers, trembling the entire time. Her fingertips were icy and extremely bony. Despite their frailty, they held an undeniable sense of weight.

"Elvis suffered a lot when he was young. He never had a moment's peace. He had to be cold and distant, to remain invulnerable. Otherwise, he would have died..."

"This created the flaws in his character. He is not like other males who can use sweet nothings to coax you. But his love for you is sincere."

"Moreover, he is already a fifth-level beast. Even if you don't like him, just going by the fact that he is a powerful fighter, don't abandon him, okay?"

Natalie raised her eyes and gazed pleadingly at Gu Mengmeng. Her eyes were brimming with tears, as if they would spill over any time if Gu Mengmeng gave even the slightest shake of her head.

"This must be the first time you saw Elvis again after he was a month old... how do you know he loves me?" Gu Mengmeng asked gently.

Natalie was taken aback and lowered her head. "I..."

Gu Mengmeng continued. "Don't you know? You said all that because of your maternal instincts. To protect him and not let him come to any harm. Whether or not he loves me, you don't really care, right?"

Actually, Natalie could not completely deny Gu Mengmeng's logic. This was because deep down inside, she really did think that.

But that was not the whole truth. Natalie was afraid that not only had she failed to help Elvis, she had instead brought trouble. Hence, she hurriedly explained. “A person’s eyes never lie. No matter how fierce his gaze is, it cannot conceal the gentleness within. He only had eyes for you all the way from start to end. You... are his entire world. He is just bad at expressing himself. Please, give him a chance. Even if you don’t shower affection upon him... just don’t abandon him.”

Gu Mengmeng tugged at her own collar and presented Elvis’ partner mark on her collarbone for Natalie to see. “Elvis is my first partner. I love him very much and will never abandon him. Moreover, I don’t think he looks at me fiercely at all. On the contrary, I see a deep, profound love in his eyes. He is a male who will sacrifice his own life for me. I can wholeheartedly place my entire life in his hands.”

Natalie was dumbstruck. She gazed at Gu Mengmeng for a long while, as her tears eventually trickled down.

Choking back her tears, she said, “You are truly the Messenger of the Beast Deity. Able to see through him more clearly than I can.”

Gu Mengmeng let go of her collar and hugged her own leg. She rested her face on her knee and looked sideways at Natalie. “So you do know some things after all.”

Natalie smiled bitterly, as if opening her heart for the first time.

“I have been imprisoned here for 17 years since he captured me. In these 17 years, I have seen too many examples of how the stray beasts treat the females they have snatched. The bloody scenes remain firmly etched in my mind’s eye. If I cannot see his protectiveness and concern towards me, I am not only foolish but also blind.”

Natalie continued to smile her bitter smile. Her tears flowed quietly as she struggled to compose herself. “But so what if I can see all that now? What has been done cannot be undone. My children are dead. My partners are dead. My entire tribe annihilated... and all that just because I failed to see the passion behind his savageness. Unwilling to give him a chance to express his love.”

Chapter 825 - If Only There Could Really Be If Only

“I often thought about it. If only I had begged him to take me away when I was pregnant, my children would not have died.”

“If only I had remained obediently by his side right from the start, not kicking up a big fuss or trying to escape—perhaps my partners would still be alive.”

“If only I had not so resolutely ripped off a piece of my own skin after he raped me, without even giving him a chance to explain. If I had not ended our partner relationship and turned him into a stray beast, perhaps I might still be living peacefully in the tribe, with a powerful and caring partner, and adorable children.”

“If only I had been able to overcome the fear in my heart right from the beginning and patiently listened to his confession of love—perhaps he would not have been forced to use such a method to become my partner.”

“If only... there could really be if only, all that would have not happened. It's my fault, it's all my fault...”

Gu Mengmeng turned her hand around to hold Natalie's wrist. “Loving you cannot be used as an excuse for hurting you. All this is not your fault.”

Natalie raised her head as tears filled her eyes.

Not... her fault?

How could it be not her fault?

Gu Mengmeng knew that the conflict in Natalie's heart stemmed from the self-denial arising from when one was faced with extreme helplessness.

Unable to change the world and nowhere to complain about the unfairness of it all. So the only way left was to focus the fault-finding inwards and continuously think: It's my fault, it's all my fault... it must be because I was not good enough, that's why things turned out like this...

Gu Mengmeng held Natalie's shoulder and gazed into her eyes. "What happened in the past has happened. We are unable to change it. There is no 'if only' in this world. Everyone must pay for the consequences of their past actions. It is meaningless to continue living in the past. You must focus on the present and look towards the future."

Natalie looked blank, completely unable to understand what Gu Mengmeng was saying. Nevertheless, she felt as if a piece of her heart had caved in.

Gu Mengmeng continued. "He has the right to like you, but that was a one-sided decision on his part. So he should bear the consequences himself. We are unable to take responsibility for every single person who likes us. We can only take responsibility for ourselves."

Gu Mengmeng took up Natalie's hand and placed it over her heart. "Ask your own heart. Do you like him now?"

Natalie knew who Gu Mengmeng was referring to and she bit her lip in hesitation. But she still shook her head in the end.

"There are too many grievances between us, how to like him? One more day together is just another day of torture."

Gu Mengmeng nodded. "This matter will go easier if you don't like him."

Natalie looked up at Gu Mengmeng in confusion.

Gu Mengmeng continued. "I am bringing you along with me back to Saint Nazaire."

Natalie was momentarily taken aback. She instinctively avoided Gu Mengmeng's gaze. "But Chixuan's antidote..."

Gu Mengmeng shrugged nonchalantly. “It doesn’t matter. I can save my own son. I just have to gather the five treasures in exchange for the antidote from Cole. I wager that Cole won’t dare to cheat me.”

Natalie twisted her lips as she remained silent. She didn’t shake her head or nod, as if she had fallen into deep thought.

Gu Mengmeng didn’t press her but just said, “You also know that I am the Beast King and hold exceptional powers. If you are afraid that he will come to Saint Nazaire to bother you, I can just go out and kill him now. It will be a piece of cake for me, and your problem will be resolved once and for all.”

Gu Mengmeng rose after speaking, but Natalie grabbed her wrist.

Chapter 826 - If Torturing Him Would Make Her Happy, Please Torture Him Then.

Gu Mengmeng looked at Natalie with lowered eyes. She remained silent but just watched her quietly, waiting for her to speak first.

Natalie carefully loosened her grip and bit her bottom lip. With a voice as tiny as an ant's, she said, "He... is still Elvis' father."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. It was truly a woman's nature to be so ambivalent.

If she liked him, she liked him. If she couldn't bear to, she couldn't bear to. Why the need to find so many reasons?

Nevertheless, she didn't expose her but just said mildly, "I can spare him for Elvis' sake, but for my son... Elvis will kill Peter himself. So, it'll be the wise choice to just hand over the antidote to me."

Natalie nodded and promised. "I will definitely make him hand over the antidote. I promise!"

Gu Mengmeng didn't say anything more, and just turned to exit the cave. She turned around after a couple of steps. "Hurry up and eat before the food turns cold."

"Mmm." Natalie nodded. She then gradually took up the bowl.

Gu Mengmeng heaved a sigh of relief before shaking her head in exasperation. She then walked out of the cave.

The moment she left the cave, she felt a strange tension in the air.

Elvis and Lea were standing at one side, facing off with Peter. The friction between them was nearly creating sparks in the air, as they looked like they couldn't wait to tear into each other.

But they retracted their murderous aura the moment they saw Gu Mengmeng and pretended that nothing had happened.

Gu Mengmeng was suspicious but didn't pursue the matter in front of Peter.

It would be a loss of face for her males if she were to question them in front of others, and Gu Mengmeng would never do something so foolish.

She would always allow Elvis and Lea to maintain their dignity in front of others. No matter how suspicious or upset she was, she would wait until they were home alone before questioning them.

Gu Mengmeng addressed Peter as she walked towards Elvis. "I have delivered food to her and she has eaten. As long as she is willing to eat, her health will improve."

Peter couldn't conceal the joy in his face. Today was the happiest day in over the past half a year.

He really felt that Natalie had given up the idea of abandoning him. She wished to live on for him.

Even though she only wanted that antidote, which he was completely unable to procure. He was willing to let her rail against him, to curse and threaten him. Seeing her quiver with rage as she flung things at him—that pathetic scene actually brought a sense of sweetness to his heart.

As long as she was willing to live on and remain by his side.

If torturing him would make her happy, please torture him then.

What did a bit of scolding and beating matter?

As long as she didn't abandon him... that was enough...

Gu Mengmeng hesitated before pausing and looking at Peter. “She rejected me when I told her that I can bring her back to Saint Nazaire.”

Stunned, Peter turned to look at Gu Mengmeng. He appeared to be at a loss.

Gu Mengmeng continued. “I even told her that if she was afraid that you would bother her, I can kill you now. But she stopped me.”

She...

Didn't wish for him to die?

This news gave a violent jolt to Peter's heart. It was as if someone had viciously hammered his chest.

She should be full of hatred for him. She had wished for him to die right from the beginning, just that she never had someone powerful enough who could do that for her in the past...

Chapter 827 - Doing Some Unmentionable Things

Now that Gu Mengmeng had the ability and the willingness to kill him for her and bring her freedom, why was she refusing?

Just to stay on to torture him?

Or could it be that after 17 years of companionship, to leave him now... she held the slightest bit of reluctance?

This line of thinking blew Peter's mind like a nuclear bomb had descended on his brain. His head was just full of white smoke and he nearly forgot how to breathe.

Gu Mengmeng didn't have time to watch the dramatic love-hate soap opera starring her parents-in-law. She just leaned into Elvis' arms and let Elvis and Lea carrying her back to their temporary home.

This was the stray beast territory. Strictly speaking, Wabei was now a stray beast, but his situation was rather unique. Ellie was just a tool for him to surpass to the next level and he never held any affection or regard for her. So from some angles, it could be said that Wabei had been a stray beast right from the start...

So this kind of life was not too different from the one he had been living in the Snake King valley. Anyway, apart from Gu Mengmeng, no one else dared to provoke him.

So he was getting on rather happily and seldom bothered Gu Mengmeng. He only appeared whenever she needed a "thug". Otherwise, he would usually find a comfortable place to settle down. Now and then, he would watch the stray beasts fight amongst themselves. As and when it struck it fancy, he would even offer a reward to the winner... in the form of eating him up.

Ian was not as powerful as Wabei, but he could fly.

Who was a match for him in the skies?

The two of them were rather independent and enjoyed their days of free leisure.

This allowed Gu Mengmeng and her family of three enough privacy to do some unmentionable things.

Such as...

Gu Mengmeng covered the cave entrance with a skinned fur and sat beside the bed. She gazed at her two males from the corner of her eye, smiling in silence.

Lea waved his tail and coquettishly clambered over to Gu Mengmeng's side. He placed his two hands on either side of Gu Mengmeng, as if cornering her. Licking his lips, Lea asked in a low and amorous voice, "Our queen is smiling so, is it because she wants to bestow some favors upon us? Mmm?"

Gu Mengmeng looked at Lea behaving like a frisky kitten. He was clearly in human form but was crawling on all fours. His bushy tail waved a rhythmically, as he deliberately gave off a sexy, come-hither look...

Narrowing her eyes, Gu Mengmeng composed herself and pointed one finger at Lea's brow. "It appears that you are hiding something very serious from me—for you to resort to using such seduction tricks, mmm?"

Lea didn't deny it. He bit his lower lip and put on a seductive expression. "So... do you want to punish me? Mistress..."

His last words were whispered close into Gu Mengmeng's ear, his warmth breath traveling straight into Gu Mengmeng's heart.

Mistress-servant role-play?!

Coming up with such wicked ideas again!

Gu Mengmeng pushed Lea aside, otherwise her heart would be nearly leaping out.

This guy always had a way to push her buttons and make her feel embarrassed. Unfortunately, Gu Mengmeng was defenseless against him.

Clearing her throat, Gu Mengmeng turned to the side. “Since you both refuse to tell me, shall I go ask Peter?”

Elvis was already standing right behind her and instantly drew her against his solid chest. He lowered his head gently and said in a low, raspy voice, “Saying the name of another male in front of your own two sexually frustrated males... are you provoking us? Mmm?”

Chapter 828 - Don't Worry, I Am Deaf.

Gu Mengmeng clearly knew that these two fellows were just trying to change the topic, but she couldn't stem her racing heartbeat. Her bones had gone soft at Elvis' "mmm". She crumbled into Elvis' embrace.

Biting her lips, Gu Mengmeng said, "Stop fooling around. This is not Saint Nazaire..."

Elvis bit Gu Mengmeng's neck and said in a raspy and alluring voice, "Don't worry, Wabei is guarding the entrance. No one will dare to enter."

Gu Mengmeng blushed as she struggled to maintain a clear head. "Wabei will hear..."

"Don't worry, I am deaf." Wabei's voice wafted lazily through the skinned fur.

Gu Mengmeng went stiff and was instantly resolved to not let Elvis and Lea get their way. She steeled her heart and pushed Elvis aside. Swaying a little before steadying herself, she leaned against the wall.

Reaching out to flash a "stop" hand sign, she took two deep breaths to compose herself. She then pulled off the skinned fur hanging across the cave entrance and grinned at Wabei. "Little shit, thank you. But I am going to speak with my males regarding some private matters. Could you leave for the moment?"

Wabei objected to being called little shit. It hurt the pride and confidence which he had cultivated over 800 years. So every time Gu Mengmeng called him that, he chose to turn deaf, as if he couldn't hear her words.

Narrowing his eyes at Gu Mengmeng, he replied, "Go ahead and speak. Anyway, I am deaf."

Gu Mengmeng gnashed her teeth and turned around to flash the mark behind her neck before moaning in despair. “Snake, oh Snake. If only you are around... he would never dare to bully me like this.”

Wabei’s temple throbbed at Gu Mengmeng’s words. He felt like he would be letting Snake down if he didn’t leave.

Without another word, Wabei strolled away languidly.

After Wabei had left, Gu Mengmeng released a slight beast pressure to scare off the stray beasts who had been attracted by Lea’s Fox Seductive Fragrance. She then tossed the skinned fur aside and turned to look at Elvis and Lea. “If you two wish to continue hiding it from me. I won’t ask anymore.”

Elvis and Lea exchanged looks of surprise.

Unfortunately, before they had time to relax, Gu Mengmeng continued. “From today onwards, you two can stay outside the cave. You are not allowed to talk to me and do not need to prepare my meals. I want to try living an independent life.”

Elvis and Lea frowned.

Elvis stepped forward and drew Gu Mengmeng into his embrace. He said in a low and angry voice, “You promised me that no matter what happens, you will never abandon me.”

Lea also hustled over. He didn’t even need to say a single word, as his slanted eyes full of grievance spoke volumes.

Gu Mengmeng lifted her chin and pushed Elvis aside. With her current powers, no one could hold her without her permission.

“I am not abandoning you. You two are still my partners. But you have both fallen out of my favors.”

“Xiao Meng.” Elvis’ brows were twisted into a tight knot. With an undercurrent of anger, he said, “You are not allowed to not love me.”

Gu Mengmeng shrugged. “I love you. How could I not love you?”

Chapter 829 - If You Don't Want Me, You Should Just Kill Me.

“But... you two have become increasingly used to keeping things from me. You two had privately agreed to keep that previous matter regarding Cole from me, claiming that you were afraid I wouldn't be able to hold my temper and spoil the plan. Since that was the first time, I didn't make a fuss. But this time, you two are at it again. You are clearly hiding something from me.” Gu Mengmeng sounded very calm, as if making a statement of fact.

And this attitude made Elvis and Lea feel at a loss.

If she had thrown a tantrum at them, they had a hundred ways to coax her. It was when she didn't kick up a fuss which had them most worried.

“Deception is the start of a crack in a relationship. You two will slowly accumulate more and more secrets from me, while I will become an increasingly suspicious person. In the end, one of us will break down and head towards destruction. In that case, I should cut my losses and start learning how to live an independent life. I cannot keep relying on you two for everything. I must also learn how to overlook all those secrets you are keeping from me, and get on with my own life.”

“Xiao Meng!” Elvis growled.

Now that Gu Mengmeng had hardened her resolve, why would she still be afraid of Elvis' temper?

Without giving him a chance to interrupt, she continued. “But don't worry. As I still love you now, I will not be so heartless as to turn you two into stray beasts. Your marks will remain on my body and you two will still be my partners in name.”

Elvis once again tried to hold Gu Mengmeng by the waist. He refused to let go even as Gu Mengmeng tried to push him. Frowning, he said, "If you don't want me, you should just kill me."

Elvis lowered his eyes as he gazed at Gu Mengmeng's hand, which was pushing against his chest.

He was exerting a lot of strength but with Gu Mengmeng's present abilities, it was not impossible to push him away.

It was just that pushing him away would break at least two of his ribs.

Even as those tender little hands pounded on his chest, she still couldn't bear to be heavy-handed.

"You clearly can't bear to hurt me, right?" He smiled slyly as amusement lit up his blue eyes. Lowering his head, he kissed Gu Mengmeng on the lips. He allowed her to bite him and struggle against him, but didn't allow her to escape.

Elvis kissed her for a long time until Gu Mengmeng finally calmed down and stopped putting up a resistance. Only then did Elvis slowly release her. He used his thumb to rub his own lips with a chuckle. "After biting me for so long, you didn't even break my skin. Still not going to admit you can't bear to hurt me? Mmm?"

"Yes, I can't bear to hurt you, does that mean you can bully me?" Gu Mengmeng glared angrily.

R

Elvis' heart ached over her distressed expression. Helplessly, he said, "How could we bear to bully you? It's just that for some matters, telling you would be as good as worrying you. We will resolve it. You just need to go on with your happy self."

Gu Mengmeng looked down. "Even at this stage, you still refuse to tell me?"

Elvis felt a tug at his heartstrings. He looked at Lea and finally surrendered. “Don’t be angry, I will tell you, alright?”

Gu Mengmeng looked at up Elvis. “Do you think that I am making a big fuss just because I want to know the secret?”

Elvis was stunned. He didn’t understand Gu Mengmeng’s meaning.

Gu Mengmeng sighed and shook her head. “Forget it. I don’t wish to know. Get out, both of you. I want to rest.”

Chapter 830 - Didn't Even Get The Chance To Beg For Mercy

Elvis and Lea exchanged looks. She had clearly kicked up a big fuss and insisted on knowing the truth.

Now that they were going to tell her, she was saying she didn't want to know?

Further...

Didn't they already promised to tell her? Why was she still throwing them out?

Gu Mengmeng stared at those two unmoving males and waved her hand. "If you two don't leave, I will. I will sleep outside tonight."

"Xiao Meng." Elvis pulled Gu Mengmeng back into his arms. "Don't be angry, Lea and I will listen to you. We will guard the entrance for you today. You just have a good sleep inside, alright?"

Gu Mengmeng shrugged Elvis off and gave a "please leave" gesture.

Elvis and Lea knew that Gu Mengmeng was really angry and didn't want to make her even madder. As a result, two of the most formidable beasts in the Beast World were relegated to standing pitifully outside the cave, as if being punished. So that they could glimpse in now and then at Gu Mengmeng, they stood unmoving from their spots despite the glaring sun.

Gu Mengmeng had really hardened her resolve. She just turned and sprawled on the bed for a nap. Elvis and Lea could only see her back profile as she refused to even turn.

After a long time, the two of them could clearly hear that Gu Mengmeng had already fallen asleep. They finally gave a soft sigh of defeat, as their shoulders drooped subconsciously.

“The previous time she had chased me out of the house was after we returned from that beauty pageant at Sauder, and discovered that I had created an opportunity for you during the winter. And that time... she wasn’t angry for that long.” Elvis gazed at Gu Mengmeng’s back profile with frustration. He was already used to her sleeping nestled in his arms. Her sleeping profile always made his heart grow warm.

Would she accidentally fall off the bed if he was not around?

She was used to hugging his tail to sleep. Now that she had nothing to hold, would she be able to sleep peacefully?

Lea smiled bitterly. “Yeah, I was still so envious at seeing you being chased out of the house. At least you had the right to be “chased out”, while I was completely banned from going near her. I didn’t even get the chance to beg for mercy.”

Elvis smiled helplessly. “Yeah, so you have gotten your wish now? How does it feel to be chased out?”

Lea smacked his lips as if seriously tasting something. He then gave a chuckle. “In the past, we never cared about where we slept. Now, why have we become so attached to that cave? Not being able to enter... makes one’s heart feel so empty.”

Elvis’ gaze was profound as he watched over that girl lying in bed. “We are not attached to that cave but to that tempestuous girl inside.”

Lea nodded with realization. “Yes, we are helpless the moment she throws a tantrum.”

Elvis’ eyes held a subtle gentleness as he surveyed Gu Mengmeng’s body. He felt a deep sense of bliss.

To be able to be chased out of their home by her was a type of blessing.

After all, he also never had the chance to be chased out in the past.

“So do you really intend to tell her the truth?” Lea was still frowning. That matter... he really didn’t wish for Mengmeng to know.

Elvis glanced askance at Lea. “Do you have a better idea?”

Lea thought about it and shook his head. “If our lie is uncovered, we might suffer a worse fate than just being chased out.”

Chapter 831

Chapter 831: The Powerful Backer Behind The Stray Beasts

Elvis nodded. “I can keep a secret from her, but I cannot tell an outright lie. I promised her that I would never lie to her.”

Lea nodded and didn’t say anything more. He just turned and went to the side to start cooking. Elvis stood at the side and continued to watch over Gu Mengmeng. That petite figure held such a massive attraction. It made everything else in this world pale in significance compared to her.

Sighing, Elvis shook his head in exasperation.

He would probably end up standing here until the leaves fell off the trees.

Gu Mengmeng stretched out lazily to stand up. It was just a subtle movement, but it instantly spurred the hearts of those two guys gaping from the entrance.

“Mengmeng, I cooked some meat and potato stew. Shall I bring some over for you to taste?” Lea asked amiably as he leaned against the entrance.

Gu Mengmeng acted like she never heard him, completely ignoring him.

Lea didn’t despair, as if he didn’t realize that Gu Mengmeng was ignoring him. He continued. “Natalie’s body is weak and this is definitely something suitable for her to eat. Shall we go over with this food, and you can eat there together with her?”

Gu Mengmeng maintained her silence.

Lea looked at Elvis who sighed. His eyes dimmed. “Something might have happened at Sauder.”

Gu Mengmeng was stunned by this sentence. She looked at Elvis with lips tightly pressed together. She didn't utter a word.

Taking a deep breath, Elvis continued. "I always knew this stray beast gang was capable of such standards only because it had the support of a 'prominent figure'. But I only found out today that this 'prominent figure' is Cole."

Gu Mengmeng was dumbstruck. Cole was the backer behind the stray beasts? If even Elvis knew this, did it mean it was not a recent thing? But wasn't Cole the ex-leader of Sauder?

The leader of the Messengers tribe was the powerful backer behind the stray beasts? Wasn't this like a collusion between government officials and criminals?

Elvis couldn't bear to see Gu Mengmeng frowning and didn't want her to trouble over Cole. Hence he quickly continued. "The stray beast attack on the tribe looked like it was done on a whim, but that was not so. Their attack was aimed at those who had always been opposing Cole, or who stood in the way of certain matters. It could be said that Cole secretly instigated that attack to get rid of people who were obstructing him."

Gu Mengmeng frowned as she recalled that Cole had brought Chixuan to goodness-knows-where right before the dry season. It had been a long time since they saw him...

As she thought about it more, she remembered that during the last time she saw him, he asked if she had prepared her water supply, and even said that Sauder didn't lack water.

However, Gu Mengmeng subsequently had a well dug for the tribe, and completely forgot Cole's words.

But now that she thought of it...

Elvis had started out saying that something might have happened at Sauder. He then mentioned that Cole was the backer behind the stray beasts...

Elvis exhaled heavily and looked at Gu Mengmeng with a steady gaze. It was as if he was telling her “don’t be scared, you have me”.

“Peter said that at the start of the dry season, Cole came back with a wolf pup. He felt that that wolf pup looked quite like me, and that Cole treated him very well. Cole even said that he couldn’t allow his precious son to go without water. Cole then departed with all the stray beasts who were fourth-level and above, leaving Peter to oversee the camp.”

Gu Mengmeng took a deep breath. That wolf pup must have been Chixuan.

Sauder didn’t lack water...

Ha, it appeared that he was really going back to reclaim his lost territory.

Chapter 832

Chapter 832: You Can Cure Me, You Can Take My Life.

Sauder only had Barete and Oakley guarding it. The two of them were no match for Cole, not to mention he was bringing along a gang of stray beasts fourth-level and above.

If Cole used Chixuan as blackmail...

Barete and Oakley would probably have no choice but to let him do whatever he wanted.

Gu Mengmeng gritted her teeth and stood up to head outside.

As she passed by Elvis, he pulled her into his embrace.

Gu Mengmeng struggled a moment but Elvis just held her tighter. He said in a hoarse voice, "Don't move, let me hold you awhile, just awhile."

Gu Mengmeng was drawn in by Elvis' words. She had just slept for an afternoon but she felt as if she had been apart from them for a long time.

Elvis' deep voice reverberated from his chest into Gu Mengmeng's ear. "You are clearly standing right before me, but I still miss you so much... what can I do? I think I am sick."

Gu Mengmeng's heart was melting, but she refused to show any tenderness. She just said coldly, "Get Lea to treat you if you are sick."

Elvis hooked Gu Mengmeng's little face and stared into her eyes. "He can heal external wounds, but heartsick..no medicine can cure that."

Gu Mengmeng turned her head and pulled back her face. "If you have heartsick, find a bosom friend to treat it. I think Lea is very suitable. You two are so close and have no secrets between you. Have a good heart-to-heart chat. Treat it as undergoing therapy. You will probably recover after that.”

Elvis lifted Gu Mengmeng and she instinctively circled her arms around his neck. She met his amused eyes and wanted to draw back her hands, but would Elvis ever allow that? He gently cupped the back of her head and kissed her on the lips.

They were thus entangled for a long while in an intense session of tender, loving care.

‘But you are my only medicine. You can cure me, you can take my life.’

Gu Mengmeng felt a tug on her heartstrings. She trembled until her entire chest was vibrating.

Earlier, Elvis had stood at the cave and reflected on himself for an entire afternoon. He had replayed Gu Mengmeng’s stinging words, and if he still didn’t understand why Gu Mengmeng was so angry at them, then he had no right to be her first partner anymore.

Gently wiping Gu Mengmeng’s lips, which looked bee-stung from his intense kiss, Elvis said tenderly, “You are angry that whenever I encounter something bad, I would always keep it from you. I won’t hide things from you in the future. Don’t be angry, alright?”

Gu Mengmeng twisted her lips as her expression softened. But she still put on a dubious look as she asked, “Really? Or are you just humoring me?”

“Every word I say is my promise to you. And I will never lie to you.” Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng’s little face, which was still soft and tender from sleep. “Moreover, I had wanted to keep such matters a secret from you, as I was afraid they would upset you. If you are more upset over not knowing, then wouldn’t that be worse? I will never do something like that again.”

Gu Mengmeng finally nodded with satisfaction. She then cast a cool glance at Lea, who was standing by the side.

Lea wagged his tail as he walked over to Gu Mengmeng in a timid manner. He rested his arms on Elvis' shoulder and used his slanted eyes to convey the deep emotions of a lover who knew he was in the wrong.

Stroking Gu Mengmeng's left ear as he cupped her face tenderly in one palm. "I endured so many painful obstacles to finally get your acknowledgment. I am really scared that you would abandon me. Today's episode really had me utterly petrified. Would I still dare to keep things from you? Do you think I won't be scared that you would ask me to leave and never come home?"

Chapter 833

Chapter 833: You are My Entire World, Where Else Can I Go

Gu Mengmeng knew she had thrown a hissy fit today.

Actually, she could have used a gentler method to tell them her way of thinking. But she just couldn't control her temper in the heat of the moment.

Perhaps it was because the tragic tale of Natalie and Peter resulted from the many secrets between the two. It made her ill-at-ease and fearful.

If Elvis and Lea made it a habit to conceal things from her, all those little things would one day accumulate into one major issue—which could completely crush the trust between them?

I won't know it if you don't tell me. This was the first stage of a relationship becoming distant.

But now that Elvis and Lea had promised never to hide anything from her, she naturally would not continue behaving unreasonably.

After all, she was already a thousand years of age mentally. There was a limit to stubbornness.

Lowering her head, Gu Mengmeng played with her fingers. "My tone today was also unkind. I said many nasty things... I am sorry."

Elvis and Lea simultaneously kissed Gu Mengmeng on the face, one on each side. The two flawlessly handsome faces held the same doting expressions. Elvis didn't say a word while Lea took up Gu Mengmeng's little hand and kissed it. "You know that I rather hear you confess your love than apologize."

Gu Mengmeng's blushing face looked especially sweet under the moonlight. She said in a soft voice, "I will never mention breaking up again. You are both the most important people to me. I just spent an afternoon napping alone, and already felt tremendously lonely... if you two really left, I will cry my eyes out.”

“Silly girl.” Elvis tightened his arms around her waist as he gazed into her eyes sincerely. “Unless I die, I will never leave you.”

Gu Mengmeng rested her forehead against Elvis’ and asked, “You won’t leave even if I chase you out of the house?”

Elvis kissed her and replied in a low voice, “You are my entire world, where else can I go?”

Gu Mengmeng didn’t say another word, but just smiled sweetly.

Lea brought over a large bowl of meat and potato stew. “So can we eat now? Should we eat here or bring it over to Natalie’s and eat with her?”

Gu Mengmeng thought about it. “Let’s go to Natalie’s together. I want to bid her farewell.”

“You wish to go to Sauder?” Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng towards Natalie’s cave.

Gu Mengmeng nodded. “I am worried for Barete and Oakley. Moreover, Chixuan will also be there...”

Elvis halted and looked at Gu Mengmeng quietly.

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head in question. “What’s the matter?”

Elvis inhaled as he tried to suppress the unease in his heart. But he remembered his promise not to conceal anything from Gu Mengmeng. In the end, he swallowed his “nothing” and said, “Barete is one of your pursuers. He confessed his feelings for you even before Lea. You are worrying over him... are you thinking of making him your third partner?”

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback. She then laughed out and replied with a question of her own, “I also mentioned Oakley. Do you mean I also want to make him my fourth partner then?”

Elvis remained unsmiling. “Oakley still doesn’t have the right to challenge me and Lea.”

Chapter 834

Chapter 834: Killing Him Before The Deed Is Done

Gu Mengmeng was stunned by Elvis' response. "Why is that?"

Elvis stared quietly at Gu Mengmeng. He finally spat out a question of his own after a long time. "You like Oakley?"

Gu Mengmeng shook her head without even considering for a moment. "No, I don't like him. I also don't like Barete. So why does Barete have the right to challenge you?"

Elvis replied, "He went up onto the Platform of the Deity's Punishment for you. He offered to be your provider before even knowing that you are the Messenger of the Beast Deity. You have praised him more than once, and... you even kissed him before."

Gu Mengmeng admitted to the first few incidents, but kissing him? Why did Gu Mengmeng herself have no recollection of that at all?

"When did I kiss him?!"

Elvis' gaze was profound. "You did. He was miraculously revived because you kissed him... right on the Platform of the Deity's Punishment. Lea also saw it."

Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Lea, who nodded reluctantly as he returned her gaze with a weird expression.

Gu Mengmeng thought about it more carefully, before recalling that it had indeed happened. That time, Barete had fainted from dehydration and needed to be fed some water in order to be revived. Gu Mengmeng had tried several ways but failed to get the water in him. In the end, she had no choice but to feed it to him using her own mouth. And she had just fed him one mouthful before being dragged away by Elvis.

Gu Mengmeng held her forehead which was beaded with sweat. “It wasn’t a kiss. I was just trying to rescue him. If I didn’t feed him some water, Lea would have taken him and skinned him to become a specimen. So scary...”

Lea who had kept silent all this while said, “If you don’t like him, what has his life or death got to do with you?”

So harsh...

Gu Mengmeng didn’t dare to argue with these two about the past again. In their eyes, anyone whom she paid the slightest bit of attention to was a love rival. Even Cole, just because she mentioned his name more times than the others, he had been designated as being in a love-hate relationship with Gu Mengmeng. Now, she didn’t even dare to talk bad about Cole in front of them...

“It is true that I want to go to Sauder as I worry about them, but not because I like Barete. It is because he, Oakley and the rest of the Snow fox tribe are now my people. I am responsible for their lives and cannot pretend to ignore their situation when I obviously know they are in danger...”

Elvis relaxed and did not refute Gu Mengmeng.

He didn’t really wish to force Gu Mengmeng to admit that she liked males other than Lea and himself. So right from the start, he had been hoping for Gu Mengmeng to contradict his argument.

Since she had already denied it, he naturally wouldn’t pursue it.

What if...

What would he do if she didn’t deny it next time?

They continued to make their way to Natalie’s and right before they entered her cave, Elvis spoke up. “Xiao Meng, if another male takes your fancy one day, you must inform me in advance. Let me have some mental preparation...”

Just as Gu Mengmeng was about to say she would never bring another male into their home, Lea cut in first.

“Yes, you must tell me in advance, so that I can kill him before the deed is done.”

Gu Mengmeng was startled, before laughing out as she patted Lea’s shoulder. “Haha, being liked by me is a really dangerous matter.”

“You won’t do it?” Lea raised his eyebrows in question.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. “No, if I ‘like’ someone, I will definitely tell you both in advance. If he can’t even defend himself, what right does he have to be my male?”

Chapter 835

Chapter 835: Sending Over A Meal Only To See My Parents-In-Law Getting It On

Elvis and Lea both laughed.

Gu Mengmeng's words held two meanings.

Firstly, it was a promise.

In the Beast World, the difference between levels was absolute. Elvis was a fifth-level beast while Lea was fourth-level. A male who had not mated yet would at most be a third-level. How could he hope to challenge and defeat Elvis and Lea? He might not even be able to escape with his life. As a result, this was as good as saying there would not be any new members added to their household.

Secondly, it was a motivation.

She was telling them in a roundabout way that she didn't wish to see them hurt. They needed to become stronger and to protect themselves well at all times. Only then did they have the right to stand by her side as her males.

"I always listen to whatever Xiao Meng says." Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng's temple.

Lea bit Gu Mengmeng's left ear and nuzzled her. "As you wish."

After a brief bout of intimacy, Elvis and Lea continued to accompany Gu Mengmeng towards Natalie's cave. As they approached, the three of them halted in their footsteps.

Yes, the Beast World didn't have the concept of modesty, but Gu Mengmeng did!

Sending over a meal only to see her parents-in-law getting it on. It was so awkward standing at the entrance. Should she just turn and leave? Gu Mengmeng was desperate for a solution now...

Gu Mengmeng jumped out of Elvis' arms and retreated with a blushing face. She had Lea portion out the food before getting Elvis to deliver it to the cave's entrance.

Elvis complied with a black face, before returning to carry Gu Mengmeng back to their temporary lodgings.

Gu Mengmeng had a good afternoon nap and was feeling very refreshed. Unable to sleep anymore after dinner, she dragged Elvis and Lea into a discussion over how to save Sauder.

Gu Mengmeng had wanted to rush over the moment she heard the news, but after calming down, she felt that it would be inappropriate to do so.

Elvis and Lea agreed.

Cole had led his gang over at the start of the dry season, and they had probably already gotten what they wanted.

It was not the most opportune time for them to go charging in now.

Gu Mengmeng would be the main combat force, but Chixuan was still in Cole's hands. She would be limited in the unleashing of her powers, and might even end up being blackmailed, causing their comrades to be completely helpless.

In addition, the stray beasts were all under Cole's command. Without his permission, Peter would never have leaked this news to them.

Lea heated some water for Gu Mengmeng to take a bath.

Although the lake had nearly dried up, Gu Mengmeng had not bathed for about three days and was feeling very uncomfortable. It was not totally unbearable but how could Elvis and Lea allow her to suffer so?

Who cares if the others would have no water to drink?

They just wanted to let their female have a good bath. Anyone who was displeased with that could just try and snatch the bathwater from their hands.

Gu Mengmeng soaked in the bathtub. The steam enveloping her gave her a soft and hazy profile, accompanied by the gentle sounds of splashing water. She sprawled against the side of the tub as Lea scrubbed her back. The warm and soothing bathwater infused a languidness to her voice. “I have been troubled by something. How did Peter know I have the Kiss of the Ocean? And how did he know of our route back home and where to intercept us?”

Chapter 836

Chapter 836: Cole Must Have Been Behind This Right From The Start

“I have been very careful during our travels, and didn’t discover anyone tracking us. Carter and Melinda are in the ocean and it is impossible for them to have passed this news to Peter. Fei Rui is going back to Saint Nazaire via the water route and doesn’t have the time or motive to leak this information. But Peter knew I had gotten the Kiss of the Ocean and knew we would take this route back to Saint Nazaire... he intercepted us at just the right time too, moreover... he clearly knew he would never be strong enough to snatch it from me, but still came.”

Lea scooped up some hot water as he continued scrubbing Gu Mengmeng’s shoulders gently with a piece of hide. Crystal-clear water droplets flowed down Gu Mengmeng’s shoulder blades, creating an alluring trickling rhythm.

Lea looked like he was appreciating a work of art, and when he spoke, he sounded as if he was offering an art critique, deliberate and professional. “I am afraid that Cole must have been behind this right from the start.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded. She opened her mouth to catch a grape tossed over by Elvis.

Ooh, so sweet...” Gu Mengmeng sighed with satisfaction.

She had randomly thought up an excuse to get Elvis away so that she could speak privately with Natalie. But Elvis had really went to pluck some grapes, which Gu Mengmeng was enjoying immensely now.

She didn’t ask Elvis to go get some more, but...

Such matters, was there any need to ask him again?

Elvis had a constant desire to see Gu Mengmeng happy. He would do anything that could bring her the slightest bit of joy. And it was just plucking a few measly bunch of grapes anyway—even if she had said she wanted the stars from the sky, he would leap up on the spot to get them for her.

Gu Mengmeng licked her lips before continuing. “I also think so. He seems to be purposely luring us back to Sauder...”

“How so?” Elvis fed another grape to Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng opened her mouth to accept it. The sweet juices filled her mouth, seeping into every crevice between her teeth. This sweetness was a complete bliss.

Gu Mengmeng narrowed her eyes contentedly. She swallowed the grape before answering, “At the start of the dry season, he told me that Sauder didn’t have a water shortage as it had a well, and asked me if I wanted to spend the dry season there. He must have been trying to lure me to Sauder? I ignored him then and didn’t think much of it. Isn’t it just a well? We can dig one ourselves...”

Elvis nodded with a chuckle. He didn’t tell her that in the entire Beast World, only she would say that digging a well was an insignificant matter. She didn’t know just how important a well was to the inhabitants of the Beast World.

There were only two wells in the entire Beast World. One was in Sauder, while the other was in Saint Nazaire.

The Fountain of Life bestowed by the Messenger of the Beast Deity to the Messengers tribe. This was one of the reasons why every tribe wished to have the Messenger of the Beast Deity for themselves.

Food supply for the winter and water source for the dry season—these were enough to drive every tribe in the whole Beast World crazy.

Something which Gu Mengmeng had casually taken out for all to share, was the same trump card which the former Messenger of the Beast Deity used to control the Beast World.

Gu Mengmeng didn't know what Elvis was thinking, and just continued. "He then took Chixuan away, thinking that I would be worried and chase after them. Who knew that Fei Rui would arrive then and lead me to the sea to get the Kiss of the Ocean. So Cole made use of the present opportunities and used Peter to set the trap..."

Chapter 837

Chapter 837: It's Not Coercion But A Provocation

“Can this be considered a form of coercion?” Gu Mengmeng chuckled.
“Should I go along with his wishes? Luring me to Sauder... what motive could he have?”

Elvis held out the last grape to Gu Mengmeng's lips before saying lightly.
“It's not coercion, but a provocation.”

Gu Mengmeng raised her brows at Elvis.

Elvis chuckled. “Aren't you going to eat that? Shall I go pluck more for you?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her, indicating she had enough.

Elvis caressed Gu Mengmeng's little head. His mood relaxed at seeing her eating to her fill.

But all this talk about Cole gave rise to a harsh glint to Elvis' eyes. It was just a subtle flash and not too obvious. “Sauder is now part of Saint Nazaire. An attack led by Cole is a territorial conflict. It is not a coercion as there is no way we will retreat. I will not allow you to feel pressured.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded. She had gone all soft and gooey at Elvis' domineering stance.

My hubby is so MAN...

A graphically-enhanced 3D image swirled around in Gu Mengmeng's mind.

Elvis enjoyed Gu Mengmeng's adoring expression very much.

The temperature of the water had dipped and Elvis pulled Gu Mengmeng out from the bathtub before wrapping her up in a skinned fur.

Lea carried the tub out to clean it. He then raised a fire inside the cave, so that the dampness caused from Gu Mengmeng's bath would evaporate quickly and not cause her discomfort tonight.

Elvis placed Gu Mengmeng on the bed, and used his thigh as her pillow. He then used a clean hide to gently massage her hair. His heart softened at the sight of her face, which was flushed red from the bath.

"Matters regarding territorial conflicts, leave it to me and Lea to handle, alright?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded. "Mmm, I am more than happy to do so."

Actually, the moment Peter told them this piece of news, Lea instantly realized it was a trap set by Cole.

After all, Lea was all too familiar with Cole's methods. Even if he couldn't immediately decipher the entire plot, he still possessed an instinctive feel for his schemes.

And Elvis naturally trusted Lea. That was why the two of them had displayed such obvious enmity towards Peter just now.

It had nothing to do with him personally. But anyone who was helping Cole lay a trap for Gu Mengmeng would naturally become the enemy. Fathers alike.

They had wanted to keep this a secret from Gu Mengmeng, so as to avoid making her worry.

After all, she had been plagued with so many troubling matters for a long while now.

They had promised to bring her joy and happiness, so why had Gu Mengmeng's life become so problematic and complicated after they became her partners?

Elvis and Lea both frowned deeply. They even suspected if they themselves had tainted Gu Mengmeng's originally wonderful life?

But even so, they still held onto her hands greedily, unwilling to be abandoned by her.

That was why they wanted to resolve such vexing issues secretly. But their Mengmeng... didn't like them keeping things from her.

"I will never hide anything from you in the future." Elvis said earnestly as he gently dried Gu Mengmeng's hair. He reiterated the promise he had made this afternoon. "I will tell you everything, after which you will hand it over to me to settle... it feels pretty good to be trusted. Thank you, Xiao Meng."

Gu Mengmeng laughed and turned to gaze upon Elvis. "Silly hubby. You are my man. If I can't trust you, who else can I trust?"

Chapter 838

Chapter 838: The Right To Say Sorry

The next morning, Natalie appeared before Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng was momentarily taken aback by her sudden appearance.

Natalie now looked much healthier. Perhaps the regular mealtimes over the past few days, as well as Peter's "attentive and elaborate" care had improved her vigor.

Although still very thin and frail, she no longer looked like she could die any second.

Natalie kept stealing glimpses of Elvis from the corner of her eye, as if she wished to speak with him. But Elvis maintained a "stay away from me", cold and remote attitude. Hence, even after Natalie had gathered up her courage several times, she still dared not approach Elvis in the end.

Sighing, Natalie focused her gaze back on Gu Mengmeng. "Peter promised to bring me along to seek out the antidote for Chixuan. Although it will be difficult, I will supervise him to ensure he succeeds."

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head as she looked towards Peter. He looked rather uncomfortable, obviously... searching for the antidote was just bullshit.

He was just creating an opportunity to lead Natalie away from here, to start life anew. Somewhere where they could live together without misunderstanding and troubles.

He was just trying out another method to have Natalie stay by his side?

But...

“Winter is coming soon after the rainy season ends. Isn’t it too dangerous for you two to go finding the antidote now?” Gu Mengmeng was rather worried. Peter might be a fifth-level beast with plenty of battle experience. But even the most powerful beast was just an insignificant speck in the great outdoors. How could he alone overcome the harsh chills and food shortage that the winter season would bring? Setting off at this time was not the wisest decision.

Natalie’s eyes shone with bitterness. “I know it will be tough. But I wish to quickly get the antidote. Only by saving Chixuan will I even gain the right to say sorry...”

Natalie’s gaze drifted over to Elvis again only to see that he was completely unmoved. It would be untruthful to say she was not disappointed by Elvis’ total disregard of Peter and her, but given Elvis’ childhood experiences, it was not unreasonable for him to refuse to forgive her. She needed a chance to make amends. She needed to do something for Elvis, so that she would not die from a heart wrecked by guilt.

Peter knew this, and was willing to go along with her on this fool’s errand.

Since he would be by her side, he could conjure up whatever facts he wanted regarding the so-called antidote. He naturally had his own ways to make her follow him, and navigate within a safe boundary that would also satisfy her needs.

Gu Mengmeng didn’t say anything more. After all, this was their own domestic affair. They had the right to decide how to live their own lives. She had already done all she could.

At noon, Gu Mengmeng and company, as well as Natalie and Peter left the stray beast camp together. They parted ways at the spot where Peter had attacked them for the Kiss of the Ocean.

Before separating, Gu Mengmeng suddenly placed her hand on Elvis’ shoulder. Frowning, she turned to look at Peter. “Previously, Elvis suffered a serious injury to his shoulder. Was it you who bit him?”

Peter froze as he instinctively turned to look at Natalie. As expected, he was met by a pair of fuming eyes.

Without thinking, Peter shook his head vigorously. But Gu Mengmeng didn't give him any chance to defend himself. "Elvis is a fifth-level beast. I don't believe that apart you, there is any other beast here who could injure him in this way..."

Chapter 839

Chapter 839: Cole Said Something That Was Quite True

Natalie's eyes turned red as tears brimmed in them. She cast an aching glance at Elvis' shoulder. Although it had healed completely such that not even a single teeth mark remained, Natalie seemed able to conjure up the image of the wound.

Clenching her fists, Natalie turned and ran off.

Peter glared at Gu Mengmeng but she just shrugged. "She'll run off if you don't give chase."

Peter gave a vicious swing of his fist before running off after Natalie without turning back. Gu Mengmeng crossed her arms as she watched Peter try to explain himself to Natalie as she pouted. Only after the two disappeared into the horizon did Gu Mengmeng finally leaned into Elvis and say, "Let's go back to Saint Nazaire."

Elvis didn't say a word but just carried Gu Mengmeng steadily towards Saint Nazaire.

Lea reached out to poke Gu Mengmeng's little face. "Smiling so happily?"

Gu Mengmeng had wanted to hide her amusement but couldn't control herself after being exposed by Lea. Her shoulders shook with laughter. "Acting as matchmaker to my own parents-in-law, I think I am the first in history to do so. I can rightfully claim the title to most filial daughter-in-law, right?"

Lea raised one brow. "I don't get it. Are you trying to bring them together or drive them apart?"

Gu Mengmeng leaned against Elvis' shoulder and chuckled. "In this world, no one else is more true to Natalie than Peter. He is the best candidate to take good care of Natalie. But he had bullied my hubby so I can't let him have too comfortable a life."

Elvis bent down and kissed Gu Mengmeng's little head. "So you are helping to avenge me?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded as she admitted to it magnanimously.

Elvis smiled as he gazed at her with eyes full of warmth. Raising his eyebrows, he said, "With my character, this level of revenge is too gentle. But... since you are the instigator, I feel very blessed. Yeah, take it that I have been avenged. I won't pursue those past matters anymore."

Actually, Gu Mengmeng didn't mean it that way.

She didn't do that with the expectation of Elvis forgiving him. After all, the things which Peter did in the past was way too cruel and beyond reason.

In Gu Mengmeng's heart, even killing Peter a hundred times would not relieve him of his sins. But she hadn't punished him as she didn't want to take matters into her own hands. She wanted to leave the final decision and the right to do so to Elvis. No matter how he chose to seek revenge, she would stand by him and support him without any qualms.

Her little prank was just to bring some trouble to Peter, like paying off part of the interest.

But if Elvis was willing to give up his desire for revenge over that bit of sweetness she brought him, this was the best outcome for Gu Mengmeng.

She didn't care what happened to Peter. She cared about Elvis.

Forgiving Peter was just a way for Elvis to gain release.

A heart was only so big. If it was used to store all sorts of hatred and thoughts of revenge, where to put the love?

And to Elvis, his hatred towards Peter had already been so diluted that he never even thought about it. As a male, especially after knowing Gu Mengmeng, Elvis was even starting to understand Peter's insanity.

Cole said something that was quite true. If Mengmeng were to leave him one day... he might do things that were more degenerate, more cruel and more insane than anyone else.

Chapter 840

Chapter 840: Empty Nester

If one word of forgiveness could set Gu Mengmeng's heart at ease, then he would say it.

Whether it was Peter, Natalie or anyone else, as long as it was someone whom Mengmeng wanted him to forgive, he would do so.

Although he really no longer cared about things such as a mother's love, if Mengmeng felt that he would be happier if Natalie lived on, then he would look happy for her.

Anyway, he was willing to do anything to bring joy to Gu Mengmeng.

Moreover, seeing her so concerned over him, how could he not be happy?

"It will be a tedious journey back. Do you want to go have a chat with the Beast Deity?" Elvis suggested.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. "I prefer to chat with you two."

Would Elvis ever not want to have Gu Mengmeng accompanying him? It was just that Gu Mengmeng was always in such a good mood after her visits to the Beast Deity. Although he felt lonely whenever she was in deep sleep, he always wanted more happiness for her.

Wabei looked at Gu Mengmeng resentfully. "Why don't you just go visit him... we can travel much faster when you are asleep. If we continue at this pace, I will have become a dried snake by the time we reach Saint Nazaire..."

Gu Mengmeng knew Wabei was speaking the truth, but she also knew... he was just worried that Snakel would be too lonely, and wanted her to go accompany him.

But Wabei obviously didn't know that she was unable to communicate with Snakel whenever she was with the Beast Deity. She could only watch him interact with her other self through a heavenly screen.

But as she observed Wabei's skin become increasingly dry and dull, Gu Mengmeng felt rather sorry.

Just to retrieve the Kiss of the Ocean, they had dragged him up here even though it was obviously an unsuitable time of the year for him.

If visiting the Beast Deity to watch another drama episode would make Wabei a little more comfortable, then she would go.

Gu Mengmeng took a breath and said. "Alright, so as to not be a burden to everyone, I will go accompany my dear old dad after lunch."

With that, Wabei promptly started behaving like he had been possessed by Auretin's spirit, constantly obsessing over lunch. Under Wabei's various threats and enticements, their lunchtime was brought forward by two whole hours.

But after Gu Mengmeng finally finished eating and was preparing to nestle in Elvis' arms to sleep, Wabei started fidgeting awkwardly beside her. He coughed. "Could you ask the great Beast Deity, if he could also send me over..."

This was already the second time Wabei broached this request to Gu Mengmeng. It seemed like he wasn't asking on impulse, but had truly put in much thought to this matter.

Gu Mengmeng didn't wish to give Wabei false hope only to disappoint him, and so didn't answer. She just patted his shoulder without a word, before snuggling into Elvis' embrace and shutting her eyes.

The white mist following sleep gathered around. This feeling was quite wondrous. She didn't know how the Beast Deity always managed to know when she wished to see him. This didn't happen during her usual slumbers. But whenever she fell asleep with thoughts of meeting the Beast Deity, she would definitely meet him. To say it was a coincidence... things couldn't be that coincidental.

In the message left behind by Wang Xiaoxin, he clearly said that only when she had committed any grievously wrong actions, would the Beast Deity appear in her dreams to guide her...

“Daughter, you have come back.” The Beast Deity smiled benevolently. His 29-year-old-face speaking the words of an old man—Gu Mengmeng was already numb towards that contradictory and weird image.

Chapter 841

Chapter 841: Our Child Is Truly Capable

Gu Mengmeng smiled sweetly. “Daddy, I need to ask you something on behalf of a friend.”

The Beast Deity didn’t continue Gu Mengmeng’s line of conversation but just pulled her wrist towards the white mist. “Let me show you something first.”

“Mmm?” Gu Mengmeng knew the Beast Deity just didn’t want to respond to Wabei’s query. Otherwise, he wouldn’t have interrupted so obviously. Hence, Gu Mengmeng didn’t pursue it, but just let the Beast Deity change the topic.

“Look...” The Beast Deity behaved like a little kid presenting a treasure. He gently parted the white mist, revealing a piece of grassland of about two square meters. It was a very small piece of land but appeared exceptionally precious within the fog.

A two-seated bench was placed upon the green grass. Made of wood, it looked just like one of those public park benches, but more exquisitely crafted. It looked very natural and its back was made of entwined rattan canes. It was just a tiny area but Gu Mengmeng could smell the refreshing scent of greenery, which made one’s heart feel gladdened.

Taking in Gu Mengmeng’s reaction, the Beast World smiled satisfactorily. “The contributions you have brought to the Beast World will be reflected here. And all these will become your power.”

Gu Mengmeng looked at the Beast Deity with a befuddled expression. She had no idea what he was saying.

The Beast Deity cleared his throat. “I told you before that every Messenger of the Beast Deity transported to the Beast World has their own special mission. Wang Xiaoxin’s main mission was faith, while yours is hope.”

“I had thought that hope was like a seed, which would slowly grow into a huge tree over time. But I never expected... it would be like that. Haha, my good daughter, you really surprised me. Yes, as lush as a tree can be, how can it compare to a great grassland? If we want to talk about hope, it should be an endless grassland full of life.”

Gu Mengmeng held her cheek as she pointed at the tiny patch of grass. “So how did this thing appear? What did I do to get this?”

“You brought hope to someone else, and so gathered some power for yourself.” The Beast Deity smiled kindly. The expression on his face said “Our child is truly capable”. That bizarre sense of accomplishment and pride had Gu Mengmeng feeling very uncomfortable.

When a person who was not that much older than you looked at you like a father gazing upon his daughter, it felt like a violation of sorts.

“Hope?” Gu Mengmeng lowered her head. She tried her best to avoid looking at the Beast Deity’s face as she pondered.

This grass patch wasn’t here the previous time she came.

And only two things happened since then: The merger of the Mermaid Tribe and the Giant Fish Tribe to create the new Bridges Tribe; as well as the reconciliation of Natalie and Peter.

The second incident was just a personal matter. Gu Mengmeng had already performed so many similar matchmaking efforts. Those worth mentioning included Sandy and Collin, as well as Carter and Melinda. If bringing couples together counted as bringing hope and would help accumulate power, then why the need for her to be the Messenger of the Beast Deity? She might as well have become a matchmaker and opened a matchmaking agency.

Hence, did the so-called hope referred to the merger between the two tribes?

She had just wanted to bring Carter and Melinda together, and at the same time help those 20-plus stragglers find a sense of belonging. She never thought she would get such an unexpected reward.

Chapter 842

Chapter 842: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

The Beast Deity sat down first on the bench and propped his chin on his palm. He looked up and asked, “Daughter, do you wish to return to your former world?”

Gu Mengmeng froze, before gradually relaxing. “Does it matter what I wish? I will never be so crazy as to use my own child to activate the doors of time and space.”

The Beast Deity smiled thoughtfully. “If I tell you that when the white mist here dissipates, when your grassland of hope is completely filled—the doors of time and space will appear. What will you do then?”

Gu Mengmeng frowned as her heart constricted. She pressed her lips into a thin line as she looked at the Beast Deity guardedly.

Observing Gu Mengmeng’s expression, the Beast Deity already knew her answer. He didn’t say anything but just patted the seat beside him. “Come, sit here and watch the movie with me.”

Gu Mengmeng sat down beside the Beast Deity, but before he could raise his hands to part the white fog, she grabbed his wrist. “Can I choose not to enter when the doors of time and space is opened?”

The Beast Deity’s smile was as warm as the morning sun. He gently placed his hand on Gu Mengmeng’s little head, which was infused with the power of fatherly love. “You are the daughter of the Beast Deity. No one can force you to do anything you don’t wish to do. Even me... I am no exception. After all, there has never been any parent who was able to triumph over their own child.”

Gu Mengmeng knew that the Beast Deity never lied.

So if he was saying this, it must be so.

With her heart set at ease, Gu Mengmeng smiled. “If you dare to lie to me, no one will ever come back to watch teenage idol romance television series with you anymore.”

“Mmm.” The Beast Deity replied simply. He then drew back his hand and parted the white fog. The surroundings turned quiet and a screen appeared before them, as if it was a looking-glass into another world. A strange, yet familiar scene presented itself before Gu Mengmeng.

Snakel was sitting behind a work desk, his long, slender legs casually sprawled on the floor. Arms akimbo, he glanced at the crystal nameplate on the desk: CEO Snakel.

Gu Mengmeng’s eyes widened as she followed Snakel’s gaze towards that nameplate, before looking back at Snakel with an ambiguous expression. After half a second’s hesitation, she dashed towards Snakel and bowed down low. “Greetings, CEO!”

“Pfft...” Snakel couldn’t help but laugh.

This fellow always managed to astonish him.

Regardless it was here or over there, she always managed to give him an unexpected surprise. He was almost never able to guess what kind of reaction she would have. In addition... she always behaved in a manner which he liked better than what he imagined.

“Just like that?” Snakel raised one finger with dissatisfaction. He gave Gu Mengmeng’s work pass a couple of taps. “Am I such an easily pacified boss in your eyes? Mmm?”

“No, no. “Gu Mengmeng shook her head.

Snakel raised one brow. “So you find me hard to please?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head with increased vigor. “No, no!”

Snakel gently pinched Gu Mengmeng's chin. "Stop shaking, you are making me dizzy."

Unable to move from being pinched, Gu Mengmeng replied. "I won't shake, I won't shake."

Snakel's gaze was always warm and amiable when it was upon Gu Mengmeng. Thinking of how she was his from now on, his heart was filled with exceptional joy.

Chapter 843

Chapter 843: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Snakel especially enjoyed teasing her, and watching her panicky manner. He felt as if mild electrical currents were traveling down from his fingertips to the rest of his body, making him feel a pleasant, numbing sensation.

“So, in your eyes, what kind of person am I? Mmm?”

Gu Mengmeng stared blankly at Snakel as she thought: If I tell my boss that he is a pervert on my first day of work... would I be fired?

Snakel narrowed his eyes, as if seeing through Gu Mengmeng’s inner thoughts. He added. “If I am not happy, you will be fired for ‘not being up to the task’. You will also need to pay a compensation fee of a hundred times your salary.”

“Eh?!” Gu Mengmeng was stunned.

Snakel laughed with a wicked cheerfulness. “There are two copies of the employment contract. You should have one copy with you right? Turn to page seven, paragraph nine, line four. See?”

Gu Mengmeng immediately took out her employment contract and flipped to the designated page. There was really such a clause...

If she could not fulfill her job requirements within the contracted period, she would need to pay a compensation fee of a hundred times her salary.

A monthly salary of $4,500, so a hundred times would be...$450,000?!

“As a ‘personal’ special assistant, your foremost duty is to please your boss.” Snakel reminded her pleasantly. Of course, if not for the fact he had purposely emphasized the word “personal”, his sentence would have sounded very amiable indeed.

“So, now that you have taken a look at your own employment contract, please consider your words carefully. Answer me... what kind of person am I in your eyes? Mmm?”

Gu Mengmeng tore her gaze from her contract and looked at Snakel. She gave a forced smile that looked like a grimace. In her eyes, Snakel looked like a huge IOU with the figure of $450,000.

A figure which she could not afford to offend...

For the sake of the job, her conscience and what not... she could do away with such things!

“Boss is the world’s most sacred and indomitable presence, who fills my heart with awe. My respect for you is like the overflowing waters of an endless great river, limitless and impossible to restrain...”

Snakel jabbed the center of Gu Mengmeng’s brow, interrupting the grandeur praises she had learned from television series.

“Ah Kel, Senior, Darling. Choose one.”

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head blankly, totally uncomprehending.

“I don’t wish for my identity to be exposed in school, and attract unnecessary troubles. So you cannot call me boss.” Snakel’s explanation was very logical, but actually... he just didn’t like her addressing him like how she did the others.

Ah Kel... was too intimate. Gu Mengmeng felt that she and Snakel had not reached that level of familiarity.

And forget darling. She was not a fawning sales lady, who would call just about anyone darling.

So...

“Senior.” Gu Mengmeng smiled at having accomplished her first task at this bizarre job.

Snakel looked rather dissatisfied and he raised one brow. “Why not Ah Kel or darling?”

Gu Mengmeng laughed awkwardly. “Aren’t we still going to be hanging out at school? So calling you senior would be more natural.”

Snakel grudgingly accepted Gu Mengmeng’s explanation. He nodded before dragging her by her wrist towards the outside.

“Where are we going?” Gu Mengmeng followed Snakel at a trot.

The dedicated lift was still waiting and Snakel stepped into it without a need to break his stride. Right after he stepped in, Snakel turned around without warning and Gu Mengmeng crashed into his arms. Snakel’s eyes glinted slyly and with a trace of ambiguity. He tilted his head and whispered in her ear, “I am bringing you to take a look at your ‘dormitory’.”

Chapter 844 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 844: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

The so-called dormitory was a three-story-high, standalone villa, located in between school and MonSir. Gu Mengmeng stood gaping at the entrance.

“What?” Snakel asked with amusement. He used his body to hold the door open as he turned around to look at Gu Mengmeng, still standing in a daze outside.

Gu Mengmeng snapped out of her trance. “I have had many jobs and stayed at many staff quarters. But none of them looked like this... I am someone who have graduated from elementary school, you can’t deceive me.”

Snakel chuckled. Of course he knew what jobs she had previously held and which staff quarters she had stayed. He even knew all about the family histories of her past roommates.

“So?” Snakel asked lightly.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and took a step back. “This is definitely not a workers’ dormitory. I am not going in.”

Snakel wrinkled his brows at Gu Mengmeng’s guarded look. He didn’t like her distant manner. His Twomeng should be smiling guilelessly.

“This is your dormitory. This is the only place for you to live.” Snakel’s tone had turned slightly chilly.

Gu Mengmeng asked, “Are there any other employees living here?”

Snakel took a deep breath and nodded.

Gu Mengmeng only half-believed him. She knew that MonSir was a major, multinational corporation, and would offer good benefits. But it couldn't be as good as offering a villa for a workers' dormitory, right?

Snakel gritted his teeth. "Page seven, paragraph nine, line four..."

Gu Mengmeng's head went numb. She dashed in without another word.

Evil capitalism!

Making use of money again!

But what could she do? She could only blame herself for not reading the contract closely before signing it. Who knew that when the sky rained donuts, it would be a trap...

She was the one who had sold herself away. Who else could she blame?

She didn't have anywhere to stay, and wasn't even sure where her next meal was coming from. Where to get $450,000 to compensate MonSir for violating her contract terms?

Snakel looked rather exasperated. She had obediently submitted, but only because of money, and not because of him...

If that girl saved enough money one day to pay the compensation fee, would she just throw the cash at him and leave?

One hundred times... was that too little? He should have put 10,000 times, no, one hundred million times.

But, why did he feel so disturbed at the thought of her remaining by his side just because she couldn't pay the compensation fee?!

Gu Mengmeng surveyed the interior of the villa. This was definitely not how a dormitory should look like. Every detail was suffused with luxury. Gu Mengmeng felt that the doormat at the entrance was worth even more than her one-month's salary.

“Didn’t you say that there are other employees living her? Where are they?”
Gu Mengmeng turned around to ask Snakel.

Snakel rested his hand casually on Gu Mengmeng’s shoulder and said, “I am the CEO of MonSir. Although I am the boss... I am also an employee.”

Gu Mengmeng felt as if she had been struck by lightning and froze on the spot.

Snakel led her in and sat down on the couch. He pulled her into his lap.

As she fell, Gu Mengmeng snapped out of her reverie and struggled to stand up. “I might be broke but I object to all forms of immoral transactions. If you must use that employment contract to sue me for violating the terms, go ahead and sue... I rather sit in jail than sell myself.”

Snakel quietly listened to Gu Mengmeng’s red-faced proclamations before asking, “What immoral transactions are you referring to...?”

Chapter 845 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 845: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Gu Mengmeng's face flushed. "Whatever thoughts you are thinking now, they are all immoral transactions!"

Snakel nodded as if realization had dawned upon him. He said thoughtfully, "So cooking is an immoral transaction... so you intend to receive the salary of a 'special assistant' but are unwilling to do any work, is that it?"

"Cooking?" Gu Mengmeng was stunned.

Snakel nodded. "Otherwise, what did you think I wanted?"

Gu Mengmeng's face turned even redder. She really wished to just bash her head against the wall and die right then.

Who was he? The reputable CEO of MonSir! There are countless people out there who would die for the chance to have the slightest bit of contact with him. Just take a look at his dashing manner at S College—he just needed to hold open one arm and all the prettiest girls in school would instantly pounce onto him.

Would such a person need to stoop so low with her?!

Tsk, she had been thinking too much.

A one-sided way of thinking was something that could be pretty embarrassing.

But Gu Mengmeng was rather thick-skinned. She was used to embarrassment.

Gu Mengmeng asked with a laugh, “So what does senior want to eat? I will make it for you.”

Snakel gestured at the spacious kitchen with his chin. “Anything, I am not fussy and can eat anything.”

“Got it...” This was a piece of good news. Gu Mengmeng immediately headed for the kitchen.

Opening the three-door refrigerator, she found it well-stocked, with the items arranged in an orderly manner. It was the kind of neatness that someone with obsessive-compulsive disorder would find comfort in.

Gu Mengmeng retrieved some ingredients and made a simple meal of minced meat with asparagus, stir-fried egg with tomato, steamed mandarin fish and bean sprout soup.

“Three dishes and one soup, reminds one of home.” After Gu Mengmeng set the table, she went to take off her apron and set it neatly at the side. When she returned to the dining table, Snakel was already seated there, but had yet to take up his chopsticks. He just watched her quietly, obviously waiting for her to join him.

How long had it been since someone had waited for her to partake in a meal? Gu Mengmeng felt inexplicably moved.

Sitting opposite Snakel, Gu Mengmeng picked up a piece of fish and placed it in Snakel’s bowl. “Senior, try this fish. See if you like it.”

Snakel smiled warmly. “I like it.” Only then did he place the fish in his mouth.

Gu Mengmeng grunted. “Humoring me. Saying you like it even before tasting it?”

Snakel’s gaze lingered over Gu Mengmeng. “I will like whatever you give me.”

Gu Mengmeng choked on her rice and she coughed violently. Turning red, no one knew whether it was because of her coughing or because she was embarrassed. She waved. “Eat, eat. We shouldn’t talk while eating.”

Snakel didn’t say anything more but just quietly started eat.

They finished everything, with not even a scrap left.

Snakel stood at the kitchen doorway, watching Gu Mengmeng washing dishes at the sink. An unprecedented sense of warmth and bliss surfaced in his eyes.

Twomeng, so this is how it feels to have you in my life.

Although this is just the first day, I am already... addicted.

Gu Mengmeng finished the dishes and wiped her hands dry. She turned and was startled to see Snakel standing there. “What are you standing there for?”

Snakel pulled Gu Mengmeng by the wrist and led her to the second floor. He pushed open the door to a room. “There, your room.”

“Mi... mine?” Gu Mengmeng pointed at her own nose in disbelief.

Chapter 846 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 846: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Snakel chuckled. He inched closer to Gu Mengmeng and only paused when his lips were nearly touching the tip of her nose. “Of course, if you don’t like it... you can also stay in my room. I don’t mind.”

“I mind!” Gu Mengmeng said as she stepped into the room. She slammed the door shut.

Snakel narrowed his eyes at the door that was right in front of his nose...

If he had her staying with him right from the start, she would definitely run off. That was why he had prepared this room for her.

But...

He preferred those days in the cave. Being able to see her whenever he looked up always put him in a good mood.

The more he thought about that, the more of an eyesore that door had become.

Meanwhile, on the other side of the door, Gu Mengmeng clutched at her racing heart as she squatted down on the floor. She took several deep breaths.

He was flirting with her, right?!

Gu Mengmeng dashed into the bathroom and washed her face with some cold water to cool down.

As she patted her own face, she reminded herself to keep a clear head. Although there was no need to talk about social status in marriages during these modern times, the gap between the two of them was as wide as the Milky Way. She should put a stop to any such unbecoming, romantic thoughts right from the start. After all, it was not easy being a Romeo and Juliet.

Sitting back on the bed, Gu Mengmeng took out the thick employment contract from her backpack. She read through it carefully.

Only then did she discover that the first three pages contained your standard clauses, but from page four onwards, the content became very strange.

Gu Mengmeng's head swelled as she read on. She felt as if she hadn't entered into an employment contract—she had more or less sold herself into slavery.

Gu Mengmeng felt that even the junior maids in the ancient times had more rights than her.

Taking care of the CEO's three meals and other daily necessities. Everything must be arranged to the CEO's liking. Any task instructed by the CEO must be accomplished properly without any questions. Not allowed to leave her post under any circumstances. Not allowed to do anything that was not permitted by the CEO...

What did it mean not allowed to do anything not permitted by the CEO?

After that was the most wicked clause of all...

Page seven, paragraph nine, line four...

Gu Mengmeng flung herself onto the bed and hollered. "Evil capitalism!

Knock knock.

Someone was knocking on the door. Gu Mengmeng immediately knew who it was.

Slapping herself lightly, she gazed at the terrible, rights-forfeiting clause. Taking a deep breath, Gu Mengmeng plastered on a smile as she opened the door. “Senior, what can I help you with?”

Snakel’s gloomy mood, which was caused by that damn door, was instantly dispelled by Gu Mengmeng’s obviously ingratiating smile.

He walked into Gu Mengmeng’s room and entered the bathroom.

Gu Mengmeng stared in shock as Snakel walked into the toilet, completely speechless the entire time...

Don’t tell me you have come to use my toilet. Is there only one toilet in this entire villa?

“Twomeng, come over here.” Snakel popped his head out of the bathroom door.

Gu Mengmeng didn’t know why Snakel called her Twomeng. But there were only the two of them here. Unless Snakel could see something that she couldn’t, he must be calling her.

Casting another look at the contract lying on the bed, Gu Mengmeng smiled a $450,000-smile. “Coming...”

Chapter 847 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 847: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

“Help me shave.” Snakel handed a razor in all seriousness to Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng took the razor with a confused expression. She had never handled such an item in her entire life. It looked rather sharp. What if she cut him... how much would she have to compensate him?

“Unwilling?” Snakel gazed at her coolly with lowered lids.

Gu Mengmeng could almost sense that he was going to bring out that page seven, paragraph nine, line four clause again...

“No, no. It’s just that you are too tall. I can’t reach.” Gu Mengmeng made a quick calculation. Actually, she could reach him, but only if she put in some effort.

Snakel wrapped his large hands around Gu Mengmeng’s waist and lifted her up onto the sink counter.

Snakel placed his strong, lean waist between Gu Mengmeng’s two legs and leaned forward. “There, this height is just right.”

Gu Mengmeng instinctively pushed Snakel away. “No, no, no. Senior, don’t lean in so close to me.”

Snakel chuckled, as if he didn’t understand Gu Mengmeng’s shyness. “How will you shave me if I don’t lean in closer?”

Gu Mengmeng was so flustered that her breathing had become uneven. She said in a small voice. “Well... senior, I don’t really know how to use a razor. Why don't..."

"Shall I teach you? Mmm?" Snakel wrapped Gu Mengmeng's little hand in his, and maneuvered the razor over his face. The white foam was neatly shaved away, revealing a wickedly seductive face just inches away from Gu Mengmeng's eyes.

"Is this your first time helping a man shave?" Snakel asked even though he knew the answer.

Gu Mengmeng nodded with a red face.

"Good girl." Snakel pecked her on the forehead. He then moved back and threw the razor into the sink. After washing his face, he pulled Gu Mengmeng's hand over and poured toner into it. He then stuck out his face and peered at Gu Mengmeng from squinted eyes.

Gu Mengmeng's blushed deepened.

She knew he was asking her to help him put toner on his face. But why did he look like he was asking for a kiss?!

Clearing her throat, Gu Mengmeng instinctively moved backwards before patting the toner evenly across his face. Her movements were slow and gentle. She could feel the warmth of his skin against her palm from every pat.

Heart racing, Gu Mengmeng felt that her heart would leap out of her throat if she just parted her lips.

Meanwhile, Snakel just maintained a mild smile throughout. After the toner, she also had to apply facial essence and facial cream for him. Some time later, he finally lifted Gu Mengmeng off the sink counter and led her by the hand outside.

"Eh, where are we going again?" Gu Mengmeng followed clumsily behind Snakel.

Snakel chuckled. "We are going to shop for some clothes for you."

Gu Mengmeng said, “No need. I don’t lack for any clothing.”

Snakel halted and turned back. He lifted Gu Mengmeng’s chin and looked down at her. “You lack the clothes I am buying for you.”

Gu Mengmeng pressed down on her own heart with her one free hand. Damn! What a cliché line!

Snakel was amused by Gu Mengmeng’s small action. He enjoyed every moment that her heart jumped for him.

Without another word, he shoved Gu Mengmeng into his sports car. When the car finally came to a stop, it was outside S City’s most exclusive shopping mall. It had already been cleared of the crowds half an hour ago, as the most senior executives all stood neatly by the door to welcome Snakel’s arrival.

Chapter 848 - We Have Always Been Different People

Chapter 848: We Have Always Been Different People

The white mist gradually thickened and that family theater-sized screen was once again covered up.

Gu Mengmeng stood up and stretched out lazily. She turned to look at the Beast Deity. “Closing off the entire mall to go shopping... tsk tsk tsk. That Snakel is behaving in such a nouveau riche manner.”

The Beast Deity laughed. “That’s because he also has your memories. He knew you especially liked to read those novels with domineering CEO characters. So he memorized all those passages which you liked, and used the past 18 years to construct each and every scenario, just waiting to make each scene a dream come true for you after meeting you.”

“Novels with domineering CEO characters... haha I don’t even remember that myself.” Gu Mengmeng chuckled with her head lowered. She had indeed been a novel fanatic. She often spent her free time reading all sorts novels with domineering CEO characters. But since being transported to the Beast World, she no longer thought about the contents or passages of those novels.

But Snakel, who now possessed her memories, had remembered every single detail in her mind, even those that she herself had forgotten.

To him, every second spent waiting for her was long and torturous. He needed to do something related to her so as to calm the wild thoughts racing through his mind. Otherwise... ha, he might have just rushed into a certain hospital and kidnapped a certain newborn baby girl.

But if he did that, he would have just gotten someone who looked like Gu Mengmeng. A Gu Mengmeng without her own unique life experiences and memories would not be a complete Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng no longer inquired after Snakel's matters, and didn't mention Wabei's request to send him over again. She just shifted her gaze and asked about something else, "Stray beasts... will they have the chance to become partners?"

The Beast Deity rose and stood beside Gu Mengmeng. "Do you mean Elvis' parents?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded. She did not deny it.

The Beast Deity's eye held a profound glint. "You are not angry even though you know what they did to Elvis? You still want to help them?"

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. "It's not that I am not angry. But compared to my anger, my heart aches for my man even more. It might not be a strange thing to kill one's parents in the Beast World, but it is still an overly-depressing act in my world. I don't wish for my man to be burdened by such a nightmare. Moreover..."

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head and chuckled. "Lea's parents are already dead. My parents... are not worth mentioning. If I could, I wish to give Elvis a happy and complete family. It is a selfish act on my part... but a sincere one."

After keeping silent for a second, the Beast Deity suddenly smiled and caressed Gu Mengmeng head. "You know what? You are really quite different from Wang Xiaoxin."

Gu Mengmeng possessed Snakel's memories of his own father. As a result, she had a good understanding of Wang Xiaoxin's way of doing things.

He ruled with an iron fist and set down clear rules for reward and punishment. The main theme behind his rule was "An eye for an eye, tooth for a tooth. If we repaid enmity with kindness, what can we repay kindness with?”

Gu Mengmeng couldn't say that Wang Xiaoxin's method was completely wrong. But everyone had their own way of living. Everyone had their own compulsions.

Wang Xiaoxin had fought desperately to “go back”, while she persevered to create a “family”.

Gu Mengmeng smiled. “We have always been different people. In this world, everyone is unique, isn't that so?”

The Beast Deity nodded. “It's not impossible for stray beasts to regain the right to be partners. But it is very difficult to do so. The criteria are extremely stringent.”

Chapter 849

Chapter 849: Since I Can't Be A White Lotus, I'll Be A Lotus Root

The Beast Deity came close and whispered the method into Gu Mengmeng's ear.

Gu Mengmeng nodded. Without saying a word, she turned and left.

The Beast Deity watched her back profile with a smile. Only after she disappeared into the thick mist did he say in a mild manner, "Remember to come back again to accompany your father to watch television..."

Gu Mengmeng opened her eyes and had a moment of panic before composing herself. She then realized that she was already back home at Saint Nazaire.

Elvis and Lea were not around, and the one guarding her was Wabei instead.

This was very strange. With the temperament of those two fellows, would they actually allow a single male to be alone with her?

Frowning, Gu Mengmeng asked, "What happened?"

Wabei opened his eyes and subconsciously avoided Gu Mengmeng's gaze. "Nothing."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. "My mental age is older than you by over 200 years. You are still too inexperienced to tell a lie in front of me."

Wabei looked up. "Something did happen. But I don't feel like telling you. Ask your own males when they return."

Gu Mengmeng was suddenly choked speechless. Yes, Wabei took good care of her, but she knew he was just doing so entirely for Snakel's sake. Did any friendship exist between them? Wabei was not Elvis or Lea. He was not even a member of the Saint Nazaire tribe. He really had no obligation to her.

Ha, perhaps she had been the Beast Deity for too long. Had she become too used to that sense of entitlement where she felt everyone should always listen to her?

Shocked at the discovery that she had picked up a most nasty habit after arriving at the Beast World, Gu Mengmeng lowered her eyes as she fell into deep thought.

Seeing her in this manner, Wabei couldn't maintain his stubbornness. "Hey, are you that petty? Behaving like that just because I talked back at you?"

Gu Mengmeng shook her head with a faint smile. "No, I just realized that I can't become a white lotus, and feel a bit despondent."

Wabei wrinkled his brows in confusion.

Gu Mengmeng explained. "A white lotus is someone who is completely pure and uncorrupted. But I... ha, have taken a tumble on the ground and is now covered in dirt. Never mind, since I can't be a white lotus, I'll be a lotus root."

"What nonsense are you spouting." Wabei snorted before shaking his head in disdain. He didn't continue that conversation but just put on a nonchalant face. "So... did you ask about sending me over to Snakel?"

Gu Mengmeng thought about it. She had asked but the Beast Deity refused to answer.

The Beast Deity would have directly told her if it was not possible.

So it should be possible, but might need certain elements to succeed—and the right time to do it had yet to come, so she shouldn't disclose it, right?

Gu Mengmeng took a deep breath and nodded seriously at Wabei. “I asked, but...”

“When can I be sent over to see him?” Wabei’s eyes brightened. He looked as if someone had given him an energy shot as his lethargic manner was instantly dispelled. This made his earlier nonchalant act look somewhat comical, but Gu Mengmeng had no intention of making a sarcastic remark at that.

After all, the yearning for someone whom you had spent over 800 year with—how deep and pressing it must be?

She shook her head. “Heaven’s secrets cannot be revealed, but... at least there is a chance.”

“Speak in simple terms!” Wabei hollered.

Gu Mengmeng was startled by his shout. Since being transported here, no one had shouted at her like that. Even Snakel had not done that.

She suddenly smiled. Who said there was no friendship between her and Wabei? Wabei was that one friend by her side who had no obligation towards her.

Chapter 850

Chapter 850: I Treat You As A Friend While You Take Me For A Pervert?!

He didn't love her and would never love her. He had no ulterior motives towards her, but was linked to her by Snakel.

It didn't matter who he was doing it for, the fact that Wabei would go through boiling water and tread over fire for her was indisputable, wasn't it?

Wabei's hairs stood on end from being stared at by Gu Mengmeng in that manner. He smacked the side of her head with a frown. "What the shit are you smiling at?!"

Gu Mengmeng shrugged. "I am smiling at you, so you are... shit?"

Exasperated, Wabei rolled his eyes. "I really can't understand why he likes you? There's really something wrong with his taste in women."

Gu Mengmeng lifted her chin. "Your former partner is Ellie—doesn't look like your taste is any better than Snakel's."

Wabei snorted scornfully. "What partner? She is just a tool for me to be promoted. She is useful to me, nothing to do with me liking her. That is not proof of my taste."

Gu Mengmeng smiled knowingly. "Then tell me, what kind of females do you like? I can help introduce some females to you next time."

Wabei clicked his tongue. "No way. Females are all troublesome creatures. Don't do unnecessary things and impede my progress."

Gu Mengmeng laughed out loud. "So you do like Snakel?"

After being stunned for a second, Wabei hollered in rage. “I treat you as a friend while you take me for a pervert?!”

Gu Mengmeng said in all seriousness, “Eh, you can’t say such things. You are being discriminatory. Everyone has the right to choose their own partner. Some people just happen to prefer people of the same gender. How is that being a pervert?”

Wabei was speechless from Gu Mengmeng’s lecture. He was naturally no match for Gu Mengmeng’s verbal skills. After struggling for a long while, he still didn’t manage to come up with a retort. In the end, he just gave a heavy grunt. It appeared like he was truly angry now.

Gu Mengmeng didn’t provoke him further and just patted his shoulder. “I did ask my father about sending you over, but he avoided the topic. It was obvious he was unwilling to tell me. But don’t worry, I will keep this matter in mind for you. I will help you ask my father again the next time I go back to visit him. Perhaps one day, he might be tired of my questions and tell me.”

Only then did Wabei calm down. He cleared his throat. “If you press him like that... will there be any trouble?”

Gu Mengmeng shrugged. “Who knows? I am not too familiar with him. I have never seen him lose his temper. But at the very least, he won’t kill me... after all, he still wants me to continue watching television with him.”

Wabei nodded. “I will remember that you have done me this favor. Whether or not you succeed, I am grateful to you.”

Gu Mengmeng draped her arm around Wabei’s shoulder with a smile. “We are friends, no need for such formalities.”

Having clarified their standing with each other, Gu Mengmeng and Wabei felt more comfortable in their interactions. But Wabei was still not used to Gu Mengmeng’s sudden change in manner, and wriggled his shoulder uneasily. He frowned after failing to shrug off her hand. “Eh, can you not touch me?”

Gu Mengmeng felt a sense of mischief at seeing Wabei trying to shrink away. She grinned. “Aiya, what’s one hug? You were holding me when we were at the bottom of the ocean, weren’t you?!”

A shocked exclamation resonated inside the cave. Gu Mengmeng looked up into the black faces of Elvis and Lea. Before she could ask them about their whereabouts, she was pulled into Lea’s embrace, after which... Elvis and Wabei started fighting...

Chapter 851

Chapter 851: I Promise To Smack You Into Ecstasy

Gu Mengmeng nestled in Lea's arms to watch the fight, shouting at Elvis to give Wabei a good pounding at one point, before calling for Wabei to sweep Elvis off his feet at another. She was completely not worried, and acted like she was watching a live, wilderness version of WTO.

Looking at her happy manner, it didn't look like anything had happened between Wabei and her.

Such that Elvis and Wabei's fight ended up like an exhibition match. It didn't matter who won or lost, as long as it was exciting.

Gu Mengmeng cheered as she watched, while Elvis and Wabei ended up smiling as they fought.

The two of them silently agreed to hold back. They still dealt injurious blows to each other, but not fatal ones.

When they finally walked towards Gu Mengmeng, it was as if the two of them had not been at each others throats at all.

Lea handed Gu Mengmeng over to Elvis before heading off to prepare their meal.

Wabei took a deep breath. "I am returning to the Snake King valley."

Gu Mengmeng nodded. "Mmm."

Wabei looked in all seriousness at Gu Mengmeng. "It will be winter after the dry season. I can only leave the Snake King valley next year during the monsoon season. So you better behave yourself this winter period, don't go looking for trouble. If someone provokes you, just bear with it... when the monsoon season arrives next year, I will go with you to kill him."

A parting between friends would always make one feel sad.

They didn't feel that way previously. This trip to the deep ocean gave them the chance to know each other and get used to each other's irritating ways. One could not help feeling a sense of reluctance at having to part ways now.

Actually, it was just one winter and not some long-term farewell. But one just felt a little depressed.

Gu Mengmeng sniffed and composed her emotions. She gave a guileless smile and smacked Wabei's shoulder with a laugh. "No way. I am so powerful now. If anyone bullies me, I will beat him up on the spot. Wait for you... tsk, I can't afford to wait."

Wabei also laughed. "What kind of friend are you. Doing fun and exciting things without waiting for me? Having fought only against Snakel for 800 years, I finally realized there is something such as a tag-team battle, and you still refuse to wait for me!"

Gu Mengmeng laughed out loud. She rested one arm on Wabei's shoulder and smiled roguishly. "Don't worry, when the monsoon season arrives next year and you feel bored—I will let Elvis fight with you. If not, there is still me... I promise to smack you into ecstasy. I will beat you until your own mother can't recognize you."

Wabei leaped up and pointed at Gu Mengmeng's nose. "I will go back to cultivate my powers. Next year when the monsoon season arrives, let's see who will beat who into ecstasy!"

Gu Mengmeng raised one eyebrow. "Sure. Cultivate well. Otherwise I might feel dissatisfied with next year's fight."

Wabei straightened himself. "You too."

With that, Wabei walked right out of the cave without turning back. He disappeared from Gu Mengmeng's view.

Gu Mengmeng thought she might have wept a tear or two, but she didn't.

Perhaps Snakel's memories had influenced her emotions? This was the first time Gu Mengmeng experienced a farewell between men. So this was how it felt like.

Deep feelings but without hurt. If there was wine, they would have toasted each other.

After taking a deep breath, Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Elvis. "Where did you and Lea go just now? Did something happen in the tribe?"

Chapter 852

Chapter 852: Hede, His Brothers And Sandy Have All Gone Missing.

Elvis sat behind Gu Mengmeng and gently drew her into his arms. He kissed her hair and said in a voice that was hoarse from fatigue. “When we were at the stray beast camp, Cole led the stray beasts in a surprise attack on Saint Nazaire.”

“What?!” Gu Mengmeng instantly straightened and turned to look at Elvis. “What’s the casualty situation like?”

Elvis shook his head and drew her back into his embrace again. “They were not out for a battle or a murder spree. So only a few members who happened to get in their way were embroiled in a fight. But strangely, they didn’t attack seriously. They just ducked down and escaped. So no one died, and those who were injured have already been treated by Lea. They will fully recover after a few days.”

Striking and escaping?

This was totally unlike the way stray beasts did things.

Weren’t they all always fighting to the death?

If the sneak attack was not for a murder spree, then it must have been to steal something?

But what was in the tribe that could be worth stealing?

Gu Mengmeng frowned as her entire body instinctively tensed.

“Someone... they came to kidnap someone.” Gu Mengmeng clenched her knuckles. Her voice trembled with rage. “The tribe... who is missing?”

Elvis sighed. He really wished Gu Mengmeng could be a little less perceptive. But her present self was just too sharp.

A sharpness that made one's heart ache.

“Hede, his three brothers and Sandy have all gone missing.” Elvis’ voice was full of helplessness. If he could, he didn’t wish to tell Gu Mengmeng about this incident. But he had already promised never to hide anything from her again.

Gu Mengmeng went weak and leaned against Elvis’ chest. She gritted her teeth and said, “As expected... it seems like Cole is really leaving me no choice but to head over to Sauder.”

“Ian has already flown over to Sauder to investigate the situation. We will wait for his return before deciding, alright?” Elvis did not want Gu Mengmeng to act rashly. Especially since the opponent had clearly set a trap, and was just waiting for her to leap in.

Gu Mengmeng nodded and remained unmoving in Elvis’ arms. “I know. You and Lea must have spent the last two days coming up with strategies to counter right? I will not behave rashly again. Acting on impulse... will only make things worse.”

“Mmm.” Elvis finally relaxed. He was really worried that for the sake of those few wolf pups, Gu Mengmeng would just rush over recklessly to fight Cole, to the death. On hearing that she could think so rationally, Elvis’ heart was set at ease. On the other hand, his heart still ached for her.

Other females could behave unreasonably, why did his female have no choice but to be so sensible?

In the end, it was because he was too weak. He was unable to accommodate her limitless power.

He had said he would give her the best of everything, but in the end, she was forced to mature quickly and act sensibly...

“I am sorry.” Elvis’ was full of guilt and hugged Gu Mengmeng even tighter. In a low voice, he whispered gently in Gu Mengmeng’s ear. “Lea and I will definitely settle this matter. Don’t worry, leave it to us.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded. “Mmm, I know. I believe in you two.”

“Thank you for still believing in me.” Elvis took a deep breath, greedily inhaling Gu Mengmeng’s scent. It was as only the mild fragrance of her body could soothe the challenging hardships he would face over the next few days. “I will definitely bring those wolf pups back to you. I will...”

Chapter 853

Chapter 853: Comical Beyond Belief, Beyond Description.

Over the next three days, Gu Mengmeng behaved very calmly. She knew Lea and Elvis were extremely busy making comprehensive preparations.

There was not much left to the rainy season. After last year's experience, members of the tribe have already started stockpiling food for the harsh winter.

16 new females had joined the tribe this year. So the older members of the Saint Nazaire tribe had to teach others the proper way to stockpile food, as well as identity foods that could be stored for longer durations. The tribe was busy as a bee. As a witch doctor, Lea was naturally at the center of the activity. Meanwhile, Elvis was responsible for staying at home to look after Gu Mengmeng.

She could not sleep properly those three days. She was plagued with nightmares every night, even crying out a few times. Unfortunately, she cried out the names of other males. It was always Hede... Chixuan and such.

She was very quiet, achingly quiet.

Elvis was well aware that this quietness was just Gu Mengmeng's way of trying very hard to suppress her own unease. She didn't wish to trouble them, and so endured it alone.

They couldn't just bring Gu Mengmeng over to Sauder without any preparations. So they had to wait for Ian to return with news on Sauder. Only then could they come up with a sound plan to bring Gu Mengmeng over.

But before that, what could they do to lighten Mengmeng's mood?

Early morning, Gu Mengmeng was still lying sleepily in bed when she overheard Elvis and Lea murmuring to each other.

Eyelids still feeling too heavy, Gu Mengmeng kept her eyes shut, but just tilted her ears and listened carefully.

“Are you sure it is like this?” Lea was doubtful.

Elvis replied softly but firmly, “Yeah, I seen it before. It is like this.”

Lea sounded hesitant. “It looks rather strange...”

Elvis kept silent for half a second before saying, “Perhaps... it’s because we don’t know?”

Gu Mengmeng couldn’t understand what they were saying. Anyway, she had already woken up and couldn’t get back to sleep again.

She propped herself up and rubbed her eyes before looking at Elvis and Lea.

Gu Mengmeng, “...”

After a three-second silence, Gu Mengmeng suddenly roared with laughter.

“Hahahahaha...”

Elvis and Lea exchanged looks, feeling rather embarrassed.

They had done this to lift her spirits, but... she was clearly laughing, so why did they feel weird all over instead?

Gu Mengmeng saw her own bikini top on Lea’s body, and her bikini bottom on Elvis. She laughed until her face was red and sprawled on the bed gasping for breath.

Lea’s chest was much wider than a female’s so although it had been worn in the exact same manner which Gu Mengmeng had done so, it completely failed to cover any part of him. The effect was comical beyond belief, beyond description.

Elvis was even worse. The bikini bottom was a thong and could already barely cover a lady's private bits. So with Elvis' dimensions, how could it hold him? He looked as if he was in an SM bondage movie. Everything was tied out of place, while Elvis' manly parts dangled freely...

"Pfft hahaha..." Gu Mengmeng was in tears from laughter, completely unable to straighten herself.

Elvis was worried she would choke to death from laughing and went up to pull her into his embrace. "Laughing so hard? It looks like you really like swim wear very much..."

Chapter 854

Chapter 854: Lose Her Breath From The Laughing

Lea pinched his own nose bridge while placing one hand on Elvis's shoulder, suggesting, "She doesn't look like she likes it.....let's change out of these clothes first or else she will really lose her breath from the laughing.

Elvis nodded before placing Gu Mengmeng, who was in vibrating mode from all the laughing, on the bed. Then, he changed out of the bikini together with Lea into his own beast-skin dress.

When they came back, Gu Mengmeng was still laughing.

Forgive her....

She really could not control her own primitive force of will.

For the whole afternoon, Saint Nazaire's atmosphere was covered with a strange but explosive laughter.

Elvis and Lea face-palmed out of helplessness but could not do anything against Gu Mengmeng's laugh either. They could not step forward to give any comfort because once Gu Mengmeng saw their faces, she would laugh even crazier.

Until her whole body lost all strength, Gu Mengmeng then lied next to the bed weakly, twitching from trying to stop her laughter.

Elvis's heart ached at how hard she was laughing and at how she could not seem to stop. He wanted to make her happier but.....he was not so sure if he had succeeded.

He hugged Gu Mengmeng and patted her back lightly, saying, "I noticed how you were feeling ill at ease these few days so I just wanted to make you happy. I remembered that you said you worshiped the ‘swimwear Prince Charming’ so whenever you saw him, your troubles will all disappear. You also said you admired his focus look when advancing towards his aim with all his might.”

Kissing Gu Mengmeng’s brows, deep affection was written all over in Elvis’s dark blue eyes. He had a self-ridicule smile as he chuckled, “Is it impossible without him? Xiao Meng, I suddenly feel.....jealous.”

“Huh?” Honestly speaking, Gu Mengmeng’s heart became very sensitive by Elvis’s behavior. She did not believe that Elvis was unaware of how comical and funny he looked when wearing the swimming costume.....how embarrassing.

But to please her, he accepted all the shame and still chose to wear that strange costume.

Wasn’t her laughter.....trampling on his good intentions?

He was hurt, right?

Gu Mengmeng hugged Elvis back and rubbed her little face against his chest. She wanted to explain but the next moment, she heard Elvis’s deep, attractive and husky voice above her head, “You’ve a male in your heart that I can never imagine because I had never seen him before....I know that there’s a world in between both of you now and he can’t snatch you away from me but I’m still panicking....Xiao Meng, tell me, what should I do to surpass him in becoming the one you worship the most? Hmm?”

Gu Mengmeng lifted her face to kiss Elvis’s chin. She smiled gently back, “I don’t worship him anymore. When you extended your hand to me in the lake, you became my Prince Charming.”

“But....you clearly laughed in that state just now.” Elvis’s tone was slightly bitter, having a tint of helplessness in it.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and apologized, “Sorry, I went over with my laughing.”

Elvis frowned but did not bear to scold her as he asked, “As compared to how he look in that swimming costume, Lea and I.....differ too much, right?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and said, “The reason why I laughed was because you and Lea wore the female version and not because you guys differ from him.”

Elvis raised his brows and his eyes glimmered in hope. He questioned further, “So.....the question lies in the clothes and not me?”

Gu Mengmeng smiled radiantly and sweetly, saying, “Of course, my hubby looks slim when he wears clothes and is muscular when he takes them off. Which commoner can compare his body to my hubby?”

Chapter 855

Chapter 855: A Pleasurable Round, To One's Heart's Content.

Elvis's gaze became deep as the corners of his lips curved upwards.
“So....do I need to use another method to gain your favor? Like....using your favorite....body.”

Pfft...

Gu Mengmeng felt her nostrils turning warm and just when she wanted to cover her nose to prevent the blood from spewing out, she lost her balance. When she turned back, Elvis was already falling backwards, leaning against the wall in a 45 degrees position. Gu Mengmeng's waist was tied by him as she lied against his chest like a kitten.

Raising her head, she met his lazy and wanton smirk. The next moment, his dark blue eyes covered her entire sight with its deep affection. Gu Mengmeng's mind went into a complete chaos, she did not have the time to do any consideration when her lips were sealed by Elvis. His nimble tongue swept past every sweet spot in her mouth, the dominance and entanglement preventing her from rejecting him.

On some matters....

Gu Mengmeng could not withstand his teasing exceptionally.

And moreover, Elvis was getting more and more mature and prudent day by day. He always emitted a unique scent of male hormones. The difference between him and Lea was that he never acted coquettishly in front of her but always gave her the broadest and sturdiest chest to lean on.

Not to deny, regardless how strong Gu Mengmeng was, in her heart, the most reliable one could only be Elvis.

Although he was not as strong as Snakel, although he could not gain her favor as well as Lea, he was still the firmest backing in her heart. As long as he was present, she would feel extremely at ease....

So,

If it's Elvis....

No matter when,

She could always put her heart at ease,

To hand herself....

To him.

A pleasurable round, to one's heart's content.

Elvis finally let Gu Mengmeng go when she could not even plead anymore as she just directly fainted.

Gu Mengmeng woke up two days later.

Using Snakel's abilities as a Beast King to recuperate after a pleasurable round.....ha, Gu Mengmeng really felt like nobody would do it like her.

But if it's not for the recovery abilities of the Beast King, she would have become a paralyzed patient by Elvis.

Clenching her teeth, she glared at Elvis in anger and growled, "You've been led astray."

Elvis, however, enjoyed Gu Mengmeng looking like a cat with her fur standing up. He licked the corners of his lips and looked at her with a rude wild gaze. "Thank you Xiao Meng for your guidance. If you didn't beg me.....I really won't know that there's a 'bully' mode. Next time, let's change it to a 'dotting' one, alright? I'm afraid your body can't withstand it and faint halfway if I get too rough....my heart really aches upon the sight."

“Get lost!” Gu Mengmeng’s face turned red and she threw a piece of beast skin at Elvis.

Elvis caught the beast skin and then covered it on Gu Mengmeng’s body before whispering into her ear, “Now? Has your body recovered? Where do you want to ‘get lost’ to? Huh?”

Gu Mengmeng suddenly woke up, damn it, although it did not hurt now, she felt strengthless. Sigh, the hungry wolf legend was really not a joke.

Gu Mengmeng could not provoke him any further so she admitted defeat and lowered her head. She begged him for mercy with a soft voice, “Hubby, I’m still very tired...don’t torment me, let me rest for a while.”

The corners of Elvis’s lips had a tint of playfulness as he scooped Gu Mengmeng into his arms, kissing her brows. He said, “Yeah. I always listen to Xiao Meng.”

Gu Mengmeng remained silent with a red face. Elvis placed his chin on her head, his gaze becoming deeper. If there’s any way, how nice would it be for her to live a happy and relaxing life without troubles...

Sighing, Elvis eventually opened his mouth to suggest, “After we finish our lunch, let’s set back to Sauder.”

Chapter 856

Chapter 856: I Don't Want to Eat Raw Meat Anymore

“Yeah.” Gu Mengmeng did not raise any question and just replied one word.

If Sauder did not have anything going on, Ian should be coming back together with the three little ones and Sandy and her family.

That way, Elvis would just directly inform her and she need not go Sauder again.

If the situation at Sauder became serious and something big happened to Sandy and the three little ones, she need not head to Sauder either.

So, Ian must have come back with neither good nor bad news.

Sandy and the three little ones were safe but not free.

Ha, Cole's original motive was to force her to Sauder so he would naturally calculate things well.

But she did not understand why Cole had to lure her into Sauder. Was it just to rekindle their old ties? Their relationship was not that good to begin with, right?

During lunch, Auretin, whom Gu Mengmeng had not seen in a while, appeared with his prey right on the dot. Looking at his pair of resentful eyes, Gu Mengmeng could not help but scoop him two more pieces of meat to make up for his mental trauma.

Their families went for a trip to the deep ocean and when they came back, they were held back for a few days in the stray beasts camp. After returning to Saint Nazaire, they delayed their schedule for another two days because they had to accompany her lonely old Father to watch television. Then, after bidding farewell to Wabei, a minor incident sparked a war between her and Elvis which caused her to sleep for two more days...

When all of these added up, Auretin looked like an irritable tiger who was locked up in the cage for too long. The anger and desire for food made his entire being emit a strange but pitiful aura.

Weirdly, Gu Mengmeng felt as if she left her pet dog at home, hungry for half a month while she went on an overseas trip with her entire family. A guilt for abandoning her little pet crept up her heart.

Hey, that little animal looked a little too savage and it suffered from face-paralysis too.

After the meal, Gu Mengmeng looked at Auretin who was carrying the pot for a wash. She stretched her hand out and called, "That..."

Auretin stood up right and turned to look at Gu Mengmeng, saying, "I'll go too."

"Ah?" Gu Mengmeng was taken aback.

Auretin was extremely firm as he insisted, "Aren't you guys going to Sauder? I'm going too."

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips and appeared quite helpless. "If you leave too, Saint Nazaire's attacking abilities will be too weak. If any danger is to appear, there's nobody to calm the entire tribe down."

Auretin placed the pot down before turning around to walk to Gu Mengmeng. He knelt on the ground on one knee to stare into Gu Mengmeng's eyes. He said in utmost seriousness, "I'm the messenger's guard, it's my duty to ensure your safety at all times. And....I don't want to eat raw meat anymore, it's too hard to swallow."

...

The second half of the sentence was the main point, right?

Elvis brought his arm over Gu Mengmeng's waist and pulled her into his embrace. Nibbling on her little earlobe, he said with a deep voice, "Bring him along, I notice that Kanwu worships him a lot. When he's present...the little ones are a lot more obedient."

Gu Mengmeng's head ached at the recollection of the interaction between Elvis and Kanwu.

And when she looked at how Auretin did not want to separate himself from delicacies anymore, as if Lea's dishes were his most beloved ones, she could not help but nod her head, giving her consent, "Alright then, we can only leave Ian behind to look after our tribe."

After arranging everyone in place, Gu Mengmeng looked back at the cave, sighing with emotions.

This was her first home after coming to the Beast World but why was she spending lesser and lesser time at home now.....

As she made her way out of Saint Nazaire, Gu Mengmeng smiled faintly at the sight of how her fellow tribesmen were enthusiastically(?) preparing food for winter. At least, no female would eat her own partner due to the lack of food this winter and this was good news.

Chapter 857

Chapter 857: The One In Your Family Prepared A Surprise For You

When they reached Sauder, the situation was very different from what Gu Mengmeng imagined.

There was no stray beasts or any depressing, bleak and violent bloody scenes. On the contrary, everything was in order, full of life and vigor.

Oakley and Barete stood at the city's entrance to welcome them together with Sandy and the three little ones. As compared to their warm and natural stance, Gu Mengmeng appeared rather strange and abnormal because of her worrying when rushing to Sauder after feeling worn out by the journey.

“Mummy~” Jialue was the first one to pounce into Gu Mengmeng's embrace. The other two brothers were slower than him by one step but still managed to crash into her arms.

Gu Mengmeng naturally missed her sons a lot after not seeing them for quite some time. She wrapped her three sons in her arms and kissed them all before looking at them in great detail to make sure that they were all healthy and safe. She then put her heart at ease.

“You suffered quite a lot this journey, right? Let's enter the city first.” Sandy held Gu Mengmeng's little hand in hers and led the kids into the city. She said while walking, “The one in your family prepared a surprise for you.”

Gu Mengmeng was confused, the one in her family?

Turning back to look at Elvis and Lea, she saw how the two of them shook their heads in silence, with a tint of gloominess in their gaze as they rubbed the little wolves' heads out of instincts.

Gu Mengmeng understood instantly that they were referring to Cole.

Frowning, Gu Mengmeng did not answer her.

Why was Cole in her family? This was too strange.

Sandy was not someone to tell this kind of joke, she was so scared of Lea and Elvis so she definitely would not dare to touch this topic in front of them. Moreover, she knew how much Gu Mengmeng hated Cole because of Chixuan so she definitely would not use this as a joke.

But...

Her tone and expression.....was too natural, as if she was speaking the truth.

She swallowed the question that was just hanging by her mouth, maybe this was not the right time and something must have happened to Sandy. It would be a futile chance to ask now.

Sandy sent Gu Mengmeng to the stone castle and then dusted Gu Mengmeng's shoulders with both her hands, saying, "I'll send you until here. Remember to tell me what surprise he prepared for you. I'm very curious."

Gu Mengmeng gave a small smile and agreed, "Alright."

Sandy lowered her head and looked at the three little ones, saying, "Mummy will not have any time to take care of you guys tonight, let's go back with Mother-in-Law."

The three little ones pouted but eventually nodded as they left with Sandy obediently.

Oakley bowed towards Gu Mengmeng and said, "There's too many things to do in the city, servant shall take his leave first."

Servant...

The Oakley who would tell her that he likes it with a red face and force himself to extract honey with her even though he was dead scared.....couldn't come back anymore, right?

After her identity as the messenger of the Beast Deity was exposed, he started to drift apart from her.

After she inherited Snakel's abilities, it seemed like she completely lost this friend.

"You've worked hard, go on and do your stuff." Gu Mengmeng was at wits ends too and could only abide by everyone's change.

When she wasn't who she original was, how could she still request everyone to treat her like how they original did?

After all....there must be some burden on them.

After Oakley left, Barete looked at Gu Mengmeng and remained silent for a long time before speaking up, "Please be extremely careful, don't be rash."

Gu Mengmeng did not have the chance to ask him what he meant when he left with Auretin, following behind Oakley to settle the public affairs.

Chapter 858

Chapter 858: What's Your Ulterior Motive For Luring Me Here?

Elvis and Lea pushed open the big doors of the stone castle and the so-called surprise was just Cole standing at the entrance, welcoming them with a tilted head and a smile.

Gu Mengmeng frowned, looking around her surroundings but she could not spot Chixuan anywhere.

Cole waited for a while before bursting out in laughter and said, "I thought that you'll throw your temper at me when you see me....it seems like, my beloved owner is not angry at me, right?"

Gu Mengmeng originally wanted to ignore Cole but now he was the only one who knew where Chixuan was so she did not fight with him any further as she directly asked him, "Where's Chixuan?"

Cole lowered his head and chuckled, giving off a heartened look. "Xuan is a sensible child, he knows that we're having a reunion after a long time....so he deliberately hid somewhere to leave some intimate space for us."

Gu Mengmeng walked past Cole to sit on a stone chair in the main hall, directly facing the entrance. There was a perfect piece of white tiger skin laid on it, giving off the taste of the Ju Yi Tang (a place in Water Margin).

Gu Mengmeng stepped on the sides of the chair with one leg while placing her hand casually on that knee. Her another leg was stepping on the ground with her elbow supporting itself on the armrest of the stone chair. She held her temples with the back of her hand, resembling a powerful female bandit.

Elvis and Lea stood behind her, not saying a word and were just protecting her.

Gu Mengmeng said, “There’s no need for any small talk since we’re not that close in the first place. Just spill it, what is your ulterior motive for luring me here?”

Cole gave a bitter smile, his expression becoming a maligned one as it encompassed a tint of helplessness. He said, “I saw how well you interacted with Sandy earlier, I thought that you had tidied up your emotions on the way here and had subsided your anger.”

Gu Mengmeng sniggered and replied, “I know how to tidy up my own emotions and accommodate myself to circumstances but this does not obstruct me from bearing grudges.”

Cole spread out his hands, looking as if he could not do anything to Gu Mengmeng. He said in a pacifying tone, “Can you think of me in a positive light? Or maybe, I just want to let you live more comfortably this winter.”

Gu Mengmeng snorted in annoyance and then kept the gaze she landed on Cole’s face, saying, “The most uncomfortable part of this place is you so please keep that disgusting face of yours. I’m scared I’ll lose control and slap you to death.”

Cole was not angry as he just maintained his usual refined smile.

Back then, Gu Mengmeng thought that he was courteous and gentlemanly but now, all she could feel was grossed out at his fake character.....

Cole did not avoid Gu Mengmeng’s disgusted gaze as he smiled even more ambiguously and said, “You said you hate me but you still followed me here, right?”

Gu Mengmeng did not answer Cole as she just demanded, “Where’s Chixuan? I want to see Chixuan.”

Cole took a step forward and said, "I said before, Xuan deliberately hid himself to leave some intimate space for us. So...as long as you don't disappoint Xuan's heartfelt intentions, Xuan will naturally appear after we spend a warm and sweet day together. After all, he misses you a lot too."

Gu Mengmeng pinched her fingers and asked, "So, you're threatening me now? You want me to commit myself to you for my son's sake?"

Cole shook his head and explained, "My beloved owner, I'm your most loyal footman, how can I force you to do something you don't like? Of course, if you need it....Cole is very willing to devote my loyalty to you, you can.....play with this body of mine as you wish."

Gu Mengmeng's temples twitched hard and she clenched her teeth, looking up to command, "Hubby, punch him!"

Chapter 859

Chapter 859: Already Itching With Desire

Elvis smiled treacherously and charged towards Cole without a word.

Beat him...

Apart from “I love you”, Elvis liked to hear this phrase from Gu Mengmeng best.

Especially when the opponent was Cole. It was really... ha, his sharp claws and fangs were already itching with desire.

However, faced with Elvis’ sharp and fatal attack, Cole didn’t retaliate. He didn’t even look like he intended to duck.

He just had on a sly smile and gave off a “this is just what I wanted” vibe.

As expected, things felt not quite right.

Before Elvis had time to be sure of what happened, he felt that the person he hit was definitely not Cole.

A black figure was sent flying off by Elvis’ attack and landed with a crash at a corner. Looking over, it was Chixuan.

That tiny body convulsed uncontrollably as blood spurted out of his mouth everywhere. His entire body slumped even as he raised his head to look guardedly against Elvis. It was as if he would pounce forward and fight Elvis to the death if Elvis dared to attack Cole again.

Gu Mengmeng panicked at the sight of Chixuan.

Elvis had put in his full strength behind the attack on Cole. If it had hit Cole directly, it could have sent his head flying off his neck.

The tiny Chixuan had yet to even evolve. How could he withstand the attack of a fifth-level beast like Elvis?!

“Lea, quickly!” Gu Mengmeng dashed towards Chixuan, wanting to gather him in her arms but not daring to handle him.

Who knew if his bones had been broken? His internal organs damaged? She had watched in television shows where overly-anxious attempts to move the injured might cause even more harm...

Gu Mengmeng knelt beside Chixuan, anguished tears trickling down her face non-stop.

Her son was her own flesh and blood. In particular, Chixuan had suffered much more than the other three.

Her sense of guilt towards Chixuan was already at its maximum and nearly suffocating her. At this instant, it was through the roof and beyond restrain.

Lea knew Gu Mengmeng cared a lot about Chixuan and naturally didn’t dare to dally. But the moment he approached, Chixuan bared his teeth in a defensive stance. He didn’t even bother about his own wounds and struggled to stand up.

“Do you think I care?!” Elvis’ voice was cold and malevolent.

Gu Mengmeng was startled for moment before realizing that Chixuan’s earlier whimpering meant he had said something.

Her heart ached for her son’s injuries and she was anxious to know what he said. Hence she hollered angrily at Elvis. “Why are you being so fierce?! My son is injured and you are still trying to intimidate him?”

Elvis gritted his teeth and clenched his fists, refusing to speak.

“What did he say? Tell me quick, what does he want?! Did he say he is in a lot of pain? Did he say he is really suffering?” Gu Mengmeng was nearing a total breakdown. She wanted to give herself two tight slaps. She should never have let Elvis attack Cole, when she clearly knew Chixuan was still in Cole's hands. What did it matter being verbally provoked? Why didn't she just endure it?!

Elvis embraced Gu Mengmeng and let her throw a fit in his arms. He glared unmoving at Chixuan, emitting low grunts and using wolf communication methods to answer Chixuan.

Chixuan whined weakly, making Gu Mengmeng's heart ache unbearably. She pushed Elvis aside and knelt beside Chixuan. She carefully caressed the top of his head. "Don't be scared, don't be scared. Mummy's here. Everything will be fine."

Chapter 860

Chapter 860: This Damn Situation

Cole took a couple steps forward and squatted down with half his chest pressing against Gu Mengmeng's back. He placed one hand on Gu Mengmeng's shoulder while the other gently covered Gu Mengmeng's hand on the top of Chixuan's head. He smiled at Chixuan. "Little Xuan, good boy. Don't be afraid. Your mother and I will be by your side. She will not leave you and neither will I. But you must recover quickly and not let your mother worry. Because if she is worried... we will all be very upset, right?"

Chixuan nodded obediently. He gazed at Gu Mengmeng, as if waiting for her to answer.

This gaze forced Gu Mengmeng to endure the strong urge to just fling Cole far away.

Waves of discomfort and disgust radiated from the part of her in contact with Cole, but Gu Mengmeng didn't wish to up upset Chixuan. Hence, she gritted her teeth and forced a smile. She comforted Chixuan. "Be a good boy. Mother will be by your side."

"Owooo..." Chixuan cried out weakly again.

Gu Mengmeng couldn't understand what he was saying and turned to look at Elvis, only to see his face completely black. He glared at Chixuan as he gnashed his teeth. "Don't push your luck."

Gu Mengmeng frowned and looked towards Lea, who also looked grim but kept his mouth shut.

Left with no choice, Gu Mengmeng turned to Cole.

Cole chuckled. "This kid is just a bit willful. But you are the one who hit him and caused him to be in this state after all. Can't you just put up with his bit of willfulness, and make amends for it? Ha, I forgot that the great Elvis' motto in life is 'only the strong should survive'. You will never give way even when faced with a wolf pup whom Ah Gu cares so much for."

With that, Cole turned back to Chixuan with a stern expression. "Xuan, you cannot be rude to Mister Elvis. He is your mother's first partner. If you behave like this... your mother will be upset."

Chixuan sniffled pathetically and whimpered. Not expecting Elvis and Lea to translate for her, Gu Mengmeng directly looked at Cole. "What did my son say?"

Cole smiled with a mild expression. "Little Xuan is afraid of Mister Elvis and Mister Lea. So he hopes that the two of them could leave. Although they are just the ignorant words of a child, Elvis here did nearly kill Xuan with one punch. Ah Gu, you have to forgive Xuan for being so scared, after all... he is still a child. Don't take offense to a child's babbling nonsense."

Gu Mengmeng's heart twisted. Cole sounded like he was Chixuan's real father, while Elvis was a stranger.

"I don't need you to apologize for my son." Gu Mengmeng's displeasure was written all over her face.

Cole remained unperturbed and just lowered his head. "I have overstepped my boundaries. But, if you must punish someone, please punish me. Chixuan... cannot bear any more torture."

Gu Mengmeng really wished to hit someone.

Was Cole implying that Elvis and herself—Chixuan's very own parents—were torturing him?

But...

Chixuan current injuries were indeed caused by Elvis.

Damn it. She wanted to retort but had no right to.

This damn situation.

Gu Mengmeng didn't wish to continue wasting her breath with Cole. She shrugged off his arm and spoke gently to Chixuan. "Chixuan, good boy. Let Daddy Lea take a look at your injuries, okay?"

Chixuan looked guardedly against Lea. Lea had just taken one small step forward and Chixuan trembled all over as he struggled to stand up, looking like he was prepared to attack.

Chapter 861

Chapter 861: Are You A Pervert?

Parents would forever give in when faced with the willfulness of their own child.

Because children dared to hurt themselves just to coerce you, while you are never as heartless as you claim to be—willing to see them die and then calmly collecting their bodies.

Gu Mengmeng immediately gave in the moment Chixuan struggled.

Mmm, that's right.

A kind mother begets a useless son, but what could one do?

This dying child before her was her very own son!

Gu Mengmeng turned around and looked at Elvis and Lea with tear-filled eyes. "The two of you leave first and head back to that stone house where we used to stay."

Elvis didn't move. He just stared at Gu Mengmeng with furrowed brows.

"Please..." Gu Mengmeng sobbed. Her heart was truly torn by Chixuan's injuries.

Clenching his fists, Elvis gave in and stood outside the door to wait for her.

Gu Mengmeng nodded. She would not force Elvis to go further. As long as Chixuan calmed down, she was satisfied.

After Elvis and Lea departed, Chixuan shifted his tiny head and rested his chin on Gu Mengmeng's knee. He closed his eyes and groaned, obviously in great pain.

Cole used one finger to gently wipe off Gu Mengmeng's tears before putting it into his mouth to taste. He commented with a faint smile.
"Salty..."

"Are you a pervert?" Gu Mengmeng blocked off Cole's hand in disgust, as he tried to reach over again.

Cole gazed down at Chixuan before raising his head to look at Gu Mengmeng. Sighing softly, he said, "I have already instructed my men to get Dylan over to treat Little Xuan. Don't worry, I will not let anything happen to Little Xuan."

Gu Mengmeng shot Cole a chilly look. "I really don't know what kind of bewitching potion did you give Chixuan, such that he would protect you like this without any regard for his own life."

"Bewitching potion... if I had something like that, wouldn't I have you drink it first?" Cole smiled, completely unfazed by Gu Mengmeng's cold words. He doted on her like she was his own pampered female. No matter what she said to him or how she glared at him, he treated it all as flirtatious banter.

"Owooo..."

Chixuan cried out which immediately attracted Gu Mengmeng's complete attention.

The worse thing was that she still couldn't understand what her son was saying.

If not for her anxiousness over Chixuan's current dire condition, Gu Mengmeng wanted to immediately go to sleep and seek out that lonely old man for a negotiation. She would be more than willing to call him daddy if he could just give her a translation cheat code?! It felt so wrong having to rely on a translator just to talk to her own son!

Cole somehow felt his mood lighten after noticing the distress on Gu Mengmeng's face.

Caressing Chixuan's tiny head, he said, "Little Xuan, don't be afraid. Your mother doesn't dislike me and has no intention of leaving us."

"Woowoo..." Chixuan's face went slack and he lifted his little face to gaze at Gu Mengmeng pitifully.

"Ah Gu, don't let Little Xuan worry, alright?" Cole pleaded with a slight frown.

Ha, there's no need for a translation any more. Just by hearing Cole's words to Chixuan, she understood what Chixuan was whimpering about just now.

But she really couldn't understand why the four little ones and Elvis couldn't get along at all. Why did they all treat outsiders better? Especially this Cole...

Gu Mengmeng gritted her teeth. At the end of the day, she could not bear to set herself against her heavily injured son. She would have to wait until he had recovered before educating him.

Forcing a smile, Gu Mengmeng kissed Chixuan's forehead. "Good boy. Mummy will not leave. Mummy will stay by your side the whole time, okay?"

Chapter 862

Chapter 862: Are You Surprised I Didn't Kill Him?

Chixuan finally closed his eyes after getting a satisfactory answer.

Gu Mengmeng felt a reflexive sense of worry as Chixuan shut his eyes. He had already been in a coma for so long. How long would he be sleeping for again?

Cole held Gu Mengmeng's hand gently. "Don't worry, he will be fine."

Gu Mengmeng shot a scornful look at Cole, full of disgust and guardedness. She tried to shake off his hand to no avail, and instead ended up jolting Chixuan, who was lying on her knee. The wolf pup squeezed his eyes and whimpered in pain.

Cole's smile deepened as Gu Mengmeng gave up struggling. He continued. "In your eyes, I am probably the world's biggest villain, right?"

Gu Mengmeng refused to answer but just gently wiped the blood off the side of Chixuan's lips. There were no visible external wounds, but he must have suffered internal damage. Otherwise, why would he vomit blood?

Cole was unperturbed by Gu Mengmeng's lack of response. He just continued. "You are the Messenger of the Beast Deity, representing the brightest and most righteous power in this world; while I am the leader of the stray beasts, representing the darkest and most evil side. Since the two of us don't wish for anything happen to Little Xuan, he will definitely be alright, isn't that so?"

Gu Mengmeng said with cold disdain, "You don't wish for anything to happen to him, but made him your human shield? Don't take me for a fool. Don't you dare deny knowing that Chixuan would rush out to protect you, and so you purposely didn't duck when Elvis attacked you?"

Cole chuckled. “If I said I didn’t duck as I wanted you to see him beat me... would you believe it?”

“No way,” Gu Mengmeng replied.

Cole lowered his head so that one could not see his expression. He just said mildly, “Ah Gu... I thought that after you met Peter and Natalie, you would at least understand me a little better...”

Gu Mengmeng frowned as she stared at Cole like he was an “idiot”.

Cole exhaled and gave a self-mocking smile. “Never mind, I know you don’t like hearing things about me. I won’t bother you any more. Just stay by Little Xuan’s side, he has not seen you for a long time. Although he didn’t say so... I know he missed you a lot.”

Gu Mengmeng didn’t reply and Cole didn’t say anything further. The two of them sat quietly until the doors were pushed open and Dylan walked in with a steady gait. Wordlessly, he glanced at Cole before offering a polite bow to Gu Mengmeng. He then immediately went over to Chixuan and started treating him.

Dylan’s attitude towards Cole surprised Gu Mengmeng.

She thought that with Cole’s petty character—he was someone who would seek vengeance for the slightest grievance—Dylan would be the first to suffer from his return.

After all, it was Dylan who had helped Gu Mengmeng and Lea drag Cole down from his high position as the tribe leader to his current stray beast status, and losing one arm and tail in the process.

So it was an unexpected sight to see them meet up again in such a civilized manner.

Cole stood beside Gu Mengmeng and chuckled. “Are you surprised I didn’t kill him?”

Gu Mengmeng didn't agree or deny it. She just kept her eyes on Chixuan, her whole heart was being occupied by this son of hers.

Cole watched Gu Mengmeng quietly out of the corner of his eye. "The Kiss of the Ocean. Did you get it?"

Gu Mengmeng answered with a "mmm", unwilling to speak more to Cole.

Since he already knew she had met Peter and Natalie, would he not know that she had retrieved the Kiss of the Ocean? Asking even though he already knew the answer. A complete waste of her breath.

Chapter 863

Chapter 863: I Intend To Use This Treasure On Chixuan

“Give it to me.” Cole reached out an upturned palm towards Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng glanced askance at Cole, with traces of guardedness and disdain.

Cole chuckled. “Are you afraid that I will use the Kiss of the Ocean of activate the Beast King bloodline, which will place Elvis and Lea in danger in the future?”

Gu Mengmeng raised one brow and intoned: This Cole really knows a thing or two. Even a witch doctor like Lea doesn’t know that the seven treasures can be used to activate the Beast King bloodline, but Cole is well aware of that.

Cole maintained just the right amount of pleasantness in his expression—not too intimate nor too distant, but well within a range where Gu Mengmeng could find no reason to be angry at, and at the same time couldn’t overlook. “After all, I was the leader of Sauder for over ten years. It’s not surprising that I know of something like that.”

Cole took a deep breath and shook his head. “I have been at the fifth-level for more than a decade. With my powers, I should be able to control the Kiss of the Ocean. If I really wanted to use it to activate the Beast King bloodline, would you be willing to give it to me?”

Gu Mengmeng remained silent for a moment before giving a faint smile. “I will give it to you, why not? That was our part of our deal. I will gather the items for you and you will return my son to me. As to what you plan to do with the items, that is your own business. It has nothing to do with me.”

Cole pressed close to Gu Mengmeng, and stared teasingly into her eyes. “Are you not worried that after I become the Beast King, I will kill off your partners?”

Gu Mengmeng lifted her head and met Cole’s eyes straight on with a harsh glare of her own. “Don’t forget that I am also a Beast King. Unless I die, no one can hurt my partners.”

Cole straightened his spine, widening the distance between Gu Mengmeng and himself. A faint smile played upon his lips. “So you don’t need to worry then. The Kiss of the Ocean is not for my own use. After all, if my opponent is you... I will be powerless against you.”

Gu Mengmeng turned up her nose at Cole’s statement. She had no intention of giving any sort of response.

Cole continued. “You would have realized that the Kiss of the Ocean can be used to suck out poisons from a body. It was effective on you, it will also be effective on Chixuan. So I am going to use this treasure on Chixuan.”

Gu Mengmeng was stunned. How did he know the Kiss of the Ocean was effective on her?

Could it be that Cole even knew of that entanglement between Elvis and her in Saint Nazaire? Wouldn’t that be too preposterous? After all, only Elvis and Gu Mengmeng were present then. And she did not believe that Elvis would share such a thing with Cole.

Cole looked knowingly at the doubt in Gu Mengmeng’s eyes, but didn’t clarify things. He just smiled. “Can you give it to me now? With that, I believe Little Xuan will recover faster.”

Gu Mengmeng turned away from Cole and gazed at Chixuan, to find that Dylan had already complete the basic treatments.

Dylan stood before Gu Mengmeng and bowed again. “I have treated Young Master Chixuan’s injuries. For now, the only thing left is for him to rest quietly and avoid strenuous activity. He cannot suffer any further injuries...

oh, and he must be kept calm as much as possible. Only then will he be able to recover faster. I will take my leave now.”

Without waiting for Gu Mengmeng to respond, Dylan departed with a steady gait.

Chapter 864

Chapter 864: Frowning, Gu Mengmeng Felt Things Were Not That Simple

Gu Mengmeng didn't say anything and just watched Dylan's departing back profile.

The people around her were starting to treat her at a respectful distance. She... should probably get used to this.

After all, the Messenger of the Beast Deity was an unattainably high position.

Not everyone could overcome both the external and internal pressures, and continue to look at her as her former self.

Cole's scornful gaze at Dylan held a sliver of coolness. A faintly malevolent smile played at the corners of his lips.

He had kept him alive as he was one of Ah Gu's subordinates.

But...

It appeared that he had miscalculated.

Ha, I am the only one in this world who can make Ah Gu unhappy.

So you...

Are an eyesore.

Cole emitted a low gurgling sound, as if his throat was feeling uncomfortable and he was trying to clear it.

Gu Mengmeng paid no heed. Why would she care about Cole?

She never realized that her brief expression of disappointment and sense of remoteness then, had resulted in the permanent disappearance of Dylan, who once helped her.

After using beast language to secretly signal the hidden stray beasts, Cole continued to nonchalantly accompany Gu Mengmeng as they sat by Chixuan's side. Caressing Chixuan's body, he discreetly observed Gu Mengmeng to confirm that she had not realized what had just happened. He then reached out his hand again. "Give me the Kiss of the Ocean. Don't you also wish for Chixuan to recover sooner?"

Gu Mengmeng took out that black pearl from her pocket and handed it to Cole.

Cole was somewhat surprised as he handled that black pearl. "So this is the Kiss of the Ocean."

With that, Cole plucked a strand of his own hair. With the slight pinch of his fingers, that hair became as straight and stiff as a needle. Gu Mengmeng was rather astonished. She was a Beast King and yet she didn't possess such an ability? There was also no recollection of the existence of such a skill in Snakel's memories.

Cole happily took in the flash of surprise in Gu Mengmeng's eyes. Apart from disgust and guardedness, this was the only expression she displayed for him, so he naturally treasured it.

With the black pearl in one hand and his strand of hair in the other, he gradually threaded the hair right through the pearl.

Cole secured the pearl around Chixuan's neck, before inserting it between Chixuan's lips so that it could be kept in his mouth for the time being.

He then gently massaged Chixuan's lower jaw to prevent the pearl from falling out. After settling all that, Cole stroked Chixuan with a lingering touch, before turning towards Gu Mengmeng. "Alright, with this Kiss of the Ocean, the poison in Little Xuan's body will not be triggered again. So... I am no longer able to use Little Xuan to blackmail you. Then, are you going to kill me now?"

Frowning, Gu Mengmeng felt that things were not so simple.

How could Cole be so kindhearted? Why was this so unbelievable?

"If you are willing to return Chixuan to me, I can disregard all our past grievances and let bygones be bygones. I will continue in my role as the Messenger of the Beast Deity, while you be your stray beast king. Things will go on peacefully if we don't interfere with each other from now on."

"Disregard past grievances?" Cole chuckled in exasperation. "In that case, I cannot return Little Xuan to you. I want to exist in the most special place in Ah Gu's heart. If I cannot be your most beloved... then I will be your most hated."

Chapter 865

Chapter 865: Insist On Being With Me

Gu Mengmeng stepped between Cole and Chixuan and lifted her chin. “Too bad. Since I know Chixuan is alright now, do you think you still have the ability snatch him away from me?”

Cole stood unmoving at his original spot. “How could you be sure that he wouldn’t insist on being with me after he awakens?”

Gu Mengmeng wrinkled her brows with anxiety.

She had to admit that Cole spent a lot more time with Chixuan than she had.

There was always some matter which required her attention, and she often handed her sons over to Sandy’s care. So in reality... she had not really done her duties as a mother.

Meanwhile, since Cole took Chixuan over, he had been by his side day and night...

He was still a kid and had a pressing need for family ties.

It was her own oversight for giving Cole the opportunity. Seeing as how Chixuan had protected Cole from Elvis without any regard for his own safety—it was clear how close Chixuan had grown to Cole, as a result of that pressing need.

It was inevitable that Chixuan would look for Cole after he wakes up.

She could easily kill Cole now.

But what would happen after she killed him? How could she face the pain that Chixuan would feel from that?

Neglecting him and failing to be by his side. And then taking away the only comfort he managed to get for himself.

Clenching her fists, Gu Mengmeng's eyes filled with rage.

Cole lowered his head. "That look in your eyes... reserved only for me. So very touching."

Gu Mengmeng took two deep breaths and suppressed the frustration in her heart. "Get out of my sight before I change my mind."

Cole nodded and placed his right hand over his chest. "Yes, my beloved mistress."

Cole cast one final glance at the unconscious Chixuan before turning to leave without any hesitation.

The moment he left, Elvis and Lea came in.

Lea immediately went to check on Chixuan's injuries. After all, he was more skilled than Dylan in such matters.

Elvis drew Gu Mengmeng into his arms and nuzzled the top of her head with his chin. After seeing that she was fine, he finally relaxed. "I know he does not have the ability to hurt you, but I still cannot help worrying... Xiao Meng, as long as I can't see you, I will feel a deep sense of unease. Could you... never leave my line of sight again?"

Gu Mengmeng pressed her face against Elvis' chest and listened to his breathing and heartbeat. "Cole gave the Kiss of the Ocean to Chixuan. The poison in Chixuan's body will not be triggered again."

Looking up, Gu Mengmeng asked Elvis, "Hubby, did I do wrong?"

"Mmm?" Elvis frowned. His heart ached for the pain he saw in Gu Mengmeng's eyes.

The tough and chilly facade that Gu Mengmeng put on for Cole collapsed before Elvis. She was soft and sensitive, and full of guilt towards Chixuan.

“I seem to have endless tasks to settle everyday, and always put my sons as one of my lowest priorities. If I had just accompanied them more... Cole would never have gotten this chance. He has taken over an important spot in Chixuan’s heart. It’s because I didn’t give my sons enough love to support their growth... I should have already noticed this when Burke appeared, but... hubby, I truly suspect now, am I... am I a bad mother?”

Elvis hugged Gu Mengmeng and stroked her back. “Compared with the other females, you are already a godsend to those four wolf pups. If you are considered a bad mother, then there are no good mothers in this world at all.”

Chapter 866

Chapter 866: Believe In Our Sons

“But...”

“Cole has always been good at playing mind games. It doesn’t matter what he told you, he must have had some ulterior motive. If you let him manipulate you, you will fall into his trap. Xiao Meng, you must believe in yourself, and must believe in our sons. They are wolves, not farmed sheep. They need a tough training to be able to hone sharp fangs and claws.”

Believe in our sons...

This single sentence by Elvis moved Gu Mengmeng to tears.

“I thought you didn’t like them.” Gu Mengmeng sobbed.

Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng’s tears away and drew her into his embrace.

“They came from your very flesh, how could I not like them? But... Xiao Meng, it is not the faint light in the darkness that propels someone forward, but the deep abyss behind them. They were born into our household and are destined to be extraordinary. If they don’t grow strong and mature fast, not only will they expose themselves to danger, they will drag their family down with them. Sometimes, being cruel can be another form of love. Can you understand that?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded in a daze. She wiped off her own tears. “You understand the rules of survival in the Beast World much better than me. I believe you must have your own reasons for your decision. But hubby... it still pains my heart.”

Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng’s brow. “No problem. I will assume the role of being dark and cruel, while you will take charge of being gentle and kind. Care for them and protect them if you wish to do so. It doesn’t matter even if you quarrel with me over them, I will definitely give in to you anyway. I will train them to be exceptional wolves while ensuring you will not feel guilty over it. I will never let any one make use of them to threaten you again. Alright?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded solemnly before answering with a “Mmm.”

Chixuan recovered very well under Lea’s treatments.

Gu Mengmeng had Elvis retrieve the other three little ones from Sandy’s place that very night. She felt that it was still much better for her to care for her own kids.

Three days later, Chixuan gradually opened his eyes.

He whimpered weakly and Gu Mengmeng dashed to his side. She gently caressed his tiny head and said soothingly, “Chixuan, are you awake? That’s good. My son is so brave. Do you want to drink water? Or do you want something to eat? Daddy Lea prepared some mince meat porridge for you. Do you want some?”

Chixuan obediently let Gu Mengmeng stroke him. After blinking a few times to adjust to the bright lights, he started roving his eyes around, obviously looking for something.

Gu Mengmeng’s heart thumped uneasily.

How could you be sure that he wouldn’t insist on being with me after he awakens?

Cole’s words resonated in Gu Mengmeng’s ear. Without any need for translation, she could easily understand the beast language that Chixuan was mumbling.

He was looking for Cole...

“Chixuan, Mummy is here to accompany you, alright?” Gu Mengmeng gently held Chixuan’s neck and kissed his tiny head. “Mummy promises that she will never leave you all again. No matter where I go, I will bring you and your brothers along. So... forgive Mummy's earlier neglect, and give me a chance to atone for my errors. Alright?"

The gurgling noises in Chixuan gradually faded away. He looked up at Gu Mengmeng with pleading eyes, and didn't utter another sound. He just gently placed his chin on Gu Mengmeng's forearm, obediently lying there.

Chapter 867

Chapter 867: Giving Her A Meaningful Look Before Leaving

Chixuan took a whole two weeks to recover from his injuries.

Elvis and Lea had discussed that it would be too late to stock up on food if they hurried back to Saint Nazaire now. As such, they would have to spend winter in Sauder. Hence, during Chixuan's recovery period, Lea was in charge of remaining at home to take care of Gu Mengmeng and Chixuan, while Elvis led the other three little ones out on hunting expeditions. Father and sons brought back piles of hunted game every day.

The air today brought along with it a harsh chill. Gu Mengmeng could feel... winter had come.

Lea went up to the second floor of the stone castle to retrieve some animal hides to seal up the windows. Meanwhile, Gu Mengmeng sat beside Chixuan and gently caressed his head, murmuring soothing words to him now and then.

Suddenly, Chixuan stood up.

Before Gu Mengmeng had time to exclaim at Chixuan recovery, he promptly scuttled towards the door.

"Chixuan!" Gu Mengmeng called out in shock.

Chixuan paused for a moment and turned around. He gave Gu Mengmeng a meaningful look. It was as if he was saying farewell.

Gu Mengmeng wanted to give chase but Chixuan dashed out without further hesitation.

At that moment, large snowflakes drifted down from the sky, obscuring one's line of sight and the road ahead. It also blurred the footprints left behind.

How ironic. The one time she was absolutely certain of her son's intention, was that very moment when he turned around.

He didn't say anything but Gu Mengmeng knew very well that Chixuan... was going to look for Cole.

Gu Mengmeng slumped down on the floor, sobbing silently into her hands.

Lea flew down from upstairs on hearing the commotion, only to see Gu Mengmeng sitting at the doorway crying, while Chixuan was nowhere to be seen.

There was no need to ask what happened. Lea knew.

Holding Gu Mengmeng and patting her gently on the back, Lea said soothingly, "Chixuan is the biggest bargaining chip that Cole has against you. He will not let anything happen to Chixuan."

Gu Mengmeng clung onto Lea's arm and buried her face in his chest. She knew Cole would never let anything happen to Chixuan. She was crying because Chixuan's resolute back profile was like a sword piercing straight through her heart.

Cole had said: How could you be sure that he wouldn't insist on being with me after he awakens? Since then, Gu Mengmeng had been fearing that she might lose Chixuan anytime. And that look Chixuan had given her just now...

It was as if he was saying: Mummy, sorry. Mummy, goodbye...

Her Chixuan had chosen Cole over her.

It was not because of the poison's control. It was not because of any coercion or threat. Cole had not even appeared before Chixuan during this period.

It was solely because in Chixuan's heart, Cole had become even more important than his own mother.

Feeling as if her throat was being viciously squeezed, Gu Mengmeng took several deep breaths but still felt suffocated. She had lost Chixuan. She had really lost Chixuan.

That feeling was akin to someone using a knife and carving out a piece of flesh from her heart. Fresh blood spraying everywhere...

By the time Elvis and the three young ones returned, Gu Mengmeng had already cried herself to sleep.

Lea handed Gu Mengmeng—whose eyes were as swollen as peaches—over to Elvis. Lea sighed. "Why don't I... try and find him."

Elvis shook his head. "He wants Cole. Even if you drag him back, he will run away again. Never mind, let him be. My son can take responsibility for his own life. This is the pathway he has chosen, and even his own parents cannot stop his will. As for Xiao Meng..."

Elvis glanced imperiously at the three young ones out of the corner of his eye. "Since your own brother created this mess, the rest of you are in charge of the clean-up."

Chapter 868

Chapter 868: How Nice Would It Be If He Was Here

When Gu Mengmeng woke up, she realized that the three little ones were lying by her side.

Why were they lying? Because they were all in their beast forms.

This was very strange, they rarely showed their beast forms after evolving to their half-orc forms.

Gu Mengmeng was rather worried so she hugged her sons and asked them with a hoarse voice, “What’s wrong? Are you guys not feeling well?”

The little wolves shook their heads, licking Gu Mengmeng’s face with their tongues. They howled with a wailing tone, showing a clear intention of acting coquettish.

“Winter is here, they still don’t have enough abilities to combat the cold so staying in their beast forms are the warmest and most comfortable state for them.” Elvis explained on behalf of his sons before carrying Gu Mengmeng up from the pile of wolves. He kissed her hand and added, “Do you want to play with some snow?”

Elvis remembered that during this time of last year, Gu Mengmeng kept pestering him to take a walk in the snow.

She said, “You have to stroll under the snow with the person you like during the first snow because after walking for a while, the couple will get white heads (old age).”

Back then, he was worried that her body would be too weak to withstand the cold so he rejected.

But after that, he could not stand her unceasing coaxing and pestering and eventually brought her out but she fell sick the moment they came back.....

And because of that illness, he had the chance to mate with her.

Now, her physique was still petite but she had Snakel's Beast King abilities so it would not be a problem to combat the cold anymore. However, it was hard to act light-heartedly like a kid anymore.....

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and said, "Forget it, the children are scared of the cold. I'll stay at home to accompany them so I won't be going out."

Elvis did not want to force Gu Mengmeng but the three little ones jumped up to grab onto Gu Mengmeng's legs, looking as if they wanted to give it a try.

Kanwu went to the extreme by walking to the entrance, drawing circling on the spot as he howled pitifully at Gu Mengmeng, obviously begging her to bring him out to play.

"You guys want to go out?" Gu Mengmeng asked softly.

"Howl howl~~" There was excitement and anticipation heard in the loud cries of the three little ones.

Gu Mengmeng did not want to disappoint her sons so she smiled and nodded her head.

Lea wrapped Gu Mengmeng up in a beast skin and stood next to Elvis as they walked out of the stone castle together.

They were going out to play so naturally, they would not walk too far out.

After all, this snow was too heavy and may become a snowstorm anytime, enclosing this entire Beast World in silver white frost.

The snow at the entrance had not reach Gu Mengmeng's calf and the three little ones were also stronger than an ordinary of-age wolf so the depth of the snow did not pose any threat to them.

As it was their first time seeing snow, the three little ones were clearly excited. They scraped the ground with their hind legs, building up the snow to an alarming height before splattering it all over one another.

Looking at how her sons were having so much fun, Gu Mengmeng smiled slightly.

How nice would it be if Chixuan was here....

Gu Mengmeng could not garner up her excitement to play so she huddled up in Elvis's arms to watch her three sons create a playful scene.

Slap.

A snowball was directly smashed onto Elvis's face while some bits of snow splattered onto Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng turned to see Lea smiling sneakily at them with a second snowball coming on its way.

Elvis raised his brow as he easily dodged the second snowball. Then, he asked Gu Mengmeng with a smile, "Xiao Meng, can I smash him?"

Gu Mengmeng smiled and jumped off from Elvis's arms. She gestured a 'please, go ahead' hand gesture before seeing how Elvis scooped a large handful of snow from the ground, swinging it towards Lea.

Chapter 869

Chapter 869: First Mating Anniversary

The two adults and three children surrounded Gu Mengmeng, playing around in delight as they successfully broke the depression in Gu Mengmeng's heart completely. Her depression dissolved a little by a little together with the snowflakes splattered on her before flowing down and disappearing.

Upon looking at her gradual radiant smile, a pair of eyes, that was hidden in the deep part of the snow, glimmered. It was not sure whether it was an effect of feeling assured or disappointed as those eyes backtracked slowly from its original route.

In one of Sauder's stone houses, Cole sat on a high spot like a king, his lazy and ridiculing gaze landing on the stone tablet fixed on the wall.

Ha, Ah Gu was throwing her tantrum with him, right? He could almost imagine her sly smile when deliberating all these.

Yeah, she's a cute little fox.

She wanted to tell him that she knew where his abilities came from with this stone tablet?

So, Ah Gu carved this stone tablet while thinking about him, right?

It's quite a great gift.

The sound of someone wriggling about at the entrance could be heard. Cole looked towards the direction of the noise with a gentle gaze and knew who it was without seeing the person.

"Is she fine?" Cole asked softly.

Chixuan whimpered a few sounds out from his throat in an unclear manner.

“Envious? Then why didn’t you appear? If you’re willing to go back, she will definitely be very happy.” Cole had a tint of rumination hanging on the corners of his lips. He gestured at Chixuan, asking him to jump on his knees, lying down there like an obedient big-sized pet.

Hearing Chixuan’s answer that was just by his mouth, Cole’s grin grew wider as he rubbed his head, saying, “Foolish son, don’t pity me. I’m the evil boss in the Beast World.”

“Owooooo—”

“Yeah, I know.” Cole lifted his head up and closed his eyes, saying, “One day, she will be mine. Then, our family will not need to be separated again.”

...

The snowfall became heavier and was going to seal the stone castle completely.

The construction of the stone house was much more perfect than the cave and was also closer to the style of a modern architecture. There were two floors, with seven rooms on the upper level and four rooms on the lower level. The main hall was a more spacious area so Elvis started a fireplace there to cook meals and get warmth.

The food pile was placed in the rooms on the first floor so the three little ones had no room on their own. They just slept directly in the main hall, lying near the fireplace to stay warm.

This day, Gu Mengmeng unexpectedly did not allow Lea to prepare their food as she personally whipped up a sumptuous meal. The three little ones kept twirling around Gu Mengmeng, harboring strong curiousness towards the food in their Mother’s hands.

After working around for quite some time, she managed to lay the table filled with dishes despite the ingredients being limited

Gu Mengmeng huddled into Elvis's arms before pecking his cheek.
"Hubby, happy first mating anniversary."

Elvis felt a gush of warm water flowing into his heart as it softened into a pile of mess. His deep eyes looked like they stored an entire piece of ocean as he said gently, "So the reason why you kept yourself busy today was to celebrate our first mating anniversary?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded and questioned, "Isn't this an important date to both of us?"

"Yes." Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng's temple.

Actually, to him, every day was an important date since the day he met Gu Mengmeng in the lake.

But because Gu Mengmeng took this day to heart, it became Elvis's most important day in all the important days.

"Xiao Meng, happy first mating anniversary." Elvis learned from how Gu Mengmeng spoke and tried his best to reply her in the softest tone possible.

Chapter 870

Chapter 870: Lea, I Love You.

Lea's appearance created an obvious contrast with Elvis.

One year ago, at this time....

He stood alone outside the cave in the snow, guarding the entrance for them as he suffered torment from hearing the ambiguous sounds.

Then, he finally found a reason to enter the cave to see her but she used every sentence and every word to poke his wounds.

What maintain a manner that an ex-boyfriend should have, what go your separate ways, what owe each other nothing, there's only you and me in this world, no us.....

The three little ones were not aware of all the complicated thoughts amongst the adults. They only knew that the food their Mother made was extremely delicious.

Even if the entire world claim that Daddy Lea's culinary skills were the best, their Mother's taste was what satisfied the three little ones the most satisfied and made them miss the most.

After the meal, Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng's face and said, "You've worked hard for an entire day, Lea will bring you to take a rest upstairs. I'll wash the dishes today."

Gu Mengmeng did not have the chance to react when Lea carried her away from Elvis's arms.

"But...." Gu Mengmeng's eyes shimmered a series of conflicting emotions. It was their first mating anniversary, shouldn't she be staying with Elvis, recollecting their memories together?"

Lea kissed Gu Mengmeng's lips, closing the door before saying with a deep gaze, "Mengmeng, do you plan to make this day of every year in the future my nightmare?"

Gu Mengmeng stared at Lea in shock, not knowing how to react.

Lea pulled Gu Mengmeng's little hand to his lips stubbornly and gave it a peck before explaining, "The day exactly one year ago was my darkest and saddest time of my life. Back then.....I didn't even want to live after being seriously tormented by you. But, you're demanding me to watch how you and Elvis interact affectionately with each other on this day every year to continuously remind me of how pathetic I looked while struggling in both of your happiness?"

"I...." Gu Mengmeng looked down, feeling a tug on her heart. She neglected Lea's feelings and forgot how sad he was when she and Elvis were immersed in their own happiness during mating. Lowering her head, Gu Mengmeng said, "I'm sorry."

Lea supported Gu Mengmeng's waist with one hand, trapping her as he advanced forward, stopping his lips right next to her ear. He whispered, "You clearly know that I like hearing your confession more than an apology."

Gu Mengmeng was not the old her who had just transmigrated and was ignorant of worldly affairs. She naturally knew what would happen after Lea's ambiguous actions

Blushing, Gu Mengmeng circled her arms around Lea's neck and confessed softly, "Lea, I love you."

Lea bit Gu Mengmeng's little earlobe and said with a deep, husky and attractive voice, "This is the most touching confession I've ever heard before. Mengmeng, let's make this day....our mating anniversary. That way, every year in the future, I can celebrate this day with you and Elvis.....I won't be a lonely presence outside your happiness anymore....let me become a part of your happiness too, alright?"

“But....our mating anniversary was towards the end of the rainy season and not now.” Gu Mengmeng recalled that their mating anniversary was not too far away from Snakel’s death anniversary.

Lea shook his head and said, “Fool, you need to inherit something from me to count as officially mating with me. That can only be considered an engagement.”

Gu Mengmeng bowed down slightly to unconsciously match Lea’s teasing. She gave off a ‘yeah?’ sound.

“Mengmeng, let me belong to you completely, alright? Hmm?” A lingering kiss landed on her, followed by a series of intimate entangling together.

Chapter 871

Chapter 871: Did You Not Attend To Her Well?

Every winter, time flow became a mystery.

It was so bad to the extent that Gu Mengmeng did not know how long she slept for, she did not even know when was day and when was night.

When her needs could no longer stand pretending that she was not in reality, she woke up from the series of debating and realized she was sleeping in between Elvis and Lea.

Looking up, she saw two pairs of eyes staring intently at her.

Recalling the madness that day, Gu Mengmeng really wanted to kill herself with a piece of tofu.

She did not have any face to see both Lea and Elvis so she sat up right and pretended that she did not see them as she walked directly towards the entrance.

“Did you not attend to her well?” Elvis’s voice could be heard from behind Gu Mengmeng, clearly aimed at interrogating Lea.

This question made Gu Mengmeng explode instantly, she resembled a cat whose acupuncture points were pressed and her arched back looked as if she stepped on an electric switch.

Lea was confused. “I don’t think so.....judging from her reaction that day, she seemed quite satisfied. After that, she fainted and I didn’t bear to torture her any further so I stopped. Could it be.....eh? Do you normally continue after she faints?”

Gu Mengmeng really did not want to hear Elvis and Lea sharing their OOX experiences with her so she turned behind and glared at them with a red face. She complained, “I’m hungry, I want to eat!”

Looking at her expression, both of them finally realized that Gu Mengmeng was embarrassed instead of being unsatisfied by Lea.

Chuckling, Elvis stretched his arms wide to ask for a hug. “Xiao Meng, come over.”

“What do you want!” Gu Mengmeng’s face turned redder and she did not move a single inch.

“Lea needs time to cook, come and lie with me for a while more.”

Lea had stood up and walked to Gu Mengmeng. He carried her up and placed her into Elvis’s arms before covering her with a beast skin. Kissing her forehead, he said, “You can eat soon, be patient.”

Lea’s indecent words made Gu Mengmeng blush even more.

Damn fox!

He had to be blamed for his repetition on the word ‘eat’ that day. Now, whenever she heard the word ‘eat’, indescribable scenes would start replaying in her mind, she was really going to suffer from a mental trauma.

Although Lea had the intention to continue teasing her, she just woke up after a long sleep and moreover, she did vigorous exercise before sleeping so she must be famished.

He did not bear for his baby Mengmeng to go hungry so he gave up enjoying her adorable look when she was fuming in anger as he walked to the lower level to cook.

“Do you feel something different to your body?” Elvis asked while arranging the beast skin on Gu Mengmeng.

“Ah?” Gu Mengmeng’s mind already became a puddle of mess and she could not react at all, let alone know what Elvis asked.

Elvis touched Gu Mengmeng's left ear and smiled, saying, "Lea's mark is clearer and more real now. The journey to your mating with him was really full of twists and turns. However, since both of you had already mated, you should be able to inherit something from him...."

Gu Mengmeng buried her face into Elvis's chest, being caught in hot passion with another male on their mating anniversary, ha.....she did not even dare to imagine how Elvis spent that day.

Elvis understood Gu Mengmeng's thoughts as he hooked her little chin and forced her to stare into his eyes, as if he wanted to give the depth of the entire ocean to her. He said slowly with a deep and husky voice, "As long as I don't lose you, I can withstand anything. I'm your partner, he's also your partner....if we torture him that day every year, you'll feel sad and I can't bear to do anything that makes you sad.....isn't it?"

Chapter 872

Chapter 872: Something Happened to Xuan.

Gu Mengmeng never discussed this topic further.

From the day she accepted Lea, she knew that she would be destined to be in debt when it came to relationships.

She could only be grateful towards Elvis's and Lea's good intentions and then try hard to love them more.

Huddling into Elvis's embrace, she leaned against his chest, listening to his heartbeat. Gu Mengmeng felt her heart at ease, as if she found someone to rely on.

Elvis fiddled with her hair in a loving way, allowing her to stay nested in his arms like a gentle and lazy cat.

He did not want his retreat and compliance to become Gu Mengmeng's mental trauma. In the Beast World, a half-orc female could have over ten males. Let alone complete females who had a basic number of thirty to fifty partners. As for the First Beauties in each tribe, they could have hundred over partners. But Gu Mengmeng only had Lea and him.

Even if it was like that, she always felt that she was indebted towards them and this made his heart ache.

He already gave her so little but she still felt that she was too greedy and would always take care of their emotions in utmost cautiousness.

How nice would it be if she was more willful?

That way, she would be much happier.

As the storage food at home were all handled before, with Lea's fine culinary skills as a plus point, a meal was whipped up very quickly.

When Gu Mengmeng smelled the aroma of the meat, Lea was already scooping the rice and portioning the meat in stone bowls for everyone.

Gu Mengmeng looked at her three sons while eating, feeling a strong sense of warmth.

How nice would it be if Chixuan was here too....

Just as she was thinking about this, a strange sound came from the corner suddenly....

Elvis and Lea turned around agilely while Gu Mengmeng instantly protected her three sons behind her back. Then, she stared at the source of the sound in defense.

The two pieces of stone were pushed open and the next moment, a figure walked towards them from the corner.

Without seeing his appearance clearly, Gu Mengmeng identified the person from his scent.

“Cole?”

Cole did not have time to care about Elvis's and Lea's defensive states as he directly walked to Gu Mengmeng, speaking with a solemn expression, “Ah Gu, follow me. Something happened to Xuan.”

The blood in Gu Mengmeng seemed like it froze instantly as her mind exploded.

She did not consider anything as she directly rushed up to Cole.

Elvis grabbed onto Gu Mengmeng's waist to stop her as he reminded, “Xiao Meng, stay calm.”

Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Elvis blankly, her entire body shaking but not a single word could be said.

Calm down? How to calm down?

Chixuan was her son, he was her son that she was the most indebted to and wanted to make up to the most.

He was a piece of flesh from her body!

“Ah Gu, you know I won’t use Xuan to lie.” Cole grabbed onto Gu Mengmeng’s wrist and said, “Time is tight, I can’t explain to you in time.”

Then, he looked up at Elvis and Lea and said, “If you’re not convinced, you guys can come over. Don’t drag the time any further.”

Elvis swatted Cole’s hand away and carried Gu Mengmeng in his arms. Turning to look at Lea, he instructed, “Stay home and take care of the kids, I’ll accompany Xiao Meng.”

Lea nodded, although he was also not assured to let Gu Mengmeng interact with Cole alone, Mengmeng would definitely go crazy if this was Cole’s strategy of luring the enemy away from her base and something happened to the three little ones.

Cole could not wait a second longer as he directly squeezed out of the secret pathway he came from. Elvis followed behind him while carrying Gu Mengmeng, maintaining a safe distance between them.

Chapter 873

Chapter 873: Ah Gu, You Must Help Him.

Gu Mengmeng was never that good with directions. After being turned around a few times, she had completely lost her bearings.

Gu Mengmeng only realized she had finally arrived at her destination when a glimmer of light appeared before her.

She emerged from a mystical-looking doorway and was momentarily taken aback, before discovering she was at the Meeting Room at Sauder, with the Thirty-Six Stratagems on the wall and white tiger skin draped over a stone chair.

Chixuan's tiny body was curled up in the tiger hide. Gritting his teeth and shivering uncontrollably, he looked to be in much pain. He uttered whimpering noises and even though she couldn't understand beast language, Gu Mengmeng knew from her maternal instincts that those were cries of pain.

Tears trickled down Gu Mengmeng's face as she dashed towards Chixuan and drew him into her arms. She said soothingly, "Little Xuan, don't be afraid. Mummy is here."

Elvis went forward and tugged at Chixuan's eyelids and ears. "It's nothing. Don't worry. He's just evolving."

"Evolving?" Gu Mengmeng looked at Elvis with red-rimmed eyes, as if she was a drowning person grasping at a safety buoy.

Elvis nodded. "It's just the typical evolution process. He is nearly one year old and should be evolving."

"But Hede and the rest weren't like this when they evolved..." Gu Mengmeng whined.

This was reality. No matter how powerful a woman was, she would be weak and fragile when faced with issues concerning her own children. This was their most vulnerable weak spot.

Elvis remained silent. He didn't know how to tell Gu Mengmeng that Hede and his brothers had actually been in much pain during their evolution. But fearing that she would worry too much, all the pain they had to endure was forced to occur all at once, so that the process would be over before she realized it.

And the process of evolution from beast to human form involved the crushing and regeneration of every single inch of bone over and over again...

For this painful process to occur all at once, most beasts would never be able to withstand it. It would lead to a failure in the evolution and result in lifelong deformities or instant death.

So although Elvis never mentioned it before, he was rather proud of the successful evolutions of his three sons.

But he could not tell Gu Mengmeng that.

Just Chixuan alone was enough to cause her so much worry. If he brought up the evolution process of the other three, she would definitely blame herself.

Rather than blaming herself... he would rather she blame him.

Elvis maintained a mild expression. "He has yet to recover from his old injuries, that's why he will be in more pain during his evolution. He will be fine after enduring this."

Gu Mengmeng threw a chilly glance in Cole's direction. If not for his scheming, Chixuan would never have been accidentally injured by Elvis!

This debt was naturally placed upon his head.

Cole didn't think Elvis had intended to push the blame onto him. After all, he was best at playing mind games and he knew that no matter what Elvis said, the blame would still fall on him. But it didn't matter. As Cole said before, if he couldn't become Gu Mengmeng's most beloved, he would become her most hated.

After all, she already had so many reasons to hate him, what was one more reason?

As a result, Cole didn't retort but just said, "Evolution is a crucial time for Chixuan. His combat experience is lacking and he has had too little training. I am afraid his body does not hold the capabilities necessary to support his evolution... although he now has the Kiss of the Ocean, the poison had weakened him too much... so, Ah Gu, you must help him."

Chapter 874

Chapter 874: A Drop Of Blood

“How to help?!” Gu Mengmeng stared at Cole with red eyes.

“A drop of blood,” Cole replied. “The blood of the Beast King runs in you. Just one drop of your blood will be enough to help Little Xuan overcome this obstacle.”

“But...” Gu Mengmeng would be willing to drain all the blood from her body if it could make Chixuan well. But she still had the venom in her and her blood was especially poisonous. Although she had the Kiss of the Ocean on her for many days and could now mate with her partners, it was only because Elvis and Lea were both strong enough to withstand the effects.

In other words, although the Kiss of the Ocean had reduced the venom inside her, Gu Mengmeng was still poisonous. Elvis and Lea were able to endure her poison only because of their physical capabilities!

And blood was different. With just one drop of blood, Gu Mengmeng was able to lay barren to a plot of land a hundred meters wide.

Giving Chixuan this type of blood?

Would that help him? Was he sure it wouldn't kill him instead?

Cole understood Gu Mengmeng's worries. He pointed at the Kiss of the Ocean hanging around Chixuan's neck. “If it is only one drop, the Kiss of the Ocean can cleanse it.”

Gu Mengmeng didn't believe in Cole so she turned her attention towards Elvis. She looked at him wordlessly.

Elvis nodded as an answer.

After seeing Elvis' response, Gu Mengmeng resolutely bit down on her own finger and dripped a drop of blood into Chixuan's mouth.

Within seconds, Chixuan calmed down.

But before Gu Mengmeng could relax, Chixuan spiraled down into a crazed manner, as his body convulsed non-stop. Not knowing what else to do, Gu Mengmeng kept calling his name as she sobbed. She cried so bitterly that Elvis' heart ached for her.

After a long time, Chixuan's condition gradually calmed down. He then started evolving at a steady speed right before Gu Mengmeng's eyes.

His tiny claws morphed into slender, fair fingers, while his furry body slowly lengthened into a slender human form. His facial features shed their wolfish demeanor. However, his head remained lowered and Gu Mengmeng was unable to get a clear look at his face.

Elvis tossed a piece of skinned fur over Chixuan's body to cover it.

He didn't like Gu Mengmeng looking at the naked body of other males. Not even if he was their own son.

"Is it... over?" Gu Mengmeng looked up at Elvis.

Elvis embraced Gu Mengmeng and nodded with a "Mmm."

"The blood of the Beast King is truly exceptional. It actually helped Little Xuan skip the half-beast stage and directly evolve into a first-level beast. Ah Gu, thank you." Cole was kneeling beside Chixuan and stroking his head.

Gu Mengmeng's eyes filled with rage. "Don't touch my son with your filthy hands."

Cole was taken aback but retrieved his hand. Standing up, he bowed towards Gu Mengmeng. "Since Little Xuan is alright now and Ah Gu is not willing to see me, then... will the two of you please leave."

Gu Mengmeng snorted. “You seem to have forgotten that this is Sauder. It is my territory. I can stay wherever I want. What right do you have to ask me to leave?”

Cole didn’t get angry and didn’t retort. He just said, “My dearest mistress, you misunderstand me. I am just worried that you will feel uncomfortable staying in the same space as me.”

Chapter 875

Chapter 875: She Didn't Wish To Lose This Son

“Since you know that I won’t be comfortable staying in the same space as you, then shouldn’t you get lost yourself?” Gu Mengmeng saw no need to be courteous towards Cole.

Cole gazed meaningfully at Chixuan. “But if Little Xuan can’t find me when he awakes, he will rush out in a frenzy again. It’s snowing so heavily outside now, and he is just a first-level beast... I am afraid he can’t withstand it. It’s too dangerous.”

Gu Mengmeng clenched her fists. Chixuan’s last look at her right before he vanished into the snow the other time was like a knife piercing into Gu Mengmeng’s heart.

She was unable to deny the truth behind Cole’s words. If Cole was not around when Chixuan awakes, he would definitely head out to find him again.

Taking a deep breath, Gu Mengmeng ignored Cole and just nestled in Elvis’ arms, quietly watching the unmoving Chixuan with worried eyes.

“Wooo...”

After a long time, Chixuan appeared to be waking up. He moved his neck before propping himself up into a sitting position.

“Chixuan.” Gu Mengmeng’s heart finally settled down.

Chixuan was startled by Gu Mengmeng’s voice. He turned around and stared at her in surprise, as if he never thought Gu Mengmeng would actually be here.

After a half-second pause, he finally opened his mouth and said, “Mother.”

Gu Mengmeng leaped out from Elvis' arms towards Chixuan and hugged him tight. She kissed and nuzzled against his forehead. "My good baby. As long as you are fine. You scared Mummy to death..."

Chixuan hesitated before reaching out to stroke Gu Mengmeng's back, as gently as she herself had once done to coax her sons to sleep. His voice was mild but held a trace of cajoling. "I am sorry to have made you worry."

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and wiped away her tears. "It's alright. As long as you are well, Mummy will be fine."

Chixuan didn't say anything more and just tied the animal hide around his body to make a simple dress. He then took two steps back. "Mother, I am fine now. You two... should return soon."

Gu Mengmeng was stunned. She looked at Chixuan expectantly. "You... are not going back with us?"

Chixuan couldn't bear to see the tears in Gu Mengmeng's eye. He turned his head. "I am already a grownup and need to be independent."

"But you are my son," Gu Mengmeng said.

Chixuan remained resolute. His voice was calm and steady. "I can live independently and still be your son."

Gu Mengmeng stood up and walked forward. But as she approached him, Chixuan back away. His rejection was clear.

"Chixuan, are you blaming Mummy for not protecting you?" Gu Mengmeng's heart was grieving but didn't know what to do. She didn't know if all parents felt so helpless before their own children. She only knew... she didn't wish to lose this son.

Chixuan twisted his lips and shook his head. "Mother, I am a wolf."

Gu Mengmeng looked at Chixuan with a lost expression. She didn't understand his meaning.

Chixuan returned Gu Mengmeng's gaze and explained slowly, "Wolves do not need protection."

Gu Mengmeng nodded agreeably. "Good, since you don't blame Mummy, come back with me. If you want independence... at least wait till after the winter season is over."

Chixuan shook his head as his gaze landed upon Cole. "I cannot leave him all alone."

Chapter 876

Chapter 876: A Mother Cannot Control A Son Who Has Grown Up

“Chixuan...” Gu Mengmeng started to speak but was interrupted by Chixuan.

He held a faint smile, which was gentle, yet distant and bitter at the same time. Paired with his slightly slanted eyes, he displayed just the right amount of elegance. “You still have Elvis, Lea and my other brothers by your side. Even without me, you will not be lonely. But him... apart from me, he has nothing.”

Gu Mengmeng gnashed her teeth. She never imagined that the first guy to tell her “He/She needs me more than you” would be her own son.

She could have accepted it if that “needs me more” was a female. But why did it have to be Cole?!

“Chixuan, you clearly know...”

Chixuan nodded. “I know he is a bad guy in your eyes. You don’t like him and never thought of trying to accept him or understand him. But that is between the two of you. It has nothing to do with me.”

Gu Mengmeng kept silent. She just wrinkled her brows at Chixuan, the unease in her heart growing stronger and stronger.

“He is an important person to me. I cannot just cast him aside. So Mother, please go back.”

Gu Mengmeng bit her bottom lip and gradually relaxed her tightly-clenched fists. She didn’t want to push her son further away. The only thing she could do was just to stand there unmoving. Forcing a smile, she looked at Chixuan. “Mmm, my son is so dashing.”

Taking a deep breath, Gu Mengmeng felt her chest was quivering. If not for Elvis standing behind her, supporting her, she felt that she might not be able to remain upright.

But, what could she do?

A mother cannot control a son who has grown up...

“Your father and I will go back first. I will keep that secret tunnel open always. Anytime you miss Mummy, just come back and visit me... okay?” Every word dripped with plea. Gu Mengmeng had never behaved so pathetically in front of anyone before. She had not begged like this even when her father had abandoned her mother and her. And not even when her mother threw her out of the house thereafter.

Family was her most vulnerable weak spot.

Faced with Chixuan, she could not help behaving so humbly.

Chixuan frowned slightly. He took two steps forward and held Gu Mengmeng by the shoulders. After hesitating for a second, he hugged her. “Mother, don’t be like that. No matter where I am, I am always your son.”

“Mmm.” Gu Mengmeng grunted as she struggled to hold back her tears.

Elvis took Gu Mengmeng over from Chixuan and pressed her into his own chest. After gently cleaning her tear-streaked face, he looked at Chixuan. “Good luck.”

With that, Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng into the secret tunnel and followed the original route back.

After Gu Mengmeng and Elvis left, Cole’s face darkened.

He walked in front of Chixuan and clutched at his neck.

“I said before... I am the only one who can make her unhappy.” An iron-like grip squeezed Chixuan’s neck as he lifted the boy off the floor. Chixuan’s face turned red from the lack of oxygen but he didn’t struggle. He appeared resigned to the coming of death, but his eyes remained placidly fixed on Cole.

“Little Xuan, don’t think you can push my buttons just because I am nice to you. Be a good boy and don’t make me angry, got it?”

Chixuan nodded with some difficulty. Cole finally released his grip and turned around. Sitting on the stone chair, his gaze fell languidly across the “Thirty-Six Stratagems” on the wall. No one could guess what he was thinking.

Chapter 877

Chapter 877: The End Of Winter

Gu Mengmeng continued to be in a very depressed state after returning to the stone castle.

Elvis told Lea what happened with Cole and Chixuan. Actually, all children should be independent after coming of age. If not for Gu Mengmeng's insistence, those other three sons should have already headed out on their own.

From the day they evolved, they already had not much ties with the original family.

But because Gu Mengmeng clung onto the notion of family, Lea and Elvis made an exception. Giving the excuse that those three young ones had yet to fully evolve, they allowed them to remain by their side.

Lea's heart ached as he looked at Gu Mengmeng's despondent state.

Sighing, Lea waved his tail and sat beside Gu Mengmeng. He held her gently by the shoulders and placed her head on his chest.

"Children will always want their own life after growing up. You cannot force them to remain by your side, right?" Lea kissed the top of Gu Mengmeng's head. "Anyway, you still have Elvis and I, don't you? The two of us will never leave you."

Children would always want to leave after growing up.

Gu Mengmeng understood this logic, but that didn't mean she would be any less upset.

Fortunately, Chixuan would come over through the secret tunnel now and then to visit Gu Mengmeng. With that, her mood gradually became better.

However, the fact that Chixuan was the last to evolve but the first to become a first-level beast incited the rest of his brothers, especially Kanwu.

Thereafter, in order to advance their own abilities, the three young ones embarked on a vigorous attrition-warfare-style of training.

At the start, the three of them fought against each other. Thereafter, they sought out Lea to train with them. When Lea had to prepare Gu Mengmeng's meal, they went to get Elvis...

Elvis felt very unhappy at the thought that those three young ones, who he had personally trained, were trailing behind Cole's Chixuan. Hence, he was rather heavy-handed when training with them...

But those three youngsters had become increasingly brave, and were not scared off by Elvis' viciousness. Instead, they entered into an excited frenzy.

Time flowed on as this "passionate" father-and-son interaction progressed. All the way until a crack appeared on the snow at the entrance of the cave, and a gentle breeze blew through. Gu Mengmeng knew this meant the new year had begun.

According to custom, Elvis and Lea would lead the first hunt in their respective roles as tribe leader and witch doctor. After being couped up in the stone house for an entire winter, Gu Mengmeng rather looked forward to the first hunt of this rainy season.

After prepping himself and the three young ones, Elvis drew Gu Mengmeng into his embrace and with a big wave of his hand, smashed the snow that was sealed up against the cave entrance.

Cool air rushed and Gu Mengmeng took a deep breath before exhaling in satisfaction.

The weather was still rather cool and Elvis was worried that Gu Mengmeng would catch a chill. He wrapped a large piece of skinned fur around her securely.

Gu Mengmeng didn't resist and let Elvis bundle her up.

All ceremonies in Sauder were carried out at the altar. It was here when Cole had secretly signaled her with the code "Hoeing millet in mid-day heat" to confirm Gu Mengmeng's identity as the Messenger of the Beast Deity.

But Gu Mengmeng and company arrived at the altar only to discover that a large number of Snow fox tribesmen had already assembled there. And it appeared that the ceremony had already started and was well underway.

And the person officiating the ceremony was...

Oakley?

Gu Mengmeng frowned. She didn't ascend the stage but just watched quietly from the side.

Oakley had also clearly seen Gu Mengmeng but he maintained a calm expression. He carried on the ceremony systematically until the very last step, before stating. "Next, would the venerable Messenger of the Beast Deity come on stage to announce the first hunt of the year."

Chapter 878

Chapter 878: It Is Still More Comfortable Being In My Arms, Right?

Gu Mengmeng was not a person who placed a lot of importance on authority, but she was also no fool.

Oakley was clearly overstepping his boundaries today.

Gu Mengmeng frowned and didn't go up the stage.

Meanwhile, everyone below was already kneeling down respectfully and waiting for Gu Mengmeng's next command.

Lea whispered in a low voice, "The hunt is a major event, and cannot be delayed. Other matters, we can talk about it later."

Gu Mengmeng hesitated but eventually nodded. She had Elvis carry her onto the stage, after which she turned to face the crowd. "Warriors, congratulations on passing the trials of the harsh winter, and emerging an even better version of yourself. Now, it is time for you to display your prowess and capabilities before the Beast Deity. The first hunt marking the end of winter starts now!"

Cheers erupted from the crowd.

Elvis gave a slight shake of his gleaming, jet-black hair. His massive, muscular body radiated an undeniable aura of dominance, an indisputable ruler under the shining sun. Everyone subconsciously yielded to his supremacy, no one dared to take even half a step in front of him.

With Elvis leading the army, the group of tribesmen sprinted off.

Lea didn't need to participate in this hunt. Elvis alone was enough to control the expedition.

Gu Mengmeng's gaze drifted and landed on Oakley, who also didn't join in the hunt. She didn't speak but just observed him quietly.

Oakley didn't appear anxious but just bowed at Gu Mengmeng before saying, "Does the Great Messenger have something to ask me? Why don't we... move to the conference hall?"

Gu Mengmeng didn't answer but just turned and walked out.

Winter had just ended and the snow had yet to completely melt. As a result, the ground was very muddy.

Lea carried Gu Mengmeng and said dotingly, "The ground is still cold. So it is still more comfortable being in my arms, right?"

Gu Mengmeng smiled and nodded, but remained silent.

She knew Lea was worried she would be in a bad mood because of Oakley, and was intentionally trying to lift her spirits.

The conference hall was just behind the altar and within five minutes, Gu Mengmeng was already seated on the white tiger skin draped over the stone chair. Lea raised a fire and started heating some water for Gu Mengmeng to drink.

Meanwhile, Oakley stood to the side and met Gu Mengmeng's eyes with an open and erect manner.

"This winter, a total of three nest of youngsters were born in Sauder. Another Snow fox is currently pregnant, and it should be a female baby. Because of the food storage methods passed down by the Great Messenger, no male had to be killed as food. Only seven were frozen to death this winter as they were already physically weak in the first place. The females of the Snow fox are more delicate than other races, so I had all of them remain at home, to avoid falling ill from the chill. This is also why you did not see any females today. Nevertheless, all the males have come out and the ceremony was still very grand. I wonder if the Great Messenger is satisfied with my humble arrangements?”

Gu Mengmeng gave a light laugh. “Mmm, you have managed Sauder very well.”

Oakley lowered his head and maintained his mild smile. “Thank you Great Messenger for your praise.”

Gu Mengmeng said, “But... why did I not see Barete and Auretin just now?”

Oakley didn't seem surprised by Gu Mengmeng's question. He answered smoothly, “Sauder is under the personal command of the Great Messenger, but there is no one to officiate the end of winter ceremony for Saint Nazaire. So after much consideration, I decided to have the two of them head back to Saint Nazaire first, so that they can settle things there.”

Chapter 879

Chapter 879: Getting Rid Of Someone After He Has Served His Purpose?

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “My guards were willing to follow your arrangements?”

Gu Mengmeng might have believed it if she was told that Barete returned to Saint Nazaire at Oakley’s urgings as the two of them had a personal relationship.

But that Auretin, who had not eaten a single meal prepared by Lea this winter—would he be willing to return to Saint Nazaire before getting one meal? Ha, who would believe that?

Oakley lowered his head in a respectful manner. “If the Great Messenger feels that my arrangements are not appropriate, I will immediately send someone to call them back.”

Gu Mengmeng inhaled deeply. “Oakley, I treasure the affection we once had for each other. If you have any difficulties, please tell me frankly. I will definitely help you if I can. But I don’t like people to carry out cheap tricks behind my back. If you are planning to lead me by the nose... then be prepared to be bitten by me. But I don’t wish for my venomous teeth to be used against friends.”

Oakley maintained his respectful and calm expression. “I am the most loyal subject of the Great Messenger. Everything I do, I do it with the utmost consideration for the Great Messenger. Didn’t you leave Sauder to me because you yourself believed so? As the Great Messenger said, if you suspect a man, don’t use him. If you use a man, then don’t suspect him. But you have used me and are suspecting me at the same time. What is the logic behind that?”

Gu Mengmeng frowned. She remained silent and just watched him quietly.

Oakley looked up and met Gu Mengmeng's gaze. "Or has the Great Messenger suddenly changed her mind and wishes to keep the authority in her own hands... then the Great Messenger should just tell me. Oakley will naturally follow your wishes and hand back the authority to you. After all... getting rid of someone after he has served his purpose. This tactic is something I can understand."

"Why are you twisting my words in this manner? You clearly know I don't mean that." A chill crossed Gu Mengmeng's heart.

Oakley used to be so shy, but with a trace of astuteness... where had that Oakley gone?

When did their relationship deteriorate into such suspicion and resentment?

Although they had never been that close, they could be considered friends?

Now...

Getting rid of someone after he has served his purpose?

He actually thought she would that to him.

"Did I say anything wrong?" Oakley was very calm, his eyes completely placid. "When the Messenger had to return to Saint Nazaire and needed someone to stay on and oversee Sauder—you handed a tumultuous Sauder over to Barete and I. Now that Sauder had settled down in peace, you return just to blame me for sending off your guards... ha, I guess if you truly want to punish someone, any minor offense would do? Actually, things don't have to be so troublesome. I am just a second-level beast. Just say the word, what defense can I put up?"

Gu Mengmeng's heart felt like it had been stuffed with a bunch of cotton wool at Oakley's words.

She wanted to retort but found no words to retort with.

It was true that she had just left a tumultuous Sauder to Barete and Oakley to handle. Actually... to describe it as tumultuous was a misnomer. She had predicted that Cole would return with a surprise attack, and so left Oakley and Barete behind as bait.

It was a debt which she owed them, and a debt which she should repay.

“If you wish to retain your authority, I will not interfere. But... you should know that there are some principles that must be maintained, and some lines that cannot be crossed.”

Oakley gave a vaguely dubious smile. “Maintaining my loyalty to the Great Messenger is my only line. If the Great Messenger still trusts me, then there shouldn’t be any problems.”

Chapter 880

Chapter 880: Lea, I Am Scared.

Oakley bowed after he finished talking, and then took his leave.

Gu Mengmeng wearily leaned into Lea's arms. She pinched the bridge of her nose, feeling a slight ache in her head.

Lea gently messaged Gu Mengmeng's temples and said softly, "Why trouble yourself over such petty matters? Just let Elvis and I handle them?"

Gu Mengmeng sighed. "Your methods are a bit too harsh... so if possible, I still want Oakley to be on our side. After all, we used to be friends."

Lea kissed the top of Gu Mengmeng's head. "Silly girl. You are too soft-hearted. That is why people take advantage of you."

Gu Mengmeng gazed up into Lea's eyes. "Lea, I am scared."

"What are you scared of?" Lea's slanted eyes were full of a gentleness which wrapped around Gu Mengmeng's heart.

"I am afraid that Cole will snatch away all the people around me one by one, until they are all on his side." Gu Mengmeng buried her face into Lea's chest and said in a low voice, "If the enemies I have to face in future all used to be my friends and family, what should I do? Can I bear to attack them? Chixuan alone is enough to stop me in my tracks. And now there is Oakley. Who's next? Barete or Auretin? Or Sandy and Ian... or you and Elvis?"

Lea chuckled. "Mengmeng, you must have confidence in yourself and the people around you, that they cannot be so easily snatched away. At the very least, Elvis and I will never leave you, right?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded but kept quiet.

Yes, Elvis and Lea would never leave her.

But if in the end, she only had them and no one else—what should she do?

What if Hede and the rest ended up siding with Cole, just like Chixuan—what should she do?

When Sandy had welcomed her at the city gates before winter started, she had appeared not quite right when faced with Cole. Gu Mengmeng had wanted to ask Sandy about that but couldn't find the right opportunity to do so. Then winter came and she didn't have time to ask.

Her chest constricted and breathing became laborious.

What if...

After Chixuan, Sandy also took Cole's side—what should she do?

The first hunt led by Elvis ended that afternoon. Needless to say, the Snow fox tribe in Sauder had a long history and many more years of experience in battle and team coordination than the young Saint Nazaire tribe. As a result, the hunt went very well and Elvis enjoyed the opportunity to stretch out his muscles.

The hunted game offered to the Beast Deity was also of a higher quality and quantity than that offered by Saint Nazaire in the past years.

As tribe leader, Oakley handled the complicated ceremonial rites, while Gu Mengmeng and Lea returned to the stone castle to wait for Elvis and the three young ones. They planned to prepare a good meal out of the first hunted game in celebration of the new year.

The excited voices of the three young ones could be heard even before they were seen. Such a rambunctious scene dispelled Gu Mengmeng's depressed mood and she went to the door to welcome them with a gentle smile.

As she watched the returning father and sons, Gu Mengmeng's face held an expression as warm and lingering as the setting sun.

And what made Gu Mengmeng even happier was the fact that apart from Elvis and the three young ones, Chixuan was also among the returning group.

Chapter 881

Chapter 881: Reunion

Elvis drew Gu Mengmeng into his arms and kissed the top of her head, as if by not seeing her for just one afternoon, he already missed her to bits.

After nuzzling for awhile, Elvis finally relaxed his hold on Gu Mengmeng and carried her into the stone castle.

Kanwu hung onto Gu Mengmeng to tell her all about how brave he was today, while Jialue kept pointing out how he was just exaggerating. This incited Kanwu so much that he jumped at Jialue. In the end, Hede had to intervene to make peace when the fight got too out of control. Meanwhile... Chixuan remained by the side as if he was a guest. He did not join in but just observed quietly.

After Lea prepared the food, the whole family sat down together for their first meal of the year.

Gu Mengmeng finally understood why the elderly held the word “reunion” in such high regard.

She had been in the Beast World for a year and she didn’t know whether her own parents had even realized that this superfluous daughter of theirs was missing.

If so, would they be worried for her? Would they try to investigate into her whereabouts?

Or...

Would they be thankful that this superfluous existence of hers had perished in the wide world and they no longer had to worry about her suddenly popping up and becoming a burden to them.

“Mother.” Kanwu put down his bowl and chopsticks, and leaned in close to Gu Mengmeng. He pouted sulkily. “Can I bring some food to Master Burke?”

Gu Mengmeng was stunned...

Burke?

Didn't he...

She glanced at Lea who just smiled back helplessly. “That time was just an act, how could I have really killed Burke? If I did, Kanwu will never play with me again, right?”

“So...” Gu Mengmeng asked.

Lea shrugged. “Although we didn't make any prior arrangements with him, he is a rather smart chap. He immediately understood what was happening the moment I appeared, and played out the fight scene with me... however, he was not my match and fainted from my attack... I had been a bit too heavy-handed and his injuries were quite serious, but not fatal. Afterwards, Auretin and the rest sent him back to Sauder to recover.”

“Why didn't you tell me then?” Gu Mengmeng had always thought Burke was really killed by Lea that day.

Lea put on an innocent expression. “Why should I mention about someone so insignificant?”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. Lea was such a green-eyed monster, unwilling to even mention the name of another male before her. Mmm... she was already used to it.

Without pursuing further, Gu Mengmeng held up a large stone bowl and piled it with food. She handed it to Kanwu. “Go on.”

Kanwu grinned from ear to ear. He called to Hede and Jialue, and they ran off.

Although Burke was Kanwu's Master, in reality, he had also been a teacher to Hede and Jialue in the ways of hunting and camouflage. So the three young ones were extremely close to Burke.

Chixuan's eyes held traces of envy, but he knew that he could not ask Gu Mengmeng for some food to bring to a certain someone who was important to him.

They would probably choose to throw away that food, rather than give it to that person.

Ha, he had really put himself in a tight spot.

Chixuan just gave a crooked smile and remained silent.

Given Gu Mengmeng's high perceptiveness, she naturally noticed Chixuan's peculiar expression when Kanwu said he wanted to bring some food for Burke.

Honestly, she would indeed throw away the food rather than let Cole take a single bite.

But for the sake of her son...

"Chixuan, you should also take some back for your friend to eat."

Chapter 882

Chapter 882: Finally Overcome A Tough Obstacle

“I... can I also?” Chixuan was somewhat surprised.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and caressed Chixuan’s head. “Of course, you are my son. There is nothing impossible for you in this household.”

Actually, Chixuan was already a fully-grown adult. Gu Mengmeng’s intimate action made him feel rather embarrassed. But at the same time, he felt a sense of longing and contentment.

He enjoyed the rush that those conflicting feelings brought.

“Thank you mother,” Chixuan said in a small voice. He then took up a bowl, bowed and rushed out.

Gu Mengmeng heaved a big sigh after the four children left. Her smile faded until only loneliness was left.

Elvis used his forefinger to gently rub Gu Mengmeng’s brow. His usually harsh eyes held only tenderness now, as if he desperately wished to bring all that was kind and gentle in the world to this little person. He said in a soothing voice, “Our children have grown up and will always want to head out and roam about. So, why don’t you try diverting your focus on them to Lea and I instead?”

Gu Mengmeng’s heart felt like it was being teased by a kitten. As she looked at Elvis, being all jealous over their own sons, she couldn’t help smiling. And it was a smile full of sweetness and just a tinge of exasperation.

From the time her sons were born, this fellow had ranked them as his number one romantic rivals.

Now that their sons had grown up...

Why did he give off a vibe, as if he had finally overcome a tough obstacle?

“Xiao Meng.” Elvis’ voice was hot and raspy, with just a trace of seduction. “During today’s hunt, I observed that Hede and the rest are not far from evolving.”

Gu Mengmeng froze. “Will it be as painful as Chixuan’s experience?”

Elvis shook his head. “No. Their bones have already evolved, and it will not be as painful as that.”

Only then did Gu Mengmeng relax and breathe out in relief.

Elvis twirled a strand of Gu Mengmeng’s hair absentmindedly. “I wished to say that after they have evolved, they need to move out and lead independent lives. You...”

Gu Mengmeng bit her bottom lip. Her sons were just slightly over a year old. In the present world, they should still be in her arms sucking on pacifiers, while here... she had to face up to her sons’ need for independence and to leave home.

Ha, why was everything in the Beast World on an accelerated pace.

Her pregnancy had only lasted over a dozen days, while her children could only remain with her for a year...

She couldn’t deny being depressed at that.

But Gu Mengmeng knew that as a good mother, she needed to learn how to let go when the time came. She needed to accept the fact that her sons’ were individual beings, and she could not force her own wishes upon them.

Hence, Gu Mengmeng nodded. “I know. I will be mentally prepared.”

Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng’s little face. “Don’t worry. Even after they become independent, you will not lose them. Like what Chixuan is doing now, they will come visit you every few days.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled rather helplessly. “Mothers can no longer control their sons after they have grown up. I am afraid that by then, it might be like that husky in that little community. Vanishing without a trace the moment the master lets go of its leash...”

Elvis had not heard the term husky in a long while. Recalling how she used to tease him with that name, those sweet memories drew a warm smile on his face as tenderness rippled in his eyes. He said happily, “I will break their legs if they dare to not return home to visit you.”

Chapter 883

Chapter 883: Fair Skin Covers A Hundred Flaws, While Being Fat Ruins Everything.

That night, Sauder held a bonfire party.

After all, it was the all-important start to the new year. As the Messenger of the Beast Deity, Gu Mengmeng naturally had to attend.

The prime seat at the largest bonfire was reserved only for Gu Mengmeng.

Families were considered as one unit during bonfire parties, with as many bonfires as the number of females in the tribe. Males who had no families would try their best to raise their own profile in front of the females they fancied, and if successful... they would become a bona fide member of a family that very night.

Even during such an occasion, Oakley maintained his status as an organizer to settle all the arrangements for the event. A few females expressed their goodwill towards Oakley, only to be pushed aside by him.

Kanwu fought to get Gu Mengmeng's permission, to let Burke gather at their family's bonfire to play. The three young ones were still caught up with the excitement of today's hunt, and pestered Burke constantly with stories of the expedition. A few times, Burke wanted to talk to Gu Mengmeng, but couldn't find the opportunity to do so.

Gu Mengmeng was happily relaxed. She also knew those three young ones were intentionally behaving so.

Because the moment Burke talked to her, regardless of whether she paid any heed to him, he would never get the chance to sit with them again.

The two males in her household would never allow a male who had designs on her, to raise his own profile in front of her.

From start till end, Elvis kept Gu Mengmeng tightly within his embrace.

Lea kept busy with the food preparations, while Gu Mengmeng was engrossed in the tales of her sons' "heroic achievements". Now and then, her gaze drifted to the surroundings, but failed to spot Chixuan's profile.

He had eaten lunch with her this afternoon, so the night time was probably reserved for Cole.

Sigh, he was her own son but he treated Cole as family.

Could it be her own auspicious remark on that Stockholm Syndrome phenomenon—it had really come true for Chixuan.

Sigh...

At this moment, Gu Mengmeng really wished she was Wang Xiaoxin. Would she know what to do now if she knew some psychology?

"Gu Mengmeng." A soft voice sounded out from behind.

Gu Mengmeng turned back and met Sandy's shining eyes.

Mmm, every time Gu Mengmeng saw Sandy again for the first time after winter, she always felt as if Sandy had gone to Korea for liposuction and plastic surgery.

She had witnessed this transformation last year, but was still stunned again this year.

Really...

Fair skin covers a hundred flaws, while being fat ruins everything.

All fat girls held the potential to be beautiful. The moment they slimmed down, they would be so beautiful even you would be alarmed.

Gu Mengmeng stood up from Elvis' embrace and pulled Sandy along to sit at the side of the bonfire.

With stern faces, both Bode and Collin stood protectively beside Sandy. It made one feel rather intimidated.

Gu Mengmeng turned to look at them. "What? Are you still afraid I will eat Sandy up?"

Bode subconsciously started to nod, before quickly shaking his head. He tried to explain but immediately kept his mouth shut and his head lowered after Sandy glared at him.

Gu Mengmeng couldn't be bothered with them and just passed the roasted meat, which Lea had just handed her, over to Sandy. "There, you eat this first."

Sandy smiled sweetly and took the roasted meat, but didn't start eating. Her tiny face glowed in the firelight, and she appeared exceptionally bashful.

"Gu Mengmeng, I have something to tell you."

"Mmm? What is it?"

"I... I am pregnant."

Chapter 884

Chapter 884: I'm Pregnant, The Child's Your

Gu Mengmeng was in a state of shock for three seconds before she broke out into a grin and exclaimed, "Really?! You're pregnant?!"

Sandy blushed and nodded her head, admitting to it, "Yeah, I'm pregnant, the child's your...."

"Ah?!" Gu Mengmeng almost fell backwards as she shook her head and commented, "No no no, this is not possible."

Sandy glared at Gu Mengmeng while pouting bashfully as she continued her sentence, "Your Godson."

"Ah....yeah yeah yeah." Gu Mengmeng remembered that during the start of last year, she brought Hede and his three brothers to Sandy and told her that if Sandy were to give birth to a female, she can choose a partner from any of her sons. If she gave birth to a male, Gu Mengmeng would be his Godmother while Hede and his three brothers shall be his Godbrothers.

Now that Sandy's pregnant, naturally he would be her.....Godson.

But...

"How can you confirm that you're bearing a son? What if the child's my daughter-in-law?"

Sandy's pregnancy was a long-awaited good news for Gu Mengmeng, it's really a puddle of pure water amidst all these worrying troubles.

One reason was because Sandy was Gu Mengmeng's bosom friend. On the other hand, Gu Mengmeng really needed a piece of good news to appease her own emotions now so she was exceptionally concerned about Sandy's stomach.

Sandy chuckled and said, “You’re still the old you, you always knew some peculiar things inside out but you’re always ignorant towards some basic knowledge.”

Gu Mengmeng was not angry at Sandy’s teasing as she nodded to agree with her, “You’re pregnant so you’ve the highest position now, whatever you say is always correct~”

Sandy grinned from ear to ear, she did not know why either but her emotions had always been very irritable after she got pregnant. However, whenever Gu Mengmeng was beside her, her mood would become extremely good.

“If it’s a female baby, the pregnancy period will be around ten months but look at me, it’s just twenty days but I can see my stomach bulging out already.....”

If Sandy did not reveal her pregnancy, Gu Mengmeng would have assumed that she just ate a little more than usual. But now after her explanation.....yeah, that little stomach was indeed bulging out.

Gu Mengmeng stretched her hand out and touched Sandy’s stomach lightly, asking, “So.....this baby is.....?”

“Bode’s.” Sandy’s gaze was very gentle. After expecting a child, she emitted a motherly glow. “If it’s a bear, a male baby will still need around 91 to 95 days so there’s no way it will take so little time for my stomach to bulge out. So, this is most likely a little leopard.”

Gu Mengmeng gave Bode a complimenting gaze and wished him, “Good job Bode, congratulations.”

Bode smiled bashfully as he scratched the back of his head, his whole face turning red. His gaze was however fixated on Sandy with pamper and cherish written in his eyes.

Gu Mengmeng cupped her hands together, saying her prayers to the heavens. She closed her eyes and said, “In the name of the messenger, I earnestly beg the mighty Beast Deity to bestow a life filled with good luck and no mishap to this tiny life. Please allow him to grow up well, happily and healthily.”

Sandy’s eyes watered as she looked at Gu Mengmeng, speaking to her with a nasally voice, “Thank you, Gu Mengmeng.”

Gu Mengmeng opened her eyes and smiled back. “There’s no need to thank me, he’s my Godson after all.”

Sandy nodded her head firmly before asking, “Gu Mengmeng, I’ve another matter to trouble you.”

“When did we ever trouble each other? Just tell me whatever you want to say.” Gu Mengmeng smiled.

Sandy sniffed and continued, “I want.....you to help name my son, is that alright?”

Gu Mengmeng glanced at Bode and then looked back at Sandy, commenting, “I don’t think that’s nice.....how can I name him when his birth parents are here?”

Chapter 885

Chapter 885: Their Breeds Are Different, How Could They Be Blood-Related Father And Son?

Sandy shook her head, urgency and eager written in her eyes as she explained, “You’re the messenger of the Beast Deity, the name you choose will be different.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled, instantly understanding what Sandy meant.

All parents in this world were the same, they always wanted to leave everything best for their children.

Gu Mengmeng nodded and agreed, “Alright, when you give birth, I’ll select names for them.”

Sandy finally smiled as she said, “I knew you treat me the best.”

When the two females meet each other, they always had endless topics to talk about. They chatted for a long time about everything under the sun, not leaving any chance for the four males to interrupt.

Gu Mengmeng was upset over Chixuan and Oakley for quite a period of time so seeing that she had someone to talk to and laugh with, Elvis and Lea were naturally happy. Thus, they unexpectedly refrained themselves from intervening because of jealousy as they allowed them to laugh while eating, talking softly and chuckling loudly in an extremely delightful atmosphere.

As for Bode and Collin....

Ha ha, Sandy had enacted different kinds of explosion on the spot at home these few days and they really did not know what to do. After finally finding someone to make her smile, as long as Gu Mengmeng’s two Buddhas did not explode, they really wished Sandy and Gu Mengmeng could interact more so that Sandy's mood could turn better.

"Hey, where's your Cole? Why don't I see him?" Sandy's words took everyone into a state of shock.

Gu Mengmeng squinted her eyes in confusion, trying to not show any abnormal behavior as she asked while eating the roasted meat, "My Cole?"

"Yeah." Sandy nodded before continuing, "Have you not forgiven him yet? Although he had not found the thing you want, just let him return home on behalf of Chixuan. Or else, it's not good to let both of them wander outside."

Gu Mengmeng raised her brow and questioned, "He told you that?"

Sandy nodded and said, "Yeah, he mated with you together with Lea. Although he can't win your favor like Lea, he's at least a fifth-level orc and both of you even have Chixuan as your son....if your thing is missing, just slowly find it. You don't have to be so angry till you forbid the poor males from returning home, right?"

"Cole mated with me together with Lea?" The more Gu Mengmeng heard Sandy's words, the more dumbfounded she was.

Gu Mengmeng mated with Lea at the Snake King Valley but when they returned to Saint Nazaire, she did not hide the news so everyone in the tribe knew about what happened there. And Sandy was included amongst everyone.

Moreover, when they were digging for the well, Gu Mengmeng even specially told her story at the Snake King Valley as a fulfillment to the females' requests.

Sandy was her longest friend, she did not believe that Sandy was unaware of what happened between her and Cole.

But Sandy did not look like she was lying, this was the exact same attitude she had when pleading for Elvis and Lea back then in her cave.

So...

Sandy strongly believed that Cole was one of her partners and Chixuan was their son?

F!

What the hell, Chixuan was a wolf and Cole was a fox. Their breeds were different, how could they be blood-related father and son? No DNA test was even needed, anyone's naked eye could differentiate them, alright?

"Sandy, we should leave. If you continue pestering Gu Mengmeng, Lea would lose his temper." As Bode said, he forcefully carried Sandy up while throwing a glance at Collin. Then, he left first with an unsatisfied Sandy.

Collin sighed, sitting cross-legged next to the campfire. He finally spoke up after remaining silent for a while, "I wanted to inform you a long time ago but I didn't have the chance to. Sandy.....seemed like she fell for Cole's trick."

Chapter 886

Chapter 886: She Wants To Wait For You Here.

Gu Mengmeng did not answer as she just looked at Collin quietly. She knew that Collin would tell her everything without concealing any facts because he was concerned about Sandy too and would not just ignore her like that.

“Not long after you guys set off to search for the Kiss of the Ocean, Cole came to Saint Nazaire and used Chixuan to lure Hede and his two brothers out. Then, he threatened Sandy to leave with him using the brothers.” Collin tightened his fists, feeling as if everything was his fault. If he protected the three little ones well enough, Collin would not have the chance to intervene and maybe all of this would not had happened.

But Gu Mengmeng knew that with Cole’s abilities, it was a piece of cake to suppress Collin. Even if Collin were to stop him this time, there would definitely be a second occurrence.

And moreover, the tricks next time would not just be a gentle ‘lure’.

After all, Cole did not only have Chixuan by his side, he still had third-level and fourth-level stray beasts that were still hidden somewhere.

And, Chixuan was Hede’s and his brothers’ blood-related brother, who could stop them from meeting each other?

Gu Mengmeng patted Collin’s shoulder to comfort him as she did not say a word and just quietly hear him sigh.

“When I chased after them, Cole and Sandy were walking back, chatting happily. Hede and the other three were playing by one side and the atmosphere was good. Back then, Bode and I felt really strange, Sandy always had the same enemy and hatred as you and she definitely would not like anyone you hate, she even looked like she wanted to kill someone when she left the cave. Why did she look like she regretted not meeting Cole earlier when she returned....”

“When Sandy saw me and Bode, she directly said that she wanted to come to Sauder. She wants to wait for you here. I pulled Sandy away from Cole but she said that he was at least Gu Mengmeng’s partner too, she needs to let both of you make up.....I’m dumb and I couldn’t react fast enough so I just said that Cole’s not your partner, then.....Sandy got angry and she said that even if I still have you in my heart, I’ve already mated with her, she demanded me to not ruin you and Cole’s marriage.....I’m so wronged....”

Gu Mengmeng’s brows were deeply furrowed, the entire tribe knew that Collin liked her before.

Back then, when Ellie used this matter to provoke Sandy, Sandy refuted her back directly.

If Sandy believed that she had an affair going on with Collin....

Ha, Gu Mengmeng did not believe that was true.

“Then, Cole pulled me aside and smiled an extremely evil smile. He said that if I didn’t want Sandy to be abandoned and if I didn’t want Sandy to become a stray beast, I need to shut up and prevent talking rubbish in front of her.”

“But I didn’t speak rubbish, he’s originally not your partner. I don’t believe him so I told Sandy twice after that. In the end.....Sandy didn’t allow me to touch her this entire winter, she didn’t even speak a word with me. After being pregnant, her temper became exceptionally bad, she would immediately look like she wanted to kill anyone who dared to say that you and Cole aren’t a couple...”

Gu Mengmeng knew how much Sandy liked Collin.

Wasn’t the bear mark on her chest the best evidence?

A love as deep as the ocean would end up in a Cold War and almost ended up in a divorce because of a sentence of her not having any relations to Cole....

Ha, Cole really had good tricks up his sleeve.

Tightening her fists, Gu Mengmeng's nails slowly turned white.

The thing she's worried about really happened, right?

First Chixuan, then Oakley, now Sandy....

Everyone around her started standing on Cole's side, one after another.

Chapter 887

Chapter 887: I'm Sorry, I Created Rumors Behind Your Back.

To her, people important to her already developed strong connections with Cole. If she were to kill him abruptly, the victims who would be tormented would be those she cared about.

Unless she made up her mind of caring for no one, or else.....

She could not touch Cole.

If Chixuan made her hold back from taking actions against Cole for fear of implicating him, she must be.....coming to a standstill now.

“Gu Mengmeng, think of something.....Sandy can't carry on like this. Her consciousness is getting messier every day. The last time, she suddenly recalled how Cole and Chixuan can't be blood-related father and son because one's a fox and one's a wolf.....then, her head started hurting badly and she rolled on the ground while hugging onto her head. After that, as long as she recalled any unreasonable details of you having no relation to Cole, her head will start to ache.....”

“The winter was still fine, we tried our best to not mention you and Cole in front of her but as we came closer to the end of winter, she started thinking more of you and Cole. After realizing that she was pregnant, we did not dare to agitate her even more. Whenever she thought of some illogical matters, we will think of ways to lie our way through and round things up, so we said that you and Cole were a pair.....I'm sorry, I created rumors behind your back.”

After Collin confessed, he lowered his head and frowned hard.

Collin was always an honest, rough man and he would try not to open his mouth if he could solve matters by action. Since he said so much to Gu

Mengmeng today, it seemed like he was really worried for Sandy.

Gu Mengmeng sighed too as she said, rather guiltily, “I should be the one to apologize. I’m afraid I’m the reason why Cole planned his tricks on Sandy.....I’ll think of a solution, don’t worry too much.”

Collin lifted his face and wanted to say something but eventually gave up. He only replied a sentence, “That....thank you.”

Then, he left.

Originally, Sandy’s pregnancy was happy news.

Ha, Cole was really creating troubles for her with all his might.

Elvis hugged Gu Mengmeng’s waist and lightly kissed her brows, comforting, “Don’t worry, everything’s going to be alright.”

Gu Mengmeng lifted her head and questioned while staring at Elvis, “If I’m the one pregnant instead and Cole used some tricks to control me, can you still say ‘don’t worry, everything’s going to be alright’ so calmly?”

Elvis was taken aback. He only thought of it when he felt his heart scrunch up. Shaking his head, he said, “I can’t.”

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head and lied back into Elvis’s arms, saying, “Yeah, I can’t do that too. Sandy’s my first friend in this world, she’s clearly so meek and cowardly, she didn’t even fight back when Nina bullied her that badly in the past but she dared to hit Nina when Nina scolded me. No matter when, she always places my feelings as her top priority, she even treats me better than her partners. She never seem to reject any of my requests....she’s my most important sister.....I really can’t.....ignore her.”

Elvis’s grip around Gu Mengmeng’s waist tightened as he rubbed his chin against her cheek. He said with a firm, low and calm voice, “I didn’t ask you to ignore her, I just asked you to not worry. Worrying won’t solve any problem, right?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded her head and remained silent, allowing Elvis to hug her.

His hug could always make her feel at ease no matter when.

Gu Mengmeng did not feel much excitement so she just showed up at the night campfire party to prove she was not dead and left the rest of the matters behind, which female hooked onto a new male.....just leave those to Oakley.

Chapter 888

Chapter 888: Bewitching Spell

The three young ones had been overly excited the whole day and fell asleep not long after returning to the stone castle.

Elvis and Lea accompanied Gu Mengmeng back to the room on the second floor. They only dared to speak after shutting the door.

Lea said, “Sandy’s condition... looks like she has been bewitched by a Fox Seductive Fragrance.”

At the bonfire party, although Lea had been roasting meats all along, his attention was always on Gu Mengmeng. So he naturally overheard the conversation between Collin and herself.

“Fox Seductive Fragrance?” Gu Mengmeng was taken aback. She suddenly recalled how Cole used a bug to frame Lea, but was instead exposed by Lea. That day, when Cole appeared, he seemed to have said something about wanting to replace Lea’s position. Afterwards, Lea had told Gu Mengmeng that a male’s Fox Seductive Fragrance only had the power to spice up one’s love life, but the Fox Seductive Fragrance of a female had the power to control one’s mind.

Lea nodded. “I detected it when Sandy was sitting beside you then. Although it was very faint, it was definitely a Fox Seductive Fragrance.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned. “Could we neutralize it?”

Lea nodded, but looked a little doubtful. “There are two ways. First is to find out the identity of the person who bewitched Sandy, and let the person undo it. The second is to find someone who is even better at using the Fox Seductive Fragrance, to use an even stronger Fox Seductive Fragrance to bewitch her and suppress the original fragrance.”

“Bewitch?” Gu Mengmeng was hesitant.

Lea nodded. “The Fox Seductive Fragrance of different females can cause different illusions. Used on its own, a female’s fragrance is just a more potent form of the male’s. However, if matched with a person who knows bewitching spells, it can have the effect of mind control.”

Gu Mengmeng furrowed her brows and looked at Lea. “Do you know the bewitching spell?”

Lea nodded. “Tribe leaders and witch doctors all have to learn the bewitching spells.”

Gu Mengmeng said, “Then try it out on me. Let me experience it.”

Lea pursed his lips. “I will never use something like that on you. Humph.”

Gu Mengmeng was surprised. Why are you suddenly throwing a hissy fit now? What are you harrumphing at?

Elvis chuckled at Gu Mengmeng’s confused face. He played with her fingers. “He is afraid that once he uses the bewitching spell on you, he will not be able to control his own greed and will want to keep using it. He might use it to gain your favor first, then... perhaps to replace me, and then kill me.”

“I will never do anything that will upset Mengmeng.” Lea turned away, his face all red.

Gu Mengmeng laughed. “Then that’s settled? Just once. I want to know what is this bewitching spell.”

Lea kept his faced turned and refused to look at Gu Mengmeng. He rejected coldly. “No.”

Gu Mengmeng cupped her face with her palm. “Then I have no choice but to seek out Cole.”

“No way!” Lea’s fur bushed up and he glared daggers at Gu Mengmeng. “If you let him cast a bewitching spell on you, you will think that he is your partner, just like Sandy!”

Erm...

Gu Mengmeng was suddenly speechless.

Why did the IQ of this fox of hers always dip lower than the national average when faced with matters concerning her?

“I am saying to seek out Cole, and make him lift the bewitching spell on Sandy. I didn’t say I want him to perform the spell on me.”

Lea was momentarily taken aback. He then cleared his throat and turned his face the other way. “That’s also a no. I don’t like you going to find Cole. That slutty fox scent of his is unbearable.”

Chapter 889

Chapter 889: Do You Have A Death wish?

Gu Mengmeng really felt like reminding Lea that they were of the same race and even had the same mother. So their scent... was actually more or less the same.

But Gu Mengmeng knew that Lea would be outraged by such a remark.

Further, she did not wish to compare Lea with Cole. Hence, she swallowed her words.

Elvis patted Lea's shoulder. "Never mind. you just need to give a demonstration of the spell process to Xiao Meng. Without the Fox Seductive Fragrance of a female, it will not have much effect anyway."

"But..." Lea hesitated.

Elvis chuckled. "What? You went against the head of the family, and now want to go against the first partner? Do you have a death wish?"

Lea suddenly laughed, somewhat exasperated. "You are really spoiling Mengmeng. You dare to joke about your first partner status. Are you not worried that Mengmeng will give the first partner position over to me after I use the bewitching spell?"

Elvis calmly raised one eyebrow. "You can try."

Lea pursed his lips. "Tsk, forget it. The first partner always has to maintain a stern presence, and has so many restrictions... haha, I rather be a pampered partner."

Elvis nodded, "Mmm, if you wish to continue being pampered, then don't go against the head of the household."

Lea rolled his eyes at Elvis. “I know I know. Tsk, you got guts.”

Elvis chuckled, what guts?

It was not so.

He would never have the guts to take any risks with Gu Mengmeng.

However...

He was not worried if it was Lea.

He and Lea were the same. They would never do anything that would make Gu Mengmeng unhappy, right?

Lea waved his tail and sat down facing Gu Mengmeng. He shut his slanted eyes, before slowly opening them, directly meeting Gu Mengmeng’s gaze.

A red glint flashed past his pupils, after which Gu Mengmeng felt like her line of sight was in complete control by Lea. His eyes were like a huge vortex. The more she tried to struggle, the deeper she was being sucked in.

“Gu Mengmeng, Gu Mengmeng. You are now very hungry and wish to eat some stewed meat... you are now very hungry and wish to eat some stewed meat...”

Gu Mengmeng’s vision blurred until she couldn’t see a thing. She could only hear that familiar voice repeating those phrases.

Her stomach rumbled and when Gu Mengmeng recovered from her trance, she indeed felt rather hungry.

“Lea, I am hungry and wish to eat stewed meat,” Gu Mengmeng subconsciously said this out loud. She then noticed the solemn expressions on Lea’s and Elvis’ faces.

After being momentarily taken aback, Gu Mengmeng suddenly laughed. “I understand now.”

“Mmm?” Elvis drew Gu Mengmeng into his embrace.

Gu Mengmeng replied, “Without the Fox Seductive Fragrance, I would be bewitched but only for a short moment... so that’s the bewitching spell? Haha.”

Gu Mengmeng looked up at Lea, whose gaze held a hazy coolness akin to moonlight. As if he was a little fox hiding under the cover of darkness, fiendish and heart-stirring. “If I am not wrong, this bewitching spell was passed down to you by the previous Messenger of the Beast Deity? If it was her... then she should be able to control people’s minds even without the Fox Seductive Fragrance.”

Lea nodded. “Yeah, the bewitching spell was passed down by the previous Messenger. According to our historical records, the previous Messenger was an extremely skilled user of the bewitching spell, and reached great heights with her use of it. One would fall under her spell without any one even knowing it. Over the past one thousand years, as much as they hoped for it, no one else in the Snow fox tribe have been able to wield the same power.”

Chapter 890

Chapter 890: Need To Dig Up Wang Xiaoxin From The Grave

Gu Mengmeng laughed. “Of course no one could. What bewitching spell, this is just hypnotism.”

“Hypnotism?” Lea asked.

Gu Mengmeng nodded. “Yeah. It is a type of subliminal messaging. It was Wang Xiaoxin’s specialty.”

Gu Mengmeng leaned forward and rested her head on Elvis’ chest. She tapped Elvis’ arm lightly and rhythmically.

Firstly, use the Fox Seductive Fragrance to confuse one’s mind, and then expose that person to subliminal messages when his mind was at its most vulnerable. This would achieve the effect of hypnotism.

But most hypnotisms would come with a key, which when activated, would neutralize the hypnotism.

The key could be in the form of a certain phrase, a certain object or a certain time.

To put it simply, anything in this world could be that key.

So, unless the person who cast the spell used the key to undo the hypnotism, there was no way anyone else could guess what the key was.

What were the chances of successfully finding Cole and getting him to reveal the key?

Ha, probably lower than if Gu Mengmeng herself tried to guess what the key was.

His motive had always been to hold the people around her in the palm of his hand, to be used as bargaining chips. He would never give in so easily.

So, there was only the second option.

A more powerful practitioner?

They would need to dig up Wang Xiaoxin from the grave?

The more she thought about it, the more frustrated Gu Mengmeng got. She regretted for the umpteenth time for choosing to major in human resource in college. Why didn't she study psychology!

Gu Mengmeng stroked her own hair and slapped her thigh. "I want to sleep."

Elvis and Lea exchanged glances. "To find the Beast Deity?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded. "Yeah."

Elvis sighed and kissed Gu Mengmeng on the lips. "Don't sleep too long."

Gu Mengmeng just nodded.

Elvis gently placed Gu Mengmeng on the bed, which was lined with thick furs. He then turned and slept on the outside to prevent her from falling off. He covered her slender body with a fur blanket. "Sleep then, I will look after you."

Gu Mengmeng slowly shut her eyes and allowed sleep to take over, transporting her back to that thick white mist.

A piece of green grass patch about two square meters in size, containing a two-seater wooden bench was there. The Beast Deity sat leisurely on the bench, smiling at Gu Mengmeng.

Reaching out one hand, he said, "Daughter, you are back."

Gu Mengmeng hurried over and looked accusingly at the Beast World. “I am being vexed to the brim of my head in the Beast World, while you are passing time so leisurely here.”

The Beast Deity smacked his lips. “Didn’t you come back to ask for some pocket money? This is not very filial of you... are you sure you want to act like this?”

Feeling choked, Gu Mengmeng clenched her fists. “You win.”

With that, she took a deep breath and put on a sweet, daughterly smile. “Daddy, I have come to watch television with you.”

The Beast Deity raised his brows with a smile. “You are just like the devious supporting actress in a television drama, desperately trying to snatch a piece of inheritance.”

Gu Mengmeng’s forehead throbbed with anger. She plastered on a fake smile. “You only have one offspring, me. There is no one to fight with me for your inheritance.”

The Beast Deity nodded as if just realizing that. “Yeah, you are right.”

Gu Mengmeng reached out one palm. “I have decided to be a good, hardworking daughter. I don’t want anything else, just give me a book.”

The Beast Deity glanced at Gu Mengmeng. “What? You also want a copy of the “300 Poems of the Tang Dynasty”?

Chapter 891

Chapter 891: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

The smile on Gu Mengmeng's face nearly fell off. She shook her head. Sitting down beside the Beast Deity, Gu Mengmeng looped her arm around his and said, "Daddy, I want a book called "Hypnotism: From Beginner to Advanced Levels."

The Beast Deity nodded with fatherly affection. "Sure. Watch some television with me first. I will give it to you after."

"Deal." Gu Mengmeng happily agreed. She then watched as the Beast Deity waved his hand and a blank space opened up before them.

Familiar scenes played in front of her eyes, until the part where they had left off the previous time.

A grand mall full of glittering luxuries. All of the goods emitted an opulent and modern air. Gu Mengmeng was dazzled even without looking at the brand names.

Snakel maneuvered Gu Mengmeng onto a sofa and gave a casual hand gesture. A saleslady pushed over two racks.

Snakel chose one outfit and went into one of the fitting rooms to change. He came out after trying it on and asked Gu Mengmeng, "Does this look good?"

Gu Meng Meng was dumbfounded.

Why hadn't this fellow acted according to script? Didn't he say he wanted to buy some clothes for her? Why was he now shopping for himself?

Nevertheless...

He did look pretty fetching.

The khaki western suit on Snakel looked like it had been tailor-made for him. He looked extremely debonair and capable, appearing every inch the leading CEO in one of those drama series.

Perhaps it was his natural-born elegance. Snakel was just standing there and asking a simple question. He wasn't trying to act cool at all. But he somehow looked like he was on the cover of a magazine, making Gu Mengmeng feel like she wanted to take a photo of him with her mobile, and then licking the screen.

Snakel looked at his watch and chuckled. "Mmm, you have been staring at me for two whole minutes without blinking. It looks like this outfit is pretty good."

Gu Mengmeng snapped out of her trance. She immediately lowered her head. "Who... who was staring at you?"

In a good mood, Snakel stepped forward and hooked Gu Mengmeng's chin. His eyes held a teasing glint. "Wipe off your saliva before denying. That might be more convincing."

Gu Mengmeng instinctively touched her own mouth, and saw that Snakel's smile had widened. She then realized she had been tricked.

She harrumphed and turned her head, refusing to look at Snakel.

Snakel didn't argue but just changed into outfit after outfit for Gu Mengmeng to see. He then decided on whether to buy an outfit, based on how long Gu Mengmeng gaped at him.

It must be admitted that Snakel was a natural-born clothes horse. There was not a single outfit that didn't look good on him. Every outfit looked like it had been made for him.

And regardless of what style the outfit was, it instantly looked suave on his body.

An earth-shattering suaveness!

So basically, as long as he tried it on, it would be bought.

Until...

Snakel put on a pure white western suit.

Because he possessed Gu Mengmeng's memories, he knew that her favorite Korean drama idols were those who wore western suits. From her dazed expression today, he confirmed it. Hence, the majority of the outfits which Snakel tried on were western suits, and he had successfully attracted her attention. There were even a few suits which made Gu Mengmeng's head spin round and round.

But when that pure white western suit appeared, Gu Mengmeng was momentarily stunned before bursting out in laughter. She laughed so hard that she was bent over and gasping for breath.

Chapter 892

Chapter 892: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Snakel's hairs stood on end after being laughed at by Gu Mengmeng. At a loss, he turned to look at his reflection, but couldn't find anything wrong.

He frowned in disappointment.

Gu Mengmeng laughed for a long time without any intention of stopping. Snakel finally walked right up to her and pinched her cheek. He pulled her up towards him. "What are you laughing at?"

Snakel's presence was very overbearing and Gu Mengmeng timidly stopped laughing.

With traces of a smile, she looked down and shook her head. "Nothing, nothing. Senior is very handsome. He looks handsome no matter what he wears... pfft..."

Snakel gritted his teeth. "Did you read the employee's manual? Lying to me... what are the consequences?"

That evil clause...

Gu Mengmeng lifted her head and looked at Snakel. Thinking of how she could never afford the $450,000 compensation fee, she chose to be honest.

"Actually it's not that funny. I just feel that... a pure white western suit makes one look like iconic figure."

Snakel raced to recall which iconic figure wore a trademark white western suit. But no matter how hard he thought, he couldn't think of any. He had no choice but to ask with one raised eyebrow, "Who?"

“Kentucky...” Gu Mengmeng started laughing as she said. She truly couldn’t control herself any longer and just rolled on the sofa with laughter.

“Gu Mengmeng!” Snakel called out her name in a curt manner.

Gu Mengmeng knew it wasn’t right of her to laugh at her boss like that, but she really couldn’t contain her laughter.

For the sake of her rice bowl, Gu Mengmeng tried to save the situation even as her lips kept curling up. “Senior, listen to me... even if you look like Kentucky, it was when he was young and at his prime... haha... yes, you are definitely the most handsome Kentucky... hahaha...”

If it was anyone else who dared to mock Snakel like that in front of him—that person would probably feel an oppressive rage so heavy that his bones would be ground to dust?

But somehow, faced with a laughing Gu Mengmeng, Snakel couldn’t find the tiniest trace of anger. In fact, he couldn’t help being influenced by her smile. His own lips curled up and his heart felt radiant.

Loosening his grip on Gu Mengmeng’s jaw, Snakel returned to the fitting room to change back to his original outfit.

After he came out, he told the saleslady, “For each of those outfits which I have just selected, pick ten matching ladies’ sets, all according to her measurements.”

Without waiting for the saleslady to reply, he left pulling Gu Mengmeng behind.

Gu Mengmeng looked befuddled. “Huh?”

Snakel had tried on over ten outfits. Ten matching ladies’ sets for each outfit. That would be more than a hundred new outfits.

Damn, such excessive extravagance!

The clothes here were so expensive that Gu Mengmeng would quiver for several days at the cost of just one outfit. Buying over a hundred sets? She couldn't afford it even if she sold herself.

"I don't want new clothes. You just buy them for yourself. Don't buy for me. I don't want it..."

Snakel paused and turned to look at Gu Mengmeng. "I have chosen all my clothes based on your preference. After putting in so much effort to please you, shouldn't you repay me a little?"

"Huh?" Gu Mengmeng always felt that her IQ dropped whenever she conversed with Snakel. She completely failed to understand his meaning.

She raged inside: Speak in simple terms!

Snakel leaned in close to Gu Mengmeng, forcing her to plaster herself on the car door. He placed his arms on either side of her ears, restricting her to the limited space in front of his chest. His smile was faint but full of tenderness.

Chapter 893

Chapter 893: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Snakel's tone was light as a feather flitting across her heart. He breathed out warmly in the vicinity of Gu Mengmeng's nose, and said in an alluring manner, "From now on, you are only allowed to wear the clothes I buy for you, to use the things I get for you. From head to toe... you can only bear my mark."

Gu Mengmeng blinked awkwardly. "Am I going to be your kept woman?"

Snakel's smile deepened, as if savoring the words "kept woman". He thought about it. "Why not."

Gu Mengmeng kicked Snakel's shin and ducked under his armpit. She only turned around to face him after fleeing seven to eight steps away. "Let me tell you. I can work for you, but will never sell my body to you. If you are looking for some workplace shenanigans, look for someone else. I am not doing it."

Snakel didn't get angry, and instead smiled.

Leaning against the car door, he looked at Gu Mengmeng with his arms crossed.

Tsk, his Twomeng still looked so charming all worked up.

She was a principled good girl.

"Twomeng, come over here." Snakel waved before reaching his palm out, waiting for Gu Mengmeng to place her own hand in his.

Gu Mengmeng took another step back. She faced off Snakel with a stubborn look.

Snakel didn't get flustered, but just smiled. "You are now my personal special assistant. You need to attend all sorts of events with me. In other words, you represent me. If you dress too shabbily, it will be a loss of face to me. So... these clothes are your work clothes, given to you by the company."

Gu Mengmeng thought about it...

She felt Snakel's explanation was rather logical.

Blushing, she realized that she might have overreacted.

Clearing her throat, she said, "Then... what did you mean by your mark... what..."

Snakel kept his palm out to her as he answered, "As my special assistant, every detail from head to toe must be of the utmost standard. Your own tastes..."

Gu Mengmeng stared at Snakel with a "speechless" expression, before looking down at her own clothes. Her face reddened.

She had on a cheap t-shirt and equally cheap pair of jeans, as well as pair of leather shoes bought on sale. She also carried a large, commonplace book bag bought from a night market... ha, her outfit definitely didn't match up to the status of a CEO.

Snakel didn't mean to ridicule Gu Mengmeng. The pain and suffering she had endured over the years caused him much heartache.

Seeing that she still refused to come over, Snakel stepped forward and pulled her into his arms. He gently held the back of her neck as he whispered into her ear. "The next time I call you, you must come over to me, understand?"

Snakel's embrace was so warm that Gu Mengmeng forgot to struggle. She unexpectedly answered with a "yeah", totally unaware of what was happening to her.

Snakel smiled tenderly. His voice was so gentle that Gu Mengmeng felt numb all over. He also unwittingly revealed his own infatuation. “You cannot go back on something you have promised me. I have already waited for so long... I don’t want to wait for even one more second.”

“So the next time I call you, if you don’t come over... I will go to you instead.”

Gu Mengmeng felt like someone was tugging at her heart. That intense sensation left her somewhat in a trance.

It was as if something was sprinting across her heart, too quickly for her to grasp.

Still in a daze, she was led by Snakel into the car and sent back to the villa. She bathed and dressed on autopilot, before falling into bed. Nevertheless, her eyes remained wide open all the way till the next morning. One sentence kept playing repeatedly in her mind: I have already waited for so long... I don’t want to wait for even one more second. If you don’t come over... I will go to you instead.

Chapter 894

Chapter 894: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

The next morning, Gu Mengmeng refused to go to school in Snakel's car.

Snakel didn't insist but just sent her to the public bus stop. He then watched her board the bus, before following behind in his own sports car.

Every stop the bus made, he followed suit.

All the way until Gu Mengmeng alighted, and turned to see that flamboyant sports car driven by that flamboyant person. He waved at her, smiling happily.

Gu Mengmeng just turned her head and left, pretending that she had no idea who the driver of the sports car was.

She had just entered the school when Gu Mengmeng felt a strange vibe. Everyone seemed to be pointing and whispering at her...

She was a nobody in school—apart from the few girls who shared the dormitory with her, no one else even knew her name. How did she suddenly become a focal point?

Gu Mengmeng looked left and right, completely puzzled.

She guessed it was probably because Snakel had hugged her in the classroom yesterday?

She didn't continue mulling over it but just hurried to class, so that she could get a spot in the corner. She laid down on the table and buried her face in the crook of her arms.

Plagued by all sorts of thoughts last night, she had not been able to sleep at all. And now, she was so sleepy that she unwittingly fell asleep at her desk and didn't even realize it when Snakel sat down beside her.

Professor Zhang was taking this class and he was a traditional, old-school teacher. His motto was "respect your teacher" and was very strict about proper classroom etiquette.

In his class, all the students had been trained to be as obedient at kindergarten children. Even your seating posture had to be proper, otherwise he would think you are disrespecting him. If so... your graduation grade would be... ha!

It shouldn't have been a big deal that Gu Mengmeng was sleeping with her head down as she was sitting right in the back corner.

But this girl was so tired that not only was she sleeping, she was even snoring.

Although it was very faint and sounded especially cute to Snakel, it was terribly offensive to Professor Zhang.

He threw a piece of chalk at Gu Mengmeng, but was intercepted by Snakel in midair.

"You..." Professor Zhang's eyes were bulging with anger.

Snakel slowly stood up. "She studied late into the night yesterday, so she needs her sleep now."

"She..." This was the first time someone had contradicted Professor Zhang and his anger was shooting through the roof.

But Snakel didn't give him a chance to speak and just continued. "I will personally help her catch up with the contents of today's lesson. It will not affect the professor's teaching performance."

"I..." Professor Zhang was fuming so much that the finger he had pointed at Snakel was trembling.

Snakel chuckled. “I suggest for the professor to continue your lesson and not delay everyone’s time. And also not to affect her sleep.”

Professor Zhang slammed the blackboard eraser on the lectern. “I will not give her a passing grade for the term!”

Snakel slowly sat now with a chuckle. “I hope that your tenure will be able to last till the end of the term then.”

Gu Mengmeng lifted her head in a blur, and asked sleepily, “Huh? What happened?”

Snakel stroked her little head and covered her with his jacket. “Everything is fine, continue sleeping.”

Still fuming and feeling trapped in an embarrassing spot, Professor Zhang just left. In the end, the teacher-less class spent the entire lesson staring at Snakel, who was in turn watching Gu Mengmeng sleep...

The bell signaling the end of class rang. Gu Mengmeng stretched out lazily with a yawn, before realizing that Snakel was sitting beside her. She blinked. “What are you doing here?”

Chapter 895

Chapter 895: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

“I am afraid that someone will sit beside you while you were sleeping, so I came to secure my own spot.” Snakel smiled at Gu Mengmeng. His voice was soft and held a hint of sweetness.

Gu Mengmeng broke out in goosebumps and she shook her shoulders.
“Yeah... get up, I want to go to the toilet.”

Snakel stood up and gave way to Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng left and Snakel followed right behind. He smiled dotingly as he noticed her embarrassed expression at being followed by him.

Gu Mengmeng entered an empty toilet cubicle and shut the door. She had just squatted down when she heard voices outside. “Eh, did you hear? That kept woman...”

“How could anyone not know? Her photo has already been posted onto the school online forum... tsk tsk tsk, she usually looks so demure and quiet, but is actually a well-skilled slut.”

“That is the truth. Confessing her feelings to the basketball captain in the morning, acting all coy and dewy-eyed during lessons with the coolest dude in school, and then hooking up with a sugar daddy after class... tsk tsk tsk. She’s definitely very highly-skilled.”

“I agree. The basketball captain is famous for his endurance, while the coolest dude in school was previously on the swimming team. His physique is also great... I wonder who her sugar daddy is. Dating three men in one day, she must be as ruthless as a tiger.”

...

Gu Mengmeng was confused at first, but why did the person they were talking about sound increasingly like her?

She understood that part about confessing her feelings to the basketball captain.

She also understood the link with the coolest dude in school.

But being a kept woman—what the hell was that about?

Taking out her mobile phone, Gu Mengmeng quickly logged into the school online forum.

Topic: Freshman with a powerful background. Luxury car, villa and shopping spree. Photos reveal the truth.

Gu Mengmeng clicked the link and felt as if she had been struck by lightning.

There was a photo of her standing alone in the doorway of Snakel's villa, looking as if she was about to step inside. Snakel was also there then, but he couldn't be seen from that angle.

There was also a photo of her getting off the car at the mall, with several shopping bags bearing high-end brand names on the floor. The bags were tied together with a red silk sash which bore a tag addressing it to Gu Mengmeng.

The text accompanying photos was totally sensationalized, and more or less indicating that she was the kept woman of a wealthy man.

And that she had been selling herself since she was a junior in high school, and had even undergone five abortions by her third year.

Gu Mengmeng gripped her mobile phone with shaking hands. A chill ran through her body but she was unable to utter a word. Tears flowed down her cheeks, but she was unable to make a sound.

All those years, no matter how hard life had been, she had depended on her own hard work for money. She had been a lady with good morals. As poor as she was, she would never stoop so low for money.

Self-respect and self-love were one of the few things she had left. Who were these people to debase her like this without even knowing her?!

The bell signaling the beginning of class rang. The students in the toilet had already long gone.

Snakel was waiting outside and he frowned when Gu Mengmeng failed to appear. He walked in.

“Twomeng?” Snakel called out softly.

Gu Mengmeng didn’t reply but just hastily pulled up her pants.

“Twomeng?” Snakel raised his voice a notch.

Gu Mengmeng wiped her tears. She didn’t want Snakel to know she had been crying.

But she was too upset and no matter how hard she wiped away her tears or told herself to stop crying, the tears continued to flow. Vexed with nowhere to vent her frustrations, she stamped her feet in anger.

Chapter 896

Chapter 896: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Snakel's attention was caught by that noise.

Without another word, he kicked open the cubicle door.

Snakel frowned deeply when he saw the crying Gu Mengmeng. His heart filled with ache.

He drew Gu Mengmeng into his arms and rubbed her back, paying no heed to her struggling. "You are not allowed to cry. It looks too ugly."

"Leave me alone... sob sob sob... let go of me... if someone sees us, I will be in even deeper shit... let go, let go of me..."

The more Gu Mengmeng struggled, the tighter Snakel held her. Until she was finally exhausted and laid docilely on his shoulder, still convulsing in sobs. Only then did Snakel ask, "Tell me, why are you crying?"

Gu Mengmeng refused to answer, and just continued crying.

Snakel didn't want to force her. He lifted her up in his arms and carried her to the underground car park. He then put her inside his car and drove her back to the villa.

Gu Mengmeng finally recomposed herself when they arrived at the villa.

Her voice was still nasal but at least the tears had stopped flowing.

"Why have we come back? I have only attended one class..."

Snakel glanced down at her. "I am the boss, and will dictate the schedule as and how I please. It is your duty to just obey and not question."

Without further explanation, Snakel pushed Gu Mengmeng into her room. “Take a shower and change your clothes. I don’t like you looking so disheveled and miserable.”

With that, he shut the door and returned to his own room.

Only attended one class? So what? How could he let others see her crying like that?

Her tears could only flow in front of him.

Snakel dialed a number on his mobile phone. “Three minutes. Investigate what happened to her today.”

With that, Snakel hung up without even waiting for a reply.

Sitting behind his desk, Snakel crossed his arms on the tabletop. His gaze was harsh and he radiated a fierce and ruthless aura. It was as if the atmosphere was enveloped in a thick black haze, making one feel choked with fear.

A minute and a half later, Snakel’s mobile screen lighted up.

Apart from the post on the school online forum, there were also the names of the girls who had been gossiping in the toilet, as well as the content of their conversation.

And of course, the names of the people who had originated that forum post and those photos were also included.

Snakel’s finger brushed lightly across that last name on his screen. He gave a slight sneer, as if he was a god of death announcing the coming of the darkness.

Gu Mengmeng changed into a clean outfit after her shower. Snakel had thrown away her own clothes—so unless she wished to wander about naked, she had no choice but to put on the clothes Snakel had bought for her yesterday. One good thing was that the outfits all came in ready sets, and Gu Mengmeng didn't have to bother about how to mix and match the different pieces.

When she came out of her room, Snakel was already standing by the door. He smiled as he looked at the pink dress she had on. Mmm, it matched his current outfit perfectly.

Her simple ponytail exuded a youthful lack of inhibition. It was far from the exquisite and fussy hairstyles worn by other girls, but made one feel natural and comfortable.

Snakel was extremely pleased with Gu Mengmeng's appearance. He pulled her by the hand to the sports car and headed back to school.

Gu Mengmeng had no idea what Snakel intended to do. But he was the boss and he dictated the schedule, right? So Gu Mengmeng just sat there quietly. Wherever he led, she would just follow.

Chapter 897

Chapter 897: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Snakel parked the car and led Gu Mengmeng into the theater studies classroom.

There were two rows of black-clad bodyguards by the entrance, while a group of the school management team led by the principal were also waiting there.

The principal bowed respectfully the moment he saw Snakel. Without a word, the school management team followed Snakel into the large classroom in order of their rank.

The theater studies faculty was a more flamboyant division. The students here were all good-looking and from prominent backgrounds.

Not all of them had the intention of becoming artistes. More than half were just here to learn comportment.

The lectern on the stage had already been moved aside and replaced with a large CEO chair.

Snakel settled into that chair, while Gu Mengmeng didn't know what to do. She just stood quietly behind Snakel, looking extremely nonplussed.

Snakel cast a sweeping glance across the faces of every single person in the room. He smirked and spoke in a chilly voice devoid of all emotion. Each word was like an icicle driving itself into their hearts.

“My Twomeng said that everyone in school would have a certain nickname given to them. I think my previous label was... mute cool dude.”

No one dared to respond to that. It was so quiet that one could hear the air move.

“I am not very happy with such a nickname and so wish to change it.”

Snakel leaned back casually and pulled Gu Mengmeng into his lap.

She started to struggle but Snakel didn't give her any chances. He circled her waist with one arm, pinning her to himself.

Snakel calmly observed Gu Mengmeng's struggles, until she finally gave up and remained quietly in his lap. Satisfied, he continued. “I feel that the nickname “Spirit of Vengeance” is pretty good and suits me well. To ensure that everyone will have a deep impression of this new nickname, I decided that from today onwards, I will destroy anyone who dares to mess with my Twomeng.”

Cold gasps filled the room, and the surrounding temperature felt like it had dropped several degrees.

That forum post regarding Gu Mengmeng had ignited a heated discussion. Although it had been suddenly taken down 20 minutes ago, thousands of netizens had commented and everyone in this classroom... all felt an impending sense of doom.

Snakel's gaze roamed about, before finally landing on school belle, Mo Beibei.

“Let's start with you.”

Mo Beibei shivered. She bit her bottom lip as she stared at Snakel. She tried to will herself to be brave. Snakel might be handsome but he was just a college student. There was nothing to be scared of.

Wasn't he just trying to stand up for his girlfriend? There were also plenty of people willing to stand up for her like that. It would be fine.

But...

The principal and the rest were all standing on stage, while he was sitting down.

And those two rows of black-clad men by the door showed Mo Beibei how naive her thoughts were.

And the source of all that fear was that person sitting on stage. He was like the King of Hell, able to bring about death and destruction without restraints. Everything was beneath him and he could crush them all.

Snakel threw a side glance and a man in black came over with an ipad. He connected the ipad via blue-tooth to the classroom's projector system. Pornographic photos splashed across the wide screen, featuring none other than the school belle herself, Mo Beibei.

“VIP room screen shot from a certain channel. Miss Mo... ha, very fierce.”

Chapter 898

Chapter 898: Domineering Senior Falling In Love With Me

Everyone could hear the deep meaning in Snakel's heavy words 'Miss Mo' and when he looked at Mo Beibei, he had indecency and despise in his gaze.

"It's not possible, this photo is photo-shopped. It must be like that!" Mo Beibei was doing her last struggle, her live stream was always destructed after ending it, there's no way evidence could be left behind. This was at most screen-shots by Ah Zai, she just had to deny her way through.

Snakel laughed and said, "I don't want my Two Meng to see any dirty things, it's too harmful for her eyes so I'll show you the original video later."

As Snakel talked, the black-dressed men specially opened a folder. There was a MP4 video of 49 minutes 26 seconds inside, its thumbnail being Mo Bei Bei's lingerie feature.

Mo Beibei's face turned white as she bit onto her lower lip, not able to say anything.

Snakel did not let her go as he continued, "I heard that I can get 'Miss' Mo's contact number if I send ten yachts. 50 yachts will be enough to invite 'Miss' Mo on a one-to-one live stream. Yeah, I contacted a few friends whom 'Miss' Mo is familiar with. They gave me a few precious and 'extremely exciting' videos, they were really filmed well so I had given them to 'Miss' Mo's parents and your parents' bosses as a present.

Mo Beibei's gaze became unfocused as she shivered, too lost for words.

"Oh, right. 'Miss' Mo took such great care of my Two Meng so as a repayment, I invited a few of your friends whom you're 'extremely familiar' with. They will cooperate with 'Miss' Mo to showcase your talent for performing to everyone. To fulfill 'Miss' Mo's celebrity dream so that you can 'rise to stardom overnight', this performance will be streamed live on the live-streaming platform. All the students in your school will have received a VIP account on their phones via instant messaging."

After he finished speaking, Snakel carried Gu Mengmeng up in a gracious manner, resembling a prince from an ancient European castle. Smiling, he concluded, "I won't obstruct everyone from appreciating this exciting program."

The next second, Snakel walked out of the classroom with Gu Mengmeng in his arms.

A big mass of school leaders followed behind Snakel, a few girls in the classroom also rushed up behind them. A few courageous boys stayed behind to start landing their dirty hands on their usual goddess.

After everyone who was supposed to leave left the classroom, five frivolous and greasy middle-aged men entered in masks.

All the cries and screams for help, as well as, the dejected moaning from the classroom were left behind due to the distance so Gu Mengmeng could not hear a single sound at all.

She thought that Snakel was just scaring her.

Snakel entered the principal's room while carrying Gu Mengmeng. The school leaders stood in front of him in a straight line.

Snakel extended his hand and took a name list from the black-dressed men, handing it to the principal. "The school's culture should be adjusted well, do you think so? Principal?"

The principal received the name list with respect and lowered his head, abiding obediently, "The director is right, I'll handle this conduct problem strictly."

Snakel nodded, he did not want to say any more rubbish because his mood was greatly affected after Gu Mengmeng refused to let him carry her.

Holding onto her little hand, he stood up and headed to the entrance. After a few steps, he suddenly stopped and turned to look at the principal, saying, “Professor Zhang...”

“Professor Zhang will reach his retirement age next week, the school has gave up the re-employment plans so he will leave his job this Friday.” The principal answered without any prompts.

Snakel nodded his head in satisfaction before leaving with Gu Mengmeng.

Chapter 899

Chapter 899: Cheat Code For My Beloved Daughter

The scene stopped at Snakel leaving with Gu Mengmeng. The white mist started getting thicker again, sealing that empty spot.

Gu Mengmeng stood up and stretched, extending her palm out, demanding, “Father, I want pocket-money.”

The Beast Deity chuckled, looking at her as if she was his willful blood-related daughter.

He slapped Gu Mengmeng’s palm and asked, “I feel that ‘Hypnosis: From Beginner to Advanced Levels’ isn’t a good book, should I recommend you a more realistic one?”

Gu Mengmeng raised her brow, grinning sneakily at the Beast Deity before replying an ‘Oh?’

The Beast Deity lifted his fingertips. There was a tiny white dot on his index finger, if one did not see it clearly, it looked like his finger was glowing. Its radiance was not glaring, but instead was soft and light, resembling pearls under the sunlight, giving off a misted halo.

The Beast Deity tapped his fingertip in between Gu Mengmeng’s brows. The next second, she lost focus and sunk into a nightmare.

Something seemed like it was squeezing into her brain at lightning speed. Its speed was so quick that Gu Mengmeng had no chance to react. She just felt that many things were filling up her thoughts, as if she suddenly was aware of things she used to not know.

The process lasted for around a minute but to Gu Mengmeng, it was as endless as using microseconds to count.

Until the Beast Deity put his finger away from Gu Mengmeng's brows, her eyes then slowly recovered focus.

Blinking, Gu Mengmeng looked at the Beast Deity in confusion.

The Beast Deity chuckled and asked, "How's the cheat code for my beloved Daughter? Are you satisfied?"

Gu Mengmeng supported her forehead with one hand and used her other hand to stick out a finger slowly. She shook it in front of the Beast Deity before bursting into laughter as she questioned, "Whose memories did you implant in my brain?"

The Beast Deity placed his index finger on his lips, gesturing a 'shh' motion before explaining, "Accurately speaking, it's not anyone's memories. It's just a part of someone's knowledge and her research gains."

What the f, why was 'part of someone's knowledge and her research gains' always related to the bewitching spell?

Was there still a need to question it?

Wasn't the answer abundantly clear?

Gu Mengmeng hugged the Beast Deity's neck and landed a loud smack on his cheek, exclaiming, "You're abusing your authority for personal gains! But Father, I'm liking you more and more, I'm indeed different from people without a father!"

The Beast Deity rubbed Gu Mengmeng's head gently and said, "I forcefully brought you to the Beast World and disrupted your original life, causing you to undergo so much turmoil and withstand so much hardship. Father will feel guilty too."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and said, "Actually, it's nothing. Although there are more troubling worries these days, at least I have people I'm close to here. It's better than in the modern world where I'm all alone in this world, friendless and uncared for. But I feel that it's still good for you to maintain a guilty mindset, it's more beneficial to me."

The Beast Deity smiled kindly and nodded, saying, "Yeah, alright."

Gu Mengmeng released the Beast Deity's neck and wanted to leave when she pause to look back at him once more. "Oh, right Father, can you really not send Wabei to Snakel?"

The Beast Deity was taken aback, as if he did not expect Gu Mengmeng's question.

Without waiting for the Beast Deity to reply, Gu Mengmeng smiled and continued, "If you're not able to reply me, I won't force you. I just promised the little piece of shit that I will ask you whenever I see you. If you're comfortable to reply me anytime, please tell me.....he's quite expecting it."

Chapter 900

Chapter 900: He Had Achieved His Motive

The Beast Deity nodded and did not say anything.

Gu Mengmeng closed her eyes and leaned backwards, falling in a straight posture.

A hit of giddiness was felt before a wave of free fall. Gu Mengmeng frowned and gathered together her limbs before sitting up all of a sudden.

She sat up too abruptly, her head's still spinning.

She leaned towards one side and fell into a warm embrace.

"You're awake?" The words had not reach Gu Mengmeng's ears when a cup of water appeared in front of her.

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head and drank a mouthful of water before looking up into Elvis's deep and gentle eyes.

Chuckling, Gu Mengmeng kissed Elvis's chin and said, "It's so nice seeing you the moment I wake up."

Elvis felt a warm sensation flowing past his chest because of Gu Mengmeng's words, nourishing the gentleness and pampering in his dark blue eyes. He kissed her brows and said, "I'm always here, you definitely can see me whenever you want."

"Yeah." Gu Mengmeng smiled, nodding her head as a form of reply. Then, she huddled inside his arms and asked, "How long had I been sleeping?"

"Four days." Elvis asked worriedly, "Are you hungry?"

"A little." Gu Mengmeng nodded and answered him.

Elvis rubbed Gu Mengmeng's limbs to wake her up so as to prevent her from feeling uncomfortable when getting off the bed because her body could not adjust well after a long sleep.

"Lea saw how you were going to wake up so he went to prepare some food for you. After you're more awake, we'll go down to eat."

Gu Mengmeng nodded and asked another question, "Did anything happen in these four days?"

Elvis shook his head and reported, "Nothing much, it's just that Lea was bored so he.....snatched away Oakley's authority."

Gu Mengmeng almost choked on her own saliva, how was coup d'état nothing much?

Elvis tapped Gu Mengmeng's brows in a pampering way and said, "Why are you so anxious? With Lea's skills, why are you still scared that he will kill Oakley to snatch his authority?"

Gu Mengmeng thought that it made sense too, Lea rarely resort to killing as a solution. He would only use the method of making people abide by his intentions voluntarily.

But...

"Cole allowed Lea to snatch the authority away that easily?" Gu Mengmeng expressed her doubts.

Elvis paused and smiled helplessly. He looked up at Gu Mengmeng and raised a question, "He had achieved his motive, don't you think so?"

"Huh?" Gu Mengmeng stared at Elvis in confusion.

Elvis said while rubbing Gu Mengmeng's calf, "If he wants to get Sauder's political power, he just need to launch an attack to snatch it. Is there a need for him to control Oakley to achieve that? It's too torturous, isn't it?"

"You mean that...." Gu Mengmeng still did not quite get it.

Elvis used the beast skin to cover one of Gu Mengmeng's calf properly before starting to rub her other leg, replying at the same time, "The best way to take down an enemy who doesn't want to start the war fire is to showcase one's own capabilities and chip to allow the enemy to measure his gains and losses, is that right?"

Ha, Gu Mengmeng sniggered and said, "So, Cole is telling me that no matter how much I detest him, as long as I can't bear with Chixuan, Sandy and Oakley, I can't do anything with him?"

Although Elvis was unwilling, he still nodded and agreed, "He made use of people you cared about and all we could do was to go along him. It's a little too passive."

"So Lea snatched Sauder's ownership.....to.....snatch Oakley back?"

Elvis gently scraped Gu Mengmeng's nose and complimented, "Xiao Meng is so clever."

Chapter 901

Chapter 901: Once Friends

Lea went to tackle Oakley's matter so Gu Mengmeng did not want to interfere anymore.

His situation was different from Sandy, Sandy lost her consciousness through Cole's hypnosis, it was against her will.

But Oakley.....did not seem like he was controlled.

Gu Mengmeng did not know what difficulties he had but she gave him a chance to seek help from her. As long as he was willing to tell her the truth, she would help her, isn't it?

But...

He eventually chose to stand on her opposing side.

Not to deny, Oakley's determination made Gu Mengmeng bitterly disappointed.

They were once friends so Gu Mengmeng would not fold her hands and watch him die.

But, all that's left between them was just two empty words 'once friends'.

A familiar aroma wafted from downstairs. The blood in Gu Mengmeng's body was also circulating well after Elvis's rubbing so she felt extremely fresh.

After stretching, Elvis carried her and headed downstairs.

Lea lifted his head and upon seeing Gu Mengmeng, he grinned from ear to ear, his fluffy white large tail swaying behind him, showing his extremely good mood.

He scooped a bowl full of food and held a wooden spoon in one hand to feed Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng was used to this kind of behavior, whenever she went to see the Beast Deity, Lea would be the one to feed her her first meal after waking up from a few days of sleep.

Only like that could he make sure that she was full, which would make him feel assured.

This...

seemed like some obsessive compulsive disorder.

But since it did not affect anything important, Gu Mengmeng did not intend to correct him either.

After eating her full, Gu Mengmeng then asked, “Where did Hede and his two brothers go? Where did they run wild to?”

Lea replied, “They went hunting with Burke. They said that they needed to prepare some food for Burke’s tribesmen from his old tribe so that Burke need not work so hard when we leave.”

“Isn’t there two other females in his old tribe? It’s been so long, have they not found new partners yet?” Gu Mengmeng questioned casually.

Lea laughed and explained, “Females from the snow-fox tribe won’t mate with males of an outside tribe. If they returned to Saint Nazaire with us, there would still be some hope but here.....ha, there’s only the elderly, weak, sick and crippled left in the tribe, Burke has to shoulder all of these alone.”

Gu Mengmeng did not say anything else and just nodded her head in silence.

It was good to let the three little ones help their Master Burke, after all, Gu Mengmeng owed him a lot previously.

Although Cole devised a plan and pulled him in, it was a fact that she made use of Burke before.

Or maybe, her distancing from Burke was the best help for him.

Or else, who knew whether he would become Cole's next target?

"Oh right, Elvis told me that you snatched back Sauder's ownership rights."

Lea washed a fruit and gave it to Gu Mengmeng. Seeing how her cheeks puffed up like a cute squirrel after biting a big piece, he smiled unknowingly and nodded, saying, "Yeah, after all, I'm the Ninth Highness of the snow fox tribe. That bunch of sly old foxes wants to maintain the tribe's dignity so they won't let me live under the control of a lynx. So, all I need to do for them to push me to the peak of authority was to not reject their suggestion. Ha....it's the easiest to manipulate someone's heart."

Gu Mengmeng asked, "What.....suggestion did they give you?"

Lea's smile faltered and his gaze became cold as he said, "Working together with Cole, one black and one white, one in the open and one in the dark to become the two sharp knives in your hands for you to clear all obstructions in front of you and to aid you in becoming a greater presence of the previous messenger of the Beast Deity."

Chapter 902

Chapter 902: Nobody's More Noble Than Anyone Else

Gu Mengmeng widened her eyes at Lea and asked, "You agreed?"

Lea laughed in an exquisitely dainty and charming way and pinched Gu Mengmeng's little face, rebutting, "Didn't I say that I did not reject their suggestion."

"Huh?" Gu Mengmeng did not understand, doesn't that equate to accepting their suggestion?

Lea leaned forward and pressed the corners of his lips against Gu Mengmeng's left ear, whispering, "Not taking initiative, not rejecting..... not responsible."

Gu Mengmeng could not help but spill one word upon instinct, "Jerk?!"

Lea laughed with his shoulders shaking as he questioned, "Isn't it extremely dumb to treat those sly old wolves with a real kind soul?"

Gu Mengmeng pondered over it, that's true too.

Those old wolves from Sauder only knew how to consider their personal gains, when were they the least true to Lea?

Back then, when Cole crafted a plan to malign Lea, they played the roles of kicking a man who is down, no one stepped out to seek justice for Lea.

And when Lea was banished by Cole, they played the roles of rats leaving a sinking ship, totally forgetting how they used Cole's authority like a tyrant those few years.

And now.....

If they raised these terms with Lea, they must have exchanged terms with Cole long ago.

Sacrificing Oakley in exchange for a situation that was more beneficial for themselves.

Nobody should laugh at anyone, nobody should look down on anyone, after all.....nobody's more noble than anyone else.

If they could make use of Lea, why couldn't Lea make use of them?

Lea pecked Gu Mengmeng's cheek and then continued, "Leave all these matters to me, don't fret over them too much."

Gu Mengmeng nodded and said, "I don't want to care about these political matters, they're too troublesome. What I wanted to ask is.....which female has the purest Fox Seductive Fragrance?"

Lea inched his body backwards, distancing himself from Gu Mengmeng. Scrutinizing Gu Mengmeng's little face in detail, his smile grew larger as he asked, "So, the Beast Deity taught you the bewitching spell?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded, admitting to it.

Lea lowered his head and chuckled, hiding his lips as his gaze grew stronger.

Gu Mengmeng felt absurd by Lea's staring so she asked, "What's wrong?"

Lea did not say a word as he shifted his gaze up to meet Elvis's eyes.

Gu Mengmeng followed Lea's gaze and looked towards Elvis. She then noticed that his face was as red as a tomato, looking as if blood was about to drip from it.

"Hubby, are you not feeling well?" Gu Mengmeng asked.

Elvis coughed and turned his head to the other side.

Gu Mengmeng felt weird so she turned to ask Lea, “Stop keeping me in suspense, what’s wrong?”

Lea looked at Elvis with one hand supporting his cheek. He declined, “Sigh, First Partner mighty Elvis, the head of our household is asking me, can I answer or not?”

Obviously, Gu Mengmeng could spot the bantering on Lea’s face. Although she did not know what it was, since it could make Elvis blush.....she was quite interested to understand it.

A raging, gossipy soul lit Gu Mengmeng’s eyes as she rubbed her palms together and demanded, “Hurry and tell me, I’ll protect you, why should you be scared?”

Lea deliberating nodded his head in a slow and hesitant manner, swaying his large tail behind him, giving off a.....sneaky look.

Sticking out his index finger, Lea lifted Gu Mengmeng’s chin lightly and used his long and affectionate eyes to spew out puddles of indecent water into her bright eyes. He said with a deep and attractive voice that he squeezed out from the gaps of his teeth, “The purest Fox Seductive Fragrance in this world.....had to be yours.”

“Me?” Gu Mengmeng pointed at herself and asked in confusion.

Chapter 903

Chapter 903: Elvis Had An Affair?

Lea nodded with a dubious smile. “You didn’t realize what you have inherited from my body?”

Gu Mengmeng was momentarily stunned before turning around to look behind her. There was no bushy tail...

Disappointment...

Gu Mengmeng pouted. “Nothing...”

Lea tapped Gu Mengmeng’s head. “What does that disappointed look mean? Don’t you like the Fox Seductive Fragrance you inherited from my body?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. “Isn’t the Fox Seductive Fragrance emitted from your tail? I don’t have a tail...”

Lea laughed. “The male’s Fox Seductive Fragrance is secreted from the tail, while the female’s...”

Lea’s voice drifted off as his line of sight shifted downwards before stopping at the spot between Gu Mengmeng’s two legs.

Gu Mengmeng blushed a fiery red and used her hands to block Lea’s line of sight. “Despicable!”

Lea reached out and held Gu Mengmeng’s slender wrists. “Taking a look while you are fully dressed makes me despicable? Then what about when you are not wearing anything? What does that make me? Moreover... I have ‘eaten’ you before. What does it matter?”

Gu Mengmeng was extremely embarrassed by Lea's words. Worse still, her body started reacting as she recalled that night of indulgence.

Lea raised one brow as he smiled deviantly. "Mmm... my precious Mengmeng is sending out welcoming signals... so, you want it now?"

"I didn't!" Gu Mengmeng drew back her hands and felt so embarrassed that she buried her face into Elvis' chest, but...

What did she see the moment she lowered her head?!

Damn!

Gu Mengmeng leaped up from Elvis' embrace and retreated until she sat down by the wall. She shot dry looks at both Elvis and Lea, accompanied by a "don't come near me or I'll scream" face.

Lea laughed. "I have some immunity against the Fox Seductive Fragrance and will not be that affected, but a certain someone..."

Gu Mengmeng glanced at Elvis, whose face had turned even redder than hers.

She suddenly thought of something and gave a short laugh. "So how did you discover I inherited the Fox Seductive Fragrance?"

Lea looked at Elvis. "Mr. First Partner, do you want to personally reenact that time when you had an affair?"

"An affair?!" Gu Mengmeng was incredulous.

Elvis had an affair? She would never believe it!

But Elvis, you are not explaining yourself and have instead gone red. What is the meaning of this?!

Lea took up Elvis' left hand and waved it at Gu Mengmeng. "There, this is the 'mistress'. Mengmeng, do you want me to chop it off?"

“Pfft...” Gu Mengmeng was momentarily taken aback before bursting out in laughter. “So you are saying that I emitted the Fox Seductive Fragrance while I was sleeping... and Elvis couldn’t resist it, so he and his left hand performed an unspeakable act?”

“Yeah.” Lea nodded. His simple reply had Elvis nearly bursting with shame.

Gu Mengmeng forced back her laughter and slunk towards Elvis like a Persian cat. She pushed him gently and he fell stiffly to the ground, allowing her to fool around on his chest. She clearly knew he was going crazy with lust, but was purposely inciting him, making it all the more unbearable for him.

But that unbearable feeling was also rather enjoyable for him. And this flirtatious side to Gu Mengmeng made him feel like eating her up in one big swallow. He couldn’t wait to see what she had in store for him next.

Chapter 904

Chapter 904: An Added Guarantee

Gu Mengmeng pressed her lips gently onto Elvis' own, neither insisting or resisting, allowing him to take control. He drew her into a deep kiss.

Elvis only let go of her after a long time, when the two of them were rather short of breath.

He was just about to flip over and do something unmentionable when Gu Mengmeng chuckled. "You are now immune to the Fox Seductive Fragrance. No one apart from me... can awaken... it."

Elvis was stunned, before realizing the fire in him was gradually fading. He felt as if he was slowly regaining his common sense after being under a spell. His heart rate returned to normal and his breathing became more even.

Elvis frowned down at Gu Mengmeng, who was being pressed into the ground by him. "What happened?"

Gu Mengmeng smiled as she sat up with her arms looped around Elvis' neck. "I tried the bewitching spell on you, as an added guarantee. In case one day, someone tries to snatch you away with the Fox Seductive Fragrance while I am sleeping."

"So annoying." Elvis gritted his teeth. Having all that fire in him abruptly put out was quite a letdown for him, but he still couldn't bear to bite her.

He sat up and drew her into his arms. Giving a helpless sigh, he returned to the original topic. "You have the purest Fox Seductive Fragrance on your body and have also learned the bewitching spell... so when do you intend to go treat Sandy?"

Gu Mengmeng rubbed her own brows hesitantly. “Sandy is now pregnant and it is too tough for her to travel long distances. With her character, if I undo the spell on her now, she will definitely reveal herself... I am afraid that Cole will use even more vicious methods against her then. So I want to wait until she gives birth, before breaking the bewitchment. She can then return to Saint Nazaire and keep out of Cole’s way.”

“Will Cole let go of her so easily?” Elvis was doubtful.

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head with a light laugh. “Someone has been all alone for an entire winter... he should be seeking me out very soon.”

Elvis thought about it before smiling. “You intend to have Wabei escort Sandy back?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded.

But Elvis said, “Are you not worried that he might eat Sandy when he is in a bad mood?”

Gu Mengmeng shrugged. “I will say it is Snakel who wants him to help me protect Snakel. This way, he will rather eat himself than eat Sandy.”

“That’ll be good. With Wabei in Saint Nazaire, it will be difficult for Cole to play any tricks there.” Elvis nodded in approval at Gu Mengmeng’s plan.

But Lea continued to stare into the distance with his arms crossed behind his back. “I don’t think so.”

“Mmm?” Gu Mengmeng looked at Lea inquiringly.

Lea replied, “How could Cole not be prepared for any solution we might think of? Wabei will already be within his calculations. If we let Wabei protect Sandy, we might be walking right into his trap.”

Gu Mengmeng felt a jolt in her heart. That’s right, how could such a crafty person as Cole not have factored in Wabei?

“Moreover, so what if we send Sandy away? Unless you can hide all the people you care about, he will always have one way or another. So I am afraid that hiding Sandy is not a good plan.” Lea held Gu Mengmeng’s little hand. “It is still safer to hold one’s vulnerability in one’s own hands.”

“Do you mean I should keep Sandy by my side, and protect her myself?”

Lea turned and planted his elbows on the ground between Gu Mengmeng’s legs. He pulled his upper body over her thighs. With a flirtatious smile, he pinched the few wisps of hair by Gu Mengmeng’s ear. “I mean that you should obediently hide behind Elvis and I. Don’t expose our vulnerability, alright?”

Chapter 905

Chapter 905: Give Him A Chance To Express His Loyalty

“But Sandy...” Gu Mengmeng was still very worried.

Lea pinched Gu Mengmeng’s little nose. “Have you forgotten that Cole is now cooperating with me. For us to forget past grievances and cooperate properly, he must exhibit some sincerity, don’t you agree?”

Gu Mengmeng frowned in confusion.

Lea smiled. “I will go speak with him and ask him to undo the bewitchment on Sandy.”

Gu Mengmeng was surprised. “Will he listen to you?”

Lea said, “I will let him know you possess the purest Fox Seductive Fragrance and also know bewitching spells. You will undo it even if he doesn’t... do you think he will then?”

Gu Mengmeng thought about it before finally understanding Lea’s meaning.

If Gu Mengmeng didn’t have the Fox Seductive Fragrance and didn’t know the bewitching spell—they would be begging him for a favor if they sought him out.

But now that she had the purest form of Fox Seductive Fragrance and also knew bewitching spells, seeking Cole now would be giving him a chance to express his loyalty.

Cole would naturally never let such an opportunity pass.

Nodding, Gu Mengmeng asked, “Then what should I do?”

Lea waved his tail. “Nothing. Even if he takes the opportunity to express his sincerity... it doesn’t mean you have to accept it.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed and pointed at Lea’s brow. “You are such a baddie, but I love it!”

Gu Mengmeng’s heart lightened considerably now that they had a plan for the issues regarding Oakley and Sandy.

During dinner, the three young ones returned to the stone castle in a noisy rush. They were all momentarily stunned by the sight of Gu Mengmeng, before charging into her arms.

Gu Mengmeng’s mood improved significantly as she gazed at her three little ones.

They were just over a year old but already look like children around the age of 8-9. Still youthful but with none of the babyish mannerisms. Gu Mengmeng regretted that she had never seen her own children in the early stages of their infancy.

Nevertheless, Gu Mengmeng was glad that they had a maturity and sensibility that was beyond their years.

“Let’s go find your mother-in-law to have dinner together, alright?” Gu Mengmeng was still rather worried about Sandy.”

The three young ones all looked resistant and awkward at her suggestion. They stepped back and said reluctantly, “Mother, it’s better that you don’t go over...”

“Mmm? Why?” Gu Mengmeng remembered that they had a really good relationship with Sandy.

Hede sighed. “Mother-in-law is in a very flustered state now. If you go over... you need to be prepared to keep explaining how Chixuan is not the son of you and Cole, as well as drag out all sorts of evidence to prove that Cole is not your partner.”

Gu Mengmeng felt her head starting to ache.

But Sandy was pregnant now and exceptionally sensitive. If they leave her all by herself with her wild imagination, it would not be good for both her and her unborn child. Further, this was her first pregnancy and they could not take any risks.

Gu Mengmeng looked at Elvis and Lea helplessly. “It might turn awkward later, do you want to come with me?”

Elvis stood up and carried Gu Mengmeng in his arms. “I will come with you.”

Lea also stood up and patted the dust off him. “Then I will go find Cole. If I can convince him, I will bring him over to Sandy’s to lift the spell.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and bade Lea farewell at the doorway. She and Elvis brought the three little ones over to Sandy’s, while Lea went alone to the meeting room to find Cole.

Chapter 906

Chapter 906: Are You Planning to Abandon Him?

When Gu Mengmeng arrived at Sandy's place, she saw Bode preparing food for her. Collin squatted pitifully outside the doorway, turning his head now and then to peer inside. He had obviously been kicked out of the house.

Collin was momentarily taken aback when he saw Gu Mengmeng. He then hurried over and asked her with eyes filled with expectation, "Have you found a way?"

Gu Mengmeng didn't answer but just patted Collin on the shoulder. She then jumped down from Elvis' arms and led the three little ones into Sandy's stone house.

The males in the house moved about cautiously, while Sandy sat at the corner of the bed facing the wall. She was clearly ignoring everyone.

Gu Mengmeng made a keep quiet gesture and Sandy's males all nodded. None of them dared to speak.

Gu Mengmeng walked to Sandy's side and gently placed one hand on her shoulder.

The moment she made contact, Sandy viciously shrugged her off. She raged. "Don't touch me! You are all liars. None of you are to touch me!"

Gu Mengmeng laughed out and placed both hands on Sandy's shoulders. She then leaned in beside Sandy's ears and said in a soft voice, "Who is so bold as to lie to our precious Sandy? Mmm?"

Startled, Sandy turned around to see Gu Mengmeng. Only then did she relax and smile.

She pulled Gu Mengmeng to sit beside her, before spotting the three young ones standing together with her males at the side. They looked as if they didn't dare to go near her. Sandy felt rather upset and pouted. "Even you three are going to treat me like this?"

The three little young ones shook their heads in unison, but remained silent.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. "Alright, go find Uncle Collin to play. Don't bother us having a conversation."

The three young ones acted like they had been saved. They ran out with grins on their faces.

Distressed, Sandy gazed at Gu Mengmeng with teary eyes. "Gu Mengmeng, tell me what should I do... why are there some things which I cannot figure out?"

Gu Mengmeng gently smoothed out Sandy's frown lines. "Haven't you heard of the term baby brains?"

"Huh?" Sandy was in a blur. She then nodded her head to indicate that she had not heard that term before.

Gu Mengmeng smiled. "You have to donate part of your IQ to your baby. The dumber you get, the smarter your baby will be. This is a good thing. It proves that my godson will definitely be an intelligent and adorable child."

"Oh..." Sandy listened seriously to Gu Mengmeng's nonsense.

Gu Mengmeng did not feel the least bit guilty for deceiving a pregnant lady. She just continued. "What can't you figure out? Ask me. It has been barely three years since I gave birth and my own IQ is still not quite there yet. But I am willing to use my remaining brain cells to help you solve your troubles. Tell me, what do you want to know?"

Sandy twisted her lips. "You and Cole have not reconciled?"

True enough...

Anything that Sandy couldn't figure out must be related to Cole.

Gu Mengmeng nodded. "I don't intend to reconcile with him."

"Are you planning to abandon him?" Sandy looked shocked. She twisted her lips, looking very conflicted. Nonetheless, she still spoke, "Gu Mengmeng, I don't know what Cole did to make you angry, but don't abandon your partner so willfully. He will be very pitiful if he ends up a stray beast."

Chapter 907

Chapter 907: I Caught The Adulterers In Bed Like A Pair Of Old Shoes.

Gu Mengmeng pretended to think about it and didn't speak for awhile. She looked at Sandy worriedly before breaking out into a smile and nodding. "Mmm. Okay. Since my precious Sandy is speaking up for him, I will not abandon him."

Cole was never Gu Mengmeng's partner. So even if she wanted to abandon him... she couldn't.

So Gu Mengmeng wasn't lying to Sandy.

Sandy heaved a sigh of relief. "Gu Mengmeng, I feel like I should know why you are so angry, but I just cannot recall. What happened between you and Cole that you don't even allow him to return home? Also, Cole is a fox but Chixuan is a wolf. But why do I keep remembering that Chixuan is the son of you and Cole..."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. "This is what you can't figure out?"

Sandy blinked innocently, as if waiting for Gu Mengmeng to solve the mystery for her.

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head with a smile. "I am the daughter of the Beast Deity and possess the genes of hundreds of beasts. Most of my children will take after the race of their father, but a small percentage will take after me. Hede and his brothers took after Elvis, but Chixuan takes after me. Hmm, maybe for my next batch of children, I might give birth to some little bears with Lea."

"Ah?" Sandy stared nonplussed at Gu Mengmeng. "Really?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded earnestly. “I am omnipotent. I am like the legendary bird who was able to fly 90,000 miles.”

“What?” Sandy didn’t understand.

Gu Mengmeng laughed. “It means that I can fly up to the sky anytime and rub shoulders with the sun.”

Sandy chortled and tapped Gu Mengmeng’s brow. “I cannot stand you sometimes.”

Gu Mengmeng also laughed out loud. “Anything else you can’t figure out? Tell me all your questions, I will answer you.”

After resolving the mystery on the relationship between Cole and Chixuan, Sandy became much less fretful. It was as if a huge rock pressing on her heart had been smashed to bits by Gu Mengmeng. She relaxed and even her tone became lighter. “You never told me the reason behind your fight with Cole. Why are you not even allowing him to return home?”

Gu Mengmeng thought about it. “Do you remember Ellie?”

Sandy nodded.

Gu Mengmeng gave a disdainful look. “I found out that he and Ellie were having an affair.”

“What?!” Sandy slapped the bed and stood up. Her eyes widened with rage. Gu Mengmeng suspected that if Cole was here, Sandy would have charged right up and fought him to the death.

Gu Mengmeng tugged at Sandy’s arm. “Eh, keep calm. A pregnant lady must know how to control her emotions. Don’t get too angry or too excited. It’s not good for the child.”

Sandy gritted her teeth and sat down. “He... how dare he?!”

Gu Mengmeng shrugged. “I caught the adulterers in bed like a pair of old shoes. I saw them with my own eyes, how could I be wrong?”

“No wonder you were so angry that you didn’t want him anymore. Shameless!” Sandy was beside herself with rage. She wanted to scold him but discovered she had no phrases to describe such a despicable act.

Gu Mengmeng patted Sandy’s back to soothe her anger. “Now you know why he just told you that he made me angry, and wanted you to help him plead his case, but didn’t tell you what he did wrong?”

Sandy looked at Gu Mengmeng with tenderness. “Gu Mengmeng, I am sorry. I didn’t know anything and yet... and yet I tried to speak up for him! I won’t persuade you again to forgive him. Do you want to kill him? I will help you!”

Chapter 908

Chapter 908: No One Is Better Than Gu Mengmeng At Hoodwinking Someone.

Gu Mengmeng couldn't stop laughing.

This was the difference between Sandy and Oakley.

Even when Sandy was hypnotized, Gu Mengmeng remained the most important in her heart.

Gu Mengmeng pulled at the enraged Sandy and pointed her chin at Collin. "Now do you understand why they all said Cole is not my partner?"

Sandy bit her lower lip and nodded. "For Cole to do something like that, it is a disgrace to all males. They are naturally unwilling to tell me about his despicable act. Not to mention that Collin is your guard. Even in front of me, he will always want to maintain your image... I have wronged Collin..."

Gu Mengmeng nodded. "So, can you let Collin come home now?"

Sandy put on a bashful look and called out. "Collin, I am thirsty and want to drink water."

Collin's ears had been erect and closely listening to all the nonsense that Gu Mengmeng spouted. Sometimes, he even started to think that Gu Mengmeng was telling the truth.

That was why, no one was better than Gu Mengmeng at hoodwinking someone.

Hearing Sandy call his name, Collin gave a mental thumbs up sign to Gu Mengmeng. She was indeed the Great Messenger. Such a glib and eloquent speaker.

“Coming, coming.” Collin used the small bamboo cup which Gu Mengmeng had given Sandy previously to fetch some water for her. His earnest face held a fawning smile, while his voice was also full of adulation. “Drink slowly. Don’t choke.”

Sandy finished her drink before looking at Collin with a red face. “This winter... you have suffered. I... I will make it up to you.”

Gu Mengmeng nearly choked on her own saliva.

Just by looking at the expressions on Sandy’s and Collin’s faces, she knew how Sandy was going to make it up to him.

“Then I shall bring the three young ones back first. I think... you will be pretty busy too.” Gu Mengmeng felt like she couldn’t stay on any longer. Otherwise, what if Sandy got it on with Collin while chatting with her? The Beast World was very open-minded about such matters, and Sandy might just do something like that.

“Stay with me for a bit longer.” Sandy tugged at Gu Mengmeng’s arm pleadingly.

Gu Mengmeng stroked Sandy head with a smile. “You better spend some quality time with Collin. I will head home first and come back tomorrow to visit you, alright?”

Sandy cast a shy glance at Collin before nodding. She then reluctantly let go of Gu Mengmeng’s hand.

Gu Mengmeng patted Collin’s shoulder as she passed by. She said solemnly, “I know you have been left wanting for an entire winter, but Sandy’s womb cannot endure too much vigorous action. You... must be gentle.”

With that, Gu Mengmeng blushed and quickly exited the cave.

Every time she was faced with such a situation, Gu Mengmeng especially resented Snakel for giving her a pair of exceptionally sharp ears. Even as she ran down the pathway, she could not stop hearing the moaning noises behind her.

Elvis saw Gu Mengmeng running over with the three little ones, her face all red. Paired with the sounds coming out of the cave, he instantly knew what had happened. Hence, he didn't question her but just lifted her into his arms and left with big strides.

Returning to the stone castle, they saw Lea sitting at the doorway in a restless and bored manner, waiting for their return.

He brightened up the moment he saw Gu Mengmeng, and hurried over to her side. Affectionately, he took up her little hand and nuzzled it against his cheek. "Mengmeng, you are finally back."

Chapter 909

Chapter 909: No, I Can't Pretend Any Longer.

Gu Mengmeng was stunned and looked at Lea with a slight frown. She felt that he was acting rather strangely, but couldn't tell how. After giving him a once over, she met his besotted eyes and clingy manner. Gu Mengmeng smiled self-mockingly.

Perhaps she was being paranoid over Cole's recent manipulations. Everything looked suspicious to her.

After dispelling the doubts in her heart, Gu Mengmeng spoke up, "Have you met Cole?"

Lea nodded. Gu Mengmeng asked again, "What did he say?"

Lea replied nonchalantly, "He offered me a deal. As long as I give him one item, he will lift the bewitching spell on Sandy, and will never cause trouble for her again."

"Oh?" Gu Mengmeng raised one brow. With a grim expression, she asked anxiously, "What did he want from you?"

Lea shook his head. "I can't tell you for the time being. You will know it when the time comes."

Gu Mengmeng frowned sternly. "You remember your earlier promise to me, right?"

Lea nodded and kissed Gu Mengmeng's little hand. "Don't worry, I know my limits. Elvis and I will never do anything that will upset you."

Gu Mengmeng nodded and did not question any further.

Before reaching the stone castle, the three young ones pleaded with Gu Mengmeng to let them go find Burke. She agreed.

So only Elvis, Lea and Gu Mengmeng were inside the relatively large stone castle.

Elvis lit a fire. Gu Mengmeng said she was hungry and wanted Lea to roast some meat for her.

Lea's actions were practiced and he quickly roasted the meat.

Gu Mengmeng took up a piece of meat under Lea's expectant gaze. But right before she bit down on it, she paused.

"No, I can't pretend any longer." Gu Mengmeng threw the roasted meat aside. Her smile had disappeared and she stared coldly at the person sitting before her. "Cole, do you think I won't be able to recognize my own man?"

The person sitting in front of Gu Mengmeng was momentarily stunned. He then pressed one hand to his forehead and smiled bitterly. He shook his head in exasperation. "I knew you would realize it, but I didn't expect it to happen so quickly... can you tell me what tipped you off?"

Gu Mengmeng remained stern-faced. "Can you remove this illusion? Seeing you talk to me with Lea's face makes me very angry."

Cole pulled his own hair and put on an innocent expression. "You wish to hit me but can't bear to?"

Gu Mengmeng ignored him and turned to look at Elvis. "Hubby, in your eyes... who is he?"

Elvis replied, "Cole."

Gu Mengmeng nodded before standing up and taking a step back. "Beat him up."

Elvis didn't answer but just silently stood up. He exuded an oppressive and murderous aura.

Cole waved. “Alright, alright. Don’t get angry. Let me answer your question first, alright?”

Gu Mengmeng leaned into Elvis’ arms. She crossed her arms without a word.

In a familiar movement, Elvis caught Gu Mengmeng in his embrace and circled his arms around her shoulders. He drew back his murderous aura and just stared at Cole with disdain.

Cole remained sitting at his spot, with no intention of standing up. He just said, “I proposed a deal with him. Let me be ‘Lea’ for one day, and I will undo the bewitching spell on Sandy. I will never cause trouble for her or use her to threaten you again. However... Lea rejected my suggestion, so I had no choice but to use some other methods to temporarily detain him at the meeting room.”

Chapter 910

Chapter 910: So, Have You Decided To Kill Me?

“What did you do to Lea?!” Gu Mengmeng asked though gritted teeth.

Cole smiled. Instead of answering, he asked, “It is now time for you to answer my question. Let me be ‘Lea’ for a day, and I will undo the bewitchment on that female beast tomorrow. I will also return the real Lea back to you. How about that? Do you want to make this deal with me?”

Gu Mengmeng took a step forward. She was already radiating the dominating aura of a Beast King. With a malevolent and terrifying expression, she said, “I asked you what did you do to Lea.”

Faced with Gu Mengmeng’s rage, Cole felt an instinctive fear rise in his body. But this fear made him feel excited instead.

“So, have you decided to kill me?” Cole smiled slyly. “I knew that you and I are the same. All those who stand in our way must die. Fighting death with death is the way of the world. Come, my dearest mistress. Please ravage me, whip me, then kill me. It will be my honor to be your first kill under your mighty reign...”

With that, Cole opened his arms and looked at Gu Mengmeng with a desperately eager expression.

Gu Mengmeng couldn’t do it...

She was disgusted!

She wanted to kill him, not to play some kind of perverted SM game with him. Why did he look so excited?!

Gu Mengmeng was covered in goosebumps. She frowned in disgust and took a step back, as if trying to ward off some weird infectious disease on Cole's body.

"Let me?" Elvis turned and asked Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng gently rubbed her own left ear. The mark was still there and she didn't feel any sense of unease.

She knew that if Lea met with any danger or serious injuries, the mark on her would feel pain. And if Lea was dead, the mark would have disappeared.

The mark felt fine now, which proved that Lea was currently safe and sound.

Going by what Cole said earlier, he had come expecting to be exposed. Yet he had still come... this only proved that he had a trump card.

In other words, if she really killed Cole, Lea might be the first person to die with him.

Chixuan would be the second.

Then Oakley and Sandy... they would probably succumb too.

Sacrificing four of the people closest to her just to kill one pervert. Such a deal was totally not worth it.

Gu Mengmeng took a deep breath and sat back down beside the fire. She fixed Cole with a chilly glare. "Keep that perverted face away from me. It disgusts me."

Cole looked at Gu Mengmeng with disappointment. "You... are not killing me anymore?"

Gu Mengmeng snorted. "Aren't you keeping the people I care about hostage, to blackmail me so that I won't kill you? Pretending to seek death now? If you really want to die, return them all to me. The moment I can see that they are all safe, I will help you die in any way you want. There are a million ways to die and I will let you choose whichever way you want. Satisfaction guaranteed. If not, I will kill you again for free.”

Cole laughed. “Ah... so you believe that I have gathered those people just to safeguard my own life? Ah Gu, you really don’t understand me.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned but remained silent.

Cole hugged his knees and gently rested his chin on his arm. He looked at Gu Mengmeng. “I have gathered them together, just waiting for you to personally kill them all.”

Chapter 911

Chapter 911: I Scrutinized You From Head To Toe And Still Can't See It, Unless I Am Blind

“The moment you kill them, you will not have any vulnerabilities left. Nothing in the world can be used against you... you will be a god above all, the most perfect ruler.” Cole held a crazed expression as he spoke, as if he was already seeing that blood-drenched world before his eyes. The taste of blood had stimulated him, and he could feel his own blood bubbling with excitement.

Gu Mengmeng was totally speechless. This was a crazy individual in front of her. He should be locked up in a mental hospital for treatment.

“If you wish to rule the world, do it yourself. What has it got to do with me?”

Cole shot Gu Mengmeng a resentful look. He rolled his eyes, full of grief. “You are my mistress, how can I rule over you?”

“I am not your mistress. Don’t address me with that disgusting term again.” Gu Mengmeng was clearly disgusted and full of scorn.

But not only did Cole appear indifferent to her disgust, he seemed to be basking in happiness. “Alright, I will not call you mistress again. I will call you... Ah Gu.”

Gu Mengmeng really felt like smacking him in disgust. But the price of killing this fellow was too great.

I will endure!

“Ah Gu, I already answered one of your questions. Isn’t it your turn to answer mine?” Cole grinned at Gu Mengmeng. “How did you realize I am not Lea? What tipped you off? I thought I had... copied his likeness very accurately.”

Gu Mengmeng took a deep breath. Her voice dripped with disdain. “Likeness? Which part of you is like him? I have scrutinized you from head to toe and still can’t see it, unless I am blind.”

Cole smacked his lips with a frustrated expression. He looked down at himself and shook his head with a smile. “A counterfeit modeled after an original can look wonderful, but an original posing as a counterfeit will look out of place... tsk, it is truly not wise to go in the wrong direction. But can you tell me which detail had you confirmed that I am a fake?”

Gu Mengmeng rolled her eyes. “Lea will never hide a secret from me. He will always tell me the truth if I ask him. ‘I can’t tell you for the time being’ is something Lea will never say to me.”

Cole nodded. “I see.”

Gu Mengmeng said, “Since you have been exposed, can you get rid of this illusion? I feel very angry when I see you using Lea’s face.”

Cole shook his head. “So you don’t intend to accept my proposal also? Sandy’s bewitchment... if it doesn’t matter to you, then I will get rid of this illusion.”

Gu Mengmeng narrowed her eyes. “Are you threatening me?”

Cole thought about it before nodding. “I guess so. What do you intend to choose? Are you going to accept my threat? Endure the anger inside you, or give up any hopes of undoing Sandy’s bewitchment?”

Gu Mengmeng gave a cold laugh. Instead of responding, she asked, “Didn’t Lea tell you that I also know bewitching spells, and am even better at it than you?”

Cole nodded. “Yes, he did tell me.”

With that, Cole looked at Elvis. “I have also personally witnessed your abilities.”

Gu Mengmeng also turned to look at Elvis. She understood Cole meant that Elvis wasn’t tricked by his illusion.

She had used Elvis as just a small test and to put on an additional safeguard. She never thought it would prove so useful so soon.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “Since you already know that and confirmed it. What basis do you have to talk terms on Sandy’s matter? Am I really that gullible in your eyes?”

Chapter 912

Chapter 912: What Else Is left In Life After Setting Aside Your Grievances

“No, on the contrary.” Cole maintained his smile, which held traces of elegance but a huge dose of cunning and malevolence. It was as if he was brimming with a confidence that everything was proceeding according to his plan. “It is precisely because I dare not underestimate Ah Gu, that I planted a death knot on the bewitching spell cast on Sandy. Only I can lift the spell. Anyone else who tries to undo the spell will trigger it and Sandy will die a sudden death. It doesn’t matter how powerful the practitioner is.”

Stunned, Gu Mengmeng frowned as her heart gave a heavy jolt.

Thank goodness she didn’t immediately rush over to hypnotize Sandy, and had just spun some lies to coax her.

Otherwise, the consequences would have been unimaginable.

At this point, Gu Mengmeng eyed Cole with even more hatred and disgust. “How can I be sure you are not deceiving me?”

Cole seemed to be pondering this question too. But then he suddenly smiled. “When have I ever lied to the Great Messenger?”

When the wolf pup was kidnapped, she had been the one who had actively sought his help.

He said it was Ellie and a fifth-level beast who kidnapped the wolf pup, but never denied that the fifth-level beast was himself.

His chest wound was indeed caused by Ellie’s bite, while it was also true that the wolf pup was brought back to the Snake King valley.

He had slowly lured her into his trap, but had never told her an outright lie.

Ha, such irony?

He was a despicable piece of garbage much despised by Gu Mengmeng, but still possessed a certain streak of “honesty”.

“You went through so much trouble to carry out this scheme on Sandy, just so you can be Lea for a day?” Gu Mengmeng just felt this was very peculiar, no?

Cole nodded. “I am just curious, how did that useless weakling manage to escape my restraints? I also want to experience what else is left in life after setting aside your grievances.”

Gu Mengmeng clenched her fists. Lea had told her before that Cole delighted not in the killing but in the torture of others.

She suddenly felt that Jialue’s words were too true. A normal person would never win a crazy one.

He would drag you into the bizarre maze of his mind and then use his vast experience to defeat you.

After all, he was truly insane, while you are still sensible and have your limits.

Gu Mengmeng leaned into Elvis’ arms. “If you really want to know, why don’t you try setting aside your own grievances. No matter how much you try to imitate Lea, you are not him. Even if you spend your entire life imitating him , you will never know what he has.”

“Who knows?” Cole chuckled. “I just want to try. Great Messenger, are you willing to enter this deal with me? I just want to be Lea for a day. I will return Sandy completely to you tomorrow.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed. “Ha, but Lea will never make me wait for something I want. If it was Lea, he will never make me worry for Sandy. As long as he is able, he will immediately break the bewitching spell on Sandy. But you... are you able to do that for me?"

At Gu Mengmeng's words, realization seemed to dawn on Cole. He smiled at her dotingly. "For Ah Gu, I can do anything."

With that, Cole stood up and went over to Gu Mengmeng. He reached out to hold her hand but was blocked by Elvis, who asked coldly, "Do you wish to die?"

Cole instinctively wanted to attack Elvis, but was met with Gu Mengmeng's "see, you are completely unable to pretend to be Lea" expression. Consequently, Cole forced himself to retract his sharp claws.

Chapter 913

Chapter 913: It Was Really Unethical To Interrupt A Couple At Such A Time

Cole clenched his fists and smiled. “Never challenge the authority of the first partner. This is a rule of the family. I forgot in the heat of the moment, I apologize.”

Elvis ignored him. Following the family rules? Ha, Cole didn’t have that right.

Gu Mengmeng headed back to Sandy’s, but Sandy and Collin were still going strong. Gu Mengmeng blushed as she approached the house... she was so eager to neutralize the hypnotism that she forgot all about how Sandy was still “making it up” to Collin.

“How about... tomorrow?” Gu Mengmeng asked Elvis while hugging his neck.

Elvis knew how worried Gu Mengmeng was about Sandy, while Cole was a dangerous and unpredictable element. Who knew if he would go back on his word to lift the spell later on?

“Not necessary.” With that, Elvis shrugged his shoulders and emitted the pressure of a fifth-level beast.

Cole was initially startled but then smiled. He cracked his neck and also started radiating his own beast pressure.

Gu Mengmeng didn’t know what was happening, until Collin tumbled out of the stone house. He looked... completely miserable.

Gu Mengmeng felt even more embarrassed now.

Being forced to stop like that—would Collin suffer any physical effects?

“This... would this affect Sandy’s future happiness?” Gu Mengmeng asked sheepishly.

Elvis remained nonchalant. “Even if Collin can’t, there are still Bode and the rest? Don’t worry, Sandy won’t be left wanting.”

Pfft...

The advantage of having more than one hubby? Backup.

Gu Mengmeng felt extremely guilty as she looked at Collin. “Collin, sorry to make you go through this...”

Elvis completely ignored Collin. He just made sure Bode and the rest had “cleaned up” Sandy, before walking in. He remarked casually as he went past Collin, “Being impotent is nothing. To safeguard Sandy’s life, Collin will happily volunteer to be skinned alive.”

Gu Mengmeng didn’t comment further and just followed Elvis into the stone house.

Bode and the other partner were propping Sandy up. With a bashful expression, Sandy asked Gu Mengmeng, “Gu Mengmeng, are you looking for me for something?”

Gu Mengmeng felt that it was really unethical to interrupt a couple at such a time. So she didn’t know what to say and was momentarily at a loss for words.

Getting no answer from Gu Mengmeng, Sandy glanced to the side and saw Cole.

Because she had Cole’s bewitching spell on her, his current illusion was ineffective on her. Her large eyes instantly lost its demure look as she pulled Gu Mengmeng from Elvis’ arms to behind her. Using her own body to shield Gu Mengmeng, Sandy flashed her bear claws and glared at Cole and Elvis with rage and wariness. “Elvis, I never knew you are also such a person! My Gu Mengmeng is really blind. Why did she choose you as her first partner?!”

Gu Mengmeng and Elvis were dumbstruck.

Why was she scolding Elvis instead of Cole?

If it was someone else who had flashed their claws at Elvis in this manner, he would have already snapped that person’s neck in half without waiting for any explanation. But unfortunately, this was someone he could not afford to offend.

For no other reason other than the fact that Xiao Meng would be very upset if this crazy bear died.

He could endure her crazy arrogance, but there was one thing he couldn’t tolerate. “‘Your’ Gu Mengmeng?”

The veins on Elvis’ forehead were nearly bursting as he spat out the word “your”.

Chapter 914

Chapter 914: In The Whole World, I Will Only Side With Xiao Meng.

Sandy was usually a wimpy pushover, but could be rather fearsome when incited.

Gu Mengmeng was someone she could pit her life for.

Disregarding the unborn child in her tummy, she bore a “you can touch Gu Mengmeng over my dead body” stance as she glared at Elvis unrelentingly.

Bode and Collin had gone soft in the knees in fright. They were afraid that Elvis would lash out on impulse, and that would be the end of Sandy.

But Sandy was completely unconcerned. She stood before Elvis and Cole like a mother hen protecting her chick. She stiffened her neck and said, “Yes, mine. So what?”

With that, she pointed one bear claw at angrily at Cole. “This jerk did something so shameless with Ellie. As Gu Mengmeng’s first partner, why didn’t you kill him? Not only that, you still allowed him to hang around Gu Mengmeng and disgust her. It is obvious you don’t care about her. Since you don’t treasure her, I will. From now on, I will take good care of my Gu Mengmeng! The two of you shameless jerks, get lost!”

Elvis’ face had turned pallid from being scolded by Sandy. He ground his teeth and stared at the person hiding behind Sandy. That person was secretly enjoying this spectacle. She was trying her best to keep herself from laughing out loud, and her constipated expression instantly extinguished the fire in Elvis’ chest.

How long had it been since she was so amused?

Since Snakel died, she had not carried any pranks. He had not seen that impish smile of hers for a long time.

Just for that smile, he was willing to endure Sandy's admonishments, no matter how harsh.

Anyway, although Elvis felt it was unnecessary, having one more person willing to protect Gu Mengmeng was a good thing. Elvis treasured such a friendship very much.

In other words, so what if Sandy acted rudely and unreasonably today?

As long as Gu Mengmeng still treated Sandy as a good friend, Elvis would never hurt her.

His rage extinguished, Elvis could only smile helplessly and sidestep Sandy to draw Gu Mengmeng back into his embrace. He then shot a look at Collin and Bode to restrain Sandy, who was trying to snatch Gu Mengmeng away again. He then said, "I have brought him here today to let you help Xiao Meng decide how to kill him. What do you think? Give me an idea and I will carry it out."

Sandy didn't struggle but just asked Elvis calmly, "Really? You are not siding with that jerk?"

Elvis shook his head. "In the whole world, I will only side with Xiao Meng."

"That's more like it." Sandy finally relaxed, before turning around to glare defiantly at Cole. "Cole, just saying your name makes me feel disgusted! How could you pretend to be so pitiful in front of me after what you did with Ellie. Glossing over what you did with a casual 'I did something wrong and made her angry'. I must have been blind to have spoken up for you to Gu Mengmeng. But now, I know everything. Let me tell you, I will never help you again. If you have any conscience at all, you will go confess your sins at the Platform of the Deity's Punishment, and beg the Beast Deity to cleanse your filthy body and soul."

Chapter 915

Chapter 915: You Are Really Impudent.

When had Cole ever been scolded like that before?

He might not be as highly respected as eldest brother and Lea, but he was still the Second Royal Highness in the Messengers tribe. Who would dare to be anything but reverent and deferential before him?

Even when his father was still alive, he had never berated him like that.

Sandy's reprimand was a wondrous experience for him. He felt that he should be angry? But somehow, he couldn't get his rage up.

Or perhaps...

His attention had been caught by an important piece of information?

"Ah Gu, were you very upset about that thing between me and Ellie? You are jealous?" Cole's smile held traces of smugness. He tilted his head and directed his line of sight around Sandy to land on Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng didn't know whether to laugh or cry. She had spun that lie just to humor Sandy, who was extremely confused and upset from being under Cole's bewitching spell. But now, her lie had put her in a tight spot.

Giving a couple of dry laughs, Gu Mengmeng said, "Do whatever you have to do. Don't bother about things that don't matter."

Cole touched his finger lightly to his chin. "But this is the first time I have ever been scolded in this manner. I must pursue the truth behind this right? If what she said is true, then I am happy to be scolded. But if what she said are lies... why should I save someone who is besmearing my name?"

Did he mean that he wouldn't save Sandy if Gu Mengmeng didn't admit she was very upset over that thing between him and Ellie?!

Gu Mengmeng was fuming on the inside, yet didn't want to play into his scheming.

But she couldn't not bother about Sandy... if she tried to break the hypnotism herself, Sandy would suffer physical harm.

Gu Mengmeng didn't wish to risk Sandy's safety. Hence, Gu Mengmeng decided to say something that went against her own conscience.

Glaring at Cole, she tried her best to believe that he was Lea.

Just as she was about to speak, one bear claw clamped down on Cole's shoulder.

Cole was pushed back a couple steps and he shot a malevolent glare at Sandy. He flashed his claws and fangs, and looked ready to attack Sandy at any moment.

Bode and Collin had been focusing on Sandy and was naturally well aware of her actions. They had no time to tell her not to make any sudden moves, and could only make the most fundamental protective actions to cover her.

Bode pulled Sandy into his embrace before turning his back on Cole.

Collin then placed himself in front of Bode and used own arms to defend against Cole.

Collin had already been promoted to a third-level beast after becoming Sandy's partner. He was considered quite powerful in the Beast World and could usually easily defend his female.

But most situations didn't usually involve a fifth-level beast.

Even though Cole was handicapped, he had been a fifth-level beast for so long. Further, he had undergone Sauder's training system, and had numerous under-dealings and scuffles with stray beasts. His powers... if they were to fight for real, he would at least be comparable to Elvis.

How could a third-level Collin hold him back?

With one smack, Collin's forearms folded at a peculiar angle, obviously broken.

Gu Mengmeng was startled by the sudden change in the situation. She rushed to stand before Cole, while Elvis inserted himself right in front of her half a second later. In this manner, Elvis was nearly nose-to-nose with Cole.

With a grim face, Gu Mengmeng stated coldly. "Cole, you are really impudent."

Chapter 916

Chapter 916: I Am Not That Hardcore

Startled, Cole immediately drew back his murderous aura.

He smiled elegantly, as if nothing had happened. He touched his own nose. “I apologize. Perhaps my six months with the stray beasts, where everything was about fighting and death—my first instinct now is to counterattack whenever I am attacked.”

Cole’s eyes dimmed when his gaze landed on Sandy.

This female...

Actually made Ah Gu care so much about her.

What should he do? He felt a bit jealous.

Hmm...

However, such an important person should be reserved until the final and most exciting moment before being presented.

Cole said with a smile. “Alright, I apologize. Even if you must punish me, let me undo the bewitchment on her first, okay?”

Gu Mengmeng took two steps back and pushed Bode aside. Bode was just a second-level beast and was already trembling in fear from the beast pressure released by Elvis and Cole. Even so, he remained steadfastly protecting Sandy. This improved Gu Mengmeng’s impression of him.

Bravery was never about having no fear. Instead, it was about how you chose to protect me even though you were clearly afraid.

Ha, Sandy’s taste in men was as good as hers.

This first partner might have been a bit weak, but his heart was true.

After pushing Bode aside, Gu Mengmeng pulled Sandy by her hand and held her, trying to calm her down.

Sandy's bear paws slowly morphed back into her plump little hand, but her eyes were still glaring at Cole with unrelenting rage.

Gu Mengmeng patted her gently on her back. "Alright my precious Sandy, don't be angry at him. It's not worth it. It is better to let Elvis carry out such family matters. As for you, help me decide if it's better to cut him into pieces or slice him into strips. And if we should roast or steam him."

Sandy was startled. "Ah? Are you going to eat him?"

Gu Mengmeng laughed. "I am not that hardcore. I mean that you can just help me come up with ideas, and let the males carry out the physical exertions."

Sandy nodded. "I also know that I can't defeat him. But I am just so angry at how he dares to speak to you so righteously even after how he treated you. So enraging..."

Gu Mengmeng nodded accommodatingly. "Yes, yes."

Sandy felt calmer after seeing that Gu Mengmeng didn't blame her for being too nosy. She held onto Gu Mengmeng's arm. "I feel that since he has committed an offense, he should go up to the Platform of the Deity's Punishment and let the Beast Deity punish him."

Gu Mengmeng didn't hesitate. "Alright, we will listen to you. It will also give you a chance to help avenge me, to personally seek the Beast Deity's judgment."

Sandy nodded and walked over to Cole with her chest puffed up. Just as she was about to speak, her gaze abruptly went blank and lost its light. She collapsed to the ground as if her soul had been suddenly sucked out.

Gu Mengmeng's quick reflexes enabled her to catch Sandy, while Bode also dashed up. He took Sandy over from Gu Mengmeng and carried her back to the stone house.

Gu Mengmeng looked over at Cole, who smiled. "The bewitching spell has been lifted. So... should I now head over to the Platform of the Deity's Punishment to receive my punishment from the Beast Deity? If I kneel on the platform for three days without dying, then you will no longer be upset by that thing between Ellie and I? Mmm?"

Gu Mengmeng laughed. "Cole, you can race horses on your forehead."

Cole looked puzzled as he looked at Gu Mengmeng with a tilted head.

Gu Mengmeng explained, "I am complimenting you on your big face."

Chapter 917

Chapter 917: It Was Chixuan Who Scratched Me, So Painful.

Cole was no fool and he naturally understood Gu Mengmeng's meaning.

She meant that she couldn't care less if anything had happened between him and Ellie.

Ha, his Ah Gu really knew how to torture him.

Just as he was about to say something, Lea's voice sounded out from behind him. "How's this role-playing game of yours going?"

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head to glance at Lea standing beside Cole. His entire body was full of scratches.

And he was carrying an unconscious Chixuan.

Gu Mengmeng was stunned as she rushed towards Lea. "What happened?"

Lea gently hooked Gu Mengmeng chin. "Are you asking about me or him?"

G knew that "him" referred to the unconscious Chixuan. She also knew Lea was making a fuss so as to temper down her emotions. Gu Mengmeng took a deep breath before exhaling slowly. After calming herself down, she replied, "I am asking about you both. What happened?"

Satisfied that Gu Mengmeng had calmed down, Lea pointed at Cole. "Just so that he could impersonate me and experience my life, this Mister Cole had Chixuan commit self-harm to hold me back. Chixuan repeatedly tried to harm himself, forcing me to stay back and tend to him... ha, but he forgot that I am a witch doctor. I have plenty of ways to treat this first-level beast."

“Self-harm?” Those words jolted Gu Mengmeng’s heart. She instinctively went over to check Chixuan’s body for wounds.

Lea held Gu Mengmeng’s hand. “Don’t worry. Although I wasted some time, I didn’t let him hurt himself.”

Only then did Gu Mengmeng look up. She gently stroked Lea’s face. He treasured that face of his the most, but two vicious scratches had been left in the area just an inch away from under his eyes. Any closer and he might have been blinded.

Gu Mengmeng’s heart ached. She wanted to touch it but was afraid he might be in pain. So she just asked tenderly, “These scratches... did Chixuan cause them?”

Lea nodded woefully. Putting on a piteous expression, as if he was a timid girl being bullied by his wicked mother-in-law, he said, “Mmm, it was Chixuan who scratched me, so painful.”

Before Gu Mengmeng could respond, Lea’s expression changed as he glared maliciously at Cole. “But this debt should be borne by Mister Cole. After all, it was you who instigated our ignorant child.”

Cole returned with an equally malicious and chilly smile. “It is naturally my debt to bear. After all, there are so many debts between you and I, that it doesn’t make a difference if we add another to it.”

Lea didn’t get angry. His voice remained as calm and cool as the moonlight. “Now that I have returned, can this ‘let’s pretend to be Lea for a day’ game come to an end?”

Cole shook his head. “I have already undone the bewitchment on Sandy and that counts as payment for this game. I will naturally play till the end of the day, if not I will feel cheated.”

Lea replied, “Oh? A person whose disguise has already been exposed to all. Is there still any meaning to this?”

Cole said, “So what if I have been exposed. Perhaps Ah Gu wishes to have me stay on? After all... I have commanded Chixuan to pester you the entire day.”

Gu Mengmeng instantly understood Cole’s meaning.

If she didn’t agree for Cole to stay on, he would punish Chixuan for not accomplishing his task?!

And that Chixuan was just so dead loyal to Cole. To accomplish his task, he attacked Lea without any hesitation, and even resorted to self-harm.

But...

He was her own son. For Gu Mengmeng to not bother about him... she could not bear to.

Chapter 918

Chapter 918: Will I Do Something As Despicable As Stealing Someone's Partner?!

"I will let you stay on, but only for today." Gu Mengmeng gritted her teeth.

Cole smiled and nodded. "Mmm, alright."

Gu Mengmeng glared at Cole. "But you must promise not to make things difficult for Chixuan."

Cole nodded as he promised. "I swear that I will not make things difficult for him over this matter."

Gu Mengmeng nodded. She then proceeded to ignore Cole and transferred Chixuan from Lea over to Elvis. "Hubby, bring Chixuan back to the stone castle and settle him down. I will stay here to wait for Sandy to awaken."

"Let Lea accompany you."

No matter how powerful she was, he would never learn how to not worry over her.

Gu Mengmeng nodded. "Mmm, Collin is injured and Lea can take a look at his wounds."

Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng's brow and then hauled Chixuan over his shoulder. He exchanged a look with Lea before leaving.

Gu Mengmeng treated Cole like empty air the entire time. She only had eyes for Lea.

They obviously had the same face and body but she could clearly tell between the two of them.

How did she manage to do that?

Cole's curiosity was really piqued but he didn't pursue the matter. He just followed behind Gu Mengmeng. He went wherever she went.

Lea walked beside Collin and took up his broken arm. He snorted disdainfully. "Useless."

Collin lowered his head and didn't dare to retort.

Lea made a splinter out of a branch to stabilize Collin's arm. "I think you need to hand over your position as the guard of the Messenger. Look at you now... putting you beside my Mengmeng will ruin her image."

"Alright now, Lea."

Gu Mengmeng seldom heard Lea speak so sharply. Every word of his was stinging.

Cole was only a third-level beast and Gu Mengmeng felt that he was already being very brave for daring to stand up to Cole like that for Sandy.

Lea turned to look at Gu Mengmeng angrily. "Does your heart ache? That time, did you really like him?"

Gu Mengmeng gave Lea's waist a vicious pinch. "What nonsense are you talking about? Will I do something as despicable as stealing someone's partner?! What do you take me for?"

Scared, Lea quickly took back his words. "Alright, alright. I won't say such things already."

By then, Lea had already stabilized Collin's arm. No one knew if he did it on purpose or not, but Lea started tapping against the tree branch with one finger, sending waves of pain down Collin's arm. Collin gritted his teeth but dared not utter a single sound.

"You cannot take off this branch. It must be fixed to your arm until after Sandy gives birth, understand?"

Only after he finished speaking did Lea finally draw back his finger and turn towards Gu Mengmeng. He engulfed her in his arms and fussed as he nuzzled her cheek. “Mengmeng, I don’t like it when you defend other males. I will get jealous.”

Gu Mengmeng was completely helpless against Lea’s unrestrained jealousy. She could only stroke his face and say, “I am not defending Collin, but it’s just that... it’s not very ethical to bully an injured person.”

Lea kissed Gu Mengmeng’s cheek. “I am not bullying him. I am just telling him that if he wishes to protect his own female, sacrificing himself is not enough. Becoming stronger is the only way. He must first gain the ability to protect himself. Only then can he better protect those important to him.”

Chapter 919

Chapter 919: A Grudging Little Fellow

“A person who purposely restricted his own promotion so that he could be used as bait—is now teaching others the importance of becoming stronger?” Gu Mengmeng recalled Lea’s earlier decision, which still made her feel very angry and made her heart ache.

Lea smiled enchantingly. He tapped Gu Mengmeng’s little face with one finger before drawing her into his arms. “You are a grudging little fellow. Haven’t I already repented? Moreover, our family situation was different from his. We already have a powerful Elvis, that’s why I dared to be a weaker Lea. But for his family, he is already the most powerful. If he becomes a handicapped beast, the combat capabilities of Sandy’s whole family would be greatly reduced. Playing the hero without regard for Sandy’s safety is stupidity to the extreme.”

The validity of Lea’s words were undeniable.

From an objective angle, Collin needed to ensure his own safety and quickly upgrade his powers. This would be the greatest guarantee for Sandy’s own security.

Sacrificing himself in exchange for a fleeting moment of safety for Sandy—his actions today were too reckless.

If they were not present today, Cole would probably have killed Collin and then killed Sandy.

By then, what hope could there be for Sandy?

But when one was faced with danger, when would they have the time to think so much? They would just do their best to protect the person most important to them. Gu Mengmeng still felt that this was something that didn't deserve a scolding.

Collin did not want to be the cause of a quarrel between Gu Mengmeng and Lea. Hence, he lowered his head and said in a rough voice, "Gu Mengmeng, don't blame Lea. The fact that he is willing to treat my injury shows how highly he regards your close relationship with Sandy. In general, males in a tribe who got injured will be left to fend for themselves. If not for Lea, my arm will definitely be handicapped. And if I ended up a handicapped beast, I will have to leave Sandy in order not to be a burden to her... so, Lea not only rescued my arm, he saved my life. Moreover, he is speaking the truth. I must become more powerful in order to protect Sandy."

Great, here we have one person willing to be an abuser, while the other person was willing to bear the abuse.

And it made Gu Mengmeng appear nosy.

Gu Mengmeng smacked Collin's arm viciously, making him cry out in pain. Only then did she pat off her hands and say, "Good that you know this. Quickly upgrade yourself. If something like this happens again, where you are helpless when Sandy is faced with danger, I will bring her back to live with me."

At this, not only Collin, but even Lea was incited.

Sandy and Gu Mengmeng living together? Then where would he and Elvis live?!

You must be kidding?!

After glaring at Collin, Lea gritted his teeth. "You, from tomorrow onwards, you must go train with Elvis daily to improve your capabilities as soon as possible!"

Collin quickly nodded. "Yes yes yes. I will definitely do my best."

Gu Mengmeng couldn't be bothered with those two fellows anymore. She wanted to get down from Lea's arms to take a look at Sandy, but he refused to let go.

"It's a rare opportunity that Elvis is not around, and I can finally hold you. You want to see Sandy, right? I will carry you over."

"Sandy is a female." Gu Mengmeng's words held an underlying meaning. It was not convenient for Lea to enter.

But Lea smiled cunningly. "I am a witch doctor."

Gu Mengmeng held her face and thought: You are abusing your position for personal gains.

But Lea did not care and just strode into Sandy's bedroom with Gu Mengmeng in his arms.

Chapter 920

Chapter 920: Your Maternal Instincts Are Too Great

Sandy was still unconscious. Bode sat beside her, anxiously holding onto her little hand. He was completely still, his entire focus on her.

Lea unceremoniously kicked Bode to the side.

Bode looked at Lea but dared not utter a single sound.

One, Lea was a witch doctor. It was to their benefit that he was willing to see to Sandy's condition.

Second...

He cast a quick glance at Gu Mengmeng, whom Lea had placed beside Sandy.

She was the Messenger of the Beast Deity and the daughter of the Beast Deity. She was the embodiment of all that was high and holy. Having her by Sandy's side might bring her some good luck. Moreover, the Beast Deity might take into account the fact that Sandy and Gu Mengmeng were good friends, and bestow some blessings on Sandy?

The most important point was that Gu Mengmeng seemed to mean even more to Sandy than her own partners.

She would definitely hope for Gu Mengmeng to be the first person she sees when she regains consciousness.

So Bode kept silent. He got up and left to find some food to cook, in case Sandy was hungry when she wakes up.

Gu Mengmeng didn't have time to bother about Bode. She held Sandy's little hand and stroked the tiny wisps of hair on her temples. She said in a soft voice, “Sandy, good girl. Don’t let me worry. Quickly wake up, alright? You still have a baby in your tummy. It won’t be good for the baby if you sleep for too long. Didn’t we agree for me to be the child’s godmother the moment it is born.”

“You don’t know that my four wolf pups have all grown up and are not as close to me anymore... how I miss the days when they still snuggled beside me. I plan to use the baby in your tummy to satisfy this longing in me. So, quickly wake up, alright? Give birth to a plump, furry little baby for me to play with?”

“Ooo...” Sandy appeared to have heard Gu Mengmeng’s words. She wrinkled her brows slightly, before opening her eyes and smiling faintly. She looked at Gu Mengmeng and murmured, “Alright.”

Gu Mengmeng couldn’t help smiling. She teased Sandy as she helped her sit up. “So you agree? Your maternal instincts are too great.”

Sandy also smiled. Gu Mengmeng liked her child. This was a good thing, why would she not agree?

Her head ached but Sandy didn’t mention it. She just propped herself up and took in everyone in the room.

When her gaze landed on Cole, Sandy shivered all over. She instinctively clutched Gu Mengmeng’s hand as she stared guardedly at Cole. “Why are you here? What do you want?! Hede... where are Hede and the rest? What have done to the wolf pups?! Give me back the wolf pups, give them back to me!”

Gu Mengmeng gently hugged Sandy and patted her back. “Sandy, don’t be afraid, I am here.”

Sandy’s body stiffened as she let Gu Mengmeng hold her. Her mind was in chaos as it continued to ache.

Her memories finally sorted themselves out after a long while. How Cole managed to threaten her to leave with him alone. How she ended up believing Cole and Gu Mengmeng were partners, and even helped him try to get closer to Gu Mengmeng. All those incidents resurfaced in her mind.

Frowning, Sandy clenched her fists tightly. She mumbled into Gu Mengmeng's shoulder. "Gu Mengmeng, have I brought trouble to you once again... I am such a useless friend, always a burden to you..."

Chapter 921

Chapter 921: Witnessing Domestic Abuse The Moment They Returned Home

“What nonsense are you saying?” Gu Mengmeng caressed Sandy’s head.
“Don’t think too much. I am good as long as you are well.”

She glanced at the injured Collin, as well as Bode, who was just outside busily prepping some food. Gu Mengmeng sighed. “I feel assured now that I see you are fine. I will head back first. You and Collin rest well. When you have recovered, we will go back to Saint Nazaire together.”

Sandy nodded and hugged Gu Mengmeng again. She didn’t get off the bed but just stared after the departing profiles of Gu Mengmeng and Lea.

Cole followed behind Gu Mengmeng the whole way. He knew Gu Mengmeng didn’t wish to acknowledge his presence and didn’t want to see him, but he continued tagging along. Just by heading for the same destination as her made him feel happy.

They returned to the stone castle only to see Elvis keeping Chixuan firmly on the ground with one foot.

Gu Mengmeng frowned...

Why did they have to witness domestic abuse the moment they returned home.

“Elvis,” Gu Mengmeng shouted at him.

Elvis frowned. He felt that no amount of explanation could save him now.

As long as it concerned those four little ones, Gu Mengmeng would always side with them no matter who was in the wrong.

Now that she had personally seen him stepping on Chixuan, even the heavens could not save him from Gu Mengmeng's blame.

Being wronged...

He didn't have the right to feel that way.

After all, he was really beating up that Chixuan.

But he couldn't bear to make Gu Mengmeng angry.

Hence, Elvis cast aside his principles and loosened his hold on Chixuan. He walked towards Gu Mengmeng to confess his sins. "Xiao Meng, don't be angry. I was wrong."

Cole was somewhat shocked.

He knew even better than Lea just what kind of person Elvis was.

After all...

He had watched him grow up.

Actually, he had once wanted to groom Elvis to take over Peter as the ruler of the stray beasts.

A pity that fellow didn't understand courtship. They had thrown so many females before him, and he had just treated them as food and ate them all up...

A young punk who could not go beyond the third-level would never be able to take on such a high position. But just based on his viciousness, Cole still intended to groom him.

But Elvis had actually escaped after that, nullifying all of Cole's careful cultivation.

And now, that Elvis who had leaped out of that pit drenched in blood and devoured his own brother without any hesitation—that Elvis was now... as docile as a dog. Immediately wagging his tail and pleading for forgiveness the moment his mistress called his name?

Ha, his Ah Gu was truly capable.

She not only tamed that unruly Ninth Highness, but had even trained that bloodthirsty Elvis until he was now good and obedient.

But Gu Mengmeng was completely unconcerned with what Cole was thinking. She just jumped down from Lea's arms and pushed Elvis aside. She stood beside Chixuan, who was covered in bruises. Her heart ached tremendously.

Chixuan had wanted to counterattack the moment he was free of Elvis' foot. But on seeing Gu Mengmeng and Cole, he suppressed his rage and stood compliantly in his place with a lowered head. He looked at Gu Mengmeng. "Mother, I am sorry for making you worry."

Gu Mengmeng's maternal heart ached badly. She knew that many of the wounds all over Chixuan's body was self-inflicted so that he could accomplish Cole's mission. She didn't know why her son was so obedient to Cole. Sighing in frustration, she just held his little face and said, "Let Daddy Lea apply some medicine for you. Don't get any infections."

Chapter 922

Chapter 922: Don't Push Your Luck, I Have Only So Much Patience.

Chixuan didn't object but just stared at Cole.

Gu Mengmeng wrinkled her brows and sighed again. She also glanced at Cole and braced herself, "What are you still standing there for? Quickly come over and take a look at Chixuan."

Cole gave a faint smile.

Look at how easy it was to get to Gu Mengmeng.

He had no need for Sandy or Oakley at all. Just one Chixuan was enough to make her succumb easily.

Walking to Gu Mengmeng's side, Cole hesitated a slight moment before copying Lea's way of resting his chin on Gu Mengmeng's shoulder.

For his 1.9 meters height, the 1.72 meters tall Gu Mengmeng was too short. And he was not as practiced as Lea and Elvis in that movement. No matter how many times he had mentally practiced that movement, reality was just too different. Unfamiliar with that action, his posture was awkward as he bent over like a little shrimp.

Gu Mengmeng shrugged impatiently as she tossed him a disdainful side glance. "Don't push your luck, I have only so much patience."

Cole raised his hands in a sign of defeat and took two steps back. He smiled helplessly. "I just want to experience it, but... I am really not used to this."

Gu Mengmeng ignored him and just took over the medicine from Lea's hands and shoved it towards Cole. "Apply this on my son. If there are any scars left on his body, I will skin you alive.”

“Is that considered a reward?” If she could personally skin him...

The corners of Cole’s lips curled, as if he had thought of something exciting and fun.

Mmm, he very much looked forward to that.

Gu Mengmeng was totally speechless. But for Chixuan’s sake, she had no choice but to endure.

But Cole knew when to stop goading her. If he really pushed her too far, he would never be able to complete today’s experience.

He did not wish to give up on such an interesting experience so soon.

So Cole got on his knees and patted his thigh. “Little Xuan, come over here. Let me apply medicine for you.”

“Mmm.” Chixuan was completely docile, totally different from that person who was struggling savagely against Elvis earlier. He obediently laid across Cole’s thigh and allowed Cole to apply the herbal medicines on his body. The medicine obviously stung but he didn’t flinch and acted as if he felt nothing at all.

Gu Mengmeng’s heart ached for her son but felt rather helpless. She could only turn and glare at Elvis in rage. “Isn’t he your own flesh and blood. Doesn’t it pain you to beat him?”

Elvis knew Gu Mengmeng was just lashing out in blind anger, but didn’t try to explain himself. He just held her by the waist and pulled her against his chest. He morphed his ears into his beast ears and lowered his head to present them to Gu Mengmeng. “I know I was in the wrong. I will let you pull my ears, alright?”

Gu Mengmeng held Elvis’ ears and steeled her heart. But she still couldn’t bear to really pull on them. She just gave a couple of tugs before letting go. She leaned back and glared at Elvis again.

Lea flew into Gu Mengmeng's arms and rested his chin on Gu Mengmeng's knee. He cupped his face in his hands and wriggled his pure, white beast ears at Gu Mengmeng. He smiled coquettishly. "Mengmeng, you want to pinch ears, right? You haven't pinched my ears for a long time now... there, pinch them..."

Gu Mengmeng was still in Elvis' arms while that slutty fox was sprawled across her knees. She frowned. "Get lost! Go tumble off as far away from me as you can!"

"Tumble..." Lea smiled ambiguously before looping one arm around her waist. He didn't pull her towards him but instead stuck himself onto her. He blew into her ears gently and whispered, "Tumble like how we did before?"

Chapter 923

Chapter 923: Unmentionable

Gu Mengmeng started bleeding from the nose.

Not because of Lea's teasing, but because...

The three of them were in a rather... mmm... unmentionable position.

Elvis and Lea were both tall and muscular. She was nestled in Elvis' arms while Lea had plastered himself onto her.

Either Lea or Elvis could easily cover her in entirety. No one would be able to see even a strand of her hair.

Hence, from most angles, it looked as if Lea was coquettishly snuggling against Elvis' chest and murmuring. While Elvis, who was actually looking downwards at Gu Mengmeng, appeared to be gazing dotingly at Lea...

F.

Gu Mengmeng was once again reminded of that misunderstanding when she was first transported over...

Lea and Elvis didn't know what she was thinking, but they panicked when they saw her nosebleed.

Without another word, Elvis dashed out the door with Gu Mengmeng while Lea followed close behind.

If not for the fact that Cole was a fifth-level beast, he might not have even see how the two had suddenly disappeared.

What... happened?

Cole didn't know what was going on but he stood up and followed Elvis and Lea outside.

There were no streams around Sauder, so Elvis had to run a bit further before finally reaching one. Without any hesitation, he jumped in with Gu Mengmeng in his arms.

Gu Mengmeng was dumbstruck the entire time. She didn't know why Elvis was sprinting and had to keep her mouth shut against the headwind. When Elvis finally stopped, she didn't have the time to utter a single word before the two of them were submerged in water. She ended up gulping down a mouthful of water and couldn't stop coughing.

Soon after, Lea stroked her back to soothe her coughing. He asked with much concern, "How are you now? Do you feel better after steeping in the stream waters?"

Gu Mengmeng's eyes were tearing up from all that coughing. She was totally unable to reply Lea's question.

After she finally stopped coughing, she looked wide-eyed at Elvis and Lea, who were both staring at her as if she had contracted a terminal disease. "Who can tell me... what happened?"

Elvis lifted Gu Mengmeng's chin and stared at her nose. As he looked at that bright red trickle snaking down her face into the corner of her mouth, he felt as if a hundred thousand needles were stabbing into his heart

Gu Mengmeng tasted blood and touched her lips to see blood on her fingers.

She was momentarily stunned, before asking, "Don't tell me the two of you were so anxious because I had a nosebleed."

Both Elvis and Lea nodded solemnly under Gu Mengmeng's dismal gaze.

Gu Mengmeng was completely speechless. Ignoring the two of them, she pinched her nose with one hand and used the other to sprinkle water over her forehead and nose bridge.

After she had kept her head tilted back for awhile and made sure that the nosebleed had stopped, she finally lowered her head back down. She wanted to berate Elvis and Lea, but faced with their panicked eyes, she swallowed her words. She lifted her own nose to show them that she was fine. “I am fine now. It has stopped bleeding. Look, it’s alright now.”

Two pairs of eyes stared unwavering at Gu Mengmeng for a long while, before two extended exhales could finally be heard.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. Bloody massacres were a common scene to these two, who would not even blink at the sight of their own flesh rupturing. And yet the two of them had nearly gone mad at her simple nosebleed. It was truly baffling.

But also very heartwarming.

Chapter 924

Chapter 924: I Am Afraid That I Will Lose You

“We won’t head back to the stone castle, it’s too far away.” Elvis told Lea. “I have a cave nearby. If it’s not suitable, then we’ll dig another one. Next time, we will live by this stream.”

Gu Mengmeng said, “Eh eh eh, wait a minute. Why do have to live by this stream? My sons are still in that stone castle.”

“We will go fetch them after we settle down here,” Elvis replied as he carried Gu Mengmeng back to shore.

They had departed in a hurry and didn’t bring any skinned furs. Elvis had no choice but to use his own tail to wrap tightly around Gu Mengmeng, so that she would not fall sick from being exposed to the winds in her wet state.

It had been a long time since Gu Mengmeng last saw Elvis present such a black face to her.

Wasn’t it just a nosebleed? It wasn’t as if she had taken an an illicit lover. Why was he so fierce towards her?

“Erm... hubby, why are you angry?” Gu Mengmeng asked timidly.

Elvis paused and looked at Gu Mengmeng with a very complex and profound gaze. He said in a raspy voice, “I am not angry, I am afraid...”

Gu Mengmeng glanced at Cole, who had been following them the whole time. She pondered for a moment. She felt it was not too possible, but still asked in a tentative manner, “You are afraid of Cole?”

“Him? Ha...” Elvis snorted with disdain.

Gu Mengmeng agreed it was a pretty silly question. Elvis already dared to face off Cole when he was only a third-level beast, not to mention now.

But...

“Then what are you afraid of? Why must we stay by the stream?” Gu Mengmeng really couldn’t understand.

Elvis’ blue eyes seem to hold a bottomless black hole, drawing her down into its spiraling depths. His voice was soft but every word thudded against her heart. “You bled. I am afraid that I will lose you.”

Bled?

Gu Mengmeng thought about it before realization dawned on her. She asked in exasperation, “You thought that I was dying just because my nose bled?”

“Xiao Meng!” This was the first time Elvis had spoken to her so sternly. He was just stating her name but it was already the harshest words he had uttered to her.

But not only was Gu Mengmeng not afraid, she laughed out. She looped her arms around Elvis’ neck and said gently, “Silly hubby. My nose bled because we have been eating too much roasted meats recently. Plus you keep a burning fire every night for fear of me getting a chill, such that my body got too heated up. That is all. My health is still very good and I will not die. Don’t be afraid.”

Elvis remained dubious about Gu Mengmeng’s explanation.

He, Lea and the three little ones all ate and slept the same as her, so why didn’t the rest of them suffer nosebleeds, but only Gu Mengmeng did?

Gu Mengmeng seemed to have seen through Elvis’ thoughts. “You are all males and more hardy than me. I am so delicate, don’t you agree...”

Gu Mengmeng was actually being self-mocking when she used the word “delicate”. She only said it to ease the tension and bring smiles to Elvis’ and Lea’s faces.

But Gu Mengmeng blushed after Elvis and Lea seriously considered her point before nodding in agreement.

Calling herself delicate... ha, she was shameless.

Elvis held Gu Mengmeng tightly in his arms, as if he still couldn't let go of his worries. He insisted. "Let's stay by this stream for a few days first. I will bring you back to the stone castle after I am sure you are fine."

Lea seconded the suggestion and added. "In future, we will ban roasted meats from the menu. And from on, we will keep you warm by having Elvis and I embrace you."

Chapter 925

Chapter 925: It Is The Duty Of A Son To Repay His Mother's Debts

Banning roasted meat from the menu?

Ha, Gu Mengmeng could nearly picture Auretin's murderous expression when he heard that news.

Having the two of them hold her while she slept...

Then she would have to endure a double attack when their bestial desires took over?

Was having a mere nosebleed such an unforgivable sin? Why did they have to punish her like this...

Sob sob sob...

"Alright... I confess. I lied." Gu Mengmeng put on a woeful and regretful expression. "It was because I saw you and Elvis lean in too close to one another, which made me think of something unmentionable, that is why my nose bled. I promise that I will control my own thoughts in the future, and not let my imagination run wild. Can we just pretend this never happened?"

Lea was momentarily taken aback. He then reached out and knocked Gu Mengmeng on the head. "I am your partner, but you... still wish to push me unto someone else?"

"Elvis is not someone else..." Gu Mengmeng muttered weakly.

"Gu—Meng—Meng!" Lea gritted his teeth as he growled.

He and Elvis had been so terrified when they saw her nose bleed. Heaven knew just how afraid they had been of losing her. But her nosebleed was actually caused by sexual fantasy thoughts...

"I was wrong." Gu Mengmeng lowered her head, not daring to retort.

Lea clenched his fists as he truly felt like pinching her to death.

But he knew that there was no way he could bear to even hurt a strand of her hair.

Looking at Elvis, Lea asked sulkily, "You are the first partner, can't you control her?"

Elvis' face had been black the entire time. Heaven knew he was grinding his teeth so hard that his gums were nearly bleeding. He replied coldly, "Even you can't handle her, what makes you think I have a way to?"

Lea spied Cole from the corner of his eye. Cole was totally engrossed by the entire scene, and his amused expression made one feel very unhappy.

Wait a minute...

Cole?!

Ha...

Lea suddenly smiled. "I am in a very bad mood. Why don't we... go home and 'train' those four little ones. Although your father's methods in training you were a bit too cruel, I feel that it still had its merits. We just need to tweak it a little and it will be suitable for use on Hede and his brothers."

Elvis and Lea had worked together for many years and it only took a second for him to understand Lea's intentions. Hence, Elvis gave a cold smile. "That'd be good. Since I can't handle their mother, I have no choice but to vent my anger on those four. After all, it is the duty of a son to repay his mother's debts. Ha, I suddenly feel like I can understand Peter's methods then."

Chills were really running down Gu Mengmeng's spine.

Even though she was very sure that the two of them were probably just scaring her—if they really ill-treated her four little ones in that manner, she would not just be upset, she would go mad with grief.

And they could not bear to see that happen.

But their current expressions were too terrifying.

Gu Mengmeng was 99.99% sure that they were pretending, but she did not dare to risk that 0.01% chance they meant business.

With her arms around his neck, Gu Mengmeng pleaded with Elvis. “Hubby, I was wrong. I was really in the wrong. I won’t think such thoughts in the future. Please don’t mistreat our sons. Please, please... don’t do it. I rather you punish me... dig a pit and throw me in... sob sob sob, hubby, spare our sons after you throw me in...”

Elvis was unmoved as he stared down his nose at Gu Mengmeng.

Seeing that he was keeping silent, Gu Mengmeng turned to Lea on the verge of tears. “Daddy Lea, I was wrong. Punish me in any way you want. Please don’t harm my sons.”

Chapter 926

Chapter 926: Any Punishment We Want?

How long had it been since she called him Daddy Lea?

He had tried several times in the heights of passion to coax her to call him that, but she refused.

But now...

How could he bear to really make her unhappy? They were just scaring her as punishment.

But...

Any punishment we want?

Ha, would he still be a fox if he rejected a perk that had come knocking on his door?

“Any punishment we want?” Lea suppressed his smile and forced out a cold tone.

Gu Mengmeng nodded compliantly. “As long as you don’t bully my sons. I will endure any punishment.”

Lea finally chuckled and tapped Gu Mengmeng’s little nose. “You must remember your promise today. If you dare to go back on your word... Hede and his brothers will have to bear this debt.”

“I won’t dare to, I won’t. I will never go back on my word.” Gu Mengmeng hastily waved and shook her head. She was totally obedient.

Lea shot Elvis a look and the two of them tacitly agreed not to pursue this matter further.

After all, if she really started crying because of their continued teasing, they would end up the ones being distressed.

Seeing her own men finally placated, Gu Mengmeng wasn't too worried about whether she had been taken advantage of by making that promise.

After all, no matter how those two decided to punish her, they still loved her above all and would not really do anything bad to her.

Having nothing to fear. This phrase could be used to describe Gu Mengmeng's current situation.

Gu Mengmeng looped her arm around Elvis' neck and grinned ingratiatingly. "Then can you tell me why did you throw me into the stream? I was choking..."

Elvis had seen her choking on the water, but was too worried about her nosebleed to bother about that then. Now that he recalled it, he did feel rather sorry for that.

Gently stroking her head, he said, "I remember during your previous nosebleed, you had soaked inside a stream and become better after that. So the moment I saw your nose bleed, I immediately went to find a stream."

Previous...

Gu Mengmeng struggled to remember before recalling that she did suffer a nosebleed when she had first arrived in the Beast World. She had just gotten to know Sandy then, and that silly girl had been running behind Elvis and behaving like Gu Mengmeng was about to die. Sandy had gathered the entire tribe then, making it seem like the masses were there to send Gu Mengmeng off in death.

Gu Mengmeng couldn't help smiling as she recalled that scene. Her head bobbed and her eyes brightened.

Elvis didn't know what Gu Mengmeng was thinking, but he couldn't help also smiling as he watched her grinning face.

When Gu Mengmeng woke up from her trip down memory lane, she was met with Elvis' deep, profound eyes.

Gu Mengmeng's heart ached as she recalled how panicked he was just now.

Elvis and Lea were probably really frightened by her nosebleed.

To avoid something like that happening again, Gu Mengmeng decided to teach them the proper way to treat a nosebleed.

Elvis and Lea exchanged a glance after she finished.

So they just needed to sprinkle some water on her forehead and nose bridge, and keep her head tilted upwards.

Why were they so flustered that they had just immediately dashed into the stream...

On the way back, they met Chixuan and Oakley who had hurried after them.

Oakley's eyes were bloodshot. He heaved a sigh of relief on seeing Gu Mengmeng. After composing himself, he walked up and bowed in a formal manner. "Great Messenger, are you alright?"

Chapter 927

Chapter 927: Everyone Said You Had Died.

Gu Mengmeng suddenly felt that she truly couldn't understand Oakley.

He had always acted like she was his enemy, and behaved as if no one could stop him and Cole from taking over the Beast World together. This made Gu Mengmeng feel extremely cold towards him.

But she was very sure that Oakley's bloodshot eyes and worried expression—those were not an act.

There was no way such details could be faked.

It could be said she had benefited from Wang Xiaoxin.

Because of that professional knowledge, Gu Mengmeng was rather well-versed in the intricacies of the human expression.

The chances were low that anyone could successfully tell a lie before her now.

She did not know what Oakley's intentions were but she knew this friend still cared about her.

This point made Gu Mengmeng feel very happy.

Smiling, Gu Mengmeng replied, "I am fine. It was just a minor nosebleed. Elvis and Lea were overly-anxious and created a mass panic. Ask everyone to head back. Everything is fine."

"Yes." Oakley glanced at Gu Mengmeng again before turning away without hesitation. Any care and concern had been firmly hidden back in his heart.

He did not dare to reveal even the slightest bit of concern for her?

He...

He couldn't be guarding against Lea and Elvis, so he could only be guarding against Cole.

Didn't he ally himself with Cole?

He... was he scheming to deceive Cole in something?

What did it have to do with her?

Gu Mengmeng did not understand at all, but knew it was not a good time now to probe further.

Cole was too smart, especially in the matters of manipulation. No matter what Oakley was planning, the success rate was probably not too high.

At this time, the least she could do was not to interfere with his plans.

So Gu Mengmeng kept her mouth shut and didn't call Oakley, but let him leave her line of sight as he went to usher the rest back to town.

Returning to the stone castle, the three little ones and Burke were waiting by the doorway. Spotting her in the distance, the three children immediately dashed towards her.

"Mother, what happened? Why did everyone say you had died..."

Died...?

Gu Mengmeng held her forehead. She had really seen it all when it came to ridiculous rumors.

Just a nosebleed and they said she was dying. Why didn't they just say she had been blown up on the spot?

Gu Mengmeng jumped down from Elvis' arms and embraced her three sons. She said in a comforting voice, "Don't listen to their nonsense. I have your father and Lea to protect me, how could I have died?"

Hede patted Kanwu. “That’s right. Moreover, mother is the Messenger of the Beast Deity and she said she has someone up there protecting her too.”

Gu Mengmeng was tickled by Hede’s adult-like mannerisms. “That’s right, mummy does have someone up there.”

Kanwu calmed down on seeing Gu Mengmeng well. He then mocked Hede. “Ha, I wonder who acted like he was struck by lightning just now, until oil was dripping down from his eyes.”

Did that mean... Hede cried earlier?

Hede turned red. “Don’t spout nonsense. I didn’t.”

Jialue shook his head. He retrieved a piece of animal hide from the house and gave it to Gu Mengmeng. “Mother, you are drenched. Wrap yourself with this skin first, don’t fall sick.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded. She took the skinned fur from son and wrapped it around her shoulders. She then kissed Jialue’s head. “My Jialue is really considerate.”

Jialue smiled before turning towards Cole. “Daddy Lea, why aren’t you heating up the water? My mother is nearly frozen from the cold.”

Cole was startled, before a smile bloomed on his face. “Alright, I will go heat up the water.”

Chapter 928

Chapter 928: Free Labor, It Would Be A Waste Not To Use It.

Gu Mengmeng tugged at Jialue's hand. "Jialue, he is not..."

Jialue smiled slyly. "I know."

Gu Mengmeng said, "You know?"

Jialue nodded. "I could tell from the way he looked at you. Daddy Lea will never look at you with such a wily expression."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and pinched Jialue's tiny nose. "Then you still asked him to go heat up the water?"

Jialue shrugged. "Free labor, it would be a waste not to use it."

With that, he pulled Gu Mengmeng into the house. "Go in first. If you really fall sick, we will be worried again."

Gu Mengmeng was led into the house by Jialue and Kanwu.

Hede followed quietly behind. He turned to look at Chixuan, who had gone over to help Cole.

Chixuan looked like a 17-18 year old teenager while he still looked like a 6-7 year old kid. But he knew that was his little brother... a little brother who was very close to the enemy.

Elvis' water boiled with ginger slices made a reappearance. Gu Mengmeng had to drink two big bowls before Elvis was satisfied.

Although Jialue had asked Cole to go heat up the water for Gu Mengmeng's bath, the one who carried out the actual chore was Chixuan.

Gu Mengmeng enjoyed being taken care of by her sons. It felt much better than the bathwater Cole had heated up for her.

The second level was Gu Mengmeng's limit. She would never allow Cole to step onto the second floor.

And Cole didn't insist. He just sat beside the bonfire in the hallway on the first level, staring ponderously at the flames.

He felt that Gu Mengmeng had become more and more interesting.

She had obviously subdued Lea and Elvis, but still behaved like a docile and harmless little rabbit by the stream, trying her pitiful best to coax those two fellows.

With her capabilities as the Beast King, she could have easily submitted those two fellows with just one smack. Instead, she had swallowed her pride and begged for mercy.

Cole had been standing by the side and recalled the entire scene clearly. Waves of intense emotion surged in his chest then.

Jealousy. An overwhelming jealousy.

He had never been so jealous of Lea before. Even when the eyes of everyone had swept past him to gaze at Lea, his jealousy then had not been so intense.

Ha, the gaze of the entire Beast World could not compare to her gentle eyes.

He did want her.

He felt extremely happy just at the thought of how those eyes would one day be fixed upon him without moving.

That night, Cole didn't stay inside the stone castle. He left after midnight.

No one cared where he went. They just noticed that he reappeared at the stone castle the next morning. And last night, a certain tribe suffered an attack by stray beasts. No one from the tribe survived and their most beautiful female died in her own cave. Her body was left in a debauched manner, while her face was twisted—not in an expression of torment, but of wanton pleasure.

Gu Mengmeng completely ignored Cole. She allowed him to share the same space as her solely for Chixuan's sake.

The three young ones were traumatized by yesterday's incident. Hence, after Gu Mengmeng's return last night, they told Burke that they would not be visiting him these few days. They wanted to spend some quality time with their mother.

Burke naturally didn't object. He left after being assured that Gu Mengmeng was safe and sound.

After breakfast, Gu Mengmeng said she wanted to go visit Sandy. So Elvis and Lea brought her and the three little ones over.

Chapter 929

Chapter 929: How Dare You Unleash Your Beast Pressure In Front Of Gu Mengmeng

Cole followed and was just one step behind, but it was clear he was not part of the gang.

He would never be integrated into their family portrait. He could only trail behind like a shadow.

Meanwhile, Chixuan followed alongside Cole. He was clearly part of the group but insisted on staying in the shadows.

If not for him, Gu Mengmeng could have immediately done away with Cole.

Chixuan knew his choice brought his mother much distress and he was very sorry about it. But he did not regret it. Even if one day, his own mother got tired of the troubles he was causing and decided to kill him, he would not regret it.

After all, that person whom everyone hated, was the one who had woken him from his coma. That person was the one who had slowly nurtured Chixuan back to health when he was initially unable to even sit up due to his prolonged coma. A major part of Chixuan memories all included that person, and he had relied on him for so long that Cole had already become the most important figure in Chixuan's life.

Moreover, he was indebted to him

And this debt, only he could repay it.

When Gu Mengmeng arrived at Sandy, Bode had already prepared lunch.

Elvis handed Gu Mengmeng over to Lea, before leading the three little ones and Collin to an empty space outside the territory to begin their training.

Gu Mengmeng felt that there was no hurry to do so. After all, Collin had just injured his arm yesterday, shouldn't he be recuperating for a few days first?

But Elvis and Collin said males were not so delicate. It would not be a problem as long as they don't remove Lea's splint.

More than anyone else, Collin wished to quickly upgrade his own capabilities. After all, he was the strongest partner in Sandy's family. If he could be promoted just one more level, the combat prowess of the entire family would also increase.

Unable to stop them, Gu Mengmeng could only instruct her husband to not be too hard on Collin and not to aggravate his injuries.

Sandy also instructed Collin not to push himself too far, before letting them leave.

Cole didn't leave but continued to act as if he didn't notice Sandy's wariness and disgust, as well as Gu Mengmeng's indifference to him. He just tagged quietly beside Gu Mengmeng, without doing or saying anything superfluous.

After having lunch and chatting with Sandy, Gu Mengmeng was prepared to return to the stone castle. After all, Sandy was now pregnant and needed plenty of rest. It would be very difficult for Sandy to relax and rest properly if Gu Mengmeng was here. Not to mention the fact that Cole was also hanging around.

The moment she exited Sandy's house, she felt a familiar wave of beast pressure.

What...

There were not many people who would dare to unleash their beast pressure in front of Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng's lips curled up in a smile. She jumped down from Lea's embrace and took two steps forward. By the time she lifted her eyes, that huge snake head was already inches away from her face.

Gu Mengmeng smiled angelically but she did not hold back at all when her hand came down.

With one big smack across his cheek, the whole snake was sent flying off where he tumbled backwards before landing with a loud and tremendous crash.

Gu Mengmeng walked over and stepped on Wabei's snake tail. She stared down at Wabei like a mighty female outlaw. "Hey, little shit. Have you come looking for a beating again..."

That smack was rather refreshing for Wabei. His bones and muscles felt all loosened up.

He tilted his head before morphing into human form. With a snort, he pushed Gu Mengmeng's feet away. "What beating? I have come to challenge you to a fight."

Gu Mengmeng laughed. "Aiyo, you dare to challenge me? That fight... wouldn't even last three seconds. An advertisement would last longer than you."

Chapter 930

Chapter 930: Why Are You Keeping All Sorts Of Garbage In Your Own Home?

Wabei ignored Gu Mengmeng's jibe and just patted himself off as he stood up. He raised his brows when he spotted Cole standing behind her. "Eh, why are you keeping all sorts of garbage in your own home? This piece of trash... a stray beast and a crippled one at that. You can stand the sight of him?"

Gu Mengmeng held her cheek. "Are you blind? Which part of me looks like I want to see him?"

Wabei nodded in agreement and said thoughtfully. "I guess so. With the excellent standards you inherited from Snakel, you can't possibly fall for such a lousy specimen. So what's the story behind him? Why is he sticking around so close to you? Won't that puppy in your family mind?"

Puppy...

It was true that before the 800 year old Wabei, the 16 year old Elvis was only a puppy.

But it made her feel very uncomfortable. She was 19 years old and already felt like an old cougar preying on a younger man. And Wabei kept adding salt to her wounds by repeatedly reminding her of the age gap.

Gu Mengmeng frowned and sighed. "Little shit, I feel that my earlier slap was too light. Why don't we... have a huge 300-round fight. What do you say?"

Wabei didn't know Gu Mengmeng was affected by his calling Elvis a puppy. He just shrugged. "I am used to being beaten up, so getting bashed for 300 rounds is nothing to me... but if your hand becomes sore from all that hitting, Snakel will blame me for tiring you out.”

Gu Mengmeng clutched onto Wabei’s forearm with both hands and gazed up at him. “But I really feel like hitting someone now. What can I do?”

Actually, she wanted to grip his shoulder.

But the height difference... was a very real and cruel reality.

Wabei pointed at Cole. “Hit him then. He’s a masochist standing right there and ready for you?”

Gu Mengmeng turned to glance at Cole. She thought that if she really hit him... she might lose control and kill him.

If she really killed him, Chixuan would definitely blame her.

And then she would really lose that son.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. “It’s too disgusting to hit a cockroach with my bare hands. I can’t do it.”

Wabei chortled. “Why do I feel like you only hit people you deem worthy? Should I feel grateful?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded profoundly, while Wabei grunted dismissively. The two of them then walked back together, side by side. Wabei updated her on the situation in the Snake King valley after the end of the winter season.

When Snakel ruled over the Snake King valley, no one dared to enter the place.

But this was the first winter since Snakel left and some of the more daring beasts tried to attack the Snake King valley.

The snake beasts needed to hibernate during the winter, and were all in very vulnerable states. Those intruders sneaked into the Snake King valley and found a few hibernating caves. They wanted to eat the slumbering snake to enhance their own capabilities.

Well, several snake beasts did die, but those intruders also didn't get to leave alive.

This was because although the snake beasts were dormant and couldn't counterattack, they were still highly poisonous.

Those fools all died within minutes after eating the snake beasts. Consumed by the venom, they had bled from all orifices and turned completely black.

After the winter ended, Wabei ordered for the bodies of those poisoned intruders to be sent back to their tribe. Thereafter... that tribe vanished from the face of the earth.

Chapter 931 - You Butchered An Entire Tribe?

Gu Mengmeng was stunned. “You butchered an entire tribe?”

Wabei shook his head and stared at Gu Mengmeng as if she was retarded. “If I wanted to kill off the entire tribe, would I still bother to send those bodies back?”

Gu Mengmeng agreed now that she thought about it. Sending back the bodies was a warning, showing them what would happen to those who tried to attack the Snake King valley. If he really wanted to kill them all, why send those bodies back? It was a completely unnecessary action.

“Anyway, I immediately went to find you the moment winter ended. I went to Saint Nazaire only to be told that you were here and so I hurried over. Where would I have found the time to butcher an entire tribe.” Wabei proclaimed self-righteously with an air of disdain.

Gu Mengmeng nodded in agreement. “Then how did that tribe vanish?”

Wabei gave a couple of dry laughs. “Perhaps they were afraid of revenge by the Snake King valley and scattered to the other tribes. But strangely, none of them came over to Saint Nazaire or Sauder. Don’t they know that I cannot defeat you and that being under your protection would have been the safest?”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled as she shook her head. “I am the Saintess of the Snake King valley. Seeking my protection... wouldn’t that be walking right into the lion’s den?”

Wabei laughed out loud. “That’s true. You are the true behind-the-scenes Great Demon King here.”

Gu Mengmeng rolled her eyes at Wabei, to show her appreciation at being called a Great Demon King.

Not long after they arrived at the stone castle, Elvis returned with his three sons.

Oakley had also tagged along.

Oakley immediately bowed towards Great Messenger after entering the house. He then looked at Wabei. "Great Messenger, although Wabei is your friend, it might be better for a stray beast in Sauder to keep a low profile?"

Gu Mengmeng was at a loss for words. She glanced at Cole. "Why does he not bother you then?"

Oakley's expression didn't shift. "Be it Cole or Wabei, I am powerless to stop them. But this is still the Messengers tribe. For them to come and go like this, should they at least keep a low profile?"

Gu Mengmeng then understood that although Cole was also a stray beast, he didn't go out much in public within Sauder. And he had spent yesterday following Gu Mengmeng around under the guise of Lea.

But Wabei had just swaggered across town in his true form.

Come to think of it, the appearance of a fifth-level snake beast must have caused much uproar within Sauder.

Gu Mengmeng shrugged. "Wabei is my friend. If it is not convenient for him to remain here, then I shall leave with him."

"Leave?" Oakley frowned. "The Great Messenger cannot leave for the time being."

"Oh?" Gu Mengmeng wrinkled her brows. "When did it become your right to decide my comings and goings?"

Oakley replied mildly, "I dare not restrict the Great Messenger's freedom, but... the people of the Beast World have been very anxious lately, and knowing that the Messenger has taken up temporary residence in Sauder, a few of the other tribe leaders have already sent their men over to seek help. To avoid turmoil in the Beast World, it will be best if the Great Messenger could meet them. After all... the Snake King valley was the cause of all that trouble.”

Gu Mengmeng raised one brow as she instantly understood.

“Are they the leaders of those tribes who took in those scattered females and strong males from another tribe? They want to upgrade the powers of their own tribe, but are afraid that I will come looking for them thereafter... ha. Alright, I will meet them. Let me see how sincere they are.”

Chapter 932 - What Can You Offer In Return?

It was about another 10 days before she would meet with the leaders of the other tribes.

Gu Mengmeng wanted to receive them in the meeting room. After all, it was a business matter and should be conducted in a more formal setting.

But the upper management led by Oakley expressed their objection with the reason that... the Thirty-Six Stratagems stone tablet in there was Sauder's sacred object and shouldn't be seen by outsiders.

Gu Mengmeng didn't know whether to laugh or cry. That inscription, so casually written, had turned her own office into a sacred grounds.

Never mind. The meeting could be held anywhere.

Gu Mengmeng didn't insist so Oakley arranged for the meeting to be held in the afternoon on the 10th day. The Platform was laid with a white tiger skin, and a high-backed stone chair positioned right in the middle of the skin. The fur of a white, giant rabbit was spread across that chair. Gu Mengmeng sat upon it in a lazy manner, propping up one elbow on the back of the chair while leaning her cheek across the back of her hand. She gazed down imperiously at the long table which had been hastily set up for the meeting.

Gu Mengmeng counted a total of 26 men seated at that table in pairs. A visual survey showed that they were the leaders and witch doctors of the various tribes.

Elvis and Lea both stood to the back of Gu Mengmeng, one on each side. They held coldly amused expressions from start to end.

They were all too familiar with everyone at the table.

There were those whom Elvis had fought when he was a stray beast. There were those who had kicked Lea while he was down. There were those who had been embroiled with them in territorial fights. And also a few who had come from the tribes near Saint Nazaire. Mmm, those had an even longer history with Elvis and Lea.

And today, all of them were quietly seated at the same table. This scene... was truly groundbreaking.

From her high vantage point, Gu Mengmeng could clearly see the expressions of every single person down to the tiniest details.

Thanks to Wang Xiaoxin, as much as they tried to control their own unease, Gu Mengmeng could tell they were very unsure about taking in those refugees.

They all knew Gu Mengmeng had inherited Snakel's powers and memories, but who knew if she had also inherited his personality?

That was a guy who would seek vengeance over the slightest grievance.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and glanced at Oakley, who was standing right at the edge of the platform. He then took a step forward and spoke up. "To all the leaders and witch doctors who have come from afar, I am Oakley and I welcome you all in my capacity as Sauder's chief."

Actually, people in the Beast World were not used to such fussy formalities. Faced with Oakley's welcome speech, everyone just looked at each other, not knowing how to respond.

Wabei slowly slithered out from the shadows, but didn't ascend the platform due to his status. Instead, he stood at the side near Oakley. Before he could speak, all 26 visitors jumped up as if they had been electrocuted. They stared warily at Wabei.

Wabei snorted with disdain. "What's the point of speaking such useless words? You want the Snake King valley to spare you all, but what can you offer in return?"

Everyone was stunned before instinctively looking towards Gu Mengmeng.

After all, she possessed the highest authority here. Even Wabei had to yield to her. She would have the final say in the matter.

Gu Mengmeng waved lazily. “As the Messenger of the Beast Deity, I don’t wish to be involved in the matters between you all and the Snake King valley. But as the Saintess of the Snake King valley, I feel that you do owe me an explanation.”

Chapter 933 - A Gamble

All 26 men stared at each other, looking as if they wanted to speak but not daring to.

Elvis laughed mockingly. “I have never seen you all look so hesitant when fighting for your lives. Now that it’s time for you to speak, you are all acting like someone has got you by the throat? You have traveled over such long distances just to play dumb here?”

Elvis’ words incite all 26 men. All males were the same, no matter where they came from. They couldn’t resist a challenge. Otherwise, the northeastern slang “what are you looking at” would not have become an infamous fight-triggering phrase.

One of the 26 men looked up and was the first to speak. “Great Messenger, we have indeed taken in some new tribesmen. But these people weren’t the ones who went to attack the Snake King valley. They are innocent.”

Before Gu Mengmeng could respond, Lea whispered in her ear. “The one who spoke is Leonard, leader of the Zacharias tribe and a fourth-level beast. Beside him is Nick, a witch doctor and a second-level armadillo. They are located rather far from Saint Nazaire, and we have not interacted much with them. Nevertheless, they are situated closer to Peter’s territory, but have almost never had a female snatched from them. It can be seen that they are quite powerful.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded, implying that she understood.

She continued to hold a neutral expression, looking rather nonchalant. “Innocent... what kind of place is the Snake King valley? Being able to find a way into that area in the cold harsh winter just by the abilities of those few people? Is that believable?”

The hearts of the crowd gave a heavy thump.

In reality, it was really quite unbelievable.

Let's not talk about seeking a way in—just stepping out of your cave during the winter was a tough challenge. Otherwise, why would it be called the season of death?

To locate that secret entrance in the midst of such weather was an impossible task.

So the only explanation was that they had already planned for this long ago. They had earlier searched out the route into the Snake King valley, before camping nearby for a few days to await the coming of winter, to ensure that all the snake beasts had gone into hibernation before entering.

And such an operation would not be possible without external support.

In other words, those few males were the tribe's suicide squad. If they succeeded, the powers of the tribe would be greatly increased. Meanwhile, there were tens of thousands snake beasts in the Snake King valley, who would know if just a few went missing?

If they failed, their lives would be lost on the spot while the rest of the tribe would act like they were now—distancing themselves from the intruders and proclaiming their innocence, so as to wash their hands of the incident.

In essence, it was a gamble.

The price of winning or losing was the rise of the entire tribe or the death of those members.

Gamblers existed everywhere, throughout all generations and dimensions.

And the gamblers in this case didn't just comprise those in the suicide squad—it also included every one in the tribe.

Gu Mengmeng lived an open existence in the Beast World and it was very easy to locate her. Wasn't Fei Rui the best example?

But none of them came to report the news to her, even though they knew that she was the Saintess of Snake King valley?

Now that matters have come to this stage, they just wanted to smooth things over with a simple claim of “innocence”? Did they really think Gu Mengmeng was such a fool?

The atmosphere instantly grew tense. Gu Mengmeng could clearly see the fear on the faces of the 26 men. It had nothing to do with whether she had leaked some of her Beast King pressure. It could only be said that they were suffering from... their own guilty conscience.

“All of you have traveled such a long way, I am sure you didn’t just bring along your mouths?” Oakley’s tone was moderating as he bore a professional smile. “Since the Great Messenger is willing to meet you, it shows that she is also willing to give you a chance to repent. So could all of you please be a bit more direct, and present your sincerity now.”

Chapter 934 - You Are Really Not Afraid Of Blasphemy Against The Beast Deity.

The 26 men sized each other up, as if measuring if the “sincerity” they had prepared was enough.

The first to speak would invariably bear the greatest pressure.

The air grew heavy. Although nothing appeared to have happened and Gu Mengmeng was very sure none of them had unleashed the slightest bit of beast pressure, the atmosphere felt like they were in the examination hall of a major exam. Quiet and eerie. Now and then, a breeze blew past like a slight brush across tightly wound heartstrings, the quivering sound of which made it seem like it would snap any moment now.

“I am Hanston, leader of the Francis tribe and a third-level rhinoceros beast.” One of them stood up and was the first to speak.

He had a gray buzz-cut which didn’t make him appear old, but instead look exceptionally trendy, while his muscular physique was covered only by a piece of leopard skin. His complexion looked suspiciously flushed as he stared directly at Gu Mengmeng, as if trying to convey confidence. Clenching his fists tightly by his side, he didn’t appear comfortable in such settings. “I am willing to offer my full loyalty to the Messenger, and become your partner. In this way, Francis will become one of the Great Messenger’s tribes, like Saint Nazaire.”

Gu Mengmeng was stunned. Before she had time to respond, the person beside Hanston also stood up. “I am Joshua, the witch doctor of Francis and a first-level ape beast. Together with my leader and on behalf of the Francis tribe, I am willing to present my full loyalty to the Great Messenger, to serve you only.”

Gu Mengmeng was just about to wave away the offer when Lea chuckled. His laugh held traces of ridicule.

“A first-level beast dares to propose himself as a partner to the Messenger of the Beast Deity... ha, you are really not afraid of blasphemy against the Beast Deity then.”

Joshua blushed at Lea's words but refused to look down. He stared straight at Lea. “I know my powers are still weak but I will work hard to upgrade myself to become a male who is worthy of the Great Messenger. The Great Messenger might not remember me but I remember her. From the first time I laid eyes on her, I have already fallen deeply in love with her. Please give me a chance to become your man.”

Gu Mengmeng, “...?”

When did she attract this admirer? How come she had no impression of him at all?

“Great Messenger.” Joshua was not disheartened. He was the only first-level beast present and not a match for anyone, not to mention the obsessed males constantly hovering around Gu Mengmeng. Even so, he didn't wish to miss the chance to confess his feelings. This was because he really liked Gu Mengmeng.

Hence, Joshua took a step forward. “The merger of Francis and Saint Nazaire. If the Great Messenger accepts us, we are willing to give up the name of the Francis tribe and integrate into Saint Nazaire. In this way, the Saint Nazaire territory will double. Moreover, although Francis does not have as many females as Saint Nazaire, we have two complete females and five half-beast females. There are also 17 fourth-level and 29 third-level males in our tribe. These are all precious resources, and we promise to offer our all to the Great Messenger.”

Gu Mengmeng didn't know whether to laugh or cry. She felt the strange feeling of when one was proposed to, not with love letters, but with financial savings and house deeds.

Chapter 935 - Seizing Things By Force Is My Way

“Ha.” Elvis, who had not uttered a word since, suddenly laughed. An unprecedented sense of cold blood-thirst seeped into the hearts of the crowd. It was just a single sound but it chilled everyone to the bone, so terrifying that no one dared to speak another word. They all quietly watched Elvis, waiting for him to continue.

After all, this Saint Nazaire chief and that witch doctor beside him were the very ones who had notoriously swept across multiple tribes when they were third-level beasts. Many at present had personally suffered from the duo’s perfect coordination and kamikaze-style of fighting.

After the arrival of the Messenger of the Beast Deity, the two of them settled down and didn’t carry out any more bloody massacres. But their notable “past achievements” were still fresh in the memories of those present. Now that they were fifth-level and fifth-level... all the more no one would dare to easily provoke them.

Elvis cracked his neck and all those who knew him knew what that action signified.

At this, no one dared to even breathe.

“If Saint Nazaire wishes to expand our territory, we don’t need to rely on Xiao Meng getting a partner.” Elvis took half a step forward. He looked like a warrior god who was disdainful of all common life. The sun shone upon him but no one dared to look up at his face. They just trembled all over, feeling the desperate urge to kneel down and beg for mercy. “Seizing things by force is my way.”

A mild smile was already hanging across Lea’s lips. This smile was a familiar sight to those who knew him. How many times had he smiled like that before he met Gu Mengmeng?

Ha, the angrier he was and the more he felt like killing, the more elegant and charming his smile would be.

His voice was also chilly and his casual words plunged the temperature of the surroundings.

“Has the water source problem for Francis been resolved? If I don’t release water to you during the drought season this year... I wonder how long can your tribe last?” Lea spoke those ominous words with a fake concerned expression. He was slowly driving a sharp knife into his opponent’s weakest spot, inch by inch without a single drop of blood spilling out. Even so, his opponent was gradually being pushed to the brink of death. He seemed to be implying “When your members all die or leave the tribe due to the water shortage... do you think there will be anyone who will dare to challenge Saint Nazaire over Francis’ territory?”

Hanston and Joshua were both speechless.

Yes, they had no water source.

In the past, everyone still somehow managed during the drought season. But because Saint Nazaire gave out water last year, it was the most blessed drought Francis had ever experienced in over a thousand years.

If Lea cut off Francis’ water supply, the members of the tribe would definitely leave. This was because they would be able to drink the water provided by Saint Nazaire again if they went to another tribe.

By then, Francis would be destined to fail and their territory... naturally no one would dare to challenge Saint Nazaire for it.

After all, who wouldn’t be afraid of being the next tribe to have its water supply cut?

Lea cast a sweeping glance across the crowd. He chuckled. “Some tribes lack water, while some lack food. For some, it has already been six months since their last female died. Also, some tribes suffer frequent attacks by the stray beasts and are used by them as a winter food source—attacked year after year without any means of retaliation. Tsk tsk tsk, with such backgrounds, how dare they even raise the idea of partnering my Mengmeng?”

After Lea’s proclamations, the others who had also wanted to propose themselves as partners all swallowed their words. No one dared to stand up again.

“If I can offer news on the Soul of the Forest. Can I exchange that for the Great Messenger’s pardon towards the refugees in the Zacharias tribe?” Leonard broke the icy stalemate with one step forward.

Chapter 936 - Those Who Truly Wish To Help You Will Find Any Direction Convenient

“The Soul of the Forest...” Gu Mengmeng savored those words with a chuckle. “Of course. I said before that I will grant one wish to anyone who can help me get the five treasures. If your wish is for me to not pursue this matter, I can agree to that now.”

“Alright, it’s a deal.” Leonard bowed towards Gu Mengmeng before saying, “Then I will go back first to carry out some preparations. I will await the arrival of the Great Messenger at the Zacharias tribe.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and nodded her assent.

Leonard and Nick turned and left.

Gu Mengmeng turned back to the rest of the 24 men. It was clear that they had been dumbstruck by the mention of the Soul of the Forest.

Compared to the Soul of the Forest, the “sincerity” they had prepared was obviously inadequate.

Gu Mengmeng also didn’t wish to make things hard for them. Hence, she stretched lazily and stood up. “I am tired. For the remaining matters, you and...”

“Great Messenger, please go back and rest. I will handle the rest of the matters and offer a satisfactory answer to you and Mister Wabei.” Oakley cut in. Gu Mengmeng thought about it and didn’t object. She just answered with a “mmm” and let Elvis carry her back.

Wabei had no patience for such “friendly negotiations”. If not for Gu Mengmeng, he would not have bothered coming to listen to their nonsense.

Now that Gu Mengmeng was leaving, he naturally followed suit.

When they returned to the stone castle, Lea said to Elvis, “Zacharias is near the stray beast camp, so let’s just stay at that camp when we are there. In case any overly-cocky fellow tries to present himself to Mengmeng.”

Elvis nodded. “Mmm, I was thinking the same thing.”

Gu Mengmeng asked Wabei, “Little shit, are you coming with me this time?”

Wabei nodded. “Previously for the Kiss of the Ocean, there was a poisonous fog and a swamp, who knows what’s in store this time? Knowing that you are going into a risky situation, I must definitely accompany you. Otherwise, how can I account to him if anything happens to you?”

Gu Mengmeng laughed. “But don’t you need to head back to the Snake King valley and report on this matter? After all, this is the first time in over a thousand years that an external enemy managed to enter the valley and kill your members. It must be a major issue.”

Wabei stared coldly at Gu Mengmeng. He pondered for a moment, before nodding rather impatiently. “Mmm, I do need to report back on this.”

Gu Mengmeng said, “Then you hurry back and settle things at the Snake King valley first. After all, the Snake King valley and Zacharias are in opposite directions.”

Wabei rolled his eyes and rapped Gu Mengmeng on the head. “Those who truly wish to help you will find any direction convenient. Those who hold you in high regard will find time for you be it day or night..”

Gu Mengmeng was moved by Wabei’s words. She jumped forward and hugged him. “Little shit, you have really evolved, you can speak human words now...”

“Get lost!” Wabei raged. “I am kindly offering myself as your bodyguard, and you are still insulting me like that.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed. “Alright, alright. Don’t be angry. I know you are a sunny guy...”

Wabei narrowed his eyes at Gu Mengmeng before hollering. “Don’t think because you are grinning that I don’t know you are secretly mocking me! Sunny guy doesn’t sound like a compliment at all. Can’t you say a single nice thing about me!”

Gu Mengmeng spread her hands in exasperation. After all, the term “sunny guy” to a man was like the term “green tea bitch” to a woman. So Wabei wasn’t entirely wrong in saying it was not a compliment.

But little shit, this time, Gu Mengmeng was complimenting you in all sincerity.

Chapter 937 - Personally Create A Hell For Her

Inside the meeting room, Cole casually sat on the chair meant for Gu Mengmeng. He stroked the fur laid across the back of the seat as a vague smile played upon his lips.

Oakley continued to stand at the spot as accorded to his position.

Whether it was Gu Mengmeng or Cole sitting in the stone chair, he remained standing there.

“You did very well. I am very satisfied. As a reward, the moment Ah Gu leaves, you can see your Bloom.” Cole’s gaze lingered upon the armrest, as if he could picture Gu Mengmeng’s adorably bored face propped up there. Curling his lips, even the sight of Oakley now looked more palatable to him. “You don’t need to put on such a glum face. I didn’t make you do anything harmful. I am just making you put in more efforts in your role as assistant to Ah Gu. Only when you have attained the highest authority can you better protect your little snake, right?”

Oakley remained expressionless. He tried his best to look calm.

He knew Cole was too good at manipulating people. He could not reveal anything to Cole.

But even as he tried his best to control his facial expression, he neglected the fact that he was clenching his fists tightly. Who would believe the nonchalance on his face?

Cole didn’t expose him but just admired Oakley’s hopeless obstinacy. Chuckling, he felt the sadistic thrill a cat got when catching a mouse.

“There is something I don’t quite understand.” Oakley looked at Cole. “You did so much to bring the Messenger to Sauder, just so you can impersonate Lea for a day?”

Cole’s mood immediately brightened as he recalled the day he spent impersonating Lea.

His Ah Gu was not fooled at all by his impersonation. She saw through him at one glance.

Ha, rather than saying he spent the day impersonating Lea, it should be described as the day he spent openly accompanying Ah Gu. Although she gave him the cold shoulder, it still gave rise to many shared memories, no?

With such thoughts, Cole’s mood improved. Hence, he answered Oakley’s question with uncharacteristic frankness. “Don’t you feel it is a happy thing to have someone you like come over to your side on her own free will? Ah Gu will gradually get used to a life with me inside. If I suddenly disappear one day... she will find it strange. So, I must become that most special person in her life.”

“In that case, why have you let her go now?” Oakley was referring to the matter of seeking out the Soul of the Forest.

Cole’s gaze deepened as his smile widened. “I want to become her savior. The only person she can rely on in hell. And the pre-condition for this is... she must first enter hell. If there is no such hell, I have no choice but to personally create one for her. Instantly crushing the hope that took so long to accumulate, I can nearly imagine her disappointed face. Ha, so heartbreaking.

Cole spoke those cruel words with such a thrilled expression. Evil and malevolence radiated from his body, lending deep frown lines across Oakley’s brows.

“Alright, you just concentrate on doing your best for Ah Gu. Bring the governance of Sauder up to its highest peak. I want my Ah Gu to stand at the top of the world with everything else beneath her feet. And you will be her stepping stone.” Cole stood up and walked over to Oakley. He placed one hand on Oakley’s shoulder and exerted a bit of strength. Oakley collapsed onto his knees, at which Cole smiled with satisfaction. “As long as you are loyal to Ah Gu, you and that little snake will be fine. Otherwise... I will never let off anyone who brings trouble to Ah Gu. In this world, only I can bring her unhappiness. I, alone is enough.”

Chapter 938 - Am I Not Even Worth A Piece Of Fruit?

Gu Mengmeng went to see Sandy before she left.

Sandy's tummy was growing bigger by the day and it had become very inconvenient for her to move about.

Gu Mengmeng wanted to set off only after Sandy gave birth, but it would be the drought season by then. To Wabei, any action then would be a torture and he would need to return to the Snake King valley to convalesce.

Although she didn't really need a bodyguard with her current abilities. No one would be able to do her any harm now no matter how hard they tried.

But not only did she feel a sense of friendship towards Wabei, she also felt some guilt.

After all, she had taken away the one important person whom he had relied on for the past 800 years. Hence, it was her responsibility to spice up his boring life.

Not only that, Gu Mengmeng had already decided never to leave her three little ones behind. Thinking of the challenges they had faced at the bottom of the sea, Gu Mengmeng felt it was safer to have Wabei around. After all, Elvis would be sure to protect her first if anything happened. By then, the three young ones would be in a vulnerable position and easily harmed. So having Wabei around would fill that gap.

Moreover, Cole had already promised not to make trouble for Sandy again. So Gu Mengmeng decided not to wait for Sandy to give birth, but to go seek the Soul of the Forest now. It would be even better if she could complete the mission quickly and hurry back in time for the birth.

Sandy cried as she clung onto Gu Mengmeng the moment she heard she was leaving.

Gu Mengmeng knew pregnant women tend to be overly emotional, and so patiently coaxed Sandy for a long time. In the end, she played her trump card and promised to bring back some delicious fruit for her. Only then did the greedy little Sandy blink her brightened eyes, and pushed Gu Mengmeng out the door. “Hurry up. Leave now so that you can come back soon.”

Gu Mengmeng was carried out of Sauder in Elvis’ arms. She shook her head in exasperation. “Eh, I feel rather sad.”

Elvis stared at her grinning face, completely unable to detect any sign of sadness. But he dutifully asked, “Mmm?”

Gu Mengmeng replied, “Sandy is my best friend but I rank even lower than a piece of fruit in her eyes... at first, she hugged me so tightly and refused to let go, but the moment she heard there was fruit to eat, she immediately pushed me out... I am starting to doubt my value now. Am I not even worth a piece of fruit?”

Elvis chuckled, expressing his total lack of understanding on the friendship matters between females.

And he was unwilling to waste time to try and understand what some other female was thinking. He just kissed Gu Mengmeng’s head. “You are the most valuable. Nothing is comparable to you.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled sweetly as she snuggled into Elvis’ embrace.

Wabei cleared his throat before hustling over. He said with some awkwardness, “Eh, have you been to visit your father lately? Did you ask about my matter?”

Gu Mengmeng knew Wabei was asking about sending him over to Snakel’s side, so she nodded. “Mmm, I asked him again after we parted ways that time. But my father continues to insist that he cannot say. It is not the right time yet. You have to continue waiting. Anyway, I will keep your matter in mind, and will ask my father every time I visit him.”

Wabei pouted and looked at Gu Mengmeng silently for a long time. “You are unfilial.”

“Huh?” Gu Mengmeng stared at Wabei in confusion. She couldn’t understand how he arrived at that conclusion.

Wabei said, “You spent the entire winter in the cave doing nothing, and only visited your father once. Is that unfilial or what?”

Chapter 939 - Shamelessly Self-Righteous

Gu Mengmeng rolled her eyes. How could she not see through his true motive?

Wabei just wanted her to visit the Beast Deity more, so that she could ask him a few more times on when he could send Wabei to Snakel's side.

Although she understood that, Gu Mengmeng felt that she would feel uncomfortable all over if she didn't tease him about it.

So she cleared her throat and said, "Eh, my father is the great Beast Deity and very busy. Do you think that everyone else in the world is as free as you? Favorite hobby is getting beaten up and best skill is at pretending to be shit?"

"You...!" Wabei choked in anger at Gu Mengmeng's mocking. He was momentarily at a loss for words and just wrung his hands. "Humph, you are just unfilial!"

Gu Mengmeng twisted her lips. "Then tell me, how many times have you visited your own father over the past 800 years? If you did that more times than me, I will admit that you are filial."

Wabei stared dumbly at Gu Mengmeng. "Why should I be filial?"

Gu Mengmeng harrumphed. "You are unfilial yourself, but want me to be filial?"

Wabei nodded sincerely. "Yes. My lack of filial piety doesn't impact you. But your lack of filial piety affects me."

"You... you are really shamelessly self-righteous." Gu Mengmeng looked at Wabei with amusement.

Wabei was unconcerned and just shrugged. “It will be several days before we reach Zacharias. Since we have nothing else to do, why don’t you go to sleep.”

Gu Mengmeng stiffened her neck. “This is the first time I am bringing my sons out. Why should I sleep? No way!”

Wabei narrowed his eyes as his expression darkened. “You won’t sleep? I will eat your sons if you don’t sleep.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled disbelievingly. “Go ahead. If you eat them, I will tell Snakel you are bullying me. That you forced me to the brink. Let’s see if you will still have the cheek to face him in future.”

“Are you so shameless?!” Wabei pointed at Gu Mengmeng’s nose as he jumped up and down.

But Gu Mengmeng just gave an adorably charming smile, looking very much like one of the Rocket Team members in the game Pokemon.

“Hahaha, don’t you know? Old Mister Sun said many years before that both women and small-minded men are hard to deal with. A woman’s shamelessness is also her charm.”

Wabei gritted his teeth. He felt a strong urge to strangle Gu Mengmeng to death. He opened and closed his hands near her neck, but in the end couldn’t do it.

Gu Mengmeng was completely unafraid of Wabei’s threat. She purposely stuck out her neck and grinned. “Eh, are you going to strangle me or not? If you are, quickly do it. It’s quite tiring for me to stick my neck out like this.”

Wabei’s face nearly turned green with rage. He waved her off. “I must strangle you just because you want me to? That will be a loss of dignity to me.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed loudly as she smacked Wabei on the shoulder, sending him sliding across the ground seven to eight steps away before coming to a stop. Meanwhile, Gu Mengmeng did not feel any sense of guilt in hitting him. She just smiled and casually patted off her hands. “A little shit who has evolved is really something else. Now he knows the importance of dignity. Hahaha...”

“Gu—Meng—Meng!” Wabei came barreling back and raised his hand to hit Gu Mengmeng, who just grinned and stared back at Wabei with a “hit me if you dare” stance. Enraged, Wabei punched empty air but didn’t land a single strike on her body.

When he first witnessed such foolery, Elvis would be wary against Wabei, worried that he would really strike Gu Mengmeng. But now he had seen this charade so many times... Elvis didn’t even bat an eyelid at Wabei. He just focused his doting gaze on the impish Gu Mengmeng.

Chapter 940 - We Are No Fools And Will Not Provoke Crazy People.

Chapter 940: We Are No Fools And Will Not Provoke Crazy People.

This was the first time the three little ones were following Gu Mengmeng on a trip. They could hardly contain their excitement and often dashed off far ahead before running back, all sweaty but still full of energy.

Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng while Wabei tagged along, bickering with her. So the responsibility of taking care of the three young ones fell to Lea.

A family getting along harmoniously.

During dinnertime, Elvis accompanied Gu Mengmeng while Lea prepared the cooking tools and Wabei went hunting. The three little ones insisted on tagging along and Wabei didn't reject.

When they returned, the three young ones became Wabei's spokesperson and kept urging Gu Mengmeng to go to sleep, saying how pitiful Wabei was.

Gu Mengmeng felt exasperated. She asked Kanwu, whom she was cradling in her arms, "But if mummy goes to sleep, it will be at least for two to three days. I will miss out on enjoying the scenery with you guys."

Kanwu shook his head. He was not as eloquent as Jialue and couldn't spout out all sorts of compelling reasons. He could only plead fervently. "Mother, please just go to sleep."

Jialue hung onto Gu Mengmeng's arm and jiggled her eagerly. "Mother, we are already very happy that you brought us along this time. As long as we have mother by our side, all scenery will be beautiful. Also, who knows what dangers will we meet in seeking the Soul of the Forest. You should pay a visit to grandfather beforehand and see if he has any advice or warnings for you? To avoid getting caught unawares.”

Gu Mengmeng really didn't know what kind of benefit Wabei offered those three little ones, that they actually spent so much effort speaking up for him.

But Jialue's words were logical.

The Kiss of the Beast Deity she received from the Beast Deity played a huge part in the successful retrieval the Kiss of the Ocean previously. If not, she would have been completely useless underwater. She would have been struggling just to keep alive, not to mention having to engage in battle.

This time...

They didn't know what they would face and she should probably go get some pocket money.

Exhaling, Gu Mengmeng nodded. “Alright, I know. Mummy will go find grandfather and ask if there is anything we should look out for. But while I am visiting grandfather, you three must behave and not do anything to make your father and Daddy Lea angry, understand?”

Jialue nodded solemnly. “Don't worry mother. We are no fools and will not provoke crazy people.”

Gu Mengmeng held her cheek. She implored the heavens: Why did her sons have such a poor image of her hubby?

Elvis didn't appear bothered at all by Jialue's words. Not, not appear—he really didn't care.

In this world, he only cared about what Gu Mengmeng thought of him. For the others... even if they were his own sons, they didn't matter.

Gu Mengmeng leaned into Elvis' chest. “Hubby I will go accompany my lonely old dad to watch television after dinner. I will take the chance to ask him about the Soul of the Forest then.”

Elvis gently caressed Gu Mengmeng’s head. He pecked her the head. With a voice full of doting and profound love, as lingering and melodious as a cello playing, he said, “Eat more during dinner. Leave the rest of the matters to me.”

“Mmm.” Gu Mengmeng nodded before snuggling deeper into Elvis’ arms.

After dinner, Gu Mengmeng hugged and kissed her three sons, before falling asleep in Elvis’ embrace beside the bonfire. The three little ones laid obediently by her side, like little knights protecting their sleeping beauty.

Chapter 941 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 941: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

The white mist dissipated, revealing a two-seater wooden bench on a small patch of green grass. The Beast Deity was sitting there with his face tilted upwards and his eyes closed. He looked just like a cultivated youth enjoying the sunshine in a park.

And she had to call this youthful-looking chap daddy. Gu Mengmeng had felt weird about this at the start, but after addressing him so all this while... she had gotten used to it.

“Daddy...” Gu Mengmeng sat down right beside the Beast Deity and grinned at him.

The Beast Deity seemed to already know Gu Mengmeng was coming. He answered with a foggy, “Mmm, my daughter has returned.”

Gu Mengmeng glanced at the Beast Deity out of the corner of her eye. “You look very tired.”

The Beast Deity shook his head with a smile. “Nothing. I just came back from listening to a sermon. In your world, it’s called a meeting, where we listen to our leaders speak.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed. “Then you really should be tired.”

“No matter, having my daughter come watch television with me will refresh me.” He smiled and raised his hand to wave but paused. “I will give you your pocket money after we finish watching television.”

“Mmm.” Gu Mengmeng really felt like an unfilial daughter. Without even the need for her to say anything, her lonely old dad already knew she must have come back to ask for some favor.

Next time, she should visit him now and then even when she had no favor to ask?

After all, she had called him daddy for so long, must she be one of the strawberry generation who only went home when they needed to ask for money?

The Beast Deity nodded before giving a huge wave. The white mist parted and the scene before them was the canteen of the college which Gu Mengmeng used to study at.

Snakel had pulled Gu Mengmeng to a window seat and the two of them sat facing the window, shoulder to shoulder.

This was originally a four-seater but Snakel had used his special rights to reserve it for his sole use for meals. The delicacies he ate was also not from the communal pot in the canteen, but had been cooked on the spot by a personal chef in a separate kitchen.

Gu Mengmeng was at a loss for words. She turned and asked Snakel. “Why come to the canteen if you are not eating the canteen food? Wouldn’t it better just to head to a restaurant outside to eat.”

Snakel chuckled. With an elegant gesture, he used the chopsticks in his left hand to pick up some food and placed it between his lips. He chewed for a few moments before swallowing. Only then did he answer Gu Mengmeng’s question. “This is the fastest way to let everyone know you are mine.”

Gu Mengmeng looked down at her left hand, which Snakel had been holding the entire time. “Eh, let go of my hand first.”

Snakel raised one brow. “Why?”

Gu Mengmeng said, “It’s not convenient to eat like that.”

Snakel asked, “Don’t you usually use your right hand to eat?”

Gu Mengmeng stared at the clock on the wall. In less than five minutes, students would be pouring in to have their meal. The rumor mill would really go wild if they saw Snakel holding her hand like that. She tried to shake him off, but Snakel's hand was as unmovable as a piece of iron. Gu Mengmeng had no choice but to try a soft approach. "I am afraid you will be inconvenienced."

Snakel chuckled and raised the chopsticks in his left hand. "Right from a young age, I have practiced doing most things with my left hand. For example, eating, writing... all so that my right hand can be free to do more important things, such as holding you."

Gu Mengmeng blushed a deep red. Being bombarded by Snakel's earnest sweet nothings made her blood pressure shoot up to the skies.

"I... I...I... I am your special assistant, not your girlfriend. It is not appropriate for you to hold me like this." Gu Mengmeng stuttered.

Chapter 942 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Snakel didn't let go but instead leaned in closer to Gu Mengmeng. He admired her flushed little face with narrowed eyes. "You have your meals with me and stay in the same house as me. Traveling to school and heading home with me everyday. Who would believe that you are not my girlfriend? Moreover, I stood up for you so gallantly today that it's too late for you to claim that our relationship is only of that of a boss-subordinate basis."

"I..." Gu Mengmeng failed to choke out any words.

Snakel continued. "Moreover, it is your duty to protect my identity as the CEO of MonSir, to stay close to me and look after me. What other term is more appropriate for such a role than girlfriend? Rather than trying to explain and making things messier, wouldn't it better if you just acknowledge that role? Also, news of you giving me a love letter yesterday morning has already spread all over campus. Confessing your feelings yesterday and dumping me today... tsk tsk tsk, Twomeng, wouldn't that be too fickle of you? Mmm?"

Gu Mengmeng blushed uncontrollably. She didn't know whether it was because she was angry or because Snakel was leaning in too close.

She shifted back and ended up landing straight on the floor.

She looked up with eyes filled with tears, not knowing if it was from the pain or from being caught in such a miserable situation.

"When I signed the contract, it was clear that I am just an intern. School time is not business time. You cannot force me to pretend to be your lover in school."

Snakel's heart ached when he saw her fall.

With one hand, he pulled her back into his arms. With a grave expression, he said, "Who said we must pretend to be lovers? I really want you to be my girlfriend."

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. "I refuse. I don't like you."

"Say that one more time." Snakel's face turned black, as he radiated an intense aura. He was obviously angered by Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng shrank back but Snakel refused to let her draw back even half an inch.

"If not for you, I would never have such ridiculous rumors about me swirling about. I might be poor but I have always been a good girl with a clear name. Because of you, everyone in school thinks I am a kept mistress... please, stop making things difficult for me. Can you just pretend not to know me while in school?"

"No!" He was unwilling to be apart from her for even one second. As long as he couldn't see her, he would feel he had lost her.

Pretend not to know her while in school? Then he'd just demolish the campus. There was no longer any meaning for its existence!

Gu Mengmeng could already hear people lining up at the entrance of the canteen. In just a moment, the doors to the cafeteria would be opened and everyone would see her with Snakel.

Panicking, Gu Mengmeng blurted out. "Then I quit. I won't do this anymore!"

Snakel's face turned even more grave, "Can you afford the compensation fee for breaking the contract?"

Gu Mengmeng gritted her teeth. "Even if I have to sell one of my kidneys, I will definitely pay back the fee."

Snakel fumed when he heard her say that she was willing to harm herself just so she could leave him.

Even so, he continued clutching onto her hand. He could not bear to hurt her so.

“We won’t pretend to be lovers then. In school, I will be your suitor. This is my final offer.” Snakel hissed through gritted teeth.

If he was just her suitor... she could reject him, right?

The doors to the cafeteria had already opened and Gu Mengmeng glanced at Snakel’s “I won’t let go if you don’t agree to this” attitude. She had no choice but to nod woefully. “Alright. Pursue me if you want. But you must let go of my hand first.”

Chapter 943 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Snakel clenched his jaws. "I can let go of your hand, but if you dare run off, I will immediately use the PA system and announce to the whole school that we are cohabiting. I will also provide everyone with high-definition screen-shots of the two of us at home from yesterday afternoon to this morning."

With that, Snakel finally let go.

Seeing that Gu Mengmeng had no intention of running off, Snakel couldn't help shaking his head in exasperation.

Whether it was in the Beast World or here, he always had to threaten her before she would be willing to remain obediently by his side.

He could offer her the best of everything. Why couldn't she just stay by his side contently and enjoy his pampering? Why must she push him away?

Sigh...

"Sit down." Snakel pointed at the seat beside his own.

Gu Mengmeng really felt like obstinately getting up and leaving. But one, she didn't really dare to give up one of her kidneys for the compensation fee, and two, she was truly scared that Snakel would publish those screen-shots.

Hence Gu Mengmeng succumbed her pride to practicality and sat beside Snakel as instructed. However, she scooted as far as possible away from him, such that half her butt was beyond the seat and hovering over empty air.

Snakel was also very frustrated by this situation. He knew his over-enthusiasm had frightened her but he had already waited a long time. Every single second since he came to this world, he had been suppressing his urge to kidnap her and imprison her by his side. He really could not withstand it any longer.

The closer he was to her, the more he wanted to have her...

The canteen doors opened and competition for the most popular dishes began. But the turmoil didn't spread to their table. There were no bodyguards or barriers surrounding the table, but no one dared to come close.

Quiet fell across the cafeteria, probably for the first time since it came into operation. All eyes landed on her and she felt as if countless x-ray beams were shooting towards her, analyzing her through and through.

"Have you finished eating? Let's leave if you are done..." Gu Mengmeng really couldn't bear it any longer.

Snakel glanced at her from the corner of his eye and frowned. "Is it because my face is not handsome enough?"

"Ah?" Gu Mengmeng looked puzzled. She couldn't understand Snakel's meaning.

Snakel asked again, "Or my physique is lacking?"

Gu Mengmeng instinctively shook her head. She could remember this fellow purposely changing clothes in front of her this morning. Although he had just changed his shirt, his eight-pack, v-cut abs was an unforgettable sight. Gu Mengmeng nearly had a nosebleed from seeing that.

Snakel saw Gu Mengmeng shake her head but that didn't improve his mood. Instead, he became even more depressed. "Then is it because my family background is not good enough? Not wealthy or powerful enough?"

Mister CEO of MonSir, who would book the entire mall just to go shopping and spent about $2 million just on clothes yesterday. Could he not be wealthy enough? If so where would that leave Gu Mengmeng—who was willing to sell herself for a $4,500 monthly salary?

As for power...

Ha, Gu Mengmeng didn't know how powerful Snakel was. But just by looking at the way the principal and management team treated him today...

Gu Mengmeng could only shake her head again. Her face looked rather wooden.

Snakel frowned deeper and he turned to face Gu Mengmeng completely. "Then which part of me is not good enough? Why don't you like me?"

"It's not that..." Gu Mengmeng mumbled.

Chapter 944 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Snakel gave a cold laugh. “No? Then why are you unwilling to admit that you are my girlfriend?”

Gu Mengmeng leaned backwards, instinctively trying to shrink away. “How to admit that if I was never your girlfriend.”

Fearing that she would fall off, Snakel reached out to hold her. But seeing the wariness in her eyes, he had no choice but to retrieve his hand. “Do you want to sit properly or do you want me to hold you? Choose.”

Gu Mengmeng pushed Snakel. “Then stop leaning over.”

Snakel gritted his teeth as he sat back at his original seat, and even purposely shifted a distance away. He glared at Gu Mengmeng. “See, you still claim you are not disdainful of me?”

Gu Mengmeng obediently righted herself in her seat. She took up her pair of chopsticks and started eating the spaghetti on her plate. She did not dare to look at Snakel. This fellow was too intense, making her feel all anxious and jumpy. “I don’t disdain you, I just don’t like this kind of feeling.”

She was referring to the wide gap in their status.

He was the stars in the sky, worthy of admiration and worship.

While she was just the weed on the ground, to be trampled on by others.

Everyone could have their own dreams.

But even dreams should have a limit. If you crossed that limit, it wouldn’t be a dream any longer but a delusion.

Gu Mengmeng didn't hate Snakel, and certainly didn't think he wasn't good enough.

On the contrary, it was because he was too good and too perfect, such that even in her wildest dreams, she would not dare to harbor any such thoughts...

In her eyes, it was impossible that Snakel would like her, at most... this feeling he had might be because he was tired of all the delicacies and wanted to try some common food. And such a game was something Gu Mengmeng could not afford to play.

But Snakel didn't know the reservations preying on Gu Mengmeng's mind. He thought her "I just don't like this kind of feeling" referred to making their relationship public. That it would give her too much pressure.

Sighing, Snakel also felt very troubled.

In Gu Mengmeng's memories, he clearly saw a scene where a domineering CEO publicly announced his relationship with a Cinderella-type girl. And Gu Mengmeng subsequently an excited discussion with her roommates on that scene, where she concluded that a man who would dare to introduce you to everyone and openly admit to your relationship—was a man who truly loved you.

He had gone through all the trouble of setting up the MonSir corporation just to satisfy her teenage girl's dreams of "Tyrant CEO Falls In Love With Me".

But...

How come her reaction was so different from what she said earlier?

She had clearly stated that if she was the female lead, she would definitely be so touched by the proposal that she would immediately marry the male lead...

Snakel frowned as he conscientiously ran through the entire process to see where he could have gone wrong.

As Snakel fell into deep thought, the natural presence that radiated from his body became even more intense. Not only had the entire canteen fallen quiet, some students who could not bear the pressure started sneaking off.

Gu Mengmeng sniffed and felt very uncomfortable. Hence, she forced out a topic of conversation. “Eh, you are clearly not a mute, so why did you never speak before? Everyone thought you were a mute.”

Snakel snapped out of his trance and saw that Gu Mengmeng had a bit of spaghetti sauce by the side of her lips. Without thinking, he reached out and gently wiped it off with his thumb. He then stared at the sauce on his thumb before licking it. A subconscious smile played upon his lips as he mused, “Your food is always tastier than mine.”

Chapter 945 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Gu Mengmeng stared woodenly at Snakel. After a three-second pause, she finally reacted to Snakel's action with a deep blush.

Snakel stared at her bashful manner with warm eyes. He held up a palm towards her. "Twomeng, give me your hand and I will answer your question."

Gu Mengmeng was still in a heady state and before she thought it through, she just placed her own hand in Snakel's.

Snakel closed his fingers with a smile. He liked Gu Mengmeng blushing for him. She was not adverse towards him and didn't dislike him. She was just resistant... resistant due to a lack of knowledge about their destiny.

No matter, he was confident of breaking her resistance. She was his. She could only be his.

Holding Gu Mengmeng's little hand, Snakel's jade-green eyes reflected the sunlight, shining upon Gu Mengmeng's face. With a voice as uplifting as a breeze during springtime, he said, "I don't want to waste the best of me on people who don't matter. I want to reserve every bit of myself for you."

Gu Mengmeng's eyes nearly popped out of her sockets as she choked out a dry laughter. "Haha... ha..."

"You don't believe me?" Snakel raised one brow. "Over the past 19 years, apart from you, I have not spoken to any other female, including my own mother. I can also count the number of men I have spoken to on one hand. Unless absolutely necessary, I don't want to talk to anyone."

Gu Mengmeng believed this.

Otherwise, Snakel would not have been mistaken for a mute even after attending school for over a year.

Snakel held Gu Mengmeng's hand tightly. "The number of words I have spoken to you over these two days, is more than the total of all I have said in the past 19 years."

Gu Mengmeng was dumbstruck. She didn't know how to react.

"Do you still not understand? I belong to you, and only you."

"And something that belongs to you cannot be wasted on anyone else."

Gu Mengmeng didn't know how she managed to finish eating her meal. She was in a dazed state the entire time.

Snakel was probably just playing with her?

Why was he treating her so special?

The fact that he didn't speak with others was no lie—not only did the whole campus think he was a mute, even the reporters who had tried to interview him during his past swimming competitions could not squeeze a single word out of him. So the entire world thought he was a mute.

But this mute had suddenly spoken up one day, and only to her.

A scheme in the making for the past 19 years just "playing"?

Gu Mengmeng's heart got a sudden jolt.

Looking up, Gu Mengmeng bit her bottom lip as she gazed back at Snakel. "Do you like me?"

Snakel smiled. He was smiling at the fact that Gu Mengmeng would actually ask him such a silly question.

But if she wished to hear him say it, he was willing to repeat it a thousand times a day.

“I like you. I like you so much that it will not be enough for me even if I can give you the whole world.”

“I like you. I like you so much that I want to seal myself away so that I can present a completely untainted version of myself to you.”

“I like you. I like you so much that even as I am holding your hand now, I still miss you.”

“I like you. I like you so much that I am willing to stand right in the spotlight even though I hate it, just so I can have you look at me one more time.”

“I like you. I like you so much that even if I have to leave behind the entire world, I am willing to be your lonely hero and protect you from everything.”

“So, what is your answer? When do you plan to start liking me?”

Chapter 946 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

It was not whether you like me, but when you were going to start liking me...

The corners of Gu Mengmeng's lips twitched. This guy, who radiated the intimidating aloofness of a movie star, actually possessed such a domineering and arrogant character.

"But... why me?" Gu Mengmeng didn't understand. With Snakel's status, if he planned to enact out some romantic fairy tale, he could have chosen some royal princess as his target. Why choose such an insignificant person as her?

Snakel stared at Gu Mengmeng for a long time before suddenly smiling. "Will you believe me if I said it was destiny?"

"Eh?" Gu Mengmeng was somewhat disappointed.

Still talking about destiny in these modern times? It was too old-fashioned...

Snakel chuckled. "You are the only color I can see. Any place with you around, everyone and everything else will become just background noise. Apart from you, I cannot see anyone. If that is not destiny, what is it?"

You are the only color I can see...

Gu Mengmeng didn't know why but those words made her heart feel as if someone had given it a sudden jolt.

She couldn't tell if it was pain or just agitation. Anyway, it was a vicious and indescribable jolt.

“So, what is your answer? When do you plan to start liking me?”

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head. She wanted to pull back her hand from Snakel's grasp but Snakel didn't allow her. He just continued staring at her with one raised eyebrow, as if he would not give up until she answered him.

“Before yesterday, I didn't know you at all... I can't say if I like you or not...” Gu Mengmeng replied in a small voice.

Snakel felt frustrated. That's right, he had watched over her for the past 18 years but she never noticed his existence among the crowd.

“But you already know me for 29 hours. My wealth, my power... my physique, haven't you already seen proof of them? If there is anything not to your satisfaction, you can tell me and I will strive to change it till it appeals to you.” Snakel stated in all seriousness. He was not joking at all.

He might not know what love was as others saw it, but there were too many females out there who would pounce on him the moment they caught a glimpse of him. If not for him ruthlessly turning away any who dared to come near him, he would already have been devoured and regurgitated by all those women a thousand times over.

Others fell desperately in love with him at first sight, while his Twomeng had already “known” him for 29 hours. So why hadn't she fallen in love with him?

Snakel was so frustrated now that he really wanted to grind something up to soothe his own emotions.

Ha, he really missed Wabei at times like this.

Free for him to hit and toss around, to kick and throw...

Gu Mengmeng felt even more frustrated than Snakel. Have you have ever heard of anyone who would like someone after just 29 hours, starting from the moment that person snatched your love letter meant for someone else?

Gu Mengmeng didn't know if others could do that but she felt like wailing out: I cannot do it!

Snakel had to suppress the dismay he felt as he watched Gu Mengmeng's distressed expression.

Anyway they had already officially "met". He was the only one allowed to be by her side. He had already endured the past 19 years just watching her from afar. Now that she would be by his side as he waited—there was no reason why he couldn't wait a bit longer?

With one hand holding Gu Mengmeng's and the other hooking her chin, Snakel stared solemnly into her eyes. He stated with deliberate calm. "You can slowly learn to like me. I can wait. But remember, in this life and this universe, you have no other choice but to like me."

Chapter 947 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

“Alright, accompany me to the club after you have finished eating.” Snakel was still holding onto Gu Mengmeng’s hand.

Gu Mengmeng felt like pulling back her own hand but was petrified from Snakel’s cold stare. After being dragged over to the cafeteria entrance, Gu Mengmeng could not bear it any longer and finally spoke up. “I... I have classes this afternoon.”

Snakel halted and turned to look at Gu Mengmeng. He had an height advantage which enabled him to look down on someone with an imperious and oppressive presence. He casually tossed out a sentence which crushed Gu Mengmeng’s lie. “I was the one who scheduled the entire HR curriculum. Are you sure you have classes this afternoon? Mmm?”

Gu Mengmeng saw a clear “you dare to lie to me? Do you have a death wish?” look on Snakel’s face. Hence she swallowed and said, “No, there aren’t...”

Snakel sniffed and continued onto the club without another word.

Gu Mengmeng had shorter legs than Snakel and stumbled to keep up. She pleaded continuously. “I will accompany you to the club but stop pulling me. It doesn’t look good if others see us like that...”

When they reached the entrance to the basketball court, Snakel finally couldn’t bear it any longer and turned to look at the grumbling Gu Mengmeng. He asked through gritted teeth. “Am I really such an embarrassment? Is it really so disgraceful for you to be seen with me?”

Gu Mengmeng was cowed by Snakel’s angry outburst.

She shrank back and did not dare to utter another word. She just stared piteously at Snakel with large, glittery eyes.

Snakel was helpless when faced with her scared and innocent expression.

Letting go of her hand, he swung Gu Mengmeng onto a seat by the basketball court and instructed coldly. “I am going to change clothes. Sit here and wait for me.”

Now that her hands were finally free, Gu Mengmeng immediately hid them behind her back. She then nodded obediently.

Snakel was afraid he would really lose control and strangle her to death so he just turned and left. But he had just gone two steps before he turned around to look at Gu Mengmeng. “You! Hurry up and give me some status! I will not be a wild man!”

With that, Snakel headed straight for the changing room without turning back again.

Gu Mengmeng was left in a confused state...

What status...

What wild man...

Why couldn't she understand him at all?

The swimming club was the most high profile club in S College. Since Snakel first joined it, that club grew rapidly through the ranks and became the most powerful club throughout town in just half a year.

However, since Snakel left, there was no one good enough to fill Snakel's shoes, and the club fell into oblivion overnight.

On the flip side, the formerly unknown basketball club—which had never even competed in official games before, but only consisted of a few guys getting together to play now and then—rose in prominence at the same time the swimming club diminished in popularity, to become the new elite among clubs.

Usually, only a few guys would be sweating it out in the basketball court, with an occasional girlfriend watching from the stands.

But today, the moment it was announced that Snakel would be joining the club, haha...

Is this a club event? Are you sure it isn't some meet-the-fans session by some celebrity?

The outside of the basketball court was crowded with people holding colorful pompoms...

If Snakel had not led Gu Mengmeng inside the arena beforehand, they would probably not be able to squeeze in now.

The moment Snakel and his teammates came out of the changing room, it felt like the air had been charged by an electric current. Gu Mengmeng could feel the intense pressure building up in her eardrums.

She lifted her eyes and saw Snakel looking like he was a king leading out his royal subjects. One could not help feeling a sense of adulation and worship in the presence of his formidable aura.

Chapter 948 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

To be honest, Gu Mengmeng had no clue what basketball was about.

If push came to shove, she might be able to recall a few basketball terms—all gleaned from the comic “Kuroko’s Basketball”.

So she actually couldn’t understand the intricacies of the game. But there was one thing she could understand: Snakel was so cool!

Whether he was raising his arms to score a point or just dribbling the ball around. Every movement was exceptionally smooth and cool!

There were clearly over a dozen guys from two teams competing with each other on the court, but Gu Mengmeng only had eyes for Snakel.

Was this what he meant when he said “the moment you appear, everyone and everything else will become just background noise”?

29 hours...

It seemed like that was enough time for her to like someone?

With her heart pounding, Gu Mengmeng stared down at her own feet. She felt like she had discovered something significant.

Cheers erupted on the court and Gu Mengmeng looked up. It appeared that the victor had emerged.

Everyone on court was smiling, regardless of whether they were on the winning or losing team. They did not seem to care about the results, but just enjoyed the feeling of having played an exciting and satisfying game.

Snakel walked towards Gu Mengmeng and reached out one hand. “Water.”

“Oh.” Still in a daze, Gu Mengmeng handed over a bottle of mineral water to Snakel.

Snakel twisted open the bottle cap and poured water all over himself to cool down.

He didn’t like basketball. It was too intense and he sweat too much.

If he had to compare, he felt much more comfortable in the water.

But he discovered that while playing basketball, Gu Mengmeng kept staring at him with obvious admiration and worship.

So, although he had to interact with a bunch of stupid humans, as long she liked it, he would do it.

Snakel managed to cool down his body temperature with the water, but the rest of the arena heated up.

All the girls were shrieking things like “Snakel, I want to bear your child”.

So annoying. Noisy and annoying.

Snakel pinched Gu Mengmeng’s little face with one hand and squeezed her lips into a fish pout. He then lowered his head and kissed her right on the lips.

Mmm, very sweet.

His mood instantly improved and he could barely hear all the ruckus around him.

The kiss went on for a long while until both of them were gasping for breath. Only then did Snakel finally let go of Gu Mengmeng’s red face.

“Only you can improve my mood.”

Gu Mengmeng snapped out of her trance at Snakel’s words. She pushed him away and jumped up. “That was my first kiss!”

It was obviously an accusation but sounded especially melodious to Snakel's ears. He grinned widely and happily. "I know. That was mine too."

"You...!" Gu Mengmeng raged in humiliation.

"Why don't I let you kiss me back then?" Snakel offered up his own lips with a lovey-dovey expression. Seeing that Gu Mengmeng was going to turn and run off, he grabbed her back into his arms and whispered close to her ear, "Now that we have kissed... shouldn't you give me a status? Mmm?"

"I..." Gu Mengmeng felt especially embarrassed. She did not know what to say.

It would be ideal if she admitted they were boyfriend and girlfriend—it meant they had given their first kisses to their first love.

But, how to admit? Gu Mengmeng suddenly felt very helpless.

Snakel's mood lightened when he saw that she didn't appear as resistant as before. He held her waist as he led her to the middle of the basketball court. He then took a step backwards and got down on one knee, still holding onto her hands. "Gu Mengmeng, I like you. Be my girlfriend, alright?"

Chapter 949: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

“Say yes.”

“Say yes.”

“Say yes.”

...

The members of the basketball team started chanting. Gu Mengmeng blushed a deep red but still nodded almost imperceptibly.

Snakel heaved a sigh of relief. He suddenly felt that there was some use to these stupid humans after all. At least they knew how to provide him some support during critical moments.

In view of how they had urged Twomeng to give him some status, he would treat them a bit better.

Snakel stood up and engulfed Gu Mengmeng in his arms. He gave a long exhale. “Twomeng, you are finally mine.”

Gu Mengmeng knew that her nod meant she now had a boyfriend.

Since he was her boyfriend... she should be able to hug him?

Her small hand timidly circled Snakel’s waist, oooh... that felt pretty good.

Snakel’s waist felt numb as his entire body trembled.

This was the first time Twomeng had made the first move to hug him. Both in this life and their previous lives.

His heart churned as Snakel lowered his head and kissed Gu Mengmeng deeply on the lips. Butterflies fluttered about inside his stomach.

Only when Gu Mengmeng was nearly suffocating did Snakel reluctantly loosened his hold on her lips. He chuckled. “I am here now as your very first love, and will grow old with you in future. I exist only because of you. So Twomeng, now that you want me, you cannot abandon me. Understand?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded, a strange feeling tickled her heart.

She knew that she didn’t have such deep feelings for Snakel, but she did like him. She liked that he was holding her in the palm of his hands and in the depths of his heart. His dominance, his intensity, his everything—was all for her, and only her.

Gu Mengmeng felt like she was sinking helplessly into his sea of cherish and concern. She was completely unable to resist.

She knew there were some gulfs between them that would never be overcome—such as status and family background.

But before they inevitably broke up, she wanted to treasure this “once in a lifetime passion”. She wanted to enjoy all the warmth and tenderness he could offer, and also repay him with her own sincerity.

The club event ended and the basketball team captain led everyone off the court. He also dismissed all those heartbroken girls from the arena, before walking over to Snakel. He wanted to place one hand on his shoulder, but didn’t dare to. Hence, he just stood in front of Snakel and Gu Mengmeng, rubbing his own hands. “Our basketball club has never had such a good showing. Snakel, you are a really something else. We are going to sing KTV tonight, as a welcome party for you. What do you think?”

Snakel gazed dotingly at Gu Mengmeng. “Do you want to go?”

Gu Mengmeng instinctively wanted to shake her head, but the captain made a “hold on” gesture. “Junior, basketball is a team sport and it is important for players to have camaraderie and trust in each other. Snakel just joined us today and he needs to cultivate some team spirit with us. Moreover, today marks the start of your new relationship. Shouldn’t we celebrate that?”

His last question was obviously directed at Snakel.

It must be said that this team captain really knew how to read a situation. Snakel agreed that the confirmation of his relationship with Twomeng was truly a cause for celebration.

Gu Mengmeng saw a smile had started to form on Snakel’s lip, so she nodded. “Alright, then let’s go.”

Everyone had a wild time at the KTV that day. But Snakel just sat there quietly, smiling as he watched Gu Mengmeng enjoying herself with the rest.

He thought he would be overly-possessive, such that he would want to lock her up by his side and never allow her to interact with others. But he had suddenly discovered... his urge to completely possess her was not as strong as his wish to see her smile.

Chapter 950 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Everyone took turns to sing as the microphones made the rounds. All sorts of songs were sung, and the last one was reserved for Snakel. The basketball team captain said that Snakel just had to sing one song and today's event would be deemed as successfully completed. If he didn't sing, it wouldn't be an auspicious end to this special day for him and Gu Mengmeng.

Snakel wasn't superstitious. As long as he was around, who could wreck havoc for him and Twomeng?

He didn't like to be in a position where he had to entertain the masses. Participating in the swimming competitions was already pushing him to his limits. If not for the fact that he was trying to make himself known to Twomeng—even if it was just to let her have a glimpse of him in the newspapers—he would never have joined.

Now that his relationship with Twomeng had been confirmed, there was no need for him to do such foolish things. He would still have Twomeng's attention.

Nevertheless, he could not resist Twomeng's expectant gaze.

Thinking of how this bunch of fools had helped him earlier today with their support, he finally nodded. Still sitting on the couch, he pulled Twomeng into his arms and sang the song "123 I Love You".

After finished singing, Snakel just stood up and carried Gu Mengmeng directly out of the KTV lounge.

Everyone was not too used to his way of doing things but they didn't really mind. After all, he was already famous during his stint in the swimming club. To be able to hear this “mute” sing a song today was already very good. Hence, no one disputed his failure to pay his share of the bill. The team captain generously offered to settle the bill, but the counter staff informed him that half an hour ago, the KTV changed owners and the new boss’ first order had been to let them use the facilities for free, and that all food and drinks were on the house.

Hence the team all went home after a great night out.

Meanwhile, Gu Mengmeng and Snakel returned to the villa. The door had barely been shut when Snakel immediately pressed Gu Mengmeng against the wall and kissed her deeply.

There was an automatic night light in the house, which gave off a warm and romantic orange glow. The intense atmosphere made Gu Mengmeng feel somewhat at a loss.

“Erm...” Gu Mengmeng was blushing furiously, as her heart beat erratically.

So erratically and vigorously that Gu Mengmeng was worried that her heart would burst...

“Mmm?” Snakel uttered in a raspy voice.

“We have just confirmed our relationship today... we shouldn’t move... too fast.” Gu Mengmeng lowered her head timidly.

“Ha.” Snakel chuckled. Fast? He had waited a thousand years in the Beast World to meet her, and another 19 years after reincarnation to have her in his arms. It was not fast at all, but too slow.

But he had no intention of scaring her.

Although he desperately yearned for her, he wanted to reserve the best part of her for their wedding night.

He was not willing to let there be any more imperfections to her life.

She had already suffered 18 years worth of painful struggles. That was enough.

With him protecting her from now on, she should only feel bliss.

But he needed to settle something first before that happened.

Gently tapping her little nose, he said, “You are my much-beloved girlfriend, can’t I kiss you?”

“It’s not that...” Gu Mengmeng didn’t meant that. She just felt that he seemed to want to do something else after the kissing.

“Then I can kiss you?” Snakel didn’t wait for Gu Mengmeng to speak before pecking her on the lips again. “Good girl.”

An indescribable sense of sweetness bloomed in Gu Mengmeng’s heart at his coaxing words. She remained silent and just smiled.

“Since Twomeng wants to be a good girl, then this matter... should you give me an explanation?” Snakel retrieved an envelope from his pocket. The envelope was sealed with a heart-shaped sticker, which had clearly been opened before.

It was the love letter that she had give the basketball team captain yesterday morning...

Chapter 951 - How Are They Different?

Chapter 951: How Are They Different?

The white mist thickened again as if that screen was never there.

Gu Mengmeng held her cheek as she looked at the Beast Deity. “Why do I have the feeling that I am going to suffer under Snakel?”

The Beast Deity laughed out loud. “I have the same feeling.”

Gu Mengmeng wordlessly petitioned the heavens. It was not her fault for presenting that love letter to the basketball team captain. She didn’t even remember him!

Sigh, forget it. Even if she shouted herself hoarse, she would not be able to help her other self now.

Anyway she was so timid, as long as she obediently owned up to her mistakes and repented, Snakel would not kill her.

Gu Mengmeng composed herself and turned to look at the Beast Deity. “Daddy, we have finished watching television.”

The Beast Deity nodded. “Do you want to watch the next episode?”

Gu Mengmeng rolled her eyes. “Don’t play dumb. Give me my pocket money.”

The Beast Deity rubbed his nose and gave a couple of dry laughs. “What do you want this time? Tell me.”

Gu Mengmeng thought about it. “I am going to seek out the Soul of the Forest. Is there anything I will not be able to handle and need to make some prior preparations for?”

The Beast Deity thought about it. “No.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded. “When can Wabei be sent over to Snakel’s side? Can you tell me now?”

The Beast Deity shook his head.

Gu Mengmeng stood up and said, “Alright, then I don’t need pocket money this time. Take it that I came back just to watch television with you.”

The Beast Deity smiled benevolently. “Were you affected by Wabei’s words?”

Gu Mengmeng didn’t deny it. “I have lacked paternal love from a young age. I don’t really know how to interact with a father. Although you look more like a brother than a father to me—you are a divine entity so I won’t offend you by asking your age—I still want to thank you for being my dad. Watching television with you... can be counted as me enjoying some parental ties. In future... I will try to come back more often to visit you... if you are not too busy.”

The Beast Deity nodded with a smile. “You are welcome anytime.”

Gu Mengmeng waved and turned to walk out of the white mist.

After returning to her own body, Gu Mengmeng opened her eyes to see three furry heads resting on her.

She caressed them and the three boys leaped off in joy.

Elvis propped Gu Mengmeng up and let her lean against his own chest. A plate of fresh fruit was presented to Gu Mengmeng. He said as he fed her, “There’s a huge downpour now and we have sought temporary shelter in a cave. We will continue our journey in another two days when the rain has cleared.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded. It was the rainy season when the rains came unpredictably and could go on for days. It was definitely not a good time to be on the road.

Things would be fine if it was only Elvis, Lea, Wabei and her. But they had brought her three sons and she could not bear for them to suffer along with her.

Thinking of her sons, Gu Mengmeng turned and looked at them. They were in full beast mode. She frowned. “What’s the matter with them? Why are they in beast form?”

Elvis chuckled. “Do you notice anything different about them?”

Gu Mengmeng had just woken up and was still in a groggy state. She stared at her sons for several seconds before saying hesitantly, “They... seem to have grown bigger. It’s been a long time since I have seen them in their beast form. I can’t really tell.”

Chapter 952 - Evolution

Chapter 952: Evolution

Elvis patted Hede on the head. “Eldest, you start.”

Hede nodded, whereby Jialue and Kanwu both took two steps back with eager anticipation.

Hede then morphed into human form right before Gu Mengmeng’s eyes.

But...

His height...

Gu Mengmeng sat straight up in surprise. Exuding happiness, she continued gazing at this dashing teenage, who had shed his earlier childishness. Hede was now like Chixuan, a youth of about 18 years of age.

Elvis threw a piece of fur at Hede, who tied it around his waist to form a simple skirt. He took two steps forward. “Mother, I have evolved into a first-level beast.”

Gu Mengmeng held Hede’s face with both hands, nearly crying with joy.

Her son had grown up. Even without royal clothing, he still looked like an elegant prince. His eyes were deep and profound, while his chiseled features portrayed a toughness without being overly harsh. He looked like the kind of man whom one would find reliable and trustworthy at one glance.

“Congratulations my baby.” Hede smiled and stepped to the side.

Jialue then stepped forward and placed his front paws on Gu Mengmeng’s knees. He gradually morphed into human form, with one knee on the ground and both hands on Gu Mengmeng’s thighs. He looked up at Gu Mengmeng with a faint smile, which was perfect from all angles. His eyes looked very much like Gu Mengmeng's, and reflected an amber glow.

Jialue was different from Hede. Even if he wasn't purposely smiling so cheekily, he still exuded a "bad boy" vibe through and through.

Hmm...

He looked like the kind of guy who would go through life unaffected by ordinary mortals. Faced with the romantic confessions of a sweet, demure girl, he would take her love letter with a smile and say, "You are such an innocent girl, why taint yourself with someone like me?"

He clearly had an open, sunny face, but no one would believe he was truly harmless.

If he was in a school, he would probably become public enemy number one to the entire male cohort.

"Mother, I have also evolved into a first-level beast..."

Gu Mengmeng stroked his head with a smile. "Mmm, my son is so handsome."

Elvis also threw a piece of fur to Jialue, who asked as he wrapped it around himself, "Who is more handsome? Chixuan or I?"

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. "You are all handsome. My sons are equally handsome."

Jialue refused to buy that line. He pouted. "Forget it. I won't force mother to lie. Chixuan's is undeniably blessed in the looks department. If we weren't in the same litter, I would have suspected that he is Daddy Lea's son."

Elvis' face darkened. Did he mean Lea was more handsome than him?

Jialue's gaze drifted over to Elvis. He smiled in satisfaction at Elvis' black face.

After all, he would have to move out after coming of age. He would not have much chances left to taunt Elvis.

Jialue then stepped back and let Kanwu take his place.

Kanwu shook the fur on his body before slowly morphing into human form.

He was half a head taller than both his older brothers, and was nearly two meters in height. He was almost as tall as Elvis.

He was the complete opposite of Hede, with his thick, straight eyebrows on a pronounced brow ridge. He was clearly still a youth but already exuded the aura of a hero.

It must be said that even though the two of them were always at loggerheads—based on appearance alone—Kanwu looked the most like Elvis.

Before Elvis could toss him a piece of fur, Kanwu was already pulling one around his waist. He smiled. “Mother, we have all evolved into first-level beasts. From now on, we can better protect you.”

Chapter 953 - What Would Happen To Me?

Chapter 953: What Would Happen To Me?

Gu Mengmeng was very touched, but her heart also ached a lot.

She remembered Elvis had told her he had to endure a lot of suffering before coming of age when he was about a year old.

But her sons...

The three little ones had turned into half-beasts because of Ellie's forced activation. It was an overly hasty promotion that created a major deficit in their bodies.

Lea also said that most children would mature into adulthood when they were two to three years old. The three brothers were so negatively impacted then that they would probably only mature when they were four to five years old.

But now... how did her three sons all get promoted the moment she woke up?

Wabei, who had been out hunting, came in from the rain. He had about five to six hunted game wrapped in his tail, all dead beyond recognition.

In the past, Gu Mengmeng would have shrieked in fright.

But after inheriting Snakel's memories...

Haha.

Wabei was rather surprised to see Gu Mengmeng awake. He threw the hunted game to the side and morphed into human form, before sidling up to her. “What did your father say?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. “He still refused to say.”

Wabei sighed. He had already heard this sentence three times. So much so that he had actually gotten used to it.

He asked again. “What about him? Is he still well?”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “Mmm, things are going according to his wishes.”

Wabei raised one brow. “He finally got you?”

Elvis and Lea instantly tensed at his question. Gu Mengmeng could see their ears turn erect, clearly waiting for her answer.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and nodded. “Over there, he is in a confirmed relationship with my other self.”

Lea’s face darkened and he walked over to Gu Mengmeng’s side. He asked angrily, “He is your boyfriend?”

Gu Mengmeng wanted to say it wasn’t her. But thinking about it again, it was clearly herself. Hence, she nodded in admission.

Lea’s face went grave as rage filled his eyes. “When what about me...”

“You?” Gu Mengmeng didn’t understand.

Lea said, “Elvis is your hubby and I am your boyfriend. Now that Snakel has snatched the boyfriend status away from me. What would happen to me?”

Gu Mengmeng laughed out. “He is the boyfriend of my other self in the other dimension. Not this self standing right before you.”

Lea insisted. “That is still not acceptable. Go tell my father-in-law to break them up!”

A harsh chill drifted over as Wabei was already adopting an aggressive stance against Lea.

Gu Mengmeng glared at Wabei. “If you dare to touch my man, I will use your snake skin to make a handbag.”

Without waiting for Wabei to respond, Gu Mengmeng held Lea’s face and kissed him. “You are already my partner, why are you still haggling over the boyfriend status?”

Lea completely ignored Wabei. It was true that Lea would never be able to defeat Wabei, but his status with Gu Mengmeng was a much more pressing problem to him. Hence, he waved his bushy tail and thrust it into her arms. Hugging her from behind, he pressed his chest into her spine and nuzzled his chin on her shoulder. “Mengmeng, I want a status. A unique status.”

Gu Mengmeng took a deep breath. “What about... my lord?”

Lea was momentarily stunned. He then asked, “What does it mean?”

Gu Mengmeng explained that this was an ancient way of addressing one’s partner.

Lea was finally satisfied after Gu Mengmeng promised she would address only him with this term. He loosened his grip on Gu Mengmeng and went to prepare the hunted game brought in by Wabei.

Chapter 954 - Ultra-Level Super Training

Chapter 954: Ultra-Level Super Training

Gu Mengmeng realized afterwards that it was thanks to Wabei's help that her sons had all evolved.

The method was simple and crude. He had just dragged them out everyday for a beating...

Males get promoted after accumulating enough battle experience. Lea's three to five years was made with the conservative assumption that they would only be battling wild animals during their hunts.

Actually Elvis and Lea could also carry out that type of training with them—but Gu Mengmeng cared too much for her three sons, so they would subconsciously hold back during their training, rendering their attacks ineffective as battle experience.

It was different for Wabei. Snakes were characteristically cold-blooded and the act of showing mercy... he had no idea how to.

He did not go soft at all on those three little ones.

Apart from Gu Mengmeng, Wabei was the most powerful in the entire Beast World. With such an ultra-level super training, even if those three young ones had just stood there and endured the beating without doing anything, their battle experience would have shot through the roof. So in just three and a half days time, the three of them had been promoted.

Gu Mengmeng remained silent after hearing about the entire promotion process. She just threw aside the fur skin and charged towards Wabei.

Grabbing him by the neck, she dragged him out into the rain. “Come little shit, let’s have a good chat about life.”

Snap...

Three huge trees fell.

Crash...

A huge crater appeared on the ground.

Bang bang bang...

Crumbled rocks strewn across the ground. A new cave was pounded out right beside their original cave...

By the time Gu Mengmeng came back out patting her hands, Lea used a fur skin to wrap her up and carried her to the fireside.

Elvis had already presented himself. With his fur all toasty from the fire, he embraced her to warm her up.

The three little ones stood in a row and were exceptionally obedient. They promised to always listen to their mother and never make her angry.

As for Wabei...

He had not enjoyed such a thorough thrashing for a long time. He was now sprawled in the newly-created cave, savoring the delicious aches and soreness that could only come with a good beating.

The downpour lasted for nine whole days.

On the tenth day, the sky finally cleared.

Gu Mengmeng felt as if she would get moldy if she had to stay inside the cave any longer.

She had a good stretch under the sun, before jumping back into Elvis' arms. The party then made their way towards Zacharias.

On the way, Gu Mengmeng suddenly smiled. Elvis asked why was she smiling?

Gu Mengmeng replied, "It seems like after getting together with you, I no longer need my legs."

Elvis chuckled and kissed Gu Mengmeng on the cheek. He didn't say anything.

Gu Mengmeng circled her hands around Elvis' neck. "Hubby, aren't you tired from carrying me around all day? I feel like I have gotten fatter recently. I should be very heavy?"

Elvis clearly remembered the previous time when he complimented her for gaining weight—she had thrown potatoes at him. Although it didn't hurt, he couldn't bear to make her angry.

But he had promised never to lie to her, and the truth of it was that she had indeed gain a bit of weight since coming to the Beast World.

Twisting his lips, Elvis replied, "It is a little heavy, after all... I am carrying my entire world."

Gu Mengmeng giggled and kissed Elvis' face with a loud smack. "Hubby has such a sweet tongue..."

Elvis secretly heaved a sigh of relief. He was glad that he had escaped a calamity.

They had sought shelter from the rain not far from Zacharias, so with Gu Mengmeng fully energized and the three newly-evolved little ones—both their speed and stamina were enhanced. So they arrived at the stray beast camp by the second night.

Chapter 955 - Good Boys, Call Them Uncles

Chapter 955: Good Boys, Call Them Uncles

The cave which used to belong to Elvis, and which Gu Mengmeng had temporarily stayed in during the winter—no stray beast dared to go near it anymore.

No one knew if it was because the Beast King aura left behind by Gu Mengmeng was too overpowering, or because Cole had passed down the message that it was forbidden.

Anyway, when Elvis and Lea brought Gu Mengmeng back to that cave, it was left exactly the same as before. All the furnishings were accounted for and completely untouched. The only addition was a layer of dust which could be easily cleaned off.

Elvis and Lea expressed satisfaction that there wasn't any scent left behind by anyone else.

With Gu Mengmeng in his arms, Elvis led the three little ones to visit Peter and Natalie. Lea remained at the cave to tidy up.

Gu Mengmeng was dumbfounded when they reached Natalie's cave.

Who could tell her just who were those six babies right in front of her...

Her mother-in-law had given birth to a litter of pups, all of whom were even younger than her sons...

"hi..." Gu Mengmeng felt rather awkward. How was she going to introduce her mother-in-law to her own sons?

Hmm...

Come sons, this woman recuperating from childbirth is your grandmother and these six infants are your uncles. Good boys, call them uncles...

The thought of her teenage sons addressing those suckling babies as uncles... that was something too incredulous for Gu Mengmeng to accept.

But they were already standing there and it would not be right not to introduce everyone.

Elvis seemed to know the dilemma that Gu Mengmeng was in, and so spoke up for her. He pointed at each of his sons. "Hede, Jialue, Kanwu."

Natalie was already physically weak from the onset, and now after giving birth, she looked like she had been suffering from a major illness. But she was still very happy at being able to see Elvis and the three little ones. She sat up and leaned against Peter's chest. Smiling, she greeted the three youngsters. "Hello, I am Natalie."

"Hello." The three little ones returned her greeting politely but didn't tag on any appellation.

Gu Mengmeng twisted her lips. She didn't know how to express her current emotions.

Elvis whispered at her ear, "The family relations in the Beast World are different from where you came from. Over here, family relations only extend for one generation, between parents and children. That means that Natalie and Peter are my father and mother, but to Hede and his brothers, they are just Natalie and Peter. So you don't need to bother yourself with any of that complicated family hierarchy and seniority stuff."

Gu Mengmeng secretly breathed a sigh of relief on hearing Elvis' explanation.

It was a happy thing that her sons didn't need to go addressing some babies as their uncles.

Peter didn't have any intention of greeting those three little ones. He only had eyes for Natalie and those six babies.

They were both the offspring of Natalie and him, but his attitude towards this batch of babies was a cry from his behavior towards Elvis' batch. Fortunately, Elvis had never expected anything in terms of family relations. Otherwise, he would definitely be feeling very upset now.

Gu Mengmeng played with her little brother-in-laws. She found them extremely cute and wanted to hold them but was stopped by Elvis. He asked with a cold expression, "What, do you want brothers to share a wife now? Mmm?"

The corners of Gu Mengmeng's lips twitched. She pointed at those palm-sized infants. "Do you think I am a pervert?"

"They will look like me after they mature." Elvis paused before continuing. "I have not forgotten that drooling look on your face when you first saw me."

Chapter 956 - My Hubby Looks So Handsome When He Is Jealous

Chapter 956: My Hubby Looks So Handsome When He Is Jealous

Before Gu Mengmeng had the chance to retort, Natalie laughed. “If you like, just choose one and take him back with you. He can become your partner the moment he comes of age.”

The corners of Gu Mengmeng’s lips twitched as she gave a couple of dry laughs. “Are you sure they will survive till maturity if I bring them back with me?”

Natalie was taken aback. She didn’t understand what Gu Mengmeng meant.

Elvis said with a black face, “Only those who are able to survive under me are good enough to be Xiao Meng’s partners.”

Natalie felt dismay at Elvis’s words. Not for her own babies but for Elvis.

She was afraid that Elvis’ obvious jealousy and act of preventing his female from taking on new partners would turn Gu Mengmeng off. Hence the moment Elvis spoke those words, Natalie immediately glanced at Gu Mengmeng. She wanted to say something pleading on Elvis’ behalf, but her words died in her throat as she saw Gu Mengmeng’s smiling face.

Gu Mengmeng held Elvis’ face as she kissed him. “My hubby looks so handsome when he is jealous...”

Elvis’ icy expression cracked. With warmth and tenderness, he tapped Gu Mengmeng’s little nose. “I am also very handsome at other times, so you better not attract more romantic rivals.”

“I can’t promise you that...”Gu Mengmeng put on a smug face. “I am a natural beauty and exude elegance wherever I go. Others want to latch onto me the moment they lay eyes on me. I can’t help it...”

Looking at her complacent manner, Elvis felt exasperated but also found it very adorable.

Pinching her little face, he said, “It doesn’t matter. Any one who tries to latch on—Lea and I will crush them one by one. None will be left alive.”

“Eee, hubby you are so violent, so bloodthirsty, so cruel. But I love it...”

Elvis held her by the back of her head and kissed her brow. “Didn’t you say you have some official matter to discuss with them? If you are not going to talk about it, let’s go back. Lea must be anxiously waiting for us now.”

“Yes, yes yes. I want to talk about it.” At Elvis’ reminder, Gu Mengmeng finally snapped out of her shock from seeing those brother-in-laws who were even younger than her own sons. She looked at Peter. “I want to go retrieve something from Zacharias, and wish to temporarily house my sons here. Can you help me take care of them?”

Peter kept silent but Natalie nodded with a smile. “No problem. I will look after them. I will fight any one who dares to harm even a single strand of their hair.”

With such a proclamation by Natalie, Peter had no other way out.

Regardless, he couldn’t let Natalie go fight anyone right? He would have no choice but to protect them.

Gu Mengmeng grinned at Natalie. “Thank you.”

Natalie nodded eagerly at Gu Mengmeng before turning to face Peter. “I heard you mention the Zacharias tribe before. Are you familiar?”

Peter nodded. “They share the borders with my territory and we often get into fights with them. Their leader Leonard is a tough one. He is only fourth-level but a very challenging opponent. That’s why over all these years, I try not to provoke them. It's not that we cannot defeat them but the consequences are not worth it."

Peter looked at Gu Mengmeng and then at Natalie. He sighed. "I know why you want to go to Zacharias. I will go with you."

Gu Mengmeng "...?!"

Peter said, "You saved Natalie so I owe you one. I have to return the favor and it's better that I do it sooner than later."

Gu Mengmeng wanted to say no need. Although there were not that many fifth-level beasts in the Beast World, her team had more than its fair share.

Chapter 957 - The Most Powerful Local Boss

Chapter 957: The Most Powerful Local Boss

But before Gu Mengmeng could open her mouth, Natalie cut in. “Let him follow you. He has more experience interacting with the Zacharias tribe and it would be good to have him along.”

Gu Mengmeng agreed after thinking about it. After all, even a strong practitioner would find it difficult to handle the local stronghold. And Peter was clearly the most powerful local boss here.

With him around, Leonard would think twice before trying anything funny. Offending the Messenger of the Beast Deity and a stray beast at the same time would be like going against the powers of both good and evil. Would his Zacharias have the ability to wage a battle on these two fronts?

Gu Mengmeng said with a nod. “Then I shall have to trouble you.”

Peter didn’t say anything more. Elvis also couldn’t be bothered to talk to them and so just carried Gu Mengmeng back to their own cave, with the three little ones tagging along.

They had been much delayed because of the heavy rains, so Gu Mengmeng didn’t do much preparations. They immediately set off for Zacharias the next morning, which was not that far off from the stray beast camp. Therefore, the five of them—Gu Mengmeng, Elvis, Lea, Wabei and Peter—arrived at the borders of Zacharias by noon.

Perhaps of the long years battling against stray beasts, Zacharias’ territorial behavior was more vigorous than Saint Nazaire’s, or even Sauder’s. A two-meter wide space surrounding their territory had been intentionally cleared of all vegetation. On one side of the empty strip stood Gu Mengmeng and her party, while the other side stood a group of patrolling beasts.

Their patrolling was not carried out in a haphazard or random manner, but was well-coordinated with no gaps.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled as she observed them.

This formation gave off the vibe of an army camp from the ancient times.

Just that all the swords and guns had been replaced with claws and fangs.

They had just taken one step into the empty strip when the patrolling beasts were immediately alerted and came forward to block their advance.

Perhaps they had never met Gu Mengmeng before but just her looks alone was enough to distinguish her high status. The further presence of Elvis and Lea guarding her so closely—such a formation clearly marked out her status.

Moreover...

A fifth-level snake beast—how could there be another in this world?

Gu Mengmeng was full of smiles as she leaned one elbow against Elvis' shoulder and propped her cheek on her palm. As she was being carried by Elvis, she now had the rare opportunity to look down upon other males from a high vantage point. She said with a teasing smile, "Did your leader invite me over just to shut the door in my face?"

The person who was standing in their way bowed to Gu Mengmeng. "The Great Messenger can come in anytime she wants. But not the others."

"Oh?" Gu Mengmeng raised one brow. "Ha, since coming to the Beast World, this is the first time anyone has dared to impose their regulations on me."

"We seek your kind understanding, Great Messenger." The beast guard apologized but he didn't move aside. He had no intention of giving way.

Gu Mengmeng seemed to understand what Peter meant when he said it was not worth it to provoke Zacharias.

Looking at the five people on her side: a Messenger of the Beast Deity possessing the powers of a Beast King, three fifth-level beasts and a fourth-level beast.—who wouldn't go soft in the knees by just looking at such a group? But this mere guard was able to block them without being obsequious or arrogant. It was clear what kind of strict and intense military training he had undergone.

An impish desire to create trouble brewed inside Gu Mengmeng, as she asked with a grin, "What if I refuse to comply? What are you going to do?"

Chapter 958 - The Laws Of Zacharias

Chapter 958: The Laws Of Zacharias

The guard remained silent and just stood there, his claws shining.

Gu Mengmeng raised one brow with a smile. “Do you think... you guys can stop me?”

The guard shook his head in all honesty. “We are unable to stop any one of your group.”

“Since you know you can’t stop us, why flash your claws in front me?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

The guard gave a nod. “It is our duty to guard this place. Unless we die, we cannot allow any outsiders to put a single foot inside our territory.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed gaily. She pointed at her own nose. “But I am also an outsider. Why is it that I can enter?”

The guard stood erect like a soldier as he met Gu Mengmeng’s eyes. “The Great Messenger represents the Beast Deity. All the tribes in the entire Beast World belong to you. All the beasts are your men. So you can go wherever you want, and are not considered an outsider.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded. “Oh, so I belong to the privileged classes.”

The guard didn’t know what a privilege class was and so didn’t answer her. He just continued standing there.

Gu Mengmeng waved. “I don’t wish to make things difficult for you. The person who went to deliver the news should be back soon? We will talk about this when Leonard comes.”

Every tribe had their own laws. Although no one could stop her if she wished to enter by force, Gu Mengmeng didn't feel the need for such bullying tactics. Moreover, her company of gentlemen, apart from Peter, would never let her suffer in the slightest bit. This rebuff at the entrance of Zacharias—she just needed to say the word and those guards would be torn to scraps.

The guards were just doing their job, so it was completely unnecessary to annihilate them all.

Thankfully, Leonard and Nick quickly arrived. They bowed and apologized the moment they spotted Gu Mengmeng. “Great Messenger, please forgive us. It was my fault for not making the proper arrangements which resulted in this delay.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “No worries. So... we can now enter?”

Leonard looked up at Gu Mengmeng. “The Great Messenger and her partners can enter Zacharias, but stray beasts are not allowed. As long as one of us is still living and breathing in Zacharias, we will never let a stray beast step into our territory.”

Gu Mengmeng raised one brow and smirked. “Do you mean that if we want everyone in our company to enter, we must first destroy your entire tribe?”

“Yes.” Leonard answered as a matter-of-fact.

Gu Mengmeng continued smiling as she surveyed the men on her side. She then looked at Leonard again. “Then how long do you think we will need to destroy your entire tribe?”

Leonard was well aware of the combat prowess of his own tribe. But he also knew just how powerful his opponents were.

After a moment of assessment, Leonard replied, “Half a day.”

Gu Mengmeng asked, “Weigh your principles against a half-day lifespan of Zacharias—which one is more important?”

Leonard was taken aback. He then lifted his head again with renewed resolution. “Principles are principles. Nothing will be accomplished if we don’t adhere to any laws. We will rather die in battle, then allow any stray beast to taint our tribe.”

Wabei shifted forward and stood beside Gu Mengmeng. He glanced askance at her. “He’s probably a fool? Actually talking about laws and principles with a stray beast? Gu Mengmeng, let me tell you, I have been cooped up for an entire winter season. If you dare leave me behind and make me wait here, I will immediately charge in and destroy this lousy tribe.”

Chapter 959 - Calm Down, Little Shit

Chapter 959: Calm Down, Little Shit

In reality, Wabei did possess such a power.

In this entire Beast World, apart from Gu Mengmeng, no one else was able to stop Wabei.

Even though they were both fifth-level beasts, Elvis would at most be able to heavily injure Wabei if they were to fight. But there was no way Elvis would be able to kill Wabei.

Gu Mengmeng waved. “Calm down, little shit. I already said I will bring you along. Why would I leave you behind? Am I such a bad friend? No right?”

Wabei reluctantly nodded. He admitted that Gu Mengmeng was loyal friend.

After reassuring Wabei, Gu Mengmeng looked at Leonard. “Since it’s inconvenient for my friend to enter Zacharias, it’s not a must for us to enter. Just tell us where the Soul of the Forest is here and now, and we will directly go and retrieve it.”

“Well...” Leonard seemed to be in a dilemma. He looked like he had something to say, but didn’t know how to say it.

Gu Mengmeng didn’t push him. She just laid in Elvis’ arms and looked at him, waiting for him to speak up in his own time.

“Leonard.” A demure voice drifted over from afar.

Gu Mengmeng could clearly see the shift in Leonard's expression. The corners of his lips curled up subconsciously, shattering his stubborn manner.

Looking over to the source of the voice, they saw a female riding upon a tiger, escorted by four males holding up the four corners of piece of animal hide to shade her from the sun. That female was not your ordinary land-based female. She had a surreal beautiful, with long, flowing hair and exquisite, doll-like features.

Gu Mengmeng felt like she had met this female before, but couldn't figure out who she looked like. It was her demeanor, which was a bit like... Melinda? But Melinda's eyes were clearer than hers, and did not hold the flirtatious slant that this female had.

She wore a skinned fur which Gu Mengmeng had seen before—it was the fur of a white fox. Lea had hunted one for her before, but she felt awkward wearing it. She felt it was like wearing Lea's own skin, and so never wore it again. Lea knew she didn't like it and so never hunted another white fox skin for her again.

But Gu Mengmeng knew that due to the rarity and cunning of white foxes, it would take both luck and skill to be able to even spot one. Females who wore white fox skins donned them with a measure of pride and smugness.

Looking again at how Leonard behaved towards her, it was obvious what was their relationship.

"Dora, why have you come out?" Leonard walked towards the female but stopped a distance away. It was as if he was scared that his own clumsy hands might accidentally hurt her.

Dora smiled warmly and pointed at Gu Mengmeng's party. "The Messenger and her partners are our invited guests. Wabei might be a stray beast but he is the representative of the Snake King valley. Since they have come with good intentions, how could we stop them from entering? Quickly invite them in and don't delay our guests."

“But...” Leonard frowned. He appeared to be very conflicted, completely different from the stubborn front he had shown Gu Mengmeng earlier.

Dora gently stroked her belly and gazed at Leonard with limpid eyes. “The Messenger is the daughter of the Beast Deity. If she is willing to speak up for me, perhaps the Beast Deity might forgive me. Only then will I have the opportunity to get pregnant and bear you some children... don’t you want kids of our own? Please... alright?”

Leonard sighed but nodded. “Alright.”

Chapter 960 - No Such Need, She's Not My Type.

Chapter 960: No Such Need, She's Not My Type.

Dora?

Gu Mengmeng narrowed her eyes and glanced at Wabei. "If I remember correctly, the female mermaid who framed Melinda then was called Dora."

Wabei nodded. "I think so."

Gu Mengmeng smiled. "Do you think it is her?"

Wabei shrugged. "It doesn't make a difference whether it is her."

"That's true." Gu Mengmeng also didn't wish to pursue this matter. She just treated it as a casual remark and didn't take it to heart.

Leonard returned to face Gu Mengmeng again. He bowed before gesturing welcome. "Great Messenger, please come this way."

Gu Mengmeng nodded but didn't say a word.

The group walked to the center of the tribe territory, to see a tall pagoda made of stacked wood. It was thickly stained with blood at the top, which gleamed darkly under the sunlight together with the smell of blood.

Gu Mengmeng frowned and pointed at the wooden pagoda. "This is... a male just came of age?"

Leonard nodded. "Yes, one of our males matured into adulthood yesterday night."

Gu Mengmeng clenched her fists as she remembered the so-called “night campfire party” that Elvis and Lea had prepared for her. The veins at her temples throbbed as she yearned for the chance to abolish this practice. It was really unbearable.

Wabei and Peter didn’t know how Gu Mengmeng felt about that wooden pagoda, but Elvis and Lea knew the structure offended Gu Mengmeng’s eye. The two of them exchanged looks and tacitly avoided mentioning the pagoda. Instead, Lea stepped forward and surveyed Dora, who was still seated upon the white tiger.

“Are you Dora?” Lea smiled formally. His lips curled in a practiced movement, striking the perfect balance between remoteness and politeness.

Males were very wary about other males going near their own females. Even those who already have partners were no exception. Moreover...

Lea was just too good looking. Leonard could not help noticing the happy surprise in Dora’s eyes when she saw Lea.

They were both fourth-level beasts. Leonard stepped forward to stand between Dora and Lea, who laughed and glanced at Leonard with a smirk. “Are you guarding against me?”

Leonard didn’t admit or deny it. He just stood there unwavering.

Chuckling, Lea casually stepped back. “No such need. She’s not my type.”

Leonard knew Gu Mengmeng was the Messenger of the Beast Deity and admitted that she was beautiful. But he still felt offended to hear someone say that his own female was “not my type”. He wanted to retort but couldn’t find the right words to do so. Clenching his fists, he felt the urge to attack Lea.

“The Great Messenger is the daughter of the Beast Deity World, and is of course the best in the world.” Dora gently tugged at Leonard’s arm. With just one look, she extinguished the fire in Leonard’s chest. She then continued. “Mister Lea is the male of the Messenger, so it is only natural he will never fancy a lowly female like Dora. Leonard didn't mean that. Mister Lea, please don't take offense."

"You are not lowly." Leonard clenched his fists and furrowed his brows as he looked at Dora with much tenderness.

Dora shook her head, indicating that he shouldn't speak another word. Leonard was unsatisfied but he complied.

Chapter 961 - I Will Tell You If You Can Defeat Me.

Chapter 961: I Will Tell You If You Can Defeat Me.

Lea couldn't be bothered with those two and just waved his tail. "I had gone to the ocean previously and heard there was a female mermaid called Dora..."

Lea dragged out his sentence as his gaze landed on Dora. He had yet to complete his question, but it was already clear he was interrogating her.

Dora didn't try to hide the fact and just nodded. "I think the Dora whom Mister Lea mentioned must be me."

"Oh, it might not be? I heard that Dora stole the treasure of the Giant Fish Tribe and framed the princess of her own tribe. I also heard that she was imprisoned and became a slave..." Every single word spoken by Lea was a trigger to Leonard's emotional state. Chuckling, Lea glanced at Leonard's increasingly red face. It was as if Lea was secretly taunting: Let's see how much longer you can bear this.

"Yes, I was sold as a slave." Dora continued to hold onto Leonard's arm with her hand. She then continued. "It was Leonard who bought me and brought me here."

"Oh... so it really is you. Mmm, then the word 'lowly' truly describes you." Lea purposely poked at Leonard's sore point in a lackadaisical manner.

"You...!" Leonard was incensed but was interrupted by Lea's next words.

"Only a female who had committed a terrible offense would be imprisoned as a slave... I am sure you must have suffered a lot before being bought over here.” Lea glanced at the numerous mating marks on Dora’s body and chuckled. “Do you want to cleanse yourself of these?”

Dora’s eyes widened as she stared at Lea with urgency.

Leonard asked, “Do you have a way?”

He was distressed over the fact that Dora felt ashamed of the countless mating marks on her body. That nightmarish period haunted her day and night, and he wished for her to gain release.

Lea nodded and chuckled. “I will tell you if you can defeat me.”

Leonard had wanted to beat up Leonard right from the start. Now that he was offering himself, was there any other reason to hesitate?

He immediately morphed into a white tiger and pounced towards Lea.

Lea had undergone professional training in Sauder and also learned a lot during his days with the stray beasts. Further, he held many years of experience battling alongside Elvis. Hence, Lea was far more skilled than a beast at the same level as him. And Leonard’s attack... was vicious but not technical enough. He was often tricked by Lea into making mistakes.

For example the wooden pagoda was struck once and again...

Rumble....rumble...

A wooden beam rolled down and the unbalanced wooden pagoda started crumbling.

Lea dodged nimbly but Leonard was slower by half a beat. And that split second resulted in a wooden beam striking him on the waist, sending him sprawling pathetically on the ground. It was a while before Leonard was able to stand up again.

Lea returned to Gu Mengmeng’s side and placed one arm around Elvis’ shoulders. His bushy tail landed in Gu Mengmeng’s arms and he said with a cunning look in his slanted eyes, “Aiyo, Tribe Leader Leonard, as anxious as you are to help her find a solution, you shouldn't dismantle the wooden pagoda used for people's Coming-Of-Age Ceremony. How inauspicious... tsk, shouldn't you hurry up and get your men to clean up this mess? If not, one might think we have entered some rundown tribe with dilapidated structures strewn all over."

Leonard gritted his teeth. He was no fool and could see that Lea had been purposely directing the fight towards the wooden pagoda. Right from the start, Lea had planned to dismantle that wooden pagoda. Now, not only had Lea had gotten his wish, he was trying to pin the blame on Leonard.

Chapter 962 - Should We Destroy Them?

Chapter 962: Should We Destroy Them?

One look from Leonard sent Nick scrambling to get some men to clear away the crumbled wooden structure.

Lea behaved as if nothing had happened and hooked Gu Mengmeng's chin with an artful smile. He didn't say anything.

Gu Mengmeng knew he did all that as he didn't want to see her in a bad mood because of the wooden pagoda. So she just gave a light laugh. "This is still the territory of others. Behave yourselves."

Lea didn't answer but just looked at Elvis.

Elvis said in a low voice, "Half a day. He overstated the time needed."

"Mmm?" Gu Mengmeng stared at Elvis in confusion.

Lea patiently explained, "To destroy Zacharias and turn this into 'our place'...if it was only Elvis and I, we would indeed need half a day. But with the addition of him... haha..."

Lea pointed at Wabei, who tilted his head casually at Gu Mengmeng. "Should we destroy them?"

Gu Mengmeng was sure that if she just nodded or gave a slight smile, Wabei would have charged forward like a herd of wild horses and cleaned out the entire Zacharias. He just had to sweep his entire mass around the territory twice and everything would be flattened to bits... nothing would be left behind.

Making a 'hold on' gesture, Gu Mengmeng said, "Calm down. Let's all calm down."

Wabei looked disappointed. "We can't fight? Tsk... so boring."

Gu Mengmeng exhaled before looking at Lea. "We have come on official business."

Lea waved. "Expanding our tribe's territories is also an official business."

Gu Mengmeng held her cheek. She was really not used to the Beast World's mentality of just snatching over whatever one wanted.

So as to stop them from coming up with more wicked ideas, Gu Mengmeng clapped her hands together and addressed Leonard directly. "Apologies, my males are rather bad-tempered so you better get straight to the point. Where is the Soul of the Forest? We will set off the moment you tell us, in case they can't hold it in any longer and destroy your entire tribe."

Leonard wanted to retort that Zacharias was a powerful tribe and not so easily defeated. But his earlier fight with Lea clearly showed how much he had underestimated them.

Lea was the weakest in the entire team. He was clearly the same level as Leonard but had played Leonard like a complete fool.

Peter was the leader of the stray beasts and the fifth-level beasts in Zacharias had exchanges blows with him multiple times. In the best cases, they had returned with serious injuries.

Elvis had always been an infamously powerful and savage fighter. When he still a fourth-level beast, he had led his own tribesmen against three fifth-level beasts from Sauder. Not only did Elvis completely defeat them, two of the fifth-level beasts had died and the remaining one left a cripple.

And that Wabei...

He was a legendary figure connected to Snakel. No one knew just how powerful he was.

Leonard only knew that just meeting Wabei's eyes turned his own legs to jelly. As much as he tried to pretend to be calm, his cool facade could fool others but could not fool himself.

And the most powerful of them all was not any one of those perverse males. It was that smiling little female nestled in Elvis' arms.

An unfathomable depth which was the most terrifying.

Terrifying, truly terrifying.

But he had a reason not to give in.

Taking one step forward, Leonard faced Gu Mengmeng. "The previous Messenger of the Beast Deity had entrusted the Soul of the Forest to Zacharias for protection. It is the reason behind Zacharias' existence. So before I can pass it over to you, I hope that you can promise me three things."

Chapter 963 - You Can Die In Peace

Chapter 963: You Can Die In Peace

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and held her cheek with one hand. She answered with a question of her own, “Are you in a position to talk terms with me?”

Yes, he was in no position to talk terms with Gu Mengmeng at all.

Zacharias took in some of the former members of the tribe that attacked the Snake King valley. Wabei was the Snake King valley’s new leader and a stray beast that was not bound by any rules. Even if he decided to destroy Zacharias today, it would be just a matter of course.

Moreover, in the Beast World, only the powerful had rights.

Even if Wabei had no right or reason, and just felt like destroying Zacharias on a whim, who would dare to accuse him of anything?

Clenching his fists, Leonard put on a resolute front. “If the Great Messenger doesn’t agree, then I would rather have the entire Zacharias tribe destroyed than tell you the whereabouts of the Soul of the Forest.”

Gu Mengmeng pouted. “And I thought you were a good tribe leader. So you are just a selfish ruler who puts his own personal interests over the lives of his own people. Ha, it’s every man for himself in this world after all. But I am very sensitive towards receiving threats, and am very unhappy at the way you have raised your request.”

Before Gu Mengmeng even completed her sentence, Peter had already grabbed Dora by the neck.

The speed of this fifth-level beast was such that her second-level beasts escorts did not even see how he appeared amongst them. Even the fourth-level Leonard could not react in time.

Looking at Dora turning red from suffocation, Leonard clenched his fists and gritted his teeth. “Dora, don’t be afraid. I will come over to you after I settle my tribesmen.”

Did he mean... you can die in peace?

Gu Mengmeng raised one brow and stared at Leonard as if he was a heartless jerk.

Since coming to the Beast World, all the males she had met treated their females as the most precious thing to them.

So if someone was to grab her neck, both Elvis and Lea wouldn’t bat an eyelid if they had to personally butcher the entire Saint Nazaire to ensure her safety. Even if they had to kill themselves, as long as she could be safe, they were more than willing to sacrifice themselves.

Snakel was a prime example. Just so she would not suffer the agonies of the venom and to preserve her legs, he actually opened up his own chest and carved out his gallbladder for her.

But Leonard...

His eyes were totally bloodshot, so it was clear he was very much concerned.

Ha, he could endure a pain that no common man could.

Gu Mengmeng shot Peter a look and he loosened his grip on Dora’s neck. Just a little so that she could breathe.

“Leonard...” Dora whimpered.

Leonard didn’t dare to make any false moves. He was afraid of triggering Peter who might just snap off Dora’s neck. He could only turn to look at Gu

Mengmeng. “Great Messenger, no matter what, Dora is a precious female. Please don’t hurt her. I promised you the Soul of the Forest in return for your pardon, so it is my fault for tagging on some conditions at the last minute. You can vent your displeasure on me.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “Leonard, I respect that you are a true man. I will give you one chance. Tell me what are your terms?”

The veins on Leonard’s arms were nearly popping out. Gu Mengmeng knew he must really want to fight Peter to save Dora. But he knew that it would be a futile gesture on his part, and so he endured.

Chapter 964 - Zacharias' Three Conditions

Chapter 964: Zacharias' Three Conditions

Leonard straightened himself and looked at Great Messenger. "First, will the Great Messenger please take in everyone from the Zacharias tribe, including those former members of the tribe who attacked the Snake King valley. Have them become part of Saint Nazaire and be under the protection of the Great Messenger."

Gu Mengmeng was stunned. "Do you intend to disband Zacharias?"

Leonard took a deep breath. "Yes. Without the Soul of the Forest, there will not be any reason for Zacharias to exist."

Gu Mengmeng narrowed her eyes and kept silent for moment. Instead of answering, she asked Leonard, "In that case, why did you offer the Soul of the Forest in the first place?"

Leonard knew there was no way he could keep it a secret, and he saw no reason to hide the fact either. So he said, "The stray beast Cole came and threatened me earlier. If I don't do as he says, he will destroy everyone in Zacharias."

Cole again...

"What did he threaten you with?" Gu Mengmeng asked casually.

Leonard frowned deeply. He was ashamed just thinking of how he was being threatened by a stray beast. But as embarrassing as it was to admit to something like that, he was willing to do so to seek refuge for his own tribesmen. So he suppressed his intense emotions and said, "He wanted me to take in some beasts who had no tribe, and then go to Sauder to make peace with you using the Soul of the Forest in exchange. He promised that as long as I fulfilled both tasks, Zacharias would not be attacked by stray beasts for the next hundred years.”

“Since you have already accomplished the things he wanted you to do, wouldn’t you have peace for the next hundred years now?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

Leonard replied in a frank manner, “I don’t trust the words of a stray beast. I am willing to hand over my tribe to the Great Messenger because, firstly, after you get the Soul of the Forest, protecting you will be equivalent to protecting the Soul of the Forest. Secondly, I cannot let my tribe live a life governed by the whims of the stray beasts.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded in assent of the first condition. She then asked, “What is the second condition?”

Leonard said, “When the Great Messenger goes to retrieve the Soul of the Forest, please bring me along. I want to know what this item, which Zacharias has been protecting for the past thousand years, looks like.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded again in agreement. “Third?”

Leonard turned and looked at Dora with eyes full of cherish. “Will the Great Messenger please pardon Dora and cleanse her body of all that shame.”

Gu Mengmeng breathed in, looking very conflicted. “This..what if I don’t agree?”

Leonard gritted his teeth and clenched his fists. “If the Great Messenger is willing to accept these three conditions, I will become your loyal servant, for you to use as you please. If the Great Messenger doesn’t agree... then, Zacharias will rather be destroyed than to yield.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed. “Aiyo, you really know how to throw down the gauntlet. But unfortunately, I cannot agree to the third condition as I simply cannot do it.”

Leonard was taken aback. He shifted his gaze towards Lea.

Actually, he had wanted to propose only the former two conditions to Gu Mengmeng. But because of Lea's mention of that matter just now, he had added the third condition on the spot.

But the Messenger of the Beast Deity was now saying she couldn't do it?

This...

Lea stroked Gu Mengmeng's little hand and kissed it. "You don't need to look at me. If my Mengmeng says she can't do it, then it can't be done. I won't do it even if I can."

Chapter 965 - Miss, I Don't Deal In Human Trafficking.

Gu Mengmeng stared at Lea in surprise. "You can do it?"

Lea hesitated and didn't answer. Instead, he smiled and asked Gu Mengmeng, "Do you wish that I can do it?"

This meant he could.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and gave a gentle pinch to Lea's arm. She then turned to look at Leonard. "Alright then, I agree to your three conditions."

Right after Gu Mengmeng completed her sentence and before Leonard had time to utter a word of thanks, Dora struggled to speak, "Wait a minute..." Peter was still clutching her neck and her voice was weak and wispy.

Gu Mengmeng waved and Peter just walked back to Gu Mengmeng's side as if nothing had happened.

Finally freed, Dora laid on the white tiger gasping for breath. After a long while, she raised her head and addressed Gu Mengmeng. "I want to change the third condition."

Gu Mengmeng lifted her chin as she looked down at Dora. To be honest, Gu Mengmeng didn't have a good impression of Dora.

The reason was simple. Gu Mengmeng liked Melinda and she hated anyone who bullied her.

But hatred didn't mean complete destruction. As long as you didn't come inviting trouble, Gu Mengmeng could turn a blind eye in general.

But since she had spoken, Gu Mengmeng wanted to hear what she had to say. This was the Dora who had suggested to Carter to imprison Melinda.

Gu Mengmeng wanted to see what she wished for now.

So Gu Mengmeng said with a neutral expression. “Mmm, tell me.”

Dora’s eyes were still bulging from being strangled by Peter, and there were obvious red marks on her neck. Peter was truly unsympathetic towards any female other than Natalie.

But Dora didn’t seem to care. “I want a male. Give him to me.”

Damn, Gu Mengmeng stroked her own chin.

She was still considered a demure beauty right? Did she look like a human trafficker?

“Miss, sorry but I don’t deal in human trafficking.” Gu Mengmeng smirked.

Leonard’s brows were deeply furrowed. His eyes, which were filled with worry and rage earlier, only held desolation and pain now. He stared at Dora and asked her in a quivering voice. “You are still unable to forget him?”

Dora turned and bit her lower lip. “I will never be able to forget him in this lifetime. You... knew this.”

Leonard sighed and smiled bitterly. “I know. I know...”

Leonard was a strong and sturdy man, but like a crumbling mountain peak, he now appeared desolate and somewhat wretched.

He slowly unclenched his fists before going over to hold Dora gently by her shoulders. “Let the Messenger cleanse you of your marks first. Then I will go capture him back for you. You are so beautiful and kind, he will never reject you.”

Dora’s eyes turned red. She had not cried earlier even when she was being nearly strangled to death. But she was now sobbing heavily. “You know that is impossible, do you not? I have reserved the status of first partner for him, but he has never even deigned to look at me. Now that I am so dirty, all the more he will never like me.”

“Even so, you still want him?” Leonard wiped her tears with an aching heart.

“Yes,” Dora replied through clenched jaws. “As tainted as I am now, I still reserved that position for him. I want him, I must have him. Even if he doesn’t love me and hates me, even if I have to imprison him to make him stay by my side, I want him. Even in death, his body must belong only to me!”

Chapter 966 - How Can I Give You My Own Male?

Dora pulled down her collar and Gu Mengmeng saw that despite the countless mating marks on her, the area over her left chest was empty.

It looked like she had really reserved it for a certain someone.

But...

Even if she had to imprison him to make him stay. Even in death, his body must belong only to her...

Why did such words sound so spine-chilling? Gu Mengmeng thought that in the Beast World, only the males held such a perverse view on love, while the much-cherished females would not behave like that.

It seemed like she was wrong.

“Leonard, I beg of you. Let me behave willfully just this once. In my entire life, just this one time...” Dora cried in Leonard’s arms, heart-achingly pitiful.

Leonard couldn’t bear to reject her, hence he looked up at Gu Mengmeng. “Please agree, Messenger. Give her that person.”

Gu Mengmeng would never use the life of another person to make a deal. But she was somewhat curious and so she asked, “The male you want is...?”

“Fei Rui.” Dora’s voice trembled as she spoke his name.

Fei Rui?

Gu Mengmeng laughed. “Sorry, if it’s Fei Rui... I cannot give him to you.”

“Why? Why not?!” Dora was very agitated. Her eyes widened significantly. Gu Mengmeng laughed. “Because... in exchange for rescuing his sister, he gave himself to me. He is now in Saint Nazaire and waiting to become my partner as and when I feel like it. How can I give you my own male?”

Dora went limp in Leonard’s arms. She muttered, “How can it be... how...”

Gu Mengmeng clapped. “How now? I can’t seem to fulfill your three conditions, so you won’t be giving me the Soul of the Forest? Then I shall leave now.”

Gu Mengmeng patted Elvis’ shoulder, and he turned to leave without any hesitation.

“Wait a minute.” Leonard called after Gu Mengmeng. “Since Fei Rui is the Great Messenger’s male, we naturally dare not covet him. Could the Great Messenger please honor the first three conditions then.”

He needed to give the people of Zacharias a way out.

Gu Mengmeng looked at Lea, who sidled up to her. He said in a low voice, “Let me eat fish when we return, and I will cleanse her body of those marks.”

Gu Mengmeng knew Lea was referring to a certain mermaid, but now was not the time to explain. She just kissed Lea and said, “We’ll talk about this later.”

Lea didn’t object and just walked to Dora’s side. He surveyed her and said, “From tomorrow onwards, collect the morning dew from the leaves enough to fill two stone bowls. Place the bowls on your tribe’s Platform of the Deity’s Punishment, and wait for us to return after retrieving the Soul of the Forest. I will then perform a Heaven Opening rite to cleanse her.”

Leonard nodded and held the crying Dora. “Good girl, don’t be sad. Go back with them first and have a good rest. Take as long as you need to forget him, I will stay by your side and wait.”

Dora didn't speak. She didn't even react to Leonard's words at all. She just let the tiger carry her off.

After traveling some distance away, Dora clutched the fur of the tiger tightly, as a venomous and malevolent light filled her eyes.

“Cole, how dare you lie to me! You deceived me! If I cannot have Fei Rui, I won't let you get your wish either!”

Chapter 967 - Are You Giving That Spot Over Your Heart To Him?

Chapter 967: Are You Giving That Spot Over Your Heart To Him?

Meanwhile, after Leonard sent off Dora and handed over some tribe matters to witch doctor Nick, he went over to Gu Mengmeng and bowed. “Alright, we can all set off now.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded without a word. She let Leonard lead while her party followed behind.

She didn’t know if she was imagining things but Gu Mengmeng felt Leonard was leading them in circles around Zacharias, but every round seemed slightly different.

Could this be a deceptive misdirection set down by her lonely old man?

Nevertheless, Gu Mengmeng kept her suspicions to herself.

In this way, they walked around for nearly the entire day. The moon had already risen and the stars were strewn across the sky. Leonard finally halted. “It’s here. But we need to wait till tomorrow morning before we can see the entrance.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded in agreement.

Leonard said, “The topography here is rather complex. Don’t move about unnecessarily. I will go hunting.”

Leonard left without waiting for Gu Mengmeng to respond. Peter didn’t think he should go off alone and so shot Elvis a look before following Leonard, to “help” him.

After the two of them left, Elvis and Lea, who had both been brooding the entire journey, burst out in rage.

Elvis held Gu Mengmeng's waist and asked in a grave manner. "So it's been decided? To select an auspicious time to partner with him after we return to Saint Nazaire? Mmm?"

"No, no." Gu Mengmeng waved in denial.

Lea bit Gu Mengmeng's left ear gently, leaving faint teeth marks but no bruise. Jealousy brewed in his slanted eyes. "I knew that you liked that young punk. When he hurt my face, not only did you not blame him you still protected him. You blamed me for using a rock to seal up the well and preventing him from coming out. What? You no longer like my face now? Your taste has changed and you now like that bland and childish fellow?"

"No, no." Gu Mengmeng shook her head.

Elvis pinched Gu Mengmeng's chin as he stared at her with blue eyes that held unfathomable depths. In a low voice traced with the aura of death, he said, "You didn't give that position over your heart to me or Lea. So you intend to give it to him?"

"No, no..."

Lea said, "Ha, I remember. You previously said you liked his eyes. That it was as clear as the Northern Star. Since you like them so much, I will dig them out for you? Take his eyes, but stop liking him."

Gu Mengmeng held her cheek. "Calm down. Can you just let me explain?"

Elvis and Lea shut their mouths with "please start your performance" expressions.

Gu Mengmeng was already mentally prepared for this. From the moment she spoke those words, she knew the two green-eyed monsters in her family would go mad. Hence, she was not at all flustered. "I don't like Fei Rui, and he has no such intentions towards me either. I only said that just now as I cannot bear to hand over such a naive guy like Fei Rui over to Dora. Alright, after we return to Saint Nazaire, I will send Fei Rui back to the ocean. If he refuses to leave, I will personally make him into a sautéed sliced fish dish, how about that?”

Actually, Elvis and Lea both knew there was nothing between Gu Mengmeng and Fei Rui.

After all, such a long time had passed since Fei Rui had followed them back from the ocean, and Gu Mengmeng had nearly forgot about his existence.

Chapter 968 - My Heart Aches So Badly.

Chapter 968: My Heart Aches So Badly.

But it was one thing to know this and another to hear Gu Mengmeng personally admit that another male belonged to her. It still made Elvis and Lea feel disgusted.

Gu Mengmeng knew this but she couldn't think of another reason to reject Dora's request then. So she had just casually tossed that out. And it was because she truly had no romantic feelings toward Fei Rui that she dared to make such a claim in front of Elvis and Lea. If she fancied Fei Rui even the tiniest bit, she would never have said that before those two. She would have quickly extinguished those feelings right from the onset.

But the good thing was she was already satisfied with having Elvis and Lea. She no longer held any such feelings towards other males.

Gu Mengmeng spent half the day coaxing Elvis and Lea with sweet words, and also promised that she would never again claim that other males belong to her. Only then did the two guys reluctantly let the matter go.

But...

Lea gently hooked Gu Mengmeng's chin. "Mengmeng, although what you said today wasn't true, my distress was real. You promised me that I will be your last partner, but you don't seem to care about my feelings. You stated publicly that you are taking in Fei Rui... my heart aches so terribly."

"I do care. How can I possibly not care about your feelings?" Gu Mengmeng placed her hand over Lea's heart.

Lea refused to yield and turned aside. “If it only takes words to show one’s concern, what would a mute person do?”

Gu Mengmeng, “...”

Lea hustled forward. “If you love me... prove it with some action?”

Gu Mengmeng thought about it before raising her two hands to make a heart sign.

Lea gently held onto Gu Mengmeng’s forearm, and used the fingers of his other hand to imitate a walking man. He walked up Gu Mengmeng’s forearm with two fingers, his slanted eyes following closely—going past her round shoulders and her fair neck, before finally holding her face gently and meeting her eyes. “You clearly know I don’t mean this... right?”

Gu Mengmeng had gone numb. They have been partners for more than year now. How could she not know what Lea was hinting at?

“Erm... we will talk about this again after we retrieve the Soul of the Forest and return to Saint Nazaire. We... we are in the midst of wilderness...”

Lea said with half-closed eyes, “You and Elvis did it once in the wilderness, why can’t you do it with me?”

Yes, she and Elvis had done that before once on the way to the beauty pageant.

But recalling that incident, Gu Mengmeng couldn’t help blushing.

She shook her head resolutely. “No, no. We still have official business tomorrow morning. We need to conserve our energy.”

Lea said, “Do you doubt my stamina?”

Gu Mengmeng choked....

Haha, doubt his stamina?

Whenever they carried out that activity, it would only end when she fainted from the exertion. She had no idea what were the limits to Elvis and Lea's stamina.

And she dared not challenge such a thing. She might die from over-exertion.

As they finished speaking, Leonard and Peter returned bringing along some hunted game. Gu Mengmeng pleaded with her eyes and Lea gritted his teeth. "Remember your promise. You will make it up to me when we return to Saint Nazaire."

Gu Mengmeng quickly agreed and the matter was finally put to rest.

After a relatively peaceful night, the sun's first rays shone down on them the next morning. Gu Mengmeng was woken by Elvis' gentle kiss. Rubbing her eyes, Gu Mengmeng tried to rouse herself. She mumbled incoherently before slumping back into Elvis' arms, waiting for the last vestiges of sleep to fade away.

Chapter 969 - Entering The White Mist

Chapter 969: Entering The White Mist

What woke Gu Mengmeng completely was the mystical scene before her. Two rows of trees on each side were visibly weaving together, like fingers criss-crossing, to form an archway.

The archway was filled with a white mist, which felt somewhat familiar.

Gu Mengmeng narrowed her eyes. Would she see her lonely old man sitting on the bench watching television if she walked in through this archway?

With some doubts, Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng into the tree-lined archway.

The mist obscured one's view, such that Gu Mengmeng couldn't see anyone—she couldn't even see Elvis' face despite being nestled in his chest.

“Hubby?” Gu Mengmeng called out tentatively.

Elvis instinctively tightened his embrace and replied with a voice that sounded very near, “Mmm, I am here.”

Gu Mengmeng looped her arms around Elvis' neck and called out again. “Lea?”

One hand landed precisely on Gu Mengmeng's arm. She heard a gentle voice, which soothed her unease. “I am also here.”

Gu Mengmeng heaved a sigh of relief. She then called out again. “What about the rest? Are they also here?”

Gu Mengmeng felt much more secured after receiving responses from Wabei, Peter and Leonard.

Walking in the thick white mist, one could only blindly rely on their body's spatial awareness to move forward. There was no other way to ascertain one's direction in the dense fog.

Perhaps it was lucky that Gu Mengmeng encountered this kind of white mist every time she visited her lonely old man, such that she was already used to it. Otherwise, she would have definitely felt very anxious now.

Rumbling sounds resonated from all directions. It was very soft and difficult to discern.

Gu Mengmeng now possessed very good hearing and also Snakel's memories. There should not be any sound in the Beast World which she couldn't identify.

But she had no impression of this noise at all...

"Leonard, how much do you know about the Soul of the Forest?" Gu Mengmeng asked.

Leonard replied, "The tribe leaders have passed down through the generations, that there is only one entrance. My people have never tried entering..."

In other words, he only knew how to locate this entrance. He didn't know much more than that.

Damn, she had brought a bunch of clueless people along.

"Xiao Meng, why don't you sleep while we guard over you?" Elvis asked.

Gu Mengmeng knew Elvis meant for her to go seek the Beast Deity, to ask him if there was any way to get through this white mist. She replied with, "I already asked him the previous time. Father said I am capable enough to face this challenge."

The deeper they entered the white mist, the clearer the rumbling sounds became. The sounds also became harsher, as if they were a sort of warning.

Lea and Leonard were the first to exhibit signs of breathing difficulties. But Gu Mengmeng didn't realize anything wrong because of the white mist. Only when her left ear started aching did Gu Mengmeng instinctively ask, "Lea, what's the matter?"

Lea shook his head, as he pretended nothing was wrong.

"Lea?" Gu Mengmeng pursued.

Lea then realized that they could not see each other in the white mist, hence Gu Mengmeng naturally could not see him shake his head.

He opened his mouth to tell her that he was fine, but found that he was unable to utter a single word.

Gu Mengmeng held the hand on her arm, pulling him closer. She touched Lea's face like a blind person feeling an object. She could not see him but she could feel that he was suffering. Worried, Gu Mengmeng asked again, "Lea, what's the matter? Are you unwell?"

Chapter 970 - Peter's Peculiar Vibe

Chapter 970: Peter's Peculiar Vibe

Lea was unable to speak. He felt as if someone was grabbing him by the throat and stuffing his lungs with endless cotton wool. But he didn't want to worry Gu Mengmeng, so he squeezed her wrist to indicate that he was still alive.

Gu Mengmeng closed her eyes and went entirely by feel. She held Lea's face and planted a deep kiss on his lips.

Subsequently, Lea felt the tightness around his throat gradually loosened, while the stuffiness in his lungs slowly dissipated, leaving only a faintly sweet sensation spreading across his chest.

After some time, Lea took the initiative to let go of Gu Mengmeng, before planting a gentle kiss on her forehead. He said with much tenderness, "I am fine now, don't worry."

The ache on her ear had disappeared while Lea's tone was calm. Only then did Gu Mengmeng stop worrying.

Wabei's voice cut through the white mist. "Someone fainted here. I don't know who it is. Let me pick him up."

After hearing Wabei's news, Gu Mengmeng once again did a roll call. Only Leonard didn't respond so it was probably him who Wabei had picked up.

Gu Mengmeng felt rather fretful. Hence, she looped one arm around Elvis' neck and used the other to hold onto Lea tightly. Only then did she feel more at ease.

They walked along for a long time, but couldn't see an end to this white mist. Worried that Lea couldn't bear it, Gu Mengmeng asked, "Do you feel any discomfort?"

Lea used his other hand to gently cover the top of Gu Mengmeng's hand.
"No, I am very well now."

There was no forced tone in Lea's voice, which made Gu Mengmeng feel much better. So she asked Elvis, "Hubby, what about you? Any discomfort?"

Elvis wanted to say he was fine but had previously promised never to hide anything from her again. Hence he answered honestly, "I have some difficulties breathing and feel strangely agitated. But it is still bearable."

Gu Mengmeng knew that if Elvis said he could bear it, he definitely could. But why make him suffer if she could make things more comfortable for him?

Hence, Gu Mengmeng gently kissed Elvis on the lips. That soft kiss dispelled the cloudy feeling in his chest. The faint sense of agitation also gradually faded away.

After walking for goodness-knew-how-long, Elvis suddenly stepped out of the white mist into a glaring bright light.

Before Gu Mengmeng could react, Elvis had already pressed her face into his own chest and whispered by her ear, "Slowly, it's very glaring to the eyes."

"Mmm." Gu Mengmeng gradually adjusted to the bright light while nestled in Elvis' chest. She slowly opened her eyes, until she was completely adjusted to the new surroundings. Only then did she look up from Elvis' embrace.

She took a headcount. Wabei was carrying an unconscious Leonard in his tail, while Elvis and Lea had been by her side the entire time. Peter was standing a slight distance away, with his head lowered and features obscured. One could feel a peculiar vibe radiating from him, it felt like... he was being very jittery?

"Peter, are you alright?" Gu Mengmeng asked.

Peter clenched his fists and kept his head lowered. He kept silent for a long while before finally nodding.

Gu Mengmeng didn't say anything more but just shot Wabei a look, indicating that he should keep an eye on Peter.

Chapter 971 - She Was Sleeping With A 16 Year Old Teenage Wolf

Chapter 971: She Was Sleeping With A 16 Year Old Teenage Wolf

Wabei rolled his eyes at Gu Mengmeng impatiently.

He had come to get into a good fight. Why was he now someone's nanny.

He felt really upset and aggrieved, but had no choice against Gu Mengmeng...

Gu Mengmeng discretely observed her surroundings. The vegetation here was different from that in the Beast World.

The jungles in the Beast World were also very dense but had a more primitive and Amazonian feel. While here... the scene was more like the movie "Avatar", with a beauty that felt surreal.

But...

Ha, her lonely man was evidently not here.

Looking back to the spot where they came out from, the white mist looked like a vortex. It was a little like those teleportation doorways usually seen in video games.

Lea made a mark on the entrance, before the party walked into the depths of the jungle.

Every plant looked new and odd to Gu Mengmeng. She felt as if she had stepped into Alice in Wonderland. Everything caught her eye and made her stare in wonder.

Suddenly, a murderous vibe came barreling at her.

Before Gu Mengmeng could even turn her head, she heard a wail from behind her.

Looking over to the source of the noise, she saw Peter collapsed on the ground with venom corroding his entire body.

Gu Mengmeng recognized the venom... it was Snakel's.

In the blink of an eye, Wabei had already bound Peter tightly in his snake tail. His pupils glittered dangerously while his fangs dripped venom.

"Why did he attack me?" Gu Mengmeng didn't understand.

Elvis heart was pounding from lingering fear. He had been conscientiously vigilant about their surroundings, but didn't expect to be attacked by someone close by. Fortunately, Snakel's mark had protected Gu Mengmeng or she would definitely have been injured.

After all, Peter was a true-blue stray beast. Masking his murderous intentions before an attack was his specialty.

Frowning, Elvis tucked Gu Mengmeng deeper into his arms. "It might be the effect of the white mist. I also felt rather agitated just now and had the strong urge to tear into something. It was only your kiss that managed to calm me down."

Gu Mengmeng looked at Wabei. "What about you? Are you itching to tear into something too?"

Wabei snorted. "I am not some dim-witted puppy. How could I have been so easily manipulated? I held my breath the moment I entered the white mist."

Gu Mengmeng heart gave a jerk at his jibe on Elvis' age again.

Yes, she was sleeping with a 16 year old teenage wolf. This was something that cut her to the heart.

“Moreover, I am a snake. If I feel agitated... I will strangle someone to death. Why would I tear into anyone?”

Gu Mengmeng twisted her lips. “Little shit.”

“What?!” Wabei was very unhappy that Gu Mengmeng addressed him so.

Gu Mengmeng looked at Wabei’s anguished expression and laughed.

“Nothing, I was just calling you for fun. Never expected you to really answer me... haha, it seems like you already know your own status.”

“Get lost!” Wabei howled. He glared viciously at Gu Mengmeng, but the corners of his lips were curled in a smile.

In the past when Snakel was around, they would immediately start fighting without any preamble.

After meeting Gu Mengmeng, he realized that having someone to banter with was actually quite fun.

Peter and Leonard were both unconscious and being carried around by Wabei in his tail like pieces of luggage. The group then continued making their way in.

The greenery gradually faded away to be replaced by a dazzling red color. Bright and eye-catching, it was a light that reflected danger.

Chapter 972 - Blood-Red Vines

Chapter 972: Blood-Red Vines

Numerous vines snaked all over, making it look like a cave tainted in blood. The vines were webbed together densely and shimmered with a red glow, as if blood was flowing through them. The effect was spine-chilling.

Gu Mengmeng frowned. She took a closer look at the throbbing vines and discovered that the pulses were confined to the plant veins, just like how blood flowed in the veins of the human body.

Gu Mengmeng instinctively shrank back and nestled into Elvis' arms.

"Scared?" Elvis asked with concern.

Gu Mengmeng nodded. "This place looks like a wilderness survival version of a haunted house. It's a little scary."

"Then we won't go in. Shall we turn back?" Elvis did not really mind whether they retrieved the Soul of the Forest.

Chixuan's life was no longer in danger, and even if so, he would never let Gu Mengmeng endure her terror to retrieve that item.

But Gu Mengmeng didn't feel the same way. She shook her head. "I must get the Soul of the Forest."

"Why don't you wait here with Lea. I will go in to get it for you." Elvis offered another solution.

Gu Mengmeng circled Elvis' neck with her hands and smiled. "But I don't want to be parted from you."

"Then..." Elvis met Gu Mengmeng's bright eyes. His heart softened and he could only kiss her brow with doting and affection. "Be a good girl and hide in my arms. I will protect you.”

“Mmm.” Gu Mengmeng nodded obediently before resting her head on Elvis’ shoulder.

Elvis, Lea and Wabei exchanged glances, tacitly agreeing to be on their highest guard.

Nothing here was like anything they had ever seen. Stepping into such a strange world made them feel very insecure, especially when they were carrying a female whom they would never allow anything bad to happen to. Hence, their movements all became extra vigilant.

Lea led the way with Elvis in the center carrying Gu Mengmeng, and Wabei bringing up the rear. In case anything happened, he would use his snake tail to spirit Gu Mengmeng away.

Lea had just taken one step into the blood-red vines when the vines started squirming like countless slithering snakes. The rattling noises emitted made one’s hair stand on end.

Lea didn’t dare to move but just watched the movements of the vines warily. He waited for the vines to settle down and made sure that nothing dangerous happened, before lifting his other foot.

His second step made the vines writhe even harder. The rattling noises became louder.

Gu Mengmeng wanted Lea to retreat but before she could open her mouth, those vines came at Lea from all directions. He did not have time to duck and was suspended in mid-air by the vines, before being entwined into a ball-like chrysalis.

Gu Mengmeng felt a stinging pain on her left ear, and she knew Lea was gravely injured.

Elvis turned and handed Gu Mengmeng over to Wabei. Without a word, he leaped towards that chrysalis and reached out his claws to tear through the vines to save Lea. But his claws failed to even leave a single mark on the vines.

Not only did Elvis' attack fail to cause any damage, it appeared to have incited those vines.

Before Elvis' feet even touched the ground, he was entangled by the vines and subjected to the same treatment as Lea had endured.

Chapter 973 - I Want To Save My Men

Chapter 973: I Want To Save My Men

Within seconds, there were already two red vine chrysalis suspended in mid-air.

Gu Mengmeng could feel Elvis unleashing his beast pressure as he struggled. But the vines didn't even budge. They were totally unaffected by the pressure.

The same stinging pain from her ear radiated from her collarbone.

Elvis was also injured!

Gu Mengmeng went mad at that knowledge. She was filled with regret at this instant. If the price of retrieving the Soul of the Forest was the loss of Elvis and Lea, then she didn't want it.

She would find another way to get her son back. She could not allow anything to happen to Elvis and Lea.

With this line of thought, Gu Mengmeng was already raising one foot to charge into the vines.

She was the most powerful in the entire Beast World. If there was anyone who could save them, it was her.

Before her foot landed, a tug at her waist pulled her back. Gu Mengmeng came face to face with Wabei's venomous snake eyes, as he hissed into her ears. "What do you think you are doing?!"

"I want to save my men."

Wabei's snake tail was tightly wound around Gu Mengmeng waist. He said through clenched jaws, "He used his own life to exchange for yours. I will not let anything untoward happen to you."

Gu Mengmeng bit her lower lip. She knew Snake had sacrificed himself so that she could live. She knew that she owed Snake her life. But as guilty as she felt, she could not just sit back and watch Elvis and Lea die.

"Stay back! I will go save your puppy and slutty fox." Wabei loosened his hold on Gu Mengmeng. In half-beast form, he was at least 2.5 meters in height and cut an extremely imposing figure. With his back facing her, he said, "Unless I die, I will not allow you to spoil his precious treasure."

With that, Wabei shot like a rocket into the midst of the red vines. His movements were faster than that of the vines and they struggled to capture him. After over 800 years of fighting with Snake, he was very clear how to avoid harm during an attack. But the thing was, there were just too many vines.

In the end, Wabei became the third vine chrysalis suspended in mid-air.

The pain in her ear and collarbone had already given way to numbness. Gu Mengmeng knew that Elvis and Lea couldn't hold on much longer.

She had no time to lose.

Although she was physically just a female, she possessed Snake's powers. So when the vines attacked her, she just grabbed and yanked, instantly tearing them apart.

The broken-off vine tips flopped a couple of times on the ground like fish on dry land before becoming lifeless. Meanwhile, the other half of the vines shrank back as if in pain.

Red liquid oozed out of all the openings and the vine "corpses" became increasingly transparent.

Gu Mengmeng didn't know what it meant. She just knew that she had the strength to tear apart the vines. This meant she could save Elvis, Lea and Wabei.

The vines didn't continue coming at her like mindless creatures. Instead, a bunch of them gathered before launching another wave of attack at her.

Three vines meshed together to form a thick creeper. It was even thicker than Gu Mengmeng's thigh. She wouldn't be able to get a good hold of it, not to mention being able to tear it.

Even so, the moment the vines charged towards her, Gu Mengmeng grabbed the creeper and pulled at it like she was playing tug-of-war.

Chapter 974 - Mengmeng, Don't Be Afraid, I Am Here.

Chapter 974: Mengmeng, Don't Be Afraid, I Am Here.

The vines didn't break but slashed open Gu Mengmeng's hands.

Thereafter, the vine in her hands rapidly withered and the red juices seeped into the wounds on Gu Mengmeng's palms and entered her body.

Gu Mengmeng was stunned by the sudden change. She didn't know if it was a good or bad sign.

She could only open up her hands and watch the red vine slowly lose its color, as the juices all leached into her body.

Gu Mengmeng could feel an immense energy enter her body, challenging the endurance limits of her physical self.

In the end, only the three chrysalis were left in red.

"Ah...!" Gu Mengmeng hollered as she endured the surging waves of pain in her body.

At that instant, the three vine chrysalis burst open.

A black shadow charged towards Gu Mengmeng and firmly caught her in his embrace. Kissing her on the forehead, his heart ached for her fatigued and distressed expression. He said in a low voice, "Xiao Meng, everything is fine now, everything is fine..."

Wabei also reached Gu Mengmeng's side at the same time as Elvis. He stood quietly behind Gu Mengmeng, his lips pressed firmly together.

Meanwhile, Lea was not as strong as Elvis and Wabei, and he was the first to be engulfed in the vine chrysalis. Hence, he was the weakest at the moment.

Like Elvis, he also wanted to use the last of his strength to charge towards Gu Mengmeng. Even if he died, he wanted to die in her arms.

Unfortunately, the mind was willing, but the body was weak.

His final ounce of strength was used to break through the vine chrysalis.

“Lea... Lea...”

After the vine chrysalis engulfed them, the leaves became extremely sharp and Lea’s body was full of cuts all over. Although he was well-versed in medicine and had taken precautionary measures to protect the crucial arteries in his body, he was still ravaged by the leaves and drenched in blood.

He heard Gu Mengmeng calling him so he gritted his teeth and forced a smile as he slowly hobbled towards her.

Step by step...

Gu Mengmeng was already sobbing incoherently by the time he finally stood before her.

Lea got down on one knee and gently caressed Gu Mengmeng’s face.
“Mengmeng, don’t be afraid, I am here.”

Gu Mengmeng was already drifting out of consciousness. The last image she saw was a blood-like liquid erupting from behind Lea and shooting towards herself like a thousand needles.

Darkness descended and Gu Mengmeng fainted.

It was all good as long as Elvis and Lea were fine.

If she had to die, so be it.

Anyway, she would only be a burden to them.

They would probably live better lives without having to put up with her stubbornness...

Someone by her ear kept calling her name. But she was unable to open her fatigued eyes. Her entire body sank downwards in a fetal-like position, as if she was a baby floating in its mother's womb.

Absolute quiet. It was a quiet that made one feel suffocated.

Even the vestiges of time were unable to make the tiniest ripple here.

After an indeterminate amount of time, Gu Mengmeng finally opened her eyes. It was just a slight flutter of her lashes but this tiny movement was like a magical balm to the emotions churning in the hearts of Elvis and Lea.

The two males had been nearly driven mad, but they finally felt some relief now. They each held onto one of Gu Mengmeng's hands, feeling as if they just received a new lease in life.

Chapter 975 - It Is My Fault for Failing To Protect You.

Chapter 975: It Is My Fault for Failing To Protect You.

Gu Mengmeng slowly regained consciousness and opened her mouth to speak, but found that her throat was extremely sore and dry.

Elvis immediately fed her a cup of water.

The water was very sweet and clear, different from what she was used to.

There were no pollutants in the Beast World. One could drink directly from the streams and rivers, whose waters held a natural sweetness. But this cup of water was different. After drinking it, Gu Mengmeng could feel the sweetness seep through her veins until every part of her dehydrated body was lubricated and nourished.

It was a wondrous feeling, as if she had been utterly cleansed from inside out. She felt completely purified.

“Is everyone alright?” Gu Mengmeng could finally speak.

Elvis nodded. He carried Gu Mengmeng princess-style and buried his nose into her hair. Only then did his trepidation fade away. His voice was raspy and traced with fatigue, but still full of warmth. “Only you fell unconscious for three days two and nights. The rest of us are fine.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded at this, feeling much more at ease now.

Turning her head, Gu Mengmeng leaned against Elvis’ chest and reached out one hand to caress Lea’s face. She felt exhausted but forced a smile.

“It is great that you are fine.” Gu Mengmeng sounded weak. “I saw that you were drenched in blood right before I fainted. I was really scared.”

Lea held Gu Mengmeng's hand and gave it a deep kiss. "I am sorry. I am too weak and let you worry over me."

Gu Mengmeng shook her head with a smile. "It's not that you are weak. It was I who brought you all to such a dangerous place. It's my fault for letting you follow me into danger without any precautions."

"Silly girl." Lea's lips still lingered over her soft hand. He had been holding her hand in this manner for the past three days, constantly dreading that it would turn cold and never be lifted up again. Now, her little hand was still warm and she could still talk to him. The panic he had been suppressing over the past three days started leaking out, as he got increasingly scared the more he thought about it. "Partners exists solely to protect you in whatever you choose to do. It is my fault for failing to protect you."

Gu Mengmeng didn't argue with Lea over the Beast World's view on love. After all, in the Beast World, they had an obsessive "love could only be proved by action" type of viewpoint. It was very difficult for Gu Mengmeng to convince them not to debase themselves for the sake of love.

Elvis steadied Gu Mengmeng in an upright sitting position before going to sit facing her.

His clear blue eyes fixed upon Gu Mengmeng with an extremely grave expression.

Gu Mengmeng had never seen Elvis look at her so sternly before. She felt a shiver of panic and instinctively gave a soothing smile. "Hubby, what's the matter?"

Elvis didn't speak but just continued gazing at Gu Mengmeng. His lips were pressed into one straight line. It felt as if a storm was about to burst.

Gu Mengmeng could feel that Elvis was angry this time, but she didn't know why. Hence, she turned towards Lea with pleading eyes. However, Lea lowered his gaze and went over to sit beside Elvis.

It was the first time Elvis and Lea were both sitting and facing her. It made Gu Mengmeng feel very uneasy. She didn't know what they were going to say, but she felt very alarmed.

Chapter 976 - Why Didn't You Flee Then?

Chapter 976: Why Didn't You Flee Then?

“What is... going on?” Gu Mengmeng asked timidly.

Elvis took two deep breaths before slowly speaking. “Why didn't you flee then?”

“Huh?” Gu Mengmeng stared at Elvis in confusion.

Flee? When? To where?

Lea continued Elvis' line of inquiry. “Wabei told us that after we were trapped in the vine chrysalis, you had the opportunity to escape but you chose to dive right towards the vines...”

Lea's tone was gentler than Elvis', but his voice was still full of reproach.

This gave Gu Mengmeng the false impression that she hadn't stayed on to rescue them, but to just charge in without thinking...

Wasn't their attitude the right opposite of how they were supposed to be behaving?

Shouldn't they be feeling extremely touched and be kissing and hugging and holding her up high?

Why were they acting like she had an affair and they were going to divorce her?

“Xiao Meng, you promised us that you will always protect yourself first in any situation.” Elvis sounded as if every single word he uttered was like a knife digging into his heart. Gu Mengmeng's own heart ached just by listening to his pain.

"I remember." Gu Mengmeng's voice softened. She furrowed her brows but didn't look repentant. Instead, she said stubbornly, "But this was a special circumstance. If I didn't do anything, you and Lea would die."

Why didn't Elvis understand that Gu Mengmeng had risked herself to save them?

It was not right to say he wasn't moved. He was so touched that he wanted to dig out his own heart and mash it to bits, just so the turmoil in his chest would stop.

But...

"It is my honor to die for you." He gnashed his jaws, slowly grinding down all the anxiety and worries that had enveloped him over the past three days when Gu Mengmeng was unconscious. He tried to verbalize the intensity of his pain. "If anything happened to you, we would have died in grievance."

Lea had said something like that to her before.

They were still at the Snake King valley then, and Snake was still alive.

She had used her own body to shield Elvis, to prevent Snake from using his snake tail to lash at him. In the end, Elvis had flipped her around and covered her in his embrace, directly enduring Snake's attack.

At that time, she had wanted Lea to quickly go save Elvis, but Lea held onto her shoulder instead and said, If anything happened to you, we would die in grievance. If we mean anything to you at all, promise me, protect yourself first in any situation.

She had promised them. She remembered.

But to just watch on as Elvis and Lea died, while she escaped unharmed—this was something she could not do.

Gu Mengmeng looked up with red-rimmed eyes. “Let me tell you, I take back my promise! In the future, no matter how many times, as long as you and Lea are in danger, I will just charge in to save you guys! If you both died, I cannot bear to live alone.”

“Xiao Meng!” This was the first time Elvis had shouted at her like that.

Previously, no matter what she did, no matter how willfully she behaved, Elvis had never hollered at her.

Gu Mengmeng stiffened her neck as tears streamed down her face. She refused to yield and shouted back, “You can shout all you want, it’s useless. I cannot be without the two of you. I can’t go on living without you two. So what?! Bite me if you dare!”

Elvis’ and Lea’s chests shuddered painfully on hearing Gu Mengmeng’s angry provocation.

For the first time in their lives, they really wished Gu Mengmeng didn’t love them so much...

Chapter 977 - Aiyo Little Shit, You Didn't Die

Chapter 977: Aiyo Little Shit, You Didn't Die

Elvis clenched his fists tightly for a long time before finally yielding to Gu Mengmeng's tears.

He embraced her and took a deep breath. "I want to protect your smile, but always end up making you cry... I am still too weak."

Snake's last words to him were like a hammer hovering over his heart. Every time Gu Mengmeng endured any suffering, it would strike down upon him viciously.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. "You are already doing very well... really very well..."

"But you are still crying." Elvis held Gu Mengmeng's little face tenderly. He kissed away her tears and looked into her reddened eyes. He said in a voice laced with both warmth and exasperation, "You know I am helpless against your tears, yet you are crying to force me to give in."

Wabei walked over and snorted. "Have you all finished your dilly dallying? Are we still going to retrieve the Soul of the Forest?"

Gu Mengmeng turned her tear-streaked face towards Wabei. "Aiyo little shit, you didn't die..."

Wabei gritted his teeth. "I said before that the only person who can kill me was destroyed by you. So of course I didn't die."

Gu Mengmeng nodded. "Yes, people say that baddies can live up to a thousand years... so you have at least another 200 years to go."

Wabei discovered that he had no advantage at all when faced with Gu Mengmeng.

He could not win her in either a physical fight or a verbal exchange. In the end, he just rolled his eyes in irritation and kept quiet.

But Gu Mengmeng had stopped crying after Wabei's jibing.

Sniffing, she observed her surroundings to discover that they were no longer amongst the blood vines. "Have you all been on the road while I was unconscious?"

Elvis shook his head. "We dare not move you unnecessarily while you were unconscious, in case anything happened. So we stayed put at our original location."

Stayed put at their original location?

Suspicion rose in Gu Mengmeng.

A crystal-clear scenery surrounded them, so pristine that one dared not even touch anything for fear of tainting that purity.

Where had that malevolent forest of blood vines gone?

If the area overtaken by the vines was akin to a blood-drenched webbed cave, then this place was like a palace upon the Jade Lakes in the ninth heavens.

If one looked closely, it was not hard to see that these crystal-like vegetation looked very much like those blood vines...

"This..." Gu Mengmeng stared in a daze for some time, before recalling that right before she fainted, streaks of bright red liquid had gathered in her palm.

She opened her hands to find that the wounds had been completely healed. Not even the tiniest scar was left behind.

Gu Mengmeng mumbled woodenly, “So it wasn’t just a hallucination from being injured. I really absorbed all the blood in those vines into my own body? I... when did I become so hardy?”

Elvis didn’t see the entire process, but he did witness her absorbing the last three vine chrysalis. He couldn’t help feeling worried as he noticed her staring dumbly at her own hands. “Are you feeling any discomfort?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. “At that time, I just felt as if an immense power was entering my body. That feeling has gone.”

Elvis heaved a sigh of relief. “Everything here is so bizarre. We shouldn’t linger on. We must quickly accomplish our task and head home after retrieving the Soul of the Forest.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded in assent. Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng and stood up, intending to continue on the pathway. But those crystal-like vines were full of brambles and thorns, effectively blocking up the way. It was as if they were purposely impeding their progress.

Chapter 978 - Did Your Father Give You Some Extra Pocket Money?

Chapter 978: Did Your Father Give You Some Extra Pocket Money?

It was like supernatural. Gu Mengmeng reached out one hand.

Those blood vines... oh, no, they should be called crystal vines now.

Those crystal vines immediately meshed together to form a human-like hand. It copied Gu Mengmeng's action and gently touched her palm.

A rustling sound ensued and the crystal vines divided into two sides, to reveal a magical paradise right before their very eyes.

Elvis and Lea exchanged a wordless glance.

Leonard stepped forward and bowed towards Gu Mengmeng. "I had come to help but became a burden. This round, let me go ahead first."

Gu Mengmeng just nodded without a word.

Humans were selfish creatures.

She was unwilling to let Elvis and Lea risk their lives again. If something like that chrysalis situation happened to them again, Gu Mengmeng would go mad.

Peter was feeling guilty over his earlier attack on Gu Mengmeng, but he was not a person who would say sorry.

In his view, it was better to do something to make up for one's wrong rather than just saying sorry a hundred times.

Moreover, he did not trust Leonard.

So he just silently tagged alongside Leonard to lead the way with him.

Elvis followed behind them with Gu Mengmeng in his arms, while Lea walked beside him. They covered Gu Mengmeng on both sides to ensure comprehensive protection.

Wabei covered the rear. After all, he had the advantage of being very long. If anything happened, he could just use his tail and carry Gu Mengmeng off.

The party walked along the pathway created by the crystal vines. The scenery was lovely but no one was in the mood to enjoy it.

Gu Mengmeng couldn't bear the heavy silence and prodded Lea. "I just thought of something."

Lea glanced at her and responded with a tender, "Mmm?"

Gu Mengmeng said, "Do you remember at the ocean, I told before that I had a dream where I saw countless streaks of blood burst out in the sky behind you, while you come towards me drenched in blood... and that scene, was exactly the same as what I saw before I fainted."

Lea smiled playfully. "Could it be father-in-law gave you the ability to see the future?"

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. "How could it be? My lonely old man is so petty. He has never actively given me extra pocket money unless I asked for it. He would never give me something like the ability to see the future unless I watch at least eight to ten episodes of television with him."

Lea was used to Gu Mengmeng's grumblings about the Beast Deity. From the initial fluster to being able to make light about it now. He said with a nod, "It could be a coincidence then."

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head doubtfully. “Just a coincidence... that’s also too absurd. The two scenes were exactly the same.”

Lea knew Gu Mengmeng possessed a photographic memory after inheriting Snake’s powers, hence he did not doubt her recollection.

But it was just a dream and Lea didn’t take it to heart. He just caressed Gu Mengmeng’s head and told her not to think too much.

Gu Mengmeng agreed after mulling over it a little more. It was a waste of time to let her thoughts run wild on this. She would just ask her lonely old man the next time she visited him.

As she thought that, a sudden wail resonated through the air.

Having had the earlier scare by those blood vines, Gu Mengmeng immediately went on the alert at that noise.

But nothing appeared to have changed in their surroundings. The only thing that happened was that Leonard had collapsed writhing on the ground. His face was hideously twisted in extreme pain.

Chapter 979 - No One Can Stop A Fool From Seeking Death

Chapter 979: No One Can Stop A Fool From Seeking Death

“Has the poison from the white mist been activated again?” Gu Mengmeng asked doubtfully.

Lea shook his head as he used his body to shield Gu Mengmeng from the front. He turned his head slightly to glance at her. “Don’t you think his expression looks rather familiar?”

Gu Mengmeng frowned, indicating that she did not have any impression of it.

Lea sighed softly. “Oh yes, Cole is a fifth-level beast after all. He did not suffer as much from the counter-damage resulting from his mating contract.”

“Counter-damage?” Gu Mengmeng was momentarily stunned. She suddenly recalled her showdown with Cole, when she had made use of the counter-damage from the mating contract to defeat Cole.”

That day, Cole had been under an immense amount of pain, but it was not as bad as how Leonard was suffering now. Writhing and quivering on the ground.

“Has something happened to Dora?” Gu Mengmeng asked after understanding Lea’s meaning.

Lea nodded. “Probably.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned. She stared helplessly at Leonard’s painful struggle.

There was nothing anyone could do to help him. One could only bear down and endure the counter-damage from the mating contract.

“Zacharias is situated deep in the woods and well-protected, how could something have happened to Dora inside the tribe...” Gu Mengmeng couldn’t understand.

The corners of Lea’s lips curled up in disdain. “As well-protected in the deep woods as Zacharias is, it cannot stop a fool from seeking death.”

Gu Mengmeng sighed and didn’t say anything more. After all, they were now here and none of them could know what was going on out there.

The only thing they could now was to wait and see if Leonard could endure through the counter-damage from his mating contract.

To be honest, despite Snakel’s memories making her immune to the sight of bloodshed, Gu Mengmeng’s heart was gripped by Leonard’s painful wails.

What kind of pain would make this stoic, tough male exhibit such distress?

Blood-shot eyes bulging and torrents of goodness-knows tears or sweat trickling down his face.

“Ah...!” Every howl originated from the depths of his chest. Gu Mengmeng now knew what the phrase heart-rending cries meant.

Sharp claws viciously clutched at his own chest, as if he wanted to dig out his own heart and crush it to end the mind-numbing pain. But something made him endure that urge as he forcibly withheld his claws and stopped himself from really cutting in.

After a long time, when Gu Mengmeng could barely stand to watch him anymore and desperately wished to help him end his suffering, did Leonard finally calm down.

At this moment, he was covered with wounds and looked just like a ghoul that had just crawled out of hell. His eyes were filled with malevolence and he stood up trembling. Disregarding the blood trickling down his wounds, he kept mumbling. "Revenge. I have to avenge Dora... Dora, wait for me... I will come find you after I kill him... don't be afraid, don't be afraid... even in hell, I will come and protect you..."

Leonard kept muttering to himself as he headed back along the way they had come.

Gu Mengmeng didn't stop him but just let him leave.

No one knew if Leonard could endure the white mist. After all, he had fainted on the way here and it was Wabei who had carried him over.

But at this moment, his expression was too resolute. Gu Mengmeng could see clearly that vengeance was his only reason for living now.

But vengeance against whom? And how? Gu Mengmeng didn't know and didn't ask.

Everyone had the right to choose how to live their own lives. Whether through struggling or moping, it was his choice. Others... had no right to interfere.

Chapter 980 - You Finally Have Some Awareness On How To Behave Like A Female

Chapter 980: You Finally Have Some Awareness On How To Behave Like A Female

After Leonard left, Gu Mengmeng kept quiet for a long while as she hugged Elvis' neck. Elvis and Lea thought she was feeling bad after witnessing the earlier scene, as she had a soft heart. But they didn't know how to console her.

They were afraid of saying the wrong thing and making her feel even sadder. Hence, they maintained their silence.

The group continued going forward and Gu Mengmeng finally spoke after some time. "Hubby, I will definitely protect myself well in the future. I will never let you and Lea endure the pain that Leonard suffered."

Elvis and Lea were both shocked, but quickly smiled.

In the Beast World, females are used to viewing themselves as the most precious. It was normal for them to protect themselves at all costs and not subject themselves to any harm. Only their own female liked to charge towards all sorts of danger without even taking a breather.

Lea pinched Gu Mengmeng's cheek with a doting but somewhat exasperated expression. "You finally have some awareness on how to behave like a female."

Elvis also chuckled as he kissed Gu Mengmeng's serious face. "Regardless, it is always a good thing knowing to protect oneself. But please don't forget all about it the moment you turn around."

Gu Mengmeng slapped away Lea's hand before leaning against Elvis' neck. She said in a low voice, "I will not forget, because I cannot bear for you two to suffer. Having seen Leonard in such pain just now, I was thinking if the one writhing on the ground was you or Lea... how my heart would ache..."

From not knowing to avoid danger, and even volunteering to use herself as bait—she now learned the importance of protecting herself for their sakes.

Their hearts were engulfed in warmth.

Kissing Gu Mengmeng's brow, Elvis just said, "Good girl."

After walking for some time, they finally reached the end of the crystal vines. There was just a tree there, with a trunk so thick that one could not measure its width by the number of people needed to surround it hand-in-hand. The base of the trunk was as wide as a soccer field and the nearest branch was even thicker than Wabei's body.

This...

Was probably some great immortal tree?

If it was around during modern times, it would definitely be classified under a protected species.

Gu Mengmeng jumped down from Elvis' arms and walked towards that tree.

Elvis and the rest followed her, but was stopped by an invisible barrier about two hundred meters away. They were unable to step any closer.

Even Wabei was unable to go any nearer try as he might.

Meanwhile, Gu Mengmeng entered without any hindrance.

She turned around and smiled at Elvis and Lea. "Don't worry. I can feel that it doesn't harbor any ill intentions and is not dangerous."

Elvis and Lea both frowned as they recalled the aggressive nature of the blood vines.

If it didn't harbor any ill intentions, why didn't it allow them to proceed?

Gu Mengmeng didn't say anything further and just continued to approach the tree.

The leaves shimmered like jade pieces, layer after layer blocking out the clouds and the sun. Gu Mengmeng looked up to see a leaf fluttering down and landing right in her palm.

Cool and light, it didn't possess the heaviness of a living plant.

Gu Mengmeng scrutinized that leaf, only to see it gradually dissolve and seemingly melt into her palm to enter her body.

An indescribable sense of purification permeated through her body. It was a feeling where one became totally aware of the sublimation of one's blood, organs and even soul. Gu Mengmeng gazed up at the tree for a long time. She was at a loss for words and even forgot what she was supposed to do.

Chapter 981 - Soul of the Forest

Chapter 981: Soul of the Forest

Gu Mengmeng stood under the tree. She appeared to be in a daze but she was actually not thinking about anything.

She was just feeling the changes in her body, wholeheartedly focusing on experiencing the indescribable changes occurring inside of her.

After a long time, until the changes finally stopped did she finally raise her hand and gently hold it against a thick tree branch.

Thereafter, a young sprout grew out from the spot where she had a finger on. It had just two tiny tendrils with baby leaves still curled in the early stages of growth. It was a tender green color that shone with a natural sense of vibrancy.

A soft crackling sound.

That tender sprout dropped off the tree branch and fell right onto Gu Mengmeng's palm.

"This should be the Soul of the Forest..." Gu Mengmeng murmured.

The barrier blocking Elvis and the rest disappeared at the same time the sprout fell off. They dashed to Gu Mengmeng's side and Elvis immediately engulfed her deep in his arms. He only relaxed after making sure she was completely unharmed.

Hearing Elvis' breath of relief, Gu Mengmeng gently hooked his chin and let him see the sprout in her palm. "I got the Soul of the Forest."

Elvis had never cared much for Chixuan, and so had no regard for this ransom at all.

But this lousy twig was something Gu Mengmeng spent a lot of effort to retrieve, so he didn't want to burst her happy bubble. So he glanced at it and said mildly, "Mmm, keep it properly. Let's go back."

Gu Mengmeng nodded. She wrapped the Soul of the Forest in a small piece of animal hide before storing it in the pocket of her snake skin.

The road back was rather uneventful and nothing unexpected happened.

But when they exited the crystal vines area, they could not find the entryway amongst the white mist.

It wasn't that they couldn't find it, but...

There were too many and they didn't know which was the correct one.

The entryways all looked exactly the same, and even the mark that Lea made had been replicated.

"This..." Gu Mengmeng didn't know what to do. Would anything bad happen if they just picked anyone to enter?

As they hesitated, a familiar voice sounded out from one of the doors.

"Ah Gu, I have come to fetch you."

With that, Cole emerged halfway from the white mist. He still had one foot back in the mist.

With half his body popping out of the white mist, he reached out one hand in a welcoming gesture.

Gu Mengmeng frowned unhappily.

Although Cole's appearance solved the dilemma of which door to enter. It didn't overcome the annoyance she felt whenever she saw him.

"Why are you here?" Gu Mengmeng asked curtly. She would not be kind to him just because he had pointed them to the right doorway. But she would also not purposely avoid the correct entry just because it was Cole who had shown the way.

Elvis understood Gu Mengmeng's intentions, and so just bypassed Cole as he entered the entryway.

He had just taken one step in when the white mist started to churn, as if being sucked by a tornado. Wave after wave swirled in a strong turbulence before finally gushing towards Gu Mengmeng.

After being stunned for a moment, Gu Mengmeng took out the Soul of the Forest from her pocket.

As expected, the white mist was immediately absorbed into the Soul of the Forest like water swirling down a bathtub drainage.

Gu Mengmeng smirked. "So planting trees is indeed the solution to preventing haze..."

Chapter 982 - Do You Intend To Accept That Fish?

Chapter 982: Do You Intend To Accept That Fish?

Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng as they made their way back, and the white mist followed them as it continued being sucked into the Soul of the Forest.

By the time they reached the halfway mark, visibility had become much higher and they could at least see each other's hazy silhouette.

Only then did Cole speak, "Ah Gu, do you intend to accept that fish?"

Gu Mengmeng frowned. At the same time, she could feel strong murderous vibes emanating from Elvis and Lea.

She had already explained to them about Fei Rui and they had believed her "for the moment". But it was still a sore topic. Those two would be bothered by this issue as long as she hadn't sent Fei Rui back to the ocean.

But Gu Mengmeng only had herself to blame for blurting out such a lousy reason to deflect Dora...

Speaking of Dora... Gu Mengmeng's expression darkened as she looked at Cole.

There weren't too many people around when she claimed that she wanted to accept Fei Rui. Apart from the group with her now, only Dora, Leonard and the witch doctor Nick was present.

So, how did Cole know of this matter?

Gu Mengmeng furrowed her brows as she linked this thought to Leonard suffering from the counter-damage of his mating contract. But she pursed her lips and didn't say a word.

Cole gave a low laugh, as if trying to suppress his amusement. He looked up with eyes that looked just like Lea's. Obscured by the white mist, his expression was ambiguous while his voice was laced with a glee that made the others around him feel very uncomfortable. "I find that you look really good when you are focusing your thoughts on me."

Gu Mengmeng snorted with disdain. She remained silent and just turned away.

She felt very rather aggrieved as Cole was right in a way. She had indeed been "thinking" about him.

Cole's smile deepened as he observed her reaction—which he had, in his twisted mind, taken for bashfulness rather than the disgust that it was. "Ha, alright. I won't tease you. If you wish to know, I will tell you."

Gu Mengmeng had no interest. Actually, she could already more or less guess what happened. The truth of the matter couldn't be much different from her own surmise.

The most important thing was she didn't wish to hear Cole speak.

Just his mouth made her recoil in disgust.

But Cole didn't wish to let go of this opportunity to make himself felt in Gu Mengmeng's presence. He forged on as if talking to himself. "You should have realized this long ago? That fool Dora, how could she possibly have the brains to devise such a good plan. It was I who taught her to frame Melinda."

With that, Cole paused before laughing scornfully. "But she was very good at instigating others. I had just casually offered her a few pointers, and she carried everything out perfectly. She instigated Carter to snatch the Mermaid Tribe's territory and injure Fei Rui... ha, she still thought that when Fei Rui lost everything and had nowhere else to go, he would become hers."

As expected, Cole had a hand in this matter.

Coincidence? No way.

Gu Mengmeng had actually not linked this to Cole at the beginning. But after he admitted to everything, Gu Mengmeng found that she was totally unsurprised.

How to explain? It was like the idea of him being linked to everything bad that happened in this world was not at all far-fetched.

In Gu Mengmeng's mind, the name Cole was already synonymous with the root of all evil.

Lifting her eyes, Gu Mengmeng asked in a cold voice, "Since she was such a useful pawn, why kill her?"

The white mist had dispelled quite a bit. Cole was also standing rather near Gu Mengmeng, and she could clearly see his expression.

His dark, almond eyes held a trace of affection that looked rather creepy. "You like Fei Rui, right? How could I permit others to covet something which you like?"

Chapter 983 - Normal People Would Never Understand A Crazy Man's World

Chapter 983: Normal People Would Never Understand A Crazy Man's World

“Just because of that?” Gu Mengmeng didn’t like Dora, but she never wished for her death.

Gu Mengmeng would feel very dismayed if her lie had caused a precious female to lose her life.

Especially...

After personally witnessing the pain that Leonard had suffered.

Cole mulled over this for a moment before shaking his head. “It was one of the reasons, but not the only one. The female Dora... was just too foolish.”

Gu Mengmeng couldn’t understand. Sometimes, she really wished to try to understand just what Cole was thinking. As this might enable her to find a way to rescue Chixuan from his hands.

But no matter how hard Gu Mengmeng tried, she was unable to succeed.

Normal people would never understand a crazy man’s world.

Cole gazed into Gu Mengmeng’s eyes. He looked beyond disgust and just appreciated the way those eyes focused on him.

He chuckled. How pure those eyes were.

If he could infuse those eyes with 30% of bloodthirstiness, 30% of cruelty, 30% of malevolence and 10% of desire for himself—how perfect would that be?

But it didn't matter. Slowly and steadily, he would accomplish that.

Even if she couldn't do it, he would just gradually infuse it all bit by bit into her eyes.

Cole said with a mild chuckle, "As a reward for her obedience, I gave her a team of underwater stray beasts to help her accomplish her goal and capture Fei Rui. But she was too greedy and not only wished to kidnap Fei Rui, but to also kill Melinda... ha, she even got ideas about you. She wanted to snatch away the Kiss of the Ocean... using my men to rob my woman of my things. Don't you agree that she was an utmost fool?"

Gu Mengmeng gritted her teeth. "I am not your woman."

Cole turned a deaf ear to Gu Mengmeng's declaration. Anyway, no matter what Gu Mengmeng said now, she would belong to him sooner or later.

Of course, in the entire world, only Cole thought that.

Seeing Cole's expression, Gu Mengmeng just felt like killing him now.

But she didn't dare to make a move. She didn't know if Chixuan would just leap out of nowhere the moment she made to strike Cole.

She had no way to deal with Cole as long as she couldn't get Chixuan back.

That was why he dared to behave in such an impudent manner before her, wantonly disgusting her without any qualms, right?!

"That foolish female. She kept emphasizing how noble her love was. She said although her methods were a bit despicable, it was only because she loved Fei Rui so much... Did you know—she even showed off her pure body to me and said she was reserving her first time for Fei Rui, and wanted him to become her first partner. Ha, that look of longing in her eyes for such a blissful future life—it made one just feel like destroying it. So during her imprisonment, I used a bit of Fox Seductive Fragrance to let those male fishes trample her ridiculous dream into dust... but unfortunately, her despondent look was rather ugly. It even made me feel rather down.”

Cole spoke as if he was discussing a failed piece of artwork. No matter how close to perfection it was during the process of creating it, it still ended up a mess, unable to return to its original state.

Gu Mengmeng frowned as she listened to Cole’s recount of the events. Dora choosing to cooperate with Cole was like making a deal with the devil.

She was not innocent and could even be said to have brought it all upon herself.

But Gu Mengmeng couldn’t help feeling some pity for Dora as she listened to Cole’s narration.

Perhaps this was what it meant by even the most hateful people had something pitiable about them.

Chapter 984 - A Little Trick?

Chapter 984: A Little Trick?

“I had planned to just let Dora die.” Cole continued, but he suddenly laughed. “But I accidentally discovered something interesting. A tiger who was at the seaside fell in love with a female from the Mermaid Tribe. Unfortunately, the tiger was unable to survive in the deep ocean, while the females of the Mermaid Tribe were a rare breed and would never leave the sea unnecessarily.”

Tiger?

Ha, wasn't Leonard a tiger.

Gu Mengmeng sneered. “Why tarnish the word ‘accident’? Didn't you choose to use Dora right from the start because of this additional value of hers?”

Cole's eyes brightened. He looked at Gu Mengmeng with obvious approval. “Ah Gu is really Ah Gu. Completely different from those other foolish females.”

Gu Mengmeng did not feel at all delighted by Cole's praise.

She stared at Cole in a chilly silence.

Cole kept smiling and said in a hapless manner, “Alright, I admit it. Right from the start, I knew the female mermaid who Leonard had fallen in love with was Dora. But Dora's heart was set on Fei Rui. She just refused to go with Leonard. So I had to play a little trick to bring those two lovebirds together.”

A little trick?

Ha, Gu Mengmeng really despised Cole to the core.

He used such a simple phrase to gloss over the torment Dora had endured in that prison.

He had used the Fox Seductive Fragrance to lure those male fishes to desecrate Dora. He had done it partly because of his base sense of humor, but mostly to destroy Dora mentally and cast her into deep despair.

Only then would Leonard's appearance seem like a lifeline for Dora—where she would throw herself into his embrace and hold onto him tightly.

Meanwhile, Leonard remained in the dark. Driven by the torment and pain that his loved one was enduring, he ended up being led step by step into Cole's trap, .

And there was one very important point among this entire thing—which was Cole accurately surmised that Dora would never get Fei Rui.

Because the moment Dora obtained Fei Rui, she would pour her entire efforts onto him and never do anything else for Cole again.

In other words, from the first moment Cole started negotiations with Dora, he had no intention of letting her get Fei Rui.

He had deceived her right from the start.

And Dora probably only realized this right before her death.

Making use of Fei Rui to string Dora along, to make her instigate Carter to imprison Melinda and force Fei Rui to the brink of despair. And then spreading the news of the Kiss of the Ocean to Fei Rui so that he would naturally seek out Gu Mengmeng at Saint Nazaire so that he could save his sister. As for what happened after, Cole didn't even need to interfere much. He just needed to nudge a few of the pawns at the appropriate times to easily attain his goal.

After Leonard saved Dora, he once again used Fei Rui to incite Dora.

To have ended up in such a pitiful state all for Fei Rui's sake, Dora would never be content unless she got him.

So Dora would definitely listen to Cole. She persuaded Leonard to take in the former members of the tribe which attacked the Snake King valley, and then head to Sauder to file an appeal, using the Soul of the Forest in exchange for Gu Mengmeng's pardon.

Ha, so this was Cole's real motive for insisting that Gu Mengmeng go to Sauder before winter?

He had to ensure that when Leonard went to "file an appeal", he would meet Gu Mengmeng then.

With this line of thought...

Gu Mengmeng took a deep breath and stared coldly at Cole. "So you were the one who orchestrated the attack on the Snake King valley?"

Chapter 985 - You Are Filthy

Chapter 985: You Are Filthy

Cole's face brightened as he gazed at Gu Mengmeng. He said expectantly, "My Ah Gu is just too smart. Tell me quick, what else have you thought of? If you guess correctly, I will tell you everything."

Gu Mengmeng gritted her teeth. She turned away and refused to look at Cole.

She didn't wish to talk to Cole anymore.

She was afraid that she would lose control of herself and kill Cole.

She was even more worried that she might smack herself to death on impulse.

There were clues everywhere. Why hadn't she noticed them earlier?

The stray beasts attacking them underwater. A team made up of hundreds of them all killed until only a few were left. Carter suffered such serious injuries while the weaker Fei Rui only had a few minor, superficial scratches.

And she had realized then that the stray beasts were intentionally focusing their attack on Melinda, but had thought they were doing so just to keep Carter's and Fei Rui's hands tied.

Now that she was thinking of it, it was all part of Dora's ploy to kill Melinda and snatch Fei Rui away.

But there was one thing that Gu Mengmeng simply couldn't understand. Melinda was Fei Rui's sister and did not pose any threat to Dora. Why did she hate Melinda so much that she would even gamble the chance to kidnap Fei Rui just so she could kill Melinda on the spot?

Was the sister of her desired lover such an unbearable relation?

Or had some other conflict occurred between Dora and Melinda?

She couldn't understand and there was no one to ask.

Dora was already dead. The reason behind why she couldn't stand Melinda had become a thing of the past, following Dora to the grave.

Gu Mengmeng didn't pursue the matter but just buried her face in the crook of Elvis's neck. She whispered, "I am tired, I am going to sleep for awhile."

"Mmm, go ahead." Elvis supported Gu Mengmeng's buttocks with one hand, while his other hand held her back, petting her rhythmically.

Lea had been standing in between Gu Mengmeng and Cole all along, and now casually situated his bushy tail to block Cole's view of her.

Never mind if his Mengmeng wished to talk to Cole. But now that she wanted to sleep, that creep Cole still had the cheek to watch?

Cole chuckled at Lea. "Ninth Highness, you lose your cool too easily. Such childish behavior... ha, it just makes me feel so ashamed that I have been treating you as an opponent."

Lea remained expressionless and just stared disdainfully at Cole. "Childish? But my Mengmeng calls this preserving one's childlike innocence. She really likes this aspect of me."

Lea was completely unfazed by Cole's taunting. He might have fallen into Cole's trap in the past, at the very least being emotionally roused.

But while engraving the "Thirty-Six Stratagems" on the meeting room wall, Gu Mengmeng had explained to them the gist of those stratagems. These past weeks, when he had nothing else to do, he would study more into the stratagems, and was now rather well-versed in them.

It would not be as easy as before if Cole wished to use those tricks to entrap him again.

Cole also knew Lea had learned the “Thirty-Six Stratagems” and so never expected to succeed in inciting him. He was just tossing out a remark to test him.

“Ha.” Cole chuckled. “It is all thanks to Ah Gu that Ninth Highness has matured so. My interest in her is piqued to the maximum. Even a simple person like you can be groomed to this stage, so if she was with me...”

Lea’s gaze frosted over as his eyes filled with scorn. His voice was calm and without any rage. This plain, flat manner of speaking actually made him sound all the more convincing. “My Mengmeng will never be with you. Because... you are filthy.”

Chapter 986 - Seeking Revenge

Chapter 986: Seeking Revenge

Cole laughed but didn't respond and didn't appear angry.

Filthy?

It wouldn't matter if Ah Gu became as filthy as he was.

So as long she liked it, no matter how many males it took, he would send them to her bed. Allowing her to pick whoever she wanted and however she wished to play.

As long as he was the last person to stand beside her. All was good.

Cole didn't say anything more and Lea couldn't be bothered to waste any more words on him.

The group kept silent until the white mist was completely absorbed into the Soul of the Forest. They saw then that under the white mist was a natural archway created by interweaving tree branches. It was like those ceremonial arches used in the royal weddings between princes and princesses. Dappled sunlight shone through, infusing the archway with a warm and romantic feel.

If not for Wabei and Cole's presence, this scene would be utterly romantic.

Gu Mengmeng didn't wish to talk to Cole and he also didn't speak up.

They finally reached the end of the walkway. Gu Mengmeng had been leaning on Elvis' shoulder, facing the road behind them.

Even without turning around, Gu Mengmeng could feel a chilly, murderous vibe emanating from behind her.

The intention to kill was not aimed at her. Anyway, even if she was just a normal female without the powers of a Beast King, with Elvis, Lea and Wabei around—no one would be able to cause her any harm.

She turned around to see what was going on.

Only to be faced with Leonard's bloodshot eyes. Gu Mengmeng frowned.

"You are seeking revenge." Gu Mengmeng murmured softly. It was not a question, but a statement of fact.

On the way back, Cole had admitted to killing Dora. So it was obvious just who Leonard was waiting for.

Cole didn't seem at all surprised by Leonard's appearance. His lips curled up slightly in a cool smile. "You have disappointed me again... Little Xuan."

Gu Mengmeng shuddered at his last two words. She had been nonchalant about the ongoings, but was now frantically searching the surroundings.

Little Xuan...

Chixuan?!

The smell of blood filled her nose and after analyzing the scents for a long while, Gu Mengmeng could detect that one of them belonged to Chixuan.

Cole wasn't lying to her. Chixuan was here and he was injured.

She shot a harsh look at Cole, but he just shrugged innocently. "It was Little Xuan himself who begged to be allowed to stop Leonard so that I could go in to fetch you. I was just following Little Xuan's wishes."

Leonard was a fourth-level beast. Even after suffering counter-damage from the mating contract, the difference between him and the newly evolved first-level Chixuan was too great. How could Chixuan hope to defeat Leonard?

Cole had just pushed Chixuan onto the road to death.

With fists tightly clenched, Gu Mengmeng spat out the words through gritted teeth. “Cole!”

Cole chuckled. His expression showed that he was enjoying something that was obviously bitter as if it was as sweet as malt sugar. “Ah Gu, you are looking at me with such focus again... it feels so good.”

“I am going to kill you!” Gu Mengmeng’s eyes were bloodshot with hatred.

But Cole just laughed even more happily. He gazed appreciatively at Gu Mengmeng. “Mmm, tear open my chest and use my blood to christen your bloody reign. I will be honored to become the first soul to fall under you. I am not afraid of the lonely road to death as Little Xuan will be by my side.”

A threat. It was a clear threat.

Cole was saying that if he died, Chixuan would die with him.

And Gu Mengmeng was not confident of preventing it.

Chapter 987 - What He Wanted Was To Destroy The Happiness Of Others. Gu Mengmeng was being trapped on both sides by Cole. S

Chapter 987: What He Wanted Was To Destroy The Happiness Of Others.

Gu Mengmeng was being trapped on both sides by Cole. She clenched her fists to control herself, trembling all over.

At the same time, Leonard was already charging over.

He didn't care that he was already drenched in blood and didn't care that he was no match for the fourth-level Cole. He had already been blinded by hatred, and killing Cole was his only reason for living.

But just as Leonard reached Cole, he was suddenly struck still by a snide "kneel down" command issued by Cole.

Leonard started spasming uncontrollably, before actually kneeling down.

Gu Mengmeng was astonished. She could not detect any beast pressure from Cole at all, but Leonard was completely stunned from fear.

This...

Cole looked up to enjoy Gu Mengmeng's surprised gaze. He smiled. "Ah Gu, do you see now? My existence in this world is one of a kind. And I have reserved the position by my side for you. The minute you give your assent, you will be my mistress. I am willing to bend over for you and prop you up to a higher status overlooking this world."

“No need,” Gu Mengmeng said curtly. She gestured for Elvis to bring her away.

Gu Mengmeng felt some pity towards Leonard.

A person who hated stray beasts so much had now turned into a stray beast himself. And he even had to bow down at his enemy’s feet without the ability to resist.

Gu Mengmeng now understood what Lea had said earlier, that Cole didn’t derive pleasure from the kill, but from the despairing expressions of his struggling victims.

What he wanted was to destroy the happiness of others.

But Gu Mengmeng was unable to help Leonard in his misfortune.

After all, he had chosen Dora himself. He was the one who took in the ex-members of the tribe who attacked the Snake King valley, and offered the Soul of the Forest in exchange for their pardon. He was also the one who left Dora behind to follow Gu Mengmeng to seek out the Soul of the Forest. Every step had been taken on his own volition. Who else could be blamed for his current state?

Cole had made use of Dora to scheme against Gu Mengmeng, but Gu Mengmeng had never directly caused any harm to others. She would never blame herself for the choices of others, or have thoughts such as—if not for me, things would not have turned out this way.

She was only thinking about the whereabouts of her son. How he was now.

Elvis knew Gu Mengmeng well and so didn’t waste any words. He just quickly carried Gu Mengmeng out of the walkway, and scanned the surroundings. He spied Chixuan sprawled beneath a tree, not far off.

He was not in human form and had obviously been beaten back to his original state.

If not for the slight rise and fall of his belly region indicating that he was still alive, Gu Mengmeng would have just fainted over.

Lea immediately went up and started treating Chixuan.

Frowning, Lea cursed in his heart: That damn Leonard. Why did he have to be so heavy-handed? If Cole didn't kill him now, he would personally do so!

Beating Chixuan into such a state. Mengmeng would be so heartbroken.

"Lea, how is Chixuan?" Gu Mengmeng spoke softly, as if she was afraid any loud noises might cause further injury to her son. But as soft as her words were, she couldn't mask the quiver in her voice.

This son was always a drag on her heart, causing her unbearable pain.

Lea took a deep breath before turning to look at Gu Mengmeng. He raised his eyebrows. "Mengmeng, promise me that you have to remain calm."

Gu Mengmeng's body went slack at his words. She laid haplessly in Elvis' arms, trying to hold back her tears. "Will he... die?"

Lea lowered his eyes and frowned deeply. He didn't answer directly. "I will try my best to protect him, but you must take good care of yourself. Because if anything happens to you, I will definitely tend to you first."

Chapter 988 - Chixuan Has Died?

Chapter 988: Chixuan Has Died?

Gu Mengmeng nodded. She knew this.

Lea had already told her this during last year's winter, when Elvis pretended to faint to create an opportunity for Lea.

The moment anything happened to her, Lea would disregard the life and death of anyone else, and tend to her first.

So if she wished to let Lea focus on treating Chixuan, she had to moderate her own emotions. She could not let herself fall into a state which would end up distracting Lea.

Lea held Gu Mengmeng by the shoulders as he watched her face settle into a resolute and calm expression. Only then did he exchange a look with Elvis, before proceeding to treat Chixuan.

Chixuan had suffered numerous broken bones throughout his body, caused by massive external trauma.

His organs were heavily damaged too, which must have been caused by the refusal to yield under the disparity in beast pressure.

Fluids were quickly accumulating in his lungs, while blood trickled out of his lips continuously. His gaze was starting to slacken, but he appeared to be struggling to look towards a certain direction.

Lea followed Chixuan's line of sight. It was not aimed at Gu Mengmeng, but at Cole.

"Kid, listen to me." Lea pinched Chixuan's mouth and forced his face near his. "If you die, your mother will kill Cole in a fit of rage. And every tear your mother shed for you will be placed upon Cole's head. I will perform a Heaven Opening Rite and have Cole suffer for eternity, with no chance to ever reincarnate. I am a witch doctor and the Paladin of the Snow fox tribe. I have the ability to do so, you know that.”

“If you wish to save Cole, you better grit your teeth and endure. As painful as it is, you better live on.” With that, Lea focused his energy in his palm and struck Chixuan’s chest to create an opening to purge the accumulated fluids.

Gu Mengmeng’s heart ached as she watched this, but she was hapless.

This lousy generation with no anesthetic at all. Gu Mengmeng really wished she could offer up her own chest to relieve Chixuan of his pain.

But she couldn’t make a sound. She couldn’t even shed a single tear.

Because any show of emotion would distract Lea.

Using her own hands to cover her mouth tightly, Gu Mengmeng stared fixedly at Chixuan. Leonard emitted terrible wails from behind, but Gu Mengmeng was not the least bit moved.

Her son had been beaten up by Leonard.

This was a score that neither Cole nor Leonard could ever settle.

“Pfft...” Chixuan spurted a mouthful of blood mouth directly onto Lea’s face.

Oblivious, Lea just continued treating Chixuan.

Cole walked to Gu Mengmeng’s side and observed Chixuan and Lea with arms akimbo. A sneer hung across his face, completely devoid of any love and concern for Chixuan.

Chixuan’s body was twitching violently, and his pupils had already glazed over. He was obviously unable to hold on any longer.

And then...

Chixuan's body gradually calmed down.

He was no longer twitching.

In fact...

He was not moving at all.

Gu Mengmeng couldn't control herself any longer. She gave a low sob.

Lea stood up and walked to Gu Mengmeng's side. He couldn't bear to witness her bloodshot eyes and lowered his head, "Mengmeng, I am sorry..."

"Ah..." Gu Mengmeng's mental state was shattered at Lea's words. She shook her head stubbornly. "No, don't be sorry... Lea, I beg of you. Please save Chixuan..."

"I..." If I had a way, would I bear to let you shed even one tear?

Lea felt choked. He was unable to say a single word of comfort.

Cole chuckled as he hooked Gu Mengmeng's chin with one hand. Before Elvis made his move on him, he quickly said, "I said before that unless both you and I agree, Little Xuan will not die."

Chapter 989 - In Exchange For You

Chapter 989: In Exchange For You

Gu Mengmeng widened her eyes and glared at Cole. “If you are lying to me, I will tear you to pieces.”

Cole chuckled as he loosened his hold on Gu Mengmeng’s chin. He reached out his palm. “Give me the Soul of the Forest.”

Gu Mengmeng immediately handed the Soul of the Forest over to Cole.

Cole also didn’t waste any time but just turned and squatted by Chixuan’s side. He placed the tiny sprout on Chixuan’s brow.

That sprout dissolved into Chixuan’s brow area like how that leaf had done so earlier in Gu Mengmeng’s palm. It disappeared without a trace.

A mark like a tattoo appeared on Chixuan’s forehead. It was in the shape of a sprout with only two leaves, one of which was in the midst of unfurling, while the other continued to be curled up like an infant.

A miraculous sight unfolded before Gu Mengmeng’s eyes. The injuries on Chixuan’s body were recovering rapidly, while the rise and fall of his abdomen became more obvious and more rhythmic.

Lea went back to Chixuan’s side, and pulled back his eyelids to study his pupils. He then turned to look at Gu Mengmeng with a smile and a nod.

Gu Mengmeng breathed a sigh of relief. She felt as if her heart had finally settled back into her chest.

Cole tilted his head and looked at Gu Mengmeng. “Ah Gu, I have saved Little Xuan again. How are you... going to repay me?”

“Repay?” Gu Mengmeng was so angry that her eyes were nearly dripping venom and the veins in her fists all bulging. She said in a curt manner, “You nearly caused my son to die. How do you think I should ‘repay’ you?”

Cole looked at Gu Mengmeng with an innocent expression. “It was Little Xuan himself who chose to stay and battle Leonard. He is an adult and should take responsibility for his own actions, right? Anyway, Leonard was the one who injured Little Xuan and I have already shattered all his bones inch by inch in revenge. I have also used the Soul of the Forest to save Little Xuan’s life... the Kiss of the Ocean and the Soul of the Forest are part of the ransom you promised me. And I have used those precious treasures on Little Xuan. Shouldn’t you show me some gratitude?”

Why did Gu Mengmeng suddenly feel like she was at a loss for words?

His world view was so twisted that Gu Mengmeng didn’t know how to retort.

There was a saying that went “a tree without its bark would definitely die, but a human without shame would be invincible.”

This time, she had seen it all.

He had harmed her son so many times, but wanted her to turn around and show him gratitude?!

“I can cut off your head, what do you think?” Gu Mengmeng clenched her fists, feeling a desperate urge to just smash his brains in.”

But Cole just chuckled. He glanced around at the still-unconscious Chixuan. “You don’t want your newly rescued son anymore?”

“You...!” Gu Mengmeng was trembling from anger. But she was helpless because of Chixuan, and could only grit her teeth and say, “What do you want before you will finally let go of Chixuan?”

Cole tapped his chin and gazed into the sky, pretending to mull over this for a long while before replying, “In exchange for you, how about that? If you remain by my side I will let Chixuan go and allow him to leave me.”

“Give me another condition.” Gu Mengmeng would never agree to Cole’s preferred condition. Because if she did, it would be like pushing Elvis and Lea to their death.

Cole reluctantly considered the matter again, before pointing at Gu Mengmeng’s left ear. “Cut off your left ear for me, how about that?”

Left ear...

That was where Lea’s mating mark was located.

Gu Mengmeng held her left ear. She lifted her head with a smile. “Someone already owns my left ear. How about my right ear?”

Chapter 990 - Chixuan Gets Promoted

Chapter 990: Chixuan Gets Promoted

If she could get back her son by giving up one ear, Gu Mengmeng would not hesitate at all.

Cole shook his head. His gaze was cool. “You know I don’t want to harm you... why provoke my jealousy? I cannot bear to hurt you and have no choice but to vent my anger elsewhere. What do you think of changing Chixuan’s name? Instead of Chixuan, let’s call him Pond Fish, as in the fish in the pond who gets sacrificed when the pond water is drained to put out a fire.”

“Using Chixuan time and again to threaten me, aren’t you tired of it?” Gu Mengmeng was truly filled with hatred. She swore that the moment Chixuan was no longer so blindly loyal to Cole, she would personally tear Cole to pieces.

Cole didn’t mind and just smiled. “It doesn’t matter if a method has been used before, as long as it is effective. Little Xuan is your weak spot, as long as I have him, you can’t do anything to me, right? You are obviously aching to bite me to death now, but even if I magnanimously offer you my throat, you will still suppress that rage and desire... ha, Ah Gu, it must be so tiring to be you. Why don’t you loosen up a little? The moment you break through these shackles, your soul will taste freedom...”

Break through these shackles?

Ha, the shackles he was referring to was her son!

Heartless words could be uttered by anyone. But if one could not carry out the deed, it was just a bunch of worthless words.

Gu Mengmeng didn't wish to waste another drop of saliva on Cole. She just glared viciously at him.

She wanted to etch this heartache and rage deep inside her mind, so that she could settle this score with him in future.

“Oohh...” Chixuan emitted a soft sound. Gu Mengmeng's attention swung back to Chixuan, as she jumped down from Elvis' arms towards him. She held him carefully as she asked, “Chixuan, tell mummy, are you feeling better? Any pain? Mmm?”

Chixuan wriggled his limbs, before gradually morphing into human form in Gu Mengmeng's arms.

Gu Mengmeng surveyed Chixuan and found that he didn't have a single scar. She felt his arms and legs—his bones had also grown back properly. Only then did she relax and her heart settle down.

Chixuan looked at Gu Mengmeng with pursed lips, as if he didn't know what to say.

As long as he continued to follow Cole, Gu Mengmeng would be under his control. He did feel guilty as he watched Gu Mengmeng once again give way after being forced into a hapless corner. But he could not stop himself.

He wanted to say “sorry mother”, but how could such a simple phrase express his deep regret?

Moreover, if he didn't repent, what was the use of saying “sorry”?

He then wanted to say “mother, don't bother about me in future”, but he knew that Gu Mengmeng was not like other females. If she could be just a little more selfish and not care about his life and death, then she wouldn't be so helplessly played Cole, so much so that she could do nothing but shed tears.

If only mother was a little more selfish, then he wouldn't feel such emotional turmoil.

But...

Mother was not him. She didn't possess a ruthless heart and selfish personality like him.

In the end, Chixuan didn't say a single word to Gu Mengmeng. He just stood up and put on a fur skin dress. He then stood erect before Gu Mengmeng to let her look at him through tear-stained eyes, before turning around and returning to Cole's side. His head was lowered and his brows deeply furrowed.

Cole gently caressed Chixuan's head. "My good Little Xuan, you have benefited from this tribulation. Not only did you not die, you have been promoted. Ha, you are truly a son under my care. The most exceptional one in the litter."

Chapter 991 - Ah Gu, Are You Inviting Me To Come Along?

Chapter 991: Ah Gu, Are You Inviting Me To Come Along?

Gu Mengmeng saw that Cole was going to lead Chixuan away and she held on. “Chixuan, it’s been a long while since mummy last saw you. Stay with me for a few days, alright? Just a few days...”

Chixuan kept quiet and just looked at Cole while twisting his lips.

Cole smiled wordlessly, with a “make your own decision” attitude.

Gu Mengmeng ignored Cole and just went to stand in front of Chixuan. Her eyes were filled with a pathetic pleading. “Your brothers are also here in the stray beast camp. They have just evolved into first-level beasts. You have not seen their evolved form, right? Go visit them to take a look?”

Chixuan maintained his silence as he once again looked at Cole.

Gu Mengmeng bit her lips. She never imagined there would be a day when she had to plead with a man to keep her son by her side. And that man wasn’t even the father of her child.

She had never been in such a pathetic state in her romantic relationships. All that was reserved for her son.

Gu Mengmeng swiveled around but with her hand still tightly clasped around Chixuan’s wrist, as if afraid that he would run away the moment she turned.

Gu Mengmeng bit her lips as she looked at Cole. “I want Chixuan to stay with me for a few days.”

“Please.” Cole clasped his hands behind his back in a nonchalant manner. But his smile was cunning and cold, with just a trace of provocation.

It indicated that as long he didn’t say “okay”, Chixuan would never agree.

Gu Mengmeng took a deep breath. “Isn’t the stray beast camp your territory? Since you are already here, why not head over to take a look?”

Cole chuckled. He fingered a few stray wisps of hair in front of Gu Mengmeng’s forehead. “Ah Gu, are you inviting me to come along?”

Gu Mengmeng suppressed her sense of revulsion and glared at Cole with gritted teeth.

Cole appeared oblivious to the disgust in her eyes and nodded cheerfully. “Since Ah Gu invited me, how can I reject? I will accompany you wherever you go.”

Gu Mengmeng flicked her head to pull back her own hair before turning to look expectantly at Chixuan.

Chixuan said in the softest voice, “I will go wherever he goes.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and hugged Chixuan.

Now that Chixuan was as tall as an adult male, Gu Mengmeng could no longer hold him like a child. She was only as tall as his chest and could only circle his waist. Even so, her maternal embrace was full of tenderness, warming Chixuan’s heart.

Gu Mengmeng didn’t let Elvis carry her, but insisted on holding onto Chixuan’s hand, refusing to let go for even a moment.

Elvis’ heart ached for the fact that she had to walk on these rocky mountain roads. Although she was wearing a pair of animal hide shoes, the soles were too thin. Her feet were so soft and delicate that she would get blisters if she walked more than 500 meters. If she were to make it all the way back to the stray beast camp, her feet would be ground to the bone.

Hence Elvis morphed into his beast form and carried Gu Mengmeng on his back. He did not mind that most mounts in the Beast World were just beast pets who had no chance of ever becoming a partner. It was the lowest and most contemptuous position in the family.

But he didn't care how others viewed him. He was good with it as long as his Xiao Meng didn't suffer.

Because of Cole's presence, there was much less conversation and laughter on the way back. Peter was worried about Natalie and so went ahead first, sprinting back to the stray beast camp in beast mode. Wabei kept throwing bored looks at Gu Mengmeng. He tried to provoke her multiple times, but Gu Mengmeng had no eyes for anyone now except Chixuan. She didn't even bother to reprimand him. It was very boring.

Chapter 992 - The Mark Has Changed

Gu Mengmeng didn't have time to bother about him. Elvis was carrying Gu Mengmeng and also didn't have time to bother about him. Lea was free, but he was just a fourth-level beast and not good enough for fighting...

Therefore, Wabei focused his attention on Cole.

"I heard you were the king of stray beasts?" Wabei asked.

Cole chuckled. "Would I dare to call myself a king before the great Wabei."

Wabei really didn't like such pretentious people. He harrumphed. "I saw that you were being rather arrogant when putting the squeeze on Gu Mengmeng earlier. Why so cowardly now?"

Cole didn't get angry. "I have always been respectful towards people whom I cannot afford to offend."

It was true that Cole couldn't win Wabei in a fight.

There was once a person who could defeat Wabei, and that was Snake. A pity he was already dead.

Now, only Gu Mengmeng could win Wabei, but unfortunately she was otherwise occupied...

Wabei intoned: It was so boring and meaningless when one had no worthy opponents...

Wabei glanced askance at Cole. "Be a coward if you must, why spout so much nonsense?"

Without even bothering to wait for Cole's response, Wabei just walked straight to Gu Mengmeng's side. "Gu Mengmeng, what's our next step? When are we getting in a fight? I have hibernated an entire winter and my bones are all stiff!"

Gu Mengmeng shot Wabei an impatient glare. "Do you think I have violent tendencies? Where to squeeze out so many fights for you. Don't bother me when I am taking care of my son."

Wabei pointed at Chixuan. "He is already a grown male, does he still need you to take care of him? I don't care. You better give me a good fight."

Gu Mengmeng was really annoyed now. She gestured for Wabei to come over. Wabei threw back his shoulders and walked to Gu Mengmeng's side, whereby she gave him one tight smack which sent him flying far away. He crashed through seven to eight trees, knocking all of them over before coming to a stop.

This time, not just Wabei—even Gu Mengmeng herself was stunned.

Her strength... when did it become so great?

In the past, Wabei would stop after hitting a tree and at most knock one over. Today, she had even purposely held back... what happened?

Wabei rubbed the blood off the corner of his lips. He returned to Gu Mengmeng's side in a whoosh and stared fixedly at Gu Mengmeng. After hesitating for a long time, he said, "Let me see the mark behind your neck."

Gu Mengmeng pulled her hair aside and turned to let Wabei take a look.

Wabei was momentarily stunned. He shook his head. "It's not him... it's not him... how did this happen? Why is it not him..."

"What?" Gu Mengmeng didn't know what was going on. She was rather worried at Wabei's horrified expression.

Wabei stared at Gu Mengmeng intensely with eyes bulging. He grabbed her by the shoulders. "Go visit your father. Go now! Ask him what happened to Snake?!”

Gu Mengmeng touched the back of her neck. She couldn't see what had changed with the mark and could only look to Lea for help. He was already standing behind her and scrutinizing the mark on her neck. She used her eyes to seek clarification on what was the matter with Snake's mark.

Lea was a fox. He might be able to discern the slightest bit of difference between four-legged animals, but as for snakes...

In Lea's eyes, every snake looked the same.

Lea shook his head, indicating that he had no idea.

Gu Mengmeng had no choice but to look at Wabei again. “Don't act crazy. Tell me what happened so that I know what to ask. You are already over 800 years old. Don't go making a fuss over any little thing.”

Wabei pointed at the mark at the back of Gu Mengmeng's neck with trembling fingers. He finally spoke after a long while. “The mark at the back of your neck is not Snake anymore. The mark has changed.”

Chapter 993 - She Wanted To Snatch Chixuan Back

Chapter 993: She Wanted To Snatch Chixuan Back

“Changed?” Gu Mengmeng didn’t understand. She looked down at her collarbone. Elvis was a third-level beast when they first became partners. He was now a fifth-level beast but the mating mark didn’t change at all. It remained the same as when he was a third-level. She could only see the mark on her ear as reflected by the water, but Lea would definitely tell her if there were any changes.

So why did Snake’s mark change?

Was it because it was a protection mark and not a mating mark? But what triggered the change?

Could it Wabei’s worries were founded? Something had happened to Snake over there?

Perhaps she should really go and ask the Beast Deity, but...

She looked down at Chixuan’s hand in hers. Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips, suppressing the unease in her heart.

She could not go to sleep now. She would be asleep for at least three to four days. By the time she woke up, Chixuan would definitely be gone.

If she missed this chance, who knew when would she be able to see Chixuan again.

There was something that she must try no matter what.

She subconsciously tightened her grip on Chixuan’s hand. Gu Mengmeng held a resolute look in her eyes, as she turned towards Wabei. “I will go ask him a bit later. It is not a good time now.”

Enraged, Wabei pointed at Gu Mengmeng as he hollered. “He has already died for you once, what else do you want from him? Is your female heart made of stone? Don’t you have the slightest bit of feelings for him?!”

Gu Mengmeng bit her lips as she endured Wabei’s accusations.

She owed Snake. She admitted that.

She deserved to be scolded.

But she was a mother. In her eyes, no one was more important than her own son.

Today, Chixuan had already knocked on death’s door once. There was no guarantee that Cole would not think up another perverse plan to torture Chixuan, and put him in harm’s way again.

She wanted to snatch Chixuan back. She must snatch him back.

“You...” Wabei’s pupils turned into angry slits as he glared at Gu Mengmeng’s quiet resolution.

Before Wabei reached Gu Mengmeng’s side, Lea had already carried her off to a distance, while Elvis stood up with shake, using his body to block Wabei and engage him in a fight.

Elvis and Wabei had sparred together many times, and were very familiar with each others’ movements. But Wabei was truly agitated now. Snake was his weak point and he was completely unable to calm down. Meanwhile, Gu Mengmeng was Elvis’ own vulnerable spot. No matter how powerful she was, he would never let others attack her.

The two males were embroiled in a chaotic battle, with Elvis still somewhat weaker than Wabei. Seeing Elvis gradually losing advantage, Gu Mengmeng shouted angrily, “Stop it, both of you!”

She did not unleash any beast pressure.

But Wabei suddenly collapsed to the ground, completely unable to get up again as if something was crushing on him.

Momentarily stunned, Elvis remained standing at his original position.

He turned to look at Gu Mengmeng, who was also dumbstruck.

Gu Mengmeng didn't know what was going on. Just one shout from her had caused the enraged Wabei to collapse in fright? She did not believe Wabei was so scared of her.

That was...

“Ha...” An inappropriate chuckle drifted over. Gu Mengmeng turned and saw Cole, who was pressing his lips together and looking at her cheerfully. “Sorry, I lost control for a moment.”

Chapter 994 - Who Will Protect You?

Chapter 994: Who Will Protect You?

Gu Mengmeng suddenly recalled Leonard's astonishing reaction to Cole's "kneel down" command earlier.

Gu Mengmeng clearly remembered that she had not detected any beast pressure, but Leonard had still knelt before Cole.

It was the same bizarre situation as now.

"What do you know?" Gu Mengmeng asked.

Cole touched the tip of his finger to his lips. "What benefit will I get for telling you?"

Gu Mengmeng snorted. "Forget it."

Ignoring Cole, Gu Mengmeng walked over to Wabei.

Elvis and Lea were worried that Wabei might hurt Gu Mengmeng on impulse, and so stood on either side of her to protect her.

Gu Mengmeng stood in front of Wabei and reached out one hand. "Calm down and listen to me, alright?"

Wabei remained sprawled on the ground. His current condition was different from the previous times when he had been smacked away. He appeared completely drained of energy, so much so that even a newly promoted second-level young pup like Chixuan could easily kill him.

He didn't move but just lifted his head to stare at Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng said, “Over there, Snake has the other me to accompany him. He will not let any harm befall that version of me, and the only way he can do so is to protect himself first. Do you think Snake is a person that can be easily defeated?”

Momentarily taken aback, Wabei shook his head.

Snake had a god-like existence. He was more powerful than anyone in the world and no one was a match for him. Be it intelligence or physical prowess, he was right at the top looking down at the entire world.

With this line of thought, Wabei gradually grew calmer. His pupils also slowly dilated as his emotions quietened down.

Gu Mengmeng discretely breathed a sigh of relief. She continued. “I will go ask my father about Snake at a later time. Chixuan has just survived a crisis and I really cannot stop worrying about him. Let me accompany my son first, alright?”

Wabei snorted without a word.

The Beast Deity only appeared in Gu Mengmeng’s dreams. Unless she was willing, no one could forcibly send her there.

So it didn’t matter whether Wabei agreed or not.

“Can you get up now? Don’t behave like a spoiled child throwing a tantrum on the ground.” Gu Mengmeng smiled as she continued to reach out her hand to Wabei.

Wabei was grumbling in his heart. He had tried his best to stand up after collapsing, but he had no energy in him at all. The only thing he could do was just blink...

Cole took two steps forward and leaned over to speak into Gu Mengmeng’s ear. “If you don’t say he can get up, he will probably be sprawled on the ground forever.”

Gu Mengmeng didn’t understand, but she still tried. “You can get up now.”

Wabei wiggled his fingers and felt his energy slowly returning to his body. He propped himself up and looked at Gu Mengmeng, before turning towards Cole. “What do you know? Tell me now or I will kill you.”

Cole completely disregarded Wabei’s threat. He smiled nonchalantly and said with just a trace of challenge in his voice. “For Little Xuan’s sake, Ah Gu will definitely protect me. And you... you are not able to overcome her, right?”

Wabei rotated his wrists and suddenly grabbed hold of Cole’s neck. He raised one eyebrow with a chilly and malevolent smile. “Who did you say... will protect you, mmm?”

Chapter 995 - If My Female Needs To Cry, She Can Only Cry In My Arms

Chapter 995: If My Female Needs To Cry, She Can Only Cry In My Arms

Wabei smiled sarcastically. He still had a bellyful of anger yet to be vented, and Cole was the only one here with no relations to Gu Mengmeng. If Cole wished to put himself in the line of fire, who else could be blamed?

Even though he had fought with Elvis on an angry impulse, he had still held back and didn't mete out any lethal strikes. At the end of the day, he still controlled himself for Gu Mengmeng's sake.

After all, in his over 800 hundred years of living, apart from Snake, Gu Mengmeng was his only friend.

But Cole... ha, a pathetic little ant for him to squash to death.

Cole's neck was being strangled by Wabei and he was barely able to breathe. But he continued to smile in a challenging manner.

Death. He had never feared it.

But...

Ha.

Chixuan suddenly dashed over and bit Wabei's wrist.

The bite power of a second-level wolf beast was shocking. If Wabei did not possess his ridiculously strong powers, his wrist might have been snapped in two by Chixuan.

He reflexively raised one hand to hit Chixuan, but held back when he looked at Chixuan's face.

Chixuan would be smashed to bits if he really struck down.

Thinking of how Gu Mengmeng reacted after she found out about his "special training" to boost the promotion of those three little ones—Wabei knew that Gu Mengmeng would never treat him as a friend again if he really hit Chixuan.

So he tightened the muscles on his wrist and just flicked Chixuan away.

This was a good example of the absolute difference between their powers.

Wabei frowned at his bleeding wound. He shook his wrist and walked away, ignoring everyone.

For this matter, Gu Mengmeng knew that she was standing on the side of wrong.

There was something wrong with Snake's mark, and as the heir to his power, she was obliged to show some concern. Wabei's request was not unreasonable.

But she had rejected Wabei's request for her own son.

And now her son had bitten him...

"Lea, go take a look at Wabei. He's injured..."

Lea understood Gu Mengmeng's worries, but he shook his head. "You better take a look at Chixuan first."

"Mmm?" Gu Mengmeng looked at Lea in confusion, before turning towards Chixuan, who indeed looked rather peaky. Shocked, she recalled that Wabei and Snake were both venomous snakes. She also remembered that she had nearly died when she had bitten Snake previously. It was Snake who had to turn around and help her counteract the poison in order to save her life.

Gu Mengmeng quickly stepped forward and supported the unsteady Chixuan. She then let him lie flat and searched among Snake's memories for the necessary herbs to make the antidote.

But she couldn't find anything.

Gu Mengmeng was panicking but could find no solution.

She was just about to copy Snake and bite her own tongue to feed some of her blood to Chixuan, to use poison against poison...

Before she bit down on her tongue, Chixuan sat up unsteadily. He held his forehead with one hand and placed the other on Gu Mengmeng's shoulder. He pulled her gently into his arms to comfort her. "Mother, don't worry. I am fine."

Gu Mengmeng felt a violent tug at her heartstrings. All the pain and frustrations she endured today burst out. "Ah... sob sob... my Little Xuan... I thought you don't want your mother anymore. You ignored me when I talked to you. You refused when I asked you to come home with me... sob sob sob..."

Chixuan was at a loss as he watched Gu Mengmeng cry herself into such a state. Shocked, he looked to Cole for help. But Cole had never handled such a situation before too, and just stared back at Chixuan in a daze.

In the end, it was Elvis who pulled Gu Mengmeng out from Chixuan's embrace into his own arms. "If my female needs to cry, she can only cry in my arms."

Chapter 996 - My Son Is Such A Warm And Considerate Boy

Chapter 996: My Son Is Such A Warm And Considerate Boy

Gu Mengmeng's major crying fit had a strangely mollifying effect.

As if afraid of triggering another bout of fresh tears, Chixuan didn't dare to make any false moves towards Gu Mengmeng. The moment he noticed her eyes turning red, he would immediately reach out his hand for her to hold.

Gu Mengmeng was thrilled at this development.

This son had not been close to her since being taken away by Cole. He would even purposely distance himself from her, avoiding her and refusing to acknowledge her.

But now, it appeared that she was just over-thinking things. Her son still cared for her.

If not, why would he be afraid of making her cry?

Knowing this, Gu Mengmeng's mood improved a lot. She kept beaming at Chixuan and was the epitome of sunshine and happiness.

"Mengmeng, don't just keep looking at Chixuan. Look at me too..." Lea flicked his tail in jealousy.

For the first time, Gu Mengmeng was immune to Lea's tail. She pushed him aside and continued to grin at Chixuan. She poked Elvis and said, "Look at my son. So dashing—'Mother, don't worry, I am fine'—goodness gracious me... how thoughtful... my son is such a warm and considerate boy."

Gu Mengmeng repeated that sentence "Mother, don't worry, I am fine" to herself over 37 times. She imitated Chixuan's low, boyish voice each time, until Elvis' ears were turning hard with calluses.

If not for the fact that he knew for sure Chixuan was their son, and would never have any other type of relationship with Gu Mengmeng—Elvis would have already killed him.

They should never have had any wolf pups. Why did he go seeking such troubles for himself!

Elvis was feeling very huffy but didn't dare to say anything.

Sighing, he said, "Is it really alright to let Wabei leave just like that?"

Gu Mengmeng's face darkened at the mention of Wabei. But she quickly looked up with a smile. "No matter. Little shit is not a petty person. At most... I will let him take a bite back."

Elvis pointed at Chixuan. "Him? Is he even enough to fill Wabei's mouth?"

The hackles on Gu Mengmeng rose. "What? Who dares to bite my son? I will kill him! I mean to bite me. Bite me back one time and we will be even."

Elvis held his forehead. "Why don't you just have me or Lea give him our wrists then."

Gu Mengmeng patted Elvis. "It sounds rather devious to say this, but don't worry, Wabei will not really bite me. After all..."

Gu Mengmeng rubbed the back of her own neck with a bitter smile.

She was enjoying all the benefits that Snake bestowed upon her. But now that there was something wrong with his mark, she wasn't even going to take a look at him.

She was a bad woman after all. She was not worth Snake's sacrifice.

But even so, in that other world, Snake was still doting on her.

Because of Gu Mengmeng's good mood, the journey back was not so stifling anymore. They arrived at the stray beast camp by nightfall. Unable to withstand Gu Mengmeng's shining and expectant eyes, Chixuan eventually decided to go back with her to their temporary cave for the night, and also meet his brothers.

No one cared where Cole went. But after going their separate ways, he watched after Gu Mengmeng's back profile with a dark smile, until she disappeared completely from his sight. Only then did Cole lower his head and start laughing uncontrollably until tears were rolling down his cheeks. That laughter sounded especially eerie in the dead night. After a long while, when Cole finally couldn't laugh anymore, he smirked and said ominously, "Ah Gu, don't disappoint me. I... I am waiting for you to come to me begging."

Chapter 997 - I Am In A Bad Mood, Come Placate Me Now

Chapter 997: I Am In A Bad Mood, Come Placate Me Now

Returning to their own cave, Gu Mengmeng saw Wabei lazing on a tree branch nearby.

He was putting himself on prominent display, sprawling there in a lackadaisical manner. He might as well be holding up a placard saying “I am in a bad mood, come placate me now”.

Gu Mengmeng let Elvis and Lea bring Chixuan into the house to meet the three little ones. She then clasped her hands behind her and stepped towards Wabei. She looked up at the huge snake dangling on the tree.

Perhaps it was because of Snake’s memories, but she didn’t seem afraid of snakes now.

Smiling, Gu Mengmeng said, “Little shit, let’s call it even, alright? I won’t be angry at you and you stop being mad at me, alright?”

Wabei stuck out his tongue and hissed in his snake language. “Even? On what grounds? Have I done anything to make you angry?”

Gu Mengmeng pointed at him. “You know I hate snakes, I hate shit, and I hate snakes that look like shit. But you are presenting yourself in this state now—aren’t you purposely trying to make me sick? I have suppressed my disgust to come over and offer you an olive branch. Don’t be angry anymore.”

Wabei was really incensed and gritted his teeth tightly.

He jumped down from the tree and stood before Gu Mengmeng in human form. He jabbed a finger at her nose. “Do you only dare to mouth off in front of me? When Cole was putting the squeeze on you earlier today, why didn’t you use your sharp tongue to rebuke him?”

Gu Mengmeng didn’t get angry. She held Wabei’s arm and swung it side to side. “I am purposely bullying you because I know you can’t bear to hit me.”

“You...!” Wabei was speechless.

Gu Mengmeng pulled at the wrist that Chixuan had bitten. Her smile faded and she said in a soft voice, “This... I am sorry. Chixuan was in the wrong today. He should not have bitten you.”

Wabei refused to be moved. “There’s no should or should not. It’s very common for males to attack each other. It was my own choice not to strike him back. Blame it on the fact that I can’t afford to offend his mother...”

Gu Mengmeng gave a sweet smile. “Let Lea take a look. Put some medicinal herbs on it, if not it might get infected.”

Wabei snorted. “A small injury like this is nothing. I have been thrashed nearly to death by Snake but have never used any medicine. I still got up the next day alive and well.”

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips. “I intend to use a bewitching spell on Chixuan, to let him not rely on Cole anymore. Only then will he return to my side, and I will no longer be coerced by Cole. So I really cannot go visit the Beast Deity today. Otherwise, by the time I wake up three to four days later, Chixuan will be spirited off to goodness know where again by Cole. The longer the two of them are together, the worse it will be for me... so... sorry.”

Having fought with Elvis and cooled off under the tree the whole afternoon, Wabei was not angry anymore.

As Gu Mengmeng said, he could not bear to hit her.

Even though he knew he was no match for Gu Mengmeng, he still could not bear to strike this petite figure.

At the beginning, it was because of Snake. But now... it had become a habit.

It had become a habit for him to take care of her and protect her. He had also gotten used to her noisy bickering and her reliance.

She radiated a warmth that made him wish to go closer.

It was strange. He was obviously a cold-blooded animal, but wished to attain that warmth.

If not for the fact that he never had a family, he would understand that warmth had another name—"family affection".

Chapter 998 - It Felt Good To Be Idolized.

Chapter 998: It Felt Good To Be Idolized.

After placating Wabei, Gu Mengmeng entered the cave. Her four children were already happily playing with each other. Although Chixuan was somewhat more distant from his three brothers, Gu Mengmeng could clearly discern the joy in his eyes.

Kanwu was the most guileless. He felt no shame from the fact that they were from the same litter—but Chixuan had already advanced to become a second-level beast, whereas he was still at the first-level. On the contrary, he was full of pride.

Following Chixuan closely with his eyes, he looked as if he wanted the entire world to know just how strong and mighty his brother was. But his adulation made Chixuan feel somewhat embarrassed.

It felt good to be idolized.

Hede was the eldest of the brothers. Although he was still a first-level beast, he still acted very much like the big brother. Looking at his younger brothers fooling around, he only joined in now and then. Most of the time, he just stood at the side with some fruit. Any time one of them came near him, he would stuff some fruit in their mouths.

Jialue was the smartest. He was not as powerful as Chixuan or as strong as Kanwu, so he would generally tumble about with the rest for awhile before sidling up to Hede for something to eat.

When Kanwu saw Jialue getting something to eat, he would also hustle over. But instead of eating it himself, he would stuff the food into Chixuan's mouth.

Chixuan was momentarily taken aback, but still swallowed the food with a smile thereafter.

Looking at how well her children were getting along, Gu Mengmeng couldn't bear to step in and spoil this harmonious scene.

Elvis and Lea were at their wits end with the noisy children. They noticed Gu Mengmeng smiling foolishly as she stood at the entrance, with no intention of entering. Hence they each picked up two boys by the crook of their necks and flung them out.

“There are many caves here. The four of you go get one to stay in for the moment.” Elvis commanded from the door.

Kanwu harrumphed and hung one arm around Chixuan's neck. “Second brother, where we are going to spend the night—it all depends on you now.”

Chixuan was rather hesitant. Actually, he wished to go and find Cole.

But his brothers were just first-level beasts. If he let them try and take over someone else's cave, they might get injured.

Actually, a second-level beast in a stray beast territory was not considered much at all, but Kanwu's frank adulation made him feel like he couldn't just leave the three of them behind.

Hence he nodded and let Kanwu hang onto his neck in an intimate manner, as they sauntered off.

The four brothers discussed their battle strategy as they walked into the night.

Their laughter resonated in the night air—rather obnoxiously, but it fit their youthful age.

Feeling a warmth approach from behind, Gu Mengmeng was engulfed in Elvis' embrace.

“Let's go in. The night air is chilly.”

Gu Mengmeng didn't turn around. She just leaned backwards and rested completely on Elvis' chest. Her gaze still lingered in the direction of her sons, as the corners of her lips subconsciously curled up. Even her voice sounded sweet. "I never imagined that I would be married by 18 and have four grown-up sons by 19..."

Elvis tightened his embrace. "I am sorry. I shouldn't have let you bear children so soon."

"Silly boy. Why are you saying sorry. I never felt this was not a good thing. I just wished... we could remain like this forever."

Elvis knew Chixuan was Gu Mengmeng's bane. That was why he said he shouldn't have let Gu Mengmeng bear children so soon.

Kissing the top of Gu Mengmeng's head, Elvis said, "I have never loved anyone before. You are my first. I am afraid I am not doing enough and made you feel that love is just like that."

Chapter 999 - At The Start Of Every Great Love Story, There Must Be Someone Playing Punk

Chapter 999: At The Start Of Every Great Love Story, There Must Be Someone Playing Punk

“Silly boy.” Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “You have given me your entire heart. This is already the most perfect type of love. How could it be ‘just like that’?”

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head to gaze up at Elvis.

The moonlight was warm and fuzzy, softening his typically harsh features. Even his pale blue eyes held an alluring flavor that was unique to the night.

“Hubby, I remembered you told me that you were mad at me when we first met. You were unhappy at my inappropriate attire and for not being vigilant, and was angry in case I was seen by others in that state...” Gu Mengmeng couldn’t help giggling as she recalled that incident. She continued. “But you never told me that apart from being angry, did you like me then?”

“Why would I get angry if I didn’t like you? Silly.” Elvis finished his sentence by planting a kiss on Gu Mengmeng’s lips.

It was a fleeting touch and Elvis didn’t deepen that kiss. Instead, he asked, “What about you? Did you like me when you first met me?”

Gu Mengmeng smiled bashfully. “When I first saw you, the Heavens whispered to me: you are doomed to fall for this guy. But the funny thing was I still thought you were just a dream. I didn’t believe that there could be someone as perfect as you. And who would also let me tease him so... ha, when I kissed you and claimed I wouldn't take responsibility. Was I playing punk?"

"Mmm, yes you were." Elvis smiled affectionately. His expression bore no grudge, but was instead traced with sweetness.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. "Well... at the start of every great love story, there must be someone playing punk. Madame White Snake made it rain to trick Xu Xian into giving her his umbrella. Zhu Yingtai playing the fool to tease Liang Shanbo when accompanying him for those 18 miles. The seventh fairy blocking Dong Yong's path. The cowherd stealing the clothes of the weaver girl when she was bathing... Gu Mengmeng seducing and kissing Elvis in her bathing suit."

Elvis didn't argue with her incongruous logic.

Everything she said was good. Anything she said was right.

"The cave is already warm now. Don't keep standing outside. The air is chilly during the rainy season and not good for Mengmeng." Lea called out from the cave.

Elvis lifted Gu Mengmeng and carried her back into the cave.

Gu Mengmeng sat by the fire hugging her knees. She hesitated a moment before speaking. "I want to cast a bewitching spell on Chixuan."

Lea pursed his lips. "I thought of this method too, but felt it is not appropriate."

Gu Mengmeng lifted her eyes. "Are you also worried that Cole had planted some subliminal device in Chixuan, such that he would come to harm if I try to cast a bewitching spell on him?"

Lea nodded his head in reply.

Gu Mengmeng sighed. "That is also why I have not dared to make my move all this while. But... I cannot wait any longer. Chixuan nearly died today. What about next time? I don't know when Cole would once again push Chixuan into a dangerous situation. I cannot bear it anymore..."

Elvis held Gu Mengmeng's shoulders gently and said in a low voice. "Perhaps killing Cole would be the simplest solution. If you want, I will go do so now."

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. "Cole must be killed, but not now. I must first get Chixuan back, before killing Cole. Otherwise, what if my bewitching spell fails to work after Cole dies—we don't know what crazy thing Chixuan might do given his current feelings for Cole. So Cole cannot die for the time being."

Chapter 1000 - Win Or Lose? Of Course We Won!

Chapter 1000: Win Or Lose? Of Course We Won!

The next day, the four brothers came bounding back covered in bruises.

It was the first time Gu Mengmeng saw someone look so excited while their faces were all colored in black and blue.

Before Gu Mengmeng could even open her mouth, Elvis asked, “Did you win or lose?”

“Of course we won!” Kanwu lifted his head with much elation and pride.

With that, Kanwu pounced towards Gu Mengmeng. He was now already half a head taller than Gu Mengmeng and she couldn’t hold him like she used to. But he was unable to break out of this habit. He loved to snuggle up to Gu Mengmeng, and especially enjoyed the doting smile on her face as she caressed his head.

But he had just wrapped his arms around Gu Mengmeng when a wound on his chest was jolted. He grimaced in pain.

Standing beside Gu Mengmeng the entire time, Elvis was very displeased with Kanwu’s behavior with her. Nonetheless, he had no choice but to endure it as Gu Mengmeng’s love for her children knew no bounds.

He snorted at Kanwu’s pained grimace. “You look bad enough even as the winner.”

“You...!” Angered, Kanwu wanted to pick a fight but felt a squeeze around his waist. He looked down at Gu Mengmeng’s beseeching eyes, and decided to force back his words. He just sniffed. “I won’t argue with you for my mother’s sake.”

Gu Mengmeng couldn’t stop smiling. She surmised that their little wolf pups were the only first-level beasts who would dare to behave so audaciously before a fifth-level beast such as Elvis...

So, from some angles, her sons were more gutsy than others. They were so bold and dashing...

“Quickly, tell mummy what happened to you all yesterday?”

Yesterday was the first time those four little ones officially tasted independence.

It was also the first time the four of them fought as a team.

Gu Mengmeng had wanted to sneak a peek at them last night, but was stopped by Elvis. He said that she had to get used to the fact that her children had grown up and needed to face the world on their own.

Kanwu’s eyes brightened the moment he heard Gu Mengmeng’s question. He pulled her to the side. “Mother, let me tell you. Yesterday night, the four of us defeated a third-level beast. Third-level!”

Three first-level and one second-level beast... defeated a third-level beast?

Gu Mengmeng frowned. The difference in powers between the levels was absolute. In the beginning, this was how Lea managed to overcome Nina’s partners.

She clearly remembered that Lea managed to defeat Nina’s dozen over partners in just a few seconds.

Tsk, these four punks. Didn’t they know you should always pick the weakest as your opponent? Stray beasts went straight for the kill during fights, how could they dare to...

Gu Mengmeng bit her lips to suppress her reprimand. The children were still high on excitement and she didn't wish to burst their bubble.

Kanwu gestured wildly as he narrated how heroic the four of them were yesterday night. Now and then, he would even drag his other three brothers over to reenact certain scenes. Infected by Kanwu's enthusiasm, Gu Mengmeng followed his story with close interest.

Elvis and Lea showed no such interest. In their eyes, this level of battle as described by Kanwu was... not worth mentioning at all.

Hence the two of them focused their attention on Gu Mengmeng appreciating the myriad expressions on her face. They enjoyed watching her so much that even the noise created by Kanwu was not that unbearable any more.

Chapter 1001 - He Completely Satisfies All My Notions Of A Hero!

Chapter 1001: He Completely Satisfies All My Notions Of A Hero!

“But we were still not a match for him. At one point, Hede, Jialue and I couldn’t even get up after being thrown down. And that stray beast had no intention of letting us off...” Kanwu’s tone suddenly shifted as his emotions dampened, causing Gu Mengmeng to hold her breath in anxiety. She clenched her fists nervously, frowning so hard that her eyebrows were touching.

“Just as that third-level beast was about to charge over and bite us to death, second brother flew over like a heavenly god to stand in his way.” Suddenly, Kanwu’s spirits lifted once again. He turned and pointed at Chixuan. “Although we could only see second brother’s back view at that time, that was enough to bowl me over. His dominance, his mightiness, his toughness. He completely satisfies all my notions of a hero!”

Gu Mengmeng couldn’t help smiling at Kanwu’s fan-boy narration. “And then?”

Kanwu lowered his head and looked at Gu Mengmeng with much regret and dismay. He twisted his lips. “Then I fainted... by the time I woke up, the four of us were already inside the cave. And goodness knows where that third-level beast went.”

“Fainted?” Gu Mengmeng was at a loss for words. He actually fainted at the most exciting part.

Kanwu nodded with an aggrieved expression. “Yes, I fainted. Thereafter, no matter how much I begged second brother to tell me what happened, he refuses... mother, can you help me ask?”

Gu Mengmeng looked at Chixuan, who was pursing his lips and looking very conflicted. He obviously didn't wish to say.

You and your second brother are so close, and he wouldn't even tell you. Why would he tell me? Mothers can't control their sons after they have grown up. At your age now, don't you all have some secrets, which even if the whole world knew, you will still never tell your parents."

Kanwu lifted his brows. "No way. I have no secrets from mother. No matter what it is, as long as mother asks me, I will tell you."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. She stood on tiptoe and caressed Kanwu's head. "Mmm, I will believe you for the time being."

Kanwu swung Gu Mengmeng's arm childishly. "Mother, help me ask second brother. Let me tell you, he is very scared of you. If you ask him, he will not dare to refuse."

Gu Mengmeng pointed at her own nose. "Scared of me?"

Normally...

She had always been a loving, motherly figure right? She had never said a harsh word to her sons, not to mention even raising a finger at them.

What reason did he have to be scared of her?

Kanwu leaned towards Gu Mengmeng's ear. "He is scared of you crying. He is helpless the moment he sees you cry."

Gu Mengmeng blushed as she recalled how terribly she had sobbed in front of her son that day.

Before she could say "stop fooling around", Kanwu was thrown forward and crashed into his three brothers like a bowling ball.

The four brothers collapsed in a messy heap. Already injured, they now laid there groaning and moaning.

Meanwhile, the offender Elvis, just lifted Gu Mengmeng with one hand and looked down at them. “If you dare make my female cry again, I will kill you all.”

Kanwu wanted to retaliate, but was pulled back by Jialue.

Jialue then stood up and patted the dust off from his body. “There’s a loophole in your statement.”

Elvis raised his brows but kept silent.

The adult Jialue now had eyes that looked increasingly like Gu Mengmeng’s, innocent and clear. Those amber pupils reflected the dappled sunlight, like stars glittering in the sky. One could not bear to speak a single harsh word to him, but would instead wish to offer him all that was good in this world.

Chapter 1002 - She Was Unwilling.

Chapter 1002: She Was Unwilling.

Jialue purposely screwed up his eyes in a smile, as he looked most like Gu Mengmeng when he beamed like that.

“If the four of us die, mother will cry horribly.” Jialue batted his eyelids as he purposely presented his face right in front of Elvis. “So in reality, do you wish to make mother cry, or not?”

Elvis reached out one huge hand and rubbed Jialue’s face roughly. “I will not make her cry.”

Jialue used both hands to hold onto Elvis’ wrist and tilted his face to peek out from the side of Elvis’ palm. “You don’t want to make mother cry... so you can’t do anything to us four, right?”

Elvis gritted his teeth.

This punk was his son. He looked very much like Gu Mengmeng, but had Lea’s brains.

Faced with this impish fellow, Elvis could not bring himself to be vicious at all.

He shook his head in exasperation and placed Gu Mengmeng back down. He then picked up Jialue by the crook of his neck, kicked Kanwu forward and shot a look at Hede. “Come hunting with me.”

Kanwu was just about to refuse when Elvis said coldly, “If you wish to get promoted quickly and catch up with Chixuan, you guys must work harder than him.”

Kanwu’s words died in his throat. He glanced at Chixuan before following Elvis out without another word.

Lea was outside the cave, raising a fire to prepare their meal. At that moment, only Chixuan and Gu Mengmeng were left in the cave.

Gu Mengmeng knew Elvis was purposely creating an opportunity for her, and indeed, she didn't have much time left.

From past experience, Chixuan would always leave by noon the next day whenever he returned home.

Gu Mengmeng tugged at Chixuan's hand. She gently caressed the bruises on his face. "Does it still hurt?"

Chixuan shook his head. He hesitated, but still spoke up. "Yesterday night, it was he who saved us."

That person... no need to ask, it must be Cole.

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips and nodded.

Actually, she had already guessed it.

If it was someone else, Chixuan would have no need to keep it a secret. He would have just told them.

He had steadfastly refused to tell Kanwu as he guessed that his three brothers hated Cole as much as Gu Mengmeng did. That they might have even chosen death rather than be rescued by Cole.

"He acted as he did for you." Chixuan's manner was quiet and calm. "Mother, if I am willing to come back to your side forever as your obedient son, will you consider accepting him?"

Gu Mengmeng was stunned...

So her son was giving her a third option.

A third option that would not require abandoning her son or taking dangerous risks.

Ha, she said before that her son was more important than her own life. So now, the time of reckoning has come.

Was she willing to sacrifice herself—to endure some suffering and suppress her disgust—and accept Cole.

If only she was willing to sacrifice, to suffer and bear her disgust—her son would not need to undergo the risk of having a bewitching spell cast on him.

Gu Mengmeng felt herself shrinking, as if all reason had been sucked out of her.

In her mind, only one sentence was left echoing: She was unwilling.

She could die for Chixuan, but was unwilling to accept Cole for him...

She could not imagine herself reaching such selfless heights.

She was not a good mother after all.

Chixuan looked at Gu Mengmeng's stunned expression and thought she was considering the possibility. He tugged at her hand. "Mother, think back carefully. Although he has committed many crimes, he has never really harmed you. Isn't that right?"

Chapter 1003 - From Now On, Add Another To The Score Between Cole And Her.

Chapter 1003: From Now On, Add Another To The Score Between Cole And Her.

“He schemed against you and staged a kidnapping to trick you into coming to Sauder, all just to create an opportunity for you and him to cultivate some feelings for each other. If ‘scheming’ was so unforgivable, why did you accept Lea then?”

Gu Mengmeng was speechless. She could only stare at Chixuan in silence.

She didn’t know how to explain. She felt like her heart had been thrown inside a washing machine and was churning madly.

It was an obvious pain, but she was unable to pinpoint where that pain originated from.

She could only stare at Chixuan in a daze. This was the son she was the most beholden to, and the one she wished to get back the most.

“Thereafter, you were lured to the Snake King valley and Ellie nearly killed you. You only knew that Elvis and Lea nearly died trying to break through the traps, so that Snake had the chance to become your hero after he finally arrived. But did you ever think that those ‘traps’ were there not to hinder their rescue but to lead the way?”

As she had inherited Snake’s memories, Gu Mengmeng knew that Elvis and Lea had fought desperately to break the traps set by Cole, while she was being beaten by Ellie. Those traps looked lethal, but only caused serious injuries to Elvis and Lea. Moreover, it was indeed thanks to those traps that Snake could locate her so quickly.

Pressing her lips into one straight line, Gu Mengmeng kept quiet as she continued to look at Chixuan.

Perhaps if she listened to his entire argument today, she might be able to know why Chixuan insisted on remaining by Cole's side?

Wouldn't that be seeking out a fourth option?

"Mother, did you ever consider that, with Cole's powers and methods, if he wanted to retaliate, Elvis and Lea are no match for him? Do you still not understand his real reason for luring you to the Snake King valley?"

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback. She frowned deeply.

Chixuan knew he was becoming overly agitated, and so took two deep breaths before continuing. "In the end, you attained the Tear of the Beast Deity and became the most powerful being in the entire Beast World, right?"

Gu Mengmeng's heart gave a jolt.

So Snake's death was machinated by Cole?

The difficulty level and number of those traps were not created at random. They had been specifically designed and operated on the basis that Snake could not bear to see her suffer. On seeing her dying manner, he would definitely give the Tear of the Beast Deity to her, right?

Good, very good...

From now on, add another to the score between Cole and her.

"Mother, you say he is always scheming against you. But didn't you realize that in every scheme of his, you always gain in the end. If you cannot accept him because of his cruel methods, how innocent do you think Elvis and Lea were in the past? Mother, I am not asking for you to treat him like how you treat Lea and Elvis. You just have to allow him to be by your side, like how it was in Sauder. He doesn't care if he has no status or that you will treat him like he was invisible. Just give him a chance, alright?"

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head as if hesitating.

Chixuan's eyes followed Gu Mengmeng closely, his entire focus on her. He anxiously awaited her answer.

After a long time, Gu Mengmeng finally raised her head.

She was smiling with a gentle warmth. Her lips curled lightly in an elegant curve, as she said, "I am indeed... a selfish mother."

Chapter 1004 - please, Don't

Chapter 1004: Please, Don't

Chixuan was shocked and looked confused. He felt like he was unable to peel his eyes away from Gu Mengmeng's own.

Gu Mengmeng gently caressed Chixuan's face and said in a warm manner, "I am sorry, Chixuan. I am just a selfish woman. I am unwilling to sacrifice my whole life to spend it with someone I don't love. I am also unwilling to lose my son. So... if you blame me in the future, I will accept it. Because I deserve it."

"Mother..." Chixuan seemed to have guessed what Gu Mengmeng wanted to do. His pupils wavered slightly, as every cell in his body told him to resist. But he couldn't escape, and his lips trembled violently. He was already a second-level beast but now appeared like a helpless child. He stared at Gu Mengmeng. "Please, don't..."

"I am sorry." A tear trickled down from the corner of Gu Mengmeng's eye, as she smiled bitterly.

She swayed one hand before Chixuan's eyes and said, "You are my child, my flesh and blood. You should be living a carefree life with your brothers. Leave Cole. He is too dangerous. Promise mummy. Don't let me worry, alright?"

"Mother..." Chixuan was struggling. His subconscious continuously fought against Gu Mengmeng's hypnotism.

But Gu Mengmeng had already started secreting traces of Fox Seductive Fragrance the moment Elvis brought the three little ones out. The cave was now filled with Fox Seductive Fragrance—plus the fact that Gu Mengmeng's hypnotism methods were directly sourced from Wang Xiaoxin's expertise—her skills were already of the elite levels.

So although Chixuan was resisting, he was unable to break free.

Gu Mengmeng felt very bad as she saw how hard Chixuan was struggling to escape from her hypnotism.

She knew there was no turning back now.

If the hypnotism failed or if Chixuan woke from it one day, she might forever lose this son.

Sniffling, Gu Mengmeng let her tears fall freely. She said nasally, “Please, Chixuan. Mummy really cannot be without you... just remain by my side, alright? Mummy will take good care of you and will never let anyone hurt you, use you or take you away... I beg of you, please?”

“No...” Chixuan’s eyes had started to glaze over and a drop of blood was trickling out of the corner of his mouth. The bright red stung Gu Mengmeng’s eyes.

He was clenching his jaws tightly to prevent Gu Mengmeng from controlling him via her bewitching spell. He was clenching so tightly that his gums were bleeding.

Gu Mengmeng held Chixuan’s face with both hands. At this point, her heart felt like it was being torn in two. She felt like she was doing something very cruel and the victim was her own son.

“Chixuan, forget Cole. He is not a good person. Don’t go near him again. Don’t!”

“Ah...!” Chixuan suddenly cried out in pain. He gave Gu Mengmeng a vicious shove, and managed to free himself from her hold, but ended up fainting over himself.

“Chixuan, Chixuan!” Gu Mengmeng didn’t care that she had been sent tumbling off, and crawled back to Chixuan’s side. She held him in her arms and gently patted his face.

Lea hurried in at the sound of the ruckus and helped Gu Mengmeng place Chixuan on the bed. He sighed before asking, “Did you succeed?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. “I don’t know... he suddenly fainted... I...”

Lea hugged Gu Mengmeng and gently stroked her back. He didn’t say a single word, but just used his presence to comfort her.

Chapter 1005 - I Am A Bad Mother

Chapter 1005: I Am A Bad Mother

“Lea, I discovered that I no longer have the right to call others selfish.” Gu Mengmeng leaned into Lea’s embrace, but kept her teary eyes on Chixuan. She sounded choked. “I have become a most detestable version of myself. Selfish and greedy. Unwilling to sacrifice myself but still forcing Chixuan to remain by my side...”

Gu Mengmeng wanted to laugh but ended up emitting a sob. “I feel like I have become one of those parents whom children detest the most. Judging the friends of my children based solely on my own opinions and forcing my kids to stop socializing with those whom I deem as ‘bad friends’. Not caring at all how important that ‘bad friend’ is to my child... am I a bad mother? Now that I think of it, it is right of Chixuan for not wanting to remain by my side... because I am a bad mother... sob sob...”

“Silly girl.” Lea gave a soft sigh and hugged Gu Mengmeng a bit more firmly. Only by doing so would he be able to assure her that she was not alone. She still had him.

Kissing away Gu Mengmeng’s tears, he said, “If you are really selfish, you won’t be feeling so bad now. Selfish people will find a million high-sounding reasons to justify their own self-serving means. They will turn their selfishness into a self-righteous crusade.”

Gu Mengmeng’s tears continued to trickle on in silence. She was not crying tragically, but every shudder of her shoulders made Lea’s heart ache tremendously.

In the past, whenever a female in the tribe cried and made a fuss, Lea would smirk and say something like “Just let her cry. She would stop crying if no one bothers about her. Don’t give her any attention.”

But now, he couldn't bear to put Gu Mengmeng down and let her sit there crying alone.

"Xiao Meng, we all know you are doing this only because you love Chixuan. You are afraid that he will be in more danger if he remains by Cole's side. You are just doing this for his own good."

"For his own good... ha... in the end, the one who done the most harm to him is the person who claimed to be doing things for his own good." Gu Mengmeng was crying agitatedly. She clutched Lea's arm tightly. "Chixuan gave me a third option. As long as I am willing to sacrifice a little of myself, he is willing to come back..."

"I heard." Lea said, "But you know very well that if you accept Cole, things between Elvis, Cole and I will not be settled until either of us dies. We will never allow any male to force himself upon you. Looking at the relationship between Chixuan and Cole, he would definitely help Cole. So, it will end up with me and Elvis killing Cole and Chixuan, or them killing us. No matter the outcome, it will definitely be worse than this, won't it?"

Gu Mengmeng knew that Lea was purposely presenting the worst-case scenario to her, to absolve the guilt she was feeling.

If only she hadn't inherited Snake's thousand years' worth memories, and if only she didn't possess Wang Xiaoxin's knowledge on psychology—she might have brightened up as Lea intended.

But...

Fate was a cruel thing. Take away the above two "if only"s and there could only be one result.

And that result was for her to go against Chixuan's wishes and forcibly remove Cole from his life.

Gu Mengmeng didn't say anything more. She just laid on Lea's shoulder as her tears continued to fall.

Because of her guilt. And even more so, because her heart ached.

She would never forget the look on Chixuan's face as he tried to resist her hypnotism.

He... hated her.

When Elvis and the three little ones returned, Gu Mengmeng had already cried herself to sleep in Lea's arms. Outside, Elvis had already warned the three youngsters on what the situation might be like back home. So the children didn't ask and just quietly sat beside Chixuan. They watched their unconscious brother with conflicted expressions.

Chapter 1006 - Chixuan Awakens

Chapter 1006: Chixuan Awakens

Chixuan remained unconscious for three days, during which Gu Mengmeng remained steadfastly by his side. Her eyes were already bloodshot, but she refused to rest. She just clasped Chixuan's hand in her own and gazed unwavering at him, as if deeply afraid that Chixuan would vanish if she just closed her eyes.

Finally, those wispy lashes fluttered slightly and Gu Mengmeng tensed up as if she had been electrocuted. Her breathing became extremely shallow. It was as if in the entire world, only that person who had been lying there unconscious for the past three days, could keep her attention.

The tips of Chixuan's fingers twitched, and his lashes fluttered more obviously. Every movement was a tug at Gu Mengmeng's heart. Her lips were pursed together so tightly that they had gone pale.

Finally, Chixuan opened his eyes. He gazed emptily at the ceiling, completely expressionless. There was no spark of life in him, and he just stared quietly upwards.

"Chixuan, Chixuan." Gu Mengmeng's voice was raspy. She tried not to sound exhausted, but she had not slept for the past three days. If not for Snake's power supporting her, she would probably have already collapsed long ago.

Chixuan turned a deaf ear to Gu Mengmeng's call. He had no reaction at all.

Gu Mengmeng was deeply frightened. She held Chixuan's hand gently. "Chixuan, this is mummy..."

Chixuan turned slightly to look at Gu Mengmeng. It was as if he was looking at a complete stranger. He displayed no joy or unhappiness. No one could tell what was his current emotional state.

Gu Mengmeng met Chixuan's eyes and the two of them just looked at each other wordlessly.

Until Chixuan quietly shut his eyes again and returned to his previously supine and dormant position. It was as if he had never woken at all.

"Chi..." Elvis gently patted Gu Mengmeng's shoulder. "Since he has already awakened, he should be fine. Perhaps he is just unable to adjust to the sudden change. Just give him some time. Don't worry too much."

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips and remained silent.

Elvis lifted her into his arms. "You have not slept for three days. Now that he has already awakened, you don't have to worry so much. Just sleep a little. Otherwise, he is fine but you will collapse instead."

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. "I don't dare to sleep. I am afraid that Chixuan will disappear when I wake up."

Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng's forehead. "Lea and I are guarding the house. Wabei is also outside guarding the door. Even if Chixuan grows another set of limbs, he will still not be able to escape. Sleep a little, alright?"

Lea was also sitting beside Gu Mengmeng. He promised. "Be a good girl and take a rest. I will watch over him. I will immediately wake you up the moment I notice anything wrong, alright?"

Gu Mengmeng knew her emotional state affected everyone else. Not just Elvis and Lea, but also the three little ones and Wabei. They had all been on tenterhooks the past three days.

Not wanting them to worry even more, Gu Mengmeng finally nodded. She leaned into Elvis' chest and gradually closed her eyes.

Gu Mengmeng didn't sleep well and woke up after only a few hours.

When she opened her eyes, she discovered that Chixuan was no longer on the bed. All notions of sleep were instantly dispelled from her mind.

Elvis held onto the struggling Gu Mengmeng and reassured her. “Don’t panic. Chixuan is fine. He is sitting at the door.”

Gu Mengmeng immediately turned and saw that Chixuan was indeed sitting calmly by the door. He was leaning against the wall and watching the setting sun. He looked like a lonely prince depicted in drawings, exuding a faint aura of hurt and despair.

Chapter 1007 - : Let's Discuss The Terms

Chapter 1007: Let's Discuss The Terms

Gu Mengmeng felt as if her heart had dropped into her stomach. She then gradually relaxed and stood up from Elvis' arms. She slowly walked over to Chixuan's side. She didn't say a word, but just quietly accompanied him.

They sat all the way until deep into night, and the moon was glowing in the sky.

Chixuan stood up. He didn't say anything but just circled past Gu Mengmeng and returned to the cave. He laid down on the bed in the exact same position and closed his eyes, obviously going back to sleep.

Gu Mengmeng also wanted to stand up but her legs had gone numb after sitting for so long.

Her whole body tilted to the side as she tried to get up. Fortunately, Elvis had fast reflexes and immediately caught her securely in his arms.

"Don't worry. Things will get better."

Now that things have reached this stage, Gu Mengmeng had no choice but to believe Elvis.

For the next ten days, Chixuan got up every morning to sit at the door without moving the entire day. Hede and the other two brothers would bring food to him. Chixuan would eat whatever that was placed before him, but if no one brought food to him, he would just go without eating anything. Then he would continue sitting until midnight, before returning to his bed to sleep. He ignored everyone and didn't speak a single word.

Gu Mengmeng was dismayed but had no solution. So as to not let Gu Mengmeng worry, Elvis and Lea tried all sorts of gentle persuasion and hard threats on Chixuan behind her back. But that fellow was completely unmoved. Whether it was Elvis' display of physical dominance or Lea's crafty tongue—nothing could make Chixuan say a single word. He didn't even exhibit the slightest hint of expression.

Until the day Cole came.

It was by Gu Mengmeng's tacit consent that he was able to come.

Otherwise, he would never be able to bypass Wabei.

Cole stood before Chixuan. He glanced at him and said in a mild tone, "Little Xuan."

Chixuan lifted his head in a daze and met Cole's gaze with empty eyes. His expression remained wooden, but his brows furrowed slightly.

He slowly got up and walked over to face Cole. After a long time, he turned back to the cave and wordlessly laid down on the bed to sleep.

Cole stood at the door and looked at Gu Mengmeng. He chuckled. "Ah Gu, I waited 10 days for you. Why didn't you come see me?"

Gu Mengmeng frowned and kept silent. She just sat beside Chixuan. She held Chixuan's hand and quietly watched her sleeping son.

Cole gave a light laugh. "Now that Chixuan has already returned to your side, I no longer have anything to threaten you with. You... don't wish to kill me?"

Gu Mengmeng slowly set down Chixuan's hand and gently stroked his hair before standing up to walk out of the cave.

Because of their height difference, she had to look up at Cole. She looked extremely haggard after the worries of the past 10 days, and Cole's brows involuntarily furrowed when he saw her face.

“Do you have a way?” Although it was a question, Gu Mengmeng’s tone implied “let’s discuss the terms. Help me save Chixuan and I will do one thing for you.”

“Anything?” Cole asked, insinuating that not only could he save Chixuan, he had also already decided on the favor.

Gu Mengmeng took a deep breath. “As long as it doesn’t involve harming my partners, family and friends. Anything else is okay.”

Cole’s laughter held a confidence that showed this was just as he expected. He seemed to have already predicted that this scenario would happen.

“What about harming yourself, will that be okay?”

Chapter 1008 - My Ah Gu Has Grown Up

Chapter 1008: My Ah Gu Has Grown Up

“Yes,” Gu Mengmeng replied without any hesitation.

Cole did not appear surprised at Gu Mengmeng’s answer. He just narrowed his eyes and asked teasingly, “Swallow your resentment and accept me, is that okay?”

Gu Mengmeng clenched her fists as she trembled all over. But she still nodded. “Yes.”

Cole suddenly laughed and waved. “No need to get so angry. I will not request that. After all... I want to be the most special presence in your life. A totally unique existence. Partner, you already have two. I don’t value that.”

He didn’t value that...

Gu Mengmeng didn’t feel any anger at not being valued. Instead, she felt relieved.

Because in her eyes, that was the most disgusting and worst outcome.

As long as it didn’t come to that. Otherwise, she was willing to give an arm and a leg, or even her life, if she could exchange for Chixuan’s well-being. She didn’t mind.

Cole pointed at Gu Mengmeng’s neck. “I want you to scrape off that protection mark behind your neck. To completely break off all links with Snake. How about that?”

Gu Mengmeng clenched her fists again.

It wasn't that she couldn't bear to lose Snake's power or was afraid that she would be hurt. But that mark was the only thing Snake had left for her. He had sacrificed everything to ensure her protection in both worlds.

And now she had to scrape off evidence of his existence and and destroy all traces of him.

"Can't bear to?" Cole looked displeased. His gaze drifted over to Chixuan. "You don't seem to love this son of yours that much. In that case... why don't you let me bring Chixuan away? If I can wake him up once, I can wake him again... or, do you like this obedient version of your son so much, and wish to have him live by your side in this docile manner his entire life?"

Gu Mengmeng lifted her head and stepped closer. Without any warning, she stuck one hand through Cole's chest and dug a bloody hole in his right chest.

Cole groaned and knitted his brows, but didn't try to duck or struggle. Instead, he smiled and looked down at Gu Mengmeng's wrist penetrating his own body. His smile turned even more maniacal.

"Ha... haha... my Ah Gu has grown up. You finally grew sharp claws... mmm, really good. I am now the first person to be harmed by you."

Gu Mengmeng retrieved her hand expressionlessly. Elvis and Lea were already by her side the moment they smelled blood.

Gu Mengmeng's hand was drenched in blood from her fingertips to her wrists, and thick with the scent of blood.

Gu Mengmeng kept her hand raised. "Dirty. I want to wash my hands."

Lea frowned. He remained silent and just went to bring some water over to carefully wash Gu Mengmeng's hand.

Gu Mengmeng kept staring at Cole the entire time. "If you try anything on my son again, the next time... I will dig a matching hole on your left side."

“That won’t do, Ah Gu.” Cole completely disregarded his bleeding wound. He just continued smiling perversely. “If you want to torture me, you cannot dig a hole in my left chest. Because the moment my heart is dug out, I will die. By then, you can no longer torture me... can you bear to let me die such a quick and comfortable death? Don’t you feel that I should endure more torture and pain, before the anger in your heart is vented? So if there is a next time... you should still dig a hole on the right side. Right at this same spot. New flesh will grow over and you can dig again. That will be the most painful, do you know that now? Mmm?”

Chapter 1009 - Mother, Did I Forget Something?

Chapter 1009: Mother, Did I Forget Something?

Gu Mengmeng ignored Cole. She just looked at her own hand, which had been washed clean by Lea. She then turned and walked out of the cave.

She called out as she walked. “Wabei, you haven’t eaten for the past few days? Are you hungry?”

Wabei flicked his tongue lazily and narrowed his dangerous-looking eyes. “Mmm, I am a bit hungry. I was just thinking of eating a fifth-level fox to nourish myself.”

Gu Mengmeng didn’t say another word and just headed back into the cave.

Cole had actually wanted Gu Mengmeng to scrape out Snake’s mark from the back of her neck. Ha, even if Gu Mengmeng didn’t say anything, Wabei would never let Cole off.

But if Gu Mengmeng hadn’t indicated otherwise, Wabei might have spared Cole’s life for Chixuan’s sake.

But now, Gu Mengmeng no longer wished to be strung along by Cole.

Chixuan was her son. She would surely have a way to save him.

If she couldn’t let him recover to his normal state, then she would take care of him forever.

Returning to the cave, Elvis sighed. “Why did you do it yourself? You have me.”

Gu Mengmeng used a piece of animal skin to wipe her hand. “I didn’t intend to kill him. I was just so angry that I needed to vent a little.”

Elvis didn’t say another word. He just stood by Gu Mengmeng quietly.

Lea had already washed Gu Mengmeng’s hand until it was very clean, while she herself had used the animal skin to wipe it for a long while. Even so, Gu Mengmeng still felt her hand held the stench of blood. She felt very agitated.

“Mother.”

A soft voice instantly calmed Gu Mengmeng down.

She was no longer bothered about her hand, but immediately went over to Chixuan’s bedside. Chixuan was staring at the cave entrance, and she waited for his next words.

“Did I forget something?”

Gu Mengmeng caressed Chixuan’s face. “Why do you say that?”

Chixuan remained silent for a long while before saying, “I don’t know. I just feel... I seem to have lost something very important. But I can’t recall what it was.”

Cole... was very important to Chixuan.

She knew this when she was trying to hypnotize him.

That was why as angry as she was just now, she had just dug a hole in his right chest and didn’t directly carve out his heart.

Gu Mengmeng forced a smile. “If you can’t remember... it proves that it’s not that important. Why don’t you just cherish the present, alright?”

Chixuan didn’t speak again but just slowly shut his eyes.

Gu Mengmeng fell silent for a long while until Chixuan's breathing became soft and even.

Outside, Wabei and Cole were engaged in a fierce battle, but Gu Mengmeng took no notice.

Anyway, the one on the losing end would definitely not be Wabei.

"Hubby, I want to go visit my father." Gu Mengmeng leaned her head on Elvis' chest, even as she continued to gaze upon Chixuan's face.

Elvis opined that since Gu Mengmeng hadn't had a good sleep these past few days, going over to visit the Beast Deity would at least give her physical body a rest.

Hence he nodded. "Alright, I will help you watch over Chixuan. I will not let anything happen to him."

Gu Mengmeng nodded before gradually shutting her eyes.

Her mind and body were so fatigued that she immediately fell asleep the moment she relaxed. In fact, she hadn't fallen asleep so much as fallen unconscious.

However, this did not prevent her from entering the dream state to resume her role as a filial daughter.

She saw the two-seater long bench amongst the white mist. But strangely, that patch of greenery had now multiplied in the area several times.

Previously, it was only as big as a bed, but had now expanded to at least the size of a basketball court.

Chapter 1010 - The Feeling Of A Father's Love

Chapter 1010: The Feeling Of A Father's Love

It was rare that the Beast Deity was not sitting on the bench waiting for her, but standing at the entrance with arms open. The moment he saw Gu Mengmeng, he immediately hugged her with a fatherly benevolence. “My precious daughter. You have suffered.”

Gu Mengmeng hasn't cried since Chixuan woke up. The tears dammed up over the past dozen over days burst through at the Beast Deity's words.

She did not dare to cry in front of Elvis and Lea and was also afraid of her son witnessing her tears.

She had kept everything inside with much hardship. Her chest felt clogged up as if someone had stuffed a bunch of cotton wool into it.

The Beast Deity gently patted her on her back. “Silly girl. Why bear all that unhappiness alone? Why didn't you come back earlier if you felt so miserable... you still have me.”

Gu Mengmeng cried for a long while until all her frustrations were finally unleashed. She then raised her swollen eyes to look at the Beast Deity. “Can you please answer my question first? I am not in the mood to watch television now.”

The Beast Deity nodded. “What do you wish to ask?”

Gu Mengmeng said, “I hypnotized Chixuan, but the effect was bizarre. Chixuan now behaves like a puppet with its soul stolen. He is like a walking zombie... father, have I done wrong?”

The Beast Deity stroked Gu Mengmeng's head as he said tenderly and helplessly, "You are already doing very well. He will be fine."

Gu Mengmeng's eyes bulged. The tears in her eyes were sealed by hope, as her voice quivered timidly. "Really?"

That one word expressed her high level of unease.

Slender fingers clutched at the Beast Deity's sleeves. Her pale fingertips trembled uncontrollably.

The Beast Deity turned his hand around to hold Gu Mengmeng's. "Haven't you already given the Soul of the Forest to Chixuan?"

Gu Mengmeng was momentarily stunned, before nodding.

The Beast Deity continued. "The Soul of the Forest has two leaves. The first has already bloomed and it saved Chixuan's life, right?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded again.

The Beast Deity said, "There is another leaf. Wait for it to mature and it will unfurl. By then, Chixuan will go back to normal."

Gu Mengmeng hurried asked, "Then, when will it unfurl?"

But the Beast Deity shook his head. "Wait."

Gu Mengmeng's expression dimmed. "How long must I wait... my heart aches to see Chixuan in such a lifeless state."

The Beast Deity chuckled. "My heart also aches when I look at my daughter's despairing face."

Gu Mengmeng looked up at the Beast Deity's benevolent smile. A lump grew in her throat and she couldn't speak.

So this was what a father's love felt like.

After the age of five...

She had forgotten.

The Beast Deity placed one large hand on Gu Mengmeng's head. He gave her a couple of gentle strokes. "You must learn to believe in your own children. They are not as weak as you think. It's like with you—there were many times when you did things which surprised me and made me feel very proud."

"For example?" Gu Mengmeng was a mother in front of Chixuan. But before the Beast Deity, she had truly rediscovered the feeling of being a daughter.

A 19-year-old girl pestering her father for love and comfort. It was a pretty good feeling.

The Beast Deity chuckled and fell silent thinking for a moment. "For example, you often come back to watch television with me. When I went for my latest meeting and asked after the others, none of their children would go home to watch television with them."

Gu Mengmeng smiled at the Beast Deity's solemn face. She thought: Perhaps they don't really like to watch television? Do you think that all deities are like you and love to watch television dramas?

Chapter 1011 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1011: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

“Alright, watch television with me first. Let’s talk about the rest later.”

The Beast Deity pulled Gu Mengmeng to sit down on the long bench, before reaching out to draw aside part of the white fog.

Knowing that Chixuan had the Soul of the Forest protecting him and that he would get better sooner or later, the tensions in Gu Mengmeng’s heart relaxed by quite a bit.

Deities wouldn’t lie, right?

At least her father had never lied to her before.

Her mood lightened considerably, Gu Mengmeng stopped crying. She clung onto the Beast Deity’s arm and leaned her head on his shoulder to watch television with him.

The lights in the villa were dim but still failed to mask over Gu Mengmeng’s distress.

She instinctively thought of snatching over the love letter from Snake, but no way would he let her? He just needed to raise his hand a little—his height alone gave him an absolute advantage.

Gu Mengmeng couldn’t snatch it by force and so laughed awkwardly. “You... you kept it?”

“This is your first love letter. Of course I must keep it.” Snake was smiling casually, but behind that smile was a trace of vengefulness.

Gu Mengmeng murmured. “But it wasn’t meant for you...”

Snake acted like he didn’t hear her, but his face darkened.

From the envelope, his long fingers retrieved that letter, which now felt rough from being handled by him so many times. The letter had a deep crease, and two of his fingers were pinching right onto it. Unless one looked closely, no one would be able to see just how hard he had ravaged that specific part.

“I like you, like a sweet dream, warm and tender.”

“I like you, like the rains falling upon the farthest regions, heedless of the distance.”

“I like you, like smoke from a chimney, from the brewing of birch-leaved pears, fine snow and freshly fallen rain.”

“I like you, like how the cloud chases the wind, no questions asked.”

“I like you, even the most lovely springtime scenery cannot be compared to you.”

Snake read the letter word by word until the end. His tone and cadence were just right, and he kept his eyes fixed on Gu Mengmeng the entire time, as if the letter in his hands was just a prop.

Ha, this guy had obviously memorized the entire contents. It was as if the letter in his hands was just an additional reminder of Gu Mengmeng’s offense.

“Are you sure that someone like Zhan Jin Cheng, who has never gotten a double-digit score on his Chinese tests, will be able to understand such prose?”

Gu Mengmeng had already been forced to a corner by Snake and had nowhere to run. He leaned closer and Gu Mengmeng was completely plastered against the wall. She looked like she was desperately trying to melt into the wall. Looking somewhat timid and helpless, her expression extinguished the fire in Snake's chest.

At the end of the day, Zhan Jin Cheng had not read this love letter.

Apart from him, no one had read it.

And the person who wrote this love letter already belonged to him.

But he couldn't let her off just like that. Otherwise, who knew what other daring stunts she might pull in the future.

Snake had both arms on either side of Gu Mengmeng's ears and he bent them slightly so that his face was touching the tip of her nose. Warm and ambiguous breaths misted across Gu Mengmeng's face. Snake said in a low voice, "Or perhaps... you never liked him that much and so never meant for him to understand this love letter, and never intended for him to accept it."

Gu Mengmeng shrank back and said in a small voice, "I didn't know his Chinese is not good..."

Snake gritted his teeth. Who was it that claimed she was timid? In his entire 19 years of his reincarnated life, no one had ever dared to go against his wishes when he was so angry.

He had already given her a way out but she refused to take it!

He really felt like biting her to death and end this once and for all.

But he knew he could never bear to.

Chapter 1012 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1012: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

“Now that you know this, do you plan to write another letter more appropriate to his reading abilities? Do you need me to give you some pointers? Mmm?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. “I have a boyfriend now. Why would I write a love letter to someone else.”

His anger instantly dispelled.

Snake himself was astounded.

So he was so easily coaxed. Just one word from her could send him to the clouds.

Everything she had done in the past that had made him unhappy, could be completely forgiven and forgotten.

He circled Gu Mengmeng’s waist and lifted her, pressing her against his belly.

Lowering his head, he kissed her on the lips with much lingering and tenderness. As if it was a small reward.

“But I still mind very much that your first love letter was not written for me. Your first sweet nothings were not meant for me... every painstaking word you came up with does not belong to me...”

Gu Mengmeng was rather breathless from Snake’s kiss. She felt soft all over as she sprawled against his chest. “I copied those words...”

“Mmm?” Snake’s eyes brightened as his mood improved.

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head bashfully. “I saw that prose on an APP and thought they sounded beautiful. So I copied the words down for the love letter. I didn’t compose it on my own...”

“Ha.” Snake was happy again. His woman didn’t waste much efforts on another person. Her love letter was rather superficial, implying that she didn’t really like Zhan Jin Cheng that much.

“Even so, I am still jealous.” Snake gently hooked Gu Mengmeng’s chin. “So, tell me how you are going to make it up to me? Mmm?”

Jealous? He was a high and mighty CEO, a child blessed by the gods whom mere mortals could only look up to.

He could also feel jealousy?

And just because her first love letter was written for someone else?

“I... I can also copy one for you?” Gu Mengmeng asked in a tentative manner.

Snake raised one brow. “Copy?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and immediately corrected herself. “I will compose it myself, compose it myself...”

Snake bestowed another kiss on Gu Mengmeng’s lips before finally letting her go. He couldn’t help smiling as he watched her run up the stairs like she was fleeing for her life and then slamming her door shut.

He heard her racing heartbeat as she struggled to catch her breath behind that door.

“I very much look forward to it, my Twomeng.”

The next day was the weekend. Gu Mengmeng didn’t need to go to school but was already used to waking up early to go to work. So she still got up at seven in the morning as usual.

She had just gotten dressed when someone knocked on the door. Gu Mengmeng rubbed her eyes and opened the door, to see Snake leaning against the door frame and smiling at her. “Good morning.”

Gu Mengmeng was momentarily taken aback before slamming the door shut. She then fled to the bathroom to wash her face and brush her teeth.

After rubbing her own chest to calm herself down, Gu Mengmeng once again opened the door to see Snake still posing there like a model. It was as if there had been a time lapse, even his smile was just as doting as before.

“Senior, good morning...”

This was the first time she was saying good morning to her boyfriend. Gu Mengmeng felt an indescribable sense of sweetness spreading throughout her entire body.

Snake circled Gu Mengmeng’s waist and pecked her on the lips. “Let’s go down for breakfast.”

“You prepared all these?” Gu Mengmeng looked in surprise at the Western-style breakfast exquisitely spread out on the table.

Snake nodded and pulled a chair out for Gu Mengmeng. “If you like it, I can prepare this everyday for you.”

Chapter 1013 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1013: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Snake spooned up a little potato salad to Gu Mengmeng's lips, watching her with tender eyes as he waited for her to open her mouth.

Gu Mengmeng blushed uncontrollably. Ever since she could remember, she had never been fed by anyone before. She couldn't really bear such a flirtatious gesture from Snake so early in the morning.

"This... I can manage myself," Gu Mengmeng said in a small voice.

She reached up to take over the spoon, but Snake grabbed her hand and placed it around his waist instead.

She was sitting at the dining table while he was leaning against it. The sun shining through the European-style wooden windows lit up Snake's back and gave him a halo effect. His slender and very nice-looking fingers held the tiny spoon by the side of her mouth. He asked with a smile, "What's the point of having me as your boyfriend if you are going to do everything yourself?"

Gu Mengmeng's heart was nearly leaping out of her throat. Thankfully, she was sitting down or she might have gone soft in the knees and collapsed on the floor.

"Ah." Snake prompted her to open her mouth.

So Gu Mengmeng obediently parted her lips under his watchful gaze. She let him feed her that small portion of potato salad. He then gazed at her with loving and expectant eyes. "Does it taste good?"

Gu Mengmeng's tongue was numb and she was totally incapable of tasting anything. Her blood was racing wildly inside her so who knew whether that potato salad tasted good?

But regardless of whether she could taste it, Gu Mengmeng obediently nodded.

If for no other reason than the fact that he had gotten up so early in the morning to prepare this breakfast for her, making her feel like the entire world was one sweet, pink bubble.

Was it important what she was eating? Was it really important?! It was not important at all!

Snake's smile widened. He leaned over and kissed Gu Mengmeng on the lips. His agile tongue slipped into her mouth and took in the lingering taste inside. Straightening back up, Snake gently wiped off the saliva he had left on her lips. He chuckled. "Mmm, I will remember this. In the future, I will prepare this for you according to this exact taste."

Blushing furiously, Gu Mengmeng gave Snake a shove. "What... I am your special assistant and taking care of your daily three meals is my job. You should let me prepare this for you In the future."

Snake took two steps back and sat on a chair beside Gu Mengmeng, maintaining a more respectable distance.

Of course he wished to keep sticking close to her, but her heart was beating so hard that he could hear it clearly even when sitting at this distance. If he didn't back off sooner... she might have a heart attack?

He liked her feeling bashful because of him, but was also afraid of her blowing up on the spot.

He took an elegant sip of milk before answering, "Your boss is your boyfriend so you can take advantage of some special workplace favors. I will accept and cooperate fully."

“Cough... cough cough cough!” Gu Mengmeng choked and nearly coughed her lungs out.

What special favors?!

So embarrassing!

Snake chuckled and rubbed her back. “Eat slowly. No one is going to take away your food.”

Gu Mengmeng waved and shook her head. “It is still better to draw a clear line between our personal and professional lives.”

It was already very stressful to be in a relationship with Snake. If she didn’t even perform her work duties, she would really feel like she was a kept mistress.

Snake casually shifted back and placed his hands criss-crossed on the table. He looked at Gu Mengmeng. “I remember there was a term in the contract called ‘everything must be arranged to the CEO’s liking’. I like to prepare meals for you and I like to feed you. I also like to have you take advantage of the unspoken rules. If you don’t comply, pay me the compensation fee to dissolve the contract.”

Chapter 1014 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1014: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

“Pfft...” Gu Mengmeng giggled.

Speaking such willful words with his domineering CEO attitude and his wicked expression—it gave off a strangely comic effect.

Snake’s mood improved on seeing her giggle.

This was his happiest morning over the past 19 years.

To be able to greet her good morning and then eat breakfast with her.

Gu Mengmeng felt rather uncomfortable from his intense stare, and so changed the topic. “Senior, your cooking is very good.”

Snake chuckled before propping up his cheek on one hand to look at Gu Mengmeng. “There are other things which I can do even better. Do you want to try? Mmm?”

Damn! She had never been in a romantic relationship before, but Gu Mengmeng felt that she understood what he meant!

She had just managed to calm herself down but was now blushing a deep red again. Gu Mengmeng immediately lowered her head and stared at the plate of salad, not daring to look at Snake.

Snake knew she thought he meant something indecent, but didn’t admit that he had purposely spoken ambiguously to mislead her. He just continued in a very normal manner. ” If you were to make a list of all the things I can do, it would probably be as thick as a Xinhua Dictionary. Preparing meals is just one of the most simple skills.”

As thick as a Xinhua Dictionary...

Gu Mengmeng wanted to say that Snake was bragging, but looking up at him, she couldn't help feeling that he was just speaking the truth.

God was indeed biased. He had created the perfect man in Snake.

"Then is there anything you don't know how to do?" Gu Mengmeng sighed rather plaintively.

Snake thought about it before nodding. "Yes, there is one thing I don't know how to do."

"Mmm? What is it?" Gu Mengmeng's eye brightened. She must learn that one skill which Snake didn't know. Then there would be at least one thing she could win him at.

Snake chuckled and pinched her face. "I don't know how to... leave you."

Thump...

Thump...

Gu Mengmeng's heart gave two heavy thuds before stopping for three beats.

Lowering her head, she shoved in a mouthful of salad. "One shouldn't speak when eating or sleeping."

Snake gave a light laugh. He took in her every adorable reaction.

Mmm, this was a precious treasure he had finally received in exchange for waiting 19 years. He couldn't waste a single moment.

He also decided not to tell her that he had learned all those skills just so that he could do anything for her at her time of need.

As much as he hated fire, he resolutely stood before a stove to learn how to cook the various delicacies from around the world. Just so he wouldn't once again give her roasted meat that not only still had fur on its skin, but was charred black on the outside and raw on the inside. He never wished to see her get food poisoning again because of the food he prepared...

He planned to compensate for that onetime mistake with a lifetime of meals.

“Twomeng.” Snake took up Gu Mengmeng’s hand and gazed into her eyes. “I have only come into your life at this point, and this point onwards will be for the rest of my life. I entered into this relationship with this notion in mind. So Twomeng, answer me, you won’t leave me either, right?”

Gu Mengmeng hesitated but still smiled and nodded.

Never leave?

Gu Mengmeng actually wasn’t confident of that.

But even God himself would pretend he didn’t hear the sweet nothings of young lovers.

Snake didn’t know Gu Mengmeng was treating this promise as just a sweet nothing. He saw her nod and his mood instantly brightened. He gave her a peck on the forehead and continued with their breakfast.

Chapter 1015 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1015: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Snake spent Mondays to Fridays at school with Gu Mengmeng, and so had to spend the weekends at MonSir corporation.

After all, there were many documents which required his personal signature before they could be filed, and numerous strategies which needed his approval before they could be launched.

So after breakfast, Snake brought Gu Mengmeng into the changing room and let her pick his suit for the day.

A whole range of suits were arranged neatly on a clothes rack, from the darkest to the lightest tones—the lightest one of which was a pale gray.

Hmm, there used to be a few white suits, but since Gu Mengmeng mocked him for looking like a handsome Kentucky in white, Snake had thrown away all his white suits.

To be honest, Gu Mengmeng did not know much about western suits other than the fact that they looked “dashing”. She had watched those red carpet events at award ceremonies every year, but couldn’t differentiate between the suits worn by the male celebrities apart from the color.

So now that Snake was asking her to pick one out for him, Gu Mengmeng was feeling rather panicky.

After all, they had been together for only a short time, and she didn’t really know his likes and dislikes.

What if she chose wrongly...

Gu Mengmeng peeked at Snake out of the corners of her eyes. Snake seemed to understand her unease and embraced her gently from behind. He whispered by her ear. “Just pick something you think looks nice, and I will try it on for you. As long as you like it, I will also like it.”

Gu Mengmeng’s heart tightened as she shrank slightly.

She then pointed at a khaki-colored, three-buttoned western suit. Taking it down, she used the excuse of needing to measure the suit against Snake’s body to squirm out of his arms.

Snake knew she was not used to being hugged and so didn’t force it. He just watched her calmly as she sized him up.

Gu Mengmeng replaced the khaki-colored suit and took out another one in a deep coffee shade. Comparing the two, she felt that this color looked somewhat better and so discreetly stole a look at Snake’s face, hoping to see if he liked it.

Snake grinned at her affectionately. “Do you like this? I will try it on for you to see.”

With that, Snake started undoing his own buttons.

Gu Mengmeng was shocked. “Don’t move!”

Snake immediately stopped moving like someone had pressed the pause button on him. He then looked steadily at Gu Mengmeng.

He waited for her to look at him before smiling. “What? Does Twomeng wish to personally help me take off my clothes?”

Gu Mengmeng’s face turned even redder. She shook her head vigorously. “No no. I... I will place this outfit here for you first... then I will go out and you can take your time to change...”

With that, Gu Mengmeng turned to run away.

She had just taken one step when Snake grabbed her by the wrist. With just a slight tug, she fell into his embrace.

Snake looked down at her with a smile. “You are my ‘personal’ assistant. Isn’t getting my suit ready part of your job? Why are you running away? Mmm?”

Getting his suit ready... did that include helping him take off his clothes and putting it on?

Gu Mengmeng wanted to retort, but she knew her own place. With that outrageously unfair and one-sided contract, she was completely at Snake’s mercy.

Pouting, Gu Mengmeng raise her head rather pathetically. “Didn’t you say I could take advantage of some special workplace favors...”

“Mmm? So you wish to give me some special favor now?” Snake’s smile widened.

Chapter 1016 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1016: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Gu Mengmeng blinked. She felt like she was in a tight spot.

Give him special favors...

It wasn't that she didn't wish to. She didn't dare to...

Gu Mengmeng had no guts to do so at all.

But if she didn't...

Did she really have to personally remove his clothes and put on the suit for him?

Snake placed his face before Gu Mengmeng. "Give me a kiss and I will take it as you have given me a special favor."

She could still accept a kiss.

After all, the two of them had their first kiss in front of a huge public crowd.

So if it was just a kiss when no one was around, Gu Mengmeng felt that such special favors were acceptable.

Hence she leaned forward as she prepared to kiss Snake on the cheek.

But before the two of them made contact, Snake turned and their lips met precisely.

Snake's jade green eyes were full of warm amusement and a trace of sly satisfaction.

Gu Mengmeng blushed and instantly retracted her own lips as if she had been electrocuted. She wanted to run but Snake didn't let her. He held her tightly by the waist. "This is the first time you have kissed me on your own. I enjoyed it very much."

With that, he kissed Gu Mengmeng on the cheek again. "Wait for me right outside the door. Don't stray too far off."

Gu Mengmeng nodded before Snake finally loosened his grip and let her dash off like the wind.

Snake changed into the dark coffee-colored suit which Gu Mengmeng had chosen for him and paired it with an exquisite pair of handmade leather shoes. He then picked up a matching striped tie from a box and was just about to fasten it when he paused.

"Twomeng, come in."

Gu Mengmeng was holding both hands across her face. She parted her fingers slightly and peeked out of the opening, breathing a sigh of relief when she saw that Snake was already dressed. Only then did she enter.

Snake handed the tie to Gu Mengmeng. "Help me wear this."

Gu Mengmeng smiled with embarrassment. "But I don't know how to knot a tie..."

"Any knot will do. Even a dead knot is fine."

"Eh?" Gu Mengmeng looked nonplussed. She might be clueless, but could still see that this tie did not come cheap. And Snake was going to work today. An important CEO wearing expensive clothes, but with his tie in a dead knot? "That... won't look good..."

"I just want you to tie me up... in any way you want."

“Pfft...” Gu Mengmeng laughed out loud. He wasn’t a dog, what did he mean by tying him up.

But Gu Mengmeng really didn’t know how to fasten a tie. Nevertheless, she didn’t make a dead knot, but tied it in the manner of the red scarves worn by the Young Pioneers of China.

Snake drove them to MonSir Corporation. Perhaps it was her own mental bias but Gu Mengmeng’s attention was continuously drawn towards Snake’s tie. The more she looked at it, the more embarrassed and uncomfortable she felt.

“Why don’t you undo it and retie it yourself.” Gu Mengmeng finally spoke up when she could no longer bear it.

Snake just smiled. “No need. This is very good. Very good.”

This knot was tied by Twomeng. Because of this knot, Twomeng’s attention had been focused on him.

Undo it? Ha, he would kill whoever dared to try.

Snake drove the car straight into the underground car park at MonSir Corporation, where he had a reserved slot. After parking the car, they entered the dedicated lift for the CEO’s use.

Used to pressing the button for the top floor, his finger hesitated.

Chuckling, Snake’s finger gradually lowered and pressed the number “1”.

Chapter 1017 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1017: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

“Not going to your office?” Gu Mengmeng asked in confusion.

Snake embraced Gu Mengmeng and kissed her on the forehead. “I want to show you off at the lobby first and let everyone in the company get to know their future lady boss.”

Gu Mengmeng’s face turned red.

Today, it seemed like the redness on her face never got the chance to fade off.

Ding dong...

The lift door opened.

The receptionist who was seated right across from the lift was obviously shocked. Firstly, she had never seen the CEO walk out from the lift onto the lobby before. Secondly, the CEO always went solo and never allowed anyone to even come close to him. And he was actually hugging a girl now...

“Hello CEO.” The receptionist got over her shock rather quickly and immediately stood up to greet Snake.

Snake didn’t reply. He walked around the lobby with his arms around Gu Mengmeng, before returning to the entrance of the lift. He reached in to press every button in the lift before stepping out again right before the doors shut. He waited for the lift to start its ascend before pressing the up button on the outside. His right arm remained around Gu Mengmeng's shoulder the entire time.

Gu Mengmeng felt very uncomfortable with the x-ray eyes of the crowd fixed on them. She asked in a small voice, "What are you doing?"

Snake gave a mild smile. "Waiting for the lift."

Gu Mengmeng, "..."

The unoccupied CEO lift stopped at every level, scaring everyone in the office. They gathered at the lift entrances, all prepared to greet their CEO, only to find it empty when it opened. Their CEO was not inside, causing them to exchange confused looks.

When the lift finally returned to the first floor, Snake led Gu Mengmeng inside before pressing the button for the top story to his office.

Gu Mengmeng was blushing with embarrassment the entire time. She desperately wished to find a hole in the ground to bury herself in. Every single person she met kept staring at her, and with a probing intensity that made her feel as if she wasn't wearing any clothes.

After entering Snake's office, Gu Mengmeng collapsed on the sofa in exhaustion. She stared speechless at Snake's cheerful mood.

Was it because the minds of rich people worked differently?

Didn't those novels always portrayed the romance between CEOs and the poor commoner girls as secretive affairs? Why was he being so flagrant? Wasn't he afraid that his mother might throw a check in her face after finding out about their relationship, to force her to leave him?

Feeling Gu Mengmeng's eyes on him, Snake had just sat down at his desk chair with a piece of document when he looked up at her. "Are you staring at me like that as a hint that you hope something to happen in here?"

Damn...

Another innuendo!

Gu Mengmeng felt that she truly had a dirty mind.

Turning away, she asked, “Why did you play with the lift like that earlier?”

Snake looked at Gu Mengmeng in surprise. “I was showing off our relationship. Couldn’t you tell?”

“Cough cough cough...” Gu Mengmeng was at a loss for words as she stared at Snake. “I mean why are showing off our relationship?”

Snake rubbed his own nose and smiled sweetly. His voice was full of bliss. “I can’t wait for everyone to know that you are the one I like. And that... we are together.”

Looking at Snake’s tender expression and listening to his every word, which sounded like it resonated with his own heartbeat—Gu Mengmeng felt her unease and embarrassment gradually melt away.

She didn’t know when did Snake fall in love with her, but the past few days together confirmed one thing: Snake truly loved her a lot. He loved her terribly.

Chapter 1018 - Killing Your Sister Because I Love You

Chapter 1018: Killing Your Sister Because I Love You

As the white fog slowly gathered, the image disappeared behind the mist.

As though she had just finished watching a sweet movie, Gu Mengmeng felt so much better.

She stretched her hands and stood up from the chair, she turned around and saw the Beast Deity smiling at her.

“Father, this place became so much bigger than the previous time I was here,” Gu Mengmeng commented.

The Beast Deity nodded and said, “That’s right, you brought so much hope to the Beast World and hence you gained more power from it.”

But...

She did not even do anything.

Confused, Gu Mengmeng looked at the Beast Deity. She remained quiet for a long time before suddenly realizing something.

The first appearance of the ____ was not from the fact that she combined the Mermaid Tribe and the Giant Fish Tribe, neither was it because she had dug the well, but because she had obtained the Kiss of the Ocean...

So the expansion this time was due to the Soul of the Forest?

As though he could read Gu Mengmeng’s mind, the Beast Deity rubbed her head and said, “The white fog here would disappear once you have gathered the seven treasures. From what I can see now... it must be a beautiful patch of grassland, full of hope.”

Gu Mengmeng’s brain was buzzing non-stop.

She remembered that the Beast Deity had told her before, that the doors of time and space will open once the white fog here disappears completely.

Gu Mengmeng took a step subconsciously, stared at the Beast Deity and asked, “I can choose to not return, can’t I...”

The Beast Deity nodded and said, “Nobody can force you to do it, the choice is in your hands.”

It was the same answer as he gave the last time.

Gu Mengmeng finally heaved a sigh of relief.

Taking a few deep breaths, Gu Mengmeng adjusted her emotions and said, “I am here to ask some other matters...”

“And what are they?” The Beast Deity was like a good father answering with everything he knew.

Gu Mengmeng asked, “Melinda, the female I saved while obtaining the Kiss of the Ocean, do you know her?”

The Beast Deity chuckled and replied, “Yea, I have seen the Love on the Battlefield.”

Gu Mengmeng giggled. ‘Love on the Battlefield’ was the joke she had made on the way back from the Kiss of the Ocean while helping Melinda and Carter with the stray beasts. But since the Beast Deity knew about it, Gu Mengmeng would not waste more time explaining.

She asked directly, “There was something that I don’t understand. Why must Dora kill Melinda? She like Fei Rui, but Fei Rui and Melinda are siblings.”

The Beast Deity rubbed Gu Mengmeng's head and said, "It was jealousy."

"Jealousy?" Gu Mengmeng could not understand.

The Beast Deity nodded his head before continuing, "Fei Rui had grown up with Dora and Dora has always liked Fei Rui. But ever since Melinda was born, Fei Rui had shifted his focus all onto his precious little sister and became colder and colder to Dora. Dora had been trying to please Fei Rui continuously to attract his attention with everything she could think of, but none could shift his focus on Melinda. Then, she thought of killing. She believed that Fei Rui's attention will be back onto her once Melinda dies."

Gu Mengmeng facepalmed, she felt like breaking down.

She thought that the "70 Rounds of Fight Between Mother-In-Law and Daughter-In-Law" in the present world was the peak of ethical drama, but this "Killing Your Sister Because I Love You" drama was on another level.

Shaking her head, Gu Mengmeng just wanted an answer, but could not be bothered to judge who was right and who was wrong.

Love was not something that could be explained clearly.

Turning her head, Gu Mengmeng showed the mark on the back of her neck and said, "Father, one last thing, look at this mark of mine. Wabei said this mark has changed, I cannot see it myself, Elvis and Lea both could not tell either."

Chapter 1019 - The Absolute Leader That Nobody Could Defy

Chapter 1019: The Absolute Leader That Nobody Could Defy

The Beast Deity held onto Gu Mengmeng's loose hair and looked at her neck. He chuckled and said, "Yes, it seems different."

Gu Mengmeng was stunned for a moment, she frowned and said, "But Snake looks fine just before this."

The Beast Deity nodded and continued, "The protection mark is different from the mating mark. The protection mark will change depending on the power inherited inside your body."

Gu Mengmeng looked at the Beast Deity with an expressionless face, please forgive her but not understanding what he was saying.

The Beast Deity thought for a while, before asking, "Do you remember the poisonous gas which was absorbed by the Kiss of the Ocean?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded and signaled that she remembered.

The Beast Deity chuckled and said, "That was a venom from a snake."

Without waiting for Gu Mengmeng to question again, he continued, "Do you remember the blood that was sucked into your palm while retrieving the Soul of the Forest?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded again.

The Beast Deity then said, "That was the blood of a snake."

Gu Mengmeng frowned and did not understand.

The Beast Deity continued, “Then do you know who the snake is?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head truthfully.

The Beast Deity said, “Wales.”

The Beast Deity just stated one name, but Gu Mengmeng’s whole body shook.

Wales? ! Snake’s father, the one with the heart dug out by Wang Xiaoxin? !

The Beast Deity nodded and confirmed Gu Mengmeng’s suspicion. He then continued, “What Snake had left you with was his personal protection mark, but it is also a key. You absorbing Wales’s blood and venom was equivalent to activating this key and opened the door of the protection mark. You should have realized by now, you became much more powerful compared to the last time. In the past, snakes had obeyed you because they were fearful of your power as the Beast Kind, or wanted to see protection from your identity as the Messenger of the Beast Deity, or like Wabei, respecting you because of Snake. But now...”

The Beast Deity stopped here for a moment, before continuing, “Now, the protection mark on you has changed from Snake’s personal mark to that of the entire snake tribe, which means that all snakes cannot disobey your orders. You are the absolute leader and nobody could defy you.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned and remembered Wabei’s strange behaviors the day they came back from taking the Soul of the Forest

That day, she did not release beast pressure, she only said to ‘stop’ and Wabei turned as weak as a strand of cooked noodle as he laid on the ground, unable to get up. Cole even said that he could never get back up if she did not let him.

So, it was because of the change of the protection mark, and not because of the power of the Beast King?

“Do you still remember Ellie’s death?” The Beast Deity continued, “It was because she had forcefully gone against Snake’s orders that her scales dropped off one by one, as though her skin had been ripped off from her. You could tell how angry Snake was. But now, you have the same power.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned and felt a little unease deep down her heart.

She clearly remembered the Beast Deity saying Wang Xiaoxin realizing her love for Wales after his death, hence giving up her chance of going back to the present world and stayed in the Beast World.

But...

Then why did Wales’s blood and venom end up in the deep ocean and at Zacharias?

The Beast Deity kissed Gu Mengmeng’s forehead and said, “Alright, there are some things then you will understand in the future. Go back now, or else Elvis and Lea will be worried.”

Gu Mengmeng knew that this meant the Beast Deity did not want to answer any more questions. She did not want to force him and asked this again, as usual, “How about when Wabei went to look for Snake, could you tell me about that now?”

Chapter 1020 - Hide It for Her Entire Life

Chapter 1020: Hide It for Her Entire Life

The Beast Deity smiled without saying anything, Gu Mengmeng then understood that the answer was ‘no’.

The answer was the same every single time, Gu Mengmeng did not even have the strength to feel sad over it.

She hugged the Beast Deity before leaving and said, “One only knew the hard work his parents put in when he was raising a child on his own, I must have brought about many troubles to you... when I was young and stubborn.”

The Beast Deity patted Gu Mengmeng’s back gently and kindly, he said, “No, most of the time you have made me proud. Besides, you accompany me to watch dramas.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and said, “You must be the most flippant deity I have ever seen or heard before.”

The Beast Deity did not comment and just watched Gu Mengmeng fall all the way.

When Gu Mengmeng had recovered from the feeling of weightlessness, she opened her eyes and sure enough, she saw a pair of blue eyes.

It was as though Elvis had been looking at her without resting every time Gu Mengmeng went to meet the Beast Deity. Because she had always met his gentle and concerned look whenever she opened her eyes.

Gu Mengmeng did not rush to stand up, instead, she turned around and hugged Elvis's waist. Her small body snuggled into Elvis's arms as she called with a hoarse voice, "Hubby."

"Yes, I am here." Elvis brushed through Gu Mengmeng's hair and kissed her on the eyebrows.

Gu Mengmeng asked, "Did you not sleep at all when I went to find the Beast Deity?"

Elvis smiled and answered, "Yes."

"Why didn't you?"

"I was scared..." Elvis took a deep breath, there was a little tiredness and many affection in his deep voice. He continued, "I was scared that the Beast Deity might take you away suddenly, just like how he had brought you here without any warning."

Elvis rubbed his chin against Gu Mengmeng's head, sniffing the smell of her greedily. He felt her breath spraying against her chest, itchy, but comfortable.

"So, I had to watch over you every second to make myself content."

Gu Mengmeng looked up at Elvis and asked, "So you did not eat anything nor sleep these few days?"

Elvis nodded and said, "It is normal for males to not sleep or eat for three to four days, it's alright."

Gu Mengmeng pretended to be angry and shot a glare at Elvis, who immediately replied cleverly, "Lea guessed that you will wake up today and prepared lots of food. Later I will eat with you, I will eat more, alright?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded, smiled and did not say anything. She continued to lay in Elvis's arms, bury her face into his chest and not let him see her expression.

She did not allow them to have any secrets on her and also lying to her in the name of ‘doing it for her’.

But, she had hidden the fact that when all the white fog had disappeared, the doors of time and space might open any time and she had to face the decision of staying or leaving.

It was not that she did not want to tell them, but they were already so anxious, if she told them about this...

She would not choose to leave them anyway,, so it does not matter whether she says it or not.

In this entire life, she would only hide this truth from them for her entire life.

Lea knew that Gu Mengmeng had woken up hearing the noises in the house. He heaved a sigh of relief unconsciously and adjusted the fire to prepare the food faster.

While eating, Gu Mengmeng told Wabei about the protection mark and how he need not to worry as Snakel was fine at that side. Wabei finally felt relieved after so long. Then, he put two slices of meat into Gu Mengmeng’s bowl as an apology for his poor attitude a while back.

Chapter 1021 - Plans For Zacharias

Chapter 1021: Plans For Zacharias

Wabei was severely wounded by Gu Mengmeng and did not appear for these few days.

Chixuan was his normal self, sitting quietly at the doorstep everyday. The few days that Gu Mengmeng was asleep, he would purposely walk to Gu Mengmeng's bed and look at her every morning he woke up and before going to bed. But he would remain quiet, and he would proceed to do what he was supposed to do after looking at her.

Although it was just one look, Gu Mengmeng felt warm in her heart.

Lea said, although Chixuan still did not like talking to others, talkative Kanwu chattering around Chixuan everyday without feeling tired had made him open his mouth to reply a few times, even though his face was still expressionless.

Hede was the big brother of the four, although he talked the least, Chixuan would obey without replying the few times he said something.

It was Jialue, the smart one that could not handle Chixuan, especially with Kanwu boasting about the difference between the amount of words Chixuan said to him and to Jialue. The comparison had greatly impacted Jialue's self-confidence, thinking about how his talented brain had lost to a shameless fool...

But fooling around was one thing, the four brothers were close nonetheless.

To Gu Mengmeng, this was the second piece of good news.

When it was evening, the sunset colored the entire sky red.

Gu Mengmeng laid in Elvis's arms, watching her four sons cuddling together not far away. Of course, it was the other three that followed where Chixuan had sat and forced themselves to his side as they proceeded with their daily harassment. But Chixuan did not show any signs of rejection or annoyance, he just sat there quietly and let the rest talk beside him.

Lea flung his furry big tail and sat beside Gu Mengmeng. He asked, "Do you have any plans... for the Zacharias tribe?"

Gu Mengmeng was stunned for a moment and she felt a little frustrated.

She had promised Leonard to let Zacharias tribe into Saint Nazaire and become a sub-tribe just like Sauder. But there were too many things that kept Gu Mengmeng busy, and she had forgotten about allocating this tribe.

Lea did not want Gu Mengmeng to be worried over this and said slowly, "The tribe's witch doctor, Nick, is good, he was the one that had settled all the tribe's matters, small or big, properly after Leonard died. But he was just a second-level beast after all, problems might surface sooner or later."

"Do you have someone in mind?" Gu Mengmeng asked.

Lea nodded and replied, "Burke."

Gu Mengmeng raised her eyebrows and was surprised at Lea's suggestion.

Lea said, "After a winter-long of correction, the people that were too weak in his tribe had already been eliminated. Although those that are left are not the strongest, it should be no problems for them to migrate from Sauder to Zacharias. Although that guy is somewhat over confident of himself, he is a responsible male with the prior experience of being a leader." Most importantly, Burke would never betray Gu Mengmeng.

The males in the Beast World were all stubborn beings, liking one person was something that would remain unchanged for their entire life, even if they did not get any replies.

So Oakley's incident would not happen on Burke again.

But Lea did not point this out, he was not foolish enough to express loyalty for other males in front of Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng thought for a while and replied, "If I remember correctly, Burke is a mere third-level beast and might not be much stronger than Nick. If we just appoint him as the leader to the tribe suddenly, the tribesmen might not listen to him."

Chapter 1022 - Worried That He Will Be Taken Advantage of

Chapter 1022: Worried That He Will Be Taken Advantage of

Lea looked at the four little ones not far away, seemed a bit hesitant, but still continued, “So, I want Kanwu to come along with Burke. Kanwu is your son, having the royal status, him calling Burke teacher would raise Burke’s status. Nobody dared to say anything. Besides... Zacharias is near to the base camp of the stray beats. The leader here is Peter, whose weakness is Natalie, while Natalie... would never allow Peter to hurt Elvis’s children. On the other hand, if something happens in Zacharias, Peter might be able to help out with some manpower In this way, it’s like making your greatest enemy into your greatest friend.”

Gu Mengmeng knew that her sons had all matured into adulthood and had to lead their own lives outside someday.

But she did not expect this day to come so soon.

Her sons did not even turn two yet.

They had just gotten back to Chixuan and now they have to send away another Kanwu...

“If you are unwilling, we can think of other ways.” Lea had actually given the best plan, but he did not want to see Gu Mengmeng upset.

Just like what Elvis had said, as long as Gu Mengmeng was happy, it was nothing for them to raise a nest of useless wolf cubs.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and said, “Kanwu has grown up, they knew what they are doing, you should go and discuss with him on this. If he is willing, I have no objections. Although I am his mom, I cannot lug him around my waist for my entire life, can I?”

Gu Mengmeng said it in a light tone, but she felt extremely sad deep in her heart.

The conflict was difficult to explain. On one hand she was gratified by how much her sons had grown, on the other hand she could not bear her sons leaving her.

Lea hugged Gu Mengmeng lightly and said, “Don’t be too worried, here’s not too far away from Saint Nazaire, we can always visit him in the future, or wait until Burke’s position have stabilized and ask Kanwu to come back.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and did not comment further.

When this matter was mentioned to Kanwu, Kanwu agreed to it without thinking. He had the look of a youngster chasing after his dream and the displaying the freeness and pride of it. Gu Mengmeng smiled and shook her head helplessly.

It was really like how the mother was worried for the son when he set out to travel a thousand miles, while the son was worry free when it was the mother that traveled.

It was as though the heartless little one did not miss Gu Mengmeng a single bit.

Gu Mengmeng could not bear to blame him and just look at Kanwu getting all excited at drafting a future with numerous flaws while smiling. She did not know whether to laugh or smile.

Chixuan, who had been quiet throughout, suddenly stood up and walked towards Gu Mengmeng. He said, “Mom, I want to stay with Kanwu, can I?”

“You?” Gu Mengmeng was surprised.

Chixuan nodded his head, took a glance back at Kanwu and frowned. He turned back to look at Gu Mengmeng and said, “I am worried that he will be taken advantage of.”

Gu Mengmeng, Lea, Elvis and even Jialue understood that Chixuan was saying Kanwu was too stupid.

Only Kanwu himself did not understand, he grabbed Chixuan by his neck excitedly and said intimately, “Second brother treats me the best, I feel much more safe with a second-level beast around me, bullying someone must see who’s his siblings, right!”

Chixuan sighed, he looked at Gu Mengmeng without saying anything, but his eyes clearly wrote “Look at how stupid he is, he would be in so much problems if there was no one to look after him.”

Seeing Gu Mengmeng hesitating, Kanwu pounced into Gu Mengmeng’s arms and pleaded, “Mom, you know how much I admire my second brother, now that second brother is willing to take care of me, I am so happy. Please don’t break us couples up!”

Gu Mengmeng was speechless. Son, that’s not how you use the phrase! No!

Chapter 1023 - Tell Her That She's Free

Chapter 1023: Tell Her That She's Free

The second day, Kanwu and Chixuan set off to Zacharias, personally sent by Lea.

Without the two sons that made her worried the most, Gu Mengmeng suddenly felt an emptiness.

Sitting at where Chixuan used to sit and daze everyday and looking at the sceneries he had seen, Gu Mengmeng thought, maybe she should try to let go.

As long as Chixuan was not by Cole's side, she could let him be independent. She was not a mother that frantically tied her children around her, she just could not let her son into the wrong path and not saving him.

It was better this way, with Chixuan and Kanwu leaving to Zacharias, maybe she could... be free to deal with Cole.

When Gu Mengmeng was deep in her thoughts, Peter had come to pay a visit.

Gu Mengmeng was surprised. Peter was fond of Natalie's this batch of children and treated them totally different from Elvis's. Ever since Natalie had given birth, he followed around Natalie everywhere she went. The previous time when they went to retrieve the Soul of the Forest, he would not have went if not for Natalie's words.

Today... why did he leave Natalie alone to see her?

Gu Mengmeng stood up, she subconsciously treated Peter as a senior since he was Elvis's father after all.

There was something wrong with Peter's expression, and it was solemn. Although it was broad daylight, his facial features were hidden in the shadows, unable to see clearly.

Elvis instinctively hid Gu Mengmeng behind his back and looked at Peter cautiously.

Peter did not continue walking near them and stopped a meter away. There was blood trickling down his palm, but he did not realize.

The atmosphere became a little tensed. Gu Mengmeng did not know what to say, she looked at Peter quietly, waiting for him to open his mouth.

After a long time, Peter started talking, "You said that you could bring Natalie to Saint Nazaire and keep her under protection... Is this still valid?"

Gu Mengmeng was stunned for a moment, Peter did not look like he was going to leave with Natalie, but was trying to send her away separately.

Frowning, Gu Mengmeng asked, "What's wrong?"

Peter looked up, his wolf eyes were fiery red and his features were distorted in a menacing way. His whole face was trembling, signaling the limit of him holding back his feelings.

He was trying to control himself with all his strength.

"Bring her away, protect her... Tell her that she's free." The veins on Peter's arm were bulging and he stared hard at Gu Mengmeng with his red eyes. It was a desperate begging, he put himself on a lower status against his pride. In his entire life, he had only bowed down for Natalie, whether it was in the past or present.

"If possible, I hope that you can try to save at least one or two wolf cubs out of the six, they will be the hope that will keep Natalie alive. If not..."

His fists clenched even harder, but he could not finish his sentence even if he had mustered all the nerves in his body.

If not, give up on the wolf cubs, just save Natalie.

He could not say this sentence out loud.

This batch of wolf cubs were different from Elvis's, Natalie had agreed to give birth to the wolf cubs because she loved him. Every one of it was proof that she loved him.

Chapter 1024 - I Will Make Her Agree

Chapter 1024: I Will Make Her Agree

“You?” Gu Mengmeng was surprised.

“Yes, me!” Peter said with determination. “I know you can kill Cole easily with your power, but if you don’t want to dirty your hands, let me do it for you. As long as you can protect my female and sons, I will be the sharpest knife in your hand.”

Gu Mengmeng seemed to understand something, she patted Elvis’s elbow lightly and signaled there was no need for him to be too nervous.

Taking two steps forward, Gu Mengmeng stood in front of Elvis, facing Peter and she said, “You asked me to bring Natalie away, does Natalie know about this? Did she consent to it?”

Peter’s expression changed, not for any other reasons but because Gu Mengmeng had mentioned that name.

Some people are just like this.

Just the mention of the name could strangle you and make you forget how to breathe.

After a long time, Peter raised the corner of his lips.

He had wanted to smile, but his facial muscles were too tense, distorting the smile into a menacing expression.

“I will make her agree to this.”

With that, he turned around and left without waiting for Gu Mengmeng's reply.

Looking at Peter's back, Gu Mengmeng felt complicated. She put out her hands for Elvis to hug her, before following him to Natalie's cave.

Peter stood outside the cave for a long time, as though the entrance was paved with thorns and every step he take would result in thorns piercing into his flesh in a foreseeable bloody manner.

His fists clenched and released, released and clenched again. After god knows how many deep breaths, Peter forced the muscles on his face to relax as he walked in to the cave in a cold and evil manner.

Gu Mengmeng could clearly felt his grievance by just looking at his back.

"Are we entering?" Elvis asked.

Gu Mengmeng nodded and smiled a little.

Elvis was different from Gu Mengmeng, he did not cared for anyone except for her, the life or death of others did not bother him the slightest.

But Elvis knew Gu Mengmeng. She was always softhearted and easily influenced by others' feelings. But Peter's sadness today resulted in a little smile in Gu Mengmeng's eyes, this was strange...

Whatever, he would always let her do whatever she wanted.

Stepping into the cave, they saw Peter sitting at the side of the bed in a manly way. He kept his head hand and pointed his chin towards Natalie, he said, "I have decided to let you go, congratulations, you are now free, get out. Bring your children and get out of my sight, never return again."

"What are you saying?" Natalie was stunned on the spot. Even in their worst times, Peter had not spoken to her like this before.

"You don't understand?" Peter let out a cold laugh and said, "Last time, you had abandoned me and made me a stray beast. So I sought revenge from you and imprisoned you so that you will fall in love with me, before trampling on you. Now that my goal have been fulfilled, of course I won't waste any more time on you. So, you can get out now."

Natalie's face turned pale, she stared at Peter and said, "You should know when to stop, I will get angry if you continue."

"Pfft..." Peter laughed, he pinched Natalie's chin lightly, shaking it from left to right as though he was examining her appearance. After a long time, he continued, "An old and ugly female, did you really think you have the charm to attract me? Don't forget, I am the king of stray beasts, I can always snatch the youngest and prettiest females from all the tribes for my enjoyment if I wish. As for you... Ha, I had been bored of you for a long time, I don't even want to touch you."

Chapter 1025 - Young and Pretty Females, Huh?

Chapter 1025: Young and Pretty Females, Huh?

Natalie took two deep breaths and calmed down instead. She said with a plain expression, “I haven’t heard of any females walking back safely from the stray beasts. Since you have sought your revenge and grown sick of me, kill me. I won’t be able to survive after I leave anyways, there won’t be any males willing to mate with the ugly and old me or to take care of my children. It would be better to die in your hands instead.”

With that, Natalie raised her head high, exposing the veins on her neck. She held Peter’s hand to grab her neck and said, “See, with your strength, one pinch and it will break.”

Peter’s face twitched uncontrollably, before withdrawing his hand. He shot a cold and sharp stare at Natalie, like a wolf looking at its prey in the night, full of danger.

“You don’t deserve for me to dirty my hand. Besides, I want to see you getting tortured to your death, breaking your neck? Ha, I won’t be too satisfied if you die a quick death.”

Natalie dusted herself and stood up from the bed. She handed the six little ones to Gu Mengmeng’s arms and said with a smile, “Daughter-in-law, please help me take care of Elvis’s little brothers for a while. I have to deal with their father. Perhaps we had been peaceful too long and he had forgotten who is the head of the family.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded, signaled to Elvis, before leaving the cave together and eavesdropping at the entrance.

Peter, who was originally full of confidence, felt a little scared suddenly.

He did not know why, he was so confident when Gu Mengmeng and Elvis was around, but now that they were gone, he did not even dared to look at Natalie in the eyes.

He stilled looked menacing as he tried his best to act like a cold person. But the dense sweat drops on his forehead and his pulsating temples exposed his anxiousness.

Natalie stood in front of Peter, she could just look at him on the same level since he was sitting down. She said, "Because there isn't the mating mark so you are not worried of being abandoned... Doing whatever you want now, huh?"

Peter frowned, he knew that he should howled back fiercely or make some sarcastic comments with hurtful words, but it was as though his mouth had been sewed up and he could not utter a single word. His heart was beating extremely fast and he felt uneasy yet looking forward to something.

Natalie stood with arms akimbo, she raised her head high and looked at Peter. She said, "I am a female that had been kidnapped by you to the base camp of the stray beasts for seventeen years, do you think I am still the little female that will be frightened to tears by your fierce look at the start?"

Putting one hand forward and pressing it hard onto Peter's eyebrow, pushing him backwards, she continued, "Young and pretty females, huh? Tell me, which eye did you use to look at them? I will help you dig out your eyeball and wash it, so that you can take a clearer look."

Peter's heart was pounding.

Natalie was being jealous, wasn't she?

She had never treated him so strongly before, she had always been timid and weak.

Now that she dared to act like this... Did she finally believe that he would not hurt her at all?

Something that he had been looking forward to for half of his life had finally come true.

But now...

It Was time that he had to push her away.

Clenching his teeth, he flicked away Natalie's hand and pushed her.

He had controlled his strength so that she would just staggered a few steps and she would not fall nor injure herself.

Chapter 1026 - : You Have Grown up Now, Dare to Push Me Huh?

Chapter 1026: You Have Grown up Now, Dare to Push Me Huh?

Natalie did not expect Peter to push her. After a moment of shock, she stabilized herself and said, “You have grown up now, dare to push me huh? Right, alright. Since you make me feel pain, I will not let you go easily either.”

Confused, Peter looked at Natalie and he had a bad feeling.

Natalie turned around, back-facing Peter and said, “You pushed me and hence I will kill your beloved female.”

With that, she gathered all her strength and ran to the wall of the cave, as though she was going to crash head first on the wall and kill herself.

Peter was in cold sweats by the scare. He did not know that he could be this fast, as he had rushed ahead of Natalie after she had taken the first step.

“Ugh...”

He let out a muffled groan as he felt a sharp pain in his chest.

It was not to say how painful Natalie had bumped into him, but how much he understood that Natalie had not restrain her strength and was really running to end her life. If he had not stopped her in time, she would definitely not survive the crash onto the wall.

“Are you out of your mind!” Peter shouted as he held onto Natalie’s shoulders.

Natalie looked up with a red mark on her forehead. She stared at Peter with watery eyes and said, “I thought you did not want me anymore, aren’t you sick of me and feel disgusted whenever you see me? Go find your young and pretty females, why are you bothering me? Sobs sobs sobs...”

Peter wanted to fling Natalie out and say, die somewhere far away and not dirty my place.

But looking at her sobbing face, he felt like his chest was being ripped apart, the harsh words that he used to be able to blurt out all the time could not come out from his mouth now.

Ha, humans, they were only fearless when they did not have anything.

She said that he only dared to act like this because he did not have the mating mark and was not afraid of being abandoned.

But it was not true, he was even more afraid of being abandoned by her compared to when he had the mark on her last time.

The mating mark was nothing compared to her love.

Surrendering, Peter’s acting had failed terribly under Natalie’s tears.

With his big hand stroking her back, he sighed and said, “You are really spoiled by me, how dare you hurt my beloved female... It must be because you knew I could not do anything to you, right?”

Natalie was crying breathlessly in Peter’s arms, she asked while sobbing, “Are you still going to abandon me... Are you still sick of me...”

“The fact that you dared to hurt yourself was because you knew I could not let you go, isn’t it? And you are still asking this? Huh?” Peter frowned helplessly, but his tone was the gentlest.

But Natalie did not buy into his gentleness, she continued crying and asked, “You have never liked me, have you? You had treated me like this from the start because I rejected you and hurt your ego, right? Sobs sobs sobs... Of course you don’t like me...”

Peter did not know what to do, he could only hold the back of her head and said seriously, “I like you, I care about you, I can’t live without you in the entire world. You clearly knew and believed in it, but still had to say such twisted words to hurt me?”

Natalie’s eyes were brimming with tears, she asked timidly, “But you clearly said that you are going to abandon me...”

Peter felt his heart hurting as Natalie sobbed, the menacing look on his face had long disappeared. He could not do anything other than pampering her when he was with Natalie. So he surrendered and said, “I will never abandon you, never ever.”

Natalie nodded, using her hand to wipe away her tears as she broke into a witty grin. She said, “Not abandoning me anymore? Well, then we should talk.”

Chapter 1027 - Now I Can't Live Without You

Chapter 1027: Now I Can't Live Without You

Peter was stunned for a moment and could not respond. Natalie's expression had changed too fast, why was she smiling when she was crying her heart out moments before...

"Ha." Peter suddenly smiled. He shook his head and hugged Natalie even tighter. He said, "You, you have been together with the stray beasts for too long and learned to be this sly. But it is better this way... I rather you are fooling me... than you being really upset."

Natalie gave Peter a push and she sat back on the bed herself. She said, "I will not let you go with just this level of sweet words. Now tell me, why did you suddenly ask me to leave?"

Peter walked towards Natalie and went down on one knee. He put one hand on Natalie's knee and another around her waist as he looked at her deeply. He said, "Recently, I have been... losing control of my body more and more frequently."

Natalie was stunned for a moment, she then asked, "Are you talking about you running out in the middle of the night?"

Peter froze, he thought she did not know.

Hesitating for a moment, Peter nodded eventually and said, "My body is thirsty for fighting and killing, I could not control it with my conscious. At first, I could be satisfied with killing just some wild beasts, but now I could only calm down by killing some orcs. When I am in the maniac mode, I didn't even know what I was doing... At this rate, I am scared I might injure you... one day after I lost my conscious."

Natalie smiled, nodded her head and said, “So you planned to send me to Elvis and let the Messenger of the Beast Deity protect me.”

Peter nodded in approval.

But Natalie smiled and continued asking, “Then what if one day, you rush to Saint Nazaire, wanting to harm me in your uncontrollable state due to some reasons? What do you want the Messenger to do?”

“Kill me.” Peter said determinedly, “Only she had the power in the entire Beast World to kill me.”

Natalie sighed and looked extremely disappointed. She fell backwards slightly, widening the distance between the two of them and said, “It seems like, you don’t love me a lot... neither do you trust that I love you too.”

Peter’s entire body of muscles tensed up immediately, he tightened his grip around Natalie’s waist. He pursed his lips and did not say anything.

Natalie continued, “If it was not for you stopping me, I would have died by now, do you understand?”

With that, Peter felt even more uneasy.

Natalie continued, “Do you still not understand? Now... I can’t live without you.”

Peter’s eyes widened with Natalie’s words and he was in a daze.

Natalie leaned forward, cupped Peter’s face with both of her hands and said, “We have been beating around the bush and tortured each other for seventeen years, can’t we live our lives peacefully for the rest of the days ahead? Peter, I can’t live without you. So, can you try to resist the thirst for blood for me? You love me so much... Aren’t you able to do anything for me?”

“I can’t live without you, so I will definitely try to overcome it. But I can’t put you on risk, so can you leave with Elvis first and I will come and get you once I can control my thirst, alright?”

Natalie smiled and shook her head, she said, “I am your biggest courage, isn’t it? If I leave, where do you get the strength to resist against desires other than missing me?”

“But...” Peter wanted to continue, but Natalie had put her fingers against his lips. She smiled and said in an absolute manner, “I am the head of the family, you are only likable if you listen to me.”

Chapter 1028 - Do You Have Violent Tendencies?

Chapter 1028: Do You Have Violent Tendencies?

Peter shook his head with a slight smile and said, “You had indeed been spoiled by me.”

Natalie did not get angry, she smiled and said, “Let the children’s brother and sister-in-law take care of them for a while, I will focus on accompanying you.”

Peter nodded and buried his face into Natalie’s thighs. He felt warmth spreading from his left chest towards the entire body. Now that he looked back, he realized that the coldness he felt in the past was loneliness.

Although Elvis was unwilling, he could not resist Gu Mengmeng’s pleading look and took back the cubs unwillingly.

Grinding his teeth, Elvis thought to himself that the four huge troubles had just matured into adulthood, two had not been chased away yet and here came another six...

Just thinking about it made his head ache.

Elvis decided that once he had settled Peter’s matter, he had to throw the six meatballs onto his face and ask him for a fight.

However, the good thing was that Gu Mengmeng did not take care of the six meatballs on her own, but had thrown them to Hede and Jialue.

Hede was always responsible and calm, it was easy for him to take care of his six uncles with the prior experience of looking after three younger brothers.

Most importantly, they could converse in the beast language, which was better than Gu Mengmeng taking care of them.

The cave that the four brothers had snatched back was not far away, even though Hede had brought the six little ones there, Elvis could rush there in no time to help with just a howl from Hede or Jialue if they encountered any problems.

Ha, the era where people communicate by howling and transport by walking...

Lea had not returned from sending Chixuan and Kanwu of, while Hede and Jialue were taking care of the six little ones in another cave, Gu Mengmeng's place was quiet for once.

She had used to sit at Chixuan's place and daze, while Elvis would just accept her with his chest as though he was her personal sofa.

If not for Wabei the snake getting in the way, Elvis would have felt even more perfect.

"There will be a storm in a few days' time." Wabei sat at one side with sadness in his eyes. "The storm may last a few days, but it will be the drought season after it stops. By then, I would have to go back to the Snake King valley..."

Gu Mengmeng knew that Wabei was sad to leave her.

Gu Mengmeng kicked Wabei, without much strength and sent him staggering but did not fall.

Wabei stared at Gu Mengmeng grudgingly, but Gu Mengmeng broke into a grin and asked, "What are you staring? You couldn't win me back then, not to mention now..."

Wabei rolled his eyes at Gu Mengmeng and said, "I have wasted this whole rainy season outside, I did not even engage in any fights."

Gu Mengmeng said, “Do you have violent tendencies? Hey, I know a little psychology, do you want me to take a look?”

“Go away.” Wabei let out a low growl, before looking at Gu Mengmeng with the side of his eyes and he asked, “Before the rainy season ends... How about I help you settle that cripple?”

That cripple...

Cole.

Gu Mengmeng grinned and asked, “How? Are you going to kill it?”

“If not?” Wabei threw a question back without answering.

Gu Mengmeng looked up with a smile on her face, but her eyes were the coldest they had ever been. She said, “This is the first time I am hating someone in my entire life. If he dies so easily, he is not living up to the honor, is he? The pain that he had carved onto Lea, Chixuan and Snake, I will get it by one by one and imposed an interest of a million years to comfort my broken heart.”

Chapter 1029 - If It Was That Two Brothers Cooperating, the Other Rivals in Love Would Have Zero Chance.

Chapter 1029: If It Was That Two Brothers Cooperating, the Other Rivals in Love Would Have Zero Chance.

At that moment, Wabei felt a little dazed.

As though the small little person in front of him had overlapped with someone he was familiar with in the past.

The person did not say anything similar, but it felt like Wabei was seeing his shadows in her.

Wabei suddenly smiled and said, “Alright, I guess you don’t need me to be a busybody then. However, the next time I come and find you after the drought season, you have to find some entertainment for me to pass my time.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded as an agreement.

That night there was a storm indeed. Lea came back looking like a drenched chicken, while Wabei left without bidding goodbyes.

“Quick, change into your human form and get rid of the water on you. Don’t catch a cold.” Gu Mengmeng looked at Lea coming back in his half-beast form and felt helpless.

He could have come back in his beast form, changed into the human form at the entrance to dry up, but he just had to make himself in such a sorry state.

Lea shook his head as water trickled down his face from the ears.

Sitting beside the fire pit, he wrung dry his big tail as he looked up at Gu Mengmeng with a miserable face and said, “I am going to dry myself slowly, so that Mengmeng will feel heartache for me.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled as she took a piece of hide and dry Lea’s hair gently. Sometimes when she brushed past the two furry beast ears, she would pinch them playfully.

Lea sat there lazily, letting Gu Mengmeng do whatever she wanted, before explaining the situation at Zacharias with head resting on his hand.

That guy Kanwu had shown his true colors of a little bully once he reached the place, looking arrogant and unreasonable but settled every matter perfectly.

Others were scared of him but could not pick out what was wrong.

The reason behind this was obvious, he was taking all the unhappiness the Zacharias tribesmen had towards Burke for appearing out of nowhere, relying on him being the son of the Messenger of the Beast Deity which nobody dared to offend. Then, once Burke came and he restrained himself, Burke would be able to gain the support of many.

Later on, if anyone wanted to look for trouble, Kanwu could use power against him. He behaved like this right from the start and nobody would blame him, they would only tell the person, “Why did you go against him knowing he is bad-tempered?” Then Burke would appear and bring Kanwu back to ‘discipline’ him.

With the cycle repeating a few times, Burke could naturally build his reputation.

Lea did not give this idea, and it was clearly from Chixuan.

He had to say that Chixuan had learned some useful things staying at Cole’s side. With him helping beside Kanwu, Kanwu could dodge many dirty tricks and suffer less pain.

Ha, he had to say the combination of Chixuan and Kanwu was something like Elvis and Lea.

Thinking about that, Lea looked up at Gu Mengmeng and said, “Mengmeng, do you think Kanwu and Chixuan will be like Elvis and me, mating with the same female? If it was that two brothers cooperating, the other rivals in love would have zero chance.”

Gu Mengmeng’s smile froze on her face instantly.

How could she put this...

The polyandrous myth of Ehuang and Nüying would be a much praised story if it had happened to somebody else, but Gu Mengmeng felt uncomfortable if it was to happen to her sons.

But Lea was not wrong, it would be the most beneficial situation to the brothers if Kanwu and Chixuan could mate with the same female. Separating them apart, Kanwu would be too easily agitated and fall into traps, while Chixuan’s coldness might not be favored by the females here.

Looking at Gu Mengmeng falling into a dilemma, Lea pinched her small face and said, “Idiot, that would happen in at least ten years from now, it is too early for you to be conflicted over it now.”

Chapter 1030 - How Could One Reborn Without Nirvana?

Chapter 1030: How Could One Reborn Without Nirvana?

Gu Mengmeng smiled. Indeed, taking care of a child for a hundred years and ninety-nine would be spent worrying about him.

The topic did not continue, it would be something happening more than ten years later anyway.

Originally, after all the unrelated persons had left, Elvis and Lea had some indescribable censored thoughts. However, when everything was ready, they were suddenly stopped by a thrilling howl.

That voice... belonged to Peter.

Gu Mengmeng frowned and immediately lost all feelings of lust. She covered herself with a piece of hide, stood at the entrance of the cave and looked towards where the voice had come from.

The storm was heavy in the rainy season, just extending an arm out, and Gu Mengmeng felt raindrops smashing onto her palm painfully.

“Don’t go out, you will catch a cold.” Elvis circled around Gu Mengmeng’s waist and warmed her with his chest.

Gu Mengmeng nodded and said, “I won’t go out, because if I do... I might not be able to control myself to not do anything.”

Elvis was stunned for a moment and asked, “You knew what was going to happen?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and there was a heaviness in her smile. She replied, “I knew, but there is nothing I can do no matter how much I want to. Other than praying for them, I could not do anything.”

Throughout that entire night, there were wolf howls in the splattering rain, making the night seemed like a hell filled with ghosts and goblins, with calls from devils everywhere.

Gu Mengmeng stood at the entrance, bearing intense sufferings. She really wanted to rush to take a look, what if Peter lost his control? What if he really killed Natalie, could he continue living once he regains consciousness?

No matter how Elvis said he had no feelings towards his parents, he would definitely be sad losing them in just one night.

Should she be more selfish, stop bothering about whether Peter could get rid of his stray beast identity as long as they stay alive?

...

The rain continued on to the next day.

The vast spread of dark clouds had forced the sky to be extremely low, the day was even darker than at night.

The wolf howls continued, even Elvis began to frown.

Gu Mengmeng could not understand the exact meanings of wolf howls, but she could tell how much pain and torture Peter was suffering from.

If the punishment of the mating contract was like skinning a male alive, Peter's situation would be more life destroying the blood and bone inch by inch before molding them into a new body.

How could one be reborn without Nirvana?

The process must be painful to burn away all the dirt from being a stray beast.

The torture continued for four days.

On the morning of the fifth day, the sky cleared up.

Gu Mengmeng walked out of the cave without any words and looked at the distance quietly.

After a long time, a small black dot was moving slowly towards her, it grew in size gradually and she could tell the outlines.

Peter, in a miserable state, was carrying Natalie who was drenched in blood as he walked towards here slowly.

There were obvious wounds on the two of them. Peter had reached his limits, it was the faith that he could not let anything happen to Natalie that had supported him walking here step by step.

Gu Mengmeng left Elvis's arms and called, "Elvis, Lea."

The two of them understood and came forward.

Lea took over Natalie from Peter's hands. Peter could only utter 'save her...' before fainting.

Elvis caught Peter steadily from one side, put him on his shoulders and walked back into the cave together with Lea.

"Peter's injuries are more serious, but those are nothing for a male, he just has to rest." Lea frowned, cleaned the blood on his hands, looked at Natalie worryingly and said, "The more serious problem... is her."

Chapter 1031 - Running a Fever

Chapter 1031: Running a Fever

Gu Mengmeng sat by Natalie's side. Although she was a senior, it would be inconvenient for Lea to take care of some things, so even Lea did not want Gu Mengmeng to be tired, Gu Mengmeng insisted on taking care of Natalie herself.

Removing the tattered piece of hide, Gu Mengmeng cleaned Natalie's wounds one by one personally.

Due to the Snake's experience of fighting, Gu Mengmeng could tell the wounds on Natalie was from wolf claws with just one look.

The identity of the wolf... was obvious.

Natalie's skin was fair from not seeing the sun in a long time. Although it was much better after she had made peace with Peter and started walking around often, it was still in a shade of unhealthy pale.

At that moment, she was as white as the pure snow.

Gu Mengmeng frowned and covered Natalie with a piece of hide. She turned back to look at Lea and said, "I have seen the wounds, there are many but none are deadly. The wounds would be nothing if they were on a male, but Natalie is a female, one that is not the healthiest and had just given birth. So wounds that are not a problem to others might be deadly to her."

Lea nodded and said, "That's right, the wounds are recovering too slowly and she is suffering from too much loss of blood..."

Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Natalie, held her hand lightly and said, "It wasn't easy for you and Peter to reach this stage, you won't give up on him like this, will you? You still have six newborn babies to look after, don't you want to watch them grow up day by day and evolve one by one? Natalie, stay strong and pull through this, you understand?”

Elvis hugged Gu Mengmeng and said, “You have not had a decent sleep for a few days because of them. Since everything is fine now, go and take a rest.”

Gu Mengmeng was indeed tired, she did not say anything and went to the little bed that was prepared for Chixuan obediently, falling into a deep sleep soon after.

When she opened her eyes again, it was already nighttime.

Peter had woken up, he did not bother with his own injuries and stood by Natalie’s side numbly. He held Natalie’s hands tightly with both of his hands, as though he was scared that Natalie would disappear the moment he let go of her.

Gu Mengmeng walked up to Natalie and pressed her hand against Natalie’s forehead. She frowned and said, “Lea, get a bucket of water here and prepare two pieces of soft hide for me.”

Lea did what she said without questioning.

Gu Mengmeng washed the hide and placed them on Natalie’s forehead. She sighed and said, “She is running a fever now, probably due to inflammation of the wounds.”

Only if there were antibiotics, but here...

Lea kissed Gu Mengmeng on the forehead to wipe that frown of her face and said, “Leave it to me and don’t worry.”

“Alright,” Gu Mengmeng nodded. Although Lea usually chose not to attend to external wounds of the males, he was the witch doctor after all. He knew many herbs that Gu Mengmeng did not recognize, as well as many Beast World knowledges that Gu Mengmeng did not understand.

Chuckling, she felt so assured with a witch doctor by her side in times like this.

While Lea was looking after Natalie and Peter, Gu Mengmeng had wanted to help out in other things and she decided to make the meals.

However, in the end, Lea did not let her move a single finger.

Lea said, “It’s my top priority to look after you in any situation. You feeling hungry is much more important than others’ lives to me.”

Chapter 1032 - I Will Definitely Return This Favor.

Chapter 1032: I Will Definitely Return This Favor.

Apart from preparing their meals, Lea spent most of his time taking care of Natalie. Peter had a very fast recovery rate, and most of his superficial wounds had healed in just a few days. But he remained very weak, as the person he was worried about was still in a coma.

Natalie's face remained sickly pale. Nevertheless, there was now a faint reddish tinge to her lips.

Lea was taking good care of the wound and it was no longer infected. However, it was healing very slowly.

The drought season was gradually approaching, and Elvis and Lea would not let Gu Mengmeng remain at the stray beast camp, for the simple reason that there was no water source here.

They would have to return to Sauder or Saint Nazaire, and they needed to start the journey now so that they could arrive before the water source ran dry.

With her injuries, there was no way Natalie could travel with her Gu Mengmeng, but...

Peter was no longer in a position to remain here as the king of stray beasts.

Gu Mengmeng couldn't stop worrying, and after much wheedling and cajoling, the final decision was to leave in three days' time.

And just as Gu Mengmeng was prepared to leave, Natalie woke up.

Heaving a sigh of relief, Gu Mengmeng felt like a huge burden was lifted off.

It was as if since getting Chixuan back from Cole, everything had been miraculously progressing in the right direction.

Peter carefully hugged Natalie, finally breathing normally again after so many days.

“Lea, prepare some easily digestible food. We will head off after lunch.”

Lea chuckled. The moment he saw Natalie wake up, he guessed that they would once again delay their set-off time. But luckily they would leave right after lunch. He had thought Gu Mengmeng would beg to remain until tomorrow. The fact that she was willing to leave in the afternoon was already better than he had expected.

Lea prepared the meal very quickly and brought over piping hot mince meat and potato porridge. Peter automatically supported Natalie with his own body, letting her sit upright while leaning against his chest. He didn't let her exert the slightest bit of energy.

Taking over the stone bowl and spoon from Lea, Peter fed Natalie from behind.

But Gu Mengmeng cut in and pushed aside the spoonful of food which Peter was just about to feed Natalie. She looked up to see Peter's fierce glare. Gu Mengmeng was not at all intimidated but just chuckled. “You are not in any position now to look at me like that.”

Peter frowned but didn't retort. He just said, “Thank you for saving Natalie. I will definitely return this favor.”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. She lifted one corner of the animal hide covering Natalie's body, to reveal a lifelike black wolf on the spot over her heart. Gu Mengmeng pointed at the black wolf's face. “I am referring to this.”

Stunned, Peter didn't know how to react.

Natalie had a black wolf mark on her body...?

Had he been so focused on Natalie's face the past few days that he didn't even discover this mark on her?

Or did he see it but was too distracted to ponder over this matter...

He had been consumed by thoughts of whether she would live and so neglected the changes on her body, and also the changes on his own?

Peter stared in disbelief at the spot over Natalie's chest...

It was his mark over there.

There was no way he could be mistaken. That black wolf was him.

And it was actually on the spot over her heart!

Chapter 1033 - Something Which I Never Dared To Wish For Even In My Dreams Actually Came True.

Chapter 1033: Something Which I Never Dared To Wish For Even In My Dreams Actually Came True.

The stone bowl in his hand fell to the ground with a crash that shook Peter's heart.

He was a constant presence hovering around the edges of hell with only one hand desperately clutching onto an anchor outside to stop himself from being sucked in. This king of stray beasts, this demon-like being feared by all—actually started crying.

The bloody veins in those bulging eyes faded as huge tears splashed down.

Natalie was still weak, but she held a comforting smile. She shifted her head slightly to look at Peter. "Silly boy. Isn't this a good thing? Why are you crying?"

"I... I am not crying." Peter hastily wiped away his tears before kissing Natalie deeply. After a long while, he said in a trembling voice, "Something which I never dared to wish for even in my dreams actually came true. I am your partner. I can rightfully stay by your side and take care of you and our children."

"Mmm, you are my partner. My only partner and my most beloved partner... the one who will forever be by my side." Natalie held Peter's cheek gently as she smiled with exceptional warmth.

"But... how?" Peter could not understand. In the Beast World, there had never been a case of a stray beast being able to become a partner again.

Natalie exchanged smiling looks with Gu Mengmeng, with a camaraderie that only females possessed.

For reasons unknown, Peter just could not control the corners of his lips. The moment Natalie smiled, he just wanted to follow suit. Even if he didn't know why, as long as she was smiling, it must be something that he should be happy about too.

"Tell me, mmm?" Peter gently hooked Natalie's chin as he cajoled her.

Natalie glanced at Gu Mengmeng, who nodded. Only then did Natalie say, "It was the Great Messenger who begged the Beast Deity for a solution. The process was very difficult and required your powerful capabilities and your undying love for me. It was a gamble with only a 10 percent chance of success. But for our future's sake, I decided to take the risk and pushed you to that painful situation, and let you endure that torment. I am sorry..."

Peter held Natalie's hand. "No, you did the correct thing. As long as I can be with you properly. I can endure any kind of pain."

Natalie smiled blissfully before continuing. "When the rainy season just started, the Great Messenger came to see me. She asked if I was willing to take you on as my partner again and give the children a proper family. After all, if we cannot shed off your stray beast status, our children would also become stray beasts. For our children and for us..."

Peter tightened his grip on Natalie's hand and kissed it to indicate his support.

Natalie's smile was tinged with relief. "To reverse the mating contract, we had to destroy the filthy stray beast blood flowing in your body and recreate your flesh and bones. It is an extremely painful process, and one will never survive it without powerful capabilities. Even though you are a fifth-level beast, there was only a 30 percent success rate. We could only use my blood to cleanse the filth in yours, so if you didn't love me as much as you did, you might have lost control and bit my neck to suck my blood."

Peter's heart thumped when he heard that. Just visualizing that image made his heart ache.

Chapter 1034 - Those Television Shows Weren't Lying

Chapter 1034: Those Television Shows Weren't Lying

Natalie patted Peter soothingly and gave a light laugh. "We have succeeded now haven't we, so don't worry. Everything is fine now."

Peter frowned as he watched Natalie with an aching heart. She had numerous scars all over her body and was unconscious for so many days... all because of him.

"So my bout of barbaric and violent urges was because of that?" Peter asked.

Natalie nodded. "The key to triggering the reversal of the mating contract was the fact I love you and bore children for you. So..."

After some careful thinking, Peter had indeed started being more violent after the birth of those six little ones. But it wasn't that obvious at the beginning, and he could still suppress those tendencies. But after going with Gu Mengmeng to retrieve the Soul of the Forest and being affected by the white mist, he gradually started losing control of his bloodthirsty urges.

Peter frowned and looked at Gu Mengmeng. "So when I begged you to bring Natalie away, you asked me to come and ask her?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded. "Mmm, I had expected you would beg this favor of me. Because Lea told me before, that he insisted Elvis partner with me first because he needed someone with the power and whom he could trust to protect me and take ma away should he lose control. Elvis also said something like that to me... I think all males have this way of thinking. So I had already taught Natalie how to handle that. Ha... those television shows weren't lying."

Natalie also smiled. “Yes, I used that seven-word mantra that the Great Messenger taught me to subdue you until you were fully compliant.”

“Seven-word mantra?” Peter appeared perplexed. Elvis and Lea also exchanged glances before looking at Gu Mengmeng.

Natalie looked at Gu Mengmeng again before asking, “Great Messenger, this... can I tell them?”

Gu Mengmeng looked somewhat awkward. She tugged Natalie’s hand. “You are Elvis’ mother and my elder. It embarrasses me a bit to be called Great Messenger by you. Why don’t you call me Mengmeng like how Elvis does?”

“No way.” Elvis immediately opposed without even waiting for Natalie to open her mouth. “Only I can call her Mengmeng. If you want to snatch that from me... you must win me first.”

Peter tilted his head and looked affectionately at Natalie. “Do you like that form of address? I will snatch it over for you.”

Gu Mengmeng held her forehead. This Beast World was indeed full of ridiculous behavior. Was there a need to fight over such a thing?

She waved. “Why don’t you call me Xiao Gu ”

Natalie kept stealing glances at Elvis’s face. Seeing that he had no objections, she gave a light laugh and said. “Alright, I will call you Xiao Gu.”

The two females had made their decision. So Elvis and Peter didn’t have an excuse to fight and had no choice but to leave it as that.

“Xiao Gu, can I tell them about the seven-word mantra? If I reveal it... will it be ineffective in future?” Natalie asked with some doubt.

Gu Mengmeng smiled. “Don’t worry, so what if they know? As long as they love us, they are helpless even with the seven-word mantra.”

Natalie thought about it and agreed. She giggled. “You have a point there.”

The three males got goosebumps from hearing the laughter of their females. They felt that this seven-mantra must be something really powerful. The more the two females kept them guessing, the more they wanted to know. Three pairs of eyes stared fixedly at their own female, waiting for them to clarify.

Chapter 1035 - Hubby, Your Father Is So Cowardly.

Chapter 1035: Hubby, Your Father Is So Cowardly.

After getting Gu Mengmeng's permission, Natalie no longer saw the need to hide the truth. "The seven-word mantra, as its name implies, consists of seven words—first, cry; second, scream; third, threaten suicide."

Peter was shocked. "So when you... ran into the wall... you..."

Natalie nodded. "Yes, it was to trick you."

Peter could not bear to scowl at his own female and so could only glare angrily at Gu Mengmeng. She just shrugged. "That's right, I purposely came over that day just to watch your performance."

"You...!" Peter was suddenly at a loss for words.

Gu Mengmeng chortled. "You are no longer a stray beast, is it really appropriate for you to glare at me like that? My father only has one precious daughter, me. He usually can't bear to scold me and has never even glared at me before. Aren't you afraid of making him angry... mmm?"

Gu Mengmeng didn't elaborate but shot a nonchalant glance at Natalie.

Peter instantly cowed.

He could not afford to offend this relative...

Gu Mengmeng laughed out loud and threw herself into Elvis' embrace. "Hubby, your father is so cowardly."

Elvis kept up the act by also snorting disdainfully. He recalled how arrogant Peter was in the past, dictating their life and death like a god, observing coldly as his brothers killed each other.

Compared to his cowardly demeanor today...

Actually, Elvis now thought more highly of Peter.

Males have never been afraid of violence and viciousness.

But suppressing their aggressive aura and giving in to their female was the most impressive and courageous thing a male could do.

A fearsome wolf to the outside world, but a tame husky in front of his own female.

Peter was like that, but wasn't Elvis himself the same?

For their own females, they could forsake their lives and their dignity.

However, despite understanding all that, it didn't prevent him from joining hands with Gu Mengmeng to mock at him.

After she had a good laugh, Gu Mengmeng sat upright. "Now that Peter is no longer a stray beast, it is not appropriate for him to stay here even if he is a fifth-level beast. It is also not good for the upbringing of the wolf pups. But Natalie cannot travel far in her current condition. Why don't you go over to the nearby Zacharias. Chixuan and Kanwu are there, so you can take care of each other."

Natalie nodded her assent, and this matter was settled.

After finishing lunch, the group parted ways. Natalie and Peter brought the six wolf pups to Zacharias while Gu Mengmeng, Elvis and Lea brought Hede and Jialue back to Sauder.

Actually, Saint Nazaire was nearer, but Gu Mengmeng was concerned for the baby in Sandy's tummy. After all, it was Sandy's first pregnancy and Gu Mengmeng hoped to rush back in time to accompany her.

Sandy was so timid that she would feel much more at ease with Gu Mengmeng around.

Moreover, Gu Mengmeng had already promised her. She didn't wish to break her commitment to her only bosom friend.

After traveling for three and a half days, Gu Mengmeng once again stood at the entrance to Sauder. Oakley led a group of tribe elders to welcome them.

But this time, apart from the elders, there were several other beasts. They looked unfamiliar, but appeared to be rather powerful and at least third-level.

Gu Mengmeng kept quiet. Publicly, Oakley was still Sauder's leader and she had to preserve his dignity.

Gu Mengmeng entered the tribe without delay and dashed straight for Sandy's little rock house.

Sandy's belly was very big now, much bigger than Gu Mengmeng's when she was carrying Hede and his brothers. Hence, her movements were very restricted and she wobbled around like a round-bottomed doll.

Chapter 1036 - Habit Was A Scary Thing

Chapter 1036: Habit Was A Scary Thing

Sandy lit up the moment she saw Gu Mengmeng arrive. She beamed and dashed towards her, waving enthusiastically.

Gu Mengmeng was worried she might hurt herself with all that vigorous waving and so hurried over to Sandy and pulled down her little hand. “You are going to be a mother soon, but still behave so clumsily. Shouldn’t you spare a thought for my godson?”

Sandy hugged Gu Mengmeng for a long while before saying in a rather sulky manner. “I still thought you wouldn’t make it back in time. I have been so worried for the past several days.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled. “It is the birth of my godson after all. How could I not come back for something as important as that?”

Bode was standing anxiously by Sandy’s side the entire time. Nevertheless, he was already used to being relegated to the back of Sandy’s mind the moment Gu Mengmeng appeared. He no longer even felt any disappointment at the neglect...

Haha, habit was a scary thing.

After spending a long while placating Sandy and then telling her all sorts of interesting but not-too-stimulating news—Gu Mengmeng finally left at evening time. She instructed Collin and Bode that they must immediately go get her the moment Sandy went into labor. After all, Lea was the best witch doctor around. Even if he didn’t go in, he could guard the door.

After leaving Sandy’s, Gu Mengmeng didn’t return to the stone castle but went to the meeting hall.

As if he had been expecting Gu Mengmeng, Oakley was already awaiting respectfully at the entrance.

Gu Mengmeng's keen nose told her that the chair held traces of Cole's smell, and so didn't sit down. She just used a branch to pick up the beast skin and threw it into the fire to burn.

Elvis and Lea felt relieved at Gu Mengmeng's action. More than anyone else, they hated the smell of another male on her.

Oakley also understood the reason behind Gu Mengmeng's action, and so didn't say anything. He just retrieved a fresh piece of fire fox fur and presented it to Lea.

Lea stroked the fur with a slight curl to his lips. "A premium item."

Lea spread the fire fox fur across the stone chair.

It was the first time Gu Mengmeng had seen a fire fox fur. The color was not your typical orange-red, but a brilliant red like that of a real flame. With its firm texture and dense hairs, Gu Mengmeng liked this piece of fire fox fur much better than the previous tiger skin.

Gu Mengmeng turned and sat down. She looked at Oakley wordlessly, and it was Oakley who spoke first. "The drought season is approaching and the water sources all over are drying up. The surrounding tribes have all come forward to negotiate, to ask if we could follow Saint Nazaire's practice, and let the witch doctors of the various tribes get water from Sauder, so that they can survive the drought season. I think that since this was a rule set down by the Great Messenger, there should not be any issues. Hence, I have allowed it, after making some slight amendments to the procedure."

Gu Mengmeng propped one arm familiarly on the chair handle and rested her head on her hand. She repeated the words. "Slight amendments to the procedure..."

Oakley smiled without answering. Then, as if he had just thought of something, he lifted his head and asked, "Does the Great Messenger still have no intention to unite the Beast World? Or, after experiencing so many changes, have you developed a taste for power and authority?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head as she answered in all honesty, “I still have no desire to be a Qin Shi Huang. I just want to live a happy and blissful life with my beloved family and close friends.”

Chapter 1037 - Deserter

Chapter 1037: Deserter

Important friends...

Oakley's smile never wavered. It remained mild and distant.

Gu Mengmeng felt a sudden sense of helplessness. Perhaps this was one aspect where Cole was better than her. She never learned how to grasp someone's heart. No matter how much she wished to save this friendship, she would still lose this friend.

"There were 16 tribe leaders standing with me today to welcome the Great Messenger. In return for access to the water source, their tribes have to come under Sauder and become tributaries to the Great Messenger. Every year after the monsoon season, they must present us with 20 premium beast skins. And before the winter season, they must contribute 20 large hunted game." Oakley clarified the situation in a calm manner.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. Was this a colonial rule? Weaker tribes paying tribute to more powerful ones in return for protection...

"Oakley, you are enjoying your role as a leader very much. You are quickly becoming a local tyrant now."

Oakley gave a light laugh and humbly lowered his head. He then straightened himself. "Sauder would not have become what it is today without the protection of the Great Messenger. But it was still mostly due to my planning and operations. I asked myself if I can be the leader of this tribe and concluded that I am worthy. Not even the heavens or you, the Great Messenger, can deny that."

Gu Mengmeng was shocked. She never expected Oakley to speak so directly.

She thought he would at least hope to maintain a harmonious front.

But Oakley continued without hesitation. “Anyway, the Great Messenger has no intention to unite the Beast World. So why are you refusing to support me? I guarantee you an unsurpassed level of governance, and will help you resolve all problems. I just want a position that you don’t even deign to hold. Why can’t you give it to me?”

The Beast World had its own laws of survival.

The various tribes had their own unique laws, which might even be in opposition to one another. Each race also had their own habits, not to mention the differences between one’s position along the food chain.

Unite?

That was an impossible undertaking.

Moreover, Gu Mengmeng liked how the Beast World was now. A life centered around one’s own tribe, living a carefree life amongst a close-knitted community.

She didn’t know how other tribes lived, but apart from that detestable Nina, everything else in Saint Nazaire was perfect.

Gu Mengmeng was unwilling to shatter this wonderful way of life. She hoped to protect the Beast World and preserve it as it was now.

But Oakley...

After looking at Oakley for a long while, Gu Mengmeng spoke in a mild tone. “Oakley, can we never go back to as before?”

Oakley chuckled and tilted his head in question. “The Great Messenger was the one who deserted me. Where does she want me to go back to?”

“I didn’t...” Gu Mengmeng blurted out in an attempt to justify herself.

Oakley continued. “The Great Messenger led the Saint Nazaire tribesmen away, leaving only Barete and I behind. Weren’t you deserting us then? Or is it that in your eyes, that kind of action... is still not counted as a desertion?”

“I...” Gu Mengmeng was speechless.

In the grand scheme of things, her decision then was the right one. But it was still a wrong committed against Oakley and Barete.

Oakley’s tone was not harsh, but actually very calm. “There’s no need for the Great Messenger to fret. I have never held a grudge against you. Your decision was the right one and the best one for the tribe. I don’t blame you. I just want to reaffirm my own position.”

And this position was not that of a friend...

Chapter 1038 - I Am Here Overseeing Things, What Do You Have To Be Scared Of!

Chapter 1038:

I Am Here Overseeing Things, What Do You Have To Be Scared Of!

Oakley lowered his head. “We will see when the time comes.”

Gu Mengmeng didn’t force the issue but just stood up and headed out. She paused as she was passing Oakley and spoke after a brief silence. “I just hope that you will not do anything that you might regret.”

Oakley didn’t reply. Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng and left with brisk steps.

Time passed very fast and on the fifth day, Collin rushed into the stone castle to say that Sandy’s tummy hurt badly and looked like she was about to give birth.

Gu Mengmeng immediately had Elvis carry her and rush over. When they reached the stone house, they could hear Sandy’s gut-wrenching shrieks as she cried out her name. “Gu Mengmeng... Gu... Mengmeng... is she here yet?!”

Without a care for anything else, Gu Mengmeng charged inside to hold Sandy’s hand. “Here, here. I have come now.”

Sandy’s forehead was drenched in sweat and she clutched back at Gu Mengmeng’s hand. She gasped nasally, “Painful... so painful...”

Gu Mengmeng dragged Bode over and shoved his paws into Sandy's hands. "This was the bloke who caused you to suffer so much pain. Just bite him whenever you can't bear it. Bite off this paw and I will hand you the other one!"

Sandy gripped Bode's arm and nodded solemnly at Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng had given birth before, but she didn't have any experience delivering a child...

She recalled that when she was giving birth, Lea had held her head while Elvis was the one who delivered the babies.

Should she... call Elvis over?

But that felt rather inappropriate.

Bode's heart ached as he watched Sandy suffer. But he had to go lick off the afterbirth from the newborns.

He looked around in a panic before shouting, "Collin."

Collin had just entered bearing a pot of hot water. He hurried over the moment he heard Bode. "What?"

Bode grabbed Collin's hand and passed it over to Sandy. He looked at Collin. "You have to take my place this time. Next time when Sandy bears your children, I will return the favor."

Collin looked confused and before he had time to understand what was going on, Sandy bit down on his hand. Collin growled in pain. "Roar...!"

Elvis and Lea both jumped in fright.

It was usually the females who screamed during childbirth. Why was it the males who were crying out instead at Sandy's?!

Gu Mengmeng's heart ached for Sandy. She cleaned a small piece of animal skin with warm water before sitting beside her on the bed, using it to wipe

Sandy's face. "Sandy, control your breathing, don't hold your breath."

In Sandy's eyes, Gu Mengmeng was her pillar of strength. She felt panicky and helpless and had no idea what to do. So she just did whatever Gu Mengmeng asked of her.

"Adali, clean this skin." Gu Mengmeng tossed the animal skin in her hand to Sandy's other bear partner. Adali was also spinning around in a fluster. Hearing Gu Mengmeng's command, he obeyed like a robot and washed the animal skins one after another. Having washed one, he would pass it to Gu Mengmeng and take over the used one to rewash it.

Overly anxious, Adali tore quite a few animal skins as he was washing it. As someone who was not afraid of tearing open a prey's chest and gutting it, his hands were trembling non-stop now.

Gu Mengmeng shouted at him as she wiped Sandy's face. "Why are you in such a fluster! I am here overseeing things, what do you have to be scared of? Calm down!"

At Gu Mengmeng's shout, all those males who were at their wits' end suddenly calmed down. They nodded and stood in a line by Gu Mengmeng's side, awaiting her instructions.

Chapter 1039 - Mother-in-law Thinks You Are Cute

Chapter 1039: Mother-in-law Thinks You Are Cute

Sandy gave birth to three little leopards, all about the same size as Hede and his brothers when they were just born. But Sandy was not as strong as Gu Mengmeng, and so had to exert more energy.

But Sandy was a beast and had much more powerful recuperation abilities.

Hence, after Gu Mengmeng settled the exhausted Sandy and brought Collin, whose hands were full of bloody bite marks, out of the house—Elvis and Lea were both looking at her with secret smiles.

Gu Mengmeng was also fatigued. Sandy was the one who had given birth, so why did she feel as if she had also gone through a strenuous exercise?

She slumped into Elvis' arms and pointed at Collin. "Lea, administer some medicine to him. He ended up being the fall guy...."

Lea was well-prepared and calmly administered some medicine to Collin's wounds. He then teased. "Elvis and I heard from the door... if you were not female, I would have thought you are the father of Sandy's children."

Gu Mengmeng leaned into Elvis' embrace listlessly. Having helped Sandy deliver her children, she somehow felt more exhausted than the time when she had given birth herself.

Pointing at Collin, she said, "It's all because Sandy's males are all useless. They only know how to panic when faced with any situation... tsk."

Collin was the most powerful male in Sandy's household. Shamed by Gu Mengmeng's rebuke, he nevertheless did not have the guts to retort. He just lowered his head and said, “I will try to do better next time...”

Gu Mengmeng waved. “It is useless to try correcting an inherent weakness. Go back and tell Bode not to just take care of the babies. Arrange for someone to take good care of Sandy too. If my Sandy experiences the slightest bit of suffering, I will break his four paws.”

Collin shrank back and acknowledged her command.

Lea bandaged Collin, before following Gu Mengmeng back to the stone castle. After her long day at Sandy’s, Gu Mengmeng was utterly drained and instantly fell asleep the moment her head touched the bed.

Early morning on the next day, Collin came over to invite Gu Mengmeng over. He said that Sandy was looking for her.

Gu Mengmeng didn’t ask why and just went over after washing her face.

The three leopard cubs gurgled in Sandy’s arms, who exuded a maternal glow. As she had often helped Gu Mengmeng look after her four little ones, she was already very familiar on how to take care of her own children.

On seeing Gu Mengmeng’s arrival, Sandy raised one hand. “Gu Mengmeng, come over quick.”

Gu Mengmeng took up Sandy’s hand as she sat beside her. She reached out to stroke the leopard cubs, her lips curling up subconsciously. She then turned around to stare forlornly at Hede and Jialue. “My sons also used to be so adorable.”

Hede took her comment in his stride, and just shook his head helplessly.

Jialue smirked and sprawled across Gu Mengmeng’s knee. “Mother, are you abandoning me then?”

Gu Mengmeng sighed and pushed him. “You can’t act cute anymore now. Your uncles are cuter than you.”

Jialue clutched the area over his heart as if he was struck by an arrow. He fell backwards on the ground. “Mother, you are so hurtful to me.”

Sandy laughed at Jialue’s antics. “Don’t be sad. Mother-in-law still thinks you are cute. You are very cute.”

Jialue immediately stood up and smiled at Sandy. “I always knew that mother-in-law treats me the best.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed but didn’t say anything.

Sandy looked at Gu Mengmeng. “Do you remember your earlier promise to me?”

Chapter 1040 - Between Us, Is There Still A Need To Say Thank You?

Chapter 1040: Between Us, Is There Still A Need To Say Thank You?

Gu Mengmeng nodded. “Choosing their names, right?”

“Mmm.” Sandy’s eyes were glowing.

She really liked the names of Hede and the brothers. Although the names meant nothing when translated to beast language, she still liked them. They had a unique flavor and were names which she could never think up herself.

“Joseph, Johnny, Jogner.” Gu Mengmeng listed the three names which she had already thought of earlier.

Sandy felt rather disappointed. She had thought the names would be like Hede’s and his brothers’, names that were meaningless but completely unique.

Gu Mengmeng noticed the hesitation on Sandy’s face. “What’s the matter? You don’t like them?” Gu Mengmeng had even specially discussed this with Lea, to choose names which held special meanings in the Beast World. Further, the first syllabus of each name was identical and one could immediately tell they were from the same family.

Sandy shook her head. “It’s not that I don’t like them, but... I thought they would be like the names of Hede and his brothers—pleasant to the ears and special.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled. “After these three little ones grow up, if they prefer the names of Hede and the rest, then have them go fight their big brothers for it. They can take over their names if they win.”

Sandy patted the heads of the three little ones. “Do you hear that? Your godmother is teaching you to become brave children. When you see something you like, you must fight for it and snatch it over.”

Pfft...

Gu Mengmeng burst out laughing.

Sandy was not just her bosom friend now? She was behaving like a total fangirl. No matter what she did, Sandy would think up of a noble reason for her actions.

Actually, Gu Mengmeng was just speaking casually and teasing the kids...

“Joseph, Johnny, Jogner...” Sandy repeated the three names with a smile. Her eyes grew softer.

Gu Mengmeng nodded. “Mmm, Lea said they mean happiness, courage and wisdom.”

Sandy nodded, implying that Gu Mengmeng was right. She then tugged Gu Mengmeng’s hand. “Thank you.”

“Between us, is there still a need to say thank you?” Gu Mengmeng returned Sandy’s grasp. “Have a good rest and recover well. We will return to Saint Nazaire after the drought season ends.”

Sandy nodded and returned to bed.

She was still too weak after giving birth, and would feel very tired after just sitting up for awhile.

Gu Mengmeng continued playing with the leopard cubs for some time before returning to her own stone castle.

The drought season did not affect Sauder much. Although they had only one well, it produced water endlessly, and the supply was being rationed. With Gu Mengmeng's special status, she could use as much water as she wished. And because of Sandy's unique relationship with Gu Mengmeng, Oakley also took extra care of her. Every day, Collin could draw water for Sandy right after Lea finished doing so for Gu Mengmeng. Thereafter, the rest of the females could have their turn. The households with pregnant females were third in line, followed by those who had just given birth—and in accordance to the number of babies they birthed, and then finally the rest of the families in order of their power rankings.

Only after all the females in the tribe had drawn their water, would the other tribes in alliance with Sauder be allowed their turn.

Oakley had arranged everything to run in an orderly manner.

Gu Mengmeng laid by the window in a daze, while Lea stood outside. He lifted a small cup of water to her lips. Gu Mengmeng took a sip before asking, "Do you feel that... this drought season has been too peaceful?"

Lea chuckled. "Isn't it good for things to be peaceful?"

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. "16 tribes have come to pledge their allegiance. Shouldn't there be plenty of conflicts of interest and infighting in the background? But there has been no dispute at all..."

Chapter 1041 - Turbulent Winds Precede A Raging Storm

Chapter 1041: Turbulent Winds Precede A Raging Storm

Gu Mengmeng stood up and turned to sit on the window ledge, dangling her legs casually over the edge as she leaned her head against the side. “We also opened up our well at Saint Nazaire to other tribes, and for free. You have been managing the exercise yourself and know how many conflicts cropped up... unless your disciple Oakley is better than you at mediating disputes—but this is something I can’t believe.”

Lea gave a mild smile but kept quiet. How could he not have noticed this anomaly?

But he had promised Gu Mengmeng never to hide things from her again. So although he had noticed the strange situation, he didn’t investigate and even forced himself not to try and analyze what was happening.

Because the moment he uncovered the truth, he would have to tell Gu Mengmeng or it would count as hiding the truth from her.

But he didn’t want Gu Mengmeng to be embroiled in those troublesome matters. Hence, he had no choice but to be prepared to make his move only after the enemy had struck.

Anyway, his Mengmeng held extraordinary powers. She also had the formidable Elvis to protect her. They would be able to overcome any adversity.

So as long as the shady undertakings didn’t extend to his Mengmeng, he would turn a blind eye to it.

Gu Mengmeng remained leaning against the side of the window. “It’s too peaceful. A peace that feels very bizarre... I just feel... it’s like how turbulent winds precede a raging storm.”

The moon was already in its second phase.

Without realizing it, over a one month had passed since Gu Mengmeng returned to Sauder.

The past month had been peaceful beyond belief. Gu Mengmeng went over to play with those leopard cubs every morning. Those cubs grew very close to Gu Mengmeng. Their gurgling noises were especially endearing. Sandy’s health was also improving very well, and she would share with Gu Mengmeng the adorable and astonishing behavior of her babies.

At noontime, Elvis would come and fetch Gu Mengmeng back to the stone castle, where Lea would have lunch waiting for her.

The past month was the peaceful life which she had always dreamed of, but Gu Mengmeng felt increasingly fretful with each passing day. She just felt that something bad was brewing. It was like a tiny piece of snow tumbling down from the mountaintop—by the time you noticed it at the bottom, it would have already turned into an unsurmountable and unstoppable avalanche.

Gu Mengmeng kept feeling like she was teetering on the verge calamity , as if there was one hand gripping her throat and making her feel very much ill-at-ease.

It was now halfway through the drought season and this was the most unbearable stage.

They could endure the front stage of the drought by drinking more water in advance, and then drinking the blood of their prey. But now... even their prey had no blood left in their bodies.

Demand for Sauder’s well grew tremendously. The crowd queuing up for water increased day by day, and Oakley had no choice but to extend the water retrieval schedule to the entire day. Even so, they could not keep up with the demand.

Greed was one of man's most basic nature.

If the entire world had no water, everyone would have no choice but to endure it regardless of how painful it was.

But if the rest world had no water, but you did...

You were fated to endure the jealousy and hatred from everyone else.

Previously, Sauder's source of life was a secret and no other tribe knew of it.

But since Oakley publicly announced this resource—so what if it was the Messengers tribe? When Saint Nazaire's well was dug, how many people took the risk of offending the Messenger of the Beast Deity to steal water? In the end, it was only because Gu Mengmeng opened up the water source for everyone that finally resolved the issues. The queues for Saint Nazaire's well were longer but it was a fair system.

But Oakley...

He was only offering the water source to the 16 surrounding tribes.

In other words, apart from those 16 tribes, everyone else was in a maddened craze and they had all gathered at Sauder.

Chapter 1042 - You Should Always Hide Your Weaknesses Behind Your Back

Chapter 1042: You Should Always Hide Your Weaknesses Behind Your Back

Finally, on a stuffy, hot night, Gu Mengmeng was woken up by a noisy fight.

When she opened her eyes, she realized that Elvis had entered his fighting form while Lea was guarding at the entrance of the stone castle, with Hede and Jialue behind.

Elvis was guarding at a step away from Gu Mengmeng, carefully looking out for any motions in the surrounding.

“What’s wrong?”

Gu Mengmeng lowered her volume, everything here had an eerie feeling, making her feel suffocated.

Elvis turned around, looked at Gu Mengmeng and smiled. He said, “It’s alright, continue your sleep.”

Gu Mengmeng sat up and did not know whether to laugh or get annoyed, she said, “The atmosphere here is like that in the graveyard, how can someone fall back to sleep? Tell me what’s wrong.”

Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng into his arms and said, “I suspect that enemies have invaded, but it’s strange...”

Gu Mengmeng frowned and asked, “Invaded? The stray beasts?”

Elvis shook his head and said, “We are not sure yet.”

Gu Mengmeng took a deep breath and said, “Come, let’s go to Sandy’s place.”

Elvis did not say anything further and followed what she said.

Gu Mengmeng was at the peak of the Beast World, no enemies of any kind could her a single bit, but it would be a different story to take advantage of her loved ones.

As Lea had said, you should always hide your weaknesses behind your back.

When Elvis was carrying Gu Mengmeng out, Lea brought Hede and Jialue along with them.

When they reached Sandy’s house, Gu Mengmeng felt her blood froze.

Sandy was curled up in one corner with the six little ones in her arms. Beside her was Bode, whom was covered with blood but still protecting Sandy and the children with his last breath.

The other partners had been beaten to their original form, piling up like blood-soaked corpses at the door. Someone was sitting on top of the mountain of ‘corpses’ — Cole.

Without further words, Gu Mengmeng sprinted to Sandy’s side and guarded Sandy behind her back. Gu Mengmeng then stared at Cole cautiously and shouted, “Lea.”

Lea understood her signal and brought Hede and Jialue to Sandy’s side. He said, “The two of you, protect your mother-in-law and your little brothers.”

Hede nodded his head and remained silent.

Jialue squinted his eyes, glanced at Cole whom was resembling Death himself and remained quiet too.

He knew that if Hede and him joined in the fight with their strengths, they would only be burdens to the rest.

Lea wanted them to stay with Sandy and not go anywhere else, so that they could be protected together in the case of a wild fight.

Jialue was taught by Lea from young and Lea trusted in him. Although he would sometimes say things that make others speechless, he could be depend on in crucial times.

So Lea did not waste time explaining, bent down and started treating the wounds on Bode.

Gu Mengmeng glanced around. Upon realizing there was nobody here except Cole, she was more assured.

Taking two steps forward, Gu Mengmeng was so angry that she started smiling. She looked up at Cole and said, “You should have known, family and friends are my weaknesses, if you do it the right way, you can threaten me and put me into difficult circumstances. But if you really injure them, I will go crazy, crazy until you don’t even have a place to rest in peace.”

Cole raised his eyebrows, smiled and said, “Ah Gu, you are so pretty in your evil and full of hatred look.”

Chapter 1043 - : Would You Believe Me If I Deny It?

Chapter 1043: Would You Believe Me If I Deny It?

“Pretty? Ha, alright, then you can take your time and admire.” With that, Gu Mengmeng dashed towards Cole, her hand raised to Cole’s ear in the claw shape, aiming at his neck and was ready to break it into half.

Cole did not dodge or did he panic, he remained calm and composed sitting there and said, “There is a bewitching spell on Chixuan connected with me, he will perish once I die.”

With the syllabus of the sentence, Gu Mengmeng’s fingers had strangled onto Cole’s neck, she could break it with just a little strength.

There was a bloody color in Cole’s eyes. In an evil and arrogant way, he grinned and continued, without feeling the threat of losing his life at any second, “I left a dead knot on Sandy when I was casting the bewitching spell on her, she would have died on the spot if you forcefully overwrite her spell. A hostage as important as Chixuan... Do you think I will not leave some safety measures just in case?”

Gu Mengmeng frowned, this was the reason she did not dare to kill Cole hastily after snatching back Chixuan.

Cole chuckled and said, “You are not killing me?”

Gu Mengmeng withdrew her hand and kicked Cole instead.

Cole seemed to have see it coming, but purposely not dodge the kick and fell on the ground in a miserable state.

“Lea.” Gu Mengmeng turned back and look at Lea.

Bode's injuries were not minor, but neither were they deadly. Lea had done a simple treatment of his wounds when Gu Mengmeng called him and he immediately came over to rescue Collin, Adali and Sandy's other partners whom had been sat on by Cole moments ago.

Cole struggled to get up from the ground, he touched his left ribcage with his hand and, yes, he had broken three.

Every move he took the broken bones would be scratching against other organs, it was painful indeed.

Still smiling, Cole said, since the punishments are done, Ah Gu can enjoy the rest of the show now."

Gu Mengmeng did not want to waste time on Cole, neither was she in the mood for watching the show Cole had invited her. She said with cold eyes, "Did you initiate the attack today?"

Cole threw back a question without answering, "Would you believe me if I deny it?"

"No," Gu Mengmeng replied in a straightforward manner.

Cole sighed and said, "Alright, you can treat it as if I am the culprit."

"Purpose, " Gu Mengmeng asked.

Cole thought for a while and said, "Perhaps... It was because I am bored."

Gu Mengmeng clearly did not believe, she did not think Cole would be someone that do things out of boredom.

Every single time, he had knitted the small matters that seemed unrelated to one another into a huge spiderweb step by step, almost forcing her into helpless situations.

Seeing Gu Mengmeng not believing in him, Cole frowned and said, "Or perhaps... I just wanted to make my presence seen in front of you, in case you forget about me from not seeing me in a long while."

Gu Mengmeng's face darkened as she slowly lost her patience.

"Gu Mengmeng..." A soft call sounded from behind her, accompanied by a light sobbing.

Sandy must have been so scared to make such sounds.

Gu Mengmeng could not be bothered with Cole's aim anymore, she turned around and comforted Sandy first.

Lightly hugging Sandy into her arms, Gu Mengmeng patted Sandy's back and said, "It's alright now, I am here. I will protect you. You know... I am very strong."

Sandy buried her face into Gu Mengmeng's chest, her chubby little hand gripped onto Gu Mengmeng's clothes and said in a crying tone, "I did not live up to you... Gu Mengmeng, I have failed you... I had been saved by Cole..."

Chapter 1044 - I Will Be Dead If You Don't Save Me

Chapter 1044: I Will Be Dead If You Don't Save Me

“Saved?” Gu Mengmeng caught the keywords and there was surprise in her eyes.

Sandy nodded, her small hands, still shaking, pointed towards the shrubs in a distance. Gu Mengmeng squinted her eyes and looked where she pointed. She looked closely and realized that there were many corpses lying all over the place.

Cole would save Sandy? Wasn't this psychopath only capable of hurting others?

Cole chuckled and asked, “Are you surprised?”

Gu Mengmeng ignored him, everything he did must have stemmed from ill intentions in Gu Mengmeng's eyes.

Cole took a deep breath and took time to feel the pain from the broken bones being in contact with his internal organs. The smile on his face widened as it blended into the night sky. Cole said grievously, “Ah Gu, you really don't know me well enough. I aspire to be the most special person in your entire life, why would I allow someone, other than me, threatening you? I will be so jealous if you shift your hatred onto another person.”

“Psychopath.” Gu Mengmeng uttered the word, turned around and ignored Cole.

Elvis did not like the way Cole was looking at Gu Mengmeng. Seeing Gu Mengmeng had no intentions of continuing the conversation with Cole, he shifted his position to be in the middle, blocking Cole's view. He did not release his beast pressure, but there were fierce, murderous intentions in his eyes.

Cole did not respond to Elvis, he turned around lazily and said, “So slow... Ah Gu will start to get impatient if we are to wait any longer.”

Gu Mengmeng was observing the surroundings while comforting Sandy. There were sounds of footsteps approaching them in an disordered manner. Somehow, it was as though the footsteps were stepping on Gu Mengmeng’s heart and each step was extremely heavy, she could not help but started frowning.

“Ha, they are finally here.” Cole adjusted his posture calmly, as the smiled on his face widened with some evilness of thirst for blood.

Right after Cole had finished his sentence, a group of males had gathered around them.

The leader was Oakley and behind him were twenty over males with a murderous look.

Gu Mengmeng took a quick glance, there were sixteen of them that she had seen before, they were welcoming her at the entrance of Sauder the day they returned.

Without further ado, the twenty over people immediately pounced onto Cole at the same time.

Within them, there were two fifth-level beasts, seven or eight fourth-level ones and the rest were third-level.

Cole released his beast pressure instantly and the third-level ones immediately laid flat on the ground.

The fourth-level beasts clenched their teeth but their remaining strength was reduced to a negligible extent.

Hence, it became a three-cornered fight involving the two fifth-level beasts and Cole.

If Cole were not kicked by Gu Mengmeng before this, it might have been difficult for him to win with his power of being at the peak of fifth-level, but it would be almost impossible for the normal fifth-level beasts to kill him.

But now...

Cole's ribcage was wounded, every breath he took would scratch the internal organs, not to mention taking part in such an intense fight.

Cole knelt down on the ground with a mouthful of blood spit out.

The fifth-level lion beast kicked onto Cole's left chest, the position in which Gu Mengmeng had wounded him.

The broken rib pierced into Cole's lungs and he spit out another mouthful of blood. Cole began to lose his consciousness, but he looked straight at Gu Mengmeng. His bloody lips formed a smile and he could only whisper, "I will be dead if you don't save me..."

Cole's voice was the softest, but he was sure Gu Mengmeng had heard him. After all... she had the power of the Beast King.

Chapter 1045 - The Tables Have Turned

Chapter 1045: The Tables Have Turned

Gu Mengmeng clenched her fists, she was struggling internally. It was only then did she realized what Cole had meant when he said Chixuan's life was connected to his.

Take the risk? Cole would be dead if she did not do anything.

But if the risk was Chixuan's life...

Gu Mengmeng bit into her lower lip and eventually dashed out, grabbing Cole by the back of his neck and pulled him back, dodging the sharp claws aiming at Cole's heart from another fifth-level black panther beast just in time.

Elvis only took half a second to rush to Gu Mengmeng's side, kicked onto the arm of the black panther, which sent him flying to the side. His claws sank into the trunk of a nearby tree and the a huge piece of bark broke off with a crack.

The black panther was quick to react, he immediately pounced back and started fighting against Elvis.

On the other hand, Gu Mengmeng gripped onto Cole's neck after pulling him back, pressing him onto the ground. She held back the strong urge to snap his neck, shot him a fierce stare, released him and went back into the fight.

Although both the black panther and the lion were not at the peak level, Elvis was at a disadvantage fighting against the two of them, with one excelling in agility and another in strength.

The moment Gu Mengmeng stood up, Cole had grabbed her wrist and pulled her inwards. Gu Mengmeng was not prepared and fell into Cole's arms.

He was already injured and with Gu Mengmeng's fall, he spit another mouthful of blood. Although he turned around immediately, a few drops of blood splattered onto Gu Mengmeng's face.

"Cough cough... Cough..." The blood flew back into his vessels and Cole could not stop his cough.

But Gu Mengmeng could not be bothered with taking care of him, she wanted to break free from his grip to go and help Elvis, but Cole held on to her hand even when he was coughing, unwilling to let go.

"I see that you do not want to keep the last hand of yours, huh?!" With that, Gu Mengmeng raised her hand and was just about to break Cole's other hand.

Still coughing, Cole frowned and shook his head. At that moment, there were many shadows leaping in from the surroundings.

Elvis was taken by surprise, he instinctively took a step backwards and blocked in front of Gu Mengmeng.

At the same time, the third-level beasts lying on the ground, the fifth-level ones struggling to support themselves and the two fifth-level beasts that were still fighting with Elvis moments back were instantly defeated. The third and fourth-level ones were bitten to death straight away, while the two fifth-level beasts were separated by a group of third and fourth-level beasts. The black panther was surrounded, unable to fight his way out no matter how much he bite and fight, while the lion was attacked by two fifth-level stray beasts...

The black panther wanted to release beast pressure on the third and fourth-level beasts to help the lion, but before he could do it, one of the stray beasts had bitten on the lion's head and another on his spine, ribbing his head off his body.

The third and fourth-level beasts dispersed immediately, allowing for the two fifth-level stray beasts to pounce onto the black panther. It did not even matter how agile the black panther was, his chest was ripped open before he could even scream and his organs were spreading all over the ground.

Everything happened in less than ten seconds...

Gu Mengmeng looked at Cole whom was still gripping onto her wrists. His cough was gradually subsiding, but his breathing was still difficult. The smile on his face had the look of 'just like this', there were manipulations and some irony.

Oakley was defeated by the beast pressure at the start of the fight, yet he was the sole survivor in the sea of corpses here. Now, he was being half-carried-half-dragged by two stray beasts to where Cole was.

Chapter 1046 - Who the Heck Is This Bloom?

Chapter 1046: Who the Heck Is This Bloom?

Cole tilted his head to one side, ignored Gu Mengmeng's pull and refused to let go of her. He forced himself onto Gu Mengmeng's arms.

Feeling disgusted, Gu Mengmeng wanted to push him away, but she did not dare to move seeing how he appeared to be on his final breaths and would be dead if Gu Mengmeng did anything.

Seeing he succeeded in having it his way, Cole was even more arrogant.

Turning his face to one side, Cole grinned as he pointed at Oakley with his chin, trembling. He asked, "Now, Ah Gu, do you want him to be alive, or dead?"

Gu Mengmeng frowned at Cole and asked, "He came today with the clear purpose of killing you, if I say I want him to be alive, will you let him go?"

Cole chuckled and blood was trickling down the corner of his lips. He did not care and continued, "If someone deserves to die for just wanting me to die, only piles of bones would be left in this world. Cough... Cough cough... I won't blame him for wanting to kill me, but I will not forgive him for wanting to take advantage of you..."

Gu Mengmeng did not understand what Cole was saying, there was no fear on Oakley's face, only guilt, as he avoided Gu Mengmeng's eye contact.

Cole let out a cold laugh and said, "Anyone that is disloyal to you... does not deserve to stay by your side."

Oakley's eyes stared hard at Cole, but dared not to move it an inch to meet with Gu Mengmeng's. His chest was filled with hatred and he turned it into words, "Winner takes it all, kill me if you wish, but let Bloom go after I die."

Although Cole was feeling extreme pain from his chest and every word coming out of his mouth induced even more pain, he felt like he was on cloud nine resting on Gu Mengmeng's shoulders, even the pain pleased him.

Even if his internal organs were rubbed against by the broken ribs with every word he said, almost triggering a full body spasm from the pain, he could not stop talking as though he was self-harming. He continued the conversation with Oakley, "Ha, do you think you are in the position to request anything from me now?"

Gu Mengmeng was puzzled and confused. She looked at Cole and then Oakley, before asking, "Who is Bloom?"

Hearing Gu Mengmeng opening her mouth, Oakley turned to stared hard at the ground. Until he realized that Cole would not answer the question for him and was looking at him like watching a drama, Oakley forced himself to face Gu Mengmeng.

Tightening his fist and clenching his teeth, Oakley gave his pride and ego up. He looked up with two lines of tears trickling down his face and said, "Gu Mengmeng... Everything is my fault, Bloom is innocent, save him... Please save him at least..."

"So who the heck is this Bloom?"

It was a rare sight for Gu Mengmeng to see males in the Beast World cry, they usually clenched their teeth and endure the pain no matter how badly injured they were.

The only exception was Peter when he got back together with Natalie again, but even then he had only teared two teardrops secretly. Gu Mengmeng did not expect Oakley, with red eyes, bawling pathetically with tears and mucus flowing down his face.

“Bloom is the little snake that you have kept at the start for communication purposes... He... he is my lover.”

Gu Mengmeng was stunned on the spot for a moment.

Because she clearly remembered, that snake... was a male!

Not that Gu Mengmeng discriminated against homosexuals, it was actually the opposite, Gu Mengmeng had a timid fojushi heart.

The reason for the timidness was that she would be the bravest when shouting slogans or imagining stories, but she would feel uneasy when gay couples actually appear in front of her.

Seeing Gu Mengmeng remaining quiet, Oakley thought she was hesitating and pleaded even more desperately, “Bloom is loyal to you, everything is my fault, you can punish me however you like if you save Bloom... Please... I beg you... Gu Mengmeng, I am begging you as a friend!”

Chapter 1047 - I Will Grant Your Wishes as Asked.

Chapter 1047: I Will Grant Your Wishes as Asked.

Oakley's desperate cries drew Gu Mengmeng's attention back.

The sadness and pleading look on him had touched Gu Mengmeng's heart.

Does sexuality matter for love?

In the past, when they were watching a bromance drama from country H, a quote from the show became the God's orders for the few shojoshis.

"Everyone is like a magnet. The different sexes are like the different poles, easily attracted to one another. But it requires much more courage and strength for a similar pole to hug each other. Why should we be in their way when they are already so difficult?"

Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Cole, frowned and said, "Oakley is my friend, I will protect him regardless of what he had done to me. As for Bloom... he belongs to the Snake valley of mine, you have to return him to me."

Cole chuckled in a evilly attractive manner, he looked at Gu Mengmeng and asked in a calm tone, "You... You are as softhearted and kind as usual. But since you are my Ah Gu, I will grant your wishes as asked."

With the lift of his finger, a stray beast raised his head and let out a howl. Not long after, a rustling sound could be heard and... A small snake in his half-beast form slithered out.

Being used to Wabei's muscular built half-beast form, this small snake seemed much more elegant.

The muscles on his upper body were smooth but not bulging out, at most being counted in the extent of being healthy, something like... the few brothers in the swimming club that always could not get into the school team for competitions.

There were patches of blue black on him, his lips were injured and were bleeding. He was in a daze. Although he was approaching at a constant speed, Gu Mengmeng could clearly felt the fear emitting from him.

Elvis and Lea were always gentle towards Gu Mengmeng, but even so there would be serious or minor blue blacks on her body after some fun. Hence, Gu Mengmeng could tell the cause of the blue blacks on Bloom's body with one look.

She stared at Cole fiercely and pushed him hard to the ground, leaving behind a 'disgusting!'.

Then, Gu Mengmeng took a piece of hide from one side, went straight to Bloom's side and wrapped his upper body up, covering the bruises.

Being thrown to the ground by Gu Mengmeng, the broken ribs in Cole pierced even more into his lungs, before pulling out a little. He felt a mouthful of blood gushing up his throat. He took a deep breath, supported himself on the ground with the broken arm and used the other hand to wipe away the blood on his lips. He chuckled and said, "Pain is so boring not being in Ah Gu's arms."

With that, Cole transformed into a fox, before immediately changing back.

The transformation could fix the dislocated bones back, although they are still broken, the healing after the bones were fixed would be easy for a fifth-level beast.

Cole had changed fast, but Gu Mengmeng's present eyesight was too good and she had managed to catch a glimpse...

Ha, a tailless fox was so freaking weird.

As though he did not see the disgust in Gu Mengmeng's eyes, Cole sat on his spot, glanced at Bloom and Oakley as he said, "I used to think their love was the purest and most loyal, but he still could not withstand the Fox Seductive Fragrance for couple of minutes. An excited snake, trying to mate with every male in his reach. That scene was... Ha, it could really match up to Ah Gu's comment, it was disgusting indeed."

Chapter 1048 - He Asked You to Live on Your Life

Chapter 1048: He Asked You to Live on Your Life

“Cole! I am to kill you!” Oakley’s eyes were red as he struggled to break free from the stray beasts, as though he was going to fight him with his life.

Cole could not be bothered with him, he let out a sarcastic chuckle and asked, “Can’t you tell that Ah Gu does not want me to die?”

Oakley turned a deaf ear to Cole’s words and could not care the huge difference between Cole’s strength and his. He just felt like he was going crazy... No, he had already become crazy!

He just wanted to kill Cole!

Kill Cole!

Cole waved his hand slightly and the ones carrying Oakley released him.

Like a trapped beast freed from its chains, Oakley pounced straight onto Cole.

But before he could touch a single hair strand of Cole, Cole had released his beast pressure and forced Oakley on the ground.

However, it was not only Oakley that had been injured severely, the others present were all affected, regardless of friend or foe.

The beasts below third-level were wounded again and Bloom was forced back into its original state.

Lea and the other fourth-level beasts were clutching on to their chests and holding onto their last breaths, willing to admit defeat due to their pride.

There was also a difference in power between the fifth-level beasts, those that had not attained the peak level feared the gust of beast pressure too.

Other than Cole, the only ones present that were unaffected were only Elvis and Gu Mengmeng.

Looking at Oakley who was lying near his feet, Cole sat up straight and sniggered, "Saying such arrogant words when you are this weak and powerless.... Tsk tsk tsk, what a trash."

Gu Mengmeng walked over and helped Oakley up. she turned to look at Cole, sneered and said, "You are weak in my eyes too. You are just a _ that held Chixuan as hostage so I dared not to kill you, you are not in the position to despise anyone else. Talking about trash... Ha, you are number one in the Beast World."

"Ah Gu, you are teasing me again." Cole looked at Gu Mengmeng in a pampering way, saying the sweetest words which send shivers down her spine. She said, "You are so freaking disgusting!"

Oakley, being pressed against the ground, had lost all its strength and could not stand up. He pushed Gu Mengmeng's hand away lightly, before crawling to Bloom's side and hugged him tightly. He wrapped the hide covering Bloom's body tightly in the most caring and careful way.

"Boo, it's me... It's me... Don't be scared, I am here with you, yes." Blood was dripping down Oakley's mouth with revert word he said, but he seemed to not have realized and continued smiling at the little snake in his arms whom had fainted from the beast pressure.

Kissing Bloom on the forehead, Oakley whispered, "I am sorry for being so useless... and not being able to protect you. You always say that I am smart, but being smart is useless, I have planned everything with my wits to save you, only to fail miserably..."

Bloom moved a little in Oakley's arms and struggled to open his eyes. He wanted to change into his human forms and talk to Oakley, but how could a second-level beast withstand Cole's fifth level pressure? It was fortunate enough for him to regain his conscious now.

Sticking out his tongue, Bloom licked the tears on Oakley's face and hissed something, Oakley could not understand it but Gu Mengmeng did.

Taking two steps forward, Gu Mengmeng stood as a translator between Oakley and Bloom. She said, "He asked you to live on your life and forget about the promise you two had at the start."

Chapter 1049 - Come At Me If You Dare

Chapter 1049: Come At Me If You Dare

“No way! I don’t allow! Don’t allow!” Oakley locked Bloom in his arms tightly, resembling a lunatic as he hugged him with all his might but still felt that the hug was not tight enough. It was as if Bloom would never leave him if he did not let him go.

Bloom’s cornea slowly became blur, he could only used the senses a snake had towards the king of the same breed to turn his head towards Gu Mengmeng with much difficulty, “Hiss.....hiss hiss.....”

Gu Mengmeng clamped her lips and remained silent.

Bloom was telling her that Oakley did everything for him, he was kidnapped by Cole because he was too weak so Oakley had no other way but to abide by his threat.

All mistakes were his mistakes, he was begging Gu Mengmeng to pardon Oakley.

“Boo. I beg you.....can you please hold in for me, alright.....hmm?” Oakley did not know what Bloom was saying but someone in love was sensitive enough to feel that the person in his arms was slowly dying away.

“Hiss hiss.....hiss.....”

Bloom was saying, “I beg you.....pardon him.....save him....”

Before waiting for Gu Mengmeng’s reply, Bloom breathed his last with tears brimmed in his eyes without getting to hear Oakley’s plead once more.

The original cold and soft body crumbled bit by bit before the weight of an entire snake fell in Oakley's hands. He was never so heavy before, no matter how Oakley used to carry him, he was always as light as a feather.....

“Ah—!” Oakley growled at the skies and stopped until he could not carry on. However, he still had his mouth widened at the skies, looking as if he was interrogating God why they stole Bloom away from him. His fresh red eyes were filled with blood streaks and even popped out slightly.

He never felt so strength-less before, no matter how loud he shouted and screamed, he could not transmit his voice out.

An endless desperation enclosed him tightly, causing him to lose his breath.

His heart followed Bloom's soft body, drowning into the darkness.

There was no end.....

Then, blood started flowing out from the corners of his eyes.

Followed by his ears.....

The corners of his lips.....

His nostrils.....

Gu Mengmeng clenched her fists tight and wanted to stop Oakley but Lea grabbed onto her waist and just shook his head in silence.

Gu Mengmeng did not know how much time had passed, this was the first time she felt that the measurement of seconds was so endless and tormenting.

Oakley's body softened and he fell towards one side but he was still hugging onto Bloom's dead body tightly in his arms.

Gu Mengmeng clenched her fists tight as she glared at Cole in hatred.

Cole smiled at Gu Mengmeng, not fearing death as he said, “Ah Gu, your gaze is so beautiful. Just like a poisonous rose blooming in the darkest night, ha.....a fatal seduction.”

Gu Mengmeng clenched her teeth and spat each word out clearly, “Cole, what exactly do you want? Are you lingering around me to possess me or kill me? Regardless what it is, just come at me, aren’t you a coward for always attacking people around me?!”

Cole listened to Gu Mengmeng’s howl in satisfaction, as if it was a confession instead. Then, he smiled amorously and said, “What a rare occasion, Ah Gu is starting to care about me. What do I want....ha, I want to pull yo into my world and look at the breathtaking scenery with me. You know that when a person is alone for too long.....he will get lonely.”

“If you have the fing capabilities to pull me, come on and pull! Why are you tormenting innocent people?!”

“Innocent?” Cole looked at the dead Oakley and Bloom in confusion, saying, “But they betrayed you.”

Chapter 1050 - Now, Do You Still Think That This Lynx Is Innocent?

Chapter 1050: Now, Do You Still Think That This Lynx Is Innocent?

“Ah Gu, to be honest, I don’t mind you hating me but I mind you misunderstanding me.” Cole explained, giving off a ‘I simple can’t do anything with you’ look, “Indeed, I took away the little snake you left behind but as long as Oakley listened to me and do his job in managing Sauder well for you, I won’t treat his little lover badly.”

“You fing raped him, you still claim that you didn’t treat him badly?!” Gu Mengmeng howled at the top of her lungs.

Cole chuckled and replied calmly, “Oakley was the one who raised the challenge.....I just accepted it.”

“He’s dead now, you can say whatever you want!” Gu Mengmeng gnashed her teeth in anger.

Cole shook his head and said, “Haven’t you thought about it before, the people lying here are all the leaders and main attackers of nearby tribes, the weakest is just a third-level orc, why do you think they will listen to instructions from Oakley, a second-level orc, and fight against stray beasts?”

Water source.....

Without much contemplation, Gu Mengmeng knew the answer.

But she did not want to reply Cole so she just glared at him coldly.

Cole did not force Gu Mengmeng to reply as he continued, “These 16 tribes became Oakley’s blades because of the water source and those tribes which couldn’t get the water source would become a knife hovering the top of your head.”

Cole’s gaze landed on a nearby undergrowth casually, there were a lot of corpses there.

Chuckling, as if he was mocking Oakley’s indulgence in his wildest fantasy, he continued with a scornful and sarcastic tone, “If there was anything good about him, that would probably be his understanding towards me. He knew that I will never allow others to control you using my method so he deliberately spread the rumor of the Messenger of the Beast Deity getting the water source. At the same time, he spread the information of me threatening you with Chixuan.”

“He knew that an empty show won’t manage to convince me so to force me to appear here on time, he really risked your life.” Cole pointed at the undergrowth and added, “If I came here a little later, Sandy and her family would be caught by them. Under this kind of dangerous situations, they won’t be able to take care of your feelings and maintain a gentlemanly attitude towards Sandy like me.....the six newborn leopards almost died tonight too.”

Cole looked at Gu Mengmeng lazily and casually, asking with a smile, “If I controlled Sandy and request in exchange for a well, judging by your character, you would have dug it without hesitation.....”

Gu Mengmeng did not say anything but she knew that he was speaking facts.

As long as Sandy was safe, what did digging a well mean?

Cole seemed like he understood her thoughts as he said, “But have you thought about it before? Once you dig that well, Sandy and her family would become a snatching target for tribes in this entire Beast World and all gazes will be fixated on them because their family symbolized water source. They can even.....use them as a chip to make endless demands from you.”

Gu Mengmeng’s body turned stiff as she frowned deeply.

She was not afraid of what she would meet. It was not only because of her extremely strong abilities, but also because Elvis and Lea would always protect her.

But what about Sandy? She was just a vulnerable half-orc female, a weak little girl who could not even defeat Nina in all those trivial fights, if she were to be pushed to the teeth of the storm like that.....

Just the thought of it made her heart ache.

“Now, do you still think that this lynx is innocent?” Cole laughed, pushing all responsibilities off him. He was curious as to how Gu Mengmeng would weigh and consider this.

Chapter 1051 - Shouldn't You Express Your Gratitude Towards Me?

Chapter 1051: Shouldn't You Express Your Gratitude Towards Me?

Actually, Gu Mengmeng wanted to retort Cole.

She wanted to say that Oakley was not that kind of person, he would not do those kind of things.

She wanted to say that she originally dug a well in Saint Nazaire, many people knew about this, how could he say that Oakley was the one who spread this news?

She wanted to say that many people knew about him using Chixuan to threaten her, it was not unexpected if someone followed what was done in order to obtain a water source!

She wanted to say that it was a coincidence for all strong males from the nearby 16 tribes to gather here today.....

But, would she even believe her own words?

Many people knew about Saint Nazaire's water well but majority of them thought that it was the arrival of the Messenger of the Beast Deity that allowed the Beast Deity to bestow a hope for life into the world.

And the people who knew that Gu Mengmeng dug a water well.....were from Saint Nazaire.

Cole was a stray beast, he did not expose himself too much to the outside world and was just hiding in the dark, devising his plan. The only time he stood openly beside her was when he used a deceptive trick and pretended to be Lea.

Furthermore, Chixuan followed Cole before his evolution. Many people only knew that Cole had a little wolf cub beside him, nobody knew that the little wolf cub was the second son of the Messenger of the Beast Deity.

“Damn it.” Gu Mengmeng looked at Oakley’s and Bloom’s corpses, scolding them with sore eyes, “Why did you apologize? If you don’t apologize, I could still debate a few words for you....now are you satisfied seeing me being forced to a corner by him? You still said we’re friends....is there any friend like you?”

If Oakley could put on his pretense to the very end and not gain back his rationality because of guilt, he would not be so coward to avoid Gu Mengmeng’s eyes and even apologize to her.

Then, since Gu Mengmeng treated Cole like her most-hated enemy, she would definitely stand firmly on her decision of ‘not believing a single word’ he said. Regardless how logical and reasonable his deduction sounded, even if he laid out all the evidence on her face, she would still not believe him because he was Cole.

However...

Oakley and Bloom apologized to her before they breathed their last.

“Ah Gu, I protected your friend.” Cole grinned and asked, “So, shouldn’t you express your gratitude towards me?”

“Thank you.....ha, if you don’t have Chixuan in your hands, I really want to express my ‘gratitude’ to you properly.”

Obviously, Cole could not understand what the word ‘gratitude’ meant when Gu Mengmeng pronounced it so specifically so he shrugged his shoulders casually and said, “Ah Gu, I still can’t die now.....just hold it in and hate me a while more. When I push you to where you belong, I'll break off ties with Chixuan and you can do whatever you want to me then, alright?"

This sounded like he was appeasing his girlfriend who lost her temper.

So damn disgusting!

"Ah Gu, I saved Sandy entirely for you.....if you don't express your gratitude towards me, I'll just have to demand for a gift from Sandy. You know that I don't like it when others owe me something. I just don't know whether Sandy can pay off the reward to the stray beasts for saving her.....after all, she just gave birth not long ago....."

Gu Mengmeng's mind exploded.

Natalie told her previously how the stray beasts treated females.

Gu Mengmeng took a large step forward and slapped Cole's face harshly. Cole could almost felt his neck dislocating, if Chixuan was not in his hands, he would suspect that Gu Mengmeng might just directly slap his head off his neck. The next second, a teeth of his was pulled out from its place.

Chapter 1052 - If You're Not Satisfied, Come On And Challenge Me.

Chapter 1052: If You're Not Satisfied, Come On And Challenge Me.

Cole held the tooth in his mouth and did not spit it out. He just turned his head back and stared at Gu Mengmeng with a smile.

Gu Mengmeng gritted her teeth and said, "I express my 'gratitude' to you for saving my friend."

Cole covered his mouth and coughed twice, hiding the tooth in his palm before spitting out a mouthful of blood.

Fortunately, he spat quite a lot of blood today, this mouthful meant nothing to him.

Then, he continued smiling and said, "You're welcome."

Gu Mengmeng lifted her leg, landing it onto Cole's shoulder, directly stomping him on the ground. Then, she looked down on him in a condescending manner like a female bandit, saying each word clearly, "I expressed my gratitude to you for saving Sandy. But, I'll remember how you killed Oakley and Bloom and when I find a way to sever your ties with Chixuan.....I'll get my revenge all at once."

"Alright, I'll look forward to it." Cole did not struggle as he just looked at Gu Mengmeng with a gentle gaze while lying on the ground, laughing lightly.

Gu Mengmeng stood up and gave Bode a kick, asking him, “Can you stand up?”

Bode did not suffer from any serious external injuries, it’s just that the numerous emissions of beast pressure made him feel very uncomfortable.

And this situation now.....

Bode clenched his teeth and nodded, supporting himself up with the wall while staggering.

Looking at this weak a, Gu Mengmeng could not put her heart at ease to hand Sandy over to him so she just glared at him and support Sandy up herself. Then, she suggested, “Sandy, do you want to come over to stay with me tonight?”

Sandy was shocked quite badly today as her eyes lost their focus. She only regained her composure after Gu Mengmeng’s words as she nodded her head blankly.

Gu Mengmeng threw the six custard buns to Hede and Jialue while she left the place, holding onto Sandy.

Elvis and Lea exchanged glances and combed the mountain of corpses for Sandy’s partners before leaving together after carrying them on their shoulders.

Upon returning to the stone castle, Sandy kept holding onto Gu Mengmeng, not willing to let go because of her immense fear. Gu Mengmeng did not object to it as she arranged Sandy to stay in a room on the first floor, accompanying her for the entire night.

The next morning, the sun rose as per normal.

Lea stayed behind in the stone castle to take care of Sandy’s heavily-injured partners while Elvis appeared at Sauder’s entrance with an absolutely strong presence.

The majestic-looking Elvis just stood there with folded arms when the witch doctors from all 16 tribes fell silent, not having the courage to say anything.

“No matter what agreement your leader had with Oakley previously, now Oakley’s dead and your leader’s dead too so the agreement stops automatically.” Elvis said those words in a very calm way without a single up-tone.

“Yeah, the strongest warriors in our tribe are dead.....how can you guys go against the agreement.....”

“This is different from what we agreed on.....”

“This.....”

“Ha.” Elvis sniggered and said, “If you’re not satisfied, come on and challenge me. If you defeat me, we’ll abide by what you say.”

....

Abilities were the priority, the winner gets to enjoy the food alone.

This was the rule set in the Beast World.

Looking at the dark-faced demonic monster in front of them, ha, even with the strongest warriors in their tribe, they might not even be able to defeat him, let alone the few witch doctors here. Ha, even if they sacrifice themselves as sandbags for him to train, he might even despise them for being too soft.

Elvis continued, “No challenge? Then I’ll continue. From today onwards, all of your tribes will be dismissed. Your tribesmen and territory will be taken over by Sauder. Those who’re unwilling to do so can leave, Sauder will not force it upon you.”

Chapter 1053 - Only I Can Create Trouble For Ah Gu.

Chapter 1053: Only I Can Create Trouble For Ah Gu.

Cole was lying on a hill 3000 meters away from Sauder, sunbathing there.

He ordered a stray beast over and handed a tiny beast-skin pouch to him before instructing, “Go to Zacharias and hand it to your young master.”

“Yes.” The stray beast did not dare to probe any further as he kept the tiny beast-skin pouch and evolved into his beast form, rushing towards Zacharias.

Another stray beast came over and reported, “Mighty Cole, the 16 tribes had being acquired by Sauder, Elvis was the one who announced the handover.”

Cole smiled and nodded, as if everything was within his expectations. He said, “Make an announcement, from today onwards, add these 16 tribes to the tribes that the stray beasts are forbidden from attacking.”

“Yes.” The informer nodded in respect before leaving.

“Mighty Cole.” A female sat against the sunlight, brushing her hand across Cole’s chest. With a bashful and meek voice and an appearance that invoked others’ desire to protect her, she said, “You did so many things for the Mighty Messenger, why don’t you just tell her directly? She will be very touched if she knows what good things you did for her.”

“Good?” Cole looked as if he heard a joke as the corners of his lips lifted up in delight. He questioned the female, “Tell me, what good things do you think I did for her? What good things will make her touched?”

“I won’t say those done long ago, just look at what was done recently. You were going to draw your net over there but because the information that was supposed to be send from Sauder did not arrive, you gave up the plan you devised for so long to rush over to Sauder because you were scared that she would fall for Oakley’s trick and so you needed to protect her....”

“Ha....” Cole fiddled around with the female’s beast ears and said in an indifference tone, “Fall for Oakley’s trick? Ha, Ah Gu is the Messenger of the Beast Deity specially nurtured by me, will she fall for that kind of loser’s trick? Don’t forget, she has the so-called Beast World’s top genius Lea and Elvis whose skills had reached the peak by her sides. That black-white duo is not to be looked down upon.”

Cole paused and seemed like he thought of how Gu Mengmeng glared at him with her sore eyes last night. There was only his reflection in those clear and clean eyes of hers.

“Huh? Then why did you make your way there so anxiously....” Seeing how Cole was in a good mood, the female assumed that he liked this topic so she fake her curiosity and further questioned him in utmost cautiousness.

Indeed, Cole was in a good mood.

The corners of his lips did not droop since the start as he said lazily, “Only I can create trouble for Ah Gu. Others are not qualified to make her feel annoyed. Ha ha, thinking of it makes my heart boil.”

“Mighty Cole is not honest~” The female said softly, “Didn’t you notice it when Oakley contacted the 16 tribes secretly? But you didn’t stop him and you even aid him in his progress without leaving any evidence behind. You even killed all the leaders and strongest warriors from the 16 tribes at one go, isn’t that to get rid of an obstacle for the Mighty Messenger so that she can enjoy the fruits of others’ labor without being held back by the elbow?”

The female was getting all excited until she forgot about herself and did not notice the coldness under Cole’s smile. She just continued with what she wanted to say, “Oh, that’s right, and that Dora.....from the attack of the stray beasts in the sea to Leonard’s death, they were all done to open the hard crust for the Mighty Messenger so that she can enjoy the sweet fruit inside.....erm.....Mighty.....Cole.....”

Chapter 1054 - I Don't Like Overly-Clever Females

Chapter 1054: I Don't Like Overly-Clever Females

“You’re too opinionated.” Cole was still smiling but his hand was clutching onto the female’s neck cruelly, not pitying her at all.

Until the female almost fainted from the lack of oxygen, Cole then released his grip and let her land on his knee softly. Then, he touched her beast ears as if he was patting a pet. He said with a calm and dotting tone but with a dangerous warning intent, “I don’t like overly-clever females, do you understand?” Unless that female is called Gu Mengmeng.

“Yes, mighty Cole, I went overboard.” The female did not dare to sputter any more rubbish as she curled her body into a ball and lied on Cole’s knee, shivering in fear.

Cole touched her fluffy ears and squinted his eyes, lifting his face up to enjoy the sunlight. He looked as if he was not the one who wanted to strangle her to death.

Ha, this female was not wrong, she just understood half of the facts.

When did he realize Oakley contacting the 16 tribes? Ha, what a joke, this plan had already started since the day he kidnapped Bloom.

And when he knew that Gu Mengmeng left a little snake for Oakley, he started devising his plan.

Their love was a product Cole specially designed, they even ended up delving so deep into it, where one died from the sorrow of another dying.

Tsk tsk tsk, such a cheap love.

Looking down at the female on his knee, Cole smiled with a tint of despise in it.

She could only discover what happened on the surface and she even dared to indulge in verbiage in front of him.....

Ah Gu was still the best, that sly little fox is such an attractive lady. When analyzing what happened to Dora, she only had a few scattered hints but she actually was able to picture out 80 percent of the original appearance.

She was really too beautiful then, he really could not stop himself from devising more complicated scenarios and involve her in them so that she could solve them slowly.

Ha...

Upon thinking of Gu Mengmeng, Cole's mood became good so he rubbed the female's head and said, "Go back, don't let Ah Gu find out your identity or else.....I'm not someone who has compassion towards women."

"Yes." The female acted as if she was pardoned from a national crime as she left the place carefully and cautiously.

Cole squinted his eyes and watch her leave. Then, he laughed helplessly and said, "Why does Ah Gu like half-orcs so much? They're clearly so.....low."

On the other side, Elvis had just settled the 16 tribes and the first thing he did after returning to the stone castle was to hug Gu Mengmeng.

He really missed her after not seeing her for an entire afternoon.

Breathing her scent in deeply, he felt the fatigue over his entire body disappearing.

"What's the matter?" Gu Mengmeng asked.

Elvis placed her on his thigh and answered while playing with her soft little hand, "I followed Lea's instructions and distributed the order for water rationing. It's just that Oakley left behind too many loopholes, although the 16 tribes were acquired by us, the conflict for the gains is not small. If we don't handle this well, chaos will ensue but only Lea has the ability to solve this pile of mess well."

Gu Mengmeng frowned and said, "You mean that, we've to stay in Sauder?"

Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng's forehead and said, "Fool, we will only stay at the place you like. As for whether Sauder is in chaos or not.....who even cares?"

Gu Mengmeng face-palmed, what a willful Elvis.

Lea, however, chuckled and said, "Actually.....other than me, there's another person who can handle this messy relationship."

Chapter 1055 - There's An Outstanding Ability Called My Mother Is Gu Mengmeng

Chapter 1055: There's An Outstanding Ability Called My Mother Is Gu Mengmeng

“Huh?” Gu Mengmeng asked, looking over at Lea.

Lea swayed his tail and did not say a word as he just casted his glance towards one side.

Gu Mengmeng followed his gaze and.....

“Jialue?” Gu Mengmeng called out unknowingly.

Lea nodded and explained, “Chixuan and Jialue have already controlled Zacharias. If Hede and Jialue still hangs around beside you like a kid, they will feel disappointed. Although they don't say it.....we can never tie a wolf to our side and raise them as dogs.”

Gu Mengmeng sighed.....

Sigh...

A mother cannot control a son who has grown up?

They're ready to fly just at the age of one?

She had not even enjoy the time when her children hugged onto her thigh and act coquettishly.

But, did she really want to hold her children back because of her selfishness, according to what Elvis said ‘as long as you’re happy, it was nothing to raise a nest of useless wolf cubs’.

Raise a nest of useless wolf cubs.....

“I won’t decide anything, you two shall decide.”

Gu Mengmeng huddled into Elvis’s arms, feeling stuffed up as she did not want to say anything.

Lea smiled and called Hede and Jialue over. After discussing a few words, they came to a decision.

Sauder was originally an unstable place, Cole’s authority here was complicated to deal with and the newly-added 16 tribes made one feel restless. In order to control the tribesmen, one needed to have abilities that surpassed majority of the people or at least of Elvis’s and Wabei’s level. However, Gu Mengmeng liked Saint Nazaire more than Sauder so Elvis could not stay behind.

Wabei was restricted by the time of the year so he needed to stay in the Snake King valley during winter and the dry season so he could not stay behind too.

Peter was a good candidate to suppress the people and he also had the abilities to control a tribe but he needed to take care of Natalie and the six little ones by himself so he could not distract himself. And Natalie only had one partner so if Peter was attacked and controlled, Natalie and the six little ones would be stuck in a protection vacuum state, as long as they killed Natalie, they could easily get rid of Peter too.

So, if Peter were to control Sauder, they had to wait at least the six little ones grew to a certain level to be able to do so.

As of now, there were no suitable strong candidates so they could only use identity to select the candidate.

The bloodline of the mighty Beast Deity, the mighty messenger's blood-related sons. With their presence, Saint Nazaire, Sauder and Zacharias would become an undefeatable iron trio. No matter which tribe suffered attacks, the other two would instantly provide aid crazily, not fearing the price they had to pay.

Ha, there's an outstanding ability called 'my Mother is Gu Mengmeng'.

The dry season was not over yet so Gu Mengmeng was not anxious in leaving either. And since Lea had time on his hands, he brought her, Hede and Jialue in familiarizing them with the political matters.

Because Sandy underwent quite some trauma that night, Gu Mengmeng did not let her return to her original stone house to stay. She ordered her to stay in her stone castle temporarily to provide comfort to Sandy and for Lea's convenience in treating injuries on Collin and the rest.

And in Sandy's statement, Gu Mengmeng knew that she indeed misunderstood Cole for one matter that day. Cole was actually protecting Collin and the rest instead of attacking them when he sat on them.

Sandy said, Cole said one sentence when he sat on them that day, "I will like to see, who dares to snatch away one's life from under my feet."

If Cole did not appear on time that day, Sandy would not hesitate to believe that Bode, Collin, Adali and even her six little ones would survive past that fight.

Chapter 1056 - Took Away The 'If Only' And Left One Result Behind

Chapter 1056: Took Away The 'If Only' And Left One Result Behind

The dry season passed and Sandy slowly walked out of the trauma that night. Other than being exceptionally reliant on Gu Mengmeng, everything was going fine.

Jialue and Hede were kept busy as they followed Lea around but they always maintained confident smiles on their faces. They did not feel any mental or physical exhaustion, leading Gu Mengmeng to feel proud with a little disappointment.

Her children were too independent and had too much of their own ideas.

Gu Mengmeng watched the six little ones running around Sandy in envy and sighed internally. How nice would it be if her sons could stay as children forever and stick by her side.

Little Cream Bun was still very affectionate with Gu Mengmeng and would hang on her body, wriggling about and licking her. This forcefully managed to satisfy Gu Mengmeng's motherly instincts.

The dry season was over quite shortly later, although it was not peaceful, they managed to survive it.

Oakley's death still had quite an impact on Gu Mengmeng.

After all, they were once friends, even if he inflicted some harm to her before, wasn't selfishness the reason why love was so great?

If what Oakley wanted to do turned out to be a success, it would perhaps bring some trouble to Gu Mengmeng but when did some trouble between friends matter?

The issue that Gu Mengmeng was most displeased about was that he clearly had difficulties but he did not seek help from her and just lived with all the guilt and worry in him.

If he was still alive, Gu Mengmeng would probably hit him until he could not perform his daily tasks by himself and give him a good lashing, then.....ask Lea to treat his injuries and ask Bloom to take care of him properly.

But what a pity, the cruel side of reality took away the 'if only' and left one result behind.

She wanted to give him a beating and then forgive him but he did not even give her this chance. He just vanished forever after leaving behind two words 'I'm sorry' rudely.

The first rain from the rainy season announced the end of the dry season.

The water source of every tribe started increasing so lesser people came to collect water. Finally, Lea announced that Sauder's water well would not be open to the public before the next dry season.

Lea found some time to return home and cuddled up next to Gu Mengmeng after leaving all political matters to Hede and Jialue. The few old die-hards from the tribe elder association unexpectedly listen to them well and not a single one of them dared to find the two little wolf cubs trouble. Instead, they provided support to them with all their heartfelt intentions. Gu Mengmeng did not have much thoughts about it but Lea, on the other hand, lowered his head and chuckled, muttering to himself, "They must be scared that they would be noticed by Cole and become the next Oakley, right?"

Lea could understand around 80 percent of what Cole was doing. He seemed like he was forcing Gu Mengmeng to desperation but objectively speaking, he was always pushing her to the most advantageous route while clearing some obstacles for her on the way. It's just that this tricks.....ha, Mengmeng would never accept them.

Elvis was very busy recently and he spend lesser time by Gu Mengmeng's side because Collin's injury was getting better and Elvis found out that Collin had reached the peak of third-level so Collin had to gather up as much battling experience before Cole could reach them. All that's lacking was a breakthrough from his stagnation. He was injured previously so Elvis allowed him to recuperate and since he had recovered, he had to immediately send Collin to surpass third-level and when he entered fourth-level, his abilities would increase by a few times.

Collin himself was also exceptionally enthusiastic because he did not want to see Sandy curled up in a corner, shaking from fear, again.

A light drizzle was still upon them and it was already the third day.

Someone braved the rain and walked into the stone castle. After looking at Gu Mengmeng, he chuckled.

Chapter 1057 - Little Shit, You're Here.

Chapter 1057: Little Shit, You're Here.

Gu Mengmeng stood up to welcome him. Giving him a light hug, she said, "Little shit, you're here."

Wabei was taken aback as he extended his hand and poked Gu Mengmeng's forehead, crying out, "Is there a loose screw in you?"

Normally, shouldn't she give him a slap or directly kick him away and say, "Little shit, are you looking for a beating again?" upon seeing him?

Why was the opening different today?

Gu Mengmeng giggled foolishly and rebounded her head like Humpty Dumpty, leaning against Wabei's chest.

His body was different from Elvis and Lea, it was always cold and no matter what happened, it could never become warm. Furthermore, Wabei was clearly quite good-looking but Gu Mengmeng never sense any message from his hormones. Maybe this was signaling that they both hold each other dearly but without any ambiguous feelings between them. This explained their current state.

Gu Mengmeng hugged him from quite a while and then sighed, telling Wabei what happened to Oakley and Bloom.

Wabei suddenly came to realization and asked, "Ah.....so that's why you're so abnormal today, you're not hitting me but hugging me instead?":

Gu Mengmeng looked at Wabei, feeling wronged as she questioned him, "Will you fall in love with someone one day and then betray me for her...."

“Is your brain filled with shit? Don’t you know that love and relationships will obstruct me from leveling up? I’m not dumb.” Wabei stared at Gu Mengmeng in detest and rolled his eyes before continuing, “But, he betrayed you first, why should you be sad?”

Gu Mengmeng lifted her face up to look at Wabei and questioned him again, “What if I was forced to give the Snake King valley up to someone and then I died after apologizing to you.....what will you do?”

Wabei instantly howled at her in anger, “Don’t you fing dare to die!”

Gu Mengmeng extended out her hands helplessly and said, “See, you don’t even care about the Snake King valley, you only care about my life and death....”

Wabei was shocked for two seconds before he sneered and said, “I guess I can understand how you feel, it’s just like how Snakel abandoned the entire Snake King valley and vanished suddenly. He taught me that we can’t prepare every farewell properly, those that will hurt always catches you off guard.”

Gu Mengmeng looked at Wabei and did not say a word for a long time. She just took two water cups, handing one to Wabei and holding the other one in her hand. They knocked their cups together and then drank the water in a one-shot.

Wabei did not understand what they were doing but the atmosphere made him do the exact same thing as Gu Mengmeng.

The rain stopped after seven days. Gu Mengmeng squinted her eyes lazily and said, “Let’s make a trip to Zacharias to visit Natalie and her kids. Then, let’s return back to Saint Nazaire before the rainy season ends.”

Elvis and Lea never objected to Gu Mengmeng’s orders before. They just nodded and left to pack the luggage roughly.

Collin finally surpassed to fourth-level after three consecutive days of Elvis’s nightmarish training. Gu Mengmeng was originally worried that Zacharias's position was too close to the stray beasts' base camp and it would be inconvenient for Sandy. She wanted to ask Collin to bring Sandy back to Saint Nazaire but Sandy shook her head and said that she wanted to stay behind.

Gu Mengmeng could not understand so Sandy said with her lips clamped, "I don't want to be a friend who only knows how to create trouble. You're definitely worried if Hede and Jialue stay behind without any reinforcements so I'll stay behind to take care of them. With Collin's presence, there will be one more pair of hands to help during battles. Moreover, the little leopard cubs are still too small, it's too tiring for them to travel such a long and treacherous distance so....I won't go back with you, I want to stay behind."

Chapter 1058 - There Would Not Be Another Daughter-In-Law Like Her, Right?

Chapter 1058: There Would Not Be Another Daughter-In-Law Like Her, Right?

Gu Mengmeng did not force it further as she just nodded and hugged Sandy, instructing Collin to protect her well.

Collin hit his chest, giving off a clear and loud sound. Gu Mengmeng laughed helplessly at how he had already leveled-up to fourth-level but his intelligence could never match up to his skills. That stubborn and single-minded look of him.....appeared quite reliable.

Lea pulled Jialue to a side and reminded him several matters about the tribe while Elvis called Hede over and left a sentence for him, “Protect ourself well, don’t make my female cry.”

After that, everything was settled.

The next morning, Gu Mengmeng left Sauder for Zacharias with a huge crowd of tribesmen.

Wabei tried to convince Gu Mengmeng to see Snakel over at the Beast Deity’s side but Gu Mengmeng rejected.

She knew that Snakel had been living life well. Even if she did not visit him, he would not feel lonely.

Now, she wanted to accompany people who needed her, like Elvis, Lea and Wabei.

And furthermore, Gu Mengmeng still remembered Elvis's previous words, he said that whenever she went to visit the Beast Deity, he would be extremely worried, he did not even dare to blink once because he was dead afraid that she would leave and not come back.

This kind of worry must felt really bad, Gu Mengmeng did not want Elvis to undergo this kind of wronged treatment.

The small rainy season was the period of time with the best weather in the Beast World, it was not as stuffy and humid as the big rainy season nor was it like the dry season when they seriously lacked water or was it like the deadly winter. There was a cold breeze in the wind and the sunshine gave off a light warm feeling. There was radiance seen everywhere when one walked along the routes, allowing one's mood to become extremely good.

When they reached Zacharias, they met Peter at the empty strip in the soil.

Both parties were surprised but Peter was clearly more calm than Gu Mengmeng.

"Why are you here?" Gu Mengmeng started the conversation.

Peter replied, "This is the nearest spot to the stray beasts' base camp, if I sit here, the stray beasts will not dare to act easily."

"You left Natalie alone?" Gu Mengmeng asked as she followed Peter into the tribe.

Peter sneered coldly and looked at Elvis before looking back at Gu Mengmeng, questioning her back, "What do you think?"

Such strong resentment....

Gu Mengmeng laughed and said, "Why? Did Natalie neglect you after taking in a new male?"

"My foot!" Peter instantly exploded.

Gu Mengmeng smiled awkwardly, fabricating her Mother-in-law's gossip and even telling those stories to her Father-in-law, there would not be another daughter-in-law like her, right?

Peter was scared that Gu Mengmeng would say something that would make him fume in anger again so he directly told her, "The six little ones like Kanwu a lot and would surround him everyday. Natalie just circle her life around the bunch of kids and doesn't even have time to care about me."

Elvis sighed, patting Peter's shoulder, looking as if they were brothers stuck in the same plight as he said, "I understand you."

Peter and Elvis exchanged glances and sighed, shaking their heads.

Ha, this pair of father and son actually had an absurd common consensus on this matter.

When they entered the tribe, Kanwu was battling with someone and a crowd of onlookers were surrounding them, not a single one of them interfering.

Chixuan spotted Gu Mengmeng and the rest from faraway but did not say anything. He just smiled at Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng walked over quietly, first hugging Chixuan whose body was hung with fluffy little wolf cubs before asking him softly, "What's going on?"

Chixuan pointed at the second-level orc who was battling Kanwu and reported, "He bullied Uncle and was caught by Kanwu."

Chapter 1059 - My Rule Is Not Allowing My Sons To Suffer Losses

Chapter 1059: My Rule Is Not Allowing My Sons To Suffer Losses

Uncle refers naturally to the little wolf cub hanging on Chixuan.

Gu Mengmeng inspected in detail and noticed that the one in Chixuan's arms had an injury on his hind leg. Although it was not serious and only a little skin was rubbed off....

That was a little wolf cub from their family!

Gu Mengmeng did not say a word as she rolled up her sleeve, directly rushing into the battlefield. She gave the second-level orc a strong kick and stepped on him.

The male whose head was being stepped on was dumbfounded. When he saw Gu Mengmeng, he clearly was taken aback as his mouth widened, too shock for words.

Kanwu was also shocked as he immediately stood beside Gu Mengmeng cowardly, calling out, "Mum...."

Gu Mengmeng pointed at Kanwu's nose and commanded, "Get lost to one side, I'll handle you later."

"Okay." After Kanwu witnessed Gu Mengmeng attacking Cole, he did not dare to retort her anymore. He rushed to stand next to Chixuan and whispered gloomily, "Second brother, why didn't you inform me?"

Chixuan felt wronged too as he explained, "I originally wanted to replace you if you couldn't defeat him, who knew that Mum would suddenly rush into the battlefield.”

“Mighty....messenger.” The male finally responded as he stuttered, “Why are you hitting me?”

Gu Mengmeng warmed up her wrist and said, “You hit my son so I’m going to hit you. If you feel it’s unfair, call your Mum over and ask her to hit me.”

As Gu Mengmeng said, she applied pressure onto the male’s thigh harshly, causing him to howl out in pain.

Gu Mengmeng stared at the blue-black spot on his thigh and said, “I heard that you’ve taken care of our kid well, this is a repayment to you.”

As she said, she slapped the second-level orc and after accurately hitting one teeth off him, she said, “If I hear you spout any evil words again, I’ll pull your tongue out, do you understand?”

The male nodded as he held his face pathetically. Then, he asked with a wronged tone, “What does spouting evil words mean.....”

Gu Mengmeng rolled her eyes and pulled her leg back before turning around to lock Kanwu’s head with one hand. Then, she used her index finger to flick Kanwu’s and Chixuan’s forehead and scolded, “Didn’t I tell you guys before to rely on your blood-related brothers when fighting a tiger and your own army in battles? Your opponent is a second-level orc, why don’t you two battle him together? What if you two suffer losses?!”

After getting criticized....

the two brothers lowered their heads and admitted to their mistake obediently, saying, “Mum, we were wrong.”

Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng up and removed Kanwu from her lock, throwing him to one side. He educated, “It has always been one on one during this kind of battles. It’s against the rules if the two of them battle him.”

Gu Mengmeng exploded and said, “What do you mean by going against the rules? I’m in charge of Zacharias now, I’m the rule! My rule is not allowing my sons to suffer losses!”

Elvis chuckled and said, “Then why did you let him off with mercy and not kill him directly?”

Gu Mengmeng smacked her lips and said, “I’m not even a killing maniac, why would I want someone’s life when it’s just a simple conflict between the kids....”

Elvis rubbed Gu Mengmeng’s head and kissed her, saying in connivance, “You’re always firm in your words but you’re actually very softhearted.”

After Burke was informed that Gu Mengmeng had arrived, he hurriedly came to welcome her. However, he paused at a distance of around ten steps, looking at her radiant smile under the sunlight and her two harmonious partners, one in black and one in white, standing beside her. Even the snake beast that emitted a cold aura became warm because of her presence, and he....

would never have the right to blend into that circle.

Chapter 1060 - I'm Scared To See Her Smile At Me, I Can Neither Possess Her Nor Can I Forget Her

Chapter 1060: I'm Scared To See Her Smile At Me, I Can Neither Possess Her Nor Can I Forget Her

Following the set-up in Sauder, Burke opened a meeting room in Zacharias too. It was not a room made out of stone because he could only find a slightly more spacious cave. He found an enormous stone and carved it into a stone chair with his claws before laying a piece of tiger skin over it.

How should she put this...

It looked like a counterfeit copy of Sauder's meeting room.

Although it did not meet Gu Mengmeng's expectations, she did not nitpicked at it too much.

Turning to sit on the chair, she asked Burke, "The tribesmen here don't look like they are easy to appease. Are you....coping well?"

Burke nodded and smiled, saying, "With Kanwu's and Chixuan's help, the problem isn't very serious."

Gu Mengmeng nodded and did not say anything else.

She always felt awkward with Burke, it's a feeling of clearly knowing that he liked you but he tried his best to hide it and not expose any tiny hint so you did not even have the chance to reject him and could only act dumb and pretend not to know.

Sigh...

The person putting on a pretense must be very tired but the person who was forced to follow his act must be equally tired.

Seeing how Gu Mengmeng was not saying anything, Burke appeared quite serious and solemn. He faked coughed to conceal his heart's crazy palpitation and then said with a glistering gaze, "The kid whom Kanwu was battling today is Leonard's younger brother, Victor, he...."

Gu Mengmeng laughed and interrupted Burke, "Why? Are you scared that I'll hold a grudge and seek revenge?"

Burke hesitated for a moment before nodding his head lightly, saying, "I made a promise after entering this tribe, I promised that I'll protect them with all my might so...."

Gu Mengmeng shook her hands and assured him, "Don't worry, I don't have any intention to pursue this matter further. After all, I've hit him back after he hit our little cub. He scolded our child so I slapped one tooth off him. I've sought revenge for whatever he did, all grudges are cleared."

Burke nodded and then asked, "Then...are you going to visit Natalie?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded before standing up, saying, "I'll ask these two rascals to accompany me there, you can continue whatever you were doing."

Burke pursed his lips and nodded, replying one word, "Okay."

Kanwu led Gu Mengmeng and the rest towards Natalie's house. Chixuan, on the other hand, stayed behind. After ensuring that Gu Mengmeng had walked faraway, he elbowed Burke and said, "You waited for my Mum to come until your eyes were almost worn out. Now that she's here, why don't you have the courage to look her in the eye?"

Burke gave a bitter smile and confessed, "I'm scared to see her smile at me, I can neither possess her not can I forget her..."

Chixuan smiled, shaking his head as he patted Burke's shoulder and chased up to Gu Mengmeng.

Natalie's cave was situated at a more secluded spot, she said that she wanted to live in a quieter place and not be disturbed. However, Gu Mengmeng knew that 80% of her actions must be because the old tribesmen from Zacharias still had some objection towards Peter's old identity as a stray beast so they were being ostracized.

Gu Mengmeng raised the suggestion of bringing Natalie back to Saint Nazaire with them but Natalie rejected her and said that she liked her current life. She was very satisfied to be able to stay together with her loved ones and take care of Kanwu and Chixuan for Elvis. As for what other people were saying about her, she did not have much thoughts over it.

Gu Mengmeng truly admired Natalie's sacrifice. If it was her, she definitely would not be able to stand being pinpointed by people all day.

After visiting Natalie, Gu Mengmeng had no intention to stay behind so she set off to Saint Nazaire.

After all, nobody knew what happened after Oakley arranged Auretin and Barete to return back directly. Gu Mengmeng felt that their obedience was strange and she could not put her heart at ease.

Chapter 1061 - Ha, Female, Are You Looking Down On Me?!

Chapter 1061: Ha, Female, Are You Looking Down On Me?!

Kanwu and Chixuan came to send Gu Mengmeng away but they had not reached the empty strip when a tiger appeared.

If it was before her transmigration, Gu Mengmeng would most likely feel scared but now....

“You’re....?” Gu Mengmeng asked while looking at the tiger who blocked her route.

The tiger shook his fur and evolved back into human form. He was the male who fought with Kanwu that day, Leonard’s second-level younger brother, Victor.

Gu Mengmeng raised her brow and chuckled in a mocking manner, “Oh, are you here to seek revenge after knowing that I’m leaving now?”

“No.” Victor lifted his head and had one arm akimbo, pointing at Gu Mengmeng with another finger like a bandit. He said, “I want to mate with you.”

“Pfft....” Gu Mengmeng choked on her own saliva and burst out into laughter, “Child, did you turn dumb from my hitting?”

Victor’s face was extremely red but he maintained his bandit posture and continued pointing at Gu Mengmeng, saying, “I’ve already matured into adulthood and I’m a second-level beast, not a child!”

Gu Mengmeng face-palmed and looked at Victor’s face who was as young and fresh as Kanwu’s face. She asked, not knowing whether to cry or laugh,

“Little kid, are you even three yet?”

Victor smirked in confidence and said, “Three? Ha, female, are you looking down on me?! Let me tell you, I’m already five!”

“Pfft.....ha ha ha ha ha...burp.....” Gu Mengmeng absurdly felt that he was so adorable. She slapped Elvis’s shoulder and giggled inside his embrace, not able to sit up right.

So, she was being teased? And by a damn five year-old little kid?

“Do you like me that much? You’re actually so delighted after I said that I want to mate with you....tsk, what a useless female.” Although Victor was saying some despising words with great confidence, his little gaze kept landing on Gu Mengmeng. Clearing his throat, he said, “That’s true too, your partners are all so old, it’s very normal for you to fall for a young, strong and attractive male like me. Why don’t we just be efficient instead of choosing a special day, let’s just mate today. Then, I’ll leave with you.”

Elvis’s and Lea’s faces were as black as the bottom of a pot, anyone within five hundred meters radius could feel the obvious solemn atmosphere.

Victor, however, was a youth knowing no fear or to put it in a more straightforward way, he was rather slow and did not have any crisis consciousness as he raised his head and said, “Your house or my house? If it’s mating.....you will not be able to leave today, let’s change the set-off date to tomorrow.”

Gu Mengmeng really did not want to laugh, she wanted to face this sudden confession strictly but she could not control herself.

Victor sunk himself entirely into his own imagination because of Gu Mengmeng’s endless laughter. He cleared his throat and said with the tone of a domineering boss, “Are you still not coming over? You only know how to laugh.....tsk, I’ll make you cry later.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed until her stomach hurt. She turned around to hug Elvis’s neck, becoming a mantis shrimp from all the laughing.

Elvis stood at his original spot with a black face, not moving a single inch. On the other hand, Lea's smile was his usual gracious one and the corners of his lips resembled a crescent moon, poking at one's heart. His eyes were filled with a smiling intention as he took a step forward and asked, "You're Victor, right? The first thing you need to do before mating with a female is to raise a challenge to her partners. Do you want to choose me....or him?"

Victor was not afraid of Lea at all and seemed like he could not feel the darkness and coldness behind Lea's smile. He said with his head still raised, "I'm aware of this rule but it will be another story if the female likes the male a lot. Look at her, she's laughing so much because she heard that I want to mate with her, do you still want me to battle you? If you injure me, you'll be abandoned."

Chapter 1062 - Female, Your Nickname Is 'Fake'.

Chapter 1062: Female, Your Nickname Is 'Fake'.

The corners of Lea's lips were still curved upwards and his smile was brighter and gentler than before. People whom he was familiar with would know that he had become angrier.

Turning his head around, he placed his index finger near his lips and asked Gu Mengmeng, looking at her with an enchanting and lovely gaze, "Mengmeng, can he mate with you without a challenge?"

Gu Mengmeng was still laughing, unable to sit up right at all.

She could only shake her hands with all her might and speak with a quivering voice, "I'm not a pedophile....ha ha ha ha.....rascal whatsoever.....ha ha ha burp, I completely don't have any interest.....ha ha ha ha...."

"Female, your nickname is 'fake'." Victor played the role of a profound thinker, saying, "Stop denying what your heart is thinking, you clearly like me."

Gu Mengmeng hugged Elvis's neck and shook it, saying, "Hurry and leave, if not I'm going to die of laughter...."

However, Elvis stood rooted to his spot, not moving a single inch. With a dark face, he raised his brow and commanded, "Reject him, now."

Gu Mengmeng knew that the two words 'love rival' represented a minefield to Elvis and Lea, whoever dared to step into the minefield would be exploded to pieces. Today, this rascal not only stepped into the minefield, he even did breaking dance in the minefield.

Upon seeing Elvis's solemn face, Gu Mengmeng did not dare to laugh any further because she knew that he was really angry and fuming mad.

That made sense too, even when Gu Mengmeng was carrying the little bun Natalie had just given birth to, Elvis asked her if she wanted him and his brother to share a wife. Victor, this five year-old little kid would definitely be a great threat in Elvis's eyes.....

Gu Mengmeng's laughter was dispersed by Elvis's sombre mood. Gu Mengmeng hugged Elvis's neck and landed a kiss on his cheek, calling out, "Hubby, don't be angry."

After she finished speaking, she jumped off from Elvis's arms and walked to Victor. She leaned against Lea's chest and folded her arms in front of her, speaking with her chin raised up, "Hey, little rascal. Liking me proves that you have a good judgment but what a pity, I won't like males who can be defeated by me."

Victor's face was tinted red upon recalling how one tooth was slapped off his mouth by Gu Mengmeng. He sneered and refuted, "But they can't defeat you too."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and said, "But I won't raise a single finger on them."

"I...." Victor wanted to say something else but he swallowed his words back after receiving a hint from Gu Mengmeng's eyes. Clenching his fists, he said, "I understand, when I become strong enough, I'll come and find you again. Until then, I can definitely defeat you and you can't reject my mating request anymore."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and said, "Yeah, I'll look forward to it."

After she finished speaking, Victor turned and walked away. His steps grew faster and faster until he eventually fled while running.

It was his first confession in his tiger life and it ended like that. Victor was extremely sad. That day, when Gu Mengmeng stepped on him, he laid on the ground, looking up at her. The sun was just hanging above her head and she looked like her entire figure was glowing. That moment, Victor knew that he used his entire life's love at first sight on her.

After pondering and hesitating for a few days, he would walk past Natalie's house everyday casually to sneak a peek at her from faraway. He did not know what exactly he wanted to see her doing, he just wanted to know her presence and this made him exceptionally happy.

After knowing that she was leaving today, he garnered up all courage to block her way and confess to her. She was not confused that her laugh was not related to her favor for him, she was just mocking him for being overconfident.

Chapter 1063 - I Treat You As My Opponent, But You Want To Become My Little Father!

Chapter 1063: I Treat You As My Opponent, But You Want To Become My Little Father!

How could he not have sense the dangerous aura Elvis and Lea were emitting? He was just suppressing the impulse to run away in exchange for a result.

In the end.....

He understood Gu Mengmeng's gaze, she was telling him, "Hurry and leave, if not you'll die".

Ha, he would rather die.

Being saved by the female he liked through this method felt more like death than dying in a challenge for mating.

After Victor ran faraway, he was stopped by someone. The people who blocked his way were not any random people, they were Kanwu and Chixuan.

Chixuan was just watching on with a mocking intention so he leaned against the tree trunk in silence. His presence here was because.....his Mother said, "Rely on your blood-related brothers when fighting a tiger, you can't let your younger brother suffer a loss."

"Victor, I treat you as my opponent, but you want to become my little father?!" Kanwu did not say anything else as he directly swung his fist towards Victor's face.

Victor was a second-level orc, it was a piece of cake to dodge Kanwu's attack with just a simple tilt of his body. He suppressed the annoyance inside him and said with a senior tone, "Stop creating a ruckus, you can't defeat me."

Victor's pretense made Kanwu even angrier. The latter did not say a word as he directly evolved into his original form and rushed forward.

A wolf and a tiger got caught up in a battle and Chixuan could only watch on while face-palming.

As long as his dumb younger brother don't suffer a loss, he would not care much about anything else.

He was contemplating more important questions, such as: if someone were to walk past, how should he act like he did not know who those two pathetic losers were.....

After letting Victor go, Gu Mengmeng turned around and met eyes with Lea's long eyes. He hooked Gu Mengmeng's chin with his slender finger and said with a cold smile, "You promised me that you will tell me in advance if you've a male you like so that I can cut the weeds and dig up the roots."

Gu Mengmeng fake-laughed and said, "Yeah, if I really have someone I like, I'll definitely tell you two in advance."

Lea squinted his eyes and questioned, "Mengmeng, you lied to me? Huh?"

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and denied, "No no, why would I dare to?"

"But you clearly let him go on purpose just now." Lea inched closer, enclosing Gu Mengmeng up in a tight space with the pressured aura he gave off. "I saw how you gave him a surreptitious wink just now, I saw it."

Elvis stepped forward and stood next to Lea. He did not say anything and just frowned while pursing his lips, staring at Gu Mengmeng in silence. He looked as if his heart was tearing apart beyond words.

He was her First Partner so he could not say such willful words as casually like Lea.

But everyone was aware that he would go crazy every time he was jealous. He really wanted to smash the wildly arrogant rascal into minced meat!

He really wanted to lock Gu Mengmeng in his embrace and interrogate her without any fears the reason why she smiled at the rascal, he really wanted to command her loudly that she was not allowed to give others a chance.

But those words were stuck in his throat and what actually came out was, “If you really like tigers, why don’t you consider Auretin. At least he has skills and isn’t as annoying.”

Lea originally thought that Elvis would be standing on his side this time but when Elvis said that, Lea instantly exploded and growled, “Don’t you dare! If you dare to consider Auretin, I’ll chop him up and boil him as potatoes when I return to Saint Nazaire!”

Gu Mengmeng walked past Lea and looked up at Elvis, her eyes brimming with tears as she asked, “Are you serious? You want me to take Auretin in?”

“I.....” His chest was all stuffed up and he really wanted to use his claws to rip his heart open to see what exactly was stored inside.

Chapter 1064 - Elvis, You Don't Have A Conscience!

Chapter 1064: Elvis, You Don't Have A Conscience!

“Elvis, you don't have a conscience!” As Gu Mengmeng cried, she punched Elvis's chest. That punch did not use up too much of her strength and was very weak.

After swinging a few punches, she huddled into Elvis's arms and whimpered, “Why are you so desperate to push me to others? Are you sick of me now? You don't fancy me anymore, right? Weep weep weep.....Elvis, your heart changed, right?”

Despite being hit, despite having his words twisted, he did not get angry.

He watched how she was acting unbridled like a child in his arms. She clearly knew that he would feel helpless when she cried but she still squeezed out a few drops of tears to act like she was crying and continue creating a scene to force him to give in.

The stuffiness in his chest was suddenly reduced.

Not because of any other reason but because she was in his arms now.

Heaving a sigh of relief, Elvis hugged Gu Mengmeng in his arms and explained himself, “My heart didn't change, shall I dig it out and let you have a check?”

Gu Mengmeng widened her eyes and shook her head, crying out, “You're not allowed to hurt my husband!”

Elvis smiled bitterly and tapped Gu Mengmeng's little nose, saying, “I can't hurt your husband's heart because only you can make his heart ache.”

Gu Mengmeng wiped her tears away and said with a gently and soft voice, “I won’t do things that make my husband’s heart ache.”

“When you look at other males, his heart will ache a lot. When you smile at other males, his heart will ache too. And when he imagine you accepting other males.....just the thought of it would make him grieve to the extent of wanting to die.” Elvis said.

Gu Mengmeng placed her hand lightly on Elvis’s chest. Her soft fingers had a gentle strength that sunk deep into his chest, allowing him to feel that her hand was really relieving he pain coming from his heart.

Pouting, Gu Mengmeng said, “I won’t smile anymore, I won’t smile in front of others anymore so don’t be in pain....”

“No.” Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng’s brows and said, “You still have to smile because if you smile, I’ll still be in pain but if you don’t.....I’ll die.”

He did not forget how miserable Gu Mengmeng was when Snakel just died, how torturous his life was when she had no smile on her face.

“But, you can only be in my arms.” This was the lowest requirement he could give in.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and kissed Elvis’s lips, saying, “Foolish hubby, I’ve nowhere else to go other than your arms.”

Elvis’s heart felt like it was being tugged on by a cat.

Nowhere else to go? How was that possible?

She was so wonderful, so dazzling, she’s someone the whole world wished to possess.

Anyone would want to become her shelter.

And she, even with other choices, said that she just wanted him.

The little depressed feeling in Elvis completely vanished. He pinched Gu Mengmeng's cheek and said, "Okay. If you have other shelters in the future....I might consider wrecking this world so that you've nowhere else to go other than my arms."

Gu Mengmeng laughed and pecked Elvis's face, saying, "Yeah, the big leader of the Siberian husky dismantling team has his name for a reason, I have faith in your professional capabilities."

He did not know what Gu Mengmeng was rambling on about again but he smiled unknowingly after seeing her smile.

After appeasing Elvis, Gu Mengmeng then turned around to see Lea queuing up to seek comfort. Covering her mouth to hide her smile, she hugged Lea's neck and smacked his cheek before whispering into his ear, "Hede and his brothers have all grown up, I'm a little disappointed.....why don't we, give birth to a nest of little foxes to play around with them?"

Chapter 1065 - No Way, Don't Mention This Again.

Chapter 1065: No Way, Don't Mention This Again.

Lea's heart thumped, at first it was excitement but after that it stopped abruptly. He frowned and took a step back, his gaze turning so deep that he could not even maintain his smile. He shook his head firmly and said, "No way, don't mention this again."

Lea's response....

Gu Mengmeng was extremely confused, she was very sure of Lea's feeling towards her, she was very clear and very confident.

But...

"Why?" Gu Mengmeng didn't understand.

Didn't males in the Beast World always desire offspring? Why was her fox so against the idea?

Gu Mengmeng did not have a special fondness towards giving birth to children but she thought that since she had given birth to a nest of little wolves for Elvis, she should at least give birth to a nest of foxes for Lea.

But he actually rejected her sternly with principle?!

Gu Mengmeng suddenly felt a little uncomfortable, she did not know how to describe it, the feeling was weird.

Lea turned his head away. This was the first time he avoided Gu Mengmeng's gaze, he said, "I don't like little cubs, they're too noisy and irritating."

Gu Mengmeng squinted her eyes and shook her head, rebutting, “Elvis threw Hede and his three brothers to you when they were still small and you treasured them like babies. You didn’t even lose your temper once before. Don’t you dare to hide from me, I know how much envy is written in your eyes when you see the four little ones. Previously, we were kept busy by some matters so I didn’t have time to raise this up. Now that I’m free and I’m willing to give birth to your children, why do you seem unhappy? Why, are you scared that I’ll use this to blackmail you?”

Lea took a deep breath and said, “Anyways.....you’re not allowed to give birth.”

“You....” Gu Mengmeng suddenly felt too lost for words.

There was no reason, just a stand, “No giving birth means no giving birth.”

Gu Mengmeng broke out into a laugh and lifted her head to look at Lea in a provoking manner. “If you’re so capable, don’t touch me at all.”

To put it simply, unless he wanted to become a monk for his entire lifetime, she had the say in whether she wanted to give birth to his children.

Lea decided promptly and replied without any expression, “I’m not capable.”

Gu Mengmeng was brought to laughter by Lea’s forceful but cowardly attitude, she did not even know how to criticize him.

Lea did not give Gu Mengmeng time to consider before he continued, “Just like in the past, put it outside or in other places. As long as we don’t put it inside that hole, you won’t be pregnant.”

Lea’s words made Gu Mengmeng realize something suddenly.

That was, after giving birth to Hede and his brothers, other than the time she mated with Lea, Lea and Elvis did not plant their sperms in her body anymore.

She glanced at Lea and then at Elvis, frowning. Gu Mengmeng noticed that things were not as simple as it was.

“Both of you discussed this before?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

Elvis did not avoid her as he nodded and replied, “Yes, we discussed this before. We already have four sons at home and they’ve all survived until adulthood, this is enough. So Lea’s and my intention is to prevent you from getting pregnant again.”

“Why/” Gu Mengmeng was really speechless. “I like kids, they’re so fluffy and adorable....”

Elvis sighed helplessly and said, “We can let you ruffle our tails anytime you want. If you like custard buns, there are some at Natalie’s and Sandy’s houses. We can bring you over whenever you want to play with them. If you like little foxes, we’ve a few newborn fox cubs in Sauder, nobody will stop you if you want to play with them. In conclusion, you don’t need to give birth to them yourself.”

Chapter 1066 - Greed Was Man's Basic Nature

Chapter 1066: Greed Was Man's Basic Nature

Gu Mengmeng gave up and decided to stay behind. She took two steps backwards and stood facing Elvis and Lea. After squinting her eyes to size them up, she remained silent for a while before saying, "I've Wang Xiaoxin's psychological knowledge now so I can fish out information from your words and after each step, I can get to the truth eventually whenever I want. But I don't want to do it so you two better tell me immediately, directly and clearly what exactly is going on?"

Lea did not want to say the truth because he was scared that Gu Mengmeng would feel burden and guilt.

Because after she had two partners, she was always acting with utmost caution when it came to relationships. She could clearly request anything she wanted in a confident and straightforward way but she was now scared to do so.

Just like how Victor expressed his love for Gu Mengmeng just now. Regardless whether she decided to accept Victor, Elvis's and his way of doing things were not appropriate in the Beast World. She had the authority to get angry and may even abandon both of them but she came over to appease them with a nervous mindset.

This led to them reaching out for a yard after taking an inch. Now, even the leading position in the family had become unclear.

But Lea did not forget that he was the one who forced Gu Mengmeng in playing this inferior role. Back then, if he accepted Gu Mengmeng with a quiet conscience and did not stir things up, he would be living a holy life with her today. Or maybe if he let her go elegantly when she clearly rejected him after mating with Elvis, even if he were to live life like death alone, he would not pester her, disturb her or force her. That way, she would definitely be living life in a confident and straightforward, dignified and imposing way.

But greed was man's basic nature, something that was engraved in their bones.

They would want to possess things they could not possess and when they eventually possessed whatever they wanted, they would want to possess more. And when they wanted to possess more, they would want to solely possess those things. When sole possession is impossible.....then, like wild beasts protecting their food, they would bare their teeth at anyone who tried to step close to them, in an attempt to warn and threaten them.

If this happened in other families, they would end up as males who were detested and abandoned.

However, when facing their possessive characters, Gu Mengmeng tolerated them with a guilty mindset.

Lea felt conflicted at times, he truly did not wish Gu Mengmeng to take in any other males but he wished that Gu Mengmeng could live life in a more confident and straightforward way, even if it meant giving him a lashing-down.

So, when Gu Mengmeng asked him why he was unwilling to give birth to little wolves, he hesitated.

Unwilling?

Ha, every nerve and every cell in his body was growling, he wants! He wants her to give birth to his children!

But...

Lea frowned deeply, lowering his head.

The previous Messenger of the Beast Deity's expertise was to conjecture one's heart. After passing down through so many generations, many important information had went missing but just with their aberrant copy, the snow fox tribesmen still had the ability to control the entire Beast World.

In this generation, Cole and Lea were the cream of the crop, one of them being a fierce and ambitious male and the other being a hermit. And what a coincidence, they both fell for the same lady.

Lea did not want Gu Mengmeng to spot any flaws from his expression so he lowered his head and avoided her gaze in silence.

Elvis did not think about so many matters like Lea, he only knew that since he promised Gu Mengmeng that he would not hide anything from her, he had to keep to his promise.

Extending his hand out to pull Gu Mengmeng, he tugged and pulled her into his arms. He kissed the top of her head and said, "Do you remember how you almost died from giving birth to Kanwu?"

Chapter 1067 - Lea, Do You Not Love Me Anymore?

Chapter 1067: Lea, Do You Not Love Me Anymore?

Gu Mengmeng was stunned for a moment and she did not know whether to cry or laugh.

The problem that she was contemplating about until her head hurts was instantly resolved.

So it was not so confusing after all, she was just worrying for nothing about trouble that might not come.

“So, you guys are worried for me that’s why you guys forbid me from getting pregnant?” Gu Mengmeng chuckled, laughing at her act of praying no more once she was on shore.

Back then, she was indeed in so much pain when giving birth to Hede and his brothers but now.....all she could recall was that it was quite painful but how painful was it? She completely could not remember.....

Or maybe she really shouted that she did not want to give birth anymore when bearing the four brothers but now.....he he, she did not remember anything~

Gu Mengmeng shook her head, stretching her arms out to ask for a hug.

Elvis scooped her into his arms and rubbed his face against the pit of her neck affectionately, satisfying the substantial feeling of hugging her.

To Elvis, Gu Mengmeng had a special presence. She did not need to do anything, as long as she was present, she could fill his heart up fully.

Gu Mengmeng held Lea's hand and smiled gently, saying, "I'm someone with the abilities of a Beast King, even if you guys cut me up and dissect me, I might not even die. Giving birth to children is not a big deal~"

Lea felt helpless, the matter that he hesitated for a long time was confessed by Elvis so easily.

So that was why, he was the best candidate for her First Partner.

And he could never act so fully at ease in front of Gu Mengmeng.

Elvis was not scared to let Gu Mengmeng know everything about him but Lea could never open his mouth to spill some thoughts that he could not say no matter how hard he tried.

Pinching Gu Mengmeng's tiny hand, Lea laughed and said, "You won't die but you'll hurt."

Elvis and Lea had the same reasoning, both of them witnessed the process of Gu Mengmeng giving birth. Even now, upon recalling the scene, Elvis could still taste the blood in his mouth, as if a basin of rusty water was poured into his throat. That feeling could never be washed off.

Whenever his Xiao Meng prick her hand, he would always feel a blow against his heart and that night, Gu Mengmeng's blood flow was so heavy, it created a river, causing her immense pain.

That scene impacted them so greatly that they did not have the courage to undergo it once more.

If they see Gu Mengmeng in so much pain again, they would probably lose their minds.

Gu Mengmengs' gaze reflected the sunlight, landing the glistening glow on Lea's face. She said with a demure smile, "But, if i don't give birth to a nest of cubs for you, I'll regret it for my entire lifetime."

She gifted Elvis with Hede and his brothers and also gave Elvis the title and position of First Partner. However, other than a mark on her ear, Lea had nothing.

Lea sighed, if the reason Gu Mengmeng was coming up with was something about him, he could have used a sentence he prepared long ago 'I don't need little cubs' to end this topic.

But she said that she would regret it for her entire lifetime....

She also wanted a nest of their little cubs too, right? It was not entirely because of guilt or inferiority, but because she loved him, that's why she wanted a nest of their own little cubs.

"Mengmeng, I don't want to see you bleed, I don't want to watch you suffer in pain....." Lea said as he stared at Gu Mengmeng in devotion.

Gu Mengmeng patted Lea's shoulder and said, "It's fine, you don't have to stay in the cave when I give birth this time round, ."

...

Lea was speechless.

He solution was asking him to pretend that he did not know or could not see so that he would not be hurt?

"Mengmeng!"

Gu Mengmeng lifted her face and said, "Lea, do you not love me anymore?"

Chapter 1068 - No Kindness Or Evilness Is Involved, There's Only You.

Chapter 1068: No Kindness Or Evilness Is Involved, There's Only You.

It was Elvis just now and now, it was him.

Ha, does she not intend to change her lines....

Lea clearly knew that she was acting but he was very glad to play along her.

If she wanted to hear him speak, he was willing to whisper words right from his heart to her ear every single day, "I've a scar on my heart, that was where the skies collapsed before. If you rip open my chest, you will notice that the scar is very special, there's only five words 'I don't love you anymore'."

Gu Mengmeng's heart felt like a cat just scratched it as it constricted abruptly.

She was clearer than anyone else regarding who said those five words 'I don't love you anymore'.

Pursing her lips, Gu Mengmeng did not say a word as she met eyes with Lea's long pupils. She was instantly captivated by those devoted eyes, not able to shift her gaze away.

Lea stepped forward and kissed her brows. He said with a soft and gentle voice, "A body of pure white fur determined my holy, pure and honorable childhood. Ha, a child who used to be blessed by the Gods, I used to stand on the brightest spot under the sunlight, worshiped by others; but I also used to be trapped in the torturous hell because of hatred, murdering hundreds of evil spirits to inch my way up by stepping on others' dead corpses to become a heinous presence in this world. But, when I met you, I was emptied."

He brought Gu Mengmeng's little hand to his lips and kissed it. Looking up at her, he continued, "That's right, I said I'm empty. I've emptied my skin and emptied my heart, no kindness or evilness is involved, there's only you."

"In my name, I pledge to the Beast Deity, from today onwards, you're my god, my life, my everything."

Lea repeated the promise he made back then, it was as affectionate as before and the devotion and gentleness in his long eyes entangled Gu Mengmeng in them securely, not leaving any space between them.

"If you lean towards kindness, I'll become a God for you; if you lean towards evilness, I'll sacrifice myself and become a demon." Lea hooked Gu Mengmeng's chin with his finger and kissed her thin lips. The kiss was lingering but not deep, giving off a beautiful scene that could be seen in idol dramas. After a long time, Lea then distanced from her and said while looking at Gu Mengmeng with a misted gaze, "Wherever you are, I'll be there, regardless whether it's kindness or evilness, regardless whether it's life or death. But you said.....I don't love you? Huh?"

They were already an old couple, right? But Gu Mengmeng would still experience her heart thump and her face blush from Lea's words and actions.

Ha, that was true too.

The sentence 'Do you not love me anymore?' was a precious question that could be used in any situations in the modern world. As long as a girl asked this sentence, guys would normally only end up admitting defeat.

No matter who was at fault, if guys did not want to create a scene that would go out of control, they could only surrender.

Because once they advanced into the level of ‘you don’t love me’, ha ha, it would be very tricky and difficult to appease the girl.

Or maybe.....

You actually wanted to change a girlfriend, so there wouldn’t be a problem.

But, this sentence would not work in the Beast World.

Erm.....it’s also not entirely impossible, if you switch the roles, it would still be possible.

If a male asked his female ‘Do you not love me anymore?’, it would appear more reasonable in the Beast World.

Gu Mengmeng face-palmed, since it was a corny act of hers, she should finish it herself!

Thus, she cleared her throat and forced herself to continue the awkward show, “You used to dot on me a lot and you used to agree with whatever I say. Now, all I said was that I want to give birth to a nest of little foxes but you don’t allow me to.....you clearly don’t like me anymore because you dislike me and find me troublesome.”

Lea chuckled and said, “Do you only want a nest of little foxes and nothing else?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded her head firmly, showing her resolution.

Lea nodded his head in silence and then said, “Okay, we’ll return to Sauder now, I’ll snatch a nest of little foxes for you.”

Chapter 1069 - When You're By My Side, I Never Envy Anyone Before

Chapter 1069: When You're By My Side, I Never Envy Anyone Before

“Snatch.....snatch a nest?” Gu Mengmeng’s thoughts could not match Lea’s pace so she did not understand what he said at first.

Lea nodded and said, “Although it will be a little troublesome, it would not be difficult to set up a small scenario. I just have to kill a female who had just given birth to little foxes and you can have a nest of little fox cubs. I heard from Oakley that three nest of cubs were just born. Philly’s three cubs have the best shade of fur, Lacey has the most number of cubs, she has five cubs. Which nest do you want?”

Gu Mengmeng stared at Lea for a long time and confirmed that he was serious....

With a startled red face, she asked, “I can give birth to cubs myself, why should I snatch others’ cubs?”

Lea replied, “I can’t bear for you to suffer.”

Gu Mengmeng shook her hands frantically and said, “But you can’t kill the Mother and snatch her kids away.”

Lea shrugged her shoulders and refuted, “Why not?”

Why not....?

Yeah, in this Beast World, seizing others' wealth by force was the correct principle.

So, Cole snatched her Chixuan and she could only snatch Chixuan back from him.

One's abilities was the correct law, if you could not defeat your opponent, nobody would listen to your reasoning.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and said, "Lea, I know that we received different forms of education since young. I've a deep-rooted value so I can't bring myself to do many things....."

Lea did not force her either as he gave in and said, "Then we won't snatch. Let them raise the cubs and when you want to play with them, I'll bring them over and when you're done playing, I'll return them for you."

Gu Mengmeng questioned, "Won't you be envious looking at other males' little foxes?"

Lea's long eyes glistened as his smile grew larger and gentler, slowly sinking into Gu Mengmeng's bright eyes.

"When you're by my side, I never envy anyone before."

Under Lea's affectionate stare, Gu Mengmeng's heart was tugged at. Her cute little face turned red as she lowered her head, not saying a word.

Wabei, who was waiting for a long time at the stray beasts' base camp, came over to find Gu Mengmeng after not seeing her appearance. Just when he arrived, he heard Lea's confession and sneered in detest, saying, "You only said all your care in words, what will you do if you're a mute?"

All the pink romantic bubbles burst with a 'pop' sound upon Wabei's comment.

Gu Mengmeng sighed and shook her head helplessly, saying, "You're just a lonely and ten-thousand year-old bachelor, what do you even know!"

“I’m only eight hundred plus year-old today, you’re the one that’s a lonely and ten-thousand year-old bachelor!” Wabei and Gu Mengmeng always needed to diss each other for comfort when they meet.

Gu Mengmeng circled one arm around Elvis’s neck and another arm around Lea’s neck, saying, “I’m someone with partners, I can’t take up the honor of a bachelor.”

Wabei clenched his teeth.

So nice, Gu Mengmeng found another point to mock him.....

Damn it, he should not have blurt his thoughts out like that.

“So wishy-washy!” Wabei pretended not to hear Gu Mengmeng’s provocation as he swayed his snake tail impatiently and said, “Do you guys want to leave or not? Why, are you guys planning to spend the night here? Look at you, the empty strip is just less than ten feet away behind you, even a snail can walk faster than you.”

Gu Mengmeng did not say anything. Elvis was the one who replied him, “We met some trouble just now so we delayed our journey a little.”

Upon hearing that, Wabei immediately lifted his guard up. Scanning his surroundings, he asked, “Did Cole seek trouble just now?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and said, “Don’t worry, Cole didn’t come. Anyway, he can’t defeat me, he won’t possess any threat to me.”

Chapter 1070 - He Had Just Wanted To Steal A Kiss

Chapter 1070: He Had Just Wanted To Steal A Kiss

“That...” Wabei wanted to ask but was interrupted by Gu Mengmeng.

“Hurry up, I wish to return to Saint Nazaire as soon as possible.” Gu Mengmeng was thinking that the chapter on Victor had finally come to an end after that huge fuss—it was best that Wabei didn’t bring it up again.

How could Elvis and Lea not see through her actions?

But that Victor was not worth their effort to pursue. It was enough for them to make their stance clear. It wouldn’t do to harass after Gu Mengmeng and make her feel distressed.

Moreover, if not for that stupid tiger dredging up the past and inciting Elvis and Lea, they would not have bothered about him at all.

...

After rushing along the entire day, they found a cave to rest for the night.

This cave was previously dug by Elvis and gang the previous time they returned to Saint Nazaire from the stray beast camp. With Natalie and Peter there, and knowing Gu Mengmeng’s character, they had dug this cave in advance when mapping out their journey. This was to offer Gu Mengmeng a convenient place of rest during the return trip.

The cave was well-concealed and still possessed Gu Mengmeng’s Beast King aura. No normal beast would dare to go near, not to mention the other ordinary wildlife.

After dinner, a light rain fell.

For Wabei, this type of weather made the outdoors more comfortable than the indoors, hence he wandered out. Gu Mengmeng didn't bother about him.

Lea raised a fire to keep the inside of the cave dry, so that Gu Mengmeng could have a comfortable night's sleep.

Since Gu Mengmeng's nosebleed at Sauder, Lea had not raised a fire inside the cave for a long while. Now, Elvis and Lea kept Gu Mengmeng warm in bed by holding her one on each side.

With the fire burning in the cave, the warm, toasty air made Gu Mengmeng feel drowsy. She leaned against Elvis and lowered her eyelids, as she started to fall asleep.

Elvis' eyes narrowed as he gazed upon her guileless sleeping profile.

Those slightly parted lips were like an invitation, making Elvis feel like he was in a trance. Before he had time to think, his lips were upon hers.

Half in dreamland, Gu Mengmeng didn't resist against that familiar breath. She instinctively wrapped her arms around Elvis' neck.

This movement was undoubtedly a form of encouragement. He had just wanted to steal a kiss, but Elvis now felt a growing urge.

He turned and laid on Gu Mengmeng's body, with both hands cradling her head. He placed his weight on his knees, which were situated between her legs, pressing close but not crushing her.

This kiss progressed from a light sweetness to a deep lingering. Because she was so familiar with Elvis, Gu Mengmeng could respond to his kiss by instinct and did not even open her eyes the entire time. It was as if she was moving through a dream.

When her tongue answered his teasing, he became even more daring at this sign of permission.

Already in a drowsy state by the warm fire, Gu Mengmeng was now even more in a daze by Elvis' kiss. Her brain was slow to react but her body responded instinctively.

The Fox Seductive Fragrance permeated the entire room, suffusing the surroundings with an alluring scent.

“Xiao Meng, you are... giving your permission, right? Mmm?” Elvis's husky voice reverberated close to Gu Mengmeng's ear, tugging at her heartstrings.

Feeling ticklish, Gu Mengmeng answered with a soft, “Mmm...”. She wriggled to straighten herself, as if expressing displeasure at Elvis restraining her movement.

But in Elvis' eyes, her response and action was no doubt an affirmation...

Chapter 1071 - You Cannot Hide From Her Forever.

Chapter 1071: You Cannot Hide From Her Forever.

It had been a long while since Elvis made love to Gu Mengmeng. Wasn't it the same for Lea?

But...

"I will go stand guard outside." Lea stood up reluctantly, his reasoning and desire at odds with each other.

As enamored as Elvis was, he knew the reason why Lea was giving up the chance to join in.

He was afraid Gu Mengmeng would pester him about having little fox cubs again. And so he voluntarily avoided her. After all, when their desires were at their peaks, what defenses could he and Lea have against Gu Mengmeng's demands?

But Elvis pointed out, "You cannot hide from her forever".

Lea paused with much reluctance, but didn't turn back. He was afraid that he would lose control and pounce towards them. "I will endure it for now. We will see again after she has forgotten about that matter."

Elvis kept quiet for a moment as he watched Lea's departing profile. "Next time, I will stand guard for you."

"Mmm." Lea still went out in the end. As difficult as it was to take each miserable step.

But he would rather endure the raging desire in his body than see her suffer the pain of childbirth.

Sitting at the entrance, Lea gazed up at the moonlit sky. “I already told you that one fox in the family is enough. You just refuse to listen... so disobedient.”

The atmosphere inside the cave became even more intense after Lea left. Elvis stroked Gu Mengmeng’s hairline gently, and called her in a tender voice. “Xiao Meng, open your eyes to look at me, mmm?”

“Mmm...” Gu Mengmeng was actually already awake. But her eyelids felt so heavy and unwilling to open.

Women were just so strange.

She wouldn’t harbor the desire for something which she had never experienced. But after having a taste of it, her body would start to get urges.

Further, the more wonderful the experience was, the more sensitive and open her body would be to it, and the more she would crave for it.

Elvis’ intimacy had already ignited the fire within Gu Mengmeng’s body. It would be a miracle if she could still sleep through it.

With both hands circled around Elvis’ neck, Gu Mengmeng flipped over and sprawled against his chest. She nuzzled his neck coquettishly, stroking his collarbone with her petite hands. The tip of her tongue flicked gently across his Adam’s apple.

Elvis’ throat tightened. He instinctively swallowed and his Adam’s apple wobbled. This little reaction made Gu Mengmeng feel like a kid who was secretly eating a sweet. She was especially interested in this sweet which could move on its own.

Having just woken, her body was even softer than usual. She sprawled against Elvis’ body like she had no bones and rested her head on his shoulder. She exuded the alluring Fox Seductive Fragrance, her body temperature rising so much so that Elvis felt a soothing warmth all over.

This mischievous person just refused to open her eyes. Her tiny mouth roved around his neck region like she was tasting delicacies. Nibbling and kissing, she drenched the entire area below his chin with saliva. But he still couldn't bear to pull her aside.

His heart was bursting with desire but he was also enjoying this delightful torment.

Ha, Gu Mengmeng was born to torment him.

“Hubby...” Gu Mengmeng called softly, making Elvis tingle all over.

He breathed heavily into Gu Mengmeng's ear and gently bit her jade-like earlobe. “Mmm? What do you want me to do?”

Gu Mengmeng bit down on Elvis' chin. She didn't use much force, but just held on as she mumbled. “Mmm... kiss me, hug me, hold me high...”

Elvis chuckled. With an “okay”, he buried his lips in hers...

Fragrant flowers strewn everywhere as love blossomed...

Chapter 1072 - Should Have Had A Trial Marriage

Chapter 1072: Should Have Had A Trial Marriage

With Elvis' savage loving, if she had given up early on and fainted as usual, she would have recovered after just a day's rest. But she had already promised him and so Gu Mengmeng battled to maintain consciousness for half the night. This time, they had the opportunity to fully experience all the details behind the vast difference between their physical staminas.

Still in a daze, she heard Elvis ask her if they should begin their journey? She answered in a blur, before feeling her body sway as they moved off.

Mmm, it should be Elvis carrying her towards Saint Nazaire now.

Gu Mengmeng actually slept much better in this manner and she slept for two days straight.

When she finally woke up, they had just arrived at Frankston.

Gu Mengmeng could recognize this place mainly because Hanston and Joshua were standing right before her.

Mmm, a third-level rhinoceros beast and a first-level ape. The tribe had taken in the former members of the tribe that attacked the Snake King valley. Previously in Sauder, they had requested to be her partners, whereas Elvis and Lea had threatened and ridiculed them into a fearful silence.

Gu Mengmeng recalled Lea telling her that Frankston and Saint Nazaire shared a border. However, they had never met because they did not dare to appear in front of Elvis.

This time...

Ha, they must be feeling pretty brave now. Were they not afraid of Elvis and Lea destroying Frankston in a fit of anger?

Lea was just preparing lunch for Gu Mengmeng. After that episode with Victor, Gu Mengmeng did not dare to express the slightest bit of attention towards other males. She did not even dare to glance at Hanston and Joshua, and kept her eyes fixed on Elvis' Adam's apple.

Damn, Elvis' jealousy was no joke.

She had slept for two days but her body still ached like it had been through a car accident.

And this was with the protection of the Beast King's powers. If she didn't possess those powers...

Gu Mengmeng really felt that it had been too impulsive of her to enter into her first mating contract then. She should have had a trial marriage first, otherwise, it would have been too late for regrets if she had died during their consummation.

Elvis was very pleased with Gu Mengmeng's reaction. If she could just stay like that forever—snuggling in his embrace like a cat seeking warmth, not giving anyone else a chance—how great would that be?

“Knowing that the Great Messenger will be passing by Frankston, we specially came forward to welcome and escort you. So as to ensure that all will go smoothly for you while you are in Frankston,” Hanston said respectfully.

“No need.” Gu Mengmeng waved. “It is enough to have Elvis and Lea by my side taking care of me. I don't need anyone else.”

Wabei rolled his eyes, implying “Do you not take me for a person?”

Whereas Gu Mengmeng glared at Wabei from the side of Elvis' neck, meaning “You are just a pile of shit, why pretend to be a person?”

Wabei didn't wish to quarrel with Gu Mengmeng in front of others, and so endured it with silence. He just gradually shut his eyes with a see-no-evil expression.

Hanston thought Gu Mengmeng was still unhappy over his earlier proposal in Sauder. "Great Messenger, please don't misunderstand. I know I am not worthy of the Great Messenger and have already withdrawn all those unwanted ideas. This time, I am really just escorting the Great Messenger. After all, this is Frankston's territory and I cannot afford to have you encounter any unpleasantness here."

Gu Mengmeng glanced at Elvis, who was looking at Joshua out of the corner of his eye. He did not speak a word. Just his dominating aura and challenging demeanor was enough to express his opinion.

Chapter 1073 - I Only Held Back As I Was Afraid You Won't Like It.

Chapter 1073: I Only Held Back As I Was Afraid You Won't Like It.

Joshua couldn't withstand the silent scrutiny of a fifth-level beast like Elvis. His heart was racing so quickly that it was nearly jumping out of his chest. Nevertheless, he still stole a fleeting glimpse at Gu Mengmeng, who remained nestled in Elvis' embrace and had not even glanced at him once.

He was not qualified to be a challenger but couldn't bear to give up.

Lowering his head, he dared not look Elvis in the eye. Even so, he spoke up in a trembling voice. "I like the Great Messenger. This is something that will never change. But I also know I am now unqualified to pursue her. So I will not do anything superfluous and make myself look pathetic before her."

"Ha." Elvis chuckled. He waved one hand. "What in the world made you think I will allow a piece of trash who is coveting my female to strut around in front of my Xiao Meng? I will give you two choices. Get lost now, or..."

Elvis didn't finish his sentence but just shook himself and unleashed his fifth-level beast pressure for a moment before withdrawing it again.

Within seconds, Joshua behaved like a rapidly deflating man-sized balloon.

His knees went soft and he collapsed to his knees and reverted back to his original form. He didn't even have the energy to flee.

Clutching his head with both his hands, Joshua buried his head tightly between his kneecaps, as he trembled all over.

Hanston had come bearing goodwill and did not intend to cause trouble. He glanced at Elvis, who looked like he might destroy the both of them if they didn't leave now. As such, Hanston dared not delay any longer. He lifted Joshua up and said, "In that case, we will go back first. After all, we are your neighbors. We still depend on Saint Nazaire's water source during future drought seasons."

Elvis kept silent and just stared disdainfully at Hanston and Joshua, like a domineering ruler looking down at his lowly subjects. There was no anger on his face but no one doubted his will.

After Hanston left, Lea waved his tail and placed one arm on Elvis' shoulder. The other hand snaked into the space within Elvis' arms to poke at the hiding Gu Mengmeng. "Ha, he didn't wish to embarrass himself in front of Mengmeng... ha, did he really think we would allow him to maintain a good image in front of Mengmeng?"

Gu Mengmeng finally heaved a sigh of relief on seeing that the two of them had left. She leaned against Elvis' shoulder. "He was just a first-level beast. Were you a bit too vicious? He was so scared he reverted back to his original form."

Elvis chuckled. "If it was before, I would have just bit him to death. I only held back as I was afraid you won't like it."

Gu Mengmeng didn't say anything more. After all, she had heard rumors on what kind of person Elvis used to be.

He had already changed a lot of his character and habits for her. He always accommodated her, didn't he...

Lea finished preparing lunch and Gu Mengmeng ate some before they continued their journey.

It took just half a day to travel from Frankston to Saint Nazaire. Gu Mengmeng arrived at Saint Nazaire by nightfall.

Just before they entered their territory, a group of familiar faces were already standing there waiting for Gu Mengmeng.

The two guards, Barete and Auretin, stood right at the center. In one of his rare moments, Ian was not high up on a tree but standing there in a sickly manner, looking at Gu Mengmeng with a vague smile. Beside him was Fei Rui, who stood half a head shorter. His clear eyes reflected the stars in the sky, looking so lustrous that one could hardly tear their gaze away from them.

Barete was frowning and appeared rather grim. He looked like a veteran military general who had lost a battle and was waiting to face his ruler to report on his bleak news.

Chapter 1074 - Auretin Was Not Eating?

Chapter 1074: Auretin Was Not Eating?

In contrast, Auretin looked much more calm. Or perhaps his pokerface was too perfect. Any emotion he might be feeling would be so well hidden that no one could tell whether he was feeling joy or sadness. He just cleared his throat before saying, "Have you had your dinner?"

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. "I knew you were waiting for us, so we wanted to come back to eat with you."

Auretin was obviously stunned. With an imperceptible frown, he said. "I have already prepped the hunted game for you. Today... I won't be eating, but will help you carve the meat, raise the fire and wash the utensils."

Auretin was not eating? Not only that, he would be standing by the side to watch?

This... was he torturing himself?

Seeing that Gu Mengmeng was keeping silent, Auretin clenched his fists. "I am not eating tomorrow either."

Gu Mengmeng was confused. A greedy chowhound had suddenly changed his personality?

Gu Mengmeng maintained her silence, causing Auretin to frown even more deeply. Clenching his fists tighter as if he was enduring an intense pain, he hollered. "I won't be eating the day after also! Three days is my maximum, I cannot bear any longer than that! If you are still unappeased... just let your partners fight me."

Gu Mengmeng, “...”

She had said right from the start that they had specially waited to eat dinner with him.

Did she look very angry?

How cruel was it to take away a greedy chowhound's right to eat? Gu Mengmeng was so kind and gentle that she would never do something like that? Right?!

Gu Mengmeng covered her mouth as she chuckled. “Are you trying to make amends for leaving Sauder without a word?”

Auretin kept quiet but he gazed sheepishly to the side. He then nodded almost imperceptibly.

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head to look at Barete. “What about you? How do you intend to make amends?”

Barete pressed his lips into a straight line. He lowered his head. “I betrayed you and present myself at the Platform of the Deity's Punishment.”

Gu Mengmeng didn't express any opinions and just told Elvis. “I am hungry. Let's go home and eat first. We will talk about this after.”

Elvis completely disregarded those four males and just bypassed them. He then returned to their cave and set Gu Mengmeng down in front of the entrance.

It was their habit that every time they returned home, he would set Gu Mengmeng down, and let her link arms with the two of them, before walking into their cave together.

The cave was covered in a thick layer dust after being uninhabited for so long.

Elvis laid a piece beast skin on the ground before placing Gu Mengmeng on it. He kissed her forehead and then headed back into the cave to tidy up.

Lea raised a fire in front of Gu Mengmeng and put a stone pot over it. He helped himself unabashedly to the meat prepped by Auretin, slicing and marinating it before throwing it into the pot to stew.

From the moment the fire was raised, Auretin's eye never left that pot...

Barete sat down beside Gu Mengmeng. He did not dare to look at her but just quietly sat there. After a long time, he finally spoke up. "This time, I will not come down with my life."

Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Barete. "Is this your way of making up to me?"

Barete nodded. "Apart from my life, I have nothing else. So, I can only offer this life to the Beast Deity to atone for my sins."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. "I was the one you wronged, so shouldn't you be offering your compensation to me? Why are you giving it to my father?"

Barete glanced at her out of the corner of his eye, unsure of Gu Mengmeng's meaning.

Gu Mengmeng asked, "You don't want your life anymore, right?"

Barete was taken aback. His eyes dimmed before nodding.

Chapter 1075 - Put This Life Of Yours On Tab With Me For The Time Being.

Chapter 1075: Put This Life Of Yours On Tab With Me For The Time Being.

Gu Mengmeng smiled as she took a deep breath. “Since you don’t want it, give it to me. From now on, your life belongs to me. You must obey all my commands for the rest of your life. Give up all your personal notions and follow me without question. Mmm... this is what I call a proper compensation. If you die just like that, I won’t benefit at all—what kind of lousy compensation is that?”

Barete was dumbstruck by Gu Mengmeng’s logic.

He...

Was a person who had betrayed her.

She was still willing... to trust him again?

She was also willing to give him another chance to remain by her side?

He thought she would never forgive him and would never wish to even look at him again.

That was why he said he would go up the Platform of the Deity’s Punishment and never come down again.

Only then might she be appeased.

But she was saying... he belonged to her?

“What, are you unwilling?” Gu Mengmeng raised her brow. “Alright, I won’t force you if you are unwilling. We will amend it to performing 10 tasks for me...”

“I am willing.” Barete blurted out.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and nodded. “Mmm, good. That’s settled then. But I have not given thought to what ten tasks I want you to do. Put it on your debt to me for the time being.”

Barete shook his head and blushed slightly. He gazed at Gu Mengmeng with burning eyes. “Not that. I am saying... I am willing to give my life to you and obey you for the rest of my life. To discard all my personal notions and follow you without question. I am willing.”

“Eh?” Gu Mengmeng was actually just trying to scare him. They were friends, yet he still left without even a word of caution despite knowing that Oakley was scheming against her—Gu Mengmeng still held a grudge against Barete for that. After all, if he had cautioned her and let Gu Mengmeng know in advance about Oakley, things might have turned out differently.

Oakley and Bloom might not have lost their lives?

But Barete had agreed just like that, and Gu Mengmeng was caught off guard.

Gu Mengmeng gave a couple of dry laughs as she patted Barete’s shoulder. “Actually, you had just failed to pass on inside information, and that isn’t a crime that needs to be punished by death or by lifelong slavery.”

Barete’s expression froze. He looked away and lowered his head. “You... just don’t wish to see me again right? No matter, don’t force yourself. I don’t deserve your forgiveness in the first place.”

It had already been a year since Gu Mengmeng first came over to the Beast World. But there were still times when she was not quite used to how things were between the males and females here.

One was highly revered, while the other was regarded as even lower than dirt.

The slightest bit of distress caused to a female was punishable by death...

In view of Barete's line of thinking, Gu Mengmeng knew that if she didn't accept his servitude and punish him viciously, he would die thinking that she had not forgiven him.

Shaking her head in exasperation, Gu Mengmeng said, "Alright, put this life of yours on tab with me for the time being. When you meet a female that you like and wish to partner with her, I will return it to you."

This meant that he could go free when he finally came around to his senses.

After all, Gu Mengmeng said "when you wish to partner" and not "after you partner". This meant that the moment Barete announced "I like someone and want to partner now", Gu Mengmeng would grant his freedom.

But Barete just smiled bitterly and shook his head. "I will never partner anyone in this lifetime."

Chapter 1076 - Those Two Would Never Give The Slightest Bit Of Leeway To Any Male

Chapter 1076: Those Two Would Never Give The Slightest Bit Of Leeway To Any Male

From the first time he laid eyes on Gu Mengmeng, Barete affirmed that she was the female for him.

That time, Elvis had her wrapped up in a large piece of animal skin and he didn't get a glimpse of her face. He just felt that her scent was especially fragrant, and different from other females.

The first time he met her, she had slapped a male...

An action like that was very common in the Beast World. Males would not feel aggrieved at being hit, but would instead worry if their female's hand felt pain.

Even so, he was deeply attracted.

That was because she had hit the guy—not for doing something bad, but for expressing his interest after getting a whiff of her scent.

In general, females would feel vain and proud when such things happened. Females might give a token reprimand here and there, but to show true rage like Gu Mengmeng did—that had never happened before.

Perhaps, that one slap had cleanly shattered his heart's defenses. He was unable to contain his curiosity about what was she doing? What was she thinking? What would she do next...

Thereafter, her responses had once and again astonished him. His eyes never left her again.

In this lifetime, the craziest thing he had ever done was to help her escape?

And the most honorable thing he had accomplished was to go up the Platform of the Deity's Punishment for her.

But since knowing she was the Messenger of the Beast Deity, Barete was well aware that he would never have a chance with her in this lifetime.

He was not good enough for her, wasn't he?

Thereafter, she made Elvis her partner. Even someone like Lea finally made the cut only after a tremendous amount of effort.

He could see everything about her very clearly. He understood the situation better than anyone else. Her heart was already fully occupied by Elvis and Lea. No one else could come between them.

Those two would never give the slightest bit of leeway to any male.

If he wished to remain by Gu Mengmeng's side, the only way was to bury his love deep inside his heart to let it fester and rot.

And from goodness-knows when, the name Gu Mengmeng had become everything to Barete. Now that things have come to this stage, what was this talk about him partnering with other females? The only female he wanted would never accept him, right?

It would already be very good if he had the chance to protect her.

If he gave her his life, it would mean he belonged to her?

This belonging was already a blessing.

He dared not wish for more.

Gu Mengmeng didn't know so many thoughts were going through Barete's mind. She just tilted her head and said, "I have always wanted to ask you about something."

Barete drew himself back to the present and looked at Gu Mengmeng, waiting for her next words.

Gu Mengmeng said, "How did Oakley convince you and Auretin? You... don't look like someone who will leave me behind without any reason."

His heart stirred.

He had done a traitorous thing and yet, she was still willing to believe he would never leave her without good reason.

Taking a deep breath, Barete explained. "Oakley told me the whole story and I pitied Bloom and him. That's why I agreed to his plan."

Barete didn't reveal that Oakley's sacrifice for his deep love had moved him. His own love would never come to fruition, but he was happy to help out another pair of lovers.

Moreover, he knew very well that no matter what Oakley had planned, no one in this world could harm Gu Mengmeng.

This was the main reason why he had dared to agree to Oakley's plan.

But he could not reveal that to Gu Mengmeng.

Chapter 1077 - An Innocent Man Will Be Targeted Just For Possessing A Valuable Treasure

Chapter 1077: An Innocent Man Will Be Targeted Just For Possessing A Valuable Treasure

After Lea prepared the meal, Auretin entered into a possessed state. His two eyes stared fixedly at the pot, a deep flush enveloping his entire face.

Gu Mengmeng felt that if she now suggested that Auretin could eat if he cut off one of his hands, he would immediately ask if she preferred his left or right limb, without even batting an eyelid.

Impishly, Gu Mengmeng made a great show of sampling Lea's cooking. As if she was acting in one of those culinary variety shows, Gu Mengmeng heaped extravagant praises on the food, and even purposely passed the plates right under Auretin's nose. Faking innocence, she said, "Smells so good. Auretin, take a whiff."

Auretin really felt like hitting someone!

Gu Mengmeng set down her bowl and chopsticks. She propped her cheek on one hand as she looked at Auretin. "Answer a few of my questions. If I am satisfied with your answers, I will let you eat."

Auretin's expression didn't change at all, but his eyes brightened noticeably.

Gu Mengmeng asked, "Why did you comply with Oakley's arrangements and just left like that, without even saying goodbye?"

Auretin answered, "Oakley told Barete and I all about his arrangements."

Gu Mengmeng nodded. “And so you also sympathized with Bloom and him. That was why you followed his plan?”

“No.” Auretin shook his head. “I don’t know anything about love, and have no interest at all. I will never sacrifice half a year’s worth of gourmet meals for something like that.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed. How disparaging to hear such words.

So that he could quickly start eating, Auretin revealed the entire story. “According to Oakley’s plan, it would be some time before you would be able to return. Meanwhile, it would be difficult for Ian to manage Saint Nazaire on his own.”

“Foremost was the preparation of foodstuffs for the winter season. Last year, there were already rumors swirling outside about how Saint Nazaire had a way of storing food without it turning bad. Since the start of the rainy season this year, the Saint Nazaire tribesmen have started hunting by the bulk, giving credence to those rumors. There would not be any problems if you were in Saint Nazaire, but if you were not around...”

Auretin paused to glance at Elvis and Lea, before turning back to Gu Mengmeng. “If another tribe had a food preservation method but Saint Nazaire didn’t—what do you think your two partners would do so that you wouldn’t starve over the winter?”

What would they do? Was there a need to even say it out loud? They would rob.

Gu Mengmeng had no doubt that Elvis would carry back all the foodstuffs of an entire tribe for her, so as to ensure she had enough to eat over the winter.

And no other male in the Beast World was as powerful as he was. But for their own females, they would fight to the death.

And Saint Nazaire would become condemned.

“Ha, an innocent man will be targeted just for possessing a valuable treasure.” Gu Mengmeng nodded her understanding.

Auretin didn’t understand what Gu Mengmeng was saying, and so didn’t answer. He just continued frankly. “You were not there. Elvis and Lea were also not around. There was a gaping hole in the protection of Saint Nazaire. As if there was a pot of freshly cooked meat with no one guarding it. The fragrance would attract other wild animals, who would naturally help themselves to it.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. Auretin’s analogy... was truly befitting his character as a greedy chowhound.

Unable to resist a sarcastic jibe, she commented, “So you came back to protect the food?”

Auretin nodded with just. “This is the foodstuff that will enable the entire Saint Nazaire tribe to survive through winter. Of course I must protect it at all costs.”

Chapter 1078 - It Was Suicide To Snatch Food From A Tiger's Mouth.

Chapter 1078: It Was Suicide To Snatch Food From A Tiger's Mouth.

Gu Mengmeng nodded with understanding. She thought: it was suicide to snatch food from a tiger's mouth.

Auretin continued. "Even with Barete and I back here to hold the fort, this rainy season was tough going. Wave after wave of thieves and robbers came forth. During the day, land beasts would patrol while the Eagle-owl tribe would stand guard at night. At the first signs of any trouble, everyone would immediately be prepped for battle. Even so, nearly half of our foodstuff were stolen... luckily after last year's experience, we had prepared extra portions. So even though a lot had been stolen, we still had more or less enough to last everyone through the winter season."

Gu Mengmeng nodded. She felt slightly comforted at that fact.

Actually, she had dared to ditch Saint Nazaire and head to Sauder mainly because during the beauty pageant, the 16 valued females they had brought back all had powerful males. Every family had at least one or two fourth-level beasts, and at least four to five third-level ones. Some even had over a dozen third-level partners. With this kind of power, Saint Nazaire easily lorded over everyone else and no other tribe was a match for them.

But Gu Mengmeng had neglected one point—the 16 valued females had all come from different tribes. They were the First Beauties of their own tribe, and the males were also the top-ranked fighters of their former territories. This created a very serious problem, which was no one was willing to give way to anyone else. When met with problems, they all just took care of their own family.

That was why Oakley had arranged for Barete and Auretin to head back first. They were both guardians of the Messenger, and had a certain status within the Beast World.

Further, those females idolized Gu Mengmeng so much that they even regarded her guards very highly. Hence, the two of them had no choice but to return.

Not only to enhance the tribe's battle capabilities, but more importantly, to have someone who had the authority to make a decision when problems arose. Otherwise, Saint Nazaire would have descended into chaos and be susceptible to attacks by outsiders.

Auretin continued. "The monsoon season that came after the winter was somewhat better. Both food and water were in abundant supply, but the drought season that followed presented the second problem."

Gu Mengmeng's heart gave a jolt as she frowned.

Water source.

Oakley leaked out news about the water source, turning Sauder into a target. But most would not dare to challenge Gu Mengmeng and Elvis head-on, and so would shift their attentions to the unprotected Saint Nazaire.

After all, there was also a well here.

Water during the drought season was equivalent to food during the winter. Enticing and fatal.

Auretin swallowed his saliva as he eyed the meat in Gu Mengmeng's bowl. He then continued. "Luckily, Fei Rui could stand guard inside the well the whole time. The moment anyone approaches, he would emit a high-pitched warning, at which our people would rush over. The endless bouts of fighting was really exhausting..."

Sighing, Auretin went on. “If you still hadn’t come back, we would be engaging in another fresh round of battles again.”

Yes, the rainy season was here, which meant they would have to start preparing for winter again.

If Gu Mengmeng was not around, the fight for food would begin all over.

Gu Mengmeng sighed. She felt that there was probably no way they could comfortably enjoy this rainy season.

The bowl of meat had already gone cold. Gu Mengmeng poured it back into the pot and stirred it a few times. She ladled up an extra big bowl of meat and offered it to Auretin. “It has been hard on you this period. Eat more and nourish yourself.”

Chapter 1079 - The Mouth May Lie But The Body Did Not.

Chapter 1079: The Mouth May Lie But The Body Did Not.

It was no exaggeration—it was like beams were shooting out of Auretin’s eyes. The kind that could shoot down an airplane flying across the night sky.

The veins on his body were all nearly bursting, but he still looked at Gu Mengmeng with his pokerface. “Really?”

Gu Mengmeng really felt like laughing at Auretin’s expression. “I will bite you to death if you don’t give it to me” was clearly written all over his face, but his mouth was still asking such a rhetorical question.

Tsk, the mouth may lie but the body did not.

She shoved the bowl into Auretin’s hands. “Here, eat!”

Without even a word of thanks, Auretin immediately tipped the bowl directly into his mouth.

Yes, using chopsticks would be too slow.

He had already endured for over half a year. Every cell in his body was screaming for Lea’s cooking. It was truly an unbearable hunger!

Gu Mengmeng didn’t know whether to laugh or cry at his eating manner. If she didn’t know better, she would have thought he was a hungry ghost who had just crawled out of hell.

“Slow down. Otherwise you might end up swallowing your own tongue.” Gu Mengmeng teased.

Sorry, your good friend Auretin had already gone offline.

Gu Mengmeng ladled another bowl for Barete. “You eat too. You have also had a tough time.”

Barete was not as keen on the food as Auretin was. Lea’s cooking was indeed great, but Barete felt that such exquisite cuisines should be reserved for females. Males were not that picky about what they ate. But Gu Mengmeng was personally offering this bowl of food to him—he would finish every morsel even if it was poison.

Ian was sitting on a tree in his usual sickly manner. He lowered his head to look at Gu Mengmeng. “Hey, I got promoted.”

Gu Mengmeng looked up and narrowed her eyes to scrutinize Ian. He still looked frail and sickly, but on closer look... mmm, he had grown one more feather at the tip of his ears. Each of his ears now had three feathers sticking straight up.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “Hey, congratulations.”

Ian snorted. “Do you think I want to be promoted? If not for your absence the past six months, driving me to exhaustion such that I got promoted... tsk, congratulations? What are you congratulating me for?”

A wave of beast pressure wafted by without warning and Ian fell off the tree. Auretin dropped his bowl on the ground, while Barete also collapsed to the floor.

Even Lea was not spared. He nearly fell into the pot.

Gu Mengmeng stared at Wabei. “Little shit, why are you having a fit?”

Wabei tossed a disdainful look at Ian. “I don’t like seeing others talk back at you.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed and patted Wabei on the shoulder. “Aren’t you the one who usually talks back at me the most?”

Wabei stiffened his neck. “That’s different. I am the most powerful and am free to dislike you. A piece of scum who can’t even defeat me—what right does he have to hate you?”

“Do you mean that you will protect me against those who despise me, only if they are weaker than you? If they are stronger than you, you will just leave me to my fate?” Gu Mengmeng stared wide-eyed at Wabei.

Wabei nodded without any hesitation. “Yes. When Snakel was tormenting you, I dared not even utter a sound.”

“Damn!” Gu Mengmeng shook Wabei vigorously by his shoulder. “Your frank admission makes me feel so sad! I never thought you are this type of little shit. Discarding me the moment you meet a strong opponent!”

Chapter 1080 - I Advice You To Yield

Chapter 1080: I Advice You To Yield

Wabei felt dizzy from Gu Mengmeng's vigorous shaking. He smacked her on the head, pushing her away. "Stop shaking me! I am all dizzy now! Is your head filled with shit? In the entire Beast World, only Snakel was more powerful than me, and he was still subdued by you. Now, only you are stronger than me—unless you are telling me that you despise yourself. Apart from watching helplessly from the side, what can I do then? Give you two tight slaps and demand that you stop hating yourself?"

Gu Mengmeng head was red from that smack but she was not angry. Instead, she chortled loudly, before stepping forward and hooking Wabei's chin. She smiled wickedly. "Little baby, how did you know my mind was filled with you? Mmm?"

Wabei shuddered. He was a cold-blooded animal and not susceptible to chills, but for the first time in his life, he felt like even his bones had frozen over. Waves of disgust washed over him and he raised his foot to kick Gu Mengmeng, only to have his own neck pinned down by Gu Mengmeng's foot first.

Gu Mengmeng was very petite, but her strength was formidable. Especially when she was hitting Wabei, her strikes were vicious and without mercy.

Wabei was completely pinned down by Gu Mengmeng and could not move at all. He felt as if he was a king suffering a counterattack by a weaker subject. So humiliating!

Goosebumps prickled all over him as Wabei glared viciously at Gu Mengmeng. "Get lost! Who are you calling little baby? You are the little baby. Everybody in your tribe are little babies!"

“Aiyo, little shit. Why so shy? Hahaha!” Gu Mengmeng exuded an impish aura as she laughed sinisterly. “Hey hey hey, shout all you want. You can shout till your voice is gone, and still no one will come save you!”

Wabei glared at Elvis. “Hey, little puppy. Your female is in heat now. Why don’t you quickly bring her back to your cave and deal with her? Don’t let her roam about creating chaos!”

Gu Mengmeng wasn’t emitting any Fox Seductive Fragrance and was not in heat at all.

Elvis and Lea knew this very well. Plus the smile on Gu Mengmeng’s face was truly... it had nothing to do with lust. It was purely the expression of a person making mischief.

In this whole world, Wabei was probably the only person who could play with Gu Mengmeng like that, and not incite jealousy in Elvis and Lea.

Elvis just laughed after being singled out. “You are powerful and loyal towards Xiao Meng. It is to our family’s benefit if she wishes to accept you. I don’t object. I advice you to yield. Anyway, your struggles against her are futile.”

Even Wabei’s venomous fangs started to shudder. Damn! What kind of domestic violence was this?

Turning to look at Lea, Wabei called out, “Hey, slutty fox. Quickly come and manage your female. She is crazy!”

Lea just waved his tail and replied in a charming manner, “Aiya, my heart is still racing after you unleashed your beast pressure earlier. I am feel so weak. You bear with it first... buck up, I have faith in you...”

Gu Mengmeng laughed loudly. She was gripping Wabei’s forearms tightly while stepping right on his thighs. With Wabei seated and Gu Mengmeng leaning forward, the two of them formed a triangular shape. Gu Mengmeng grinned widely and raised her eyebrows suggestively at Wabei.

Chapter 1081 - Gu Mengmeng, You Are My Elder

Chapter 1081: Gu Mengmeng, You Are My Elder

Caught in a hopeless situation with no one willing to help, Wabei had no choice but to submit. “Gu Mengmeng, you are my elder. I was in the wrong, alright? Stop this behavior now!”

Gu Mengmeng shoved Wabei as she stood back upright.

She patted her hands. “Tsk, so boring. Caving in so quickly.”

Wabei wrung his wrists, which were nearly fractured by Gu Mengmeng just now. He said viciously, “If I didn’t cave in any sooner, I would have lost my integrity. Are your two males not satisfying you? Do you want to consider taking in another two sturdy partners to fill the gap? I think those three look pretty good.”

Wabei pointed casually at Barete, Auretin and Ian.

Ian was the first to be incensed. “Pushing something you don’t want over to me?!”

Wabei narrowed his eyes. “You are just a lousy bird man, but dare to turn your nose up at the Saintess of the Snake King valley? Are you tired of living now!”

Ian’s face flushed but he couldn’t say a word.

He could not retort. Although he could fly, Wabei could easily drag him back down from the sky by unleashing his beast pressure. He was totally unable to fight back!

Auretin commented solemnly. “If my meals are covered... I don’t mind.”

Lea laughed. "I mind. Let me tell you, you better not harbor any intentions towards my Mengmeng. Otherwise, I will never cook for you ever again."

Auretin nodded with sincerity. "Don't worry. I am only interested in food. As for females..." He looked over Gu Mengmeng seriously, but still shook his head. "I don't find females as attractive as a plate of roasted meat. The Great Messenger is more special. She might be worth about... three days' worth of food, but no more than that."

Gu Mengmeng held her forehead. Damn, Sandy had previously hurried her out of Sauder for some fruit. Now Auretin was adding insult to injury.

How sad to lose to plate of roast meat!

She felt so despondent.

Barete maintained his silence. He knew this was just a joke... a joke that made his chest constrict and hope against all hope that it was real.

It was pity that they were just kidding around. Apart from him, no one else would take it for real.

So Barete lowered his head and sat there quietly, trying to calm his churning emotions, which were stirred up by Wabei's casual pointing finger.

He...

Was not worthy.

The rowdy dinner disrupted the peaceful night. As such, the long vacant cave became much more cozy.

By the time Gu Mengmeng returned to the cave to sleep, the first rays of the sun were already shining through.

One advantage of a cave was that it had no windows. As long as one went deep enough, they would not be affected by the external conditions.

Gu Mengmeng was prepared to sleep a full day and night, but was woken while she was having sweet dreams!

Damn! Damn! Damn!

Since inheriting Snakel's powers, her hearing senses were highly augmented and she could hear the slightest movement as clear as day. So this time, the tumultuous fighting sounds resounded loudly in her ears!

Gu Mengmeng sat up with a start, and discovered that Elvis and Lea were both not in the cave.

Needless to say, they must be the ones fighting at the entrance.

Gu Mengmeng folded back her sleeves and dashed out, hollering as she went. "Who the hell is raising such a ruckus like someone had just killed his parents! Are you guys tired of living, disturbing my sleep like that!"

The fighting noises suddenly stopped and Elvis and Lea rushed in together. One held Gu Mengmeng firmly while the other hurried to get some water over.

After all...

Their female was always in a bad mood right after waking up. They had much experience of that.

Chapter 1082 - Young Master Chixuan

Chapter 1082: Young Master Chixuan

Gu Mengmeng exuded a dark and ominous aura. A lack of sleep made her deeply unhappy.

As she stepped out of the cave, Elvis used his hands to gently shield her eyes from the the piercing sunlight, so that she could slowly get used to the daylight.

Since inheriting Snakel's abilities, eyesight was no longer the only way which Gu Mengmeng sensed the world. Every cell in her could inform on what was happening in the vicinity even without her actually seeing it.

"Who is it? What do you want?"

Despite not being able to see, she accurately faced the unwelcome guest at her door. Speaking through clenched jaws, Gu Mengmeng's voice was soft but held such a chilly undertone that it could freeze someone even under this blazing sun.

"Great... Great Messenger... we... we..." The men was scared stiff by Gu Mengmeng's annoyance at being woken. They have been stray beasts for so many years and had engaged in so many savage and bloody fights, coming face to face with imminent death countless times—but they have never been as frightened as they were now.

So it was true that a bad guy should stick to his character. It was much easier snatching things than sending gifts. It was too scary trying to be a good guy.

Elvis' fingers gradually parted, allowing the sunlight to slowly shine into Gu Mengmeng's eyes.

Gu Mengmeng could see a large stone basin filled with grapes behind those stray beasts.

Raising her brows, Gu Mengmeng suddenly felt much placated. Her tone softened, but she still lazily leaned her head against Elvis' shoulder. She glanced at the beasts who made the delivery. "For me? Who asked you to send this?"

"Lord Cole asked us to deliver... deliver this..." The stray beast felt rather aggrieved. He had not behaved so timidly even when battling Elvis, but he couldn't even speak properly when faced with Gu Mengmeng.

"Tsk." She had already guessed it but the confirmation still irked her. Rolling her eyes, she said, "Take it away. I don't want anything from Cole."

With that, Gu Mengmeng turned her head and sprawled against Elvis' shoulder, indicating that she wished to return to her cave to continue sleeping.

The stray beast immediately piped up, "But these fruit were personally picked by the young master. Lord Cole is just helping the young master deliver this. Great Messenger, please don't reject the young master's gesture of filial piety."

Gu Mengmeng paused and turned to look at the stray beast.

Ha, he had been stammering the entire time, but could recite this speech so fluently. Someone probably taught him to say that?

"Young master?" Gu Mengmeng didn't care who taught him to say those words. Anyway, she knew the answer even without asking, and she didn't wish to hear that name again.

The stray beast noticed that Gu Mengmeng indeed halted after hearing the words which Cole taught him to say. Even her reaction was exactly as predicted by Cole. He felt a bit more settled at this and stopped stammering. Nodding his head, he replied, “Yes, young master Chixuan.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned, feeling extremely unhappy.

She did not want Chixuan to have anything to do with Cole. But Chixuan had been by Cole’s side for so long that even the stray beasts were calling him young master.

What young master?! Chixuan wasn’t even Cole’s son!

But it was meaningless arguing with these underlings. Gu Mengmeng clenched her fists. “Got it. Leave the fruit and get lost.”

“Yes.” The stray beasts nodded before taking their leave.

Chapter 1083 - I Will Hold You Until You Feel Like Getting Up

Chapter 1083: I Will Hold You Until You Feel Like Getting Up

Gu Mengmeng squatted by those grapes. She reached out to pick one and held it to her lips.

Elvis nimbly snatched the grape over with his tongue before eating it himself.

After a couple of chews, he said, “Tastes very bland but it was indeed picked by Chixuan. But since it was Cole’s men who delivered it, we must still be careful. You can only eat this if I am still fine by nightfall. Understand?”

Gu Mengmeng said in exasperation, “Have you forgotten that I possess Snakel’s venom. I am the most poisonous person in the entire Beast World. No other venom can harm me. So even if it is poisonous, the venom would be counteracted by Snakel’s.”

Elvis tapped Gu Mengmeng’s little nose. “Being too fearless can sometimes lead to one’s downfall. Lea and I cannot afford to take even the slightest bit of risk.”

Gu Mengmeng was frustrated but had no choice.

These two were overly protective of her. They could not bear to see her suffer even a tiny scratch.

And she rather enjoyed such sheltering. So she didn’t offer further argument. She just had Elvis put her down, and then asked him and Lea to carry those grapes into the cave.

Gu Mengmeng was still drowsy. Since those unwelcome guests had been chased off, she headed back into the cave to continue sleeping.

She slept all the way till the afternoon.

Worried that she might be hungry, Lea entered the cave after preparing the food. He laid beside Gu Mengmeng and brushed her arm gently with his furry tail. Gazing warmly at Gu Mengmeng's guileless little face, he couldn't help giving her a gentle peck. He whispered tenderly by her ear. "Mengmeng, I am so bored... stop sleeping and open your eyes to look at me, mmm?"

"Mmm..." Gu Mengmeng grunted. She instinctively hugged Lea's tail and turned around, snuggling right into his chest.

Lea's embrace was fully occupied by Gu Mengmeng, and his heart felt likewise filled to the brim.

His voice softened and became like a whispering breeze.

He drew elegant fingers through Gu Mengmeng's hair. Her fine, black hair was as smooth as silk, and twirled around his fingers softly.

"Alright. I will hold you until you feel like getting up..." He kissed the top of her head before chuckling. "I really can't win you."

Perhaps Lea's gaze was too searing or maybe Gu Mengmeng was already fully rested—she lifted her face after snuggling for a moment longer. Her eyes had yet to open but a sweet smile was already blooming across her face. Still sounding a little husky and lax from the last vestiges of sleep, she said, "Morning..."

It was just one word but it raised the corners of Lea's lips. He pinched Gu Mengmeng's little nose. "I was afraid you might be hungry and made some breakfast for you. But I also want to let you sleep in my arms for a little while longer. I am really being tormented by you."

Gu Mengmeng smiled as she buried her face into Lea's chest. She nuzzled for a moment before saying, "Mmm, I am really hungry."

Lea lifted Gu Mengmeng up from the bed and carried her out of the cave. "I have already prepared the food, just waiting for you to wake up."

Gu Mengmeng was still hugging Lea's tail. Freshly woken, she was like an angel exuding a warm and radiant glow—completely different from the angry little demon earlier this morning.

Lea had just set Gu Mengmeng down when she noticed a long stone table and six stone stools positioned right outside the cave. The tabletop was flat but had an unpolished feel. It was obviously newly-constructed and had never been used before.

Chapter 1084 - Stop Acting Like You Are An Honest Girl Being Forced Into Prostitution, Alright?

Chapter 1084: Stop Acting Like You Are An Honest Girl Being Forced Into Prostitution, Alright?

Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Elvis, who was sitting beside her and smiling gently. “I noticed you liked that table in the castle at Sauder. It was too troublesome to transport it over so I made one while you were sleeping. Do you like it?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded with a smile. “Although eating beside a fire has its own flavor, I still like being able to sit at a proper table.”

Elvis noticed that, which was why he started making this table for her the moment they came back.

“I will make another smaller one to place inside the cave. This way, you can still eat at a table during the winter season.” Elvis stroked Gu Mengmeng’s head softly. He would give her anything she wanted.

Gu Mengmeng nodded again. She then looked at Auretin, who was hovering about Lea’s pot, as well as Barete, who standing in the shadows staring at his own feet. “Since you are all here, come and sit with us.”

Three stone stools were positioned at each of the two opposing sides of the rectangular table. On one side, the middle stool was draped in a thick animal hide. Needless to say, that seat was reserved for Gu Mengmeng. The other two stools flanking that seat would naturally belong to Elvis and Lea.

The middle stool on the opposite side was already occupied by Wabei. He seldom ate cooked food, and the portions were insufficient anyway. But he liked to accompany Gu Mengmeng while she ate. Further, he felt that Snakel deserved a seat at this table, and since Snakel was not around, Wabei would take his seat in place.

Auretin and Barete sat on either side of Wabei, while Lea placed the huge stone pot on the table. He then distributed the individual plates to let everyone ladle their own share of the food.

“I still feel the most comfortable eating at our own home.” Gu Mengmeng stretched out lazily and leaned into Elvis’ arms after finishing her meal. She looked at Auretin, who automatically cleared the dishes for washing. Meanwhile, Lea fetched over a large platter of grapes and fed them to Gu Mengmeng one by one.

Lea was a witch doctor and also a snow fox like Cole. If he dared to feed those grapes to Gu Mengmeng, it meant there was nothing wrong with the fruit.

Plus Elvis had personally ate some and had not suffered any ill-effects up till now. As a result, Elvis didn’t insist that she could only eat them at night.

After eating a couple of grapes, Gu Mengmeng’s eyes suddenly shifted.

Grapes...

“Little shit, there’s something I need you to help me with.” Gu Mengmeng sat up and raised one eyebrow at Wabei.

After yesterday’s teasing, Wabei now felt chills all over every time Gu Mengmeng smiled at him.

He hugged his own shoulders and looked guardedly at Gu Mengmeng. “What?”

Gu Mengmeng smacked the table and hollered. “Drop your hands. Stop acting like you are an honest girl being forced into prostitution, alright?”

Wabei stiffened his neck. “I am to drop my hands just because you want me to? You want to humiliate me?”

Gu Mengmeng snorted derisively. “Fine, maintain your pathetic and wretched posture. Drop your hands as and when you like.”

Wabei’s temples throbbed. What did she mean by pathetic and wretched? Why did that sound so wrong to him?

Glaring at Gu Mengmeng, he said, “What do you want me to do, just spit it out.”

Only then did Gu Mengmeng suddenly remember she was asking a favor of him. Hence she smiled pleasantly. “I am going to wash these grapes at the little stream later on. Thereafter, can you help me crush them?”

Chapter 1085 - Wilderness Version Of A Washing Machine

Chapter 1085: Wilderness Version Of A Washing Machine

Wabei looked dismissive but he didn't reject. He just eyed Elvis. "Go get those grapes out."

Elvis ignored Wabei's command. Xiao Meng wanted to bring those grapes to the little stream, and he would only do things for her.

There were nine big stone basins filled to the brim with grapes. It took Elvis and Lea three separate trips before they managed to carry every one out. Together with Barete, Auretin and Wabei—the five males each carried two basins over to the little stream.

Fei Rui just happened to be at the stream then.

He immediately waved the moment he spotted Gu Mengmeng from afar. He shouted enthusiastically. "Great Messenger..."

Fei Rui's eyes were really very clear, and as innocent as a puppy. It held the purest light and one could not help smiling back at him.

Speaking of water tricks, no one could beat Fei Rui.

The moment he heard Gu Mengmeng wanted to wash the grapes, Fei Rui volunteered to take on the responsibility of churning the water.

He had Elvis tip over all nine basins' worth of grapes into a wider part of the stream. His two cheeks vibrated gently, and the fishes in the stream formed a barrier to ensure that not one grape would be swept away. Fei Rui then morphed into beast mode and started swimming in circles in the water.

On Fei Rui's signal, the fishes forming the barrier joined in, with the innermost layer of fishes swimming in clockwise direction, a middle layer moving in anticlockwise, and then Fei Rui himself swimming in clockwise at the outermost layer. The grapes tumbled about the water in the action created by the swimming, as if they were feisty little imps.

Gu Mengmeng tutted with amazement from the shore. "Damn, a wilderness version of a washing machine..."

Elvis and Lea exchanged looks before saying. "The stream will be frozen over in the winter time. When do you plan to let him return to the ocean?"

Lea's arm rested easily on Elvis' shoulder. His slanted eyes sparkled. "Or do you intend for him to stay on and become sautéed sliced fish?"

Holding her hand against her forehead. Gu Mengmeng understood his meaning.

This trouble stemmed from the time in Zacharias, when she told Dora that Fei Rui was her male. Those two fellows still remembered that incident very clearly.

Not long after, Fei Rui came out of the water, his tail morphing into a pair of legs. Water trickled down his body as he moved about unabashedly, after all... he was a fish.

As if injected with life, the grapes hopped into the stone basins one by one. Water and sunlight shone off the skins of the grapes, making them look like jewels.

Before even thanking Fei Rui, Gu Mengmeng's lips curved mischievously as she jumped down from Elvis' embrace. She grabbed Wabei and threw him into the water.

Wabei was caught unawares and he stared dumbfounded at Gu Mengmeng. "What are you doing?!"

Gu Mengmeng rubbed her hands while standing by the shore. “Are you going to wash yourself or should I help you?”

Wabei once again hugged himself and glared guardedly at Gu Mengmeng. “Why are you being so perverted?”

Gu Mengmeng jumped into the water and raised one leg, kicking Wabei to the deepest region of the stream. “Stop blabbering. Hurry up and wash yourself and then help me crush the grapes.”

Wabei was forcefully submerged by Gu Mengmeng, and their jostling in the water more or less cleaned him up. Returning to the shore, Gu Mengmeng pointed at the large stone basin. “Come little shit. Quickly come over and sit inside.”

Chapter 1086 - Little Shit, You Should Really Lose Some Weight.

Chapter 1086: Little Shit, You Should Really Lose Some Weight.

Wabei looked at Gu Mengmeng as if she was an idiot. “Have you gone stupid? This basin is so small, how can I squeeze in.”

Gu Mengmeng lifted her head. “Get into your snake form and turn circles like how Fei Rui did, to mash those grapes into pulp.”

Wabei rolled his eyes at Gu Mengmeng before stepping back and morphing into his original beast mode. He was nearly two-stories high and as thick as a train. Hissing in snake language, he said, “Use your own eyes to see clearly, how the hell am I supposed to squeeze inside?!”

Gu Mengmeng looked at Wabei, and then again at the stone basin...

That basin was huge enough to be a bathtub for her, but for Wabei...

It was only as big as a mineral bottle cap compared to him.

To make Wabei get in... it was really quite impossible for him.

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips. “Little shit, you should really lose some weight.

Wabei didn’t even have the mood to crush her to death now. Anyway, she had been making trouble for him for the past few days already.

Morphing back to human form, he asked, “You just want them mashed into a pulp, right?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and Wabei flicked his tongue impatiently at a nearby distance. A few dozen small snakes the thickness of a forearm slithered out of the undergrowth. They didn’t go towards Gu Mengmeng, but entered the stream to swim about for a bit as if they were bathing. Thereafter, Wabei placed one of the stone basins by the stream, and the small snakes sprang directly from the water into the basin. They then slithered about inside the basin, churning the grapes into a swirling mess. After the swirling came to a gradual halt, Gu Mengmeng saw that every single grape had been churned completely into pulp, not even a single whole seed could be seen.

Accordingly, the grapes in the nine large basins were all crushed into a pulp in a short while.

After the small snakes accomplished their task, they leaped out of the basins back into the stream to wash themselves off, before returning to the undergrowth, as if nothing had happened.

While the little snakes were crushing the grapes, Gu Mengmeng had already called for someone to gather some animal hides and tendons. She then asked Elvis to carve a groove around the edges of the stone basins, before covering each basin tightly with a hide and tying it securely with the tendons.

This kind of sealing technique was not the best but there was nowhere to buy any sealing caps here. They had to make do with this for the time being.

Auretin and Barete then carried the nine large stone basins back to the cave entrance. Meanwhile, Gu Mengmeng led her partners and Wabei into the forest, wandering aimlessly inside for a long while before her attention was caught by a tall, ancient tree.

In the present world, this kind of tree would definitely hold some preservation status. But they were not a rare sight in the Beast World.

It was a pity to cut down this tree but Gu Mengmeng had to use it and there was no other better option. Hence, she pointed at it. “Hubby, I want this tree. Cut it from this point and leave the tree stump. We can use it as a table the next time we come here.”

Elvis had helped Gu Mengmeng cut down some bamboo previously, and so was rather familiar with this task. He would just hack away at wherever Gu Mengmeng pointed. He moved efficiently and precisely.

The large tree fell to the side and was stuck on one of the nearby trees. Gu Mengmeng couldn't bear to let her hubby do more work, and so had no qualms calling out to Wabei. "Little shit, carry that wood back home."

Chapter 1087 - I Want To Return To The Ocean

Chapter 1087: I Want To Return To The Ocean

Regarding the fact that Gu Mengmeng kept calling him little shit—his earlier resistance had melted into a niggling irritation, which had now further faded into something he was already used. A person capability for acceptance was truly limitless.

Sometimes, Wabei even felt that when Gu Mengmeng called him by his real name, he would feel a bizarre sense of anxiety and guilt, as if he was caught doing something bad.

He wrapped his snake tail around the huge tree and followed Gu Mengmeng back home, dragging it with him. Wabei was a fifth-level snake beast and a highly-revered figure anywhere he went—but he had been relegated to being a transport worker for this little girl. Nevertheless, he felt more comfortable being ordered around by Gu Mengmeng than being worshiped by others. Tsk, a natural-born slave.

Wabei kept grumbling to himself as he dragged that tree back for Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng indicated the rough dimensions she had in mind, before having the tree cut up into the required blocks. Each block was then carved up by Lea to make a wooden barrel and an accompanying lid. The lids were then wrapped in animal skin to create a sealing effect.

But the newly-made wooden barrels could not be used immediately as the wood smell was too strong. Hence, she had Barete and Auretin bring them over to the little stream to let Fei Rui wash them out, before laying them out at a shady spot to dry.

To avoid wastage, Lea used the leftover wood pieces to make all sorts of cutlery.

Although the Beast World had many trees, Gu Mengmeng always stressed the importance of conservation. They could only fell trees when entirely necessary and must try their best not to cut down too many. They must also make use of as much of the materials as possible, to avoid wastage.

So even the wood scraps left over from the carving of the cutlery were set aside to be used as firewood during the winter.

By the time everything was settled, the sky had already started to darken.

Auretin would never miss mealtime and had already carried over some hunted game a long while ago. He sat there staring at Lea—if not for the fact that Gu Mengmeng could see the word “food” written all over his face, she might have thought Auretin were having some nefarious intentions towards Lea.

Barete seemed to have moved into a location near the cave. Not within Elvis’ territory but close by. So he came along when Auretin arrived.

Ian and Fei Rui came late. Both of them looked as if they had something preying on their minds. Gu Mengmeng ignored Ian, but expressed concern for Fei Rui.

“What happened? Is there something you wish to tell me?”

Fei Rui’s large eyes were bright and clear. Every time she met his eyes, it was as if she was immersed in the Milky Way. Dazzling and pure.

Fei Rui bit his lips and nodded. “Great Messenger, I want to return to the ocean.”

This was good news. After all, Lea had just mentioned earlier today that if Fei Rui didn’t leave soon, he would make him into sautéed sliced fish. It might have been a joke but Gu Mengmeng knew that the nonsense she had spouted in Zacharias had raised Elvis’ and Lea’s guard against Fei Rui. She was still thinking of how to broach this issue without hurting this kid's feelings. So it was a good thing that he was now suggesting to head back himself.

Fei Rui explained, "The surface of the water will freeze over in the winter and I won't be able to come out. There won't be a lack of food but I will feel very lonely. So I want to return to the ocean to visit my sister before winter comes. I will come back during next year's monsoon season. Will that be alright?"

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. "Of course. You are the Prince of Bridges and returning to your own tribe is a matter of course."

Chapter 1088 - Sea Salt

Chapter 1088: Sea Salt

Fei Rui shook his head. "I am Fei Rui from Saint Nazaire now. I am no longer the Prince of Bridges."

Gu Mengmeng shot a guilty glance at Lea, and then at Elvis. She didn't dare to speak.

Satisfied with Gu Mengmeng's response, Lea waved his tail and said, "When did you join our Saint Nazaire tribe? Why was I not aware of this?"

Fei Rui blinked pitifully and looked at Gu Mengmeng. He sounded like he was about cry, just like a little puppy-dog. "Messenger... am I not part of the Saint Nazaire tribe?"

His query tugged at Gu Mengmeng's heartstrings. She pulled Lea's arm and pouted pleadingly at him.

Lea took two deep breaths. "Suit yourself."

Gu Mengmeng smiled. "Bridges is also a part of Saint Nazaire. So you can be both the Prince of Bridges and a member of Saint Nazaire. You are of the ocean race and different from the land beasts. Forcing you to stay here in the winter is too cruel. Go back to the ocean if you wish. You can come here again anytime you want. Saint Nazaire will always welcome you."

Fei Rui smiled and his two eyes narrowed into two crescent moon shapes. He nodded and looked extremely pleased.

"Well..." Gu Mengmeng hesitated, but still spoke up. "There's something which I should inform you about."

"Mmm?" Fei Rui tilted his head like a naive little kid as he gazed at Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng took a deep breath. “Dora is dead.”

Fei Rui was obviously shocked. His eyes dimmed and he lowered his head. He only uttered an “oh” in response.

Gu Mengmeng didn’t try asking how Fei Rui was feeling, and didn’t probe him on what had happened between Dora and him. After all, it didn’t matter now who was in the right or wrong. Gu Mengmeng felt that since Dora was already dead, all past grievances should be wiped clean.

Gu Mengmeng sighed before smiling again. She wanted to ask Fei Rui when he was going leave.

But Fei Rui looked up first and took out a small pouch. He walked over to Gu Mengmeng and opened it. “Oh yes, Great Messenger, take a look. Do you have any use for this?”

Gu Mengmeng glanced downwards. It looked like salt but was much more coarse than the granules that came from Saint Nazaire’s salt lake. She dabbed a little with her finger and tasted it. It was indeed salt.

Gu Mengmeng’s eyes lit up as she asked, “Sea salt?”

Fei Rui nodded. “Yeah, the Mermaid Tribe is able to distill salt from seawater, but we have never observed the land beasts using it. Nevertheless, I saw Mister Lea using something like that when he was cooking yesterday, and so I returned to the ocean last night to distill a little for you to try. If this is something you have a use for, I will distill more this winter and bring it back during the monsoon season next year.”

Saint Nazaire’s salt lake was limited in its production of salt. The tribe had already used up a large portion of the salt to preserve the foodstuffs for the winter season. At their current rate of use, the salt lake would be depleted within five years’ time.

It must be said that Fei Rui’s discovery was a great help to Gu Mengmeng. Hence, she immediately nodded. “Yes this is definitely very useful to us. Without this, we will die!”

“So important!” Fei Rui was shocked, before immediately clapping his hands over his mouth. He continued in a small voice. “Great Messenger, don’t worry, I won’t tell anyone else. When I return next monsoon season, I will bring a lot of sea salt back for you. I guarantee that you will never lack for salt.”

Chapter 1089 - I Like Your Pettiness

Chapter 1089: I Like Your Pettiness

Gu Mengmeng nodded with a laugh but Lea just snorted. “He has really found a good excuse to join Saint Nazaire. I can’t do anything to him now.”

Gu Mengmeng shook Lea’s arm as she grinned. “Alright now, don’t pick a quarrel with a kid. Mmm?”

Lea pinched Gu Mengmeng’s face as he gave in.

“When do you intend to begin your trip back?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

Fei Rui smiled. “If the Great Messenger agrees, I will head off now.”

“So soon?” Gu Mengmeng was rather surprised. She thought he would at least wait till tomorrow as it was nearly nighttime now.

Fei Rui nodded. “I am going back via the waterways anyway, so it doesn’t matter whether the sun is up. Moreover, Melinda is pregnant and I wish to hurry back as soon as possible to accompany her. After all, this is her first pregnancy.”

“Melinda is pregnant?!” Gu Mengmeng had a major reaction. She jumped straight up, eyes wide open with shock. Her lips curled up involuntarily.

Lea pinched Gu Mengmeng’s little nose. “Sandy will definitely be jealous if she sees your current expression.

Wabei laughed. “If I didn’t know better, I would have thought the kid is yours.”

“Get lost!” Gu Mengmeng shouted at Wabei before turning to Fei Rui again. “Alright, you better hurry back then. Help me ask after Melinda and give her my blessings.”

“Yes, I will.” Fei Rui nodded before tilting his head and smiling. “So Great Messenger, please continue your meal. I will take my leave now.”

Gu Mengmeng insisted on sending Fei Rui off. After all, they would not see each other again for one whole winter season.

Elvis and Wabei accompanied Gu Mengmeng to the well to see Fei Rui off. Lea remained behind to watch over the pot.

After seeing Fei Rui jump into the well, Gu Mengmeng leaned her head against Elvis’ shoulder. “Actually, he didn’t hope for Dora’s death. I saw it just now. He was quite sad when he heard about her demise.”

Elvis hugged Gu Mengmeng tightly around the waist. “Females are an especially precious resource to every tribe. As weak as Fei Rui is, he is still the leader of his tribe. So Dora... was someone he used to value.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned after listening to Elvis’ words. She straightened herself and looked at him. “So before I came over, you also valued Sandy and Maya?”

Elvis was momentarily taken aback, before he laughed out loud. “You must be joking. Before you came to Saint Nazaire, this tribe was just a meaningless way for me to pass time.”

In other words, he didn’t even care much about the tribe, so how important could the females in the tribe be to him?”

In the past, if not for Lea’s constant urging that for the sake of the tribe, he could not kill females—would that Nina have been able to survive for so long right under Gu Mengmeng’s nose? Elvis would have killed Nina a thousand times over.

He already treated complete females as such, what more for half-beast females?

Gu Mengmeng thought about it and agreed. Hence, she laughed as she leaned back onto Elvis' shoulder. "Hubby, am I very petty? I feel so uncomfortable the moment I thought that you valued someone else before..."

"I like your pettiness. You must maintain it, understand? Mmm?" Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng's cheek.

Gu Mengmeng twisted her lips and gave a low laugh. She nodded and answered with a "mmm" sound.

Wabei rolled his eyes. "Doing nothing all day and night. Only knowing how to flirt with each other. Tsk, the whole world stinks of love."

Chapter 1090 - Are You Really Consenting To Me Mating With Her?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Just when they reached the cave, Lea was laying the piping hot food on the table.

Auretin was acting out ‘face-paralysis almost wearing out his eyes’ with all his might. Gu Mengmeng felt that he did not ever anticipate her appearance as much as food before.

Ha ha, Gu Mengmeng lost to a bowl of meat....

Barete sat at a corner of the table quietly. He sat there in the afternoon and he did not know why but he felt that the spot belonged to him so he wanted to guard it and prevent others from sitting there.

Ian leaned against a tree, wrapping his arms in front of him as he looked at Gu Mengmeng in a sickly way.

When Gu Mengmeng walked past him, she paused to ask, “You’ve something to ask me too, right? Why, is your sister going to give birth too?”

Ian rolled his eyes at Gu Mengmeng and wanted to refute her but Wabei was beside her so he stopped himself. He said, “Mandy confessed to me.”

Mandy belonged to the 16 women they brought back from the beauty pageant. She was also titled First Beauty by Gu Mengmeng because she recruited the highest number of warriors who were qualified to enter Saint Nazaire.

Gu Mengmeng recalled, the previous time she told everyone the story of the flying bird and fish, Mandy had already took a fancy on Ian and assumed Ian to be the flying bird in the story. Gu Mengmeng did not know whether Mandy's motherly instincts had taken effect or whether she easily fell for males who underwent some love torture but she had been showing her affection for Ian at times since a long time ago.

Ian did not make any response, he neither rejected her nor accepted her but he did not give other females a chance to show their affection to him either so it was within Gu Mengmeng's expectations when he said that.

She nodded and asked, "Are you planning to mate with her?"

Ian remained silent for a while before answering, "If you don't object to it, I'll mate with her. After all, I've reached the peak of third-level, I need to mate if I want to surpass this level."

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback before she sneered the next second and scolded, "Jerk."

Gu Mengmeng thought that she would only see a male using a female as a level-up tool in the Snake King valley.

Ian chuckled and said, "I told Mandy that that's the reason why I wanted to mate with her. She agreed."

Gu Mengmeng squinted her eyes at Ian for a while before patting his shoulder and saying, "What's the use? Just say it if you like her, why do you need to put it in such a official tone? What's the use of hiding your emotions? You'll be the one who will be sad when she really misunderstands you."

Ian's ears turned pink as he turned his head to one side and said, "I don't understand what you're saying."

Gu Mengmeng did not expose him as she swung her arms forward and backwards, saying, "It's alright if you don't understand me because you just need to know what you're doing. Mandy is a good lady, although she's a little spoiled at times, as compared to other females in the Beast World, she's already a very gentle and considerate female. If you really make her sad, you'll be the one who regrets it."

Gu Mengmeng did not need to describe how good Mandy is because Ian knows it deep in his heart.

It's just that he's a little willful.

Turning his head to side-eye Gu Mengmeng, Ian hesitated but still asked her, "Are you really.....consenting to me mating with her?"

Gu Mengmeng took two large steps back and stared at Ian in defense while wrapping her hands around her chest like how Wabei always did. She asked, "Why? You fell in love with me? You want me to snatch you from her?"

Chapter 1091 - Gu Mengmeng Was More Benevolent Than Him

Chapter 1091: Gu Mengmeng Was More Benevolent Than Him

<segment 2

Ian clenched his fists and took eight deep breaths to force himself to calm down. Then, he said, “Did you forget that I was the one who set the blood alliance with Lea? Once I mate, the blood alliance will become useless.”

Gu Mengmeng knew about this long ago.

Hugging her chest with both hands, Gu Mengmeng squinted her eyes at Ian and said, “You started flirting with Mandy since last year but you’re only mating with her this year.....because of this?”

Ian did not admit nor did he deny. He just lowered his head and shifted his gaze to a side.

Although the Birds tribe is always arrogant, Ian was after all, a male that was in his best and fittest age so he did not have high resistance level against females. Moreover, Mandy was beautiful and outgoing, it was reasonable for him to not withstand the seduction.

It’s just that Gu Mengmeng was too busy this entire year so she did not have time to observe the love life of her every friend, thus resulting in them wasting so much time.

Gu Mengmeng patted Ian’s shoulder and said, “Didn’t I tell you previously? I judge someone I want to keep in Saint Nazaire based on their heart and not the blood alliance. If your heart is leaning towards me, I won’t need to do anything extra to keep you behind. If your heart isn't here, even with the blood alliance, you'll seek all ways to get out of it so what's the use?"

Ian looked at Gu Mengmeng and did not say anything.

Gu Mengmeng indeed told him those words before but Ian did not meet Mandy then so he did not treat it too seriously.

After that, Ian fell for Mandy but he could not predict how true Gu Mengmeng words back then were.

Furthermore, even though the Eagle-owl tribe had been acquired by Saint Nazaire and many males from the Eagle-owl tribe mated with females from Saint Nazaire, he had the blood alliance on his shoulders so he was worried that once he mated, their blood alliance would be broken and Gu Mengmeng would suspect the Eagle-owl tribe from having a change of heart.

But it seemed like he thought too much.

Gu Mengmeng.....was more benevolent than him.

Gu Mengmeng sat back at the table to eat the meat from her bowl. She gasped in satisfaction and then said, "You're the tribe leader of the Eagle-owl tribe so you've to hold your marriage as flamboyant as possible. Just nice, Saint Nazaire hasn't experience much noise and excitement in a long time so we'll use your name and have a good celebration so that everyone can party and be in a delightful mood."

Ian walked to Gu Mengmeng awkwardly and looked at her while standing beside the table. After quite some time, he said, "There's no such tribe called the Eagle-owl tribe since two years ago and I'm not a tribe leader."

"Fake." Gu Mengmeng sneered and did not reply him.

It was rare that he did not feel the urge to retort back at her diss as he lowered his head and said, "Gu Mengmeng, thank you."

Gu Mengmeng laughed and said, “Yeah, please mate before winter comes. Don’t delay it too much or else I don’t know how much more your position in your family is going to drop.”

Ian clenched his teeth and said, “Manman is only taking in one partner this year. My position in the family isn’t going to drop.”

“Manman.....” Gu Mengmeng looked at Ian, hinting about something.

Ian’s ears turned even redder as he flapped his wings and said, “If you don’t have any objection, I’ll inform Manman about it and not disturb you from eating.”

Gu Mengmeng waved her hands and said, “Goodbye~”

After Ian flew away, there were only Gu Mengmeng and her two partners, Wabei, Auretin and Barete left.

Gu Mengmeng supported her face with her hands and seemed to be in deep thoughts as she muttered, “The people around me is getting fewer and fewer.....”

Elvis grabbed onto Gu Mengmeng’s waist lightly and comforted her, “Don’t be disappointed over other people, Lea and I will always be by your side.”

Chapter 1092 - If You've Any Drama You Want To Act Out, Please Do So Quickly

Chapter 1092: If You've Any Drama You Want To Act Out, Please Do So Quickly

“Gu Mengmeng.” Wabei stood up from the stone chair and supported one hand on the table. He stuck out half of his body and placed one hand on Gu Mengmeng’s shoulder. With a troubled look, he said, “Winter is coming, I can only spend a few more days with you. If you’ve any drama you want to act out, please do so quickly or else I can’t play along with you once I hibernate.”

“Ah.....you’re leaving too.” Yeah, two times a year, Wabei will be affected during the winter and dry season so he had to return back to the Snake King valley.

Once the snow seals the mountain, Gu Mengmeng needed to spend two to three months with only Elvis and Lea.

During the first winter, she just mated with Elvis so they were still in their honeymoon period. After that, Lea crashed in and all sorts of awkwardness and uncomfortable feelings arose when the three of them stayed together. Furthermore, she was pregnant then and feeling faint every now and then so time passed quickly unknowingly.

During the second winter, she fell for Cole’s plans and went to Sauder. Other than Elvis and Lea, the three little ones were also with her. Although she was very worried when Chixuan kept following behind Cole, their whole family spend time together, bustling in happiness so time went passed very quickly too.

This year.....

There was only her, Elvis and Lea.

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head and laughed, saying, “I always spent life alone before I transmigrated but I didn’t feel lonely at all. Now that I’m used to having a lot of friends around me, I can’t adapt it once things get quiet.”

Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Elvis and smiled in disappointment as she asked, “Hubby, am I too greedy?”

The tint of disappointment between her brows made Elvis’s heart ache.

Kissing her brows, he said, “Why don’t we dig Saint Nazaire up and you can find anyone you want to during winter, is that alright?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and said, “Sandy’s not here, I don’t have anyone to play with.”

“Then, I’ll ask someone to bring her over to accompany you?” Elvis felt bitter, he planned secretly with Lea for a long time to finally dismiss the four little ones and Sandy was not snatching Gu Mengmeng’s favor away from them too. But now, they needed to bring her back with their own hands.....

Tsk, Sandy was indeed their top love rival, she needs to be guarded against.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and, “Sandy has her own life, I can’t always expect her to twirl around me.”

Upon hearing her words, Elvis heaved a sigh of relief.

Wabei cleared his throat and asked, “Why don’t.....I stay behind to accompany you this winter?”

Gu Mengmeng twitched her lips and looked at Wabei in detest, shouting, “You always fall into deep sleep during winter, other than taking up space, what other uses do you have, accompany my foot!”

The most important thing was, hibernation in places other than the Snake King valley was dangerous to Wabei, all other factors regardless whether it's the temperature or the humidity were all unknown. To animals, unknown factors meant danger.

Although Wabei was strong, Gu Mengmeng did not want him to take this unnecessary risk.

“Moreover, you know that I hate snakes, I hate shit and I hate snakes that look like shit. You’ve all three of what I hate on you and you want to sleep for an entire winter in my cave.....are you not scared that I’ll make you into snake-skin steam egg?”

Wabei did not know whether Gu Mengmeng’s daily call of ‘little shit’ made him playful but the moment he heard her describe him as shit, he did not get angry and instead, chuckle evilly before hooking his arm around Gu Mengmeng’s neck. “Your taste changed, huh? You want to eat shit?”

Chapter 1093 - Who Do You Want To Punch? When Are We Going?

Chapter 1093: Who Do You Want To Punch? When Are We Going?

Gu Mengmeng fake-laughed before retorting, “F, you really ridiculed yourself to a new level. Respect respect.”

Wabei raised his head and treated them as compliments. He followed Gu Mengmeng and wrapped his fists in front of him, saying, “Thank you thank you.”

After all that ruckus, everyone left to continue whatever they were doing.

The next morning, Gu Mengmeng surprisingly woke up early and even Lea and Elvis were surprised. They circled around the large stone basin and chuckled for quite sometime before leaving the cave.

Auretin had not come back from hunting. Based on Gu Mengmeng’s normal schedule, her breakfast would only start around two hours later but because she woke up early today, Auretin, who always shared meals with them, was suddenly taken off guard.

Barete and Wabei were standing near to the entrance of the cave and they were also surprised when they saw Gu Mengmeng heading out so early in the morning. Barete did not say anything while on the other hand, Wabei looked up lazily and asked, “Why? You can’t bear for me to leave, right? So you’re trying to get intimate with me as much as you can?”

Gu Mengmeng did not retort him as he just chuckled and said, “Yeah, now that you still can move, I’ll command you as much as I can.”

Upon hearing that sentence, Wabei's eyes sparkled instantly. He leaned forward and asked Gu Mengmeng, "Who do you want to punch? When are we going?"

Gu Mengmeng laughed, Wabei was the best opponent in this world.

But he rarely had the energy to battle so Gu Mengmeng did not want to explain that he thought too much about it. She just smiled and instructed Barete, "Call all the single males in the tribe over, let's head out after breakfast."

"Alright." Since Barete had devoted his life to Gu Mengmeng, he need not differentiate whether her commands were correct or wrong. He would do anything she asked him to.

Wabei sneered and dissed, "Why are you calling so many rubbish over? Aren't I good enough?"

Gu Mengmeng pondered over it and smiled to flatter him, explaining, "We need to show the charming heroic side of mighty Wabei to everyone."

Wabei felt a chill down his spine as he stared at Gu Mengmeng in defense, asking, "Are you.....trying to harm me?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded her head honestly and said in all mysteriousness, "I want to make you into steamed snake skin egg and eat you up."

Wabei snorted in despise and said, "I scared you will die from being too full."

Just when they were joking around, Auretin came back from his hunt. When he saw that Gu Mengmeng was awake, he was first taken aback before his face started relaxing as it showed a little change, clearly being in a good mood.

Yeah, they could start breakfast early today.

What a happy day.

He clearly still suffered from face-paralysis but Gu Mengmeng could almost see bright flowers blooming and circling above his head, as if he had installed a beauty filter.....

Face-palming, Gu Mengmeng felt that her weak spot for cuteness might had grown towards a weird direction.

Elvis and Lea did not know what Gu Mengmeng wanted to do but they were happy when they see her being so full with energy.

They were originally still worried that she would be depressed because of Fei Rui's departure, Ian's mating news, Wabei's upcoming hibernation and Sandy's absence.

Auretin was in a good mood because they were starting breakfast earlier and because starting breakfast earlier meant that they could start lunch earlier and that means starting dinner earlier too.....

Wabei was also in a good mood because he could engage himself in a battle.

The single males in the tribe were also happy because they were excited from being awarded a chance to do something for the mighty messenger.

After the crowd of people left the tribe in a mighty formation, creating some ruckus on the way, news of the messenger bringing her tribesmen to eliminate the stray beasts started spreading not long later....

Chapter 1094 - You Finally Believed That I Love You

Chapter 1094: You Finally Believed That I Love You

There were many versions of the rumor in the Beast World, most of them stated how Gu Mengmeng led the tribesmen from Saint Nazaire into engaging in a tough battle with the stray beasts before eventually defeating them until they lost majority of their army and could not harass other tribes in winter. Even those tribes who were the stray beasts' sources of food managed to escape safe and sound.

This directly strengthened Gu Mengmeng's reputation once more.

Of course, many people helped to fan the fire, such as spreading the information, leading discussions and.....restricting the stray beasts from heading out to prey during winter.

But, those are stories for another time, let's not talk about them for the time being.

Gu Mengmeng just stood by the lake, wrapping her arms in front of her with a delighted expression. Other than Gu Mengmeng, the rest of them were extremely confused.

Gu Mengmeng smiled and asked Elvis, "Do you still remember this place?"

Elvis scanned his surroundings and nodded his head with a smile. "I remembered we used to come here before."

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and said, "Yeah, I just wanted to go into the lake to touch a lotus and you thought that I was committing suicide. You even lose your temper at me and gave me a lashing-down."

“Fool.” Elvis rubbed Gu Mengmeng’s little head and sighed. He thought to himself, how was he throwing his temper back then, he was just given a huge scare by her.

He thought that she wanted to transmigrate from the lake and abandon him so when he saw her enter the lake, he lost his breath and his heart forgot to beat. His pupils just enlarged instantly and he could still remember how his blood froze.

The terror and fear he felt back then was engraved in his heart, that feeling of how he saw her slip away from his fingertips and no matter how hard he tried to hold onto her, she escaped with the water ripples and disappeared, pricked his heart endlessly like a sharp needle.

Gu Mengmeng did not retort her as she took two steps backwards and said, “I won’t step close to the water surface, I’ll just stand here so you won’t worry, okay? Hmm?”

Elvis smiled and kissed Gu Mengmeng’s forehead, saying, “Go down if you want to, I’m not worried.”

“Yeah?” Gu Mengmeng was surprised, she clearly recalled how Elvis seemed like he was possessed whenever she stepped close to the lake, why was he suddenly not worried....?

Elvis pulled Gu Mengmeng into his arms and said, “I was too uneasy back then, I was worried that I don’t have a spot in your heart, I was worried that you’ll choose to abandon me without hesitation, I was worried that there’s nothing left for you to miss in this Beast World.....I was so scared that you’ll fall into the lake after saying ‘goodbye’ to me while smiling. You’ll fall so deep into the lake until I can’t touch you anymore.....”

Ha, that time, she had not mated with Lea yet.

Elvis always felt that she only loved Lea and not him, no matter how many times she assured him, he would only treat it as her comfort.

Deep in his heart, he did not believe that she had feelings towards him. He really felt that she would abandon him anytime....

So, despite how torturous it was for him, he tried to match-make Lea and her with all his might so as to put a little more chip on the losing end of her weighing scale. As long as she regrets it when she wants to leave, it will be good if he can stop her in time.”

To put it simply, her act of jumping into the lake after she broke up with Lea created a psychological trauma for Elvis.

Now, he said he was not scared anymore.

So...

Gu Mengmeng laughed and looked up at Elvis, asking him, “So, you finally believed that I love you and won’t leave you?”

Chapter 1095 - Touching The Lotus In The Pond

Chapter 1095: Touching The Lotus In The Pond

“I’m sorry.” Elvis hugged Gu Mengmeng, landing a kiss on her brows. He said with a dotting expression, “For not believing you earlier.”

Gu Mengmeng hugged Elvis back and placed her chin against his chest, saying, “It’s not too late to believe me now.”

Gu Mengmeng tiptoed and kissed Elvis’s chin, before asking, “Can I go into the water now?”

Elvis lowered his head, supporting the back of her head with one hand before kissing her lips quickly. After entangling together for a long time, he then released her and said gently, “I’ll accompany you.”

Wherever Gu Mengmeng was, everyone’s gazes would be fixated on her unknowingly, this was how the kiss.....was performed openly.

Although they had been married for two years and had given birth to four children, Gu Mengmeng still could not put herself to acting lovey-dovey so openly.

Blushing, she dived into the water suddenly and the next second, there were two splashing sounds as Elvis and Lea followed closely behind her, jumping into the water as well.

Gu Mengmeng swam for a short while before she stuck her head out to take a look. She noticed that her two men and Wabei were all in the water but.....they were clearly standing up.

Damn, height was really a pain for her.

The lotus flower were all ruined and there was only a large piece of lotus leaves floating on the center of the lake, moving with the wind.

Gu Mengmeng swam towards the center of the lake while Elvis and Lea followed closely behind her, protecting her on each side. Gu Mengmeng tried to dive deeper into the lake to dig a lotus but she could not use much of her strength when in the water so she could only swim up to the water surface and tell Wabei what she wanted to do before instructing Wabei to act as her coolie.

Wabei stared at Gu Mengmeng with a king's despising gaze for a long time before saying, "Don't fing tell me that you're asking me to help you with this?"

Recalling how happy Wabei was when he was looking forward to a battle, Gu Mengmeng burst out into laughter.

She liked teasing Wabei more and more recently, seeing how he was fuming mad but could not do anything to her, he found it quite interesting.

Although it was her one-sided bullying act against Wabei, Wabei never held grudges against her and instead, their relationship grew better the more she bullied him and this made Gu Mengmeng feel at ease.

Gu Mengmeng really disliked those kind of relationship where she needed to handle their relationship carefully.

Wabei need not dive into the water if he wanted to dig the lotus, he just needed to extend his snake tail into the soil when he was in his half-orc form and then move it around to dig a huge lotus out from the water together with some soil easily.

Wabei did not go easy as he directly threw it towards Gu Mengmeng. Luckily, Elvis had fast reflexes as he instinctively grabbed onto the lotus that was as thick as Gu Mengmeng's thigh before looking at Gu Mengmeng blankly.

Although Elvis had fast reflexes and prevented the lotus from smashing onto Gu Mengmeng's face, he did not prevent the soil on the lotus from splattering all over her face.....

F.....

Now, all that's lacking was a crescent moon for Gu Mengmeng to become Bao Zheng!

"Little! Shit!" Gu Mengmeng rubbed her face carelessly before taking the lotus to chase Wabei around.

Wabei felt an absurd sense of achievement as he rarely successfully took advantage of a situation.

He felt like he had reached the peak of his life.

How could Gu Mengmeng catch Wabei in the water? Even if she had the additional help from the Kiss of the Beast Deity, she still could not outswim a snake.

After chasing after him for half a day, Gu Mengmeng returned to the shore, panting hard. With the lotus in her hands, she pointed at Wabei who was still in the water, provoking her, "If you have the nerve, you better don't come up! If you dare to come on shore today, I'll cut you up into slices and boil you with the lotus!"

Chapter 1096 - I'm Leaving.

Chapter 1096: I'm Leaving.

In the end, Wabei came on shore and Gu Mengmeng did not cut him into slices and boil him with the lotus.

Because he came up after plucking all the lotuses in the water and after he did that, Gu Mengmeng only had those lotuses in her eyes. She totally forgot about her intention to cut Wabei up.

There was some distance between the lake and Saint Nazaire so they only reached the lake in the afternoon after setting off in the morning. Although Wabei had supreme abilities, he only had one tail and even though the other males went down the water to help out, they were not as agile in the water as Wabei so they took a lot of effort to pluck the lotuses out. Thus, when everyone finished plucking the lotuses out, it was already halfway through the night.

Gu Mengmeng finished her dinner during this period of time and she instructed the males to not wash the mud off the lotuses so as to maintain their freshness.

The atmosphere was always good when they camped in the wild for one night.

When Gu Mengmeng was not present, Saint Nazaire was always in a tensed state. The males with partners would make protecting their females as top priority while the single males would protect the tribe with all their might.

Although they were fond of battles, long battles eventually made them extremely tired.

It was unlike tonight where there was no bloodshed, where everyone surrounded the Messenger of the Beast Deity, laughing together and doing something that was not tough but needed a strong common will. This level of physical labor was not enough to make them fatigue. It was the first time in their lives when they were digging lotuses and splattering mud all over one another. At times, they would get it by lotuses and although they were not injured, they still continued playing around, chasing after one another.

Under the quiet night sky, everyone discussed about the interesting happenings in the day, spreading fits of laughter across everyone.

And in this kind of atmosphere, Gu Mengmeng did not make any dreams that night as she had a sound sleep.

The next morning, Gu Mengmeng woke up at her special spot and said with a husky voice, “Good morning~”

Elvis and Lea protected her in between them so that the cold night wind would not get to her. They placed their fluffy large tails gently on her eyes so that the sunlight would not blind her. Upon hearing her gentle good morning, they then kept their tails and landed their soft lips on both sides of her cheeks.

“Morning.”

“Morning.”

One sided was a deep and attractive voice, one side was as soothing as a cello, the combination of two different voices gave off a good harmony, symbolizing Gu Mengmeng’s good mood every morning.

After washing and dressing up, the lotuses were already carried on the backs of the males using tree vines they plucked during the night. Gu Mengmeng obviously need not carry them herself.

Wabei walked to Gu Mengmeng and peered at her in a condescending manner before saying, “I’m leaving.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled and nodded her head, saying, “Yeah, see you next year.”

Wabei did not say anything else as he turned and swam towards the direction of the Snake King valley.

Gu Mengmeng patted her own face before lying in Elvis's arms. After issuing a command, they headed back to Saint Nazaire along the road they came from.

"You said it's for digging the lotuses but it's to send Wabei off, right?" Lea swayed his large tail and looked at Gu Mengmeng slyly.

Gu Mengmeng did not deny as she nodded her head honestly and explained, "I don't like corny farewells and I don't like him leaving after just sputtering a sentence 'I'm leaving'. So, I wanted to send him off, at least he can have a fun and enjoyable time before we separate so that he won't be too lonely during winter. If he needs to sleep for such a long time, he needs at least a little sweet dreams so that it won't be so torturous for him."

Chapter 1097 - Gu Mengmeng Pestering Lea for Children

Chapter 1097: Gu Mengmeng Pestering Lea for Children

After they were back at Saint Nazaire, Gu Mengmeng distributed the lotuses equally among the females and omnivorous beasts in the tribe.

Gu Mengmeng took two shares for herself and Lea, although it was not a lot, it was a side dish more than the previous years. Gu Mengmeng was really going crazy eating stew meat with potato and sweet potato meat paste everyday.

Elvis was seldom at home these days, he would leave the house early in the morning and return late at night, busy hunting and storing food.

He could not help with the vegetables, so he had to do his best to satisfy Gu Mengmeng in terms of meat. Hence, quantity and quality were not his only requirements, he had an almost psychotic pursue for the species. As though he was collecting stamps, he looked as if he wanted to store all kinds of species as food for Gu Mengmeng.

Meanwhile, Lea was in charge of staying at home, accompanying Gu Mengmeng while preserving the preys Elvis had brought back.

Supposedly, this was what Lea liked doing the most, but now...

Lea was supporting her face with both of her hands as she tilted her head and looked at Lea whom was preserving the meat. Occasionally, she would stick out her fingers to poke Lea's chest as she giggled to herself.

"Mengmeng," Lea called out exasperatingly.

Gu Mengmeng smiled, there were rays of sunlight being reflected in her bright eyes as she looked at Lea and asked, “How long is the pregnancy period for foxes? If we try harder during this winter, would we have a nest of foxes when spring comes next year?”

It was the children topic again...

Gu Mengmeng never pester Elvis for children since he had four sons already, it was like he had managed to escape this trial to some extent.

Lea had originally thought that she would forget about this after a few days, but she would seize the chance to pester him about fox cubs whenever they were alone.

He dared not to go strongly against the idea, as she would look at him with teary eyes and asked whether the reason was him not liking her.

God knows how much he wanted a nest of their own children, but the memory of the torture she suffered during labor the last time was engraved in his head, although she had forgotten.

That day, his whole body was shaking, it was as though there was a dead knot of thorns around his heart, every breath he took had led to an excruciating pain on his heart.

She was still not his partner that time, but he had felt the pain to that extent.

Now, he was even more unwilling to let her suffer a single bit.

Only if giving birth was something a male could do for her, he would definitely satisfy her desire of wanting a nest of foxes with his life.

But this was the one thing that he could not take the pain for her.

“Hey, Lea, are you really planning on not touching me for your entire life?”
Gu Mengmeng bent forward, rested her small hand onto Lea’s shoulders and leaned on Lea’s back. Her mouth opened and closed near to Lea’s ears, “When the snow seals off the mountain during the winter, the entire cave will be sealed tightly. If I want to do it... the Fox Seductive Fragrance will be filled in the entire cave and will not disappear, are you sure... you can take that?"

"I am not." Lea ground his teeth in frustration. Did he even need the Fox Seductive Fragrance? With her leaning against him now, he felt like his heart was burning in flames and could barely resist the urge to pounce on her and bully her.

Gu Mengmeng bit onto Lea's earlobes and said, "Then promise me a nest of foxes so that you don't have to resist your urge, alright?"

Chapter 1098 - Let's Not Do It Then

Chapter 1098: Let's Not Do It Then

Lea put down the salt and preserved meat in his hands and changed between his beast form and human form so that he was spotlessly clean from head to toe.

Standing up, he hugged Gu Mengmeng into his arms. His left arm circled around her waist tightly while his right pinched her chin. He adjusted the position of where she was looking at so that her eye could meet his directly.

Lea looked at Gu Mengmeng affectionately in all seriousness and said, “Mengmeng, I am a witch doctor, and I dared to say that I am the best one in the entire Beast World. But even so, when you were in difficult labor when giving birth to Kanwu, I could do nothing except to pray to the Beast Deity, begging him to keep you save. The sense of helplessness when I could not do anything but looking at you on the verge of death would really drive me crazy.”

“But...”Gu Mengmeng wanted to explain that it was more difficult when she was giving birth to the Hede brothers because it was her first time. Moreover, with Snakel's power guarding her, she would definitely be alright.

But Lea did not give her the chance to open her mouth. Everything after her ‘but’ was stopped in her throat as he crushed the words into lingering moans with his tongue.

Lea did not stop the kiss until Gu Mengmeng was lying in his arms weakly, being stripped of all strength, while the Fox Seductive Fragrance had been dispersed around the place. Lea's slender, deep eyes were misty, with an infinite amount of self-restraint and frustrations as he said, “When you were injured back in the Snake King valley, the most fortunate thing I felt was that as a witch doctor, I could save you. But I still wish for my medical expertises to be never used on you.”

“Mengmeng, I have said this before, if you hurt yourself in anyway, it was equivalent to stabbing me in the heart. I was not kidding when I said that.

“The chance for females to survive labor is as low as ten percent. Even if you have Snakel’s power protecting you, the pain will still be felt. The memories of you giving birth to Kanwu still haunted me and Elvis until now. If I had to experience the feeling of not being able to do anything when you are in unbearable pain... Mengmeng, I can tell you this beforehand, I might be slitting my chest open and crush my own heart from not being able to withstand the pain.

“If you insist on giving birth to a nest of foxes despite all this, I will give it to you.”

Gu Mengmeng stopped playing a fool, she became sullen and looked at Lea in a pitiful state, she pouted and muttered to herself, “Alright, let’s not do it then, why did you have to say such scary words?”

Lea heaved a sigh of relief and said, “That’s a promise, never mention the topic of giving birth to fox cubs ever again.”

“Alright, I won’t mention it! Tsk!” With that, Gu Mengmeng turned around and walked into the cave bearing grudges, ignoring Lea.

This was first time Lea let her throw a tantrum without comforting her.

He could not give in on this.

How could he let her do it knowing what she would be experiencing during labor?

Sighing in frustration, Lea went back to the pile of salt and squatted down to continue preserving the meat.

He looked back at the entrance of the cave and there was not a sound, she must be really angry...

“Only if you are like Auretin, I could make lots and lots of delicious food to please you.”

Lea smiled helplessly, before telling himself to remind Elvis that other than land beasts, Mengmeng also liked fishes in the waters and bird eggs on trees, so that he could bring some back the next time.

Gu Mengmeng threw the tantrum for two, three days, while Elvis and Lea were acting in a careful manner at home. Finally, Elvis could no longer stand Gu Mengmeng being in low spirits and suggested a plan.

Chapter 1099 - The Bottom Line That Cannot Be Crossed

Chapter 1099: The Bottom Line That Cannot Be Crossed

“Xiao Meng.” Elvis put Gu Mengmeng onto his lap, supporting his shoulders with both his hands so that he was in level with her as he looked into her eyes. He said, “I know that you have been feeling down these few days, but not letting you get hurt is the bottom line that cannot be crossed for me and Lea. So... Do you want to take a nap to see the Beast Deity? You can see if he has a ‘cheat for the dear daughter’ like the Kiss of the Beast Deity that can eliminate the pain from labor for you. If there is, we will let you do it. But if even the Beast Deity does not have a solution... please don’t mention about this again and also don’t be upset about this, is that alright?”

Gu Mengmeng smacked her head and said, “Ah... Why didn’t I think of that?!”

With that, she peeked at Lea, waiting for him to express his views.

Lea always had ways to deal with Gu Mengmeng. Whether it was her crying or throwing a tantrum, he could always please her afterwards.

But this time, only this time, her neither crying nor throwing a tantrum was more cruel than the previous time in the stray beast camp, where she chased Elvis and him out of the cave. The absolute cold violence was driving him crazy.

In the past few days, he had almost given up and say “Do it, do it then, at most I will just crush my heart and commit suicide once you are in pain!”.

Now seeing that she had given in, he suddenly felt as though the spring had arrived.

Sitting beside Elvis, Lea held Gu Mengmeng's hand to his lips and kissed it as he said, "You have to promise, if the Beast Deity could do nothing about it, you will never be upset about this ever again."

Gu Mengmeng nodded and smiled the first time in the past few days.

Turning around, Gu Mengmeng laid on the bed and slowly closed her eyes, while still smiling faintly.

When layers of white fog surrounded her, Gu Mengmeng saw Beast Deity standing on the clouds and she had a guilty smile on.

The previous time she was here, she had promised to be a filial daughter and come back here to watch television dramas with him whenever she was free.

But after what happened to Oakley, she suddenly had a deep insight to farewells and she anxiously wanted to treasure everyone around her...

Hence, she had totally forgotten what she had promised the Beast Deity.

As the saying goes, those who are guilty smile first.

Gu Mengmeng smiled like a sunflower and pounced into the Beast Deity's arms. She said with a sweet Taiwanese accent, "Papa~ Your little girl miss you so so so much~"

The Beast Deity, being experienced after all, did not laugh out at Gu Mengmeng's fawning manner. He remained the usual kind state and rubbed Gu Mengmeng's head lightly. He said, "Right, a married daughter is like spilled water, although I was mentally prepared, I was still looking forward to it when you said you were going to come back and accompany more the previous time..."

What——!

Gu Mengmeng felt a stab on her heart.

She blinked her eyes a few times and the words ‘please forgive me’ were clearly written on her face.

The Beast Deity held Gu Mengmeng’s hands and walked towards the two-seater wooden bench as he said, “It’s alright. Little magpie, with a long tail, married with a wife and forgot the mom.”

With that, the Beast Deity paused for a moment, looked back and Gu Mengmeng, smiled and said, “Well, married with a partner and forgot the dad, it’s the same. It’s alright, I am fine, I was prepared for this. You said it the last time, that being parents and children just means that in this lifetime, you will be destined to watch their backs fading further and further away. You stand at one end of the road as you watch them disappear and the area where the road turns, and they will use their back views to tell you, you don’t have to chase, you don’t have to chase.”

Chapter 1100 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1100: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

This...

He definitely sounded angry.

Gu Mengmeng hugged onto the Beast Deity's arm and shook it. She acted coquettishly and said, "Father, I know my mistakes~ Hey, don't be angry, don't be, please?"

The Beast Deity heaved a long sigh, held Gu Mengmeng and pulled her over to the long bench. He said, "Alright, you heartless little girl. Now that I have scolded you, I am no longer angry. Since you are back, let's watch television dramas before talking about pocket money."

"Alright." Gu Mengmeng held onto the Beast Deity's arm and sat on the long bench with him obediently, resting her furry head onto his arms. Perhaps it was because they had spent a long time together, or maybe it was her calling him father every time, these two together indeed resembled a pair of father and daughter, if one ignored the overly-young appearance of the Beast Deity.

The Beast Deity waved his hands and a large area of white fog in front of them disappeared.

In front of them was MonSir company's internal forum. A post titled 'Mrs. CEO walked around dominantly to show others her possession of the CEO, while the CEO, being overly-protective of his wife, accompanied her affectionately throughout. PS: Photos reveal the truth!' was upvoted to HOT in a few minutes' time, before... getting deleted.

Next up was a notice directly issued from the CEO's office: The reason behind deleting the post was the CCTV image provided by the post being too blurry, unable to portray Mrs. CEO's beauty and knowledge perfectly. After zooming in twenty times, there was mosaic on Mrs. CEO's face and her eyelashes even appeared to be distorted from some angles!

Regarding that, CEO was furious!

The solutions are as followed:

1. The CCTV in the entire company must be upgraded to the newest immediately, the quality of image must be number one in the entire world, the quality of screenshots must be in a way that every pore could be clearly seen if the image was to be projected onto the LED screen on the exterior wall of the company's building.
2. The original poster had damaged the image of Mrs. CEO by posting her image without permission, MonSir company served all rights to sue him regarding portrait rights.
3. All employees to proceed to the newest pinned post immediately to register and remember Mrs. CEO's looks firmly. If any employee in MonSir company were to not recognize Mrs. CEO under any circumstances, it would mean that the employee lack the basic loyalty to MonSir company and would be fired.

Following this, a new post was pinned officially, the post was highlighted and in bold, the eye-catching red font was unique in the corporate's forum.

The title was Mrs. CEO walked around dominantly to show others her possession of the CEO, while the CEO, being overly-protective of his wife, accompanied her affectionately throughout. PS: Photos reveal the truth! [Version 2.0 HD]'

The content of the post was kept exactly the same as the original, only the pictures were replaced with the high-definition ones that were corrected by the IT department in a rush. The images from the CCTV were carefully picked frame by frame by the IT and publicity department. CEO only had one order, Mrs. CEO must be looking good in every photo, regardless of how he looked.

The post was like an atomic bomb being dropped in the corporate forum, even the warehouse keeper Uncle Wong whom had been quiet for years was alerted to it.

After half an hour, everyone that had replied to the post, complimenting Mrs. CEO, swearing loyalty to Mrs. CEO and explaining to her how CEO had never treated anyone so well in all these years had received an internal message of pay raise...

Chapter 1101 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1101: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Well, the whole MonSir company knew that the CEO was pleased today, except the female lead whom was peeling apple attentively in the CEO office — Gu Mengmeng.

After she peeled finish the apple, Gu Mengmeng cut it into four parts, removing the core and brought it to Snakel. She asked, “Do you want to eat it?”

Snakel closed the computer in front of him lightly, supported his chin with his hand as he looked at Gu Mengmeng, smiled lightly and said, “You can have it.”

“Oh.” Gu Mengmeng thought that Snakel did not want it as most boys seemed to not like fruits that much. She did not restrain herself, took a slice and bit it. The sweetness as the juice spread in her mouth made her smiled in satisfaction.

Snakel took Gu Mengmeng’s hand and sent the half slice of bitten apple into his mouth, before nodding and saying, “Yes, delicious.”

Gu Mengmeng blushed and said, “Didn’t you say you are not eating it?”

Snakel raised his eyebrow and asked, “Since when?”

Gu Mengmeng was speechless, she took one from the remaining three slices on her hand and passed to Snakel, but Snakel shook his head and said, “I don’t like apples.”

“Then why did you...”

“Except those eaten by you.” Snakel chuckled. He then pulled open one of the drawers underneath his table and took out a sapphire blue box.

His hands apply pressure slightly and pulled Gu Mengmeng into his arms. His long arms circled around her waist as he opened the box with his slender fingers. There was a delicate necklace in it, the letters M and S were designed to resemble the electrocardiogram, the bottom left of M was connected to the top right of S, forming a heart shape joining the necklace.

Snakel rested his chin on Gu Mengmeng’s shoulders, tilted his face and his lips brushed past Gu Mengmeng’s cheeks lightly. There was an amorousness in the atmosphere.

“Do you like it?”

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips and asked, “For me?”

Snakel chuckled and said, “Whose name deserves to be connected to mine except for yours?”

Did that mean that M was the first letter of Meng in Gu Mengmeng, while S was the first letter of Snakel?

Gu Mengmeng felt sweet, she glanced at him and asked, “When did you prepare this?”

With Gu Mengmeng turning around, her lips were directly next to Snakel’s, although it was just a light brush, Gu Mengmeng blushed and backed away instinctively. Her eyes darted around the room and dared not to look at Snakel.

Snakel did not force her, but the smile on his face widened as he said, “May I help you with it?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and held her hair up.

Snakel helped her with the necklace gently, before stroking the necklace lightly with his fingers. He said with a deep gaze, “Remember, never remove it. This necklace symbolizes that you belong to me.”

Gu Mengmeng was pretty touched before this, but why did she feel like the pink bubbles had just burst?

Symbol of her belonging to him... Was it the same concept as a dog collar?

“Do you not like it?” Snakel asked.

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips and said, “It was not that I don’t like it, but others give couple rings and things like that as present, why did you choose a necklace?”

Snakel hid his laughter by pretending to cough. He looked at Gu Mengmeng full of affection and said faintly, “I only give rings once in my life, if you are willing to marry me now, I will give it to you now.”

Chapter 1102 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1102: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Before he finished his sentence, Snakel had opened the same drawer again and took out a red velvet box. He opened it, revealing a pair of snake-shaped rings with both the men and women design side by side. The two snakes were mingling with each other, with a diamond in the middle of the. The diamond was not exaggerating in size, but it was so dazzling that even amateurs could tell it was priceless.

Once the two rings were separated, the diamond was carved on the woman's one. Although it was something extra from thin air, it did not stand out awkwardly. The woman ring alone just looked like a snake coiling around the diamond, protecting it. It was special and delicate.

On the other hand, the man's ring looked like something was missing, there was a sense of imperfection from the incomplete snake.

"This..." Gu Mengmeng looked at the pair of rings, confused. She did not understand why the rings Snakel had prepared were of the snake design.

Snakel touched the diamond on the ring and said, "Did you know? Heart is not the weakness for snakes, it is the gallbladder. The position of this diamond is right where the gallbladder of a male snake is. Him being willing to let the female protect his gallbladder means that the female values more than his life to him. When the two rings are together, they are a mingling pair, once they are separated, the male is incomplete... A snake without its gallbladder is a dead one."

Snakel held onto Gu Mengmeng's hand, put it next to his lips and kissed it. He said, "I am a happy man with you next to my side and I will die if you leave me. When I help you wear this ring, it would mean that I have handed my life to you. I have prepared the ring since a long time ago, but what about you? Are you ready to wear it?”

Gu Mengmeng did not know why, but when she heard him saying ‘A snake without its gallbladder is a dead one’, she felt like her heart had been stung by a bee, the hint of pain made her frowned.

Gu Mengmeng closed the box of rings, shook her head and said, “We have just gotten into this relationship, it’s too fast...”

Snakel did not force her, she had not even reached the legal age of marriage after all. Besides, he would never allow anyone to take her away from him with or without the certificate of marriage. This pair of rings would be on her finger sooner or later.

He would not tell Gu Mengmeng what happened in the Beast World, he designed this pair of rings to let her know that he would be willing to slit open his chest and take the gallbladder out no matter how many times. She was more important than his own life whether they were in the Beast World or here.

“Your entire life, I will only borrow this one time, but this one time will be the rest of my life.” Snakel landed a light kiss onto Gu Mengmeng’s cheek and said gently but in an undefiable manner, “Twomeng, we have a long, long time for us to be together, so let’s take it slow, I won’t rush you. But, you have to know one thing, I will never allow you to take back your words once you have promised to be together with me. As long as you don’t leave me, I can grant all your other wishes.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled and asked, “All my other wishes?”

“Yes.” Snakel nodded.

Gu Mengmeng smiled and said, “Well, then how about a dog?”

Gu Mengmeng was fond of furry things, but she had never kept a pet due to financial reasons.

She had imagined how wonderful it would be if she could keep a pet with her boyfriend one day.

But, Snakel raised his eyebrows as his face darkened.

He could still remember how Lea was bragging around in front of him just because he had a tail.

Chapter 1103 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1103: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chuckling, Snakel asked, “What kind of dog do you want?”

Gu Mengmeng pondered for a moment and replied, “Well... The obedient and beautiful ones like golden retrievers or samoyed, it would look cool to bring them around for a walk.”

Snakel made Gu Mengmeng stand up and face him by supporting her waist, he then smiled and said, “I have a better suggestion.”

“Yes?” Gu Mengmeng was curious.

Snakel pulled out his tie and stuffed it into Gu Mengmeng’s hand, before standing up. He supported himself with both hands on the office table next to Gu Mengmeng as his upper body leaning inwards to draw Gu Mengmeng nearer under his chest. His lips went closed to her ears as he said, “I will be your dog, listen to your order and let you look at me however you want.”

Gu Mengmeng’s face was bright red, she tightened her grip on Snakel’s tie instinctively and pulled. Snakel took the opportunity to fall on Gu Mengmeng and pressed her against the office table. The smile on his lips spread to his eyes as he said jokingly, “Besides, walking me will definitely be cooling than walking a golden retriever or a samoyed. Don’t you agree, my girlfriend?”

“You... Get up from me first...” Their position was so intimate that Gu Mengmeng felt breathless.

But Snakel pursed his lips and seemed to be deep in thoughts. After a moment of pondering, he then said, “You have to give some rewards if you want your pets to obey to you, am I right?”

“What... What rewards?” Gu Mengmeng whispered.

Snakel kissed Gu Mengmeng on the lips lightly and said, “Rub my head and say ‘My Snakel is so obedient’.”

Gu Mengmeng blushed and felt like her nose was bleeding from Snakel’s cuteness.

Raising her hand, Gu Mengmeng rubbed the top of Snakel’s head lightly and said softly, “Well... My... My Snakel is so obedient...”

Snakel pecked on Gu Mengmeng’s lips again in satisfaction, before finally standing up straight.

Snakel was smiling the whole time, he had been jealous of how Lea staying in Gu Mengmeng’s arms while she helped him brushed his fur. Now that he had finally experience it too... Well, it was a really good feeling.

It was no wonder that the fox did not mind others calling him a beast pet at all.

If being a pet could be rewarded with such gentleness from her, there was no difference being a dog or a snake to Snakel.

Knock knock knock, there was someone knocking at the door.

Gu Mengmeng hurriedly stood up properly and helped Snakel adjusted his suit and tie.

However, there was a crease on Snakel’s suit from her pressing on him just now and could not be straightened after a few tries.

But Snakel did not mind it and said directly, “Come in.”

Gu Mengmeng took a step back instinctively, but was stopped by Snakel as he hugged her from the chest. Snakel looked down in her eyes and said, “Continue adjusting, don’t push me away.”

The secretary who had come in to report felt the pain from their public display of affection, but being experienced in adapting new situations, he had quickly regain his composure after being stunned for two seconds. He said, “CEO, you have a meeting in five minutes, the senior executives are already waiting for you in the conference room.”

Snakel did not reply, he put up two fingers signaling for the secretary to get out, meaning that he had understood.

The secretary, being used to Snakel’s simple and straightforward way, bowed respectfully and said, “CEO, madam, I shall leave first, I will be there if you need anything.”

Snakel smiled, seeing how Gu Mengmeng was stunned for a moment because of the ‘madam’ and staring straight at him with her watery eyes pleased him. He decided to give the secretary a pay raise!

Chapter 1104 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1104: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

“Twomeng, come over.” Snakel pulled Gu Mengmeng into the resting room of his office. Then, he opened the wardrobe and said, “Choose one piece for me.”

Gu Mengmeng knew that it was Snakel’s office hours now. As a CEO, he had to dress appropriately and his honorable status defined that he would never wear suits with any creases when attending important meetings.

“Don’t hug me in the office in the future.” Gu Mengmeng muttered softly.

Snakel hugged her from behind and asked, “Why?”

Gu Mengmeng explained, “You’ve to change your clothes after hugging me, it’s too troublesome.”

“I don’t find it troublesome.” Snakel laughed, he was aware that his Twomeng had misunderstood but he did not want to explain because she would know why he wanted to change his clothes really soon.

The corners of Gu Mengmeng’s lips curved upwards upon hearing Snakel’s words. Her grin was really pretty.

Gu Mengmeng took a suit in dark coffee shade and placed it on Snakel’s body, trying to see whether it fit him. This action of her made her widen her eyes in shock.

The business suit was a four-piece set that looked like only top-quality people who walked out of elite magazines would wear. The word ‘Meng’ was stitched on its left chest.

It was not the letter M, it was the Chinese character ‘Meng’.

Gu Mengmeng blinked her eyes at Snakel and stuttered, “This.....?”

Snakel laughed and kissed her surprised eyes, then he said, “I prepared this long ago but I only have the right to wear this today. I wanted to tattoo your name on my chest but my body is yours, I can’t use it as I wish without getting your permission so I could only resort to stitching your name on every of my clothing so I can announce to the world that I’m.....yours.”

He gave her a necklace and told her that that was a proof to show that she belonged to him. She was still complaining internally that she seemed like a leashed dog.

But he.....

made it more detailed and delicate on himself.

It was almost blocking all possibilities of others’ fantasizing about him without leaving even the tiniest space.

He really gave up the entire forest for a little tree like her, and it was a forest as big as the Amazon jungle.

Gu Mengmeng pounced into Snakel’s arms and hugged him tightly, saying, “You’re really the best boyfriend in the world.”

Snakel laughed and hugged Gu Mengmeng back.

Every time she was in his arms, he felt that his life was filled up completely and this feeling made him feel that his life was in so much happiness.

Moreover, his body was warm now so even if he hugged her, he need not worry that she would be uncomfortable from all the chilling.

“Yeah, in the future, I’ll be the best husband in the world too.”

Gu Mengmeng blushed and shifted her gaze to Snakel’s office desk upon instincts.

Snakel cupped Gu Mengmeng's little face and kissed her, saying, "Alright, I'll go for my meeting now. Wait for me here, okay?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded and the next second, Snakel wore the suit with the word 'Meng' stitched over his left chest and walked out of the resting room, heading for the meeting room.

After Snakel left, the air in the office started being colder and Gu Mengmeng could finally breathe. She lied on the sofa and touched the necklace hanging on her neck. The necklace that was reflecting a dazzling glow from the sunlight became warm together with her body temperature.

"Good.....husband.....mine?" Gu Mengmeng muttered to herself blankly, "Can I...have...a family too? Can I have a family.....that won't chase me out....and have family members that take care and cherish me?"

Chapter 1105 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1105: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Gu Mengmeng wanted to stand up but her phone vibrated suddenly.

Lowering her head, she saw the name '743' on her screen, ha, the seventh page, fourth paragraph, third line.....

"Hello." Gu Mengmeng was confused, wasn't he in a meeting? Why was he calling her?"

"I've a document on the table, bring it to the meeting room for me."

"Oh." Gu Mengmeng stood up and walked to his office desk. There were two documents in blue folders there so she asked, "There are two copies here, which one do you need?"

"Anyone will do."

Any.....one?

Gu Mengmeng frowned in confusion.

Snakel added an explanation instantly, "They're both the same, just bring one over, hurry."

"Oh." Gu Mengmeng did not suspect him any further as she took one folder and left the office.

The meeting room was one level below where Gu Mengmeng was. She took the lift reserved for the CEO and there was already someone waiting for her at the doors. Once the doors opened, the person gave her a 90 degree bow in respect and called out, "Madam."

Gu Mengmeng was given a shock, she did not have the chance to explain herself when the person gestured a 'please' motion and led the way in a flurry.

Gu Mengmeng could only follow behind him and when they reached the entrance of the meeting room, the person pushed the soundproof glass door and invited Gu Mengmeng in.

"Thank you." Gu Mengmeng was still not used to this kind of treatment, she actually had hands so she could open the door herself.

"Twomeng, come over." Snakel stretched his palm out.

Gu Mengmeng thought that he needed the document urgently so she rushed to behind the meeting table and sent the document to him.

In the end, Snakel did not even look at the document as he threw it aside and grabbed onto Gu Mengmeng's arm, giving it a tug. The next second, Gu Mengmeng fell into Snakel's arms.

Snakel sighed and said, "Indeed, I need to hug you to feel assured.....I really miss you after not seeing you for five minutes."

As Snakel said, he buried his head into the pit of Gu Mengmeng's neck and rubbed it slightly so that he could sniff her scent as much as he want.

"Don't joke around, everyone's watching." Gu Mengmeng struggled but Snakel had no intention to let her go. He looked up from the pit of Gu Mengmeng's neck and coldly scanned the higher-ups sitting around the meeting table. Everyone lowered their noble heads in great unison, as if having a 'I can't see you so you can't see me' effect over their heads.

"Nobody's watching, let me hug you for a while." Snakel was very satisfied that the managers he hired were tactful enough, what can he do, his Twomeng gets shy too easily.

Seeing how Gu Mengmeng was still struggling, Snakel inched close to her ear and whispered, "Be good and let me hug you or else.....shall we do something else here?”

Gu Mengmeng's face was burning hot and she did not dare to easily move around again but hugging under this kind of situation was really not appropriate, it felt as if the King Zhou of Shang was hugging onto Daji when he was holding the court.

“Don't be like that, they would say that I'm a dangerous vixen.....”

Snakel chuckled and pecked Gu Mengmeng's lips, saying, “Fool, my entire wealth is more than sufficient to raise you this vixen.”

Gu Mengmeng was brought to laughter by Snakel's words. Upon seeing Gu Mengmeng smile, Snakel smiled along too, creating radiance to the entire meeting room.

“Let's continue.” Snakel commanded, finally continuing the meeting.

Their discussion was too deep so Gu Mengmeng completely did not understand at all. She could only stare at the document thrown away by Snakel while staying in his arms in a daze.

Chapter 1106 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1106: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

11:50 in the afternoon, Snakel closed his laptop.

Everyone in the meeting room stood up in complete unison, giving Snakel a bow before hurriedly sneaking out. They still closed the meeting room door conveniently for them.

“Your request for the document.....is a fake move, right?” Gu Mengmeng finally opened her mouth to ask him.

Snakel tapped Gu Mengmeng’s little nose and praised her, “So smart.”

Gu Mengmeng immersed herself in the sweetness as she lowered her head and smiled, saying, “No wonder you said they were the same, turns out that you did not need them at all so you just asked me to take any of them.”

Snakel hugged Gu Mengmeng and kissed her, saying, “Were you bored to death?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and said, “I didn’t understand what you guys were saying but it wasn’t boring.”

Because Snakel was too charming. The meeting room was in half-darkness because they were using the projector. When Gu Mengmeng was lying in Snakel’s arms, she could see his face in the light and in the dark at times with help from the projector. That focused gaze was strict and precise, resembling a snake which had chosen its prey in the dark, calm and at ease. He gave off a unique sense of confidence and aura that only animals on top of the food chain had, causing one to have no choice but to admit defeat.

And this outstanding man is her boyfriend.

Upon thinking about this, Gu Mengmeng's little heart started thumping out of control, how did she have the time to feel bored?

And Snakel naturally did not ignore the worship little gaze of Gu Mengmeng, or else he would not have allowed the meeting to continue.

After all, he opened the company to garner her favor and not to let her suffer.

Yeah, seems like the information in her memories was not entirely wrong, at least her previous sentence 'men who were serious and worked hard are the most charming' was real.

Their lunch was take-away food ordered by Snakel's secretary, after a simple meal, he continued a new round of meetings.

Snakel needed to use one weekend to finish all the unfinished job from a week so his workload was quite heavy.

When they wanted to leave at night, they realized that it started raining.

Snakel drove from MonSir company's underground car-park to his villa's underground car-park so there was no need to hold an umbrella as the two of them reached home safely.

After they returned home, Snakel pulled Gu Mengmeng to he room's entrance. Holding her waist with one hand and putting one hand against the door frame, he leaned forward and landed a peck on her forehead, saying, "You must be very tired from today, right? Hurry and rest well."

Gu Mengmeng nodded and wanted to leave when she noticed that Snakel had no intention to release her. She was still being held against his chest, how could she leave?

Receiving Gu Mengmeng's inquiring gaze, Snakel pursed his lips and explained, "I can't bear to let go.....why don't you invite me in for a cup of tea?"

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and reject him, “I don’t think I have tea in my room. Are you not done from hugging me after doing that for a day? Hurry and let me go.”

Snakel, however, made use of this chance to take in a deep breath and hug Gu Mengmeng tightly in his embrace. He said, “Yeah, I’ve hugged you for a day so I’ve gotten used to it. Now that I release you, I feel so empty.....and uncomfortable.”

Gu Mengmeng pushed Snakel’s chest lightly and hesitated for some time before presenting him with her own lips voluntarily. She kissed Snakel’s cheek and said, “Alright, goodnight.”

After she finished speaking, she lowered her body and sneaked out from under Snakel’s arm, opened the door, entered her room and then closed the door.

Leaning against the door, she slid down to the floor and held her heart that had thumped out of control. Blushing, she giggled secretly.

Boom~

Lightning struck across the sky, brightening the back of Snakel’s head as he stood by the room entrance.

Chapter 1107 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1107: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Snakel laughed, a smile, saying that he was determined to get her, instantly forming on his face. He raised his hand and knocked the door, calling out, “Twomeng, there’s thunder, I’m scared.....”

Gu Mengmeng could not stop herself as she burst out into laughter.

She did not open the door as she just sat behind it and say, “You’re a domineering CEO how can you be scared of thunder? I received primary school education, don’t lie to me.”

Snakel squatted down outside the door, accurately placing his hand on where the back of Gu Mengmeng’s head was behind the door. Chuckling, he said, “I’m your dog, on a stormy night accompanied by peals of thunder, does your heart not ache for letting your pet face the lightning flashes and thunder rumbles alone? Huh?”

Pfft...

He still remembered that?

“Twomeng, did I tell you before.....I’ve a spare key for every room?”

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback as she immediately turned her head to stare at Snakel from behind the door.

Snakel seemed like he could feel her gaze through the door as he smirked and continued, “Open the door yourself and accompany your pet. Or else.....I’ll open the door with the spare key and accompany my girlfriend.

Yeah, there's a difference between the two choices, you know what I'm talking about."

She understood it in a split second.....

Damn it, Gu Mengmeng sighed with emotion over her overflowing knowledge again.

Creak.

Gu Mengmeng turned the doorknob lightly before moving in slightly.

The door only opened a little bit but it was enough to shine light into Snakel's entire world.

He pushed the door and entered the room, pinning Gu Mengmeng to the bed without saying a word. He pressed his body against hers and kissed her deeply before saying, "You actually locked your dog outside, you're such a cruel owner, do you think I should bite you? Huh?"

"Don't don't don't, our Snakel is the best, don't bite me." Gu Mengmeng admitted defeat.

No matter how many times he heard the title 'our Snakel', he would not get sick of it.

Snakel was in a good mood but he was driven by a stronger desire to bite her.

Contemplating over it for a while, he bit her little chin lightly and hugged her in his arms, saying, "I'll let you off this time, don't lock me outside in the future or else I'll let you see how sharp your dog's teeth are."

Not locking him outside.....meant that he could come in as he wish?

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and rejected him, "That.....
I.....can't....."

Snakel pinched her little face and said, “The thing I dislike the most is you shaking your head at me.”

“But...”

“I’ll just hug you, I won’t do other things.” Snakel said, “But, if you reject me again.....I might not be able to control myself. I’ll have you first and then bring you to register our marriage in Europe. Yeah, you don’t have to be 20 years old to be engage in Europe.”

“You.....you promise?” Gu Mengmeng was aware of Snakel’s capabilities, he would definitely be able to do whatever he said.

Snakel nodded in serious earnestness and assured her, “Yeah, I promise.”

Gu Mengmeng knew that there was no use in rejecting him any further, the result would only be disadvantageous to her. Moreover, Snakel had already promised her, she believe that he would not go against his promise.

Thus, she nodded and said, “Then, help me up first, I’ll go wash up.”

“Together.” Snakel flipped his body and stood up before pulling Gu Mengmeng into his arms. They entered the bathroom to wash up like conjoined twin babies and then returned to the bed, lying down properly. After turning the light off, Snakel landed a kiss on Gu Mengmeng’s forehead before saying his last word for the day in deep affection to end this wonderful day on a good note, “Goodnight.”

Yeah, to snakes, rainy days always made them happy.

The white mist started becoming thicker again. Gu Mengmeng gave a bitter laugh after seeing the screen disappear amongst the white mist and commented, “Snakel is really.....still as domineering as ever.”

Chapter 1108 - Don't Be A Coward, Just Give Birth!

Chapter 1108: Don't Be A Coward, Just Give Birth!

The Beast Deity chuckled and said, "Do you think we need to mosaic the next episode?"

Gu Mengmeng rolled her eyes at the Beast Deity and said, "Is there any Father who will discuss this kind of content with their daughter?"

The Beast Deity thought over it and said, "That's true too. For the development of my daughter's mental health, if there's really any unharmonious content, I'll filter them out and not air them."

Gu Mengmeng face-palmed, expressing her helplessness.

The Beast Deity pinched Gu Mengmeng's little face and said, "Alright, now that you've watched finished the drama, say, what are you here for?"

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips and was a little shy but she still told Lea's and Elvis's worry to the Beast Deity.

The Beast Deity chuckled and said, "When is giving birth painless? With Snakel's abilities, you won't die, why are you still scared? Don't be a coward, just give birth!"

Gu Mengmeng sighed and gave a bitter expression, saying, "I said that too but Elvis and Lea didn't agree....."

"Then don't give birth!" The Beast Deity said.

Gu Mengmeng looked at the Beast Deity coldly and said, "Father, can you please be more firm on your stand?"

The Beast Deity shrugged his shoulders and explained, “The children’s beast Father is not willing to do it, why should you still persist in giving birth to children for him?”

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head and said, “I owe them too much when it comes to relationships. I hope to make it up for them as much as I can in other areas. Elvis already has a nest of little wolves, if I don’t give birth to a nest of little foxes for Lea.....”

The Beast Deity laughed, shaking his head helplessly as he questioned, “Other males keep trying to convince their females to give birth to their children with all kinds of ways, why is it the opposite when it comes to you?”

Gu Mengmeng was not angry after being mocked as a good-for-nothing by her Father. She just swayed the Beast Deity’s arm and asked, “Do you have any ideas.....Father~~~”

The Beast Deity sighed and answered her, “I have a solution but you’ve to find it yourself.”

“Huh?” Gu Mengmeng stared at the Beast Deity in confusion.

The Beast Deity said without much expression, “The Love of the Sky.”

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback before she said with a dim look, “One of the seven treasures?”

The Beast Deity nodded and said, “The Kiss of the Ocean is forgiveness, the Soul of the Forest is life, the Love of the Sky is light....”

Gu Mengmeng continued the Beast Deity words softly, “If it’s light.....it can dispel all darkness, including all pain.....right?”

This concept was what Wang Xiaoxin told Snakel’s Father before in Snakel’s memories.

The Beast Deity nodded and said, “Yes, if you wear the Love of the Sky on yourself during your labor, you won’t be in so much pain.”

Gu Mengmeng was quite demoralized as she lowered her head to fiddle with her fingers, saying, “I don’t want to bring all those things together.....tsk.....”

The Beast Deity placed his hand on Gu Mengmeng’s shoulder and said, “Even if you bring them all together, the last leading power is in your hands, do you know that?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and said, “I know, give me some time to think about it.”

The Beast Deity did not say anything, he could provide some help to Gu Mengmeng but he could not decide Gu Mengmeng’s decisions, after all, his identity destined that he could not interfere in any matters of the Beast World.

Gu Mengmeng breathed in deeply and asked again, “Then about Wabei.....”

The Beast Deity shook his head. Gu Mengmeng continued, “Yeah, I understand, you still can’t say it. That will do, I won’t ask again, I’ll head back first.”

The Beast Deity nodded, watching Gu Mengmeng leave as he just stood on the clouds, waving his hand. “I’ll await your next visit so that we can watch the drama together. If there’s any strange scenes, I’ll mosaic them for you.”

Chapter 1109 - I Hid Something From You Guys

Chapter 1109: I Hid Something From You Guys

Whenever she wakes up, the first thing she saw would always be Elvis's concerned eyes.

Gu Mengmeng recalled that Elvis told her before that he was always restless when she went to see the Beast Deity.

There was no reason for his restlessness but Gu Mengmeng could not possibly say that he was like the man of qi who was haunted by the fear that the sky might fall

At times, men's sixth sense can be very accurate.

"What's the matter?" Elvis asked while supporting Gu Mengmeng up. Before he even finish asking his question, he had sent a cup of water to Gu Mengmeng's lips.

Gu Mengmeng drank a mouthful of water and sat up straight. Looking at Elvis, she clamped her lips and hesitated for a while but still called Lea over. The three of them sat facing one another before Gu Mengmeng announced, "There's something I have to tell both of you truthfully."

"Hmm?" Elvis asked softly.

Gu Mengmeng took in a deep breath and said, "The Beast Deity told me that if I want to get rid of the pain during labor, I just have to get the Love of the Sky."

Lea's smile clearly froze, an unbelievable expression written on his face.

To prevent Gu Mengmeng from suffering again, he tried his best to suppress the desire to have children of his and her blood. He suppressed it to the extent that he conceded and felt that he would never have his own children in this lifetime.

But now, he had a chance.

This enormous surprise made him blank and too lost for words.

After a long time, he stretched out both his shaky arms to hold Gu Mengmeng's shoulders before he asked in utmost cautiousness, "Mengmeng, don't use this kind of thing to con me.....you know I can't withstand it."

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and explained herself, "I won't lie to you and Elvis. Even if you guys don't blame me, I will still not lie to you guys."

Lea tightened his grip on his arm, locking Gu Mengmeng firmly in his embrace. It was a strength almost equaling to wanting to rub her into his chest as it almost made her lose her breath.

Gu Mengmeng could feel Lea shaking, she could clearly feel his excitement.

How did he not care whether he had kids?

How did he not envy other people at all?

His envy made him almost crazy, his desire for children made him almost a demon.

But because he could not bear to see her undergo labor pains, he destroyed all his expectations with his bare hands, not allowing even the slightest smoke to appear.

He treated her too well. To treat her well, he could treat anyone, including himself, cruelly.

“I’ll find the Love of the Sky and after that, we can have our nest of little foxes.....you like little foxes so much, I’ll cooperate with you to have as many little foxes as you want.....I won’t defy you again. Finally, I can give you what you want.....Mengmeng, you’ve suffered unfairness this period of time. You were sad because of my attitude, right? Hmm?”

Lea cupped Gu Mengmeng’s little face and kissed it with his heart aching. This period of time, Gu Mengmeng tried her best to shine up to him with both forceful methods and acts of connivance just to give birth to a nest of little foxes. His heart really ached badly when he saw her compromising out of consideration for the general interest. However, he could not bear for her to be in pain so he kept rejecting her, avoiding her and even scolding her.

Whenever he pushed her away, it hurt as though a layer of his skin was peeled off. But how could that level of pain equal to the pain as though he had a fish bone stuck in his throat whenever he saw her frowning in unfairness?

Now everything’s settled, as long as they found the Love of the Sky, he could cherish and baby her however he wanted and he need not push her away again.

“Mengmeng, why are you.....unhappy?” Lea saw how Gu Mengmeng wanted to say something but could not bring herself to. She was clearly expecting a nest of little foxes so much, now that he had finally agreed, why was she unhappy?

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips and confessed, “About the seven treasures.....I hid something from you guys.”

Chapter 1110 - Don't Give Birth, We're Not Giving Birth!

Chapter 1110: Don't Give Birth, We're Not Giving Birth!

“What?” Lea asked while supporting Gu Mengmeng’s shoulders.

Gu Mengmeng took in a deep breath and revealed, “The Tear of the Beast Deity, the Kiss of the Ocean, the Love of the Sky, the Soul of the Forest, the Heart of the Desert, the Spirit of the Rocky Cliffs, the Key of the Beast King are the seven treasures of the Beast World. These seven treasures are the mystical items in the Beast World. One can activate the bloodline of the Beast King and take charge of the Beast World with possession of any of these treasures. If one gathers all seven treasures together...the doors of time and space will be opened.”

Elvis and Lea were both stunned, once the phrase ‘doors of time and space’ were said, everything in this world froze instantly.

Elvis and Lea even forgotten to breathe as they just stared at Gu Mengmeng blankly. The next second, the blood in their entire body boiled, resembling the white smoke coming out from dry ice, appearing to be in an upsurge on the surface, but in fact, it had no warmth at all and was chilled to the marrow.

Elvis scooped Gu Mengmeng into his arms and hugged her tightly. He clenched his teeth hard and could not say a word. His bloodshot eyes were opened widely, the blood streaks that spread across his entire eyeballs in a split second being outrageously hideous.

Lea gave off a quivering low moan from his throat, it was not anger, not sorrow but an echo coming from the uncontrollable shuddering nature of extreme fear.

Five words, Gu Mengmeng only used five words to scare this black white duo, that every tribe in this Beast World was terrified of, until they shivered in fright and their spirits leave their bodies.

“Don’t give birth, we’re not giving birth!” Lea’s quivering voice was filled with resoluteness, there was not a single tint of hesitation, nothing in this world could be of equal importance as Gu Mengmeng, not having even the right to comparison.

If he had to risk losing Gu Mengmeng to get something, he rather destroy the skies and extinguish the earth! He did not want anything, he just wanted Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng sighed, she did not dare to say this because she was scared this would happen.

She thought that since Elvis and Lea dared to let her enter the lake, it implied that they were not so scared that she would leave them anymore.

So, it seemed like they were just forcing themselves to believe her.

The five word ‘doors of time and space’ were still too much for them to handle.

Hugging Elvis back, Gu Mengmeng said without a calm tone, “Don’t panic and hear me finish my words.”

Elvis was stuck in an enormous whirlpool and his ears were both giving off a ringing echo. His mind was only filled with the phrase Gu Mengmeng said ‘the doors of time and space will be opened’, how she cried and said she wanted to leave, how she smiled and thanked him before leaning backwards to fall into the center of the lake, how she curled up in a corner, overwhelmed with grief and said she did not belong here. His mind was filled with the scenes of her abandoning him.

Fear, every nerve in Elvis’s body was telling him that he was in immense fear.

Even if he was hugging onto her now, he still could not escape from the fear of losing her the next second.

Gu Mengmeng was aware that their emotions were surging too much, she tried to communicate with them several times before but to no avail. They were too shocked by this news and could not hear any other words she said.

Elvis hugged onto her tightly while Lea stared at her intently, as if she would disappear when he was blinking.

Gu Mengmeng sighed and patted Elvis's back, calling him, "Hubby, hubby....."

"Yeah....."

His body was numb from hugging Gu Mengmeng and he could finally hear her calling him so he squeezed out a hoarse word from his throat.

Gu Mengmeng heaved a sigh of relief and said, "I won't go, I won't leave you guys. I love both of you, you know that, don't you?"

Chapter 1111 - Bring Me Along, Or Kill Me.

Chapter 1111: Bring Me Along, Or Kill Me.

“I know.”

It was just two simple words but they sounded like they had been ripped out of Elvis’ chest.

He knew. All logic told him that Gu Mengmeng would not leave him and they would lead blissful lives. This place also had Hede and his brothers, Lea and Sandy—all of whom were people she cared for... but even so, he remained uneasy. Even as he was holding her in his arms now, he still felt as if she might suddenly vanish. Like the wind, like a grain of sand. Like the sunlight which could not be contained, like the ocean waves which could not be stopped...”

“But I cannot control it. I am still... afraid.”

Gu Mengmeng held Elvis’ face with two hands and kissed him deeply on the lips. Initially stunned, Elvis kissed her back with a maniacal fervor.

If she wanted to kiss him, he would give her the most passionate kiss. He could satisfy her every desire. He really could!

As long as she didn’t leave...

As long as she stayed...

As long as she didn’t abandon him...

He could do everything. He really could!

Really...

Elvis' kiss was lingering with a passionate desperation. All his unease and desire was clearly transmitted to Gu Mengmeng via this kiss.

Gu Mengmeng allowed him to roam freely in her mouth, responding only with utmost tenderness. She gently soothed his emotions. Softly, lightly.

They kissed for a long time, until Elvis finally calmed down and only a deep loving warmth was left behind. Only then did Gu Mengmeng gradually loosen her hold of Elvis.

Gasping for breath and flushed red from the lack of oxygen, she asked with a faint smile and soft gaze, "Are you still afraid now?"

Elvis hesitated for a moment, but still nodded. "I am still afraid."

Feeling helpless, Gu Mengmeng reached out to Lea.

Lea immediately clutched her little hand in his tightly.

Gu Mengmeng held Elvis' with her other hand. The two males each clasped one of her hands between their own palms, feeling her softness. They did not dare to squeeze too hard for fear of hurting her, but also did not dare to loosen their grip for fear of losing her...

Gu Mengmeng made the first move to squeeze their hands. "Not only are you two never to leave me, I will also never leave you. I won't leave. I won't!"

Elvis and Lea nodded reluctantly.

Lea said, "Mengmeng's words... I will always believe in them."

No matter how much unease and fear he felt, as long as she said it, he would believe it.

Elvis also nodded. "Xiao Meng, you can lie to me about anything. But this is the only thing you can never go back on your word on. Understand?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded. "Shall I swear an oath upon the Beast Deity?"

“No!” Elvis and Lea immediately objected. “We forbid you to swear unnecessarily.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “Alright, I won’t swear. But you must believe me. Only then can I continue my story.”

Elvis hesitated for a moment. He then raised his eyes and looked at Xiao Meng resolutely. “Xiao Meng, I want you to promise me. If you decide to leave one day... bring me along, or kill me.”

“Me too.” Lea piped up.

Gu Mengmeng nodded in exasperation. “Alright, if I decide to leave, I will definitely bring you two along.”

They have never been afraid of death, but they feared losing her.

After obtaining this promise, the two males finally calmed down.

The worse case scenario was just death. But before they died, they would not lose her.

Gu Mengmeng waited for their breathing to turn even and their expressions to calm down before continuing. “The Beast Deity said that I can open the space-time portal after gathering the seven treasures. But I can decide whether to enter the portal. No one can force me.”

Chapter 1112 - The Simplest Solution Is For You To Not Get Pregnant Again.

Chapter 1112: The Simplest Solution Is For You To Not Get Pregnant Again.

This should be good news.

At least if they disregarded the possibility of someone scheming to force Gu Mengmeng to enter the portal.

Gu Mengmeng continued. “Among the seven treasures, I have the Tear of the Beast Deity, Chixuan has the Soul of the Forest and the Kiss of the Ocean. The remaining are the Love of the Sky, Heart of the Desert and Spirit of the Rocky Cliffs”we have no idea where they are. But the one I am most worried about is... the Key of the Beast King.”

Lea frowned. “Are you referring to a child who has the bloodline of the Beast King?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded. “Wang Xiaoxin wanted to use Snakel as the Key of the Beast King, that was why he went to get Wales as a partner. He failed to open the space-time portal in the end, but...”

Lea knew that there were some things which Gu Mengmeng weren’t able to say out loud. Hence, he spoke for her, “But the method of using and activating these seven treasures was passed on in Sauder, as the Messengers tribe. Cole knew how to use the Kiss of the Ocean and Soul of the Forest to save Chixuan is good evidence of that. So, you are worried that Cole will have designs on your next batch of children, who will possess the bloodline of the Beast King. You are afraid that Chixuan’s situation will repeat itself, right?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded, confirming that Lea had accurately pinpointed the root of her worries.

One Chixuan was enough to exhaust her. If Cole managed to snatch away another of her children, she would really fall apart.

She was really afraid that when she reached out to stab Cole in the chest, the person defending against her was not the enemy but her own child.

“The simplest solution is for you to not get pregnant again.”

At the end of the day, it still came back to this point.

Lea’s moods were very strange. At the beginning, he had been so insistent on having children with her. Subsequently, this hope was completely demolished, before being reignited shortly after. But now... he appeared to be hating on those unborn children.

As long as those children never came to existence, there wouldn’t be any risk of losing Gu Mengmeng?

Anyway, they had already snatched Chixuan back. There was no longer any need for them to get the ransom for Cole, right?

Gu Mengmeng sighed. “Lea.”

Lea’s lips were pressed into one straight line. He kept silent and avoided Gu Mengmeng’s eyes. Nevertheless, his grip tightened involuntarily.

He didn’t want to make Gu Mengmeng angry at this point in time.

Gu Mengmeng squeezed Lea’s hand gently. “After we got Chixuan back, I had intended to give up searching for those seven treasures. But now... I have a new thinking.”

Elvis and Lea were frowning deeply. Their palms were sweating as they pinched their lips tightly together.

Gu Mengmeng knew their worries. But she had to continue her explanation or they would never feel at ease. It was better that she laid out her line of thought. She believed that they would understand.

Gu Mengmeng took a deep breath. “Cole is well aware of the value of these seven treasures. Rather than let him scheme against us to help him gather them, why don’t we seek them out first and hold onto them. This will let us gain the upper hand. Further... any one of the seven treasures has the ability to activate the bloodline of the Beast King. So apart from the Love of the Sky, which I will need to aid in midwifery duties” “I intend to get the Heart of the Desert and Spirit of the Rocky Cliffs and give one each to you and Elvis, to activate the bloodline of the Beast King in you. In this way, even if Cole comes up with some devious scheme, the three of us Beast Kings can easily defeat him.”

Chapter 1113 - They Had Stopped Seeking Trouble But Trouble Continued To Plague Them.

Chapter 1113: They Had Stopped Seeking Trouble But Trouble Continued To Plague Them.

Gu Mengmeng paused before continuing. “There is only one each of the seven treasures. As long as you two each use up one of them, there will be no way anyone can gather them to open up the space-time portal.”

Gu Mengmeng was making a lot of sense. The Tear of the Beast Deity was already within Gu Mengmeng, so if Elvis and Lea used the Heart of the Desert and the Spirit of the Rocky Cliffs to activate the bloodline of the Beast King, then anyone who wished to open the space-time portal had to kill all three of them to assemble the seven treasures.

Ha, one Beast King was already enough to dominate the entire Beast World—three Beast Kings would be like buying the most elite weapons in those freemium online games. They could roar across the skies: Is there anyone else who could beat us?!

Gu Mengmeng, Elvis and Lea formed the iron trinity. In the Beast World, their relationship was the strongest and most invulnerable. It was impossible to try and break them. The minute one of them was attacked, the other two would immediately come to the rescue. So to retrieve the seven treasures from them would be like the delusions of a mad man.

Elvis and Lea exchanged looks after Gu Mengmeng explained her thinking. Their eyes lit up.

Yes, they had momentarily lost their minds at the notion of “Gu Mengmeng will leave”. They had been sucked into a huge tornado of panic and completely unable to think properly then.

But at times of crisis, danger and opportunity existed side by side.

They would gain the upper hand if they could retrieve the three treasures before Cole had the chance to carry out his schemes.

Even if they could just get two of the treasures, the advantage would still lie with them.

Elvis wrapped his arms around Gu Mengmeng's waist and kissed her forehead. "I have become so overly-cautious ever since I met you. I totally forgot that being proactive and attacking first is my usual style."

Lea's mind raced on even more fluidly and meticulously. He held Gu Mengmeng's hand to his lips. "Leave this matter to me. I will make the plans for it."

Gu Mengmeng nodded. "Mmm."

For the past two years, Lea and Elvis had laid down their arms and banners, revolving their entire lives around Gu Mengmeng. They just wished to go about peaceful little lives, and had long forgotten their ambitious plans to unify the entire Beast World.

However, even though they had stopped seeking trouble, trouble continued to plague them.

Since they could not find peace by hiding and avoidance, why not come out with a bang?

They wanted to see who would dare have any nefarious designs on them once all three of them became Beast Kings.

That night, Lea and Elvis had insomnia for the first time in a long while.

It was not out of worry, but excitement.

Those much-hated seven treasures had suddenly become much-coveted objects to them.

They wanted Gu Mengmeng to stay, and have it such that no one in this world would dare go against her.

Gathering those seven treasures seemed to be the best solution.

When Gu Mengmeng awoke the next morning, Elvis and Lea both had to head out at the same time. It was a rare occurrence.

Elvis needed to continue gathering their supplies for the winter, while Lea had to make preparations in their search for the seven treasures.

Gu Mengmeng was rather unused to being alone. In the past, one of them would always be by her side.

Lea had already cooked a pot of meat and Gu Mengmeng ladled a bowl for herself.

Gu Mengmeng sat alone at the six-seater table.

Ha, she had always eaten alone in the past and never felt it was an issue.

But now she understood that loneliness was also a kind of luxury. Because to recognize it, you would have experienced company and protection first.

“Great Messenger.” A soft voice called out from nearby. Gu Mengmeng looked up to see Mandy.

Chapter 1114 - I Have Never Known Him To Be Soft-Spoken When Speaking Against Me

Chapter 1114: I Have Never Known Him To Be Soft-Spoken When Speaking Against Me

“Mandy?” Gu Mengmeng felt rather surprised. Those 16 valued females treated her like how fans worshiped their idols—they liked her a lot but kept a respectful distance. Gu Mengmeng always had to make the first move as they would never come find her on their own accord. It was as if they were afraid of bothering her.

Mandy kept her hands behind her back with obvious unease. She approached Gu Mengmeng timidly. “This morning when Master Witch doctor went to find Ian, he said I could come play with you...”

Play with you...

Was she a kid?

Gu Mengmeng chuckled as she gazed at Mandy, who looked like a child who had won a sweet. It was as if “playing with her” was a prize.

Actually, her fox was probably just worried that she would be bored alone at home, and so had Mandy come over to keep her company?

Gu Mengmeng passed a bowl over to Mandy. “Have you eaten breakfast?”

Mandy shook her head as she blushed.

“When Master Witch doctor came over, I was just about to eat. But he said he has prepared a lot of food for you this morning, so I can come over and eat with you. So... mmm, although my Ralph has learned some cooking skills from Master Lea, his cooking is still not as good. So..."

Mandy instinctively swallowed her saliva and gazed at the large pot of fragrant stewed meat in front of Gu Mengmeng. Her eyes filled with desire.

Gu Mengmeng waved. "Perfect, come over and eat with me then."

"Mmm." Mandy agreed quickly. She happily sat down diagonally opposite Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. The scent left behind by Elvis and Lea on their seats announced that these belonged to the masters of the house and no one else was to sit on them.

And the seat directly opposite Gu Mengmeng was usually occupied by Wabei, whose scent was also very domineering. In the entire Beast World, probably only Gu Mengmeng would dare to sit there.

So comparatively, the stools diagonally opposite her were more free to use. Auretin, Barete, Ian, Fei Rui and other guests had sat on them before, and so Mandy automatically chose to sit there.

Gu Mengmeng didn't comment and just ladled a huge helping of meat into Mandy's bowl. "Lea's cooking is exceptionally good. Eat more."

"Mmm." Mandy smiled sweetly. She received the bowl from Gu Mengmeng and took a bite, before sighing appreciatively. Gu Mengmeng could clearly see the words "bliss" on her face.

Mandy spoke as she ate. "Great Messenger, when I was leaving, I heard Master Witch doctor asking Ian about some Love of the Sky... and Ian looked reluctant to talk about it."

Gu Mengmeng paused and looked up at Mandy. "Have you and Ian become partners?"

Mandy nodded with a bashful smile. "Mmm, we did it yesterday."

With that, Mandy turned and showed off the mark of a soaring Eagle-owl between her two shoulder blades. It looked like it was passing through a valley, its eyes sharp and indomitable. It was probably Ian at his most confident.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “Hey, congratulations.”

Mandy smiled sweetly. “I have to thank the Great Messenger for this. If not for your approval... Ian would have definitely rejected me. On the day we became partners, Ian said he had actually liked me since a long time ago. But because he is the former chief of the Eagle-owl tribe, he cannot shirk his responsibilities. He had no choice but to suppress his own feelings. He said I must have suffered, and he even apologized to me.”

Gu Mengmeng gave a low laugh. “He knows how to apologize? I have never known him to be soft-spoken when speaking against me.”

Chapter 1115 - Never Knew This Bird Had Another Side To Him.

Chapter 1115: Never Knew This Bird Had Another Side To Him.

Mandy started looking anxious. She twisted her lips and asked timidly, “Great Messenger, you... are you angry at him?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head with a smile. “I will usually just counter him on the spot. I will not bear grudges.”

Mandy breathed a sigh of relief on hearing that. “That’s good. I was worried there for a moment...”

Ian was different from the other males in the Beast World. Apart from Wabei, he was probably the only male who would argue with Gu Mengmeng.

He was not like most of the males who feared her powers and status. He was also not like those males who had a special interest in her and followed her blindly. His loyalty was on par with Barete’s, but Ian did not behave in the same subservient manner as Barete did.

Ian belonged to the type of person who did not let his annoyance interfere with his help. He could scold you while supporting you at the same time.

Gu Mengmeng thought no sweet words would ever come out of Ian’s sarcastic mouth. But who knew he was actually capable of apologizing.

Looking at Mandy’s bashful manner, he must have really piled on the sweet nothings.

Tsk, never knew this bird had another a side to him.

But Gu Mengmeng didn't expose Ian. After all, Mandy's family was different from hers and Sandy's. Mandy already had 27 partners. With such intense competition, as a good friend... Gu Mengmeng naturally would never drag Ian down.

"You said earlier that Lea went to look for Ian to discuss about the Love of the Sky?" Gu Mengmeng changed the topic.

Mandy nodded. "Yes. But I saw that Ian appeared to be avoiding the subject. He didn't seem willing to talk about it."

Mmm, for matters of the sky, it made sense to ask those who could fly.

The fact that Ian appeared reluctant to talk about it meant he did know something, so Lea was asking the right guy.

Ha, how long could that birdbrain Ian last under Lea's interrogation?

Mmm, it had been a long time since she saw evil Lea in action. Gu Mengmeng suddenly felt a trace of pity for Ian.

"Is the Love of the Sky something the Great Messenger wishes to find?" Mandy asked.

Gu Mengmeng nodded.

Mandy smiled. "Then I will go back to help you persuade Ian. I will make him tell Master Witch doctor everything he knows about it."

Gu Mengmeng put down her chopsticks and looked at Mandy. "Mandy, why don't you call me by my name like Sandy does. Great Messenger... sounds so awkward."

"Eh?! Can I?" Mandy's eyes lit up. She felt like a fan who had just gotten her idol's private WeChat number.

Gu Mengmeng nodded. "Mmm, of course you can."

“Gu... Mengmeng?” Mandy’s eyes glowed. Her lips curled upwards as she gently spoke Gu Mengmeng’s name.

“Mmm.” Gu Mengmeng nodded with a smile.

“Ah...!” Mandy cupped her own face as she shrieked. Mmm... totally like a fan.

Gu Mengmeng felt rather astounded. After all, Mandy had already joined Saint Nazaire for over a year. Although Gu Mengmeng was not in Saint Nazaire all the time, she didn’t feel like she was that unreachable—that someone would be so excited just by saying her name.

After Mandy calmed down, she also felt rather embarrassed. She put down her bowl with a red face. “Great... Gu Mengmeng, I will return home first.”

“You are not eating anymore?” Gu Mengmeng looked questioningly at Mandy’s bowl, which was still half-filled.

Mandy took up the bowl and directly poured all the food into her mouth. Not even a drop of gravy was left. She then replaced the bowl on the table. “Mmm, I am not eating anymore! I am going back now to help you ask Ian about the Love of the Sky.”

Chapter 1116 - Good Girl, Let Me Stick Close To You For A Bit.

Chapter 1116: Good Girl, Let Me Stick Close To You For A Bit.

Mandy dashed off before Gu Mengmeng could stop her.

Shaking her head in exasperation, Gu Mengmeng had no choice but to let her leave.

After Mandy's little scene, Gu Mengmeng's slight unease at being alone faded away.

After clearing the bowls and chopsticks, Gu Mengmeng returned to the cave to retrieve two pieces of snake skin, which Wabei had brought for her to make her clothes with.

But the snake skin she was wearing belonged to Snakel and she didn't want to take them off. Hence, those two pieces of snake skin had been left idle.

They would come to good use now.

The wooden barrels which Fei Rui had helped Gu Mengmeng to wash were already completely dry. Gu Mengmeng covered the snake skin loosely over the wooden barrel to act as a sieve. She then pried open the seal of the stone basins, and used a large stone bowl to scoop the fermented mashed grapes onto the snake skin. After letting the juice drain off into the barrel, she set the leftover pulp to the side.

Gu Mengmeng slowly emptied the nine large stone basins. By the time she progressed to the third basin, Elvis and Lea had already returned.

The two of them appeared shocked the moment they stepped into the cave.

Elvis went forward to carry Gu Mengmeng while Lea immediately took over the stone bowl from her hands.

“Why didn’t you wait until we were back to let us do this?” Lea asked as he copied Gu Mengmeng’s way of scooping the mashed grapes onto the snake skin to filter into the wooden barrel.

Elvis placed Gu Mengmeng’s little hand into his mouth to lick the sticky juices off.

Gu Mengmeng giggled from the ticklish feeling. “I was bored alone at home anyway, and so found some things to do to pass the time. Ai... I will go wash my hands.”

But Elvis refused to let go. His arm around Gu Mengmeng’s waist tightened. “I can lick your hands cleaner than any washing.”

Gu Mengmeng stared at Elvis. “Stop fooling around...”

Elvis gently nibbled Gu Mengmeng’s fingertips. “I have not seen you an entire afternoon. Good girl, let me stick close to you for a bit.”

“Dirty.” Gu Mengmeng blushed.

Elvis just laughed and kissed Gu Mengmeng on the cheek. “My Xiao Meng is so tasty, how can she be dirty?”

With that, he once again placed Gu Mengmeng’s grape juice-stained fingers into his mouth. He breathed and sucked, all the while gazing intensely at Gu Mengmeng’s face, until she blushed a deep red.

Elvis seemed to be addicted to this feeling of teasing her until she was bashful and helpless. He sucked in an even more exaggerated manner, the end result of which looked like some R-rated film.

Gu Mengmeng pulled back her hand urgently, as she continued to blush uncontrollably.

She didn't dare to look at Elvis again but turned her attention to Lea.
“Mandy came over to have breakfast with me, and said that you went to find Ian to discuss about the Love of the Sky?”

Lea nodded. “Mmm, I was trying my luck and got lucky... he definitely knows something.”

Gu Mengmeng asked, “But he doesn't want to talk about it?”

Lea nodded. “Mmm.” He then saw that the wooden barrel was now filled to the brim with grape juice and so removed the snake skin before using the sealing cap that Gu Mengmeng had prepared earlier to cover the barrel. He moved the finished barrel to the side along with the other two sealed barrels. “Let's have lunch first. I will finish up with this after.”

“Actually I can do it...”

Lea kissed Gu Mengmeng's hand. “As long as your males are still alive, how can we bear to let your two lovely hands perform such rough work? Be a good girl and don't make our hearts ache, mmm?”

Exasperated, Gu Mengmeng could only mutter, “Because of you two, I will become a useless bum soon.”

Chapter 1117 - You Will Have To Find A Male From the Bird Tribe To Be Your Partner Then

Chapter 1117: You Will Have To Find A Male From the Bird Tribe To Be Your Partner Then

Lea just laughed at Gu Mengmeng's grumbling. He pinched her little nose. "It would be best if we could pamper you so much that you can't even breathe without us. This way, I don't need to worry that you might disappear suddenly."

"Grunt." Gu Mengmeng wrinkled her nose but didn't insist on going over herself to filter the mashed grapes.

Lea morphed his hand into a paw, and then back to a hand again. The result was a completely clean hand, which appeared almost transparent under the sunlight and glowed with a shimmery sparkle.

Gu Mengmeng did not have a hand fetish but she really liked Lea's and Elvis' hands. Their hands looked especially great.

Mmm, if the two of them could clasp their hands together, fingers intertwined—that would be the perfect image...

At that thought, Gu Mengmeng instinctively sucked air through her nose.

She must never have a nosebleed again. Otherwise, who knew what those two would do to her.

Not long after lunch, Mandy was dragging Ian over to Gu Mengmeng's cave.

At the sight of Mandy constantly pressing a grim-faced Ian, Gu Mengmeng more or less understood what was going on.

Ian stared at Gu Mengmeng for a long while before speaking, “Do you really have to find the Love of the Sky?”

Gu Mengmeng thought about it before nodding.

Ian looked at Mandy again. In the end, he could not withstand her nagging. “You will have to find a male from the Bird tribe to be your partner then.”

“Huh?” Gu Mengmeng was shocked. Luckily Ian was already Mandy’s partner, or Lea and Elvis would probably be strangling his neck now.

Ian led Mandy over to the long table outside Gu Mengmeng’s cave, and had her sit down. He stood behind her and rested his hands gently on her shoulders, with a face full of exasperation. “According to legends, the Love of the Sky is at the highest peak of the Motou mountain range. The peak is submerged in the clouds and unusually precipitous. Normal beasts are totally unable to climb it. Even if you are a bird, you may not be able to fly to such heights. The Eagle-owl tribe used to be one of the Bird tribes guarding the mountain. However, the terrible weather conditions made it very difficult for us to procreate, and the number of females in the tribe declined, until not a single one was left.”

Ian remained silent for a long while before continuing. “The Eagle-owl tribe guarded the lower regions of the Motou mountain range. But even as guardians, we have never flown to the highest peak. So, if you want to go up the Motou mountain range to retrieve the Love of the Sky, you must first find a partner from the Vulture tribe. Apart from them, there is no other race who can fly to such heights. But the Vulture tribe prides themselves as a race that is closest to the heavens. They are more arrogant than your usual bird tribe. They will never come down from the Motou mountains to interact with land beasts unless absolutely necessary. So... it is impossible for you to get a partner from the Vulture tribe.”

It was a catch-22 situation. To go up the Motou mountain range, you had to have someone from the Vulture tribe to fly you up. But the Vulture tribe could only be found in the Motou mountains...

“Since the Eagle-owl tribe also used to be guardians of the mountain, you should be very familiar with them? Can you come with me as a middleman?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

Ian’s face darkened as his eyes churned with unexplainable emotions. Brows deeply furrowed, he looked like he was enduring some internal struggle.

After a long while, he finally spoke again. “So that our race would not go extinct, I led my tribe to seek refuge in Saint Nazaire... this is the equivalent of betraying all guardians of the Motou mountain range. They will never leave the Motou mountains to pursue and kill us, but if any of the Eagle-owl tribe goes near the mountains again... all of the bird tribes on the mountain will assemble to attack and annihilate us.”

Chapter 1118 - Gu Mengmeng Refused To Accept It

Chapter 1118: Gu Mengmeng Refused To Accept It

“That was why you were unwilling to tell Lea about this? You were worried I would force you to come with me?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

Ian shook his head. “When I was seeking refuge at Saint Nazaire, I said then that as long as you take in my people and help us survive through that winter season, my life would belong to you. I will obey your every command. If you need to find the Love of the Sky, I will bring bring you there even if I will be killed. It’s just that...”

Ian forced a smile, bitter as it was. “Because of my decision, the Eagle-owl tribe has become a disgrace in the Motou mountain range. I... am too ashamed to go back and face my former friends.”

“I remember that you sought refuge at Saint Nazaire because you had run out of food and truly had no other choice. You only wished to let your people survive, and didn’t commit any unconscionable crime. Why should you feel ashamed?” Gu Mengmeng refused to accept it. She could mock her own friends all she wanted, but what right did others have to look down on them?

Ian lowered his head. “The Eagle-owl tribe was not the first to be forced into dire straits, and we will not be the last. But only the Eagle-owl tribe had abandoned their duty to guard the Motou mountain range. To the Motou mountains, the Eagle-owl tribe are traitors, deserters, renegades.”

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head. “Eh, do you know me?”

Ian looked up and stared at Gu Mengmeng as if she was an “idiot”.

It was a rare occasion that Gu Mengmeng wasn't making jibes at him. She pointed at her own nose. "The Bird tribes pride yourselves on being as close to the sky as possible so as to serve the Beast Deity, right? If that's the case—you are serving me, the Messenger of the Beast Deity—isn't this even better than you flying aimlessly around the skies to be close to the Beast Deity?"

Ian stared at Gu Mengmeng, suddenly feeling at a loss for words.

"All roads lead to Rome. Guarding that mountain range is not the only way to show loyalty to the Beast Deity." Gu Mengmeng patted Ian's shoulder. "To let the Beast Deity see your loyalty, the first criteria is for you to stay alive. To die guarding the Motou mountains—even if you all died horribly—the Beast Deity would not have noticed. He is too busy."

Somehow, Gu Mengmeng's words sprouted inside Ian's heart like a seed. It gradually grew into a towering tree, absorbing all the gloominess that had been clouding his heart for over a year.

He had sought refuge in the Messenger of the Beast Deity's tribe, Saint Nazaire. He had just exchanged for a more direct way of serving the Beast Deity...

Perhaps, he hadn't actually pushed the Eagle-owl tribe to an eternal doom with no hope of reprieve?

The corners of Ian's lips curled up. He lifted his head to look at Gu Mengmeng again. He felt that she appeared especially pleasing to the eye today. Nevertheless, he couldn't help saying sarcastically, "Ha, never expected to finally hear you speak so reasonably."

"Tsk, jerk." Gu Mengmeng rolled her eyes at Ian, but she wasn't angry. She just held her cheek as she looked at him. "Is the Motou mountain range far away? How long will we need to reach there from Saint Nazaire?"

Ian replied, "That time, we took nine days to fly over here from Motou. If we travel by foot, we will need at least half a month."

Gu Mengmeng tapped her fingers on the table repetitively.

Half a month...

The round-trip journey alone would take up an entire month. The rainy season was nearly half over, so if they set off now, they would definitely not make it back before winter.

Gu Mengmeng looked up at Ian, and then at Mandy. "Alright, you two enjoy your newlywed bliss. I will let you hug your new wife like a hot water bottle this winter season, so that you can bear a few baby Eagle-owls next year at the end of winter. Thereafter, you will journey with me to the Motou mountain range during the following monsoon season."

Chapter 1119 - This Stance, Something Deviant Was In The Air!

Chapter 1119: This Stance, Something Deviant Was In The Air!

“Alright.”

It was just one simple word but it held the gravity of a sworn promise.

Ian didn't know where Gu Mengmeng stood in his own heart. Was she the Messenger of the Beast Deity, a highly-revered figure by the entire Eagle-owl tribe? Or was she a friend worthy of his help?

He only knew that Gu Mengmeng held a very special position. Regardless of how they treated each other usually, just one word from her and he would obey and follow her without any qualms.

Since things were already settled, Ian didn't linger on. He held Mandy's shoulder and said, “Let's head back first. We shouldn't delay their mealtime.”

Mandy stared at the meat inside Gu Mengmeng's pot with some yearning.

She had wanted to eat a bit more this morning, but only managed a small helping as she had to go back to help Gu Mengmeng persuade Ian.

Now...

That pot might not even be enough to fill the tummies of both Lea and Elvis. She felt it would be really impolite of her to stay on and bum a free meal off them.

She stood up and followed Ian out. But she paused after a couple of steps to turn and look at Gu Mengmeng. She called out in a small voice. “Gu Mengmeng.”

“Mmm?” Gu Mengmeng gazed up at Mandy.

Mandy just beamed and waved. “I am leaving now, goodbye...”

“Okay...” Gu Mengmeng was bewildered.

She then overheard Mandy whispering excitedly to Ian. “Did you see that? I called the Great Messenger by her name and she answered me...”

Gu Mengmeng was totally dumbfounded...

After Ian and Mandy left, Lea took over the bowl and chopsticks from Gu Mengmeng’s hands. He put down the chopsticks and took up a small spoon to personally feed her one spoonful at a time.

With one swift motion, Elvis lifted Gu Mengmeng onto his lap.

This stance...

Something deviant was in the air!

Lea grinned at Gu Mengmeng. “Mengmeng, do you think we will be adding someone new to our family soon?”

Gu Mengmeng instinctively rubbed her own tummy. “Not that soon. I haven’t retrieved the Love of the Sky yet, and you two already intend to make me pregnant?”

Elvis took hold of the hand which Gu Mengmeng was rubbing her tummy with. “Stop acting blur. Children have never been considered family members.”

“Why?!” Gu Mengmeng smacked the table in anger. Why were the children she bore not considered a part of the family?! Was there still any justice left in this world?!

Elvis chuckled and stroked her head soothingly. “Because they will become the partners of other females after they come of age, and will form their own family. They can’t stay in our home forever. So children are not considered family members.”

Gu Mengmeng thought about it. Mmm... she treasured her sons but was not that perverted as to forbid them from marrying. To bind them by her side for the rest of her life as old bachelors.

Sigh, when one reared a pig, it would always end up being food for someone else. The earlier she learned to accept this, the better it would be...

Gu Mengmeng nodded with a touch of melancholy. “Oh, so our family only comprises you, me and Lea then.”

Lea raised his brows at Gu Mengmeng’s disappointment. But his expression didn’t change as he continued to smile amicably. “Yes, just us three. A bit thin, right?”

Gu Mengmeng instinctively nodded. She had thought her family was rather big and grand. It included her, Elvis, Lea, Hede and his brothers, as well as even more little foxes and wolves in the future...

But now it seemed that all the children she bore would never be considered part of the family. So depressing.

“So, do you intend to take in a few Vulture tribe members to expand our family? Mmm?”

Chapter 1120 - Male Vultures Were So Handsome That Even Lea Was Worried

Chapter 1120: Male Vultures Were So Handsome That Even Lea Was Worried

Hair-raising...

For the first time in her life, Gu Mengmeng felt that Lea's smile was rather scary.

Shaking her head, she said, "No, I have no intention of accepting a Vulture tribe member as a partner."

Lea chuckled. "That's right. The Vulture tribe lives in such harsh conditions high up in the Motou mountain range, and have been nurtured by their environment to be stronger and better-built than us. Further, they know how to fly. At those heights, apart from your beast pressure, no one else can pull them down from the sky. So even if they challenge us to become your partner, Elvis and I might not be a match for them. Not to mention that if you fancy one of them, he can become your partner even without challenging Elvis and I..."

Gu Mengmeng held Lea's face to stop him from spinning even more exaggerations. "I am not going to take on a Vulture tribe member as a partner. You are thinking too much."

Gu Mengmeng had pinched Lea's mouth into a fish pout. Those alluring eyes matched with that adorable pout was so charming that Gu Mengmeng broke into a helpless smile. She kissed him. "Stop those wild thoughts. It is enough for me to have Elvis and you. Our family doesn't need another male."

Lea's temper melted away with that kiss. His tone softened subconsciously. "The Vulture tribe rarely descends the mountains but they have done so previously. In the past thousand years, they have come down once to Sauder and met with the leader then. No one knew what they had discussed, but the looks of the Vulture tribe members have been described at length."

Lea gently pulled Gu Mengmeng's hands off his face. "Long, brown hair like water flowing through a village, soothing to all. Lean and muscular bodies like perfect works of art carved by the harsh weather conditions of the Motou mountain range. A uniquely dignified and debonair aura that had been sculpted by the icy-cold winds above the clouds. When they walked through Sauder, their steps were unfaltering and fearless. Just a passing glance from their sharp eyes made one shiver and instinctively draw back to find a hole to hide."

Lea finished his description with a sigh, before continuing. "The snow foxes are such a proud tribe—for them to describe another race in such a manner and to pass this information along for so many hundreds of years—how perfect-looking they must be? Mengmeng, I have suddenly lost confidence in my own appearance. What if you really take fancy to a male vulture..."

Gu Mengmeng shook her head with a soft sigh. "Didn't you tell me then that you are very confident that no one else in this world is more handsome than you, and asked me to just look at you? Why are you saying this now..."

Lea glanced askance at her, obviously worried. "That was because the Vulture tribe never came down to the flat lands, and you would never meet them. In that case, I am naturally the best-looking. Who knew... sigh."

Gu Mengmeng stepped forward to kiss Lea on the cheek. "It doesn't matter how they look like. In my heart, there is only room for you and Elvis."

"Remember you are the one who said this." Lea peeked at Gu Mengmeng out of the corner of his eye in a cloying manner.

“Yes, yes yes. I said it.” Gu Mengmeng laughed helplessly. She then snuggled back into Elvis’ arms. “Hubby, do you think... this Vulture tribe is so powerful—should we bring them all back to Saint Nazaire after we retrieve the Love of the Sky? Just like the Eagle-owl tribe, let’s add them to the strength of our air force.”

“No way.” Elvis rejected firmly without any hesitation.

Gu Mengmeng cocked her head to the side in question. “Why not?”

Chapter 1121 - A Demoness Easily Seduced By Lust

Chapter 1121: A Demoness Easily Seduced By Lust

“I have not forgotten that salivating, roguish look of yours when you first saw me in human form.” Elvis pinched Gu Mengmeng’s little face. “What did you say then? Even if there was a risk of drowning, you just had to touch me and kiss me once? Mmm?”

Gu Mengmeng gave a dry laugh and trilled. “Let’s not dredge up the past. Let bygones be bygones...”

Elvis refused to budge. He smiled coldly and continued. “You said before that you are the Appearance Association’s Supreme Senior Member and you firmly uphold the belief that the value of a person lies in his looks. You said before that as long as a person is handsome, anything goes... mmm?”

Gu Mengmeng was speechless. Why did she expose this unsavory side of herself? Tsk tsk tsk, she now really regretted her moment of candidness.

“Do you think that I will allow a tribe—whose looks make even Lea feel threatened—to join Saint Nazaire and risk creating my my own self-demise?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. “You won’t.”

Elvis chuckled and licked Gu Mengmeng’s little nose approvingly. “So clever.”

Gu Mengmeng didn’t know whether to laugh or cry at his praise. “Hubby, I need to clarify something. I behaved in that manner towards you then because I was single. Teasing a handsome guy when I am single is not being roguish. It’s called creating opportunity for love.”

“Mmm, Lea and I have captured the opportunities you created, and we don’t wish for others to get hold of the same,” Elvis said mildly.

Feeling frustrated, Gu Mengmeng stated. “I already have partners and will not give others the same opportunity.”

Elvis stared at Gu Mengmeng straight in the eye for a long while before breaking out in a faint smile. “I know you are speaking the truth but I don’t need to use the Vulture tribe members to prove the point. So I will help you ward off all temptations. You can just continue liking Lea and I.”

Gu Mengmeng held her forehead. She felt that her image was beyond rescue.

Lea and Elvis both firmly believed that she was a demoness easily seduced by lust...

Sigh, forget it. It wasn’t totally untrue anyway!

After all, even if she could turn back time, she would have still behaved in that roguish manner towards Elvis. Otherwise, such a good hubby would have become someone else’s? How could she let that happen?

Gu Mengmeng realized that Elvis was usually a man of few words, but met with this type of situation, his formidable debating skills would suddenly emerge and force her into a dead-end.

But it didn’t matter. She didn’t harbor any such intentions anyway, and he could say whatever he wanted. If they continued arguing in this manner, things would just become increasingly dubious. In the end, Elvis would just reaffirm his own belief that she wished to find a male vulture to be her partner.

But heavens have mercy—she had not even glimpsed one feather of a Vulture tribe member—and gossip was already quick to fly.

She was even more maligned than the infamous Dou E.

Lea tapped Gu Mengmeng's brow. His smile clearly indicated that he agreed with Elvis. Gu Mengmeng's suggestion was thrown right back at her.

Gu Mengmeng just wrinkled her nose and made a face at Lea. She didn't offer any argument.

Instead, Lea spoke up. "Now the problem is how are we to ascend the highest peak of the Motou mountain range. According to Ian, even birds might have a hard time going up, not to mention land beasts..."

Actually, there was a very simple solution. And that was to let Gu Mengmeng go to sleep and seek the advice of the Beast Deity.

But no one would make this suggestion for now.

Because Elvis and Lea were utterly terrified that Gu Mengmeng would be directly transported back to her world while in her dream state.

And Gu Mengmeng understood their fear.

Chapter 1122 - Joshua Seeks A Meeting

Chapter 1122: Joshua Seeks A Meeting

Unable to ask the Beast Deity, the matter of ascending the mountain became a difficult obstacle.

Luckily, they had an entire winter to mull over this problem. There was no hurry to come up with a solution right away.

Saint Nazaire during the rainy season was an extremely busy period. Males with families raced to hunt and cure as much meat as possible, while those without partners went with Barete and Auretin to forage for potatoes, sweet potatoes and lotus roots—which Gu Mengmeng had previously taught them how to prepare and eat. The remaining tribe members were tasked with tanning animal hides according to the different grades. The skins would then be equally distributed to all the females in Saint Nazaire.

Gu Mengmeng had gone through the process with everyone the year before. Although she was not around last year, there were still many veteran members in the tribe to help out. Their defense preparations against invaders also didn't cause much delay. This year, everyone was already familiar with the process. With Gu Mengmeng back home—Lea was again overseeing the planning for the tribe while Elvis made the rounds within the territory. Everything went even more smoothly.

Since Gu Mengmeng asked Mandy to call her by her name, the besotted female started following her day in day out like she had been bewitched. She didn't create any particular fuss, but just tailed after Gu Mengmeng to watch others curing their meats or give pointers on vegetable pickling methods.

The days went by and the first snows should be arriving soon.

Gu Mengmeng was just sitting by the cave and gazing up at the sky, when she saw a flying eagle-owl land nearby. He morphed into human form when he came before her. “Great Messenger, Joshua, the witch doctor of Frankston, wishes to meet with you.”

“Joshua?” Gu Mengmeng thought for a moment. “Why is he here?”

The eagle-owl shook his head. “I don’t know. He refused to say when I asked him. He just said that he wishes to meet with the Great Messenger, and will not leave until he has done so.”

Gu Mengmeng wanted to say that a witch doctor should seek another witch doctor if he had some issue. But she thought of how busy Lea was with the winter preparations, on top of which he had to think of solutions for retrieving the Love of the Sky from the Motou mountain range, as well as guard against Cole’s machinations—even the most intelligent person would be tired out from all that mental juggling.

She sighed. “Ask him to come over.”

“Yes.” The eagle-owl bowed before morphing into beast mode and flying off.

Within a short while, Joshua appeared before Gu Mengmeng.

To be honest, Gu Mengmeng was rather astounded by this first-level ape.

It was not that he looked extraordinary, but that he... was wearing clothes.

Yes, clothes!

Not the animal skin skirts usually worn by Elvis and Lea, nor the bizarre attire donned by Lea during the ceremonial offerings—but a long robe in a simple design.

On first glance, it seemed to made from deer skin. To call it a long robe was actually an exaggeration. It looked like two pieces of whole deer skins with all the extremities cut off to form a rectangular shape, and then sewn together on one end while leaving only a hole for the head. A belt that looked like it was made from tree bark was tied around the waist. The robe draped freely across his shoulders and offered much cover for any physical shortcomings.

Joshua, who used to look so frail when compared to the higher level beasts such as Elvis and Lea—now possessed the refined air of a scholar. He didn't look like a barbarian but like a person from the ancient times.

This was the first time Gu Mengmeng saw a male wearing proper clothes since she had arrived at the Beast World. She couldn't help feeling a sense of kinship with him.

Ha, after being exposed to those males in the Beast World, running around all day wearing only an animal skin skirt—her aesthetics standards had been dragged down way too low. Now, just as long as one wore some form of proper clothing, Gu Mengmeng would feel he was a gentleman.

Chapter 1123 - Joining Saint Nazaire As A Witch Doctor

“Greetings, Great Messenger.” Joshua bowed respectfully.

Gu Mengmeng nodded in acknowledgment, but didn’t step closer. She still remembered how they encountered Frankston’s leader Hanston and witch doctor Joshua. The two of them had offered to be their escorts when they passed through Frankston on the way back from Zacharias. At that time, Hanston was savvy enough to keep his intentions to himself, but that first-level Joshua stubbornly refused to accede, provoking her males into a jealous fit.

Elvis and Lea were both currently not at home, and Gu Mengmeng did not wish to invite any unnecessary trouble.

After all, there had been Fei Rui, followed by Victor, and then some faceless male vulture. If this Joshua was dragged into the mix, she would have to spend the entire winter soothing her males’ jealousy.

So Gu Mengmeng maintained a safe distance from Joshua. Keeping her face impassive, she asked, “You have come to ask me about something?”

Joshua nodded. “The winter season is almost here. I... I wish to seek shelter at the Great Messenger’s cave.”

If this was before, Gu Mengmeng might have asked why did he want to stay in her cave.

But this situation had happened before with Barete, so Gu Mengmeng was well aware that Joshua wanted to stay at her cave for food supply for the winter.

Holding her forehead, Gu Mengmeng shook her head. “Elvis only prepared enough food to last our family through the winter. We didn’t prepare your share.”

The unspoken meaning in her words were clear. We do not lack food and we do not want you.

Joshua appeared completely unsurprised by this answer.

After all, his was a neighboring tribe and Saint Nazaire’s food preservation methods were no big secret.

Joshua nodded before tilting his head with a smile. “Then does the Great Messenger lack beast pets? Those that are closest to you in terms of behavior and mannerisms.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and shook her head. “Joshua, we have no intention of accepting new males into our family. So please don’t waste your time on us. Go find a new target.”

“I can wait.” Joshua was totally unfazed by Gu Mengmeng’s rejection. He just lowered his head and continued. “The males of the Beast World are all very single-minded. If they don’t love you, they never will. But if they do, it will be forever.”

Gu Mengmeng was well aware of this point.

But she no longer wished to bear responsibility for another person’s life. It was too heavy a burden.

Gu Mengmeng smiled as she gently rubbed the back of her own neck. “I have made clear my stand. I don’t like you. If there is nothing else, please leave.”

Joshua shook his head. “I want to join Saint Nazaire as a witch doctor.”

Males without partners had the right to decide which tribe they wanted to live in. And witch doctors were second only to females as a precious resource. All tribes hankered after them and there was no reason to reject.

But if she accepted him knowing that he had ulterior motives—wouldn't she be tacitly condoning his wait for her?

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. "Sorry, Saint Nazaire cannot accept you. One, our tribe already has our own witch doctor. Two, all those who wish to join Saint Nazaire must pass an assessment to get a place on the wait list. If I just take you in like that, it will be unfair to all those who had fought so hard to secure a spot on the wait list. Of course, if you must join Saint Nazaire, partnering with the females in our tribe is also a good option. Witch doctor is a good profession and you will have the upper hand in selecting a mate."

Chapter 1124 - Lea's Test

Chapter 1124: Lea's Test

“By the way, excluding myself, our tribe has 17 females. Apart from Maya, who is a half-beast, the rest are all complete females.” Gu Mengmeng smilingly held up Mandy’s arm as she said this. “Here, this is Mandy, a female leopard. I personally crowned her the First Beauty of the Beast World last year. If you wish to take on a partner, why don’t you consider pursuing Mandy?”

Gu Mengmeng felt slightly abashed at her own words. Why did she sound like some pimp...

Mandy shot Gu Mengmeng a shy look before speaking up. “I promised Ian that this year, I will accept only him. If you wish to woo me... you must wait till at least next year.”

Joshua smiled at Mandy. “Very pleased to meet you, Mandy.”

Having greeted her, Joshua turned his attention back to Gu Mengmeng. “I will go through the test to join the tribe. No matter what the test is, I am willing to take it. I must join Saint Nazaire.”

“Joining Saint Nazaire as a witch doctor? Alright, I welcome you.” Lea had hurried over the moment he heard that Joshua had come to see Gu Mengmeng. He had arrived just as that idiot confessed his feelings to Gu Mengmeng, but had kept hidden as he wished to hear her reject him personally. In the end, that idiot still clung on so stubbornly even though Mengmeng had already made clear her stand.

Lea patted Joshua gently on the shoulder. “Witch doctors will be assessed in our own way. I have just smeared four different medicines on your shoulder. Before this time tomorrow, gather all four of them and I will consider you as having passed the test. I will welcome you on behalf of Saint Nazaire then. But if you fail... ha, you must go back to where you came from and never again appear before me.”

Joshua tilted his head to sniff at the smells on his shoulder.

The four scents... mmm, the number was correct.

But these four smells were particularly mild and not easy to discern.

Nevertheless, Joshua was still determined to accept this challenge in order to join Saint Nazaire.

Assessing him in his capacity as a witch doctor—Lea’s test was not particularly stringent.

“Alright.” Joshua agreed before turning around to start searching for the medicines which held those scents.

After Joshua left, Gu Mengmeng leaned against Lea’s shoulder. She asked, “What did you smear on his shoulder? Are you sure he will never find them?”

Lea chuckled. “Don’t worry. I will never allow a fly to buzz around you.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed before asking, “Didn’t you say you have a lot of things to settle? Why have you returned so soon?”

Lea hugged Gu Mengmeng. “I came back to swat flies.”

Gu Mengmeng said, “It’s just Joshua. I can handle him on my own.”

Lea replied, “If you handle everything on your own, what do you still need Elvis and I for?”

Gu Mengmeng was speechless. She could only wrap her arms around Lea’s neck and gently lean into his chest, allowing him to carry her back to their cave.

Mandy followed for a couple of steps before suddenly turning and scurrying off after Lea shot her a warning glare.

Lea sighed. His Mengmeng was too wonderful. Even females loved her, what could he do?

He had finally chased off one Sandy, and now a Mandy was sticking so close to her. Was it that anyone with a “dy” in their names would hold special feelings for his Mengmeng?

Tsk, it was apparent that he and Elvis could not leave Gu Mengmeng on her own. It was better to be safe than sorry.

Lea gnashed his teeth as he pinched Gu Mengmeng’s little face. “I really wish I could put you in my pocket and bring you everywhere with me. Only then can I rest easy.”

Chapter 1125 - I Have Masochistic Tendencies, And Only For You.

Chapter 1125: I Have Masochistic Tendencies, And Only For You.

Lea didn't tell Gu Mengmeng what four medicines he had smeared on Joshua's shoulder and she didn't ask.

Gu Mengmeng had no special feelings for Joshua and didn't wish to give him false hopes.

Don't ask don't tell was the most heartless but most appropriate way to handle this.

There were actually many things that needed settling in the tribe. Especially after deciding that they would head to the Motou mountain range during the monsoon season, there were even more things that Lea had to plan for.

Everything he was doing was for Gu Mengmeng. But if he ended up neglecting Mengmeng because of those things, wouldn't that be putting the cart before the horse?

In his eyes, nothing was more important than Gu Mengmeng.

Therefore, since he was already back, Lea had no intention of heading out again. He sat right at the entrance and started curing meats like the males in the other households.

After all, Gu Mengmeng would have to perform this task if he didn't. Elvis was such a terrible cook that he had been banned from having anything to do with food. And Lea could not bear to let Gu Mengmeng's delicate hands turn rough from handling the salt crystals.

Gu Mengmeng automatically stood behind Lea and started massaging his shoulders as she watched him prepare the food. She asked, “With so many things going on this period, aren’t you tired out?”

Lea was enjoying Gu Mengmeng’s massage a lot. He smiled. “The most tiresome thing is that I am unable to see you the entire day. I have to hold back the impulse to just cast everything aside and rush back. It is so tough having to endure that impulse. But winter is quickly approaching. By then, I will have nothing to do and can just watch you all day every day.”

Gu Mengmeng wrapped her arms around Lea’s shoulders from behind. She rested her chin on his collarbone. “In just the blink of an eye, this is our third winter together.”

Lea shook his head. “The first.”

“Mmm?” Gu Mengmeng didn’t understand.

Lea explained. “The first year, you and Elvis were partners while I was an outsider... the second year, you hovered over Chixuan the entire winter, such that Elvis and I became the outsiders... this year, you need to focus all your attentions on us. After all, this the first official winter for our family of three.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “Alright. We will stay inside the cave the whole winter. I will accompany you two properly.”

Lea nodded. “Elvis and I have already expanded the inner section of the cave. We will move the stone table inside. The storage section has also been expanded—it will be more convenient for you to throw potatoes at us then. We have also spread a fresh layer of soft, loose earth over the ground—so that you will not hurt yourself even if you trip over when chasing after us.”

Gu Mengmeng was momentarily stunned. “Why will I throw potatoes at you two?”

Lea glanced askance at her with a trace of disappointment. “You are not throwing things this year?”

Gu Mengmeng blinked. She stared at Lea in confusion.

Lea sighed. “I was so envious that time... I thought I will finally get the chance this year for you to throw things at me.”

That time?

Gu Mengmeng thought for a long while before recalling that during the first year after she and Elvis became partners, Elvis commented she had grown fatter and she was so angry that she had chased after him and thrown potatoes and sweet potatoes at him. She had flung them wildly in all directions, but he had caught them all and not a single one landed on the ground.

Gu Mengmeng smiled as she gave Lea a vigorous rub. “Are you such a fool? Why would you envy someone being beaten?”

Lea let Gu Mengmeng do whatever she wanted to his body. He smiled dotingly. “I have masochistic tendencies, and only for you.”

Chapter 1126 - Domestic Violence Is A No-No

Chapter 1126: Domestic Violence Is A No-No

Mmm, Gu Mengmeng remembered that incident clearly.

Lea was always envious of every single little thing she and Elvis had done together before she had partnered him. For example, twisting his ears, throwing potatoes...

Even now, this fellow would still wriggle his furry beast ears at her now and then, staring at her in anticipation and asking if she wished to twist his ears.

That year when they were not together must have been a tremendous torture to Lea?

Reaching out one little hand, she rubbed Lea's ear before chuckling. "Domestic violence is a no-no. I had thrown things at Elvis in the past as I was weaker. Even if I hit him with all my might, I could never hurt him much. Things are different now. If I mistime my move, you or Elvis might get injured. I am now a powerful Gu Mengmeng and cannot attack others unnecessarily."

Grabbing the hand which Gu Mengmeng was rubbing his ear with, Lea pulled it to his lips for a kiss. "Silly girl. In mine and Elvis' world, you are never the weaker one. You don't need your fists to hurt us. Just one look from you can send us straight to hell. It can also lift us back to earth. Your one word is enough to kill me on the spot, and can also bring me back to life."

Gu Mengmeng pecked Lea on the lips before giving a sweet smile. "My lord's mouth is so sweet."

A tingly numbness spread throughout Lea's body.

She often called Elvis "hubby", but this was the first time she was calling him "my lord".

This term of endearment was set down after Snakel snatched away the "boyfriend" title. But she had never called him that before.

His heart quivered on hearing it for the first time.

Embracing her tightly and kissing her again, he said, "Call me that again."

"My lord..." Gu Mengmeng obediently nestled in Lea's arms. Her face was tinged a girlish pink, making one feel like cherishing her.

Lea held Gu Mengmeng and kept asking her to call him "my lord". Every time she did, he had to kiss her a few times in order to control the tingling feeling in his heart. They flirted in this manner for an entire afternoon, all the way until the evening time when Auretin and Elvis came back together. Auretin was carrying some hunted game.

Elvis took Gu Mengmeng over from Lea. He inhaled her scent deeply before looking at Lea. "I heard that monkey came here to confess his feeling to Xiao Meng?"

Lea nodded. "Don't worry. It has been settled."

"Mmm." Elvis smirked in approval. He then said, "Including today's hunting yield, we should have more or less enough game to last us through the winter. From tomorrow onwards, I will stay at home to accompany Xiao Meng. You can continue with your duties."

Lea nodded in silent assent.

They all knew that Lea was busy—not with the affairs of the tribe, but with planning for their journey to the Motou mountain range during the monsoon season.

“The usual rules. You are in charge of thinking, I am in charge of doing.”
Elvis added.

Lea chuckled and raised one brow. “I feel like I am getting an especially short end of the stick. You always lay the blame on me every time there is a slip-up, shrugging off your responsibility with a ‘the idea was his, I was only the muscle’. Tsk... why don’t we switch it around and you be in charge of thinking, while I be in charge of doing?”

Elvis gave a faint smile. “I am the first partner. My arrangements are the law.”

Lea shook his head in exasperation as he dissed Elvis back. “Cunning.”

Elvis didn’t argue but just hugged Gu Mengmeng and kissed her. “Apart from the things already stored in our cave, is there anything else you would like to eat? I will help you prepare some.”

Chapter 1127 - The Forgotten Maya

Chapter 1127: The Forgotten Maya

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. The storage area in their cave had been expanded to more than three times its size. For the first year, Gu Mengmeng knew it was to ensure she had enough food. Elvis and Lea both ate very little, just enough to stay alive.

Last year, Cole had led her by the nose to spend winter in Sauder. Elvis did not have much time then to make preparations, but luckily they had help from the three little ones. They managed to prepare enough food in the end.

This year...

Ha, Elvis had gone into rampage mode. It was as if he couldn't wait to butcher every single prey in sight and bring them all back. The cave was now filled to the brim. Even if the three of them ate ravenously, they would not be able to finish so much food over the winter months.

What else could she want? Nothing, really nothing...

Over the next few days, Lea left early in the morning and returned late at night, looking very travel-weary.

Gu Mengmeng's heart ached to see him constantly on the move. She said that she could prepare the meals herself during this period and told him not to return everyday just to cook three meals for her.

After all, Lea could settle his own meals out in the wilderness. He could get more rest if he didn't need to spend time cooking.

But Lea didn't agree. He hugged her and said, "The daily three meals are an excuse for me to catch my breath. If I don't make use of this reason to come back and see you, I will probably not be able to make it through these long, tiresome days."

Gu Mengmeng's heart was suffused with sweetness, but she still couldn't bear to see him suffer. Hence, she offered to prepare the three meals, and he could just come back to eat with her.

But Lea held her little hand firmly. "Silly girl, your male is still alive. How can he let you suffer so?"

Failing to convince him, Lea continued to come back promptly everyday to prepare the three meals. He would hurry out to continue his work only after ensuring Gu Mengmeng was well taken care of.

The weather had turned cooler. Even without any prior experience of it, one could tell winter should be approaching soon.

"Mengmeng." Lea draped an animal fur over Gu Mengmeng's shoulders before wrapping his arms around her. He kissed her forehead. "It will be winter soon. Should we hold a bonfire party to celebrate a bit?"

"Mmm?" Gu Mengmeng didn't understand. Everyone was busy preparing their own food supplies. Who would have the time to organize some bonfire party?

Lea said, "Saint Nazaire was not too peaceful the same time last year. You are back holding the fort this year and no one dares to come and create trouble. But the hearts of our people still harbor a lingering shadow of fear. Yesterday when I met Maya, she said that she still feels as if some enemy might charge in at any moment and snatch away her family's food and kill all her males..."

"Maya.." Gu Mengmeng pondered for a moment. She had nearly forgotten about that female.

Maya was previously on good terms with Nina, and just stood by watching coolly as Nina bullied Sandy for so many years. Thereafter, Gu Mengmeng had arrived and Nina lost power. Only then did Maya distance herself from Nina and started hanging out with them.

Because of the high value of females and the desire to keep the peace and harmony within Saint Nazaire, she had not given much thought to Maya.

They lived in the same tribe but they were not close at all.

“Mengmeng.” Lea hooked Gu Mengmeng’s chin. His slanted eyes met hers and she detected the slyness behind his faint smile. Lea said in a low voice, “I want you tell Maya that you wish to get a male vulture as a partner. And that we are going to the Motou mountain range to seek out a treasure during the monsoon season.”

Gu Mengmeng looked at Lea in puzzlement. “Why should I tell her that?”

Chapter 1128 - Her Fox Was So Cunning, But She Liked It.

Chapter 1128: Her Fox Was So Cunning, But She Liked It.

Lea looked at Gu Mengmeng and moved his face closer. “Kiss me and I will tell you.”

Gu Mengmeng didn’t pretend to be coy and gave Lea a big smack on the lips. “Mmm, tell me.”

Lea cupped Gu Mengmeng’s little face and kissed her on each cheek before he was finally satisfied. Only then did he reply, “Make use of her mouth to transmit the message to someone.”

“Someone?” Gu Mengmeng didn’t understand.

Lea looked up at the skies with a cool smile. He stroked Gu Mengmeng’s palm with his fingers and said casually, “If you wish to witness a person’s pain, the easiest way is to give him hope, before crushing it viciously. Those years in the past, when I was a floundering mess, he was more than happy to offer me a point of support, before snatching it away just as I finally managed to climb up. Just so he could see me once again fall back into the the abyss...”

Going by his words, Gu Mengmeng immediately knew who that “someone” was.

Frowning, Gu Mengmeng asked in a soft voice, “Are you saying that Maya is under Cole?”

Lea gave Gu Mengmeng a sideways glance as he chuckled at her wide, clear eyes. “I really love this wide-eyed, guileless expression of yours.”

Gu Mengmeng snorted dismissively but Lea caressed her little head and said, “I am serious. This world is too ugly and there is no need for you to know of or think about such filthy matters. Just leave them to me and Elvis to handle. You just maintain your innocence and let us help you cleanse this world.”

With that, Lea cupped the back of Gu Mengmeng’s head and kissed her brow. “Being so trusted and relied upon by you gives me a great sense of achievement.”

Gu Mengmeng kept quiet but her eyes dimmed. She turned to look at Elvis behind her. “Did you also know that Maya is under Cole?”

Elvis nodded. “Her appearance was too much of a coincidence. Lea and I had just thought of building a tribe, and this female kidnapped by stray beasts appeared before us...”

Was this the notion of always be suspicious when a pillow suddenly appeared the moment thoughts of sleep entered your head?

Gu Mengmeng recalled that during the first year after they became partners, Elvis had shared with her some stories of how he and Lea had build up the tribe, as part of efforts to persuade her to accept Lea.

Elvis told her that Maya was Saint Nazaire’s first female.

She had not thought much of it then, but she now realized the significance after hearing it again...

Ha, another one of Cole’s evil schemes?

You want to build a tribe? Fine, I will give you a female. Go ahead and do so. After you finish building it and believe that you have the power to go against me—I will personally destroy your tribe and watch as the hope in your eyes get incinerated until only the ashes of despondency remain...

Ha, it really did felt like Cole’s style of doing things.

“You already knew but you still rescued her?” Gu Mengmeng furrowed her brows.

Lea gazed at Gu Mengmeng as if she was little kid and chuckled. His expression was full of affection and doting.

“I am a fox after all.” Lea waved his tail. “Aren’t foxes the best at eating up the bait set in traps before vanishing to a hideout to watch the hunter jumping around in rage?”

Gu Mengmeng paused before smiling.

A normal person would naturally steer clear of danger. On knowing that something was a trap, the first instinct of anyone would be to avoid and run away.

Stealing chestnuts straight out of a fire...

It was not her style, but it must be said that Lea was right.

Using Cole’s bait to build a Saint Nazaire that Cole could not destroy. This meant that Lea had not been always under Cole’s thumb. All the wretchedness he had endured was for a greater purpose... something like luring the enemy into deep waters? Ha, her fox was so cunning, but she liked it.

Chapter 1129 - : A White Lotus Among Skanks

Chapter 1129

: A White Lotus Among Skanks

“But why must we tell her that we are going to the Motou mountain range?” Gu Mengmeng frowned. She had no wish to get involved with Cole.

Lea pinched Gu Mengmeng’s little nose. “Do you think Cole has guessed that I know Maya reports to him?”

Gu Mengmeng felt rather lost at Lea’s riddle. She had to repeat his question to herself a couple of times before finally grasping it. Thereafter, she pondered over his question. With Cole’s suspicious and manipulative character, it was impossible that he didn’t know Lea had already guessed Maya’s identity.

She nodded. “I think he knows.”

Lea chuckled and knowingly agreed. “I think so too.”

Gu Mengmeng thought about it for a moment before narrowing her eyes. “Purposely leaking this information to Maya despite knowing that she is under Cole—now Cole would actually not trust this information... right?”

Lea tapped the tip of Gu Mengmeng’s nose with a light laugh. “Smart.”

“In this way, the open manner with which you have been asking about the Motou mountains would appear to be a guise in Cole’s view...” Gu Mengmeng chuckled. It was as if she could already picture the comical scene of how Cole would react when he realized he had been tricked by Lea.

Mmm, a fox hiding nearby and watching the hunter jumping around in rage after realizing the bait in his trap was gone.

Ha, such a wonderful image, how could one not look forward to it?

Lea rubbed his cheek. “And I will carelessly mentioned the Spirit of the Rocky Cliffs... ha, that will become the ‘true target’ in that person’s eyes.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded with a smile. “Alright, I know now. Mandy and Maya will sit by my side at tonight’s bonfire party.”

Lea kissed Gu Mengmeng’s hand. “Mmm, I look forward to your performance.”

That night, 18 bonfires were raised on the open space in Saint Nazaire. Gu Mengmeng’s bonfire was the largest, and the ones on her left and right belonged to Maya and Mandy.

Mandy was the First Beauty personally crowned by Gu Mengmeng. Because of Ian and her own close relationship with Gu Mengmeng, it was natural that Mandy would sit beside her.

But Maya was a half-beast female and she was also not as close to Gu Mengmeng as Sandy was. As a result, the other females in the tribe were very unhappy at the sight of Maya sitting beside Gu Mengmeng.

Appearing oblivious to the animosity of the other females towards Maya, Gu Mengmeng just grinned at her and waved. She called Maya over to her own bonfire.

Maya approached timidly, in the same manner as when she had knelt before Gu Mengmeng to beg to be allowed to follow her.

But after knowing what she did now, Gu Mengmeng would never again mistake Maya’s act as that of a half-beast female’s sense of inferiority and low self—esteem.

Ha, she had thought Nina was the most annoying female in the Beast World, when Ellie came along.

Then she had thought Ellie was the Beast World's prime example of a green tea bitch, never expecting there was still a Maya hiding in the shadows.

Tsk tsk tsk, so Maya was the true-blue scheming bitch, a white lotus among skanks. Pure on the outside, rotten on the inside.

She was truly blind to have completely missed it.

"Maya." Gu Mengmeng smiled warmly. "Before I came back, Sandy was still nagging me about how you, me and her are the original three females of Saint Nazaire, and that we should hang out more. When I return from the Motou mountain range, I will bring you over to Sauder. Sandy has just given birth to three leopard cubs, and they are utterly adorable."

"Motou mountain range?" Maya asked in a seemingly casual manner.

Chapter 1130 - An Overly-Dramatic Actress Beside Me

Chapter 1130: An Overly-Dramatic Actress Beside Me

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. Ha, the fish had taken the bait.

If she was truly such a good friend, shouldn't she have first shown some concern for Sandy and her babies first? Such lousy acting skills—how did Gu Mengmeng fail to see this before?

Perhaps it was not that she couldn't see but that she had never even cared about Maya before?

So Gu Mengmeng didn't really feel any anger even though she now knew that Maya was a double agent.

Mmm, Gu Mengmeng imagined that if the spy was not Maya but was Sandy instead—she would be mad with anger.

Gu Mengmeng felt much better at that thought. As a result, the sincerity of her smile went up a notch. “Yeah, we plan to head over to the Motou mountains during the monsoon season, to look for the Love of the Sky.”

“But the Motou mountains are so high up. Land beasts are completely unable to climb them.” Maya gazed innocently at Gu Mengmeng. She had no idea just how many dead giveaways she had let loose from that one question.

Gu Mengmeng and Lea had put in so much effort to finally squeeze some information on the Motou mountain range out from Ian. This was not information that a normal half-beast female in Saint Nazaire would know.

Gu Mengmeng's heart was full of cunning but didn't show any outward sign of it. She just continued obliviously. "That's right, so I plan to accept a male vulture as my partner. Then I can have him fly me up."

"Vulture? Wa..." Longing filled Maya's face, as her eyes shone with envy. "I heard that vultures are the proudest race in the Beast World. Every single one of them holds exceptional good looks and powerful abilities. I think that in the entire world, only you will be able to conquer such a male."

Such clumsy boot-licking. Gu Mengmeng forced an obliging smile. "Yes, they are my father's most loyal subjects. They should have the honor of being my partner."

Maya's smile froze a little. If it was before, Gu Mengmeng would not have paid heed to Maya's reaction, and would never have noticed the flash of jealous hatred across her eyes. But she saw everything clearly now.

Maya quickly readjusted her expression and smiled accommodatingly. "Yes, to be your partner is a gift from the Beast Deity. After all, you are not just the Messenger of the Beast Deity, but also his daughter."

Gu Mengmeng smiled wordlessly. She raised her brows in an arrogant manner.

Maya was worried that she might give herself away if she hung around Gu Mengmeng's side for too long. Hence, on seeing that Gu Mengmeng was longer paying much attention to her, she took the initiative to excuse herself and return to her own bonfire.

After Maya left, Gu Mengmeng called Mandy over. Two of Mandy's males tagged along—her first partner Ralph and her new partner Ian.

Ralph was very tactful and didn't head over to Gu Mengmeng's side. Instead, he went over to Lea to learn some cooking skills.

Ian was more familiar with Gu Mengmeng. Even before Ian had a partner, Elvis and Lea had never objected to him hovering around Gu Mengmeng. Now that Ian had a partner, Elvis and Lea would mind even less. Hence when Mandy sat down beside Gu Mengmeng, he was allowed to sit on the other side of Mandy.

Although Mandy had grown closer to Gu Mengmeng, it was still only up to a first-name basis. She did not dare to touch her, and so hugged her own knees as she gazed at Gu Mengmeng with head tilted to the side. “This rainy season has gone by so comfortably. My cave is stocked full of food supplies and no outside enemies have come so we don’t need to worry about sudden attacks. And we can even hold a bonfire party... Gu Mengmeng, can you stay in Saint Nazaire every rainy season from now on?”

Chapter 1131 - Teasing Mandy

Chapter 1131: Teasing Mandy

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. "I cannot promise that I will be here for every rainy season, but I can guarantee that Saint Nazaire will become more and more powerful. So much so that no one will dare to attack us and steal our food again in future."

Mandy pouted in disappointment. "When you are not around... the atmosphere in the tribe feels strange. As if the backbone of our tribe is missing, giving one a sense of instability."

Gu Mengmeng patted Mandy gently on the head. "Don't worry, things will get better."

"Get your hands off." Ian grunted fiercely.

Wabei was not around so Ian was the only person left who would bicker with Gu Mengmeng.

The corners of Gu Mengmeng's lips curled up wickedly. She removed her hand from Mandy's head and reached out her palm to her instead. With a challenging gaze directed at Ian, she called out. "Mandy, come, let's hold hands..."

Looking completely overwhelmed, Mandy carefully placed her fingertips onto Gu Mengmeng's palm.

Gu Mengmeng grabbed Mandy's little hand, before purposely spreading out her fingers and intertwining them tightly with Mandy's right before Ian's eyes. She lifted her chin and raised her brows, with a "bite me if you dare" expression aimed at Ian.

Ian grunted and turned to look at Elvis. "Do you not care that your female is fooling around with someone else?"

Elvis' expression didn't changed. He just tore off a bite-sized portion from the roasted meat brought over by Lea, and fed it to Gu Mengmeng. "My Xiao Meng likes to bully people. It is your Mandy's good fortune that Xiao Meng has taken a liking to her. Snatch her away if you have the ability to do so. If not, just learn from Bode."

"Learn what from Bode?" Ian asked.

Elvis lifted his eyes as he spat out the words: "Accept your fate."

Fuming, Ian wanted to snatch Mandy back from Gu Mengmeng. But he saw how Mandy was gazing happily at Gu Mengmeng with starry eyes, so he forced himself to lower his hands.

Ian had backed down too quickly, making Gu Mengmeng feel very unsatisfied. It was no fun at all if your target didn't respond to your provocation.

Gu Mengmeng loosened her hold of Mandy's hand before curling her finger at Mandy, indicating that she should come closer.

Totally unaware of what was going on, Mandy complied. Gu Mengmeng then leaned in close and whispered in her ear. "After tonight's bonfire party, come with me to my cave. I have something to tell you."

Mandy was full of curiosity. What was it that could not be spoken here? But she didn't probe and just nodded obediently.

Males in the Beast World had very good hearing. Especially at such a close distance.

Consequently, Ian's face flushed with anger...

He wrapped his arms around Mandy's shoulders and pulled her into his embrace. He glared imperiously at Gu Mengmeng, as pallid-looking as his face was. "Must you really bully others? Let me tell you, unless you kill me now, I will never let you do anything indecent to my Mandy."

Pfft...

Gu Mengmeng nearly choked on her own saliva. She stared back at Ian. “What do you think I want to do to Mandy?”

Ian’s face grew red as he glared at Gu Mengmeng like she was his love rival.

After fuming for a long while, he said, “Why don’t I fly straight to Sauder now. I will fly all night and bring Sandy back here tomorrow. I don’t care what you want to do, just do it to Sandy instead!”

Gu Mengmeng stifled a grin. Ian must be thinking that she was a lesbian.

Feeling mischievous, Gu Mengmeng didn’t explain but purposely pulled herself forward in an ambiguous manner. She sat in a kneeling position with both hands placed between her kneecaps. Gazing wide-eyed at Mandy, she asked, “Mandy, do you hate me? You don’t want to come play with me at my cave? Mmm?”

Chapter 1132 - I Like You, Of Course I Like You!

Chapter 1132: I Like You, Of Course I Like You!

“No, no!” Mandy shook her head frantically. She instinctively struggled out of Ian’s embrace and ran to kneel before Gu Mengmeng. She stared beseechingly into her eyes, as if deeply afraid of Gu Mengmeng misunderstanding her. “You are my most idolized Great Messenger. How could I not like you?”

Gu Mengmeng glanced at Ian, full of cunning and provocation, as well as a trace of wicked malevolence. It was as if she was naughty kid playing a prank.

“So, you like me?” Gu Mengmeng purposely asked.

Mandy nodded without any hesitation. “I like you, of course I like you!”

Gu Mengmeng pounced forward and drew Mandy into her arms. She rested her chin on Mandy’s shoulder and stared at Ian with smugly triumphant eyes. “I also like Mandy, I like her very very very much...”

Ian was driven mad but he was helpless against Gu Mengmeng.

Elvis held Gu Mengmeng by the back of her neck and pulled her back into his embrace. He said mildly, “You have spent more time looking at her than at me now. I am jealous.”

Gu Mengmeng chortled. She held Elvis’ face and gave him a loud, smacking kiss. “Alright, I won’t fool around anymore. Let’s eat.”

The thing was Ian’s angry manner was just too amusing. Otherwise, Gu Mengmeng would not “tease” Mandy in this way.

However... ha, Gu Mengmeng truly never imagined there would come a day that someone would mistake her for being a lesbian.

Previously when she had gay thoughts about Elvis and Lea—did they also feel this way? Mmm... Lea seemed to take it in his stride, but Elvis would get incensed at the mention of such things. He would definitely never accept it. Compared to the two of them, Gu Mengmeng felt her tolerance level was rather high.

It wasn't real anyway. Just fooling around.

After they finished their proper business, Gu Mengmeng didn't have much interest in partying with the rest of the tribe. After all, according to custom, what happened next was not something that harmonious.

It would be winter very soon. The males would naturally fight hard for this last chance to confess their feelings to their desired female.

With no interest in watching and applauding the fellows on their collective displays of affection, Gu Mengmeng retired early and went back to her cave. Not long after, Mandy also found some excuse to leave. She circled one big round before arriving at Gu Mengmeng's cave.

Ian followed vigilantly, as if truly afraid that Gu Mengmeng would eat Mandy up.

Gu Mengmeng couldn't be bothered about him and just sprawled lazily by the stone table. She waved on seeing Mandy approach, gesturing at her to come over and sit down.

After Mandy sat down, Lea placed a big pot of meat on the table. "My Mengmeng cannot eat too much roasted meat. She will have a nosebleed. So I have prepared a small stew—if you are still able to eat, have a little with my Mengmeng?"

Mandy was very happy and nodded enthusiastically.

Ever the perfect gentleman, Lea brought over two bowls. One for Gu Mengmeng and the other for Mandy. He then ladled two helpings of meat into the bowls for the females, so that they could eat and chat at the same time.

Gu Mengmeng didn't beat about the bush and asked candidly, "Mandy, I have called you over today to drag you down into some muddy waters. I want you to do something bad with me."

Mandy looked at Gu Mengmeng as she ate. "Sure, what do you want me to do?"

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. Perhaps this was the idol effect?

This Mandy—she actually agreed before asking what the task was...

Because of her blind adoration, even the sight of her idol scratching her feet would look lovely to her.

Luckily she wasn't a bad person or Gu Mengmeng could have sold Mandy and still make her count the money to make sure the amount was right.

Gu Mengmeng smiled in exasperation. "It's also not something very bad. I just want you to start a rumor among the females, and help me besmear Maya's name."

Chapter 1133 - Gu Lectures On Swindling Again

Chapter 1133: Gu Lectures On Swindling Again

“Mmm?” Mandy looked at Gu Mengmeng with a perplexed expression.

Gu Mengmeng said, “I want all the females to distance themselves from her and not play with her.”

Mandy nodded as realization dawned. She smiled. “Ah, I understand now that you put it like that.”

Without asking why, Mandy nodded and said, “No problem. Leave this matter to me. By tomorrow evening, I guarantee that not one of the 16 valued females will pay any attention to her again.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled approvingly, before adding. “But you cannot let anyone know I was the one who asked you to do this.”

Mandy nodded. “No problem.”

Gu Mengmeng ladled another bowl of meat for Mandy. “Have a little more.”

“Mmm.” Mandy accepted and ate several more bowls.

Gu Mengmeng didn’t have a big appetite and had already eaten some roasted meat at the bonfire. Hence this pot of stewed meat mostly went into Mandy’s tummy.

Having nearly finished the entire pot, Mandy finally licked her lips in satisfaction and bade Gu Mengmeng goodbye. She then followed Ian back to her own cave.

Lea exchanged a grin with Gu Mengmeng as he cleared the table. “Looks like the two of us are on the same wavelength.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled as she snuggled in Elvis’ arms. “The Beast World holds females in the highest regard. A partnered male will treat his own female like a goddess. As long as the 16 valued females alienate Maya, she would find it difficult to maneuver within Saint Nazaire. After all, half the males in Saint Nazaire already belong to the 16 valued females, while the other half... are wooing them.”

“Without anyone to cooperate with her, Maya will not be able to get up to her tricks.” Lea approved of Gu Mengmeng’s line of thought.

Gu Mengmeng nodded. “Previously, I never felt there was anything wrong with Maya, and so didn’t think so. But now that I think of it, Nina was rather maligned. Her bossy manner—I reckon at least 80% was instigated by Maya? And I still thought that Maya was the one being bullied by Nina, and that Maya was just bearing it in silence. I never imagined it was actually the other way round.”

Lea rubbed his own nose, feeling uncharacteristically sheepish.

After all, he was the very person who had tacitly condoned Maya’s instigation of Nina...

Elvis saw that Lea was feeling uncomfortable and so cut in. “You really think Mandy can influence those females? They are such a chaotic bunch with so much infighting amongst themselves. They don’t look like they will comply.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed. “Give them a common enemy and they will naturally band together.”

Elvis didn’t really understand Gu Mengmeng’s meaning so she explained. “People always possess a crowd mentality—this means that a thing becomes a matter-of-course the moment everyone else is doing it. Even if you feel something is not quite right, you will still go along with it, otherwise you will become the odd one out and no one likes to be different.

In the end, you might even carry out the act to an even more extreme level just to prove you are not the odd duck.”

Elvis was still uncomprehending, but Lea’s smile widened. He even stopped his washing and sat beside Gu Mengmeng. He listened attentively to Gu Mengmeng’s analysis.

It felt like Gu Mengmeng was once again conducting her lecture on how to swindle people.

Mmm, this was also a common type of human behavior. The desire to gain the approval of others and be adored. Especially by the people they themselves liked.

Chapter 1134 - I Will Have To Dispute This To The End

Chapter 1134: I Will Have To Dispute This To The End

“Just take this matter regarding Maya.” Gu Mengmeng chuckled before continuing. “I purposely arranged for her to sit beside me during the bonfire party. And she was the first person I called over for a chat. That was a trick to make her a target of hate to the other females.”

Elvis looked at Gu Mengmeng, still perplexed. “But Mandy also sat beside you and chatted with you. Won’t she also be ostracized?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. “Mandy is the Beast World’s First Beauty personally crowned by me. She had received my handmade bamboo cup and became partners with my good friend Ian. She is close enough to be able to come by our cave any time to eat and chat with me. For her to sit beside me at the bonfire is a given. But Maya is an entire different matter...”

Gu Mengmeng’s gaze turned a notch cooler and shone with a sliver of cunning. “Although the 16 value females are from different tribes, they came to Saint Nazaire at the same time. They all have the same starting points and have some sort of camaraderie. But Maya is a half-beast female who was already in Saint Nazaire, and she will never be able to merge into their circle. Things might have still been fine if her friendship with me was as good as Sandy and I’s—but our relationship is only so-so. I had actually more or less forgotten about Maya’s existence, all until today when Lea suggested for me to leak some information to her.”

Gu Mengmeng paused for a moment before continuing. “It would have been great for her if I had really forgotten about her. After all, she knows how to hide her true intentions behind a weak and timid front. Most of the other females will not go out of their way to make things difficult for her as those complete females do not regard her as a worthy opponent at all. But because of this very reason, she has suddenly become the focus of attention today.”

“There will definitely be some within the 16 valued females who will be feeling aggrieved. Thoughts like ‘what right does this wretched half-beast female have to sit beside the Messenger of the Beast Deity’, or ‘is she trying to sidle up to the Messenger of the Beast Deity just based on the fact that she is one of the original females in Saint Nazaire? So shameless’ will definitely surface. This is enough to make them ostracize Maya.” Gu Mengmeng took a deep breath before carrying on. “So Mandy just needs to casually bring up this sentiment and then add in a few incendiary remarks—that will be good enough.”

Lea held his cheek and gazed at Gu Mengmeng approvingly. He loved this side to Gu Mengmeng, as cunning as a little fox. Utterly mesmerizing.

Greedy to see more of this spirited display of hers, Lea probed further. “Are you confident that those females will only target Maya, and Mandy will not be implicated?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded without any hesitation. “Girls will not be jealous of Fan Bingbing’s beauty, but will be envious if Jane from the next class lost another two kilograms, or if Mary from next door now looks especially good after getting double-eyelid surgery.”

Fan Bingbing, Jane from the next class and Mary from next door... who the hell were they?

Looking at Lea’s and Elvis’ befuddled faces, Gu Mengmeng knew they couldn’t understand her explanation. Hence, she tried another angle. “Let’s put it this way, what if one day you said you don’t want me anymore. You like someone else now. I investigated and found out that someone is Melinda. I can weep and curse at you, but my pain will gradually fade away and I will recover from it. However, if that someone is Nina, I will be extremely upset. She is inferior to me in every way but you still chose her over me?! You are stomping on my dignity and there is no way I will be able to bear it. I will have to dispute this to the end, right?!”

Chapter 1135 - My Mengmeng Is The Best

Chapter 1135: My Mengmeng Is The Best

Lea's expression darkened. He looked at Gu Mengmeng and asked, "So you will weep and curse not because you are upset over losing me, but because you feel unhappy for losing out to Nina? Is that right?"

Gu Mengmeng was lost for a second as she had trouble catching up to Lea's line of thinking.

She finally understood after a moment's thought. Her analogy had touched upon an old sore spot of Lea's.

Hence she hastily tried to soothe him. "I was just narrating an example. I don't mean it that way."

Lea refused to believe. He frowned as his slanted eyes filled with desolation. It was as if the words "I am upset" was written clearly across his face.

Gu Mengmeng didn't know whether to laugh or cry. How long had it been since that incident?

Sigh...

The speaker might have no particular intentions, but the listener was free to read into the words any way he wanted.

Gu Mengmeng held Lea's face and kissed him. "Then I won't use Nina in my example. I will use Maya, alright? If you ditch me for Maya, I will definitely feel very aggrieved..."

Lea lowered his eyes and looked down at his crossed fingers. With a faint twist of his lips, he said, “You still blame me, don’t you? Because of that incident, you still harbor a grudge and refuse to trust me? You are unable to forget my earlier abandonment of you...”

Gu Mengmeng held her forehead. How did things come to this stage?

How was it that the more she tried to soothe him, the more belligerent he became?

“No...” Gu Mengmeng held Lea’s face with the intention to clarify further, but his brows sank at the corners as he choked back miserable sobs. “You don’t need to deny. I understand. I was the one who was in the wrong in the first place...”

Gu Mengmeng said, “No, no...”

Lea turned his head to the side as if he was about to cry. He looked utterly dejected.

Gu Mengmeng saw that it would not be so easy to coax Lea this time.

Hence, she narrowed her eyes and nimbly pinched Lea’s ears. “Yes, I am unhappy at that little act you put on with Nina. It doesn’t matter if it was real or fake, I will never forgive you for saying you don’t love me! So you better keep away from other females from now on. If I see you being nice towards any female apart from me, I will twist your ears off. Do you hear me?!”

At Gu Mengmeng’s rant, Lea stopped his belligerence. He stared deeply into Gu Mengmeng’s eyes and nodded seriously. He behaved like a samoyed dog being admonished by his master, looking innocent and pitiful, directly appealing to one’s heart.

He reached out and took Gu Mengmeng by the waist and enveloped her a big hug. “My Mengmeng is the best. I knew you wouldn’t not care about me.”

Gu Mengmeng held her forehead and sighed.

That Lea was such a degenerate. He refused to be coaxed but immediately stopped his nonsense after being shouted at.

But weren't they just analyzing Maya's matter? Where did they leave off...

"But there's something I must correct." Lea rested his chin on Gu Mengmeng's shoulder. He glanced sideways at her. "Melinda is also nothing compared to you. In this entire world, no one can be compared to you. You are not inferior to anyone."

Gu Mengmeng couldn't help bursting out in laughter. She did feel rather happy being praised by her man like that.

No matter how Gu Mengmeng looked at it, Melinda was really more beautiful than her.

But who wasn't willing to be the most beautiful person in the eyes of her own man?

Gu Mengmeng held Lea's head with both hands and kneaded vigorously for a while. She then said, "Mmm, you have pretty good taste. Please maintain your standards."

Because of Lea's interruption, Gu Mengmeng also forgot which stage of their analysis had they progressed to.

But the results of their little plan would be unveiled tomorrow anyway. It made no difference whether or not they completed their analysis.

Chapter 1136 - Gentlemen, This Is As Far As I Can Help You Guys.

Chapter 1136: Gentlemen, This Is As Far As I Can Help You Guys.

Mandy didn't disappoint Gu Mengmeng. Nothing happened the next morning but by noon, the atmosphere in Saint Nazaire was clearly different.

Because Elvis had already stocked enough food and no longer needed to go out to hunt, Gu Mengmeng let him accompany her as she made the rounds within the tribe. One, was to inspect the territory to see if there was still anything to be done. Two, was to check on Mandy's results.

The 16 valued females were gathered by the little stream and looked as though they were having a discussion. They all stood up and warmly greeted Gu Mengmeng when they saw her approach.

Gu Mengmeng waved at Mandy, who came up to her with a wide grin.

"What were you talking about? Smiling so happily." Gu Mengmeng asked even though she knew the answer. After all, with her current hearing abilities, she had already overheard their conversation from afar.

Mandy laughed. "Leanna accepted several new males yesterday night. She was just showing us her mating marks."

Mmm, Gu Mengmeng had overheard this part earlier.

Leanna's new partner was marked on her buttocks...

To prevent Leanna from lifting her animal hide skirt and showing off her new mark, Gu Mengmeng interrupted. "During last year's winter, three females in Sauder had given birth, while one is pregnant. You must all work harder so that I won't lose face. Don't let others say my 16 valued females look good on the outside but have nothing else to offer. Understand?"

"Don't worry, Great Messenger. This winter, we have abundant food supplies and have you, our chief and the witch doctor holding the fort. We don't need to worry about being attacked and will do our best to mate. Next year after winter, we will definitely not let you down. We will not let those foxes in Sauder outperform us." Leanna assured.

Gu Mengmeng nodded in satisfaction. "Females are the most precious resource of a tribe, while babies are its biggest foundation. You must all work hard. The honor of Saint Nazaire depends upon you."

The females all looked like they had had a boost of adrenaline. They stood before Gu Mengmeng with a stance that implied that they would not cease until they got pregnant.

Gu Mengmeng nodded with satisfaction as she thought to herself: Gentlemen, this is as far as I can help you.

As they talked and laughed, Maya also came by.

But before she even came close, the faces of the 16 valued females darkened.

Gu Mengmeng purposely looked at everyone in puzzlement. She then looked at Maya, but didn't say anything.

Mandy exchanged glances with the 16 valued females. She then walked to Gu Mengmeng's side and said in a coquettish manner, "Gu Mengmeng, I want to tell you a secret. Come back with me to my cave, alright?"

Gu Mengmeng naturally had to follow Mandy's script, hence she nodded. "Alright."

She then turned to the right. "Sorry ladies. Mandy and I have to leave first. I will come chat with you all again another day."

“Great Messenger, take care. Great Messenger, goodbye...” The 16 valued females beamed as they waved at Gu Mengmeng. They saw her off with their eyes.

In reality, Gu Mengmeng followed Mandy as they circled around and quietly returned to the little stream. They hid behind a large tree some distance away, secretly peeking at the scene by the stream while keeping out of sight.

“Oi, half-beast female.” Leanna was the first to attack. She took one step forward to block off Maya. “We are resting by this stream. Get lost.”

Maya looked like she never expected to be chased off. She stood there in a daze, not knowing how to react.

Chapter 1137 - Ostracizing Maya

Chapter 1137: Ostracizing Maya

“I... I am also a female of Saint Nazaire...” Maya stuttered in a rather timid manner.

Leanna laughed and crossed her arms over her chest. “So what? We are complete females and have first rights to enjoy the resources of this tribe. You are just a wretched half-beast female, but you dare to try and snatch our rights from us?”

Since Nina’s death, it had been a long time since anyone in Saint Nazaire had spoken about complete females versus half-beast females.

Because of Gu Mengmeng’s relationship with Sandy, the tribe was very open-minded towards half-beast females. So all the 16 valued females had been very restrained in their behavior over the past year. They had never picked on Sandy or Maya before.

But this sense of superiority had been inculcated in them since birth—it was impossible to completely erase it within a year. Strutting around brazenly in front of half-beast females really came rather naturally. Every complete female could do it easily. And especially for these 15 ladies who were the First Beauties of their former tribes—their sense of superiority would be even more pronounced. Every one of them were elite figures from the very top echelons of society.

“Gu Mengmeng said that in Saint Nazaire, half-beast females are not inferior to complete females. We are all the same...”

Maya’s facade seemed to be on the verge of cracking. She clenched her fists tightly by her side, sharpness seeping into her voice.

Leanna acted like she had heard a joke. She lifted her chin and looked down at Maya. “Oh, so you are trying to use your status as one of the oldest members of Saint Nazaire to show how close you are to the Great Messenger? You think you can just make use the Great Messenger’s name to suppress us?”

“I don’t mean it that way.” Maya felt that things were getting out of hand. Weren’t things just fine yesterday? What had happened since then? Her males had gone out hunting early this morning and all had come back full of injuries. Only after some probing did she finally find out that they had been bullied by the males of the 16 valued females. Not only had their hunted game been snatched away, they had all been beaten up.

Although Saint Nazaire had a witch doctor, males would generally not seek out Lea for their injuries. Hence, they could only grin and bear the pain.

Maya couldn’t understand what was going. That was why she had purposely come to the stream to ask what was going on—only to discover that these females were also targeting her for no apparent reason.

All this was happening too suddenly. She just could not understand the reason behind this abrupt change.

Leanna did not have the patience to waste her breath on Maya. She stepped back. “Where are your males? Are they around?”

“You... what do you want?” Maya looked at the 16 valued females clustered in front of her. Her heart pounded.

Leanna said, “I don’t wish to see you here. Get lost now or have your males come out to spar with ours. The winner gets to stay.”

The moment Leanna’s words were spoken, the 16 valued females signaled their partners with their eyes. They all swarmed over.

In the Beast World, females would have at least two family members by her side at all times: her first partner and the family’s most powerful male.

These two did not need to go out hunting, and would always keep by their female's side, to ensure her comfort and safety.

Just like Bode and Collin in Sandy's household, as well as Ralph and Ian in Mandy's family.

So the males who had come forth were more or less all third and fourth-level beasts. While Maya was only accompanied by her second-level wolf, Nissan. How could he be a match for them?

"You..." The rims of Maya's eyes turned red. She stomped her feet and turned to run off, looking extremely pathetic.

The 16 valued females burst out laughing on seeing Maya flee. One of them asked Leanna, "Do you think she will go complain to the Great Messenger?"

Chapter 1138 - Let Her Experience The Wrath Of The 16 Valued Females

Chapter 1138: Let Her Experience The Wrath Of The 16 Valued Females

Leanna snorted. “Did you think our little trick could have gone unnoticed by the Great Messenger?”

“You mean...”

Leanna continued. “With the Great Messenger’s high intelligence level, the moment Mandy asked her to leave with her, she must have known what we were up to. If the Great Messenger wanted to help that half-beast female, she could have refused to leave or asked her along. But the Great Messenger just left with Mandy without even a backward glance. She was obviously indicating that she wouldn’t side with Maya?”

“Mmm... you have a point.” Another female agreed.

Leanna carried on. “Maya is not Sandy. Even if she really goes to complain to the Great Messenger, we can just deny everything, and she will not probe further. But... ha, if Maya really dares to badmouth us in front of the Great Messenger, I will let her experience the wrath of the 16 valued females.”

The females all laughed before each coming out with ideas on how to make Maya suffer.

Elvis, who had been by Gu Mengmeng’s side the entire time, felt his skull go numb as he listened to them. Carrying Gu Mengmeng in his arms, he stood up and left.

No no no, these females were too scary. He could not let Xiao Meng continue hanging out with them. She would be scared!

But he seemed to have forgotten.

The little angel in his arms was the very one who had instigated those females against Maya.

After traveling some distance away, Gu Mengmeng patted Mandy on the shoulder. “You have helped me this time, and we are now bonded by this dirty little deed. Although Ian was never my guard, he has done a lot for me, as much as Collin had. So in future, you can treat me as your good friend, like how Sandy does. Come seek me at my cave whenever you need help. You can also come visit me whenever you miss me...”

“Mmm!” Mandy beamed with pleasure and a touch of sweetness.

Gu Mengmeng laughed before saying, “It’s nearly noon, do you want to eat with me?”

Mandy instinctively glanced at Elvis, trying to discern his opinion on this.

Winter was coming soon. By then, as much as Gu Mengmeng pined for company, she would have no choice but to be holed up in the cave. So before the snows sealed off the mountains, Elvis did not oppose as reluctant as he was to agree. He nodded in silent assent to Mandy accompanying Gu Mengmeng for lunch.

Mandy nodded happily before turning around to her own partner. “Ralph, send me to the borders of Gu Mengmeng’s territory, then go get Ian to come and fetch me.”

“Alright.” Ralph nodded before lifting Mandy up and following Elvis back to the cave.

Because winter was fast approaching, Auretin treated every meal as if it was his last. The portion of hunted game he brought over increased by the day, until Lea—who was in charge of preparing the meals—could barely cope.

He felt increasingly distressed and wanted to reject Auretin on several occasions, but bit back his tongue on account of Gu Mengmeng.

When Gu Mengmeng returned, she saw Auretin hovering around the pot, while Barete sat by the cave entrance like a silent ranger. His sharp and probing eyes instantly detected Gu Mengmeng's figure from afar. Meanwhile, Lea glared disdainfully at Auretin as he prepared the meal. But on seeing Gu Mengmeng return, Lea's face broke out into a warm smile.

Gu Mengmeng sat by the table. As she waited for the meal to be ready, she shared what happened at the stream earlier today. By the time she finished her narration, Lea had already laid out the food on the table.

Chapter 1139 - There Is No Smoke In A Woman's Battlefield

Chapter 1139: There Is No Smoke In A Woman's Battlefield

“Tsk tsk tsk.” Lea clucked his tongue as he shook his head in shock. “The methods of those females are truly...”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “There is no smoke in a woman's battlefield, but the fighting is far more vicious than a man's.”

Lea nodded profoundly.

Lea felt amazed just by hearing Gu Mengmeng describe the methods those 16 valued females had said they wanted to use against Maya. He always thought the snow foxes were good at scheming against others, but he now realized their so-called scheming were only used if there were benefits to be had. So as long as their victim could figure out the gains, they could follow the trail back to the perpetrator.

Even someone as perverse as Cole only manipulated people to a certain end. As a result, his intentions were always traceable.

But when a female wanted to be vicious... her sole motive would be just to hurt you. She did not care to benefit from it at all. Her goal was so pure as to render one speechless. Even after the deed was done and you tried to work backwards to find a solution—it was impossible as the end result was just the suffering of a certain person, with no one profiteering from anything...

Lea held his forehead as he pondered over this, suddenly feeling as if all those earlier “fluke accidents” within the tribe—which he had previously overlooked—might not be as simple as he thought...

Gu Mengmeng didn't continue talking about that but just took up her bowl of meat to start eating. She then spoke up again, "With those 16 valued females 'taking care' of Maya, I think she will not be bored even when I am not in Saint Nazaire." Maya would not have the time and energy to interfere with Gu Mengmeng's plans anymore.

After she finished her food, Mandy looked up at Gu Mengmeng. "Gu Mengmeng there's something I should tell you about."

Gu Mengmeng returned Mandy's look with a questioning gaze.

Mandy said, "When I went to meet the 16 valued females this morning to instigate them against Maya, I heard something rather strange."

"Mmm?" Gu Mengmeng prompted Mandy to continue.

Mandy carried on. "During the rainy season last year, many people from the other tribes came to Saint Nazaire to steal our food. But it seemed like Maya was always not around every time an attack occurred. And though it was clear that she had a lot of her food supplies stolen—we discovered that she had not lost weight at all over the winter, while all her partners were still around."

The meaning was clear. Maya didn't have much supplies left but she still made it through winter with adequate food—and it was not at the expense of using her partners as food.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. She was not at all surprised at this news. She just exchanged looks of mutual understanding with Lea.

Oakley wanted to make use of the water source to push Sauder to the brink of chaos, so as to coerce Cole. Meanwhile, Cole used food to drag Saint Nazaire down to share the turmoil. Since Maya was under Cole, he would naturally tip her off. Basically, most of the males who came to snatch food were already partnered. There was a high possibility that they would kill Maya during the raid, so that their own females would not starve.

After all, as long as Maya died, all her males would suffer counter-damage from their mating contracts. In this way, all the food in her household would be free for anyone to plunder and steal.

Maya was an important pawn in the game of chess between Cole and Lea. Cole would naturally not let Maya die unnecessarily, and so would tip her off on when to avoid the attacks.

Since he couldn't let those raiders kill Maya, he also would not let her starve to death over winter.

Ha, Maya had a really good backing.

Chapter 1140 - You Think You Are So Great Just Because You Can Fly?!

Chapter 1140: You Think You Are So Great Just Because You Can Fly?!

Mandy noticed that Gu Mengmeng was not at all surprised, and was even exchanging looks with Lea. She thought about it before asking, “Did you know about this already?”

Gu Mengmeng didn’t deny it and just nodded. “Mmm, I already knew this.”

Mandy exclaimed. “Of course. You are the Messenger of the Beast Deity, you must know everything.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled as she thought to herself. She was just the Messenger and not some half-deity. How could she know everything? It was just that after Lea revealed Maya’s identity to her, many things suddenly became very clear and obvious.

But Gu Mengmeng didn’t explain all that to Mandy. Sometimes, it was better to maintain a bit of mystery.

Mandy had just finished her bowl of meat when Ian arrived to fetch her back.

He placed a bag made of animal skin on the table. “Please take this as a gift in return for all the meals Mandy had shared with you here.”

With that, Ian carried Mandy and flew straight up into the sky...

Gu Mengmeng harrumphed imperiously. “You think you are so great just because you can fly?!”

A voice echoed through the sky. “Yes, I am that great because I can fly...”

Gu Mengmeng waved a fist and hollered. “Just wait and see!”

Despite all that shouting, Gu Mengmeng was not angry at all. She just opened up the bag on the table to find over 50 bird eggs inside.

These eggs from the Beast World were more or less like the quail eggs in our present world?

Lea peeked into the bag and smiled. “Ian is rather decent after all. It will be winter soon and the birds would have stopped producing eggs... these must have been gathered only after much flying around? Ha...”

Smiling, Lea shouted in the direction of Ian’s departing profile. “Eh... we welcome your female to come share in our meals again.”

Gu Mengmeng sniggered. Lea was behaving just like one of those brothel mama-sans on television. All he lacked was a handkerchief to flicker about.

Lea had no idea what Gu Mengmeng was laughing about, but his lips automatically curled up on seeing her smile. He then turned to continue preparing the food.

Having remained silent the entire time, Elvis now tightened his grip around Gu Mengmeng’s waist. “Xiao Meng, in future... I think you better not interact too much with those 16 valued females. They are too dangerous.”

Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Elvis with a smile. “Are you scared?”

Elvis nodded. He was not at all scared if their methods were directed at him. But he was especially afraid that one day, Gu Mengmeng would be the one on the receiving end instead.

In the past, he had felt that females were very annoying. But now, he felt that they were... terrifying.

Gu Mengmeng leaned into Elvis' arms and patted his back soothingly. "Don't worry. They will never target me. Even if they do, their methods are useless against me. I have read over 700 chapters of comic series Detective Conan, and know more than 600 ways to kill someone. I am also familiar with over 100 poisons and understand how to create all sorts of false witnesses."

Elvis' mood improved with Gu Mengmeng's nonsensical babbling.

Anyway, it didn't matter what others wished to do to her. She would at least have him to protect her.

Time passed quickly and in the blink of an eye, the mountain was sealed off by heavy snows.

Gu Mengmeng sat at the entrance of the cave with her cheek resting upon her palm. She observed with a dreamy gaze as the three-person-wide doorway was gradually sealed off by the heavy snows, bit by bit.

Elvis hugged Gu Mengmeng from behind and whispered in her ear. "The winds are too strong. Don't sit so close to the door."

"Mmm." Gu Mengmeng answered before letting Elvis carry her back into the inner regions of the cave.

Chapter 1141 - First Experience of Drinking

Chapter 1141: First Experience of Drinking

Ever since Gu Mengmeng inherited Elvis's night vision, they no longer stayed in the outermost cave room. The room was too close to the entrance of the cave and not the most comfortable one. They used to live there just to accommodate to Gu Mengmeng's need for light sources.

Gu Mengmeng rubbed her hands together and said, "Since this is the first day of sealing the mountain, I will let you try something good."

Elvis and Lea looked at each other and neither of them knew what she meant.

After all, every piece of meat and potato in the cave were brought back by them with their own hands, what could Gu Mengmeng be so mysterious about?

But since their little female was up for it, they were of course willing to play along.

So both of them smiled and looked at Gu Mengmeng excitedly.

Gu Mengmeng took the small bamboo cup that she had made back in the bamboo forest and walked towards the wooden pail. She opened the lid, bent down and smell it. The fruity aroma, together with the fragrance of wine, went right up her nose. Well, it should be ready to drink.

She did not rush to bring it to Elvis and Lea, instead, she poured half a cup into her small cup and tasted it carefully.

There was an imbalance of sourness and bitterness as sugar could not be extracted without professional equipments. It tasted more like grape juice than red wine, but one could taste the alcohol content easily with careful tasting and the feeling was good. Gu Mengmeng did not try those premium red wines in the present world before, but compared to the Great Wall Red Wine, she felt like the one she made had a better taste.

After ensuring that the wine had no problems, Gu Mengmeng poured a cup each for Lea and Elvis, signaling for them to try it.

Lea was surprised, he knocked on the wooden pail and said, “So this is for drinking? I thought you were going to bathe with it...”

Gu Mengmeng could not help but giggled and said, “I’ve only heard of bathing with milk and not wine.”

“Wine?” Lea asked.

Gu Mengmeng nodded and answered, “Yes, usually alcohol is brewed with rice, but I have yet to see a single grain of rice in my two years of staying here... Let’s not talk about fermenting before we could eat. Luckily grapes could be used to make alcohol too. Although the alcohol content is not that high, drinking a little cheers up the mood. Try it?”

Elvis and Lea hesitated no more. They would chuck down and praise anything that Gu Mengmeng gave them, even if it was poison, let alone a cup of wine.

Gu Mengmeng frowned at the way the two of them drank without hesitation.

Wine was something that required fine tasting, why did the two drank it like it was their last drink?

If there was a wooden board at the back of their neck, they should be throwing the cup after they drank finish, before righteously saying “I will be a right, fine lad again after eighteen years!”

Before Gu Mengmeng could comment, she heard a ‘thump’ sound as Elvis dropped dead to the ground. Gu Mengmeng was taken aback, she quickly squatted down, held onto Elvis’s head, patted his face and called, “Hubby? Hubby what’s wrong? Are you allergic to grapes? Don’t scare me...”

Z... Zzz... Zzzz...

Gu Mengmeng was stunned for a moment, she blinked and looked at Elvis, whom had a flushed face and a steady breath that did not fit the symptoms of allergy at all. She paused for a second before laughing dryly and she said, “It can’t be... One cup and you are gone?!”

“Hey Mengmeng~” Gu Mengmeng felt a weight on her shoulders and turned around to realize there was something wrong with her fox too. He was leaning against her shoulders amorously, his slender eyes were misty as he stared affectionately at her, looking all drunk.

Chapter 1142 - Call Me Daddy!

Chapter 1142: Call Me Daddy!

“Lea...” Gu Mengmeng did not know whether to laugh or cry, she should not have given them the alcohol at the same time.

She had forgotten that alcohol drinks never existed in the Beast World and the two of them had zero tolerance.

She had considered the possibility of them being drunk, but did not think that they would be this drunk in just one cup.

Lea frowned and pinched Gu Mengmeng’s cheeks until her mouth resembled that of a fish. He then kissed on it hard and said angrily, “What did you just call me? Huh?!”

“Le...” Before Gu Mengmeng could finish her sentence, Lea had kissed her again, crushing the ‘a’ in her mouth.

Lea squinted his eyes dangerously and said in a dominant way, “Call me daddy!”

Pfft...

Gu Mengmeng wanted to spit a mouthful of wine onto Lea’s face.

She had never called him daddy after giving birth to the Hede brothers, she thought he had long forgotten about it.

“Stop fooling around, help me carry Elvis up onto the bed, will you?” Gu Mengmeng tried to reason with Lea.

But Lea could not care less, he snuggled up in between Gu Mengmeng and Elvis, pushed Elvis out of her arms and have her for himself. Lea wrapped his big tail around her waist and clung onto her like a octopus. He said, "Call me daddy, call me daddy now!"

"Lea..."

"Ugh..."

Lea would not give up without hearing Gu Mengmeng call him daddy and he kissed on her lips hard again.

Both of their lips were slightly swollen when he released her again.

Lea was in a dizzy state being half-drunk, he landed a bitter look on Gu Mengmeng's face and said faintly, "You used to call me Daddy Lea so obediently last time... You don't even do that nowadays... Mengmeng, Xiao Mengmeng... Did your heart change? Yes? Did you feel like I am no longer good-looking? Huh?"

Knowing that Lea was drunk, Gu Mengmeng gave up reasoning with a drunkard and obeyed. She called softly, "Daddy Lea."

Lea froze for a moment, before breaking into tears. He hugged onto Gu Mengmeng and kissed her randomly while crying, he sobbed and said, "Ah... I must be dying right now, ain't I? Why would you be so obedient otherwise... It must be because I am dying... Sobs sobs sobs, I don't wanna die yet, I want to be with you longer... What would happen to you if I die? You can't eat what Elvis cooks... You will die of food poisoning..."

Were the logic of drunkards been given out for the dogs to eat?

He asked her to call him Daddy Lea, she did what was told, and he was going to die? What was going on...

This was the first time Gu Mengmeng saw Lea crying and it was under such circumstance...

Gu Mengmeng sighed and hugged Lea back, patted on his back lightly to comfort him and she said, "No, you are not going to die. We will be together until our hairs turn gray, right?"

“Right~” Lea blurted out the reply after eight turns in his throat as he sobbed helplessly.

Gu Mengmeng said, “Alright, get down now, you are so heavy.”

“Mengmeng, do you still like me? Huh?” Lea did not get down, but looked at Gu Mengmeng and asked drunkenly.

Gu Mengmeng could not do anything but to smile and reply, “I do, of course I still like you.”

Lea nodded his head in satisfaction, before saying, “Then lick me.”

“Cough... Cough cough.” Gu Mengmeng choked on her own saliva. Even though they had been married for a long time and did even more embarrassing things when she was aroused, Gu Mengmeng could not take the sudden request from Lea. She blushed and her face looked like as if blood was about to drip from it.

Chapter 1143 - Story of Two Drunkards

Chapter 1143: Story of Two Drunkards

Lea stuck out his tongue, licked Gu Mengmeng's face and said, "Hey, just like this."

Erm...

Was this like how puppies express their affection?

Well, with the genes of beasts in them, licking should be the most direct way for them to express their affection?

But Gu Mengmeng felt embarrassed and could not do it herself.

"Do you not like it? Huh?" With misty eyes, Lea stuck out his pink tongue and licked Gu Mengmeng's nose tip with a little clinginess and drunkenness. He said, "I like Mengmeng so much, why couldn't Mengmeng like me a little too? Huh?"

Gu Mengmeng felt numb all over being licked by Lea.

"Stop... Stop fooling around..."

Lea paused for a moment, sniffed and suddenly broke into a smile. He hooked Gu Mengmeng's chin with his index finger and said, "I smell it... T Fox Seductive Fragrance... My Mengmeng is aroused... because of me, right? Ooh... You like me licking you? Huh?"

"No..." Gu Mengmeng wanted to kill herself. Why did she get aroused by Lea's unconscious teasing while being drunk?

Gu Mengmeng looked down on herself harshly in her mind and kept telling herself to stay calm. It would be an inhumane act to do something to an unconscious man. Being the wife in an upright family, she would never do such things!

Lea bit onto Gu Mengmeng's mouth. As he heard Gu Mengmeng gasping in pain, he smiled happily and wiped her tears away. He said, "This is a punishment for you... Who asked you to not tell the truth... Huh? Mengmeng, you are so naughty... You clearly emits so much of the Fox Seductive Fragrance whenever I lick you... The last time when I lick you here... I almost could not resist the Fox Seductive Fragrance and fall into a coma."

His slender finger wiped Gu Mengmeng's lips gently and asked, "Did I bite you too hard? Huh? Ah, it's all red now, it must be painful..."

While saying, Lea had put Gu Mengmeng's hand onto his chest. He continued, "I feel pain too if you feel pain."

Screw you, then why did you bite me?!

Besides, what was with you smiling while feeling pain?!

Seeing Gu Mengmeng speechless, Lea blinked and blinked, as though his brain had stopped functioning and was trying to organize his thoughts. He finally opened his mouth after a few 'erm' and said, "Or else, let me lick you, you can lick me after you are happy with me licking you? Huh?"

Gu Mengmeng was totally speechless. They were not two dogs, why did they have to lick each other?!

Gu Mengmeng steeled her heart, thinking whether she should release some beast pressure to make Lea lose his consciousness.

But before she could act, she heard a noise at the side. She looked up and saw Elvis, whom was lying on the ground like a corpse, standing up and looking down at her being pressed beneath Lea.

“Xiao Meng, get up.” Elvis’s voice was cold, he had a hideous expression and was totally different from how he normally was.

Gu Mengmeng felt a little timid, did Elvis’s second personality emerge after drinking?

Gu Mengmeng pushed Lea, but Lea clung onto Gu Mengmeng tightly and was unwilling to let go of her. She could not do anything but to look up at Elvis. But the moment they met eyes, she felt the weight of her disappeared as Lea was being thrown out in a parabolic motion by Elvis, hitting hard against the wall of the cave. Then, Elvis pulled Gu Mengmeng up and said with a cold face, “I said, get up.”

Mamma mia, Elvis was so scary after drinking, was this turning into a domestic violence?

Chapter 1144 - I Could Taste Him

Chapter 1144: I Could Taste Him

“I’m up, I’m up.” It was long since the last time Gu Mengmeng had been pulled up like this by Elvis. Her feet were dangling in the air and Elvis did not seem like he going to release her after she tried kicking twice in the air. She gave up and treated herself like laundry being hanged up to dry.

Elvis’s sapphire blue eyes were bottomless, he had such a cold and hideous expression that he did not resembled a drunkard, but an extremely calm assassin carrying out his mission.

This was actually Elvis’s typical expression before meeting Gu Mengmeng, just that she had never seen him like this before.

Pinching Gu Mengmeng’s jaw with his hand, Elvis locked his eyes onto her red and swollen lips. He frowned and his blue pupils became deeper. He asked with voice as cold and chilly as the winter winds, “He did that?”

“Urgh...” Gu Mengmeng was just thinking how Elvis was not someone to be trifled with after his dark side showed up with alcohol and whether she should lie and cover up for Elvis. But before she could start, Elvis had kissed her hard on the lips, his tongue conquered territories in her mouth with great agility, taking whatever he wanted and turned everything upside down. He did not let her go until she almost suffocated. There was not a hint of feelings on his face, he was still cold as an assassin, as he calmly opened his mouth and said,

“I could taste him...”

With that, Gu Mengmeng felt weightless as she dropped down in a free fall.

Elvis had released his grip without warning and Gu Mengmeng fell onto the ground on her butt. Before she could get up, Elvis and Lea had gotten into a fight.

It was not the kind where they had always fooled around, but they were actually fighting with their lives.

Did the two of them really just drink a cup of low alcohol content wine, and not concentrated alcohol?

“Stop fighting!” Gu Mengmeng roared.

Lea could not compete with Elvis under the difference in levels and was being beaten by him almost the whole time.

Elvis stopped hearing Gu Mengmeng’s roar, he turned back to look at her and said hideously, “Don’t interrupt in males’ matters.”

With that, he punched Lea again.

Gu Mengmeng facepalmed, she did not expect Elvis to be a total chauvinistic male after being drunk. She was speechless.

Lea seized the chance of Elvis being distracted by talking to Gu Mengmeng and escaped his grip all of a sudden. He shouted, “How dare you raised your voice on my Mengmeng!” He pounced back on Elvis, hanged onto his back and bit into his shoulder with all his strength, unwilling to let go.

Elvis tensed his muscle, but it was impossible for him to fling Lea away like how Wabei did it to the four little ones with just a level of difference. He had to bend forward, roll on the ground and turn around to press Lea under his back.

Lea let go of him from the pain of the throw.

Elvis took the chance and rode on Lea again, his hand had turned into a sharp claw and went straight for Lea’s forehead.

Seeing that it would be a life and death situation if she did not stop them, Gu Mengmeng clenched her fists and immediately released a large amount of beast pressure, which pressed both L and Elvis onto the ground in a split second.

Elvis felt a loss of strength and laid on Lea. The tip of Lea's fingers had pierced into the back of Elvis's waist and half of the nails had sunken into Elvis's flesh. Meanwhile, one of Elvis's hands was gripping hard on Lea's silver hair, while the other that was about to attack him fell powerlessly beside Lea's ear.

Gu Mengmeng wanted to go up and split them apart, but neither of them was willing to let go. If she did it forcefully, Lea would tore off a chunk of flesh from Elvis's waist, while Elvis would pulled out Lea's scalp...

Chapter 1145 - Romantically Flattering

Chapter 1145: Romantically Flattering

Gu Mengmeng sighed. She gave up, these guys had real and authentic fur on them anyways, they would not feel cold sleeping on the floor, whatever.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head helplessly as she helped herself with another cup of wine. She tasted it carefully and it was really good. The alcohol content was not too high either, how the heck did they get this drunk?

After finishing two to three cups, Gu Mengmeng felt a little drunk. She tugged herself in to the bed and slept.

God knows how long she slept.

But when Gu Mengmeng had woken up, Elvis and Lea were still sleeping.

The two were lying on the bed together like how they were fighting, but it had turned more romantic.

Elvis's hand that was gripping onto Lea's hair loosened up. Instead of gripping, it was... Well... My hand ran cross your silvery hair.

The other hand that was about to attack Lea went under Lea's neck and became his pillow.

Lea's claw that was piercing through Elvis's waist had come loose too, his nails had withdrawn from the flesh. But with two arms around Elvis's waist, it was as thought they were hugging each other.

Their four long legs crossed one another, while the hide skirt had gone all over the place during the fight. It was a miserable yet romantic scene, prompting others to go wild on their imagination seeing how half-naked they were.

Gu Mengmeng remained stunned for a long while, she looked at the scene that was more attractive than the ones in gay pornography in a daze. Then, blood trickled down her nose uncontrollably.

Ever after Gu Mengmeng had a difficult labor while giving birth to Kanwu and her being covered in blood as she was carried back by Lea in the Snake Valley, Elvis and Lea has trauma with Gu Mengmeng's blood. The two of them woke up instantly with the smell of her blood.

They were in a daze the first second after opening their eyes, and then...

Shocking!

Elvis and Lea had both thought they were hugging Gu Mengmeng, so the first thing they did after opening their eyes was to stare in each other's eyes affectionately, but the stare had frozen the both of them.

They bounced backwards as though they were electrocuted, before both peeking at Gu Mengmeng in weird uniformness.

Seeing the nosebleed down her nose, they could do nothing but to grind their teeth.

Elvis pulled Gu Mengmeng into his arms and supported the back of her head to raise it up. Meanwhile, Lea immediately dug out two blocks of ice, melted them into water with his body and smacked them onto Gu Mengmeng's forehead and nose bridge.

The temperature of the snow water was very low. After using his hand to melt the snow, Lea's hand was cold too and Gu Mengmeng liked the icy feeling with his hand on her skin.

Gu Mengmeng squinted her eyes and smiled sheepishly, while Elvis and Lea's faces blackened even more.

“Delete what you are thinking inside your brain, right now!” Lea smacked Gu Mengmeng’s forehead and commanded, almost gritted teeth.

Gu Mengmeng acted blur, smiled and said, “Huh?What am I thinking? I wasn’t thinking about anything.”

Lea looked at Gu Mengmeng coldly, pinched her small nose and said, “You mean your nose will bleed without thinking anything? Yes?”

Gu Mengmeng tried to hold in her laughter, she looked at Elvis and then at Lea. Then, she put one hand into Lea’s hair and another around his neck. She looked at Lea with thirsty eyes and asked, “Are you asking me to forget about this?”

Lea and Elvis blushed at the same time, because what Gu Mengmeng had demonstrated was just too suggestive...

Chapter 1146 - Who Was... on Top and Who Was Below

Chapter 1146: Who Was... on Top and Who Was Below

Elvis was hugging Lea in this position when they woke up just now, but the way they looked at each other was definitely not what Gu Mengmeng was demonstrating. But Elvis and Lea were stunned by the shock and could not be bothered with such details.

Right after finishing her sentence, Gu Mengmeng turned around and walked behind Elvis. Her legs crossed around Elvis's waist as she rested her right hand on his right shoulder, leaving it hanging down, while she placed her left hand on his heart through his left armpit. Gu Mengmeng then rested her head against Elvis's left shoulder, opened her mouth and clenched her teeth as she landed a mild bite on his shoulder. Before releasing, she licked his shoulder with her agile little tongue and made Elvis tremble.

Gu Mengmeng laughed innocently, looked up at Lea and asked, "Or are you asking me to forget about this?"

With that, Gu Mengmeng came down from Elvis and used her hand to draw circles around a bite mark on Elvis's left shoulder intentionally or unintentionally.

It was obvious that the bite mark did not belong to Gu Mengmeng from the size of it. Besides, the four deeper holes were clearly resulted from claws.

Lea stared at Gu Mengmeng in bewilderment, as though he was being struck by lightning.

The snow had sealed off the mountain and there were only three of them in the cave. Gu Mengmeng did not have claws, so, unless Elvis could rip off his head and put it on his shoulder to bite himself, the bite mark could only belong to... to Elvis.

The memory of how Gu Mengmeng had hung herself on Elvis seductively teasing him was on replay mode in Lea's brain, before switching Gu Mengmeng with himself into the picture.

Lea fell onto the ground and felt as though all hopes were crushed.

Elvis did not had it much better than Lea. Gu Mengmeng was imitating him by brushing her hand into his hair and hugging him by the neck just now, then it was obvious who she was imitating by hugging him on the back and biting his shoulder.

Elvis clenched his teeth and said coldly, "What... What happened... between me and Lea... last night..."

He could not say it out loud!

Gu Mengmeng held back her laughter forcefully and said, "So many things happened~~ Do you want me to reenact everything one by one to you?"

"No!" Lea looked up all of a sudden, he took a deep breath and said with clenched teeth, "You just have to tell me on thing, who was... on top and who was below last night?"

Gu Mengmeng was laughing her heads off in her head, but...

What a rare chance, she got to hold it back.

So, Gu Mengmeng lightly knocked her chin with her hand as though she was deep in thoughts and said, "Erm... You were being held down by Elvis yesterday..." as he beat you up.

Gu Mengmeng did not say out the last part naughtily.

Lea's face turned green, so was Elvis's.

So, they both betrayed Gu Mengmeng and did some indescribable things in front of her...?!

Elvis staggered to the pail of wine and was about to smash it with his claws.

Gu Mengmeng was shocked and she immediately ran up to block the pail behind her. She stared at Elvis with eyes widened and asked, “What are you doing?!”

Elvis’s eyes were blood-red, he felt a excruciating pain when he looked at Gu Mengmeng. He squeezed out a sentence, “Let me destroy this harmful substance... before dealing with me, alright?”

Gu Mengmeng was stunned for a moment when she met eyes with Elvis.

She had wanted to play a prank on them, but did not intent to break their heart.

But now... it seemed like she had gone too far.

Chapter 1147 - Abusing Me After Taking Advantage of Me

Chapter 1147: Abusing Me After Taking Advantage of Me

“Hubby, don’t get angry first, listen to my explanation...” Gu Mengmeng tried comforting Elvis, but Elvis smiled bitterly and replied, “Ah, you must be set on abandoning me, right? So I no longer have the rights to destroy your things...”

“No.” Gu Mengmeng shook her head, but Elvis did not give her the chance to finish her sentence. He took a step back and exposed his chest stoically. He said, “Come, finish me. I have no regrets to die in your hands.”

Gu Mengmeng felt so guilty, she did not expect this to go this overboard.

She had just wanted to see Elvis and Lea being embarrassed, not making them upset.

Gu Mengmeng pounced onto Elvis and went straight into his embrace, she shook her head and said, “Hubby, nothing has happened between you and Lea...”

Elvis’s spine stiffened and his shoulders slumped as he said, “You are so kind and soft-hearted as always, you are unwilling to kill me even after all these?Ha, but else can you do, I can’t face you anymore...”

Gu Mengmeng hugged Elvis tightly and said, “I wasn’t lying to you, really. You two just had a fight yesterday night, it was a rough fight so I had to use the beast pressure to press you both unconscious...”

Lea wagged his tail and stood up from the ground. He turned around and leaned against the pail, he looked at Gu Mengmeng with arms crossed and said, “Elvis, don’t fret over it. I was the one at a disadvantage... Why does it still bother you, even I have gotten over it? Didn't Mengmeng always wish to witness such scenes? Just treat it as us sacrificing to satisfy her wished."

The veins on Elvis's forehead bulged, he looked at Lea coldly and said, "Yes, right, I almost forgot about you."

With that, Elvis pounced onto Lea with his sharp claws and appeared as if he was about to take Lea's life.

Lea ducked down and dodged the attack swiftly, taking the chance to pull Gu Mengmeng over to block himself from Elvis. He hid behind Gu Mengmeng sneakily and said, "Mengmeng, look at him, abusing me after taking advantage of me... Sobs sobs sobs, I can't stand lives like this anymore."

"Then you can go and die!" Elvis said as he was about to launch another attack, but Lea held onto Gu Mengmeng as a shield and dodged all his attacks from left to right.

Elvis failed to hurt Lea with multiple tries in fear of harming Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng was going dizzy from Lea shaking her around, but she could tell from the situation that Lea had understood and believed in Gu Mengmeng's words. So she could only said pleadingly, "Good Lea, stop playing around and explain to Elvis please, he would really get angry if you continue."

Lea pulled Gu Mengmeng into his arms and pinched her little nose from left to right. There was playfulness and some sulkiness, coupled with overwhelming connivance and pamper as he said, "Why aren't you so obedient when you stir troubles? It seems like you only know to ask for mercy when you can't settle the aftermath?"

"I am at fault, I am at fault~" Gu Mengmeng looked up at Lea innocently with puppy eyes and pleaded, "Quick, Elvis would really turn against us if we continue fooling around."

Lea poked Gu Mengmeng's little nose and said, "I will deal with you later."

Gu Mengmeng stucked out her tongue and lowered her head in defeat.

Meanwhile, Lea took two steps towards Elvis in boredom. When he raised his hand and was about to touch Elvis, Elvis dodged him like a plague."

"Tsk, that was saddening. We two had hugged and slept together for a night no matter what, people always say one night of couple is a hundred days of gratitude, why don't you recognize me after waking up?"

Chapter 1148 - I Must Be Crazy To Shout At You.

Chapter 1148: I Must Be Crazy To Shout At You.

“Lea.” Gu Mengmeng called him softly, looking at him with a ‘why are you adding fuel to the fire?’ expression on her face.

Lea poked Gu Mengmeng’s little head and laughed before looking at Elvis, saying, “If I go through estrus, I’ll keep emitting Fox Seductive Fragrance unknowingly, I can’t control it myself. Smell, is my Fox Seductive Fragrance in this cave?”

Elvis was shocked and he really went to smell every corner of the cave in detail.

No, there really isn’t any!

A crack formed on Elvis’s face and then an expression coming from a survivor of a disaster started forming slowly, replacing his dark expression.

Lea pointed at Elvis’s shoulder and poked him saying, “Look at the wound yourself, does this look like it was bitten during all the teasing? When did you see me hurt Mengmeng so seriously before?”

Upon hearing his words, Elvis lowered his head and looked at the wound on his shoulder.

Indeed, this kind of injury meant nothing to males but one could see that it was not done by nibbling during sexual arouse. The flesh was already flipped open, the culprit must have done it very harshly.

Lea rubbed his own hair and showed his scalp to Elvis, saying, “Have you seen anyone scratch such a deep bloody scar on their scalp when rubbing their heads before? This skills.....ha, why do I feel like it's you whose trying to fix my head in place and then directly knock it off?"

Elvis peered at the injury on Lea's head.....

Yeah, it was his usual trademark.

The tension in his chest finally subsided, Elvis looked at Gu Mengmeng and said with a conflicted gaze, "Xiao Meng, come over."

Gu Mengmeng walked over nervously, pinching Elvis's beast-skin dress with two fingers to sway it slightly. She admitted to her mistake straightaway, "I was just joking, I didn't know that you'll treat it seriously.....I was wrong, I won't make this kind of joke in the future."

Elvis poked Gu Mengmeng's little head and sighed helplessly, saying, "You promised that when you suffered from a nosebleed the last time too."

He meant that she lost her credibility.....

Gu Mengmeng smiled awkwardly before wrapping her arms around Elvis's waist, saying, "That's because you shouted at me yesterday, that's why I want to pull a trick on you."

"Hmm?" Elvis raised his brow, he did not believe that he would shout at Gu Mengmeng, he even found it insufficient when he cupped her in his hands.

Seeing how Elvis did not believe her, Gu Mengmeng's face turned dark as she mimicked Elvis's tone and expression from yesterday, " 'Don't interrupt in males' matters.' You shouted at me like that yesterday."

His recollection was blur but he seemed like he really said that sentence before.....

Rubbing Gu Mengmeng's head, Elvis could not raise his temper at her at all.

Because just a second ago, he thought that he was about to lose her so he kept praying to the Beast Deity in hope that everything in front of him was just a dream.

Now, his prayer was answered so how could he still chide Gu Mengmeng for playing a trick on him?

And moreover, upon hearing that he shouted at her last night, his heart ached even more.

His Xiao Meng should be treasured like a princess and should hear the gentlest words in this world, how did he bear to shout at her?

Hugging onto Gu Mengmeng, Elvis kissed the top of her head and said in guilt, "I'm sorry, I must be crazy to shout at you."

Gu Mengmeng looked up at Elvis and smiled, concluding this whole issue, "Then, let's call it quits, we're not allowed to hold grudges and bring this up again."

Elvis nodded and replied gently, "Alright."

Chapter 1149 - Forget Everything

Chapter 1149: Forget Everything

Lea tapped Gu Mengmeng's shoulder lightly and asked, "I didn't shout at you yesterday, right? Hmm?"

Gu Mengmeng knew that Lea had seen through her prank long ago but he was just not as agitated as Elvis so she was not as guilty towards him too.

But towards the dark and evil nature of her fox, Gu Mengmeng decided to not go rough against him so she pulled her lower lip down and flipped her wound out to let Lea see. She questioned him back, "Do you want to guess why Elvis fought with you yesterday? Hmm?"

Lea frowned when he saw the wound in Gu Mengmeng's mouth, feeling as if a needle was poking his heart.

"Hiss.....I bit you?"

Gu Mengmeng grabbed onto Lea's head and kissed him. Lea was taken aback initially but he instantly gain the active role as he held onto the back of Gu Mengmeng's head and deepened the kiss. At the same time, he used the tip of his tongue to sweep past the wound in Gu Mengmeng's mouth.

Yeah, it was compatible with his teeth.

When they ended the kiss, Lea had confirmed that he caused her injury.

Lea's heart did ache but he would not apologize to Gu Mengmeng like Elvis. Instead, he scrapped her nose and asked, "Tell me, what did you do to anger me such that I bit you, huh?"

F! He can't admit to it!

Gu Mengmeng instantly thought of the scene where Lea forced her to answer whether she liked him while licking her with drunk unfocused eyes.

“You’re blushing.” Lea looked at Gu Mengmeng in great interest and squinted. He pinched his nose and smelled, saying, “Fox Seductive Fragrance....Mengmeng, did I forget any extremely important things?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and denied, “No no!”

Lea grabbed onto Gu Mengmeng’s waist and lifted her up, pressing her little stomach against his body. He gave an evil and sly smile, ambiguous written on the curved corners of his lips as he asked, “No? I feel that there is something and it’s something important....Mengmeng, shouldn’t you set an example by personally taking part to help me recall? Hmm?”

When Lea said his last word, he blew into Gu Mengmeng’s ear, causing all of Gu Mengmeng’s bones to turn numb.

Taking a step backwards, Gu Mengmeng bit onto the corner of her lip and decided to take revenge.

Thus, she giggled cheekily and said, “Regarding the matter of being bitten by you.....does seeing you cry count?”

Lea was taken aback as he immediately denied, “Impossible, I never cry.”

Elvis agreed with him, “Yeah, I’ve never seen him cry before.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed with her shoulders shaking. She placed both her hands on Lea’s shoulders and said with a heartbroken look, “I’m drying soon, right? Mengmeng, I’m going to die, right? Ah....Mengmeng, I don’t want to die yet.....”

Lea was shocked as he stared at Gu Mengmeng for quite some time before he stuttered, “You.....you made this up, right?”

Gu Mengmeng stared directly into Lea’s eyes and shook her head, grinning.

Lea took in a deep breath and held onto Gu Mengmeng's shoulders with both his hands, saying, "Forget about it, regarding what happened last night, forget them all."

"I can't forget." Gu Mengmeng straightened her neck and thought to herself, "That's what you get for teasing me, tsk tsk, see who's the better one this time."

"Can't forget?" Lea squinted his eyes and was not angry. Instead, he laughed and suggested, "Then.....let's do something that will be worth recollecting so that we can just cover the old memories."

Lea and Elvis had been holding themselves back for a long time, how would Gu Mengmeng not know what Lea's 'something that will be worth recollecting' is about? It's just that....."

"If I get pregnant now, I won't be able to go up the Motou mountain range this big rainy season....."

Chapter 1150 - How Are You Going To Make It Up For Me, Hmm?

Chapter 1150: How Are You Going To Make It Up For Me, Hmm?

“Fool.” Lea hugged onto Gu Mengmeng’s waist and whispered, “Before we get the Love of the Sky, Elvis and I won’t make you pregnant.”

Elvis nodded and said, “The sealed snow is still not thick enough, for safety’s sake, I’ll go guard outside the cave.”

Lea hugged Gu Mengmeng in his arms while throwing Elvis a ‘thanks’ glance.

The two of them did not say anything else because they had a strong teamwork that only both of them knew.

After Elvis exited the place, only Gu Mengmeng and Lea were left in the cave.

Lea hooked Gu Mengmeng’s little chin and said with a little sexual passion seen in his long eyes, “Because you kept demanding for children, I held in for a long time and did not dare to touch you.....you’ve tested my patience this period of time, how are you going to make it up for me, hmm?”

Gu Mengmeng knew what was going to happen next so naturally she did not dare to go hard against him. Or else, with the dark and evil nature of Lea, he would make sure she could not walk for three days.

Wrapping her arms around Lea’s neck, Gu Mengmeng grinned from ear to ear in an attempt to fawn over him as she said, “I’ll forget about you crying, alright?”

Lea clenched his teeth and said, “You’re really so capable in spoiling the mood, do you think that I’ll let you go like that?”

Gu Mengmeng thought that he had seen through her plans but she was not too trouble either as she answered bashfully, “Don’t torment me too much, I’m scared.”

Seeing how Gu Mengmeng had given in, Lea’s heart started to itch until he could not stand it anymore. He turned around and pinned Gu Mengmeng under him, nibbling onto her left earlobe. With a deep voice, he said, “My Xiao Mengmeng, do you still remember what you promised me before?”

“Huh?” Gu Mengmeng replied in confusion, clearly forgetting everything.

“When we were in Sauder, you always suffered from a nosebleed whenever you imagined useless things and Elvis and I were so terrified we almost relocated our house to near the stream. That time, you promised me that I can punish you however I liked. Now you’re trying to deny it, huh?”

Lea was enclosing the entire top half of Gu Mengmeng’s body, giving off a strong pressurizing force and presence. Gu Mengmeng squirmed around to fight for a bigger space for herself but to no avail because Lea was using a strength where Gu Mengmeng could never push him away unless she injured him. Thus, she could not escape because she could not bring herself to hurt him.

Gu Mengmeng had difficulty breathing because of Lea so she said with a red face, “It happened so long ago, you still remember it?”

Lea landed a light peck on Gu Mengmeng’s lips, he did not go in deeper and just kissed her on the surface before he said, “I originally forgot about it but you refused to mend your ways after repeated teachings.....so I feel that if I don’t give you a memorable round of teaching and let you remember my sexual orientation to heart, you will keep letting your imagination go wild.”

Okay, it’s her wrong again.

Gu Mengmeng pulled her arms out and wrapped them around Lea's neck, asking him in a dainty way, "Then, what's the punishment?"

"Do you like me?" Lea asked suddenly.

Gu Mengmeng took the initiative to present her lips, kissing Lea's throat before she replied, "I like you."

"Then....lick me." Lea smirked evilly, with a mocking glow in his eyes.

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback as her face instantly turned red. She asked, "Weren't you drunk? How could you still remember?"

Lea leaned forward and kissed Gu Mengmeng's neck, explaining, "I was drunk and my consciousness wasn't quite awake so I can't differentiate clearly whether it's reality or a dream. My mood swings were also more extreme and I can't seem to control them well.....but, after my Xiao Mengmeng's reminder, I recalled a portion of what absurd actions I did."

Chapter 1151 - I Like You.

Chapter 1151: I Like You.

“Let’s change another one.” Gu Mengmeng begged for mercy, “It’s too embarrassing, I can’t do it.”

Lea stuck out his tongue and licked Gu Mengmeng’s left earlobe, saying, “Mengmeng, do you know? I like this mark so much, it’s like how you’re telling me intimate words everyday, rambling on and on, entangling around me.”

Then, Lea’s kiss landed on Gu Mengmeng’s eyes. Gu Mengmeng closed her eyes instinctively, allowing his lips to brush across her eyes. Then, there was a wet touch, Gu Mengmeng knew that Lea was using his tongue to lick her eyes.

“I like your eyes too, they’re so clean and clear. The glow in your eyes make those countless winter stars dim and boring.....when my reflection is seen in those eyes of yours, I feel that I’m the happiest person in this world.”

Lea’s lips kept moving downwards, he stopped at Gu Mengmeng’s little nose, kissing it before giving it a slight bite. Then, he scraped his tongue across it, causing Gu Mengmeng to giggle from the itch.

“I like your nose, especially when you’re heaving with joy. It’s vivid shape make your cheerfulness and cuteness visible to me so I always can’t help but to pinch it. Oh right, I also love how you use your nose to smell the aroma of my dishes while giving off a delighted smile.”

He continued inching downwards, kissing Gu Mengmeng’s lips gently. He pecked and pecked them and after kissing them for seven to eight times, he captured her lips deeply, sticking his nimble tongue into her mouth to tangle it with her tongue, sharing a dance together.

“I also like your lips. When you smile, when you joke around, when you’re enamored by me and even when you’re scolding me.....every note it gives off attracts me, captivates me, preventing me from controlling myself. No matter where I am, as long as you call me with this mouth of yours, regardless whether we’re distanced by mountains or seas, I’ll rush towards you with no consideration for anything in this world.”

He held Gu Mengmeng’s little hand and brought it to his lips to kiss it. Then, he nibbled onto every of her finger, sucking them in the meantime before he said, “I like your hands, when you wave to me with them, when you hug me with them, when you hold my hands in them and when you twist my ear with them. They transmit your warmth clearly to me, warming up my cold soul.”

Lea landed kisses all over Gu Mengmeng’s body, after kissing each spot, he would say a reason, a gentle confession.

Upon hearing those praises, Gu Mengmeng’s maiden heart exploded into popcorns as she dip herself in honey, feeling all sweet and happy.

“Mengmeng, what about you? Which part of me....do you like?” Lea wrapped one arm around Gu Mengmeng’s waist and supported the back of her head with his other hand. Turning around, he made Gu Mengmeng lie against his chest. “Follow what I did just now, licking every part of you that I like, let me know.....how much you like me, alright?”

Perhaps Lea had made the atmosphere too wonderful, Gu Mengmeng felt that licking him was not such an embarrassing and unacceptable thing now.

She lied against Lea’s chest like a kitten, kissing his eyes. Then, she said softly, “I like your eyes. Even though it is piercing and full of life, hiding countless gulches, they pamper only me and devote themselves to only me.”

She pecked Lea’s mouth and swept her fragrant tongue across his lips, whispering, “I like your lips, they transmitted all confessions in this world into promises that will only be fulfilled to me.”

Chapter 1152 - All Ambiguity Broke Into Pieces On The Floor

Chapter 1152: All Ambiguity Broke Into Pieces On The Floor

Holding onto Lea's hand, Gu Mengmeng kissed his palm before placing his hand on her face, lightly rubbing against it. She said, "I like your hands too, they're slim and pretty with the bone outline clear and defined. They always supported my shoulders when I'm too helpless, telling me to not be scared, no matter what happens, his top priority would always be protecting me and taking care of me first....."

Gu Mengmeng learned from how Lea did, kissing his entire body before returning back to his chest. She kissed the spot where his heart was and said, "What I like the most is this heart. Because it can only contain me inside."

The flame in Lea's heart was ignited after hearing to Gu Mengmeng's several love confessions until the stars all lit up one by one. Then, the prairie was set ablaze and things went out of control.

A pleasurable round was unavoidable, all ambiguity broke into pieces on the floor, creating a concerto for the mingling of love.

Lea had abstained himself for a long time so he went quite harshly this time. He did it with Gu Mengmeng thrice when she was awake and after she lost consciousness, he did it two more times before letting her go.

That explained why Gu Mengmeng was terribly exhausted for she slept as if she blacked out.

When she woke up, she did not know how many days had passed.

The bruises on her body had recovered and her fatigue had also diminished to a negligent level too.

Ha, if Snakel were to know that she used his alarming recovering abilities on this kind of matters, would he stamp his feet in rage?

“You’re awake~” Lea crawled to Gu Mengmeng like a satisfied cat, swaying his thick large tail in manifestation of his owner’s good mood.

Gu Mengmeng stretched her hand out and Lea automatically sent his large tail into Gu Mengmeng’s arms before using his finger to poke Gu Mengmeng’s warm and soft little face that had just woken up. He asked, “Are you hungry? I had boiled the meat and placed it in the snow at the entrance to freeze it. We just have to warm it up to eat it.”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and rejected his offer, “I just woke up so I don’t feel like eating.”

Lea nodded and said, “Then let’s not eat, you can touch me first.”

Gu Mengmeng paused, was he starting a new topic called ‘touch me’ after ‘lick me’?

Gu Mengmeng was really scared, she did not know what kind of shameful topics Lea was going to come up with so she hurriedly released his large tail and turned around. The next moment, she found herself in Elvis’s embrace.

Gu Mengmeng extended her arms to hug Elvis’s neck as she said, “Hubby, I’m thirsty.”

Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng up from the bed and poured water into a small bamboo cup for her. He said, “I was scared that you’ll suffer from excessive internal heat and have a nosebleed so I kept boiling water with the fire in the cave. But it’s a little scalding, drink slowly.”

“Yeah.” Gu Mengmeng replied one word before holding the cup up to drink the water in small mouthfuls.

Lea knew that Gu Mengmeng was shy so he did not tease her any further.

After all, Gu Mengmeng did not eat anything before their love intercourse, now that she had slept for such a long time, her stomach must be empty.

Thus, Lea got off from the bed and went to the entrance to take the boiled meat frozen in the snow. He warmed it up in the pot and not long later, an aroma wafted in the air, causing one to salivate at the smell of it.

Gu Mengmeng sat at the table, eating meat from the stone bowl she was holding onto. She drank two mouthfuls of water during the meal but felt that it was tasteless so she went to pour a cup of grape wine to go along with her meat.

After having their virgin drunk experience, Elvis's and Lea's faces changed at the sight of wine. Gu Mengmeng did not know whether to cry or laugh at their immediate retreat upon seeing the red liquid in Gu Mengmeng's cup as if it was a plague.

Gu Mengmeng drank a mouthful of wine by herself and then smacked her lips, saying, "Boiled meat with wine, the more I drink it the more I~this simple life, tsk~nothing can beat it~"

Chapter 1153: The Son Of Heaven Called Him To Come But He Refused To Get On The Ship And Claims To Be An Immortal In Wine.

The two males looked in horror at how Gu Mengmeng finished the entire cup of grape wine with a great gusto and how she went to pour herself another cup because she had not gotten enough of it.

“Xiao Meng, are you feeling uncomfortable?” Elvis clearly remembered that after drinking a cup of grape wine yesterday, he felt his head being heavy and his feet being light. His thoughts were all messed up and all ideas rushed into his mind in a wild disorder until he could not think straight. A large amount of scattered information directly cut his nerves up and the next second, he fell to the ground and could not get up.

Regarding how he got up and what he did after that, he completely had zero recollection.

So, according to body proportions, if the same volume of grape wine caused him that level of impact, it might be fatal to Gu Mengmeng....

But why did she look fine?

Her cheeks were just red, resembling a seductive apple.

Gu Mengmeng was aware that Elvis had a trauma against wine and after teasing him until he almost brought Lea to apologize for their offense with their lives, Gu Mengmeng did not dare to tease him as she wished again. So, she answered him honestly, “The grape wine is a sacred beauty item, it has amino-acid, minerals and vitamins inside which can be absorbed directly. Drinking a little bit of it daily can help to improve one’s looks~”

“But....” Elvis frowned, after all, his first drinking experience was not that wonderful.

Gu Mengmeng knew what he was worrying about so she smiled and said, “Everyone has a different sensitivity range towards alcohol. Yeah, for example, you belong to those who get drunk and black-out from just a cup of alcohol. Lea’s better than you, although his limit is also a cup, at least he knows what he did when he was drunk once he wakes up. As for me.....ha ha, I’m just a tiny character in my world but here.....”

Gu Mengmeng lifted her left leg up and stepped on the chair. Holding the wine cup with her left leg, she pretended to rest it on her arched knee and smiled in a bold and unconstrained manner with her chin raised. “The Son of Heaven called him to come but he refused to get on the ship and claims to be an immortal in wine.”

Actually...

Elvis and Lea did not understand her at all.

But...

Lea’s eyes glowed, his gaze heating up. He looked like an evil cult believer staring at the founder.

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback as she asked Lea while looking back at him, “Why.....why are you staring at me like that?”

“That sentence you just said is in the ‘esoterica’ too, right? Hmm?” Although it was a question, Lea used a confirmation tone.

Gu Mengmeng was shocked and she thought over it before she realized that Lea was Sauder’s Ninth Highness and Sauder was a strange tribe that worshiped a copy of the “300 Poems of the Tang Dynasty”....

Clearing her throat awkwardly, she nodded and said, “Yeah, it should be.....”

Lea knelt on the floor on one knee and cupped Gu Mengmeng’s little hands in his. He looked at Gu Mengmeng in anticipation and excitement, resembling a Samoyed that finally saw a meat bone after going hungry for a few days. That fluffy large tail kept swaying behind him in full force and those thirsty eyes made Gu Mengmeng feel that rejecting him was an unscrupulous thing to do.

Clearing her throat, Gu Mengmeng put on a forceful front and repeated the entire poem again, ” Li Bai makes a hundred poems out of one quart of ale, in the marketplace of Chang’an he sleeps in the tavern. The Son of Heaven called him to come but he refused to get on the ship and claims to be an immortal in wine.”

“Ah.....” Lea cupped his hands together against his heart and frowned deeply. Biting onto his lower lip, his face flushed red and he kept exerting strength on the hand that he pressed against his chest, as if his heart would jump out if he did not do that.

Gu Mengmeng face-palmed and asked, “Are.....are you okay?”

Lea lifted his head and looked at Gu Mengmeng, his expression was..... hard to describe in just a few words.

Chapter 1154 - Blasphemy Against The Deities

Chapter 1154: Blasphemy Against The Deities

“I used to memorize the poems of the Tang Dynasty in the past, I never seen anyone react like you before.....why do you.....erm.....look like you’re going through estrus?” Gu Mengmeng stared at Lea in confusion.

Lea held his chest and said, “When you read the poems of the Tang Dynasty previously, I was not your male yet.”

Gu Mengmeng thought over it before nodding and said, “Yeah, that’s right. It was when we were still confirming my identity as the messenger, you were still my beast pet back then.”

Lea looked at Gu Mengmeng while pressing his heart. He poked Gu Mengmeng’s body with his long and slender fingers in a cautious manner before breaking out into a smile. He lifted his head ambiguously and looked up at Gu Mengmeng, saying, “To the snow fox tribesmen, the content in the ‘esoterica’ is sacred and cannot be infringed upon. Every tribesmen has to bow in worship after they read it. And your presence is placed above the ‘esoterica’ but just two days ago.....I pinned you under my body like this and like that.....ah.....I feel that I had committed blasphemy against the deities but this feeling makes me excited too.....”

Gu Mengmeng’s face twitched and she placed her wine cup and leg down. Putting one hand on Lea’s shoulders, she looked at him with a darkened expression and shouted, “Lea, tell me! You’re not a psycho!”

Lea was taken aback before he relaxed his brows and smiled. Standing up, he encircled Gu Mengmeng under him, placing one hand behind her back to prevent her from getting injured after hitting the side of the table. Then, he supported his other hand on the sides of the table, yeah, a standard thudding up against the table.

“What if I’m one? Do you decide to abandon me.....or sink into it with me?”

Gu Mengmeng was a little flustered by Lea’s thudding, how should she put it.....

Once Lea starts his attack, his aura was really no joke.

Even though they did all intimate things together before, once Lea tries to seduce her seriously, he would give off hormones that one could never resist against. He does not deny his dark side and even show it entirely to you before telling you ‘you’re mine, you can’t escape’.

Damn it~whose husband is so handsome?! Huh huh huh?!

Gu Mengmeng blushed as the smell of the Fox Seductive Fragrance in the cave that had not subsided yet became stronger.

Lea smiled charmingly, hooking Gu Mengmeng’s chin as he said, “You just woke up, if we go for another round....can you stand it? Huh?”

Gu Mengmeng blushed even more as she shook her head and rejected him, “No no no, if we go for another round, my bones will break.”

Lea chuckled and said, “Then, don’t seduce me so casually. Or else.....”

As Lea said, he pinched Gu Mengmeng’s face and twisted it to one side. He landed his gaze on Elvis as he leaned forward to whisper deeply into Gu Mengmeng’s ear, “I’m a snow fox so I’ve a certain resistance against the Fox Seductive Fragrance but Elvis will not be able to stand your seduction.”

Seeing how Elvis was holding it in, Gu Mengmeng felt even more bashful.

She did not do it deliberately, it’s just that being pinned down by Lea created a body response with just a few sentences from him, she did not know that she was this sensitive before....

“Hubby.....” Gu Mengmeng shouted gently, giving off a wronged expression that resembled a cat that was bullied.

Indeed, this call added fuel to Elvis’s fire. Clenching his teeth, he grabbed onto the back of Lea’s neck and threw him to one side while maintaining a parabolic curve posture. He hugged Gu Mengmeng in his arms and kissed her, assuring, “Don’t worry, I can still hold myself back. You haven’t fully recover yet so I won’t torment you now. Eat your food well and don’t lose weight from going hungry.”

“Yeah.” Gu Mengmeng nodded her head obediently before eating the food Elvis fed her. She tried in utmost cautiousness to not do anything that will make Elvis go out of control but she did not know that in Elvis’s eyes, her every movement was seduction to him.

Chapter 1155 - : Which One Do You Want First?

Chapter 1155: Which One Do You Want First?

As compared to Elvis, Lea had a higher tolerance towards alcohol and Elvis was stronger than Lea so when Lea's drunk, at least there's Elvis present to suppress him. So, after a discussion, both of them decided to let Lea try the wine while Elvis should not touch a single bit at all.

Gu Mengmeng said that there's actually no need to do that because there's only a few barrels of grape wine. Currently, the available grapes were only the small amount at the stray beasts' camp. And Peter was not the stray beasts' leader anymore, it was not as easy as before to pluck grapes at the stray beasts' camp so Gu Mengmeng still wanted to save the grape wine she had and drink them carefully.

Since Elvis and Lea were not good at drinking wine, they should not force themselves because she could drink all my herself, gosh!

But Elvis and Lea did not allow her to do that because they firmly believed that grape wine was a dangerous item. Unless Lea successfully examined that it would not bring about any danger, they would not allow Gu Mengmeng to touch that thing herself.

Thus, Gu Mengmeng, who could drink alcohol, was prohibited from touching the wine while Lea, who collapsed on just one cup, was stuck in a drunk mode all day....

Drunk Lea had a variety of styles, he chased after Gu Mengmeng before while swinging a leather whip and also removed his beast-skin dress in front of Gu Mengmeng before while biting onto his lower lip, exposing himself completely and begging to be trampled on.

He battled with Elvis before, baring his fangs and brandishing his claws and also hugged Elvis before while shedding bitter tears over his younger days....

Overall, because of Lea's dazzling variety of appearances, winter was not that lonely after all.

It's just that, Lea finished the few barrels of wine but no improvement in his alcohol tolerance was seen.

It was not zero improvement, just that....yeah, he improved from one cup to one and a half cups, how could Gu Mengmeng bring herself to say that he improved?

Normally, after drinking for such a long time, one should improve to a bottle from a cup, right?

Her heart ached at her few large barrels of grape wine....

She really felt that she slogged her hearts out for nothing.

When a crack appeared on the snow that sealed the cave entrance, Gu Mengmeng knew that winter was finally over.

Lying in Elvis's arms, looking at Lea whose mental state became better after not getting drunk for two to three days because he drank finish all the wine, Gu Mengmeng smiled helplessly and said, "Leading a befuddled life as if drunk or in a dream for the entire winter, do you still remember what we planned before winter?"

Lea supported his forehead, being in an endless drunk state made him lose his winter memory other than that mating process. All that's left in his mind were messed up scenes of him throwing a drunkard fit.

What they planned before winter.....

Closing his eyes, Lea tidied up his thoughts and asked, "Mengmeng, what do you plan to do after winter ends?"

“Huh? Didn’t we arrange to head to Motou mountains?” Gu Mengmeng questioned him back.

Lea laughed, saying, “When did we ever arrange things? Everything is up to your mood.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled, saying, “So, there’s another choice besides going to the Motou mountains?”

Lea nodded, answering, “I spread two news before winter, one’s about you telling Maya about the Motou mountains yourself, the other one is my ‘accidental revelation’ regarding the Heart of the Desert.”

Gu Mengmeng was confused as she asked, “But none of us know where the Heart of the Desert is, it can’t be one of our choices.”

Lea’s lips curved into a pretty arc, he stared at the snow sealing the cave entrance that had a crack but not yet smashed, as if deep in thoughts, saying, “After winter ends, it will come find me itself. Just like the Kiss of the Ocean and the Soul of the Forest....”

“You’re talking about...Cole?” Gu Mengmeng frowned, asking.

Lea nodded, answering with a smile, “A winter is enough for him to plan his strategy. Now all we have to do is to look at the Heart of the Desert and the Love of the Sky, which one do you want first?”

Chapter 1156 - I Want To Become Someone That's Compatible With You.

Chapter 1156: I Want To Become Someone That's Compatible With You.

The Heart of the Desert could activate Elvis's Beast King blood while the Love of the Sky could allow Gu Mengmeng to fulfill her wish of giving birth to a nest of little foxes.

Which one should she choose first...?

Should she temper herself for the plan Cole devised for the entire winter or should she take the risk and go on the unknown mysterious trip to the Motou mountain range?

Lea played with Gu Mengmeng's silky hair and said softly, "The way the 16 valued females treat Maya will cause Cole to know that you've noticed Maya's identity too. So, should we try to cover up a misdeed, only to make it more conspicuous or should we do one thing under the cover of another? Is the Soul of the Forest or the Love of the Sky the smoke grenade? Or is the unmentioned Spirit of the Rocky Cliffs our real motive? Ha, Cole's head must hurt a lot now."

Gu Mengmeng laughed along, she always thought that they were being tricked and controlled by Cole but she forgot that her fox was the wisest man in the Beast World.

If she were to really compare the plans they devised within a command tent, her fox would not lose to that crippled Cole.

After all, using Maya which Cole gave to establish Saint Nazaire which Cole could not land a finger on was the best proof.

Lea circled his finger around Gu Mengmeng's hair, fiddling with it in amusement. His gaze was gentle and casual, as if he felt relaxed and accustomed to this kind of life.

Although they have to face strong winds and big waves after winter, his current tone was calm and indifferent, as if they were just gossiping and discussing about everyday life in total unconcern.

“To plan out three strategies during winter is impossible so I guess, Cole would throw you a bait after winter before you get the chance to act. You decide whether you want to bite that bait and I.....will be in charge of letting you retreat safe and sound.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled and nodded her head, perhaps getting the Heart of the Desert was the most advantageous situation to them.

If Elvis managed to become the Beast King, what happened to Chixuan would not happen a second time because no matter happened, Gu Mengmeng just needed to protect her little cubs and leave everything to Elvis.

But...

How many unforeseen circumstance would occur during this back-and-forth process?

Gu Mengmeng turned back and looked at Elvis, asking, “Hubby, do you want to be the Beast King?”

Elvis did not hesitate a single bit as he directly replied, “Yes.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded, that was true too, the desire males had towards abilities was their basic nature in either world.

“I want to become someone that's compatible with you.” Elvis added to his answer. He hugged Gu Mengmeng's head, kissing it.

Gu Mengmeng felt a warm sensation creeping up her heart so she giggled.

Her hubby does everything for her.

“Alright, I know.” Gu Mengmeng laughed and decided to counter every trick.

Since Cole could not guess her plans accurately, how could she get all of his tricks correct? But since Lea was confident, she decided to just take a gamble.

When her fox put his ill intentions into plan, he definitely would not lose to that crippled Cole.

Thinking about this, she was actually a little anticipating what would happen.

After three days, the snow that sealed the cave entrance melted.

Gu Mengmeng, clad in a cloak made up of giant rabbit skin, was carried by Elvis out of the cave.

The large hood enclosed her head and only half her face was visible below the hood at times, showing her little mouth and delicate chin. It made one’s imagination go wild after feeling an half-concealed aesthetic feel from not seeing her full appearance.

After reaching the Platform of the Deity’s Punishment, three families had already gathered there. Upon seeing Gu Mengmeng, they bowed to her in respect.

Gu Mengmeng nodded and smiled as a form of reply.

Chapter 1157 - The Female Beauty Pageant

Chapter 1157: The Female Beauty Pageant

Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng up the Platform of the Deity's Punishment and after standing firm, he howled at the skies. This sudden howl shook the ground, causing the flying bird to flap their wings and fly out from the forest, even the remaining snow rustled down the branches.

This howl also created an earthshaking echo of other wild beats' growls in Saint Nazaire's skies.

When Gu Mengmeng heard it from the first time, she was given a huge scare.

After hearing it twice more, she felt excitement creeping all over her.

Tugging onto Elvis's arm, Gu Mengmeng asked softly, "Can you....bring me along for the hunt?"

Elvis ruffled Gu Mengmeng's hair lightly, his gaze gentle and affectionate and his tone dotting and a little helpless as he said, "I know you're very strong but even if it's like that.....I still don't want my female to face those bloody and violent scenes, do you understand me? Hmm?"

Gu Mengmeng shrugged her shoulders and nodded.

Actually, in Snakel's memories, blood and violence were basic happenings. She was originally scared of blood but after inheriting Snakel's thousand-year memories....even if you want Gu Mengmeng to dissect a prey with her bare hands, her hands would not feel weak and shake.

But Gu Mengmeng still decided to accept Elvis's heartache.

Elvis kissed the top of Gu Mengmeng's head and did not say anything else.

When the 16 valued females all gathered together, Gu Mengmeng gestured to call Mandy to sit beside her.

Then, she swept her gaze and the corners of her lips curved upwards.

"Leanna, come over." Gu Mengmeng pointed at Leanna who had two more little lions beside her. Leanna smiled sweetly, jumping down from her beast pet while climbing up the Platform of the Deity's Punishment, carrying her sons in one hand each.

Gu Mengmeng looked at the spot beside her and said, "Sit here."

"Yeah." Leanna was extremely happy, from the day she knew about her pregnancy, she kept looking forward to this day to get the Great Messenger's appreciation and acknowledgment. To her, it was a very very honorable thing. Although she just wanted to sit beside the Great Messenger quietly, it seemed like she saw her entire being glowing.

"Paige, you come over too." Gu Mengmeng pointed at another male who was standing beside the Eagle-owl tribe and on that male hung six Eagle-owl females.

Paige smiled in delight, allowing her male to send her up the Platform of the Deity's Punishment.

Gu Mengmeng nodded, her mood being exceptionally good.

This was the third end of winter after she came to the Beast World and this was the first year after she gave birth to Hede and his brothers, the second year when there were too many disruptions that caused the females to not feel at ease to bear children so much so that Saint Nazaire had none newborns last year.

Although only two females were pregnant this year, they gave birth to at least eight little rascals so the tribe would not feel lonely anymore.

Gu Mengmeng held Mandy's hand and gave her a warm gaze before standing up to announce, "From today onwards, Paige will replace Mandy as the First Beauty of the Beast World. Leanna will replace me as the First Beauty of Saint Nazaire. In the future, on the day winter ends, males will head on for the first hunt to fight for the title of First Warrior. The females will go through a beauty pageant and we'll choose the First Beauty of the Beast World and the First Beauty of the tribe from the number of cubs each female has."

Leanna and Paige were both strongly shocked. Initially, they felt that sitting beside Gu Mengmeng was already extremely honorable but they did not imagine themselves becoming the First Beauty of the Beast World and the First Beauty of the tribe suddenly. This was an unexpected surprise, a gift from the heavens. Both of them grinned from ear to ear, holding each other's hands in joy and jumping in delight.

Chapter 1158 - Maya's Pregnant

Chapter 1158: Maya's Pregnant

As the previous First Beauty of the Beast World, Mandy appeared exceptionally gracious. She stood up and walked to Paige, holding onto her hand gently as she smiled and said, "In the future, the title of First Beauty of the Beast World is yours, you've to protect this honor well and remember the Great Messenger's teaching at all times. You can't do anything that make the Great Messenger disappointed. We, the 16 valued females, will have your back and we'll always support and protect you. But at the same time, we're also your competitors, next winter, I'll work harder to snatch back the title of First Beauty of the Beast World."

Paige was a female from the deer tribe and herbivores did not have the wild characteristic as seen on carnivores so she looked delicate, causing one to have the desire to dot and cherish her. When she smiled, her eyes shined brightly, giving off an innocent glow. She squirmed around and held Mandy's hand back, replying, "Don't worry, I definitely won't disappoint everyone. But.....I had promised my Larke that I'll give birth to a nest of little deers for him next year so it's still uncertain whether you can snatch the title of First Beauty of the Beast World back."

The gunpowder smell was not too strong between the two females, both of them were decent and polite to each other.

This made Gu Mengmeng feel comforted, although she grew up watching imperial-fights dramas, she did not like the feeling of scheming against others.

To Gu Mengmeng, the best situation was for the females in the tribe to get along peacefully.

"Great Messenger...." A soft and cowardly voice rang from below the Platform of the Deity's Punishment.

Gu Mengmeng looked towards the source of the voice. It was Maya.

She frowned in a manner that is not visible under the naked eye and tried not to show too obvious defense against her rival. She smiled politely and asked, “What’s wrong?”

“I’m....I’m pregnant too.” Maya lowered her head bashfully, not daring to look into Gu Mengmeng’s eyes.

Gu Mengmeng stared at Maya’s flat stomach, confusion written all over her face.

Seeing how Gu Mengmeng was not saying a word, Maya added, “It’s a female cub.”

Gu Mengmeng raised her brow, feeling surprised.

She originally pinned all hope on Sandy’s stomach but Saint Nazaire gave birth to three ‘male’ kids and Saint Nazaire’s first female cub was actually in Maya’s stomach.

It was sarcastic but there was nothing she could do.

Waving her hand, Gu Mengmeng said, “You can come up too.”

Maya nodded her head obediently and allowed her partner to lift her to the Platform of the Deity’s Punishment.

When Mandy walked to Gu Mengmeng, Gu Mengmeng wanted to hold her hand but suddenly put her hand down. Gu Mengmeng frowned in a manner that was not visible under the naked eye and had a cold gaze.

“It’s not easy to have a female cub, you’ve to rest well.” Gu Mengmeng turned around to throw Mandy a gaze, meaning that Maya was pregnant with a female cub now so all targeting activities need to stop. After all, regardless how Maya was, a female cub was still precious.

Mandy readily took the hint and nodded her head before whispering into Leanna’s and Paige’s ears. This was the secret code among the 16 valued females but to Maya, it was just an ordinary small-talk. Only the 16 valued females understood the meaning.

“Alright, I finished talking about the beauty pageant, now let’s leave it for the males to show their capabilities.” As Gu Mengmeng said, she walked to Elvis and wrapped her arms around his neck, kissing him. She smiled and said, “Hubby, the stage is all yours.”

Elvis grabbed Gu Mengmeng’s waist and pressed her body closely to himself. He kissed her back without saying a word before swinging his arm with a howl, announcing, “All warriors in Saint Nazaire, bare your fangs and show your claws, let the Beast Deity see that you have the ability to protect your beloved female!”

Chapter 1159 - Why Are You Acting Indecently in Broad Daylight?!

Chapter 1159: Why Are You Acting Indecently in Broad Daylight?!

“Roar—”

The howl shook the sky, Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng one last time before transforming into a black wolf and lead the rest of the beasts to the distance.

The roar shook the earth and the the spectacular scene made everyone’s blood boil with indignation.

Gu Mengmeng supported her chin with her hand as she looked at Elvis leaving. She was smiling throughout and ‘My hubby is so handsome’ was clearly written on her face.

After a long time, when Elvis could not be seen at all, Gu Mengmeng retracted her gaze and leaned into Lea’s arms. She glanced at Maya and said, “Maya, you don’t have to wait here for the day, go back to your cave and take a good rest.”

“But...” Maya was surprised, she blinked and looked at Gu Mengmeng with innocent eyes.

Gu Mengmeng smiled and said, “You are bearing the first baby girl in Saint Nazaire, it’s so precious I don’t want anything to happen to you. Your priority now is to take care of your body and deliver to a baby girl safely. You don’t have to care about anything else, you understood?”

“Alright,” Maya answered obediently, before letting her male carry her back.

After Maya left, Gu Mengmeng exchanged a glance with Lea, but nobody pointed it out bluntly.

Mandy, Leanna and Paige sat on the Platform of the Deity’s Punishment with Gu Mengmeng, but the three kept darting glances at Lea. There was no aggressiveness in their looks, but Gu Mengmeng still felt uncomfortable.

It was like the first day of school, some girls gathering together to discretely talk about their female classmate whose face was still swollen from a plastic surgery during the holidays.

Gu Mengmeng facepalmed and said, “Just say whatever you want, that strange look just gives me anxiety.”

Gu Mengmeng was closest and most familiar to Mandy among the 16 valued females, so Leanna pushed Mandy and asked her to represent the rest.

Mandy hesitated bashfully for a while, but stepped forward nonetheless and said, “Well... Lea seemed to be better-looking after the winter, we just want to ask... Did anything happen?”

“Better-looking?” Gu Mengmeng looked back at Lea suspiciously.

Supposedly, the details of how the males in the snow fox tribe look would change slightly with every promotion. So when Lea got promoted from the third-level to the fourth, Gu Mengmeng could clearly feel there was more handsomeness and less charmingness on him. But he did not promote before this, why would there be a change...

“Do I not look good?” Lea let Gu Mengmeng examine his face for a long time and was unsatisfied to not see the daze expression on her. He pinched Gu Mengmeng’s chin and shook it a little, before fiddling his hair and separating his lips a little to show his crystal white teeth and pink, moist tongue. He bent forward, almost onto Gu Mengmeng’s nose tip and whispered, “What about this? Do I look better now? Or... Do I have to remove this troublesome hide skirt before you realize how good-looking I am? Huh?”

Gu Mengmeng blushed and slapped Lea. She said, “Why are you acting indecently in broad daylight?!”

“You are my female, flirting with you is not considered acting indecently. After all, I have the responsibility to please you.” With that, Lea leaned forward as though he was going to eat Gu Mengmeng up on the spot.

“Ah~~~~!” A wave of uncontrollable excited screams were let out by the three females, whom were hugging each other and jumping on the spot, with eyes in heart shapes.

Shit, why was their expression so familiar? Gu Mengmeng was like this whenever she saw two handsome guys hugging together...

Chapter 1160 - Eat Me Up? Aren't You Scared Your Teeth Might Be Chipped Off?

Chapter 1160: Eat Me Up? Aren't You Scared Your Teeth Might Be Chipped Off?

Gu Mengmeng sighed, she pushed Lea away and sat up straight. She said as she tidied her clothes, "Restrain yourself a little and don't mess around in public. Look at them, almost treating us like AV."

But Lea was unwilling to let go, he hugged Gu Mengmeng from the back and, acting like Daji whom had ruined the country and brought sufferings to its people with her beauty, said all coquettishly, "But... I can't control myself from wanting to hug you, kiss you and... eating you up whenever I see you."

The last part of the sentence had diminished into a whisper in Gu Mengmeng's ears and she felt itchy from Lea's breath. She pinched Lea's waist and said, "Eat me up? Aren't you scared your teeth might be chipped off?"

"Why would I let myself bite you, I always lick... You know it, right~" With that, Lea licked on Gu Mengmeng's left ear. It was warm and moist.

Gu Mengmeng exploded. She jumped up immediately and pointed at Lea whom was sitting at the original spot, looking up at her and laughing. She blushed but nothing could come out of her mouth.

Lea's eyes glinted slyly and there was teasing in his smile, obviously he had did it intentionally.

Meanwhile the three other females who were still screaming just now, had pinched each others' arms until it had turned purple, but they had the smile of stalkers on their faces...

Gu Mengmeng facepalmed and sighed, she said, "Are you turning me into everyone's target of imagination in their wild thoughts?"

Lea smiled and kept quiet. He opened his arms and called with a charming smile and low voice, "Mengmeng, come here and let me hug you."

For some reason, Gu Mengmeng returned to Lea's arms, although she had just gotten herself free from his arms, as though she had been bewitched. But the atmosphere around Lea had changed gradually, although the two of them were hugging, they did not feel like something in need of censoring was going to happen. Instead, it was just pure sweet.

The two of them hugging each other was like the perfect painting and nobody could bear to interrupt the beauty.

Lea kissed Gu Mengmeng's small face as she regained her conscious from the 'come here and let me hug you'. She chuckled and said, "So mushy."

"You don't like it" Lea asked softly.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and said, "I like it."

"Then I will be mushy to you for the rest of my life." With that, Lea pecked on Gu Mengmeng's face again.

A lion rolled and crawled to Gu Mengmeng's hand, he sniffed his nose as he smelled Gu Mengmeng in a cute and chubby manner.

Gu Mengmeng raised her hand and wanted to hug it, but was stopped by Lea. He said, "Are you going to mate with him?"

"Huh?" Gu Mengmeng's eyes widened and looked at Lea like looking at a psychopath.

This little bun were just born and the fastest way to move around was to roll around. Did she look like a pedophilia that will target a baby that could not even stand up?!

Lea pinched Gu Mengmeng's nose as a punishment and said, "You have to be responsible for him once you hug him. Do you think any other females would want him with your smell on him? Who dares to fight the Messenger of the Beast Deity for a males? Right?"

"But..." Gu Mengmeng felt like crying.

She accepted how Lea and Elvis rebutted to her when she described Fei Rui as a child, since he was already a second-level beast and considered to had been stepped into adulthood.

But this little bun...

God knows she was not lying when she said he was a baby, the kind that was still kept in a crib. How mentally twisted did she have to be to be aroused by a baby?!

"If you like babies, we can make ours back at home, don't ruin other's, alright?"

Chapter 1161 - I Can Only Please You When I Am Good-Looking.

Chapter 1161: I Can Only Please You When I Am Good-Looking.

“Leanna.” Gu Mengmeng called and signaled for the lion’s mother to carry her child away.

But Leanna smiled shyly and said, “If the Great Messenger likes him, you can have him. Nelson and I are both the perfect beasts. I was the First Beauty in my previous tribe and Nelson was the First Warrior in his. Our child will definitely be healthy and good-looking, he will be a strong male in the future.”

Gu Mengmeng sighed and said, “I knew he will be a bright child, but I am not a weird auntie. Next time when I go to Sauder, you should bring along the two brothers and follow me. Sauder should expect a baby girl this year and relationships should start from young.”

With that, Gu Mengmeng looked at Paige and said, “You follow me too. Females are so precious and scarce, let’s try not to give it up to other tribes.”

Paige nodded with a smile and said, “I will follow the Great Messenger’s instructions.”

Leanna was smiling too, being the lighthearted type, she was different from Mandy as she showed her likes and dislikes all over her face. She would had been bullied to no end if not for her strong males.

Before entering the winter, the 16 valued females were planning on dealing Maya, but only Leanna opened her mouth. It was not that he others stood at one side and just watched, but she was too powerful that nobody could interrupt.

In fact, Gu Mengmeng like these kind of people that display their true feelings. They might not be the most polite at times, but at least you did not have to worry about them stabbing your back.

Leanna sat cross-legged beside Gu Mengmeng with the little lion in her arms, she tilted her head and looked at Lea, before saying, “Great Messenger, you haven’t tell us what happened during the winter? Look, the witch doctor has become so beautiful, his skin is almost shining.”

Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Lea carefully again. Well, his skin did seemed better than before, but she did not realize since she had been looking at him everyday. But since Leanna mentioned it...

Gu Mengmeng touched it with her own hands, tsk, it was as fine and smooth as a baby.

“Tsk.” Gu Mengmeng shook her head in despise and said, “Are you letting the females to live on in this world? Why do you have to be so good-looking as a male? Huh?”

“I can only please you when I am good-looking.” Lea chuckled and understood the pride and boast in Gu Mengmeng’s despise. He pinched her face affectionately and felt like the more he looked at Gu Mengmeng, the more he was falling in love with her and the cuter she looked.

Gu Mengmeng could not control the smile on her lips, she had to turn her face to Leanna to avoid Lea, pretending to be ignoring him. She answered Leanna’s question, “It should be the wine. The few pails of wine I had prepared before winter all ended up in his stomach and he became like this after being a drunkard with Elvis and I in the cave for the entire winter.”

“Wine...” Leanna’s eyes were shining, she looked at Gu Mengmeng and asked, “Is... Is there any more of that wine left? Can you spare me some? I want to let my Nelson drink some too to make him prettier.”

Prettier...

Was it really alright to use such adjectives on the males?

Was Gu Mengmeng the only one that felt weird hearing it?

Gu Mengmeng sighed as she shook her head and said, “No more left, Lea had finished everything by himself.”

“Oh...” Leanna pouted as she looked down in disappointment.

Chapter 1162 - I'm A Female, Why Do I Need To Become Prettier?

Chapter 1162: I'm A Female, Why Do I Need To Become Prettier?

“Nelson is the strongest in your family, right?” Lea asked, holding back Gu Mengmeng from raising her thoughts.

Leanna nodded as a form of reply.

Lea said, “Then even if there’s grape wine left, you can’t let him drink it.”

Leanna looked at Lea, not understanding him so she tilted her head and asked, “Why?”

Lea recalled his crazy behavior during winter and could not help but shake his head, giving a bitter smile. He explained, “Drinking the grape wine will cause one to lose control over his nerves for a period of time, one will not even know what he is doing. If Nelson drinks the wine and acts up from a drunken fit, nobody in your house can control him. If it’s only once or half a time, it’s fine but if it’s for the entire winter.....ha, I suspect that the rest of your males will all die before winter ends.”

“That serious?!” Leanna widened her beautiful eyes at Lea.

Lea nodded and replied, “If not, why am I the one who’s drinking it instead of Elvis?”

That’s true too, the First Partner should be the one who gets priority over all the resources in the family after the female enjoys them. If it was not for this side-effect, the one who gets prettier after drinking the grape wine should be Elvis.

Thinking about this, Leanna believed all of Lea's words and nodded, firmly standing on his side. "I can't give this to Nelson because my other males can't defeat him."

Leanna twitched her lips and did not further chased Gu Mengmeng on matters of the grape wine.

Very clearly, other than Nelson, her other males were not worthy enough for her to request for something from the Messenger of the Beast Deity.

Gu Mengmeng was confused so she asked, "You want the grape wine because you wanted Nelson to drink it? Didn't you think of drinking it yourself?"

"Drinking it myself?" Leanna looked at Gu Mengmeng in confusion as she asked, "I'm a female, why do I need to become prettier?"

Gu Mengmeng was speechless from her question, she just felt herself losing it.

Isn't it women's nature to like being pretty?

Don't they not regret even if they die from pursuing beauty?

What was 'I'm a female, why do I need to become prettier?' about?

Leanna looked at Gu Mengmeng's strange gaze and laughed awkwardly, saying, "Actually, my Nelson is not bad, he has strong abilities and is honest, we have two sons too so we're living life in happiness now. But he always feel that he's not good-looking enough and he's suffering from an inferiority complex so I wanted to request for some grape wine from the Great Messenger so that he won't feel inferior after becoming better-looking."

A male feeling inferior because he was not good-looking enough? To what extent did his ugliness lie?

Gu Mengmeng thought for a long time but she could not recall how Leanna's lion look like so she just gave up and decided to take a look at him when Elvis and the rest came back from hunting.

But...

Gu Mengmeng laughed and looked at Leanna, asking, “You mind his inferiority?”

Leanna nodded and replied, “Didn’t I take in a fire fox last year during the beauty pageant? After taking in that fox, my Nelson became a little weird, he kept sighing and saying that he was not good-looking enough. He said that he was worried that I’ll not like him anymore. To prevent his imagination from going wild, I only mated with him this entire winter and I even gave birth to a nest of his little cubs too. Originally, I thought that he will not feel inferior anymore but he actually asked me whether I cleared my debt after giving birth to his cubs and said that I won’t love him anymore....”

Chapter 1163 - Extreme Urgency, Desire, Excitement.

Chapter 1163: Extreme Urgency, Desire, Excitement.

Leanna stared at Gu Mengmeng, too lost for words and completely at wits' end as if she was a lost girl expecting her spiritual guide to solve her doubts.

Gu Mengmeng laughed, men and women really exchanged their roles in the Beast World and the ancient world.

“Beyond the Realm of Conscience” were acted by the males.

It was still solvable if she met a clever and nimble female, but Leanna and her fox clearly had different levels of IQ. The fire in her backyard was already burning her eyebrows and this dumb girl was still confused and ignorant.

Gu Mengmeng cleared her throat before gesturing at Leanna to come over. Leanna inched forward towards Gu Mengmeng, waiting for her to solve her doubts with a curious expression.

Gu Mengmeng acted mysterious, like a professional in both IQ and EQ. “Actually, other than drinking, there’s another solution to make a male better-looking.”

“What is it?!” Leanna’s eyes instantly glowed as she stared at Gu Mengmeng intently. That gaze.....yeah, was exactly the same as Gu Mengmeng’s gaze when she saw her paycheck increasing by 3% before she transmigrated here.

Extreme urgency, desire, excitement.

Gu Mengmeng nodded her head mysteriously before whispering into Leanna's ear, "The secret is to kiss his lips, thrice every day. Tell him that you love him into his ear, the effect will be better if you add a reason behind it. If you persist for nine times nine 81 days, he will become better-looking and more confident too."

"Really?!" Leanna asked a question but she used a confirming tone such that Gu Mengmeng could nearly see the shooting stars above her head and her desire that was itching for a try.

Gu Mengmeng nodded and said, "But, this can only be used once by every female. Once you stop in the middle, there won't be an effect anymore. So, you have to persist for 81 days."

"Alright, I got it. Thank you Great Messenger." Leanna pledged in all sincerity and seriousness, almost kneeling to the ground and kowtowing on the spot in worship.

Gu Mengmeng smiled and shook her hands. She wanted to ask more about her fox when Leanna beat her to it and asked Gu Mengmeng while lifting her head up to look at her, "But.....how long is 81 days?"

Face-palming, Gu Mengmeng forgot how females in the Beast World did not know how to count.

81 days equal to approximately three months so calculating from there.....

Gu Mengmeng laughed and said, "From today onwards until the big rainy season ends is 81 days."

"Oh, alright. I understand." Leanna held her fists into a ball and gestured them in front of her chest, doing something that look like wishing herself all the best. Then, she scooped her two sons up towards the Platform of the Deity's Punishment and sat there, looking towards the direction of where the hunting team would walk past when returning back. She muttered to herself, "Sons, when your Father Beast comes back, Mother Beast is going to pounce on him. If he dares to resist, both of you shall hold him back, do you hear me?"

“Arhwoo arwhoo arwhoo~” The little buns replied with a baby voice.

Gu Mengmeng did not know whether to laugh or cry as she shook her head. Which male would resist after being pounced on by their own female?

And moreover, Nelson was a fourth-level orc, even if he wanted to resist, how could these two rascals who could not even stand up properly hold him back?

Leanna was really a funny female.

Others may believe Gu Mengmeng’s words to be true but Lea knew that she was just fooling her.

He did not expose her or did not poke through her lies because he felt that his Mengmeng was extremely charming when she was fooling someone. She really resembled a little fox and he wanted to hug her in his arms to shower love over her properly.

Chapter 1164 - After Not Seeing You For A While, I Missed You Like Crazy

Chapter 1164: After Not Seeing You For A While, I Missed You Like Crazy

The first hunt of every year was an important ceremony. The males would fight and tussle with the most ferocious wild beasts and bring the juiciest prey back for the witch doctor of the tribe to offer them to the Beast Deity.

But it was slightly different in Saint Nazaire, because Gu Mengmeng was present, the juiciest prey were offered to her.

Gu Mengmeng was pleased to see that happen, after all, Saint Nazaire was originally a tribe under her protection. Her Father was busy watching television dramas everyday and even if the tribe really wanted to offer him some food, he would not be able to eat them so it should be fine for his daughter to reap benefits off this.

When dashing steps shook the ground, Gu Mengmeng knew that the warriors of the tribe had returned.

The heroic aura that greeted the tribesmen made them feel exhilarated. Gu Mengmeng stood up to welcome them and from faraway, she saw Elvis walking towards her in a thriving dashing manner while carrying a ferocious beast.

As Elvis walked closer and closer to Gu Mengmeng, the smile on her face grew bigger and bigger.

Elvis handed the ferocious beast to Lea on the Platform of the Deity's Punishment. Just after he put down the ferocious beast, Gu Mengmeng crashed into his arms and pounced her entire being into him.

Elvis lowered his head and kissed her hair, hugging her in his arms tightly. He said with a laughter evident in his voice, “Did you miss me?”

“Yeah.” Gu Mengmeng admitted without hiding anything.

Elvis felt a sweet sensation creeping in his heart. Pinching Gu Mengmeng’s little face, he kissed her lips deeply and after a long time, he then released her and said, “I miss you too, after not seeing you for a while, I missed you like crazy. Why don’t we just let another person be the tribe leader next year so that I need not lead the tribesmen into hunting and I can keep accompanying you by your side.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and bit Elvis’s chin, saying, “Incapable ruler.”

“I’m whatever you say I am.” Elvis’s connivance had no base line. As long as she was happy, he was fine with anything.

Gu Mengmeng punched Elvis’s chest lightly and said, “Let’s settle the official matters first and announce the First Warrior for this year.”

Elvis nodded and carried Gu Mengmeng in his arms.

Although winter had ended, the weather was still cold. He did not want Gu Mengmeng to stand on the ground because he was scared that she would get a cold.

And moreover, after not seeing her for half a day, he missed her until he went crazy.

Breathing in deeply, Elvis took two steps forward and announced, “According to the results from our first hunt, I announce that the First Warrior for this year is Nelson.”

“Howl—!” The masses cheered together, clearly Nelson deserved that title.

The howling had not ended when it stopped abruptly. As if their acupuncture points were pressed, everyone stared at Leanna who climbed down from the Platform of the Deity's Punishment and could not react in time.

As Leanna climbed down from the Platform in her half-orc form, her two hands had become sharp claws when she placed them on Nelson's shoulders. Her two legs were tangled around Nelson's waist and her gaze was so fierce, she looked like she wanted to challenge Nelson to a battle.

Nelson was also taken aback. He stared at Leanna's sudden appearance with widened eyes, not knowing what she wanted to do.

"Don't move!" Leanna growled.

Gu Mengmeng face-palmed and thought to herself, "Oh my god, is this still the female who posed in charming and glamorous poses back in the Beauty Pageant? Are you sure this is not a true man from Liangshan who blocked the way to rob someone? Why does she look like she will say 'Prince, you look really pretty-looking, why don't you be my husband, a husband of the head of bandits in a mountain?'"

"I.....I.....I didn't move." The First Warrior who was still courageous a second ago became as helpless as a child now...

Chapter 1165 - Now, I Want To Kiss You.

Chapter 1165: Now, I Want To Kiss You.

“I love you.” Leanna glared at him.

Honestly speaking, that sentence did not seem like a confession but more like a extortion and black-mail.

If you changed the three words ‘I love you’ with ‘Give me your money’, it would fit perfectly.

Nelson was dumbfounded for a while before he blushed, as if he was embarrassed. Swallowing his saliva, he nodded and replied a word, “Yeah.”

Leanna thought for a moment, Gu Mengmeng said that if she could add a reason behind her confession, the effect would be better. Thus, she frowned and her eyes darted as she thought for a while before squeezing out a sentence, “Because you were awarded the title of the First Warrior in the tribe so I love you!”

Nelson nodded his head in stiffness and replied, “Yeah.....next year.....I’ll try to fight for the First place next year too.....”

“Tsk, I ask you to not move!” Leanna hollered.

Nelson instantly froze, as if his acupuncture points were pressed. He said, “Not move, I’m not moving anymore.....”

“Yeah.” Leanna nodded her head in satisfaction before continuing, “Now, I’m going to kiss you.”

“Ah?” Worry was written all over in Nelson’s eyes. Leanna was acting too strange today, although he wished that Leanna would like him more even in his dreams, her enthusiasm was too sudden that he could not adapt to it in time.

“Ah what? You’re my male, I can’t kiss you?!” Leanna glared, clearly being unhappy.

“No.....no.....you can kiss.....of course.....you can kiss.” The warrior, a ferocious tiger who never take a step back when facing hunger, become as coward as a Hello Kitty in front of his own female.

After hearing from Nelson, Leanna heaved a sigh of relief and said, “Yeah, then listen properly, I’m going to kiss you now and I’m going to kiss you thrice.”

“.....alright.”

Leanna pinned Nelson like that and landed three smacks on him before nodding in satisfaction. She said, “I’m going to kiss you thrice tomorrow, thrice the day after. You’ve to take the initiative to appear in front of me everyday, do you understand?”

Nelson’s face was as red as a tomato. It was not bashfulness, it was an agitated and excited feeling that could not be described with words.

He did not know why but he just felt his heart racing crazily and his entire mind going blank.

“Tsk, do you hear me?!” Leanna probed.

Nelson nodded his head blankly and said, “I heard you, I heard you.”

“Yeah.” Leanna released him and then dusted her own claws, standing up from Nelson’s body.

Gu Mengmeng really wanted to clap for Leanna, this sister is a really powerful and mighty!

So, she did not use up all her energy when she dissed Maya back at the stream!

A savage version of 'My Sassy Girl', tsk tsk tsk, eotteokhae, saranghae~~

Lea placed one arm on Elvis's shoulder and used his other arm to bring Gu Mengmeng's fingers over to fiddle with them. He looked at the crowd casually and whispered into Gu Mengmeng's ear, "Should we take the chance and knock him? Hmm?"

Gu Mengmeng followed Lea's gaze and saw a red-haired male in the crowd of orcs. He was staring at Leanna and Nelson with a cold gaze. Thus, she chuckled and raised her voice, "All warriors, there's no need to be envious. As long as you guys work hard to raise your abilities, you can show your best side to the females and I believe the female you like will be able to see it. But I have to clarify one point. That is in Saint Nazaire, framing the First partner and disrupting the harmony of a family is strictly not allowed. Once I find anyone having these unnecessary ideas or watching a spot he shouldn't be watching, I won't go easy on him, do all of you understand?"

Chapter 1166 - Psychotic Eccentric Auntie!

Chapter 1166: Psychotic Eccentric Auntie!

The Offering Ceremony was long and mundane, not long later, Gu Mengmeng lost interest so she asked Elvis to bring her back for an afternoon nap in her cave and when it was evening, they would then attend the night campfire party.

Because of the changeS in the First Beauty of the tribe and the First Beauty of the Beast World, the two spots beside Gu Mengmeng during the campfire party naturally belonged to Leanna and Paige. Mandy, on the other hand, sat beside Paige, a spot considered to be quite close to Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng was still worried that Mandy would feel uncomfortable from losing her position as the First Beauty of the Beast World but.....yeah.....

Mandy adopted an Eagle-owl from Paige's family, she said that as long as the little rascal evolved successfully, even if he was just a half-orc, she would mate with him. If he failed in his evolution, she would keep him as a beast pet.

Thus, Gu Mengmeng felt her thoughts in a mess as she just felt herself losing it.

She had no idea how to see Mandy properly again, a child husband and whatsoever.....psychotic eccentric auntie!

“You don't have to feel so weirded out.” Lea swayed his tail and tore a piece of meat that was roasted well, sending it into Gu Mengmeng's mouth. He said, “If you didn't protect Hede and his brothers well back then, I'm afraid they would be snatched away and raised by someone else once they show their faces.”

Gu Mengmeng widened her beautiful eyes in disbelief at Lea and then at Elvis.

Elvis shrugged his shoulders and said, “The stray females can’t receive this kind of treatment, Hede and his brothers is Saint Nazaire’s first batch of cubs.”

To put it simply, he did not know of this business.

Lea chuckled and said, “I won’t talk about others but Sandy wanted to make a move on the four little ones before. In the end, she did not have the chance to speak up when you used a ‘mother-in-law’ to shut her up so she did not dare to mention this again.”

“What?!” Gu Mengmeng was more startled than before.

Upon seeing how she was so surprised, Lea found it funny, how could someone be so adorable?! Ah, she really wanted to bite her and taste what exactly was she made up of.

Pinching Gu Mengmeng’s little face, Lea said, “Bode told me before that Sandy wanted to raise Hede but it was just at the start, she didn’t have the idea after that.”

Gu Mengmeng was at a loss, luckily, Sandy still had right principles or else.....

Ah, recalling how many times she left the four little ones under Sandy’s care, she was just pushing her children into the fire! Fortunately, the fire had a conscience or else her children.....damn, the thought of it gave her goosebumps.

“Not just like that~” Lea laughed evilly, resembling a snake that was convincing Eve to eat the apple. He said, “Sandy wanted to give one or two of Joseph and his brothers to you.”

“What?!” Gu Mengmeng felt she used finished all the exclamation marks in her life. “Hurry, bring my instant cardio-reliever pills over!”

Gu Mengmeng pressed her hands against her heart, looking as if she could not stand it anymore.

Lea smiled radiantly, pinching Gu Mengmeng’s face and swaying it from side to side. He said, “Elvis and I had rejected it for you so you can save your instant cardio-reliever pills for next time.”

“That’s good that’s good.....” Gu Mengmeng heaved a sigh of relief.

Lea asked, “Are you not going to ask me how I rejected it?”

Gu Mengmeng lifted her face and asked, “How?”

Lea smiled ambiguously and answered, “I told her that if she dared to stuff another love rival into my family, I’ll castrate all her males, including Joseph and his brothers.”

Gu Mengmeng hugged her shoulders and sneered at him, criticizing, “Your jealous mindset is too strong.”

Lea did not take it to heart as he said with his head raised, “My jealousy has grown stronger because of you, it’s too late to blame me now.”

Chapter 1167 - Why Do I Feel So Shamelessly Detestable?

Chapter 1167: Why Do I Feel So Shamelessly Detestable?

Gu Mengmeng hugged Lea's neck and gave him a kiss, saying, "I don't blame you, how can I blame you when you're caring for me? But, can you please use milder methods in the future? Sandy is a timid female, don't scare her."

"She's timid? Ha ha....." Lea sniggered and said, "From what I see, she has a really huge courage. She dared to force a love rival in between the converging attack of Elvis and I to snatch our favor away. I'm afraid I can't find a second person like Sandy in the Beast World."

Gu Mengmeng laughed, that was true too, other than Sandy, nobody dared to act recklessly and fear nothing in front of Elvis and Lea.

"Ha, I remember that.....she chided you and Elvis before." Gu Mengmeng chuckled.

Lea looked down and said, "Yeah, in my entire life, I've been chided by two people before, one's you and one's her. I admit defeat whenever you scold me because I like you. But when she scolds me.....I still have to thank her with a debt of gratitude towards her, tsk.....why do I feel so shamelessly detestable?"

Gu Mengmeng knew that Lea was referring to the time before they mated, the time when she did not allow him to return to the cave.

Sandy visited Gu Mengmeng because she knew that she was in a bad mood and when she was walking along the territory boundaries, she saw Lea lying on a tree. The next second, she scolded him to his face before leaving three words ‘serves you right’. Then, Sandy entered the cave and started speaking up for Elvis and Lea in front of her.

Elvis tightened his grip around Gu Mengmeng before looking at Lea, saying, “You’re just being chided but I was given a lashing-down while having my nose pointed at, yeah.....she still threatened me with her claws. It was my first time feeling like a good-for-nothing, I was really at a loss of what to do after being grounded by that female.”

Gu Mengmeng was taken aback for two seconds before she recalled that Elvis was mentioning a different story from Lea. He was referring to the time when Cole used the bewitching spell on Sandy. Sandy’s consciousness was messed up and she mistook Cole as her partner so she thought that Elvis was covering up for the cheating Cole. Thus, she pointed at Elvis’s nose and gave him a lashing-down.

“Back then, Sandy fell for Cole’s trick so it wasn’t intentional. And moreover, she acted like that to protect me. Hubby, don’t bear grudges~”

Elvis lowered his head and kissed Gu Mengmeng’s cheek, saying, “I know she’s protecting you so I held myself back. Or else, I would’ve cut her gallbladder out for you to have a meal with wine.”

“Tsk!” Gu Mengmeng sneered in detest.

Elvis pinched Gu Mengmeng’s little hand and said, “Wolves are animals which bear grudges so if she isn’t an important friend to you anymore, please inform me so I can get my revenge.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled, hugging Elvis’s waist. Pressing her face against Elvis’s chest, she felt herself sinking in happiness.

She understood Elvis’s words, what Elvis was saying is, “Because Sandy is someone you care about so no matter what she does, I will hold it back and let her be.”

This must be loving someone else on the account of another.

However, think about Sandy that little bear bun. She was normally a huge coward but she actually dared to threaten Elvis and Cole with her claws, that was sacrificing her entire family to fight for justice on her behalf!

What a foolish girl, how could Gu Mengmeng not care about this bosom friend of hers?

The atmosphere was just nice when an Eagle-owl flew over them, stopping in front of Gu Mengmeng. Bowing, he said, “Great Messenger, that monkey came again.”

“Monkey?” Gu Mengmeng was dumbfounded for a moment, unable to recall who it was.

Lea, on the other hand, pinched Gu Mengmeng’s little hand and laughed, saying, “Let him come in, I want to hear what kind of answer he had prepared.”

Chapter 1168 - Nothing Can Be Done

Chapter 1168: Nothing Can Be Done

The Eagle-owl sneaked a peek at Gu Mengmeng and seeing how she had no objection, he flapped his wings and flew away.

Not long later, the Eagle-owl returned together with Joshua. Gu Mengmeng recalled that he was Frankston's witch doctor, a first-level orc from the ape tribe who requested to join their tribe before winter.

Gu Mengmeng remembered that Lea patted something on his shoulder and said that if he could gather them together, he would be allowed to enter Saint Nazaire with his identity as witch doctor.

Gu Mengmeng asked Lea what exactly did he pat on his shoulder but Lea answered her mysteriously that he would not allow a person, who always casted his greedy eyes on Gu Mengmeng, to run around in Saint Nazaire. However, he did not tell Gu Mengmeng what exactly he patted on his shoulders.

After that, upon knowing what happened to Maya, Gu Mengmeng focused all her time and energy on her and together with Lea's drunk act during the entire winter, she forgot about Joshua's matter.

Now that Joshua's standing in front of her again, Gu Mengmeng started becoming curious.

Joshua opened a piece of beast skin. There was four smaller pieces of beast skin in it and he opened them one by one in front of Lea before saying, "Yellow root, chili, snake scale and salt crystals. I gathered all of what you patted on my shoulder."

Lea held his cheek and pinched the things Joshua presented to him with his index finger. Smiling an indifferent and casual smile, he said, “You only.....got half of them correct.”

‘It’s impossible!’ Joshua insisted firmly, “Mighty Lea, you’re the Paladin of the deities, you can’t deny your words.”

Lea laughed, dangerously and impudently, asking, “If I deny my words, what can you do to me?”

“I.....” Joshua clenched his fists tight, unable to say a word.

He was just a first-level orc, what can he do to Lea?

Back then, Frankston could not even stop Elvis and him when they went around snatching territories all by themselves. In the end, they tore a huge piece of Frankston’s territory right before their eyes. Now, Lea had not only level-up into a fourth-level orc, he was the male of the Messenger of the Beast Deity. On the other hand, he was just an orc stagnant at first-level, what can he do to Lea?

Nothing can be done...

Nothing can be done...

Lea swayed his tail and continued, “However, my Mengmeng cares about my face so I’ve to save up and throw lesser of these.”

Joshua lifted his head, staring at Lea with his eyes filled with anticipation.

Lea picked up the ginger and chili, saying, “Although the color is not as good as my harvest, the type is the same so I’ll let you pass for these two items.”

After he finished speaking, he pointed at the salt crystals and laughed, saying, “These salt crystals.....you stole them from the salt lake in Saint Nazaire right?”

Joshua lowered his head, appearing embarrassed.

In the Beast World, the correct principle was to seize things by force and the one with the highest abilities could be the ruler. If he snatched it, he could confess to it bold and straight but stealing.....was not a glorious thing to do.

But in fact, he indeed stole these salt crystals from the Saint Nazaire tribesmen when they were busy preparing storage food for winter.

So, Joshua nodded with much difficulty and admitted, “Yes.”

Lea smiled, placing the salt crystals down before saying, “I did pat salt on your shoulders but that was not lake salt but sea salt ground from sea salt crystals. When you collected water on behalf of Frankston, you should have been aware that there’s only one mermaid in Saint Nazaire, right?”

Because that fish almost wrecked the well so the news spread quite far out and as a witch doctor, Joshua would naturally know about it.

“The sea salt crystals were given to us by the mermaid. If I just say it through words, you won’t be able to differentiate either so to allow you to be sincerely convinced, I’ll take a little out for you and you can compare them then.”

Chapter 1169 - Infuriated Beast King's Enhanced Deity's Punishment Scales

Chapter 1169: Infuriated Beast King's Enhanced Deity's Punishment Scales

Soon after, Lea retrieved the salt crystals left behind by Fei Rui in the cave.

As there was only a piece of sea salt crystal, it was definitely insufficient for marinating meat. Thus, it was rarely used and Lea only used small amount of it when marinating fish, whereas other times, it was just stored in the cave.

Using his fingers, he dug out a bit of salt to show Joshua.

Joshua scrutinised it closely as he compared it to the lake salt that he had brought himself. Besides the colour and size, even the lustre and scent were different.

With his head hung low, Joshua said in a disappointed tone, "I... I will make another trip down to the beach to collect some sea salt from the Mermaid Tribe. Please give me another chance."

Lea shook his head and said, "the key does not lie in the sea salt but in this."

Lea picked out a layer of snake scales that was separated by a layer of beast skin and clicked his tongue. He continued, "what I had given you was the Deity's Punishment Scales enhanced by the fury of the Beast King, yet you only brought a wild beast's snake scales to fool with me? Hah, no matter how ignorant I am, you can't possibly use a tree bark to disguise as Lingzhi right?"

Joshua looked at Lea in shock – the infuriated Beast King’s enhanced Deity’s Punishment Scales?

He knew what the Deity’s Punishment Scales were. When a male beast commit an offence, his punishment is to kneel at the Platform of the Deity’s Punishment for three days and three nights. If he cannot survive this punishment, it means that the Beast Deity is unwilling to forgive him and such a beast would be punished by the tribe’s witch doctor. He would be completely skinned and his skin would be used to make a flag to be flown on the highest peak of the tribe in order to show remorse to the Beast Deity.

But the enhancement by the fury of the Beast King...

It was something only heard of in legends.

The Beast King was the Beast Deity’s most doted child and had been bestowed with a demigod’s abilities. He could give commands to all the tribes in the world and any deity that dared to go against his commands would not be spared from punishment.

The present Beast King is Gu Mengmeng but she did not belong to the snake tribe.

Wait a minute...

So the scales that were laying on his shoulders were from the time that the Master of the Snake King valley had personally issued the Deity’s Punishment?

After coming to a realisation, Joshua was instantly demoralised.

Even if he had to dive into the deep sea to look for the salt crystals, he was willing to do so. Despite being unable to swim, he believed that there was still a way.

However, the Master had already died so it was never possible for him to get hold of another Deity’s Punishment Scales that were enhanced by the fury of the Beast King.

Gu Mengmeng tugged at Lea's beast skirt and asked, "are the scales that you are referring to... Ellie?"

Lea nodded and said, "it is indeed her scales. When you were unconscious, I returned to pick it up."

Gu Mengmeng was a little disgusted as she asked, "why did you pick it up?"

As if intending to tease Gu Mengmeng, Lea responded. "Didn't you say that the texture of her snake skin was thin and smooth? I thought of picking them one piece by one piece so that I could piece them together to its original form for you."

Gu Mengmeng straightened her neck and said, "I don't want it, it's so disgusting. Quickly throw it away."

Lea pinched Gu Mengmeng's small nose and lightly shook it as he smiled and said. "You blockhead. Your body already has a layer of Snakel's snake slough so why would you even take a liking towards her poor quality snake skin? I had snatched it back only because it is a rare medicinal ingredient and can save lives in emergency situations."

Gu Mengmeng looked at Lea doubtfully, with an expression that said 'you cannot fool me'.

Lea held Gu Mengmeng's face in his hands and kissed her. Then, he said, "don't worry. I will keep it in a safe place so that you won't see it. Don't make me throw it, alright? Hmm?"

"Anything." After thinking about it, Gu Mengmeng thought that as a witch doctor, Lea naturally had his own reasons. So long as it did not make her uncomfortable, she was fine with it.

Seeing the interaction between Gu Mengmeng and Lea, Joshua was filled with envy. He stayed silent for a long time before speaking, "I do not have the Beast King's fury enhanced Deity's Punishment Scales but can I use another Holy object for the deal?"

Chapter 1170 - Battle Of Wits Between Two Foxes

Chapter 1170: Battle Of Wits Between Two Foxes

Lea glanced sideways at Joshua with a look indicating his surprise that Joshua had not yet left. He stopped for two seconds and suddenly laughed.

He released Gu Mengmeng's little hands and sat up straight. After changing his playful smile into a graceful one, and becoming as polite as the Saint Nazaire, he said. "Continue on, I would like to hear about what kind of holy creature is able to have a value comparable to that of the Beast King's fury enhanced Deity's Punishment Scales."

Joshua wanted to look straight into Lea's eyes but his aura was so strong that it felt so oppressive. He could not even withstand for a second before he gave in and lowered his head. Clenching his fist and with a frown on his face, he responded, "Heart of the Desert."

The instant the four words came out of his mouth, Joshua could distinctly sense the change in the atmosphere in the surroundings.

And this change had solely come from the three people in front of him.

Gu Mengmeng and Lea exchanged glances. There was a light smile on the corner of their lips and it seemed to be mocking something.

Lea's prediction was really accurate – Cole had indeed used an entire winter season to plot a scheme.

However, since he already knew that Gu Mengmeng know about Maya's identity, it was highly likely that the information he had given Maya was fake. But judging from Lea's intelligence, he would most likely think the same, so it may be possible that Cole had acted in the opposite way. Yet, he had still sent out the second option after the Motou lineage...

Hah, this was indeed a battle of wits between the two foxes.

With her palms supporting her chin, Gu Mengmeng finally made eye contact with Joshua. There was a gentle smile at the side of her mouth but it did not reach her eyes when she said softly, “I once made a promise that I will fulfill their wishes if anyone brings me the seven treasures. Even though you have the Heart of the Desert, you only exchanged it for the chance to join the Saint Nazaire – isn’t it such a waste?”

Upon hearing Gu Mengmeng’s voice, Joshua could feel his heart palpitating at an extremely fast pace. All the blood flowed to his head and he could sense his palms covered in sweat.

While squeezing his fingers, Joshua said. “I do not have the Heart of the Desert. I only have news about it so I dare not ask for a wish. So long as you allow me to use it to replace the scales that Master Lea had asked for in his test, I will be contented.”

The corner of Gu Mengmeng’s lips rose and she commented. “You are really not a greedy one.”

Gu Mengmeng looked sideways at Lea and laughed. “Since the test is set by you, you have the right to decide whether you can change it.”

Lea’s hands were wrapped around Gu Mengmeng’s elbow playfully and his chin on her fleshly shoulders when he responded. “What other thoughts would I have in front of you? Isn’t it just going to be you deciding it?”

Gu Mengmeng smiled lazily. With her fingers on Lea’s gabella, she pushed him away from her shoulders. Then, she wrapped her arms around Elvis’s neck to indicate to him to leave.

Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng and stood up. He shot Auretin and Barete a meaningful gaze. Both of them nodded their heads together and stayed behind to host the night campfire party, while Elvis and Lea left with Gu

Mengmeng. When they passed Joshua, Gu Mengmeng told him softly, “Spare me a few minutes to talk elsewhere.”

“Yes.” Joshua did not dare to lift his head the whole time. He felt his heart beating too vigorously. The enchanting person was so close to him, yet he did not dare to even lift his head to glance and only followed quietly behind.

“Let’s not return to the cave but to where Lea had stayed in the past.” Probably because of territorial behaviour from staying in the Beast World for too long, or because her sense of smell was too sensitive after inheriting Snakel’s ability, she did not like it when strangers leave their scent where she stayed at. Especially when the other party had an ulterior motive and was related to Cole, she did not like it even more.

Chapter 1171 - You Are My Master

Chapter 1171: You Are My Master

Lea and Elvis did not have any disagreements. After all, Lea's place was where most discussions were carried out in the past, except that after Gu Mengmeng's arrival, they were used to being around her and hardly returned anymore.

However, Lea's place was special. Even though Lea no longer stayed there anymore, the people from their tribe did not dare to plot against it so it had always been empty.

Gu Mengmeng sat at the cave's entrance to Lea's place, without any intention to enter as she did not like anyone related to Cole entering even if Lea no longer stayed there.

Elvis and Lea sat on either side of Gu Mengmeng and did not speak, giving her the freedom to make the decision.

Gu Mengmeng leaned back into Elvis's arms and said to Joshua. "Alright, there is no one else here. You may speak now."

With his head still hung low, Joshua said, "the news about the Heart of the Desert was from Cole."

Gu Mengmeng raised her brows. She did not expect that Joshua would be so truthful to her, after all Fei Rui had come only because of Cole's scheme. Up till now, Fei Rui still not know that the information about the Kiss of the Ocean was Cole's manipulative trick. Cole also did not turn up when the Soul of the Forest was found and only instructed a Dora to control Leonard to carry out the task.

Yet this time, he had personally appeared to tell Joshua about the Heart of the Desert?

It seemed like Lea had guessed correctly – it was too rushed for Cole to use a winter season to plot a scheme so he had been this perfunctory?

Or was it because...

Cole had predicted that it would be him, so there was no longer a need to hide?

Then why did he still have to send the message through Joshua? Why not directly tell her?

Joshua clenched his fist before continuing, “I want to join the Saint Nazaire because I like the Great Messenger. I want to pursue the Great Messenger, so... I cannot lie to you, or even hide anything from you. Even if I am standing before you, I feel as though there is a galaxy separating us, so I do not wish to distance us further with lies and secrets. So I will honestly tell you everything that I know, so that I can prove my loyalty to you.”

After hearing Joshua’s words, Gu Mengmeng instinctively looked at Lea. Then she smiled and asked Joshua, “these words... don’t tell me Cole taught you to say them?”

Joshua shook his head and replied. “I told him that I will tell you the truth and he did not say anything.”

Lea sighed. As though he was begging for mercy from Gu Mengmeng, he pretended to be pitiful and said, “I know that I was wrong for hiding the truth from you but two years have passed and you are still raking up old scores? Hmm?”

Gu Mengmeng raised her head and asked, “Why? Can’t I do that?”

Lea helplessly gave in to Gu Mengmeng and lightly tapped her little nose as he said, “sure sure sure, you are my master, how could I stop you from doing anything you want?”

Gu Mengmeng laughed softly and ignored Lea’s flirty attempts. She looked at Joshua and said. “Fine, I understand. Continue and tell me how much you know about the Heart of the Desert? Or... how much did Cole tell you?"

Joshua nodded his head and responded. "The Heart of the Desert is in the Mecca Desert and is protected by fifth-level scorpion beast. That place is dry most of the time in a year, no plants could survive, and it is a vast land of sand. Without a guide who is familiar with it, anyone who enters most likely won't be able to leave, so..."

"Be more direct. Who is the person who is familiar with the place and can guide? Is it you?" Gu Mengmeng asked in a straightforward manner.

Chapter 1172 - Who Is The Guide?

Chapter 1172: Who Is The Guide?

Joshua shook his head and said. “It’s not me. I really want to go with you guys but I know that with my first-level abilities, I will only be a burden, so I will not trouble Great Messenger. I will stay at the Saint Nazaire as a witch doctor while Master Lea and you are not around and guard the tribe while awaiting for your return.”

Gu Mengmeng thought about it. There are many places she has to visit in a year – Sauder has Hede and Jialue so she definitely has to visit her two sons and Sandy there; Zacharias has Chixuan and Kanwu so she also has to make time to visit them and Natalie. As the Saintess of the Snake King valley, even if she does not return every year, she still needed to make an appearance frequently to show that she was still alive and for people to remember the Snake King valley. This would deter people from taking advantage of the winter season to sneak into the Snake King valley with ill intentions and misbehave.

Therefore, after taking into account all these, there was limited time that she had to stay in Saint Nazaire in a year.

Even if Saint Nazaire had 16 valued females, and another eight new young beasts now, she indeed needed another witch doctor.

But...

Could she trust someone who was related to Cole?

“Fine, from today onwards, you are the witch doctor of Saint Nazaire.” Lea held back Gu Mengmeng’s shoulders and agreed to it readily.

“Lea.” Gu Mengmeng frowned. She was not blaming him for making his own decision but because she could not trust in a person sent by Cole.

Lea rubbed Gu Mengmeng's chin, then with an expression as if he was seeking her favour, said, "With someone replacing me as the witch doctor, I can finally have free time to focus on serving you, isn't that great? My Queen."

"But..." Gu Mengmeng felt her heart itching as she was always susceptible to Lea's flirt.

Lea lightly kissed her lips and said. "This fellow had wanted to cross the galaxy to be by your side, so he definitely won't do anything dumb to drown himself. If he really did that... don't worry, Elvis and I have plenty of ways for him to be unable to live or die in peace."

Gu Mengmeng thought about it – if Cole had really used Joshua to cause chaos to Saint Nazaire, not only torturing Joshua, even torturing Cole was useless.

As if he had seen her thoughts, Lea softly bit Gu Mengmeng's left ear and said. "In the past, to compete with Cole, I have regarded Saint Nazaire with utmost importance. But because of this, I had almost lost you. Now, Saint Nazaire is nothing to me... Hah, it is a tribe that even I no longer care about, do you think Cole is still interested in destroying it?"

Gu Mengmeng pondered – without the goalkeeper, would there be the desire to shoot a goal?

She laughed softly and responded. "I understand, we shall just listen to you."

"Good girl." Lea gently kissed Gu Mengmeng's forehead. Then, he whispered at her ears, "from today onwards, I am no longer the witch doctor of Saint Nazaire. I only belong to you, Ninth Highness."

Gu Mengmeng laughed lightly and crossed his neck to kiss his cheek, saying, "Salutations to Your Highness."

The two of them looked at each other and smiled. Lea praised, "such a well-behaved girl."

Gu Mengmeng lightly hit Lea's chest, then returned to her original position. After keeping the playful smile on her face, she turned to look at Joshua's face and said, "witch doctor, can you now tell me, who is the person who can lead the way?"

Joshua had been watching the both of them using the corner of his eyes the whole time when they were fooling around with each other.

Chapter 1173 - Just A Little Envious Of Him

Chapter 1173: Just A Little Envious Of Him

Her smile was as radiant as a flower and her facial features were so enchanting that he was even more determined to cross the galaxy. He was so engrossed in his thoughts that when he heard Gu Mengmeng calling his name, he was dazed for a moment.

After recovering from his daze, he responded, “Auretin.”

“Auretin?!” Gu Mengmeng expressed her utter shock at this response.

There was nothing else other than food in the eyes of that glutton. Elvis and Lea were familiar with him. If he was someone untrustworthy, Elvis and Lea would not have allowed him to be around Gu Mengmeng, much less to appoint him as a guard.

Initially, Elvis had chosen Auretin as he did not have anything to worry about and had no weaknesses, so Cole or other people could not use the threats on Gu Mengmeng against him.

If Cole could win the favour of Auretin...

Hah, it was impossible unless he was skilled at cooking, and even better than Lea.

However, this had almost zero possibility because Gu Mengmeng clearly knew that Cole had maintained the habit of eating raw meat in order to prevent his wild instincts from degenerating, so he could not cook at all.

Or could it be a trick to sow discord? Did he intend to plot against all the people that Gu Mengmeng could trust around her?

Gu Mengmeng narrowed her eyes, as though she was scrutinising Joshua.

Joshua tightened his fist and continued, “There is a Fedaton City in the Mecca Desert. The City Lord Bi An is the protector of the Heart of the Desert. And Auretin... he was born in the Fedaton City.”

“Did Cole tell you all these?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

Joshua nodded truthfully as he did not dare to lie at all.

“Are there any more information?” Gu Mengmeng asked casually.

Joshua shook his head, saying, “he only told me this much.”

Gu Mengmeng stretched, then leaned into Elvis’ arms and said, “you should be familiar with Saint Nazaire’s territory, find a place yourself to settle down.”

“Yes. Thank you for your permission Great Messenger.” He heaved a sigh of relief – he had finally gotten slightly closer to Gu Mengmeng. Even if it was just slightly closer, he was still very contented.

Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng and left. Lea swayed his tail and looked at Joshua, leaving him a sentence, “then, I shall be troubling you with the tribe’s matters in the future, witch doctor.”

“Yes.” Joshua treated Lea respectfully. Firstly, it was because he was the most doted partner of Gu Mengmeng, if he wanted to become Gu Mengmeng’s partner in the future, it was definitely wise to develop friendly ties with this Master Lea. Secondly, it was because Lea really had extraordinary insights and abilities as a witch doctor, so Joshua naturally looked up to him as a witch doctor.

Lea was not bothered to be continue with courteous exchanges with Joshua. He swayed his tail seductively as he caught up with Gu Mengmeng and returned to the cave with talks and smiles.

After returning to the cave, Gu Mengmeng looked at Elvis and asked, “hubby, you have been quiet the whole time. What’s wrong? Do you have something on your mind?”

Elvis frowned and nodded. Then, he looked at Lea with a dark gaze.

Gu Mengmeng laughed softly and asked. “Why? He had been drunk behaving the entire winter season, now that he stopped, you are not used to it?”

Elvis laughed. He was really cheered up by Gu Mengmeng’s ridiculous words and cleared his throat to speak. “It was just that I am really envious of him... Say, what if I hand over the position as the chief to Ian? He had experience being a chief in the past and is trustable, so he should be quite reliable.”

Chapter 1174 - Darkness Under Light

Chapter 1174: Darkness Under Light

Gu Mengmeng laughed as she wrapped her arms around Elvis' neck and said, "Why, are all of you intending to retire together?"

Elvis sighed and tightened his wrap around Gu Mengmeng's waist, saying, "I just wish to be the same as them, to have only the rightful role I should have and nothing else."

Gu Mengmeng leaned on Elvis' chest and replied, "take it slowly. If I were to replace the witch doctor and chief at the same time, others would think that I am intending to forsake Saint Nazaire."

"I don't care about what others think," Elvis stroked Gu Mengmeng's hair gently and said.

Gu Mengmeng continued, "I know, but after all, Saint Nazaire had been painstakingly formed by Lea and you, so I hope that the messengers tribe is Saint Nazaire and not Sauder."

Elvis did not insist and merely responded with a word of 'fine'.

After comforting Elvis, Gu Mengmeng then turned back to look at Lea and said, "there's something else that has been bugging my mind the entire afternoon."

Lea grinned and asked, "Maya's stomach?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded and replied, "you all smelled it? The scent on her body..."

"It's Cole," Lea responded to Gu Mengmeng.

Elvis snickered. “Cole is really brave – he’d actually dared to come to Saint Nazaire during the winter season.”

Gu Mengmeng stroked Lea’s tail and replied indifferently, “it might be darker under light – a place that is more dangerous may actually be safer. No matter how many enemies he has, who would have thought that he would be this daring to enter Saint Nazaire so indiscreetly and while all three of us are around.”

“Indeed, not only has he stayed, he had even impregnated Maya... Hah, he’s really capable.” Lea’s words were full of sarcasm.

Gu Mengmeng thought for a while and asked, “do you think it’s because the 16 valued females had made things difficult for Maya before winter, so Cole had used this method to help her stay safe?”

Lea laughed and said, “does Cole look like someone to worry about others? Moreover, Maya does not have a snow fox as her partner, so once her child is born, the truth will be revealed, unless... he never had the intention for the child to be born.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned and said, “it can’t be right? Even a monster would not hurt its own children...”

Lea looked at Elvis meaningfully and did not say anything.

Gu Mengmeng’s heart paused for a moment. Right, wasn’t it their biological father who had tortured Elvis and his brother?

The theory of monster not harming its own children seemed to not be the case in the Beast World.

“Alright, since Maya is already his person, then her life or death should not be our concern. Xiao Meng, you have tired yourself out for a day, you should take a warm bath and rest early.” Elvis personally thought that his family background no longer bothered him. No matter how deeply wounded he was initially, it had already become an old scar. Even though it was ugly, it was no longer painful.

It was just that every time Gu Mengmeng mentioned this, she would feel pained, so Elvis had also intentionally avoided this topic to prevent her from feeling upset.

Lea lightly withdrew his tail from Gu Mengmeng's arms and waved it, saying, "alright, I should boil the water now. You should lend her your tail to play with, otherwise she may feel uncomfortable without something furry to play with."

Elvis did not respond to Lea and only placed his large tail into Gu Mengmeng's arms.

Gu Mengmeng did not mind any tail and immediately enjoyed playing around with the tail.

"So, you intend to look for the Heart of the Desert?" Elvis asked.

Gu Mengmeng nodded and said, "I have considered before. If we were to activate your bloodline as the Beast King, the situation would be advantageous for us. Then when I give birth to another child, I will be at ease."

Chapter 1175 - Bi An

Chapter 1175:

Bi An

“I have no other opinions, I will just listen to you.”

Gu Mengmeng leaned into Elvis’ arms and laughed. “If we are going to the Mecca Desert, we definitely cannot bring little shit... Hah, I still can’t imagine the tantrum that he will throw.”

Elvis played with Gu Mengmeng’s little hands and replied with a smile, “How about I just fight with him and leave right after he’s satisfied with the fight, then he won’t throw any tantrum anymore.”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and said, “I think it’s unlikely.”

Judging from Wabei’s ability to fight incessantly, only Elvis could fight with him until he’s satisfied. Even Gu Mengmeng, who was significantly smaller than him, could not make him fight to his fullest, much less Elvis, who looked like a little dog to him.

The next day morning, Auretin carried his hunted loots to join the meal. After enduring for an entire winter season, his craving was already uncontrollable.

If not because he had eaten sufficient amount of roasted meat during the night campfire party the night before, he might have even charged into Elvis’ cave and take Gu Mengmeng as hostage to threaten Lea for food.

Upon receiving the ingredients that Auretin had brought, Lea started to cook, whereas Gu Mengmeng called Auretin, who was circling the wok, over.

Due to the fact that Gu Mengmeng could stop Lea from cooking if she disagreed, and that Auretin could not win Gu Mengmeng's family of three in a battle, he could sit well-behavedly diagonally in front of Gu Mengmeng with a stony face. While his eyes were drawn to the huge wok that Lea had in his hands, Auretin sat extremely upright with no expression on his face.

"How much do you know about Mecca Desert?" Gu Mengmeng asked in a straightforward manner.

Auretin was obviously taken aback slightly but his face remained expressionless and his brows did not twitch, but Gu Mengmeng caught the instant dilation of his pupils.

After staying silent for about five seconds, Auretin then responded, "I was born there, so I am quite familiar with it."

"What about Bi An? Do you know him?" Gu Mengmeng continued to ask.

Auretin nodded, thought for a moment, then shook his head and said, "there is no one who does not know Bi An in the Mecca Desert, but none have seen him. He... is more like a person from a myth."

"What do you mean?" Gu Mengmeng pursued.

Auretin took a glance at Lea's wok – the meat had just been added to the wok and there was still some time before he could eat.

This amount of time was sufficient for him to tell Gu Mengmeng the story.

As he considered in his mind, Auretin returned his gaze from Lea's wok and focused on Gu Mengmeng, saying, "Bi An is one of the partner of the previous Messenger of the Beast Deity, but some time later he was unknowingly abandoned to become a stray beast. Come to think about it, it must have been at least a thousand years since then. It was rumoured that he is still alive, yet no one has ever seen him. Just like Snakel in the past, who was still alive, but nothing was known about him in the Beast World."

“Wang Xiaoxin’s partner?” Gu Mengmeng instinctively blurted out the name of the previous Messenger of the Beast Deity.

It was mainly because they had come from the same era, so they were all clear that Wang Xiaoxin and her might have passed by each other along the streets. So Gu Mengmeng really could not be like others in the Beast World and call her respectfully or even quote from the 300 Poems of the Tang Dynasty.

Auretin had been around Gu Mengmeng for some time so it was naturally not the first time she had called the previous messenger of the beast deity by the name, and continued without any surprise, “yes, I heard that even Bi An’s name was named by her. He had been by her side since a young age, so by right, they should have very strong relationships, who would have expected that he would still be abandoned.”

Chapter 1176 - Started With Admiration, Ended At Stove

Chapter 1176: Started With Admiration, Ended At Stove

Damn!

A thousand alpacas were running across Gu Mengmeng's mind!

If Sandy and Leanna were said to be female beasts, then it was a common scene for them to raise young beasts as their partners but Wang Xiaoxin was a goddamn actual modern person and yet she did something this immoral?!

Gu Mengmeng felt that she could no longer face Snakel!

If she had known earlier, she would not have told Snakel that 'your mother is a joke', instead she would have said 'do you know that your mother is a pervert?!'

Gu Mengmeng felt her goosebumps all over her and her face as filled with such strong and indescribable disgust. She sighed, then told Auretin everything that Joshua had said.

After that, she asked, "so we are heading to the Fedaton City in Mecca Desert, can you guide us there?"

Auretin turned around to look at Lea, then at Elvis, before he nodded all seriously and responded, "alright, I will follow you guys."

After Auretin agreed, Lea then served the wok to the table and with all smiles on his face, served Auretin a bowl of meat, and said, "here you go, you guys can eat first, I am going to braise more meat."

This was the first time that Lea had been treating Auretin with such good attitude that even Auretin was beyond shocked.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. She knew that Auretin admired Elvis and had even tried to live his life with him as a role model. That was also why he had willingly joined Saint Nazaire initially.

However, it started with admiration but ended at the stove.

Eventually, it was not her the Messenger of the Beast Deity, nor was it Elvis his role model, but Lea's wok that won over Auretin's heart.

Gu Mengmeng knew that Fedaton City was probably not a memorable place for Auretin – when he heard 'Mecca Desert', he was obviously dazed and that was an expression that did not match how one would reminisce their hometown. However, he was still willing to accompany them and this was most likely because he wanted to learn something from Elvis and... eat the meat that Lea cooked.

Hah, indeed, to win over a male beast, you would need to win over his stomach first.

After eating the third bowl of meat, Auretin then fulfilled his desire for food during this winter. He finally relaxed a bit and had the mood to talk to Gu Mengmeng. "However, you have to be mentally prepared. Bi An had been hiding even better than Snakel all these years. To find him... would be difficult."

Gu Mengmeng thought for a while. if he was Wang Xiaoxin's partner, Wales should have met him. Then she should have some recollections of Bi An in the memories she obtained from Snakel, yet... why was there nothing?

This was very strange, unless...

Wang Xiaoxin had already abandoned Bi An before Wales became her partner. Otherwise, there could not be no impression at all.

But Gu Mengmeng was not interested in the relationships from thousand years back. After all, Wang Xiaoxin was only considered partially her mother-in-law. She had already been involved in Natalie and Peter's relationship so she should be meddling in another couple's relationship.

She sighed and continued, "if Snakel was interested in me who came from the same world as Wang Xiaoxin, then Bi An might be interested too. If Wang Xiaoxin had abandoned him previously in order to return to that world, I think he would be as curious as Snakel to know about how the other world is like that is making her eager to return. Ha, so long as he is curious, then my appearance at the Mecca Desert is bound to draw him out."

Chapter 1177 - An Utter Scumbag

Chapter 1177: An Utter Scumbag

“I advice you not to underestimate the enemy.” Auretin threw a dampener at Gu Mengmeng. “You have the powers of a Beast King, but the desert is a completely different environment. There are sand storms all over and any misstep might mean getting buried under the sand until your body disintegrates. Meanwhile, scorpions scurry unimpeded under the sea of sand. So even with your Beast King abilities, you might not have an easy advantage over a monster who has survived over a thousand years.”

Damn, in this Beast World, she really had no age advantage at all.

It seemed like every other strange creature was at least a thousand years old?

Grumblings aside, Gu Mengmeng still nodded. “Alright, I know.”

Gu Mengmeng had a limited appetite. Meanwhile, Elvis and Lea depended on Auretin to lead the way, and would naturally not snatch his share. So of the two large pots of food—apart from a small bowl for Gu Mengmeng—all of it entered Auretin’s belly. Auretin suddenly felt that it was no big deal to return to that place. As long as he had meat to eat, wasn’t everywhere the same?

After breakfast, Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng to the open space beside their cave to take in the sun. She leaned lazily in his embrace, eyes narrowed like a coquettish kitten.

“Since we are still waiting for Wabei to arrive, why don’t you go visit the Beast Deity first? You can ask about the Heart of the Desert and also inquire about that person—otherwise Wabei would nag at you nonstop when he is here.”

Gu Mengmeng mulled over Elvis' suggestion, agreeing that it was very logical.

She had received some fatherly care and concern from the Beast Deity when she was upset over Oakley's matter. So she shouldn't visit the Beast Deity only when she had a favor to ask. But somehow, she always ended up calling on him only when she needed help. It was like every time she headed home to show some filial piety, it was just to ask for "pocket money".

Gu Mengmeng gave a low laugh as she shook her head slowly.

"What are you laughing about?" Elvis asked softly.

Gu Mengmeng replied, "I was reprimanded by my father the previous time."

"The Beast Deity..." Elvis frowned. Another opponent whom he could not defeat, and could not even reach.

He knew Xiao Meng was suffering but he could not even find a way to help her vent her frustrations.

Struck by a deep sense of helplessness, Elvis hugged Gu Mengmeng closer. "I am sorry. I have let you suffer."

Gu Mengmeng shook her head with a smile. "Being reprimanded by my own father is not much of a suffering. In my world, we have a saying that goes "spare the rod and spoil the child". My father was already very kind, only giving me a short scolding. Previously, I had a schoolmate who accepted the love confession of a boy from the same class. Her mother found out and rushed to the campus to slap her own daughter right in front of everyone. She then pulled her by the hair to the principle's office and transferred schools on the spot. They left town that very night and even changed telephone numbers. There was no way to communicate with them. It was like they had disappeared from the face of the earth."

“That male... didn’t put up a fight?” Elvis once again felt that the males in that world were rather cowardly and useless.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. “Fight? After that girl was taken away by her mother, that boy continued joking with the other guys like nothing major had happened. He said the girl’s mother was too conservative—her daughter was already in her second year of high school and she still acted like any romantic inklings eroded the morals. That a girl’s chastity still had to be preserved like it was in the Qing dynasty? He even claimed that luckily he was just fooling around, otherwise he would be doomed to have taken on such a fierce mother-in-law... tsk, anyway he was an utter scumbag. I really felt that my schoolmate had suffered for nothing.”

Chapter 1178 - Visiting Son-In-Laws

Chapter 1178: Visiting Son-In-Laws

Elvis would never understand what the hell those males in that world were thinking.

Why approach a female if you didn't like her?

And if you did like her, how could you bear to let her endure such suffering?

Elvis sighed but didn't probe Gu Mengmeng further on her schoolmate. He just hugged and kissed her. "Why didn't you tell me that you were scolded by the Beast Deity?"

Gu Mengmeng laughed. "Because my father didn't scold me too fiercely. I managed to appease him with some buffoonery. Since I came out unscathed, I shouldn't come back and complain about it?"

"Tell me, what did the Beast Deity say to you?"

He couldn't even bear to say a single harsh word to his precious baby—and here she was being scolded by someone else.

Even if it was the Beast Deity, Elvis still felt it was intolerable.

He might be helpless against the Beast Deity now, but he would die one day, wouldn't he?

When he did, he would return to the Beast Deity's embrace. By then...
haha.

Gu Mengmeng had no idea what Elvis was thinking and so frankly repeated what the Beast Deity told her that day—that a daughter who had gotten married was like water that had been thrown out of the house. That after getting a husband, she did not bother to return home for visits and had forgotten all about her father.

Although the reprimand was indeed not harsh, Elvis' heart still ached for Gu Mengmeng. He gave her a kiss. "Can you negotiate with the Beast Deity, to bring me along the next time you visit him. Any grievances he has against you—he can vent it on me. I am his to scold and hit. Alright?"

"It's just a dream, how to go together." Gu Mengmeng didn't know whether to laugh or cry. "My father is still a deity after all, he will not abuse me. Don't worry."

Elvis sighed and kept quiet.

His heart churned at the thought of Gu Mengmeng going to visit the Beast Deity.

Gu Mengmeng knew what Elvis was worried about, hence she held his face with her little hand. "I will ask my father if there is a way for me to bring you and Lea over as visiting son-in-laws, alright?"

"Alright." Elvis was full of affection as he rested his forehead gently against Gu Mengmeng's.

After Lea finished taking care of Auretin, he came over to Gu Mengmeng's side to enjoy the sunshine with her. He asked in a lazy manner, "How do you intend to handle the unborn baby in Maya's belly?"

Yes, they needed to settle the matter of the unborn child as soon as possible, so that Lea could make the necessary arrangements.

It might be Cole's offspring—but as bad as its parents were, that pea-sized infant was still innocent.

Even the mafia understood the moral code of not punishing one's family for one's wrongdoings. As much as she hated Cole and Maya, Gu Mengmeng had no reason to hate their child too.

But...

If its own parents wanted to kill their own child, Gu Mengmeng felt she had no right or obligation to stop it.

After all, if someone stood at the doorway of a gynecologist every day to harangue at all those who were going for abortions, telling them things like “we should cherish every life”—she would probably be dragged away to a mental hospital.

She did not have the right to decide, but whether or not the child would be born—she would be the one bearing the consequences.

She felt like such a scapegoat. Why did she have to bear the consequences?! She wasn't the one who had gotten Maya pregnant.

Gu Mengmeng frowned with disdain. Every time she felt that Cole could not be any more disgusting than he already was—he would come up with some new trick, as if sneering at her as he said, “Hey hey, you underestimated me? I can be even more disgusting...”

Lea seemed to have read her thoughts and chuckled. “It's actually not difficult at all to get rid of this problem. It's just a matter of whether you can steel your heart and do it.”

Chapter 1179 - Testing Chixuan's Attitude

Chapter 1179: Testing Chixuan's Attitude

Gu Mengmeng glanced sideways at Lea. "How? Just throw Maya into the well and drown her?"

Lea pinched Gu Mengmeng's little nose. "Destroying a well for just one Maya—Mengmeng, aren't you being too wasteful of our precious resources?"

"What should we do then?" Gu Mengmeng asked.

Lea smiled as his eyes shone with cunning. He looked very much like a breezy fox, appearing carefree and relaxed—but underneath it all, he already had you analyzed from top to bottom.

"Mengmeng, do you know when are stray beasts the most savage in general?" Lea asked softly.

Gu Mengmeng replied, "The rainy season, I think. They would be viciously snatching food from others as winter approaches."

Lea nodded. "And?"

"There are other periods?" Gu Mengmeng shook her head in puzzlement.

"There's also right after the end of winter." Lea chuckled. "The females they kidnapped last year will typically not survive winter. They are usually either frozen or starved to death, or became food for the stray beasts. So right after the end of winter, the stray beasts will go all out to attack the tribes to kidnap new females. In the past, this usually happens during the beauty pageants, as the tribes' strongest males would be escorting their First Beauties to the pageant. It was the best time for the stray beasts to attack a tribe. But since you made changes to the beauty pageant two years ago, this opportunity no longer existed. That was why the moment winter ended last year, the stray beasts attacked several tribes, who were all not prepared and lost many of their females.”

Gu Mengmeng took a long while before finally understanding what Lea was driving towards.

“You want to find some men to pretend to be stray beasts to attack the tribe and kidnap Maya?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

Lea shook his head. “There’s no need to pretend. We can get real stray beasts to kidnap her.”

Gu Mengmeng didn’t understand. “Cole is the leader of the stray beasts—why would they go against his wishes to kidnap someone he had planted here?”

Lea cleared his throat gently to cover his amusement. “Did you forget that we still have a young master of the stray beasts in our family.”

Gu Mengmeng was momentarily taken aback. She then widened her eyes and said, “Are you referring to Chixuan? No way! I object. I will never let Chixuan get involved with Cole again.”

“Chixuan is now in Zacharias and close to the stray beast camp. If Cole wishes to contact Chixuan, it is now easier for him than before.” Lea patiently explained to Gu Mengmeng. “So in this way, we can test Chixuan’s attitude. If he is willing to help, it shows that he is no longer under Cole’s control. It is just that his bewitching spell is still in effect for the moment, so we cannot kill Cole. But if he is still on Cole’s side... then we don’t need to go searching for the Heart of the Desert anymore. We must immediately go to Zacharias and bring your son back at all costs. We cannot let Cole influence him any longer.”

“But...” Gu Mengmeng was still very hesitant. People were always holding contradictory feelings. She wished to know the results but was also afraid of it. She could still remember clear the despondency in Chixuan's eyes when she cast a bewitching spell on him to make him forget Cole. She really did not wish to see Chixuan look at her with such eyes again.

"I agree with Lea's arrangements." Elvis piped up his support.

Gu Mengmeng bit her lower lip. Two against one. They had won.

"Alright, but we cannot let Chixuan come to any harm over this matter." Gu Mengmeng stressed.

Lea stroked Gu Mengmeng's little head. "Cole will not be able to do anything with Peter holding fort at Zacharias. Moreover, if he really harmed Chixuan in any way, what else can he use to threaten you in future?"

Chapter 1180 - Can I Bring My Hubby Back?

Chapter 1180: Can I Bring My Hubby Back?

Gu Mengmeng dispatched an eagle-owl over to Zacharias with a message. It will take about two to three days for the flight to and back.

Hence Gu Mengmeng followed Elvis' suggestion to take this time to go visit the Beast Deity. By the time she woke up, Wabei should have arrived and the eagle-owl would have also returned with news.

With that, she could settle Maya's situation first before deciding whether to go to the Motou mountain range or the Mecca Desert.

Elvis placed Gu Mengmeng inside the cave. Lea changed the animal skins draped across her bed three times daily—morning, noon and night. Whenever she went to bed, the sheets would always smell and feel like sunshine.

Holding Gu Mengmeng's hand gently, Elvis kissed her on the forehead. "You must remember to ask if you can bring me along next time."

Gu Mengmeng nodded before slowly closing her eyes.

Layers of white fog covered her eyes. But Gu Mengmeng no longer felt uneasy or at a loss.

As expected, the Beast Deity stood within the deepest regions of the clouds. Gu Mengmeng smiled sweetly and jumped into his arms. She called with a gentle voice, "Daddy, I have come back to watch television with you."

The Beast Deity welcomed Gu Mengmeng with a tender hug, before patting Gu Mengmeng on the head. "Good daughter. Welcome back."

Gu Mengmeng hung onto the Beast Deity's arm and looked up with a smile. "Daddy, can I bring my hubby back with me the next time?"

The Beast Deity continued smiling with that special sense of benevolence that only a deity possessed. He nodded. "When his powers reach that of a Beast King, he can come here."

Gu Mengmeng nodded. She kind of understood his reasoning.

Since the first time she met the Beast Deity after inheriting Snakel's powers, she had only seen Snakel here before.

The Beast Deity led Gu Mengmeng to the wooden bench before patting her on the hand. "But wouldn't that little wolf... go crazy after watching that television show? What if there was some R-rated content..."

Gu Mengmeng held her forehead. That was indeed a serious problem.

Elvis had a severe neurosis towards Snakel, whose last words to him were "so weak". Those two words were like a nightmare haunting Elvis' mind. The moment any little thing happened to Gu Mengmeng, he would immediately recall Snakel's words and expression at that point, before endlessly blaming himself.

Even in his dreams, he wished to defeat Snakel and get rid of this curse. He wanted to prove he was not weak and that he could protect Gu Mengmeng.

So if Elvis saw the contents of the television show... would he charge right into the screen to challenge Snakel?

It felt like Elvis would behave even more impulsively than Wabei the moment he saw Snakel.

But...

Gu Mengmeng gave a low laugh. It seemed like they would have to set aside the Love of the Sky for the moment.

She must first get the Heart of the Desert to activate the Beast King bloodline in Elvis, before coming back here.

With this in mind, Gu Mengmeng felt that she now had some direction, and so didn't feel so much of a dilemma any more. She looped one arm around the Beast Deity's and asked, "I remember the previous episode ended with them sharing the same bed. Are you sure there won't be any R-rated scenes? This is a pure and chaste idol series, you know."

The Beast Deity nodded solemnly. "Don't worry, I saw the trailer and there isn't any R-rated scenes."

Gu Mengmeng smiled at that, indicating that the Beast Deity could put on the show now.

After all, Gu Mengmeng would feel very weird if she saw herself in the lead role of an adult video.

Chapter 1181 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1181: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

The Beast Deity waved and the familiar-looking screen appeared before Gu Mengmeng.

Early morning sunlight shone into the room through the clear window glass. Snakel held Gu Mengmeng as they laid on the king-sized bed.

His arm was wrapped around her, with her neck supported by his biceps and his hand gently holding her shoulder.

Snakel was unable to sleep the entire night. This was first time he was sleeping with Gu Mengmeng in his arms. He was unable to suppress the sense of excitement he felt all through the night.

In the Beast World, because his usual body temperature was too cool, he had to first bathe under the strong sun until his body hurt like it was burning with fire, before being able to hold her for just a short while. And now, his body was just as warm as hers. He could finally hold her without worrying that she was suffering from his icy touch.

Snakel never stopped smiling the entire time. He was unable to rein in the curl of his lips. Ha, since this little girl returned to his side, Snakel found that his lips were now beyond his control. Whether they curved upwards or downwards—it was solely by Gu Mengmeng's influence.

Ha, another part of his body now belonged to her and it felt great.

Gently raising his right hand, he shielded Gu Mengmeng's eyes from the sunlight. He gazed upon her petite face, which looked nearly transparent under the rays. Snakel was completely unable to mask the love and adoration in his own eyes.

“Ooo...” Gu Mengmeng murmured softly as she started to stir.

Snakel set his hand down gently on Gu Mengmeng’s face and gave her a light pinch. He then propped himself up and kissed her eyes. “My dear, time to get up.”

Gu Mengmeng was only half awake and her mind still fuzzy from sleep. She answered blearily, “Mmm, good morning.”

She then paused for about two seconds before springing up from the bed like a rocket and retreating backwards, falling to the floor with a thud.

Snakel was stunned by Gu Mengmeng’s reaction. He didn’t know Gu Mengmeng would suddenly spring off like this after saying such a soft and tender good morning. He didn’t manage to stop her in time, and could only watch as Gu Mengmeng fell off.

“Twomeng!” Snakel’s heart constricted. He immediately got up and lifted Gu Mengmeng from the floor. His heart ached unbearably to have seen her fall like this. “You...”

He was unable to say any harsh words as his heart only felt a tender ache for her. He checked Gu Mengmeng’s body thoroughly. Luckily she had landed in a sitting position, and didn’t strike any other part of her body apart from her buttocks. Nevertheless, her palms had smacked against the ground and were slightly red.

Gu Mengmeng remained in a daze for a long while before recollecting herself from her “There a man beside me?!” and “Damn, so painful!” state of mind—to recall that she was the one who had let Snakel in yesterday, and agreed to let him sleep on the same bed.

At first, she had been very nervous and guarded, but Snakel remained the perfect gentleman. In the end, Gu Mengmeng had fallen asleep without even realizing it.

Gu Mengmeng berated herself for her own carelessness last night. Luckily Snakel was a morally upright gentleman. If it was someone else, she would definitely have been taken advantage of.

She was about say something when she spied from the corner of her eye that she had knocked over a bedside lamp. It was now lying on the floor in three broken pieces, its base and light bulb holder completely separated...

“That... senior, I broke your bedside lamp... sorry. Why don't you deduct this from my wages...”

Snakel frowned. “Let's not talk about that lamp first. You made my girlfriend fall over—how are you going to compensate me for that?”

Chapter 1182 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1182: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Gu Mengmeng blushed as her heart pounded so hard it felt like it was going to explode.

She instinctively drew back her own hand. “I didn’t do it on purpose. I woke up to find a man beside me... and got a shock.”

But Snakel refused to let Gu Mengmeng draw her hand away from his. He turned her wrist around to confirm that she didn’t hurt any bones, before kissing her hand. “I am your boyfriend and your dog. Why are you afraid of me?”

She used to be afraid of snakes but he was no longer a snake now.

Snakel felt rather despondent. He didn’t like her to be afraid of him.

Gu Mengmeng cleared her throat and turned her face to the side. “I am not used to having someone by my side. How about... next time... don’t sleep on my bed, then I won’t fall off.”

But Snakel interrupted Gu Mengmeng before she could finish her sentence. “Next time, I will hold you tighter and will not let you fall out of my arms. But you must quickly get use to having me by your side, understand? Mmm?”

Gu Mengmeng was momentarily taken aback. She took some time to digest Snakel’s words. He meant... they were going to sleep together from now on?

Gu Mengmeng looked at Snakel. “No, no. You cannot sleep on my bed every night.”

Snakel nodded with a smile. “Alright, then I will go back to the master bedroom tonight.”

Gu Mengmeng was just about to nod when Snakel added. “You will come with me.”

Gu Mengmeng froze in mid-action. “I refuse... you go back to your own room to sleep.”

Snakel narrowed his eyes and glanced sideways at Gu Mengmeng. “So you are not going to take responsibility after sleeping with me?”

“I...!” Gu Mengmeng widened her eyes at Snakel. Her face was full of shock.

Snakel lifted his chin. “You and me, one man and one woman spending the entire night together in bed—do you think anyone will believe that nothing happened?”

Gu Mengmeng felt like the cat had got her tongue. She had fallen into a trap, hadn’t she? She had!

Snakel drew Gu Mengmeng into his embrace. “I am a normal man with normal physical needs. Because I cherish you, I will hold back my desire before marriage. But you must still give me some benefits, otherwise that will be too cruel, wouldn’t it?”

“Twomeng, I look forward to the future, and that is to see you and the sunshine every morning when I open my eyes.” Snakel kissed Gu Mengmeng on the forehead. “Fulfill my wish, please?”

Actually, Snakel had a key to every room in the house. Gu Mengmeng was powerless if he chose to use force.

But he didn’t do that. He chose to coax her and beg for her agreement.

He could have easily attained his goal via brute force, but he chose the soft method as he cared for her feelings.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. She felt like she was probably the most easily persuaded girl in the entire world?

“Smiling means you have agreed. You cannot go back on your word, understand?” Snakel rewarded Gu Mengmeng with a peck on the head before carrying her to the bathroom. He placed her on the counter before taking up a moistened towel to help her clean her face.

“I can do it myself...” Gu Mengmeng was especially not used to being taken care of in this manner.

But Snakel pressed down her little hand. “You must get used to relying on me. From now on, I will immerse myself completely into your life. You will be reminded of me no matter what you do, and will never leave me then.”

Chapter 1183 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1183: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

After washing up, Snakel carried Gu Mengmeng to the dining area and placed her on a chair by the table. He then entered the open-concept kitchen to start making breakfast.

Gu Mengmeng propped her chin on her hand with head tilted as she watched Snakel cooking. She couldn't help thinking: you and sunshine... so this is what it looks like?

Mmm, she felt truly blessed.

So blissful that she felt like this was a dream.

“Senior.” Gu Mengmeng called softly.

Snakel lifted his head to look at Gu Mengmeng with a smile. “Mmm?”

Gu Mengmeng smiled back. “It is truly too blissful to be in a romantic relationship with you. I feel like I don't have to do anything...” When she first signed that contract, Gu Mengmeng felt like she had sold herself, imagining that she would be abused like a slave.

Happiness bloomed in Snakel after hearing Gu Mengmeng's words. “It will be even more blissful to be married to me. After marriage, your only responsibility is just to be as pretty as a flower.”

“And you? You will be responsible for earning money to support the family?” Gu Mengmeng blurted out.

Snakel chuckled. Since yesterday, he had been mentioning marriage now and then, so as to gradually seep the idea into Gu Mengmeng's mind—that marrying him was a matter-of-course.

It was obvious he had succeeded.

Without realizing it herself, Gu Mengmeng had already subconsciously accepted the fact that they would eventually marry.

“No.” Snakel replied casually. He carried over an exquisitely-made western-style plate and placed it before Gu Mengmeng. He then went over to whisper in her ear, “I am responsible for the flower arrangements.”

“Pfft...” Gu Mengmeng was choked by her own saliva. She widened her eyes at Snakel.

Male god, you must maintain your cold and celibate image!

A person who was as unattainable as an icy mountain—who had received love letters from every popular girl in school only to ignore them all, so much so that there were rumors of him being gay—actually made a lewd joke?!

Wasn’t he supposed to be the quintessential lofty and exalted being, rising above all worldly desires and pure beyond reproach?!

Snakel loved Gu Mengmeng’s adorable little antics. He wiped some saliva off the corners of her lips and said innocently, “I can hold back during our courting days, but there’s no reason for me to hold back after we are married? I am not some ninja monk.”

Gu Mengmeng could hardly stand being teased by Snakel in this manner. Seeing him spout nonsense with such a solemn face went against everything Gu Mengmeng thought she knew about him.

“Hurry up and eat your breakfast. We still have to go to the office today.” Gu Mengmeng lowered her head. She did not dare to prolong this interaction with Snakel, fearing that he would spout even more shameless words.

Snakel also did not continue teasing her. After all, it would not be good if she choked while eating.

Snakel sat on Gu Mengmeng's left and reached out his right hand with palm facing upwards. "Twomeng."

"Mmm?" Gu Mengmeng glanced at him sideways. She saw him wriggle his fingers and understood what he wanted. She automatically placed her hand in his palm. Satisfied, he then used his left hand to start eating.

He was really...

Using his left hand to write, eat and do everything.

While reserving his right hand to hold her.

After breakfast, Gu Mengmeng followed Snakel to MonSir company again. Inside the meeting room, there was a pink chair placed beside Snakel's seat. The chair looked exceptionally eye-catching in the black-and-white color scheme of the room. Snakel was extremely pleased with the result and had Gu Mengmeng sit on the pink chair before sitting down beside her. His right hand remained on her waist the entire time.

Chapter 1184 - : Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1184: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

After yesterday's meeting, the management thought that their CEO conducting a meeting with his arms around a girl was already rather extreme. They never expected that today's meeting would be even more awkward.

Snap, chomp...

"Taste this. This pistachio is quite delicious." Snakel used his left hand to open a pistachio and toss the shell aside, before feeding the nut directly into Gu Mengmeng's mouth.

Gu Mengmeng could feel the management's eyes searing into her, but Snakel remained oblivious. He just looked expectantly at her. "Do you like it?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded and said yes. Snakel took another pistachio and started opening it.

Gu Mengmeng took over the nut and said, "You concentrate on the meeting. I can open them myself."

Snakel narrowed his eyes. He didn't like Gu Mengmeng rejecting him. He liked to open the nuts for her.

Gu Mengmeng knew what this grand lord was thinking about, hence she smiled accommodatingly. "Concentrate on the meeting so that it can be finished sooner. Then we can go home earlier. I can open the nuts myself. Mmm?"

Go home earlier...

Those words brought happiness to Snakel's heart.

Nodding reluctantly, Snakel tore his eyes away from Gu Mengmeng's face. His gaze instantly turned cool and sharp, as he listened conscientiously to management giving their reports. He then tapped lightly on his keyboard, his analysis and execution precise and prompt.

And so an awkward situation presented itself.

Apart from the sounds of rustling papers as the management flipped through the reports, as well as the tapping of the keyboard from Snakel's typing—there was also the snapping noises of Gu Mengmeng opening the pistachio nuts...

Gu Mengmeng was in a dilemma. She wanted to have just one or two nuts to be polite, but the moment she stopped, Snakel would immediately turn around and ask, "Why aren't you eating? Are you tired from opening the shells? Better let me do it then..."

"No, no. I just wanted to drink some water..."

Snakel opened the bottled water on the meeting room table and handed it to Gu Mengmeng. The expression on his face as he watched her drink was so sweet that it was rather scary.

The management exchanged looks. The person sitting at the head of the table and smiling so foolishly as he watched someone else eating and drinking—was that really their high and mighty CEO? One of the elite members of their corporate world?

Gu Mengmeng spent the whole afternoon eating pistachios, while Snakel—because of Gu Mengmeng's preference to go home earlier—settled all the company issues in an even more fast-paced manner than usual.

Not wanting to let Gu Mengmeng eat takeout again, he fetched her home at noon with the intention of personally making lunch for her.

Gu Mengmeng felt that although her boss was her boyfriend, she couldn't be a such a free-loader? Hence she took the initiative to wash the dishes. But Snakel said with a smile, "Your hands are too lovely to be doing such chores."

"But I can't just do nothing all day every day." Gu Mengmeng felt rather frustrated. "I will feel embarrassed getting $4,500 a month like that."

Snakel thought about it before giving a faint smile. He then pulled Gu Mengmeng behind him and wrapped her arms around his own waist. "You can hug me."

"Huh?" Gu Mengmeng didn't understand.

Snakel chuckled. "Apart from you, no one else can perform this important task. Next time when I am washing the dishes, you just stand behind and hold me like this."

Gu Mengmeng felt her face heat up. She rested the side of her face against Snakel's broad back. Through his shirt, she could vaguely detect his personal scent. That faint sense of familiarity reminded Gu Mengmeng of how the two of them had spent yesterday night sleeping in each others arms. And of his early morning greeting. She blushed deeply as she recalled all that.

Chapter 1185 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1185: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

In the afternoon, Snakel held Gu Mengmeng as he asked, “Let’s go on a date, alright?”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled as she looked at Snakel. “You can just go out as and when you want?”

Snakel answered back with a, “Why not?”

Gu Mengmeng said, “Mmm, the novels always write that when a CEO gets too famous, he would be mobbed by fans whenever he goes out.”

Snakel pinched Gu Mengmeng’s little nose. “Very few people know I am the CEO of MonSir company. And of those who know, no one else apart from you would ever dare to expose my identity. As for being famous... probably only during last year’s swimming competition. Ha, do you think people would mob a person who was last year’s swimming champion?”

Gu Mengmeng thought about it. That’s right, so what if Snakel was handsome? When she realized they were schoolmates, she had only sighed “wah we have someone famous at school”. She never had thought of pursuing him or anything like that.

But remembering the first practice after Snakel made the switch to the basketball team, Gu Mengmeng once again felt that the world had truly gone to the dogs. Were they really just infatuated by the image of him in swimming trunks?

He didn’t know what Gu Mengmeng was thinking but seeing that she was keeping silent, he took it as assent. Hence, he kissed her little hand and asked, “Where do you want to go?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head. She wanted to say never mind, let’s not go out.

But Snakel took it to mean that Gu Mengmeng just didn’t have anywhere special in mind. “Alright, I will make the arrangements.”

Gu Mengmeng, “...”

Never mind, he was the great CEO and his word was the rule.

Snakel chose a matching lover’s set of sporting attire for him and Gu Mengmeng. After changing into their respective outfits, Snakel brought Gu Mengmeng to an amusement park.

Yes, there was nothing to be worried about. Snakel had booked the entire park.

Gu Mengmeng stood at the entrance of the amusement park and watched as all the staff stood in a row and shouted their welcome. She once again felt very flustered...

“Well... should we call a few friends to come play with us?” Gu Mengmeng probed.

Snakel frowned. He had booked the entire arena as he wanted to be alone with Gu Mengmeng.

But faced with her expectant and uneasy expression, Snakel sighed and compromised.

He took out a mobile phone and called Zhan Jin Cheng. “The whole basketball team. Amusement park. 20 minutes.”

With that, he hung up.

Gu Mengmeng stared at Snakel, completely tongue-tied. “Can he understand what you just said?”

Snakel said, "Time, people, location were all clear. Even if he is a stupid guy who never got a double-digit score for his Chinese exams, he should still be capable of understanding such basic information."

Gu Mengmeng was speechless. If she was Zhan Jin Cheng, she would definitely not understand what Snakel was talking about. But he had already accelerated his work pace this morning just so he could go out with her, and she didn't want to spoil the mood of their first date. So she just smiled. "Can I also call a few friends over?"

Snakel frowned. "You want to invite those former roommates of yours?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded.

Snakel didn't say anything but just placed one hand on Gu Mengmeng's shoulder and drew her into his arms. He kissed her on the top of her head as a form of silent assent.

Only then did Gu Mengmeng take out her mobile phone and called Bai Lan. "Bai Lan, are you free? Do you want to come to the amusement park now to play? Mmm... I...I will introduce my boyfriend to you all."

Snakel had very good hearing, plus Bai Lan was overly excited such that he could clearly hear her shriek over the phone, "Holy shit! Gu Mengmeng you fell in love with someone behind my back?! You just wait for me right there. I am going to bring my 40-meter long knife over right now!"

Chapter 1186 - Chapter 1186

Chapter 1186: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Gu Mengmeng laughed awkwardly. She wanted to say something more but Bai Lan had already hung up.

Gu Mengmeng stole a peak at Snakel before saying in a small voice. “That... Bai Lan is a very good person. She has a rather hot temper but she doesn’t harbor any ill intentions, you...”

“I know.” Snakel caressed Gu Mengmeng’s little head.

He knew this Bai Lan had been friends with Gu Mengmeng since high school. More than once she had gotten into a fight with others for Gu Mengmeng’s sake—she was an extremely loyal friend. Every time Gu Mengmeng decided to endure some mistreatment in silence, it was this Bai Lan who would grab her arm and charge out. “As long as I am still alive, no one can bully my girl!”

Once, Bai Lan had tried to help Gu Mengmeng claim her due wages, and was beaten up by the restaurant security. She ended up being hospitalized for two months, completely bedridden. Even now, she still bore a scar on her back.

Snakel knew this through Gu Mengmeng’s memories. Bai Lan had appeared before Gu Mengmeng all covered in blood, to hand her an envelope containing her wages and saying, “Girl, I have claimed back what they owe you.” She then collapsed right in front of Gu Mengmeng. That incident had a major impact on Gu Mengmeng, which was why she had an exceptionally clear memory of it.

Snakel had allowed such things to happen as he didn’t want to interfere with the development of Gu Mengmeng’s life experiences—but what Gu Mengmeng and her friend didn’t know was that during Bai Lan’s hospitalization, the medicines used were specially imported, while her doctors were also overseas experts brought over by Snakel and pretending to be normal physicians. As for the people who owed Gu Mengmeng her wages...

Ha, rumor had it that the restaurant owner got addicted to drugs and splurged the entire family fortune on them. In the end, he even sliced open his own belly saying that he wanted to sell his organs to buy more drugs.

There was no need for Gu Mengmeng to know all these and Snakel had no intention of telling her.

As for this Bai Lan friend of hers, Snakel held some modicum of respect for her.

After all, he could not show his face all those years, so it was lucky Gu Mengmeng had such loyal friends around.

About half an hour later, Zhan Jin Cheng and the entire basketball team arrived at the entrance to the amusement park. They rushed over all hot and bothered. "Where are they?!"

Gu Mengmeng and Snakel exchanged shocked looks. They? Who?

Zhan Jin Cheng was momentarily stunned by sight of the unbelievably calm couple. He cleared his throat and asked, "You were looking for us so urgently—isn't it because someone wants to beat you two up?"

"Why would anyone want to beat us up?" Gu Mengmeng stared dumbfounded at Zhan Jin Cheng, who was clutching a baseball bat, as well as the others who were all wearing knuckle dusters. She paused for a moment before realizing that after receiving Snakel's call, they must have thought he was getting bullied and had rushed over to help him fight off his assailants.

Gu Mengmeng waved her hands with a smile. "No, no. Senior, you misunderstood. Erm... Snakel's relative is the manager of this amusement park and it is closed for maintenance today. His relative said he could bring some friends over to play for free this afternoon. That was why Snakel called you to ask you and everyone to come and have fun.”

Zhan Jin Cheng heaved a sigh of relief before resting the bat across his shoulders. He didn’t know whether to laugh or cry. “Aiya damn, I still thought you were being pursued by some thugs. But you were just calling us out to play.”

Snakel ignored Zhan Jin Cheng, and just stared unhappily at Gu Mengmeng.

She had called Zhan Jin Cheng “senior”. She was meant to address only him with that term, but she had actually used it on another person!

Chapter 1187 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1187: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Snakel tugged at Gu Mengmeng's hand as he stood up. He glanced at Zhan Jin Cheng. "More people are coming in a little while. Wait here for them. I need to talk to Twomeng about something."

With that, Snakel pulled Gu Mengmeng into the amusement park.

The park had already been emptied out. Apart from the operations staff, there was no one else around. Just a short distance away from the entrance was a two-story high carousel. Snakel pushed open the door and placed Gu Mengmeng onto a carriage behind a wooden horse. On seeing that the two were seated properly, the staff started the ride.

The carousel spun around to the tune of a romantic melody.

Gu Mengmeng stared numbly at the hands pressing onto her own shoulders. She asked the obviously-angry Snakel, "What's... wrong?" Weren't things fine just now?

"Call me," Snakel said.

Perplexed, Gu Mengmeng called, "Senior."

Snakel lowered his head and kissed Gu Mengmeng fiercely on the lips, as if punishing her.

Only when Gu Mengmeng's delicate lips were all swollen from his kissing did Snakel finally lift his head. Chest heaving, he said, "I am not at all special to you, right? I am just like any other guy in school. Just one of the many seniors around? Mmm?"

Gu Mengmeng widened her eyes in bewilderment. “How can that be? You are my boyfriend.”

This sentence successfully soothed his ruffled feathers.

Snakel’s anger was reduced by half. The pressure of his hand relaxed and he sat beside Gu Mengmeng. Nevertheless, he still looked unhappy as he said, “But who can tell? You address Zhan Jin Cheng the same way as with me.”

Gu Mengmeng shrugged rather helplessly. “Weren’t you the one who asked me to call you senior?”

Snakel replied, “Then you cannot call anyone else that.”

Gu Mengmeng commented. “Then what should I call him? Zhan Jin Cheng? Brother Jin Cheng?”

The more Gu Mengmeng talked, the blacker Snakel’s face became. He did not like hearing her speak the name of others, especially if that name belonged to a male.

His temples throbbed as his expression towards Gu Mengmeng turned grim.

Gu Mengmeng let out a gurgling laugh before taking the initiative to hold onto Snakel’s arm. “How about I don’t call you senior from now on? I will call you... Ah Kel, alright?”

Snakel’s anger was instantly reduced to zero. He lifted his chin proudly as his lips curled up involuntarily.

Ah Kel... how nice that sounded.

He had wanted her to call him that right from the beginning but she was unwilling then.

He already knew that it would be very pleasing to the ear when she called him that.

“Ah Kel, Bai Lan and gang would be arriving soon. I want to introduce you as my boyfriend to them. The first impression is very important, so let’s not make them wait for us, alright?”

Snakel’s mood improved further. Twomeng was willing to introduce him to her friends—it wasn’t that she was refusing to admit to others about their relationship, constantly reminding him to maintain a distance and making him feel like an uncouth man who could not be presented to the public.

“Alright, Ah Kel. Let’s go...” Gu Mengmeng swung Snakel’s arm. “If Bai Lan fails to see me standing at the entrance to welcome her, she will really bring out her 40-meter-long knife to hack me.”

Snakel was helpless before Gu Mengmeng’s pleading. He stood up and exited the carriage with her.

The staff noticed the two of them alighting and pressed the stop button. The couple then disembarked and walked out together.

When they returned to the entrance, they saw Bai Lan facing off the basketball team members. With hands on her hips and eyes narrowed, she looked like a tigress about to devour her prey. The other roommates stood behind Bai Lan, all with arms across their chests as they sized up the entire basketball team. Meanwhile, the team—who were so aggressive and rowdy earlier—were now behaving like children being lectured, their heads timidly lowered.

Chapter 1188 - Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

Chapter 1188: Tyrant Senior Falls In Love With Me

“Bai Lan.” Gu Mengmeng called out. She let go of Snakel and trotted over to hold onto Bai Lan’s arm with an obliging smile.

“Tell me, which one is he.” Bai Lan rudely pointed at the basketball team members who were now all standing in a row.

Gu Mengmeng knew Bai Lan was asking which one was her boyfriend. She blushed and pulled Bai Lan back a couple of steps before turning around to look at Snakel. “This is my boyfriend Ah Kel. This is my bosom friend Bai Lan.”

Bai Lan was momentarily stunned by the sight of Snakel. She then pulled Gu Mengmeng to the side. “Girl, apart from his looks, everything about him is wrong. How did you fall for the likes of him?”

The veins on Snakel’s forehead jumped. He had lived two lifetimes and this was the first time he had heard himself criticized in this manner.

Gu Mengmeng broke out in a nervous sweat at Bai Lan’s words. She shook her head. “No, Ah Kel is a very good person. He treats me very well.”

“Good my ass!” Bai Lan retorted. “The whole school knows what a girl magnet he is. Getting together with him is like stirring up a hornet’s nest! The school forum incident two days ago was caused by Mo Beibei because she was jealous of you two, right? Let me tell you, you are such a timid girl—those crazy lascivious girls will gobble you up when they see you with him. Further, who doesn’t know he is just a block of ancient ice. Boring and unromantic, he’s so prim and proper that he could be a monk if he just shaved his head. You are not some White Bone Demon, why must you get involved with a Tang Sanzhang?”

Bai Lan pulled Gu Mengmeng back to stand before the basketball team members. “Let me tell you, girl. If it was him, I rather you choose a first love from this bunch of fellows. At least if they dare to bully you, I can still help you break their legs.”

Snakel snatched over Gu Mengmeng from Bai Lan in a flash. His eyes shot venom as he glared at Bai Lan with such malevolence that the sky was in danger of being swallowed.

Gu Mengmeng was placed in a terribly awkward position. She gave Snakel a gentle shove. “Don’t be like that. Bai Lan is saying such things because she doesn’t know you. I will talk to her nicely. Ah, don’t be angry.”

Bai Lan pointed out. “See, you have just started a relationship with him and you already need to coax him. Will you let him to treat you like garbage in future?”

Gu Mengmeng’s face flinched in exasperation as she tugged at Bai Lan’s hand. She shot a look at Snakel. “Ah Kel, our hostel rules are that the boyfriend must treat everyone to drinks on the first meeting. Can you go and get some, please?”

Snakel was unwilling to leave Gu Mengmeng’s side for even one second. But he knew this rule was not something she had just conjured up at the spur of the moment. He wished to gain the approval of the people around her. Although this Bai Lan had badmouthed him so badly, she was still someone Gu Mengmeng cared about. And so he was willing to endure.

Nodding, Snakel shot Zhan Jin Cheng a look, who automatically herded the entire team over to the Starbucks opposite the amusement park. They bought caramel macchiatos for everyone before heading back—to see the bunch of girls now chatting and giggling. The atmosphere had relaxed and become much more amiable.

Snakel handed a caramel macchiato over to Gu Mengmeng. “Here, you have this cup. I had them add extra caramel for you.”

Gu Mengmeng shot Bai Lan a “see?” look. Bai Lan nodded reluctantly and raised her own caramel macchiato to clink it against Gu Mengmeng’s cup. Bai Lan then glanced at Snakel before clinking her own cup against his—indicating her approval of Snakel being Gu Mengmeng’s boyfriend.

Chapter 1189 - Old Friends

Chapter 1189: Old Friends

The fog thickened again as the television episode ended.

Gu Mengmeng smiled. “It’s been a long time since I last saw Bai Lan. I don’t even know how she is now. I wonder if she has reined in that quick-fired temper of hers?”

The Beast Deity didn’t answer but just gave a wordless smile.

Gu Mengmeng stretched out before standing up. “Daddy, I decided to go seek out the Heart of the Desert. Regarding the fabled Bi An, how much do you about him? Can you reveal a little?”

The Beast Deity didn’t seem at all surprised at Gu Mengmeng’s question. He nodded. “Bi An...”

There was a trace of nostalgia in the Beast Deity’s expression. Gu Mengmeng was rather surprised at that and she tilted her head in question. “Daddy, do you know him?”

The Beast Deity composed himself and nodded with a chuckle. “Mmm, we are old friends.”

Gu Mengmeng’s eyes brightened. “Then tell me quick. What his likes and dislikes? I heard he’s the guardian of the Heart of the Desert. I need to make good with him to get the Heart of the Desert.”

The Beast Deity World pondered for a moment before shaking his head. “He is a very strange person. Whether he likes or dislikes you—he judges people solely by first impressions. Even if you exterminated all life on earth, if he thinks you are good right from the start, he will remain resolutely by your side helping shield you from the bloody rage of the world . But if he dislikes you from the onset, you can carry out the most merciful acts in the world and he still will not treat you well. So...”

Gu Mengmeng held her forehead, feeling speechless. “So he is a stubborn uncle who judges others based solely on his own whims.”

“Uncle?” The Beast Deity asked.

Gu Mengmeng nodded as a matter of fact. “You are my father and he is your old friend. He is also one of Wang Xiaoxin’s partners. Although he was dumped, they should still be considered ex-husband and wife right? Snakel is Wang Xiaoxin’s son and so Bi An can be considered his stepfather. So any way you look at it, I should still call him uncle?”

The Beast Deity laughed out loud and nodded. He caressed Gu Mengmeng’s head. “Mmm, my daughter is so courteous. She displays such good upbringing.”

Gu Mengmeng continued imploringly. “In other words, whether or not I gain this uncle’s favor is all up to luck?”

The Beast Deity thought about it for a moment before nodding. “You can say that.”

“Daddy, how is your relationship with this uncle like? If I use your name, will it give rise to good feelings?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

The Beast World looked somewhat conflicted. “I am afraid that the title of the Beast Deity’s daughter is useless before him.”

“Daddy, you... did you also pursue Wang Xiaoxin then?” Gu Mengmeng stared at the Beast Deity in shock. She did not want to have someone like Wang Xiaoxin as her stepmother—someone who was so unpredictable and a certified... crazy lady.

The Beast Deity rubbed his nose and smiled vaguely. “I didn’t woo Wang Xiaoxin, but I was more or less involved in their breakup. So... mmm... well, you know.”

“Damn!” Gu Mengmeng felt like she had been struck by lightning.

In the Beast World, how much would one hate another for causing a separation between husband and wife? Gu Mengmeng didn’t even dare to imagine.

No point dropping her father’s name now. Gu Mengmeng felt that Bi An would kill her on the spot the moment she admitted she was the Beast Deity’s daughter.

Gu Mengmeng sat down on the floor and gazed up at the Beast Deity.

“Daddy, how about I give up on the Heart of the Desert, and just go look for the Love of the Sky or the Spirit of the Rocky Cliffs then.”

Chapter 1190 - Heard That You Were Going to Leave Me Behind And Go Have Fun On Your Own?

Chapter 1190: Heard That You Were Going to Leave Me Behind And Go Have Fun On Your Own?

The Beast Deity laughed somewhat sheepishly and rubbed his own nose. “To get the Love of the Sky, you must first be able to reach the skies. You and your partners do not possess such a skill, and only vultures can bring you to the Love of the Sky. But the problem is that vultures usually do not even appear in places within your reach. As for the Spirit of the Rocky Cliffs... you have no clue about it at all right? According to the rules, I cannot disclose information about things you don’t know of. So...”

Gu Mengmeng held her forehead. “So now I have no choice but to go find the Heart of the Desert, right?”

The Beast Deity nodded. “The good news is that Bi An knows the vulture people. If you can get Bi An to like you, he will have some way of letting you meet the Vulture race.”

Gu Mengmeng’s eyes brightened. “The Vulture race are the people closest to the sky and to the Beast Deity. So they must be your greatest fans? I can drop your name in front of them to gain some brownie points, right?”

The Beast Deity didn’t know whether to laugh or cry at Gu Mengmeng’s words. She was behaving like a real-life daughter—impish and willful, not bothering to mince her words. Her official and proper manner as the Messenger in the Beast World was nowhere to be seen now. She was just like a little kid spoiled by her Daddy, begging for her favorite toy.

The Beast Deity caressed Gu Mengmeng's head dotingly. "Mmm, you can. Go ahead and use my name in front of the Vulture race. Tell them that if they don't listen to my precious daughter, I will punish them such that no female of theirs would get pregnant in the next five years."

"Pfft..." Gu Mengmeng giggled. "Daddy, won't the corruption bureau investigate you if you abuse your authority like that?"

The Beast Deity poked Gu Mengmeng's head. "I only watch romance series, and have not watched any police dramas. I don't understand anything about whatever corruption bureau. But for my precious daughter, I don't care even if I fall under investigation. It's my fate that I am your father."

Gu Mengmeng threw herself into the Beast Deity's embrace as she cried sweetly, "Daddy... you are so great..."

The Beast Deity maintained his benevolent smile. He patted Gu Mengmeng gently on her back. "Alright, time to go."

Gu Mengmeng nodded. "Oh, same old question. Wabei..."

The Beast Deity shook his head, indicating that it was still not time yet for him to reveal.

Gu Mengmeng didn't probe. She knew that the Beast Deity would naturally tell her the moment he could.

She stood up and patted herself off. "Daddy, I will be leaving now then."

"Wait a moment. " The Beast Deity called Gu Mengmeng. He cleared his throat. "There's a song called 'Sorrow of Separation' in your world. Do you know how to sing it?"

Gu Mengmeng thought about it before nodding. "I do, it's a pretty popular song. Daddy, do you want to hear it? Shall I sing it for you?"

The Beast Deity shook his head. "Next time. Your little wolf must be anxiously waiting for you at home."

Gu Mengmeng nodded and hugged the Beast Deity. “Then I am leaving now.”

She let herself fall freely backwards.

Gu Mengmeng felt that if she returned to the present world now, she could probably go bungee jumping with absolutely no fear.

Opening her eyes, Gu Mengmeng was no longer inside the cave but sunning in the open space outside.

She was lying on Lea’s body while Elvis sat quietly by the side, using a large leaf to fan her gently. Wabei was sitting nearby, staring at her with seething anger. He said in a chilly voice. “Heard that you were going to leave me behind and go have fun on your own?”

Chapter 1191 - A Cold-Blooded Animal Like You Talking To Me About Conscience?

Chapter 1191: A Cold-Blooded Animal Like You Talking To Me About Conscience?

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. This was the first time she had woken up—not to Elvis’ gentle greetings—but to the grumpy complaints of a little shit whom she had not seen for a winter.

She opened her mouth as Elvis brought over a cup of water for her to moisten her throat.

The corners of Gu Mengmeng’s lips curled up after she drank some water. “Yes, I was going to leave you behind and go have fun on my own. So what, are you going to bite me?”

Wabei gritted his teeth and glared at her with bulging eyes. “I came such a long way to find you, to hear that you were actually going to ditch me and go have fun by yourself? Gu Mengmeng, you have no conscience!”

“Tsk, a cold-blooded animal like you talking to me about conscience? Did a donkey kick you in the head?” Gu Mengmeng remained unrepentant and unreasonable.

Wabei stiffened his neck fiercely. “I don’t care. I want to follow. You must bring me along wherever you go. Otherwise... I will break the legs of your little wolf and slutty fox!”

Gu Mengmeng reached out one slender leg. “So what if you can beat my men? Break my legs if you dare.”

“But I can’t defeat you!” Wabei admitted rather self-righteously.

Gu Mengmeng was nearly crying from laughing so hard at Wabei’s antics. She wiped the corners of her eyes. “We are going to the desert this time, you know? No water, dry, hot. This type of environment is not suitable for you. You will suffer dearly.”

Wabei rolled his eyes as he smiled scornfully. “Where do you think I was before Snakel brought me to the Snake King valley? Mmm?”

Gu Mengmeng was stunned. “Don’t tell me... your old home is also the Mecca Desert?”

“Also?” Wabei picked up the important word.

Gu Mengmeng pointed at Auretin, who was sitting at the entrance in a daze as he waited for the next meal. “Him too.”

Wabei snorted. “I have not returned for over 800 years, and didn’t realize that just about anyone can enter that place now.”

Wabei’s image improved much in Gu Mengmeng’s eyes. She fluttered her eyes, as if fawning at him. “Wabei, do you know Bi An? Are the two of you on good terms?”

Wabei pushed Gu Mengmeng aside with disdain. “Talk to me properly. You are being very disgusting like that.”

Gu Mengmeng’s expression shifted instantly. She gave Wabei a dismissive shove, before putting on an exaggerated pout. “Hubby, do I look adorable like that...”

Elvis blushed so deeply that even the tips of his ears had turned red. His throat tightened and his fingers trembled from the heavy pounding of his heart. He held Gu Mengmeng’s shoulder and said in a low voice, “Apart from Lea and I, you are not allowed to make that face at anyone else... I will go crazy. Do you understand? Mmm?”

Gu Mengmeng felt very satisfied and jumped into Elvis' embrace for a big hug. She then spoke in a high-pitched, Lolita-like voice, "Hubby, you are so bad. You know just how to humor me..."

"Thump, thump..." The sound of Elvis' pounding heart was deafening.

Mmm, Gu Mengmeng felt that since becoming partners, she seldom acted cute like this in front of Elvis now.

Because Elvis and Lea doted on her so much that she felt no threat at all. She knew that even if she was not cute or demure, not beautiful or even kind—those two would still be by her side forever. Hence, she had slowly shed all pretense. It had been a long time since she had done any of those little antics that would move a guy's heart...

Chapter 1192 - Is There Anything In This World I Can't Do?

Chapter 1192: Is There Anything In This World I Can't Do?

Now that she thought of it, she had let down her guard too much.

If this was in the present world, her men would have been easily snatched away by others?

After all, they had been married for two to three years. Holding a wife's hand was now like your left hand holding your own right hand. It had become very difficult to induce any excitement.

If she no longer bothered to maintain her image, all those other women out there would be just waiting to pounce.

Gu Mengmeng patted Elvis gently on the chest. She pressed the side of her face onto his chest and said in her normal voice and manner. "Alright, this cute act only belongs to you and Lea. I will not let anyone else see it."

"Mmm." Elvis struggled to breathe evenly and finally managed to steady his heartbeat.

Gu Mengmeng stood up again after calming Elvis down. She looked at Wabei. "See that. This is the reaction of a normal male. What disgusting... tsk, you deserve to be an old, lonely bachelor—and the kind who stirs shit!"

After having his bachelorhood ridiculed, Wabei just rolled his eyes at Gu Mengmeng and refused to engage further.

"Alright, let's talk properly then." Gu Mengmeng didn't fool around anymore and spoke directly. "Tell me quickly. Do you know Bi An well?"

“No, I never met him.” Wabei leaned lazily onto a seat near Gu Mengmeng. “I was born in the Mecca Desert, but he was already over 200 years old then. How could I possibly have met him.”

“But... so Snakel brought you back from the Mecca Desert? How come there’s no such incident in his memories?” Gu Mengmeng found it rather strange. Snakel’s memories held a lot of things, but somehow, there was absolutely nothing on Wabei’s background. It just felt like Wabei had always been by Snakel’s side since the beginning... not at all like they had happened to meet by chance at some random place.

Wabei snorted. “I am not you. Why would he remember things about me? Moreover, it has been over 800 years since he first found me. As good as his memory was, it’s not possible to have a clear recollection of something that happened so long ago?”

Well... that was true, but...

She clearly remember things that happened even before that. But why nothing at all concerning the Mecca Desert?

Gu Mengmeng felt it rather peculiar but didn’t probe further. “So you can cope with the desert weather conditions?”

“Of course. Is there anything in this world I can’t do?”

Gu Mengmeng didn’t provoke Wabei further. She thought that since this Bi An is such a weirdo—judging a person purely based on his own mood—bringing along another powerful person would improve their chances of success when the time came.

She nodded. “Alright then, let’s go together.”

Wabei finally relaxed a little. “That’s more like it. When are we moving off?”

Gu Mengmeng looked at Lea and asked, “Has the person we sent over come back?”

Lea nodded. “About that matter, Chixuan said he will do as he sees fit.”

Do as he saw fit... so what would he be doing?

Gu Mengmeng frowned. She really didn't understand what her son was thinking.

Lea leaned against Gu Mengmeng's back, using his own chest to support her. He casually played with her hair as he said, “Chixuan is a male and more mature than the other three. Try believing in him. I feel that he will not let you down. After all... he is scared of your ultimate weapon.”

After thinking about it, Lea added. “All the males in our family are very scared of it.”

Chapter 1193 - At The Very Least, They Won't Kill Each Other

Chapter 1193: At The Very Least, They Won't Kill Each Other

“Ultimate weapon? Me? What is it?” Gu Mengmeng had something which could control the entire family? How come she herself didn't know of it?

Lea nibbled at Gu Mengmeng's ear. “I am not telling you. What if you use it to bully me, what shall I do then? Humph.”

With that, Lea waved his tail and delivered Gu Mengmeng over to Elvis. “I am going to prepare our meal. Otherwise, our floors will have a hole from all that pacing about by that greedy good-for-nothing.”

After Lea left, Elvis tugged at Gu Mengmeng's hand. He hesitated for a moment before asking, “Did you ask about that matter?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded. “My father said yes. But you need to become a Beast King first.”

Elvis twisted his lips before give a light laugh. “I guess we are getting the Heart of the Desert no matter what then.”

“That's why I especially want to know everything about Bi An. He is the guardian of the Heart of the Desert, but he judges a person solely based on his mood. If he happens to like you, everything will be fine. But he doesn't...”

“It will be best if he automatically hands it over. But if not... then we'll take it by force.” Elvis' tone was resolute and full of confidence.

Wabei smirked. “You can't even defeat me, but want to beat Bi An? Don't forget that he was already 200 years old and reached elite status when I was just born. Even Snakel doesn't have much advantage over him. What can you do?"

Elvis raised his brows with a chuckle. "There's nothing I can't do if it's to protect Xiao Meng."

Wabei circled his wrists lazily. "Want to go one round with me now?"

"I was thinking the same." With that, Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng's forehead. "Be a good girl and stay at home. I might be home a bit later tonight. Let Lea make something nice for you to eat. Don't wait up for me, okay?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded. She glanced at Wabei, and then at Elvis again. "Don't wreck Saint Nazaire."

"What a nag." Wabei couldn't resist retorting before being the first to slither off.

Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng and kissed her. He then morphed into a wolf and followed Wabei.

Left on her own, Gu Mengmeng walked back to Lea's side. Sprawling lazily over his back, she observed him preparing the meal, before requesting to add a few more potatoes and a little more chili.

Gu Mengmeng pretended to laugh nonchalantly when she saw Auretin bristling after hearing her request for more chili.

Lea liked Gu Mengmeng sticking to him like this. Since she had broken up with him that time, she rarely clung onto him like that anymore.

After all, Elvis was the first partner and he had the first right of refusal. And this right was something he had willingly given away—he could not snatch it back now.

"You are not worried about letting them head off like this?" Lea asked as he added the ingredients that Gu Mengmeng had requested.

Gu Mengmeng clicked her tongue. “Little shit knows Bi An is not an easy fight, and is helping Elvis enhance his powers. The two of them know their limits. At the very least, they will not kill each other.”

Lea ladled a piece of meat from the pot and blew on it to cool it off. He then fed it to Gu Mengmeng. “Mmm, we still have quite a stash of medicines to treat superficial wounds. I will use it on them when they return. How does the meat taste? Does it need more salt?”

“Ooo, no need. It’s super tasty.” Gu Mengmeng mumbled as she chewed. “Mmm, since things have more or less been settled, let’s take off after the two of them returns.”

Chapter 1194 - When Are You All Coming Back From This Trip?

Chapter 1194: When Are You All Coming Back From This Trip?

Since they were going to take off soon, Auretin obtained special permission to spend the night outside Gu Mengmeng's cave. He was already used to the life of a wanderer and so was completely fine to sleep somewhere other than his own cave. The temptation of being able to eat every single meal prepared by Lea was also exceptionally great, and so he immediately agreed.

Lea called Barete and Joshua to a spot near the cave to go through all the necessary things to look out for this coming year. After all, no one knew how long Gu Mengmeng would be gone for this trip.

Whether it was water rationing during the drought season, or stockpiling food and warding off raiders during the rainy season—all these matters required a flexible approach and good communication.

In addition...

There should be a wave a stray beast attacks after they leave.

Lea trusted Barete but Joshua was still under probation. So Lea did not intend to let Joshua know that Chixuan is the young master of the stray beasts. As a result, he just said that Gu Mengmeng had arranged for the females in the tribe to bring their babies up to the highest peak in Saint Nazaire. Up there, they would absorb the first rays of the sun for three consecutive days, as part of the blessings from the Beast Deity.

However, Maya was carrying a precious female fetus and the Great Messenger had specially instructed her to rest well. So there was no need for Maya to go on this blessings trip.

Barete had been with Lea even longer than Gu Mengmeng had. He naturally understood what that sing-song smile on Lea's face meant.

But why the special treatment for Maya? Ha, it looked like they must have something particular arranged for Maya.

After all, apart from Gu Mengmeng, Lea had never bothered about the lives and deaths of the other females.

"I understand," Barete replied simply.

Lea patted Barete on the shoulder. "Don't forget, your life now belongs to my Mengmeng. Unless she agrees, you cannot die."

"Mmm." Barete grunted his reassurance.

Joshua clenched his fists. His gaze drifted over to Gu Mengmeng, who was sitting nearby sunbathing. But he didn't have the courage to go over and greet her. Instead, he asked Lea in a soft voice, "This trip... when are you all coming back?"

Lea pretended to ponder for a moment before suddenly smiling. "I don't know. Our trips have always depended on Mengmeng's mood. Whether she wants to ascend to the skies or dive into the ocean—we will do whatever she wants to do, and our destination is always wherever she feels like going. I never ask, but only follow."

"That's right... she is the Messenger of the Beast Deity. Of course... of course..."

"You seem to be mistaken." Lea gently tapped his own lips. "We indulge her not because she is the Messenger of the Beast Deity, but because she is the female of Elvis and I."

With that, Lea waved his tail and walked away without even a backward glance.

Joshua looked on as Lea stepped into the warm radiance that was Gu Mengmeng's presence. He could only silently clench his fists.

One day, he would also possess the ability to fulfill her every need and desire. Only then would he have the right to be like Lea—to be able to walk towards her and say with a smile: “Mengmeng, I am back...”

Gu Mengmeng opened her arms wide gesturing for a hug. Lea immediately drew her into his embrace to let her snuggle against his chest like a kitten.

Elvis said he would be back a bit later, but in reality, he didn't return at all that night.

By the time Gu Mengmeng saw Elvis and Wabei again, it was already evening time on the second day.

Chapter 1195 - Give Me a Kiss And It Won't Hurt Anymore.

Chapter 1195: Give Me a Kiss And It Won't Hurt Anymore.

The two men were both drenched in blood and propping each other up, hobbling back with the sunset in the background. Gu Mengmeng was dazzled by the sight and felt like their blood was spiraling all over the ground.

Lea rolled his eyes at Gu Mengmeng. "And you said they knew their limits? They were clearly out to kill each other."

Auretin and Lea lifted Elvis and Wabei across their shoulders, and carried them over to the area where Gu Mengmeng usually sunbathed.

They were so grievously injured that if they moved them into the cave, the smell of blood would probably linger for a long time.

The cave was meant for Gu Mengmeng to stay in and must never be tainted with the scent of blood.

Gu Mengmeng's heart ached tremendously but Wabei was just as seriously injured as Elvis. Hence, she could not even blame him as such. The only thing she could do was to gloomily use a piece of moistened animal skin to clean out the still-bleeding wounds.

"Don't be angry." Elvis was extremely weak but still reached out to hold onto Gu Mengmeng and coax her.

Gu Mengmeng pushed his hand aside and said coldly, "I am not angry."

She washed the animal skin before continuing to use it to clean his wounds.

Elvis smiled bitterly. “You are not smiling, and you still claim you are not angry?”

“How can I still smile when you have been hurt like that?” Gu Mengmeng growled angrily.

Elvis frowned as he gave a low cry, as if he was in great pain.

Gu Mengmeng was shocked. She thought she had wiped too hard and accidentally hurt his wound. She threw aside the animal skin anxiously and asked Elvis, “What’s the matter? Is it very painful? Lea, Lea, quickly come over to take a look...”

Elvis grabbed Gu Mengmeng’s arm and pulled her into his embrace. Gu Mengmeng was caught unawares and fell straight into his arms. She even felt a warm liquid oozing onto her arm. Damn, she must have knocked into his wounds.

But she didn’t dare to struggle. If she moved now, she might injure him further.

“Yes, it’s very painful.” Elvis’ voice was weak and raspy. “Give me a kiss and it won’t hurt anymore. Mmm?”

With that, Elvis lifted his head with the intention of kissing Gu Mengmeng. Unfortunately, he was a bit too far away and no matter how hard he tried, he could not reach her.

He laid back despondently, his face full of pain. “I am still... too weak. You are in my arms, but I am unable to kiss you...”

“You really... drive me crazy.” Gu Mengmeng propped her hands on either side of Elvis face, and lowered herself down to kiss him on the lips. The kiss tasted of blood. Their tongues snaked around each other, wordlessly transmitting Gu Mengmeng’s worry and Elvis’ comfort.

They kissed until Gu Mengmeng’s arms were trembling before she finally lifted her head and settled back in a kneeling position beside Elvis. She panted as she continued to clean his wound. Gritting her teeth, she said, “Don’t think I won’t do anything to you because you are injured! When you are better, just wait and see how I will punish you!”

Elvis’ lips remained curling upwards as he gazed tenderly at Gu Mengmeng. “Ha, I got scolded. Is Lea going to envy me again? He always envies me for the weirdest things. For example, you throwing potatoes at me, throwing me out of the cave, scolding me or pinching my ears... what can I do? I also feel so blissful being scolded by you... have I been influenced by Lea? Mmm?”

“Don’t think you can get away with it like that!” Gu Mengmeng glared at Elvis. “Letting a body which belongs to me end up in such a state. I will not let you off that easily!”

Chapter 1196 - How Do You Plan To Punish Me?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

“Mmm, how do you plan to punish me? Mmm?” Elvis kept smiling. He had lost so much blood that he was seeing double. It was a good thing though—this meant he could see two Gu Mengmengs at the same time.

Mmm, her voice had also become rather ethereal. Even so, it sounded exceptionally pleasant.

He wished to hear her speak a few more words, even if she was just reprimanding him.

Gu Mengmeng could feel Elvis was struggling to stay conscious. He was nearly blacking out.

Actually in such a situation, it was best for him to fall unconscious. Only then could his body enter a resting and recovery state.

Sighing, Gu Mengmeng leaned over and whispered in Elvis’ ear. “If you feel extremely painful and extremely tired, just sleep a little while. I will watch over you, mmm?”

“I was in a lot of pain... but not anymore after Xiao Meng kissed me.” Elvis’ eyelids felt unbearably heavy. He could bear it no longer and gradually closed his eyes. In a voice as light as gossamer, he said, “I will sleep for a bit. After I wake up, I will go with you to the Mecca Desert...”

“Mmm, go to sleep.” Gu Mengmeng gave Elvis a gentle kiss on the cheek. Soon after, she could hear him breathing evenly.

Wabei’s condition was slightly better than Elvis’. He held on until Elvis fainted before laughing. “I endured beatings by that pervert Snakel for over 800 years. You want to compete with me on endurance, you are still a far cry...”

He fell unconscious before he could finish his sentence.

Gu Mengmeng sighed. She didn’t know whether to laugh or cry in frustration. These two... were totally insane.

Under Lea’s care, Elvis and Wabei slept for four days straight before waking up.

Their wounds mended very well during this period. After all, Wabei didn’t use venom during his fight with Elvis—otherwise, Elvis would have been in a far worse state.

When Elvis woke up, Gu Mengmeng was just sleeping beside him.

Elvis turned and gently lifted Gu Mengmeng onto the bed, to let her lie comfortably in the crook of his arm.

Her long lashes fluttered slightly as her delicate brows furrowed.

Elvis’ heart ached as he gently smoothed her brows. He felt extremely guilty.

She must have been frowning in her dreams from anxiety over him being in a coma due to his serious injuries. But there was no other way. He had to become stronger.

Otherwise, even if they successfully retrieved the Heart of the Desert from the Mecca Desert, he would not be able to withstand the immense pressure resulting from the activation of the Beast King bloodline. What would happen if he exploded and died right in front of Gu Mengmeng?

How miserable she had been when Snakel died. How long had she been mired in despair before finally recovering. He and Lea were well aware of that.

He swore that he would never let Gu Mengmeng experience that kind of pain again.

So he must become stronger. He must become someone who could stand shoulder to shoulder with her. Only then could he help her hold up the sky when it fell.

These current injuries were nothing. They were really nothing.

As long as it was for her, he could smile through even more pain and even more injuries.

As long as he could see her the moment he opened his eyes, it didn't matter how long a coma he was in.

Gentling kissing Gu Mengmeng's sleeping face, Elvis whispered by her ear, "Xiao Meng, my precious. I am fine now. So sleep peacefully. When you wake up, I can escort you to the Mecca Desert. Anywhere you want to go, I can go with you. To the ends of the earth, I will be there for you, alright?"

Chapter 1197 - You're Finally Awake

Chapter 1197: You're Finally Awake

Perhaps Gu Mengmeng was terribly tired because she had an exceptional sleep this time and only woke up the second daybreak.

There was a familiar warmth beside her and Gu Mengmeng frowned upon instincts.

It seemed like she slept lying next to Elvis but...

She wrapped her arms around Elvis's waist and touched him, this feeling....

Opening her eyes, she met eyes with Elvis's dark blue pupils, as warm and dotting as the deep sea. His lazy and husky voice, only unique in the morning, spilled over Gu Mengmeng's face with his warm breath, "Morning, my Xiao Meng."

After Elvis finished speaking, he lightly kissed Gu Mengmeng's forehead.

The corners of Gu Mengmeng's lips curved upwards and she hugged Elvis tightly, burying her face into his chest. Sighing, she said, "You're finally awake, you lazy bum!"

"Yeah, I'm a lazy bum." Elvis enjoyed Gu Mengmeng flinging herself into his arms a lot so he allowed her to squirm around in his embrace, as if she could squeeze herself into his heart through his chest.

"It's so early in the morning, do you have to gross me out?" Wabei woke up a day earlier than Elvis and was leaning against the wall, side-eying the mushy couple.

Gu Mengmeng turned around to peer Wabei and sneered fiercely, ignoring him.

After seeing Gu Mengmeng's fierce little face, Elvis felt that she was extremely adorable so he pinched her face and shook it. Then, he cupped her face and kissed her, saying, "I've recovered almost fully, shall we set off after breakfast?"

Gu Mengmeng lifted her face and asked Elvis, looking at him, "You just woke up, shouldn't you rest for a while?"

"Yeah. I'm fine."

Gu Mengmeng nodded before standing up to wash up. After that, they ate breakfast together.

In these four days when Elvis and Wabei were unconscious, Fei Rui returned back from the deep oceans. Other than sea salt, he gifted Gu Mengmeng many little items from the sea, such as beautiful sea shells, radiant pearls, prettily-shaped corals and some seafood.

Auretin was not interested in pearls, corals and whatsoever but towards seafood.....yeah, that face-paralysis look with both eyes glowing.

Seafood was different from other food and could not be stored for a long time so Lea decided to make seafood dishes. Upon seeing how Lea wanted to roast the fish on the tree branch, Gu Mengmeng hurriedly stopped him.

"We had to eat it that way because there was not enough cooking utensils at the beach previously. Now, we've everything at home, why do we still have to eat roasted fish? Hurry, take a pot and boil some water in it."

"Alright." Lea did not question why as he just followed Gu Mengmeng's instructions.

Gu Mengmeng weaved an unusual-looking tray with rattan and placed it in the stone pot as a divider. Then, she moved the fish onto the bamboo plate and swept some sea salt on it before adding ginger slices and grounded chili into its stomach. Finally, she placed the plate into the tray and steamed it.

She touched her pulse to estimate the time. A normal person had a heartbeat of around 75 per minute and in the modern world, cultivated fish would be cooked in seven minutes in boiling water. The meat of sea fish was tighter so it would not be cooked fully in seven minutes, 10 minutes should be enough.

Thus, Gu Mengmeng counted every beat and upon counting till the 750th beat, she opened the pot and checked the fish stomach with chopsticks. She noticed that there was still blood streaks near the bones so she covered the pot again and steamed for around two minutes before serving the food.

After serving the fish, Gu Mengmeng scooped a ladle of hot oil and poured it over the fish. The scalding crackling sound gave Elvis a huge scare as he almost pounced over to carry Gu Mengmeng away. Luckily, Gu Mengmeng had fast reflexes and before Elvis had the chance to come over, she finished pouring the hot oil and the next second, a fragrant aroma wafted in the air, giving off a fresh and delicious smell.

Chapter 1198 - I Was Giving Him A Friendly Smile.

Chapter 1198: I Was Giving Him A Friendly Smile.

Lea did not allow Gu Mengmeng to hold the pot with the fish in it because he was scared that she would scald herself.

When he served the fish on the table, Gu Mengmeng used the chopsticks to split the fish into several portions before giving them out to the people sitting around the table.

She only steamed one fish, if she did not do that, the males sitting around the table, would not move their chopsticks and just let her finish the fish all by herself.

But sharing this fish among five males was not enough to even fill the gaps of their teeth, at most, they could only have a taste of it. Auretin's eyes were lighted up and this made Gu Mengmeng suspect whether Auretin's a real tiger. Was he not just a larger cat?

After Lea ate his share, he also gave off a satisfied expression. Sucking onto his chopsticks, he said, "Fei Rui brought a few more fish back and we're heading out after this meal so why don't I steam them all?"

Auretin nodded his head firmly upon instinctively and upon seeing that, Gu Mengmeng chuckled helplessly and said, "But the fish is too big and the pot is too small so we can only steam one fish at one time, when will you be able to eat it....."

Lea rubbed Gu Mengmeng's little head and said, "Fool, did you forgot? I'm a male, I can go a few days without eating."

Ah, the meal habits in the Beast World....

But thinking about it, it was wasteful if they did not eat the fish Fei Rui brought from faraway.

Nodding, she asked, “Then, I’ll help you estimate the time?”

“Alright.” Lea added water to the pot and after it started boiling, he steamed the fish while Gu Mengmeng held her pulse and counted the time for him at one side.

Auretin held Fei Rui’s shoulder and said, “Bring more next time, some more!”

Fei Rui was still a little scared of land orcs so after being pressured by Auretin like that, he felt his heart thump hard, just like a primary school student being extorted by a high school student. His clear eyes were brimmed with tears, looking as if he was about to cry.

Gu Mengmeng walked over and pushed Auretin, saying, “Tsk, don’t terrorize him. If you scare him, he might not have the courage to come back next time. You won’t be able to even eat a piece of fish scale then.”

This was a very serious matter, Auretin stared at Fei Rui intently before baring his teeth.

“What are you doing? You want to bite him?” Gu Mengmeng looked at Auretin in fear.

Auretin closed his mouth and returned to his expressionless look, explaining himself, “I was giving him a friendly smile.”

“Pfft....big brother, you showed both your top and bottom gums, how could you call that a smile? That is a threat before a battle, okay?!” Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Fei Rui who was hiding behind her, tugging onto the corner of Gu Mengmeng’s clothes in a frightened manner. She said, “See how much you scared little Fei Rui?”

“I’m sorry.” Auretin took a step back and said, “I can’t control my facial expressions.”

Gu Mengmeng turned behind and patted Fei Rui's shoulder, saying, "Don't be scared of him, he is easy to bully. If he does anything that makes you unhappy, just say 'I won't bring back fish for you' and he will become obedient."

Fei Rui nodded his head seriously before looking at Auretin, speaking softly, "Don't bully me.....and I'll bring more fish next year."

Auretin's eyes lit up and he nodded his head in earnestness, saying, "I'll protect you in the future."

Fei Rui looked at Gu Mengmeng and clamped his lips, replying, "Alright, thank you."

Gu Mengmeng smiled and did not say a word as she huddled into Elvis's arms and scooped the fish meat in his bowl, sending it to his mouth. "Eat the fish while it's hot, if not it will get fishy when it cools down."

"I'm not eating, you can eat it." Elvis pushed her chopsticks away and sent the fish meat into her mouth instead.

Chapter 1199 - Mengmeng, You're So Mean.

Chapter 1199: Mengmeng, You're So Mean.

The fish meat was stuffed into Gu Mengmeng's mouth so she could only swallow it, feeling the situation funny. She said, "Lea's steaming the fish now, there's still a few more left. You can try it too, it's quite delicious."

Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng's lips, his nimble tongue flipping around and exploring her mouth as it wished. After a long time, he then released her and wiped off the crystal-clear substance from the corner of her mouth with his finger and smiled, saying, "Yeah, it's quite delicious."

Gu Mengmeng muttered bashfully, "Annoying." Then, she did not say a word anymore.

When Lea steamed all the fish that Fei Rui brought back, everyone speedily dug in and ate their fill before they prepared to set off.

Elvis and Lea prepared the items they needed on this journey a long time ago so Gu Mengmeng just needed to bring herself.

Barete and Joshua led the tribesmen in sending Gu Mengmeng to the boundaries of the tribe. After watching her disappear completely from their eyes, they then returned back.

"That little fish just came back and you left him alone there, tsk tsk tsk, Mengmeng, you're really cruel." Lea smiled and said while swaying his tail, "You even ate the fish he brought back and accepted the gift he gave. You want everything but him....Mengmeng, you're so mean."

Gu Mengmeng slapped Lea and explained, "Don't talk rubbish. Fei Rui gave me those items without the intention you're talking about, or else I won't dare to accept them too.”

“Oh? If it's not that kind of intention, tell me, what intention does a male have for giving a female with food and toys from a faraway place? Huh?”

Gu Mengmeng pondered over it and replied, “It's something like returning to his hometown on a holiday to celebrate new year and giving local specialties to his colleagues that he's closer with when going back to his company. It's just that his hometown is the deep oceans so the local specialties he brought back are more expensive.”

Company, colleagues, returning to his hometown on a holiday to celebrate new year, nobody understood what she was saying.

However, seeing how Gu Mengmeng's response indicated clearly that she was uninterested in Fei Rui, Lea and Elvis did not probe any further.

After all, if they probed too much, what if Gu Mengmeng really fell for that little rascal subconsciously?

The Mecca Desert was a bit far from Saint Nazaire so with Gu Mengmeng's touring mindset, they had to walk for around one month.

Luckily, two of the four males in this team, Elvis and Lea, had no limits of their tolerance against Gu Mengmeng. Although they strongly wanted to get the Heart of the Desert, it was not an urgent matter and they did not want Gu Mengmeng to feel tired from the rush because of their desires. Being able to see her smile was more precious than anything else.

Wabei was simpler, he did not care about the Heart of the Desert at all. He was just interested in constantly provoking Gu Mengmeng until she throws her fist and challenge him to a fight or use her words to make him speechless. They could just quarrel or battle anywhere so there was no difference.

As for Auretin....

Ha, as long as there was meat, he could not care about anything else.

A long and endless one-month rush was less torturous with the accompaniment of her beloved partners and friends.

When Gu Mengmeng stood at the boundaries of the Mecca Desert, she felt a scorching and dry feeling at the bottom of her feet. Looking across the place, everywhere was filled with gold-like granules. There was no magnificent buildings, not even a single life but this vastness impacted Gu Mengmeng strongly.

“Desert...” Gu Mengmeng grabbed onto the sand and watched how they seep through the gaps of her fingers one by one like water, destining the fact that their affinity would only stop at ‘touching each other before’.

Chapter 1200 - Picnic in the Desert

Chapter 1200: Picnic in the Desert

The sand from the wind blowing would get into Gu Mengmeng's eyes sometimes, and it was like a sharp weapon when the wind was strong, even leaving streaks of scars on her face.

Elvis heart was aching and had to cover Gu Mengmeng up with a piece of hide.

“Endure it for while although it's hot, yeah?”

“Uh.” Gu Mengmeng lied on Elvis's shoulders and shivered up.

Although she had been mentally prepared for this trip and she did not feel it was unbearable from the sudden high temperature, since the temperature had been slowly increasing and getting drier, the harsh weather in the desert was more torturing that she had imagined.

Elvis and Lea did not want Gu Mengmeng to be exposed in such a harsh environment, so the four males decided to continue the journey day and night after discussion, so that they could reach Fedaton City and meet Bi An as soon as possible.

But there were no landmarks in the desert, although Wabei was born here, he had not been back for eight hundred years. Coming back after adapting to the moist climate in the outside world was not unbearable but still uncomfortable nonetheless.

Looking at the snake skin on the verge of cracking, Wabei looked down on himself in his heart: Tsk, he had really led a pampered life for these eight hundred years.

Although Auretin had left for a shorter time than Wabei, he had never returned after that. With only childhood memories, it was difficult to quickly navigate to the Fedaton City accurately.

After wandering in the desert for three days, the food prepared had finished.

Auretin had predicted that they would arrive at the Fedaton City by evening, so they were just missing a lunch and Gu Mengmeng found it tolerable.

But Elvis and Lea did not want Gu Mengmeng to starve, so they turned into their beast forms to quicken the journey.

However, they were not too far off before they saw a group of rattlesnakes fighting with another group of scorpions.

Gu Mengmeng patted on Elvis and signaled for him to stop, then, she bent down at a distance and just watched them.

“So gang fights happen in the desert too.” Gu Mengmeng chuckled and said, “Our lunch is right there.”

“What are you doing?” Wabei looked at Gu Mengmeng, spooked.

Gu Mengmeng raised her eyebrow and hissed.

The rattlesnakes were stunned in the middle of their fight, before scattering around to escape. The scorpions were dumbfounded as they had never encountered something like this before.

They were stunned for two seconds before starting to chase the rattlesnakes, only to realized that they had been surrounded.

Wabei flung his snake tail across and all the scorpions became unconscious on the spot.

Gu Mengmeng ran up happily and picked up the scorpions that were as big as two palms placed side by side even without their tails and claws. She removed the claws, heads and tails on by one, before covering them with snake skin. She put them directly on the surface of the sands and tossed it a few times. The temperature of the sand was extremely high and almost all the scorpions were cooked within a few turns.

Gu Mengmeng smiled like the monsters in the “Journey to the West”, she shook her shoulders as she opened the snake skin. She peeled off the shell of the scorpions and the smell of meat was given off.

Smiling, Gu Mengmeng passed one to Wabei and looked at the other three males sorrowfully, especially Auretin whose eyes were clearly shining as he swallowed his saliva. She said, “The scorpions are poisonous, other than Wabei and I, it is dangerous for you to eat it. Sorry, hold it back for a while, you can eat when we reach the Fedaton City.”

The smell of protein filled the air, Auretin were circling around the place from his hunger, while Elvis and Lea were amused as they looked at Gu Mengmeng tasting the scorpions apologetically yet exaggeratively in front of Auretin. However, they did not realized a pair of cold eyes watching everything beneath the layer of sands.

Chapter 1201 - Bi An Was a Name That Could Not Be Mentioned Here

Chapter 1201: Bi An Was a Name That Could Not Be Mentioned Here

After eating, Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng and continued the journey to Fedaton City. They finally arrived at the entrance of the city before the sun set.

“So it was a city indeed...” Gu Mengmeng looked at the city wall built by large gray bricks. Although it had been weathered severely and might not even sustain Gu Mengmeng’s punch once, it looked like the style that archaeologists would die for.

There was someone sitting on the city wall. He looked down at Gu Mengmeng and the rest with the corner of his eyes and frowned when he saw Gu Mengmeng. He let out a cold laugh and said scornfully, “You guys have the guts to bring a female here? Are you blindly arrogant of your powers, or just... pure stupid?”

“Erm...” Gu Mengmeng tilted her head, looked at Auretin and whispered, “What are the rules here?”

Auretin rolled his eyes at the person on top of the city wall and said, “He had been suntanning for too long that his brain had melted from the heat, don’t bother.”

“Pfft...” Gu Mengmeng chuckled and said, “I haven’t heard you scolding people with such poisonous words for a long time.”

Auretin glanced at Wabei, thinking to himself, “Poisonous? Isn’t the poisonous snake here Wabei? I am clearly a tiger.”

However, he did not talk back to Gu Mengmeng, as Lea would not cook meat for him if Gu Mengmeng got upset.

“Come in, I’m hungry.” With that, Auretin led the way and stepped into the city.

When they just stepped into the city, there were unfriendly glances from all over. It was as though a lost lamb entered the Amazon basin, even the mosquito looked at you like examining its dinner.

Wabei’s mouth twitched and said, “Hey, how unpleasant... Can we eat them up?”

Gu Mengmeng patted Wabei’s shoulders and said, “Hold it in for a while, we have got to find Bi An.”

With that sentence out, the whole world seemed to have quietened down. It was not exaggerating to say that even the sound of clouds drifting past could be heard clearly.

Ah, was Bi An a name that could not be mentioned here?

Gu Mengmeng learned something new.

She could not understand why someone that nobody was sure whether he was alive or dead for a thousand years would become a taboo.

“Looking for me?” A cold voice was heard from a distance. It was just a simple three words, but Gu Mengmeng could feel the surrounding temperature dropping.

The eager glances just now seemed to have disappeared without a trace. Gu Mengmeng could clearly feel those in the dark running away like sand in her hand, it was obvious yet hard to trace.

Following the origin of the voice, a well-built and tall man was strolling towards them leisurely. He was smiling with cold eyes, sending off an aura of insidiousness that could not be underestimated. That feeling was unrelated to anger, he did not give of beast pressure, yet the strange field around him was like... He resembled a devil that had crawled out of hell after a thousand years, even the sun could not shine on him.

Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng and took a step back, as Lea stood in front of them and both Auretin and Wabei had entered the fighting state.

Ha, everyone was at their most tensed state with just two words from this man.

The man walked towards Gu Mengmeng step by step, with no intentions of stopping. He did not paused for a second when he walked past Wabei and Auretin, but the two were sent flying to a distance. Even with the power of the Beast Deity, Gu Mengmeng did not catch how he did it.

“Bi An?” Gu Mengmeng did not back off, she raised her head and looked straight into the male that were standing half a step away from Lea, whom was also staring at her.

Chapter 1202 - Just like His Father

Chapter 1202: Just like His Father

“Aren’t you scared of me?” The man did not answer Gu Mengmeng’s question and threw another back.

Gu Mengmeng smiled and said, “Well, not really.”

“Because you feel that you are strong enough being the Beast King?”

“Not that too.” Gu Mengmeng smiled and shook her head.

She could not deny the fact that the pressure she felt from Bi An was like none in the past. She had always been afraid of snakes and had fainted from the shock of meeting Snakel for the first time. But even then, she did not feel the chilly sensation that she was experiencing now.

The feeling of being in the dark, unable to breath freely and smoothly but could not do anything against it was awful, but different from the feeling of fear that made her want to run away or plead for her life.

So, it was not that she was not scared, just that she was not very scared.

“Then why?” Bi An seemed to be interested in Gu Mengmeng, he asked patiently, “Everyone is so scared of me, you should be too. Or... Will you be scared of me after dismembering your limbs and eating them in front of you?”

With that, Elvis and Lea’s muscles bulged and Elvis covered Gu Mengmeng behind him, flashing out his canine and sharp claws.

But Bi An did not even spare a glance at him, he continued talking to Gu Mengmeng while smiling, “Or how about, I will eat your friends and partners up before eating your limbs?”

Gu Mengmeng pouted and asked with a smile, “Should I cooperate with you and act like I am shivering from fear now?”

Bi An was stunned for a moment and he seemed to be surprised by her answer, but he had changed back to his normal expression before long and said, “Well, everyone looked so scared from just seeing me and I have not threaten someone with words for such a long time. Well, it was definitely rusty... Words did not suit me indeed, it was better to go straight with fighting.”

With that, Bi An clenched onto Lea’s neck, his face was so insidious that one could not see his features clearly. He looked at Gu Mengmeng with a cruel smile and said, “I haven’t eaten foxes for ages...”

“I am going to tell Wang Xiaoxin that you bully me.” Gu Mengmeng threw out the sentence monotonously.

And, a crack appeared on Bi An’s expression.

“You know her?” Lea was tossed aside by Bi An, and Bi An continued to fling Lea aside. He clenched onto Gu Mengmeng’s shoulders with both hands like the dried devil hands that came from hell, pulling Gu Mengmeng with all his force as though he was dragging her body into hell too. He said, “Did she send you here? Did she?!”

Gu Mengmeng struggled to push Bi An’s hand away, but strangely, she could not use her power as the Beast King once she touched him. She was no stronger than a normal girl before inheriting Snakel’s power.

What the heck was happening?

“I am dating her son, you can think for yourself whether I know her.” Since she could not rely on her power now, Gu Mengmeng had to use her wits.

Bi An squinted his eyes and said, “The Beast King power on you was Snakel’s.”

It was not a question, but a statement.

“You know my boyfriend?” It should not be considered wrong for her to fake the identity of herself in another dimension, right?

“That kid gave you the Tear of the Beast Deity.” Bi An chuckled, shook his head and said, “Just like his father.”

Gu Mengmeng’s shoulders were freed, she clenched her fists and felt that she still had the power of the Beast King.

So...

She could not touch him, touching him would guarantee her powerless.

This was a major bug, meaning that she could not do it by brute force, right?

Chapter 1203 - She Had Sent Me Here to Find You

Chapter 1203: She Had Sent Me Here to Find You

Alright, let's do it the gentle way if brute force could not work.

“Uncle Bi An, greetings, I am Snakels girlfriend Gu Mengmeng, the new Messenger of the Beast Deity and I came from the same place as your beloved female Wang Xiaoxin. These two are my partners, the snake over there is a friend of Snakel after being picked up by him from here. That tiger was born here too.”

“Get out.” Bi An turned around coldly and said, “I am letting you go just because you are that guy's loved one. Don't ever come back again or...”

Bi An turned his head slightly to spare Gu Mengmeng a look, but the feeling had made her shudder uncontrollably.

It was his murderous intention, an obvious aura that he did not bothered hiding.

Shit, Father would described this as messing up the first impression, right?

What did he ask when he got excited just now? Did she know Wang Xiaoxin?

Well, she answered yes and that was why he was patient enough to listen to her for so long?

Well then...

The second question was...

“She had sent me here to find you!” Gu Mengmeng decided to take the risk.

Sure enough, Bi An had stopped his footsteps. He turned back to look at Gu Mengmeng and he said, “Well... Proof to me.”

He had the looks of ‘You will be a dead meat if you dare to lie to me’ and Gu Mengmeng had goosebumps.

Proof? How could she proof it?

If they were indoors, Gu Mengmeng could consider giving off the Fox Seductive Fragrance and bewitched Bi An, but they were outdoors. How much Fox Seductive Fragrance would she need to charm a psychopath?

Clenching her teeth, Gu Mengmeng frantically searched for useful information in her head.

What the heck, there were just too little useful information.

Wait a minute!

Gu Mengmeng suddenly remembered something.

When she had woken up from the dream the previous time, Father had ask a question out of nowhere, “Do you know how to sing the song ‘Sorrow of Separation’?” She had answered yes and the Beast Deity appeared to be gratified. But when she asked whether he wanted her to sing it, he replied there was no need.

Could it be...

Shit, let’s take the risk.

“I should be enjoying life, drinking some wine, enjoying the attention from other women...”

All of Gu Mengmeng’s knowledge of this song came from TikTok, so she did not know how to sing the verse and could only start from the chorus. She was observing Bi An’s expression as she sang.

“Why do you cause me to dream of you dying, this sadness is higher than the sky...”

Shit, she only these few lines, why was Bi An still calm and expressionless? Did she hit the nail on the head or not?

She should be correct, right?

If not, he would have already strangled her or walked away with his personality by now. It would be impossible for him to stand there obediently and look at her without moving at all, as though he had been hit at his vital points.

“The glory faded, followers left, there is no one to complain to. Last night I dreamed of that man who left me a long time ago...”

Bi An turned around and stood in front of Gu Mengmeng, he said coldly, “Actions.”

Actions? So the song was right?!

So Bi An had some sort of promise with Wang Xiaoxin and the secret code was ‘Sorrow of Separation’? With actions?

But what actions? She knew a few lines from the song but who knew what did Wang Xiaoxin dance back then?

Gu Mengmeng ground her teeth, there was no turning back now. She would die a even more terrible death if she was to admit that she had been lying just now.

Making up her mind, Gu Mengmeng decided to make a Hail Mary effort and try the moves from the TikTok experts for that part of the song.

Gu Mengmeng had never imagined that being addicted to TikTok could save her life one day...

Ha, let’s pray that Wang Xiaoxin was also someone that was addicted to the Internet instead of being some top student in a dance school.

Chapter 1204 - Did She Encounter a Psychopath?

Chapter 1204: Did She Encounter a Psychopath?

After dancing for only thirty seconds, Gu Mengmeng had showcased everything she had learned from TikTok. She then clenched her right fist, wrapping it with her left hand to signal the end of her performance.

Although she appeared to be calm, Gu Mengmeng was so anxious in her heart.

Damn, did she expose anything?

She was an absolute noob now since she would be powerless whenever she touched him.

Bi An bent forward a little and smiled all of a sudden.

The smile changed the entire atmosphere. It was as though the sun had shone into the haze and slowly dispersed the coldness.

“You could have just say that she sent you here right from the start. So naughty of you.”

Eh? Did she pass the test just like this?

Gu Mengmeng was a little lagging behind the pace, but she did not say anything more. She helped Elvis and Lea, whom were sent flying in the air by Bi An, up and followed behind Bi An. She asked, “So Uncle Bi An, will you give me the the Heart of the Desert?”

“Yes, I will.” Bi An was smiling faintly. Although it was just a faint smile, Gu Mengmeng somehow felt like Bi An looked incredibly happy. He was totally different from the person standing at the gate of hell moments ago, the whole aura had changed into being in the heaven. If he was given a pair of wings, he could even act as the damn Cupid right now.

How was he this happy by someone sent by Wang Xiaoxin?

Could it be that the man who had abstained for a thousand over years having an orgasm hearing his ex-wife's name?

Gu Mengmeng was still searching for an answer, but she followed behind Bi An happily and asked, "When will that be?"

Bi An stopped his footsteps, turned around and looked at Gu Mengmeng with eyes narrowed into slits. The curve on his lips was so enchanting. He rubbed Gu Mengmeng's head softly with his big hand and said, "Don't be so anxious, I will pass you after dealing with some matters."

"Oh." Gu Mengmeng nodded and thought so too. Great people like him must have their own things to settle, right? It would be rude to ask someone prioritize bringing her the thing. After all, Father had said before that the identity of being the Messenger of the Beast Deity was nothing to Bi An, being a second generation immortal was as good as nothing.

Not wanting the favorable impression gained because of Wang Xiaoxin to drop, Gu Mengmeng said obediently, "We will find a place to settle down first and wait for Uncle Bi An to bring us to the Heart of the Desert when you are free."

Bi An shook his head and replied, "No, you have to be with me all the time."

"Huh?" Gu Mengmeng was spooked, did she encounter a psychopath? That damn thousand-year old demon Snakel alone was enough to make Gu Mengmeng break down, not to mention another... Moreover, he was the little father of her boyfriend, was this some incest going on!

No, no! This could not be allowed!

Bi An saw how defensive Gu Mengmeng was and could not control his laughter. He said, “You resemble her so much, it has been ages since I last saw a reaction like this... Well, it has been a thousand years. Be rest assured, no matter how much you look like her, I am not interested in anyone other than her. Asking you to stay with me was because I need to personally ensure your safety. I have waited a thousand years for you... I can’t afford to let anything happen to you.”

“It’s alright.” Gu Mengmeng still felt insecure deep in her heart. It was not her being egoistic, thinking that all the males like her, but having the previous encounter with Snakel, she dared not to be too close with males she had just met. It was such a burden.

Chapter 1205 - There Will Be Meat for Us If We Follow Uncle Bi An.

Chapter 1205: There Will Be Meat for Us If We Follow Uncle Bi An.

Gu Mengmeng said in the manner of an obedient junior, “You might not believe in this, but my partners and I are fairly strong. If we are against anyone else but you... we can at least protect ourselves.”

Bi An’s smile was unchanged, but there was a slight difference to the aura. Gu Mengmeng could even clearly envision the haze that was dispersed by the sun cluttering back again.

“Naughty kids will be punished.” Bi An’s voice was cold, it was almost monotonous. He continued, “I don’t like anyone disobey my orders, you understood?”

“Uncle Bi An you are absolutely right!” Gu Mengmeng said fawningly. “Who would want to compete with their own strength with such a strong strong backup here. There will be meat for us if we follow Uncle Bi An. Uncle, please protect us~”

“Good.” Bi An chuckled, before turning around and continue walking.

Gu Mengmeng wiped the sweat on her forehead, patted Elvis and Lea whom looked sullen and said, “It’s alright, it’s alright, seniors are all like this.”

Bi An brought Gu Mengmeng back to a building, how should she describe it...

The first reaction Gu Mengmeng had when she saw the building was to hang a banner with the words ‘Dragon Gate Inn’.

Damn, it totally looked like a tourist trap.

Did it sell things like human meat char siew pau?

Bi An's jaw moved a little and there was the soft sound of bones grinding. Gu Mengmeng did not know what he was doing but soon after, many scorpions rushed up in waves.

Shit1

Gu Mengmeng was in cold sweat as she jumped into Elvis's arms.

Wabei immediately turned into his original form and raised his head high. He scooped up Elvis with his tail with placed him on his head to increase the distance between Gu Mengmeng and the wave of scorpions.

Gu Mengmeng was still screaming!

In a deafening manner!

She was not scared of scorpions, but she was so damn scared of a wave of scorpions!

Every hair on Gu Mengmeng's body was standing and she had goosebumps all over seeing the black waves of scorpions gushing up towards her. She was kicking around in Elvis's arms as though she was flinging something out.

Until she could not scream any further, Gu Mengmeng's eyes were still tightly shut as she grabbed onto Elvis's arms calling hysterically.

"Xiao Meng, it's alright now, it's alright." Elvis patted on Gu Mengmeng's back to comfort her.

Gu Mengmeng was breathless from screaming. Hearing what Elvis said, she calmed down gradually and opened her eyes carefully.

What the heck, she straight up met eyes with Bi An whom looked as if he wanted to smile but did not. It was even more scary than the infinite amount of scorpions climbing onto her body.

It was like sitting by the window sill enjoying the night scenery and suddenly meeting eyes with a ghost.

“I called them here because I thought you like eating them, why are you so scared? Ha, there are even people scared of food... You are so strange.”

Bi An stood up and stepped away from Gu Mengmeng, before stamping his feet softly and he said, “Put her down, she has stopped screaming.”

Wabei, with a hot temper that would choke anyone with words, became as obedient as the snakes in a zoo for tourists to take pictures with. He bent down obediently and lied on the ground.

Bi An and Elvis jumped down one by one, Wabei then turned back into human form.

Gu Mengmeng thought for a while, the only time she had eaten scorpions in the Beast World was noon that day. So... Bi An had seen them then?

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips and apologised obediently, “Uncle Bi An, I am so sorry. I didn’t know that they are the children you are taking care of... Can you let it go seeing how scared I was by you?”

Chapter 1206 - They Will Soon Find out Whose Food Are They.

Chapter 1206: They Will Soon Find out Whose Food Are They.

Bi An looked at Gu Mengmeng in astonishment and said, “What are you talking about?”

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head and said, “I knew that you must be really angry, you have the right to be... I would also be enraged if someone breaks into my Snake King valley and cooks my little snakes to eat. I might even put the person on a fire and grill him up...”

“Ha.” Bi An chuckled and said, “You are someone sent by her, what’s the deal with you eating a few scorpions? You are so timid, that’s unlike her.”

“So you aren’t angry?”

Bi An shook his head and said, “I honestly intended for you to eat them, but never mind if you are so scared.”

Gu Mengmeng was relieved, thinking that Father had spoken the truth to her, this sir really did whatever he wanted.

But thinking about it, Snakel had done similar things, grabbing a small snake and asking whether she wanted to eat it. He even said in all seriousness that “I heard that snake meat is very nourishing”.

“The stray beasts would be paying tribute in half a month, you have to find your own food if you are hungry during this period. You two were born here and should know the rules, right?” Bi An glanced at Auretin and Wabei with a cold smile in his eyes.

“Yes.” Auretin nodded his head expressionlessly as a reply.

“This little girl will stay by my side and guarded by me. But your food... have to be settled by yourselves.” With that, Bi An grabbed Gu Mengmeng by the back collar out of Elvis’s arms and put her aside. He then looked at Gu Mengmeng and said, “Did she leave any message for me?”

The ‘she’ must be referring to Wang Xiaoxin.

But...

What messages were there for her to relay? She had never seen Wang Xiaoxin at all, ‘Sorrow of Separation’ was the ‘cheat for the dear daughter’ from her Father and the moves from TikTok she saw the last time.

But if she had to reply honestly...

Looking at how excited Bi An was, would he kill her on the spot in a surge of anger?

Damn, she already had the power of the Beast King, why couldn’t she use it on him?

She felt so passive! Gu Mengmeng was feeling panic!

Staring Gu Mengmeng for a long time and seeing her not opening her mouth, Bi An sighed and said, “I understood, I will ask her personally when I am done with everything.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled and did not say anything.

She did not expect a thousand-year old demon would believe in the rumor that everyone returns to the embrace of the Beast Deity after dying.

“What do you want to eat? I will make some for you.” Bi An asked softly.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and said, “Spare the trouble, my partners will take care of me.”

“Them? Bi An chuckled and said, “In Fedaton City, with just the four of them, they will soon find out whose food are they.”

Gu Mengmeng felt her blood froze and she tried asking, “What do you mean?”

Bi An raised his eyebrow and said, “You came to the Mecca Desert without a knowledge of anything? Should I describe you as courageous and fearless... or ignorant and blunt?”

“So what does that mean?” Gu Mengmeng was even more uneasy.

Bi An smiled softly and said, “There are stray beasts paying tribute with food every month in the Fedaton City and all the beasts in the city fight for food with their own strength. But, how many food do you think the stray beasts would bring? Is it enough for an entire city of people?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head without thinking.

Bi An smiled and asked casually, “Then tell me, what happens... when there is a shortage of food?”

Gu Mengmeng’s eyes widened as she pursed her lips. A sentence was stuck in her throat and she could not say it out loud.

Chapter 1207 - One Either Takes the Role of a Hunter or a Prey Here.

Chapter 1207: One Either Takes the Role of a Hunter or a Prey Here.

Bi An looked up and smiled like the red spider lily blooming in hell, charismatic yet dangerous. He said, “This is survival of the fittest in natural selection and winner takes it all. One either takes the role of a hunter or a prey here.”

F!

He meant that you would have to kill or be killed out there, right?

No wonder the person on top of the city wall was saying weird things just now, the stares they felt after entering were strange too, Ha... So she had not mistaken, they were really treated like food by the people.

Although she had gotten used to eating lions, tigers, bears and more, she could not get over the mental barrier of eating an orc.

“Uncle Bi An...” Gu Mengmeng decided to forgo her pride to act cute.

Bi An clucked his tongue and said, “Choose one, either I call the scorpions or you call the snakes.”

“Scorpions.” Gu Mengmeng decided without hesitation. Now that she could understand the snake language, eating snakes was no different from eating humans in front of him. She used to not eat snakes because of her fear for them, but now, she could not bear to eat them.

Bi An was about to move his jaw when Gu Mengmeng pulled his arm immediately and said, “Just a little... I am scared if there are too many.”

“...” The word ‘speechless’ was clearly written on Bi An’s face and Gu Mengmeng could not do anything but to smile awkwardly. She could not help it, it was just so scary to see scorpions gushing up like waves of water. They were not filming ‘The Grave Robbers’ Chronicles’ and there was no need for such special effects.

With a cracking sound seventy to eighty scorpions gathered, they were relatively big and looked kind of scary, but having experienced the shock from the scene just now, Gu Mengmeng did not jump. She nodded and said, “Wabei, slap them to death.”

Wabei glanced at Bi An and did not dare to move.

Bi An rubbed Gu Mengmeng’s head and said, “I will do it.”

“How embarrassing,” Gu Mengmeng said as she started to rub her hands together and her face was beaming with joy. The words ‘Please begin your performance’ was clearly written over her face as she said totally opposite things.

Bi An did not say anything else, he stood up and walked into the middle of the scorpions. Then, he moved his fingers slightly and all the scorpions were like toys with their batteries removed, losing their lives in a split second.

Lea knew how Gu Mengmeng cooked in the afternoon, so he picked up the scorpions one by one and proceed to cook them, not wanted Gu Mengmeng to be tired out again.

Bi An cut his finger with his nail and left a drop of blood on everyone’s lips, except for Gu Mengmeng and Wabei. He said, “Eat it and you won’t be affected by the scorpions’ venom.”

The males did not suspect anything and followed without hesitation.

The huge difference in power meant that there was no need for Bi An to lie to them. He could have them dead with just the blink of an eye.

Bi An sat next to Gu Mengmeng again, he examined her face coldly, as though he was looking at another person through her.

Gu Mengmeng thought, since they were both from the present world, maybe she had some special aura similar to Wang Xiaoxin.

“Uncle Bi An, aren’t you busy? You can focus on your work now, then bring me to the Heart of the Desert after you are don...”

Bi An leaned backwards with both elbows supporting behind his back, like a drunk demon-cult leader lying on the battlefield, flirtatious but intimidating. He turned to one side, his eyes were faintly-lit and dull, he was smiling but nobody could tell his emotions. He curled his fingers at Gu Mengmeng and asked, “Little girl, how about I tell you a story now?”

At that moment, Gu Mengmeng felt like her heartstrings had been strummed by a demon, she somehow sat next to Bi An, nodded and replied ‘yes’.

Chapter 1208 - : Hey, Are You Lonely?

Chapter 1208: Hey, Are You Lonely?

“In the past, a scorpion lived in the desert.”

“He had no memories, no name, no accompaniment.....and no heart.”

“Living was meaningless to him and similarly, death had no meaning too so he did not wish to live or to die. He just continued surviving without any aim.”

“Until one day, another person appeared in the desert. She squatted in front of him, poking his extremely venomous tail with her finger, asking, “Hey, are you lonely?””

“But that scorpion did not know what exactly was lonely? Was it a specific sand in the desert or was it a cloud hanging in the skies?”

Because of this sentence, Bi An’s eyes started shining brightly. That moment, all creations in both the heavens and on the ground lost their color. Gu Mengmeng started to lose focus as she stared at how Bi An was telling the story tirelessly like a narrator, detaching himself from it, as if the story was not his.

Gu Mengmeng’s impression of Wang Xiaoxin was a funny woman holding a book of “300 Poems of the Tang Dynasty” to con and control the entire snow fox tribe for a thousand years, was a cruel woman digging Wales’s heart out in full rationality, was a willful and crazy woman that gave birth to a son so that she could use him to open the doors of time and space.

But, in Bi An’s eyes, she must had reached a level of beauty which normal people did not know of.

Gu Mengmeng did not interrupt Bi An as she listened to him quietly.

“Her hand was bleeding but she did not seem to care. She just sat on the ground and said to the scorpion beside her, “What a coincidence, I’m alone too. Do you want to accompany me? Accompany me to wait for someone....””

“This accompaniment lasted for 13 winters. She didn’t say who she was waiting for or how long she was planning to wait for. In her free time, she just taught the scorpion how to evolve into human form, how to level-up, how to find blocks of black bricks and large stones in this vast desert to layer them into houses.”

“In the end, she built a city here and named it Fedaton City. In beast language, it meant ‘date of return’.”

“The person she’s waiting for did not return but her son came in search of her.”

“When the mother and son meet, they clearly recognized each other but they did not exchange a single word. They just looked at each other for a while before she threw a little snake to her son. Her son then left directly with the little snake....”

Gu Mengmeng frowned, so Snakel came here and met Wang Xiaoxin before but why was it not included in his memories?

Bi An was still telling the story in an indifferent tone. He landed his gaze on Wabei for a few seconds and his gaze became dim. He clearly knew Gu Mengmeng’s doubts but he did not answer them for her and just continued,

“After her son left, she said to the scorpion, “I’ll give you a name, you’ll be called Bi An. That’s a type of flower, the flower language is devil’s gentleness. When the flower blooms, one red and one white symbolizes death but white Mandarava blooms in the route to heaven and red spider lily is scattered on the way to hell. Help guard the hell for me, if someone comes here with my entrust, give this red spider lily to her and ask her to wait for that person’s return on my behalf....”.”

Bi An's gaze landed on Gu Mengmeng's face, his smile making her feel desolate.

Gu Mengmeng could not understand the emotions she was currently feeling. His eyes and the corners of his mouth were filled with happiness but this happiness gave people a heart-tugging bleak feel.

Chapter 1209 - Became A Demon In All The Slaughtering

Chapter 1209: Became A Demon In All The Slaughtering

“I’m not sure when it started but the stray beasts slowly stepped foot into this desert. They fought menacingly and threw their weight around in violent battles, disrupting his life. They even stared at his red spider lily with their greedy eyes.”

“At the beginning, the stray beasts attacked him one by one, soon after they started attacking him in groups.”

“Those countless stray beasts pounced towards him from all directions. Then.....he became a demon in all the slaughtering, stepping on the mountain of pure-white bones. This was the first time he felt hungry, thus, he sat on the mountain of corpses and started eating the stray beasts below his feet. Until.....not even a bone was left.”

“Thus, he was enshrined and worshiped by the stray beasts. His name became a taboo that could never be mentioned in this world.

“She wants him to protect the route to hell. How can he protect it without becoming a demon? Eventually, he didn’t let her hopes down as he awaited the person to take the flower on her behalf.”

Bi An sat up straight, his pianist-like fingers pinching onto Gu Mengmeng’s chin lightly, as if he was examining an art piece. He said, “So, I’ll definitely give you the Heart of the Desert so that you can ferry the person she’s waiting back. Only this way have I successfully completed her command and can finally head to her. So, I’m more urgent than you, do you understand? Hmm?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded, half-understanding him. Bi An smiled and released her, saying, “How can people understand when the wound is not on themselves? But it’s fine, you don’t need to understand. I’ll tell her this loneliness slowly after I see her.”

Gu Mengmeng was supposed to feel scared after hearing that he ate a mountain of corpses but she did not know if her principles were ruined after seeing too many situations since coming to the Beast World. This matter was not that unacceptable for her.

Now in Gu Mengmeng’s eyes, Bi An was just someone with a hard life after being too in love.

“Uncle Bi An, I’ve a question for you.”

“Ask.”

“You said you’re the owner of the stray beasts? Then Cole.....”

“That fox?” Bi An thought for a moment and laughed in disdain, “He self-claimed as king outside like he’s playing dressing-up. With those petty tricks, he’s just a clown who knows how to take advantage of others to manipulate them for his own benefits.”

“Then.....are you not going to care about him?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

Bi An laughed and retorted, “The stray beasts outside are just a bunch of rubbish and good-for-nothings. I don’t even open a recycling site, why should I care about him?”

Gu Mengmeng was choked beyond words.

Ha, that’s true too, as compared to the weirdos in Fedaton City, the stray beasts outside was really a disorderly crowd and did not deserve to be mentioned at all.

As they talked, Lea’s roasted scorpion was cooked. He picked two juiciest ones and gave them to Gu Mengmeng, saying, “Eat something first, Wabei and Elvis would head out to see if they can catch other food for you tomorrow.”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and said, “Let’s just eat scorpions, they’re not bad too. And there’s so many of them here, I guess we can’t even finish all of them in three to five years.”

Lea laughed and rubbed Gu Mengmeng’s head, comforting her, “You’ve to suffer for these few days. When we return to our place, I’ll cook something delicious for you.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded as a form of reply and did not say anything else.

She just thought in her heart, ferry that person back? Who was that person? How could she ferry him back? Wang Xiaoxin was not even here anymore, so what if she really ferried that person back? Wouldn’t it like the Bi An flower, not seeing leaves when the flower blooms and not seeing the flower when the leaves are there for every lifetime, hopeless and wasting time away.

“Show me the secret code once more.” Bi An requested.

Chapter 1210 - His Thousand Years Was A Holocaust Called Awaiting

Chapter 1210: His Thousand Years Was A Holocaust Called Awaiting

Gu Mengmeng did not reject him as she recalled the entire ‘Sorrow of Separation’ song in detail, trying her best to sing it for him.

As Gu Mengmeng sang every word and syllabus, she could feel the blood in Bi An’s chest surging.

He was different from Snakel. Snakel’s thousand years was muddled along without any aim while his thousand years was a holocaust called awaiting.

Time was like knife, cutting his heart up cruelly.

Today, he was finally free, why was he not excited?

That night, Gu Mengmeng kept singing ‘Sorrow of Separation’ one time after another, she still did not give up even though her voice turned hoarse.

Since Gu Mengmeng had the honor to mount this thousand-year difference grand banquet in full regalia, she should echo the previous Messenger of the Beast Deity. Since there was a sparkling beginning, she should end this off perfectly.

When Gu Mengmeng and the rest ate scorpions for the fifth day in Fedaton City, Bi An finally brought them to the entrance of Fedaton City.

Bi An stood facing Gu Mengmeng and smiled at her, saying, “Little girl, I’ve to thank you.”

Gu Mengmeng looked at Bi An in confusion.

Bi An pulled Gu Mengmeng's hand over and placed it over his left chest, saying, "The Heart of the Desert you want is here. Take it away."

Gu Mengmeng was so terrified she retracted her hand but Bi An held it tightly, not allowing her to dodge him.

"Scorpions don't have hearts, the red thing that's beating inside this body is the red spider lily she wanted me to hand to you and it's also called the Heart of the Desert."

"But..."

"You don't dare to kill?" Bi An laughed, as if he just saw a joke. He said indifferently, "Don't you want to convict those rubbish outside? As long as you kill me, all stray beasts would tremble with fear around you and not a single one of them will dare to offend and obstruct you."

Gu Mengmeng wanted to retract her hand but she could not exert much strength. Bi An resembled the snake that was convincing Eve to eat the apple as he kept lobbying the idea of digging his heart out to Gu Mengmeng.

"Aren't you curious? Why does Snakel and the little snake not have any recollection of her?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded, expressing her doubts. She just could not find a suitable time to ask him.

Bi An chuckled and answered her, "Because she originally doesn't belong to this world so when she leaves, only a legend is left behind. All memories that concerned seeing her will be removed and I was like that too. I was originally just an ordinary wild scorpion in the desert, she was the one who gave me a heart and taught me to experience all solitary in this world. After you dig this heart away, I'll disappear from this world like her, all memories regarding me will be removed too.....so you don't have to feel burdened. After you dig my heart away, you'll only remember having the Heart of the Desert but you won't remember that you have my blood tainted on your hands."

“I.....” Gu Mengmeng had a lot of scenes regarding massacres in her memories but she really could not bring herself to kill someone with her own hands. Even if she was facing Cole, despite all the hatred she had towards him, she could only dig his right chest. She did not have the courage to dig out someone’s heart with her bare hands.

“Little girl.” Bi An’s gaze was basically pleading her as he begged, “I was lonely for a thousand years, I waited for a thousand years so that I can give you this heart and head off to see her. I beg you.....help me.....this is my only solution, let me escape from this endless torture. I spent this thousand years alone and I’m too lonely, it’s too tiring.....I want to see her, I really want really want....I beg you.....dig out my heart and fulfill my wish, alright?”

Chapter 1211 - We've Reached The Date Of Return, Bi An Is Here.

Chapter 1211: We've Reached The Date Of Return, Bi An Is Here.

"I...." Gu Mengmeng did not want to wishy-wash too but she really could not bring herself to do it.

Someone who she did not strongly detest. Although she did not grow to have much feelings for him these few days but at least, he protected her in this demon-filled place and provided her with food and lodging. How heartless must one be to dig his heart out.

"I'm sorry little girl." Bi An frowned, grabbing onto Gu Mengmeng's hand and pressed it against his chest with all his might, attempting to push her entire hand to grab his heart.

"Umph...." Bi An winced in pain, perspiration dotting his forehead in an instant. His eyes were filled with bloodstreaks but he was still maintaining a smile.

"Little girl, have you touched it? Hold it tightly, I'm going to pull your hand out."

"Uncle Bi An.....Uncle Bi An....I don't want the Heart of the Desert anymore.....don't do this...." Gu Mengmeng's tears dropped like raindrops and she shook her head vigorously.

Bi An chuckled, blood flowing down from the corners of his mouth. With a scorching gaze, he said, "It's too late, hold it properly, don't make me....die with regret."

As Bi An said, he used his last wave of strength to pull Gu Mengmeng's hand out from his chest. Fresh blood spurted in all directions, tainting Gu Mengmeng's pupils red as she shouted, "Uncle Bi An!"

Fedaton City which stood behind them collapsed together with Bi An's body. Sand flew up in the skies while Bi An fell backwards, facing the heaven. Blood gurgled out from his chest like a cave but on the other hand, the corners of his mouth were still curved up in a nice arc, so pretty until one could not shift their gaze away.

There was clearly just the sound of wind blowing the soft sand but Gu Mengmeng seemed like she could hear the saddest love song in the world.

Bi An's eyes were all along looking at the skies, as if he was saying,

"We've reached the date of return, Bi An is here."

"I can finally return to your side, accompany you to find blocks of black bricks and large stones to build another city and await that person's arrival."

"Just that, don't abandon me this time."

"Now, I know how torturous the feeling of loneliness is."

Gu Mengmeng's tears started falling uncontrollably as she felt that she was overcome by sorrow. Lying in Elvis's arms, she wailed loudly and until she had no energy left, she slept while continuing her sobbing.

This nap was a little long.

In her dreams, she felt like she saw a woman sitting next to a scorpion before poking the scorpion's tail with her finger and asking it, "Hey, are you lonely?"

Blood from the woman's fingertip dripped on the desert, blooming into a red spider lily...

When she opened her eyes again, a vast desert appeared before her.

Gu Mengmeng frowned, feeling discomfort in her heart, as if she was pressured by something but was unable to recall.

Looking at the bright red flower in her hand, Gu Mengmeng asked Elvis in confusion, “This is the Heart of the Desert? How.....did I get it? Why can’t I think of it.....do you remember anything?”

Elvis shook his head too as he replied, “I lost consciousness not long after entering the desert. When I woke up, this thing was already in your hands.”

Gu Mengmeng lied against Elvis’s chest, casting her gaze to a faraway place as she asked, “Hubby, I saw a movie in the present world called ‘Dragon Gate Inn’. The scene in the movie is quite similar to the scene here...when we have time in the future, let’s find some blocks of black bricks and large stones in the desert and build a gangster inn selling roasted human meat buns, alright?”

“Alright, we’ll listen to whatever you say.” Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng’s little face in connivance before covering her with a beast skin, saying, “The wind is too strong here, your face is going to hurt from it. Hold it in even if it gets hot, we’ll head back now.”

Chapter 1212 - Not Leaving A Tint Of Dirt In The Beast World

Chapter 1212: Not Leaving A Tint Of Dirt In The Beast World

Gu Mengmeng nodded and did not say a word.

Her little head was covered underneath the beast skin. Gu Mengmeng stared at the flower with a blank gaze, muttering softly to herself, “Why....does it seem like I forgot some things? Some....very important things....”

“If you forgot it, that means it’s not that important to you.” Elvis held Gu Mengmeng’s back gently with his large hand to secure the beast skin on her. With the beast skin between them, he kissed her little head and said, “Some people would remember the things you forgot because to those people, the memories are worth being cherished.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded, still feeling her chest stuffed up as she asked, “Hubby, I didn’t sing for you in a long time, right?”

“Yeah, the last time I heard you sing was at the night campfire party. Back then, Chixuan was still unconscious and Jialue kept pestering you to sing a song to see whether you can wake Chixuan up.”

Gu Mengmeng wrapped her arms around Elvis’s neck and smiled slightly. Recalling those times gave her a misconception as if a generation had passed.

“Shall I sing a song for you? I feel that it’s extremely compatible with the situation here.”

“Alright, I’m listening.”

“Spring is gone (another year gone by), hair is whiter, alone in contemplation, cutting my hair, covering already covering my eyes, can’t see where I’m going, today, so far apart, my inside churns in pain, there is no hope to see you again in this lifetime....”

The sorrowful and miserable tone created blew the sand up together with the dry wind in the desert intermittently. How many past were ignored without consideration through these copious and fluency, silliness and infatuation

And thereafter, there was a legend:

There was a desert lying at the boundaries of the Beast World called Mecca. The quicksand was unlimited and it was a vast and endless place.

When the wind blew the sand into the air, you can hear someone humming a strange tune, the unclear dictation makes one sad uncontrollably.

But, who would sing in a desert?

That was just the sound of the wind blowing the sand.

There was a city in the desert called Fedaton, meaning ‘date of return’.

That city lived the most cruel and merciless savagers, wild and intractable stray beasts. They were beasts who could walk out of the desert and unify all the demons in the Beast World but they were trapped in the desert and not allowed to leave even a single inch.

According to the legend, the beast who confined them was the owner of the stray beasts, his name was a taboo and nobody dared to mention him.

He was placed above all rules and he killed people on a spur of moment. He was an evil spirit roaming around the boundaries of hell and with the the purity of his evilness, he was able to control those demons who could quake the Beast World.

But, Fedaton City collapsed into bits in one night. All the evil spirits in the city were buried inside, not a single soul survived.

Some said that the merciless demons were toys that he raised to kill the time he was awaiting for. When the date of arrival was reached, he would have waited for the person he was waiting for.

So, that city, that person, everything there had no necessity to exist.

Thus, he used five days to recall all outside demons back to the city and buried them together to end this once and for all, not leaving a tint of dirt in the Beast World.

Because the person he liked, the person he's waiting for said she wanted to protect this Beast World.

After leaving the desert, Gu Mengmeng was negative for a few days, she did not know where this sorrow in her came from. She just felt stuffy and uncomfortable.

Wabei detested Gu Mengmeng's half-dead look. He was not able to talk to her as carefully as Elvis and Lea so he just directly swung his snake tail towards her, giving her such a scare that she leaped up and retaliated, almost breaking his snake tail with a slap.

Chapter 1213 - I Will Allow Anyone To Cut Open My Heart Other Than You?

Chapter 1213: I Will Allow Anyone To Cut Open My Heart Other Than You?

“What are you doing?! That scared me!” Gu Mengmeng hollered.

Wabei did not mind her chiding as he swayed his tail, clicking his tongue, saying, “Wasn’t the reason why you put in so much effort to search for that wrecked flower at the remote and desolate place just to activate the Beast King blood of your demure wolf so that he can surpass fifth-level? You’ve been clasping that flower in your hands for so many days, are you deciding to let it wilt before giving it to him?”

Upon being reminded by Wabei, Gu Mengmeng then recalled the reason for searching the Heart of the Desert was for Elvis to level up.

But she did not know why, every time she saw the flower, she felt disconsolate.

“I can’t remember where this flower came from....is it really okay to use it? Could it be Cole’s trick?” As Gu Mengmeng said, she furrowed her brows slightly and continued, “In the past, whenever we searched for the Seven Treasures, Cole would also interfere and do something disgusting. He did not appear this time round.....tsk, I feel that I’m suffering from persecution delusion, I actually feel uneasy if he doesn’t jump out like usual.”

Lea held his cheeks and said, “I find it strange too....he asked Joshua to lure you to find the Heart of the Desert but he did not appear at all....ha, this is not his usual style.”

Elvis held Gu Mengmeng's hand and suggested, "To know whether it's a trick, we just need to step on it."

Gu Mengmeng widened her eyes at Elvis and said, "You want to.....no way, what if something happens to you?"

"Will you allow something to happen to me?" Elvis asked while smiling.

"I won't allow!" Gu Mengmeng answered firmly without hesitation.

Elvis nodded and said, "I'll always listen to Xiao Meng's words. And I won't do things you don't allow, right?"

"But..." Gu Mengmeng looked at the flower in her hands and hesitated.

Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng's forehead and said, "As long as you don't allow me to die, even if I fall into hell, I'll break the Bridge Over Troubled Waters and swim across the Lethe River. Moreover, you've to believe my wild beast instinct, this flower....isn't dangerous."

Gu Mengmeng looked at Lea but Lea smiled charmingly and said, "Yeah, use it. If he really dies, I can move up the hierarchy and become the First Partner~"

Seeing how Lea was acting indecently, Gu Mengmeng put her heart at ease.

Nodding, she asked, "Then.....are you prepared?"

Elvis nodded and said, "I always tell you that I only have you in my heart but you always don't believe me....it's the best timing now. Touch it, see whether my heart has other impurities other than you."

Although it was not murder, Gu Mengmeng still shudder at the thought of cutting open Elvis's chest with her bare hands to put the red spider lily into his heart.

What if she did not estimate well and kill Elvis?

“Why don’t we let Lea do it. He’s the witch doctor, he has better grip over his hands. I didn’t open up someone before, what if my hands shake and I become a widow....”

Elvis laughed and pulled Gu Mengmeng over, kissing her, saying, “Fool, do you feel that I will allow anyone to cut open my chest other than you? If I resist out of instincts, I’m afraid it won’t work, right? That will then kill me.”

Thinking about it, Elvis’s words made sense too.

Other than Gu Mengmeng, why would he trust others to stick their hand into his chest to touch his heart?

Gu Mengmeng took two deep breaths and said, “Alright, I’ll....I’ll do it.”

Lea pecked Gu Mengmeng’s cheek and assured her, “It’s fine to shake your hands, even if Elvis die, you still have me, you won’t become a widow~”

Chapter 1214 - Gu Twomeng, I'm Scared Of You.

Chapter 1214: Gu Twomeng, I'm Scared Of You.

“Get lost!” Gu Mengmeng knew that Lea was using this joking method to let her relax, after all, she would make more mistakes if she's more nervous.

But...

How should she put it, if it's killing someone else, Gu Mengmeng would not show mercy.

Previously, when cutting open Cole's chest, she stuck her hand into his right chest and dug a hole almost without hesitation. Honestly speaking, it was because she was fuming mad but after all, with Snakel's abilities, cruelty and bloodshed made up half of her basic nature.

But when facing someone she cared for, she really could not bring herself to do it.

“Alright alright alright, I'll get lost to prepare some medical herbs and sewing materials.” Lea pulled Gu Mengmeng's hand to his lips and kissed it before biting her finger lightly and said, “Wabei and Auretin will guard the cave for you. No matter what happens when you are doing fusion for Elvis, please believe in them.”

Gu Mengmeng bit her lip and asked, “Do you think.....Cole will choose to create a ruckus when I'm doing fusion for Elvis?”

“Who knows.” Lea was also worrying about this, after all, it was too strange when he did not come out and obstruct them.

Wabei frowned and told Gu Mengmeng, “Gu Mengmeng, there’s something I.....I’ve to tell you.”

“Huh? Little shit, are you constipated?” Gu Mengmeng looked at Wabei’s face that looked like he just ate shit and asked in a mocking tone.

“Tsk.” Wabei rolled his eyes at Gu Mengmeng and said, “I’m saying proper matters.”

“Yeah, say.” Gu Mengmeng cocked her ears to listen.

Wabei took a breath and said, “After we came back from the desert....you became a little different.”

“Me? Did I grow tanner? I’ve no choice....the sun at the desert is too strong, the UV rays are no joke....”

Wabei’s ‘are you an idiot’ expression shut Gu Mengmeng up as she chuckled mischievously and said, “I won’t interrupt, please say, please say....”

Wabei calmed down his emotions again and said, “I....I’m starting to be scared of you.”

“Why are you scared of me? I don’t bite.” Gu Mengmeng sneered in detest and wanted to crack a joke but Wabei’s serious gaze made her keep her smile. She asked, “Help me take a look, is there any change to the mark on the back of my neck?”

Gu Mengmeng could not think of other reasons so the only thing she could do was to lift her long hair up and show the back of her neck to Wabei.

There was no other way, other than the snake Wabei, Elvis and Lea could not see any difference if there was a change in the mark.

Wabei stared at the mark on the back of Gu Mengmeng’s neck closely before shaking his head, saying, “No, it’s still the same as after you had the Soul of the Forest, it’s the snake tribe’s protection mark.”

“Then....” Gu Mengmeng was stuck.

Wabei added, “After we came out from the desert, I kept feeling a desire to escape from you. You make me feel danger being around you and I will hold my breath unknowingly and hope that you won’t notice me. When you turn around occasionally to look at me, my snake scales will stand up unknowingly, as if every part of my bones are quivering in fright. This feeling is too strange, it’s very familiar but very new....an angry Snake never make me this scared before.”

Gu Mengmeng frowned, feeling that things were a little serious but she acted normal and smiled, saying, “I won’t even do anything to you, why are you so scared of me?”

Wabei nodded and answered, “Because I know you won’t hurt me so I suppress the desire to escape and stayed by your side.”

Chapter 1215 - : Did I Kill Someone?

Chapter 1215: Did I Kill Someone?

Wabei opened up his palms in front of Gu Mengmeng and it was filled with sweat.

“Look, this is my body’s reaction to your tail attack,” Wabei continued, “I am a snake, a cold-blooded animal and I don’t usually sweat even on a hot day. But your glare made my palms sweat until now. Even if you are talking to me kindly now, I still can’t control the instinct to curl up and avoid you.”

“It’s that serious?” Gu Mengmeng frowned.

There were countless times that Wabei was almost tortured to death in Snakel’s memory and Gu Mengmeng had also hit Wabei many times. But Wabei had never been cowardly and after recovery, he would immediately continue his provocation.

However, this time, because of Gu Mengmeng’s glare, he had been terrified until now? And wanted to escape? Was it so serious?

Wabei nodded and replied, “but other than me, Elvis, Lea and even the third-level Auretin do not have such a feeling. Does this mean that... there is something about you that is dangerous to some stray beasts?”

Deep in her thoughts, Gu Mengmeng recalled a saying. She instinctively mumbled, “so long as you kill me, the stray beasts that appear within 50 meters radius of you would all be terrified and none of them would dare to defy you.”

“What?” Elvis held onto Gu Mengmeng’s shoulders as he asked.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and lifted her confused face to look up at Elvis, saying, “I don’t know, it’s just that... someone seemed to have told me this.”

Mengmeng frowned as she looked at Elvis and asked, “I... Did I kill someone? Why do I not remember...”

Elvis raised Gu Mengmeng’s little hands and kissed it, saying, “you fool, don’t overthink things. With Lea and me around, we would be the ones to kill anyone, why would we let you dirty your hands?”

“Then...”

“I’m telling you this because even I am this scared of you, so that crippled fox is definitely even more afraid of you.” Wabei interrupted Gu Mengmeng’s conjecture and said, “it is not that he is unwilling to appear, but that he dare not come close.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and responded, “that would be best. But little shit... I promise to not bully you anymore, don’t be afraid of me... alright?”

Wabei clenched his fist and said, “I am just showing you face, don’t be unappreciative of my kindness. Hmph!”

After saying that, Wabei left the temporary cave and leaned against the cave entrance while panting heavily to recover from his extreme fear. After a long time, he then rushed back into the cave and shouted, “I will guard the cave entrance, faster begin your digging.”

Gu Mengmeng knew that Wabei was forcing himself to hide it, he was really scared of her...

But even if he was scared, he still endured it and stood beside her. Indeed, he was such a little piece of shit.

Lea kissed Gu Mengmeng’s forehead and told her, “I shall get going too.”

After that, Lea dragged Auretin out and said, “guard the cave well with Wabei, I will cook meat for you when I return.”

“Yes.” Auretin responded with strong resolve, as if he was a warrior who had pledged to protect his homeland till death.

The three of them left the cave and Gu Mengmeng took a deep breath before letting Elvis lay flat on the ground. She sat on his stomach and used her knees to prevent him from moving his elbows out of pain. If that happened, it would be even more troublesome if his heart was injured.

“Hubby...”

“Don’t worry, don’t be afraid. I still have to protect you, I won’t die yet.”

Chapter 1216 - I Can't Do Without You, You Have To Stay With Me

Chapter 1216: I Can't Do Without You, You Have To Stay With Me

Gu Mengmeng's hands were holding onto a red spider lily. Elvis wrapped his hands around her little fists that were shivering out of anxiety and slowly pressed into his chest.

Blood started to flow out uncontrollably. Despite her eyes welling up with tears, Gu Mengmeng did not dare cry. If her tears blurred her vision and her anxious heart gave in to the immense pressure, it would be dangerous to Elvis.

Thump thump... thump thump...

The heartbeat that was synchronised due to the pain was transmitted to Gu Mengmeng's fingertips with Elvis' body warmth.

Gu Mengmeng opened her eyes wide and clenched her teeth tight as the red spider lily was slowly placed into Elvis' heart. The first contact that her fingertip had made her heart squeeze tight and every tinge of body warmth from the skin burnt her heart.

Just like sand slipping off her fingertip, the flower slowly integrated as one with Elvis' heart.

"Xiao Meng, don't cry... I can't lift my hand now... to hug you..." Elvis forced a smile on himself to prevent himself from losing consciousness.

He knew that Gu Mengmeng was scared but he had no strength. The pain had sucked out every bit of energy left in him. He wanted to comfort her but he could only make out these broken phrases.

The red spider lily had finally become one with Elvis' heart. Gu Mengmeng carefully withdrew her hand from his chest. Each time she slowly withdrew her hand, a large amount of blood flowed out, making Gu Mengmeng uneasy and panic.

Elvis' reassurance made her even more unable to stop her tears. With her crying voice, she was almost begging him as she said, "hubby, you promise me that you will be fine. You definitely cannot lie to me... I cannot do without you, you have to stay with me... You said that you will help me support the sky even if it falls, if you leave me behind... what should i do if i become squashed flat..."

Seeing her cry like a child, and continuing to wipe her tears while using a clean beast skin to apply pressure on his wound, Elvis used all his energy to smile.

He was almost unconscious and could not say anything.

He could only smile and tell this foolish lad, "it's alright, don't be scared, I'm still here..."

Lea separated the medicinal herbs that were already prepared beforehand into the appropriate amount outside the cave, then carried the boiling water back to the cave. He carried Gu Mengmeng off Elvis' body and held her by her shoulders so that he could look into her eyes and say, "Mengmeng, tell me that you are fine, otherwise I will let Elvis continue bleeding and comfort you first."

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and wiped away her tears to say, "I am fine, I am all well, I am really... sob sobs... stop fooling around. Quickly have a look at Elvis, will he die after having such a big hole in his heart..."

Seeing that Gu Mengmeng could still joke, Lea felt more reassured.

"Fine, I will go see him. Take care of yourself, don't make me distracted by worrying about you, alright?"

"Yes." Gu Mengmeng nodded her head like a garlic pounder.

Lea washed his hands, then used fish bone needle to sew up Elvis' heart. This was a skill that he had learnt from Gu Mengmeng. The male beasts in the tribe were often injured so after many practice, he had become skilled at it.

After using a clean beast skin to wipe away the blood stain on the wound, Lea placed his hand on Elvis' forehead and said while nodding, "he's not heating up and not twitching. The vital organs are not harmed, so it's just a simple external injury. With such an injury... ha, he would most likely wake up in the afternoon, so you don't have to worry, Xiao Meng."

Seeing that Lea was so relaxed, Gu Mengmeng slowly heaved a sigh of relief.

Crap, using her hands to touch her hubby's heart. It was so spine chilling just at the thought of this...

Chapter 1217 - Birth Of The Wolf King

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Lea predicted that Elvis would regain consciousness in the afternoon, but in fact, when Lea was preparing lunch for Gu Mengmeng, he had already awoken.

The first sentence he said after opening his eyes was, “bring Xiao Meng away, quick!”

The rapport between Elvis and Lea was already instinctive. Upon hearing these five words, Lea immediately understood the severity of the situation. Without caring about anything else, Lea immediately carried Gu Mengmeng and ran away.

Wabei and Auretin did not understand but also followed and ran out with all their might.

After running a distance, they sensed the ground shaking and a wave of ear splitting wolf howls. Soon after, the entrance to the cave was blocked by the stones rolling down from the hill. Gu Mengmeng shouted in shock, “Elvis! Elvis... Put me down, I need to go back to save Elvis!”

Lea did not stop running and only replied while running, “a few rocks won’t harm him! He is announcing to the wolf clan the birth of the wolf clan! When the wolves gather here later, your presence here will only be a hindrance!”

“But...”

“You have his mark on your collarbone. If anything really happens to him, you will be the first to know. Don’t worry, we will leave first. He will return once he is done. After all, that fellow could not bear to lose even one sight of you.”

As such, they continued running like this, until the three male beasts were fatigued.

But even from such a far distance, Gu Mengmeng could feel the immense power of a Beast King from where Elvis was at.

Her hubby had really become the Beast King.

Gu Mengmeng rubbed the mark on her collar bone and slowly heaved a sigh of relief.

She did not feel even a slight tinge of pain, seemed like it’s going smooth for Elvis.

Initially, lunch was already prepared but it was disrupted by Elvis’ sudden awakening. Thinking about the pot of fragrant meat that was not yet eaten, Auretin was infuriated. After saying that he was going to hunt with an expressionless face, he returned with two wild wolves on his shoulders.

Sigh, this was basically just a glutton’s resentment and vengeance.

Lea did not say anything else and only started to prepare the hunted prey for another round of cooking.

Gu Mengmeng’s mind was all on her collarbone and did not care about what Auretin had hunted.

She only glanced at Wabei, who was sitting far away. Gu Mengmeng asked emotionlessly, “little shit... are you still very scared of me?”

Wabei hesitated for a while and nodded, then said, “don’t worry, I just need some time to adjust.”

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head to say, “but I still don’t know why you are scared of me. I did not even do anything...”

Wabei was also confused and said, “I also don’t know but I just feel that you are scary and cannot be offended.”

Gu Mengmeng squatted at the side to use a tree branch to draw circles on the ground. She looked at Wabei and asked with an aggrieved tone. “Then do you intend to return to the Snake King valley early?”

Wabei smiled and said, “no, the newly appointed wolf king definitely had to fight with others before leaving.”

“Pfft...” Gu Mengmeng laughed and replied, “little shit is indeed still little shit. Yes, just continue to be like this, it’s great.”

“Tsk.” Wabei rolled his eyes at Gu Mengmeng with a despised look, then he turned to look at the side. Anyone familiar with him would know that, yes... he was embarrassed.

When Elvis had come looking for them, it was already the second day’s night. During the past 40 hours, Gu Mengmeng completely did not know what had happened in the cave.

It was just that when he approached under the moonlight, his dark hair was like floating clouds falling from his back, his strong and muscular body seemed even more upright because of the moonlight. A layer of hazy moonlight surrounded him, causing him to seem more mysterious and evil. On top of that, his blue eyes were 90 percent gentle, making up the 100 percent love and doting he had for Gu Mengmeng.

“Xiao Meng, I am back.”

Chapter 1218 - We Are Finally Like A Normal Clan

Chapter 1218: We Are Finally Like A Normal Clan

Gu Mengmeng stood up and jumped into Elvis' arms. When she used her little hands to touch his chest, she saw that the skin there had already recovered so much that there was no scar left, except that his heart had a blooming red spider lily, making it seem extremely enchanting and attractive.

"This..." Gu Mengmeng stroked the totem that was like a tattoo and asked in a likeable tone, "is it still painful?"

"It's still painful," Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng's little face and said, "you dropped a drop of tear on my heart, do you know the burning pain that your tears had brought to me? Hmm?"

"You're so cheeky," Gu Mengmeng scolded, "you know that I am not referring to this."

Elvis hugged Gu Mengmeng tightly and said, "you fool, didn't I tell you that so long as you do not give me the permission to die, even if I am in hell, I will crawl out from there. But you don't believe me and cried so much that it broke my heart."

"It's not that I didn't believe you but my heart really ached for you..." Gu Mengmeng said in a coquettish manner.

Elvis nodded and said, "I know, I know that you feel sorry for me, so while I was heartbroken because of your tears, I was also almost going crazy out of happiness. You are really skilled at punishing me."

Gu Mengmeng laughed softly and said, “Wolf King, don’t say that. Both of us are Beast Kings but your abilities are obviously stronger than mine, how would I dare to punish you?”

This was not a lie. Even though Gu Mengmeng had inherited Snakel’s abilities and battling memories, but the built of her body caused her to be unable to fully make use of Snakel’s abilities. Even though she could use 30 percent of her powers to suppress all the beasts, but compared to the current Elvis, she was really much weaker.

Elvis gently bit Gu Mengmeng’s little mouth and said, “even if I am strong, I am still defeated by your seven-word mantra.”

Gu Mengmeng laughed and did not say anything else. She only leaned her head against Elvis’ chest as she tried to recover from her worry from the past 40 over hours.

Lea swayed his tail and stretched as he said, “sigh, we are finally a normal clan. Really... hah, I’m feeling so relieved suddenly.”

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head to look at Lea as she said, “what normal clan? Aren’t we usually always normal?”

Lea shook his head and said, “have you ever seen which family’s strongest member is a female? When we encounter anything, Elvis and I don’t even dare to say we are protecting you. Now everything is in its right place now, if we encounter any trouble in future, I can fight courageously with no worries because even if I die, Elvis is strong enough to protect you.”

“Lea!” Gu Mengmeng frowned and said. “What did you promise me when we became partners?!”

Lea took two steps forward and placed both elbows on her knees. With his back bent over her legs, he looked up at Gu Mengmeng and said, “Elvis is so strong now, do I even matter now? Do you even care if I am alive? Do you even need me to be by your side? Hmm?”

Gu Mengmeng raised her hands and held onto Lea's ears. As she pulled his ears up, she said with a cold expression, "say that again?"

"Aiyo aiyo... it's hurting me... My kind Mengmeng, I was wrong, I was wrong, I won't spout nonsense again. I will try to ascend another level as quickly as possible. After we obtain the Love of the Sky, I will find the Spirit of the Rocky Cliffs and by then I will reach fifth-level and become a Beast King so that I can protect you forever, alright? Be lighter with your punishment..."

Gu Mengmeng let go of her hands, then stroked his furry ears, saying, "that's better."

Lea leaned into Gu Mengmeng's arms. With his narrow and long eyes filled with gentleness, he said softly, "Elvis is so strong now, he can easily defeat me with one claw... so Mengmeng, you have to side me and protect me, alright? Hmm?"

Chapter 1219 - Kill Me If You Want, Eat Me If You Want

Chapter 1219: Kill Me If You Want, Eat Me If You Want

Elvis laughed softly and said, “right, you’re right for being weak.”

Lea was also not angered, and leaned deeper into Gu Mengmeng’s arms, with three of them forming a circle.

The next day morning, Gu Mengmeng woke up in Elvis’ arms. When she opened her eyes, she saw that Elvis was looking at her as though his eyes were glazed with honey. Lea was preparing food nearby and Auretin was circling the wok as usual. It seemed that Wabei was still scared of her as he was standing even further away from her.

There were many wolves around them but they did not come close and only patrolled around outside, as though they were guarding the place.

Gu Mengmeng pointed at those wolves and asked, “they...”

Elvis tidied Gu Mengmeng’s hair and replied, “do you remember the colourful snakes around Snakel in the past?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded. Those snakes had also been following her for a period of time afterwards, but because she was not used to having them around her all the time, and she had always been travelling, the weather was a threatening problem to those small snakes, so she commanded them to return to the Snake King valley before they stopped following her.

Elvis continued, “after becoming the Beast King, my body seem to be exuding an attractive aura that is important to the wolves. As they yearn for their king, it is part of their instinct to gather around me. Even though they are just beasts, they have their own way of thinking and communication method. Surprisingly... I can sense what they are thinking now.”

Gu Mengmeng also understood this feeling, so after she became the Snake King, she insisted on not eating snake meat.

Even though she never ate it in the past, but the feeling is even more different now.

Elvis laughed and said, “this is great. Even though you don’t like eating wolf meat and complained that it was tough, but in the situation that we cannot hunt, at least you won’t have to starve.”

Gu Mengmeng’s mouth twitched. “You still dare to eat wolves?”

Elvis lowered his head and laughed. He narrowed his eyes and said, “don’t forget, when I was in the stray beast camp, I eat even orcs. Even if I can sense their thoughts and understand their language, but they are still just beasts. To quote Snakel, ‘they are my people, so I can kill them if I want, and eat them if I want’. It is their honour that they can fill up my wife’s stomach. If you don’t believe, you can ask if they are willing to become the food in my stomach.”

Elvis howled and the surrounding wolves all bent their front limbs as though to show their submission and obedience to him.

Gu Mengmeng held her forehead. Were their thoughts this different because of gender or clan? This was a strange rhetorical question that she would never have an answer to.

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and said, “forget it. From today onwards, we shall not eat any wolf meat, otherwise I will feel disgusted.”

“I’ll do just as you say,” Elvis was not concerned, after all there were so many beasts that they could eat so it did not make much difference.

After breakfast, everyone were preparing to set off. Lea handed over the cutleries to Auretin to clean up, whereas he swayed his tail and walked to

Gu Mengmeng's side, asking, "should we head directly to Motou mountains or return to the tribe first?"

Gu Mengmeng held her cheek in dilemma.

Go to Motou mountains first? But they did not have the means to ascend the mountain yet?

Return to the tribe...

It was unlikely that there would be vulture falling from a sky if they waited at their tribe.

"Let's go to Sauder first," Elvis suggested. "Now that I am the wolf king, the wolves in different tribes most likely would slowly gather around me. Even though Saint Nazaire and Zacharias are our tribes, their territory areas are quite limited. I'm afraid that they are not large enough to house so many wolves. Only Sauder that has been merged from 16 tribes would have the sufficient resources."

Chapter 1220 - It's Rare For Little Xuan To Be Filial

Chapter 1220: It's Rare For Little Xuan To Be Filial

Gu Mengmeng thought for a while and said, “alright, Sauder has Hede and Jialue taking charge now, even though there is Collin guarding as well, but I am still worried. Let’s go back to see, then we can also settle down the beasts that are seeking refuge from the wolf clan there, so that Hede and his brother can have their own army. With an army to protect them, I can also be more at ease.”

“Yes.” Elvis knew that no matter what, she would always prioritise her four sons.

As if in her eyes, the four little wolves that were old enough to be independent were still four little ones.

After deciding on their destination, they no longer wasted time before setting off.

Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng, while Lea followed behind. Auretin carried the cooking quipments on his back and followed at the back, whereas Wabei subconsciously followed from a further distance away.

It was a grand sight to see a pack of wolves surrounding this single row of people.

Even though the journey was quite long, Elvis had safely been promoted to a Beast King without much bloody scene that Gu Mengmeng had worried about, so she was in quite a good mood.

The rainy season was almost ending. Gu Mengmeng was worried that Wabei would not be able to withstand the dry environment after returning from the desert, so she suggested that he return to the Snake King valley first.

Wabei did not insist and only said to Elvis, “take care of her well, I... will try to adapt as quickly as possible and return.”

He was not referring to the environment by what he meant by adapting, but rather the uneasiness that stray beasts felt from Gu Mengmeng.

Wabei was one of the rare male that Elvis and Lea could tolerate around Gu Mengmeng. No matter how Gu Mengmeng and Wabei were joking around and even hugging together, both of them were unconcerned.

Sometimes, when Gu Mengmeng hugged Sandy, they would still be slightly jealous but in front of Wabei, they did not feel such jealousy.

This was very strange but there was no need to think much about.

After all, even if they thought hard, they would not have a conclusion.

After Wabei left, Gu Mengmeng continued with Elvis, Lea and Auretin to reach Sauder.

At the same time, in the meeting room of Zacharias, a wolf and a fox were confronting each other face to face.

“Hah, the young master of stray beasts... you are really using this identity so comfortably.” Cole walked down the stairs and gently pinched Chixuan’s chin. With a sinister glare, he said, “you are really a traitor that have yet to be trained properly, you had even stabbed me in the back.”

“Your wife is pregnant with your daughter, shouldn’t you take care of her by your side? I am just thinking on behalf of you,” Chixuan was neither avoiding nor angry, and only looked straight at Cole as he replied calmly.

Cole laughed softly. His smile was eerie and dark when he said, “it’s rare for my Little Xuan to be this filial. Since this is the case... when my daughter is born, I will let you raise her. When she is old enough I will gift her to you, so that she can become your tool to surpass the third-level, how about that?"

Chixuan swept away Cole's hands and frowned at him with disgust before saying, "in the future, when any of my brothers find a partner, we will first need our mother's permission. Do you think that my mother would allow your daughter to stain my body?"

"Indeed... haha, Ah Gu hates me so much, why would she hand over her son's life to my daughter? But what to do... the more she is unwilling, the more I want to see it come true. Her helpless and furious eyes must be really beautiful." Cole laughed out loud, as though he could already imagine Gu Mengmeng's crying face.

Chapter 1221 - I Heard That You Care A Lot About Me, Seems Like It's True

Chapter 1221: I Heard That You Care A Lot About Me, Seems Like It's True

Chixuan leaned against the edge of the table in the meeting room and with his arms crossed, he said, “my mother is beautiful all the time, but... I saw her crying once and I cannot stand the sight of it, so I don't intend to see it the second time.”

Chixuan laughed, as though he could not do anything about his mother. Anyone who heard him would not be able to tell whether he was talking about his mother or daughter. He rubbed his head and said, “you should leave your daughter for yourself, I don't want to be dirty.”

“We shall see,” Cole sneered.

In the past, he had been too soft on this brat Chixuan as he thought that he had Chixuan totally within his control, who would have expected that he would be stunned just by Ah Gu's crying...

Just like how heartless he had been towards Ah Gu in the past, she is as heartless now.

Tsk, she was really like her son in terms of heartlessness.

Once Ah Gu set out to look for the Heart of the Desert, Chixuan used his identity as the young master of the stray beast to command the stray beasts to capture the female beasts from Saint Nazaire.

It was nothing new for the stray beasts to capture female beasts but seeing that they had to go to Saint Nazaire, they thought that Chixuan was in love with one of them but was unwilling to share or that the other party did not agree, so he could only resort to capture.

Even though Cole had commanded them to not do anything to the three tribes Saint Nazaire, Sauder and Zacharias, as well as the 16 tribes newly claimed by Sauder, but capturing a partner for their messenger's son could only be considered as a family affair, right?

Thinking about how much Cole doted on Chixuan and their messenger's love for Chixuan, the stray beasts felt that capturing a female beast would offend neither party, so they thought of it only as pacifying their young master and captured the female beast from Saint Nazaire without any hesitation.

But who knew that upon reaching Saint Nazaire, the entire tribe only had one female beast around, whereas the 16 valued females well-known for their beauty were not to be seen anywhere. Without a choice, they could only capture that half-beast.

When Chixuan saw the captured female beast, he covered her with a sack and carried her away.

At the same time, Cole was preparing a truck full of hunted prey for 'delivery' at Fedaton City, and also to meet Gu Mengmeng by chance. On his way there, he was stopped by the news that he received from his spies in different tribes.

Saint Nazaire was attacked by stray beasts and all the females in the tribe were captured.

Sauder was attacked by stray beasts, with Hede and Jialue gone missing.

Zacharias was attacked by stray beasts, with Chixuan heavily injured and almost dying.

When Cole received these three pieces of news, he was stunned. Why would the stray beasts do something like this? The fact that it occurred simultaneously indicated that it was someone's scheme.

Who would do this to foil his plans? Lea? It must be Lea!

Cole used the shortest amount of time to calm down and analyse. He realised that the three events could not possibly all be true, Lea would not do anything this meaningless...

Saint Nazaire's captured females, missing Hede and Jialue, as well as heavily injured Chixuan...

Chixuan!

Cole only used a second before he confirmed that Lea's target was Chixuan. The rationale was simple. Cole had always been using Chixuan to threaten Gu Mengmeng so that she would not dare act impulsively and always gave in to him. In order to overturn the situation, the simplest way was to kill Chixuan. If Chixuan was dead, he would no longer have any hostage to threaten Gu Mengmeng with.

Moreover, ha, Ah Gu would definitely put the blame of the stray beasts' actions on him, right?

He was not afraid of being hated by Gu Mengmeng, but he did not want to be accused wrongly for something he did not do!

Almost without any hesitation, he immediately rushed to Zacharias. In the end, what did he see? Ha, Chixuan was unscathed in front of him with a beast sack over his shoulders and he said, "I heard that you care a lot about me, seems like it's true."

Chapter 1222 - You Cannot Beat Me Because You Are Not Ruthless Enough

Chapter 1222: You Cannot Beat Me Because You Are Not Ruthless Enough

“My Little Xuan now already has his sharp teeth and claws grown out, but... didn’t I teach you? In front of an undefeatable opponent, it’s best to stay well-behaved.” Cole’s hands were already wrapped around Chixuan’s throat as he smiled hideously.

Chixuan did not struggle and allowed Cole to throat himself. He even looked at Cole in a provoking manner.

Cole released his hands one second before Chixuan stopped breathing and said, “you are betting that I won’t kill you, so you used this method to toy with me?”

Chixuan sat on the ground while heavily panting. After a long while, he then looked up. Even though he seemed to be in a more pathetic state, he had a victorious smile on his face.

“Initially, I was not sure but now I am. You... can’t kill me.” Chixuan said. “I know that your aim of controlling me is not merely for your own survival, but also because you wanted to use my blood to stain my mother’s soul and cause her to become someone like you. Every time you used me to threaten my mother, you are not hoping for her to compromise, instead you want her to go crazy. You want her to do things that she is unwilling to do in order to not be threatened by you, such that she will give up on me or even kill me personally... If it is not my mother killing me herself, everything that you have done will become meaningless.”

Chixuan supported himself up unsteadily using the table and wiped the blood stain off the corner of his lips, saying “what’s the point of always picking on a female? Why not change an opponent, I can play with you instead?”

“Ha,” Cole laughed. He narrowed his eyes and said, “Little Xuan, did you think that death is the most painful in the world? Tsk tsk tsk, how could I raise such a naive child like you?”

Chixuan also laughed and responded, “indeed, you have many ways to torture people. But I am not like my mother. My mother care about too many people so she has many weaknesses that you can take advantage of. For me, besides my mother, I do not care about anything else, even myself... Whereas you don’t have the ability to harm my mother. So I do not have weakness in your hands. This time, I foiled your plans so that I can declare battle against you. In the future, there will be many of such incidences and I am just forewarning you... After all, I have been under your caare for so long.”

“Alright, we shall see,” after he said that, Cole turned around, ready to leave.

“Hold up,” Chixuan called out. He casually threw the beast sack to Cole and said, “take away your trash.”

Cole did not reject and felt the weight of the beast sack that was containing Maya. He laughed and said, “Little Xuan, you cannot beat, and you know why?”

Chixuan did not respond. Then, Cole raised his hands up and threw the beast sack to the ground hard. A sound of cry, followed by a thick blood stench could be smelled.

Cole smiled in despise and cleaned his blood stained fingers on the opening of the beast sack. Then, he looked up at Chixuan to say, “because you are not ruthless enough. You can directly kill this burdensome thing, yet why did you bring her back?”

After he said that, Cole patted Chixuan lightly on his shoulders and said, “but after all, you are the brat that I trained myself, just let me see how sharp your teeth and claws can be. Don’t bore me, alright? Hmm? Hahaha...”

Then, he walked out without turning back.

Chixuan frowned as he looked at Maya, that was smashed to bits. He carried the sack and threw her out into the deep forest. There was no need to bury her as the wild beasts would clear the mess.

Chapter 1223 - Let Me Do Those Dirty Tasks

Chapter 1223: Let Me Do Those Dirty Tasks

Not vicious enough?

Ha, compared to Cole—who could send his own female bearing his own unborn child to death—he was truly too soft-hearted.

It was impossible to compete with Cole on heartlessness.

But damn it, that mother of his was totally incapable of doing anything so unconscionable.

“Let me do those dirty tasks, mother, you... just stop crying like that.” Chixuan sighed before returning to this copycat meeting room. He crossed his fingers on the table and rested his chin on the back of his hand. With an expressionless face, he gazed profoundly towards the cave entrance.

He really didn’t look like a two year old child at all.

Meanwhile, Gu Mengmeng had gathered 70 to 80 single wolf beasts by the time she arrived at Sauder.

And those wolf beasts didn’t call her Great Messenger—instead, they called her “Queen”.

Gu Mengmeng didn’t mind at all. Anyway, those in the Snake King valley called her Saintess instead of the Great Messenger.

However, Gu Mengmeng started getting playful on hearing them call her “Queen”. She would lay coquettishly across Elvis’ body and flutter her lashes at him. “My King, is your concubine beautiful...”

Elvis always blushed at her teasing. Looking at her sensuous expression, he desperately wished to gobble her up. But she would run off right after teasing him, leaving him hanging.

He gritted his teeth but was helpless before her.

The moment her eyes brightened, his lips would automatically curve upwards.

In this lifetime, he would continue doting on her even if he perished at her hands.

Having stayed hidden for nearly two months, Hede and Jialue could once again see daylight. They stood at the doorway waiting for Gu Mengmeng, their smiles even more radiant than the sun.

Having spied Gu Mengmeng from afar, they ran over gleefully. But before they reached her, Elvis said, “You are not allowed to hug my female.”

Those two youngsters stopped dead in their tracks right before Gu Mengmeng.

“Mother...” Jialue pouted in dismay. “Mother, why am I a wolf? I want to be a fox. Sob sob sob... I want to be a fox...”

Gu Mengmeng glared at Elvis. “I already warned you not to bully my sons!”

Elvis sighed. No matter how grownup those four detestable fellows were, Gu Mengmeng would resolutely side with them regardless of right or wrong.

Elvis held his forehead. “I was only worried that they would charge over too vigorously and crash into you. Hug them if you want. I won’t stop it, alright? Don’t be angry. Good girl.”

Gu Mengmeng walked forward herself and looped her own arms through each of her sons’ arms.

Actually, she wanted to hug their necks, but...

“Have you both grown taller again? I am now only as tall as your shoulders... such a blow to my dignity. I will have to look up when scolding my sons. Totally none of a mother’s formidable aura...”

Jialue laid his head childishly on Gu Mengmeng’s shoulder. “No such thing. We will always lower our heads when speaking with mother. Your aura is so strong. Moreover, we are so obedient that we will immediately fall back with just one glare from you. There will never be a need for mother to fly into a rage and scold us. You can’t bear to anyway, right...”

“You really know how to talk.” Gu Mengmeng pinched Jialue’s handsome face, fully contented.

Mmm, a son with a sweet tongue was truly pleasing.

Gu Mengmeng grinned as she walked into Sauder arm-in-arm with her sons.

Behind her, Elvis and Lea exchanged looks. They shook their head in resignation and sighed: These four wolf sons were already a headache. Would there be any space for the two of them when she gives birth to a litter of little foxes in future?

Chapter 1224 - How Do You Intend To Thank Me?

Chapter 1224: How Do You Intend To Thank Me?

“You said Chixuan sent word for you two to hide?” Gu Mengmeng asked as she sat down in the meeting room.

Hede nodded. “Mmm, he also asked us to pretend to have been attacked by stray beasts, and to only come out when mother is back.”

Gu Mengmeng completely failed to understand Chixuan’s line of thinking. She turned to look at Jialue. “So you two just complied without asking any questions?”

Jialue nodded. “He is our brother, so we will hide if he asks us to. I don’t think Second Brother will just play a prank for no good reason. The fact that he didn’t explain shows that it’s just not the right time for us to know the details now. So we just did as we were told. He will definitely explain things to us the next time we meet. Of course, if he was really pranking us for fun... hahaha...”

His laughter meant that he would prank him back tenfold.

Jialue looked as innocent as an angel, but of the four little ones, his heart was the most vicious.

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head to look at Lea. “Do you know what Chixuan is up to?”

Lea chuckled and tapped Gu Mengmeng’s nose. “If you wish to know, let’s go over to Zacharias to ask him?”

“Huh? Don’t do that.” Jialue clutched at Gu Mengmeng’s arm pleadingly. “Mother, how long has it been since we last saw you? You have just returned and want to leave already? Zacharias has no well and it will be the dry season soon. You will suffer if you go over... so stay in Sauder over the drought season before leaving.”

Hede was silent but he also missed Gu Mengmeng a lot. Hence, he entreated. “That’s right. Mother-in-law often talks about you. Since you are here, shouldn’t you go visit her? Joseph and his brothers have all been growing very well. They are so cute now. They are your godsons and will forget all about you if you don’t visit them soon.”

Speaking of Joseph...

Gu Mengmeng felt a chill.

Damn, she felt a spine-chilling coldness every time she recalled how Sandy had wanted to give her that cub to raise as her future husband.

Doing such a despicable thing to a swaddling infant...

Damn Sandy, I treat you as my bosom friend but you take me for a pervert!

Sigh...

Sighing, Gu Mengmeng nodded. “Anyway, you father has just become a Beast King and there should be many wolf beasts joining our tribe during this period. The two of you should take advantage of this dry season to settle this matter. Get your father’s help if you need support in any area.”

Elvis drew Gu Mengmeng back from Hede’s and Jialue’s midst. He embraced her and played with her hair. “Ha, I am the leader of Saint Nazaire, but this is Sauder. Hede is the leader here. Why should I help him settle his affairs? Mmm?”

“He is your son,” Gu Mengmeng replied as a matter-of-fact.

Elvis chuckled. “If a father has to do everything for his son... then ask him to go find Peter. Peter is my father.”

Exasperated, Gu Mengmeng poked Elvis. “You are the Beast King. With great power comes great responsibility, understand? A capable man has to do more. Just help out your son for a bit!”

Elvis just laughed. “It’s not that I can’t help them, but... how do you intend to thank me? Mmm?”

“Thank... thank you with what?” Gu Mengmeng saw the words “you should know” written clearly across Elvis’ eyes. She blushed. Damn, she instantly realized what he was hinting at.

Elvis blew gently into Gu Mengmeng’s ear. “I am a rightful Beast King but needs to clean up after my son’s messy affairs... it’s such a humiliating chore. Shouldn’t I be rewarded if I have to stoop so low just to make you happy? My Queen.”

Chapter 1225 - : I Don't Like People Threatening My Mother

Chapter 1225: I Don't Like People Threatening My Mother

“No need. We can settle things on our own.” Jialue stepped forward imperiously. “Also, my most venerable Beast King, I don’t like people threatening my mother... not even if you were just flirting.”

Yes, because of Cole and Chixuan, the four little ones were extremely sensitive about others using themselves to corner Gu Mengmeng. It was like a minefield with skull and crossbones symbols plastered all over— whoever stepped inside would be blasted to pieces.

Elvis was just flirting with Gu Mengmeng and didn’t think so much.

He was displeased at Jialue’s claim that he was threatening Gu Mengmeng. Even more vexing was the fact that although he could have easily annihilated Jialue—he was unable to harm even a single hair on him.

“That is best.” Elvis smirked. “I don’t want my sons to be useless bums. Needing to rely on their parents’ status and background to eke out a living in the Beast World.”

With that, he left carrying Gu Mengmeng.

Jialue and Jialue didn’t pursue them. They knew very well that they were now adult beasts. Under normal circumstances, beasts at their age would have already struck out on their own and no longer maintained relations with their mother and her family. They would be an independent entity and completely responsible for their own life and future.

But Gu Mengmeng was different from the other females—she had given the four brothers a mother’s love and warmth, like large pair of gentle hands sheltering them. Now, they could not bear to leave her or stray too far off.

That was why they had chosen to settle down in a place that their mother would definitely return to. Here they stayed, waiting for their mother to come back, so that they could once again see her loving smile, her unwavering support and her self-sacrificing protection.

Nevertheless, they should also know their limits.

They could no longer willfully clamor around their mother like when they were little kids.

So when Elvis carried Gu Mengmeng off, they knew they should not go after them. They were no longer children living under the protection of their parents. They were no longer babies who could go whining to their mother after being bullied by Elvis and Lea. They were now strong sons who were going to stand beside their mother to help her hold up the sky.

After Elvis became a wolf king, there was one thing Gu Mengmeng was really unused to: no matter where he went, a pack of wolves would be following right behind...

How should she put it?

It was like being bringing your dog out without collar and leash. You would feel especially ill-at-ease.

After all, huskies were a breed well-known for running away.

Elvis pinched Gu Mengmeng's cheek and turned her face towards himself. He said in a stern voice, "I will not allow another wolf to come into our family, and none of them have the guts to become a beast pet in the wolf king's household. So there's no need for you to look. If you like the beast form, I will morph for you. Mmm?"

Gu Mengmeng held her forehead, completely speechless.

After Elvis became a Beast King, his domineering side had been enhanced a bit too quickly.

He used to be rather quiet in the past, but was now rather glib.

It seemed like he had totally discarded the “debonair manners of a first partner”.

Although this felt pretty good as Gu Mengmeng rather enjoyed Elvis’ possessiveness—why was he treating her like some sort of pervert?!

Never mind if he was guarded against other beasts, but he was now wary of even your common wild animals?!

Gu Mengmeng placed two hands on Elvis’ shoulders and smiled. “Hubby, you are the great wolf king. I already have you as my partner, why would I fancy any other wolf? Am I right?”

Elvis’ lips curled up in a light smile as he nodded approvingly. “My Queen has good taste.”

Chapter 1226 - I Miss You So Much!

Chapter 1226: I Miss You So Much!

Gu Mengmeng's habit was that she would always go visit Sandy first after arriving at Sauder. This was her usual practice which didn't need any prior announcement.

With a pack of wolves following Elvis, it was not convenient for him to head over to Sandy's. Hence, he had no choice but to hand Gu Mengmeng over to Lea, while he took this opportunity to go settle some of his wolf king affairs.

At the borders of Sandy's territory, Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng. "Don't chat too long with Sandy and don't bring back any of her cubs, mmm?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded with a smile, before hugging Elvis' neck as she kissed him. "Go settle your wolf pack matters. I will return to the stone castle after visiting Sandy."

Elvis tightened his grip on Gu Mengmeng's hand. He rubbed his chin in the crook of Gu Mengmeng's neck. "If anything happens, just knock on my mark. I will rush over."

Gu Mengmeng laughed. "Have you forgotten? I am also a Beast King."

"As powerful as you are, you are still my female. There is no way I won't be worried." Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng on the brow again. "Be a good girl."

"Alright, I know." If Gu Mengmeng didn't promise, Elvis would pester her the entire day and she wouldn't be able to go visit Sandy anymore, while he wouldn't be able to go settle his affairs."

Still reluctant, Elvis finally handed her over to Lea. “Take good care of her.”

“Yes Lord Wolf King.” Lea teased before carrying Gu Mengmeng and continuing onto Sandy’s house.

Mmm, this was the advantage of being a witch doctor—he could go anywhere and enter any territory.

Sandy could hardly sit still on hearing that Gu Mengmeng had returned. She had been pacing up and down the entrance of her home. If not for Collin holding her back and telling her that Gu Mengmeng, as the Messenger of the Beast Deity, would definitely have to settle some official matters on arriving in Sauder and that Sandy’s presence would be a disruption—Sandy would have immediately dashed over to the meeting room to find her.

The moment she spied Gu Mengmeng, the corners of Sandy’s lips lifted subconsciously. Her smile was as lovely as the a spring breeze in March, warm and soothing.

Gu Mengmeng jumped down from Lea’s arms and ran to hug Sandy. The two of them were already mothers but still full of girlish enthusiasm. They held each others’ hands and exchanged foolish smiles. They had a gazillion things to tell each other, but it all merged into just one sentence: “I miss you so much!”

While Gu Mengmeng and Sandy basked in each others’ company, Elvis sat on a huge rock upon an empty space in one corner of Sauder. Indolent and calm, his eyes were as placid and boundless as the the night sky. There was no emotion at all on his face, with only the slightest furrowing of his brows indicating that he was impatient of the current proceedings.

Nearly a hundred beasts stood in the empty space, all of them single wolf beasts attracted by the Beast King. Elvis could even feel that there were some partnered wolf beasts who were trying to convince their own partners to go to Sauder and be under Elvis’ protection.

“Lord Wolf king, please consider this carefully. We should have a territory that belongs to us. With your present status, how could we stay together with the other races?” One of the wolf beasts spoke up.

Yes, the first problem that Elvis had to face was the matter of racial territories.

There had only been one Beast King in the past, and that was Snakel.

So Snakel’s behavior had become the standard to which all new Beast Kings had to adhere to.

Snakel created a Snake King valley where all snake beasts living inside enjoyed the protection of the Beast King. So now, the wolf beasts felt that they should also have their own territory. It could be called Wolf King Valley or Wolf King Mountains, or something like that...

But there was no way they could mix around with the other races who had no Beast King.

Chapter 1227 - Lord Wolf King Is Not To Be Provoked

Chapter 1227: Lord Wolf King Is Not To Be Provoked

The wolf beasts had a very simple way of thinking. Why should the Snake King Snakel have his own territory while their much revered Wolf King didn't?

But they overlooked one very important detail, and that was Snakel had no partner.

And when Snakel first went to the Snake King valley, it was still not the Snake King valley then. It was just that Snakel had wandered aimlessly across the world for hundreds of years, and was really very tired by the time he arrived there. Plus the weather conditions there were just right. In Snakel's view, anywhere in the Beast World was the same—and so, too lazy to move on, he had just settled down there.

Thereafter, snake beasts were attracted by the Beast King and slowly gathered there to form the so-called Snake King valley.

Snakel had never said that no one else was allowed to step into the Snake King valley. It was just that his “reputation” preceded him so much so such that apart from snake beasts, no one else dared to go near him. As the years went by, that place slowly became a restricted area in the Beast World. No one dared to step foot inside anymore.

But Elvis' situation was different. He had Gu Mengmeng. Although everywhere in the Beast World was also the same to him—as long as Gu Mengmeng liked traveling through the sights, he would not restrict her to any one valley or mountain.

He became a Beast King just so he could let his Xiao Meng do whatever she wished to do, and not have to do anything she didn't.

If Gu Mengmeng was going to be restricted because of his status as a Beast King, wouldn't that be in contrary to everything he had worked so hard for?

Saint Nazaire was their "home". The cave which allowed Lea and him to enter hand-in-hand with Gu Mengmeng every single time they went back. And so this cave now held a special meaning to them. No matter how busy they were, Xiao Meng would return annually to Saint Nazaire, which she would always refer to as returning home.

Xiao Meng had also said that she wanted to find blocks of black bricks and large stones to build a shady inn selling roasted human meat buns. He had promised her and would fulfill this promise one day.

The stray beast camp had a vineyard and Xiao Meng loved those grapes. Every year during the rainy season, he would get some grapes to brew some wine for Xiao Meng... although Lea was very troublesome when drunk—seeing a usually cunning fox become as clumsy as a dog was also a rather amusing sight.

There were still many places where he needed to accompany Xiao Meng to. How could he go into seclusion just because he had become a Beast King, and create a prison for himself?

He lifted his eyes and stared at the chattering wolf beasts. Elvis' eyes turned cold as he radiated an undeniably oppressive aura.

The entire crowd immediately went silent as they gazed timidly at Elvis.

Elvis' hand gently rubbed his own ear as he said, "That place was called the Snake King valley because Snakel lived there. It was not that Snakel had to live there because it was the Snake King valley. Understand?"

The wolf beasts felt that Elvis' statement was rather confusing. They lowered their heads in silence as they repeated his words a few times before somewhat understanding his meaning. They then nodded.

Elvis continued. “One more thing. I think you all are still not clear about this.”

His lips curled up slightly, with a of trace chilling bloodthirstiness. Elvis’ eyes didn’t hold a shred of warmth. “It is you folks who need me, and so followed me. In my eyes, you are just ants. Not worth a mention. So don’t interfere with my life... ha, if any of you poses the slightest bit of nuisance to my female, and make her feel uncomfortable—I have no qualms making fish food out of all of you.”

Elvis stood up. “Any one of you who cannot obey me unquestioningly or doesn’t wish to die by my hand—you can get lost now.”

Chapter 1228 - I Like The Way You Call Me To Your Side

Chapter 1228: I Like The Way You Call Me To Your Side

With that, Elvis swept a cold glance across the faces of the crowd.

Ha, have they realized their own place? Did they think gathering by the Beast King's side was like joining a new tribe? That as long they were strong enough, they could make any request they wanted to the leader?

Dream on.

Elvis jumped off from the rock and cut a path through the crowd of wolf beasts. He strolled along casually as he said, "Today is the first time I am meeting you all as a Beast King, so I have magnanimously used up all my patience here. There won't be another chance for such a meeting in future. So... you are all on your own now."

No longer in the mood for this nonsense, Elvis fixed his gaze upon a target: in the direction of Sandy's house.

He had already wasted enough time here. All he wanted to do now was to hug Gu Mengmeng tight and kiss her.

He traveled like the wind and by the time he arrived at the borders of Sandy's territory, he saw Gu Mengmeng and Sandy sitting at the entrance chatting away.

Sauder was not like Saint Nazaire. Sandy's territory only extended less than 20 meters beyond the cave entrance—and this was already considered spacious as Sandy enjoyed a close relationship with Gu Mengmeng and had special privileges under Hede.

Elvis was just approaching when Gu Mengmeng turned and met his gaze. She then smiled happily at him.

That smile dazzled Elvis. His previously malevolent expression instantly dispelled as he returned her smile. Warm and tender, he looked completely different from that murderous Beast King earlier.

“Sandy, can I call Elvis over?” Gu Mengmeng tugged Sandy’s hand.

Sandy wrinkled her nose. “Why so courteous with me? When have I never let one of your family members come and go as they please to my territory?”

Gu Mengmeng smiled sweetly. “We might be close but we must still show each other basic courtesy.”

Sandy pinched Gu Mengmeng’s waist playfully. “So particular.”

Sandy’s pinch was light and tickled Gu Mengmeng, who tried to duck with a laugh. “So can I or not?”

“Yes, yes, yes. Hurry up and invite your great wolf king in.” Sandy smiled. “Let me tell you this once and for all. In future when you come visit me, just walk straight in and bring whomever you wish to bring. Don’t make me give permission over and over again. It’s so troublesome and a waste of my saliva.”

Gu Mengmeng glanced at Bode, who was standing at the side. “What kind of first partner are you? Didn’t you hear that my Sandy is thirsty? Why aren’t you bringing some water over here now?”

Bode was very annoyed but he dared not retort. He had no choice but to obediently go get some water.

Only then did Gu Mengmeng wave Elvis over. “You already heard Sandy say you can come in, why are you still standing there?”

Elvis’ expression as he gazed upon Gu Mengmeng was especially warm and tender. He stepped toward Gu Mengmeng and drew her straight into his arms. Nuzzling the crook of her neck, he greedily breathed in her sweet scent. “I did hear her, but was waiting for you to wave at me. I like the way you call me to your side. A very lovely sight.”

Gu Mengmeng leaned her head against Elvis’ chest and said in a soft voice, “I also like the way you walk towards me. Very handsome. It was just like this when we first met. Those first few steps you took towards me—it was like you were a comic book character come to life. Step by step, you shattered all my reservations and preconceived notions.”

Chapter 1229 - Gu Mengmeng, I Have Something To Discuss With You.

Chapter 1229: Gu Mengmeng, I Have Something To Discuss With You.

Elvis chuckled and gave Gu Mengmeng a deep kiss. “My Queen, I can’t control myself when you talk like that... or do you want to go back to the stone castle now?”

Gu Mengmeng gave Elvis a gentle shove. “It’s only the afternoon now. I want to stay here and have dinner with Sandy.”

“What about me?” Elvis looked very aggrieved.

Gu Mengmeng replied, “Of course you will also stay on and eat together with us. Auretin and Collin have already gone hunting. With their strong hunting capabilities, do you need to worry about not having enough meat to eat?”

“But I feel like eating you more.” Elvis nuzzled intimately against Gu Mengmeng’s neck again.

Gu Mengmeng blushed. “Tsk, Sandy is here.”

“Ha, she was the one who helped us bring up Hede and his brothers. Do you think she doesn’t know we have had relations? Mmm?”

Gu Mengmeng’s blush deepened. Knowing was one thing, but seeing it was another?

It was just like those three leopard cubs playing nearby. Mum and Dad were both standing in front of Gu Mengmeng, but she did not wish to witness the process which gave rise to those cubs.

That would be so awkward!

“Spout more nonsense and I won’t let you stay for dinner. Go home and eat by yourself.”

Elvis knew that Gu Mengmeng would really get angry if he continued to tease her. Since he had already seen her getting bashful over him, he tactfully stood down. Pinching Gu Mengmeng’s little nose, he said, “Alright, I won’t say anything more. Don’t struggle and just obediently sit in my lap. The ground is cold.”

Seeing that Elvis had stopped teasing her, Gu Mengmeng also compromised and stopped struggling.

After all, she loved being in Elvis’ embrace. Leaning against him just felt so comforting and secure.

Perhaps she had gotten used to him carrying her wherever she went. Earlier, she had felt rather lost and uneasy when she was sitting on that rock without him.

Now that his bodily warmth was once again surrounding her, she just felt very snug and cosy.

Sandy covered a smile. More than anyone else, she hoped to see Gu Mengmeng, Elvis and Lea love each other harmoniously. As long as Gu Mengmeng was blissful, she felt happy herself.

Tugging at Gu Mengmeng’s little hand, she said, “Gu Mengmeng, I have something to discuss with you.”

Gu Mengmeng glanced at her sideways. “What is it? What’s so serious that you even need to use such a formal word as ‘discuss’?”

Generally, Sandy would just directly say “Gu Mengmeng, I wish to blah blah blah...”. Even when she first decided to stay in Sauder and not return to Saint Nazaire with her—she had not used the word “discuss”.

Sandy looked at Elvis and then at Bode, who had just brought over a cup of water for her. “I wish to choose a few partners from the wolf race.”

Gu Mengmeng was shocked. She instinctively glanced at Bode.

Bode twisted his lips but kept silent.

Gu Mengmeng gave an awkward laugh. “This matter... shouldn’t you be discussing this with your own males? Why are you discussing it with me...”

Sandy lowered her head with a faint smile. “You are still the same. You know so many things that others would never understand, but remain ignorant of the customs in the Beast World.”

Gu Mengmeng tilted her head in puzzlement. Sandy exhaled before continuing. “In the Beast World, females do not need the permission of their males to choose new partners. Females will despise and even abandon males who try to interfere and stop them from taking on new partners.”

“Ah...” An “I remember” expression flashed past Gu Mengmeng’s face. She did know of this fact. It was just that no matter how long she had been here, she was still not used to such a view on love and marriage.

Chapter 1230 - Sandy's Marriage of Alliance

Chapter 1230: Sandy's Marriage of Alliance

Sandy looked seriously at Gu Mengmeng. "In the past, I only took on males whom I liked as my partners, which is why I have so few partners. My stubbornness restricted my family's power, such that when danger approaches, my partners ended up getting injured over and over again as they endured a one-sided battle. Consequently, my family was reduced from nine to the current four... now that I have these three little ones, I cannot continue being so willful. It is my duty to raise the powers of my family, so I have decided to add more members."

Gu Mengmeng twisted her lips but didn't interrupt.

She could not accept the Beast World's notions on love, but she also could not force others to abide by her own views.

Sandy was not Gu Mengmeng. Her partners were also not as perversely powerful as Elvis and Lea.

She was unable to stay by Sandy's side forever to protect her. So what right did she have to stop her from getting new partners to raise the powers of her family?

Gu Mengmeng tugged at Sandy's little hand. "Whatever decision you make, as long as it makes you happy, I will support you."

Sandy smiled. "I had planned to get new partners during the rainy season, so that our family will have a few more helpers when stockpiling food. Bode and the rest would not have to work so hard then. But now... since I have to take in new partners anyway, why not get a few wolf beasts."

Gu Mengmeng thought about it for a moment before suddenly understanding Sandy's intentions. Her smile froze, to be replaced by an aching tenderness.

"You want to use your own partnering to boost the relations between the wolf race and Sauder?" Gu Mengmeng frowned. "Sandy, I don't object to you raising your family's power or taking in new partners. But I don't want you to sacrifice yourself... after all, I still hope that you can choose a partner that you like."

Sandy cast a lingering look at Collin, who was just returning with Auretin. Both of them were carrying hunted game. Her gaze was warm and gentle. "I already have those whom I really like by my side now, don't I? Any new partner I choose now will be solely based on their capabilities. Wolf beasts are an outsider race. Their sudden influx will definitely create friction with the snow foxes. Plus the 16 tribes that returned last year—the three sides must be integrated... Hede's job as a leader will be no easy task. The relations with the snow foxes are very complex and intertwined, and not something which I can interfere with. Meanwhile, the 16 tribes are keeping their distance from us because of Auretin. It will be too difficult trying to convince them..."

Sighing, Sandy smiled at Gu Mengmeng. "The wolf race is different. Elvis is the wolf king, while Hede and Jialue are the young masters of the wolf race. It's just that the current powers of the two youngsters are still inadequate. All is well when Elvis is around, but you and Elvis will not be in Sauder all the time. When you leave, I am worried that Hede and Jialue—these two first-level young punks—will not be able to control that pack of wolf beasts... by then, the situation will be even more chaotic."

For this past year, Sandy had done all she could to look after Hede and Jialue. She had more or less gifted Collin over to those two young punks, as she was worried that they would be at an disadvantage in the outside world. She had fretted over them even more than Gu Mengmeng herself.

Having undergone much trials and tribulations—this formerly naive and carefree little female was now gradually able to understand and analyze situations better.

Too many things had happened this past year. Without realizing it, Sandy had matured.

Gu Mengmeng's heart ached for Sandy's maturation, which had only come about from the gradual accumulation of pain and suffering.

Chapter 1231 - I Am Already Having Wild Thoughts.

Chapter 1231: I Am Already Having Wild Thoughts.

It was the essence of time left behind after pain and suffering.

And this kind of growth was irreversible.

It was like how Snakel's death aged Gu Mengmeng by a thousand years overnight. Elvis and Lea took two years to gradually pull her out of that abyss.

How much love and affection had they poured into her to rebuild her former innocent manner. But only Gu Mengmeng herself knew that there were some things which were irreversible. She had to continuously remind herself to be happy, to be cheerful. She could not let her own emotions drag down the people around her. But this pressure was slowly tearing her apart. One side of her struggling to maintain a smile during the day. The other side of her secretly crying at night.

How many times in her dreams had she seen Elvis carrying her broken body into the cave, after she had been torn into by Ellie. He would say as he kissed her "seems like one would really get their retribution for teasing a married woman... it is like cutting one's chest open to take their heart out...". She would always wake up in fright after that. But apart from widening her eyes, she dared not even sit up or cry out, for fear of letting Elvis and Lea discover that she was having nightmares again.

Then what about Sandy?

Only four of her original nine partners were left. Did it mean that Sandy had endured five times the pain that Gu Mengmeng had gone through? After all, she only took on males whom she liked.

This type of growing up—how could Gu Mengmeng’s heart not ache for her?

Gu Mengmeng continued to hold Sandy’s little hand, but she didn’t know what to say to comfort her.

Only those who had experienced the same thing could understand just how meaningless those easily-spouted words of comfort were?

Anyone who had never been stabbed could easily say “How painful could that be? Just bear with it and it would pass.”

Sandy smiled back. “Don’t worry, I am fine already.”

Gu Mengmeng jumped down from Elvis’ arm and hugged Sandy. “Mmm, I believe you.”

Sandy returned Gu Mengmeng’s hug. She gave a loud exhale, as if finally expelling all the pain and suffering she had kept suppressed inside her.

She then sat up straight again and continued. “My current way of thinking is to choose a few powerful males from the wolf beasts. Ideally those who can be promoted to the fourth-level after partnering. In this way, by the time you all leave after the drought season, Hede and Jialue will someone they can use. Given their own status plus the power of my partners, I believe no wolf beast would dare show any disloyalty.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “You are saying you wish to enhance your family’s power, but in reality, you are entering into a marriage of alliance with the wolf race?”

Sandy gave a light smile. “Marriage of alliance is true. But it is also true that I wish to enhance my family’s power. I asked to discuss this with you as I was afraid you will misunderstand and let your thoughts run wild.”

Gu Mengmeng pinched Sandy. “I am already having wild thoughts.”

Sandy shook her head. “Stop having those thoughts then.”

Gu Mengmeng said, “Elvis is the wolf king and he is my partner. To the wolf race, this is already the best marriage of alliance. You really don’t need to sacrifice yourself.”

Sandy smiled. “But you won’t be at Sauder all the time. I am the closest to the wolf king’s family and so am the best choice for a marriage of alliance, aren’t I? I had planned all along to choose new partners anyway. And because of my ties to you and Elvis, my range of choices have widened a lot despite the fact that I am only a half-beast female. From this point of view, I am the one benefiting. How come you are acting like I am being treated unfairly?”

Gu Mengmeng pouted. According to the ways of the Beast World, Sandy’s words were true. But she still felt very uncomfortable about it.

Chapter 1232 - : Scumbag? Non-Existent.

Chapter 1232: Scumbag? Non-Existent.

After returning from Sandy's place, Gu Mengmeng asked Elvis as she snuggled in his arms, "Are the matters concerning the wolf tribe very troublesome?"

Elvis shook his head. "There's nothing that needs to be settled within the wolf tribe. I am the wolf king and they don't dare to oppose me. So I just had to inform them of my rules. There's nothing to be troublesome about."

Ha, when one was so powerful, things could be settled easily by force.

"That's good. Otherwise they would take up too much of your time." Gu Mengmeng leaned against Elvis' chest listlessly.

How could Elvis not tell that she was in a troubled state? He asked her softly, "Are you worried about Sandy?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded.

Elvis said, "It doesn't matter which wolf beast becomes Sandy's partner. As long as I am alive, no one will dare to bully her. So you don't need to worry."

Gu Mengmeng pursed her lips. "But what if he does not have a good personality? What if he is a scumbag? What if he has an ulterior motive for getting close to Sandy?"

Gu Mengmeng had told Elvis many stories about the present world, and so he had a rather clear understanding of the meaning of the term "scumbag".

He chuckled and caressed Gu Mengmeng's little head. "Don't you know what happens to a male in the Beast World after he becomes a partner?"

Gu Mengmeng was momentarily taken aback before also breaking out into a smile.

That's right, what was she worried about?

Males in the Beast World lost all sense of self after becoming a partner. They would keep pandering to their females and cater to all their whims.

Elvis and Lea were like that. Bode and Collin were like that. Even Nina's eagle partner Quentin was like that.

Scumbag? Non-existent.

Gu Mengmeng's mood improved a lot at this thought.

From an objective point of view, Sandy's way of thinking was mature and logical. There was no reason for Gu Mengmeng to stop her. But as a bosom friend, she felt that it was her duty to carry out a thorough check on this. Hence she looped her arms around Elvis' neck and asked, "Didn't you meet with them this afternoon? Were there any outstanding candidates? Honest and strong? It would be best if he is also handsome, understanding, warm and caring."

Elvis smiled in exasperation. "Do you think they would have had the chance to display all those qualities in front of me?"

Erm...

Gu Mengmeng silently agreed.

Yes, which male would present his understanding, warm and caring side to Elvis? That image was too fantastical... he would probably be smacked to death by Elvis.

Gu Mengmeng felt somewhat conflicted. Why not... should she go over to the wolf tribe to conduct a preliminary survey? But it was pretty inappropriate for her to go in her current status. What if the males there misunderstood and thought that she was looking for a new partner for herself? In the Beast World, taking the initiative to appear in front of an all-single male crowd was a clear signal.

She did not wish to attract any amorous attentions. If a male misunderstood and tried something funny, Elvis might really end up killing him.

Lea pinched Gu Mengmeng's little hand. "Our Elvis being promoted to a wolf king is such a major event. Shouldn't we hold a bonfire party to celebrate?"

Gu Mengmeng's eyes brightened. Yes! Bonfire party!

Bonfire parties had always been a great chance for single males to find a match. She now had an official way to help Sandy pick a new partner.

Lea instantly knew what Gu Mengmeng was thinking by the look on her face. He kissed her on the forehead. "You must be tired out today. Rest well tonight and we will hold the bonfire party tomorrow night. Let me settle the snow foxes and the 16 tribes. Elvis will handle the wolf tribe."

Chapter 1233 - A Mother's Worth Depends On Her Daughter

Chapter 1233: A Mother's Worth Depends On Her Daughter

Elvis shot a glance at the wolves around him. One of them immediately turned around and ran off, seemingly to send a message.

The next day, for the whole day, Elvis stayed with Gu Mengmeng at Sandy's house and discussed about the night campfire party, while Lea had to host the event as he was the witch doctor.

Sauder originally had a witch doctor, but he was killed by Cole.

The 16 tribes also had their own witch doctor but none of them were convinced by one another, so it was a huge problem deciding who to host the event. As such, Lea had to organise it himself.

With the three identities as the male partner of the messenger of the beast deity, Sauder's Ninth Highness and family member of the Wolf King, all the strong powers had to give in to him.

Regarding this, Auretin was the one with the greatest disagreement.

He had an unpleasant expression for the entire day, as if he wanted to bite anyone he met.

Originally, he was fed three times a day but it had been reduced to only dinner, so he could not be any more upset.

But...

No one seemed to care.

During evening, Gu Mengmeng already could not wait and dragged Sandy to the site of the night campfire party to reserve a good spot.

But, she was the messenger of the beast deity and her reserved spot was the center, how else could there be a better spot?

As for Sandy, even though she was only a half-beast, as she was always stuck close to Gu Mengmeng, they did not have to reserve any spot since no one dared to fight with them over it.

But Sandy did not stop Gu Mengmeng. After all, ever since Snakel died, Gu Mengmeng had never been this excited before.

Previously, when she was giving birth, the tribe members were all joking that if not because they were sure that Gu Mengmeng was a female, they would have thought that Lea was the one giving birth instead.

This time, it was also the same. She was the one choosing a partner, but Gu Mengmeng was the one who was even more concerned and nervous. She had even starting to bite her nails when she mentioned her anxiety.

But it was exactly this clumsy Gu Mengmeng that was so reliable in times of danger and had once and again saved herself.

It seemed like no matter how catastrophic an event was, so long as she was around, Sandy could be at ease.

When the two of them appeared at the site of the night campfire party, it sparked off some commotion.

After all, the 16 tribes and Wolf clan has for the first time, participated in a night campfire party whereby Gu Mengmeng was present. Especially after Elvis had been promoted by a level, their family clan's influence in the Beast World became even more prominent.

The messenger of the beast deity was really so great – her first partner was a Beast King, her pursuer was a Beast King and even she herself was a Beast King...

This Beast World only had three beast kings and she had attracted them all.

But all these were just things that no one dared to say in front of her.

To Gu Mengmeng's left was Sandy, whereas Rae was on her right and in her arms was a small little snow fox. It was a young female born last winter and was younger than six months old, so it did not have a form yet. But her parents were all complete beasts so the possibility of it being a complete female was high.

With such a young female in Sauder now, it was definitely more precious than Philly and Lacey who gave birth to two nests of young male. After all, a mother was precious only because of her daughter.

So based on the beauty contest rule that Gu Mengmeng set at Saint Nazaire during the end of winter that year, Rae became the First Beauty of Sauder and had the right to stay by Gu Mengmeng's side.

"Great Messenger," Rae approached with a smile and looked at Great Messenger, a little embarrassed, and said, "this is the young female that I gave birth to this winter. May I please request Great Messenger to give her a name?"

Chapter 1234 - Daji

Chapter 1234: Daji

It was not difficult for Gu Mengmeng to tell that Rae had put up an act of force in front of the 16 tribes and wolf tribe. She was proving that the snow fox tribe was the most closely related to Gu Mengmeng, as they were the messengers tribe since the last time the messenger of the beast deity was alive. Now that their Ninth Highness was the partner of the messenger of the beast deity, the young female of the snow fox tribe could then be worthy of asking for a name from the messenger.

This was the reason that Gu Mengmeng had declined with resolute when Oakley asked if she wanted to take control over the Beast World. Once you are on a higher position, you would never be able to be free from conflicts. All the schemes would be plotted at you and you would be unable to avoid them at all.

But...

If she had declined Rae's request that day, the young female in her arms would lead a tragic life of 'not being liked by the messenger'.

Because if the messenger did not like her, it would mean that the Beast Deity would not care about her, so who would dare want a young female like that?

Gu Mengmeng sighed and reached out, saying, "let me carry her."

Rae was delighted when she handed over the young female to Gu Mengmeng. Ha, she was really soft and tender.

Her fur was white and soft. The little fellow was so comfortable in Gu Mengmeng's arms that she gave out a soft purr and looked up with her narrowed eyes. Using her tail to curl around Gu Mengmeng, the little fellow rolled up into a ball in Gu Mengmeng's arms and even licked her fingers. As she did so, she looked extremely well-behaved and adorable.

Ah, this made Gu Mengmeng even more reluctant to let go.

After all, her sons had grown up. After knowing that Sandy had once thought of choosing one of them among Joseph and his brothers to become her child husband, she did not dare to carry others' young male that carelessly anymore.

Furthermore...

Even though Lea and Elvis had often transformed into their beast form to satisfy her fur fetish, the difference in cuteness between an adult fox and a young fox was really too great.

Anything would seem even cuter in smaller size.

Seeing the little fellow in her arms, Gu Mengmeng became even more gentle and did not bother about Rae's plot.

"You are asking me this so suddenly, so I am quite unprepared. After all, I am not really skilled at coming up with names..."

Rae frowned and her face was full of disappointment.

Gu Mengmeng laughed softly, then continued, "so let's just use a name out there. Our world has a fox who is well-known for her beauty and everyone knows her. I think that this little fellow would be even more beautiful when she grows up, so let's just use her name."

The Messenger of the Beast Deity was going to steal a name for her child! And she was going to steal it from the Beast Deity World!

Rae's eyes lit up so brightly instantly.

Gu Mengmeng laughed and teased the little fox, "how about naming you Daji? Hmm?"

“Chir chir chir” the little fox called out using its babyish voice.

Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Rae as she could not understand.

Rae was almost crying from laughter. She knelt on the ground and kowtowed to express her gratitude. “Daji says that she likes this name a lot, thank you for bestowing this name on her, Great Messenger.”

Gu Mengmeng held Rae up and said, “alright, I have given her a name, you should bring the child back.”

Rae pursed her lips and cautiously said, as she looked down, “about that...”

“Is there anything else?” Gu Mengmeng was displeased as she did not like people who were insatiable.

Rae nodded and did not dare to look at Gu Mengmeng’s face, so she could not tell that she was already impatient. She continued to lower her head and say, “I heard that the Great Messenger had arranged an engagement between your child and Sister Sandy’s child, but because her child had been all males, it did not happen. Uh... if Great Messenger does not mind...”

Chapter 1235 - Hede's Child Wife

Chapter 1235: Hede's Child Wife

F! She had her eyes on her son, right?!

Gu Mengmeng widened her eyes, feeling unimaginably queer.

Actually, her son was over two years old this year and came to this world two years earlier than this girl. They could actually marry at their age.

But the problem was, her son had become a first-level orc and looked the age of two high-school students combined. While the one lying there....should still be biting on a pacifier and wearing diapers. She really could not accept this.

But...

The proportion of females had such a great disparity in the Beast World, perhaps raising a child wife was not that bad either.

Gu Mengmeng was pretty hesitant. She wanted to consent to it but she was scared that Hede and his brother did not like to organize weddings.

Rae did not know what Gu Mengmeng meant when remaining silent so she could only make up her mind and add, "If the Great Messenger doesn't despise, we can hand Daji over to be raised by leader Hede. If the two of them nurture feelings together since young, they will definitely interact well with each other in the future. And moreover, with the Great Messenger's personal guidance, Daji will grow to be an outstanding female."

She meant that you can bring her back home and raise her now. Then, educate her with whichever method you like and raise her to be a daughter-in-law you are satisfied with. Is this what she mean?

To be very honest, Gu Mengmeng was tempted!

She peeked at Hede who was watching on in deep interest. Although Rae pointed out that she wanted Hede, no matter how little females there were, she couldn't possibly just give any of her sons so easily, right?

Hede smiled calmly and walked to Gu Mengmeng, saying, "Mother, I'm just a first-level orc. I need to settle duties in the tribe and think of ways to quickly level-up. I really don't have the time and energy to take care of a female. However, since Rae has such heartfelt intentions, it won't be nice to reject her too. Why don't we place Daji at Mother-in-law's house for the time being. On one hand, it's convenient for us to nurture feelings and on the other hand, if any sudden circumstances crop up in the future, it won't taint Daji's reputation too. Regarding the issue on mating, let's decide it when Daji is older."

Placing her at Sandy's house was the most appropriate solution.

Because Sandy did not belong to any of the three powers. She was a firm Gu Mengmeng's supporter, other than Gu Mengmeng, she would not side anyone. Moreover, the Messenger's four sons were usually raised at Sandy's home and the entire tribe knew that Hede and Jialue still called Sandy their Mother-in-law, that meant that their wife would be a female raised by Sandy.

So, handing Daji to be raised by Sandy meant that their engagement was more or less decided upon.

And furthermore, as long as Daji was at Sandy's home, Rae would have opportunities and reasons to take her relationship with Sandy to a higher level. That way, it would naturally be the best scenario to the snow fox tribe.

So, Rae did not object to it as she just casted her gaze to Sandy and asked, smiling, "Sister Sandy, I'll trouble you with Daji then."

How could Sandy not know what plan Hede had? She smiled and glared at Hede but did not expose him as she just nodded, replying, "It's no trouble, I like kids anyways."

Thus, they settled on this matter.

Since Daji would be raised in Sandy's home and Gu Mengmeng need not return her to Rae, she could cup her in her arms and dot on her lovingly, occasionally giving Lea a gaze, clearly saying, 'You don't allow me to give birth but I still have ways to play around'.

Ah, this little ball of fluff may be her daughter-in-law in the future...

Ha ha, a Mother-in-law who cuddled her daughter-in-law since young, Gu Mengmeng felt that she was becoming a God.

After settling Daji, Rae did not dare to disturb Gu Mengmeng any further because Lea's expression was starting to turn bad. If she did not leave any sooner, this Ninth Highness would start to talk and once he talked....ha ha, the superiority she just fought for would disappear without any left.

Chapter 1236 - You're Not Allowed To Carry Her Home.

Chapter 1236: You're Not Allowed To Carry Her Home.

After Rae retracted back to her own campfire, Lea pinched Gu Mengmeng's little face and ordered, "You're not allowed to carry her home."

"Why?" Gu Mengmeng felt really wronged.

Today, Sandy was going to choose her partner and she would definitely have some intercourse at night. Daji was a little custard bun and a female one, how inconvenient would it be for Sandy to bring her back.

"Let whoever it is take care of his own wife. Elvis and I would not take care of a female other than you."

"Then, I'll take care of her."

"You're not free."

"I'm free!' Gu Mengmeng insisted!

Lea chuckled and said, "If you carry her back, I'll ensure that you're not free for the next three days."

Damn it, Gu Mengmeng became a coward again.

"Hmph! I'll not carry her home then!"

Lea smiled and said, "Good."

After Lea finished speaking, he walked to the center of where the campfires were surrounding.

Today's campfire was deliberately set up like this. Sauder's original nine snow fox females, together with the 42 females from the 16 tribes, as well as, Sandy and Gu Mengmeng, made up a total of 53 campfires which were laid up in a big circle. There was a vast empty spot in the middle where fresh rice straws grew.

Lea stood in the middle of the empty spot and said, "Today, we hold a night campfire party in celebration of the birth of another beast king in the Beast World. Thank you Beast Deity for bestowing us strength and thank you Beast Deity for leading us towards hope."

"Thank you Great Beast Deity, thank you Great Messenger!"

The earthshaking howls made Gu Mengmeng feel that she was situated in a cult.

She smiled awkwardly and remained silent.

Lea waited for everyone to shout the slogan for a few times before gesturing a stop sign. Then, he continued, "Sauder had grown stronger these two years and a lot of fresh blood was added to our tribe. Just nice, we can make use of this opportunity to learn from one another. It will be easier for us to nurture some teamwork when we're more familiar."

After Lea finished speaking, he gave an evil smile.

This smile made all present males reach a mutual unsaid understanding.

The fiery war fire grew bolder instantly. All males started burning with eagerness as they clenched their fists tight. The atmosphere caused even Elvis to contract his muscles as he felt a desire to rush forward and engage in a murderous round of battle.

Gu Mengmeng poked Elvis and Elvis cleared his throat awkwardly, explaining himself, "It's my natural battle instinct, I'm already used to it...."

Gu Mengmeng did not say a word as she just turned around to look back at Lea.

Lea continued, “There are 53 females in Sauder, looking across the Beast World, no tribe can be on par with Sauder. But warriors, you guys are born in such a fortunate tribe but still single today? Is this not a disgrace?”

“Roar—”

The two natures of males: attack and mating.

A casual ignition could create a mighty uproar and Lea ignited their two natures so easily. It would be impossible for the males to remain calm after all this.

“Shh....” Lea let the males howl for some time before he gestured a keep quiet signal and continued, “Those males who have partners, please protect your females well and prepare to face challenges. All single males will be split into pairs and learn from each other based on their level. The winner can get delicate and delicious food as well as a chance to confess to the female you fancy. Females can choose to directly accept the food or let your partner accept the challenge. If you don’t like the male who confess to you, you can also reject him. After all, all of you are precious females. Oh, to add on, if you feel that you can win our Great Wolf King, you can also confess to the Messenger~”

Chapter 1237 - Kiara

Chapter 1237: Kiara

Gu Mengmeng chuckled loudly, Lea's words could not get anymore straightforward.

If you translate it, it will be, "I'll let Elvis hit you to death if you dare to consider Gu Mengmeng!"

The strongest single males were third-level so he, a fourth-level beast, could easily battle them but he would not because he could directly send Elvis, this Beast King, out to control everything.

Ha ha, he wanted to see who had the nerve to play tricks in front of the King of Hell.

"If everyone has no problem with the rules, we'll start the battles between first-level orcs."

After Lea gave his command, Hede and Jialue took the initiative and went forward.

This made Gu Mengmeng dumbfounded....

What's going on? Her sons were only over two years old! Who were they going to confess to?

Lowering her head, she looked at the soft and adorable little Daji in her arms, f! What was Hede there? Didn't he already have a wife?

Gu Mengmeng had not thought it through when Hede and Jialue started battling.

After all, they were blood-related brothers so they had quite strong teamwork when battling each other. Each of their attack was clean and sharp and looked extremely exciting but none of them were injured, not even a tiny scrap of their skin.

Gu Mengmeng did not know whether it was because of their identities but the crowd cheered on them wildly. A while into their battle, Jialue's gaze together with an obvious planned chain group attack, Hede 'fell to the ground' and was pinned down by Jialue.

"Jialue, victory." Lea had returned to sit next to Gu Mengmeng, announcing the results with the mindset of a parent looking at his children joking around.

Jialue walked to Lea and scooped a bowl of food from the bowl before walking towards one of the campfire of the 16 tribes. He knelt on the ground on one knee and placed the stone bowl on the ground. Then, he exchanged a few words with a female. Gu Mengmeng was too sitting too faraway and she could not hear him at all. She just saw Jialue holding the stone bowl with a little lion in his arms after not much effort.

"Mother-in-law, let me put my wife in your home too." Jialue blinked his eyes that were similar to Gu Mengmeng's eyes and smiled, "You can't only favor Hede over me and only treat him well. I call you Mother-in-law for so many years too, my wife has to be raised by you."

Gu Mengmeng was too shocked beyond words, did her son mature too early?

Sandy sighed and said, "Alright, since you had requested it, how can Mother-in-law reject you?"

Jialue chuckled mischievously and said, "I know Mother-in-law dots on me the most."

As Jialue said, he sat beside Gu Mengmeng and placed the little lion on her lap, saying, "Mum, my wife doesn't have a name yet, can you give her a name?"

"Huh?!" Gu Mengmeng could not catch up with her son's pace.

Jialue smiled and said, “I don’t think so right, Mum? They’re clearly both your daughter-in-laws, you’re showing favoritism too obviously, right?”

“No....”

“Mum, so many people are looking at us. If you only choose a name for Big Brother’s wife and not for my wife, others will spread that I was raised by my step-mother and they will look down on me and despise me....weep weep weep, Mum, will I lose the face to meet others in the future?”

Gu Mengmeng face-palmed, was Jialue harassing her with unreasonable demands?

Taking a deep breath, she conceded, “I’ll give her a name, I’ll give her a name, alright?”

Gu Mengmeng flipped through her memories that concerned lions in detail, she really could not recall which female lion was famous...

Wait wait, there really is one!

“Kiara.” Gu Mengmeng said, “That’s the most famous female lion I can think of.”

Jialue asked in curiosity, “What is she famous for? Is it for her beauty?”

Gu Mengmeng shook her head and said, “No, she is famous for her Father. Her Father is the Lion King Simba.”

Chapter 1238 - You Can Play With These Two Daughter-in-Laws First

Chapter 1238: You Can Play With These Two Daughter-in-Laws First

“Ha ha ha, okay okay. So, she’s the same second sharing-father generation as me, right?” Jialue smiled as he poked Kiara and said, “Hey, little wife, remember that you’re called Kiara. I’ll call you Xiao Ra in the future, do you hear me? Hmm?”

“Arhwoo owooo arhwoo owooo~” Kiara cried with her baby voice. Nobody knew what she was trying to express either but she was still quite adorable.

Gu Mengmeng lowered her head and stared at her two daughter-in-laws lying in her arms, why did it clearly feel that she was carrying a little cat and a little dog...

Damn it, this event was meant for Sandy to choose her partner, why did it suddenly advance to her choosing her daughter-in-law?

“It’s done, Mum, you can play with these two daughter-in-laws first. If you want more, you can call Second Brother and Kanwu to find two more for you.” After he finished speaking, he dusted his butts and added, “Let Daddy Lea accompany you, I’ll host this battle.”

After he finished speaking, Jialue walked to the arena and replaced Lea’s job as a host for the upcoming battles.

Hede’s and Jialue’s act of throwing away a brick in order to get a gem enlivened the first-level orcs who were originally embarrassed to battle. However, those who did not dare to confess knew clearly that the aim of today’s battle was to showcase their abilities to the other two tribes. The decision of which tribe having the leadership rights of Sauder would be decided after tonight.

And even if the females wanted to accept new partners, they definitely would not accept first-level orcs.

It's just that neither of the three powers were willing to be defeated so even battles among the first-level orcs were exciting enough.

Until Gu Mengmeng snapped herself out from realizing that she suddenly gained two daughter-in-laws, it was already the battles among the second-level orcs.

A wolf and a tiger were caught in a tight battle in the arena, tussling themselves together.

Ha, this was the battle between the 16 tribes and the wolf tribe.

Battles between males were mostly bloody and merciless. But if they did not have this battle, it would be hard to settle the three parties as they would suppress their desire to win and not submit to anyone.

Males need to nurture their relationships through battles.

As long as they did not kill each other, they may become friends through hitting one another.

And moreover, after seeing Little Shit's and Elvis's battling habits, these kind of battles did not give her any mental pressure.

Furthermore, Jialue was very smart and estimated the timing well. As long as one side lost the attacking chance, he would instantly announce the winner so that the other side would not have the chance to kill the loser.

The final result was, the tiger won.

Elvis expressed his helplessness because he did not care whether the wolf tribe had the leadership rights to Sauder. On the other hand, the wolf tribe were extremely upset because they felt that they made their King lose face.

The tiger also suffered serious injuries too. He dragged his leg and walked lamely to scoop a stone bowl full of food. Then, he walked to Gu Mengmeng and stood up straight, looking into her eyes.

This action made everyone fall silent in a second.

Warrior! A real warrior!

No, he would directly become a martyr after this...

Elvis squinted his eyes and sat up right.

In his eyes, the second-level tiger beast was too tiny but he would never take anyone who dared to peek at Gu Mengmeng lightly.

The tiger beast panted and just when he wanted to speak, Gu Mengmeng gestured a stop sign and tried to convince him after giving much thoughts to it, "You can't take back some words after you say them. Think about it properly first, and say after you're done thinking. This world is so wonderful why do you want to seek your own death?"

The tiger beast tilted his head in confusion and said, "Thank you Great Messenger for your reminder but I've thought it through. That.....Great Messenger, can you bring me along when you return to Saint Nazaire? I like Mandy, I want to pursue her..."

Chapter 1239 - Let Jialue Blow A Black Whistle For You

Chapter 1239: Let Jialue Blow A Black Whistle For You

So, it was a false alarm. Gu Mengmeng heaved a sigh of relief and placed her half-hanging heart back into her stomach.

Elvis and Lea also kept the dark expressions on their faces and leaned back to their seats comfortably.

The crowd who was holding their breath started laughing secretly. Only the tiger beast who was holding the bowl was unaware of the situation as he continued staring at Gu Mengmeng, waiting for her reply.

After she put her heart at ease, a wave of embarrassment hit her.

She thought that he wanted to confess to her and her husband almost killed him after not holding himself back, how embarrassed must she be!

Clearing her throat, Gu Mengmeng acted calm and said, "It's no problem to bring you back to Saint Nazaire but I can't ensure that Mandy will accept you."

"It's alright, I'll keep working hard." The tiger beast pledged in all sincerity and seriousness.

Gu Mengmeng smiled and nodded her head, saying, "Since that's the case, you don't have to wait for me. You can directly set off to Saint Nazaire tomorrow morning. After you reach, go on and find Barete and tell him that I permitted you to enter the tribe,"

As Gu Mengmeng said, she took a piece of snake scale and threw it to the tiger beast, saying, "This is a token that Barete recognizes. He won't make things difficult for you when he sees this.”

That piece of snake scale was the one Ellie gave Gu Mengmeng previously. It had crooked simplified Chinese characters carved on it and was a counterfeit copy stolen from Snakel. Back then, Barete saw it before and Gu Mengmeng kept it by her side for such a long time too. There was Gu Mengmeng’s scent on it so Barete would definitely believe him.

“Thank you Great Messenger.” The tiger beast gave a simple and honest smile. Then, he kept the snake scale like a baby and left the night campfire party.

He could not wait till the next morning, he wanted to find Mandy now.

After the end of a tiny false alarm, the smell of gunpowder from the battles among the second-level orcs became stronger. The wolf beast participated in eight battles and won six of them. He finally stopped after gaining back some reputation in front of Elvis.

The last round of battles was the highlight, it’s the battles among the third-level orcs.

Gu Mengmeng shifted her butt and sat next to Sandy, saying, “Sigh, after observing them for half a day, is there anyone you already fancy? Shall I let Jialue blow a black whistle for you?”

Sandy was brought to laughter by Gu Mengmeng’s words as she replied, “Do you still think that these battles are for nurturing relationships? The three powers are actually fighting among themselves. If you let Jialue blow a black whistle, it might be harder for him to control the tribesmen in the future. And moreover, I’m choosing a partner to raise the abilities of my family, I don’t want a male who can only win after a black whistle.”

Gu Mengmeng thought over it before nodding, agreeing with her, “That’s true too, we don’t want those outwardly attractive but worthless people.”

“That’s right.” Sandy chuckled, shifting her gaze back to the arena.

The first male up was Arnold from the snow fox tribe against Hodgson from the wolf tribe.

Gu Mengmeng recognized Arnold as the eldest son from one of the tribe elder's family. He was valued since young because there were rumors that his Father had intention to pass on his position as a tribe elder to him. Being on the same level as Lea, all he needed to do was to mate before he could instantly surpass third level so his abilities were not to be taken lightly of.

Gu Mengmeng also recognized Hodgson. He was from the first batch of wolf beasts who followed Elvis on the road back from the Mecca Desert. Elvis did not like to manage the matters in the tribe so as time went by, Hodgson became a little leader in the wolf gang, his position alike to Wabei in the Snake King valley.

Ha, these two were heavy-weighted candidates, none of them seemed like they want to lose.

Gu Mengmeng poked Elvis and then poked Lea, resembling a spectator onlooking the bustling scene, before saying, "Hey, do you guys want to guess who will win?"

Lea asked softly, "The winner shall sleep one night alone with you and the loser shall guard by the door, how about that?"

Chapter 1240 - Who Do You Want The Winner To Be?

Chapter 1240: Who Do You Want The Winner To Be?

Lea's words were meant for Gu Mengmeng but his eyes were fixated on Elvis, clearly his playful instincts ignited.

Elvis replied coldly, "I don't want. I don't use Xiao Meng as a wage."

Lea sneered and said, "So boring."

After he finished dissing Elvis, he swayed his tail and lied in Gu Mengmeng's arms, asking her, "Mengmeng, who do you think will win?"

Gu Mengmeng answered in a nervous tone, "I don't know, these two males are outstanding figures who always emerge as champions, it's hard to predict the winner."

Lea chuckled and said, "Then who do you want the winner to be?"

This was the first battle amongst the third-level orcs, the victory would decide Sauder's future direction...

Gu Mengmeng face-palmed and looked at Lea with a headache, saying, "Let's stay in Sauder for a period of time."

"Alright." Lea and Elvis never questioned Gu Mengmeng's decisions, they just directly abide by them.

Rubbing Gu Mengmeng's temples, Lea whispered in curiosity, "Your heart ache from leaving such a complicated situation to Hede and Jialue?"

Gu Mengmeng nodded.

In her eyes, this scene already made her heart ache terribly. How difficult must each step be for her two children?

To put it nicely, they were leaders, but they actually did not have a single authority they could call their own. They just relied on Jialue's mediation using his identity as the messenger's son. Luckily, Hede and Jialue had the work and helped each other or else they would be nibbled by others until even their bones disappeared.

No wonder Sandy's heart ache until she used the excuse of connections through marriage to earn some chips for these two rascals.

Lea pinched Gu Mengmeng's little nose and said, "If you want to stay in Sauder, we shall stay behind. If you want Elvis and I to come forward to settle some problems, we shall come forward. But, in this world, not a single person's heart is not complicated, you can't protect them forever."

"I understand all the principles but....shouldn't a 'Mother' play this kind of role? A role where I can never not worry for my kids. Sigh, raising a son for 100 years will give you 99 years of anxiety...."

Lea did not say anything else as he just gave Elvis a look. Elvis then received Gu Mengmeng from Lea's arms and continued rubbing her temples. On the other hand, Lea took a fruit platter and used his sharp claws to cut the fruits into bite size pieces that could fit into her mouth. Then, he sent them into Gu Mengmeng's mouth piece by piece.

Arnold and Hodgson were entangled up in a tight battle. Both of them knew what kind of mission they were carrying on their shoulders, although they could not kill each other, each of their attacks were harsh and strong.

Gu Mengmeng felt her head aching even more. She looked up at Elvis and then at Lea and said, "Judging by the current situation, they won't give up until one of them dies from fatigue, right?"

Lea swayed his tail and said, "In this world, not every wolf can get along with every fox as harmoniously as Elvis and me. There are too many similarities and tiny differences between the two tribes, such as supremacy over all and malevolence. When these two tribes meet each other, ha, not giving up until death is an unavoidable situation.”

Gu Mengmeng sighed and said, “So was your previous decision to place the wolf tribe in Sauder wrong? Will it be better if we brought them to Zacharias or Saint Nazaire?”

Lea shook his head and explained, “Being locked up in a fierce struggle is the best situation, The snow fox tribe had been arrogant for too long, it’s time for them to feel a little threat so that they would not keep assuming themselves as the messenger’s superior followers a thousand years ago and act as if nobody in this world can beat them. And the wolf tribe.....just saw the birth of a Beast King and it’s when they’re still stuck in the moment. If we don’t treat them properly this time round, they will walk the path that the snow fox tribe walked before.”

Chapter 1241 - Two Heads Are Better Than One

Chapter 1241: Two Heads Are Better Than One

Gu Mengmeng thought over it and chuckled, saying, “It’s the taller trees in the woods that get their tops blown off, if one wants a garden overflowing with the beauties of springtime, outshining others will not be allowed at all.”

Gu Mengmeng did not say that this was a sentence from an imperial-fight drama when the Empress wanted to make a favored concubine face reality.

Lea pondered over it and nodded, saying, “That kinda summarizes everything.”

Gu Mengmeng pointed at the two males who were still entangled together, asking, “Then.....how do you plan to settle this?”

Lea laughed and said, “A battle can’t decide anything, we still have to look at the final result, right?”

Gu Mengmeng nodded and lied in Elvis’s arms, sneaking a peek at Sandy from time to time. She noticed that Sandy was carrying the two little females, playing delightfully with them. Her focus was entirely not on the battle happening in the arena.

She did not care who the winner or loser was because she just wanted to mate with a strong male from the wolf tribe tonight, it doesn’t matter....who it was.

Daji and Kiara still did not quite understand the conflicts amongst the tribes, you’re of a higher position and I’m of a lower position whatsoever.

They were just happy having someone playing with them so not long later, they played until their bellies faced the skies in joy.

This battle ended with the wolf tribe's victory.

Because no matter how sly foxes were, they still could not defeat wolves in terms of skills.

This was an innate difference in skills. If you just compare their armed battling abilities, wolves would definitely have the upper hand. This was why Elvis and Lea always went with Lea deciding on the strategy and Elvis being in charge of executing it. Even if both of them appeared at the battlefield at the same time, Elvis will be the main attacking power while Lea will be responsible for shielding him.

Hodgson took a bowl of meat from Jialue and walked to Sandy, asking her, "Little female, are you willing to mate with me?"

Sandy looked up and smiled at Hodgson, replying to him with an 'Okay'. She did not even request Hodgson to accept any test from her partners.

Bode and Collin lowered their heads and remained silent. They continued taking care of their children and giving Sandy food, as if they were not impacted at all but Gu Mengmeng knew them too well. She easily noticed the emptiness in their eyes.

In this world, no male would be completely indifferent after knowing that their female was going to take in new partners.

It's just that females were treated as Gods, they did not have the right to say 'no'.

Gu Mengmeng thought to herself, if she took in a few new partners for the stability of the tribe....yeah, Elvis and Lea would not hesitate to extinguish the whole Sauder and then say, grinning, "Alright, there's no more tribe now so there's no need to maintain stability."

The battle continued. Hodgson's victory made the wolf tribe excited, and their courage mounted as the battle progressed. On the other hand, although the snow fox tribe lost the first battle, they did not give up as they immediately started to plan their strategy and arrange an appropriate opponent to go against the wolf tribe according to their battle order.

But there were too many unforeseen variables towards performing on the spot. The preparation the snow fox did prior to the battles may allow them to win a few battles, but the wolf tribe was not dumb too, they would not be stuck in a passive position.

When the two parties were racking their brains to search for ways to defeat each other, their willfulness gave the 16 tribes a large empty space.

When the snow fox tribe and wolf tribe realized what was happening, the 16 tribes gained absolute superiority in the third-level orcs' battle and nothing could be done to salvage the situation.

Lea hugged Gu Mengmeng's shoulder and pulled her into his embrace. He whispered into her ear softly, "In just one night campfire party, you gained two daughter-in-laws, Sandy gained seven wolf partners....do you still feel that Elvis and I need to interfere because Hede and Jialue can't handle Sauder's matters?"

Chapter 1242 - Who Would Dare to Force The Two Sons Of The Beast King To Be Partnered?

Chapter 1242: Who Would Dare to Force The Two Sons Of The Beast King To Be Partnered?

Gu Mengmeng widened her eyes at Lea in bewilderment.

Lea chuckled. “Daji of the snow foxes, Kiara of the 16 tribes and the wolf partner of Sandy—don’t you think this distribution is too even?”

“You mean...”

Lea’s eyes glittered slyly. His smile was approving as if he was saying: “I raised Jialue after all, in some aspects... he’s really like me.”

Displeased, Gu Mengmeng pouted. “Never mind Sandy taking in partners. After all, as long as Elvis and I are around, no one will dare to bully her. But if Jialue and Hede have to sacrifice themselves to exchange for peace within Sauder, I would rather let Sauder descend into chaos...”

The moment males became partners, it was equivalent to handing over the rest of their lives to their females.

By then, the snow foxes would use Daji to control Hede, while the 16 tribes would use Kiara to control Jialue. The two brothers would end up as enemies.

Gu Mengmeng didn’t wish to see her sons end up like that.

Lea pinched Gu Mengmeng’s nose with an exasperated smile. He sighed. “Do you think Jialue is a fool and will let himself be driven into such a situation?”

Gu Mengmeng blinked in confusion.

Lea explained. “I only said to put them at Sandy’s house, who said they must become partners? Females are precious and do not join in any battles. As a result, they require more time to accumulate experience. They will usually only evolve at about eight to ten years of age and mature into adulthood at about 16 or 17. By then, Hede and Jialue would be 18 or 19. Do you think those two—who can hold down the fort in such tumultuous times when they are just two and a half years old—will be easily led by the nose when they are at Elvis’ age?”

Gu Mengmeng thought about it seriously before shaking her head. She chuckled.

This was a common problem among all mothers in the world. No matter how exceptional their children were, they would worry over them. As much as they loved their kids, mothers were unable to trust them to take care of themselves. They would always treat them like delicate hothouse flowers to be kept inside and protected.

Lea kissed the corner of Gu Mengmeng’s lips. “There are two possible future scenarios. First is that those two little females grow up to be good people and get along well with the two brothers, such that they choose each other to be partners. In this case, do you think the brothers will allow others to make use of their loved ones? Moreover, would someone raised by Sandy side with outsiders? On the other hand, if those two females turn out to have bad characters, and the brothers don’t like them and refuse to be their partners... ha, things are even simpler then. Who can force our sons to do something they don’t want to? Further, who in the world would dare to force the two sons of the Beast King to be partnered?

Put in this way, Lea was right.

Nevertheless, Gu Mengmeng still felt rather uncomfortable making use of those two little females. As a result, Gu Mengmeng became the model future mother-in-law. In the days to come, she treated Daji and Kiara exceptionally well.

The bonfire party lasted late into the night because of the sparring competitions. Having not stayed up late for so many years, Gu Mengmeng laid exhausted in Elvis' arms.

She had wanted to advise Sandy on her partnering matters, but ended up not helping much. This was because Sandy basically just accepted any wolf beast who asked for her hand.

The wolf race knew this bonfire night was held for Sandy to choose a partner from their tribe. While Sandy also knew that those who came forward to ask for her hand were candidates nominated by the tribe. And their target was her belly...

Chapter 1243 - Do They Intend To Mate Sandy To Death?

Chapter 1243: Do They Intend To Mate Sandy To Death?

Knowing each other's motives and knowing what the other party could offer—this kind of partnering... it was more like an alliance.

The wolf race hoped to replace the snow fox's status in Sauder. Firstly, they must affirm Hede's and Jialue's position. Although they were only first-level beasts, they held the bloodline of the wolf king and were on the same side as them.

One reason for partnering Sandy was to make use of her belly to give birth to a litter of female wolves to mate with the sons of the wolf king. The other reason was because Sandy was someone important to Hede and Jialue. Partnering Sandy was the best way to exhibit their loyalty to those two young masters. Regardless of which of the two reasons was behind their intentions, those seven male wolves would treat Sandy extremely well.

And Sandy wanted to help Hede and Jialue gain control over the wolf race, hence she would definitely not treat Hodgson and the other six shabbily. Moreover, Sandy had always been a gentle person. Even if she had no feelings for them before partnering, she would never abandon them for no good reason like how Ellie did.

This had always been the way partnering was carried out in the Beast World. The deep love between Gu Mengmeng, Elvis and Lea before partnering was the exception.

The winds of change blew through Sauder. Gu Mengmeng could feel it but Lea was right, she had to learn how to trust in her own sons.

Gu Mengmeng, Elvis and Lea would usually stay at Sauder until the dry season ended. So Hede and Jialue had about three to four months to leverage on their status as the sons of the Messenger of the Beast Deity, the Wolf King and the Ninth Highness, to mediate the clashes between the three powers in Sauder.

Hede had always been a calm and steady person. Although he was only a first-level beast, he always knew how to win over the hearts of the people. Especially after his “engagement” to Daji, the snow foxes tried their best to cooperate with him in order to get on his good books. Meanwhile, Jialue’s little trick during the bonfire party had the 16 tribes eating out of his hands. Emerging victorious even when caught between the two major powers of the snow foxes and the wolves, and doing so with just a few casual words. The 16 tribes were completely convinced by his scheming. Coupled with his engagement to Kiara, the 16 tribes naturally pledged their full support to Jialue.

As for the wolf tribe.

Firstly, with Elvis around, no one dared to try anything funny. Secondly, the young masters of Sauder were after all wolves themselves. No matter how much they secretly despised the other two sides, they would never let their own young masters fall into peril. So at least on the surface, Sauder achieved peace and harmony.

One week has passed since the bonfire party. Gu Mengmeng didn’t go looking for Sandy in this entire week. It wasn’t that she didn’t want to visit her, but...

Several times she arrived at the doorway only to hear some unmentionable noises drifting out. She had no choice but to turn back.

Gu Mengmeng held her cheek as she suddenly shot Elvis an angry look. “Doesn’t any of your wolf beasts know to protect and cherish the fairer sex? It has been seven days... do they intend to mate Sandy to death?”

Elvis had no idea why he was being scolded. He rubbed his nose and smiled helplessly.

Gu Mengmeng also knew she was throwing a tantrum over nothing. Sighing, she apologized. “Sorry, you didn’t do anything wrong. I shouldn’t have vented my anger on you.”

Elvis drew Gu Mengmeng into his arms and pinched her little face. He said gallantly, “What are you saying? You can’t scold me just because I didn’t do anything wrong? Do you need a reason to throw a tantrum?”

Chapter 1244 - : It Is My Honor To Be Scolded By You

Chapter 1244: It Is My Honor To Be Scolded By You

“Huh?” Gu Mengmeng was stunned by Elvis’ words. For a moment there, she didn’t know how to react.

Elvis kissed Gu Mengmeng on the face. “It is my honor to be scolded by you. Not just anyone gets the pleasure of being scolded by you.”

Gu Mengmeng chuckled as she shook her head wordlessly.

Elvis pinched Gu Mengmeng’s slender finger. “You are my female. Scold me if you want to. Hit me if you wish. There’s no need for any reason and no need for any apology. Understand?”

“I am not such a pervert.” Gu Mengmeng rebuked.

Elvis placed her little hand into his mouth and nibbled on it. He didn’t say anything more.

As the two of them sat by the side of the stone castle flirting, they spotted a wolf beast approaching. On a closer look, they realized it was Sandy’s new partner, Hodgson.

“Wolf King, Queen.” Hodgson bowed respectfully. “Sandy said she misses the Queen very much and wants to invite her to our place for a visit.”

Elvis raised one unfriendly eyebrow. “Ha, Sandy is so high and mighty now. In the past, she would come over herself whenever she misses you. But now, she has sent someone over to summon you...”

Gu Mengmeng glared at Elvis. “It’s not that she doesn’t want to come but she can’t come.”

Elvis stared at Gu Mengmeng in puzzlement.

Gu Mengmeng gritted her teeth. “She took in seven wolf beasts at one go. Do you think she can even get off the bed now?”

Elvis thought about how Gu Mengmeng would sleep for two to three days every time after they mated and always woke up still in a daze. Realization dawned, but he was still displeased. “All the more you can’t go over now... the air over there is not good.”

Gu Mengmeng pinched Elvis with a smile. “Have you forgotten that I promised Sandy that I will go celebrate with her and sing a song for her every time she gets a new partner?”

“Now that you mentioned it, Xiao Meng, how long has it been since you sang for me? Mmm?”

“Didn’t I sing for you on the way back from the Mecca Desert?” Gu Mengmeng asked.

“That time didn’t count.” Elvis felt that Gu Mengmeng wasn’t singing for him then. It just felt strange, although he couldn’t pinpoint how or why.

Gu Mengmeng wriggled in Elvis’ arms. “I will sing for you after I return. I am going to visit Sandy now, do you want to come along?”

What could Elvis say? There was no way he would give up any opportunity to be in her presence.

Carrying Gu Mengmeng, he sprinted straight towards Sandy’s stone house. When they arrived, they saw Sandy nestled inside Collin’s arms, looking so weak that it was as if she was dying. Bode was carefully feeding her from a stone bowl, his face full of tender heartache.

Traces of a smile crossed Sandy’s face when she looked up to see Gu Mengmeng. Her eyes brightened and she wanted to wave Gu Mengmeng over, only to realize that she could not even lift her arm. Sandy opened her mouth, but she could not utter a sound. She could only shrug weakly and give a faint, helpless smile.

Gu Mengmeng jumped down from Elvis' embrace and sat beside Sandy. She then shot a glance at Bode, who immediately handed the bowl over to Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng took over the stone bowl and fed Sandy. "The weather outside is just nice. Go get some thick animal skins and lay them outside the cave. Sandy and I are going to take in the sun together."

"Alright." Bode was already used to being ordered around by Gu Mengmeng. Without another word, he went into the house to choose the biggest and thickest animal skins.

Chapter 1245 - Your Smile Is So Scary, I Must Have Done Something Wrong.

Chapter 1245: Your Smile Is So Scary, I Must Have Done Something Wrong.

By the time Bode laid out the animal skins, Gu Mengmeng had just finished feeding Sandy the bowl of mince meat. She then glanced at Collin, who stood up without a word and headed outside, his head lowered the entire time. Collin was usually proud and domineering, one of the tyrants in Sauder—but he became as docile as a dog in front of Gu Mengmeng. He did not dare to talk too much and would just follow meekly behind her. On seeing Gu Mengmeng sit down on one corner of the animal skins while Elvis sat behind her for her to lean back against—Collin made to do the same so that Sandy could recline on himself.

But he had just taken one step onto the animal skin when Gu Mengmeng clicked her tongue. Collin was so scared that he hurriedly withdrew his foot, before gazing pitifully at Gu Mengmeng.

Gu Mengmeng said, “Give Sandy to me. Go get all the males in your house out here now.”

Collin secretly broke out in a cold sweat. He nodded timidly, not daring to utter a word. He hurried to gather Sandy’s original four partners and the new seven ones together. All 11 of them stood in one straight line in front of the animal skin.

Sandy’s original four males knew what was happening. They kept their eyes lowered and dared not make any noise.

But the seven newly partnered wolf beasts were befuddled. They exchanged confused looks but did not dare to raise any objections. After all, right before them was the Messenger of the Beast Deity and the Queen of the wolf tribe. And sitting right behind her was the Wolf king himself.

Gu Mengmeng cast a sweeping glance across all 11 faces. She said in a neutral tone. “You are all so daring.”

“Great Messenger, I have done wrong.” Collin was the first to acknowledge his mistake. His attitude was sincere.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. “Oh? Tell me, what have you done wrong?”

Collin scratched his head. “I don’t know but your smile is so scary, I must have done something wrong.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled in exasperation. She lowered her head and asked Sandy, “Girl, what made you fall for this dumb block of wood then?”

Sandy’s throat was so hoarse that she was completely unable to speak. She could only smile helplessly as she gave a gentle shake of her head.

Gu Mengmeng lifted her chin again. “How many fourth-level beasts are there in your family now?”

Collin answered, “Currently, I am the only one. But I think Hodgson and Jerry will be promoted after just one more battle.”

Gu Mengmeng nodded. “So as of now, you are still the most powerful in your household?”

Collin nodded dumbly.

Gu Mengmeng’s face darkened. “What is your duty as the most powerful in your family?”

“Protect Sandy,” Collin answered without even the need to think.

Gu Mengmeng smirked. “Is this what you call protecting Sandy then? Mmm?”

Collin was stunned by her question. He also felt rather aggrieved. “But Sandy herself chose those partners...”

“Oh, so if one day Sandy decides to commit suicide, will you just let her go and die?!”

“No way!” Collin looked up in a panic. He was so anxious that he could hardly speak properly.

Gu Mengmeng pointed at the bear mark over Sandy’s heart. “Your mark is over her heart, and you are also the most powerful in the family. You need to protect her, and your first priority is to ensure her safety under any circumstances. But she was tortured into such a state right under your watch. And you still dare to tell me you don’t know what you have done wrong?”

Feeling very distressed, Collin lowered his head. “Then... next time, I will rush in to break up the mating when she really can’t take it anymore.”

Chapter 1246 - She Was Backed By The Messenger of the Beast Deity Herself, Gu Mengmeng

Chapter 1246: She Was Backed By The Messenger of the Beast Deity Herself, Gu Mengmeng

“There will be a next time?!” Gu Mengmeng glared at Collin.

Collin didn’t know why he was being glared at. He just pointed at the wolf beasts beside him. “The five of them have yet to mate...”

It was Gu Mengmeng’s turn to be stunned.

After being tortured for seven days, Sandy had only mated with two?

Damn!

They were inhuman!

Gu Mengmeng turned to look at Elvis with an astounded expression.

Elvis chuckled and bit Gu Mengmeng’s earlobe. He whispered in a low voice. “Now you know how much self-restraint I have?”

F!

Every time she was mauled by Elvis and Lea, she felt like every bone in her body was being shattered and rebuilt. And this was after they had held back.

Gu Mengmeng suddenly felt so tired.

Ignoring Elvis, she looked at Collin with a sigh. “I said this to you last time? If you cannot protect Sandy, I will take her away...”

“Gu Mengmeng, I know my mistake now... I really know where I have gone wrong.” Collin acknowledged anxiously. He swore, “From now on, I will sit beside and watch over Sandy whenever she is mating. The moment she cannot take it anymore, I will immediately bring her away and not let her suffer. Please, don’t take Sandy away...”

The seven wolves exchanged looks. The moment they arrived at Sauder, they had heard about how Sandy and the Queen were very close and that this fourth-level bear used to be the Messenger’s guardian. Now he was Sauder’s most powerful male, and the two young masters relied on his protection during their reign of Sauder.

Apart from Hodgson and Jerry, who had been too busy mating with Sandy, the other five wolves all bore witness to Collin’s ferocity. They all tacitly swore to never ever offend Collin.

So who could tell them just who this cowardly person was?!

Gu Mengmeng remained oblivious to their thoughts. She looked down and cupped Sandy’s face. “Sandy, is your throat sore? Do you want to eat some yellow sauce?”

Sandy knew Gu Mengmeng was just concerned for her and worried that she would be bullied by her partners because of her overly gentle personality. So Gu Mengmeng had come to lay down the law, telling them that Sandy was backed by the Messenger of the Beast Deity herself, Gu Mengmeng.

So although she felt Collin was rather innocent, Sandy nodded obligingly and pitifully.

Gu Mengmeng nodded back with a tender expression, which instantly vanished the moment she looked up at Collin.

Collin was stunned for about two seconds before saying hastily, “I know about the yellow needle insects. I will go find some yellow sauce for you. I will only take half from every hive, and promise not to annihilate them all.”

Only then did Gu Mengmeng finally answer with a neutral: “Mmm.” Collin turned and fled as if he had gotten a lease of life.

Gu Mengmeng’s gaze shifted to Bode. She smirked. The hairs on Bode stood straight up as he involuntarily took a step backwards. Lowering his head, he said, “Great Messenger, I also know I was in the wrong. Please don’t take Sandy away. You can punish me any way you like.”

“Bode, you are Sandy’s first partner but... how long do you intend to stay at the second-level?”

Gu Mengmeng’s words struck a raw nerve, and Bode was unable to reply.

He had been a first-level beast when he first became Sandy’s partner, and finally became second-level after two years’ worth of battle experience. Compared with the rest of Sandy’s family members, a second-level beast was really nothing much.

In the Beast World, being weak was a sin.

He didn’t possess Lea’s intelligence either, so if he didn’t become more powerful, his status as the first partner in the family would be in peril. And this was not a good thing for Sandy.

Chapter 1247 - I Really Feel Very Upset.

Chapter 1247: I Really Feel Very Upset.

Apart from experience, opportunity was also very important for males to get promoted.

Two parties could work just as hard in battle, with one easily promoted while the other just unable to level up at all.

And Bode just happened to belong to the latter category.

He had hoped to get promoted since even before meeting Gu Mengmeng, so that he could protect Sandy from Nina. But although he had fought hard in countless battles, he had only risen from a first-level to a second-level beast.

Gu Mengmeng sighed. "I know someone who might be able to raise your battle prowess. But the method is cruel and the process painful. You..."

"I will go." Bode agreed without any hesitation. His gaze landed on Sandy's worried face. Bode smiled as he got down on one knee before her. He cupped her face gently. "You have Collin and the rest to protect you, you will be fine. No matter how hard it is, I will quickly get promoted and make you proud. I will not let others say that your first partner is a useless bum. Be a good girl, alright?"

Sandy knew that Bode always felt very upset whenever someone bullied her over his low level. She knew that Bode was already trying his best, while she herself did not think a second-level beast was anything to be ashamed of. But Bode was a male and he had a certain level of dignity and pride to uphold.

Sandy couldn't speak and could only hold onto Bode's hand, staring deeply into his eyes.

Bode had been partners with Sandy for so many years that he could understand her just by the look in her eyes. Hence, he kissed her face and said, "Don't worry, I won't let Joseph and his brothers become fatherless. I will come back as soon as possible."

Sandy finally nodded. But her gaze lingered on.

Bode looked at Great Messenger. "Great Messenger, please tell me where should I go to find this person?"

Gu Mengmeng replied, "Zacharias, Peter."

Location and name. There was no need to say anything more.

Bode gave Sandy a tight hug and a deep kiss on her forehead. He left without looking back.

Gu Mengmeng hugged Sandy. "Don't worry. Chixuan and Kanwu are there. Things will be fine."

Sandy smiled at Gu Mengmeng. She knew Gu Mengmeng was doing this for her own good, and this was also the best way forward for Bode.

Collin would never threaten Bode but that didn't mean Hodgson and rest wouldn't. Wolf beasts were savage by nature, and if you couldn't suppress them with your own powers, it would be very difficult to get them to follow you. Especially since Hodgson and the rest had partnered Sandy to gain an advantage for their own tribe. It was inevitable that thoughts of killing and replacing Bode would arise in them. That was why Bode had to become stronger.

After scolding Collin and making arrangements for Bode, Gu Mengmeng turned her attention towards Hodgson and Jerry. The two of them had yet to recover from their shock of seeing Collin and Bode reprimanded. They accidentally met Gu Mengmeng's eyes and were so startled that they instinctively ducked down to avoid her gaze.

The first to look away in a staring match with wild beasts would always be the loser.

Gu Mengmeng chuckled. "I had actually come today to congratulate the partnering between you all and Sandy. But seeing how terribly my Sandy has been tormented, I really feel very upset."

"Queen, we were in the wrong." Hodgson and Jerry tactfully lowered their heads as they admitted their mistake. "We should have considered Sandy's physical condition and not have been consumed by our desire. It was also our first time... we really don't have any experience and went too far. We feel very guilty for hurting Sandy. We are willing to be punished by you in any way you deem fit."

Chapter 1248 - The Great Messenger Herself Will Personally Train You, You Should Feel Grateful

Chapter 1248: The Great Messenger Herself Will Personally Train You, You Should Feel Grateful

“I am a very fair person,” Gu Mengmeng said as she gently shifted Sandy’s head from her knee to a piece of animal skin folded to form a pillow. She gave Sandy a light pat before standing up. “You all have made my precious Sandy suffer. My anger will only be satisfied after I make you go through double the suffering.”

Hodgson and Jerry looked at each other in confusion. They didn’t understand what Gu Mengmeng meant. She grinned and clapped before getting into a fighting stance. “I heard you two are advanced third-level beasts, and will be promoted after just one more fight. The Great Messenger herself will now personally train you, you should be grateful...”

With that, Gu Mengmeng immediately dashed over and landed a punch on Hodgson’s stomach. At the same time, she threw a kick at Jerry’s chest.

Taking Sandy’s endurance into consideration, Gu Mengmeng didn’t unleash her beast pressure. As a result, the power she was displaying was not the full strength of that of a Beast King. Plus the fact that she was just doling out a light punishment as a warning against future infractions and had no intention of really killing them—Gu Mengmeng was holding back even as she struck.

Would the two wolf beasts dare to strike back at their Queen? Was there any way they could have failed to see that Wolf king sitting there grinning so “benevolently” as he eyed them? The moment they acted even the slightest bit out of line—that Wolf king would crush the two of them into pulp.

Elvis’ warning when they first arrived at Sauder rang in their ears. The Wolf king would not show any mercy toward them if they even touched the Queen.

As a result, the two formidable warriors—who had displayed such prowess during the bonfire night and happily took on a new bride yesterday—they were beaten up by Gu Mengmeng until their faces were completely bruised and swollen. Only after the two of them could barely stand up did Gu Mengmeng finally squat beside them. “You were taken in to protect and take care of Sandy. If you dare to use her only as a sex tool, then be prepared to face the consequences. After all... Sandy has me, Gu Mengmeng, backing her up.”

Gu Mengmeng stood up after finishing her speech. With her head lowered and the sun shining from the top and casting a shadow down on them—the 1.7 meter tall Gu Mengmeng who was usually considered a petite Lolita in the Beast World was transformed into a Black Lolita there and then.

“This time, I am only giving you a light punishment as a warning against future wrongdoings. If I find out you have let Sandy suffer again... things won’t be resolved so simply.”

After Gu Mengmeng finished speaking, Hodgson and Jerry managed to squeak out a timid reply. “Yes, we know now... Queen.”

Gu Mengmeng lifted her head full of smiles, appearing especially gentle against the warm sunlight. She looked completely different from that person who had just beaten up two males so badly without even the need for any beast pressure.

But even with her current dazzling smile, none of those five wolf beasts dared to belittle her. They all shivered in fright. From then on, no one took her to be just a little female enjoying the protection of the Wolf king.

Gu Mengmeng paced before the five wolves who have yet to mate with Sandy. After a few steps, she turned and grinned at them. “Don’t be scared, I might not be a good person, but I won’t bully the weak. As long as you love and cherish Sandy from now on, treat her kinder and gentler, I will not beat up anyone for no good reason.”

“Queen, please don’t worry. We will treat Sandy very, very well.” The wolf beasts all nodded vigorously. They did not dare to display the tiniest bit of hesitation.

Finally satisfied, Gu Mengmeng returned to Sandy’s side. She lifted Sandy’s head onto her own lap and said, “Water?”

One of the wolf beasts immediately ran and brought back some water. He offered it respectfully to Gu Mengmeng... his mannerism was really like Bode’s.

Chapter 1249 - Lea, You Need To Quickly Get Promoted.

Chapter 1249: Lea, You Need To Quickly Get Promoted.

After Gu Mengmeng's little scene, all the males in Sandy's household were all brought in line and got along harmoniously. They no longer questioned why Bode became so cowardly before Gu Mengmeng, and no longer puzzled over why Collin immediately caved with just one casual glance from her.

Mmm, it was necessary to draw on their seniors 'experience.

Thereafter, Gu Mengmeng held Sandy as she sang the song "Dowry". This was something Gu Mengmeng had promised Sandy previously. She would sing this song for her every time she got a new partner.

As Bode and Collin were not around, one of Sandy's older partners Adali had to lead. Including the battered-up Hodgson and Jerry—who had to be supported by the others in a standing position—everyone stood in a line before Gu Mengmeng and bowed. "Queen, thank you for not being a male."

Gu Mengmeng smiled. She was already used to their way of saying thanks, which she had found rather embarrassing at the beginning.

Every single male of Sandy's would always thank Gu Mengmeng for not being a male. Lea explained that it was because if she was a male, they simply wouldn't stand a chance.

Gu Mengmeng had a one-sided conversation with Sandy, who couldn't speak at all. Nevertheless, the two of them still managed to communicate via nods, shakes of the head, smiles, frowns and all sorts of expressions. Hence, they had a very enjoyable chat.

When Collin returned with the goods, he saw two of the seven newly joined wolf beasts sitting half-dead by the entrance of the cave. The other five stood attentively in front of Gu Mengmeng and Sandy, ready to serve their every need.

If Collin had watched period dramas, he would have immediately thought of the word “eunuch” to describe those wolves.

“You are back.” Gu Mengmeng felt rather light-hearted after giving out a good thrashing. Even her smile at Collin had become significantly more radiant.

Collin did not seem to hold any grudges towards Gu Mengmeng’s earlier treatment of him. He returned her grin with an open smile before quickly making a drink out of the honey. He brought out two cups, one for Sandy and the other for Gu Mengmeng. Yes, Gu Mengmeng had her own, personal cup at Sandy’s house...

Only with Collin’s return did Gu Mengmeng finally hand Sandy over to him. She then informed him of Bode’s situation, before heading back to her own stone castle with Elvis.

Sandy would need at least half a month’s rest to recuperate. Further, she still had to mate with the other five wolf beasts. As a result, she probably would not have the time to take care of Daji and Kiara before the dry season ended. Meanwhile, Elvis and Lea were still firmly against bringing those two little females back to their stone castle. Hence, there was no choice but to let their respective fiancés take them in.

A tiny, soft snow fox would frequently be sprawled upon Hede’s shoulder, gentle and obedient. Meanwhile, a little lion would be crouched on the crown of Jialue’s head, cute and sprightly.

With Hede, Jialue and Sandy each reining in the three powers, there came an unprecedented peace and harmony. No one wished to do anything that would disrupt the alliance, hence things started moving in a direction that was in Hede’s and Jialue’s favor.

Gu Mengmeng gradually stopped worrying after hearing Lea analyze the situation. She realized that she had been overly protective of Jialue and Hede, still treating them as little children. This caused her to believe the two of them would not be able to handle the crisis.

For a while, the days passed peacefully. One night, Elvis and Lea strolled out of the stone castle, the two of them alone.

“Lea, you need to quickly get promoted,” Elvis said in a low voice.

Lea gave Elvis a puzzled smile. “Why? Are you still afraid that you will meet some tough opponent that even a Beast King like you can’t handle?”

Chapter 1250 - A Small Matter Like Dying, Just Leave It To A Beast Pet Like Me.

Chapter 1250: A Small Matter Like Dying, Just Leave It To A Beast Pet Like Me.

Elvis looked at Lea so solemnly that Lea immediately withdrew his playful smile. Raising his brows, he fixed his slanted eyes on Elvis. “Are you planning something which I don’t know about?”

Elvis sighed. “I knew becoming a Beast King would attract a bunch of wolves, which will give rise to a lot of trouble. But I still wanted to become a Beast King. Do you really not know the reason behind my goal?”

Lea was stunned for a moment before turning away. “I don’t know. I don’t know anything. Anyway, I will not get promoted. I will remain a fourth-level beast which is just enough to suppress any other male with the intention to pursue Mengmeng”

Elvis grabbed Lea’s shoulder to stop him from leaving. “It is precisely because of your slackened attitude since I became the Beast King, that I wanted to talk to you today. Preparing for the worst has always been your way. We cannot withstand another unexpected attack.”

Lea bit his lips as he glanced sideways at Elvis. “Alright, I will try my best to be promoted to the fifth-level before we find the Spirit of the Rocky Cliffs to activate the bloodline of the Beast King. But you must promise me one thing. When Mengmeng really needs a second Tear of the Beast Deity, that tear must be mine.”

Elvis’ pursed his lips wordlessly. His jaw was clenched so tightly it had become one straight line.

Lea chuckled. “I won’t get promoted if you don’t promise me. You want to make yourself Mengmeng’s life insurance, to sacrifice your own Tear of the Beast Deity like Snake did when Mengmeng meets with danger. You want to be a hero and leave me behind to bear the consequences... ha, dream on. I can tell you now that I won’t agree to it.”

“Lea.” Elvis frowned. Lea seldom spoke so unreasonably. Lea was angry, and Elvis could clearly feel the fury and unease behind his smile.

Lea shrugged off Elvis’ hand. “You saw how upset Mengmeng was when Snake died. Let me tell you that I don’t have the courage to face such a despondent Mengmeng again. I don’t ever want to witness Mengmeng in such pain again in my lifetime, So if you want to have insurance against Mengmeng’s life, let that insurance be me.”

Lea jabbed at Elvis’ chest with one long, slender finger as he said pointedly, “You are her first partner and should bear responsibility for the more difficult matters. A small matter like dying, just leave it to a beast pet like me.”

“But Xiao Meng likes you best. You are the one who knows best how to make her happy. If there comes a time when one of us must die to ensure her safety, the one she likes best must be the one to survive. Only then will she be able to endure the loss, don’t you agree?” Elvis gave a bitter smile. “Moreover, aren’t you always saying how much you regret giving Xiao Meng to me, causing you to lose your ‘one and only’ status? If I die in the future, you can have Xiao Meng all to yourself again. She now possesses the powers of a Beast King, and no longer needs more partners to protect her. You can spend the rest of eternity with her, just the two of you.”

Lea smirked and glanced askance at Elvis. “That little speech you made just now, repeat it in front of Mengmeng if you have the guts... if she admits that she still likes me the best and that I am more important than you. If she promises that when you die, she will happily spend the rest of her life with me, instead of having a complete breakdown, unable to ever get back up again—only then will I support you in this.”

Chapter 1251 - A Late Night Chat

Chapter 1251: A Late Night Chat

Elvis clenched his fists and lowered his hand.

He...

Did not dare to ask.

He was afraid of putting Xiao Meng in a tight spot. He was afraid of Xiao Meng admitting it, but also afraid of her denying it.

He was even more afraid of Xiao Meng, as intelligent as she was seeing through him. That she would realize he had fought so hard to become a Beast King just so that he could use his own life to save hers if she met with any danger.

He did not wish to be so helpless again when her life was at risk.

But this was a purely selfish decision.

Death was easy. The one being forced to live on was the one who would be tormented.

Didn't Snake's death already prove this once?

Lea was right. Using his own life to save Gu Mengmeng would make him a hero, while Lea would be left behind to comfort Gu Mengmeng and endure the pain of witnessing her suffering.

Ha, he was not afraid of death, but was afraid of Gu Mengmeng's frowns.

Lea suddenly halted and turned to look at Elvis. "You should have known that I am a fox..."

Elvis was momentarily taken aback. He didn't really understand Lea's meaning.

Lea just rested one arm on Elvis' shoulder and smiled slyly. "It is my nature to be sly. What can I do? I don't like things to progress in a way that is detrimental to me."

Elvis held his forehead. "Speak clearly."

Lea waved his tail and straightened his body. "There are two ways. One, is to do as I say. I will work hard to be promoted to the fifth-level, and then we will go seek out the Spirit of the Rocky Cliffs to activate my Beast King bloodline. And if the need ever arises, let me be the second Tear of the Beast Deity. Second, is for me to go wake up Mengmeng right now and tell her your plan. Then she will decide how to settle you."

Elvis was in a conundrum but pretended to be calm. "You will just end up upsetting Xiao Meng if you tell her this. Are you going to do something which will make her unhappy?"

Lea shrugged. "I am not the one doing something that will upset her. I will be an accomplice if I don't report a crime... so, you decide. Are the two of us going to cooperate and keep this thing from her, or will I be a traitor and sell you out this time?"

"Lea..." Elvis felt very helpless and frustrated. Apart from striking him physically, it was too difficult for him to win Lea.

Lea turned to stand side by side with Elvis, leaning against the wall. The moonlight drew long shadows from their figures. Lea spoke up in a mild tone, "If I also become a Beast King, then there will be three Beast Kings in the whole Beast World—all of them in our family. Under such a circumstance... what do you think are the chances of someone successfully harming Xiao Meng?"

Elvis understood. He knew that Lea was right. One Beast King was already without foe. With three Beast Kings together, there was no one else in the entire Beast World who could harm Gu Mengmeng anymore.

Even now, he had enough power to protect Gu Mengmeng and not let anyone hurt her.

But the memory of that previous incident, of Gu Mengmeng's dying expression and his feeling of utter helplessness, was just too clear in his mind. He was truly afraid. That was why he suggested this solution, just in case.

He didn't really want Lea to become a Beast King. Not because he was worried Lea would usurp his position, but because he knew that there was only a 30 percent success rate of activating the bloodline of the Beast King.

Luck played a huge part in his success.

Since there was already one person in the family who could be an insurance against Gu Mengmeng's life, why let Lea take such a risk? It was enough for Lea to be promoted to the fifth-level. By then, Gu Mengmeng would have Lea and Wabei, plus her own formidable powers. Even if he was not around... she was more than capable of protecting herself.

Chapter 1252 - Visitor With Ill Intentions

Chapter 1252: Visitor With Ill Intentions

“If you don’t choose... I am going to call Mengmeng now...” Lea made to enter the house.

“I promise you.” Elvis instinctively grabbed hold of Lea as he gave a bitter laugh. “I am the first partner but am still being led by the nose by you.”

Lea chuckled. “That is because you know I am right and my plans are always the most comprehensive. Don’t worry, I have fought so hard to woo Mengmeng back—I will not die so easily and abandon her.”

Elvis nodded. “The best-case scenario is if the two of us can forever protect her and never come to any harm.”

Lea nodded. “Alright. Is there anything else? Stay on if you wish to continue enjoying the moonlight. I am heading back in to hold my Mengmeng in bed...”

Elvis chuckled but didn’t reply. He just followed Lea back into the stone castle.

It was possible their worries were completely unnecessary. Or perhaps it was because Gu Mengmeng’s near brush with death had cast such a deep shadow down in their hearts that they now had a phobia of it. As such, they could no longer bear to see her get hurt or bleed. That was why they had nearly gone crazy when she had a nosebleed. Just a splinter in her finger would cause their heart to ache for days...

So before they found the Love of the Sky, there was no way they would let her bear children.

Gu Mengmeng never knew of this late night chat between Elvis and Lea.

Things became busier during the latter part of the dry season. Sauder now had more than 10 times the number of tribes, and the population within the territory surged as a result. That one water well was no longer enough to provide for everyone. In the end, there was no choice but to ration water by the household, with priority going to those families with young children. Consequently, Sandy's household became the first to draw water everyday. Not only did she have children, she was also helping to raise two young females.

Gu Mengmeng expressed no opinion on this and so naturally no one else dared to say anything.

As a result, Sandy's status in Sauder gradually changed. Sandy herself remained oblivious to the shift, but apart from Gu Mengmeng, everyone else in Sauder became even more respectful and courteous toward Sandy.

Hede and Jialue were kept busy from day till night about the water source issue. That was when an unexpected visitor came to Sauder.

This visitor from the skies raised quite a furore within Sauder. He instantly stood out from the crowd as he emitted an extremely strong aura. Just one glance from his sharp eyes made everyone want to take three steps back. This had nothing to do with the differences in levels, as he did not unleash any beast pressure at all. But the effect was still spine-chilling.

"Oh?" Elvis glanced lazily at the wild wolf who came to report this new development. He frowned and as he turned to Lea. "Even with two Beast Kings here, there is still someone who dares to barge in..."

Lea stood up and patted himself off. "Worried that this visitor harbors ill intentions? You keep Mengmeng company. I will go receive our "guest"."

Lea had been with Elvis for so long that he understood wolf language. There was no need for Elvis to translate what that wild wolf told him.

But Gu Mengmeng was like an outsider. She stared uncomprehendingly at her two males as if they were speaking in riddles. She asked, “What happened? Who? Stray beasts?”

Lea pinched Gu Mengmeng’s chin. “Even Wabei is scared of you—which other stray beast would dare to come? From what was described... it should be someone we have been waiting for. But I must go and verify his identity first before deciding whether you can meet him.”

Chapter 1253 - A Bird Has Come

Chapter 1253: A Bird Has Come

Lea narrowed his eyes. “You are not allowed to look excited. Your interest in other males will make me feel like killing someone.”

Gu Mengmeng smiled. “Alright. I just wish to know what guest has made you so nervous.”

Lea smiled back. “A male who might become a love rival. I must keep my guard up against him... alright, I am off.”

Gu Mengmeng didn't treat Lea's words seriously. In his eyes, every single male had the possibility of being a love rival... erm... actually even females could be treated as love rivals.

After Lea left, Gu Mengmeng leaned back in Elvis' arms. She considered whether to make a trip to Zacharias after the dry season ended, before returning to Saint Nazaire? She was very worried about Chixuan and Kanwu.

Especially Chixuan. He had sent her grapes last year, claiming to be the young master of the stray beasts...

As long as he had no links to Cole at all.

Elvis let Gu Mengmeng sprawl lazily on his chest. He did not feel uncomfortable at all, but felt this was the most perfect position in his life.

He ran his fingers gently through Gu Mengmeng's hair. “Go if you want to. I will go with you.”

Elvis didn't mention that if the visitor was who they suspected to be, ha... then Gu Mengmeng would probably not be able to visit Zacharias or return to Saint Nazaire anymore.

Gu Mengmeng's curiosity over this sudden visitor didn't last for long. The dry season was ending soon and she was about to leave. Her two sons were busy managing all sorts of matters within the tribe, especially since things had turned somewhat messy from the secret infighting between the three sides. Luckily, the two brothers were in complete coordination with each other. They could not perform the tasks as skillfully and easily as Lea did, but they at least carried them out steadily and confidently.

Gu Mengmeng didn't want to bother her sons, and so spend most of her time with Sandy.

After all, the mating rituals in her family had been completed. In addition, two fluffy daughter-in-laws were living at Sandy's so there was nothing wrong with Gu Mengmeng's frequent visits there.

It would be noon soon, and it was unlikely Lea would be back in time to make lunch. Hence, Gu Mengmeng thought of going over to Sandy's to share her meal. Bode was not around and Collin's culinary skills were obviously not as good as Lea's, but... in terms of cooking, was there anyone else who was worse than Elvis?

She had just stepped out when she was met with Auretin, who looked extremely disgruntled.

Gu Mengmeng smiled in resignation. Even without asking, she knew why that greedy fellow looked so peevish.

"Lea is not at home now. I am going to Sandy's to eat. Want to come along?"

Auretin shook his head stonily. "A bird has come, wanting to meet with you. Lea asked me over to ask if you want to see him?"

A bird has come...

"What bird" Gu Mengmeng was puzzled. The only flying beasts she knew were the eagle-owl tribe. If someone from the eagle-owl tribe had come, he must have come bearing bad news from Saint Nazaire. In that case, Lea would not have asked her if she wanted to meet him, but would have just brought him over directly.

Auretin frowned. “A bird that can fly. A very detestable bird.”

Gu Mengmeng thought: Stating the obvious...

“Let’s go and take a look then.” Gu Mengmeng knew it was pointless trying to squeeze any useful information from someone who was in a bad mood from hunger.

Elvis chuckled but didn’t say anything. He just carried Gu Mengmeng out of the stone castle.

The wolf pack guarding the door immediately followed Elvis the moment he emerged.

Gu Mengmeng felt that Elvis really gained some panache after becoming a Beast King. Every time he went out, a pack of wolves followed him as if he was the owner of a major dog kennel.

Arriving at the meeting hall, the wolf pack automatically halted outside. Only Gu Mengmeng, Elvis and Auretin entered the room.

Chapter 1254 - Gregory The Vulture

Chapter 1254: Gregory The Vulture

The moment they entered the hall, Gu Mengmeng felt something was not quite right with the atmosphere.

Lea and someone unfamiliar were facing each other. That person looked chilly and stern. He was wearing the typical animal skin skirt worn in the Beast World, but possessed an elegant and distinguished aura. It made one feel like kneeling before him and calling out. “Master, I am Xiao Gu!”

The feathers on his two ears affirmed his identity. Yeah, he was a bird.

Those feathers were different from the eagle-owls. They were a deep gray with dark patterns running through. Gu Mengmeng couldn’t recognize which type of birds had such feathers, and so had no idea which race he belonged to.

The smile on Lea’s face was very warm and genial. So genial that Gu Mengmeng felt goosebumps all over.

Lea was smiling in such a manner as he was obviously furious with the bird beast facing him.

Elvis placed Gu Mengmeng on a stone chair before quietly moving to stand diagonally behind her, guarding her. He did not utter a single word.

Lea stood up when he saw that Gu Mengmeng had arrived. He waved his tail. “Mengmeng, let me introduce you. This is the famous leader of the vulture race, Gregory.”

Gu Mengmeng's eyes widened. Vulture race?! She had been caught in a catch-22 situation—she could only ascend the mountain with help from the vulture race, but to get to the vultures, she had to ascend the mountain first. And now they had come knocking on her doors?!

Damn!

“Are you the legendary Messenger of the Beast Deity?” Gregory sized up Gu Mengmeng with an unfriendly expression.

Gu Mengmeng was stunned by Gregory's attitude.

Her father said the vultures were the race closest to him, and she could drop his name to gain some brownie points with them. But this fellow in front of her didn't look like he was buying it...

“I am.” Gu Mengmeng answered simply. She decided to stick to her plan and see what this visitor's intentions were.

Gregory glanced at Elvis and then at Lea, before finally returning his gaze to Gu Mengmeng.

There was not much emotion on his face, but it was different from Auretin's usual poker face. Gregory was truly cold and stony, his gaze so chilling that it felt like your bones had been frozen over with ice.

“Tell me, why are you looking for me?” Gregory asked.

Gu Mengmeng was even more shocked now. Who was looking for you?

Erm... that was also incorrect. She had been looking for him, but didn't manage to find him. So now, wasn't he the one who had come knocking on their doors?

Gregory noticed Gu Mengmeng's confusion. Impatient, he took a deep breath to suppress his urge to just turn and walk away. “That great lord sent a message-bearer to the Motou mountain range. That is why I have come down to find you. If you are not actually looking for me, I will take my leave.”

“Wait a minute.” Gu Mengmeng asked, “Who is... that great lord?”

It couldn't be Cole, could it?

Gregory stared at Gu Mengmeng with a probing gaze. “Are you really the Messenger of the Beast Deity?”

“As real as they come.” Gu Mengmeng was confident of this point.

But Gregory remained unconvinced. “Since you are the Messenger of the Beast Deity, how could you not know who that great lord is?”

Gu Mengmeng was speechless. She really didn't know who that great lord was!

Gregory's gaze landed on Elvis' chest. He frowned. “You took something from him but didn't know he had asked me to come find you... that means he didn't give it to you willingly. Did you steal it? Ha, you must be really capable if you managed to snatch the Heart of the Desert from him.”

Heart of the Desert?

Gu Mengmeng instinctively also looked at Elvis' chest, which held the mark of a blooming red spider lily.

But she didn't remember how she obtained the Heart of the Desert. She only knew that she fainted, and by the time she regained consciousness, that item was already in her hands...

Chapter 1255 - You Are Unable To Ascend The Motou Mountain Range

Chapter 1255: You Are Unable To Ascend The Motou Mountain Range

“Just wait a minute.” Gu Mengmeng looked at Gregory who was just turning around to leave. “Although I don’t remember that great lord you mentioned, I am indeed looking for you. Since he helped us pass the message onto you, he must be on our side then.”

Gregory turned his head. “What do you want?”

“I want the Love of the Sky.” Gu Mengmeng was very frank about her goal.

Gregory stared at Gu Mengmeng for a long while before replying. “You are unable to ascent the Motou mountain range.”

He was not being sarcastic or ridiculing them at all. He was just stating a fact.

“That is why I need your help,” Gu Mengmeng said.

Gregory looked at Elvis, and then at Lea. He shook his head. “The peak of the Motou mountains is the sacred grounds of the vultures. The only time we can bring an outsider up there is when we are bringing new partners to pray for blessings. So if you wish to go... you must climb up yourself and defeat all the guardians along the way.”

Gu Mengmeng was just mulling over the possibility of this solution when Gregory continued. “But the Motou mountains are very precipitous. The foot of the range comprises many jagged rocks—you and your partners are powerful enough to handle that, but only barely. However, from the middle of the mountain onwards, it is just one steep and smooth cliff without any climbing holds. Unless you can stick to the wall like a lizard, you are totally unable to continue upwards.”

Stick to the wall like a lizard...

Gu Mengmeng’s mind raced in all directions, but failed to find a suitable solution.

Before she could reach a definite conclusion, Gregory carried on. “Looking at the capabilities of your wolf partner, he would need to sprint at his fastest for more than half a day before reaching the middle of the mountain. Thereafter, you will have to climb the extremely steep mountain wall... which will require 3-10 days. During this period, you will have no food, no water, no rest—and you still have to contend with continuous attacks by the bird beasts guarding the mountains. If you make just one false move and fall off... the jagged rocks at the bottom will definitely kill you.”

3-10 days without food, water or sleep, while facing attacks perched upon an extremely steep and smooth cliff wall without any climbing holds...

This was an impossible task.

“Even if you manage all that, the real test begins after you go beyond the middle of the mountain. That’s because the closer you are to the peak, the thinner the air will be. The weather conditions at the peak will make the winters you experience on the ground feel like being in a greenhouse. Low temperatures, raging winds and icy shards of hardened snow pummeling you like countless fangs. One of your partners has exceptional powers, while the other is of an exceptional race. They could probably last two days. While you... without a thick and sturdy hide protecting you from the harsh winds and bitter cold, you might only last half a day before being frozen to death.”

Gregory went through the entire scenario calmly and objectively, as if he was an expert explaining a mathematical theory. Every word used was precise, and his narration was so professional that one was utterly convinced.

Gu Mengmeng possessed Wang Xiaoxin's psychology knowledge, and she could tell from Gregory's body language and expression that he was not just being an alarmist. Every word he spoke was the truth.

So he was saying that they would never be able to ascend the Motou mountain range even if they tried their best, right?

"That is why I said I need your help." Gu Mengmeng repeated.

Gregory frowned. His clear eyes held a chilly sense of disdain. "So you want to be my partner? Apologies, I do not accept."

“I also don’t accept.” Gu Mengmeng was incensed. “I just want you to lead me up the mountains. I am interested in something in the mountains, but have no interest in you at all.”

“I told you. The peak is the sacred grounds of the vultures. We can only bring outsiders up when bringing new partners to pray for blessings. Since you and I have no intention of becoming partners, I cannot bring you up.”

“Eh, why are you being so particular?” Gu Mengmeng asked. “Who sealed off that sacred ground? The previous Messenger of the Beast Deity?”

Who sealed it off...

Gregory was stumped by her question. Since the day he was born, he had been guarding the Motou mountain range, facing the harsh and cruel weather conditions day in day out. The sacred grounds had always been the sacred grounds. No one told him why it was sacred or when it had become sacred.

But this was not important.

The reality of it was that the vulture race had been guarding the grounds for generations. Rules were rules, and they must be adhered to.

He was the leader of the vulture race, so all the more he could not willfully break the rules.

“If it was a rule set down by the previous Messenger of the Beast Deity, then I should be able to abolish it, right? After all, we are both the same rank. She is a Messenger and so am I. If my rank is still not high enough, how about I go seek the Beast Deity himself? After all, you vultures are the most loyal guardians of the Beast Deity. If it was the Deity himself who passed down the order? Will it override your stupid rule?” Gu Mengmeng intoned that as a second-generation immortal, what better time than now to bank on the name of her father?

Gregory remained resolute. He stood firm. “This is the rule of my vulture race. Even the Messenger herself cannot force us. If the Beast Deity wants to abolish our rule, the entire race has no choice but to perish. We cannot have our loyalties divided. Only in death will our race not break the rule and not go against the Beast Deity.”

One word kept flashing across Gu Mengmeng’s mind: Pedantic.

But Gregory’s tone was not threatening. He was just stating the facts. As such, Gu Mengmeng realized that if she tried to force his hand using her father’s name, Gregory would really rather annihilate his whole race than yield.

Damn, if the vulture race went extinct because of this—she could just forget about ever attaining the Love of the Sky.

Gu Mengmeng asked again, “How about... can you get some other vulture to come discuss this with me?”

“Only the leader of the vulture race, after receiving the orders of that great lord, can descend the mountain.” Gregory glanced at the mark over Elvis’ heart again. He then said, “Now that the great lord is no longer around, no one from the vulture race will ever descend the mountain again after I return.”

Damn, just who is this great lord?!

“What if this great lord asked you to bring me up? Will you do so?” Gu Mengmeng probed.

Gregory snorted. “You don’t even know who that great lord is, but want to use such ridiculous words to fool me?”

Gu Mengmeng smiled. “You have been secluded high up in the mountains for years, so you probably don’t know that apart from being a Messenger of the Beast Deity, I am also the Beast Deity’s daughter. So I can also go ask my father about this so-called great lord. I may not know what I have forgotten, but my father will. How about... you stay here for a while? I need to go talk to my father and find out—apart from giving me the Heart of the Desert, did this great lord tell me anything else?”
